A BUG WOULD BE BIGGER

Two-Inch Rosebush Blooms

BY MONA JETTE
BRAND WOMEN'S EDITOR

A rose is a rose is a rose... even if the blooms are smaller than a dime and the bush only two inches tall.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Brown, 209 Ave. J., are the proud possessors of such horticultural rarity. Mrs. Brown obtained the planting in April when she received a subscription to a gardening magazine. Named Red Imp, the new variety of rose was given as a renewal premium by the publication.

They say that back in Pennsylvania, they plant this bush out-of-doors. It is supposed to be very hardy. Mrs. Brown commented, "But it looks to me like it would be just too bad if a big grasshopper came along."

The rose planting arrived in Hereford packed in a plastic container. Mr. and Mrs. Brown, both avid gardeners, planted it in a standard potting soil. The microscopic leaves are a bright green and the six or seven ruby-tinted blooms resemble something the Lilliputians might have planted in their miniature garden plots. The Browns keep it protected in an oversized brandy snifter.

Around Town

Farmers are beginning to worry about the lack of moisture, particularly those living in the dryland wheat areas. But they still haven't lost their sense of humor. One of them, talking about the dryness, said, "Why just write about it in the Brand and it'll rain before the paper comes out!" So that's what I'm doing... and I hope it does rain before the press gets through clanking Saturday afternoon.

Set 'No Sales' Policy During Festival Meet

No direct sales will be allowed at the Farm and Home Show displays, members of the Harvest Festival planning committee decided Friday morning.

Their decision was made after one of several requests was made to allow sales of food or other products during the annual displays. Members of the committee felt the show was primarily for display and information purposes, rather than for direct sales.

Most of Friday's breakfast meeting was devoted to reports of event chairmen.

Morris Easley told the group that the planned air show was expected to be a big attraction. A Waco, Tex., stunt flyer will bring two planes to the show

Plan Attack On Dandelions

A D-Week is being planned for Hereford. It will focus attention of all residents on the obnoxious dandelion during an all-out effort to get rid of them. Dates have been set for May 27-June 3.

The scheduled D-Week is just one of several plans discussed during a meeting of the Beautification Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Meeting Thursday at the Hereford Country Club, the group further outlined plans for a year-long county improvement program.

The Clean Up, Paint Up, Fix Up Week was termed a huge success by Mrs. Irving Alexander, committee chairman. She expressed her appreciation to all those who helped organize or took part in the clean up activities, particularly the residents of Hereford.

Flower boxes for Main Street have been built and are to be placed along the street within the next few days. Each box will be 20 inches tall, 30 inches long and 12 inches deep. The boxes will be flat against the wall and curved on the outside.

Planted in them will be climbing greenery, plus red geraniums.

The group also is investigating hanging flower boxes on light poles. Due to high winds and high temperatures, only artificial flowers and plants would be in the boxes, if the plan proves feasible.

Plans for selecting an official town and county flower also are nearing completion.

A color slide show on the best types of flowers will be shown soon to all civic, home demonstration and study clubs. After that, the public would be asked to vote on the official flower.

In the meantime, residents are being asked to plant red geraniums to provide a uniform floral decoration for Hereford and vicinity.

With U.S. Highway 60 opened up again, beautification work is ready to start. Sam Bell, Mrs. Art Manjeot and Mrs. Ralph McCullough will contact all businesses and property owners along the highway, asking that they help beautify Hereford.

Farmers and their wives who are interested in attending the short course should contact Robinson at the vocational agriculture building. Farmers will be charged a small enrollment fee, but no fee will be charged for wives accompanying their husbands.

Anderson said that the course will be adjusted to wishes and interests of farmers enrolled, but he expects to cover such subjects as agriculture outlook, keeping and using farm records, income tax management, how social security affects farmers, financing farm operation and planning the use of farm resources.

Farm Management Short Course Certificates will be presented to each person who attends all the training sessions.

TEXAS WILL HAVE A NEW U. S. SENATOR because:

TEXANS WANT . . .

A FULL-TIME SENATOR. John Tower is young and vigorous. He has no outside interests to divert him from serving Texas.

TEXANS DO NOT WANT . . .

PART-TIME REPRESENTATION. During his first interim term in 1957, Wm. Blakley was absent 44% of the time. Between January 3 and April 14 this year he voted only once out of 23 called votes. He is the major stockholder in Braniff Airlines and owner of extensive real estate.

And a pair of Davids, Casas and Evans, teamed up to scatter eight Yankee hits as they shared mound duties for the Dodgers.

It was a tight, scoreless contest until the top of the fourth, when the Dodgers exploded for five runs.

David Evans singled and Watts doubled. With one out, Evans came in on an error, and Brad Johnson singled. Casas and Mike Higgins walked and Gary Story was safe on an error. Mike Davis singled to drive in the last run.

Watts doubled and Larry Noland walked before David Casas slammed a three-run homer for the Dodgers in the fifth.

The Yankees managed to score two runs in the fifth on one hit. Johnson Benefield got on by error and Danny Baize singled. Two errors allowed them to score.

Watts homered with none on in the sixth for the Dodgers, who had a 9-2 lead.

In the last half inning, the Yankees got two runs. Randy Baize's single was sandwiched between hit batters, Gene Duvall and Glen Thomas. Benefield got on by error and Danny Lester singled to drive in the second run.

Casas took credit for the victory. He worked three innings, struck out two and walked none. He was relieved by David Evans, who gave up four runs on four hits while striking out four and hitting two batters.

MACHINE OR PARTS

PONTIAC, Ill. — The old-machine that Floyd Kenyon and his son Franklin, displayed at the annual Central States Treshermen's Reunion was a machine from many parts. The Kenyons assembled the machine with a chassis and cab from a locomotive-type steam threshing and plowing engine made in Peoria. The boiler came from a Canadian model Port Huron engine. The double-cylinder engine was salvaged from a steam shovel. The fly-wheel came from an old hay baler.

The whistle came from Eureka College where it once announced opening of school each morning. A second whistle is a retired village fire siren.

TOUGHER TO BE YOURSELF

HOLLYWOOD — After actress, dusty-voiced June Allyson is thoroughly convinced of one thing as she heads toward her second season as a television master of ceremonies.

It's easier to act as someone else than to be yourself. "It's the hardest thing I ever did," she says of her tour with the Du Pont Show. "It's one thing to immerse yourself in a role and stand before a camera — but it's quite another to come on as yourself. "You've got nothing to hide behind — no character, no make-believe. It's just you standing out there in your skin, so scared you've got goose pimples."

Section Two

Waiting

Fulfillment

1. The expectant mother's greatest tribulation is the patient waiting. As the months pass slowly by, she plans a layette, perhaps decorates a nursery . . . and still waits.

2. Then, at long last, all dreams become reality as a mother holds her newborn child in her arms. (Even is if it is the fourth time around, as in the case of Mrs. L. L. Deaton of Black.) She admires her five pound daughter, Leslee Gay, as they both look forward to the day when they can go home to meet the rest of the family.

3. Then come the days of training and molding the character of young children. A wise mother, such as Mrs. Ed Rinn, always finds the time to play with her three children or to indulge in the simple pastime of reading a favorite story. Mrs. Rinn was chosen by Young Mother's Study Club as Mother of the Year at a recent meeting. Her three children are, from left to right; Eddie, age four; Carl Douglas, 15 months and Angela, age three.

4. The years pass swiftly and suddenly a mother finds her children grown and going out into the world to build adult lives of their own. Then comes the big thrill as the first grandchild makes her arrival. Mrs. Edward Skypala, seated, holds little Chelli, 16 month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ruland. Mrs. Ruland standing at far left, is the oldest child of Mr. and Mrs. Skypala. Ed Jr. is a graduating senior at Hereford High School and Patti is a junior student.

5. Mrs. J. W. Kirby, holding her five year old great-grand daughter, Alisa Kirby, is thoroughly enjoying her vintage years. Sitting across from her is her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Doc Kirby, who holds Alisa's brother, Terry. The two youngsters are the children of Mrs. Terry Kirby, standing at center.

Seventh, Eighth Graders Tour Amarillo Businesses

BY MRS. T. L. COLLINS
A letter from Jack Latham of the Department of Research, Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, reached Walcott's principal, Thomas L. Collins Saturday. A schedule was outlined of business places to visit on an industrial tour of Amarillo for the seventh and eighth graders.

Tuesday these students left about 7 a.m. for Amarillo. Vicki Burns, Elizabeth Burrus, Dianne Jack, Marilyn Tice, Nancy Tyler, Frances Cook, Marsha Burns, Keith Hender son, Mike Bean, John Perrin, James Barnett, Don Barnett, Damon Davis, Larry Minks and Jimmy Roberts. Those parents taking cars were: Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Jack, Mrs. Leiland Burns, Thurman Davis and Thomas L. Collins.

First, the Coca Cola Bottling Company was seen in operation. From there they went to the Globe News Publishing Company, where the inside work of a newspaper was shown. They then toured the First National Bank, which gave them more appreciation of activities concerning handling money. One boy remarked, "The only trouble, they didn't pass out any samples at the bank." After the Mead's Bakery. Then came the tour of KGNC-TV. A view of where the TV show starts is quite different. Last place visited that afternoon was the Seal-test Dairy.

About 6 p.m. they arrived home tired, but with many new ideas in their minds.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Monroe, Thornton, Paul and Tom, visited the Panhandle Plains Museum in Canyon on Sunday afternoon.

Lorree Askew from Hereford rode the bus home from school with Sylvia Ivie Friday afternoon. She visited until Saturday night.

Colored school pictures were distributed Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Norman Minks, Mrs. Glenn Burrus and Mrs. Bertram Jack attended a 4-H Council meeting Monday afternoon in Hereford.

Some Texas bluebonnets are now blooming in the yard at Walcott School teacherage home of the T. L. Collins family.

Assembly was held at school at 1 p.m. Wednesday. Scripture from the eighth chapter of Proverbs was read. A color film on "The World Series - 1959" was shown. This was produced by the Coca Cola Company for the American and National League professional baseball teams. The Chicago White Sox and Los Angeles

Once Over Lightly

Today, women all over the United States can fluff up their pillows and relax with the unaccustomed luxury of a cup of coffee in bed. Later, they may be taken "out on the town" for dinner and perhaps a movie. Today, they are queens, as husbands and children pay homage to Mom on Mother's Day.

All men and women, regardless of their station in life, have a secret little room in a corner of their hearts reserved especially for their mothers. I am no exception.

I think all you readers would like my mother. As far back as I can remember, she was always laughing and singing, striding happily through life with her jaunty little walk.

In her younger days, she looked like the typical picture of an Irish colleen. Coal black hair and almond shaped green eyes that crinkled shut when she smiled weren't detracted a mite by the line of freckles that marched in saucy defiance across the bridge of her up-tilted nose. Many things come to my mind when I think of Mother. Paper dolls with extravagant wardrobes fashioned from pages of old wall paper catalogues... pretended deafness as I practiced devotedly on my old clarinet... bent shoulders over a bouffant net skirt for a formal as she worked late into the night preparing me for my first dance... and calmly holding my hand as I lay in a hospital bed in labor with my first child.

All these things are remembered... and more.

She was never too busy to spare a minute to listen to the problems of a teen-aged girl going through the agonies of her first thwarted romance. As a matter of fact, it seems as if she listened to the problems of many of my girl friends... for they could talk to her better than they could their own mothers.

She worked untiringly with Brownies, Girl Scouts and Rainbow Girls. Later, she helped organize a Teen Canteen at the Kermit Community Center, where we jitterbugged many an insane but sober hours away on Saturday nights. I believe that was the only time I ever got mad at Mother... she always danced more than we did... not minding a bit if she was two heads taller than her enraptured thirteen year old partner, proudly showing off a newly-acquired two-step.

I never did think of her as just Mother... she was really my best friend and confidant. She was always the first to know my greatest triumphs... and my deepest downfalls.

Today, she is no longer black headed... it is almost totally white. But to me, she is prettier than she ever was, for her eyes still have that lively sparkle and she still walks with that jaunty stride that will keep her eternally young. Still patient and loving... the very definition of motherhood itself.

And now, as I earnestly try in my stumbling way to raise my children, I wonder if I will make it. Only now do I appreciate the many things she gave me without asking a thing in return.

Everything I am I owe to her... the ability to laugh at my own mistakes... the love of music and art... and

OFF THE Shelf

BY H. A. TUCK

William J. Lederer's newest book, A Nation of Sheep, probably won't arouse the public interest as did The Ugly American, which he wrote with Eugene Burdick.

It should, however. If anything, it is more frightening than the picture painted of poor overseas relations, misinformation and just plain blunders.

A Nation of Sheep is filled with charges of inept foreign service officers, poor news reporters and glib American Lederer contends that the stories of terrific battles in Laos were complete frauds and that even American military observers were fooled. Towns that supposedly seen pitched fighting later said they hadn't even seen a soldier.

In the book, Lederer condemns Chiang Kai-shek as an opportunist who is draining the U. S. of millions to support an army that is incapable of combat. But much of Lederer's book is concerned with what he calls "government by misinformation, secrecy in government and government by publicity."

For example, Lederer says, "Pictures of plush furnishings inside military transport planes, requested by Rep. Daniel J. Flood, were stamped 'secret' and then even the Congressman's letter of request was stamped 'secret.' He also pointed out that "The Post Office Department denied the Indianapolis News information on the names of persons leasing post office buildings in Indiana to the government, the amount of the leases and the duration."

Lederer also blasts the press, including newspapers, magazines, TV and radio, for its poor coverage of many foreign events and its lack of research and digging for the true facts. He cites instances of foreign life.

And again I breathe my favorite prayer: "Lord, please send me a special angel to stand at my right hand in guidance... I never will fill her shoes."

governments bribing writers to present untrue stories to the public.

The book concludes with a section of what can be done. He suggests that the government, and particularly the executive branch, start telling the public what's going on... the bad as well as the good. "The President should assume that his fellow countrymen are tough-minded and patriotic. We will not become timorous or demoralized if told the truth about our blunders, failures and defeats. Quite the contrary, we will respond with strength and intelligence. But first we must have the truth."

He also suggests that the government and the nation stands in desperate need of a permanent corps of international experts, not international party-givers, who can provide accurate information about various world situations.

Another area which needs improving is in the realm of wasted manpower and talent. Many civil service jobs could be done by our military... if many who now are disqualified for minor physical defects were utilized.

Another place that America is failing to get maximum mileage is in our foreign student program, where we now educate the wealthy from other lands, while ignoring the rural youth who can be swung to communism so easily yet could be converted to freedom's way.

Finally, Lederer outlines things which many individuals could, and should do, to bring about a stronger, better-informed nation. This book, like The Ugly American, should be read by every citizen. It hasn't quite the dramatic appeal of the Lederer-Burdick volume, but packs in vast amounts of information in just a few (194) pages.

A Nation of Sheep is strong and accusing. It wouldn't do for a nation of weaklings, but it is good for every American.

Campus Actors On Hard Tour

By William Glover
New York (AP) — There's no business like show business — especially on the campus-to-camp theatrical circuit.

With Broadway hits, undergraduate acting squads are barnstorming a rugged trail that stretches from frigid Greenland to torrid Thailand.

Competition for the honor of performing — and demand for the product — keep growing. "Being chosen has become a new kind of intercollegiate rivalry," reports Jerome Coray, who handles the enterprise as entertainment director for United Service Organizations.

Between 50 and 75 schools apply annually to participate, says Coray, a stocky battery of galvanic energy. Between now and next July, nine companies will tour the sub-Arctic, European and Pacific military areas. Troupes assigned in the latter two zones give about 35 performances in 7 weeks, those in the frigid north about 20 in 5 weeks.

"We could use more if we could handle the job," Coray adds.

The paper work, logistics and paraphernalia of preparation is complicated because some of the groups are loaned by the USO to the state department for civilian cultural exchange programs en route.

Coray initiated the college program eight years ago and uses it to supplement the professional entertainment that is a major part of USO work.

Military transport necessity imposes some restriction on theatrical flexibility. Companies doing musical comedies are limited to 18 members, including chaperon, director and any needed technicians; straight drama groups are held to 15. Costumes are carried on tour and so is scenery — all designed to fold into foot-lockers, the only luggage permitted.

"Sometimes they perform with neither, depending on the place of the show," says Coray. "Sometimes it is in an open field, without anything resembling a stage; or it can be on the hatch cover of an aircraft carrier."

The groups swinging out this season include the University of Utah, doing "Damn Yankees;" St. Cloud, Minn., State College, "Wonderful Town;" University of Miami, "The Mischief Maker;" Southwest Missouri, "Finian's Rainbow;" University of Denver, "Bernadine;" University of Minnesota, "The Matchmaker."

Also UCLA, "45 Minutes from Broadway;" Brooklyn College, "The Male Animal;" and University of Delaware, "The Boy Friend."

To make sure that as many as possible get a chance, the program bans any school from being sent out in consecutive years. Screening is done by a professorial committee of the American Education Theater Assn.

"The colleges are chosen a year in advance," explains Coray, "so that they have plenty of time to set up seminars and language study for the areas where they will work. We pay the necessary expenses and students get full college credit — and that's all."

The USO director likes to stress that the project does more than simply fill part of the huge entertainment needs for overseas personnel.

"Seventy per cent of those stationed abroad today are under 25 years of age — in the identical bracket with the college students," he says.

"The morale value in the socialization that's possible as a result is tremendous. And he points out proudly that "we've never had to send a college student home and there is never been a breach of behavior."

Battle-Seared Corregidor Tourist Attraction Today

BY TONY ESCODA

CORREGIDOR ISLAND, Philippines — Sunday visitors splash in the surf, sun themselves on the beach or fish from the shell-scarred docks on this tadpole-shaped island guarding Manila Bay.

Elsewhere on Corregidor all is quiet. The jungle has grown back over tunnels and gun emplacements in the hills. Often the only sign of life is an occasional snake slithering through the tall grass.

A newly built tourist lodge sits on a rise a half mile from the spot where Japanese troops swept ashore in May, 1942, to stamp out the last spark of Allied resistance in Southeast Asia.

Before that, Corregidor and Bataan Peninsula, across the bay to the north, were the only allied outposts left in the wake of the Japanese juggernaut.

The ragtag army of 12,000 Americans and Filipinos on Corregidor had already beaten back one major onslaught and were fighting on despite the rain of bombs and shells that spattered the island daily.

For a time the Free Philippine government ruled from gloomy Malinta tunnel and its network of laterals dug out of Corregidor's bedrock, and from here a lonely "Voice of Freedom" broadcast each day.

But by April, Bataan — with Corregidor, the key to Gen. Douglas MacArthur's defense of the Philippines — had fallen. Ammunition for Corregidor's big guns had run out. So had food and medicine.

The hospital wards inside Malinta were crammed with sick and wounded, many of whom were to die later during the Death March to concentration camps on Luzon.

The Philippine government, with Gen. MacArthur and his staff, escaped to Australia. The big Japanese push finally came, and this time there was little to stop it.

It ended on May 6 when Gen. Jonathan Wainwright surrendered. The "Voice of Freedom" went off the air and the big Rock fell silent.

The silence today is more humdrum, unpeopled by the laughter of tourists who come over on the Sunday excursion boats. They are shown around by the only soldiers left on Corregidor — a handful of Philippine marines on routine security duty.

The island is technically a memorial ground, but only a few tablets and markers have been erected. Few are needed.

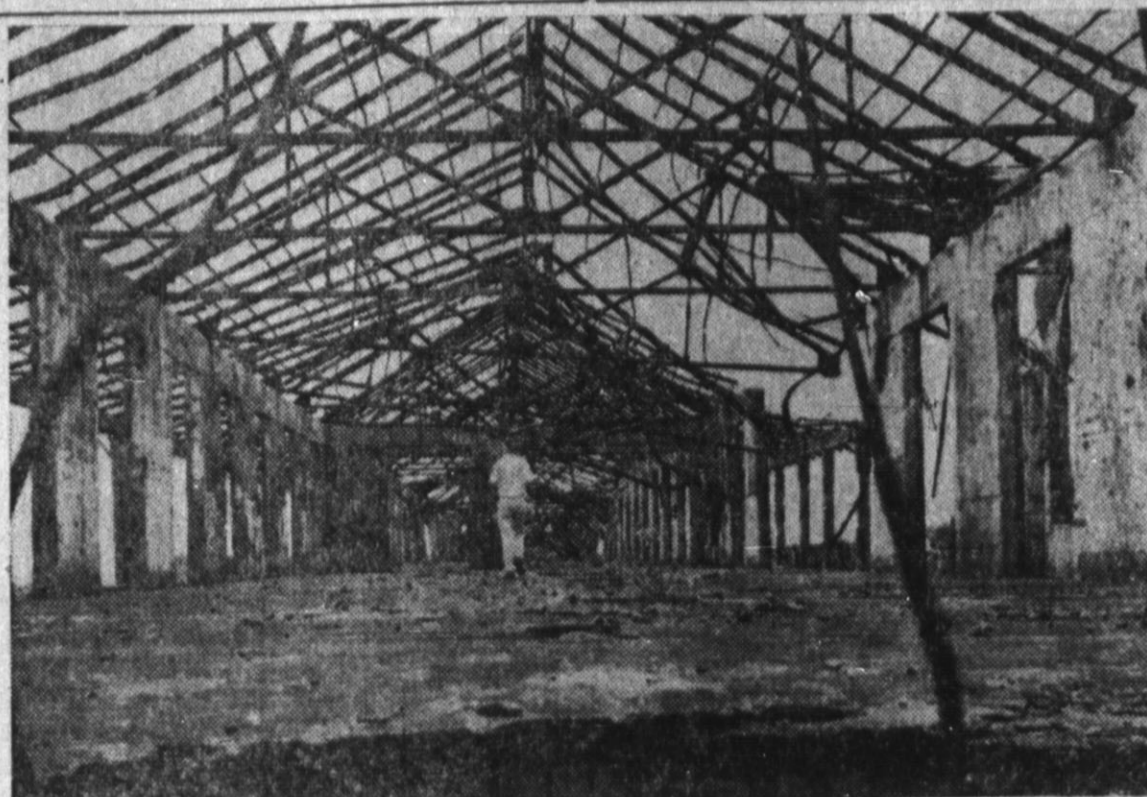

The site of the Japanese landing is clearly marked by trees and shrubbery, torn by shrapnel, which haven't bloomed since.

The 23 batteries still have their 12-inch coastal guns and mortars, with rusted barrels in the same position as when they were last fired.

A third of Malinta tunnel's 825-foot length has caved in, but there's room enough for sightseers and a sign that reads, "Headquarters, United States Forces in the Philippines."

On the hill called "Topside," MacArthur's old command post still stands, an empty shell gutted by Japanese artillery fire.

Scrawled in charcoal on one wall is this message from an unknown soldier: "Never say die."

WRECKED REMINDER: Twisted steel girders picture shows the top floor of the headquarters barracks buildings where American troops were billeted.

Onion Usage, Storage Topic At Club Meet

A program on using and storing onions was given by Mrs. W. J. Frost at the recent meeting of the West Hereford Home Demonstration Club in Mrs. Frost's home.

Mrs. Frost prepared three dishes. They were Creole onions, French fried onion rings and a salad. She then told how to store onions in a dry, cool place.

Each member tasted the dishes that had been prepared.

Mrs. Edna Bowe won the hostess gift.

Members present were Mesdames Mary Waters, Vida Johnson, Alice Cox, Edna Bowe, Grace Witherspoon, Myrtle Witherspoon, Evelyn Bell, Vera Schroeder, Alice Bradley, Mable Vaughn, Minnie Vaughn, Blanche Mosely, Mary King, Edna Anders and the hostess.

The next meeting will be at Mrs. Mary Waters on May 23.

Crops are grown on only 3 percent of Algeria's 920,000 square miles, and only one-sixth of the land will support livestock. But the Sahara Desert contains oil, iron, diamonds, nickel and copper.

'Deaf' Smith Says

TO: The Spirit of General Sam Houston.
FROM: The Spirit of Erastus "Deaf" Smith.

SUBJECT: Scouting Report on Relations Between my Chamber of Commerce and other Chambers of Commerce.

Sam, thought I had better report to you my findings in regard to my Chamber of Commerce and its relation with other Chambers of Commerce.

I just got to wondering whether the policy of my group was controlled from some distant headquarters or just what the situation was. Learned that we are members of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, which has its headquarters in Abilene, and of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, with headquarters in Washington, D. C.

Heard some good citizens say that they didn't want to belong to my Chamber because they didn't agree with some of the policies of those other two organizations. Thought it best if I found out the facts because I just couldn't see how my Chamber of Commerce could consistently be for home government and against state and federal intervention in local affairs if it was taking its orders from some where else. Well, here is what I found.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce, like the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, is made up of people interested in the economic development and growth of West Texas. Membership is entirely voluntary. It is governed by a Board of Directors with one director being elected from each county in the West Texas Area. This Board of Directors determines policies which are carried out through committees and the paid staff, just as is the case with my Chamber of Commerce.

The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, as a voluntary member of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, has a vote in the determination of the policies of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce through the election of a director to serve this area. Henry Sears is that director at the present time.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has absolutely no say in the policies of my Chamber of Commerce. The policies of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce are not the policies of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

This same relationship exists with the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, an organization created early in this century at the request of President Taft, to represent the legislative interests of business. The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce has a vote, actually two votes, in electing the directors of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and in determining the policies of that organization. It has absolutely no authority over the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

Why, then, does this Chamber of Commerce continue to support those organizations when their policies do not agree on some matters? Because of the excellent work done by those organizations in those fields where we do agree. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce, for example, has for many years done a tremendous job in working for the farmers of West Texas to protect the bracero labor supply against attacks from Congress and the Federal Department of Labor. Currently it is working continuously in support of the sugar beet legislation effort and has had a man in Washington almost constantly during the current legislative session.

While many local farmers may not agree on policies of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce in relation to agriculture, few can say that they disagree with that organization's strong fight against the abuse of labor union power. That organization provides invaluable aid to the staff of my Chamber and to its committees in legislative resource materials, professional training, visual aids, Chamber of Commerce administrative research and many other services.

Sam, in summary I find that the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce is controlled completely by the people in Deaf Smith County who are members, that the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce exerts a measure of control over the policies of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and that, further, there is no connection between, say, the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce and the Castro Chamber of Commerce. In the opinion of the Directors, the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce receives full value in return in the form of services for its small membership subscription paid to those two organizations.

That's my report on the independence of my County Chamber of Commerce.

Plans Made For Club Luncheon

Plans were completed for an end-of-the-year luncheon to be held in Amarillo on Tuesday, May 16, when members of the Mon Amis Study Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Earl Lance Jr.

Mrs. Clayton Watkins was in charge of the program, which dealt with interesting information concerning the state of Kentucky.

Mrs. Laurence Jackson served as co-hostess as she and Mrs. Lance served refreshments of cherry pie and coffee to Mesdames Kenneth Christie, Jim Lookingbill, Bob Noland, David Hutchins, Bill Cotton, Clayton Watkins, Ted Godfrey, Earl Lance Jr. and the hostesses.

Glass is believed to be the oldest manufactured substance in the world.

Installation Luncheon Held For Pioneer Club

The home of Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill Sr. was the setting Tuesday morning for a coffee honoring members and new officers of Pioneer Study Club. To carry out the western theme, guests came attired in western or pioneer clothing. Mrs. Lookingbill had decorated the receiving rooms with colorful arrangements of irises for floral notes.

Mrs. Ralph McCullough, president, called the business meeting to order and Mrs. E. S. Ireland led the club collect. During the order of business, Mrs. Bess Werner, Federation Director, presented the calendar for the next club year. The club also accepted the recommendation of the yearbook chairman, Mrs. Ray Johnson, for next year's study, which will be "New Demissions."

Also discussed was Pioneer Day, which is scheduled May 31. Pioneer Study Club will be hostess for this yearly affair. Members voted to make a contribution to the House of Friends at the Labor Camp and to aid with the planting for the Hereford Beautification Program.

Highlight of the business meeting was the butchering of the "Birthday Pig" with Mrs. H. E. Miller doing the honors. Members have contributed to this pig on their birthdays, with the money to be used in their various projects.

Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr. gave a report on the class she attended in Amarillo on literacy, which was taught by two professors from Baylor University in Waco.

"People who have less than a third grade education are defined as illiterate," Mrs. Hill said. "There are 2,000 persons in Hereford and over 10,000 persons in the Panhandle who can neither read nor write."

A school for teaching illiterates to read and write is in the planning stages by Pioneer Study Club.

Mrs. Ray R. Johnson introduced the program on "History of The Spheres of Influence." Mrs. Hill then gave several incidents on the history of Pioneer Study Club.

"The Pioneer Study Club was organized in March of 1909 for the purpose of educating the primary school children against the evils of tobacco," Mrs. Hill stated.

She went on to tell of the organization by Pioneer members of La Plata Study Club in 1933, which was called the Junior Club. During the presidency of Mrs. M. D. Womack, the Lone Star Study Club was organized. Mrs. Hill also said that Pioneer Club held a deed to Mother's Park, which was given it many years ago.

Mrs. J. M. Gilliland, charter member of the club, moved to accept the history given by Mrs. Hill as authentic.

The group then adjourned to the El Corral for a luncheon and installation. The tables were decorated with a western theme, with cowboy boots holding yellow roses as focal points. Gay checked napkins and big cowboy hats completed the table arrangements.

Mrs. O. G. Hill Jr. installed the following officers during an impressive ceremony: Mrs. Ralph McCullough, president; Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill, senior vice-president; Mrs. Delmar Sigle, recording secretary; Mrs. C. N. McClure, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Hill, treasurer; Mrs. Bess Werner, parliamentarian; Mrs. Gladys Miller, Federation director; Mrs. Bess Phillips, scrapbook chairman; and Mrs. Ray Johnson, yearbook chairman.

Those attending were Mesdames Fred Barrett, Allen Bell, Buddie Evans, N. E. Gass, O. G. Hill, E. S. Ireland, Ray Johnson, F. M. Kester, L. H. Lookingbill Sr., A. L. Manjeot, Ralph McCullough, H. E. Miller, John Patton, Wirt Phillips, Mary Seigler, Delmar Sigle, C. R. Walsler, Bess Werner, Myrtle Wright, Roy Lee Wilson, P. B. Sowell, R. J. Smith, Burl France, J. M. Gilliland and Miss Roberta Campbell.

MRS. PROWELL HOSTESS

Mrs. Patterson Has Program At La Plata

Mrs. Elmer Patterson presented a program on "1960 Census" at a recent meeting of La Plata Study Club. Members were entertained in the home of Mrs. Frank Prowell, hostess for the evening.

Mrs. Patterson, during her program presentation, reported that the first census ever taken in the United States cost the government $4,000. She stated that several censuses are taken over a period of five years in the fields of agriculture, business and manufacturing.

She also told listeners that among the reasons for taking a census are determining the number of representatives from each state to the House of Representatives, business ventures, and to aid schools in long range planning. Mrs. Patterson said that the 1960 census showed, generally, that large metropolitan areas are losing population and that the Western United States is growing more rapidly than other areas.

The next meeting was announced for May 16, when a salad supper will be held in the home of Mrs. Bill Thompson. An installation of new officers will be held at that time.

Those attending the meeting were Mesdames A. J.

Schroeter, Jay Boston, T. E. Seigler, Raymond White, Louis Woodford, N. D. Bartlett, Joe Smith, Jack Brown, Elmer Patterson, Lloyd McGee, Joel Hodges, John Madison, Urlin Sireu, C. L. Chisholm, Don Little and the hostess Mrs. Prowell.

Installation Held By Beta Sigma Phi

Installation of officers for Kappa Iota Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, was held recently at the Community Center with Vida Grady serving as hostess.

The following officers were installed: Nita Roberson, president; Joyce Hickman, vice-president; Wanda Coker, secretary; Vida Grady, corresponding secretary; Earline Schneider, treasurer; Wilma Baugous, extension officer; Betty Barrett, civil defense; and Jerry Bainum, Nell Williams and Jo Carter, city council.

Club members discussed the donation of three card tables and a large percolator which they recently made to the Community Center as a part of their yearly project.

Next meeting will be a salad supper in the Community Room of the First National Bank at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, May 16, at which time a film on Communism will be shown.

Present for the installation meeting were Teddy Alexander, Jerry Bainum, Betty Barrett, Joe Carter, Wanda Coker, Rose Ann Fraser, Mary Jean Gore, Vida Grady, Joyce Hickman, Katie Kendall, Jean McQueary, Joe Miller, Sandra Nicholas, Nita Roberson, Earline Schneider, Geneva Summers, Nell Williams, Ollene Williams, Betty Cope, Claudia Wilson, Mary Walker and Kay Kirkland.

Flaming Moderates...

Time magazine calls attention to a turn to the right in the thinking of many college students. It reports such expressions and beliefs as: "The signs point to a revival of interest in individualism and decentralization of power . . . The right of private property as the best bulwark of freedom . . . unemployment should be alleviated by charity . . . children should obey the Biblical command to honor parents by caring for them in their old age instead of leaving the responsibility to the Social Security Administration." Particularly significant is the reason cited — that youth is rebelling against conformity, "and to many the liberalism of their New Deal-bred elders is the most iron-bound conformity."

Too often we read that today's youth is interested only in security and is willing to pay the price of surrendered individual rights to get it. Apparently this is not true, and that's what makes Time's report such good news. Never before has this country so needed young, forceful and articulate voices to remind us that our invaluable freedoms, our privilege to improve our material position by our individual efforts and, yes, even our obligation to be our brother's keeper, were EARNED by the efforts of individuals and not GIVEN by government.

Time tells of two significant incidents. A stern conservative was recently re-elected student council president at Harvard. And also at Harvard, undergraduates have launched a new magazine, "Advance," aimed at what its publishers call "balanced social progress within the free enterprise system." Its readership, says the publisher, will be the "flaming moderates" of the United States campuses — and he thinks he has a big field.

Palo Duro Summer Theatre Plans Afford Opportunity For This Area

Residents of the Panhandle face an opportunity of tremendous proportions in the proposal to establish and operate a Summer Theatre program in Palo Duro Canyon. The proposal affords at least a two-fold opportunity to Hereford, based on entertainment and participation.

The Panhandle, compared with the rest of our nation, is comparatively new and undeveloped and, like many other new areas, the people have been so busy combating other elements that we have failed to develop the entertainment and cultural phases to our fullest extent. Only now are Dallas, Houston and other Texas cities beginning to move into this particular field on a large scale.

Tremendous upheavals in the moving picture industry, along with development of television, have placed a new emphasis on the Summer Theatre. This is especially true in the eastern United States, where practically every available barn has been transformed into an amateur theatrical spot. Through this source, new talent is discovered annually, and the productions are drawing more and more attention from the film industry and the legitimate stage.

The proposed summer production plan for Palo Duro would be practically without competition and, consequently, it should attract the interest of aspiring artists from over the entire Southwest. Canyon, Amarillo, Hereford, Tulia and Clarendon, due to their geographic locations, would be in a position to benefit extensively from the program.

Hereford, with more clubs to the square inch than possibly any other town in the nation, has already shown tendencies of development along cultural lines. This is due, in a large measure, to temperament of the people and the community — and certainly the proposed theatre project could expect extensive support from this area. Amarillo, already sponsoring an active and capable Little Theatre, would likewise contribute heavily to the program, which should ultimately include Lubbock and the South Plains on an active participation basis.

In addition, we are happy to note that the proposed development would follow a first-class pattern. In this particular area, it appears to us that this is an important facet for rapid success.

The program, no doubt, will follow lines used in finance and construction of the Buffalo Stadium as a Panhandle project, and we believe that it will gain even wider and more substantial support. The Panhandle is proud of the Buffs, but a summer theatre is a far different thing in that it would provide probably the only program of its type in the Southwest — and it might easily become a national and international development.

Senate Balks On Loan Shark Bill

The following telegram, dispatched this week from Ft. Worth, is self explanatory. It is reprinted by The Brand in hopes that people who are interested may further contact officials and friends in behalf of a worthwhile reform program in Texas. The telegram reads:

"Texas voters last November gave the Loan Shark amendment, No. 4, the largest approving vote ever given a state constitutional amendment. With this mandate, the Texas House overwhelmingly passed a bill with effective regulatory provisions to eliminate the 'loan shark' evil.

"Legislation has been introduced into the Senate, but is being delayed in the State Affairs committee. With less than three weeks remaining, the Senate must act now to carry out the will of the people during this session. Your editorial support for passage of effective bill is urgently requested."

Abner McCall, Chairman Texas Committee to eliminate the Loan Shark Evil - President of Baylor University.

When Disaster Strikes Here

Most of us are inclined to ignore disaster until it strikes, and this is especially true concerning tornado and atomic attacks which currently hold an important place in our national defense program.

Under the federal program, plans have been formulated to meet such emergencies. These plans include checking of food for contamination, handling of communications, orderly distribution of necessities, and central warehouse points. Everything appears in order, except for the fact that less than 10 percent of the people actually know where they would go, or what they would do in case disaster strikes.

In case of a severe atomic attack, it is entirely possible that the elaborate handling agencies might easily find themselves without anything at all to do, simply because there would be no people left to serve.

We do not criticize the federal set-up, which is the one bright spot in the picture. We do feel, however, that it is high time that the people took more interest in this protective phase of modern life. Otherwise, those few who are left may easily find themselves in the position of the man who latched the gate after his horse was gone.

Pre-School Plan For Latin Youth

Plans have been announced for pre-school classes in English for Latin-American students who may be having difficulty with our language. Similar programs in other areas have been conducted during summer months, and appear highly practical.

Possible benefits from such courses offer a great potential. In the first place, students who better understand English are far less likely to hold back general class progress, and our public education system already finds itself seeking a medium, rather than a top level.

Of still greater importance is the fact that we are helping to make each of the youngsters a better potential American citizen, chiefly because he will better understand and speak the language. Without this advantage, he will find it difficult to locate his own personal high point in our society.

The plan is so highly practical, in fact, that we can find only one small complaint. We only wish it were possible for the English speaking students to have the same advantage with an optional pre-school course in Spanish.

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Bredie

Before accepting the job of manager of the San Francisco Giants, Alvin Dark conferred with his wife and four children.

"I don't wish this to sound corny," he said later at his first press conference, "but I said to my wife that maybe this wasn't what God intended for us . . . So, we prayed. All of us, for guidance. As the nights and mornings passed we became progressively more enthusiastic."

Dark is a devout Baptist. In a film for the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, he said the Bible "contains all the rules of the game of life. It tells us what Christ expects of us. It's like the home plate in a ball game . . . If we don't know where home plate is, we can't score. Likewise, if we don't know what it is Christ would have us do in life, we don't score there either."

Library Features Good Art, Fascinating Books

BY MRS. R. L. CRISWELL. Deaf Smith County has one of the loveliest libraries. There are special reading rooms decorated with works of art by our local talent. The art is changed from time to time.

These pictures are a delight to the eye and the change is wonderful as it lets each one show his or her best work. Quite a few have sold pictures from this display.

There is a special shelf that should be of interest to all. It is the memorial book shelf. These books were given to the library in memory of loved ones who have crossed the great divide. These books are of art, religion, gardening, landscaping and of the West as it was in frontier days; books of inspiration; serious verse; the Holy Bible, in two versions; and the Bible as history.

They all make wonderful reading and are very well worth the time in taking out to browse through them and to select one or more for relaxing reading or for more serious reading.

Here is a list and if I have left one out, that is understandable as books are brought in pretty often and it is hard to keep a correct list. The different civic clubs of the community or county have contributed many of them. The Chamber of Commerce, and Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Company and many, many individuals have donated them in memory of loved ones.

I do not have a list of all the authors of all these books, but I will list what authors I have and then list the books with just the name:

The Holy Bible; Revised Standard Edition of the Holy Bible, published by Nelson and Sons; The Bible As History, Keller; Israel; The Story Of America's Religions, Hartzell Spence; 1,000 Inspirational Things, Hawthorne;

The Night They Burned The Mountain, Dooley; Let My Heart Be Broken; America's Wonders, by The National Geographic Society; Landscaping And Painting, Carlson; American Origins, Fine; The Gathering Storm, Churchill; Gems and Gem Material, Kraus; What Every Rose Grower Should Know, Allen;

A Pictorial History of Texas, Gambrell; American Trees; Flower Arranging For All Occasions; Party Decorations For Christmas; Flowers Of The World; A Treasury Of American Gardening; Tablesetting and Flower Arranging; The Great Buffalo Hunt; The Living Of These Days;

The Day At San Jacinto; Cattle Kings Of The Staked Plains; In The Cattle Country; The American West; Victory In The Pacific 1945; Tularosa; Santa Fe; A Biography Of The Sea, Carrington; Free Grass And Fences; The Case Of The Foot-loose Doll; The Case Of The Screaming Woman; The Case (Continued on page 2)

GIRLS' RECREATION PROGRAM PUSHED

An effort to organize a summer recreation program for girls has been launched by a group of local women who hope to offer basketball, softball, tennis and craft work to parallel the summer baseball program now offered for boys. Mrs. R. O. Dennis said Wednesday afternoon that cards are being distributed to high school and junior high school age girls to determine their interests, and see what programs will be most needed. Mrs. Dennis said the women sponsoring the effort are thinking in terms of a six to eight week program only since mothers who will be asked to volunteer as adult supervisors and sponsors probably won't have as much time as men are able to devote to the boys' programs. Only one preliminary meeting has been held on the program to date, but an organizational meeting has been called for 4 p. m. Friday, May 12, at the old Junior High School gymnasium.

APRIL PERMITS TOP $100,000

Spurred by increased permits for additions, permits for the second quarter of the year got off to a good start in April. Total permits last month amounted to $105,600 characterized by a slight slow-down in residential building. April's permits were down by about $45,000 from March, which was strengthened by 13 new homes. Last month builders began seven new residences, the lowest number since January. Residential permits totaled $93,000 in April. Three large permits for residential additions boosted the April total. In all additions amounted to $12,600 for the month.

COUNCIL TABLES DRAINAGE ISSUE

City Council members Thursday night heard a report from Ralph Douglas concerning the cost of constructing water drainage from the intersection of Highways 84 and 385. The estimated cost submitted was $90,000. The Council has asked Douglas to make the estimate so that further consideration could be given to a proposal made by state engineer, Oscar L. Crain, on construction of curbs, gutters and a four lane road of Highway 84 from city limit to city limits. The state engineer told the council that no work could begin until a storm sewer system was constructed at the intersection and at several other places along the highway. After lengthy discussion by the Council it was decided that the only way the project could be built and financed was through a bond issue. Therefore, the matter was tabled for further discussion and deliberation.

The BOOTLEG — Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm discusses ignorance this week, a subject on which he claims to have first-hand knowledge. Dear editor:

Although I don't think the fate of the world rests on Cuba — as a matter of fact, I don't know what the fate of the world rests on, maybe nobody, at least there's nobody I can put my finger on — everybody is pretty generally agreed the United States pulled off a diplomatic flop in connection with that country, but that's what I've been thinking about.

What I've been thinking about is that in the past week I've read articles by dozens of columnists, experts, statesmen, etc., and while every one of them can tell you what we did wrong about Cuba, not a one of them can tell you what we should have done that would have been right.

Everybody seems to be outraged at how we could have pulled such a blooper, and everybody keeps on hollering. Why don't we do something about the Cuban situation? But when you ask them what, they shrug and say that's Washington's job.

The editorial writers of this country are first rate at telling us what we did wrong, but when it comes to telling us what we could do right, they've moved on to the next crisis and what we did wrong about that.

Now you might think this is a criticism of the editorial writers and columnists, but it isn't. The reason they don't tell us what we ought to do about Cuba is that they don't know either.

What a lot of people don't understand is that there are a lot of problems in this world to which there ain't no answer.

If you're looking to me to tell you what the answer to Cuba is, I'll tell you just as soon as I figure out what the answer is to the farm problem, tomorrow's weather, the city problem, family squabbles, the value of the dollar, teenagers, middle-agers, old people, earthquakes, television, and why my tractor won't start. Don't wait around for an answer, if you've got any work to do.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

REMEMBER WHEN?

BY CHARLIE SEEDS

This was the first step on the road back . . . a long, hard and costly road, which would ultimately lead to victory. This first step was taken on a day in August, when United States Marines stormed the beaches of the most important of the Solomon Islands . . . Guadalcanal.

It wasn't easy. The Marines quickly won the airfield, which was renamed as Henderson Field. But the force we were able to land was small. We captured only a small area in the early fighting, and the Japanese held the rest of the island.

The battle dragged on for months, in the tropical jungles and on the surrounding seas. Losses were heavy on both sides. For the balance of that year the fight dragged on. Finally, the Japanese were forced to evacuate the island. The first major battle of the South Pacific had been won. Remember when those Marines landed?

Remember the year? That was a year when a car that drove out for its first miles on the road had a long way to go . . . because there weren't going to be any new cars for years. A car had to give real service . . . and so did the car dealer!

The year was 1942. Service is a big part of our business. We have the finest mechanics . . . modern testing equipment . . . superb facilities and a complete stock of parts to give expert service on the cars we sell . . . and on all cars. For tops in sales and service, see CHARLIE SEEDS MOTOR CO., Inc. W. Hwy. 60 at Miles. Phone EM 4-2727.

Since its organization there have been eleven perfect attendances. They include Cindy Cavness, Ruby Emmons, Cherrie Hill, Patricia Hill, Connie Martinez, Alma Moreno, Mary Sue Neff, Patricia Neff, Glenda Riggs and Sherry White.

Songs presented to the Rotary Club were "Hey, Betty Martin," "I Want Two Wings," a Negro spiritual, "With a Hey and Hi and Ho-Ho-Ho" and "Upward Trail".

After the program Cindy Cavness, representative for the group, presented Mrs. Line with a gift of appreciation from the girls.

The Kind Ranch, in two volumes, is a fascinating story of a little boy, bound out to a jeweler by his parents because they were so poor they could not care for him. It tells how he stowed away on a ship in New York. As it sailed further south and he felt the palminess of the air, the faints fell off lower, he knew this was the place where he wanted to stay and there he did stay, making his way by working on ships that moved up the Rio Grande and in time having ships of his own.

He knew all about Wild Horse Desert and about the resent of the Mexican people against the Texans for they said the Nueces River was the boundary between Texas and Mexico, not the Rio Grande.

Go with this tough little boy that learned numbers and attended school for only a few short months but yet established a kingdom in cattle in lands in Texas, a boy who fought bandits, Mexicans or anything that barred his way. But instead of robbing the Mexicans he bought "derechos" for land, but was always fair to the Mexicans in buying the grants to their lands.

A SENATOR "OF THE PEOPLE". John Tower, a native Texan, is not a wealthy man. He understands fully the struggle of the average man to educate himself and to raise a family, for he has first-hand experience in both.

A "MILLIONAIRE" SENATOR. Wm. Blakley, native Missourian, is reputedly one of the nation's richest men. He is a heavy contributor to political parties and candidates. # Many Familiar Ingredients Utilized In German Dishes

(Editor's Note: The following is another in a series of articles about foods in other countries. Developed by the Nutrition and Health Committee of the County Planning Council, they are adapted for use in the Hereford school cafeterias through the cooperation of Mrs. Joe Smith, dietitian.)

BY MRS. J. A. McANDREWS
It is a pleasure to write about the delicious foods of Germany and an even greater pleasure to eat them. The vegetables we raise in Hereford are the mainstay of the diet of Germany. Potatoes, cabbage and onions are the most popular and many are the culinary devices used to show these old favorites in a fascinating form. They appear in the thick soups, the pancakes, in the guise of

Plan Camp At Leaders' Meet

The Campfire and Bluebird leaders met Friday morning at the Campfire hut for their regular monthly meeting.

Mrs. Virgil Marsh gave a report on the plans for summer camp. The Campfire will be held at Ceta Glen Aug. 26. Mrs. Marsh said that all girls planning to go to camp must register by June 1 and pay a $2 deposit which is not refundable. Camp capacity is 150 people and after June 1 vacant places will be filled by the Campfire girls from Amarillo and some non-Campfire girls from Hereford. Mrs. Marsh stressed the importance of registering by June 1 because later there may not be a space open.

Mrs. Don Little reported that the first year Bluebirds will go to Ceta Glen on Aug. 4 for their day camp. The second year Bluebirds will attend day camp Aug. 5.

Mrs. Earnest Langley reported on the activities of the program committee. She recommended that the group hold the city wide Grand Council fire next fall, probably in October.

The leaders also heard a report concerning newspaper publicity and were asked to turn in any news items at the hut and Mrs. Eugene Noel will prepare them for the newspaper.

Those attending were Mesdames Louise Springer, Beulah Cargo, Pat Borland, Mary Stoy, Joyce Sanders, Nicki Dameron, Barbara Cooper, Helen Langley, Mary Stapp, Abbie Crume, Thelma Marsh and Jan Little.

sauerkraut, as a seasoning and a garnish.

Among the tasty meat dishes served are Eiseln mit Sauer-kohl und Erbsenpuree, pig's knuckles boiled until the meat parts from the bone easily, served then with boiled potatoes, sauerkraut and mashed yellow peas, the latter dressed with fried onions; Schmorbraten, beef cut into small cubes or pieces or in the whole piece, marinated and then cooked in a brown sauce and served with laurel leaves and served with boiled potatoes. When vinegar is added to the sauce it is called Sauerbraten.

Wurst is sausage and there are so many kinds it would be impossible to list them. A recent article in one of the magazines told of a sausage firm in this country that makes over sixty different kinds. Imagine what the total would be in a country where almost every rural family has its own special recipe!

Wiener Schnitzel is a favorite German dish and most popular with Americans who have tried it. This is the recipe...

Wiener Schnitzel
Brown veal cutlets which have been breaded, in butter over a low heat. When fully cooked, remove to warm platter and garnish with anchovies and capers. Serve with a small wedge of lemon for each diner to squeeze over his serving. The anchovies and capers are optional, although they add an authentic touch, but the lemon is a must!

Although traditionally served with Sauerbraten, potato pancakes also are good with Schnitzel.

Pfannkuchen (Potato Pancakes)

3 cups raw grated white potatoes
2 whole eggs, well beaten
1 1/2 tablespoons flour
1/8 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
Peel large potatoes and cover with cold water. Let soak several hours before using. Pour off the water and grate potatoes. Drain thoroughly. Add the well beaten eggs to the grated potatoes and mix lightly; stir in the remaining ingredients. Drop from teaspoon on a hot well greased skillet and brown on both sides. Serve with apple sauce.

Among all the interesting and unusual cakes and cookies of Germany, the Tortes stand out. There are two kinds of these... one consists of layer after layer of rich cake with an even richer filling between which is then iced with shiny frosting. The other is a mixture of fruit or nuts incorporated in a sugary egg mixture with a very little flour. Because I could not decide which of these Tortes was the best, I'm giving you both recipes and you can be the judge.

Apfel Torte (Apple Torte) No. I
2 large apples, sliced
3/4 cups sugar
1 egg
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 cup flour
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup chopped nutmeats
Mix in order given; place in well buttered casserole. Bake 30 minutes in 360 degree oven. Serve warm with whipped cream.

Apfel Torte (Apple Torte) No. II
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1 egg
1 cup flour
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/4 teaspoon salt
Sift dry ingredients together. Cut in shortening until crumbly. Add egg and mix well. Pat into a loaf pan, cover with filling and bake 25 minutes in 350 degree oven. Serve with top milk or whipped cream. Filling: Cook together 2 cups sliced apples and 1/2 cup raisins, sweetened to taste.

A meal, such as will be served in our school cafeteria, of Wiener Schnitzel, Potato Pancakes, Vegetables and Apple Torte is appealing, well-balanced and most delicious.

Next month we will have some Lebanese recipes. We hope you will join us then.

Community Residents Attend School Play

BY DONNA THOMPSON
The Dawn School play was held at the Dawn School auditorium Thursday at 8 p.m. All of the Dawn community turned out to see it.
J. N. Killingsworth, a teacher and also principal of the school, gave a brief talk before the play started, stating the work and cooperation of the mothers and students who helped in organizing the costumes and scenery that were used. Some of the mothers who helped in the changing of costumes during the intermissions were Mrs. Ted Richardson, Mrs. Jack Ward Jr., Mrs. Dick Golden and Mrs. R. T. Stewart.
The play was divided into two parts, the younger group consisting of the smaller grades and the other group was of the higher grades.
The program, in order of appearance of the younger group in "Red Riding Hood," was Linda Stewart, the mother; Belinda Spear, Red Riding Hood; Jerry Stewart, Mr. Wolf; Carol Newman, the water sprite; Robert Richardson, Ricki Ward, Dion Miller and George Fuller, the hunters; Ted Richardson and Michael Criddle, the tree dryades; Jim Fowler, the earth grime; and Patricia Schenk, Gayle Crump, Susan Cox, Shirley Algers, Charisse Crump and Janet Miller, the fairies.
The second half of the program was entitled "Out of the Air." It was so called because it was entirely dedicated to television programming.

The first player to appear was Jim Fowler, the TV fan. The TV announcer was played by Douglas May.
The program following was "Sweet and Low," sung by the group. Then a poem called "Sea Fever" was recited by Gary Richardson. A picture of the "Torn Hat" portrayed by Gene Schenk followed. "In Switzerland" was played out by Phyllis Richardson and Linda Stewart. Then came a group of Irish songs from the group.
At one point of the program Douglas May, who was the announcer, had to ad lib a little as the group had a change of costumes. He very slowly walked out on the stage and stated, "There will be a pause in the program. Please stand by, we are having 'network trouble.'"
Then came "In Japan," with Dianna Golden and Kyla Higgins playing. Kaye Ward, Vicki Crump, Janice Hooten, Janice Galley, Judy Ward and Linda Stewart played in the "Dutch Daughters." In "Three Black Crows," Gary Richardson and Louis Schenk played. The TV spirit was Phyllis Richardson.
Mr. and Mrs. David Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cathey spent Sunday at Buffalo Lake. They returned earlier than they planned because of the wind.
Mr. and Mrs. Ted Richardson and their family spent Sunday at Palo Duro Canyon. Others there were Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Burgess and Mrs. Martha Richardson and her son, Sammy. They returned home last Sunday afternoon.

Then Mrs. Martha Richardson returned to Littlefield, where she and her son reside. Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Beavers spent Sunday afternoon in Vega. They are the parents of a new baby girl. They also have a son that is three years old.
Phyllis Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Richardson, spent Friday night with Janice Galley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Galley.
The Home Demonstration Club will meet May 19. It was to be held in the home of Mrs. Carl Cathey, but due to her being away it will be held elsewhere. Check with your Home Demonstration agent early for more information.
Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gentry spent Friday and Saturday in Austin and Dallas. They went for their son, James, who won third in the State extemporaneous speech contest. His speech was a discussion on "Changes in the Democratic Party in the new administration."
The Dawn Home Demonstration Club luncheon was held recently in the home of Mrs. L. W. Tooley. It was a salad luncheon. The majority of the members were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Carlhe were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. McCabe last Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. Stanley McKenzie of Sequin, Tex., and Mrs. J. K. McKenzie of Miami, Tex., visited the H. V. McCabe family Saturday. Mrs. McKenzie is Mrs. Mary Byrds sister. Mrs. Byrd is Mrs. McCabe's mother.
Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Linderman had supper with the H. J. Schumachers at Hereford recently. After supper, the two families played 42.
Charlene Linderman spent Friday evening through Sunday with Christi Robbs at Hereford recently. Charlene is the daughter of the T. E. Lindermans.
Mr. and Mrs. Ted Richardson and niece, Donna Thompson, recently spent the day in Littlefield. Mrs. Thompson's mother and father, the Richard Henshaw's, reside there. Richardson's mother, Myrtle Richardson also lives there. They returned home that same day.

Cardinals Capture Opening Victory Over Dodgers, 9-7

Cardinals won their Little League opener Tuesday night with a 9-7 victory over the Dodgers. They had to rally for seven runs in the third and fourth innings to do it in a closely-matched game.
Jerry Fowlkes provided the margin for victory with a three-run homer in the fourth as the Cardinals came from behind.
The Cards scored two runs as the game opened. Larry Brown got on by fielder's choice. With two outs, Alvin Davis singled. Jerry Fowlkes singled in Brown and Davis scored on an error.
Mike Davis got on and scored for the Dodgers in the last of the first. He was hit by the pitcher, moved to second as another batter was hit and came in on Bill Watts' single.

The Dodgers went in front 4-2 in the second on three runs. Mike Higgins doubled and Gary Story walked. Doug Banner singled in a run, Mike Davis singled in another and Banner scored on an error.
Then it was time for the Cards to take the lead. They added three runs in the third for a 5-4 margin. Joe Sanchez got on by error. Alvin Davis singled and both moved up on a passed ball. Phillip Cain and Mitchell Bell walked to push in one run. An error allowed two more in.
After holding the Dodgers scoreless, the Cards added four runs in the fourth. Wayne Maddox and Alvin Davis singled before Jerry Fowlkes hit one over the fence. Then Phillip Cain doubled and came in on an error.
The Dodgers fought back in the bottom of the fourth, adding two runs. David Evans got on by error. Bill Watts singled. Evans scored on an error and Watts came in on a passed ball.
Both teams were scoreless until the last of the sixth, when the Dodgers added one more run. Dusty Duncan walked and took third on two more walks. He tallied on a passed ball.
The Cards picked up nine runs on seven hits, while the Dodgers got seven runs on six hits. Each team was charged with six errors.

In the minor league game, the Cardinals and the Dodgers had their game called because of time with the score tied 9-9.
Alvin Davis and Lee Robinson pitched for the Cardinals. On the mound for the Dodgers were Gary Story, David Casas and David Evans.

A Note To Our Non-Catholic Neighbors

Catholics and non-Catholics, as a rule, get along right well together. Our families live amicably next door to each other and often become lifetime friends. Our sons fight side by side on every battlefield. We work together in the same shops and factories and we play together.

But in religion . . . where this close association does not exist . . . there is often a regrettable lack of understanding and a corresponding absence of good-will. Many people, for instance, have all sorts of false ideas about Catholics and the Catholic Church. They actually believe that Catholics worship statues. That many sordid things happen behind convent walls . . . that Catholics do not believe in the Bible or that Catholics practice superstitions.

If you wish to know the truth about the Catholic Church and her teachings, write for a free pamphlet explaining Catholic teachings. Write to: Home Study Center, P. O. Box 5644, Amarillo, Texas.
