SUSPECT IS TAGGED BY METER MAID

The alert eyes of Hereford's meter maid, Mrs. LaRue Harris, Wednesday helped local police nab a man suspected of eight house burglaries.

Mrs. Harris, who normally spots the red "expired" sign on parking meters, saw a man answering the description of the suspect. She followed him two blocks, and when he went into a cafe, called the police department and officers arrested him.

The present facilities are totally inadequate. Information obtained from other schools indicate that 25 per cent to 80 per cent of the high school students are eating in the various lunch rooms.

Financial Study

We, the finance committee of the citizens advisory committee, appointed on Dec. 17, 1956. . . have made a study of the financial structure of the Hereford Rural High School District, and make the following recommendations:

1. We recommend that Senate Bill 116 be adopted by our school district, and that it be submitted to the people of this district for adoption at the same time as the next ensuing bond election is call-

OUR REASONS for making this recommendation are as follows:

a. Present and future expansion of our physical plant is and will be necessary to meet the growing educational needs of our children, and in our opinion, such expansion is and will be facing a fiscal policy of hard money with rising interest rates making it advisable for the school district to make its order to be able to take advantage their just share of the money ne-ation with which to meet the educational needs as and when they arise, and will make future bonds more competitive.

c. WE BELIEVE in the careful xercise of voting privileges in selecting school trustees, and having so elected them, we also believe in giving them sufficient discretion and power to meet educational needs as they arise. Senate Bill 116 places the legal limitation where it belongs; i.e. on the power to create the debt, and relieves the trustees from legal limitations which handicap the financing of the schools and the sale of bonds.

d. We do not feel that the bill offers a special inducement for the trustees to raise taxes and spend money when unnecessary

> OUR REASONS for making these two recommendations are as a. Our present property valua-tion is over $27,000,000 and our present bonded indebtedness is $1,-668,000, which indebtedness is 6.11 per cent of such total valuation. We understand that a district whose indebtedness does not exceed 7 per cent of its total valuation is financially sound. In our opinion, therefore, we are presenton a sound financial footing. However, any additional indebtedness this year in excess of $250,000 will raise our percentage above the arbitrary 7 per cent. If those who deal in school securities use this 7 per cent as a guide, we do not think it wise that our indebtedness exceed 7 per cent of our total valuation.

b. By 1960 we will have retired $232,000 of our present indebtedness, which, under the present law and other things being equal, will provide appreximately another $250,000 debt allowable and still .maintain our ? per cent rating up to 1960.

Accreditation

THE COMMITTEE on accreditation's studies of state minimum standards and Hereford school's practices revealed:

1. The state recommends that grades 1 and 2 have no more than 30 students per teacher; grades three through 8 have no more than 35 students per teacher, and grade 9 through 12 have no more

We have an average studentteacher ratio in grades 1 and 2 of 23-1; in grades 4-8 of 25-27 to 1, and 9 through 12 of 25-27 to 1.

We recommend that the average number of students per teacher be brought up to 28-1 for grades 4-12.

2. For physical education, the state recommends that elementary students have 150 minutes per week, and that secondary students have 120 minutes per week.

WE HAVE 279 girls enrolled in high school of which 95 are enrolled in band, 51 in chorus, about 25 in drivers education and 60 in physical education.

This leaves 48 girls who are not being cared for now. We recommend that boys and girls alternate days in the gym and that they receive classroom instruction on one day of the week. 3. The state recommends auto mufflers and unlicensed scooter drivers brought a flurry of protests to City Hall Thursday and Four members of the Hereford Road Knights called on Dudley Bayrie, city manager, on Thursday to ask whether rumors that merely operating a car with special dual exhaust systems would make a driver subject to arrest. Bayne's reply indicated that enforcement of the "muffler ordinance" would affect only drivers of cars that are observed making unnecessary racket.

Firm on Scooter

DURING A a special meeting of the city commission on Friday, called to consider the financial aspects of paving streets here this summer, the "scooter law" was aired. Bayne's explanation of the local decision to enforce state laws requiring that scooter operators be been to Burlington, Colo., to at- at least 14 years of age and litend a polled registered cattle sale. censed to operate a motor vehicle, Mr. and Mrs. W. The Rules Are Different These Days!

Van Doren's Home Run Halted At First Base

den death to the political future of any candidate who announced for office on the Socialist party. Today, however, the economy of the United States is based on theory far more liberal than any advocated by the So cialist group.

The case of Charles Van Doren, Columbia University professor and all-time big money winner on TV quiz programs, perhaps best illustrates the extent to which socialistic tendencies have spread through application of faxation. Van Doren won $129,000 in his 14 appearances and, unfortunately, got a $100 salary raise at the university, bringing his annual income to a level of $133,450. Of this total amount, Van Doren, according to Associated Press reports, will keep only $28,795. In addition, he has written a book and should royalties amount to a sizeable sum he can expect little in monetary returns. Accountants estimated that he will realize only $3 from the recent university raise.

While Van Doren's case is an extreme one, it is definitely along the same level faced by millions of American citizens today. People who have long advocated soaking the big corporations are today paying higher utilities bills and higher retail prices as a direct result of taxation on these various companies.

Socialism, according to text books, curbs initiative. In other words, what incentive does Prof. Van Doren have to write another book? In the face of prohibitive taxes, why should a man double his business or farming activities? Will this new type of economy, as we have been taught since and Veterans of Foreign Wars childhood, sooner or later gnaw away atour national vitals until we fall apart from apathy and decay?

These are some of the things people should think about before they make up their minds how they will vote, Instead of "How much" can I get?" the time has come to consider "How will my country prosper?"

It is like playing baseball under a new set of rules. The runner is not always out, although the throw beats him to first base. To assume a wrong conclusion because of the old rules can be disastrous. In Prof. Van Doren's case, we would say he hit a home run, but could advance no further than first

Operating under the profit system, the United States has established itself as the world's leading nation. Our farms grow more, our factories have greater production and our people maintain the world's highest standard of living. It is possible that our new form of economy may make us even more productive and happier. Only time will tell. The important thing right now is not to kid ourselves into thinking that we are still playing under the old rules.

South Hereford For many years the proposed annexation of South Hereford has been a confroversial question, due chiefly to the heavy expense involved in providing water and sewer services to the settlement located south of Tierra Blanca Creek. Monday night will culminate the pros and cons of the situation with a special meeting of the City Commission.

As the matter now stands, the whole thing rests with the people in South Hereford. The city has provided funds in its current budget to handle the new addition and, apparently, is extending a welcome hand to the prospective citizens.

Construction of the underpass on Highway 51 will, in addition, help eliminate a previous traffic situation which has been serious.

Under the proposed plan, South Hereford residents can petition Hereford for annexation and come into the city without an election. If they do not choose to make the move, they can remain as they are. City taxes will be the chief objection, which can be offset only by adequate water and sewer service, fire protection, police protection and other factors offered through city government.

FREE SHOTS FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN

All school children in Lamb County will be offered Salk polio vaccine shots free of charge, thanks to the cooperation of doctors and nurses throughout the county. The local physicians and nurses are joining in a national program, endorsed by the American Medical Assn. to attempt to innoculate some 65 million persons under 40 years of age before the polio season opens this summer.

Clinic will be set up in all six schools of the county where the doctors will work in pairs to give the first two shots to all school age children. School children of the county will be given slips Monday to take home, asking parents permission for the shots to be given.

"No child will be inoculated without the consent of his parents," Dr. W. C. Nowlin, county health doctor, said this

The questionnaires which will be given to the children to take home will contain the following four statements, one of which the parents should check:

1. My child has had Shot 1 and 2.

2. My child has had Shot 1.

PLAN VACCINATION PROGRAM

The Fairview Rural Neighborhood is planning a polio vaccination program for the whole (Armstrong) county. This program will include adults as well as children. Dr. R. E. Jarrett of Canyon, has been engaged to handle the program and the shots will cost $1 each. Everyone in the county is being urged to take advantage of this program and special emphasis is stressed for the adults need for the vaccine as polio is usually more critical in their age group.—THE CLAUDE NEWS

FIRE CONTRACT DRAFTED

Drafting of a contract to establish county responsibility for the Canyon Volunteer fire equipment being used outside the city limits of Canyon was ordered Monday afternoon by the Randall County Commissioners Court following a joint meeting with the Canyon City Commission. The contract will have the effect of allowing the Canyon fire department to resume answering calls from outside the city limits. The practice was ordered stopped by the Canyon City Commission on Feb. 21 when they learned that the mayor and commissioners would be personally liable for any accident that might occur to a fire truck while it was on a county call.-THE CANYON NEWS

BOOTLEG --- Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm probbably is unnecessarily worried this week, but that's his worry, not ours.

I don't like to be an alarmist, but the Supreme Court is about to decide on an issue that could mean life or death

According to an article I read in a newspaper this morning while I was deciding whether to plow or think—it sometimes takes me longer than a court to decide such things and if I didn't do any more thinking than I did plowing this morning, a half day was sure wasted-one big milk company is suing another for selling milk below cost, and the Supreme Court is going to decide whether it's against the law to sell at below cost.

I tell you, let the Supreme Court rule it's unlawful to sell below cost and it'll wreck agriculture. Ever since farming started, one of the inalienable rights of a farmer has been to sell below cost.

I know there is one theory out in Washington now that the way to eliminate the surplus is to lower the price to where a farmer can't make any money growing whatever is in surplus, but whoever thought up that idea just ain't familiar with farming. When the price drops, all it means is that a farmer has to work twice as hard and produce twice as much to get by. At least that's the way I've found it.

Maybe a law keeping big milk distributors or drygoods stores or grocery stores from selling below cost will wark, but you apply it to farming and you've opened up a hornet's nest of trouble. I know the experts are always recommending that farmers keep accurate records on every step they take and every hour of work they do so they'll know whether they're making a profit on any given crop, but when a farmer doesn't, he's not so dumb. It's bad enough to work all year and sell your crop for less than it cost, without having a set of figures laying around to remind you of it.

All I've got to say to the Supreme Court is that if it rules it's unconstitutional to sell at less than cost, how's a farmer going to make a living? What's he going to do with all the stuff he raises?

> Yours faithfully, J. A.

Community, Individual Both Benefit by Schools

Who benefits most from our present public school educational system: The community or the individual child? How far can we go in paying taxes to finance a system to keep pace with the community as it grows?

JOHN D. AIKIN-It's a tossup. You can't say the child benefits more than the community, because the community benefits from an educated, well-organized society. We can't afford NGT to pay the bill for the school system,

MRS. A. R. DILLARD-I think both benefit equally, the child by instruction and the community by having the system. It gives the community something to be interested in. I think most taxpayers are willing to pay the taxes, but I really don't know how far we can go.

GLENN WEIR-That would be kind of hard to say; like asking which leg is most important on a three-legged stool. They both benefit. We've got to keep the schools going, but I think before we get all the schools we need, we're going to have a new system, like teaching by tel-

MRS. BESSIE PATTERSON-It seems to me they're both tied together inseparably. The community standards are raised by education. Some way should be devised so that all members of the community share in financing the schools, that should help support the growth of the school as the community needs it.

HUGH NORMAN-I think the whole community benefits more. The county is not going to move while the individual does. I think we should go as far as necessary in supporting the schools.
