Hot weather, strong winds and high humidity, particularly the best weather guessers figuring overtime during recent days. Best guess heard so far, "Anything can happen! Might even rain." Wheat growers, looking forward to the best harvest in several years are hoping for mild weather, and that humidity will prevent their grain shriveling during the periods of hot winds. Maize planters are still hot from the last week's big seeding effort and their owners are hoping that the "anything" proves to hold no hard rams until their crop is up and established.

Rural Community Plans Campaign Against 'Menace'

A major outbreak of mosquitoes in rural areas surrounding Hereford is reported by County Agent Hugh Clearman. Many of the insects are of the genus culex and are potential carriers of sleeping sickness disease, Clearman said yesterday.

County Health Officer Dr. R. R. Wills and Clearman have recommended that rural homeowners take precautionary measures to rid themselves of the mosquitoes and to control breeding spots wherever possible. "Of course," Clearman said, "it will generally be impossible to get rid of the mosquitoes in fields and pastures with such a wide area being in-fested, but every effort should be made to kill them around the farm nomes and outbuildings.

In Hereford, despite the city's campaign to keep down the mosquito menace through use of a new high · velocity chemical dusting machine and aerial dusting by American Dusting Co. pilots of Tierra Blanca Creek and lakes southwest of the city, increased reports of mosquitoes appearing were being received The Brand staff at the end

The church building, where services are held each Sunday morning and evening as well as on three week day evenings, is located at 128 E. 5th. All services are conducted in the Spanish language.

Pastor Alcala, 22, is a graduate of Ysleta Bible Institute, Ysleta, Tex., and was ordained as an Exhorter in the Albuquerque council last Aug. 13. His quarters here are located in the rear of the church building. He is single.

Evening services being at 8 p.m. each Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday and Sunday. Regular Sunday services start with a school session for both children and adu a.m., with the morning sermon fol-

PRISONER'S RETURN

SAGINAW, Mich. UP - Guenter F. Ahrens, 37, was wounded in the chest and hip while a medical corpsman for the Germans in World War II.

He was captured by American soldiers and sent to a prison camp at nearby Caro, where he worked in beet fields for 3½ years.

Today Ahrens is a barber not far from that prison camp. Ahrens, his wife and son, Norbert, 9, fled East Germany and were sponsored here by an uncle, Herman Pohlman of Saginaw.

Collen Booms Handcraft of Old Ireland

DUBLIN, IRELAND, OF -

An attractive colleen with a soft lilting brogue has become one of Ireland's best dollar earners. She is Sybil Connolly, who rates in the ican men in mind.

"After all," she explained in an Betty Hagar was awarded her interview, "I sell 75 per cent of chapter degree at the meeting. what I make in America and American women dress to please men. European women, on the other hand, are more inclined to dress to please themselves."

Miss Connolly, whose creations are becoming one of Ireland's most profitable exports, frankly admits to be 36 years old. She is still sin-

"I just haven't had time to get married," she smiled

By taking a second look at ancient crafts at home, Sybil Connolly has pioneered a new industry in a country striving desperately for industrial development.

She is fiercely Irish and this shows in her styles, for she specializes in clothes made of Irish fabrics - tweed, linen and lace. She has capitalized on old skills to gain a reputation among the best in the always changing world of new fashions.

The picturesque thatched roof cottages that dot the Irish country side are part of her workroom for they turn out the tweeds on century old looms. Nuns in convents do the needlework on much of the fine Carrick Macross lace for her evening dresses.

Miss Connolly regards American women as the "best dressed women in the world."

"And they are dictating to the fashion world rather than being dictated to," she said.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton G. Biggers 217 Ave. C, are parents of the bride and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Will S. Kerr, 110. Tau Alpha Sorority. Park Ave.

Arrangements of greenery and tall baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums formed the altar background and graduating wedding tapers in candelabra gave illumination for the scene.

Mrs. Howard Scott, organist, and Miss Mary Sharon Cole of Colby, Kans., flutist, presented the wedding music including Suite in P. Minor "Sarabande and Bourre" and "Andante Molique" and the traditional wedding marches.

ATTENDANTS to the bride were Janet Cole of Colby, Kan., and Ann Smith; cousins of the bride. Miss Cole wore a pale green chiffon frock fashioned over taffeta and carried an arm bouquet of carnations to match her dress. Miss Smith wore pink chiffon fashioned over taffeta and carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations.

Clifford Kerr served his brother as best man and ushers were Joe E. Kerr and Norman Kerr, brothers of the bridegroom, Lewis A. Biggers, brother of the bride, and Richard Alston.

The bride entered with her father who gave her in marriage. She wore a waltz length gown of chiffon taffeta overlaid with cotton lace. The decolletage and long fitted sleeves were formed of lace scallops and the full lace skirt fell in flared folds. Her shoulder length veil of illusion was attached to a lace pill box banded with flowers, and she carried a white Bible covered with gardenias and stephano-R. L. Ethridge, who started to tis. Her only ornaments were a pearl choker with ear rings to match, the gift of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother wore a mauve silk shuntung dress with rosebud corsage and the bridegrooms mother wore an aqua floral polished cotton with corsage of rosebuds.

northeast, the storm cellar should be located southwest of the house if possible. Its entrance should face northeast. The cellar should be located far enough from the house that a falling wall will not block the entrance.

DESIGN AND

Storm cellars need to be strong and durable to withstand the impact of falling debris. The cellar should also be water-tight, economical and relatively maintenance-free. Cast-in-place concrete, precast concrete or concrete masonry meets all these requirements.

The size of the cellar to build depends on expected conditions of use. For an extended period of comfortable occupancy, about 10 sq. ft. of floor area per person is needed. When the cellar is filled to capacity for a short time only, each person will need at least 2 sq. ft. of standing room.

OTHER USES FOR CELLAR

Many storm cellars are designed for multiple-purpose use. In some cases they are used for vegetable storage. Since most tornadoes occur in April, May and June when the supply of vegetables is usually exhausted, this combination works well. The exposed roof of the storm cellar makes an ideal patio area. This gives another use for part of the cellar and is also an attractive ad-

LET'S PLAY BALL—Paul Harvey and his 9-year-old son Mike, like to do most everything just so long as they do it together. They Cub Scout, fish, go to church and take trips together, but the thing they most like to do is play baseball. Mike and his parents are in California today where they have been spending a two weeks vacation.

FISHING EXPERTS—Dennis Latham, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Latham, wants to learn all about this fishing deal. He is already a pretty good fisherman for he has been taking fishing trips with his dad since he was able to hold a Tine.

They like to fish at Buffalo Lake and Possum Kingdom and as soon as Bible School was over the first part of last week, they left for their annual fishing trip to points in New Mexico.

These four lads with their dads express Father's Day sentiments of sons and daughters in all parts of the nation today. They exemplify that special relationship between father and son which has its own daily reward, and leaves behind a rich heritage accumulated throughout the years.

FARM BUSINESS—Wayne Hastings, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hastings demonstrates to his dad that he is man enough now to take over some of the real work at the farm. They are getting ready for wheat harvest. They enjoy all types of sports together, especially baseball.

With his dad vice president of the Little League, Wayne works extra hard on the Yankee team. They do church work together, take all sorts of trips and share in having fun as well as carrying on the business of farming.

RANCHERS—Colby Conkwright and son Jim, 15, not only participate in a ranching partnership, but maintain a joint interest in many hobbies. They are examining an Indian saddle blanket picked up recently on one of their annual vacation trips together. They study the lore of the Indian and collect relics and Indian craft on reservations. Jim has been his dad's constant companion since he could sit a saddle. Now he is a full partner in the dusiness, has his own White-face herd and takes over his part of the ranch work. (Staff Photos)

Garden Wedding Held for Miss Iva Jean Shrum, Jess W. West

Miss Iva Jean Shrum of Lubbock Phillips of Lubbock and Amos Mills became the bride of Jess Wayne of Plainview. Ed Taylor of Lorenzo West of Plainview in a garden cer- and Bob Castleberry of Plainview emony read yesterday at 7 p.m.

The bridegroom's uncle, the Rev. V. L. Mayhew of Lamesa read the ceremony in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jess M. West.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Clark of Hereford. The natural setting of the garden was enhanced by an arch of greenery backing the nuptial space which was arranged with lavender and white gladioli and stock flanked by bird baths which also featured garlands of gladioli and stock in lavender and white.

Mrs. Bob Gill of Abilene, a cousin of the bridegroom, pianist, and Joe Owen of Lubbock, vocalist, provided wedding music. Owen's of-ferings were "Because," "Indian Love Calli" and "At Dawning". The traditional wedding march was used as the bridal party entered. Mrs. W. E. Andrews of Olton, sister of the bridt, served as matron of honor. She wore a lavender sheath with full Chantilly lace overskirt and matching lace jacket and gauntlets. She carried a pinnaclenosegay of orchid carnations centered with a cluster of pink carna-

The bride, given in marriage by her step father, was attired in a gown of Chantilly lace and peau de sole fashioned with a sleeveless sheath topped by a lace jacket having long petal point sleeves trimmed with seed pearls. The full ballerina lace skirt was attached to the waist by a cummerbund of peau de soie. Her waist length veil of illusion was held by a tiara embellished with rhinestones and seed pearls. She carried a single white orchid with cascading crescents of tiny orchids and lily of the valley attached to a white Bible.

The bride's mother wore a beige satin poplin suit with orchid and beige accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore a blue lace over white satin dress with white accessories. Their flowers were epaulets of cymbidium orchids.

Following the wedding a recep-tion was held in the garden. The bride's table, laid in a white linen cutwork cloth, was decorated in keeping with the garden theme. A dainty white tree rising from a plumy mist of lavender fern centered the table with gauzy butterflies fluttering about tiny bird nests festooned with lacy lavender fern.

Members of the house party were Nita Machen, Mrs. DeWitt Moore, Sammie Burk of Plainview, Mrs. Easom Moore and Mrs. Buddy Fornes of Abilene, Johnnie Davis and Mrs. S. L. Mayhew.

After a wedding trip to points in Colorado and New Mexico the couple will return to Plainview to Steve Andrews of Olton, nephew of the bride, carried the wedding ncy St., where he is employed at bands and Annette Patty of Plain-view and Charla Parton of Pilot ter the U.S. Air Force in December as a second lieutenent Music was provided by Pat Munday, organist a student at Hardin-Simmons University, and Dovie Julian of Plainview, vocalist. Se-lections included a medley of appropriate music preceding the ceremony and the vocalist sang "Be cause" and "The Lord's Prayer". The organist also played the traditional wedding marches.

Carolyn Virden, student at H-SU, was maid of honor. Her dress was of pink net fashioned with sleeve-less bodice and full ballerina skirt featuring tiers of net ruffles over taffeta. Bridesmaids were Sue Suggs, student nurse at Hendrick Hospital Abilene, and Glenna Faye Gandy, sister of the bride, who wore aqua and pink net dresses fashioned similar to that worn by the honor maid. All wore corsages of split white carnations. Vernon Whittenburg, H-SU student, was best man and ushers were Jerry Solomon and Charles Barrows of Abilene

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was of lace and taffeta featuring a lace bodice having a sheer yoke of il-lusion with high round neck line embroidered in seed pearls, and long pointed sleeves. The bouffant skirt was made of alternate ruffles of lace and taffeta. Her fingertip veil of illusion cascaded from a crown of net encrusted with rhine stones, and she carried her YWA Bible topped with white Frenched carnations tied with love knots.

about resilient floor tiles in recent years (and we've done our share), ou would think wooden floors had gone out of style.

Far from it. Wooden flooring is being sold as fast as the mills and plants can turn it out. It's not really surprising. For warmth and beauty, nothing tops a good - quality wooden floor. It has a richness all its own and probably never will lose

Anyone planning to put down a wooden floor. . .either over an old floor or over a subfloor. . . has a wide choice of types of flooring as well as kinds of wood. There is the ever · popular strip flooring, as well as the plank, block and parquet styles. The strip flooring is the kind you usually see in widths anywhere from one and one-half to three and one · half inches.

At one time, strip flooring came only with square edges. The lengths were butted together and the facenailed; that is, nailed through the tops of the strips into the joists. These days, most strip flooring is tongue and grooved. The nails are driven into the tongues at a 45 de-

> Should you put down the flooring yourself, be sure, in pailing through the tongues, that you do not drive the nails all the way with a hammer. Just before the nails are flush with the wood, stop hammering directly against the nailheads and do the rest of the driving with a nailset. This eliminates the danger of damaging the tongues with the

Plank flooring is similar strip flooring except that the boards are wider and usually are laid in random widths. You see them very much in ranch - style homes. There are many varia-tions of plank flooring, some of which use wooden pegs as a de-corative touch. Like strip flooring, the planks come either square - edged or tongue - and -grooved. However, each plank is fastened at either end with screws, even though nails also are used. That's to prevent warpage, which occurs more frequently in wide boards than narrow ones. The planks usually

In most cases, those who can afford parquet floors should spend the money to have the installation professionally, since it's more difficult than other types of flooring. Some manufacturers now are putting out special kinds of flooring which give the parquet effect yet are easier to install. These wooden blocks can be put down, depending on the particular type chosen, with nails or with mastic, the latter kind suitable for use over concrete. Some come in units of four or five blocks joined together. Besides making up your mind on the type of flooring, you'll have to decide what kind of wood to buy. In a few cases, you'll find that the particular type you have selected is available only in one or two kinds of wood. But generally, you will have a choice. Among the hardwoods, oak, maple, birch, pecan and beech are popular, although hickory, ash, cherry and some of the less readily

HERE ARE THE ANSWERS TO YOUR QUESTION ABOUT TITLE I LOANS!!

WHAT ARE TITLE 1 LOANS?

These are not Government loans. They are made by banks, savings and loan associations, finance companies, and other lending institutions that have contracts of insurance with the FHA covering this type of loan. The loans are made by such institutions from their own funds or from the funds of their hold for investment.

The FHA limits the financing charges, which are the lowest generally available for this type of cre-

Let's Muzzle Old Rover or Else Buy a Shroud

What would you do, what action would you demand if a small boy were found dead, his body covered by fang and claw marks, in a Hereford neighborhood in which a large vicious dog was known to run free?

Can you imagine letting the outrage pass with a mere request to the owner of the suspect-animal, "Please, let us know when Old Royer is loose so that we can keep our children-and our adults-indoors? We know that you cherish Old Rover as a watchdog and thus respect your right to keep him. Sure he needs more exercise than he can get in your backyard. Most assuredly, if you are to feel secure in keeping Old Rover, you need to know that his disposition is mean. We have no right to object if he occasionally attacks some small boy or girl, a man or woman, or even brings down a few cows."

Ridiculous? Then consider our attitude to-

Our Police Show Steady Progress

Our hat is off to the Hereford Police Force. Under the direction of Chief of Police Henry Aycock, things have been progressing steadily upward from "good."

Some of the signs of progress are on the surface: The remodeling and decoration of the offices at City Hall, accomplished by the members of the force; the new uniforms and most recently the improvements made by patrolmen and the prisoners themselves in conditions at the city fail.

The attitude of the man in the street, we believe, is coming to reflect Chief Aycok's steady drive to improve the public relations of his department. Beginning with the eightweek police school he instituted upon his arrival a few months ago, members of the force have apparently accepted and are practicing a "protection without persecution" policy. And it is comforting to note that there are no "pistol bums" on the force. While the pay afforded our patrolmen may not be all they might desire, it is, we learn, in line with salary schedules of comparable cities in the area and is arranged to permit patrolmen to look forward to some increase at regular intervals.

The recent drive against drifters and vagrants in which the city police joined with sheriff's officers is another indication that Hereford will be kept "clean." The use of up-to-date identification precedures, including fingerprinting and photographing, of all persons arrested is certain to make the city and county unattractive to persons with criminal records and tendencies who might visit Hereford while looking for an easy place to operate outside the law.

Without an increase in the number of people on the force, and staying within a budget of less than $50,000 for the year, our Hereford Police appear to be doing their job and doing it well. We appreciate their devoted interest to our welfare.

ward the Atomic Eenergy Commission and the atomic and hydrogen bomb tests it conducts in Nevada and the Pacific. While we have far from enough facts on the AEC and its bomb tests and their results, something is dangerously wrong if we are to take the word of a number of qualified scientists and curious observers.

To ask for an end to the tests is to incur the risk of being linked with communism: Outspoken Robert A. Crandall, editor of the Tonopah, Nev. Times-Bonanza, reports his adverse comments on the tests have brought AEC officials to his office. The officials, Crandall has reported "say something like this, 'Well, of course the Communists would like us to stop the tests, too."

For the edification of the AEC officials and for whatever it may be worth to Mr. Crandall, we are certain that a lot of Christians, whom we are equally certain are not Communists, would like to see the tests stopped.

AEC disclaimers to the contrary, we are concerned over the possible effect the bomb and the resulting radioactive fallout has already had on people in Nevada and across the nation. Forty-five nuclear detonations at the Nevada test site between 1951 and 1955 is at least 44 and possibly 45 too many as far as we can determine. There is, at present, no sign the tests are to be stopped or more carefully conducted than they have been in the past.

Just what the AEC has determined is of course a deep, dark secret. We have been told by Paul Jacobs of The Reporter magazine that the AEC, when confronted with evidence that radioactivity at certain points in Nevada and surrounding states has exceeded safe limits, has sought new "experts" to give them new and higher "safe" limits.

Under this theory, as Mr. Jacobs explains it, the AEC could conceivably kill us all and go right on reassuring the Martians that things will be safe, radioactivity-wise, into the Indefinite future.

Mr. Jacobs, however, and more recently other reporters, and officials of the Public Health Service have uncovered some alarmtain areas as a result of the nuclear explosions. Citizens of Nevada point to themselves, their neighbors and their livestock as being injured by fallout from the tests.

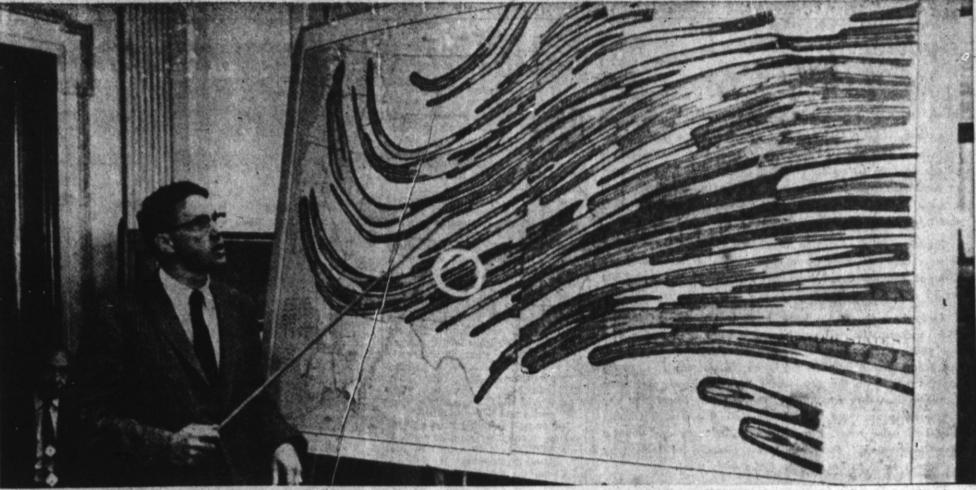

The AEC, meanwhile, goes right on disclaiming any and everything that might jeopardize its continuance of the explosions.

Having had opportunity to observe AEC officials and personnel during Operation Sandstone and other atomic bomb tests in the Pacific, we personally doubt that the AEC is any more interested in determining the nature and effect of our atomic weapons than its officials are interested in maintaining a large, very secretive and extremely expensive governmental operation. Exploding bombs annually gives us something to do. If we are to adopt a Ghandian philosophy of nonresistance to the threat of our atmosphere, soil and ultimately our own bodies becoming poisoned by radioactivity, then let them continue the tests as indiscriminately as they have in the past. Let us be good followers of Ghandi and adopt his casual attire, o clean, white sheet. It will make a wonderful, if radioactive, shroud.

But if more voices are raised either in question or in profest, perhaps the AEC can at least be brought out into the open. Surely it should be called on to prove that its tests are not dangerous if in truth they are not. And if they are dangerous, someone must call a halt to the dangerous pastime which provides a livelihood for our secretive, reassuring government-servants.

The comments of highly regarded scientists cannot be lightly disregarded. Here is what Dr. John M. Heslep, head of the University of California Radiation Safety Division, told named we make from The Reporter of the opening of a meeting of the Western Renach of the American Public Health Assn. on May 20 in Lann Bench, Calif., "The Atomir Fneray Commission has been less than candid with the people." He added that the AEC has a "vacted Interact" in bomb taste and "trine to almy down the potential hazarda" of such torts.

Parhane the Chandlan nhilpennhy would and he so had other all. If it should be adoptad his estantiste all owns the world Then they would simply env "No" to all proposals to nerfect perfectly evil weapons.-ROY

"PATTERN OF FALLOUT which would cover U. S. following theoretical Russian attack is explained to legislators by Dr. William Kellogg of Rand Corporation. Streaks on map are paths along which fallout would move in a 24-hour period,"explained Life magazine in June 10 edition. Life reported further, "A nightmare that could become a reality was under searching scrutiny: would the aftereffects-i.e., the fallout of atomic debris-of the continuous testing of nuclear weapons contaminate the atmosphere and bring illness or death to millions? The questions were being asked at hearings which were held last week in Washington by a joint congressional subcommittee on radiation . . . with world concern over nuclear tests increasing, the Congressmen called for solid scientific evidence as to the present and future dangers arising out of nuclear explosions. Circled area on map emphasizes the heavy concentration of fallout expected to occur over the Deaf Smith area of the Panhandle, (Photo by Edward Clark, courtesy of LIFE)

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Majority Seems To Favor Continuing Atomic Tests

Do you think the danger of radioactive fallout from atomic and hydrogen bombs is sufficient to warrant immedite stopping of tests of such weapons in the U. S. and other

OTIS HALL-I don't think so.

LEE CONKLIN-I don't believe it is.

HOMER THOMAS—I think the tests are a danger to the public welfare of humanity and should be stopped.

D. C. MARTIN-I think we have ample time to do some research on it before we call a halt. Something may be found later that will warrant stopping the tests, but there is no need to stop them yet. It will do to watch, though, GASTON BAER-I don't think so.

CAWTHON BRYANT-I don't think there is enough danger at the present time for the tests to be stopped.

TROY MOORE-From what I have read I don't think there is any danger yet. I think if there were, our leaders would

BILL ANGEL—If you are far enough away there isn't much

MRS. GASTON BAER-I think so, because they say it will cause cancer of the bones and the future generation will suffer from it. We couldn't discontinue the tests unless foreign countries did so, because we would have no means of protection.

MRS. FRANK BEZNER-I don't believe they should discon-. tinue the tests, but there is definitely a certain amount

MRS. IVAN BLOCK-I presume they are safe as long as they are kept within their bounds.

MRS. W. W. BUCK-I think a decision like that should be left to specialists who know more about it. I personally think the tests should be continued.

NEIL COOPER—I wouldn't suppose it would be. The average person doesn't know enough about it to make an intelligent decision. We will have to leave the decision to those who are better informed.

KENNETH COWAN-I don't believe we should stop the tests. The British claim to have a bomb which has a "clean fallout (a minimum of radiation dropping) and if we could develop something like that there would be very little danger.

P. JONES-I don't think it is. The only way I would want it stopped is if all the countries would discontinue tests also, and I think that would be impossible.

W. C. MEHARG—I don't think so because we can't disregard the importance of atomic tests but the tests should be held in locations where they will not interfere with other people. Atomic power has a lot of possiblities through scientific research, such as the generation of electricity, which should not be disregarded. I think all kinds of atomic energy research should be continued.

Enough about newspapers. We citizens in general, I am anxious took Highway 1 down the coastline

It takes a good two days when there is no for and we had fog! We practically never lost s' nt of the Pacific and, much of the time, encountered mountains equal to any you will find in Coloraca. We made it to Carmel the first night out, including a 17 - mile scenic drive from Monterrey to Carmel, which is absolutely "out of this world" to folks from the Pan-

I will also retract that statement about food prices being about the same as in Texas. Around Carmel you pay 65 cents for a hamburger and 60 cents for a malted milk. Everything else runs in proportion to higher. Hoever, here in Hollywood, prices are only about twice what you would pay at home and, after the Carmel - Monterrey tour, they seem pretty cheap.

Everything in Carmel appears to have a foreign atmosphere, including Swiss, French and Norwegian didn't run across either of them

We also had a meal in Chinatown at Frisco, which everyone says they enjoyed - except me. I finally located a foot - long hotdog stand, however, and managed to get by until breakfast. I am still arguing that no one, not even a Chinaman, could really like the stuff they served us at Tao Tao.

shop but it's no odder than some people I know visiting a bank, which set out to solve the farm problem.

According to it, the trouble with the farm situation is there are too many "uneconomic" farmers, by which it means farmers trying to make a living on too little land, or land that's too sorry, or because the farmers don't have enough initiative to farm anyway and if they have they don't have enough efficiency.

Therefore, the magazine concluded, these "uneconomic" farmers ought to move to a city and get a job there, the efficient farmers could take over, and the farm problem

Aside from the fact I know some pretty efficient farmers and ranchers who've been having a little trouble the past few years, if borrowing money is any sign, the thing about this proposal that interests me is the idea of solving a problem by moving to the city, where they've already got more problems than they can handle. The last time I was in a city it seemed to me there was already folks there were wishing they had more room. I understand also there are quite a few "uneconomic" people in town already, at least they just don't seem to be able to make ends meet.

The thing to do is to have the uneconomic people in the country move to town and the uneconomic people in town move to the country.

While this might not solve the farm problem or the crowded city problem, think how much it'd benefit the moving

I'll tell you, if you're going to set up the rule that when a man can't quite make ends meet he ought to move some place else, you're going to wind up with the biggest traffic jam in the history of the universe. Uneconomic farmers trying to move to town won't be able to get there for uneconomic fown people trying to get to the country. A good portion of the population would have to live in trailer houses, so they'd be all set to move on every time the first of the month bills came in.

Nope, this big magazine will have to try again. It hasn't solved the farm problem yet, but ought to keep trying, and all I hope is that in the interest of entertainment nobody lets 'em in on the secret there is no solution to it.

Yours faithfully,

Associated Press Women's Editor FASHION DESIGNERS of the future paraded their creations before the judges recently in the annual students' fashion show of the Parsons School of Design, from which have come many of today's famous couturiers.

Hailed as the young designer most likely to succeed was a darkhaired, lanky young man from Ludlow, Mass., Peter Therrien, who won two of the seven gold thimble awards given annually to talented seniors of the school by noted designers. Peter won the Adele Simpson thimble for a yellow organza evening dress with velveteen beaded jacket, and the Pauline Trigere thimble for a tunic length coat of heavy white silk pesante. On hand at graduation exercises to present the awards were the donors: Mrs. Simpson, Miss Trigere, Jack Hargis, David Kidd, John Moore, Lesie Morris and Norman Norell.

Other gold thimbles were awarded to talented seniors as follows, the Norman Norell award to Joseph Caeti of New York for a black faille dress; the John Moore thimble to Charlott Lingg of Ardsley, N. Y., for a navy wool jersey and chiffon dress; the Jack Hargis award to Dorothy Eversole of Aiken, S. C., for a sapphire blue dress and coat; the Leslie Morris thimble to Myrna Sharf for a black velvet ball gown, and the David Kidd award to Harry T. Young of New York for a caramel colored wool Winners of silver thimbles among the second - year students were: Blomgren, whose white pique dress and checked pinafore won the Helen Lee thimble; Earl Bounam of Detroit, who won the Anne Klein award for a white linen dress and dotted silk jacket Frank Rizzo of Buffalo, who won the Mildred Orrick thimble for a checked silk and cotton dress with white linen jacket; and Irene Tsukamoto of Tokyo, whose black wool jersey bathing suit and printed orange beach wrap won the Claire McCardell award.

KERRVILLE, (Sp) - Linda Joyce Powell, 10, and Beverly Ruth Barrett, also 10, both from Hereford, climaxed their stay here at the Texas Lions Camp for Crippled Children Friday night by participating in the awards ceremonies.

The Hereford girls received handderchiefs stencilled with symbols of the activities they have enjoyed. They returned to Hereford Satur-

The refrigerator has become a work of art (and almost as expensive as an old master) but some of its great talking points are its weakest links - plastic meat drawers, vegetable bins, cheese holders, egg bins, fashioned with what sometimes seem to be the most vulnerable metal fastenings ever contrived. One housewife has been waiting six months to have a year-oldrefrigerator refitted with new inner doors. Manufacturers spend millions advertising their products and then have them undersold in a jiffy by lackadaisical repairmen.

These fellows may be overworked, lazy or just not interested (they're not underpaid), but many are impossible. Small talk in small communities would make manufacturers wiggle their ears and organize more competent men to represent their brand name. Some people nowadays choose appliances, not by company label but solely on the company they must keep in repair-

What's the solution? Should the company give every housewife a course in servicing appliances in her own kitchen? Or should every purchaser of kitchen equipment get a repair robot thrown in the deal. He could live in a trailer close by and be summoned by buzzer for every emergency. The only trouble is he'll need an assistant.

THE EASIEST solution may to go back to those time-honored basement tubs that look pretty inyiting after you get that bill for repair of a slight mishap to the vashing machine.

Cooking outdoors has become such a hobby that perhaps we could learn to do without stoves comple tely. (Modern outdoor cookery units have warming ovens and roasting units as well as lovely spits).

If dishwashers continue to be a headache, perhaps we could go back to the old wash and dry system or use paper plates, cups, and disposable utensils for every meal.

Husband-Wife Team Plan Jeep Trip

and wife travel team, are planning sible another junket, this time in the Far the Arctic Circle to Tierra del Fuego by auto and an amphibious jeep christened whimsically "La Tortuga" (the turtle).

The 18 - month - long journey they were the first to travel the length of the Pan American Highway - was crammed with the adventure of new places, new people and, particularly, new and challenging situations. Their firsthand account of the trip, complete with vivid memories of the laughs, hazards and disappointments, is told in their book. '20,000 Miles South" (Doubleday). Relaxing in the living room of the comfortable guest house they rent in Van Nuys, they confided that in the not-too-distant future hope to go island - hopping by jeep in Indonesia. And they won't leave Dinah be-hind. Dinah, acknowledged by her masters to be the best explorer of the three, is their 9 - year - old German Skepherd dog. She came back from Tierra del Fuego amazingly healthy and apparently possessed with an unquenchable thirst

While living with Dinah in one room of a converted Army barracks, spending money sparingly yet enjoying the beauty of Alaska to full measure, the Californians conceived a bigger plan for their projected odyssey: a trip all the way from the Arctic Circle to Tierra del Fuego, southernmost part of South America.

On June 22, 1954, their seventh adventure began. As Frank record-ed it: "Helen was 28, I was 30, and Dinah was 7 years old."

They drove to Southern California in a station wagon purchased in Alaska, stopping long enough to overhaul and outfit La Tortuga.

How can I help to keep my ight-colored hair light-looking? A. Light hair should be washed more frequently. Avoid using tar soap or sage tea, which are for dark hair only — and oily lotions are also taboo. A shampoo of castile soap jelly is very good. After this, the hair should be dried quickly. An after-shampoo rinse made of camomile leaves helps prevent darkening. Use this as infested skin? A. You must cleanse this type of skin frequently and thoroughly - at least three times daily. Twice weekly, use a grainy cleanser to help dig out those blackheads. And very important, include plenty of Vitamin-A foods in your diet, especially the green and yellow vegetables, and yellow fruits, such as apricots and peaches.

Q. How can I help my blackhead-

Q. How can I exercise for slimmer waistline?

A. Sit on floor with back against a wall, legs spread out as far as possible. Raise arms above head, palms of hands together, and bring them down in that position without bending elbows, touching first one foot, then the other.
