Couple Injured In City Wreck

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Lindsey of Hereford, who were hospitalized after being injured in a two-car intersection accident at Mable and Windsor streets Thursday evening in Hereford, both were reported in "satisfactory" condition at Deaf Smith County Hospital Saturday morning.

The elderly couple was injured when the car which Mrs. Lindsey was driving was hit by a car driven by Mrs. Iris Layman, 19, of Hereford, at the junction of the two unpaved streets.

Attending physician at the hospital said Lindsey received a broken right leg and multiple bruises and Mrs. Lindsey sustained a broken left hand and multiple bruises in the accident.

Mrs. Layman and a passenger of her car, Hazel Lewis, 17, of Hereford, were treated and released in the emergency room of the hospital shortly after the accident.

Investigating city police officers said the Lindsey car was travelling west on Mable and the car driven by Mrs. Layman was headed south on Windsor. The Layman car hit the right front door of the Lindsey car, according to officers.

The injured were taken to the hospital by Kreig-Marcum ambulance.

Damage to the Layman's 1955 sedan was reported at $500, and the 1951 Lindsey automobile was demolished, investigating officers estimated.

TWO WERE HOSPITALIZED and two were treated and released for minor injuries after a two-car intersection accident at Mable and Windsor Thursday at 5:30 p.m. Reported in satisfactory condition at the hospital Saturday morning were the occupants of the car at right, Mr. and Mrs.

C. A. Lindsey of Hereford, Driver of the car at left, Mrs. Iris Layman, 19, and Hazel Lewis, 17, a passenger, both of Hereford, were treated and released in the emergency room of the hospital shortly after the accident. (Staff Photo)

Winter Wheat Allotment Deadline Set Wednesday

Deadline to apply for a new farm wheat allotment for the farmer who has no wheat allotment and intends to seed winter wheat for harvest in 1960 is Wednesday, according to Faust Collier, manager of the Deaf Smith County Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation office in Hereford.

Applications should be filed in writing at the county ASC office.

Once the farmer applies, Collier said, the application will be studied on the basis of tillable acreage, type of soil and topography of the farm. The farming system will be reviewed, and reason why wheat was not planted on the farm in past years will be considered.

"If it all adds up to a convincing case in favor of wheat production on the farm in 1960,"

Collier pointed out, "the farmer will be assigned an allotment to the extent that acreage is available."

The procedure will not affect the farmer who already has a wheat allotment or has an established record of wheat production on his farm. It was explained. Those growers will receive notice of wheat allotments without application.

Allotment notices will be sent to growers well in advance of the nationwide wheat referendum scheduled for July 23, Collier said.

On June 1, Secretary of Agriculture proclaimed marketing quotas set for the 1960 wheat crop. County voters will be notified of polling places by the local ASC office prior to the referendum.

If producers approve marketing quotas, under the proclamation the national-average support price available to eligible growers in the commercial area will be not less than the minimum support to be announced before the referendum.

On the basis of the present supply of wheat and present legislation, the legal minimum wheat

Starts Animal Feeding Plan For 4-H And FFA

Plans for a livestock feeding program for youngsters in Deaf Smith County were completed Wednesday afternoon during a meeting at the Hereford State Bank's directors' room.

Boys in 4-H and FFA Club work in the county will be awarded animals to raise, if they meet standards set up by the group.

A total of 16 animals will be awarded by five sponsors. Four-H and FFA leaders will assist in administering the program.

Sponsors of the program include: West Texas Drilling Company, to furnish two registered Hereford heifers; Big T Pump Company, one registered Angus heifer; Cooper's Market, one registered Angus heifer; Hereford Grain Corporation, two registered milking shorthorn heifers; and Hereford State Bank, ten registered Hampshire gilts.

Representatives of the sponsoring businesses and 4-H and FFA Club sponsors will comprise the committee charged with administering the program.

The program is designed to be perpetual, with other animals being returned to the committee, which will award them to other youngsters.

According to the committee's plans, the animals will be awarded to the boys on the basis of their achievements in agricultural projects, their academic standings and their desire to enter the feeding business and to expand it.

The boys chosen to receive animals must agree to breed the animal with a sire selected by the committee and return a gilt from the first litter or a girl after weaning. The animals must be registered by the boys before returning them. The committee then will select other boys to receive the young animals.

A meeting has been set for July 11 at 8:30 p.m., when the program will be explained fully to parents and members of the 4-H and FFA Clubs. (Continued on page 2)

Support Price On Oats Set

Prices for Deaf Smith County's 1959 crop of oats will be supported at 58 cents per bushel for grade No. 3, it was announced by the County Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation office in Hereford Friday.

To be eligible for support, 1959 crop oats must grade No. 3 or better or No. 4 on the factor of test weight only under the revised standards effective on June 1 this year.

Premiums are one cent per bushel for Grade No. 2 or better, one cent for heavy test weight and two cents for extra heavy test weight. Discounts are one cent per bushel for Grade No. 4 on the basis of test weight only and three cents for quality.

As in former years, price support for the 1959 crop of oats will be carried out through farm and warehouse stored loans and purchase agreements. Supports will be available from harvest time through Jan. 31, 1960.

Civic Club Council Agrees On Centralized Signboards

Six Hereford club representatives at the monthly Intra-Service Club Council meeting Friday in the Jim Hill Hotel approved having their club represented by emblems on four large "Welcome To Hereford" billboards to be placed at highway sites leading into the city.

Subject to the approval of individual service clubs, the representatives of each club agreed to allocate $200 toward the signs.

The billboards will cost up to $200 each, and will be placed at the four main entrances leading into Hereford, on east and west Highway 60 and north and south U. S. 385. No date was set for sign installation.

The representatives said that emblem space would be available to three more Hereford clubs desiring to be represented. Other clubs wishing to have their emblem placed on the billboards would be asked to allocate the same amount as the other six clubs, with excess amounts over sign building and installation to go into a permanent maintenance fund for upkeep of the billboard, the group decided.

Groups tentatively planning to be represented on the billboards include Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, and Kiwanis, Rotary, Lions, Optimist and Business and Professional Women's clubs in Hereford. Each billboard will be 10 by 14 feet.

In other business, it was suggested that all safety committees band together for a safety planning program to cover the city more thoroughly. No action was taken, but representatives agreed to discuss the program with members of their individual clubs.

The group agreed to suspend all regular meetings until September. Monk Johnson was named chairman of the next regular meeting.

Attending the Friday meeting were Bill Thompson of the

Around Town

The Hereford Brand took second place in the Texas Press Association contest for semi-weeklies in the state. The announcement was made Saturday morning at Brownsville, during the TPA convention. The Brand took first in news pictures, second in news writing and second in editorials.

The Andrews County News took first place in the sweepstakes for semi-weeklies with 255 points, edging the Brand's 250 points.

The Canyon News had second places in appearance and pictures, the State Line Tribune at Farwell had first in columns and pictures and third in editorials and Tulla Herald earned second in columns. All were competing in various weekly newspaper categories.

Hereford and the surrounding area was shocked at the sudden death of J. A. Pitman, who had played a large role in the development of the area.

Congratulations to the citizens of Hereford for helping the city win its sixth straight award for having no pedestrian fatalities.

"All My Sons" was a huge raving success during its performances Thursday and Friday. (Continued on page 2)

Kiwanians Sell House Markers

Hereford Kiwanis Club members Monday will launch a house marker project in Hereford and start selling house number plates and stakes in a door-to-door campaign during evenings.

The Kiwanians recently received 1,000 sets of markers and hope to complete the project in about 10 evenings. Proceeds of sales will go toward the current Hereford Community Center drive.

Double-face lawn stakes, complete with light-reflecting numbers which glow in the dark, will be sold at $2 each. Single plates will be sold for $1 each to those home owners who wish to have their marker attached to the front of their house.

Installation of the markers by club members will be included free of charge. Sales will begin at 6 p.m. each evening.

Plans for the drive were made at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday noon in the IOOF Hall. Captains of the four sales teams are Jess Robinson, Guy Lawrence, Bartley Dowell and Clinton West.

JUNE 29, Monday, Hereford Kiwanis Club members will launch their house-to-house marker sales campaign here, as Linda Noland, Kiwanis sweetheart, reminds home owners. Kiwanians hope to complete the project in 10 evenings. (Staff Photo)

White Sox Edge Tigers, 15-14, In 8 Innings

In an extra-length game, the White Sox squeezed by the Tigers, 15-14, in eight innings in a battle of the bottom half of the Pony League standings Friday night.

The White Sox took the lead in the bottom of the first, after blanking the Tigers. Four walks, a single, a passed ball, a wild pitch and a fielder's choice gave the White Sox five runs on one hit.

Growing with anger, the Tigers came back to knot the score 5-5 in the top of the second on three walks, two singles, a double by McGee and an error.

The Sox were blanked in their half of the second, and the Tigers took a 7-5 lead in the top of the third, scoring two runs on a walk, a single and another double by McGee.

The score was tied again, 7-7 in the last of the third, as the White Sox garnered two runs on an error, two singles, a walk and a wild pitch. Both teams got goose eggs in the fourth. (Continued on page 2)

Harvest Resumes After Wet Delay

Deaf Smith County wheat farmers put combining back into full swing Friday after up to four inches of heavy rainfall bogged harvest of the estimated 240,000 acres of the crop in the county early in the week.

Most farmers and elevator managers are optimistic that harvesting will be completed by the end of this week, provided weather conditions are favorable.

With only a sprinkling of the crop taken to elevators Thursday, high temperatures and clear skies permitted farmers to resume storage of the harvested crop Friday. Elevators were "heavily back in business" again Saturday morning, managers reported.

Moisture content of the grain was ranging from 12 to 14 percent this week, but was expected to drop. (Continued on page 2)

SAFETY AWARD for six consecutive years of no pedestrian fatalities was presented to Hereford Friday. Making the presentation was Herb Budke, center, president of the Panhandle Automobile Club of Amarillo. Accepting the award were Mayor Woody Wilson, left, and Chief of Police

Henry Aycok. Also attending the luncheon presentation were City Manager Dudley Bayne and Guy Lawrence, president of the Hereford Highway Association. The award is made by the American Automobile Association. (Staff Photo)

The cast did a marvelous job of the difficult three-act drama, showing the audience why they earned district honors this spring for the second act presentation. We regret that Carol Hickey, high-school speech and drama teacher, is moving to Big Spring. He has done a fine job in staging productions, and more particularly in developing the talent of his eager, and apt, students.

A meeting Thursday morning indicates that plans are coming along nicely for the big Harvest Festival on July 30, 31 and Aug. 1. C-C manager Bill Thompson announced that an added attraction would be a dinner honoring county vegetable growers, processors and shippers.

Larry Gargon has long been known as a bull thrower... and now he has a trophy to prove it. He won top honors in the humorous speech contest held by the Toastmasters Club last Tuesday night, with Alvin Smith taking second place. The Toastmasters will host a visitors night on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Jim Hill Hotel ballroom.

Deaf Smith County United Fund will have a board meeting Monday, June 29, at 5:30 p.m. in the Hereford State Bank hospitality room. President Ed Line said the group would decide on a campaign director for the fall fund drive and would also consider several other matters.

Rotary Club installation banquet will be at 8 p.m. Monday, June 29, in the Jim Hill Hotel ballroom. Leo Forrest will be installed as president for the 1959-60 club year.

That early-bird school board meeting of Hereford trustees is set for 6 a.m. Tuesday, June 30, in the directors' room of the Chamber of Commerce.

L. Salazar, 22, brother of the man in custody at Del Rio, was charged with burglary here after his arrest at the Labor Camp Sunday by deputy sheriff L. R. Cherryhomes and Domingo Pelsina.

The three were charged with the April 19 break-in of the Helton store in the 100 block of Main, in which seven pistols valued at $480 were reported missing the morning after the burglary.

Skelton returned to Hereford Friday evening with some of the recovered pistols after nearly a week of investigation. He said he is receiving the cooperation of United States and Mexico Custom services and the U. S. Immigration Service in investigating the case.

In recent years he had also acquired an elevator at Lariat and interests in elevators at Bovina and Farwell.

He was a member of the First Baptist Church of Hereford, a World War I veteran and had belonged to the Shrine since he was 22 years of age.

Survivors include his wife of the home at North 25 Mile Ave., a son, Jon D. of Hereford; a daughter, Mrs. Helen McWhorter of Dallas; a sister, Mrs. Eloise Taylor of Amarillo; and six grandchildren.

If marketing quotas are disapproved, there will be no restrictions on wheat marketings. Acreage allotments will remain in effect as a condition of eligibility for price support at the 50 per cent of parity rate required by law if quotas are not approved.

Growers in the commercial area who stay within their allotments will be eligible for price support on their entire production if quotas are approved.

Growers who exceed their farm acreage allotments will be subject to marketing quota penalties if they have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest. Growers who sign applications for exemption under the feed wheat provision permitting 30 acres or less to be used exclusively for feed on the farm will not be subject to marketing quota penalties.

At least two-thirds of the producers voting in the referendum on July 23 must approve quotas for the 1960 crop if they are to be in effect.

Growers who will have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest as grain in 1960 in any one of the 39 commercial wheat states come under the regulation of quotas and will be eligible to vote in the referendum.

Marketing quotas have been approved by farmers for the last six wheat crops. In last year's referendum on quotas for the 1959 wheat crop, 84.1 per cent of the farmers voting favored quotas.

Some elevator managers feel that more than half of the harvest has already been completed. No acute shortage of combines has been reported since harvesting began about June 17.

Hail damage has been at a minimum thus far, farmers reported. During the peak of harvest last year, large hailstones peppered the unharvested crop to a great extent west of Hereford. Most of the hail reported this year also has been in the far west portion of the county.

Sunday and Monday rains left up to four inches of rain west and east of Hereford, although only .80 of an inch was reported at Hereford official rain gauge at City Hall.

Comparing favorably with reports last year, the 8.18 inches of moisture this year contrasts with 9.40 inches reported at this time in 1958.

Finishing touches, generally speaking, were placed on the estimated 29,000 acres of barley in the county recently, although harvesting operations are still in

The Tigers took a slim 8-7 lead in the first of the fifth on a walk and a double by Bybee.

This margin evaporated in the last of the fifth, as the Sox got a 10-8 lead on three consecutive walks and two straight fielder's choices.

Tigers were chasing each other around the bases in the first of the sixth, as the Bengals romped for six runs and a 14-10 lead. Three errors, two walks and three singles gave the Tigers the edge.

The White Sox got just one run, to make the score 14-11, on an error and a double by Johnson.

The Tigers were scoreless in the seventh. But the White Sox tied up the score, 14-14, earning three runs on a single, a fielder's choice, two errors and a passed.

Again the Tigers were blanked, as the game went into extra innings. The Sox grabbed off the winning run when Johnson walked, moved to second on a passed ball, Higgins walked and Carver pounded the ball for a fielder's choice as Johnson scored.

Winning pitcher was Patton, who relieved Hair in the sixth. Taking the loss was Bybee, who took over from Kelly in the fifth.

Exploding in the top of the fourth, the Cards surged ahead by playing four runs on just one hit. Six errors, a single and two passed balls broke up what had been a tight ball game, as the Cards went ahead 6-2.

Still holding the Dodgers, the Cards added two more runs in the fifth on a walk, three consecutive singles and another walk for their final pair of runs.

The Dodgers came fighting back in the bottom of the fifth to score three times. Four walks and a single pulled Ed Mims in favor of Frank Cain, who put out the fire.

The Dodgers almost pulled the game out in the last of the sixth, as they scored two runs on two walks and a single, before Cain struck out three batters.

Ed Mims took credit for the win while Doug Watson was tagged with the loss. Lynn Warren worked three innings in relief for the Dodgers.

In the minor league contest, the Dodgers bombarded the Cardinals, 23-11.

TEXANS IN ALASKA

From North Forty-Nine To Southern Forty-Eight

(Editor's note: The following is a letter from a group of Herefordites vacationing in Alaska. Through the eyes of Texans, they give their views of the 49th state.)
 June 24, 1959
 Dear People in the largest state in the south forty-eight:

Today it is raining in one spot in the north forty-nine. It is a lovely, slow, drippy rain, just right for a good snooze.
 I am hoping it rains on the Alcan Highway for the next five days since we will be driving toward the next biggest state in the U. S. A. on it (1,500 miles). Texans cannot realize the grandeur, the dust, the racks, the black spruce, the beautiful snow-capped mountains, the mass, the lakes, the rivers, the flowers, the mosquitoes, the burned forests, the towering birch and aspen trees, the inconveniences, the conveniences, the high prices ($1.50 for a hamburger), the distance, es, the modernness, the primitiveness and other contrasts that are in Alaska.

 There is any climate, any kind of scenery you can imagine for hundreds of miles. There is fishing and hunting (buffalo, moose, caribou, bear and mountain sheep). There is oil, gold and other minerals in abundance.
 There are paved roads to all the large towns, but you stay on them because if you get off you bog down in bushes, mud and moss.
 This has truly been a magnificent vacation for us. Nowhere but in Alaska is there so much of so much. You cannot possibly believe there is a place like it anywhere.
 Virgil just came in from the post office with the Hereford Brand and a dozen letters from home. What could possibly be more wonderful than reading letters and news from home as we get ready to go "state side".
 We will start "outside" in the morning about sunrise, which is two or three o'clock a.m. We will be home in about 15 days.

Household Scrapbook

Warts can be removed by washing the hands in a solution of a liberal quantity of washing soda dissolved in a pan of water. Dry the hands without wiping. Or, castor oil rubbed on the warts often causes them to dry.
Black Straw
To clean a black straw hat and restore the faded color, mix well together two-thirds olive oil and one-third jet black ink and go over the hat with a small brush.
Sticking Windows
When one experiences trouble in the raising and lowering of the windows, try rubbing a bit of paraffin on the window ropes, and considerable improvement will be noted.
Lace Curtains
To stiffen lace curtains so they will hang straight and keep clean much longer, add two or three tablespoonsful of flour to starch. Or, add one teabspoonful of borax to a large saucpan of starch.
Baby's Soap
Pure castile soap is best for bathing the baby. If a delicate aroma is desired, allow the talcum powder used to take care of that; but be sure to use only pure soap for his tender skin.
Water Bugs
A little kerosene poured down the kitchen sink at night is a precaution against water bugs.
Sun Treatment
IT COSTS TO CADDY
TUCSON, Ariz. — Four caddies were needed to tote the golf bags for Desi Arnaz, Bing Crosby, Phil Harris and Randolph Scott during an exhibition match for charity in Tucson. Several Tucson businessmen volunteered. Four got the job after they agreed to donate $100 each to the charities.

A motion was passed to enlarge the board to allow each service chairman a position on the board. This admitted Wayne Edwards, Bill Thompson, Mrs. Bill Howard and Dr. Bruce Beene.

Several Red Cross members were given awards. Among these were Lloyd Sharp, the retiring chairman; Kenneth Rudd, the retiring vice chairman; Henry Aycock, first aid chairman; and George W. Jewell, the disaster chairman.

Also given awards were Hardwick, Jewell Smith, Mrs. H. A. Carnes, Mrs. Betty Lady and Earl Springer.

One year bars were given to four self-service committee members and Motor Corps members.

A report of Red Cross activities revealed that disaster aid has been rendered to two families in the Deaf Smith County area whose homes were burned. Two first aid classes were taught in addition to the water safety courses. Nursing service has been given to the sick and injured as well as in the area of mother and baby care.

The home service program has worked with 276 families. Robert Blackburn, field representative, spoke at the program issuing a challenge to his audience that the future of Red Cross was dependent on the ability of the chapter members to tell others about the importance of Red Cross and the services it renders.

By Anne Ashley

Q. Does metal deflect heat?

A. Yes. Do not leave a fork, spoon, or other metal article, in a pot which is desired to heat rapidly, as the metal will deflect the heat and prolong the time of reaching the boiling point.

Q. How can I make a good freckle solution?

A. Mix four ounces of lactic acid, one ounce of glycerin, and one ounce of rosewater. Or, try putting the juice of one lemon in half a cup of water and applying twice daily.

Q. How can I judge the freshness of an ear of corn when purchasing?

A. See that the husks are dry and green, and that there are no wrinkles in the ears.

Q. How can I relieve the pain of burning feet?

A. Prepare a foot bath of water as hot as can be borne. This will be found a great relief. Baths of sand, warm and moist, are also good. Bury the feet in this up to the ankles, and allow to remain from twenty to thirty minutes.

Q. How can I relieve the pain of hives?

A. By taking a teaspoonful of milk of magnesia two or three times daily. Or, dissolve one teaspoonful cream of tartar in a half glass of water and take before each meal.

Q. How can I prevent window screens from sticking, when it is desired to slide them up and down?

A. Rub laundry soap along the rods on which the screens slide, then run the screens up and

Two Hereford High graduates have accepted basketball scholarships to play at Eastern New Mexico University, Portales. They are Donnie Renfro and Milner Duvall.

The announcement was made this week by ENMU basketball coach and athletic director Al Garten. The scholarships will include the customary tuition, room, board and books.

The two boys were among the six seniors who pushed the Hereford Whitefaces into the state basketball finals in Austin this spring.

A hustling little guard at 5-10, Renfro played in all 35 Hereford basketball games during the 1958-59 season, tying Ken Clearman for the most quarters played with 138. He made 129 of 312 attempted field goals for a 41.3 percentage.

He hit 80 of 123 free throws for a 65 per cent average. His 338 points gave him fourth place in scoring and a fourth place average of 9.7.

Duvall, one of the most aggressive players on the squad, is 6-0. He played in 34 games. He made 71 of 173 field goal attempts for an average of 41, while canning 59 of 89 charity tosses for a 66.3 average. He made 201 points for an average of 5.7, fifth for the team.

Signing of Renfro and Duvall brought to four the number of 1959-60 basketball players who have signed scholarship agreements. Earlier in the summer, Steve Slagle and Bobby Shelton signed with West Texas State.

Variety of Flavor
A variety of flavor in roast beef or veal can be effected by basting during the process of cooking with equal parts of spiced pickled fruit juices and water.

Heavy Stitching
If hesitant about stitching through heavy cretonne on the sewing machine, rub the seams with yellow soap, and the needle will penetrate the goods without danger of breaking.

How Can I?

Q. How can I remove paint spots from clothing?

A. By using equal parts of ammonia and turpentine. Saturate the spots three or four times, and then wash in soap suds. Rinse in clear water, dry and press.

Q. How can I easily remove the strings from string beans?

A. Every bit of string can be removed if after thoroughly washing they are plunged into boiling water for five minutes and then drained.

Q. How can I get rid of chiggers on the lawn and bushes?

A. Chiggers on the bushes can be destroyed by the liberal use of sulphur, applied with a dust gun. On the lawn of course, the chiggers will disappear if the grass is kept cut.

Q. How can I avoid warping of aluminum pans?

A. Aluminum cooking pans are often warped out of shape by the practice of putting cold water into them while they are still hot.

Q. How can I avoid moist hands when ironing?

A. Talcum powder dusted frequently over the hands while ironing prevents them from becoming moist, sore, and tired.

Q. How can I prevent having moss on the lawn?

A. If you detect any moss on the lawn, it is a bad sign. It indicates either a sour or impoverished soil. For sour soil, apply some hydrated lime and for impoverished soil, use a good quality of fertilizer. Practically any soil, however, is benefited by an application of lime followed by a week or two later by fertilizer. Do not apply both of these too close together.

Silvered preserved or candied ginger is delicious added to canned purple plums.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON

Eleven Texas Airports List In Top Hundred

By TEX EASLEY
 WASHINGTON, (AP) — Eleven Texas airports are among the 100 busiest in the nation. The state is second in number of pilots.

A report issued by the Federal Aviation Agency of the 213 traffic control towers which it operates shows a total of 26,599,719 takeoffs and landings during 1958, a 6 per cent increase over 1957.

Dallas ranked third in the nation with 280,753 "itinerant operations" throughout last year, trailing behind Chicago's Midway airport with 397,765 and Los Angeles' count of 296,730.

Itinerant operations are all except those out of and back to the same field in a single flight. Air Force Base flights and pilots are not included in the FAA report.

The other 10 Texas cities in the first 100 were:

Houston 187,896; El Paso 144,556; Fort Worth (Meacham) 137,048; Fort Worth (Carter) 130,883; San Antonio 124,159; Austin 89,796; Beaumont 86,329; Amarillo 81,139; Lubbock 80,907; and Waco 71,784.

The remaining nine Texas airports with FAA operations, with their combined takeoffs and landings as listed for the other cities were:

Midland 68,593; Abilene 64,846; Wichita Falls 56,663; Corpus Christi 47,939; Brownsville 46,384; San Angelo 43,432; Longview 27,107; Tyler 24,367; and College Station 22,218.

Combining the takeoffs and landings at Fort Worth's two fields — Carter and Meacham, the city would rank sixth in the nation with a total of 267,831. Separately Meacham, the old municipal field, ranked 37th;

Carter, the Fort Worth International airport, ranked 39th. Portland, Ore. was 38th. (By combining New York's La Guardia of 255,903 and its Idlewild of 210,710, the city would rank from 5th place — Washington D. C. is 4th — to second. Chicago's Midway traffic combined with the 160,710 takeoffs and landings at its O'Hare field would total 558,475.)

The FAA's report shows California leading with 47,068 active pilots, Texas second with 25,614. The U. S. total is 352,469.

AROUND THE CAPITAL

High school bands from throughout the country frequently stage a concert on the steps of the Senate or House wings of the Capitol. (The main front steps are now torn down as a part of the Capitol's facelifting job.) One of the latest to entertain tourists and congressmen was the Hooks High School band from northeast Texas.

The green sweaters and blouses of 4-H boys and girls from over the nation have been dominating the streams of tourists pouring through Capitol corridors the past few days.

Selected to represent Texas 4-H youths at the big annual conclave here were: Joan Barton, Monahans; Laura Eileen Horn, Lubbock; Lonnie Schmitt, Dorchester in Grayson County, and Kinan Burk, Tullia and Swisher County.

Designated as their escorts for the trip were Miss Erma Wines a nmdarshac rollufo c Wines and Marshall Crouch of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

A surprise visitor in the office of Rep. Frank Ikard of Wichita Falls was Harry James Jr., son of the band leader. A constituent from Denton, young James is now at Bolling Air Force Base here and plays in the AF band at the base. And like his dad he plays trumpet. John Stallings, on Ikard's staff, and secretary of the Texas State Society, promptly recruited James into the organization.

Paetzold....

 man and ushers were George J. Paetzold and James Paetzold.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of chantilly lace and net over taffeta with a figurine bodice of lace having a bateau neckline and brief sleeves. The bouffant skirt featured an overskirt of lace caught in scallops with pearl beads over a deep pleated ruffle of net which fell into a short train.

Net gauntlets completed the ensemble. Her veil of illusion fell from a Queen Ann crown studded with pearls with pearl drop in front, and she carried a heart shaped bouquet of lilies of the valley centered with a single white orchid.

The bride's mother wore a pastel blue lace dress with white accessories. Mrs. Neff the bridegroom's mother wore beige embroidered linen with matching accessories. Each wore a white gladioli corsage.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in St. Anthony's Hall. Miss Donna Sue Guseman served the wedding cake and Phyllis Tatium and Alice Lueb poured punch. The tiered wedding cake was an exact replica of the heart shaped wedding bouquet. A blue and white checked suit was worn by the bride when the couple left on a honeymoon trip to points in Colorado and New Mexico. After June 28 they will make their home at the farm home of her parents three miles southeast of Hereford. In the fall, they will continue their studies at the University of Chicago.

The bride is a graduate of Hereford High School and attended WTSC one year. Her husband is attending the University of Chicago, majoring in nuclear physics.

Beauty At Home

Q. Please suggest something for bringing out eyebrows that are almost invisible.

A. You can try using two eyebrow pencils, instead of one—brown and black. First use short, soft strokes with the brown pencil, following this with one-third as many strokes with the black. This should impart a natural look to your brows.

Q. What exercise will help to firm and strengthen the muscles of the thighs?

A. The standing-squaring exercise is one of the best. Stand on tiptoes with hands on hips. Bend knees to a squatting position, then rise to a standing position, staying on your tiptoes throughout.

He was the man who took a small Indiana college to the crest of football greatness, and made the "Fighting Irish" of Notre Dame a household word. His name was Knute Rockne, the coach's coach, one of the truly great wizards of the gridiron.

Then, at the very height of his career, came the tragic accident which snuffed out his life. Just a few months before, his Notre Dame team, quarterbacked by Frank Cardo, had climaxed a sensational season. For the second straight year the Irish had been named National Champions. No one could beat them. A lot of experts still claim that this last team forged by Knute Rockne was the greatest Notre Dame eleven that ever played.

Remember the black headline which brought the shocking news of Rockne's death to the world?

Remember the year? There were other black headlines that year, too... news of panic... the long lines of unemployed. A man held onto his money... and when he spent it, he made sure he got value for his dollar.

The year was 1931. Even if your budget is tight, you'll find that you can SAVE MONEY with one of our reconditioned, late model Used Cars. # Oregon Observes Centennial With Summer-Long Festival

By GORDON G. MACNAB

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Oregonians passed up their first chance to celebrate the arrival of statehood. Now they're getting ready to make up for the oversight.

The news that Oregon had been admitted as the 33rd state reached Portland before dawn on March 15, 1859, when the side-wheeler Brother Jonathan wheezed into Portland Harbor.

A few flags were run up, but opinion is divided on whether this was in honor of statehood or simply a standard greeting for the ship. A horseman was dispatched with the news to Salem, the territorial capital. That was about the sum of excitement in Portland on the great day 100 years ago.

But now, with a century of evidence that statehood was a good idea after all, Oregon is ready to beat the drums and ring the bells. It plans a summer-long celebration it hopes will attract six million visitors.

With wagon-loads of enthusiasm and a bit over 2½ million dollars from the state's coffers, the Oregon Centennial Commission has been working for months to recreate a little of the past, burnish the present, and offer prospective settlers and customers a bright prediction for the future.

Seven covered wagons are now creaking westward from Independence, Mo., over an approximation of the Old Oregon Trail. They are due in Independence, Ore., on Aug. 15, at the end of a trip intended to dramatize Oregon's link with the past.

The greatest effort to take note of a century of statehood is a 100-day Centennial Exposition and International Trade Fair at Portland. It opens June 10 and runs through Sept. 17.

In addition, nearly every town in Oregon is having its own celebration of one kind or another, spread through the year.

At sleepy little Jacksonville, a survey offers taxi service. Folk dancing parties dot the calendar. In central Oregon, Redmond put false fronts on the Main Street stores, put denim pants and 10-gallon hats on its policemen, and scheduled weekly gunfights on the streets.

Chuckwagon breakfasts can be bought in many cities. Souvenir money will buy a round of sarsaparilla drinks behind swinging doors.

Clam digging contests at the beaches. A climb to a glacier on Mt. Hood. Boat races on white water streams. A week of the San Francisco Opera Co. in Portland. Tours through the state by the Portland symphony and junior symphony orchestras. These are the mixtures of fun and culture planned for the whole year.

Events held every year have prepared for extra company. The widely known Portland Rose Festival June 9-14 comes early in the celebrating and the famed Pendleton Round-Up Sept. 16-19 near the close. Through all of August the Ashland Shakespearean Festival will present its repertoire in a new $275,000 Elizabethan theater.

Strangers who come to see what this 33rd state is like, will find a rich land of broad valleys between towering, forest-covered mountains, great sweeps of wheat-fields, grazing land and sagebrush.

They will find spectacular scenery in mountain passes, on desert plateaus, along the mighty Columbia River gorge in the heart of the Cascade Mountains, and from a broad highway that unwinds along 300 miles of ocean beach and rocky headland. They may rest in 200 state parks and romp on the sandy ocean beaches, all of which belong to all the people and are free.

This varied land became a state just 18 years after settlers first found a need for government.

Pioneer Ewing Young died in 1841. He left land, cattle and no Oregon kinsman. Settlers picked a judge and went about the business of probating his estate. That was the first Oregon government. Two years later settlers met again and voted, 52 to 50, to set up a provisional government under United States law. The opposition was from those who favored British law — or none.

Lucy V. Goodwine, Pioneer Teacher, Dies In New York

During her years as a teacher in the college she took an active part in improving educational facilities for women.

Hunter College is a part of Columbia University where Miss Goodwine continued her studies. Prior to her recent illness she had made preparations for conducting summer courses at Hunter. For the past several months she had been under the care of a physician.

Final rites for Miss Goodwine were conducted in New York City Monday, June 15. Following cremation, the remains were transferred to Claborn Funeral Home of Friona for memorial services.

Survivors include Lola Goodwine and Clyde Goodwine, both of New York City; Glee White

That vote was the big push away from dominance by Hudson's Bay Co. and its British fur trappers. In 1846 American jurisdiction was recognized by treaty and Congress created Oregon Territory in 1848. Eleven years later Oregon became a state.

It had a population of 50,000 and 11,000 of these had crossed the plains in covered wagons in the great migration years of 1841 to 1848. The rest followed later by land and sea. The gold rush began in 1849 and adventurers began to leave the sober tone set by original settlers.

Portland, dominated in its early days by people of wealth and culture from New England, became headquarters for as fine a band of crimps as ever shanghaied an idle or befuddled man.

Likely none of these ever exceeded the exploits of Bunco Kelly, who sold a cigar store Indian to one ship captain and a group of corpses to another. He carried them aboard with the explanation they now were drunk but would make fine hands when sober.

This sort of lawlessness spices the past of Oregon which it filled with the romance of exploration and settlement.

The great lure that brought the first people to Oregon in quest of furs is all but gone. Only a handful of beavers are trapped each year although the nickname "the beaver state" still clings to Oregon. But those things that caused the settlers to come and stay — good land, pleasant climate and elbow room — are still here. Trout and steelhead and salmon still are found in lakes and streams. Mountains and seashore are close at hand and the population averages less than 20 to a square mile after a century of statehood.

Miss Lucy V. Goodwine, former teacher in Deaf Smith County schools, died Sunday, June 14, in New York City, where she had lived about 35 years.

Miss Goodwine moved to Friona from Indiana with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Goodwine, in 1908. After attending school in Friona, she taught in Deaf Smith and Parmer County schools several years before moving to New York City where she was a member of the teaching staff of Hunter College.

BIG SHOOT

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP) — The world championship skeet shoot of the National Skeet Shooting Assn. will be held at the Princess Anne Gun Club here Aug. 2. Selection of the of Friona, Nelda Bragg of Brownfield, Floy Enochs of Deer Park, Margaret Price of Yuma, Ariz., and Leland Goodwine of Bellflower, Calif.

American Olympic skeet shooting team is expected during the event. Entries are expected from the U. S., Cuba, Mexico, Canada and perhaps from some South American and European nations.

The Indians recaptured the lead of the Pony League by beating the Red Sox 10-1 Thursday night.

Allowing the Sox only one hit, the Indians used 10 hits to make 10 runs.

The game began with the Sox being removed in the first inning scoreless with one man left on base.

Using a first base error, Indian Ronnie Duncan got on base to be put in scoring position when Gene Jennings hit a double. The third Indian score came about when Jim Haney walked. Bill Steele hit a double to die on base.

Retired scoreless in the top of the second, the Red Sox managed to get Drew Kershner on third. He had walked and used passed balls to get there. Also scoreless in the second, the Indian half of the inning died with Duncan on second.

The only Red Sox score came in the third by Barry Gabbert on a short stop error. Gary Smith, who got to third on a right field error and Bill Brown, who made the only Sox hit of the game, a double, died on bases.

Taking two runs on one hit in the third the Indians pushed the score to 5-1. Jim Haney hit a triple and Bill Steele walked to make the scores.

The rest of the game was no runs, no hits, no nothing for the Sox as the Indians took complete possession of the game.

Three Tribe scores were made in the fourth inning on base hits and errors.

Duncan scored when a short stop error let him on base. John Willoughby hit a single and Jennings walked to make the score 8-1.

Dick Combs made a score in the fifth on a single and Jennings slugged a triple in the sixth inning to close the game.

The winning pitcher for the Indians was Jim Haney who went all the way. Gary Kendrick was the losing pitcher for the Sox. He was relieved in the sixth inning by Drew Kershner.

Heavy Rainfall Is Reported Northwest Of Community

By MRS. CARL WIMBERLEY
Heavy rain fell here Monday evening, continuing through the night and early Tuesday morning. The amounts varied from one inch and a quarter to more than three and one-half inches. The rain was heaviest to the northwest part of the community.

Alfred May reported receiving three inches and at Edgar Lemon's home over three and one-half inches fell. Some damage to tall irrigated wheat was reported by W.

H. Gentry, but it can be harvested with a pickup reel. Several farmers had damage to maize which had just come up. C. Aubrey Wimberley has 100 acres of dryland maize to replant. Gentry has 100 acres of irrigated land, and Melvin May also has some to replant. Several people were trying to combine wheat Thursday, but it was too wet. Barley harvest is estimated to be half finished here.

Clarence Betzen lacked only about 15 acres having all his wheat combined when it rained. Mrs. William Wimberley attended a meeting of the United Fund Directors Monday afternoon in Hereford.

Mrs. Ray Polan went to Dallas last Friday to get her son, Wayne, who was there visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Polan.

Wayne has broken out with the measles since he has returned home.

Donna Henshaw, who has been visiting in the home of her aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Richardson, returned to her home in Littlefield Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hagar and daughter, Rhonda, of Canyon visited Monday evening with Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Hagar.

Funeral services were held in Morion Tuesday afternoon for J. M. Waller, father of Mrs. Walter Lemons. He died last Saturday after suffering from a heart attack.

Others besides Mr. and Mrs.

Walter Lemons and daughters, Linda and Peggy Jean, who attended the services were Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lemons and children, Claude Lemons, father of Walter and Edgar Lemons; Mrs. C. C. Stewart and the Rev. Charles Davenport.

Sandra Lemons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lemons, was unable to attend the services because she was recovering from the measles. She stayed with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gentry.

Giants Fail To Halt Rally As Yankees Post 15-9 Win

In a see-saw game the Yankees finally triumphed over the Giants to win in Little League play Thursday night 15-9.

Wild pitching allowed the Giants to pass the Yanks and inspired playing brought the Yanks from behind to win the game.

The Yankees scored 15 runs off of 14 hits while they allowed 12 walks to the Giants.

The game began with Yankee Danny Lester getting on base with a single. He advanced to second on a wild pitch and Steve Hodges slugged one over the fence. Baize used a fielder's choice and Robby Lemons used the same method to get on. John Dowd used a single for the fifth run for the Yanks.

Two Giants were struck out and one was thrown out on second to retire the Giants scoreless in the first inning.

In the second inning, the Yanks failed to find pay dirt while the Giants came from behind to breathe fire down the Yank's necks as they closed the gap to a 5-4 score.

Jerry McCaslin walked. Bob Higgins got on by fielder's choice and Keny Justice hit a single. Eugene Spark took a free pass to account for the fourth Giant tallies made in the second.

Again the Yanks were retired scoreless in the third and the Giants took advantage of this to pass the mighty Yanks 7-5. Justice used a fielder's choice and wild pitches to get in scoring position and Spark walked and took advantage of some wild pitches himself. Rick Miller, likewise, took advantage of the pitcher to make the third score and give the Giants the lead.

Fearing the wrath to come, the Yanks got on their horse in the fourth to get back in the game.

Jim Allison took a walk to first base and Steve Hodges chased him in to tie the game. Baize landed on by an error and took home base on a passed ball. Robby Lemons hit a single and scored before the Yanks were retired.

The Giants were stilled in their half of the fourth and the Yanks came back to score two more insurance runs in the fifth. Allison took a fielder's choice and Robert Strange landed a single to make the scores.

Still not ready to quit, the Giants made two scores in the bottom of the fifth when Spark and Miller both scored on walks.

The sixth inning saw a home run convert three singles to add four more scores to the Yank treasury before the game ended. Charlie Moreno, Dowd and Joe Edleman all singled and Wynn Buck dropped one over the fence to end scoring for the game and leave a score of 15-9 for the Yanks.

In minor league play the Giants were dropped by the Yanks, 13-3.

S. D. Baize was the winning pitcher for the Yanks. Duties on the hill were shared by Robert Strange and Danny Baize.

Jerry McCaslin went the distance for the Giants to lose the game.

Beauty At Home

Q. How can I, with my make-up, camouflage the bags or puffs under my eyes?

A. Use a darker shade of foundation base on the puffs to absorb the light, then apply a highlight base on the rim just under the puff. This heightens the illusion of smoothness between the two. Pat the colors together gently, and smoothly.

Q. Please suggest a good stomach-reducing exercise.

A. With feet about 15 inches apart, bend forward, knees bent, slumped, head and arms dangling downward, and enjoy this droop for a second. Then, slumping and twisting the body as much as you wish, touch the floor behind the left heel with the fingers of the right hand. Breathe OUT as you bend to touch floor, breathe IN as you return to erect position. Repeat droop, and touch floor behind right heel with left hand. Keep repeating.

Q. How can I quickly and easily remove lint from a blue serge suit?

A. By rubbing the sticky side of a piece of adhesive tape over the material.

Q. What is a makeup suggestion for the girl with a very pointed chin?

A. She should use a highlighting (lighter) base at the sides of the point, in order to give the chin an appearance of greater fullness.

Q. How can I prepare a facial beauty mask that will help to fade out freckles?

A. Mix the white of an egg with the juice of a lemon, and blend with enough almond meal to make a thin paste. Spread this on the face, and leave on at least 20 minutes, then rinse off with some warm water.

Q. How is a chin strap made for the purpose of reducing a double chin?

A. Several thicknesses of gauze chilled with witch hazel, and tied firmly around the face and under the chin, helps somewhat in firming these sagging chin muscles.

Q. What is a good "emergency" dry shampoo I can utilize?

A. Mix one cup of cornmeal and one teaspoon of salt. Shake this thoroughly through the hair, then brush it out well with a stiff-bristled brush. It takes lots of brushing, but the surplus oil and grime will be removed. Wipe the brush on a clean towel after every twenty or so strokes.

Q. How can I whiten the skin on my elbows and on the backs of my heels?

A. Make a regular habit of rubbing this skin with the rind of a lemon.

Q. Does it make any difference, when one is trying to reduce, how the daily intake of calories is divided up among the three meals?

A. No. Just be sure to hold your daily intake to not more than 1,400 calories. Most women reduce successfully, and without discomfort, on about 1,200 calories per day.

Q. Is it really necessary, for the sake of beauty, that I wear fingernail polish?

A. Certainly not. Many women look beautiful with natural nails buffed to a high polish with nail powder.

Q. I've heard that codliver oil is an old remedy for dry and itching scalp — taken intermittently, of course. Is this correct?

A. Yes; and it's still a good one. It tends to tone up the skin of the entire body. The old practice is to take a teaspoon of codliver oil daily for about 30 or more days.

Q. Try wearing your rouge high, and powdering your chin several shades lighter than your cheeks.

Q. What is a quick and effective home beauty facial mask I can make myself?

A. The white of an egg, painted over face and throat, allowed to remain for about ten minutes, then removed with warm water, is a cleansing and revitalizing treatment.

Q. Is it true that a clear healthy complexion depends lots upon the condition of the scalp?

A. It certainly does. No face can be rid of blemishes unless the scalp is kept in first-rate condition, for its secretions flow down onto the face and can clog and infect the skin pores. The scalp should be shampooed regularly, and cleaned with a tonic between shampoos. It should be brushed free of grime every day.

Q. What is a secret of effective perfume application?

A. Become a devotee of the atomizer. Right after your bath, apply cologne to your entire body, using an atomizer to distribute it evenly and without waste. Scatter sachets among your lingerie. Do not dab your dress or soak your handkerchief with perfume. Instead, spray your hair and skin thoroughly, so your fragrance will be veiled and discreet, and form for you a fragrant halo.

ZEBRAS IN ZOOT SUITS?

Plans For Clothing Animals Draws Zero

Television viewers from one end of the country to the other were astounded the other morning to hear a man make a very serious dissertation on animal nudity.

His theme, propounded with solemnity and ever greater frequency, was that unclothed animals are vulgar and obscene. He was sold so strongly that the blatant heckling of the master of ceremonies made little or no impression.

About the only obvious merit we can see to such a ludicrous suggestion is that it might open up a whole new field of merchandising. Imagine walking into "The Elite Emporium For Nude Gnus" and ordering a full dress suit for your elegant appearing, but unattired, pet penguin. Why Saturday Evening Post and Esquire could have a field day advertising lingerie for llamas or pajamas for pelicans.

Instead of just providing a collar, a house and a couple of meals per day for your dog, you'd have to furnish swim trunks, casual slacks, some sport shirts, dress shirts, ties, jackets, suits, tuxedos, underwear, slippers and a bathrobe.

And the implications are even worse if you happened to own an adorable little cocker female. It's inconceivable that she would be able to do without some frilly can-cans, evening dresses, cocktail dresses, nightgowns, straight skirts, full skirts and all the rest of the ruffles and flourishes that go with it.

You think that's bad! This character said every creature should have clothes. Just try to figure out the chaos that would result if some of these ranchers in Deaf Smith County attempted to put overalls and dresses on a few thousand head of cattle, not to mention a corral-full of horses. And while the head of the house was trying to dress his animals, Mrs. Farmer would be out chasing chickens with an armload of sack (feed, naturally) dresses for her hens and a couple of business suits for the roosters.

But we're still not through. There are still the other domestic animals and fowls to be rounded up and covered up.

And, if you're not too tired or too bent financially, go along with this odd-ball and get some clothes on all the wild animals and birds. The government would have to appropriate another hundred billion or so to get some decent apparel on all the bear, deer, elk, moose, mountain lions, big horn sheep, and assorted bunches of skunks, possums, armadillos, badgers, squirrels, prairie dogs, coyotes and antelopes.

And you'd have to get huge nets to grab off all the birds somehow and get them all decked out in fine feathers.

But the thing that really has me worried is how we're going to get all those snakes duded out in the latest narrow-lapel Ivy League gear.

Why, when we got all through, some character would be naming the "Ten Best Dressed Water Buffalo of the Year" and all of the duck-billed platypusses would be jealous because the duck-billed gal up the river had a fancier hat or a newer dress.

As far as I'm concerned we'd better just let well enough alone. All the animals and birds look just fine to me in the cover provided by nature.

Besides, it would be just my luck to end up with the job of dressing an overweight whale.

Special Holiday Driving Contest

Since this is the last editorial page of the Brand before the Fourth of July holiday, we would like to make a short announcement.

As a public service, the Brand has reserved a 20-section patch of prairie at the bottom of the canyon in northwest Deaf Smith County from Friday until next Monday. We would like to invite to this piece of bare ground all of the drinking, drunk, speeding and sleepy drivers.

It would help if someone else would bring this idiotic bunch of motoring maniacs, so they wouldn't menace the public getting to the gathering ground.

With everyone collected, we would like them to speed, careen, race, pass on hills, wander from one side to another and nip frequently for the entire weekend.

There will be no prizes, except survival for the lucky ones.

Although we doubt that anyone will take us up on this offer, it might not be a bad idea. Apparently all of the above-mentioned types, and some others, will be out in force during the holiday weekend. They will be going about their deadly business of killing and maiming themselves and what is far worse, killing innocent persons who happen to get in their way.

We don't intend to go out and judge the canyon contest. We're too frightened to get out on the highways during the holiday, except when we get a call from the highway patrol to take pictures of another needless wreck.

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Bredie

The Faith Americans Live By

"Lord, thou deliverest unto me five talents; behold, I have gained beside them five talents more. His lord said unto him, Well done, thou good and faithful servant." Matt. 25 20-1

That was the parable which the minister of the Methodist-operated Community Center at Los Angeles repeated as he pressed a half dollar into the hand of Nicolosa DonLucas, who worked there as a janitor.

Months later, Nicolosa handed the minister $17.50. With the 50 cents she had bought cheese and tortillas, made enchiladas and sold them for $35; she was returning to the Center half her gain.

Months passed and Nicolosa, with $100 in her savings account, remembered the poor in her native Mexico. From her brother she obtained the names of 33 orphans in San Luis, and 33 in another town. Also of 33 old people who hadn't enough to eat. "Thirty-three was the number of years Christ lived," she explained, "and I want to say happy birthday to the Baby Jesus."

So it was that last Christmas 66 orphans, 33 elderly persons and four convicts in Mexico received Christmas gifts from a charwoman in the United States. None knew whom to thank for Nicolosa had not given her name. "Thank Jesus," she said.

Post Office Department Attacks Filth Merchants

(Editor's note: The following article was sent to the Hereford Post Office by United States Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield in the drive to keep obscene materials out of the mails. The Department's campaign has been endorsed here by Hereford Mayor Woodrow "Woody" Wilson. In endorsing the article, Wilson said, "Parents affected should file a complaint - thus accomplish their duties as parents and citizens.")

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Retirement Shouldn't Be Mandatory At 65

Do you feel persons 65 years of age should be required to retire? Why?

MRS. MARK WOODALL—Not necessarily. Many people feel that their life is over when they retire. Much of the generation older than ours does not know how to take life easy, not having spent time in various sports or recreational activities. I do believe that there will be more in my generation that will be more able to enjoy retirement and will want to retire.

MRS. M. H. WISEMAN—There should be no set rule for when a person should retire. The health of the individual person should be the determining factor here. Many people still have long years of useful life at 65 and should not be required to cease the utilization of that life by retiring.

MRS. ROBERT BOYD—No, I don't think a person should be required to retire at 65. If the person is able to go ahead, I think he should. Many of us begin to fail when we quit and retirement marks the beginning of the end of our lives.

MRS. J. C. WILLIAMS—A person 65 is, as a general rule, still active and I don't think that he should be required to retire. There is still too much active life before a 65 year old person to have an enforced retirement at that age.

MRS. HUBERT WHITE—I think the condition of the person should determine whether or not he retires. My father is 88 years old and he still waters and feeds his stock. He is anything but retired.

MRS. HOMER E. WEST—A person should not necessarily retire at 65. There are certain jobs that a 65 year old can still do. I think that some of the nation's greatest potential is taken away in cases where retirement is enforced at 65.

MRS. R. L. WARREN—In some cases, it is all right for a person to retire when he is 65, but if a person enjoys his work and is good at it, I think it is a shame to require him to quit.

MRS. D. W. WALLACE—A person has many interests after 65 and I don't think that he should be forced to quit them. I think that a person could even start a new business at 65 or above.

MUSEUM GETS ART EXHIBITION

A dozen large oil paintings by three famed Western artists, all members of the Taos Society of Artists, have gone on exhibit in the Gallery of Fine Arts at the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum. The exhibit will remain on display until Aug. 15. Nine of the works are those of Joseph Henry Sharp, probably the most noted Western artist in American history and one of the greatest of this nation's artists. One painting is by Irving Couse and two are by E. Martin Hennings. The valuable paintings were loaned to the museum by Mrs. Jane Hiatt, owner of the Village Gallery in Taos. The nine Sharp paintings are among only 32 of his works for sale, and the one canvas by Couse is among only four remaining for sale of his works, according to C. Boone McClure, director of the museum.—THE CANYON NEWS

CASTRO WILDCAT UNDERWAY

Drilling of Amarillo Oil Company's third wildcat in the Palo Duro Basin area is now underway three miles west of Flagg and eight miles south and west of Dimmitt in Castro County. The Boothe No. 1, a proposed test of the Mississippian and all shallower formations, is expected to reach a depth of about 9,500 feet before completion. Though the Palo Duro Basin wells are tests for either gas or oil, a discovery of natural gas by the Boothe well would be particularly profitable to the Dimmitt area for use as a low-cost irrigation fuel. Amarillo Oil Company and its associates have approximately 4,800 acres under lease in the area, all of which will be developed if the test proves successful. Two similar wildcats in the Palo Duro Basin area, the Cochran No. 1 in Hall County and Hicks No. 1 in Randall County, were both dry holes. Regardless of the outcome of the Boothe well, however, additional wildcat tests will be drilled in the area. Amarillo Oil Company, operator of the Boothe well, however, additional wildcat tests will be drilled in Gas Company, with general offices in Amarillo. J. M. Johnson Drilling Company, Pampa, is the contract driller of the well. Completion will probably take place within the next 60 days.—THE TULIA HERALD

OLTON MAY GET FREIGHT SERVICE WEST

Wayne Cooper, Olton Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture manager, was in Lubbock Tuesday morning attending a Railroad Commission hearing on a proposed new routing from Olton for Lang Transit Company. The new routing would connect Springlake, Earth, Muleshoe and Farwell and points in New Mexico for both incoming and outgoing freight. At present, Olton does not have service to the west on a one-day basis. Testimony revealed a desire for this type of service and indicated that it would be used extensively if it becomes available. The highway transportation committee of OCCA has been working on a local freight dock for the past several months. Lang officials Tuesday said they would like to set up a local call station for those having outgoing freight until dock facilities are made available.—THE OLTON ENTERPRISE

WHEAT YIELDS EDGE HIGHER

A "better-than-expected" Moore County wheat harvest reached the one-third to half-way mark this weekend, with harvesters working unceasingly to bring in the valuable crop while the weather remains cooperative. A check of elevators in Moore County Saturday morning revealed that more than 1,348,000 bushels had been delivered for marketing thus far. However, a portion of that total represents grain harvested from fields in southern Sherman and other nearby counties and cannot be added to the county's all-over yields.—MOORE COUNTY NEWS (Dumas)

The BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The "Bootleg Philosopher" on his bindweed farm probably is misinterpreting the news again, or at least twisting it around to fit his own convenience, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:

President Eisenhower was making a speech in Washington the other day and he said one of the troubles many of the men in government have encountered is the lack of time to do enough thinking. "High officials of government tell me they don't have enough opportunity for contemplation," he said, and announced he was going to try to figure out some way to remedy this.

I am afraid though he is going to run into some snags. Take the high officials in the State Department, the ones concerned with foreign policy.

Now if I had the job of studying about the present state of the world and figuring out an answer, I believe I'd get too busy doing something else to think about it too. For six weeks now the foreign ministers of the leading nations of the world have been meeting in Geneva to try to figure out what the leaders of the world's governments could talk about at a summit meeting. So far they haven't gotten anywhere, every time they bring something up, Russia throws a monkey wrench in it, and it's at a time like that, if I was over there, I'd get too busy to think too.

When you stop and consider what would happen to the world if an atomic, hydrogen, chemical, bacteria war broke out, it's not hard to get so busy doing something else you don't have time to think about it.

I have hit on a system out here on my bindweed farm however which might come in handy to high government officials. When I have a knotty problem facing me, like going up one row and down another on my tractor, I find I'd rather think about it than do it. A lot of people think I'm lazy because I let my farm run down, but me and President Eisenhower know if the world needs anything it needs more thinking.

I guess there are some people who haven't got time to think, but frequently when a man doesn't think, it's not for lack of time. Thinking is hard work and you're not going to catch me taking the easy way out riding a tractor under a hot sun.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

Memorable Game Is Remembered In June

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

June brings memories of the most famous baseball game ever played — famous not for thrills and good baseball but for the highest score ever run up and as an object of futility for a young pitcher named Charley DeWitt.

June 15, 1902, Corsicana beat Texarkana 50-3 in a bandbox park in Ennis. It was an official Texas League game and became a part of the records of professional baseball.

The two clubs played at Ennis because Corsicana had a Sunday law against baseball. It was transferred to what was then known as Roark Park, a place owned by a Negro and used primarily for Juneteenth celebrations.

There is only a pasture today where the park stood in 1902. It had a small grandstand and about the only improvement the day of the game was lining off the diamond with lime. There was no grass and the infield was hard as rock.

Probably the only man living today in the Ennis area who recalls the game is R. W. (Bob) Hesser, a druggist. He was a small boy at the time but that game is etched vividly on his memory.

He doesn't think the right field fence was much over 200 feet from home plate. He also recalls that the crowd was about 500.

That was the day that Judson C. (Nig) Clarke hit eight home runs in eight times at bat. It never has been equalled and probably never will, because there's not likely ever to be similar circumstances in professional baseball.

In those days 235 feet were required to make a home run official. However, application of rules was rather loose. When a couple of clubs agreed on something it went that way. The clubs agreed that day that "anything would go."

It surely did. Corsicana pounded 53 hits, 21 of them home runs. And the pitcher who stood out there for nine innings and took the battering was Charley DeWitt.

DeWitt was the son of C. B. DeWitt, who, with F. M. Ball, was buying the club from Cy Mulkey. The day of the game young Charley arrived in Ennis and told Mulkey his father had said he was to pitch. Mulkey didn't like it but since he was selling the club to DeWitt he agreed. Not only that, he left Charley in for the full nine innings.

Four days after the game Mulkey delivered the club to DeWitt and Ball and Texarkana. They operated it only 20 days before the Texas League took it over.

Young Charley walked out of that park upon completion of the game and never was heard of again. If he played more baseball it isn't in the records.

There were unusual things about the box score. It was run in the Dallas News two days after the game. It showed Corsicana batting in the last of the ninth although the score was then 43-3. Corsicana should have been the home club and wouldn't be expected to take the last bats if it was. But box scores what they were in those days, Texarkana might have been the home club on the flip of a coin and the line score was run wrong with the box.

The box score does not prove in the least. It is exactly 22 off. J. Walter Morris, one of the last living members of the Corsicana club, claims he hit six home runs but isn't given credit for but one. However, as previously stated, they didn't keep box scores very well in those days. A lot of the guys may not have been given credit for all they did.

Even Clarke was listed as having hit only three home runs but the official scorers and others said this was an error. Clarke really put the ball over that short fence eight times.

Ennis was a city of about 5,000 in 1902. Today it is around 9,000. So the excitement of that weird day of baseball didn't stunt its growth.

Post Office

part. Obscenity laws had shackled the Government by permitting it to prosecute only at the point of origin of the mail. This meant that court actions were taken primarily in New York and Los Angeles, where interpretations of what is obscene or pornographic are much different from those in the average American community.

In recent years, the Post Office Department had urged Congress to amend the law so that prosecutions could take place where the obscene material was received, where the actual damage was being done, and where citizens would have an opportunity to express their standards of morality and decency. This amendment was enacted, and signed into law by President Eisenhower, in August of 1958.

Taking advantage of the new legislation, the Post Office Department during the past year has completed approximately 14,000 separate investigations, almost two-thirds of them based on complaints from American parents whose children received lewd solicitations for sales of obscene materials through the mails.

A child need not have indicated any interest in this trash to receive it in the mail. The racketeers openly solicit every young person whose name they can obtain, whether through the purchase of mailing lists, study of school classbooks or through the use of fake business "fronts." Postmaster General Summerfield says the Post Office Department has thousands of letters from indignant parents whose children received unsolicited obscene material soon after answering an advertisement to purchase some innocent item such as a baseball bat or a toy automobile, or whose names were obtained, because they had joined a youth club or social group.

In a recent raid by the Postal Inspectors in New York City on just one dealer in pornography, 17 tons of highly obscene printed and filmed materials were confiscated, as well as mailing lists containing the names of thousands of high school graduates culled out of high school yearbooks.

The Post Office Department estimates that between 700,000 and a million children in American homes will receive unsolicited obscene and pornographic literature through the mails this year.

In testifying before Congress recently, Postmaster General Summerfield said:

"Ruthless mail order merchants in filth are violating the homes of the nation in defiance of the national government. They are callously dumping into the hands of our children, through our mail boxes at home, unorderd lewd material, as well as samples soliciting the sale of even more objectionable pictures, slides, films and related filth. Unquestionably, these large, defiant barons of obscenity are contributing to the alarming increase in juvenile delinquency, as many noted authorities have publicly observed on repeated occasions."

Repeatedly, in the investigations of armed robbery, extortion, embezzlement and forgery, authorities find that those guilty of the crimes were early collectors of obscene pictures and films.

Authorities also point out that sex criminals and sex murderers almost always prove to have a long record of addiction to pornographic and sadistic material. Children who are never exposed to this material, it is noted, may nevertheless be victims of sex criminals who have been exposed to it.

In a speech in Washington in May, 1959, Postmaster General Summerfield said the Post Office has diligently tried to keep the mails clear of indecent materials.

In the fiscal year of 1958, he stated, investigations conducted by Postal Inspectors caused the arrest of 293 persons. The Post Office General Counsel issued 92 orders barring use of the mails to dealers in pornography. The arrests in 1958 were 45 per cent above the previous year, and Summerfield predicted — will increase substantially again this year.

With the weapon of the new legislation in hand, he declared, the Post Office is greatly intensifying its campaign.

"We are, in effect," he said, "declaring war on the purveyors of filth, big and little, high and low."

"We are launching an intense and unrelenting effort to stop

Auxiliary Plans Picnic

Plans were made for a family picnic to be held sometime in July, when members of the auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars held the regular meeting Monday night at the VFW Hall.

Mrs. Wayne Lawrence conducted a school of instruction on "Flag Etiquette", and Mesdames Dub Maddock and Sam Lindley served refreshments during the social hour.

Those attending were Mesdames L. H. Lookingbill Jr., Jim Lookingbill, Lloyd Olson, Arnold Wall, A. J. Ralston, Bill Craig, Wayne Lawrence, Jerome Erdman, Leonard Davis and the hostesses.

Local Educators To Attend Meet

Mrs. Faust Collier, social science teacher at Stanton Junior High School, and Miss Della Stagner, coordinator at the junior high school, will attend the seventh conference of the Texas Council for the Social Studies, a section of Texas State Teachers Association, at Southwest Texas State College at San Marcos June 29-30.

They will attend the meeting with Wilma Hixon of the Canyon School System at their own expense. Dr. Ima Barlow, social studies instructor at West Texas State College in Canyon, has been chosen to lead District IX of the Council next year.

Attending the meeting will be three nationally known speakers, Dr. Walter Prescott Webb and Robert H. Montgomery of the University of Texas and Dr. Walter Johnson of the University of Chicago.

At the meeting, reports will be given on the Commission to Study History, Government and Geography, and the Other Social Sciences in the Texas Elementary and Secondary Schools.

Wilkins Visitor

Miss Suzanne Smith of Yuma, Ariz., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Smith, is visiting now in the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wilkins. She plans to stay for two months.

Attend Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Thompson returned recently from Eureka, Kan., where they attended a high school class reunion. They also visited with relatives in Hamilton and Eureka.

Quilting Club Has Luncheon Meeting

The Loyal Workers Quilting Club met Friday in the IOOF Hall for the regular monthly luncheon and business meeting.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Cockrell, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Sowell and twin grandchildren, Mesdames Lucille Olson, Edna Bove, Leona Sowell, Ruth Rogers, Leora Masie, Ethel Curry, Allie Fullwood, Mary Flowers, Lora Long, Ruby Virden, Ada Hollabaugh and one visitor, Mrs. John I. Morris.

Fresh apricots do not need to be peeled before canning them, but make sure you wash them thoroughly.

this monstrous assault on the nation's children in every way possible.

"And we are confident that, with adequate public and legislative support, this job can be done."

To achieve this cooperation, the four-fold Post Office program is:

1. Drawing maximum public attention to the menace of this racket;
2. Urging parents to help apprehend the mailers of filth to their children;
3. Helping mobilize community support behind adequate law enforcement of local ordinances or state laws when these purveyors are apprehended and brought to court;
4. Rallying public opinion behind new and stiffer legislation on obscenity.

Parents into whose homes obscene material is mailed are urged to take these two simple steps:

1. Save all materials received, including the envelope and all enclosures; and
2. Report the matter immediately to the local Postmaster, and turn the materials over to him, either in person or by mail.

Postal Inspectors stand ready to take action when evidence is received anywhere that the laws applying to the mailing of pornographic material have been violated.

The Congress has shown deep concern over this problem, and special committees are currently giving it serious and purposeful study.

In increasing numbers of communities throughout the country, parents, various organizations, civic groups, newspaper publishers and other are working together in determined efforts to help meet the racketeers' challenge.

By supporting and aiding the Post Office, and backing up members of Congress and local officials who are fighting to stamp out this evil, they can look to the real success that is vital to the nation's moral fiber and future welfare.

"WHY did you do it, Dad?" asked Durward Jacobs, left, as the cast of the drama, "All My Sons" gave previews of the Thursday and Friday production before the Optimist Club. In the scene, Jacobs, who plays Chris Keller, the son of Joe Keller, who is being played by David Larsen, is questioning his father about some defective engine parts that caused men to die during World War II. Install Ballard As Lions Prexy

Labry Ballard was installed as Boss Lion at the regular Wednesday Lion's Club meeting in the Jim Hill Hotel.

Other officers installed at the meeting were Buddie Evans, Secretary treasurer; Bruce Miller, first vice president; Raymond White, second vice president; and R. C. McGilvary, third vice president. Also installed were Joel Hodges, Lion Tamer and Oliver Streu, Tail Twister. Ross Latham and Reuben Knox were installed as trustees for two-year terms. In a debate given by the Toastmaster Club, the topic was, "Resolved, Texas should incorporate a sales tax in its State Revenue system."

Arguing for the affirmative were Larry Goggin, and Alvin Smith, who said that the sales tax was a "non-discriminatory tax and that the sales tax would solve the problems being discussed in Washington.

Taking a negative point of view were Dale Young and Dr. Milton Adams, who argued that the sales tax would put a greater burden on the lower income brackets.

ADRIAN NEWS

Up To 4 Inches Of Rain Hits Area Over Weekend

By MRS. R. L. PINNELL.

Most of the entire community received moisture in varying amounts over the weekend. Reports of from three-tenths to four inches and more have been received.

The moisture naturally interrupted the wheat harvest. Bob Caldwell, local elevator manager, reported his first load of wheat Friday evening at 8:30. The load came from the Meives and Schulte farm 15 miles south and eight miles east of Adrian. It was the Early Triumph variety, weighed 60 pounds and had 12½ per cent moisture content. The irrigated field was making 40 bushels to the acre.

The first load of barley was delivered from the Austin Rose Sr. irrigated farm June 16 from the same vicinity and was making 90 bushels to the acre.

"The dryland wheat had started to come in when the rains came, so it should be in full swing very soon," Caldwell said.

Miss June Whaley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Whaley, and Fred Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Robinson of Claude, were united in marriage June 14 in the Adrian Church of Christ at 2:30 p.m.

Miss Shirley Smith of Booker was maid of honor and Eugene Robinson of Claude served as best man. Doris Robinson was bridesmaid and Kenneth DeHart of Hereford was the attendant. A choir from Amarillo provided the music and the Rev. Mack Currey of Goodwell, Okla., performed the ceremony before the flowered altar. Wayne Whaley and James Robinson of Claude were candlelighters.

Following the ceremony the church ladies honored the couple and friends with a reception in the home of Mrs. M-dean Williams.

The couple is at home at 1610 Van Buren in Amarillo.

The Adrian Indians were scalped by the Vega Yankees 12 to 6 Friday afternoon on the home field. The score is not indicative of the close and interesting game the boys played.

Clinton Earl Brown and Dale Gruhkey hit consecutive home runs in the third with nobody on. Eight-year-old Dwane Gruhkey seems to be coming right along for his outstanding work on second base in spite of his age.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Tomlinson left Wednesday for Cisco to attend her family's reunion held annually on Father's Day. There were 60 relatives together for the family affair Saturday and Sunday.

Attending children were Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Lassister and children, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Brown Jr. of Breckenridge, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Munn and family of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Munn Jr. of Kermit, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Munn and family of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Simmons of Grand Prairie, and the father, P. M. Munn, of Abilene.

Mrs. Chester Woods and young Chet left Amarillo by plane for Montgomery, Ala., Tuesday for an extended visit with her husband's relatives, the J. J. Cummins. Woods is now stationed in Korea with the Armed Forces.

Mrs. Bob Gruhkey, Linda, Ricky and Martha returned Tuesday from a month's visit in California with relatives.

She visited with a sister, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Koefler, at Las Vegas, Nev., a sister, Mr. and Mrs. Tom W. James, at Roseville, Calif., her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Mosteller, and another sister, Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Anderson, at Orange Cove, Calif.

The Caprock 4-H Club girls left Thursday in three cars for Amarillo to picnic, swim and attend a movie. Sponsors were Mesdames John Horton, Bobby Speed and C. J. Hornfeld.

Girls in the group were Myrna Zaring, Rita Speed, Glenda Hornfeld, Marlene Williams, Cathy Kromer, Paula Creitz, Joan Lane, Linda Pinnell, Doris Horton, Martha Gruhkey and Coralle Fortenberry. Guests were Patty Zaring and Dude Speed.

The Horace Betts visited Saturday night and Sunday in Lockney with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hammitt and Donnie.

Guests of the M. W. Blankenships this weekend were his brother-in-law, John Campbell and son, Mr. and Mrs. John Robert Campbell and children of Dallas. They were en route to Colorado for a vacation in the mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Kinsey were honored Monday evening when friends and neighbors organized a "come and go" show held in the Kinsey home. The couple is moving to Clovis, N. M., in the near future. They were presented with an electric skillet and many other household gifts.

Mrs. R. A. Hill of Amarillo was a guest Tuesday of Mrs. Horace Betts.

W. B. Betts flew to Corpus Christi on business Saturday morning. He returned to Lubbock by plane and was met by Horace Betts, who drove him to Plainview to pick up their spray plane where it had been for repairs.

Members of the Baptist Church presented the Rev. and Mrs. Bill Lewis with a bedspread and the WMU gave Mrs.

Lewis a set of costume jewelry in a special social affair last Sunday afternoon.

Punch and cookies were served after the presentation in the church annex. Mrs. Earl Brown presented the bedspread and Mrs. R. M. Gruhkey represented the WMU. The Lewis family has moved to Amarillo.

Finis Brown is attending ROTC summer camp with Company D at Fort Hood. He left from Flomot Thursday where he and his mother and Davis had gone to visit his grandmother, Mrs. F. S. Bourland. He plans to be away three weeks.

Several people from here spent the weekend in Raton, N.

M. They were Mr. and Mrs. Cal Jackson, Jim and Nona Nagles, Edd Klein, Jimmy Don and Bobby Voyles of Lubbock and Mrs. Emma Bales.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Pinnell were called to Boise City, Okla., Saturday where their daughter-in-law, Mrs. E. L. Pinnell, was a patient in Cimmaron County Hospital. They returned by Dumas where their daughter, Linda, had been visiting in the home of her aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Jo Johnson, on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Chism of Kerrick visited overnight Friday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Pinnell.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON

Johnson Called Fighter Of Intolerance At Brown

By TEX EASLEY.

WASHINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas has been lauded by two Northern colleges as a "most learned man" who is "ever alert to strike down intolerance."

The praise was contained in citations accompanying honorary doctor of laws degrees conferred on Johnson by Brown University, Providence, R. I., and Bethany, W. Va., College.

Brown is the school from which John D. Rockefeller Jr., father of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, was graduated. Over the years, Brown has benefited by the elder Rockefeller's philanthropies.

What could be more ironic, then, should Democrat Johnson and the younger Rockefeller, a Republican, emerge as the nominees of their respective parties for the presidency in 1960?

Both have been mentioned as possibilities — Johnson to a lesser degree than Rockefeller.

The honor from Bethany cited Johnson as one whose "record in Congress shows that he did, and does his own thinking . . . that he is 'a person of prodigious energy . . . who has to live at a gallop' to keep up with his assignments, and that he is 'ever alert to strike down intolerance.'"

The two LL.D. degrees were not the first Johnson has received, but they were the first to be granted by schools outside his native Texas. Southwestern U.

at Georgetown honored him in 1943, and Howard Payne University in Brownwood, in 1957.

The citation from Bethany, after quoting from some of Johnson's speeches on political and personal philosophy added: "It is indeed fitting and proper that this historic old college, founded by Alexander Campbell, who held strongly to those same principles of individual freedom, democracy, and self sacrifice, should honor a fellow of Campbell, a member of the Disciples of Christ, at this, the mother institution."

The senator is the holder of a Bachelor of Science degree — not an honorary — from Southwest Texas State Teachers College in San Marcos, from which he was graduated in 1930.

AROUND THE CAPITAL

Rio Grande Valley Rep. Joe Kilgore can't miss the memos and messages that come in when he is away from his office. His staff tapes them over the back of his big high-backed leather desk chair.

Fort Worth visitors to the office of Rep. Jim Wright find a big shiny gallon size coffee urn with faucet on a desk right when they enter. The staff sees that they sip while they wait, if Wright is busy.

Noted here for her sculpturing is Mrs. Alicia Neathery, whose husband is Jack Neathery of Farmersville, now a coordinator of information for the House of Representatives.

Formerly with the State Department in Latin-American Service, Neathery met his wife in her native Colombia. They have a coffee plantation near Bogota and visit there during congressional adjournments.

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Iranian blackneck pheasants released in Virginia — 600 in number — are doing well. The state plans to release another 1,000 but the real test will come in seeing that they nest. Chinese ringneck pheasants were unsuccessful in Virginia although they have done well in many parts of the United States. The Iranian blackneck is a slightly smaller bird.

Black Cherry Topping Dresses Up Shortcake

By CECIL DOWNSTONE
Walk into certain well-known New York City restaurant, sit down at the soda-fountain counter, glance around, out of curiosity or culinary curiosity, see what your neighbors have on their hearts.

dessert at home. And if you own a freezer, you can store some of the sweet dark-red fruit to enhance your table in January.

The latest fresh cherry sauce we've tried is quickly made. Having guests for dinner? Put it together shortly before serving and offer it warm. Or if you are the sort of hostess who likes to prepare ahead every last inch of party food, make the sauce in the morning or even the night before. Cover it and store it in the refrigerator. Bring it out at dinner-time. It will still have a beautiful red color and delightful flavor, but be somewhat thicker than when first made.

In Manhattan the base for ice-cream shortcake may be cup-cakes, baked in regular pans with indented bottoms. Food markets near us carry an excellent brand of the latter; they're called desert shells, come four to a 3-ounce package and are priced thrifflily.

You can probably find a similar good product in your own food shops. Or the base for the shortcake may be a square of plain white or sponge cake split to make layers.

CHERRY ICE CREAM SHORTCAKE

Ingredients: 1/2 pound dark red sweet cherries, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 1/4 cup strained orange juice, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1/2 cup sliced strawberries, grated orange rind, 6 individual indented dessert cupcake, 1 1/2 pints vanilla ice cream.

Method: Wash cherries and drain; reserve 6 cherries with stems on. Pit remaining cherries and halve; there should be about 1 1/2 cups. In a 1-quart saucepan stir together thoroughly the sugar and cornstarch. Gradually add the orange and lemon juice, stirring until smooth after each addition.

Stir constantly over low heat until sugar dissolves. Add pitted halved cherries and strawberries; cook and stir constantly over moderate heat until juice is clear and thickened — this will take only a few minutes. Add grated orange rind to taste. Cool or chill. Makes 1 1/2 cups. At serving time, place a scoop of ice cream in the indentation of each cupcake; top each with about 1/4 cup sauce; garnish with reserved cherries. Makes 6 servings.

Roy Bedichek's Life Saw Evolution Of Athletics

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Next fall 919 high schools will play football in Texas. It will be a new record for the state and the largest football race in the nation.

A far cry from the plan evolved 40 years ago by Roy Bedichek, the father of Texas high school sports.

Bedichek died the other day, leaving the Texas Interscholastic League, mightiest organization of its kind, as his handiwork.

The little gray-haired man who guided the league for more than 30 years and carried it through its most turbulent period retired as its director in 1948. Age had caught up with him.

His influence remained and his precepts are still being followed by this far-flung union of schools that has 1,075 basketball teams, 685 baseball teams, 1,080 track teams, thousands of golf and tennis players.

It was in 1920 that Bedichek set up the bureau of football results designed at determining a state champion. Before that there was no way to crown a champion — schools with good records laid claim to it but couldn't push that claim because they didn't play the other schools that also had good records.

The schools were told to report their games and those that sent in as many as five got into the standings. Finally, Bedichek eliminated them down to six — Abilene, Bryan, Corpus Christi, Cleburne, Clarksville and Houston Heights. Then he determined finalists from that group. Cleburne and Houston Heights played on muddy Clark Field in Austin for the state title. The game ended in a scoreless tie. From that beginning came the present great scholastic football race. From early September until mid-December they play for championships with $8,000,000 paying to see the games. There are six classes and they have district setups that force them to play all the other teams.

Classes AAAA, AAA, AA and A play to state titles; Class B and Six-Man football determine regional champions only.

Bedichek was not the founder of the Interscholastic League as often reported but he was in on it shortly after its beginning. The League came from a merger of the Debating and Declaiming League of Public Schools and Athletic Association. This was in 1913 but two years previously Bedichek had put on a state track meet with 90 athletes from 11 schools. He did not start working for the Interscholastic League until 1914 and became its athletic director in 1917. He was given the post of director of the whole thing in 1922.

zation grew to 800 football teams, 600 baseball teams, 1200 basketball teams and 2,000 track and field teams. There were 400,000 boys and girls participating in its literary and athletic activities.

Bedichek was a colorful man, a fighter from away back. He became known as the amateur paid-in. He made schoolboy sports a place only for the amateurs. He ruled against any boy being promoted on his athletic ability and receiving compensation for it in any form.

Three times he was pulled in to court to defend his rulings in football and he won every time. He was hung in effigy, threatened and publicly criticized. But he never wavered. He left the Texas Interscholastic League as the last bastion of real amateurism.

Next fall when the school-boys start their mighty football race they should pause just before the kickoff to pay tribute to the man who made it possible for them to compete on an equal basis in a great game. They also should remember the other sports given them by the father of Texas high school athletics.

Remove the stems or not, as you prefer, when you are cooking fresh spinach.

By JIMMIE GILLENTE

WINDSOR, Canada, June 20—Everyone is thoroughly spent as we come to the close of a rigid schedule. The tempo of the trip dropped sharply after we left Toronto, but still everyone is exhausted. We spent last night in Sarnia, the oil and plastics capital of Ontario. Sarnia is the home of great refineries and we saw the first oil well ever brought in on the North American continent. The area is still producing but, according to standards, is negligible. Most of the oil comes through pipelines from the north.

Sarnia is also the home of the Inco Corporation, Ltd., which manufactures synthetic fiber for export all over the world. In the talk, they mentioned the Borger, Texas, operation as similar.

On our route to Sarnia we passed through Sauble Beach, where we had lunch. This is a resort area with an excellent beach and literally thousands of summer homes. We also visited one of the federal parks and camp grounds. The tent sites were newly improved, offered daily garbage collection, running water and were well kept. They are under the Minister of Forestry, and make a charge of 50 cents per day for each car which uses a camp space. Some of these parks have as many as 100 camp sites and they say they are filled to overflowing on week ends.

"We had a lot of trouble when we allowed free camping," reported the superintendent, "but when we started charging for them, people started helping us keep them in condition."

To emphasize importance of the St. Lawrence Seaway, they tell us that more shipping tonnage passed this point in 10 months than the combined tonnage of the Panama and Suez Canals in 12 months—and it is just getting underway.

Our final dinner was held at the Elmwood Casino, a show spot of the area. They tell us that 75% of the patronage comes from the American side. Several of us went back at 11:45, on invitation of the manager, to hear Sophie Tucker, who is currently billed at the Casino. The place was packed and jammed with teenagers who, we learned, were attending the final Senior Party of one of the Detroit High Schools.

All in all, this has been a trip the likes of which few of us will ever see again. We might be able to go to all of the places, but the type of people we have met, the hospitality we have encountered at all places we have visited would certainly be impossible under any other circumstances. Most of the cities are quite honored to host the Annual U. S. Editor's Tour and this is the sixteenth.

What did it cost? I do not quite know. Actually, I paid for only one breakfast (in Ontario) and they instructed us to turn in the slips, but I don't think anyone had the heart. Colin McDonald, tour director, said that the department budgeted $10,000 for the tour. In addition, most of the towns we visit share expenses 50-50; a few of the meals are absorbed 100% in some of the spots. Except for the overnight train trip from Toronto to Toronto, we rode in an air conditioned bus, complete with toilet facilities, and carrying a two-way radio set up with the police car.

One of the finest phases has been association with our own fellows. The first man I met was W. Foster Adams of Beria, Ky.; other particularly good friends have been Fred M. Betz of Lamar, Colo., Jack Sinclair of Hartford, Mich., Horace V. Wells of Clinton, Tenn., Lowell Larson of Columbus, Wis., Carl Funk of Pulaski, N. Y. and, of course, my roommate, Wheeler Mayo of Sallisaw, Okla. This guy really snores, but he insists that I am even worse.

Truly it is a once-in-a-lifetime affair, and one which each of us will remember and treasure the rest of our lives.

BACK HOME — The only thing I lost this round was my notes. I had planned to give some impressions of Canada and jotted down notes along the way. Now, I am strictly on memory.

Canada is a nice vacation spot. They say more and more Texans are visiting Canada. Driving, however, it would require a good three weeks and should be carefully planned to get the most. We did not visit Quebec, which should most certainly be included in the average itinerary—at least from what I heard along the way.

Everywhere you go, the natives will tell you, "We have the best fishing in Canada". I do not know who is right and I am sure that it is good all along the way, but they do have areas which seem to specialize in one, two or three varieties. The sporting fish are the pickerel (Walleye), small mouth bass and the muskies. Some trout fishing, but most lake trout. Most of the places have boats available, and a few include boats with cottage rentals. The rates are quite reasonable.

An interesting area is that around Cornwall, where the huge hydro-electric plant is located. They have completely moved many towns the size of Hereford and downward. Where at all possible, they bought lots farms and similar tracts and moved the houses. We visited one cemetery which had been moved. They left the coffins and graves under the new seaway, but took all of the grave stones and mounted them in an attractive masonry wall. The big power plant provides 860,000 kilowatts of electrical energy for New York. In all of the removal of homes, farms and tracts, they said that only two law suits had been filed, although many of the people felt they could never be repaid for the sentimental attachments they held for land which had been in the family hundreds of years.

The Ministry of Travel and Publicity is quite helpful, maintaining numerous wayside stations. They will also be glad to mail out literature to any interested persons who will give them an idea concerning their travel desires.

Texas, they love! This is due, no doubt, to the many tall tales which the country hears. New York provides the most tourists, while New Jersey runs second and Iowa ranks high in the list.

The Canadians are conducting a sort of "Bring Mama and the Kids Along" drive. They like fishermen, but would be a lot happier if the women would shop in the cities or towns, while the old man went out to battle muskies and pickerel. Many, many people are flying into Canada, then taking charter flights on to the back country for camping and fishing junkies.

Just for good measure, I predict that integration is here to stay. The TWA liner I flew had a Negro hostess. The first I have ever seen. Air travel is surprisingly congested. I could not even find a seat Sunday in the huge Midway Airport at Chicago, and many flights are "bumping" people because they over-sold their accommodations.

RECORD HAMBLETONIAN DU QUOIN, Ill. — The 34th running of the Hambletonian Stake to be held at the State Fair here Sept. 2, is expected to be worth a record $133,000. Eighty-four three-year-old trotters are eligible.

Dog's Death Again Leaves Owner Sightless

HOUSTON, Tex. — For the fourth time in her sightless life, Miss Mary Lee Chambers must soon make another long trip to find a dog that will guide her steps.

Babette, her faithful German Shepherd companion for nine years, died several weeks ago. Before Babette there were Prim, who had to be retired after four years because of a lingering ear infection, and Betty, who died at the age of five.

Miss Chambers regrets that the South's blind must always go to the North, East or West to obtain trained guide dogs.

"A dog raised and trained in the South would be better adapted to this climate," she says. "It is cruel to expect a dog raised in some distant part of the country to stay healthy in Texas weather."

The loss of a faithful canine companion leaves a void that is suddenly deeper than blindness itself, Miss Chambers said. She operates the cigar stand in Harris County courthouse.

"We had a wonderful walk. Babette and I, on the day before she died," she recalled. "And then we found her dead the next morning. I can't go anywhere now without help."

As a child at the Austin State School for the Blind, she learned to read Braille, music and became a competent pianist. She has been organist of the Calvary Baptist Church here for more than a year.

Holding to Babette's harness, she found time in recent years to go to a music teacher twice weekly. "Learning piano music by Braille is complicated," she said. "With your left hand you feel the notes that are to be played with the right hand, and then you use the right to feel what is to be played with the left."

"After that, you make both hands play together — if you can."

Miss Chambers hopes to interest someone in training guide dogs in the South. The best dogs, she says, are usually female German Shepherds.

"Blind people who live in the North, East or West can go back for periodic retraining of a guide dog."

"But those of us who live in the South can't do that. It costs too much, and long trips are an ordeal both for us and our guide dogs."

Was Babette the favorite of the three dogs she has owned? "They were all favorites," Miss Chambers said. "I loved them all alike."

DOGGED TIRED TEACHER

DENVER — Arden Hartman, an elementary school teacher, says his summer job is a lot harder than grading papers. He is racing secretary at the Mile High Kennel Club which means he has to draw up the fields of racing greyhounds — 10 to 11 races nightly with nine dogs to a race.

JUST ASKING

SAN DIEGO, Calif. — Bill Hartley, campaigning for city council, was stopped by a university student and spent 20 minutes answering questions about the American electoral system.

"Are you registered to vote?" Hartley finally inquired.

"Oh no," explained the youth. "I'm from Saudi Arabia."
