Hail Damage Dots County

Heavy rains, hail and strong winds struck parts of Deaf Smith County Sunday evening causing extensive damage to many crops, according to a survey made of farmers and insurance agencies.

Believed to have originated in the northern-most part of the county just west of Highway 51, the storm widened its path while traveling in a southeasterly direction. Believed to have started in a comparatively narrow strip, the storm fanned out just north of Hereford, engulfing the distance between five miles west of Westway to near Dawn.

However, the strength of the storm was not shown throughout its path as reports show a very spotted falling of hail.

No single area can be reported as heaviest hit, according to insurance agencies of the city. Some wheat fields, though few, were completely leveled while others were left without hardly any damage at all, they report. Combining damage investigations made and scheduled by four of the larger insurance agencies in Hereford, 90 insured field crops were hit, 17 homes were damaged and 19 vehicles.

ONE FARMER, J. C. Hennington, reported hail "skinned up a calf, killed a pigeon and dented the barn roof badly." He lives three miles east of Hereford.

Dents on the roofs of hangers at the Municipal Airport were heavy, but no airplanes were damaged as all were inside hangers. Rye planted around the runways was almost leveled. Hall reported as between marble to golf ball size fell in the Dawn area, with the heaviest "centered north and west of Jewell Switch," according to Mrs. Carl Wimberley. Mr. Alexander was a member of the First Presbyterian Church here. Survivors include his wife, a son, Donald, of Corona, Calif., four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. Burial will be in West Park Cemetery.

Officers Eye Knife Toters

A crack-down on carriers of illegal knives has been started by city police and sheriff's officers.

Under State Article 483: "Any person who should carry on or about his person... any pistol, dirk, dagger, slung shot, blackjack... bowie knife, switch blade knife, spring blade knife, throw blade knife, or any knife with a blade over 5 1/2 inches in length or any other knife manufactured or sold for purposes of offense or defense... may be fined not less than $100 or more than $500 or be sentenced to not less than one month or not more than one year imprisonment."

Sheriff Charles Skelton said persons violating this law will be prosecuted. Monday Robert Dickey, 30, was fined $100 and costs in county court for carrying a prohibited knife. He was arrested Sunday night by city police.

School Bond Issue Passes, 422-266

Hereford Rural High School District voters Tuesday voted to accept a proposed $630,000 building improvement bond issue, though only slightly more than half as many turned out as in January when a similar issue was rejected. Tuesday's issue was approved by a 156 margin, with 422-voting for the issuance of bond and 266 against. 403 voted for proposition one on the ballot, maintenance tax, and 275 voted against it. The January bond election failed by a vote of 607 to 429, when 1,038 voters turned out. The approved bonds will finance construction of a new elementary unit in the north-west part of Hereford; remodeling, repair and alteration of Central Elementary and Stanton Junior High; a new wing-type structure at Stanton; and a combination cafeteria for Stanton and High School which will also house school administration offices. Voting started light during the day at the three polls. About 150 had voted by noon at the school tax office, and 252 by 2:30 p.m. Election officials at the high school poll reported 17 by noon and 44 at 3 p.m. The final count, by polls, was 330 for and 219 against the issuance of bonds at the court house; six for and 33 against at Dawn; and 86 for and 14 against at the high school. Voting was about the same on maintenance tax: 316 and 227 at the court house; 6 and 32 at Dawn; and 81 and 16 at the high school, for and against respectively.

ACCORDING TO the proposed building program schedule of expenditure of funds handed out by superintendent of schools Fred Cunningham, which were estimated by Herbert Brasher, representing Brasher, Spencer and Goyette Architects of Lubbock, the new elementary unit will cost a total of $115,000. Eight classrooms and a multi-purpose area, all in a 10,000 square foot floor space, is estimated at $100,000. Equipment will cost $10,000 and architects' fee is $5,000.

Remodeling, repair and alteration at Central School will consist of conversion of existing gymnasium into a cafeteria for $10,000 and equipment for $10,000, totaling $20,000. An estimated amount of $79,000 will be spent on Stanton. $75,000 will be for remodeling and modernizing 33,000 square feet of floor space, and also new safety-type exterior entrances, remodeling and repairing restroom facilities, new windows, sand blasting, cleaning and painting the exterior, and new painting. Architects' fee on (Continued On Page 2)

COUNTY TAKES CUT IN '59 WHEAT ALLOTMENT

Deaf Smith County will have 9,392 fewer allotted acres of wheat in 1959, according to a statement put out this week by Faust Collier, manager of the county Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation office.

This year the county was allotted 211,701 acres of wheat and in 1959 there have been 202,309 acres allotted.

"EACH YEAR the county 10-year history used for allotment purposes moves one year," Collier said. "This year, 1947 with a history of 444,351 acres was dropped and 1957 with a history of 279,358 acres was picked up. It is easy to see the county average history was decreased approximately 35,000 acres. Furthermore, the allotment for the state is approximately 65,000 acres less than for 1958."

Collier continued in saying, "For the year 1959, regulations provide that the historical average be the base used to determine the farm allotment, whereas, previously the preceding year's base could be used if it were higher than the average. Therefore, in most cases the 1959 base acreage for the farm may be the same or lower than was used for determining 1958 allotments. Due to these circumstances, the farmers' allotment is smaller than 1958."

County factor for figuring the decreased acreage, not including the larger loss which came about by the new regulation of figuring the average, is dropped from .741 to .740.

The allotment for 1959 is set by averaging history established in the years 1954-55-56-57. Last year the same pro-

Pony League Tie to Break Friday Nite

A first-place tie between the Pony League Red Sox and Indians will be broken Friday night when the two teams meet in Veterans Park.

Both clubs picked up their second win against no defeats this week with the Red Sox edging the Tigers, 14-13, Monday and the Indians dropping the White Sox, 5-0, behind the two-hit pitching of Jimmy Haney.

Haney struck out 13 batters Tuesday night. He allowed a single by Jim Bridges in the first inning and another one-baser by Ernest Castanada in the third. Drew Kershen gave up seven hits in losing.

The Red Sox scored nine runs on two hits in the third inning to aid their win over the Tigers. The losers almost salvaged the game with a three-run rally in (Continued on Page 6)

County Demos Slate Rally

Plans were shaping up this week for an area-wide "Democratic Party Night" to be sponsored at the football stadium in Hereford Saturday, June 21, according to Louis Woodford, County Democratic chairman, who said that all county, district and state candidates will be invited.

Arrangements include a Walter Jetton Barbecue, followed by introduction of candidates and a talk by William Jennings Bryan Dorn of Greenwood, S. C., who will fly here from Washington as special representative of the Democratic Party.

"In addition to our own county, invitations are being extended to Democrats in Castro, Farmer, Oldham, Swisher, Bailey and other neighboring counties," said Woodford. "Chiefly, we feel that a meeting of this type will allow the voters to see and meet the various candidates, and to know them better. Tickets for the Party Night will sell for $3, and any excess proceeds beyond expenses will be turned over to the Democratic Party to help defray expenses."

Woodford said that the offices of Ralph Yarborough and William Blakely have been contacted by telephone, and that he hopes both of these candidates will be able to attend. All candidates in the race for governor have been invited, along with other state, district and county office seekers. The speaker, Dorn, was especially recommended by national Democratic leaders and was secured through assistance of Congressman Walter Rogers. He has been in Congress since 1950 and, according to national Demo headquarters, is considered one of the most forceful speakers in the party. Tickets for the rally will go on sale today, Woodford said. They may be secured at any of the local drug stores or at Hotel Jim Hill. "Our hope is to bring all Democrats in this area closer together," said Woodford. "Naturally, we will personally disagree concerning candidates from time to time but, in the long run, most of us pretty well believe in the same things. All candidates will be invited—and we hope they are all able to attend the rally."

RECOVERING FROM BITE—Little Gary Landers, 16 months old, is shown in his hospital bed where he is recovering from a rattlesnake bite he received Thursday evening at his home at 205 Higgins. Local 16 Month Old Youth Snake Bitten

For the first time in three years, a victim of rattlesnake bite was reported in Hereford. Recovering now in Deaf Smith County Hospital is Gary Landers, 16-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Landers of 205 Higgins. "Our hope is to bring all Democrats in this area closer together," said Woodford. "Naturally, we will personally disagree concerning candidates from time to time but, in the long run, most of us pretty well believe in the same things. All candidates will be invited—and we hope they are all able to attend the rally."

Landers said the first they noticed was only a small swelling on the left wrist Friday morning when the boy got out of bed, and thought it only a mosquito bite. He said Gary often swells "quite a bit" from insect bites. The boy showed no ill effects, other than being somewhat fretful through Friday and early Saturday, Landers said. But at lunch Saturday he "shook, kind of like he was having a chill and refused to eat anything but part of an egg and drink some orange juice." The parents then decided the bite might possibly have been by a spider and immediately took him to the hospital where after several tests it was found that he had actually been bitten by a rattlesnake. Stubble, Straw Burning Costly

The practice of burning stubble and straw is much more costly than many farmers realize, according to Extension soils specialists at South Dakota State College.

To prove their point they say that straw and stubble from one acre that has produced 50 bushels of oats contains 20 pounds of nitrogen, six pounds of phosphorus, 30 pounds of potash, and 400 pounds of humus.

The same would be true, they say, for a 25-bushel-per-acre wheat field or 35 bushels of barley.

Burning of such fields would mean a drop in yield of five to eight bushels per acre for next year's crop, seven to 10 bushels for oats, and three to five bushels per acre loss on wheat, the South Dakota specialists say.

OUR CORNER

When complimenting women there are two general groups. The beautiful and the homely in one group, the average in the other. Always compliment the average on their beauty. They never tire of being told they are beautiful because they never are quite sure. On the other hand, the beautiful and homely know just what they are so they must be complimented on their brains. To tell a beautiful woman she is beautiful is no compliment. Telling a homely woman she is beautiful is an obvious lie to her. Telling them they have brains is something each feels complimented on.—(Taken from Lord Chesterfield's Letters to his Son.)

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON

Man Holds Post as Career U. S. Lawyer

By TEX EASLEY AP Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — James McInnes Henderson, a 46-year old native East Texan, is what is known as a career government attorney.

Many federally employed lawyers hold strictly patronage positions and may be replaced when there's a turnover in political control of the White House or of Congress. Others, like Henderson, survive such changes because they have civil service status and largely handle legal rather than policy problems.

Henderson, 46, has held responsible legal posts both here and abroad. He started out with the Justice Department in 1938, fresh out of George Washington University law school, which he attended nights while working days in the office of the late Texas Sen. Morris Sheppard. Henderson's boyhood home was Daingerfield, which Sheppard for years represented in the House.

HENDERSON MOVED steadily up the ladder. He handled anti-trust prosecutions on the West Coast from 1943 to 1946, served as legal advisor to Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Tokyo for a year before heading a Philippine Alien Property Administration in Manila for four years. Returning to Washington, he became director of the Office of Rent Stabilization.

His next step was out of the federal service to engage in private practice. Soon he was representing many Texas clients before the Securities and Exchange Commission, so he took his wife and four children and moved to Dallas.

After a little more than three years in private practice, he returned to the government, joining the legal staff of the Federal Trade Commission in April. He has charge of cases which are appealed to the courts.

"I have returned to government service for two principal reasons," he explained. "First, there is a need for experienced attorneys in the government. Second, I find there is real satisfaction in government service, in helping preserve our democratic form of life."

He readily agrees there are also such factors as an assured income without worry of office rent and overhead expenses, and an attractive retirement system beginning at a minimum age of 52.

AROUND THE CAPITAL:

Ten of Texas' 24-man congressional delegation have served in the Texas legislature, two have served as city councilmen, one as a mayor, one as a deputy sheriff and eight as county or district judges or attorneys.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough (D) has received two letters from young constituents in Nacogdoches, apparently a brother and sister, asking him to help cool off their school.

The penciled note of Sonny Rogers said: "Please tell our principal to give us an aircon-

JEWS HONOR CATHOLICS

NEW YORK (AP) — The Union of Orthodox Jewish Congregations of America has awarded special citations to two Roman Catholic chaplains in the U. S. army, Col. James B. Murphy and Col. John H. Connelly, for their "devotion to the religious interests of Jewish servicemen and servicewomen under their charge" — the first time Orthodox Judaism has so honored non-Jewish clergymen.

ditioner in our room 4-B." Ann Rogers wrote: "Please tell my principal, Mr. Sullivan, that we need some kind of fan in our room. It gets hot in our room."

FEDERAL JUDGE Ewing Thomason of El Paso, a former congressman, visited here recently with his wife. After attending a judicial conference in Atlanta, he rented a car and drove to Washington, stopping along the way to visit old friends. He and his wife were house guests of Gov. Almond of Virginia for three days. The two men served together for years on the old House Military Affairs Committee.

Recently conferring here with top Marine Corps officials regarding a memorial exhibition honoring the late Maj. John W. Thomason, famed Texas author and artist, was Gen. Paul Wakefield of the Texas Heritage Foundation.

An exhibition of Thomason's works is being arranged for various cities over the nation this fall, with the opening scheduled for Houston. Marine Corps officials agreed to have local units of the Corps promote the exhibit.

Born in Huntsville Feb. 28, 1893, Thomason gained fame in World War I with sketches he did with charred match ends as he sat in trenches. He served in the marines until 1944.

While in Washington, Wakefield discussed the exhibit with Gene Cooper, a former Texas newspaperman now in the public relations business. Cooper recalled that he had negatives of pictures he took of Thomason at Southwestern University in Georgetown more than 30 years ago. Prints will be made from them for display with the exhibit.

Rural Church Conference Is Scheduled

COLLEGE STATION — The 13th annual Rural Church Conference will be held at Texas A & M College, June 23-25. A program to meet the spiritual, economic and physical challenges of rural people has been planned for the three day meeting.

According to Reagan Brown, extension rural sociologist, speakers will include some of the most outstanding rural church leaders of the nation as well as Texas church and lay leaders and Texas A & M College System staff members.

Brown points out that rural churches play a most important part in building community spirit and improving life in rural areas. He says that more than 100 new churches have been built in the State during recent years as a part of community improvement programs in the counties. In addition, hundreds have been remodeled or improved in order to better serve their congregations.

The specialist believes that rural pastors and lay leaders can pick up many new ideas and techniques on how to carry out an effective rural church program by attending the conference. Communities organized under the Extension Service's community improvement program are urged by Brown to consider sending one or more representatives to the meeting.

Local county extension agents have copies of the program and can supply detailed information on questions dealing with the conference, or information may be obtained by writing to the Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology, Texas A & M College System, College Station. The Department sponsors the annual meeting.

Fertilizer Is A Must for High Yields

COLLEGE STATION — A well-planned soil improvement program and the proper use of fertilizer are essential for high yields of top-quality feed, forage and vegetables.

Data showing the average composition of nutrients in certain crops and their general nutrient needs is contained in a leaflet just released by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service entitled "Soil Nutrients Removed by Some Crops."

The leaflet contains a table which gives the pounds of nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium and calcium which are removed by a particular yield for field crops, forage crops and vegetable crops.

For example, a yield of 70 bushels of corn requires 63 pounds of nitrogen, 25 pounds of phosphorus, 18 pounds of potassium and 1 pound of calcium. A yield of four tons of alfalfa hay requires 180, 40, 180 and 112 pounds, respectively.

The figures listed in the leaflet are average for representative conditions. The actual quantity will vary depending on fertilizer used, climatic conditions, soil conditions, level of nutrients in the soil, variety of crop, as well as total yield. So, these values indicate the general nutrient needs of crops, but they cannot be used to determine fertility needs.

Local county extension agents have copies of the program and can supply detailed information on questions dealing with the conference, or information may be obtained by writing to the Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology, Texas A & M College System, College Station. The Department sponsors the annual meeting.

DINNER GUESTS

The best method of determining nutrient needs is to have the soil tested. This will result in the most efficient use of soil resources and the commercial fertilizer will mean more profitable returns. Your local county agent can provide information on soil testing.

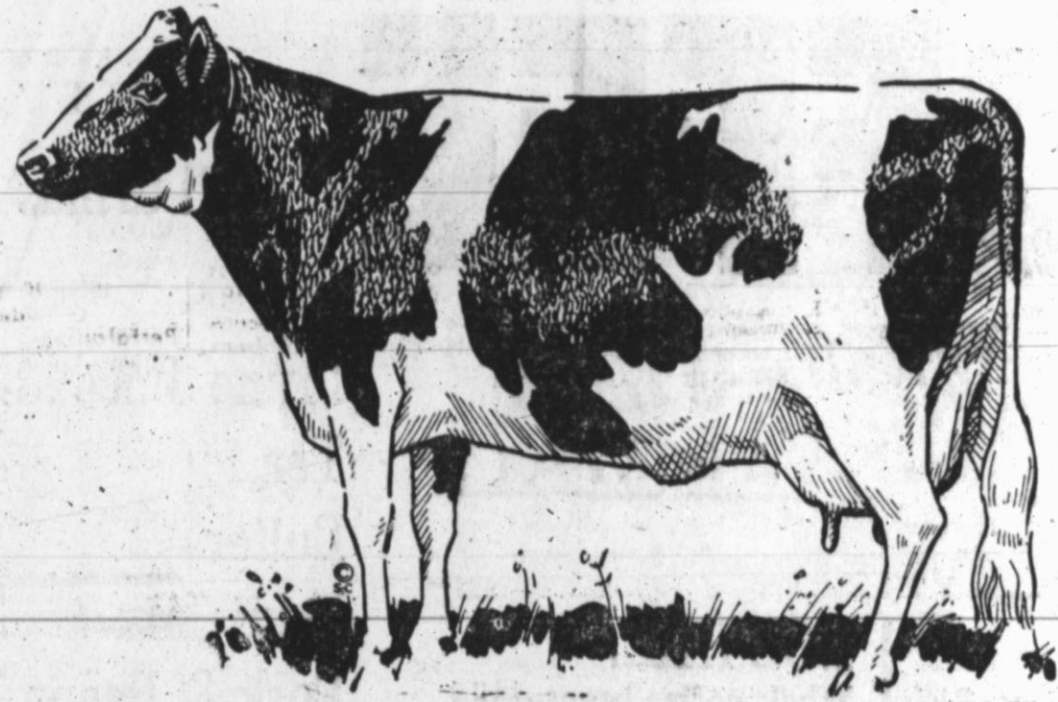

This new leaflet may be obtained from local county agents or the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Ask for L-165.

WALTER ROGERS WRITES:

How Many Political Parties?

people of the 18th Dis-number of years it argued in this county there is a need for political parties or a reorganization of the political party which we now have. Some that there is a definite third party to counter certain philosophies present in both the Republican and Democratic parties. I think that we need a realignment of the political parties so that the conservatives will all be in one party and the liberals will all be in another. Still others argue that we need a group of political parties — each representing a particular political philosophy — in order to have expression of sentiment on democratic basis. This matter at this time I feel that much being written at the time in France concerning political difficulties in France had to do with the present situation. The 4th Re-wholly impotent insofar as enforcing any controversial decisions.

France floundered for a number of years under this loosely knitted scheme of things, and the 4th Republic was able to survive only because of help from French allies including its major benefactor, the United States. However, I feel that the situation which has developed over recent years in France has made a major contribution to the science of government. The advance of civilization has been by trial and error. The political situation in France has furnished us with a most valuable source of information on governmental questions.

I think that it has definitely proved the merit of our system in this country of two major political parties, with both parties being well-balanced, and counting among the membership of each, students of divergent political views. A system by which issues can be threshed out, thoroughly considered and acted upon. A system wherein Independents are free to move into either party or to cast their votes solely as independents. And probably most important, a system wherein the possibility of the military taking over is at a minimum.

UNKNOWN SOLDIERS

Last week the nation paid tribute to all the brave and valiant men who gave their lives for their country in the Korean War and in World War II. The last remains of two servicemen, their identity known but to God, were interred in Arlington Cemetery alongside the Unknown Soldier of World War I.

The flag-draped coffins lay in state in the Rotunda of the Capitol from Wednesday morning until Friday afternoon, Memorial Day, where thousands of Americans paid their respects. At the Capitol, the caskets rested on the same bier on which the body of Abraham Lincoln lay in state after his death in 1865. On Memorial Day, they were borne to their final resting place.

VISITORS

R. G. Peeler of Hereford, who is immediate past president and currently the legislative representative of the Grain Sorghum Producers Assn., was in Washington on business and it was good, as always, to see and visit with him.

Plans Ready for State 4-H Meet

COLLEGE STATION — The chuck wagons have been greased and the cooks have their equipment in top shape to handle the feeding of an estimated 2,300 4-H boys and girls, their supervisors, leaders and friends who will attend the State 4-H Roundup at Texas A & M on June 10-12. The chuck wagon supper, always a program favorite, will take place the evening of June 11 and will be a fitting climax for the hard day the 4-H club members will have devoted to judging and demonstration team contests.

The evening program on June 10 will commemorate 50 years of 4-H club work in Texas. President M. T. Harrington of the Texas A & M College System will welcome the 4-H members to A & M and Director John E. Hutchison of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will speak on "Where From Here." Several 4-H members of the past and present will also have a part on the program.

On June 11 State winners in 23 different judging and team demonstration contests will be determined. Winners in several contests will qualify to represent Texas in national events later in the year. In commenting on 4-H club work, the youth phase of the Agricultural Extension Service,

Parade, Rodeos Demand Interest, Participation Of Hereford's Youngsters

Youngsters of the area had themselves a field day during the annual Deaf Smith County Pioneer Days, Thursday through Saturday, as shown by the pictures on this page. Whether participating or just watching from the sidelines, they were interested to say the least.

An estimated crowd of some 3,000 small fry below the age of 12 joined parents and older folks in lining Main Street Thursday afternoon for the traditional parade, which consisted of everything from beautiful girls to a monstrous looking mechanical object labeled "Nellie Bell."

Most all rodeo stock riders were younger men, below 20 years of age. The older men stuck to the roping events. (Staff Photos)

By JIMMIE GILLENTE

Hall damage stories pretty well held the spotlight the first few days of the week. The damage was really tough on those who lost their wheat but, after all, this is part of making a wheat crop. When there is no wheat, there sure can't be much wheat damage, and the old timers who can remember our last big wheat crop say that it never fails to happen. There is an old saying that a wheat crop has to be lost four times before it is harvested — and that's about right.

JAY BOSTON says he is plowing up his field and will leave a strip for the insurance adjusters. He reports close to 100-percent damage. He was also giving Hugh Bookout a hard time.

"Why weren't you a little bit more insistent?" Jay wanted to know. "If you had talked long enough and hard enough, I would probably have gotten down off that mower and put some insurance on my cotton, too."

There are a lot of conflicting opinions about hail damaged cotton and onions. Some people say they are gone for good; others argue that they will come back and make. Still others say they've seen it happen both ways. One thing for sure, though, a lot of onions went down in the hail storm.

THE DEMOCRATS are planning a big party blowout for June 21. They are inviting all local, district and state candidates and will feature William Jennings Bryan Dorn, Congressman from South Carolina, as speaker. Dorn was suggested by national party headquarters and was secured through assistance of Walter Rogers, according to John D. Pitman, program chairman. They plan to hold the affair at the football stadium and will kick things off with a Walter Jeton barbecue. The tax will be $3 a plate and the surplus, if any, will be moved into the Democratic funds. Adjoining counties will be invited to participate, according to County Demo Chairman Louis Woodford, who hopes the crowd will exceed 1,000.

The school election proves the old saying: "You can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink." Like I said before, this is the first time in a long while that a school board has made an effort to give the people what they wanted, instead of what the board thought they needed. Almost everyone wants good public schools. The election Tuesday pretty well proves the point.

J. D. KIRKLAND, meanwhile, is consorting with his son, Jerald R. Kirkland, to extend woman suffrage into the realm of fishing. The plot was hatched down at Lake Brownwood and centers around a new-fangled, air conditioned fishing dock. In addition to summer cooling, the docks will also be heated for winter fishing. The dock is 110 feet long and 40 feet wide; it accommodates 100 people inside and 100 outside, and is fully equipped with 150 lawn chairs. Needless to say, it is lighted for night fishing and will operate 24 hours out of every day. The cost is $1 for each 12-hour period. Jaral, wife Wanda, and the two boys, Gary, three, and Terry, eight months, recently moved to Brownwood from Hereford to manage the Lake Brownwood establishment. Kirkland admits they got the idea from similar docks at Lakes Texhoma, Belton and Buchanan, but hastily adds:

"We combined only the better features of all three to make ours the BIGGEST and BEST in TEXAS."

This will no doubt hold a lot of appeal for fishermen like Ralph McCallough, Paul Harvey, Urlin Streu and Neil Cooper. To the old fashioned, dyed-in-the-wool fisherman, though, it will afford little interest. How in the world are you going to tell about those big ones that got away when you've got 150 to 200 witnesses? Especially, when one of them is your wife?

Back in the days when men were masters in their household, you usually found an old brass spittoon in every living room. Masculine superiority was often measured by a man's ability to spit across the room and make the cuspidor play a tune. A few years ago, they out women on the juries — and right off the spittoon vanished from its last stronghold, the courthouse. About the only place left where a fellow can chew tobacco is out on a fishing trip — and now it looks like that is about to go the way of all flesh. I sure am glad I am in the chewing tobacco business.

The whirlybird finally arrived at the George Paetzold landing strip and is creating a great amount of interest, especially among the small fry. Also among the adults who happen to find out how much it cost. This particular 2-place job sells for $49,000-plus — and you have to get on the waiting line to take delivery. The gearbox and controls to the rotor blade cost $11,000 and, in itself, is quite a piece of machinery. The four place jobs are still more costly.

Probably the most unusual sign in Hereford is that on the City Drug Store window which reads: "Se habla Yiddish."

These Vacation Bible schools are, no doubt, a good thing. However, there is one little hitch that needs straightening out. I notice where they are about to declare a "National Sandwich Week" during June. Unquestionably, the dates should be checked and scheduled so that the two events will coincide.

We residents of Deaf Smith

County have a lot of things for which we can be thankful, and one of them is an item recently recorded in the office of Justice of Peace: "Not one single death during the month of May, 1958" Berry Miles says it is the first time the situation has occurred since he has been in office, but he is not sure how many months it has been since the county previously made the same entry.

I guess it's the magnitude of the dandelion crop, but we have had a lot of calls and requests for a recipe on dandelion wine. I figure most of the callers were kidding, but ran across the following recipe in the "Peticoat Patter" column in the Canadian Record. The column is conducted by Nancy Ezzell, who was widely known as an outstanding culinary expert when she lived in Hereford.

DANDELION WINE
15 quarts dandelion blossoms
3 gallons cold water
15 pounds sugar
1 yeast cake
Juice of 1 dozen oranges
Juice of 1/2 dozen lemons
2 1/2 pounds raisins.

Place the blossoms in cold water and simmer for three hours. Then strain the liquid. Mix it with sugar. Boil up, then strain through cheesecloth. When lukewarm, add the yeast cake and let the mixture stand for 2 or 3 days, skimming it each day.

Add the juice of the oranges and lemons with thinly peeled rinds of both fruits, first simmer for half an hour in a little water. There should be 5 gallons in all by measure.

Put into a cask and add the raisins. Leave the cask open for a day, then seal it tightly and let it stand for six months before bottling.

I feel sure this is not intoxicating, but it does smack of aura of the prohibition days when a lot of people were making homebrew. Anyway, if the neighbors start complaining about the odor, you'd probably better check with the city and see if you are in a zone designated for the manufacture and sale of intoxicants; also with the sheriff concerning manufacture of such beverages in a dry county. However, I think they have to be manufactured for the purpose of "sale" — and I

Third of Area's Cotton Crop Up

LUBBOCK — A third or more of the Texas High Plains two million allotted acres of cotton for 1958 is reported up to a good stand and farm officials estimated as much as 90 per cent was planted as of last week.

Warm sunny days the past week enabled farmers to plant and re-plant where necessary. With present ideal weather conditions the entire 2,131,000 acres available for planting is expected to be planted this month.

Farmers figure this is almost an ideal situation, as compared to the 1957 planting season when more than a million acres had to be replanted in June, and much of it after June 15. Thus far cotton officials estimate this year's crop is a month to five weeks ahead of 1957.

D. W. Sherrill, district irrigation agent, said last week that this year's May 19-and-later plantings may catch up with the late April and early May plantings, due to better growing conditions in the early stage, warmer soil and warmer day-and-night temperatures.

Planting operations reached a peak during the week May 18-24 as favorable weather prevailed and fields dried more rapidly than had been expected.

A large amount of early planted cotton in the southern counties of the High Plains is reported up to good stand and farmers are already watching for early season insects.

Graduation Services Held

By MRS. T. L. COLLINS
The eighth grade graduation program was held in Walcott School Auditorium at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 28. The invocation was given by Mrs. Bertha Collins, the address of welcome by Betty Sue Lockhart, the class will and prophecy by Edna Stewart, the farewell address by Johnny Buse, the graduating address by Mr. Bruce Miller of Herford, the presentation of diplomas by T. L. Collins and the benediction by Mr. Eldred Brown.

Bruce Miller recalled his own eighth grade graduation in Siloam Springs, Ark., as he spoke. He suggested that the students don't take "snap" courses in high school, but include some foreign language to better appreciate our own, some science and physics to help understand the age in which we live. He stated, "You've been getting background, but in high school you'll gain general knowledge. Remember all of knowledge, interest and hobbies help you enjoy life more. All of us need control of self, the ability to concentrate mind-control over action, and don't give way to emotions. Learn to apply and use all the things you know."

Before the principal, Thomas L. Collins, presented Johnny Buse, Betty Sue Lockhart and Edna Stewart their diplomas, he said, "I've been doing this work for many years, but these three make up the smallest eighth grade graduation class I've ever had."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Markham of Summerfield and Mrs. Wayne Lady of Herford were guests for the graduation. The ladies are both sisters of Johnny Buse.

The Walcott School closed for summer vacation on Friday, May 30.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoover and girls have had guests in their home who arrived late Sunday night. They were Mrs. Howard Brown, Chris and Cindy from Phoenix, Ariz., and Mark Williamson from Oracle, Ariz. They were a sister and father of Mrs. Hoover.

There was a lot of clouds, lightning and thunder around Walcott until late Wednesday night, but only a sprinkle of rain.

Ruby Turner of Friona, who went to school at Walcott last spring, visited here on Thursday.

Two Walcott boys received their diplomas at the commencement exercises of Herford High School on Friday night, May 23. They were Bill Johnson and Bruce Collins. Both attended the senior class party held in the Jim Hill Hotel, following graduation.

H. D. Council Holds Meeting

The Deaf Smith Home Demonstration Club council held its regular meeting in the Bull Barn kitchen on Monday, May 26. The clubs made it a kitchen shower of dishes, glass ware and utensils needed for the use of the H. D. clubs when they use the Bull Barn for club entertainment.

The Food Club ladies directed recreation in the form of riddles in rhyme to be solved by members present.

Mrs. Hodges included in her finance report the fact that Southwestern Public Service had held its first demonstration of appliances and it was attended by 21 ladies and several children. Another demonstration is planned for June when another group of ladies will be invited. The rummage sale planned by council finance committee is also scheduled for the latter part of June.

The year book committee held their meeting with four clubs represented. They plan to present to the clubs the choice of either family economics or nutrition for the long range program this coming club year.

The committee appointed to investigate prices for stainless steel flatware for the Bull Barn kitchen presented their prices. The clubs reported a majority agreed to help pay for the flatware. The silver ware purchase was shelved pending further investigation into prices.

Mrs. Dorotha Prowell invited everyone to the 4-H Bake show. She reported that there were 68 record books making 24 more than previous years. Several girls are planning to attend camp at Camp Don Harrington. She also expressed appreciation to Seeds Motor Co. for furnishing a station wagon for the girls use in going to Round-Up at Col.

Adventists Seek Mission Funds

Members of the Herford Seventh Day Adventist Church, Third and Lawton Street, will help to boost their church's mission funds by a million dollars when they participate in the Church Offering on Saturday, June 7.

According to Pastor J. D. Nichols, the special million dollar offering will be taken in Adventist Churches throughout the world on that day. The project is an answer to an appeal from church leaders to "meet the rising demands by the peoples of many lands for more Christian teachers, preachers and physicians."

Pastor Nichols explained that the June 7 offering, to be taken in the Herford church, will be reported on June 21 at the 48th World Conference of the church in Cleveland, Ohio, where other funds will be added from delegates and visitors. The total is expected to exceed the one million dollar goal.

Pastor Nichols said a message from the world president of Adventist, R. R. Figuhr, Washington, D. C., has been received by the Herford Church stating "world conditions speak in no uncertain tones, telling us that we must hasten with our Christian task, for time is running out."

Bake Show Is Biggest Yet

By ARGEN DRAPER

The 4-H Bake Show last week was the biggest and best. More interest than ever was shown by the girls and their parents. I appreciated seeing the whole families and so many parents at the meeting where the awards were made.

Mrs. Olson picked up a blue ribbon for Joyce Pearch instead of a red. We're sorry but I think the girls and their parents understand that when leaders are working so fast and under pressure that errors can easily happen.

Mary King gets our biggest thanks for helping with the expenses to Roundup. She has always been interested in youth and says there is no pleasure as great as helping girls learn worthwhile things.

Congratulations to Susie Faris for the fine art exhibit of last week. It is quite a big affair and all of Hereford should be proud of Susie and her accomplishments.

Mrs. Clara Shore was showing us a picture she has recently finished. It is lovely red roses. One of the fascinating things about it is the dew drops on the petals and leaves. Roberta Campbell says it looks so real that she wants to shake the water off.

Ellen McGowan was well supported by her mother also by both grandmothers, Mrs. Claude McGowan Sr. and Mrs. Tom Alderson. There couldn't have been more proud grandmothers.

Sure missed Faye Plank at the Bake Show as she is always present to help. She was having finals at West Texas that morning — a legal excuse, I'd say.

Hate to have to admit it but we made some errors in addition and some of the girls called our attention to it. Sandra Green is being sent a blue ribbon instead of the white she was given on biscuits and days will be set so maybe you can attend one of them. If you see a streak going by this month it is Dorothy Prowell. She is going to 4-H Camp the first week in June; Roundup the second week. A school reunion and to a district meeting the 16th and 17th of June. I hope you 4-H'ers and leaders treat her more kindly as she will have been many miles the first three weeks.

There is plenty of milk in Texas — and nobody ever outgrows the need for this important food. Yet, figures from the Home Demonstration Study just completed show that Texans — too many of them — are not getting enough milk daily.

According to the study, only 25 per cent of the children under 20 drank the full four glasses recommended per day. Fifty per cent had two or three glasses, 15 per cent only one glass, and 6 per cent drank no milk at all.

Men drank more milk than the women interviewed. Fifty-six per cent had the two glasses or more recommended for adults, while only 40 per cent of the women reported drinking that much. Of even greater concern, is the fact that 28 per cent of the women and 23 per cent of the men reported drinking no milk at all.

Children need milk to build bones and teeth. Older people, too, need milk for bones. Research has shown that one of the greatest problems after middle age is maintenance of good strong bones. Minerals in milk, especially calcium, help solve this problem.

June is National Dairy Month — a good time to take stock of your family's milk consumption habits. Use milk to help balance the budget as well as the diet. No other food gives more food value per dollar.

handicaps with women being allowed seven extra strokes plus their full handicap. Caddies may also compete by paying 25 cents.

Each player who enters whose score is better than that shot by the champion, either Herbert or Mayer, will receive an award.

All proceeds from the competition will go to Caddie Scholarship Funds, Golf Programs at Veterans Hospitals and Service Depots, Turf Research and Education, Programs for Blind and Amputee Golfers, Jaycee Junior Golf, and the PGA Benevolent, Relief and Educational Funds.

Every golfer should have a full sack of clubs. This brings up the question of Why?

All golfers have a certain amount of ego as to how far he can hit the ball. Rather than thinking about power, a player ought to ask himself "Why should I force a shot and run the risk of spilling it when I have a club available that will get the job done without pressing."

When a player thinks in this manner, he is making the right approach mentally.

Why should a player hit a 5 iron when he has doubts about getting to the green? Remove the doubt and hit a four. That's the easy and natural way.

By using the club the shot demands, a player is taking full advantage of his equipment. All this is important in creating a smoother swing instead of a lunging movement. Use of the correct club helps a player to keep from getting excited and nervous about the shot.

Fourteen clubs in a bag is the maximum limit a player can carry in tournament play, but he has a use for all of these.

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

Election Law Changes Eyed

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN — During coming months Texans will ponder and argue the wisdom of adopting sweeping changes in election procedures.

If adopted, the changes recommended by Gov. Price Daniel would alter campaign procedures more drastically than anything since the Terrell election law became effective over a half century ago.

Governor Daniel's proposals are (1) to abolish precinct conventions and, instead, elect county convention delegates at the first primary and (2) to hold primaries in May and June instead of July and August.

Such ideas are grist for mills that grind slowly. They'll be debated, pro and con, at the party conventions this summer and, probably, again by the Legislature next year.

At the June 9 meeting of the State Democratic Executive Committee, the resolutions subcommittee will recommend support of the changes. Subcommittee members announced they agreed with the governor that a direct primary vote in the precincts would insure wider participation and do away with the "ugly contests, rump delegations and bitterness" that have characterized Texas party politics all the way to the national convention.

Support from the State Committee was to be expected since a majority of its members are friendly to Governor Daniel.

Opposition is anticipated, down the line, from people who regularly participate in precinct meetings. They — or at least some of them — contend the neighborhood gatherings provide the citizenry with a sort of democratic "town hall" experience. Others object to earlier elections on the grounds they would prolong the "lame duck" period for defeated incumbents.

Defenders of the anti-precinct convention plan declare it's the next logical step in a long-range trend. Before the adoption of the Terrell election law, state officials were nominated by political parties at their state conventions. Beginning in 1907 voters were given a more direct say by the use of one primary and a convention vote if no candidate received a primary majority. In 1918 this was amended to provide the present two-primary system.

"CODE" FORTHCOMING — SDEC's resolutions committee also promised to meet DOT's challenge for a "code of ethics" for conducting party conventions.

The Committee said it did not feel privileged to dictate procedures from the state level, to precinct and county officials; "the overwhelming majority of whom can be trusted to function

...with the highest ethical considerations." But it said it would recommend a "declaration of principles which will insure... majority determination" at state conventions.

A "fair play code" has been a rallying cry for the liberal Democrats of Texas led by Mrs. Frankie Randolph of Houston.

ANTI-TRUST INQUIRY — When a city or county needing supplies or equipment gets sealed bids identical to the fraction of a cent, there's a possibility the bidders got together beforehand and agreed on a jacked-up price.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson says that his office has had several reports of identical bidding. He is making an intensive investigation. Suits will be filed after evidence is complete, probably within six to eight weeks.

Contracts under study involve sales of electric transformers, chlorine for swimming pools, and lime and oyster shell for street topping.

A conspiracy among bidders HOLES IN THE NET? — With the state facing a sizable deficit next year, the Senate general investigating committee is seeking to discover if the state is getting all the tax money due it.

Members of the State Comptroller's Department, chief collecting agency, told the committee, in effect, that the collecting next was a little skimpy for the potential catch.

They're way behind in their audits of large companies, said Houston area supervisor Harvey J. McKinzie. Reason, he said, is that low state salaries have caused the staff to dwindle from 14 in 1948 to five at present. An audit, said McKinzie, sometimes results in recovery of large sums of additional tax money.

BACK AGAIN — Texas officials are making another attempt to get the Supreme Court to say who's "boss" of insurance liquidation.

Both the State Board of Insurance and the judge of the local district court handling the liquidation cases have had a hand in selecting liquidation attorneys during the past few years. In a recent test case the Supreme Court said the Board had the first responsibility for naming the attorneys and setting their salaries, but that if it failed to act, the judge could step in. Now, the attorney general is pressing for a more definite ruling. Acting on behalf of the Insurance Department, he has asked the court to set aside a recent order by Dist. Judge Charles O. Betts raising the salaries of three liquidation attorneys.

Wilson's petition contends that, in changing the salaries of men already appointed by the Board, the judge is overstepping his authority.

ALL OR NOTHING — A farmer or rancher cannot get a refund on state gasoline taxes if he uses his "agricultural gasoline" for any other purpose.

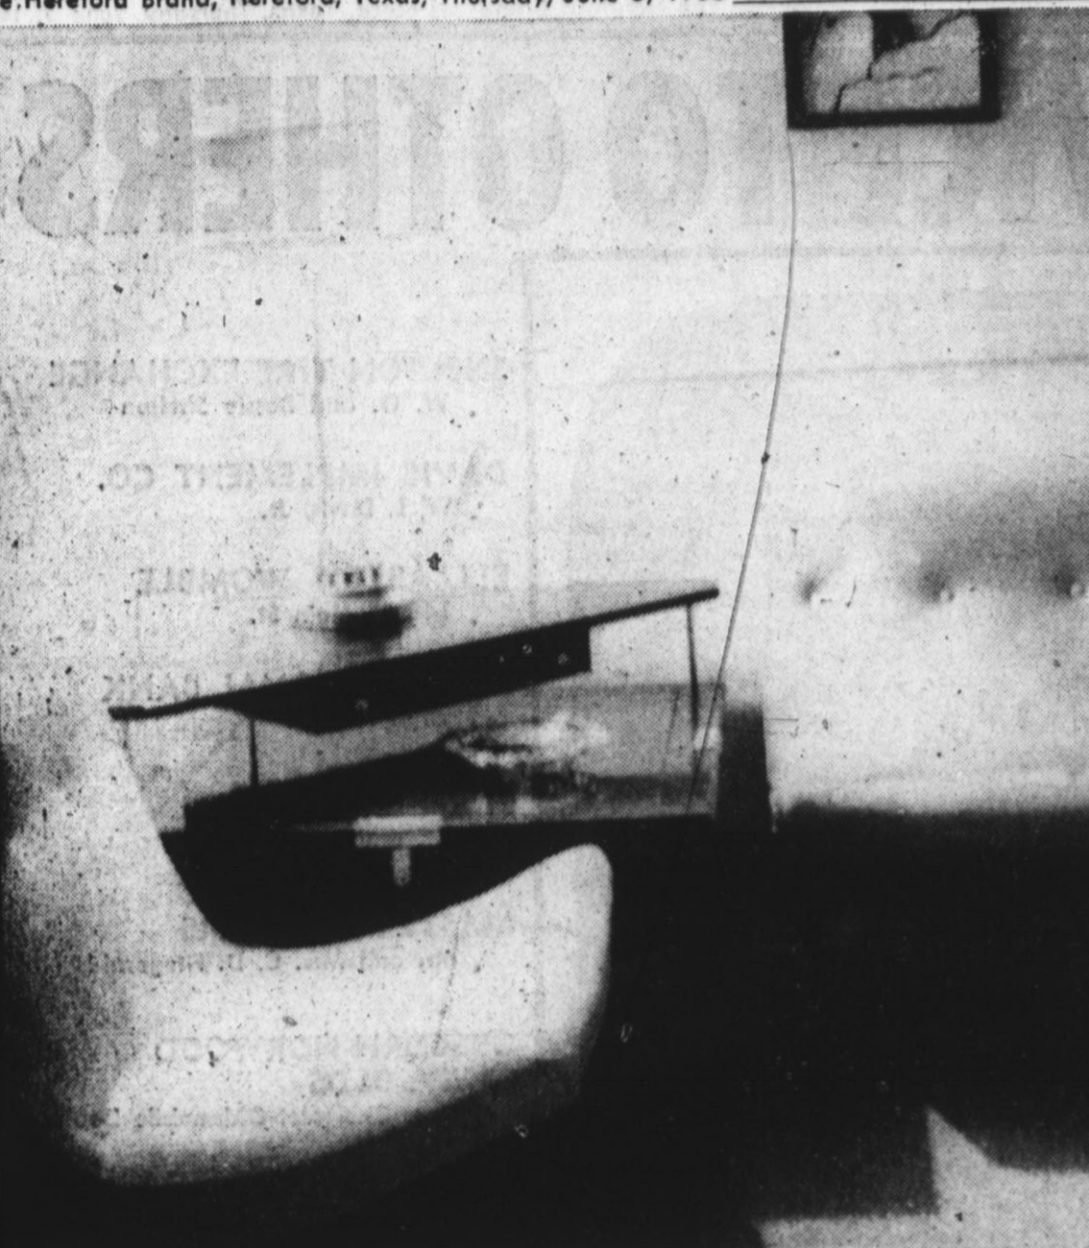

This opinion by the attorney general was given at the request of State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert, who said that a farmer wanted to correct a previous claim and get a partial refund for gasoline used partly for farming.

A farmer using gasoline on which he receives a tax refund may not drive the vehicle on a public road.

FEWER JOBLESS — Texas Employment Commission's latest report on Texans out of work is cheerful.

For the second consecutive week, the number claiming unemployment benefits dropped substantially — from 86,528 to 83,099.

Optimism is tempered by the expectation of a new flood of job-seekers when the schools and colleges turn out graduates and summer workers this week.

WAITING ROOM FURNISHED—Deaf Smith County Hospital's O. B. waiting room was furnished last week, financed mainly by a donation from the La. Madre Study Club. (Staff Photo)

Jack Shelley, Hale Center, Tex., says: "I put down Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia on my irrigated cotton and got an average of 847 pounds of lint per acre. This compared to a yield of 633 pounds on a check plot. My increase netted me $54.85 an acre. I got more well matured, five-lock cotton bolls, too."

Other Southwestern farmers have discovered that the 82% nitrogen in top quality Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia helps them to get more profit per acre, through higher yields and lower production costs.

They have found that, by using Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia, they get more cotton that grades out higher at the gin; yields of sorghum grain and ensilage are increased; more marketable vegetables are harvested, and profits on wheat are increased through better forage, and higher yields of grain.

BRETHREN BE NOT WEARY IN WELL DOING - 2 Timothy 3:13

A robust man you are today, - Full of vigor, vitality and vim;
But through some common stroke of fate, - You must depend only on Him. Yes, when your stretcher rolls into the room,
The physicians will do their best; Their skills and tools will work in rhyme, - But remember Brother,
It Takes God Every Time.

God's assistants are brothers of well doing but they would be the first to join the Psalmist of old that It Takes God Every Time.
You may find Him at the little church on the corner...
Have you Tried?

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial staff and the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

 Lest We Forget: It is not any earthly gratification that can make you happy. Our Lord does not say: Blessed are the rich, the gay, the respected, but he does say: Blessed are the humble, the pure, the meek, and those who hunger and thirst after righteousness. This is a far cry from the sentiments of the world at large, but it is not the less true on that account. They who have never sought for happiness in Christ have no idea of the happiness that is found in Him: Do not seek your happiness in "broken cisterns" that hold not water, but seek it in the Fountain of Living Waters. A most cordial welcome to you.

Bible Words for Today

PSALM 8:5: Yet Thou hast made him (man) little less than God, and dost crown him with glory and honor. (RSV)

We emphasize, and rightly so, the importance of man's faith in God. Man's faith is very important. But we might well be struck also with the wonder of God's faith in man. The Psalmist is overwhelmed with this knowledge. What is man he asks. Then the realization of the confidence God has shown in man sweeps over him. Man has been made a little less than God, has been crowned with glory and honor, and has been given dominion over the work of God's hands.

Jesus, the great revelation of God, showed this divine trust in man. He could believe in Mary Magdalene and she could become a virtuous woman. He could believe in Simon and he could become Peter the rock. He could believe in Zacchaeus and he could become an honest man.

God looks deeply into each human life, sees something of himself that he has planted there, and God has faith in man. If God believes in people like we know ourselves to be, how earnestly and humbly we ought to try to justify that faith.

ON THE HOUSE

By JOHN O.B. WALLACE

AP Newsfeatures

TERRACES and patios need planters to add that touch of green. The handy husband can make them in a few hours at little expense.

Here's one designed for construction in the home workshop, composed of three tapered boxes, each nesting inside the other.

And if you want to make life easier for the little woman, affix the planter to rubber-wheeled casters to make it mobile; no more tugging and shoving, then, to move a flower box, heavy with earth, from one location to another.

A happy choice of lumber would be western red cedar beveled siding. This wood is inexpensive, has a natural resistance to rot, and has a long life, whether painted or unfinished.

Here's the step by step procedure:

Buy four eight-foot lengths of the beveled siding. It comes in 1/2-inch widths. Beveled siding is 3/4 inch thick on the top edge and tapers to a thickness of 1/4 inch at the bottom. Also buy one piece of exterior grade fir plywood about 24 by 24 inches. Most lumber yards will cut it to size.

NOW ROUGH CUT 12 pieces from the siding, each piece 22 inches in length. Each piece then must be cut with a slight miter at each end for a taper so the boxes will nest.

There are two ways to do it: (1) If you have a miter jig, cut one end at an angle of eight degrees, the other end at an angle of five degrees. Or (2) mark a point on the bottom edge 1 3/16 inches in from one end and another point 15/16 of an inch in from the other end.

Cutting at an angle across these points from the top end and edges will give you the eight- and five-degree cuts.

As you assemble the four sections of each of the three boxes, lap the eight-degree end over the five-degree end in a "continuous lap" method. The result will be a uniform taper.

Put the sections together first with a single nail at each corner. Then join them permanently with two-inch No. 7 brass flat-head or oval head screws and brass "finishing" washers.

Cedar is strong wood but tends to split, so take pains to drill through the overlapping ends with a bit only slightly smaller than the shank of the screw.

Use two screws for each bottom corner of each box; one screw about an inch down from the top edge will do the job for the upper corners.

BE CAREFUL, too, in driving the lower screws because the siding is thinner on the bottom edge. Now cut the plywood in a square piece so it will extend out about a quarter inch on all sides of the bottom of the lower box.

Rip a two-inch strip off the thick edge of the remaining length of siding and use this to form facing for the edge of the platform. Place this facing also in the "continuous lap" method, using either nails or screws, and let it rise about half an inch above the platform.

The lower part of the facing will hang below the platform, producing a skirt to conceal the casters. The casters must be of the plate variety, which mount with screws.

The wheels, not smaller than 1 1/2 inches, should be rubber. Composition or cast iron wheels will not roll smoothly over terraces, patios, driveways or walks as the planter is moved around. Nest the three boxes inside each other — and joyfully call the little woman to come and inspect your masterpiece.

DENVER (AP) — Denver's great-grandmother sea captain is cultivating a new hobby — space.

Capt. Mary Converse, the only woman in the nation licensed to command craft of any size on the high seas, says she has been struck by moon madness — at 86.

Space is no stranger to Capt. Mary. She taught astral navigation to more than 2,500 Navy, Coast Guard and Merchant Marine students during World War II. The school room was in her Denver home.

Now it's rockets. She is a member of the research association of the High Altitude Observatory of the University of Colorado, working in the International Geophysical Year program. Her interest at present is research on the ionosphere.

In between IGY articles, Capt. Converse is working on her autobiography — but she admits it's pretty slow going with her other interests. In fact, she said, she hasn't been able to get past 1910.

Capt. Converse was born Mary Parker in Walden, Mass. Her husband, Harry E. Converse, was a wealthy Boston shoe manufacturer and yachtsman. He died in 1921 and Mrs. Converse moved to Denver four years later.

When she was 67, Capt. Converse again turned to navigation and won her master's papers. Her license was renewed for five years after examination in 1955.

She spends much of her time now with a son Elisha in Carrizo, Calif. Two other sons live in Massachusetts. Parker in Marion, and Roger W. in Boston. A daughter, Mrs. John Butler lives in Winnetka, Ill. Capt. Converse's 47th great-grandchild arrived recently.

Capt. Converse grants that she may have slowed down a bit. "I haven't played tennis since I was 80," she said.
