Set County Bond Election; 1st National Is Depository

In a busy Saturday morning session, Deaf Smith County Commissioners called for a three-question special election and named the First National Bank as depository for county funds during the next two years.

mission. This would leave an indebtedness of not more than $130,000.

Proposed bond issue for construction of a new county jail is $200,000, with an additional $185,000 in bonds asked for modernization and renovation of the courthouse.

All of the commissioners, and the county judge, went on record as approving the proposed issues.

In conjunction with proposed jail and courthouse repair, county commissioners voted to retain John P. Work, of Amarillo, as architect for both projects.

Commissioners unanimously agreed to move all county funds, including school funds, to the First National Bank of Hereford for the next two years.

The funds presently are deposited with the Hereford State Bank.

The action came after the commission had opened and read sealed bids submitted by both banks.

3 Indicted By Grand Jurors

Indicted for breaking and entering by the 69th District Grand Jury Wednesday was Forrest LeDell Bridges, 25. Two other persons were indicted for swindling with worthless check but are not in custody at the present time.

Five no-bills also were returned by the Grand Jury, which was selected earlier in the day for a new term. Term of the present Grand Jury will expire Aug. 1.

Bridges is now in Deaf Smith County Jail in lieu of $5,000 bond. He was charged with burglarizing Sunset Lanes bowling alley and Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall and attempting a break-in at Taylor and Sons Market after arrest by Hereford police Feb. 3.

Bridges is under a five-year probation term for a burglary last year. He pleaded guilty to the charge in a 69th District Court session in December.

No-bills returned included charges of non-support, theft over $50, swindling with worthless check, forgery and removal of mortgaged property.

Mrs. O. H. Culpepper... welcomes newcomers

Outline Plans To Welcome New City Residents

Mrs. O. H. (Nell) Culpepper Friday morning was hired to represent the Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce members in welcoming new residents to Hereford.

A committee report recommending and outlining the step was read by chairman Irving Alexander and approved by the Hereford merchants during their regular meeting.

Mrs. Culpepper will contact new residents, using lists compiled by the Chamber, and welcome them to Hereford. The committee recommended that a small gift be given the newcomers. They also will be pre-

Police Seek Pair Going To Chicago

The $750-plus burglary and robbery of the Star Theatre sometime Wednesday night or Thursday morning led to formal charges of burglary against four Hereford youths, two of them still at large, by Hereford police Friday morning.

Police have contacted Chicago authorities in an attempt to locate Tony Lee Miller, 17 or 18, and Leonard D. Spears, 21, believed to be implicated in the burglary. On information gained during investigation, officers believe the pair are travelling toward Chicago.

L'Allegra Club Stunt Winner

Semi-classical music, aided and abetted by a series of audience-disturbing antics, won first place for the L'Allegra Study Club in the Friday The 13th Stunt Night in the Hereford high school auditorium Friday evening.

Taking second place was a ladies' bridge party, portrayed by a group of men from the Jumbo Community.

Sponsored by the Hereford Rotary Club, first prize for the evening was $50, while second place received $25. Club president Francis Handwick presided.

Also presenting stunts were the Hereford Lions Club, Business and Professional Women's Club, Toastmasters Club, Hereford Art Guild, Rebekah Lodge No. 228, Music Club, Madre Mia Study Club, Hereford Garden Club and the Young Mothers' Club.

Master of ceremonies was Herb Boardman. A trio provided music between the acts.

Stunt night committee included Kenneth Coker, Troyce Carmichael, Alex Schroeter and Clyde Miller.

School Approves 12 Contracts

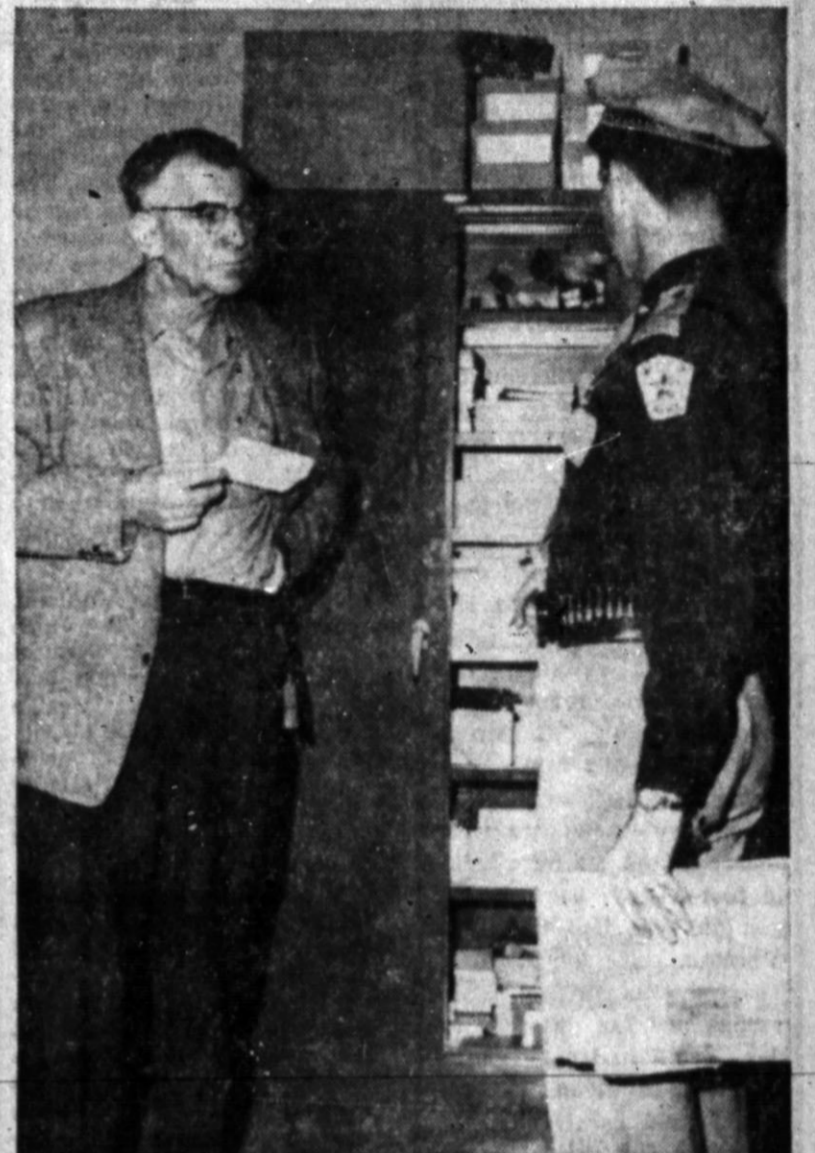

Six Hereford school system principals and six other officials were approved last week for two-year contract renewals by the Hereford school trustees.

Among those principals approved were: L. B. Russell, Shirley elementary; L. C. Thomas, Central elementary; D. C. Martin, Aikman elementary; J. N. Killingsworth, Dawn elementary; W. C. Quattlebaum, Stanton junior high; and Bill Stanford, Hereford high.

Those who received contract renewals were: Della Stagner, elementary coordinator; Bill Phillips, secondary coordinator; Esther Springer, school nurse; Robert Wilson, transportation director; Fred Baird, financial secretary; and Bobby Williams, head coach and athletic director.

Only alternative for complying with the law would be for the county to board all of its prisoners in Dimmitt, Canyon or Amarillo. This would be both inconvenient and expensive as county officers would have to transport all prisoners back and

Herd Routs Lobos, 61-43; Dumas Host For Final Game

Coming from behind an early deficit, the Hereford Whitefaces proved the Levelland gym held no terrors as they slugged to a 61-43 conference victory.

The Herd got behind 3-6 in the early minutes, but tied the score three times and ended the first period in a 13-13 deadlock. Smooth Steve Slagle proved his last few performances have not been flukes, as he provided the scoring and leadership spark.

From the start of the second quarter, the Whitefaces turned on the pressure and was going away. They scored nine straight points, held the Lobos to five during the period, and started the half-time intermission with a big 28-18 margin.

Around Town

Two Brand newsmen saw an "Unidentified Flying Object" Friday night in Levelland, but their picture attempt was unsuccessful. The object, a faint white light, appeared to be circling over the southeast part of the town, not too far from Highway 51. Without proof, all they have been receiving in the Brand office is skeptical looks and slow headshakes.

Dawn Parent - Teacher Association will meet Monday, Feb. 16, at 7:30 p.m. Topic will be "Education - Inclusive or Exclusive". The entertainment will be presented by the first and second grades.

When cheerleaders yelled for Hereford rooters to stand up Friday night, it looked as though they outnumbered the hometown folks in Levelland. Almost everyone commented about the different type of officiating that comes out of Lubbock, compared with the referees who work out of the Amarillo area.

Stanton Junior High P-TA Founders Day meeting is set for Tuesday, Feb. 17, at 7:30 p.m. A film, "The Challenge", will be shown.

Another cruelty joke: "But Daddy, I don't want to go to Europe," to which the father replied, "Shut up and keep swimming."

Public Hearing On City Budget Set For Monday

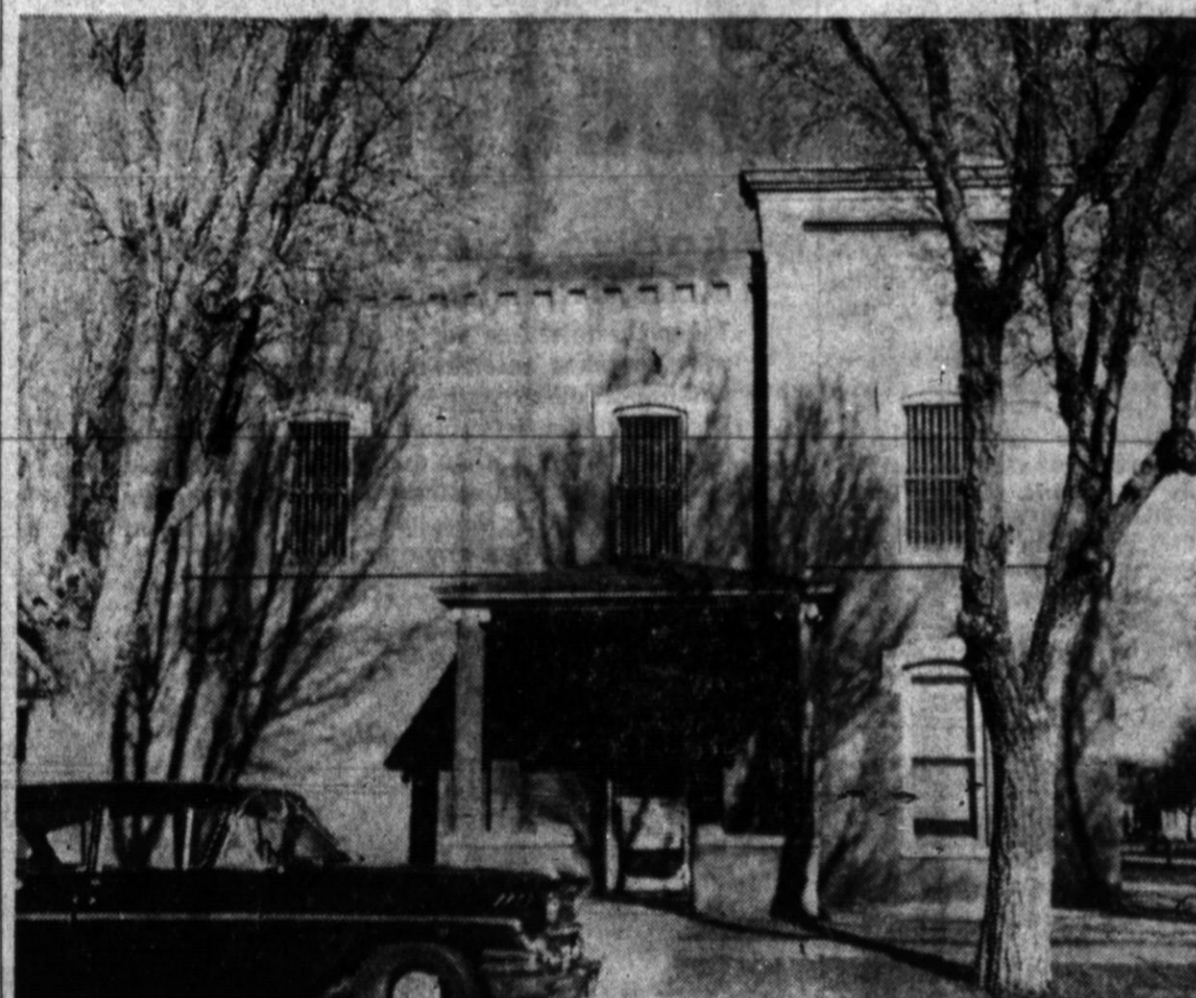

A public hearing for the proposed 1959 city budget will highlight the regular meeting of the Hereford City Commission in the City Manager's office Monday.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m., and all interested persons are invited to attend. At the Feb. 2 meeting of the City Commission, the commissioners specified that a new overhead water tank, to be located near the new elementary school now under construction northwest of Hereford, be included in the budget.

AFTER 54 YEARS

Jail Crowded And Crumbling

By H. A. TUCK BRAND NEWS EDITOR (Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of articles about the current physical conditions and proposed changes of the Deaf Smith County jail and courthouse. These stories are an effort to present objectively the facts concerning the pending bond elections.) Being 54 years old is admittedly getting along in years, either for a person or for a building. And that's the age of the drab, stucco jail building that broodingly covers the corner at Fourth and Schley. Adobe-colored plaster has fallen away in places to reveal ancient red bricks. In other places, the building has given away to the onslaught of age and weather. The windows are loose, the interior paint and plaster are peeling away. Much of this is merely superficial, but the cracks through which the sun and the wind pound inside are not. They indicate serious structural failures. Upstairs, where the confinement area is located, the heavy steel door is coming loose from the wall and the center steel beam is separating from its supports.

The most important aspect, however, is the serious lack of adequate facilities for prisoners. The amount of confinement space has not been changed since the jail was first built in 1905. Even the cell block itself contains the original materials. County Commissioners are concerned with a new state law governing jails in Texas. The deadline for compliance is not far off and the county faces a large budget increase if the provisions of the law are not met locally. State legislators adopted in 1957 a "Minimum Standard Law

REMEMBER WHEN?

By CHARLIE SEEDS

That night came pretty close to recording the greatest "Cinderella" story in the history of boxing. That was the night "Jersey Joe" Walcott fought Joe Louis for the first time for the heavyweight championship of the world.

Walcott had been fighting for years, just making a living, never hitting the big time. He said he was 33, but the experts said he was at least 38 and maybe older. And even though Joe Louis was 33, and past his prime, he was one of the greatest of all heavyweight champions.

Walcott, the father of six, didn't have a chance. But Louis hadn't fought for a year, and he was rusty. And Walcott was hungry.

This was his big chance. The fight was close all the way. Twice the challenger put the great champion on the deck for a count. When the leather stopped flying, Louis won a split decision.

But there were many who thought the "Cinderella Man" had really won. Remember the year? Those years new cars were scarce, and you were lucky to find a good used car.

If you did you had to pay a premium price for it. The year was 1947. Things are far different today. You'll find a wonderful selection of clean, reconditioned used cars on our lot at really low prices!

Two Local Residents Elected To Wayland Baptist Chairmanships

Committee appointments made at the recent mid-winter session of the Wayland Baptist College Board of Trustees include the name of the Rev. Howard Scott, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Hereford, as chairman of the newly-created Academic Scholarship Committee, and J. R. Allison, 113 N. Texas Ave., as chairman of the newly-created Property Management Committee.

The Academic Scholarship Committee will raise funds for scholarships for high ranking students at Wayland and the Property Management Committee will manage such property as Wayland may own of which the college acquires.

The Rev. Scott and Allison were present for the Jan. 26 meeting, at which the trustees projected a "Design for a Decade", formally accepted the gift of 27 sections of land from Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Flores, Tulsa, and accepted plans for an annual Merit Award Banquet.

In addition, the trustees voted to have two instead of three meetings a year, to allow Wayland to participate in the National Defense Student Loan Program, to enlarge as soon as possible the development staff under Tom Z. Parrish, to set up a fund for Academic Scholarships, and heard reports on a master plan for campus development.

With W. A. Mays, Amarillo, presiding, President A. Hope Owen read his annual "State of the College" message that projected "Bold Venture, Design for a Decade", which is largely the combined thinking of trustees, administrators and faculty to provide a plan for the next 10 years, the first of the second half century of service.

A new and higher faculty salary scale was adopted looking to the retention and procurement of strong faculty. Following the report from Robert Rucker, Lubbock, landscape architect who is Wayland's consultant on a master plan for the campus, a suggested priority for buildings in the next 10 years was accepted.

Trustees also approved plans for an annual Merit Award Banquet to be given by Wayland each spring to honor those who have made unusual contributions to Christian education through Wayland. Date for 1959 has been set for March 23.

Trustee meetings will be all day affairs in March and October, with the next meeting set for March 17 when the 1959-60 budget will be adopted.

MILK TO BUTTER

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Wisconsin, best known for its cheese, last year for the first time used more milk for making butter than American cheese.

The five billion pounds of milk used last year for butter accounted for nearly 29 per cent of Wisconsin's record milk production. Meanwhile, Wisconsin factories producing American cheese used about 27 per cent of the milk supply.

Police Chief Henry Aycock said it looks like professional equipment. Containing five transistors, an antenna, three transistor batteries and several wet cell batteries, the equipment was carried in an 18 by eight-inch styrofoam box. The box contained no metal.

Officers were not able to locate the remains of the balloon.

However, the First National also urged that all county funds, if possible, be divided between the two local banks, with the amounts to be determined by the percentage of total deposits.

Hereford State Bank, in its bid, stated only that it would make no charge for checks, statements and audits.

First National Bank had been county depository continuously until two years ago, when the county funds were moved to the Hereford State Bank.

Virgil Hennen, executive vice president of the First National, and four of his board of directors, were present for the bidding.

County commissioners appointed the following election judges for the 11 voting precincts:

Precinct One: Frank Bezner, Bill R. Waldrep, Mrs. Don T. Martin and Mrs. B. E. Kendall; Precinct Two: Urlin Streu, Lyle Woodford, Robert Veigel and Mrs. Nona Jewell; Precinct Three: Herschel Burrus and R. W. Mitchell;

About $275 in cash was taken from Hardwick's desk. The drawer containing the money was pried open.

Entry to the office was gained through two doors which were forced open by a prying instrument. Hardwick said he saw no signs of forcible entry into the building, but that burglars may have hidden in the air conditioning room at the rear of the building after the late show Wednesday night.

Police Chief Henry Aycock said that one of the boys in custody stated he and the other juvenile entered the theatre through a manhole on the roof after climbing a ladder to the roof of McDowell's Drug and crossing rooftops to the theatre air-conditioning shaft.

Miller and Spears, the youth said, waited outside the theatre at the rear of the building and picked up the boys in a car after the burglary was committed, according to Aycock.

After leaving the building, the two youths joined Spears and Miller and the four went to the edge of town to split the money. Aycock said. The two juveniles took $100 each before leaving the building. Aycock said, which was not included in the "split" with Spears and Miller.

The burglary was discovered Thursday morning by theatre janitors, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gonzales, after they had finished work in the auditorium and had gone up the stairs to clean the offices. They discovered the broken locks on the doors and called the police.

Hardwick said the manhole on the roof had been left open, but he felt that burglars did not enter the building through the manhole.

Hardwick told officers Thursday morning that he felt the burglary was committed by a person or persons who had knowledge of where money was kept during the night.

"They didn't take anything except cash," Hardwick said. "They didn't even take $60 in personal checks which were placed with the cash in my desk drawer. And they must have known when our employees are paid and where the pay roll vouchers are kept."

Neither Hardwick nor his son, Bill, were at the theatre at closing time.

Hardwick said Saturday morning that about $15 in candy was found missing in an inventory taken Friday, but the youths in custody said they had no knowledge of the missing candy.

The thermometer climbed to 134 degrees in Death Valley, Calif., on July 10, 1913.

Some of these include segregation facilities for females, juveniles, first offenders and criminally insane persons.

With an average jail population for the last five months which is slightly more than the total capacity of the jail, there are not even enough bunks for the prisoners during the more crowded periods. Confinement facilities now consist of two large "tanks" adjoining each other on the second floor of the jail building.

One of the tanks has eight bunks, while the other has six. In each tank is one toilet, one shower and one lavatory. These facilities are for adult males only.

In the jail office, there is a tiny cell which is used only for brief periods for females or juveniles. It has two bunks. The toilet and sink are imperative and, according to Sheriff Charles Skelton, cannot be repaired.

Beauty at Home

By Lynn Carter

Q. Wnav exercise will help to promote a firm and well-rounded bustline?

A. Raise arms in front of the body, elbows bent and hands clasped in front of chest. Resist hard with right arm and hand as it is pulled with the left, until the right hand is in front of the left shoulder. Keep head, shoulders and chest well back all the time. Alternate resisting with the left hand. This is a good one, if practiced regularly.

Q. What after-shampoo rinses are good for adding softness and luster to the hair?

A. Either vinegar or lemon. When using vinegar, add three tablespoons to a quart of water. When using lemon, one is usually enough, although some women prefer two, to four quarts of water. Follow either of these rinses with one of clear water.

Q. How should the little, fine crevices around the eyes be powdered?

A. Spread these crevices apart gently with the fingers and pat the powder well into them. These small lines, if left unevenly covered, will be intensified.

Q. What is the best way to apply eyeshadow to the lids of the eyes?

A. By using a trim, camel's hair brush (the kind artists use), a delicate line of shadow may be drawn close to the roots of the lashes on the upper lid, much closer than your little finger can get. Then you blend the line out over the lid, fading as you go. No coloring should be perceptible at the crease of your lid. The blending process may be done with your finger, if you wish, but be careful not to put too much color on the lid.

Q. My fingertips have been roughened by much sewing. What can I do about this?

A. Wet the fingers thoroughly, then smooth them off with some pumice.

Q. How can I mix a toilet water, effective against blackheads and greasy skin?

A. Mix one ounce of powdered glycerine, two drams of powdered borax, and nineteen fluid ounces of orange flower water. Shake well before using.

Q. My face is dry and sometimes sensitive to soap. How can

I wash it?

A. At times like these, you can try using warm milk for cleansing your skin.

Q. What is a good makeup corrective for a nose that is too wide and flat-looking?

A. Blend some darker-than-skin-tone foundation along the sides of the nose, and a lighter shade down the center.

Q. How can I take better care of the skin on my back and shoulders, which shows when I wear evening gowns?

A. Just a simple skin wash with soap and cloth is not enough to keep these areas free of all blemishes and looking their loveliest. Use a brush with medium-stiff bristles and plenty of suds to stimulate the skin and force it to release all clogged pore waste. After your thorough scrubbing and thorough rinsing, anoint the area with witch hazel or with one of your hand or face lotions.

Q. How can I best take care of my fingernail cuticles?

A. Rub a good cuticle cream into them at least twice weekly, and never, never dig at the cuticle with a sharp instrument. Push it back with a soft towel or an orange stick wrapped in cotton, and now and then give it a workout with a good liquid cuticle remover. Resist the urge to nip it with a scissors, or it will grow in tough, uneven, and ugly.

BEQUEST FULFILLED

EFFINGHAM, Ill. — Last spring Clifford Gilbert said to members of his family, "I'm going to plant a fourth of an acre of squash — for the Lord." At harvest time, Gilbert was dead.

The proceeds of his squash patch are going to the Miller Chapel Church.

TOUGH JOB

NORFOLK, Va. — Kenneth Harris, well-known for his water color painting made a big isign for a Norfolk education group.

"Hardest work I've ever done. If I had to do this kind of work for a living it would kill me," Harris said. "I'm used to working on a much smaller scale."

THE MUUMUU

HONOLULU — Norman Hartnell, dress designer for British royalty, was asked during a visit here his opinion of the Hawaiian muumuu — the floor-length, shapeless gown descended from the other Hubbards of missionary days.

"Very comfortable, no doubt," he said. "These muumuus are very likely excellent protection against mosquitos."

NO COWBELLS?

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — Yale campus police were called to stop a noisy disturbance among students. The confiscated property included a trumpet, bongo drums, three tape recorders and a hi-fi set.

COALS TO NEWCASTLE?

HONOLULU — Hawaii's own coconuts don't make the grade as ash-trays and other curios in the souvenir shops at Waikiki beach.

Dealers find it cheaper to use coconut shells shipped from the Philippines than to buy home-grown ones.

Congressional Record A Result Of Efficiency

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON — West Texas Congressman Omar Burleson of Abilene has been a county judge, a sailor and an FBI agent. Besides legislating, he holds down another role — co-publisher of the biggest publication house in the world.

As chairman of the House Administration Committee, he is automatically co-chairman with Sen. Carl Hayden (D-Ariz) of the joint congressional committee on publications. The enormous Government Printing Office (GPO) comes under their jurisdiction.

"Until I took over this responsibility," Burleson said, "I had no more idea than a rabbit of a lot of the problems that a publisher faces."

"We don't have much to do with the mechanics of the thing, but we have to set policies, handle purchases of newsprint and participate in collective bargaining conferences over wages. Last week we opened bids on nine million dollars worth of envelopes and paper for all government agencies."

Although the GPO publishes pamphlets, books, regulations and application forms by the hundreds of millions of copies annually, probably its most interesting product is the daily "Congressional Record."

Each morning by sun up three delivery trucks are scurrying about over the city delivering copies of the Record to the homes of all members of the House and Senate.

It contains the verbatim transcript of debate which has occurred on the preceding day as well as summaries of bills introduced and committee actions. It carries House and Senate debates which may have occurred up to midnight.

The copy moves swiftly. Official reporters take 15 minutes of proceedings, then read their shorthand notes into a dictaphone. Typists hurriedly put it down on paper and minutes later an editor has turned the copy over to a messenger for delivery to the GPO six blocks away.

The Congressional Record, which anyone may subscribe to for $1.50 per month, costs $80 per page to publish. That's the overall cost, including final binding of some copies into permanent books. The size varies with the length of a daily session, but on the average it runs about 60 pages, 11 by 8 1/2 inches, on regular newsprint. The total publication cost runs about two million dollars a year.

Congress hasn't always been willing to have its daily proceedings set down in print. The Federalists at first rejected proposals of this kind.

A printer in Philadelphia who kept up with doings of the Continental Congress was invited by Thomas Jefferson to come to Washington. He did and founded the National Intelligencer, which he operated as a private enterprise.

About 1806, with Jefferson's backing, this editor was allowed on the floor of the Senate and House and took shorthand notes. It wasn't until 1852 that a regularly published daily journal of proceedings was founded — the Congressional Globe. It was privately published, but received a subsidy through government subscriptions.

In 1861 Congress approved the purchase of an old printing shop here and thus was born the Government Printing Office. In 1873 it took over publication of the Globe and changed the name to the Congressional Record. As a wholly government owned and operated business, the format has changed little over the years. The GPO plant is "open shop," but virtually all the mechanical employees belong to unions. They are paid the average rate prevailing in 25 principal cities over the country, or the prevailing rate of their union here in Washington, whichever is higher.

Hartford, Conn., began in 1623 as a Dutch trading post called the "House of Hope."

Beta Sigma Phi Royalty Crowned During Ceremony

Guests from over the Panhandle area came to Hereford Friday night to dine and dance in an elaborate setting for the sixth annual Beta Sigma Phi Sweetheart Ball held in the Jim Hill Hotel. Music was provided by Charles Grimes Orchestra.

The lights were dimmed and the spotlight was thrown on the stage as the orchestra played softly, "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" and the princess from each chapter appeared as her name was called. Mrs. Vern Harris from the Kappa Iota Chapter and Mrs. Ray Suit from Xi Epsilon Alpha Chapter were escorted by their husbands and presented with flowers by a former sweetheart.

A fanfare of music announced the presentation of the "Sweethearts", and Mrs. Bill Kendall, chosen by Kappa Iota Chapter, and Mrs. Norman Moore, chosen by Xi Epsilon (Exemplar) Chapter, stepped through the arch of flowers to be crowned "Queen" by her husband as he placed a gold filigree tiara studded with brilliants, on her head. Her bouquet of American Beauty roses was presented by a former sweetheart.

The formal dinner and dance is a traditional international February event of Beta Sigma Phi, sponsored by local chapters to crown a queen for a year.

Friday night's affair was sponsored by the City Council, which is made up of Kappa Iota Chapter and Xi Epsilon Alpha Chapter.

Second only in attraction to the queens and their princesses was the background for the presentation ceremony. A modern Valentine setting with a sentimental flavor, colorfully and cleverly staged. The colors were in Valentine red and white. A tall white arched trellis entwined with clusters of red roses and greenery formed a backdrop for the stage along the north wall, giving the effect of a rose garden outlined by a tiny picket fence.

Grimes and his orchestra played from a stand included in the background setting, flanked by a huge red satin heart edged in white lace and red roses accenting the sweetheart theme and bearing the Greek letters of the sorority in white.

Chosen by secret ballot, the Valentine Girl choice is not made known until the night of the ball. She reigns as queen for one year and keeps the crown in her possession until it is placed on another Valentine girl.

Mrs. Bess Moore, sponsor of Kappa Iota Chapter, was master of ceremonies. After a brief welcome to guests, she told of the traditions of Beta Sigma Phi and of its purpose through better understanding to develop a deeper appreciation of the finer things of life. She then presented the six past Sweethearts of the chapters, including Mrs. Edward Line, 1954; Mrs. Ronald Babione, 1955; Mrs. Charles Laing, 1956; Mrs. D. R. Johnson, 1957; and Mrs. Lloyd Warren (Exemplar Chapter) and Mrs. Harold Beauchamp (Kappa Iota Chapter) 1958.

General chairman in charge of the affair was Mrs. Max Stipe, president of the city council, assisted by Mrs. Harold Beauchamp, Kappa Iota Chapter, and Mrs. Aubyn Hodges, Xi Epsilon Chapter. Others on the general committee were Mesdames Ray Suit, president of Xi Epsilon Chapter, Labry Ballard and Ronald Babione.

The committee in charge of decorations included Mesdames Norman Moore, Pete Guinn, J. D. Whitaker and Charles

MR. COTTON FARMER

May we recommend The Wet Acid Process as the process to be used in chemically delinting your grain seed? — Here's Why —

1. Seed stays in contact with the acid for a period of 30 seconds or less.
  2. Water is used as a neutralizer.
  3. Does not eat the bags.
  4. Wet and green seed can be safely delinted.
  5. Seed can be safely stored and used for a period of several years.
  6. Does a more thorough job on angular leaf spot and other seed borne diseases.
  7. Heat is used only to dry the seed after the acid has been washed off.
  8. Planting 12 lbs. per acre the cost is less than 10c per acre more using wet acid.
  9. More uniform planting.
  10. More even stand.
  11. Quicker emergence.
  12. Plant faster.
  13. Get bigger yields.
  14. Gravity table floats out weak seeds.
  15. Treating prevents seed rotting even in cold, damp weather.
  16. No sticks, stems or lint to clog the planter.
  17. In warm soil seed will sprout in 12 hours—a stand in 5 days.
  18. Less moisture required for germination.
  19. For only 1 lb. of lint cotton per acre you can have your seed chemically delinted using the safe WET ACID PROCESS.

Problems Of Young Children Is Topic Of Young Mother's Meet

Young Mother's Study Club met in the home of Mrs. Labry Ballard Tuesday evening for a program on "Problems of the Six and Seven Year Old Children." Roll call was answered by members answering the question, "Have your children developed respect for others?"

Mrs. L. J. Jones spoke on "The Six Year Old Child," pointing out that too often children are judged by their growth instead of their emotional maturity. She said, "There is no typical six year old, but there is a dominant characteristic at six years," and she recommended wise adult supervision with a minimum amount of interference.

Mrs. Arthur Dean told of "The Child at Seven". She said, "The greatest difference between the six and the seven year old child is in their emotional development. The seven year old becomes sensitive and parents should remember not to set standards so high that children cannot live up to them."

Mrs. Bob Benton was welcomed as a new member, and plans were made for a husbands party on the next meeting date.

Those present were Mesdames Jimmie Bownds, Bill Bradley, Wendall Burdine, Hugh Clearman, Arthur Dean, Jay Hammond, James Headstream, L. J. Jones, Gerald McCaskill, Jess Robinson, James C. Russell, Wayland Smith, Bill Stanford, James Alston, Clinton Massie, Dale Young and the hostess.

LITTLE'S of HEREFORD

By JIMMIE GILLENINE
Automobile insurance is fast becoming a burden to the average man. While you are still paying out a car, it is necessary to have insurance, and the cost is quite an item. I am thoroughly familiar with the fact that insurance rates are created by claims and losses, but Homer Steen over in Floydada came up with a pertinent question the other day when he asked:

"What is happening to the responsible driver, who is being hog tied and forced to pay through the nose?"

Homer's idea merits some consideration on part of the State Insurance Commission. Should the old boy who has never yet had an accident or filed a claim be penalized double and double again because less careful drivers amass negative statistics, or run down to get a new set of windows every time he notices a crack in the glass?

"We may be getting the kind of protection we need," concludes Homer, "but since we cannot afford it, the answer is to make a change: somehow, somehow — now! Not after the commission studies diligently and makes a report."

Mrs. Lee Benefield was in the other day to gather several of the reports from George Heard. She says her church circle is studying the Near East, and thought the reports might be appropriate. This sounds like a swell idea. Seldom do we have the opportunity of first-hand reports from a Hereford citizen.

Things are getting set for the drive to finance the new Community Center, and they are doing one thing definitely right. They are meeting the question of dancing head-on. Here is the answer I got when I brought up the question this week:

"Operation of the Community Center will be up to the City Commission. Dancing has been discussed, and the present commission sees no harm in scheduled dances with proper supervision."

Since no tax money is involved in the center, people cannot have too much complaint either way. However, it is only fair to bring the question out in the open before folks make their donations. Those who do not tolerate dancing certainly have a right to know how the center will be operated — and the same is true of those who feel that dancing is necessary for a well balanced program.

In addition, a change of policy remains within power the commission and, by voting their preference, the majority can always control the center. I doubt if this will ever become a great political issue but, in case it should, the majority can still rule. I know that some few people will be most unhappy with the plan but nothing could be more fair and equitable. The center will have ping-pong, shuffleboard, and other games. In most centers I know about, the kids — once they are allowed to dance — lose interest pretty fast.

Personally, I go along with the theory that kids are better off attending a party supervised by reliable parents than to frequent the Amarillo beer joints and honky-tonks, as many of them have been doing in the past. The seniors have worked out a practical situation in recent years: No one wants to see the center made into a local honky-tonk — but this is a long, long way from a weekly or monthly scheduled dance with adequate sponsorship.

If critics would exercise the same thinking about automobiles, none of them would own a car, because cars have contributed more to our so-called delinquency than any single phase of American life, including the horse and buggy. However, the old boy likes the car himself, so he accepts it without even a grain of salt. People may have more fun than anybody. They also kid themselves more than anybody.

I was up Perryton way the other day, and that town is really coming loose at the seams. Like Hereford, they have deep-rooted growing pains, including a new high school and a new-grade school now under construction. Everywhere, you can see new housing starts. The best thing, however, is their advance planning. Harold Hudson showed me the "Industrial Mile". The Chamber of Commerce has an option on this mile of specially built tractage, and it has been set aside for industrial expansion. Already, it is maybe 20 per cent filled with plants, mostly allied with the 70 producing wells in the county. This assures industry of a location at a fair and reasonable price — and a lot of the smaller Perryton citizens with local capones have been constructed by it on a 5 to 10 year "payout" basis.

They estimate the town at 8,000 population today, including approximately 500 families who live in trailer houses as a result of the current housing shortage. Like this area, a lot of the Ochiltree County folks are getting "gun-shy" when you mention bond issues, but they still have a good way to go before their paving is up to par. Honestly, though, I doubt if Texas has a better planned city than Perryton. Instead of haphazard growth, the whole town reflects wholesome, practical, long-range thinking of the part of many interested citizens. Ben Ezzell of Canadian has an interesting story about two house-fles. "Sylvester, aren't people funny?" asked one. "That's right, Josie," replied the other, "but what did you have in mind?" "Well," replied Jose, "I was just thinking how much money they spend fixing up a beautiful ceiling like this — and then they walk on the floor!"

Ben says the moral to this story depends on your point of view. Next time I see Joe Smith I am going to have him explain it to me. If anyone can figure it out, I feel like it will be Joe.

Breakfast table thought: "Look at the bright side. In 16 hours you'll be back in bed."

Sall boy at dinner table: "I chewed this mouthful of spinach six times. Now, what do I do with it?"

An angry little man bounced into the post office to complain that he was being pestered with threatening letters, adding, "I want something done about it." "That's a federal offense," answered the postmaster, "and I am sure we can do something about it. First, do you have any idea who has been sending them?" "Indeed I have," answered the little man. "They are coming from those pesky income tax people."

February 15 Is A Special Day For Roger Brumley Family

Today, Feb. 15, is a special day for the Roger Brumley family. The couple was married on Feb. 15, 1942, and one year later on Feb. 16, their daughter Sondra was born.

Five years later another daughter, Jani Sue, now 11, was born on Feb. 15. The two daughters' birthdays are celebrated into one for a big celebration on Feb. 15. Their son Mike, who is five, has the fun of celebrating twice, for the whole family joins with him in observance of his birthday on June 4.

This year Jani's birthday party was held Saturday afternoon at her home for 12 little girls, and Sondra's party was held Saturday night in the form of a dinner party for nine couples.

Today the head of the household will take the whole family out to dinner in observance of the 17th wedding anniversary. In the summer the Brumleys like to do things as a family unit and share many picnics, fishing trips and vacation trips together. Mike and Jani Sue love to ride and accompany their Dad to the ranch as often as possible. On Sunday everybody goes to church.

The luncheon will be held in the home of Mrs. Louie LeGrand at 1 p.m.

Mrs. John Jacobsen Jr. gave the program, reviewing "Realistic Plans For National Survival" by Francis Vivian Drake, civilian consultant to the United States Air Force.

Quoting from the author, she said "No Democracy can now afford to maintain forces that cannot be brought to bear against an enemy in time to deter aggression. Our main defense problem is conservation of priority in strategic weapons which deter total war on the homeland. Our deficiency now lies in trained man power."

"There are three outstanding actions that should be taken at once to improve our striking power. They are: Preserving our priority in number one striking forces, unification of forces and retaining skilled man power."

Mrs. C. D. Kelton, president, conducted a short business meeting, when members voted to contribute to the proposed community center, and Mrs. Kelton was named to meet with the planning committee for the center.

The Rev. M. E. Upchurch, pastor, read the double-ring vows before an altar arranged with an arch of greenery flank-

Miss Micca Chapman of Borger was maid of honor. Her

Tornado Warning System Soon To Be Topic Of Much Local Concern

What finally happened to Hereford's tornado warning system?

Recent havoc wrought in St. Louis by a tornado, along with the fact that March and April will open the tornado season in this particular area, probably has many citizens wondering about our local status.

In a previous test, the warnings apparently came in loud and clear in some areas, while they failed to register in others. As a rough estimate, we would say that 25 per cent of the residents reported they did not hear the alarm at all. In periods of alert, it is likely that more people would hear the alarm, simply because they would be listening for it; this would especially be true when coupled with radio and TV warnings.

On the other hand, the nation's worst tornado disasters have been those which were not unexpected, including Dallas and St. Louis among the more recent scenes.

Some improvements in the Hereford system, if possible, seem to be in order. In addition, another practice alert or two could prove invaluable if, and when, a tornado should strike—and this especially applies to our schools.

Despite several "scares," Hereford has been fortunate in the matter of tornadoes. We are sure that residents of Amarillo and Dallas had the same feeling—until the twisters swept through their streets.

The fact that we have the tornado equipment speaks well for our city and for our citizenship. A little additional effort toward getting the most possible protection out of this equipment seems entirely feasible at this time.

Here's One Your Wife Can't Win

The loud "boom" and mild tremor reported in this area Tuesday appears destined to take its place with the flying saucers in a world of unsolved mysteries.

The fact that "something" happened is substantiated by reports all of the way from Roswell, N. M., to Perryton, Texas. Possible explanations include: 1.) a mild earthquake; 2.) an unaccounted for jet plane; 3.) a rare bolide meteor.

Seismograph reports from Denver, Tucson and Lubbock tend to fairly well eliminate the earthquake theory, leaving the other two as most plausible.

Like the flying saucer era, different persons hold to different theories, and frequently their convictions are deep-rooted. Also, like the flying saucer era, it seems that your guess is about as good as that of the next fellow.

As one man puts it: "This is good subject material for an argument with your wife. You cannot win, but it is one argument you can feel reasonably sure that you will not lose, regardless of which side you take."

What Makes Our Great Leaders?

Do great leaders create a nation, or does a nation create great leaders through its demands?

While no one is likely to give an unchallenged answer to the question, it is interesting to note that our leaders very often do follow a distinct pattern.

Back when we needed them the most, the United States produced Benjamin Franklin, Thomas Jefferson, Henry Clay, Alexander Hamilton and numerous other statesmen. In turn, as the nation grew, we produced scholars, inventors, engineers and great merchandisers. When we were at war, we produced generals. Always, they came not singly, but in droves.

Today we are producing scientists and, never before, have we seen such an array of research scientists as those who have appeared in our present atomic age.

We like to think that Americans actually do rise to meet any challenge. In addition, it seems to us that history bears out this line of thought. To say the least, it places us in the enviable position of meeting emergencies, regardless of their nature.

The situation, if true, would also contribute much to the fact that the United States has become an important power within such a brief period of existence.

Ring Of Keys Widens Scope

Would you turn down the offer of a key which would open all of the world's treasure chests, reveal the thoughts and actions of far-away people, provide humor, sympathy and knowledge?

Books offer all of these wonders and many more. The dreams, hopes, fears and combined knowledge of centuries of search and labor are bound within the small covers of books. Knowledge, taken by itself, is of little value. It must be shared with others to benefit others.

How far removed from the stone age would we be if the man who first discovered to make fire had kept the secret to himself? The only permanent way to share knowledge is to write it down for the generations which follow. Word of mouth is practical only for the moment and then it vanishes or is distorted in the re-telling.

Our children have learned knowledge through books, aided by people who passed on information they had gained from other books.

Our library is a launching pad for the newest, and the oldest, ideas of man; it is the dock from which we can sail to adventure, romance, mystery and intrigue. The Deaf Smith County library is one of the best for a town of its size. Its shelves are crammed with the wisdom of the ages, books waiting to release a boundless flood of information and entertainment.

We are fast becoming a nation of scanners, taking the top of the news, the top of the entertainment, but leaving the best part untouched.

How long since you have stretched your mind or your imagination with the aid of a book? It can be a wonderful experience.

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

This year's Nobel Prize for peace went to a slender, 48-year-old Dominican priest who has dedicated his life to salvaging the derelicts of war.

With his "Europe of the Heart" movement, Father Georges Pere led thousands of displaced persons out of crowded, disease-ridden camps. Relying solely on volunteer contributions and the labor of his displaced flock, he built five special villages, not ghettos but suburbs tacked onto cities, where the homeless could begin life anew with a job, a roof over their heads and hope in their hearts.

"Each refugee is a man of infinite worth, who deserves all our love whatever his nationality, religion, learning, poverty or moral misery," said this Belgian priest whose sturdy faith moved mountains of red tape to achieve his end.

Father Pere has already decided what to do with the $41,120 prize money: start two more villages for the uprooted to plant new roots.

SEVEN INCHES FROM DEATH

Good Samaritan Saved Life Of E. O. Billingslea

By MRS. R. L. CRISWELL

"I was born in Denton County in 1883," said E. O. Billingslea, of Deaf Smith County. "My parents moved from Denton to Oklahoma in the early 1900's. This was near Gosnell, but the name has since been changed to Frederick."

"At this time it was a land of rattlesnakes and coyotes, but after so long it has grown into a good agricultural land and is famous for several things—one of them being its large sale of alfalfa seed to the northern and eastern states."

"We drove our cattle from Denton to Decatur and loaded them on box cars to be shipped to Oklahoma, then drove them across the Red River. It was no trouble as it was running but not at flood stage. After they reached Oklahoma, we again drove them to Frederick, Okla., where my father had homesteaded school land."

"Father hauled or freighted lumber from Vernon, Tex., to build a house. After it was built we could look in any direction and see nothing that showed civilization as it was the only house for miles in either direction. He also freighted wire, posts and steeple from Vernon, using Dones Crossing at the river for there was no bridge and we thought nothing of it."

"We just thought of getting across and crossed at this place as it had the quicksand packed down tightly and if a team or vehicle got off the crossing and could not get back on, it would go down in the deep sand. Many teams and vehicles were lost here as the sand was 50 to 60 feet deep. Here I grew up and established a business of my own."

"I bought into the seed business and worked with others in research for a better grade of alfalfa seed that would grow in the north as Kansas had a thriving business in selling the seed to the farmers in the north. Through my efforts the Agriculture Department of Illinois accepted Oklahoma-raised alfalfa seed, as a variety which could be adapted to the Northern and Eastern States."

"This was done in 1918 and 1919. At that time Kansas had all the northern trade as farmers in the north would not buy seed from a state any farther south than Kansas. This opened the market for Oklahoma alfalfa seed and really helped farmers of the north as well as farmers in Oklahoma as the seed was scarce and expensive. I farmed and raised alfalfa for seed until 1949 and moved to Deaf Smith County for my health."

"I bought a section of land northwest of Dawn and have made it my home except for the winters and have spent them in many different places, looking for a warm sun during the cold months."

"I had quite an experience last November while on my way to Arizona. I was on my way to Phoenix and had stopped at Show Low, Ariz., which has an elevation of 7,550 feet. The sun was shining brightly and the highway was full of traffic as I left Show Low. I did not dream that before that beautiful day was over I would be in a heavy snowstorm and slipping toward a 66-foot precipice."

"I was sure I would arrive in Phoenix before bad weather. This was one of the most torturous roads I have driven over. The mountains were very steep and the curves were short, too short I thought, and the higher I traveled the deeper the canyon appeared below. I could see a truck and several cars that had gone over and were total wrecks in the canyon. (Continued on page 5)

TULIA LEARY OF LIGHTNING RODS

Several Tullia families, at least two of them widows, were keenly disappointed last week after they discovered that lightning rods which they had purchased from an itinerant salesman were not what they thought they were buying. For installing a few rods, estimated by Tullia police to cost perhaps $10, one widow was charged $260. The rods are worthless without facilities to ground them. According to Julius Hansen, who sells lightning rod equipment, all lightning rod equipment must bear three labels of the Underwriters' Laboratories. Label "A" indicates conformity with established requirements of Underwriters' Laboratories for material and design of rods. Label "B" indicates conformity with established requirements of Underwriters' Laboratories for fittings as produced at the factory of the listed manufacturer. And Master Label "C" is evidence of proper construction and installation of lightning protection systems and a symbol to property owners and others of an inspection program which requires that installations be made according to a recognized standard of quality and performance.—TULIA HERALD

FORMBY SPEAKS AT C OF C BANQUET

Touching on Western relations with Russia, the flavor of small towns and the work of the State Highway Commission, Chairman Marshall Formby spoke at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet Friday night and advocated the spread of Christianity to stop Communism, "better" towns rather than "bigger," and the economic value of tourists. Formby told of a trip to Russia a couple of years ago, and said that Russian schools are not as good as ours, nor will the Russian scientists get ahead of ours. "We believe God is on our side," he said, "but He's only on our side so long as we do as we should. The spreading of Christianity is our only hope for real peace in the world." Formby said that every town needs an inventory. He criticized the lack of thinking "big enough" in planning for the future. He said that if the people of the state had thought "big enough" 20 and 30 years ago, the state would not now be widening and expanding highway systems. Formby said a town that does not provide what young people need in order to stay will die.—CANYON NEWS

DIMMITT SUPERINTENDENT RETIRES

Superintendent R. S. Vestal is retiring as head of Dimmitt Public Schools. When time for his retirement comes on June 30, Vestal will end twelve years of service to Dimmitt School and a total of 38 years in the teaching-administrative profession. Mr. and Mrs. Vestal will not remain in Dimmitt, but will live on their stock farm near Dublin. During his tenure here, there have been many accomplishments by Dimmitt schools. Some of these advances were brought about by the superintendent and others came as a result of the natural city and rural area growth. Possibly the biggest accomplishment by Vestal was the building of one of the finest small school facilities on the Plains. A state school audit of the school system recently could find nothing to criticize. Dimmitt schools are especially strong in band, dramatics and sports, due largely to the superintendent's selection of personnel.—CASTRO COUNTY NEWS (Dimmitt)

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm must have budgetary problems of his own, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor: I don't know how President Eisenhower handled his son when he was growing up, but if he handled him like he's suggesting Congress be handled, I take my hat off to him.

As I understand an article I read in a newspaper last night, Ike has drawn up a balanced budget for the next twelve months and has informed Congress if it wants to spend more money, than the budget allows, it ought to add enough taxes to cover the extra cost.

This is a splendid idea for families—I don't know about Congress, what Congress does is not always limited to reason on account of the people—but I don't know of anybody who has succeeded in making it work.

Say you have a couple of kids and you draw up a budget, carefully including so many pairs of shoes, so many pairs of pants, so many dresses, coats, jackets, etc., and for the first month or two everything is in balance, until your son comes in with the toes busted out of his shoes at least six weeks before they were supposed to play out.

Maybe Ike could do it, but all the parents I know who say, "Look here son, a new pair of shoes at this stage of the year wasn't included in the budget, if you want another pair you'll have to find the money for them"—well, most parents just can't bring this off.

And it doesn't have to be something as necessary as a pair of shoes. Say your daughter comes in with the announcement she's been nominated as a candidate for class queen and has to have a new fancy dress for the campaign, the average father would run out of the house if he suggested it wasn't included in the budget and she'll have to find the money herself for the new outfit.

That's the problem Ike is up against with Congress. And the problem Congress is up against isn't that Congress just likes to spend the money, it's just that the people like to have these things.

I guess that's the way it works. In my case, I don't have any trouble balancing my budget on paper, but my 10-year-old tractor hasn't got any appreciation for figures and is liable to blow a gasket any day and throw my budget head over heels. And I think Congress has found the people have gaskets too.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Eventful Happenings Of '58 Listed By Citizens

What is the most exciting thing that happened to you during 1958?

MRS. W. W. ANGEL JR.—I think what I enjoyed most was going to summer school in Indiana. The country is just beautiful there and there's not a bit of wind—I especially like that. The school is held at a summer resort and it's just a wonderful place with lots of people around.

MRS. BERT DOOMER—Well, I think one of the most exciting things that happened in our family last year was when Margaret was elected area parliamentarian in F. H. A. We were very proud of her and it was a big thrill for all of us.

MRS. A. E. DOUGLAS—Well, the best thing that happened to us last year was when our first great-grandson was born. Then we had a wonderful Christmas. We had a family reunion in Odessa and visited with relatives we hadn't seen in 20 to 30 years.

MRS. M. G. DUVALL—Well, the only exciting thing I can remember about 1958 was getting ready for the trip I took in 1959. I went with my parents to California and had a wonderful time. We went to Disneyland, saw the Santa Anita horseraces, visited a lot of TV shows—like Art Linkletter and Groucho—and we stayed on Sunset Strip in Hollywood. All in all, it was just a great trip.

MRS. BILL HROMAS—I can't remember too much of anything that was outstanding about 1958 for me. I guess the only thing that could fall into that category would be my trip to Houston. I enjoyed that very much.

MRS. TERRY KIRBY—We went to El Paso to the Scottish Rite Reunion last year with Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Carnahan and we all had a lot of fun there.

There also were several cars in the bar ditch.

"The roadbed was a sheet of ice and slick as glass. I noticed the car was slowing and the engine was overheated. I began to look for a place to park to let it cool off when suddenly it stopped and began to slide back. I tried to maneuver it to stay out of the line of traffic and also to keep away from the shoulder of the road which had been washed away by melting snow until it was a sheer drop of 50 or 60 feet.

"The car kept going back, I was in a cold sweat. I thought of trying to jump out of the car and letting it go over, but on second thought that was no good for I am not so young that I can jump with very much agility. If I tried to open the door and jump out, the door would drag me off with the car and even if I could get beyond the door the hard surface was so icy that I would probably slip off anyway. I kept holding the brakes and hoping against hope.

"I had the emergency brake on and was holding the foot brake as tightly as possible, afraid to let go. The strain was wearing on me. The more I tried to attract the attention of people, it seemed, the faster they would go by.

"I could not hold it much longer and any time it might go over. I began waving to people, trying to gain their attention. They would wave and go on as the road was so steep all the speed possible was needed to go on to the top. I could not blame them for not stopping, but I did not know how I was going to get out of the car.

"Then the car stopped. It was less than a foot from the precipice. God was there as he has been with me many times. I thank Him for stopping that car. Now I waved more frantically, desperately. Someone must stop and help me. As I beckoned to each car passing, a man with a family in a station wagon waved, and went on by until he could find space enough to park. Then he walked back to see if I needed help.

"I told him my trouble and that if I should take my foot off the brake to get out of the car that the car and I would both crash over the cliff. He began looking for something to brake the ice and found a hammer. He used it to break the ice and a small whisk broom to sweep it off the highway. He said the rear wheel was no more than seven inches from the drop.

"When he had the ice off he told me to start the engine and try to get back on the hard surface of the road. Just then a truck came by, scattering cinders. He stopped the truck and put a few shovelsful under the car. As I started to move, he shook hands with me and hurried away to his car as it and his family were in danger of sliding.

"After a night's rest I remembered the man and wondered how I would find him to thank him and let him know how I appreciated what he had done for me. I asked for directions to the news office and inserted this ad: Wanted: Name and address of the man who saved my life Monday by preventing car from slipping off pavement into the canyon. E. O. Billingslea, General Delivery, Phoenix.

"I took the car to a mechanic for a checkup to learn why the engine had lost its power and later purred right on over the hills to Phoenix. He informed me that the folk who live in the mountains seldom buy cars with hydromatic transmission as there is something about them which will slip if not in perfect condition and if it gets too hot. When cool, it worked fine, but when hot it has no power at all as a band or belt slips. He found nothing radically wrong, but did find a maize stalk under the link in the transmission.

"I got no answer from the ad, but the editor had noticed the story and had the postmaster to contact me to come to the Republic News office. He said he would help me locate the man that had kept me from going off the cliff and published this article in his paper along with my picture. Here is the clipping." Billingslea said.

"E. O. Billingslea, 74 year-old retired cotton and grain dealer, wants to thank a Good Samaritan whom he believes is staying somewhere in the Valley for the winter.

"A week ago Monday, Billingslea was in danger of losing his life and a man in a station wagon headed for the Phoenix area — stopped and helped him out of his predicament.

"Billingslea, whose home is in Hereford, was driving alone on the way to Phoenix, where he is spending the winter. About 10 miles south of Show Low on U. S. Highway 60, his car lost power.

"He was rolling back down the icy and snow-banked highway, intending to get to a level stretch of road and investigate the trouble.

"As his car gained momentum, the brakes would not halt his progress downhill. Steering on the icy patches became erratic. Billingslea's car veered to the side of the road next to the edge. It stopped, but Billingslea still had his foot on the brake and was fearful of letting up on the pressure.

"He sat and waited as car after car went by. About a half hour went by before the man in the station wagon stopped and took some tools out to chip the ice and block the wheels.

"Before Billingslea could get his name, he was gone.

"Second Clipping.
"Santa Claus came to the household of the Good Samaritan today. E. O. Billingslea, 74-year-old retired cotton and grain dealer, presented gifts to the family of Elmer Tolf, 36-year-old Illinois carpenter.

"Billingslea was rescued by Tolf Nov. 17, as the elder man's car perched precariously on the edge of a canyon alongside snow-covered U. S. Highway 60 about 10 miles south of Show Low. Both were traveling toward the Salt River Valley, where they are spending the winter — Billingslea from Hereford and Tolf from Plainfield, Ill.

"Billingslea's car had slipped almost to the edge of a chasm alongside the icy road when Tolf drove up.

"Tolf saw his plight and stopped — after dozens of motorists had passed — and chipped the ice around the wheels of Billingslea's car so they could get

OPTOMETRY: The Art and Science of Visual Care

Can YOU really see at night?

Some people cannot. They avoid driving at night because they feel unsafe and unsure. Their vision actually changes after dark.

Night vision can be improved in some cases where special lenses are required. If you are troubled with night blindness, consult a professional optometrist.

And if it can not be improved, he will advise you to:

- * Drive slower
- * Never take your eyes off the road
- * Watch the edge of the highway
- * Don't look at approaching headlights

Adrian...

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Heaton visited in Clovis, N. M., Friday with her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bolin, an aunt, Mrs. Bill Banister, and a cousin, Mrs. Elbert Newell and family.

Adrian P-TA met Monday evening in the high school auditorium, with Mrs. Ferris Kromer's first and second grade students in charge of the program.

All 19 children participated in the program, "A Valentine Party For Mother Goose," and the main spokesman was Miss Muffit, played by Cathy Garrison.

At the conclusion of the program the children were entertained with party songs and games.

The social hour was dispensed with due to a called meeting of all interested patrons by the school board. Beginnings of a plan for school improvement have been started.

E. K. Pinnell, president of the board, presided over a question-and-answer session. He explained that due to the Hale-Alken Committee each school was asked to study its problem in a statewide program.

Charles T. Roberts of the Consultant School Plant Division of Texas Educational Agency came to Adrian this week and viewed the present plant.

Adrian's school plant is falling behind the required minimum in many ways. A representative of the Municipal Securities Eventment Bankers of Amarillo was hired to estimate the approximate amount required to meet specifications.

In a board session after the called meeting, board members drew up a petition calling for an election of a proposed bond issue of $100,000. This is to remodel the school cafeteria and for other plant

Improvements.

Specifications will come later after an architect can be secured. This is perhaps the greatest challenge Adrian school has met since its original building program, for it affects the entire school district. Only the beginnings of a plan, so far, have been laid.

Other board members are C. F. Homfeld, James Cavin, Bill Leslie, Ray Brown, Jim Perrin and John Horton.

The two subjects uppermost at present are the school plans and the basketball teams.

Hartley boys and girls traveled to Adrian Tuesday evening. The girls were outstanding in many ways in the game. Coach Kennedy said, "Their record is not indicative of how the girls have played. They have played to the best of their ability, and the more they play, the better they do."

At present, the girls are tied with Vega for second place in the district with the final game Friday night at Vega. The score Tuesday night was Adrian, 57, Hartley, 30.

Box score for the girls' game:

Cavitt	1	5	7
Pinnell	5	2	12
Mosteller	6	1	13

Heaton	5	6	16

Guards were Gail Brown, Cynthia Kromer, Melanie Weidner, Ninette Pounds and Twila Story.

Casper of Hartley was high scorer with 14 points.

The boys' game showed skill on both teams. After half time, Adrian began hitting more consecutively, and the final score was Adrian, 75, Hartley, 54.

Coach Cullender said, "I don't know how the boys looked to the crowd, but to me they looked awfully good." They have only Vega to beat to win district 2B in 1959.

Any land that did not have a cover crop blew and at times visibility was only one quarter of a mile. The tumbleweeds now line every fence. Phones were out of order for a while.

The wind changed from southwest to northwest about 9 p.m., and Tuesday morning the wind began to diminish. That afternoon was quiet with the sun shining.

YOUR RED CROSS ON THE JOB

By CORINNE J. NEELY

Many Red Cross Chapters throughout the country are collecting and sending funds to St. Louis since the big tornado disaster there.

Your chapter will be glad to accept any donation you would like to make and will send it direct. (Or you may mail it direct to Red Cross, St. Louis, Mo.) St. Louis is the headquarters for the Mid-western area to which we belong—as does all Texas. We have a very personal interest in her welfare as she does in us—should we have a disaster. Personnel to aid us would come from that place as well as funds to aid us, blood plasma, nurses and many other aids called for in disaster times.

The many large and costly disasters the last few years have wiped out all reserves once held for disaster by Red Cross on national scale. They have already begun to use present funds and the city of St. Louis itself is calling for emergency donations.

If you have been reading the paper and listening to radio and TV you will know 18 are known dead, 350 persons injured and heavy damage done to a thirty square block area. And 250 persons are homeless.

Five Red Cross canteens are in operation, from the three centers set up for this work. There is no need for any clothing as have adequate supplies.

ALL RED CROSS DISASTER AID IS GIVEN AS AN OUTRIGHT GIFT, NOT A LOAN, AS ONE NEIGHBOR HELPING ANOTHER.

Spot Removal Is Subject Of Meet

The Dawn Home Demonstration Club met Thursday, Feb. 5, in the home of Mrs. H. D. Fowler.

The program on removing spots, such as gum and lipstick, caring for handbags and shoes, and cleaning a hat, was brought by Mrs. Marion Russell, Mrs. J. B. Caraway and Mrs. Ray Stewart.

Mrs. Russell suggested the use of an ice cube held to the spot of gum until the gum hardens, then scrape it free with a blunt knife. Also dry cleaning fluid removes gum

Mrs. Caraway demonstrated the use of a brush and spray solution in the care of suede shoes and handbags. It is wise to store shoes in their original box wrapped in tissue or store them with matching bags in clear plastic bags.

In cleaning a straw hat, Mrs. Stewart suggested one may remove the trim if possible; otherwise clean with a brush or vacuum. For felt hats a thorough brushing with a clean brush, then raise the nap with steam, being sure the hat dries over a jar or bucket padded with a towel. For storing hats, it was suggested one might put a "window" of saran wrap in the hat boxes so that it would not be necessary to take down and open each hat box in the closet.

Miss Beverley Ann Bland Is Wed To Charles Quattlebaum

Miss Beverley Ann Bland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Bland of Slaton, became the bride of Charles W. Quattlebaum at 7 p.m. on Jan. 20, in the First Methodist Church of Canyon. The Rev. H. Doyle Ragle, pastor, performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Quattlebaum of Hereford. Only members of the families, sorority sisters and fraternity brothers attended.

Miss Judith Clevenger of Dimmitt provided wedding music and played the traditional wedding marches.

Charlotte Bland of Slaton, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor, and Neil Quattlebaum of Amarillo was his brother's best man.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose a nut-brown suit for her wedding, with matching accessories and a small brown hat.

The bride was a sophomore student at West Texas State College at the time of her marriage. She was affiliated with Chi Omega Sorority.

Quattlebaum, a graduate of Hereford High School, received a B. A. degree at West Texas State College in January. He was a member of Alpha Sigma Phi Xi, men's social club, while there. He received a commission as second lieutenant in the U. S. Army on Jan. 25 and reported at Fort Hood for duty on Feb. 1.
