In connection with the story on this page about Senator Yarborough's backing on changes in the Sugar Act, it is interesting to note that the House Agriculture Committee voted 33-0 to approve the President's request for authority over foreign sugar quotas. Last week, the committee turned down the proposal 19-14 on a party-line vote. But they changed their minds after Secretary of State Herter briefed them on the current situation in Cuba. Although Herter made his statements behind closed doors, it must have been a humdrum of a briefing to change the minds of 14 strong-willed Congressmen.

Still along legislative lines, the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District has outlined plans for a test case in an effort to get underground water declared a de-

City Swim Meet Slated July 9

A local swim meet will be held in Hereford Saturday, July 9 sponsored by the Hereford Athletic Club.

The meet will begin at 9 a.m., but all participants should be at the city pool by 8:30 a.m. There will be four categories of competition: free style, back stroke, breast stroke and butterfly stroke.

Boys and girls will not compete against each other. There will be four divisions for the boys and four divisions for the girls. Both sets of divisions will have the same age limits. They are Division I, 10 years and under; Division II, 11 and 12 years; Division III, 13 and 14 years; and Division IV, 15 and 16 years.

Persons who want to practice before the meet can work out with the Hereford swim team each morning from 7 to 8:30. All competitive races will start from the shallow end of the pool so participants must know how to do a shallow dive.

HOT WEATHER which has prevailed over the Hereford area the past week makes even water from a garden hose seem refreshing. County To Condemn Rest Of Needed Hiway Right-Of-Way

More Than 75% Of Wheat Cut

Wheat harvest in Deaf Smith County is nearing completion, with top yields reported from one end of the county to the other.

Most grain elevators estimated the harvest was about 75 per cent completed, although estimates ranged from 65 to 95 per cent, depending upon location.

Fields in the southern portion of the county are almost finished, with irrigated wheat averaging about 55 bushels to the acre. What little grain remains in the field is expected to be cut by Thursday.

In the north and central portions of the county, about 75 per cent of the estimated 155,000 acres has been harvested. Only irrigated wheat is still in the fields. Some farmers said they were almost finished, but the last of the irrigated wheat probably won't be cut until the last of next week.

Yields on the irrigated grain are running an average of about 55 bushels, but many reports are going as high as 80 bushels on top irrigated land.

The final harvest report from the Texas Labor Commission was issued this week, indicating the crop is almost all finished. They said there was no shortage of combines, trucks or manpower to complete the harvest in this area.

A total on the number of bushels harvested probably won't be available until next week.

Fine Youth For Violating City Fireworks Law

City Police this week again reminded the public that it is against an existing city ordinance to discharge any type of fireworks inside the city limits.

An 18-year-old Friona youth, Weldon Earl Little, was arrested in Hereford on such a charge. He and three 16-year-old companions were picked up about 10:30 p. m. Saturday on a complaint that the four were throwing firecrackers at cars on Main Street.

The three younger boys were released to their parents. Little posted a $25 cash bail bond, which was forfeited on an automatic plea of guilty when he failed to appear in Corporation Court Monday morning.

Arresting officer was patrolman Bobby Roberts.

Police announced this week that they would arrest all violators of the city law prohibiting discharge of fireworks in the city.

Deaf Smith County Commissioners spent most of their session Monday morning in a discussion about right-of-way purchases along U. S. Highway 63 east from Hereford.

Knox Parr of Amarillo, Texas Highway Department right-of-way agent, and Vernon York of Hereford, resident engineer, were on hand to talk with the court about the 13 remaining parcels to be acquired.

The court thought about five of these parcels could be purchased. The remainder will be sent into eminent domain (condemnation) proceedings.

Parr apologized to the court for the state's delay in getting needed appraisals on improvements which are included in the needed right-of-way for expansion of the highway to four lanes from Hereford to the Randall County line.

Both Parr and Knox said the state was anxious to get all the right-of-way so the contract could be let for the project. The state and county share in cost of right-of-way acquisition.

In eminent domain proceedings, the commissioners court would appoint three impartial landowners to hear both sides of the case, and render a decision on the true value of the land.

Any appeal from such proceedings would be heard by a special board of six landowners.

On hand Monday morning to hear the discussion were James A. McAndrews and C. Palmer Norton, both of whom have land needed for right-of-way.

In other action, the court turned down a request for a road southeast of Hereford. Commissioners felt the road would be of unusual expense, since construction would go across Tierra Blanca canyon and because maintenance would be excessively high.

Senator Backs Ike's Request For Control Of Cuban Sugar

In support of pending legislation to allow President Eisenhower more freedom in altering sugar quotas, particularly for Cuba, Sen. Ralph Yarborough made a statement on the floor of the Senate Tuesday.

Senator Yarborough's statement was:

"The decision of Fidel Castro to enter into economic agreements with Russia, and his continuing hostile and insulting manner in whipping up Cuban resentment against America makes it mandatory that we approve President Eisenhower's request for discretionary powers to alter the Cuban sugar quota.

"Possibility that we will have to alter the Cuban sugar quota does not grow as an act of economic reprisal against the Cuban people whom we have long regarded and still regard and treat as good neighbors. But events of Castro's own making are driving us to a position where we cannot afford to be reliant on Cuban supply for too large a share of our sugar. When I say that as a nation and a people we have befriended Cuba and went even to extreme to use her sugar, many Texas farmers know what I'm talking about.

As a matter of fact, at considerable injustice to some Texas and other American farmers, the administration has limited American farmers' sugar production to only 27 per cent of the American market, while allowing Cuba and other friendly nations large shares of our sugar quota.

"For example, farmers of many counties of the Texas panhandle, and upper south plains area can produce excellent beet sugar crops and it will bring more money, about $100 to $150 per acre, than most other crops.

Minister From Iceland Describes His Home During Labors In Camp

By SUE MUECK BRAND STAFF REPORTER

Kristjan Buason, a Lutheran minister from Iceland, left his home to spend three months in Hereford helping the students who are building the community center for the labor camp.

Buason left Northern Iceland on Thursday, June 16 and arrived in Amarillo on Saturday, June 18. The Ecumenical Exchange Program of the World

Council of Churches invited one member from his church to come to the United States. The Disciples of Christ are sponsoring his three-months visit and have arranged for him to work with the migrant ministry.

"The people in the United States have been very hospitable, friendly and helpful and I am very glad I can help work to build the community center here. As Christians, we should share our goods and privileges with others who don't have them," the 27-year-old Icelander said. Buason has been a Lutheran minister for two years in the village of Olafsfjorthur in Northern Iceland.

During the past 60 years there has been a great change from the rural life in Iceland to the urban life, but the church has not adjusted to the change, he said.

"Sixty years ago about 80 per cent of the population of Iceland lived in the rural communities. Now about one half of the population lives in towns and cities", Buason said.

Due to the fact that the churches did not adjust with the rural to urban change, there are differences in the Churches of Iceland and those in the United States.

For example, the Sunday School is only for children. All children from one year to 14 years go to Sunday School together and they have their Sunday School in the sanctuary of the church for lack of Sunday School rooms.

Tokyo Joe's Bout Didn't Follow Script

Phillip Sylva of Amarillo, better known as Tokyo Joe, learned the hard way to confine his wrestling matches to the ring while in Hereford Saturday night.

Sylva Monday forfeited a $50 cash bail bond with an automatic plea of guilty in Corporation Court for resisting arrest. He failed to appear to answer the charge.

The burly, 32-year-old professional wrestler was subdued Saturday night after his scheduled bout with Bob Geigel failed to follow the script. According to witnesses, the Honolulu-born grappler had been drinking before the bout. His fight with Geigel first moved outside the ring and in to the bleacher seats, then on to the floor of the Bull Barn and finally outside.

Issue Warning Against Burning Wheat Stubble

"Smoke costs farmers money," warns technicians with the local Soil Conservation Service. Farmers who burn wheat residues have failed to realize the benefits of these residues. Dollars as well as long time soil improvement goes up in smoke when residues are burned.

Wheat stubble that is returned to the soil will give such important long time benefits as increased moisture holding capacity, fertility holding capacity, more organic material, and better soil tilth, according to Don Newman, local SCS technician.

Surface crusting is one of the main problems of burning residues. When all the organic materials are removed, the soil tends to bake or crust. This (Continued on page 2)

Former Teacher Given Sentence On Contributing

A former Hereford school teacher, Henry Tyler Romine, Tuesday was found guilty of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

He was sentenced to 30 days in jail and fined $100 plus $37.60 court costs.

Romine was indicted by the 69th District Grand Jury on April 12, with instructions that the case be transferred to County Court.

Judge Homer E. Henslee assessed the sentence Tuesday after Romine's lawyer appeared to plead him guilty. Romine did not appear. The sentence is to be served in the Dallas County jail.

Romine currently is on probation from Dallas County on a five-year sentence for a morals violation.

Romine was dismissed by the school from his post as driver education teacher at Stanton Junior High School before the grand jury met. He was not in custody at the time the indictment was returned.

Traffic Watch For Holiday Scheduled

In the face of heavy traffic and favorable weather, local law enforcement agencies will be keeping a close watch to prevent accidents from marring Fourth of July trips.

Texas Highway Patrol Sgt. Roger Sosebee Wednesday said his units, which operate in Deaf Smith, Parmer, Castro and Oldham Counties, would be operating around the clock from Saturday through Monday.

"We are going to watch particularly for hazardous violations which might lead to accidents," Sgt. Sosebee said. "Our major concern will be with drinking drivers and speeders."

City police and county sheriff's units also will be checking traffic closely in order to prevent accidents. The Texas Safety Association Wednesday estimated 27 persons would be killed in motor vehicle accidents in the state from Saturday through Monday night.

Throughout the nation, traffic fatalities are expected to climb more than 300 and could go as high as 500.

Safety officials also are concerned about the expected high death rate during the holiday from water accidents.

They warned particularly about swimming in unguarded waters or boating without life preservers. "Not since 1946 has Texas had a Fourth of July without a traffic fatality," the Texas Department of Public Safety warned.

All persons interested in a beginning German class are asked to meet with Madame Ali Ghitto of Amarillo on Friday at 1:30 p. m. in the Methodist youth building, 107 W. 6th.

Two Hereford men were fined Monday after an altercation Saturday night. Tommy Gonzalez, 23, was fined $25 and costs for disturbance and simple assault. Frank Hernandez, who received several small knife wounds in the fight, was fined $25 for affray. Both cases were heard in County Court.

Tickets were issued to both drivers after a collision on Park Avenue near Avenue B Sunday night. Jan David Wallace, 19, got a ticket for negligent collision by improper observation and Donald Edward Jackson, 19, was ticketed for failure to give a stop signal. Damage amounted to about $175 to Wallace's car and $75 to Jackson's.

League president Glen Nelson announced the Pony League will have doubleheader baseball games on Monday and Tuesday, July 4 and 5, in order to make up games which were missed because of rain.

Friday night, in Little League action, Yankee Steve Hodges pitched a no-hit, no-run game as the Giants fell, 19-0. Hodges struck out 12 and walked five. In the minor league game, the Cardinals eased by the Giants 8-6. Must have been a good night for "Giant killers".

And in the Pony League game, the Indians went on the warpath again in trampling the White Sox 21-3. Lynn Warren pitched four innings of no-hit, no-run ball for the Indians.

It may sound trite and silly, but we still want to urge each of you to be particularly careful if you are traveling during the coming holiday week end.

 "Yet Texas farmers are allotted only 1800 acres for sugar beet production despite the fact that they have many times requested additional acreage allotments. Ironically, instead of being permitted to raise more sugar for the tables of America, a commodity which can be used, they are left with land on which they raise wheat or grain sorghums, grains already in fantastic surplus.

"With this situation confronting us, I strongly urge the administration to take firm steps to allocate more of the American sugar quota to the American farmer and to establish new quotas which will not to a substantial degree leave supply of this vital commodity in America to the whim of the unsound, slanderous, double-dealing tyrant."

 that meet during the week; only a very few have adult Bible classes.

"The children receive a Christian education in the home and in school two days a week for four years," Buason said.

In the larger towns, church is held at 11 a. m. and Sunday School is held at 1:30 p. m. In the small towns Sunday School is held at 11 a. m. and Church at 2 p. m.

The YMCA and the YWCA often gather about 1000 young people together every Sunday for youth services in Reykjavik, the capitol city. These two organizations have been working in Iceland for about 60 years, he said.

The adult organizations in Buason's church take care of the church building and a large memorial stone which stands outside the church yard. The stone stands in memory of all the seamen who have died or drowned at sea, and it contains all their names.

"The local security organizations build houses along the dangerous parts of the shores and furnish the houses with food. In case survivors from a sinking ship are able to get ashore there will be houses and food for them," Buason said.

One of the celebrated holidays is Christmas. On December 24 the people go to church from 6 p. m. until 7 p. m. After Church they return home to eat and read Christmas cards or listen to the radio for greetings from the seamen who are at sea.

"We gather around the Christmas tree to sing carols and hymns such as 'Silent Night, Holy Night' and then someone is chosen to give out the gifts which are stacked under the tree," he said.

On December 25 and 26, they do no work. They go to church either at 11 a. m., 2 p. m. or 5 p. m. There are no movies mine. But top production can be obtained only on fertile soil. And natural fertility can be maintained only through efficient use of crop residues.

"It is just plain common sense that we can not expect to keep taking from the soil and never return anything to it. Commercial fertilizers are most effective when applied on land where organic material from crop residues are present," Newman concluded.

on the 25th because it is a very holy day. Movies continue on the 26th. The best movies are shown during the Christmas season.

On the Sunday between Christmas and New Year's Day, Buason holds a special service for the fishermen who are about to go on fishing trips into southern Iceland. The biggest factor in Iceland's economic life is its fisheries. Sea products account for 95 per cent of Iceland's exports, Buason said.

The Icelanders call the New Year's Eve Old Year's Day and it becomes holy about 6 p. m. The Premier of Iceland speaks to the people on Old Year's Day.

The people gather at midnight in the church to bring in the new year. The youths and adults fill the church for a half hour to pray and meditate. At 11 a. m. on New Year's Day the people attend church and at 2 p. m. the president of Iceland makes a speech to the people.

Buason was born and grew up in Reykjavik, the capitol of Iceland. The name means the Bay of Smokes and was named for the hot springs in its neighborhood.

He attended elementary school until he was 12 years old. From 12 to 14 years of age, he attended middle school and then for two years he attended real school.

After real school, he went to gymnasium for four years and later entered the School of Theology at the University of Iceland. He graduated from the University in 1958 after studying in Germany in 1955-56.

Buason is married and has two daughters. The children in Iceland always take the first name of the father as their last name.

He has three brothers and one sister. His sister is a nurse. Two of the brothers are twins. One is studying technology and the other is studying to be a mechanic. The third brother will enter gymnasium school next year.

"My one wish is to study more theology," said Buason. He said he had no hobbies because his ministry required all his time.

Buason is a member of the Rotary Club. In the village where he lives, the Rotary Club consists of 20 members but it is quite large in the capitol city he said.

This is his second visit to the United States. He attended the World Council of Churches which was held in Evanston, Ill., in 1954.

 benefit only a few persons. Commissioners read a letter from McMorries and Company of Amarillo, citing firm bids for the county, school and city on a joint re-valuation of property. Two weeks ago, a representative of the company had appeared before the court, but no action was taken on the proposal.

In the letter, James McMorries proposed the following charges:

For 2169 property units in the city, the three taxing agencies would be charged $2800 each. For the 640 sections in the county where the school is concerned, the charge would be $4160 each to the county and the school.

In addition, the 63 sections for the school outside the county would be $819. There are 680 sections in the county outside the school, which would cost the county $11,180.

Thus, the total for the job would be $2800 to the city, $7779 for the school and $18,140 to the county.

McMorries further proposed that the cost cited would be cut 50 cents per unit if all three taxing agencies participated.

Commissioners heard a request that the county participate in the cost of a radar unit to be operated in three counties by the Texas Highway Patrol.

The court agreed to participate if Farmer and Castro Counties also agree. Patrol Sgt. Roger Sosebee made the request, saying the unit would cost about $995 and would be operated in two cars in the three counties on an equal basis.

prevented the Castro County commission from voting on the project.

During his presentation, Sgt. Sosebee emphasized the unit would tend to slow down highway traffic, thus cutting accidents.

When I was younger I had "bad days"; now, I am having "bad weeks" — and the past seven days may be considered a prime example. Mostly, I am suffering from a severe case of "Foot and Mouth" disease, having once again literally done exactly that.

Remember that paragraph on the difficulty of describing how to milk a cow — without using your hands? All of the time, I meant not using your hands in the description, but about half of the readers seem to figure on not using hands in the process of milking. I am so confused now that I don't understand it myself. Probably the sentence should have read: "Without using your hands, tell how to milk a cow." As a result, I am getting a lot of static; worse yet, I cannot tell if people are laughing at me or with me, except in a few cases. The only good thing I did was to point out that I would be sole judge. This afterthought can be attributed to editorial skittishness which comes as a sort of second sense, gained only through eating so many of my own words.

Former Brandman Ben Ezzell was laughing at me for sure when he fired a telegram Monday from Canadian, Texas, which read: "Use your mouth! Regards." As sole judge, I am happy to inform you that Mr. Ezzell has not the ghost of a chance to win the 10 bucks.

Could be J. J. Durham was kidding me, maybe not, but he didn't crack a smile when he advised: "The answer to your cow milking problem is simple. Just turn in the calf, and you'll get more money out of the deal than by selling the milk." Rose Ann Noggler had about the same answer. She says:

"The best way to milk a cow without using hands is to allow the calf to nurse. This way the cow is milked; and look, Dan, no hands!"

There were several other suggestions along this line. Al Leach of Berger says just slip on the suction cups, turn on the electric motor, and read the paper. It's that simple. As sole judge, I figure that first prize should go to a lady who signs her name as "City Girl", and who asks — in case she should win — that the $10 be contributed to the Labor Camp Community Center. Her entry reads:

"First, convince the cow that she wants to be milked. To milk her by coving her would lead to neurosis, and who wants a moody moo — cow milker?"

"Some cows may resort to swift kicks, aimed at the milker. Don't be intimidated. Kick her right back.

"After the necessary stance has been obtained, warily approach her mid-section from the right (how cows know left from right, beats me) and, holding pail underneath her appendages, grasp firmly and squeeze. Disregard any unfriendly demeanor, such as a switched tail full of cockleburrs in your eye, a hoof in the milk pail, etc. Resolve that this cow is going to be milked.

"Continue in this fashion until the pail is full.

"Ask any cowboy, there's nothing to it."

"City Girl"

The lady gave her name in a

P. S., but she never will convince me that she is a "City Girl", the manner in which she signs the letter. Anyway, a $10 check has already gone out to the Labor Camp Center. I didn't promise any second prizes but, as sole judge, I guess I can give one if I want to do so — and I do so. Second place winner is Vinita Pitts, who wrote:

"To milk a cow, you: Tie her tail to her leg, get a bucket and a stool; assuming she is gentle, give her some hay. Sit down on the stool on the right side of the cow and put the bucket between your knees. Clean the udder, get a teat in each hand and start squeezing. Play a tune in the bucket with the milk."

Admitting inability to clearly express myself on paper, which is already obvious, my other mistake was ever letting cows get in the Bull Column. Once they showed up in the pasture, trouble was sure to follow. From now on, if you won't mention it to me, I won't mention it to you.

Meanwhile, I get no sympathy from J. C. Allred, 204 N. Lawton. This old-timer reminded me of something else I learned the hard way. "Don't ever predict the weather in this country," he advised. Mr. Allred came here in March, 1900, and is now going on his 61st year. He isn't exactly "rooted", however, and says that he might move if he finds a better place. Trouble is, he just hasn't been able to locate one. He further adds that he has seen a lot of weather men come and go over the long period.

Richard Leggett, son of Mrs. Olean Leggett, is visiting here this week. Richard got printer's ink on his hands while doing football stories for The Brand a year or so back, and is now attending Oklahoma City-University at Oklanoma City. He has been working spare time on the Daily Oklahoman, and says that he will go to work as ad man for the Wellington Leader July 15, until Sept. 1. Among other things, he will be news editor of the OCU school paper next year, which is quite an honor for the young man.

Bill Decker, building committee chairman, was predicting this week that Hereford's new country club will be completed and open by Sept. 1, earlier if possible. Hap Cavness and Owen Seamands were interviewing possible managers — and worrying about such things as Christmas and New Year decorations.

I hear many complaints about snakes, especially in the west part of town. I figure the holes must have filled to overflowing by recent rains, sending the reptiles out house hunting. Even an old fisherman like myself finds it tough to swallow the story about the 18-foot rattler reported near Ruidoso, N. M. The fact that it shrunk down to 16 feet, 7 inches when skinned is not much help.

Anyway, Ruidoso tongues are really buzzing on the topic, which would be second only to the landing of an outer space vehicle. Stories say that the fangs were as large as a man's finger, and that the snake's tongue was 36 inches long; the head as big as a steering wheel and the body about the size of a telephone pole. Perhaps Carl McCaslin, a non-fisherman and non-golfer, will be back in a few days, and we can get the real low-down. Even if Carl says it is true, however, I reserve the right to form my own opinion.

Meanwhile, I hear that publisher Vic Lamb has been offered $750 for the hide and, if Vic is like most newspaper men, I'll bet someone just bought a snake hide.

Hold Rites For Rosa Herrera

Funeral services for Rosa Herrera, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Herrera of the Hereford Labor Camp, were held Tuesday afternoon in San Jose Mission with the Fr. Raymond Gillis, pastor, officiating. She was born June 25 in Dimmitt and died about 9:30 p. m. Monday in Dimmitt.

Surviving are the parents, five brothers and one sister, all of the home.

C OF C SCOUT 'Deaf' Smith Says

TO: THE SPIRIT OF GENERAL SAM HOUSTON FROM: THE SPIRIT OF ERASTUS "DEAF" SMITH SUBJECT: THE DEAF SMITH COUNTY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE IN ACTION

The City of Hereford is in excellent shape for its water supply apparently for a long time to come, Sam; but forty-two people were interested enough in the long range viewpoint to take time out from their busy day to hear about the Canadian River Municipal and Industrial Water Authority. Mr. A. A. Meredith, Executive Secretary of that organization, showed a mighty interesting film which brought out not only the importance of water as a municipal and industrial natural resource, but portrayed the immense recreational value of a large reservoir of water to this area.

Mr. Meredith's estimate that Canadian River water would cost over 28 cents delivered to Hereford dampened, or perhaps I should say "dried up", enthusiasm for entering into this project at this time. Reckon though, Sam, that the folks in Hereford intend to keep informed and not get in the position where, if the totally unexpected should happen, they would be unable to get water from the reservoir that some day will be built on the Canadian River.

Two sub-committees of the Chamber Retail Trade Promotion Committee met this week. One considered plans for a back-to-school sales event in August and the other group is looking into plans for a Fall Festival to be held in October. Another group will be making plans for the Christmas decorations again soon. I hear rumors that big plans are being considered for this year.

The Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors met Wednesday evening to decide on new, larger quarters for the Chamber of Commerce office. Many sites were considered by the Board and by a special com-

Mrs. E. M. Jack read recipes of some salad dressings she had tried. The 4-H club girls gave a short program. Secret pal gifts were received by Mrs. Elmer Northcutt and Mrs. Floyd Brown. Refreshments were served to Messdams J. E. Rouse, Elmer Northcutt, N. A. Brown, Ruth Coleman, Bertram Jack, Ernest Brown, S. N. Thweatt, Eldred Brown, Jack Buse, Floyd Brown, E. M. County Residents Purchase $44,558 In Savings Bonds
 During the first five months of this year the citizens of Deaf Smith County purchased $44,558 in Series E & H United States Savings Bonds. This announcement was made today by Robert L. Thompson, chairman of Deaf Smith County Savings Bond Committee.

"We have now achieved 20.3 per cent of our 1960 goal of $220,000", Chairman Thompson reported. Texas sales for the first five months of this year were $69,824,409, which represents 42.2 per cent of the 1960 goal of $165,000,000. May sales in Texas totaled $12,341,632, which is $1,094,468 greater than sales in the same month during 1959.

"The United States Savings Bonds program is one of the finest ways of encouraging regular savings. Millions of Americans have found these 'save-as-you-earn' plans an ideal way to build up financial reserves for emergencies and for special goals, such as sending children through college, buying a home, or supplementing retirement income," concluded Thompson.

Chicago's largest one-day mutual handle of 1959 was $2,301,944 last Labor Day at Arlington Park. The figure was set by the season's record crowd of 33,184.

The Editor
Hereford Brand
Hereford, Texas
Dear Sir:

The City Commission is concerned about the letter that you published in the Sunday Brand on June 26th, which seemed to be more of an unwarranted personal attack on our City Manager than a legitimate complaint about any matter of public concern. We feel it appropriate to "set the record straight" on the matters involved, in order that the public may know the true facts.

First, Moreman Street is a county road, just as the letter said it is. This is because the City of Hereford has not annexed this road into the City. Perhaps some of the County Commissioners would like for the City to annex this road so that the City would have to maintain and police the road thus relieving the County of their obligation. We have not chosen to do this, and see no reason for anyone to complain because we have not. The situation here is no different from the situation in many other places around the City. It has been our policy not to annex perimeter roads around the edges of the City, and we feel that we have a right to pursue this policy if our judgment dictates that it is for the best interest of the City.

However, even though it is a county road, the City has a right, under our state law, to place its utility lines in the right of way of the road. We have similar lines in many other County roads all around the City, and they have been there for many years, in some cases. The authority for placing our utility lines in county roads is based upon the fact that it would be ridiculous for one political body of the State to have to pay a fee to another such body for right of way privileges, thus taking tax money from one pocket and putting it in another.

Not only do cities have the right to place their utility lines in the public roads outside the city limits, but private utility companies have been given this same privilege by law. The gas company was given permission to put its lines in Moreman Street by the Legislature of the

Double Plays Help Indians Over Tigers

The Indians garnered seven runs on eight hits against the Tigers in the first innings Friday night and then nipped a strong rally during the closing stanzas to win 7-5 in Pony League action.

Pitcher Ronnie Duncan also swung the big stick as he hit a double and a triple in four trips to the plate.

Duncan started the game with a triple, Lynn Warren banded another three-bagger and Gaylan Otts hit a double. Two more runs came in second. David Kendall singled, Duncan doubled and came in on a passed ball.

Indians on the warpath tallied their final three runs in the third. Wayne Edwards singled and Billy Hill got on by fielder's choice. Then Larry Minks doubled and David Kendall was safe at first as the play went to home. Duncan got on by fielder's choice; Stagner singled in two runs.

After limiting the Tigers to a single in the first and a double in the second, Indian hurler Duncan weakened to walk the first three men in the fourth inning. Gaylan Otts came on in relief. An error scored one run and Mike Ranspot grounded out to push in another runner.

A double play closed out the inning as Royal scooped Rickie Albracht's hot grounder and threw to Edwards at first. The relay from Edwards to catcher Hill caught Mike Ferguson at the plate.

In the fifth, the Tigers snarled again, this time for three runs. Frank Cain doubled and scored on two passed balls. Jimmy Guitierrez walked, took second on two passed ball and went to third on a wild pitch. With two out, Williams parked one over center field to score two runs.

With one out in the seventh, Guitierrez singled. But the Indians weren't to be pushed. Gary Stagner snapped up Wallace Shelton's roller, tossed to Edwards covering at second, with the relay going to Edwards at first.

One of the finest fielding plays of the year saw center-fielder, Gaylan Otts play Guitierrez's double off the right field ball and fire to third base on the fly, where Gary Royal tagged the runner trying to stretch the hit to a triple.

Duncan worked three innings. He gave up two runs on two hits, struck out five and walked four. Reliever Otts pitched four. He gave up three runs on three hits, struck out two and walked none.

Starter Frank Cain took the loss. He pitched four innings and gave up seven runs on eight hits, struck out three and walked two. Mike Ranspot tossed the last three innings. He was charged with no runs, no hits, struck out two and walked two in an outstanding relief job.

REP. WALTER ROGERS WRITES:

'If' A Word Of Meaning In Foreign Policy Field

To the people of the 18th District:

Almost any youngster will vouch for the fact that "if" is a mighty big word. That one syllable can pack more meaning and importance than the most ponderous and lengthy words in our language. And this lesson has not lost its meaning on Americans, for we have saved ourselves a great deal of unnecessary difficulty by refusing - as one of our proverbs has it - to "cross that bridge until we come to it." For "if" can bring into play countless numbers of vague and worrisome possibilities which are senseless to pursue.

But in the field of foreign policy, it is becoming more and more clear that a greater willingness to consider "if" has enabled the Soviet Union to reap large dividends. Our dislike for ambiguity has found us unprepared for a number of the world crises which the USSR has exploited successfully. And the most unpleasant feature of this tendency in our diplomacy is the fact that many of these crucial international events could have been anticipated.

At this very moment, even the most unpracticed eye can find several potential trouble spots in the world, and yet we offer little or no indication that we have any sort of plan to deal with them and to counter Communist influence. Here are a few of the more obvious indications of future trouble, designated as a quiz for the Department of State:

1. Do we have any plan of diplomatic action if ties between the Soviet Union and Cuba become closer after the visit of Khrushchev to our Caribbean neighbor in the near future?
2. What means would we employ to continue access to West Berlin if the Soviet Union signed a separate peace treaty with East Germany and thereby sought to isolate West Berlin?
3. How would we act to prevent a collapse of our East Asian defense perimeter if the present Japanese government should be replaced by a Socialist-Communist one, which sought to repudiate the security?
4. If a revolt occurred in an Eastern European satellite nation, such as the one which occurred in Hungary, would our attitude be any more imaginative than the one adopted in that case?
5. Do we have any broad, long range plans - other than happenstance - for achieving support of the vast neutralist nations of Africa and Asia?
6. How would we approach further turmoil if it exploded in the Middle East between the Arab League and Israel and how would we prevent any possible incursions by the Communist bloc?
7. Have we even contemplated any changes in our efforts at home if the Soviet Union should achieve economic equality with the United States?

Unfortunately, there is little evidence that these questions have been answered. It appears that we have been answering questions of equal severity in the past while being pressed by the heat of necessity. This is not to say that our State Department has not prepared

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

Texans Put Emphasis On New Water Plan

AUSTIN, - Amid the searing, summer weather, Texans are putting new emphasis on getting a statewide water plan.

Though Texas is supposed to be mid-way in a seven-year wet cycle now unexpected harsh drought settled on parts of South and Central Texas in late spring and early summer. As one scorching day followed another, crops were stunted and pasturage began to burn.

Though conditions were better elsewhere, the difficulties of the farmers in the areas around the Capital City lent emphasis to Gov. Price Daniel's plea for a "crash program" to develop a water plan. If Texans don't do it, said the governor, the federal government will take over.

Target is to have a complete master plan for development of Texas' water supply ready by May 1, 1961. To help meet the deadline, the governor asked representatives of the river authorities and districts to file updated master plans for their areas with the Water Board by Nov. 1. He also asked the river authorities to lend engineers and technical personnel to help prepare the state plan.

Meanwhile, farmers, watching their corn burn up in the fields, took what comfort they could from the often-repeated statement that "Texas has plenty of water; it's just a matter of distribution."

Looking ahead 10 years at estimated costs of state government, the governor's State Finance Advisory Commission got a dizzying view of spiraling expenses.

Sub-committees of the commission will study the problem of future costs and how to meet them through the summer and make reports to the entire commission Sept. 10. Commission's report and recommendations to the governor are due Oct. 10. Estimates of their future needs made by major state agencies for the Commission indicated a need for spending $29,000,000 more each year to meet growth needs.

Governor Daniel told the commission he hoped they could find ways to scale down new money needs and find revenue sources that would grow as population and demands for services increase.

In the sixth, the Yankees got two runs as Duvall walked and Hodges homered.

By H. A. TUCK
Without a doubt, Advice and Consent is the book of the year. Some wags, after looking at the size of the novel, probably will comment that it would take a year to read.

Allen Drury wrote the book after more than 15 years as a correspondent in Washington, D. C. It was his first attempt at a novel. Advice and Consent recently was named winner of the Pulitzer Prize for distinguished journalism in the fiction field.

plans of action in the event the several "IF" situations should develop. If there are such plans of action, it is understandable that they could not be made public in advance.

However, there should be advance information conveyed to those who have the power of creating such situations. This advance information should be to the effect that this country has given thought to these possibilities, has prepared and developed an effective plan to cope therewith, and will have no hesitancy in bringing it into play. This would not only improve our chances of preserving and bettering our prestige in the eyes of other nations, but it would also serve to discourage the ambitions of totalitarian nations and reduce their opportunities for the bluff and bluster technique.

A firm, tough-minded policy would, in my opinion, be much more effective than the policy of mildness which has been pursued in an apparent effort to try to please all men in all things.

off. Unlike many of the winners of that and other prizes, it is extremely readable.

The novel is set in Washington, with most of the action taking place in the august Senate building. The book starts as the President of the United States named Secretary of State.

Majority leader Bob Munson agrees to push the nomination through the Senate, although many of its members do not care for the nominee. Old Seab Cooley is among those who are determined to fight the nomination.

During the Foreign Relations committee hearing, a blenish of rather serious proportions is charged against Leffingwell. Some of the Senators think his record outweighs the evidence; others believe his lies about the incident disqualify him for the job. And the President is insistent that his nomination be approved.

Sen. Brigham Anderson of Utah uncovers additional and substantiating evidence to the charge leveled at Leffingwell. The battle resulting is bitter, often cruel and even deadly.

Drury has filled his book with an excitement that you wouldn't think possible about politics and legislation. Each of the 616 pages is crammed with taut drama, intrigue and suspense.

Advise and Consent is a monumental work and one that will grab the reader and hold him to the end.

For once, I agree with the judges. Advise and Consent by Allen Drury thoroughly deserved the Pulitzer Prize.

Dale Westbrook Participates In Field Training

Army Specialist Four Dale R. Westbrook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bee Westbrook, Route 2, Friona, participated with other personnel from the Fourth Armored Division in a field training exercise in Grafenwohr, Germany, which was concluded June 22.

The exercise, conducted under realistic combat conditions, was designed to evaluate the combat effectiveness of the unit, a major element of the NATO shield of defense in Europe.

Specialist Westbrook, a driver in Company D of the division's 54th Infantry in Heilbronn, entered the Army in December, 1958, completed basic training at Fort Hood and arrived overseas in May of 1959.

One of the nice calling cards that I've seen is the luscious looking Zucchini Squash. Mrs. Will Kerr had a big sack full and gave us some. You know this squash will get very large in size and remains tender. However I believe that the eight or 10 inch size that Mrs. Kerr gathered is the best. This can be frozen or canned and is delicious.

Mortgage bankers suggested to the panel that the funds could earn a higher return without sacrifice of safety by investing in government-insured home mortgages. Some panel members observed that the funds now invested in federal bonds were not earning as much as was being lost through inflation.

For the past three years some of the University's Permanent Fund has been invested in corporate securities which has increased its earnings over what it had been from government bonds.

Senators also discussed the possibility of saving through a unified organization for administration and counseling on four funds.

State of Texas and the natural gas pipeline companies, are waiting for a decision in the first round of a long series of court fights on the validity of the natural gas severance beneficiary tax.

A total of 108 lawsuits have been filed against the tax by pipeline companies. Their attorneys argue that it, like the old natural gas gathering tax that was knocked down by the courts, is unconstitutional because it constitutes a burden on interstate commerce.

Companies have paid $6,363,878 in severance taxes under protest. If the law is struck down in the courts, the money will be refunded to the companies.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, arguing for the state, declared the law is not unfair to interstate commerce because it treats gas sold outside of Texas and gas sold within the state exactly the same.

Court of Criminal Appeals is to rule next fall in a case hinging on whether a witness can be convicted of perjury in connection with testimony before a legislative committee.

Defendant in the case is J. Byron Saunders, former chairman of the State Board of Insurance, who was convicted and sentenced to two years imprisonment for lying to a legislative committee from ICT Insurance Co. while he was in office. Saunders' attorney contended that perjury is possible only before a judicial body, not before a legislative committee.

Teens Hit Jackpot As Salesmen

By VIVIAN BROWN
AN ENTERPRISING teen-ager could clean up in the sales business.

That's the opinion of Pamela Myerson, 15, of New York, who learned through her membership in Junior Achievement that she had some sales ability.

"I really hit the jackpot when I went out to sell our company's salt and pepper shakers," Pamela says proudly, rejoicing over the sale. She sold her wares not only to a big store in New York, but to the mayor and other officials as well. Says she:

"The store bought three dozen pairs and Mayor Robert Wagner bought two pairs. I did it all by correspondence. The mayor's wife wrote me a lovely letter wishing the company a lot of success."

There are 15 members in Pamela's Junior Achievement company in a typical set-up. Five shares of stock were sold to each member when her company organized. Each company liquidates after a year and profits are divided up among stockholders, Pamela explains.

"You can go back another year into a new company if you like — perhaps to make and sell ash trays, lamps or umbrellas. I devote about two after-school hours a week to it and love it, so I think I'll do it again."

Pamela is a junior on the honor roll at Taft High School and in spite of her aptitude for selling she's determined to be either a teacher or psychologist.

Why are her pepper and salt shakers in demand?

"They are different from others," she explains. "They are made of wood and inset with tile. We take blocks of walnut, cut them into small blocks, sand and stain them. We put a strip down the center of the shakers and insert 9 small blocks of tile in different shades of brown to blend with the wood."

The sets cost 70 cents each to make, and are sold for $1.50. The company also makes cutting boards for cheese with a cheese knife. Pamela made many sales of both items to her Bronx neighbors.

Her venture has inspired international intrigue through a "pen pal" in Greece.

"He goes to Salonika High School and he and his friends think it would be wonderful to have an organization such as Junior Achievement in Greece," she explains. The only problem is, he studies 11 major subjects a day, has longer hours than we have, and I don't see how he would find time."

Pamela thought she had misunderstood when the Greek boy wrote about his studies, but he confirmed it in another letter. He writes excellent English she says.

She's hoping her pen pal can come to the United States for a visit soon. He's looking forward to such a trip, she says. Pamela dates a lot on week ends, collects picture postcards, stamps and stuffed animals, and has an aquarium of guppies, but she'll have plenty of time to learn about Greek culture when her pen friend comes to America.

"I'll make the time," she says.

Here's Way Of Being Popular

By VIVIAN BROWN
HOW CAN one break the popularity barrier?

Every young girl wants to be popular, and failure to achieve the goal can make her miserable, affect her school work, her disposition and her attitude toward life.

Here are ways other girls reacted to the situation:

Carol, 16, for instance, was the shy type:

"I wanted to be friends with everyone, but didn't know how. I sat around waiting to be asked to join organizations or to be invited to parties. One day my father told me that I should try to make friends, as one of his club members told him that young people thought I was nice, but very distant. I decided to stick around school more, and get involved in the activities. In no time at all, I had lots of friends."

Mary, 17, says her trouble was the braces she had to wear on her teeth:

"I used to think everyone was staring at me all the time. One day I overheard a boy say that I was pretty but never seemed to be happy. After that I decided maybe no one noticed the braces, and I practiced smiling so that my braces did not show. I decided it didn't make any difference whether I wore them as long as I had friends. I broke the ice by inviting people to a party at my house, and after that, I had a good time with everyone."

Other girls have had this problem and have conquered it. If the timid girl could just talk it out she'd find the answers. But somehow she can't.

Judy, 17, suffered chagrin because of her clothes. She was embarrassed because her mother made her clothes.

Then one day, she says:

"A boy commented that my dress looked so original, and he always admired my clothes. It gave me a tremendous lift, and I decided that I had been very silly, envying the girls who had clothes from the stores."

"Every time I dated a boy and he suggested I bring my car, I would beg off, thinking that he just dated me for my car. Then every once in a while when I was with the girls I would get stuck for a major share of the bill, and I thought that perhaps it was the only reason they had invited me. I soon found that this wasn't so, that these incidents happened to others who were not as well off, and that some of it was merely the long arm of coincidence. When I started to enjoy my friends, I became more popular, and attracted many young people to my group who were richer than I."

Ethel, 17, says that she was a snob, and didn't realize it. "I just went along with the idea that I was better than the other young people in my community, and pretty soon I had no friends.

When I made up my mind to know them better, I found they were very lovely young people, well bred and intelligent."

PRISONERS' HOPES

CHICAGO (AP)—Prisoners in the Cook County Jail answered a quiz by the jail's newspaper on what three things they hoped for most out of life.

Some answers: "A wife, a home and happiness — because those are the three essentials of life."

"Money, a good foundation under me, and a good girl — because that is what it will take for me to survive through my life."

"Freedom, forgiveness from all my loved ones and all those I have hurt in the past, and the strength to live a Christian life after I am free, as I have learned here through the help of Christ."

INDEPENDENCE

... that good old American brand. A "way-of-life" that was signed into being, July 4th, nearly two hundred years ago. Ah, for that memorable day, when in the course of human events... Liberty Was Born. Then let us, on this Independence Day, rededicate ourselves to this "hope-of-the-world-way" ... this way of life that guarantees for all men, Freedom, Equality and Justice. Give us an unyielding faith and supply us with genius that cannot err. Endow us with vital religious convictions to pilot our inherited ship of state. Let us always remember that the source of our freedom is The Book. Then Americans, don't forget to remember that, Music Was Born When Liberty Spoke. It is our Independence Day!!!

Harvest is nearing its close. A record was set on both Friday and Saturday on the number of trucks passing through the Adrian Wheat Grower's elevators. Manager Bob Caldwell reports 310 trucks emptied on Friday and 397 on Saturday. This is of course possible since a new leg was added to help dump the trucks this year. Caldwell says it has been a fast harvest with some 60 to 70 per cent of the crop harvested.

On Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wells, Cathy and Judy of Stedman, N. C. spent the day with his sister, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Pinnell.

which floor belongs to Corvair?

the one that remembers people have feet!

"Hey," said our Corvair engineers (bless 'em), "people who sit in the middle seat have feet, too!" So they put Corvair's engine-transmission package in the rear (only U.S. compact built that way) and presto! a practically flat floor, front and rear.

Drop in at your dealer's and try Corvair's middle seat. Then slide behind the wheel and pretend that Corvair is yours. Soon will be, we think.
