City, School Enter Valuation Program

County Blasted On Tax Program

The following resolution was passed unanimously by the Hereford City Commission and by all of a quorum of the Hereford Rural High School District board of trustees during a meeting of the City Commission Monday night:

Whereas, recent studies clearly reflect that serious discrepancies in property valuations for tax purposes exist within the limits of Deaf Smith County, the Hereford Rural High School District, and the City of Hereford; and,

Whereas, such discrepancies and inequalities are illegal and impose an unconscionable burden upon certain taxpayers, and unfairly benefit others; and,

Whereas, a tax equalization program, involving an up-to-date appraisal of all properties would correct this situation, and such a program has been proposed to the Commissioners Court of Deaf Smith County, the Board of Trustees of the Hereford Rural High School District, and the City Commission of the City of Hereford, but all such proposals have been rejected by the Commissioners Court which has refused to participate in a joint equalization program with the School and City;

Now, therefore, we, the Board of Trustees of Hereford Rural High School District and the City Commission of the City of Hereford, having jointly agreed to participate together in a professional tax equalization program, and believing that no other type of program will be adequate under the circumstances, do hereby urge the County Commission to reconsider its decision to join in such program, and do respectfully urge and suggest to all taxpayers and citizens that they, in turn, urge and insist to the said County Commission and their respective Commissioners that they reconsider their decision, in order that County taxation can be made to conform to the requirements of the law.

Two of the three local taxing agencies Monday night voted to retain a professional outside property appraiser for an extensive valuation study.

Entering into a joint agreement were the Hereford City Commission and the board of the Hereford Rural High School District. They voted unanimously to hire the McMorries Company of Amarillo for $17,500 for the task.

The two groups, meeting in joint session during a City Commission meeting at City Hall, also passed a resolution condemning the Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court for failure to join in the valuation study and urging the public to express its wishes to the County Commission.

In an amiable session, the City offered to pay $3,500 as its part of the total appraisal cost. This was accepted as fair and equitable by the quorum of four school trustees who were on hand.

The joint agreement ended a long study of the advisability of having property studied with an eye to adjusting taxes. McMorries Company representatives emphasized at earlier meetings that they would make complete studies of all property within the city and school limits and from these, make recommendations to the agencies as to equitable taxes.

It is expected that the full study will take six months to complete. A meeting of city and school officials with McMorries Company representatives is to be held when contracts have been drawn up. City and school officials all favored McMorries Company. (Continued on page 2)

Special Meeting For Businesses Slated Thursday

Chairman Paul Harvey has called an important meeting of all Hereford retail and service establishments for 10 a. m. Thursday, Sept. 22.

The meeting will be held in the Jim Hill Hotel ballroom. One major topic on the agenda will be selection of a new chairman to serve during the next 12 months. Also up for discussion will be a meeting day and time.

A tentative program of work also will be discussed during the meeting and a report will be made on plans for the Fall Mall.

The meeting Thursday is an outgrowth of the merchants' committee meeting last Friday, when those attending questioned the group's purpose and time of meeting.

Hereford Man's Brother Missing In Plane Crash

The brother of a Hereford man this week was reported missing in the crash of a World Airways passenger plane which wrecked in the jungle of Mount Barrigada, Guam, early Monday morning.

Listed as missing after the crash was M. Sgt. Earl H. Drerup, brother of Cornelius Drerup of Hereford. The plane crash reportedly claimed a total of 77 lives.

Sgt. Drerup was one of six listed as missing Tuesday. He is the father of three children, and was stationed at Chaiyi Air Base, Formosa. He was believed to be en route home when the crash occurred, relatives of the man said. (Continued on page 2)

Hereford Youth Gets 45 Days On Theft Charge

A Hereford youth Tuesday morning in Deaf Smith County Court was sentenced to 45 days in County Jail and court costs after he entered a plea of guilty to charge of theft under $50.

The youth, Catarino Carsez Guerrero, 17, was arrested Friday last week in Lubbock. Making the arrest was Deputy Sheriff Bill McCarver of Hereford.

Gerrero was accused of the theft of two tires and wheels belonging to Plains Fertilizer Company in Hereford on Aug. 25. The tires and wheels have been recovered, Deputy McCarver said.

Presiding in court was County Judge H. E. Henslee.

City Takes In Housing Tract

City Commissioners approved annexation of a small tract in the northwest part of the city for housing development and heard reports on golf course finance during their meeting Monday night.

The 900 block of Blevins, just east of Alkman School, was approved for annexation into the city at the request of a housing developer, Tex-Sun Homes of Post made the request, saying it planned to build homes in the $9,000-$15,000 range and probably would develop more area if the proposed homes sell.

City manager, Dudley Bayne presented a financial report for the Pitman Municipal Golf Course. The report showed a loss of $1,000 for the past fiscal year, as compared with about $500 loss for the previous year. Commissioners felt this was reasonable and said that usually bad weather the past two winters probably was responsible for the loss.

D. C. McWhorter was appointed to Golf Course Committee, replacing Dr. John H. Channer, whose term has expired. Bayne also discussed the old pro shop, which will be vacated in about six weeks, replaced. (Continued on page 2)

FIRST BALE of cotton in 1960 was processed at Deaf Smith County Gin Monday afternoon. Grown on the Mike Elliott farm, a mile south of Hereford, the white-graded cotton had one-inch staple and produced a 470 - pound bale. Elliott, standing at right with his two children, Rebecca Lynn, 10, and Michael Dane, 7, tease the daughters of gin operator W. D. Revel, D'Aun, 5, and Resa, 3, seated on the bale. The cotton, picked from a three-acre portion of Elliott's field, was taken to the gin about 2 p.m. D'Aun and Resa model pretty dresses - cotton ones, of course. (Staff Photo)

Herd Enters Mule Pasture Friday Seeking Third Win

With two straight 28 - 0 victories on their side, the rugged Hereford Whitefaces venture against Muleshoe Friday night for their third game of the season. Muleshoe will host the potent Herd at 8 p. m.

This will be the first meeting of the two schools since Hereford bombed the Mules 45 - 0 in 1945. Muleshoe has a tie and a loss thus far in two outings. They won a moral victory as they opened up with a 20 - 20 tie against the Clovis Wildcats.

But Wildcats gave them fits the following week as Littlefield tossed aerials for a 28 - 0 win over the crippled Mules.

With an open date last week, the Mules are expected to be near full strength for their contest with Hereford.

Around Town

Action by school and city boards came during one of the most affable and relaxed sessions ever seen here as they decided to hire an Amarillo firm to appraise their taxable property and get ready for equalization. It was stark contrast to the belligerent attitude of the county, which said it could handle its own tax affairs. Whether it can remains to be seen.

If Hereford can muster any sort of pass defense, it should wind up Friday night at Muleshoe with its third scalp of the season. We'll get out on a limb, something we do with great frequency in other things, and predict a Hereford victory... by 30 or more points. Pigskin madness is beginning to sweep the town. As one lady was heard to say last Friday, "This is the first time I've been to a Hereford football game in about ten years."

Tuesday evening's fire was the result of conditions preached about by fire department constantly. A hot water heater closet also contained dry rags, oily rags, floor wax thinner, broom and other inflammable material. Quick action by Hereford policeman Bobby Roberts, who happened. EXPERIMENTAL PLOTS of hybrid grain sorghum and sugar beets were examined by more than 50 area residents who formed a car caravan for the Soil Conservation and Crops tour in Deaf Smith County Tuesday afternoon. At left, two tourists are shown inspecting one of 29 varieties of grain sorghum on the Buck Parsons farm. In the picture at right, an inspection of sugar beet plots on the Ed Reinauer farm is conducted. A total of seven stops were made on the five-hour tour. (Staff Photo)

Innovations In Agriculture, Conservation Seen On Tour

More than 50 area residents inspected new methods of soil and water conservation and viewed current agriculture and livestock experimental programs on a car caravan tour Tuesday afternoon in Deaf Smith County.

The tour, sponsored by the Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District and various agricultural agencies and business people of Hereford, included seven stops in east, north and west portions of the county.

The first stop was on the Ed Reinauer farm, eight miles northeast of the city, where experimental plots of sugar beets were shown. It was explained that more than 1,200 acres of sugar beets are grown in this county. The next stop was on the Buck Parsons farm near Dawn, where 29 hybrid grain sorghum plots were shown. Dr. Kenneth Porter of the Bushland Experiment Station, spoke briefly on that stop.

It was explained that the plots of sorghum had been pre-watered and had been watered four times during the growing period. (Continued on page 2)

Brand Football Contest Won By Jerry Murphy

That old bugaboo, Mr. Upset, played havoc with the Brand's football contest entrants during the first week.

Three persons bunched up with 15 correct choices from the 20 games listed. Jerry Murphy collected the $10 first prize this week by most nearly picking the score on the Hereford - Dimmitt game. Also picking 13 were George C. Loerwald and Paul Schroeter.

There were a number of entrants who picked 14 and 13 winners. A total of 95 persons entered the contest for the first week. (Continued on page 2)

Find Man Guilty Of Bootlegging

A jury of six found Andrew Cruz Luna, 33, of Hereford guilty to charge of possessing whiskey, beer and wine for the purpose of sale in a dry area in Deaf Smith County Court Monday afternoon.

Luna, who had entered a plea of not guilty to the charge, was sentenced to 90 days confinement in the County Jail and fined $100 after the jury returned the verdict. County Judge H. E. Henslee presided in court. (Continued on page 2)

$1500, 19 Tons Of Grain Go To CROP

About $1,500 and some 38,000 pounds of grain sorghum have been donated to Christian Rural Overseas Program by residents in this area. It has been announced by Hugh Clearman of Hereford, Deaf Smith County CROP chairman.

A meeting of the organization will be held Thursday beginning at 7 a. m. in the Jim Hill Hotel, Clearman said. The county non-denominational group met in the Western Wheel Inn Monday morning, when pledges of $275 and 38,000 pounds of maize were received. Prior to that time, $1,200 had been pledged to the program.

CROP is an organization set up to collect monetary and commodity donations to feed the hungry in other countries. At the present time, the county organization is focusing efforts on helping to feed 50,000 seriously undernourished school children in Hong Kong, China. The Rev. H. L. Thurston of Hereford, chairman of the state board of directors of CROP in Texas, in a meeting last week explained to the local group that rice constitutes the main food in the school children's diets, and that Hong Kong could use all the edible rice it could get. He suggested that the county organization obtain a carload of maize, which could later be converted to a carload of rice to be sent to Hong Kong.

Those attending the breakfast meeting Monday included Virgil Walker, Gerald McCaskill, Colby Conkright, Garland Solomon, J. V. Ferrin, Billy Gene Cotton, Bert Boomer, Curtis Roach, Frank Giles, Reggie Bramley, J. B. Noland, Clearman and the Rev. Thurston.

County Wins 18 Ribbons At Fair

The Deaf Smith County agriculture booth set up at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo yielded 18 ribbons for local residents this week. The individual entries will be on exhibit throughout the week.

Jim Shearhart, 14, is this county's 4-H representative for wheat king. His Tascosa variety of wheat Saturday placed in the 4-H Club for its good milling and baking quality. Qualifying samples were to have been milled Wednesday, and the king will be crowned Saturday. He placed second last year and third in 1958.

Other winners from this county included:

- Head grain hybrid seed: Carl Wimberley, fourth, and Ed Clark, second;
- Alfalfa: Dick Plank, second;
- Millet: Dick Plank, third;
- Ear Corn: Mark Tiefert, fourth with Indian corn, and Larry Hill, third with popcorn;
- Carrots: Phyllis Warrick, first, Jack Ward, second, and Helen Ward, third;
- Small tomatoes: Larry Hill, second;
- Potatoes: Helen Ward, third;
- Onions: Helen Ward, fourth;
- Winter squash, butternut variety: Jack Ward, third;
- Winter squash, other varieties: Sandra Huckabee, third, and Phyllis Warrick, fourth;
- Pumpkins: Lee Kimball, first, and Larry Hill, third;
- Cantaloupe: Sandra Huckabee, second;
- Mary Jo Williamson of Hereford swept awards in the senior division of the culinary department of the Tri-State Fair. She placed in the following divisions: loaf yeast bread, first; rolls, any shape, first; plain biscuits, second; chiffon cake, second; oatmeal cookies, first; drop cookies, first; sugar cookies, second; chocolate fudge, first; and peanut butter fudge, first.
- Edward Allison and Joe Shultz, both of Hereford, won ninth and tenth places in the Berkshire lightweight division of the Fair's swine show Monday.
- Other wheat qualifying for final judgments last Saturday included samples grown by Harold Shearhart, Tascosa, open division; Charles Vasek of Hereford, Early Triumph, Future Farmers of America division; and Pat Smith of Hereford, Early Triumph, F. F. A. division.

Dr. L. B. Barnett, vice president of the school board, outlined the problem of tax equalization when he commented before the vote. "The easy route would be for us just to raise tax rates and forget about equality. But with our development of the past 12 years (in the city and county) there must be inequities. All of us are convinced that these must be corrected by a study made by an experienced, competent outside agency."

Schools superintendent Paul Stevens further summarized the school's problem. "We'll have to raise our rates 20 cents (per $100 valuation) if we don't revalue."

ed by a new shop near the Hereford Country Club building. After considerable discussion, the commission agreed to take no action on disposition of the old building for the present.

Bayne also reported that the right-of-way agreement signed by the city with Santa Fe Railroad in conjunction with the widening of U. S. Highway 60 had not been signed or returned by the railroad.

The city is seeking to use some of the railroad's right-of-way for drainage when the highway is widened. Bayne said he would contact the railroad again and see if the agreement was going to be approved.

Commissioners expressed concern over the situation, since they want to get everything ready, so the contract for widening and repaving can be let this fall.

The Mules couldn't move against the tough Littlefield Wildcass, as quarterback De Pierce tosses three touchdown passes. Halfback Jerry Koller nabbed one of them, scored on a 16-yard jaunt and kicked four extra points.

In the Clovis game, the Wildcats scored early in the second quarter, taking advantage of fumbles. Muleshoe scored on the second play of the second half, as Walker intercepted a pass for 49 yards.

Clovis scored in the third after grabbing another Mule fumble. Reaching by eight points late in the game, Muleshoe grabbed a fumble, scored and Gilbreath tied it up with a two-point run.

The Mule forward wall got tough in the final moments, holding Clovis on the Muleshoe 10-yard line as the game ended. Hereford coach Bobby Williams worked his charges hard this week in preparation for their third game. Fullback Eddie Skypala will be out for about four weeks with a broken collarbone.

Replacing him as a starter will be senior Curtis Ritchie, shifted from reserve halfback. Reserve fullbacks Fred Martin and Clyde Whitaker also are expected to see heavy action.

Lee Kimball, senior end who received a broken tooth and facial cuts in the Dimmitt game, probably will see limited action. Most of his playing probably will be defense.

All the rest of the squad is in good shape, Williams reported. He is expected to use junior quarterback Walker Parris more this week. Bench until the final quarter of the second game with loose teeth, Parris is now in top shape to relieve senior signal caller Jim Collier.

At the Carl Wimberley farm, after refreshments were served to the tourists, a bench leveling program was explained by Don Newman of the Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District.

Newman said the program was set up by Wimberley to conserve soil and water. Borders, or "dikes," he said, stop tail water and make good use of rainfall. The borders are mounds of dirt built on sloping land to retain excess rainfall and to prevent erosion.

Between the circular borders, he explained, the land is level, preventing runoff of water.

The next stop was on the Harvey Brock farm, where use of lake water and recovery were explained. A pump was set up near the edge of the lake, and water is pumped from the lake through 3,800 feet of eight-inch pipe on a 30-foot rise.

Brook said water from the lake has been pumped since July 10, and that fuel for the pump has cost him only $100. The pipe is capable of carrying from 1,200 to 1,500 gallons of water per minute from the lake.

The lake water, Brock explained, has been used for three irrigations on 150 acres of land planted in grain sorghum and lettuce. Cost of setting up the system was about $4,000, he added.

It was pointed out that marine life and silt in lake water are helpful in producing a good crop.

Irrigated native grasses were shown at the Ted Hardwick farm, also near Dawn. Grasses shown included Tucson and Coronado sideoats grama, improved strains of native grass in this county.

George Warner of Hereford explained that the grasses were started on the farm in 1957, and that seed crops were grown until this year. The grasses are being used for grazing and hay this year. Planted on steep ground, the grasses help prevent erosion, he said.

The irrigated grasses are planted in 38-inch rows.

The sixth stop was made on the Charles Hoover farm, north of Hereford. Midland bermuda grass grazed by livestock was shown. Newman explained that the grass was sprigged in late May this year.

The final stop was on the Dr. L. B. Barnett farm west of the city, where a pilot feed lot has been in operation under direction of Dr. Barnett and Don Guseman.

On the lots, specification beef is produced for American Stores, Inc. The cattle were bought locally and were fed from feed stuffs produced in this county.

The cattle, predominantly Herefords, have been fed to choice grade. Feed rations are mixed in an automatic, push-button feed mill.

owned and operated by Henry A. Turner since 1953, has been incorporated and expanded in order to keep pace with the rapidly growing demand for Deaf Smith County Wheat and other grains, and to promote our county more effectively.

In addition to a nation-wide market in the health food industry, and an increasing bakery business it is our hope to develop a large volume of sales in the groceries of the Southwest.

The item with the best chance of accomplishing this is the cracked wheat cereal, currently doing well in Panhandle Associated Grocery Stores, including Cooper's, Piggly-Wiggly, and Taylor's here in Hereford.

THE CONTEST

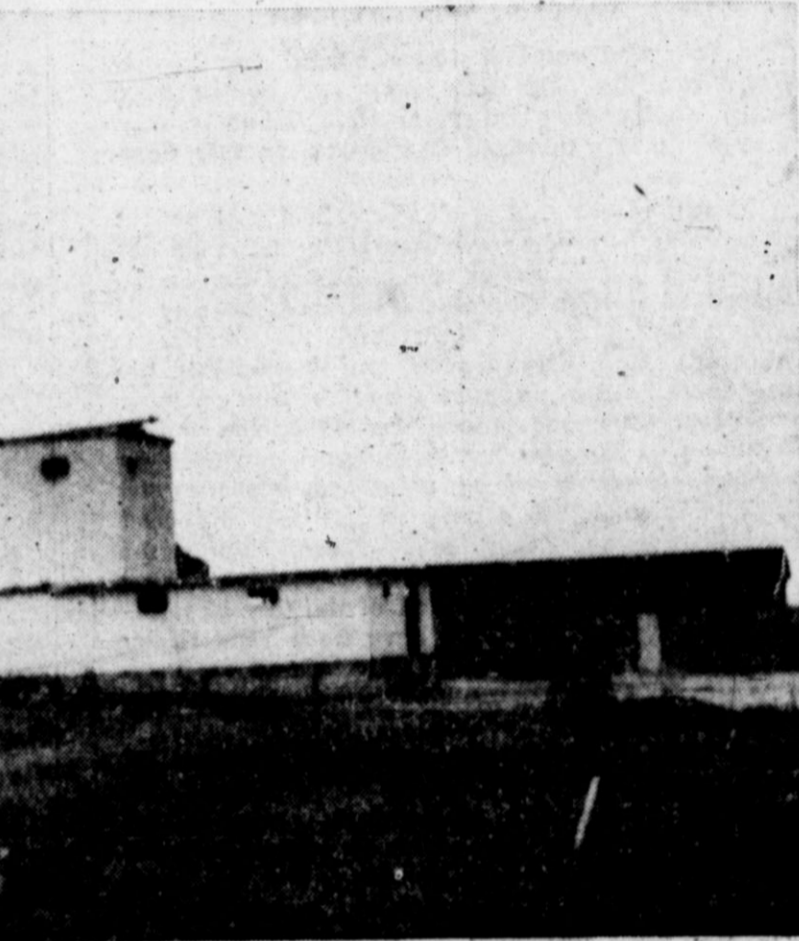

Needed is a name for this product which will start the taste buds working and help motivate people to buy. "Cream of Wheat" and "Malt-O-Meal" are good examples of sales motivation and brand name identification which have worked well through the years.

YOUR HELP IS NEEDED

If a good name comes to your mind, fill out this entry blank and send it to Arrowhead Mills, Inc., Box 866, Hereford. The winner will receive a check for $50 upon selection.

Mr. and Mrs. Rader served hot dogs and watermelon for lunch at noon on Wednesday, which also added to the holiday mood for the children. Soon mothers began arriving to take their children to town to see the circus. Those attending the matinee were: Mrs. Obed Caraway; Denise, Tracy and Meloyde; Mrs. Buel Monroe, Joe, Kathy and Jimmy, Linda, Yvonne, and Robert Merrill, Mary Alice and James Burrus; Mrs. Elton Wyly, Wileta, and Paul and Clyde; Mrs. Norman Minks, Nancy, Margaret and Larry; Denise and Adair Melton; Mrs. Leonard Walterschied, Donna and Doug; Mrs. Le Roy Cupell, Roger, Charles, Brenda and Sue; and Alice Myers.

That night others attended the circus performance. Among these were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Monroe, Paul and Tom; Nancy Jerry, and Kelly Tyler; Johnnie, David and Ronnie Buse; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Buse; Barbara, David, Dennis, Earl, Roger and Tommy.

Dyalthia Benson To Attend Meet

Mrs. Dyalthia Benson, Hereford credit union leader, will attend the joint board meetings of the Texas Credit Union League and the Members Mutual Insurance Company in Dallas Friday and Saturday, Sept. 23 and 24, according to James M. Barry, managing director.

There are 1,150 credit unions in Texas with over 680,000 members.

There are 86 credit unions in the Panhandle district. Mrs. Benson of the Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union is on the board of the Texas Credit Union League.

R. C. Morgan of El Paso is president of the Texas Credit Union League, and T. J. Ford of Port Arthur is president of the Members Mutual Insurance Company.

Home offices of the two organizations are located at 4533 Ross Avenue, Dallas.

HOW ABOUT THAT

Drawn for The Brand By Ralph Tee

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY
 Q. How can I give the rungs or steps on my ladder a slip-proof treatment?
 A. Apply some shellac or varnish to these steps, allow to dry to the sticky or tacky stage, then sprinkle over them with coarse sand or sawdust, and let harden before using the ladder again. This treatment should insure you against slipping.
 Q. How can I remedy a sink-drain that has become stopped up with grease?
 A. Put one cup of table salt and one cup of baking soda into the drain, then pour in a kettleful of boiling hot water. Usually, this dissolves the grease accumulation very quickly.
 Q. What is the best way of laundering corduroy garments?
 A. You should hang them on the line soaking wet so that they will drip - dry. This eliminates ironing, and also insures their nap staying fluffed out.
 Q. How can I make a less-messy and dirty job of cleaning out my fireplace?
 A. If you'll keep a piece of newspaper burning in one corner of the fireplace while you're removing the ashes, the cloud of dust you raise will then be drawn up the chimney in the draft created by the flames, instead of blown all over the room.

By JIMMIE GILBERTINE
Different people are always interested in different things, and the interest is often determined by a business or professional outlook. Every businessman I saw this week was complaining about the Amarillo fair, and most of them threw in the World Series as an afterthought. One old boy, I figured, had a real good case:
"It's bad enough that all of my customers are up there spending their money," he wailed, "but my wife's up there too - and she's spending my money!"
Several were giving the school board a verbal going over. They figure if the school can't afford to shut down classes for Labor Day, how can they dismiss for the fair?

But you hardly ever run across a farmer or rancher who is unhappy about turning out for the "fair"; mostly, they don't care one way or the other. My personal gripe is that they continue to call it a "fair". Not one person in a hundred even goes to the trouble to inspect the exhibits. Everybody shows up at the carnival, now, the No. 1 attraction, the ice revue, the livestock shows are also popular. Like Frankenstein, the entertainment and games have long since gobbled up the home display angle. Who wants to can-cumblers like Aunt Jessie made when you can get a store-bought quart for 19 cents? I figure the word "fair" lends a certain amount of respect to the annual spree and, if they ever drop it, the crowds would fall off maybe 50 per cent.

Ray Cowser and Bruce Miller, a couple of local barristers, were two fellows not particularly interested in the fair. They were talking about Fidel Castro, and his removal to Harlem. To sum it up, I gathered that they want Mr. Castro to be happy and, if he likes Harlem, that's where he should stay. They had some suggestions about where Mr.

Khrushchev could go, just in case he becomes upset over his surroundings.

Dr. M. C. Adams is an old horn tooter, having played in the Lubbock High School band, then four years in the Texas Teck band. Doc says it might not help their playing much, but it sure would help the morale of our band if they got some new uniforms. He figures the present garb came mostly from discarded uniforms at West Texas several years back. He wouldn't be too unhappy to see a complete new outfitting in '61.

I see by the Canyon paper where Buffalo Lake got 25,000 new fish during the past week.

They are doing everything possible to get back into business over there and, if fishing gets good, they will do it, too. The big complaint I hear is between the water sports fans and the fisherman. The lake, it seems, is fairly small to support both clans in the manner to which they have become accustomed.

Jim Roberts reports that Abe Martin was fairly shook up about the barber shops closing Mondays. Abe showed up in a pair of paint-spattered overalls and said that Mrs. Martin had put him to work. This was funny to Maurice Tannahill, but Abe got even with him. He waited until Maurice was out of the store, then went in and told the girls to move all the merchandise from the front shelves because Maurice told him to start painting at noon. If Maurice hadn't returned soon, it might have worked, too.

Most people are happy with the Monday shut down by barber shops, especially the mothers. Although the majority of us cannot get by working five days, we are happy to have some friends who can. One barber was telling me that his deal is better than banking, where you have to work five and one half days a week, but another ruined it all by pointing out that the barbers still have to stand most of the time - and you hardly ever see a banker with hemorrhoids. The ideal situation would be a preacher's one-day work week with a school teacher's three-month vacation. With my luck, I'd probably get the teacher's work week and the preacher's vacation.

A new election story is making the rounds. The Republicans were holding a rally in New York, when some deep thinker mentioned that taxi drivers do a lot of good, because they talked so much.

Let's start riding in cabs, handing out big tips, and telling these boys to plug Nixon," suggested the enthusiast. "It's a good idea," mused the treasurer, "but let's change the procedure. Let's ride in cabs, give no tips at all - and tell the drivers to plug Kennedy."

U. S. style parking tickets were recently introduced in London and, within 10 hours, 344 slips had been passed out. The streets were cleared of traffic jams and double-parkers, but some of the motorists were bitterly complaining. Said one Britisher:

"I accepted American hot dogs. I accepted American iced tea. But this, I most certainly do not accept."

Part IV: Danger Of Red China

A Foreign Policy?
The tired, heavy gates of Peiping swung open in 1793 to admit the personal representative of no less a king than George III of England. The British envoy had come to the Imperial Court seeking improved trading conditions and permanent diplomatic relations, but his mission was largely unsuccessful. The Chinese Emperor looked at the world a bit differently than did George III. "Our dynasty's majestic virtue," said the ruler, "has penetrated into every country under Heaven. Our celestial Empire possesses all things in prolific abundance, and lacks no product within its own borders. I . . . have no use for your country's merchandise." The Emperor soon learned his lesson. Driven by the rapidly spreading Industrial Revolution, the European powers inaugurated the most imperialistic era in modern history. By the end of the American Civil War, China's sovereignty was severely compromised and the first cracks had begun to show in the veneer of the ancient dynasties. It would be impossible to picture the full impact of the West: not only the technical advances, but also the new, fresh thinking which seeped in and gradually reached the people themselves. The irresistible seeds which the outside world had planted in China began to grow, and the old order finally toppled in 1912. The pulse of history now began to quicken. Another Western-inspired epoch, beginning in the wake of World War II, again swept a new form of government into power. The unpleasant success of China's communism coincided with the atomic Revolution, and the changes wrought across this stolid country have been described earlier. Even today, Mao Tse-tung and his subordinates are using the memory of European injustice in China to whip their people into a frenzied hatred of the Western world. In fact, the first touchdown in understanding Red Chinese foreign policy is the realization of just how tremendously the outside world itself has influenced China's development.

Most of today's statesmen are as astonished with China as George III must have been when he received the Emperor's reply more than 150 years ago. Nevertheless, the impatient and radical hands which guide the destiny of China will have an immense amount to say concerning the future of peace. In the immediate short-run, China is important to us only as an arm of the Soviet Union. She is separated from the United States by six thousand miles of ocean and is presently without significant supply of missiles or naval vessels.

In the long run — and this may not be so long as we once supposed — the situation is altogether different. Communist China, by merely following her present course, will eventually become an important power. This is a fact which can be denied only at our serious peril, and the question of the best means to deal with this prospect should be an important line of thinking for us all.

Recognition of Red China, which even Peiping may not really desire, would be an unwise and haphazard move. Still, communism is apparently in the saddle in China, and this unhappy situation poses a threat to our freedom fully as ominous as the one set forth by Soviet Russia.

The factor which as Americans should not forget is that the foreign affairs of the Pe-pie's Republic of China are nothing more than the means to an end, Peiping's contact with the West has been based almost solely upon the internal revolution.

Their rather warm attitude toward nuclear war is only another means to drive the people toward a more productive labor effort and a more secure faith in communism's strength. In this sense, Communist China has no real foreign interest at all. Her every act is calculated to fit the internal need, and no one in the outside world — not even the Soviets — are prepared to influence this condition.

Thus the Chinese present not only an evil countenance, but a highly fluid one as well. We have, in other words, much more than an extremely powerful acid. It is an acid running free outside its container, rolling along like a careless river and capable of destroying the most precious object almost innocently.

In this concluding segment of our discussion on Red China, I would like to emphasize that we in the United States must stand against that country with a thorough realization of its pre-occupation with itself. Like a highly selfish individual, China cannot be "talked to," but neither can it be allowed to use others as stooges for its own ends. I think we will be much more successful in our relations with Red China if we devise a means of constantly reducing the areas in which she can use us for her own good and nothing more.

Calliopean Club Has Opening Meet

The club year for Calliopean members opened Thursday night in the form of a humorous political rally in the home of Mrs. A. T. Mims.

The home was decorated with appropriate banners and decorations for the occasion. Mrs. D. C. McWhorter was narrator. All was in fun when Mrs. Millard Nobles spoke as a candidate for election. Mrs. Roy Grubbs contested her as being "favorite daughter," and gave her campaign speech.

Mrs. W. J. Messick, as party favorite, arrived at the rally late in disguise for the purpose of telling them about the workings of politics, but never quite getting around to the subject.

A three - course dinner was served in "convention hall" from quartet tables by the social committee composed of Mrs. Carl Perrin, Mrs. D. C. McWhorter and Mrs. Mims.

Those attending were Mesdames Larry Beyer, B. F. Cain, Paul Conaway, Lorraine Foxlikes, Alton Fraser, J. T. Gilbreath Jr., Roy Grubbs, Sue James, Jack Kassahn, Earnest Langley, Ansel McDowell, D. C. McWhorter, W. J. Messick, Emmett Milburn, A. T. Mims, M. W. Nobles, Wes Gayen, Carl Perrin and Clyde Cave.

Good reports have been brought back from those who attended the state meeting of the Texas Home Demonstration Association. Mrs. Wilbur Smith, who finished as state president, was elected treasurer of the national association.

Mrs. John P. Jordan, sister to Mrs. J. T. Richardson, gave us this recipe while she was visiting here this summer. The Jordons moved from Hereford 17 years ago, and now live at Circle, Montana.

'Deaf' Smith Says

TO: THE SPIRIT OF GENERAL SAM HOUSTON FROM: THE SPIRIT OF ERASTUS "DEAF" SMITH SUBJECT: MY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TRADE PROMOTION COMMITTEE.

Sam, I listened in on a meeting of the Trade Promotion committee last Friday and found a very puzzled group. It seems that for several years the retail and service trades had been meeting for coffee every Friday morning but that interest had gradually dwindled down.

Last year the group, in an effort to restimulate activity, divided itself into seventeen subsections along trade lines. That is, all of the dry cleaners and laundries were put in one section, the service stations in another, and so on. It was thought that these groups would have problems of common interest and that the chairman of each section then could meet with the chairmen of the other sections to iron out mutual problems.

In practice, though, this has not worked out. The financial institutions, under the chairmanship of Dy Benson, have had a very successful series of monthly committee meetings, and some of the other groups have met periodically, but the Friday morning coffee meetings were missed by many and interest dwindled down to a small core of about ten faithfuls.

Last Friday those present attempted to find what the answer was but without reaching any conclusive results. They did agree that Thursday might be a better day to meet because of the conflict with some important business activities which must be carried out on Friday. They also agreed that they should invite all of the previous groups to rejoin the weekly meetings.

Left to be settled was the question of whether to have weekly meetings or to just meet on call, who is to serve as chairman for the next twelve months and, most importantly, to outline the purposes and program of work for the coming months. These problems will be tackled at a special meeting to be held this coming Thursday at 10 a.m. in the Hotel Jim Hill ball room. All retailer and service trades are being mailed invitations to this meeting and are being urged to attend.

Thursday's meeting of the Retailers and Service Trades will fit into a very busy schedule of meetings for that day. Preceding that meeting will be one of the special planning committee for the Fall Mail under the chairmanship of Marshall Wilson. It will meet at 9:15 in the Chamber of Commerce conference room.

That same afternoon W. L. Broadhurst and Tom McFarland, officials of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District will meet with a group of interested citizens to discuss recent developments in recharge wells. That meeting, too, will be in the C of C conference room. Thursday-night area grain dealers will meet with six envoys of the Japanese government at a special reception and dinner to be held in the Hotel Jim Hill ball room.

Well, Sam, that's what keeps the wheels turning here in my county—people, meeting together to solve mutual problems and to improve the economic opportunities for all. That's my scouting report for this week.

Letter To The Editor

Open Letter to Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court Gentlemen:

I know that your position is a difficult one, and that quite probably, the opinions you have heard have encouraged your final decision concerning county tax equalization, or lack of it. For that reason, I feel compelled to go on record as one taxpayer who definitely does not agree.

The democratic principal of equal tax burden for property owners is not a casual thing to be partially accomplished. Taxes are fairly and equally shared only if every single piece of land and every building thereon is evaluated on the same basis as every other piece of property within the county.

Your recent decision to give the county tax assessor the responsibility of "correcting inequities" is, in my opinion, an ill advised and inadequate solution.

Do you really believe that property values can be equalized for taxation purposes without an exhaustive, plot by plot, field by field survey of all property within the county? Can this be done by any other than trained, impartial, and skilled evaluators? This role does not fit those in the tax assessors office, nor was it ever intended to. They perform a full time collecting and recording function of our county government. They were not elected as qualified appraisers, nor should they be charged with such a tremendous responsibility.

What is more fair to everyone than tax equalization? What are your reasons for refusing to participate with the city and school board in a tax survey? What could be a greater asset to our county than equalized property values—free of imperfection—and let the tax chips fall where they may?

In closing, I would like to suggest that you disclose to the citizens of Deaf Smith County, publicly, the reasons for your decision, so all confusion and conjecture may be settled. We need to be assured that a matter so important as this, has been carefully and intelligently weighed without consideration of politics or expediency.

Sincerely,
Wm. S. Dameron

Set Bond On Hot Check Charge

Bond for an Amarillo man this week was set at $1000 after he was charged with swindling with worthless check by the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department.

Doyce Thomas Webb, 52, was arrested Monday at the Sheriff's office in Hereford. Bond was set by Justice Of The Peace C. B. Miles, and the case is pending action by 69th District Grand Jury, which is scheduled to convene next Oct. 10.

Webb was arrested after a complaint was filed by H. E. Smith of Seminole, Tex. Smith alleged he sold a load of cantaloupes to Webb for $100 and that Webb gave Smith $30 in cash and a check for $70.

Thornton Wilder's 'Our Town' Set Sept. 26-27

The all-school play this year will be Our Town, by Thornton Wilder. It will be staged Sept. 26 and 27.

Tryouts were held Friday, Sept. 2, and the following were cast: Bob Barkley as stage manager; John Buck as George; Troy Don Moore as Doc Gibbs; Jerry Cowart as both Joe Crowell Jr. and Joe Stoddard; Dick Plank as Howie Newsome; Edward Allison as Wally Webb; Glen Nelson as Professor Willard; Fred Henry as Simon Stimson; Joe Schulte as Constable Warren; Fred Martin as Si Crowell; Dan McDowell as Sam Craig; Jimmy Reinauer as Mr. Webb; Suzanne Langley as Emily; Sharon Hill as Mrs. Webb; Audri Miller as Mrs. Gibbs; Kay Seamands as Rebecca Gibbs; and Shirley Thompson as Mrs. Soames. The play will be played by Betty Sue Lockhart, Shari Carmichael, Joyce West, Eugene Baldwin, Ken Betzen and Carl Miller.

The production staff consists of Judy Bradley as assistant director; Linda Edwards, stage manager; Joyce Ann Johnson, costumes; Mar - Gwen Lackey, props; and Carole Snead, house and publicity manager. The play was first produced in 1941 on Broadway and since that time has become an American classic. The story of the play deals with life and death in a small New England town, Grover's Corners. According to Brooks Atkinson, New York drama critic, this play is concerned with "the life in life," the unusual staging of the play always results in startled comments since the production requires no settings of the usual sort.

Production is scheduled for Sept. 26 and 27 in the High School auditorium. Curtain time is 8 p. m.

"ANOTHER SODA, PLEASE," says John's couple in love, and Barkley portrays a Buck, left, to Bob Barkley right, in a scene from "Our Town", which will be presented by the Hereford High School Thespian Society Sept. 26-27. Buck and Suzanne Langley, seated, characterize a young drup store operator in the production, which will be presented in the high school auditorium beginning at 8 p. m. each night. The play is by Thornton Wilder. (Staff Photo)

School Spirit Requires Cooperation Of Everyone

To have a good school and a good team we can not sit back and never take part in helping support them. We all want to have the kind of school spirit that makes everyone eager and happy. Do you know what school spirit really is? It's loyalty, cooperation, and friendliness. It's how you feel toward the school and the way you take part in school activities. It's working hard and supporting anything that pertains to the school.

Let's really make our gym rock at pep rallies and go out and yell those boys on the field. Let's show our team, the faculty, and Hereford that we're behind them all the way.

Remember, we can't let everyone know we have school spirit when we don't yell, don't attend the games, and when we leave the football field during the last five minutes of the game because it's a cinch to win or lose. See you at the game.

Miss Guess Who

Miss Guess Who

Our Miss Guess Who for this week is 16 years old. She has light brown hair and brown eyes. She is a junior this year and has Mr. Gallehon for a home room teacher.

She makes good grades and thinks that H.H.S. is a friendly school and that the students have a good school spirit this year.

Her ambition after high school is to get married and be a good housewife.

"I was very surprised when I received this award," said Miss Guess Who.

Food For Thought

Simplicity, of all things, is the hardest to be copied.

Freedom's luster diminishes progressively in relation to the decline in the standard of living.

The only fence around the world is a thorough knowledge of it.

We never understand how little we need in this world until we feel the loss of it.

The most wasted day, of all is that in which we have not laughed.

It is one thing to show a man he is in error, and another to put him in possession of the truth.

Ideal Girl

Mickey Stevens' ideal girl for this week is as follows: most versatile, Shari Prowell; cutest, Jerri Noland; flirtiest, Sharon Hill; most beautiful, Judy Means; figure, Sherry Jo Carmichael; friendliest, Judy Fowlkes; hands, Judy Kreighauser; eyes, Colleen Reeves; hair, Kay Lemons; most mannerly, Cherry Holt; athletic, Linda Renfro; Walk, Shirley Thompson; nose, Carol Kent; best all-around, Susie Langley; best dressed, Judy Bradley; best sport, Jan Reese; smile, Louise Axe; wittyest, Terry Smith; personality, Toni Parker; voice, Connie Kent.

Coming Events

On Sept. 22, half of the "B" team will journey to Boys Ranch and play there at 7:30, while the other half stays here to play at 7:00.

Sept. 23 will see the varsity squad playing on the Muleshoe field.

Sept. 26 and 27 the all school play, "Our Town," will be presented.

Sept. 29 the "B" team will play at Canyon.

Sept. 30 the varsity squad plays at Olton.

Question Of The Week

What would you do if someone gave you a Rxinorchrdan?

- Sandra Frank - Wear it on my finger.
- Pam Clay - Kill it.
- Charlie Thomas - Give it to Mr. Stanford.
- Judy Means - Throw it away.
- Janalee Drager - Run!
- Laverne Bezner - Wrap it up and give it back.
- Jean Davis - Step on it.
- Martha Duncan - See if it was alive, then bury it.
- Suzy Woodford - Eat it.
- Suzanne Higgins - I'd faint.

A Rxinorchrdan is Richard Nixon all mixed up.

The Shadow

The shadow had a difficult time keeping up with its victims this week - ambitious Patsy Loerwald, On Monday, Patsy was tardy first period, Doesn't 8 a.m. come early on Monday morning? Especially after a big weekend.

Tuesday, Patsy said she just flunked a Civics test and that thought she did pretty good on English test, so she ate a big fat candy bar at noon.

Wednesday, Patsy came to school with the dress she received for eighth grade graduation. She must not have gained much weight. The Civics test she said she flunked, well, she made a B- and Patsy, you didn't go to the circus. Can you get this? At 10 p.m. she was ironing a skirt, to wear on Thursday.

Thursday, Patsy did have on the skirt that she was ironing so diligently last night. At 9:45 this morning she was going around saying, "Have you studied for the homemaking test?"

Friday, Patsy worked hard at Brown, Graham and Glover, and on this day, someone asked her for a big date to go to the fair Monday. Good luck, Patsy, it was fun following you.

Orchids... And Onions

Orchids to annual queen candidates.

Onions to those who aren't supporting the Whitefaces.

Orchids to the cheerleaders.

Onions to the litterbugs around H.H.S.

Orchids to Mrs. Lacey, sponsor of the "Whiteface."

Onions to those that talk during assembly.

Orchids and congratulations to the football boys.

Ideal Boy

His favorite girl is Carol Kent, since he is going steady with her. His favorite foods are steak and fried chicken. He spends most of his time playing football, and his hobby is winning football games.

His ambition is to win state in football and to be a major in mathematics while in college. He advises all underclassmen to be wise and flunk out at midterm.

Football Personalities

Eugene Baldwin, the son of Rev. and Mrs. B. H. Baldwin, plays left tackle for the Hereford Varsity team. He is a senior, weighs 180 pounds, is 6'1" tall and loves football.

(By Whiteface Staff)

On Monday night, Sept. 5, the Hereford F.F.A. chapter met for the first time with new officers.

The new officers are: Ken Walser, president; Scott Martin, vice president; Eddie Gallagher, secretary; Joe Shultey, treasurer; Jerry Johnson, reporter; and Charles Vassek, sentinel.

During the meeting, the chapter elected two representatives to go to the National F.F.A. Convention in Kansas City. The two representatives are Bill Noland and Scott Martin.

Also at the meeting a film was shown on the trip that the F.F.A. boys took during the summer. After the film, refreshments were served and the meeting was adjourned.

Student Council Officers Named

(By Whiteface Staff)

The officers of the Student Council of 1960-61 are president, Ken Walser; vice president, Joy Story; secretary, Austin Hodges; and parliamentarian, Wesley Pouch.

Hereford Woman's Brother Succumbs

Henry Lee Goats, 49, former resident of Amarillo and brother of a Hereford woman, died about 1:30 p. m. Saturday at his home in Laurel, Mont., after a long illness.

Mr. Goats was the brother of Mrs. W. P. Axe of Hereford. He was born April 9 1911, in Amarillo. He and Miss Rosalie Ellis were married July 15, 1945, in Las Vegas, N. M. They moved to Montana from Amistad, N. M. in 1952 where he was engaged in ranching.

Survivors include his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Richard Ellis of Santa Fe, N. M., and Mrs. Paul Spencer Jr., of Albuquerque; two sons, Henry Lee Goats Jr., and Johnny Mike Goats, both of the home; a brother, Edward Goats of Hayden, N.M.; five sisters, Mrs. Axe, Mrs. W. Wallace, Mrs. Gladys Murphy, and Mrs. J. G. Tompkins, all of Tucumcari, N. M., and Mrs. Joe Shallenbarger of Logan, N. M., and three grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by a Montana Funeral home.

The Indian rhinoceros' fierce-looking horn actually is rather soft and useless in fighting.

Camp Fire Girls Meet Tuesday

The Shot - U - Aya Camp Fire Girls held their weekly meeting Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 13, at the Camp Fire Hut.

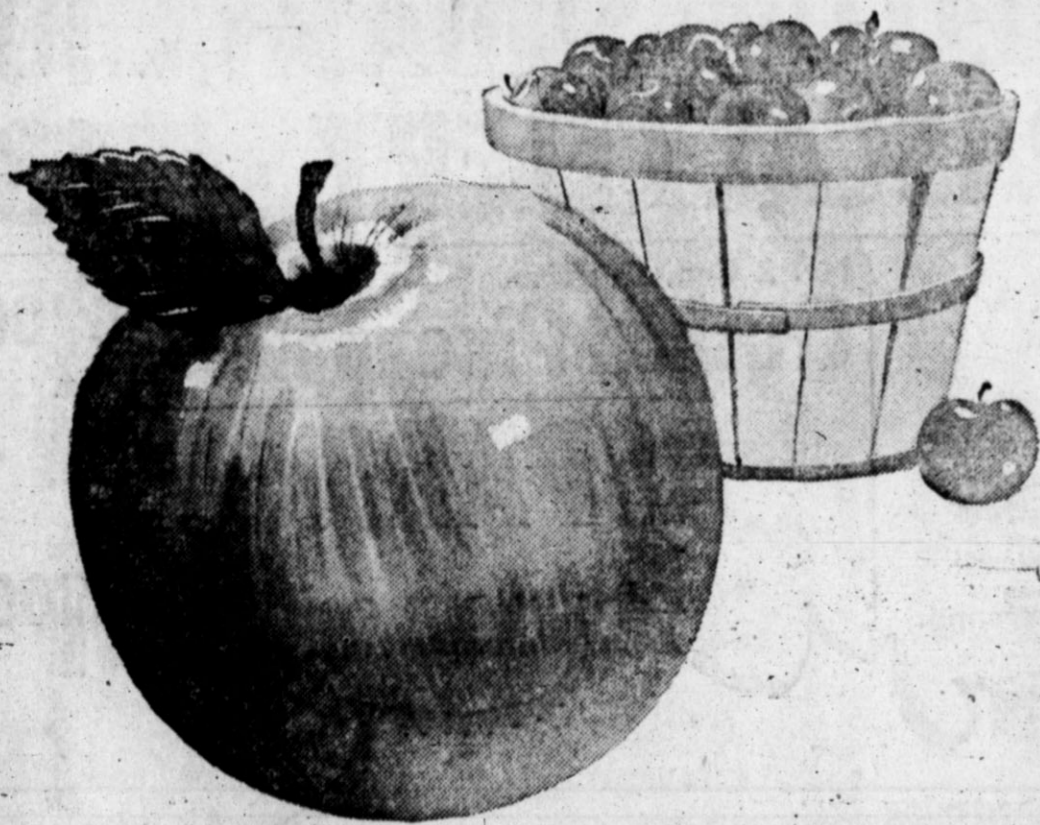

As part of the program, each girl made a short speech on topics relating to first aid and safety.

A hike to Veterans' Park and a cookout was planned for the next meeting.

Refreshments were served to the following: Kandis Hill, Betty Barnett, Diana Springer, Diane Rogers, Billie Jo Witherspoon, Linda Jacobsen, Sandra Cawthon, Susan Ballard, Mary Story, and Mrs. Springer and Mrs. Story, leaders, and Junior Leader Beeky Jackson.

The Ages of Man

Here they are, pictured from One to Seventy...from infancy to old age. It seems a long, long time from one to seventy, but it is only a little while from Seventy to One. The point is, we don't have much time here. The clock's face shows the hours ticking swiftly away. Then, since eternity is so much longer, perhaps we should spend more time getting ready for the life to come. Better not to have been born at all than to spend your life in riotous living. Rededicate yourself. Support your church, give to the needy and be an influence for good. It won't make much difference how much land one owns when the bell rings. But don't forget... it matters much how one lives before the bell rings.

You In The Church
 The Church In You
 form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

THE GIBBS FAMILY gathers for breakfast in a scene from Thornton Wilder's "Our Town", a drama to be presented by the Hereford High School Thespian Society Sept. 26-27. The play leaves a lot of room for the imagination of the audience — the "breakfast food" is make-belief. In the Gibbs family portrait are, from left, George, played by John Buck; Mrs. Gibbs, portrayed by Audni Miller; Doc Gibbs, characterized by Troy Don Moore; and Rebecca, played by Kay Seamonds. Decision On Amendments Will Be Important Nov. 8

By VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN — With all the hoopla over the national elections, many Texans may get to the polls Nov. 8 before they realize they have other important decisions to make that day.

Four proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution will be voted on at the general election. Voting to approve or reject alterations in the state's basic law is one of the most important responsibilities a voter has. It is the average citizen's one and only opportunity to participate directly in the lawmaking process.

Here, in brief, are the proposed amendments (in the order they will appear on the ballot) and what they would do:

AMENDMENT ONE: Would authorize creation of special hospital districts in Lamar County, Hidalgo County and Commissioners Precinct No. 4 of Comanche County.

Approval of this amendment would not actually create these hospital districts, but would give local voters authority to do so in a local election.

Amendments such as this one, which apply only to the areas specifically mentioned, usually are passed on the grounds that they give local voters authority to take care of local affairs. Since it is permissive rather than mandatory, local voters can decide for themselves whether they want to carry it through.

Some argue against such amendments on the grounds that such detail as this should not be added to an already overly-long Constitution.

AMENDMENT TWO: Would permit a rate of interest not to exceed 3 1/2% on loans issued hereafter for the benefit of the Veterans Land Fund.

and it wasn't about any of those mentioned, or Sheriff Pat Garrett or Elfuogo Baca, or any of the others to whom the title might go. It was about "Frenchie", Francois Jean Rochas, who lived alone in a canyon, fought the world to keep his land, but died because of another's greed.

Another portion of the book was about Eugene Manlove Rhodes, the bard of the Tularosa. Rhodes gained fame after his death for his poetic description and reality about cowboys and bandits, who were neither all good nor all bad.

This book includes wonderful information about Pat Garrett, Pat Coghlan, and the murder of Albert Fountain and his eight-year-old son, Henry. Because this frontier is so new it provides a startling contrast. Men who knew Pat Garrett or Billy the Kid also saw the Army come marching into the valley with a terrible appetite for land to make firing ranges. Literally the Tularosa went from the stirrup to the space age in one mighty leap. The Tularosa residents saw a pre-dawn light on July 16, 1945, as the United States entered the atomic age. They watched as stubborn old John Prather defended his homestead against the Federal government — and won.

Sonnichsen has written a lusty saga of that country and its citizens.

For example, there was the feud that started when George McDonald was murdered by a hidden rifleman. John Good was accused of arranging the shooting, but denied it. But his son, Walter, disappeared and both sides armed for battle.

Actors of a different sort appeared before the other feud was settled. And the battle went into the courtrooms with Albert Jennings Fountain on one side and Albert B. Fall on the other.

Present constitutional ceiling is 3 per cent.

Veterans Land Board is authorized by law to sell bonds and use the money from these sales to buy land which is re-sold to qualified Texas veterans. Law provided for the sale of $200,000 in bonds, but the Board has not been able to sell the last $92,500,000 of these bonds because, in today's market, 3 per cent interest does not make them an attractive investment.

Financial experts think that raising the permitted interest rate to 3 1/2 per cent should be sufficient to make the bonds salable again.

AMENDMENT THREE: Would change the pay scale of members of the Legislature to give them annual salaries of $4,800 plus $12 a day for each day in session. It would limit regular session to 140 days (present limit is 120 days). Lawmakers would receive $12 a day for each day of a 140-day regular session plus $12 a day for each day of a 30-day special called session.

At present, legislators receive no annual salary. They get $25 a day for each day, up to 120 days, of the regular session plus $25 a day for each day of a 30-day called session. They receive no pay in years the Legislature does not convene (such as 1960). Under this proposal, they would receive $4,800 a year base pay whether they spent any time in session or not.

Present provisions for travel expenses would not be changed. These provide for the lawmaker to receive $2.50 for each 25 miles of the round trip between his home and Austin once each session.

This amendment is essentially a compromise between the present arrangement and the constitutional change proposed in 1958. Last time the proposal was for annual salaries of $7,500 and no per diem. It also provided for annual sessions which, many think, contributed to its defeat.

Proponents of the current plan say that it will make it possible for better qualified people to serve in the Legislature without having to make so much of a personal financial sacrifice to do so.

Opponents argue that it will create "professional legislators." They contend that it is better for the lawmaker to have another job in private life to keep him closer to the problems of the people.

If the amendment is passed, a Texas legislator would receive for his two-year term of office a minimum pay of $9,600. In other states, the pay for a two-year term ranges from $200 in New Hampshire to $15,000 in New York. Average is about $3,600.

AMENDMENT FOUR: Would give the Legislature authority to classify loan and lenders, to license and regulate lenders, to define what part of the charge made on loans should be considered interest and to fix the maximum rate of interest which should be charged.

This is generally known as the "anti-loan shark" amendment and is being supported by a blue ribbon committee of citizens from over the state.

At present the Constitution provides that the maximum rate of interest shall be 10 per cent. This is widely, almost universally, violated by the small loan industry, usually through additional charges besides the interest — "handling charges, service charges," etc.

Attorney General's department investigations have turned up cases of flagrant abuses by loan companies, making charges that totaled altogether as much as 300% of the amount loaned. On the other hand, the investigators themselves admitted that a loan company making short-term, high-risk personal loans cannot stay in the black on 10 per cent.

If this amendment is passed, it will be up to the Legislature

HALFBACK CURTIS RITCHIE came in for double duty Friday night for Hereford, filling in at fullback and halfback slots during the second half. He scored a touchdown and a two-point run as Hereford took its second win of the season. His TD was a two-yard blast that carried him over despite the efforts of Dimmitt's Le Roy O'Brian (71) and Stanley Nelson (42). Ritchie (25) is sandwiched between them with the ball's faces showing. OFF THE Shelf

By H. A. TUCK

Bounded on the south by El Paso, on the west by the Rio Grande River, on the north by the Jumanos Mesa and the east by the Hueco and Sacramento Mountains is the Tularosa country.

C. L. Sonnichsen, one of the major chroniclers of the old west, has written of this last stronghold in his non-fiction book Tularosa.

Mexican farmers who moved into the country were the first settlers, as they battled Indians for water and land right. But Tularosa is really the story of Texas cattlemen who started invading the forbidding desert country in the early 1880's.

Their ways, their standards, their laws were remote from those of many men and women who are still living.

The Mexicans felt the rough-riding, hard-drinking, fast shooting Texans were no better than Indians, but were powerless to stop their invasion and land-grabs.

Sonnichsen has written a lusty saga of that country and its citizens.

For example, there was the feud that started when George McDonald was murdered by a hidden rifleman. John Good was accused of arranging the shooting, but denied it. But his son, Walter, disappeared and both sides armed for battle.

Actors of a different sort appeared before the other feud was settled. And the battle went into the courtrooms with Albert Jennings Fountain on one side and Albert B. Fall on the other.
