Dimmitt Girl Wins 'Miss REA' Beauty Pageant

Record Turn-Out For Co-op Meet

More than 1,100 persons gathered at the Bull Barn in Hereford Thursday to hear reports on the current status and future plans for the West Texas Rural Telephone Cooperative and Deaf Smith County Rural Electric Cooperative. Attendance set a new record for the 21st annual session. Highlights of the meetings were a noon barbecue and the selection of the "Miss REA" for 1959. Winning top honors in the annual beauty contest was tall, poised Zetha Ivey, a 17-year-old junior from Dimmitt High School. She won the 1959 title from a field of 13 girls from five counties. Miss Ivey is 5 feet, 4 inches tall, has brown hair and brown eyes and weighs 116 pounds. ("I try real hard to keep that a secret," she confided.)

Land Is Donated By Mrs. Ward

Mrs. J. F. Ward, 86, 101 E. Sixth St. in Hereford, recently presented a 320-acre plot of land located north of Dumas in Moore County to McMurry College in Abilene. In 1957, Mrs. Ward bought the home of Dr. J. W. Hunt, first president of McMurry College, and gave it to the college for use as a cooperative home for girls. She also has built and furnished a cottage to house 16 children at the Methodist Home in Waco, and in 1949 she gave Ward Hall to the First Methodist Church in Hereford in memory of her husband. The room, connected to the church sanctuary, is used for Mrs. Ward's Sunday School class, wedding receptions and other church activities. Mrs. Ward, the widow of J. F. Ward, who died in 1941, has been a resident here for many years. Since Mr. Ward's death, she has continued the operation of her husband's nursery business located next to her home.

Hereford's fourth annual free diagnostic clinic for children has been scheduled for Saturday, May 16, it was announced today by Troy Moore, president of the sponsoring Oasis Shrine Club. About 150 children from five counties are expected to register for the clinic. Object of the annual one-day affair is to examine and diagnose handicapping and crippling illnesses for children of all races, creeds and economic backgrounds.

Expect 150 For AA Meet Sunday

About 150 representatives from at least 11 cities and towns in the Texas Panhandle and New Mexico will attend the first large area meeting of Alcoholics Anonymous ever to be held in Hereford Sunday. The meeting will begin at 3 p.m. in the Jim Hill Hotel ballroom, and the public is invited to attend. Groups will be represented from Hereford, Dumas, Perryton, Borger, Plainview, Amarillo, Silvertown, Floydada, Tulla, Muleshoe, Clovis and Littlefield. All persons interested in the work of Alcoholics Anonymous are urged to be present and the public is invited. It will not be a "mock" meeting, but will be quite similar to regular meetings, only on a larger scale. No non-alcoholic speakers will be on the program. A brief report on the general service conference and AA World-Wide will be made by C. B. T. of Borger. Refreshments will be served at the meeting.

Maximum age limit for examination is 18 years, Moore said.

More than 30 local and out-of-town doctors and specialists will donate their time and services to the clinic, which will be for examination only. They will make recommendations for further treatment.

Around Town

Early Saturday morning it looked like all the straw hats sold would have to be equipped with chin straps, but the wind calmed enough so no one would have to gallop down the street in pursuit of an errant panorama.

Doc Cowan should have enough left-over advice to last until Christmas after all the Main Streets engineers got through supervising the removal of his two-ton safe to Doc's new store location. But, in spite of all the free ideas, the safe got from Point A to Point B with no trouble.

Three HHS senior boys will make the trip to Austin and state competition in literary contests next weekend. All won regional contests at Odessa last weekend. They are Stanley Fuhrmann, number sense; Durward Jacobs, original oration; and John Gilliland, extemporaneous speech.

Installation of Shirley School PTA officers will be conducted during the last meeting of the school year at 3:45 p.m. Tuesday, May 5, at the school. Special music will be presented by the fifth and sixth grade choirs.

Bachelor Joe Kerr had probably the most enjoyable job during the annual REA meeting. He was charged with the difficult (?) duty of escorting the 13 beauty queens to the stage and back. He must have had a fine line of small talk, since all the girls favored him with smiles as he left them on the stage.

Mrs. Glenn Allred, president of the Deaf Smith County PTA Council, has announced a school of instruction for PTA Friday, May 8, at the High School auditorium. Registration is at 9 a.m. and school starts at 9:30. A luncheon will be held at noon at the Western Wheel Inn. Mrs. Melvin Anderson, district president from Amarillo, and a state officer will be present to assist in the one-day course. All new officers, and members, are urged to attend. (Continued on Page 2)

A SUCCESSFUL campaign was reported by members of Hereford Kiwanis Club who conducted a one-day broom and mop sale in Hereford Thursday. Hereford residents bought $1,250 worth of household articles made by members of the Lighthouse for the Blind at Fort Worth. The Kiwanians sold items from store-to-store and door-to-door. Items for sale included brooms, door mats, ironing board covers, clothes brushes and other accessories. (Staff Photo)

Make Little League Team Assignments

Assignments were made for four major loop and four minor loop Little League teams Friday evening, following four days of try-outs. Coaches conducted a player auction Thursday night. Teams will swing into action on Monday, May 11, after a week of work-outs. Earl Stagner, president of the local Little League, explained again that only a limited number of 12-year-old boys were available to play on each team, under the rules of the national organization.

Boys not assigned to major or minor teams will be divided into pee wee teams, so that every boy will be able to play. Major league team assignments include: GIANTS: Andrew Channer, Gene Drummond, Alex Guerrero, Robert Higgins, Terry Hulsey, Kenny Justice, Frederick Miller, Mike Moore, Jerry McCaslin, John Pool, Jerry Ross, Eugene Sparks and Robert Thompson. YANKEES: Jimmy Allison, Danny Baize, S. D. Baize, Wynn Buck, Gene Duvall, Johnny Dowd, Joe Don Edelman, Bill Jack Gilliland, Steve Hodges, Danny Lester, Charles Moreno, Terry Hill and Robbie Lemon. CARDINALS: Lewis Barnett. (Continued on page 2)

Top Ratings For Band In Contest

The 101-piece Hereford High School band received excellent and superior ratings at the four-day Tri-State Festival at Enid, Okla. Under high school band director Charles Bell, the Big Domino band scored superior in parade marching and received excellent ratings in concert, sight reading, stage band and marching.

The local band competed with high school bands from Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Louisiana and Arkansas. They left Hereford Wednesday morning and was scheduled to return Sunday. The band also competed in ensemble contests, but complete results were not available at press time. Bell said groups scored excellent or better, however.

New Secretary Starts At C-C

Beginning secretarial duties in the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce manager's office Friday was Miss Lynn Grinnell, 19, 205 Western Ave. Miss Grinnell replaces Mary Bourn, who tendered her resignation recently for reasons of health. The new secretary has lived in Hereford since the first of the year. She attended Lamar Technical College in Beaumont prior to coming here. In Beaumont, she was secretary in an attorney's office.

Deadline On Surplus Wheat Acreage Just One Week Off

Deaf Smith County Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation office manager Faust Collier reminded farmers this week that they have only one week to dispose of wheat acreage in excess of the 1959 allotment. May 10 is final date.

However, he added, if after that date there is still excess acreage and the operator wants to get within his allotment, he will be allowed seven days after receiving his final excess notice to dispose of the extra acreage and have it checked by a field representative.

On the other hand, under a new law effective this year, the farmer who produces excess acres, which is the acreage held out of wheat under the allotment program.

Set Lord's Acre Plan Dedication

Dedication for The Lord's Acre project for 1959 will begin with morning services at the First Methodist Church in Hereford Sunday. The services will kick off the congregation's pledge drive for the second annual year of the project. The drive will continue until sometime in the fall, and pledges will be used toward the construction of new church educational buildings at the corner of Fifth and Main.

More than $6,000 was received during the initial year of the project from some 100 members of the congregation. Goal toward building construction is $150,000, and The Lord's Acre program, sponsored by Methodist Men, is being held to supplement donations toward construction, according to the Rev. Alby Cockrell, pastor.

Church members participated in the drive last year by pledging acres of crops, their time toward church projects and various other forms of fund-raising campaigns.

Services Friday For Dr. Kester

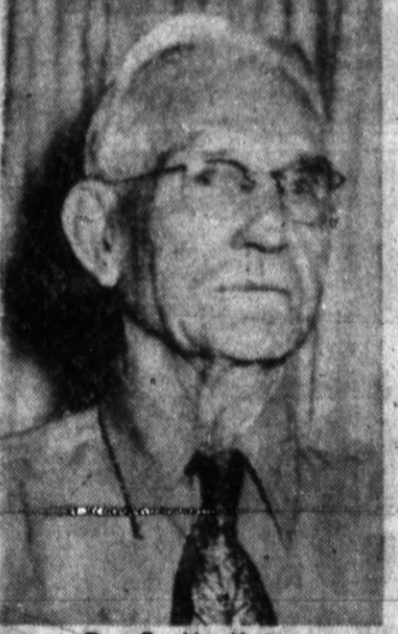

Funeral services for Dr. F. M. Kester, 83, were conducted Friday in the First Christian Church of Hereford with the Rev. Gilbert Davis Jr., pastor, officiating. He was assisted by the Rev. Howard Scott, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Burial was in West Park Cemetery where Masonic rites were held at the graveside. Services were under direction of Gilliland Funeral Home.

Officials Named For Pony League

During an organization meeting Thursday night, Henry Aycock was named president of the Hereford Pony League Baseball Association. Other officials of the group include: Don Martin, players' agent; Dean Herring and Bartley Dowell, official scorekeepers; Shug Lee and Charles Howell, grounds committee; Bill Dameron, chief umpire; Jimmie Allred, equipment; and Wayne Williams, secretary-treasurer.

Hereford schools will pass out applications May 4-7 for boys 13 and 14 who want to try-out for the four teams. Try-outs will be held May 11-15 at the Pony League Field, beginning at 6 p.m. each day. Player auction will be held on May 18 at 8 p.m., with the first game set for June 1. There will be four teams, with 15 players each. They are the Indians, Red Sox, Tigers and White Sox. Aycock said one of the teams did not have a coach and that any man interested should contact him immediately. (Continued on page 2)

Lobos Level Herd; Demons Next Foe

Levelland took a commanding grip on first place in the District 1-AAA baseball race with an easy 17-4 victory over the Hereford Whitefaces Friday there.

The win gave the Lobos a 2-0 record, while Dumas is 1-1 and Hereford is 0-2. The Herd will play at Dumas Tuesday at 4 p.m. and will wind up the season by hosting Levelland on Tuesday, May 13. Jimmy Harris tossed a neat six-hitter to earn the victory as he struck out eight and walked five.

Jimmy Collier started on the hill for Hereford and was tagged with the loss. He walked four, gave up one hit, allowed seven runs, and got none out in pitching to the first seven men. Wakey Northcutt relieved and went the rest of the way, striking out two, walking three and allowing seven runs.

Levelland got seven runs in the first inning on four walks, a double, two errors and a fielder's choice. They added one more in the third with three straight singles. They got three runs in the fourth on two singles. (Continued on Page 2) appeared in evening dress and bathing suits.

 During the morning session, members of the West Texas Rural Telephone Cooperative were told that 1,158 telephones were connected during the year 1958, and that some 76,097 toll calls were made during the same period.
 New directors for the telephone co-op were elected during the business meeting. C. E. Danron was named from Frio and Carroll Jones from Oklahoma Lane.
 The Deaf Smith County Rural Electric Cooperative members met during the afternoon.
 Merrill Riggen, field representative for the REA from Lubbock, outlined a five-point program which has received general approval for the area-wide co-op.
 The objectives were drawn up by the board of directors and are now being made realities.
 First point is a program to repay long-term debts on or before they are due. Second is to establish a two per cent fund for normal capital investments in additions, expansion and replacements.
 Third is to provide adequate cash reserves for expansion, or for replacement following a disaster. This fund would Ronnie Botkin finally broke the ice for Hereford in the fifth with a triple, scoring on an error. His hit was the second for Hereford.

Six more runs were added by the Lobos in the fifth. Kruljack homered with the bases loaded after a pair of singles, an error and a walk. Eddie Anderson followed up with another homer.

 receive history credit only for the allotment. In the past, the overproducer received his total wheat acreage as history.
 The farmer who produces excess wheat in 1959 may deliver the excess to the Secretary of Agriculture or store it, either on the farm under bond or in a commercial warehouse. In that way, he avoids marketing quota penalties.

The farmer who gets history credit for his allotment plus diverted acres just as though he had complied with his allotment, Collier said. However, the credit for diverted acres is lost in case the stored wheat is sold or used and the producer becomes liable for marketing quota penalties.

The committee pointed out that there is another type of situation in which the producer exceeds his wheat allotment but produces no marketing excess. That situation may occur on farms where the total wheat acreage is 15 acres or less; the normal production of wheat acreage is under 200 bushels; the 1959 yield is so low that no excess is produced; or the farm has been approved for the production of up to 30 acres of wheat for use on the farm under the feed wheat program.

In those circumstances, Collier said, the farmer gets credit only for the allotment, not for diverted acres.

Lose $4 During Two Burglaries

Hereford police Thursday investigated burglaries at Vaught Laundry, 115 Lawton St., and Warren Motor Co., 1119 E. First. Three juvenile boys, ages 10, 11 and 15, were arrested in connection with the laundry burglary Friday and released to the custody of their parents Saturday morning, pending hearings in juvenile court.

Prowlers gained entry to the laundry through a hole which was cut in a screen door at the rear of the building and took $2 in change from the cash register and $2 worth of candy.

Entry to the motor company was gained through a broken window on the west side of the building, but nothing was reported missing by John Warren, owner.

Investigating officers said both burglaries occurred sometime Wednesday night or Thursday morning. No vandalism damage was reported.

Calliopian Club Closes Year At Imaginary Cruise Dinner Party

A cleverly arranged imaginary cruise on the Good Ship Calliopian provided the setting for the Calliopian Club's close of the season dinner party Thursday evening.

The spacious new home of Dr. and Mrs. Roy Grubbs was the scene of the party, with the decor carrying out the motif of a huge ship. Invitations were in the form of passports and visas to foreign countries.

The buffet table from which the dinner was served was centered with an arrangement of tall spears of white iris backing a miniature ship. The Calliopian sailing on a blue satin sea, and small tables were centered with dolls, figurines and flowers suggestive of countries included in the cruise.

New officers were installed following the dinner by the outgoing president, Mrs. W. J. Mes-

Music Program At Lions Meet

A musical program highlighted the noon meeting of Hereford Lions Club Wednesday.

Mrs. Cecil Parker, vocalist, accompanied by Mrs. George McLean at the piano, presented an array of songs from the United States and from various foreign countries.

Lion Raymond White was program chairman for the month. New district governor, Don Zimmerman of Hereford, was recognized at the meeting, as was the Lion Sweetheart Bette Jean Noland, who entered the district queen contest at the recent district convention in Plainview. They both thanked the Hereford club for their sponsorship during the convention.

A group of Hereford Lions will attend the International Convention of Lions Clubs in New York early in June. Planning to attend the meeting are Labry Ballard, Buddie Evans, Cleo Meharg and Zimmerman.

The Lions Club now owns a new building located southeast of the county Bull Barn, in which the club will store carnival stands and equipment.

The To-Wan-Ka Camp Fire girls met Thursday in the home of their leader, Mrs. Norma Coffey.

Each girl brought a sack lunch and the group hiked to Veterans' Park for a picnic supper and to observe nature's work. They hiked back to the original starting point.

The group had 100 per cent attendance for members and leaders, and 11 fathers present the Father - Daughter banquet Tuesday evening.

Those going on the hike were Lois Bosley, Carole Coffey, Helen Cunningham, Becky Johnson, Diane Kroll, Ann Mercer, Sylvia Phipps, Deborah Pierce, Patty Roach, Cindy Sanders, Janice Smith, Melanie Warren, Barbara Willis and the leader and her family.

Chas. Sowell and Wood Vaughn drove out to Buffalo Lake Wednesday to view the fish poisoning operations. They estimated something like 10,000 people must have visited the lake shores during the day and, as everyone knows, the fish didn't come up according to schedule. Wood and Charley saw an old negro man sitting away from the crowd with an empty sack, and inquired as to what the matter could be.

"Well, suh," replied the old darky, "I done been out beah with my sack since 6 o'clock this mornin'. 'Bout all I can figger is them folks done made a bust."

The REA barbecue Thursday seemed to be just the opposite. They fed around 1,200 guests and the food was delicious. Even the Rotarians, who did the cooking will admit it. I understand that Bill Messick flat stayed up all night cooking the beans. Melvin Young joined him around 3:30 a.m., and bragged all day Thursday about getting to work before Gaston Baer.

tax office to get people to sign homestead exemption certificates, and have even extended the time to May 18. They say this will save money on taxes for nearly everyone in Deaf Smith County. It has to be done each year, too, according to the officials. In addition, it designates the homestead to avoid possible complications.

A bunch of Lions attending the district convention in Plainview this week ran into Marshall Formby, who reports that his campaign for Governor of Texas is coming along "better than I had hoped." Says he is finding much encouragement in the Valley country. He also offered to hire Manager Ray Cowser, after he heard about Cowser's successful campaign in electing Don Zimmerman to the Lion District Governor post.

TWO JOKES
A Sunday School teacher was showing her class a picture of the Christian martyrs in a den of lions. One little girl looked very sad as she viewed the scene, then finally murmured: "Gee, look at that poor lion way in the back. He ain't going to get any."

Another little chap was attending church for the first time. The choir marched out, all in white surplices, and he said, just loud enough for all around to hear:

"Look, Daddy, they're all going to get their hair cut."

Of considerable historic interest is the fact that the Hereford Whiteface football team this fall will open their Golden Anniversary season. Hereford is reported to have fielded its first football team in 1909 and, so far as I can find out, Mike Baird is the only fellow still around who played on the first squad. Fred Baird played later, but missed the first year because he got tangled up the previous summer with a bronc and a barb wire fence. Funny thing, too, because Fred couldn't play; they made him treasurer — a position which he now holds — 50 years later.

Ab Cartier of Canadian was another member of the first team, along with Dr. Wayne Estes of Ohio and Louis McBride of Dallas. John Patton and Claude Ricketts were on the second team in 1910, as was Fred.

And when the school gets around to celebrating the occasion this fall, they might also want to mention the fact that the 1910 Whiteface Squad played the West Texas Buffaloes on Thanksgiving Day. Hereford won by three points — and this was the first team the Buffs ever fielded.

Mike Baird, who played center on the first team, says that the game differed sharply from today. One big difference was that the final whistle was a signal for the players to start digging out grass burrs and gravel, which always penetrated their skin during the game. The first Whiteface field, incidentally, was in approximately the same location on which it stands today.

The gadget Earl Phillips sent down has created a lot of interest. Grant Fuller thought it part of a wire stretcher; Urlin Streu said it was a gate fastener and Coy Phillips figured it as the hook on a toggle chain. Finally, I called Earl for the straight dope — and he really floored me.

"It is the forerunner of the barb wire staple," declared Earl. "Back before 1900, they were used extensively. I have personally seen a lot of them in posts around here."

When Earl said anyone who could remember the gadget was too old for the draft, he must have been thinking about the Spanish-American war. Another thing, the cast iron staples would run 25 cents each today, despite our streamline production methods.

Soil Stewardship Week Scheduled

The National Association of Soil Conservation Districts has proclaimed the week of May 3-10 as Soil Stewardship Week. This week should serve to remind us of man's responsibility to God for taking care of His soil which was created for all mankind — not for one generation to destroy and deplete for his own personal gain. Don F. Newman of the local Soil Conservation Service said.

In order to bring this before the public, the board of supervisors of the local Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District has ordered material from the national association for ministers of churches in the District. This material will be placed in the hands of a number of ministers who plan to use Soil Stewardship as their sermon topic on either May 3 or 10.

In addition to material to be furnished to ministers, display posters have been placed in show windows and places of business in Hereford, reports Luther Lesly, chairman of the local board of supervisors. Two thousand church bulletins were also ordered and will be used on one of the Sundays mentioned.

May we recommend The Wet Acid Process as the process to be used in chemically delinting your grain seed? — Here's Why —

1. Seed stays in contact with the acid for a period of 30 seconds or less.
2. Water is used as a neutralizer.
3. Does not eat the bags.
4. Wet and green seed can be safely delinted.
5. Seed can be safely stored and used for a period of several years.
6. Does a more thorough job on angular leaf spot and other seed borne diseases.

'Out Of The Great Melting Pot'

Costume Musical Presented By Music Study Club At Guest Day Tea ... See Story Inside

ORIENTAL—As America expanded across the high mountains and the wild, dreary desert, others came from across the Pacific to add their kind of life and music to the great Melting Pot. These people were different with their ivory skins and their slanting back eyes, but they brought their love of growing things and helped to make our desert country blossom and flourish. Mrs. Joe Hacker (standing left), Mrs. James Alston and Mrs. B. Y. Crosthwait take the part of Geisha Girls to sing "Three Little Maids From School" (Gilbert and Sullivan), with Mrs. A. J. Schroeter at the piano. Mrs. Joe Hacker played "Orientale" by Cui. To conclude the afternoon's program, a medley of "Victor Herbert Favorites" was played in duet, by Mesdames Howard Scott and J. C. McCracken, followed by the grand finale "This is My Country," (Ray-Jacobs) sung by the entire club.

COLONIAL DAMES—The Colonial Dames being served by a Negro slave are Mesdames Ellis Coombes (left), W. J. Stanford, J. R. Allison, Cecil Parker (the slave), T. W. Roberson, J. C. McCracken, A. J. Schroeter, Cliff Estes, W. E. Dameron, Ray Coneway (pouring) and A. O. Thompson (seated). Their program told the story of a new kind of life in America with the landing of the Pilgrims. The dainty grace and old world culture of the Colonial Dames was brought into sharper focus by the intermingling of the mournful longings and religious fervor of the Negro slave. After serving tea, the Negro slave sang "My Lord, What a Mornin'" (Spiritual) by Burleigh, with accompaniment by Mrs. McLean. "Old Time Favorites" (Pike), were sung by Mesdames Parker, Stanford, Coneway, Allison, Schroeter, Roberson, Estes, Thompson and W. E. Dameron. Mrs. Ellis Coombes was the accompanist and completed the scene with a piano solo "Minuet A L'Antique." (Paderewski).

STAFF PHOTOS

INDIAN VILLAGE SCENE—The first ingredient in the Great Melting Pot was the haunting music of the Red Man, the American Indian. He brought the somber glory of the great forests, the clean spicy fragrance of the majestic pines and the mystic beauty of a winter moon on snow capped mountains. Seated around the camp fire are Mesdames H. K. Fox, left, Howard Scott, Carl Mountz, Paul Lyons and B. Y. Crosthwait and Mrs. Dick Godwin, standing. A duet "By the Waters of Minnetonka" (Lieurance), was sung by Mrs. Godwin and Mrs. Scott, and the group sang "Pale Moon" (Logan) to open the program. Mrs. Bill Stanford was the accompanist.

LATIN AMERICAN SCENE—The mixture in the melting pot needed the laughter and warmth of the Latin countries. They brought their colorful garments and nimble feet, and best of all, their love of great music. Lovely ladies from Spain presented a gay program of the old country. Seated (left) are Mrs. George McLean and Mrs. Wayne Thomas with Mrs. Dick Godwin (left), Mrs. T. W. Roberson and Mrs. James Alston standing. The program included "Incidental Guitar Music" by Mrs. Roberson, a piano solo "La Comparsa" (Lecuona), played by Mrs. Thomas, a vocal solo, and "Habenera from Carmen" (Bizet), sung by Mrs. Godwin, with accompaniment by Mrs. McLean. "Spanish Dance" (Moskowski) was played by Mrs. McLean and "Cello Lindo" and Chiapanecas, Mexican Folk Songs, were sung by Mesdames Godwin, McLean and Alston, with Mrs. Thomas accompanying at the piano.

LaFollette Is WT Cager Head

CANYON (Special) — Mez LaFollette, a former basketball and football star at West Texas State and builder of outstanding basketball teams at Seminole High School, will take over as new head cage coach of the Buffs June 1.

LaFollette fills a vacancy left by the resignation of Borden Price at the close of the 1958-59 season.

Joining LaFollette as freshman basketball coach will be James Scott, another ex-cage star of the Buffs. Scott, who still holds the NCAA all-time free throw record for one season, was "most valuable player" in the Border Conference in 1954-55 while leading the Herd to a co-championship.

The 6-4, 220 pound LaFollette has one of the outstanding high school coaching records in the nation. In the past five seasons at Seminole, he compiled a record of 130 wins and 27 defeats. He won the state class "AA" championship in 1955 and went to the State Finals three of the other four years.

During his nine-year tenure at Seminole, his basketball record is 169 wins and 69 losses.

LaFollette, 36, played end in football and guard on the court for the Buffs, getting his degree in the spring of 1948. He relinquished his senior year of athletic eligibility to sign a baseball contract with the New York Yankees and played pro ball in 1947 and 1949. A pitcher, he performed one season with the Amarillo Gold Sox in the West Texas - New Mexico League and had a 14-10 record.

GREENE COMEDY PLANNED

NEW YORK (AP) — A comedy based upon the reminiscences of French novelist Colette has been put on the Broadway agenda of producers Cheryl Crawford and Joel Schenker. "House," the play is the work of Entitled "My Mother's Bertram Greene, whose main writing activities have been in television and radio. Miss Crawford and Schenker this season have exhibited "Shadow of a Gunman" and "The Rivalry," both to critical applause.

Have you read the Classifieds?

He was a small, slight figure with a black beard. A lot of people had never heard of his little country, and no one in the Western World knew much about Haile Selassie, Emperor of Ethiopia. But the world heard his impassioned plea for justice, and remembered.

Mussolini and his black-shirted Fascists had invaded Ethiopia, a country helpless against the mechanized armies thrown against it, yet determined to fight, even with spears, as long as it could. And Haile Selassie came before the world tribunal, the League of Nations, to accuse Italy of the crime of aggression. He said: "I am here today to claim the justice due to my people. . . . He did not find it then. . . . but the time would come when the invading Fascists would pay for the crimes committed against Ethiopia. . . . Remember the time of that gallant, hopeless struggle. . . . and the bearded man who led it?"

Remember the year? That was a time when the average man sometimes had to struggle to make ends meet here in America. . . . and if you bought a car, new or used, you made sure you got the lowest price and the best terms.

The year was 1936. Whether you're in the market for a clean used car or a brand new 1959 FORD, you'll find real savings at CHARLIE SEEDS MOTOR CO. For tops in trade. . . . and the lowest terms. . . . you can't beat the deals being made now at CHARLIE SEEDS MOTOR CO., INC. 146 E. Second, Phone EM 4-2727.

Review Of Fifty Fabulous Years Featured By Pioneer Study Club

Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr. reviewed Fifty Fabulous Years, by H. V. Kaitenborn, at the April luncheon meeting held by the Pioneer Study Club Tuesday in the home of Mrs. M. L. Simpson Sr. Mesdames Robert E. Thompson, Henry Hastings and E. S. Ireland were co-hostesses.

"Fifty Fabulous Years covers the period of time between 1900 and 1950 and comprises a personal history, American history and world history," Mrs. Hill said. "Kaitenborn has covered every major news event in his inimitable way, has visited Russia twice, interviewed Hitler and Mussolini, and known at first hand the famous and infamous who have shaped our times. The book gives us a valuable insight into the real happenings of the past half-century."

Shower Favors Recent Bride

Mrs. Don R. Thompson, the former Miss Marilyn Martin, was given a post nuptial shower courtesy recently in the home of Mrs. Guy Hudson. Sheila Owens and Joan Morton presided at the guest book of names.

The honoree and her mother, Mrs. Myrtle Martin and Mrs. Jim Thompson, the bridegroom's mother, made up the receiving line. Guests were served from a table laid with a lace cloth over pink and decorated with pink tapers and pink carnations. Mrs. Peggy Encinas and Jean Morton served.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. James Thompson and Montie of Yorktown, Va., Mrs. Don Hatter, Rickie and Ronnie of Ropesville, Mrs. Leroy Thompson of Henrietta.

The recently wedded couple are now making their home on the Bridwell ranch near Henrietta.

Mrs. Morris Hacker provided traditional wedding music. Elizabeth Ramirez was maid of honor and Gertrude Olguin served as bridesmaid. Flower girl was Kay Macias.

The attendants wore orchid net and taffeta dresses made with fitted waists and full skirts and carried bouquets of white carnations.

Alex Macias served as best man, and groomsman was Louise Ramirez. Steve Macias carried the rings.

The bride wore a traditional white wedding dress of lace and net fashioned with fitted bodice, Sabrina neckline and long petal point sleeves. The long full skirt featured a short peplum in the back. Her waist length veil of net was held by a pearlized tiara, and she carried an arm bouquet of white gladioli.

Following the wedding, a reception honored the couple at Avenue H. and 14th St., after which the couple left for a wedding trip to Texas points, New Mexico and parts of Old Mexico.

They will make their home in Spearman, where he is employed with Macias Construction Company.

Out-of-town guests were from Perryton, Spearman, Hale Center, Amarillo, and Oxnard, Calif.

CLUB ORGANIZED IN 1912

Local Music Study Club Gives Costume Musicale

The Hereford Music Study Club was an outgrowth of a quartet organized in 1912 to fill a need for both public and private entertainment.

One of their first public appearances was at a Mothers Day program. Singers were Mrs. Carl Moutz, Mrs. Ezra Norton, the late Mrs. G. A. F. Parker and Mrs. H. H. Hawkins.

Early in 1915, 12 other names were added to form a chorus class, with Emil F. Meyers of Amarillo as director, and one year later the group was organized into the Hereford Music Study Club. Charter members were Mesdames G. A. F. Parker, who became its first president, H. L. Broadwell, W. A. Price, C. H. Dyer, H. H. Hawkins, H. K. Fox, Ray Barber, George Barber, C. C. Ferguson, A. O. Thompson, Roy Stocking, Ezra Norton, D. F. Ashbrook, E. V. Allen, Carl Moutz, Homer Wilkinson, H. A. Tandy, Oscar Cardwell, A. L. Gibson, Arch Collins, Glenn Snyder, and Misses Annie Price, Mabel Betts, Jane Gregg, Louise Oberthier, Mary Dunlap, Ina Oberg and Millicent Lahm.

There were no year books until 1917-18. Stated programs were printed in the Hereford Brand in advance of each meeting. Purpose of the club is the same today as then: "To raise the standard of music in Hereford, to assist young artists, to encourage the study of music by the youth of the community, and to promote good music in the churches and schools of the community."

Since that time the club has continuously led the way toward better music in the home and in the development in music interests of the community. In 1916 the club was federated with the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, and in 1920 was federated with the Texas Federation of Music Clubs. Since 1927, members have sponsored and assisted in National Music Week celebrations.

In 1929 the Junior Music Club was organized, with Mrs. H. L. Broadwell as counselor. The past-president's club was organized in 1944 in the home of Mrs. H. K. Fox.

In 1956 a room was made available at the Deaf Smith County Library, where all the music which the club has acquired and used since its beginning, is stored; here can be found study club courses, text books, reference books, musical history books and a large library of the late Mrs. G. A. F. Parker's personal music.

Her personal file cabinet is also included. This is a valuable addition to the library and stands as an open record of the outstanding work of the club as well as its direct influence on the culture and art of the community.

Through the years the club has wholeheartedly responded to the many calls for musical programs and has stood ready at all times to lend time and talent in cooperation with any civic need. Members have presented various types of annual programs, including sacred concerts at Easter and Christmas time, open to the general public. Music teacher members will present recitals in observance of National Music Week again this year.

GUEST DAY TEA

Highlight of the 1958-59 activities was a guest-day tea given at the home of Mrs. J. R. Allison in observance of National Music Week. The program was in the form of a costume-musical, "Out of the Melting Pot" (arranged by Mrs. H. G. Morning of Amarillo), under the direction of Mrs. J. C. McCracken. Mrs. H. K. Fox served as stage manager and Mrs. Bill Stanford was accompanist. Miss Frances Dameron was narrator.

In four different scenes, beginning with the Indian, a kaleidoscopic picture of the music of America made up of longing, mysticism, beauty, laughter and tears as contributed by those of other lands who have sought America's way of life, was presented. Members of the club dressed in colorful costumes, appropriate to the scene depicted, told the musical story of the Great Melting Pot of talents, art, race and religions which is America, with all performers singing "This is My Country" in conclusion.

The tea table was done with an underlay of pink satin for the pink organza cloth, and an old-fashioned arrangement of lilies, tulips and flowering crab backing a colonial figurine, as the focal point of interest. Two lovely Japanese mandarins were at one end of the table while a beautiful Spanish dancing-lady and a gay cavalier with his guitar graced the other end of the table.

Three miniature scenes on the buffet attracted attention. An Indian village with chief, squaw and papoose, an oriental scene and figurines representing the colored people of the deep south. Mrs. W. J. Stanford, president, presided at the silver tea service.

Members of the Dawn Music Club were special guests. They included Mrs. Carl Wimberly, 7th District vice president, and Mesdames L. A. Smith, N. R. Miller, Charles Davenport, Herbert McCabe, Lloyd Airhart, Zed Stewart and Melvin May.

By "phantom dollars" we mean income which becomes outgo so quickly that you scarcely realize you ever had it.

Some dollars (those that must pay for food, rent, and so on) are unavoidably "phantoms"—but others need not be. And the more "phantom dollars" you can convert into savings dollars, the more important financial goals you can reach, in the long run.

Migratory Labor Camp Remains As No. 1 Challenge To Our Community

Almost every town offers a challenge. Sometimes we are able to push these challenges into the back of our minds and still pat ourselves on the back for a job well done but, without doubt, the situation often pops frequently to present the same old challenge anew.

In Hereford, that challenge is the migratory labor camp.

Last year the question arose following a grand jury complaint. Health conditions gained a passing mark to eliminate legal developments, but we wonder how many people honestly, deep down in their hearts feel that they have solved the problem in the most satisfactory manner?

We need the labor camp, and we owe those who have been operating the present camp and nursing it along a debt of gratitude, instead of a kick in the teeth. Without the camp, things would be deplorable indeed.

On the other hand, how much better could the camp be improved if our population pitched in and did their best to make it a better place to live? If the same people who send missionaries into foreign lands, spent half as much time and money in their own back door, it seems to us that the problem would at least be alleviated.

If the camp needs rebuilding, certainly we could rebuild it. No one, it seems, is ready to accept the blame or responsibility of the labor camp, and this is especially true concerning governmental subdivisions; it is also true concerning civic clubs, women's clubs and, strangely enough, our churches. It is much easier to shove the situation into the same closet with the family skeletons, and let things rock along.

Meanwhile, all of us who live in the community honestly do bear a mutual responsibility. This includes thousands of people—business men, clerks, mechanics, housewives, boys and girls—of whom enjoy higher incomes directly and indirectly as a result of seasonal, migratory

'Year Of Elms' With Us Again

The Chinese, as a nation, have the reputation of absorbing all conquerors and Chinese elms seem to possess the exact same characteristics.

Any naturalist, we feel sure, would feel a great surge of triumph if he could stand in the average yard (front or back) in Hereford, and view systematic spreading of the white, flat seeds which high winds have helped the trees distribute. Gutters along many streets are stacked two and three inches deep with the elusive seeds.

Old timers point out that these "Years of the Elms" come around twice in each decade, and woe unto the homesteader who fails to eliminate the trees while they are small. Scores of garage foundations and fences have been literally upset where the home owner is sluggish in eliminating the small trees.

Frankly, we wonder what would happen if these plants were left alone. Would they completely take over the town or, due to nature's lush overplanting, would they be eliminated in drought years? Since the Chinese elm is not a particular desirable variety to many people, it is our guess that we would become a dense forest.

Nature's struggle for perpetuation, based on survival of the fittest, was never more graphically illustrated than in Hereford this Spring. In many fashions, it actually does present a resume of plants and people. Man's superior intellect has brought him a long way and, for the same reason, the Chinese elm cannot possibly win the battle for supremacy.

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

FAITH AMERICANS LIVE BY-5

He has crawled through rubble below a leaning wall to speak words of comfort. He has entered blazing buildings to administer last rites. He has ordered other men off a roof before its collapse and carried an unconscious man to safety. He has broken the tragic news of death to firemen's survivors.

In trials such as these has the faith of the Rt. Rev. Msgr. William J. Gorman been tested since he became chaplain of Chicago's fire department in 1922. He volunteers his services, which are in addition to his regular parish duties. Receiving no pay for his work with the firemen he has, in the words of one official, "been a source of strength."

"The great courage of firemen humbles me," says the chaplain himself. "And what is humility but knowing yourself as you really are? What few things I've done were duty; the Lord put them in my way."

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Herefordites Especially Enjoy Spring Weather

- What do you like best about spring? A. E. BARNETT—Well, mostly I think I like the change of season that comes with it. MRS. W. A. DOBBSINS—I think spring is the most beautiful time of the year. I especially like the weather. MRS. GLENN WILLIAMS—Oh, the weather, definitely. I like to see the trees and lawns turning green. Then, too, people seem to take on a new personality with the coming of spring—they seem to get a spring lift out of the changing season. MRS. JIMMIE ALLRED—I guess it would be the blooming of the flowers, and the trees turning green, and I like the weather, too, naturally. Spring seems to give a person a freshness of life. MRS. JAMES G. GANDY—Well, I like the warm weather, the pretty flowers and the grass. I also like the chance to get out at all the outings we have in the summer. My husband likes to go fishing at this time of the year. DON MCNEESE—I'm always anxious for the chance to get out and do some fishing. And spring weather is always the best kind for that. MRS. JOE LOCKE—One thing I could take less of is that my husband is always off fishing when the weather turns good. But I think the thing I like best about spring is that the children can get outside and get plenty of fresh air and sunshine. And I've always thought spring was the prettiest time of the year. MRS. DONALD D. ZIMMERMAN—The thing that appeals to me about springtime is the green leaves and our first blossoms. After everything has been so drab all during the winter, the first green leaves and the first flowers are always a welcome sight to me. MRS. T. J. PARSONS—I like the flowers, the birds and the grass turning green. I guess I just like spring in general. OTIS VAUGHT—I guess what I like best about spring is that it's the laziest season of the year. Everybody seems to start slowing down and taking things easier. I guess that's because they have spring fever.

1950, a large part of the increase in the number of households, which amounts to 34 per cent, has been in single units, occupied for the most part by these senior citizens.

This developing pattern is brought out in data gathered by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, by the Department of Commerce and by other sources.

It has been made possible by provisions that were made over the years in the form of pension and retirement plans, in savings and in insurance protection. They have begun to pay out at an accelerated rate.

Benefiting chiefly from it are the elderly and the incapacitated, who would have had to rely on aid from relatives or from welfare agencies in former days. Instead, they are now becoming self-sustaining. Each year more and more of them are finding it possible to maintain their own households.

The current reports show that Deaf Smith County, which had a total of 2,618 households in 1950, is now a community of 3,500 households.

This increase, 34 per cent, compares favorably with the United States gain, "18 per cent and with that of the West South Central States, 16 per cent.

An unprecedented number of the local households, an estimated 437, are listed as single unit establishments.

This rise in the number of people living alone is a national development. A survey by the Bureau of the Census reveals that more than 6 million of the 50 million households in the United States today are one-person units.

They have more than doubled since 1940. Since 1950 alone the rise has been over 50 per cent. An index of this expansion is (Continued on Page 2) foreign countries "sweated it out" without the luxury as some of them, no doubt, still do in the summer periods.

From experience, we agree that nothing can be so troublesome as a temperamental air conditioner which has seen several years of active service. However, the very fact that you even possess such a device pretty well puts you in a social class far above the world's average man and, despite the immediate problems, it will unquestionably bring you many hours of comfort in the months to follow.

Like other improvements, the air conditioner brings with it considerable responsibility. Meanwhile, if we ever do get ours in shape, we will agree that it truly is worthwhile.

FARMERS FORM ORGANIZATION

About 150 farmers organized a "Lamb County Users Group" and plunked down almost $1,000 in cash and checks here Friday night as a starter in the fight against the U. S. Department of Labor's proposal to organize farm workers. The action, which came after three speakers berated the USDL proposal and warned of its far-reaching effects, was taken to provide funds to send Lamb County representatives to the nation's capital to help in the fight when needed. Lamb County farmers didn't get riled, as some others in the area have, but they did march to the front and put up dollars to fight unionization of farm labor. The speaker who warned against a "placid attitude" was Al Muldraw of Brownfield, a member of a 48-man advisory committee for the USDL, who said his committee has been at odds with the USDL continually in the past seven years. Muldraw said he had talked with farmers and businessmen proposal, saying that the USDL is "stepping far beyond" itself and usurping its power in making the proposal. —COUNTY WIDE NEWS (Littlefield)

COMPRESSOR STATION BEING BUILT

Construction was started last week on a 1,980 horsepower compressor station to be used by El Paso Natural Gas Company in "boosting" gas from its wells south and east of Shamrock. Site of the three-unit station is seven miles east and five miles south of Shamrock. Official location is section 94, block 12, Collingsworth County, on land purchased from Bob Burrell. Trend Construction Corporation, Oklahoma City, is contractor for the project, and is currently employing about 40 men. J. D. Williams, construction superintendent, said this week that during the peak of construction, 60 men would be employed. Williams said 15 families would move to Shamrock, within the next few days, and that he was finding it difficult to locate places for them to live. Construction of the compressor is expected to require about 100 days. The 36-foot by 88-foot building, which will house the three 660 horsepower Ingersoll-Rand compressor units, will be of Braden steel with transitite siding, said Tom Deck, warehouse superintendent in Shamrock. —SHAMROCK TEXAN

FOREIGN PLANTS PLANNED

Three large Moore County industries are indirectly involved in expansion of the carbon black industry abroad, though details of the overseas ventures remain incomplete at this time. Plans by Continental Carbon Company to construct a carbon black plant at Rotterdam in the Netherlands, to cost approximately $2,500,000, were announced Monday by Robert I. Wishnick, president. The new installation will have an estimated annual capacity of $15,000 tons of high-abrasive carbon black. Continental Carbon Company is owned by Continental Oil Company of Houston; the Shamrock Oil and Gas Corporation; and the Wilco Chemical Company of New York. It currently operates carbon black plants at Lake Charles, La.; Ponca City, Okla.; Eunice, N. M.; and southwest of Surrency in Moore County. Already under construction is a large installation in France, reported to be jointly owned by Continental Carbon Company and Phillips Petroleum Company. —MOORE COUNTY NEWS (Dumas)

The BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm is taking a non-progressive attitude toward science this week, but we doubt it'll have any effect on science.

Dear editor:

Sooner or later I knew it would happen. According to an article I read last night in a newspaper I picked up after it fell out of my neighbor's mail box after I filled it a little, the United States and Russia are now in a race to see which one can penetrate the earth's surface first.

As I understand it, the earth's surface or crust is about eighteen miles thick on the average, and what's underneath nobody knows for sure. However, there are spots in the ocean where the crust is only two or three miles thick, and since man can drill a hole four miles deep, scientists are now figuring on lowering their drilling instruments down to the bottom of the ocean floor near Puerto Rico and from there trying to penetrate the crust.

At the same time, Russia is in the same race, although nobody knows where she's trying.

Consequently, the way it looks to me from my vantage point out here on my bindweed farm, the world is now in a race to see how far out and how far down it can go at the same time.

This is known as going in all directions at the same time. I know the feeling, it's sort of like spinning your tractor wheels trying to go forward while slipping sideways down a hill. It's like gunning your motor while standing still in a traffic jam.

And you can't criticize the scientists. Everybody's doing it. It's the same thing as working fifty hours to buy a power lawnmower to save an hour's pushing with the old style model once a week. Although you can still turn a cow in and graze it off with no lawnmower at all.

As far as I'm concerned, it's perfectly all right for man to explore space in the morning and the inner core of the earth in the afternoon, with his nights free to figure up the tax bill for both ventures, but there's still plenty to interest me right here in eye-range of my front porch. For example, there's a newspaper out there on the ground now with a headline saying the cost of living index has gone up another notch. Mine hasn't. Ain't no notches left on mine.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

Tito, Gory Win Separate Events

Tito Carron and Gory Guerrero won separate matches over Daro McDonald and Bill Longson in a double main event card at the county Bull Barn Saturday night.

McDonald pinned Carron in 17 minutes to take the first fall with a rolling arm lock, but Carron gained steam to take the second and final falls.

Guerrero pinned Longson in six minutes after administering a series of drop kicks and a body press. Longson came back to take the second fall in 17 minutes with his "pile driver," but a disqualification gave Guerrero the third and deciding fall.

After that, he will be on his own to make calls as a company salesman in an assigned district. At the close of the summer, he will return to New York for more training and reports.

He will return to Austin in the fall for his junior year at the university, with the prospect of additional training next summer if he likes the work.

Bill was recently appointed public relations chairman for Pi Kappa Alpha, social fraternity at the university.

Smith College Girl Trying For Career As Folk Singer

By GERALD MILLER, WELLSVILLE, N. Y. — Molly Smith is a pert and pretty college girl who wants nothing more than to string 'em along with her guitar, of course. She hopes to make a career in show business with her musical strings and a flock of folk songs.

Molly has no illusions. She wistfully admits that a girl in gingham crooning "O Where has you been, Lord Randal, my son," has a tough time of it against a girl in practically nothing shaking to a cha-cha beat. "Folk songs require a kind of quiet attention you can't ask for in a commercial night club," she says.

At 21 Molly already has had a goodly taste of show biz. She has helped pay her own way through Smith College with performances on radio, TV, at clubs, coffee houses and convents. During vacations she traveled and sang on both coasts.

While the majority of the entertainment-minded public may not be ready yet to plunk down hard cash for her kind of soft art, Molly detects a growing interest in folk singing nonetheless.

On a recent visit to her home here she explained that she finds much encouragement in the coffee houses that have sprung up in cities and around colleges all over the country.

The atmosphere of candlelight and progressive art that typifies most coffee houses makes them mecca for students, beatniks, local intellectuals and assorted culture lovers.

Such a clientele, says Molly, provides a sympathetic and growing audience for off-beat jazz, poetry readings and serious folk singers.

STRINGING ALONG—Molly Smith strums her guitar and sings one of the folk songs she hopes will provide a career for her in show business. Singing engagements helped pay her way through college.

"People don't go to coffee houses just to drink," she says. "A coffee house provides a fine atmosphere for entertainment without the distraction of over-lit crowds."

Molly hopes to get enough bookings to keep traveling and singing after graduation because the prospect of a future as a conventional career girl or housewife holds no appeal for her.

"I don't rule out marriage," she says. "But I think I'd like to marry a folk singer. It would solve a lot of problems."

The 1960 Odd Fellow and Rebekah Association will be held in Hereford.

Army Wife Finds Arctic Duty Is So 'Different'

CHURCHILL, Man. (AP) — The colonel's lady clutched the teacup firmly in her hand.

"Here comes the thundering herd," she said.

Mrs. Max Cochran, wife of the commander of the U. S. Army's 1st Arctic Training Center, was describing the daily homeward trek from school at this base on the shore of Hudson Bay.

Mrs. Cochran, a native of San Jose, Calif., has lived in many military camps but none was quite like this sub-Arctic post 610 miles north of Winnipeg.

To protect the Canadian and American servicemen, their families and civilian employees from the full blast of winter, many of the buildings are connected by closed corridors.

The Cochranes share a four-apartment building with three other families.

In the winter, children dash from the school to the nearest corridor entrance. Then the "thundering herd" makes its way towards the far end where the Cochranes live.

The Cochranes have three children: Nicholas, 11; Shelley, 9; and Laurel, 7. They have three bedrooms, bath, living room, dining room and kitchen. All married quarters are the same size and have the same interior decoration with few exceptions.

Mrs. Cochran says the main center of chit-chat and neighborhood meetings is the commissary, which she must go outdoors to reach.

One of the main social activities is curling. She and her husband form what they laughingly call "The International Goodwill Rink" with Lt. Col. L. H. Young of the Canadian Army and his wife.

Mrs. Cochran says there is a great deal more social life at Churchill than there was in Falls Church, Va., where the family lived while her husband was stationed at the Pentagon in Washington.

The Cochranes had hurried last summer when they started climbing. All had to be added, in addition, to the food, the fuel, and other necessities.

On a typical "stand-up" visit, Mrs. Cochran had her home before she had made a visitor before she had home from school, calling down the hall.

While her husky sergeant was changing his hockey uniform — a new sport and a new garb for him — his 9-year-old sister, Shelley, freshments were served. Those present were John Gilmer, Joe, Leonard and Zigmas Friemel, David, John and Joy Pickens, Wynona Roberts, Joyce Bezer, Loujana Morris, three adult leaders and A. J. Bezner.

OFF THE Shelf

By H. A. TUCK
A delightful change-of-pace book is "The Secret Project of Sigurd O'Leary" by Martin Quigley. In the midst of a trend to larger and larger books, this one is just 182 pages of large type and lots of white space.

Quigley has written a book as light as the type, using a novel style to great effectiveness.

Sigurd O'Leary writes the book as one of his annual secret projects. Although he discusses his family life, he is really more concerned with telling of the life he and his brother, Mickey, lived after they became orphans.

Mickey ran away from his uncle, taking Sigurd with him. They leisurely journeyed across country, stopping frequently. At each oasis in the midwest, Sigurd was put in school, while Mickey provided support through the kills of his pool-ball pitching.

Eventually Mickey left his brother to finish school in Spokane, while he followed his fortune through a circus, more baseball, and a lot of gambling.

The brothers were reunited briefly and then Sigurd went on his own to the University of Minnesota, eventually getting ownership of a prosperous business and winning the hand of a campus beauty.

Mickey appeared infrequently during his constant wanderings, always affluent and well-dressed, but never ready to settle down.

This year, Sigurd's secret project is to get Mickey home for Christmas. It takes a lot of wrangling, and a couple of fast trips across country, but sure enough, the secret project blasts off on schedule, which is more than the military could say about their first rocket projects.

Quigley's book is great fun, although even the humor is more smiles — than laugh — provoking.

Handset Weekly Bans Editorials

BUCHANAN, Va. (AP) — "Oh, sure," says Jesse D. Buky. "I could write an editorial — if the occasion demanded."

Somehow, though, the occasion never seems to demand it. You'll find personals, features and local news in Buky's weekly Buchanan News — but no editorials.

The News is 124 years old. Buky is 80. Since 1928, he's been president, publisher, chairman of the board and about everything else for the lively little paper.

The newslit thing about the News is this age of modern technology is that its type still is set by hand. Buky, a former compositor, does some of the typesetting himself.

He also does a lot of the news writing and some of his items never get typewritten or even penned-in longhand before they appear in print. He strolls over to the familiar type case and composes them in type.

"I'm trying to run a nice paper, featuring local news," says Buky. "We have a good printing business on the side. We're doing well, but if we had more help we could do more."

Current "help" includes Mrs. Buky, the social editor; Buky's son, J. D. Jr., who assists in the shop; and Mrs. E. O. Ferguson of nearby Glasgow, who has worked for Buky for 29 years and who comes over each Tuesday and Thursday to set most of the type.

Buky says he intends to keep on doing things the way he learned how to do them 71 years ago, when he went into the newspaper trade as a printer's devil in Rockwood, Tenn. And, he adds, there'll still be no editorials in the officially independent Democratic paper "until the occasion demands." The occasion thus far hasn't arisen.

How Can I?

Q. How can I store a fur coat and avoid moths?

A. It is the better plan to have a reliable fur store clean and glaze the fur coat and store it for the summer in their vaults. However, if this isn't possible, shake the coat out thoroughly, and hang it out on a windy day for several hours. Then wrap it carefully in newspaper (moths hate the smell of printers' ink), and pack in an airtight clothes bag or cedar chest.

Q. What proportions of salt and pepper should be used in seasoning food?

A. It is a good idea to keep a large shaker containing six parts salt to one part pepper on the shelf of the kitchen range for use in seasoning foods.

PRACTICE BABY—Youngsters at an experimental free nursery in Paris brush up on baby care using a life-like doll. French feel boys and girls are never too young to learn the fundamentals of keeping house.

SMALL FRY COOKS—Miss Marcelle Moreau explains the intricacies of making potato pudding to the "kitchen class" at an experimental free nursery in Paris. The recipe, chalked on the blackboard, is taken from an adult cookbook.

Tiny Tots Learn Homemaking At French Nursery

By NADEANE WALKER
PARIS (AP)—The French believe you're never too young to learn to keep house.

In an experimental free nursery in a crowded Paris working quarter, boys and girls from 3 to 6 years old are learning the homemaker's arts in a well-rounded course of home economics.

"The kitchen class," as it is called, is only part of the pre-school program, but it is literally a child's dream come true.

In a yellow and white kitchen, fitted with two low gas stoves, a little washing machine, two sinks and child-sized tables and chairs, small fry of the quarter touch and operate everything to their hearts' content, with never a "no" from teacher.

They bathe, diaper, feed and fondle a remarkably life-like doll, just the size and weight of a real baby. And, even more realistically, children from 4 to 6 look after the toddlers of 2 and 3.

This part of the school is an experiment inaugurated a year ago by Miss Germaine Tortel, and carried out by the director, Inspector of Nursery Schools, Marcelle Moreau.

As Miss Moreau explains it: "We think it would be wonderful to have this course in every free public nursery school but the equipment is expensive, and the money is lacking."

The day I visited the school the children were making "potting de pommes de terre" (potato pudding) from an elaborate recipe written out on the blackboard, involving rumsoaked fruit, beating egg whites and careful weighing of sugar. Boys in blue-piped white smocks and girls with red piping were happily dividing the tasks.

Miss Moreau explained that about 20 of the school's 320 students take weekly turns in the kitchen class. On Monday they wash with the washing machine, Tuesday they iron and every day they cook a dish or two out of an adult cookbook.

Meanwhile, the other seven classes of the nursery, divided according to age, go on with painting, reading, writing and spelling.

The kitchen class also has the privilege of putting the smallest children to sleep in the early afternoon, sitting beside the cribs and singing until the tots doze off.

"The older children put them to sleep faster than we teachers can," Miss Moreau claims. "They learn gentleness, kindness and protectiveness towards the toddlers."
