Larry Minks of the Walcott 4-H Club is a happy boy this week after winning his third straight junior livestock show.

Texas University Madrigal Singers will perform here on Monday, Jan. 30, at 7:30 p.m. in the High School auditorium.

There will be a seated tea Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. in the Hereford Community Center, sponsored by the Federated Women's Clubs.

Vehicle License Tags Go On Sale Here Wednesday

Vehicle license tags will go on sale in Deaf Smith County Tax Assessor-Collector's office Wednesday morning.

Plates in Deaf Smith County this year will include "AU" and "AT" identification prefixes.

Deputy collector Mark Waddill warned vehicle owners to buy their licenses before April 1, as vehicles with 1960 license tags cannot be legally operated after that time.

Plates for 1961 have black lettering on a white background. Automobile tags will cost from $11.88 through $25.

Motorists should take their certificates of title and last year's registration to the tax office when registering a vehicle.

Trailers of 4,000 or more pounds must have a certificate of title. Penalty for improper registration of a vehicle can be as much as $200.

The tax office issued 5,077 plates on passenger cars during 1960, and 4,000 of the tags were issued in February and March.

Roadblock, Talent Show Slated For End Of MOD

Hereford Jaycees Sunday afternoon will stage a "roadblock" on 25 mile Ave. to collect donations for the Deaf Smith County March of Dimes drive.

The month-long drive will end Tuesday, Jan. 31, with a talent assembly in the Stanton Junior High School assembly.

The Jaycee roadblock will give motorists a chance to make their donations before the drive comes to an end.

Markers urging donations will be staggered along the roadside showing location of the roadblock on 25 Mile Ave.

"Traffic will not be hindered by the roadblock," Fink announced. The roadblock project will be started at about 1 p.m. and end at 5 p.m.

The Stanton Junior High assembly will feature a school talent. Contributions may be made at the door. The assembly program will begin at 9:40 a.m. Tuesday, and the public is invited, according to W. C. Quattlebaum, school principal.

Hereford Hosts Hawks; Delayed Game Uncertain

Slightly behind schedule, the Hereford Whitefaces will face the dangerous Phillips Black Hawks here Tuesday night in another important I-AAA district contest.

Friday night's game with Levelland was cancelled because of poor travel conditions. The game between Littlefield and Phillips also was postponed.

Coch Cuby Kitchens said Saturday that the Levelland contest had not yet been rescheduled. It probably will be played here the latter part of the week, possibly on Saturday, Jan. 6.

A BLACK DAY IT WAS

Officers Participate In 2 Wrecks Friday

BY DAN MUDD BRAND STAFF REPORTER
Friday the 27th was "Friday the 13th" for two embarrassed law enforcement officers whose squad cars were involved in minor auto accidents on slippery, snow-covered streets in Hereford.

Sporting crumpled fenders and red faces after the separate accidents were Hereford Chief of Police Henry Aycock and Deaf Smith County Deputy Sheriff Bill McCarver.

Both on-duty officers took a lot of good-natured ribbing from spectators passing by the scenes of the accidents. It may have been Black Friday for the two officers, but the local residents thought it was great sport seeing Aycock and McCarver, both accustomed to investigating accidents, taking new roles as "motorists involved."

Moreover, the citizens seemed to delight in the knowledge that "it can happen to them" too. "And I thought I was just going to be a spectator," said the police chief, whose car was in-involved in a three-vehicle accident.

The front fenders and hood of Aycock's squad car was damaged to the tune of about $400 in an intersection accident at Ross and W. Second street which also involved vehicles driven by Barbara Conaway Hudson, 42, and Guy Taylor Cornelius, 55, both of Hereford.

Less than five hours later, Deputy Sheriff McCarver was backing from an angle-parked position in the 300 block of Main St. when the rear of his squad car was hit by an automobile driven by Mienard John Koelzer, 51, of Hereford.

While Aycock was gazing at his wrecked car, a friend of his passed by, struck his head out the window of his pickup truck and cut loose with a roar of uncontrollable laughter when he saw Aycock's smashed fender. "Keep moving, or I'll run you in," the police chief jokingly retorted. "And you can wipe that smirk off your face," Aycock jested at a snickering Brand reporter.

The Texas Highway Patrol unit in Hereford was the only law enforcement agency which was "left out."

Two Hereford Highway Patrol officers, Charles Skinner and Caral Parker, chanced by the accident involving McCarver's car.

"You'd better be careful, too," McCarver told Skinner. Patrolman Parker, Skinner's partner, said "Skinner's driving today, but when he goes home, I'm going to walk."

At 8:44 a.m. Friday, Mrs. Hudson's car, headed west on Second struck the left rear fender of Cornelius' pickup truck, travelling south on Ross. Aycock's squad car was headed east on Second coming to a stop, when the pickup skidded into it after being hit by the car.

McCarver's car was parked on the west side of Main St. while the car driven by Koelzer was headed south on Main. The Koelzer automobile struck the rear of the deputy sheriff's car. The accident was reported at 1 p.m.

Students at Stanton Junior High have set a goal of $5 per home room for donations to the March of Dimes. Most of the 20 home rooms have already reached their goal.

About 65 women who conducted a Mothers March Monday night collected $830.16 for the March of Dimes. Other features of the drive this year included balloon and Crutch Pin sales by Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts, placement of coin collector boxes in local businesses and MOD mailers sent out to 2,000 local families by Hereford Business and Professional Women's Club.

A special election to fill the office of U. S. Senator from Texas will be held April 4. If no candidate receives a majority in the first election, a runoff will be held from 30 to 40 days later.

Sale of poll taxes to Deaf Smith County residents set a new record last year, which was a presidential election year. The tax office reported the sale of 3,173 poll taxes for 1960.

Sales Wednesday morning last week totalled only 952.

Brrrr! Four Above As Snowfall Ends

A brief snowstorm dumped two to five inches on the county Thursday and Friday, slowing some activities down and cancelling others. Temperatures also went plummeting to near zero during the second snow of the week.

Ice in the Plainview area was blamed for a traffic fatality. Again, the storm's brief duration kept livestock from suffering. With only slight winds, the .17 inch of moisture will be of some benefit to pasture and farm land.

Streets and highways were slick and traffic came almost to a halt. Three minor accidents, with no injuries, were reported Friday in and near Hereford.

Two cars and a pickup collided at Second and Ross about 8:45 a.m. One and a half miles east of Hereford on U. S. Highway 60 at 9:05 a.m. two cars collided after one went out of control on the slippery highway.

Roy Brooks of Amarillo, 34, was the driver of a pickup which was hit by a car driven by Roy Cazeneve of California, 28, after the car skidded out of control.

School buses ran on the pavement only Friday morning and classes were dismissed early Friday with the prospect of more snow. Throughout Friday afternoon, the weather cleared somewhat. But snow resumed early Friday night, continuing for about two hours. Clear skies then appeared, dropping the temperature to its lowest point for the year.

Two Days Left For Purchase Of Poll Taxes

Deaf Smith County residents have only two days to pay the poll tax which will enable them to vote in 1961 elections.

At noon Saturday, the Deaf Smith County Tax Assessor-Collector's office had issued only 1,325 receipts.

Although 1961 is an off-year, a major election will be held this year as U. S. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson ended his 12-year career in the Senate by submitting his resignation to accept the Vice Presidency of the United States.

State poll taxes went on sale in the tax collector's office Jan. 3. Deadline for purchasing poll tax at the office is midnight Tuesday, Jan. 31.

All persons between 21 and 60 must have a poll tax to vote in Texas. Exemptions are made for those above age 60, with those becoming 21 and new residents getting a free poll tax.

On the local level, residents will have a chance to vote in at least two elections this year—for trustees to Hereford Rural High School District and for city officials. Also proposed is a city street improvement vote.

Of the $1.75 charged for each poll tax, the money is allocated on the following basis: $1 for school purposes, 50 cents for general state revenue and 25 cents for county fund purposes.

A special election to fill the office of U. S. Senator from Texas will be held April 4. If no candidate receives a majority in the first election, a runoff will be held from 30 to 40 days later.

District Grand Jury Convenes Here On Monday

Twelve area residents will be selected to serve six-month terms on 69th District Grand Jury when a panel of 16 January term jury candidates convene in District Court at 10 a.m. Monday.

After 12 Grand Jurors are qualified, they will consider criminal cases.

The Grand Jury is expected to consider a case against Garrett Milton Ramsey, 26, of Fort Worth, who has been charged in the burglary of Cooper's Market in Hereford. The burglary, in which about $9,000 in cash and checks were taken from a floor safe, was investigated on the morning of Jan. 19.

The panel of 16 Grand Jurors was selected by a Jury Commission on Dec. 6.

Assuming his first official duties in Deaf Smith County as District Attorney at the session will be Bill Hunter of Dalhart.

The panel of 16 includes: Mrs. Dyalitha Benson, 118 Centre; Mrs. Bert Moomer, 138 Star; J. B. Noland of Summerfield; Melvin May of Dawn; H. C. Williams, 308 W. Eighth St.; Hilroy Aven, 135 Ave. J.; Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr., 801 N. Main St.; Colby Conkright, 408 E. Fifth St.; Ray Stewart of Dawn; Earnest Brown of the Bootleg area; Troy Moore of Hereford; Howard Guat, 804 E. Third; Tom Robinson, 327 Ave. B; Dan Guseman of the Walcott Area; Mrs. Roger Brunley, 609 W. Third; and Ed Dzulk of Hereford.

The first 12 to qualify will serve on the Grand Jury.

A letter direct to the home office of the Holly Sugar Corporation in Colorado Springs, Colo., brought a prompt reply and a package containing the 2,000 packets.

The Chamber has followed this up with an inquiry about the possibility of securing some quantity of the packets with a special imprint, something like "Beet Sugar—Grown and Refined in the United States. Keep Texas agriculture strong—buy beet sugar."

The banquet meal, which will be prepared and served by caterer Walter Jetton of Fort Worth, also will feature hot whole wheat rolls made from stone-ground Deaf Smith County wheat.

The wheat has been milled by Arrowhead Mills of Hereford and will be baked by the Hereford Bakery.

That's not all, either! The coffee cream also will come from Hereford.

Featured speaker at the annual banquet, which will be held in the Hereford High School cafeteria, will be radio commentator Paul Harvey.

Another highlight of the affair will be announcement of the Hereford Citizen of the Year. (Continued on Page 2)

Dismiss Officer For Misconduct

Hereford police chief Henry Aycock Wednesday afternoon announced the dismissal of Darrell Turnbow of Hereford from duties as patrolman on Hereford Police Department for "conduct unbecoming to an officer."

Turnbow had been with the department since Nov. 1, and held the rank of patrolman until his dismissal Wednesday.

$17,000 In Good Deeds In 5 Years

Good deeds can't always be measured in terms of dollars and cents. But a small group of Hereford women have provided more than $17,000 worth of good to the community in the past five years.

The Hereford Medical Auxiliary and Associate Members during that time has donated cash and much-needed equipment from the proceeds of its annual Project Christmas Card.

This year the group gave $1,650 to the Deaf Smith County Hospital for the purchase of a new high speed dishwasher for the hospital kitchen. The unit has been installed and is in use.

Project Christmas Card was started in 1956 to aid the hospital's new wing. Residents were asked to donate the amount they had been spending on local Christmas cards to the project.

Each year the Hereford Brand donates a full page to list all those who have contributed, thus allowing them to extend their Christmas wishes while giving to the various projects of the group.

That first year, $7000 worth of furniture was purchased for the new wing.

In 1957, some $3500 worth of furniture was purchased for the obstetrical floor of the hospital. The following year, Project Christmas Card funds, some $3000, were used to buy a new surgery table and an isotope.

In 1959, the group donated its funds should go toward helping furnish the new Hereford Community Center. They donated $1700.

Not all of the Christmas Card Project funds have gone into tangible improvements.

For the past three years, the group has awarded a $500 nursing scholarship each year. Current members of the Hereford Medical Auxiliary and Associates are: Mesdames A. T. Mims, Roy Grubbs, Mildred Nobles, L. B. Barne't, Bruce Beene, L. A. Beyer, C. E. Hicks, Westie B. Owen, H. A. Cavness, O. Z. Golden and T. E. Seigler.

A NEW DISHWASHER, which works at high speeds and temperatures, has been donated to the Deaf Smith County Hospital. Making the donation was the Hereford Medical Auxiliary and Associate Members. Mrs. Cora Layman is shown with the machine. (Staff Photo)

Rogers, who has been boxing for two years, has never lost a match. His record this year is five KO's and two decisions. Hereford boxers captured four championships and three runner-up honors in the 1960 regional Golden Gloves slugfest.

Winning titles in the regional competition last year were: Ronnie Welty, 118-pound high school; Donny Leslie, 135-pound high school; Wayne Bomar, 175-pound high school; and Rogers, high school heavyweight.

Taking runner-up honors were Johnny Welty, 145-pound high school; Robert Welty, 160-pound high school; and Leon Vogler, 175-pound high school.

Hereford's other boxing coach is Don McNeese.

Deaf Smith County Heart Association will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Hereford State Bank Friendship Room. Miss Harriet Delapp, area consultant for the Texas Heart Association, will present the program and show a film. The public is invited.

Hereford has a 2-1 record in conference play with five games remaining.

Phillips has a 1-2 record after losses to Dumas and Hereford and a single victory over Levelland.

Earlier in the season Dumas just edged out Phillips by two points in a tournament finale. Hereford opened at Phillips and took a 59-42 win after a very slow start.

Dumas had the same trouble in its conference game with the Hawks. The first two quarters ended 8-7 and 11-13 before Dumas started hitting. Dumas eventually won going away, 50-25.

Coach Billy Hughes has been starting two seniors and three juniors. They are: Dale Moore, 6-2 senior forward; Eddie Pennington, 6-3 senior center; Jack Gray, 5-10 junior forward; Kenny Hunt, 5-10 junior guard; and Phillip Johnson, 5-9 junior guard. Top reserve for the Hawks is Ricky Rickard, 6-2 senior.

Hunt and Moore are the scoring leaders for the Phillips squad.

OFF THE Shelf

BY H. A. TUCK

This week's reading included a pair of little books from the Deaf Smith County library.

Better of the two was Zoo In My Luggage by Gerald Durrell, veteran animal hunter and captor in Africa.

This book tells of his long-standing desire to operate his own zoo and his own peculiar way of going about it.

Durrell and his party entered Bafut, a mountain grassland kingdom in the British Cameroons in West Africa, to gather animals.

This they did, but they also had a wonderful visit with the Fon of Bafut.

The Fon was quite fond of Durrell and alerted all the natives that a man was coming and wanted "beef," which was any type of animal.

Durrell was swamped with all types of "beef," birds, frogs, mice, chimpanzees, snakes and many others.

These had to be cared for like babies. Each had his particular food habits and sleeping arrangements.

During the weeks, the Fon entertained the Durrells with dances and parties. He recalled his journey to see Queen Elizabeth when she visited Africa.

One of the best parts of the book was the beautifully detailed illustrations by Ralph Thompson.

Zoo In My Luggage is a humorous book of adventure. It should appeal to almost any reader.

A different type of story is The Nine Guardians by Rosario Castellanos. Published originally in Mexico, it was translated for an American printing.

This novel is concerned with a wealthy Mexican family in Comitán, with hundreds of Indians working on the farms and ranches for them.

But the government undergoes a change with the installation of a new president. Sweeping agrarian reforms eat away at the wealthy and create widespread unrest.

Mario and his sister don't understand the government changes, they're too young, but they feel its effects.

In school, certain requirements are made; the churches are closed; the farm workers are in revolt.

When the family goes south to supervise the sugarcane harvest, it is a time of tension and danger.

The illegitimate son of the owner's brother is hired as a school teacher because he has been through the fourth grade. But his drinking and his relations with a half-cousin, Matilde, cause an open revolt that ends with the family fleeing.

The Nine Guardians is not a pretty story and not too easy to read. But it does give a new picture of the changes which swept Mexico not too many years ago.

Songs From Smash Hits Are Heard

The Dawn Musettes met Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. B. Caraway, with "Young Musical Stars of America" and "Modern Musicals" as program topics.

Beverly Betzen gave a discussion on the life of Virginia Copeland, prima donna of an opera company in Zurich, Switzerland. Miss Copeland reached the summit in her profession the hard way, having waited on tables in New York to pay for her voice lessons.

Musical selections for the program featured the works of Rodgers and Hammerstein. Laura Higgins played "Some Enchanted Evening" on the piano and "Ball Ha" was sung by Dorothea Stewart and Walteen Beavers. Both numbers were from "South Pacific."

From "Oklahoma," the theme song, "O What A Beautiful Mornin'" was sung by all the members, Robert Caraway sang "The Surrey with the Fringe on Top."

Audni Miller and Ann Gentry combined their talents in the rendition of "Getting To Know You," from "The King and I." Mrs. R. T. Stewart sang "June Is Bustin' Out All Over" and "You'll Never Walk Alone" was sung by the group. Both selections were taken from the smash hit "Carousel."

Mrs. Stewart also sang "I Could Have Danced All Night" from the immortal "My Fair Lady." Mrs. Carl Wimberley was accompanist for all numbers.

Dorothea Stewart, president, presided at the short business meeting. The members decided to have their spring reception March 12 at the Dawn Baptist Church. Plans were discussed for the "Texas Hobo City" supper in March and the Folk Music Festival in April.

Others present at the meeting, with the exclusion of those taking part in the program presentation, were Alice Ann Caraway, Douglas May, Dion Miller, Phyllis Richardson, Buddie Stewart, Ted Jr. and Robert Richardson, Bill Caraway and Linda and Jerry Stewart.

MRS. GLADYS MILLER'S favorite room in her home at 428 Star is her spacious family room. Located just off the kitchen, it is the hub of all activity when her children come to visit. Gladys sits at her typewriter where she has written thousands of words in the course of pursuing her favorite hobby, writing. (Staff Photo)

WOMEN OF INTEREST

Writing Book Occupies Time

BY MONA JETTE
BRAND WOMEN'S EDITOR
 Women of today face the problems of adjusting to different situations at many points throughout their lives. There is the joy and newness of being a bride and, as the years pass quickly by, the proud responsibility and enchantment of motherhood.
 Later, a mother stands silently by as her children, one by one, go out into the world to make a life of their own. And sadly, there also comes a time when a woman, in aching loneliness, must pick up the broken skeins of life and adjust to the problem of widowhood.
 Mrs. Gladys Miller, 428 Star, has faced these various problems and come through with flying colors. Her home, which she designed herself after the death of her husband in 1955, is both attractive and functional. It is not too big a house for a woman living alone, but still spacious enough to accommodate her children and grandchildren when they make their frequent visits.

"We moved to Hereford from McLean in 1936, the depression days," laughed Gladys. "In fact, we brought the depression with us."
 Gladys' children are now scattered hither and yon, but still keep in constant touch with their mother. Jed and his family live in El Paso, where he is a chemical engineer with Shamrock Production Company. Wilma Miller Jacobs lives in Lefors, where her husband is the superintendent of schools and she teaches in elementary school. Herschel Jr. farms near Dawn and Joy Miller Jones is in Sacramento, Calif., where her husband is serving in the Air Force. John Robert is a student at the University of New Mexico at Albuquerque. He and his wife are the parents of twin daughters.

Gladys' pride and joy is her 13 grandchildren.
 "The nice part about having grandchildren is the effect they have on your age," she beamed. "I believe I get young'er with each new arrival."
 Looking at Gladys, you have to believe this statement. Her school girl complexion is set off by big luminous brown eyes. Her hair is steel grey and she wears it pulled softly back into waves and twisted into a stylish French roll.

She loves to cook and to raise flowers. She also likes to travel.
 "I've never been anywhere, but maybe someday I will," she said, looking to the future with roadmaps in her eyes. Gladys' big passion is writing. She has a filing cabinet full of short stories and "Truisms." If you are wondering what a truism is, here's a sample:
 "After centuries of progress, there is still as much room at the top of the ladder as there ever was; for those who are willing to climb."
 Gladys has hundreds of these, but says you don't read but one or two at a time. They are written to read and meditate on.
 Above all other things, Gladys is wise. She is an excellent judge of character, helped by the fact that she is genuinely interested in all people and possesses a tremendous zest for life.

She has worked for seven years on a book entitled "Junior Dear." It is the endearing story of a small boy and his experiences on the farm.
 "I never seem to write about little girls, just boys. I really don't think I'm especially partial to boys... it's just that they can get in funnier predicaments than little girls," said Gladys. And with three sons of her own, she ought to know.
 All of her writing is proofed by her family and close friends. Many times, when reading one of Gladys' truisms, a son or daughter will exclaim:
 "Ha! I know who this was written about!"
 With deep insight, she seems to probe the innermost mind as she writes, hitting on a tender spot to bring tears to the eye and turning right around and tickling the funny bone with some hilarious incident.
 Many years of experience as a mother and a deep knowledge of human nature have gone into the writing of many of Gladys' truisms. This one by our feminine "Poor Richard" contains a wealth of age-old wisdom:
 "I venture to say there is not a man alive today who has been as fair in his criticism of his parents as he expects his children to be of him."

Success is defined in many ways. It can be wealth or the degree of succeeding at a venture. (Continued On Page 6)

MR. AND MRS. Charles C. Bowen are announcing the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Charlene, to Vance R. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gelvin Smith of Lubbock. Miss Bowen is a junior student at Texas Tech and Smith has studied at Lubbock Christian College. An early June wedding is planned by the couple.

WT Teacher Speaks To Calliopian Club

Dr. Mattie Mack, English instructor at West Texas State College in Canyon, was guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Calliopian Club. The meeting was held in the Community Room of the First National Bank building with Mrs. Emmett Milburn and Mrs. Sue James serving as hostesses.
 Mrs. Roy Grubbs, president, presided over the special guest night meeting.
 Mrs. Sue James introduced Dr. Mack, who spoke on "Drama." Dr. Mack compared modern drama to drama in Homeric and Biblical times and down through the ages. She also told of the different types of drama throughout different sections of the world.
 Guests present were Mesdames J. H. Sears, Howard Walker, R. G. Peeler, Claude McDougal, Leroy Aven, J. V. Perrin, J. N. Perrin, S. O. Wilson, C. M. Hicks, Elmer Kimbell, Fritz Dodson, Ben Childers and the guest speaker, Dr. Mattie Mack.
 Members attending were Mesdames B. F. Cain, Paul Conaway, Lorraine Fowlkes, Alton Fraser, J. T. Glibreath Jr., Roy Grubbs, Jack Kassahn, Earnest Langley, D. C. McWhorter, Emmett Milburn, A. T. Mims, Wes Owen, Carl Perrin and the hostesses, Mrs. Sue James and Mrs. Emmett Milburn.

Music As Therapy Has Spotlight At Meeting

Mrs. Bill Stanford and Mrs. James Alston were co-hostesses Monday afternoon at a meeting of the Music Study Club held in the home of Mrs. Stanford.
 Mrs. W. T. Thompson, program leader, used "Music Therapy" as her program topic. She stressed that the basic principles of music therapy were recognized throughout the ancient world and that the concepts could be traced throughout the writings of the Greeks, Persians, Hindus, Chinese and other nations of antiquity.
 Mrs. Thompson went on to say that the approach to the therapeutic value in music is not a recent discovery but a restoration of older knowledge. She stated that the entire subject is still in the experimental stages.
 Among the musical selections presented were "Etude Melodique" by Rogers, "Nocturne, D Flat Major" by Debussy, "When (Continued On Page 6)

Students Speak Of Native Homelands

Heidi Rutishauser of Switzerland and Erik Okseter of Norway were guests of honor at a meeting Tuesday of the Lone Star Study Club. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Joe Kendall, with Mrs. Baker Womble and Mrs. Norman Moore assisting as hostesses.
 Mrs. S. S. Williams brought the devotional, followed by the introduction of the two exchange students attending Hereford High School this year under the sponsorship of the American Field Service.
 Topic of study was the cultures of Norway and Switzerland and the two guests told of many of their country's customs.
 Miss Rutishauser and Okseter told of the governmental systems, family life and other important data in which Lone Star members were interested. (Continued On Page 6)

Meeting Held In Rieger Home

The home of Mrs. Nelson Rieger, Austin Road, was the scene of a recent meeting of Les Meres Study Club.
 Roll call was answered with "Holiday Activities," followed by an interesting program by Mrs. Dick Gholson. Mrs. Gholson's topic was "Athletics... The Poison Ivy In Our Schools."
 During the business meeting, a committee was appointed to act on finances.
 Attending were Mesdames Doe Carter, Dale Smith, Dick Gholson, Cliff Kerr, Arman Lauderback and the hostess, Mrs. Nelson Rieger.

Program On Art Is Highlight Of Bay View Club Meeting

Mrs. Eugene Naugle brought the program on "Expressionism In Art" at a recent meeting of the Bay View Club. Members gathered in the Community Room of the First National Bank building for their semi-monthly meeting.
 Mrs. Naugle defined expressionism in painting as the distortion of form and color for emotional interpretation. Although free, she went on to explain, it is not uncalculated or spontaneous.
 She concluded her speech by saying that the more you see of painting and art, the more you realize there is no one way of relaying a message. For different men at different times, the message is expressed in different forms.
 Those attending were Mesdames Philip Barkley, H. L. Benefield, Jimmie Gillette, Francis Hardwick, E. W. Harrison, W. S. Kerr, J. W. Kirby, Paul Mathers, Eugene Naugle, Carl Perrin, J. W. Spradley, H. L. Thurston, Dick Barnard and J. P. Slaton.

Plans Are Made At Recent Meet

Plans were made for the May flower show at a Friday meeting of the Bud To Blossom Garden Club, held in the home of Mrs. Earnest Kendall.
 Mrs. Glyn Bilbrey presided over a short business meeting, at which the nominating committee for new officers was appointed.
 Mrs. W. H. Patton presented a novel program on designing and building pebble gardens. She showed illustrations to point out the different types of gardens and the different combinations that could be achieved.
 Refreshments of coffee and cake were served from a bar decorated with a fruit arrangement to Mesdames Glyn Bilbrey, Ira Scott, R. A. Daniel, Lloyd Sharp, Glenn West, Don Steele, W. Clinton Williams, W. H. Patton, Elmer Kimbell, Calvin Edwards, Pat Robinson, Delmo Williams and the hostess, Mrs. Earnest Kendall.

SPOTLIGHT FOR SPRING

New Fashions Hint Of Relaxation, Fun

By MONA JETTE
BRAND WOMEN'S EDITOR
 For the young mother or the teenage girl; for a quick trip to the supermarket or just simple, poolside entertainment at the new Country Club; the appropriate costume can be found in this spring's collection of sportswear, now being featured in Hereford shops.
 Yes, casual wear has hit the spring fashion scene in Hereford with a big splash of color and styling.
 With the big accent on color, varying shades of orchid lead the informal fashion parade. Colors in this hue go from the soft violets to the bold flash of royal purple. Pink, from just a slight blush to an almost audible shocking shade of pink, and sometimes toned with orange and red, is running a close second.
 The styling adheres to the fluid line, with an overall picture of relaxed lines and ease in movement. Skirts are straight, softly flaring or pleated, but all have one thing in common... they are short. Most are an inch or more shorter than last season!
 The added advantage of wash-and-wear fabrics has won the hearty endorsement of women of all ages. And the "live easy" adaptability of slim jims, unfitted blouses and culottes seems to point to a big year for easy livin', both indoors and out.

Calottes, or the divided skirt, are being shown for play-time and date-time, in shorts, cantu-flaged skirt-styles and even sundresses.
 For the woman who finds this style too extreme, there is still the wide range of form-fitting slacks and treader pants, in all textures and in colors that range the color spectrum.
 Separates are definitely here to stay. Dyed-to-match sport costumes can be worn together or "mixed and matched" with perfect coordination. It's the smart girl who can collect a wardrobe with each new arrival.
 Looking at Gladys, you have to believe this statement. Her school girl complexion is set off by big luminous brown eyes. Her hair is steel grey and she wears it pulled softly back into waves and twisted into a stylish French roll.

Success is defined in many ways. It can be wealth or the degree of succeeding at a venture. (Continued On Page 6)

March Party Is Planned By Club

Mrs. Stanley Slagle was hostess at a recent meeting of L-Allegra Study Club. Members met in the Flame Room of the Pioneer Natural Gas building for their regular business and social meeting.
 During the business session, plans were made for a party honoring members' husbands. The fete is scheduled sometime in March at the Hereford Country Club.
 Mrs. Bill Hardwick presented an informative program on "Has Man An Equal In The Dolphin?" She told of the long life history of this sea mammal and of the many remarkable things dolphins can do.
 Members attending were Mesdames Joe Easley, C. E. Hicks, Walter Johnson, Joe Lyons, Gene Noel, John Douglas Pittman, Oliver Streu, Dwaine Walker, Tommy Carnahan and Stanley Slagle, hostess.

CAROL SNEAD, SENIOR at Hereford High School, models ensembles from the new spring collection. At left, she wears a dyed-to-match skirt and blouse of tawny yellow. The blouse, of combed cotton and dacron polyester, is styled with eye-catching collar interest and roll-up sleeves. The skirt, in 100 per cent cotton sailcloth, features a tuck running from waist band to hemline. At right, Carol is set for after-school activities with a plaid slim fit set. The form-fitting pants are topped with a popular "poncho" blouse, accented at the sleeves with pearlized buttons. The seventeen-year-old beauty is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. # Jeanette Husmann, Wilfred Artho Exchange Wedding Vows

The Rev. Henry Husmann of Dodge City, Kan., read the double ring ceremony joining his niece, Jeanette Marie Husmann and Wilfred Artho of Umberger in marriage. Vows were exchanged recently in St. Anthony's Catholic Church of Hereford.
 Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Husmann of Hereford and Paul Artho and the late Mrs. Artho, Umberger.
 Monsignor George Husmann of Great Bend, Kan., another uncle of the bride, was celebrant of the Nuptial High Mass which followed the ceremony.
 Traditional wedding marches were played by Miss Delores Bromman at the organ. Mrs. Darrell Hershey accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Edward Dziuk Jr., as she sang the High Mass.
 Escorted to the altar after given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a traditional wedding gown of white taffeta. The formal gown was fashioned with a sculptured bodice and the softly V'd neckline and bodice front were appliqued with iridescent paillettes. Long tapering sleeves extended to petal points over the wrists and the flaring petal-shaped skirt swept to a chapel train. Her elbow-length veil of misty imported illusion cascaded from a jeweled coronet. She wore a single strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom, and carried a massed arrangement of white roses trailing white satin streamers.
 Miss Carolyn Diller was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Grace Artho, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Judy Husmann, sister of the bride.
 They wore identically styled dresses of cardinal red velvet featuring rounded necklines and below-elbow sleeves. Each dress was accented at the waistline with a red velvet cummerbund. White beaded headbands, white brocaded satin slippers and short white gloves completed the attendants' ensembles. They carried garden nosegays of white roses and rosebuds.
 Kenneth Artho assisted his brother as best man and groomsmen were Jim Brockwell of Dimmitt and John Husmann, brother of the bride. Joe Artho, Larry Wieck, Joe Albracht and Kenneth Diller served as ushers.
 Church decorations were white, accented with the gleam of burnished gold. The altar was centered with a luxuriant arrangement of white feathered mums interspersed with greenery, contained in a gold bowl. Tall white wedding tapers in burnished gold holders flanked the centerpiece. The altar was softly illuminated by white votive candles held in graduated candelabra.
 For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Husmann chose a dress of blue silk chiffon worn over matching satin. She wore blue accessories and a white carnation corsage.
 Following the ceremony, a reception and dance was held in the auditorium of St. Anthony's school. The bride's table was overlaid with a white lace cloth and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake. Miss Sylvia Raef of Umberger presided at the table service.
 When the couple left for a wedding trip to New Orleans, La., and other points of interest throughout the South, the bride was wearing a pale gold suit and brown accessories. Upon their return, they will be at home on the Artho farm west of Umberger.
 Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were the bride's grandmothers, Mrs. Katharine Husmann of Great Bend, Kan., and Mrs. Edna Lemmons of Laverne, Okla.; her uncles, the Rev. Henry Husmann of Dodge City, Kan., and Msgr. George Husmann of Great Bend, Kan.; Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Husmann and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. N. Husmann of Laverne, Okla.; Miss Cynthia Husmann and Mrs. Charles Diller, and Mr. and Mrs. children of Gruver, Tex.

Exchange Student Talks On Switzerland At Kiwanis Club

Blonde Heidi Rutishauser, exchange student at Hereford High School, told Kiwanis Club members Thursday of her homeland, Switzerland.

She first used a map of the tiny European country to explain the three major portions included within it. Then she showed color slides of her hometown, her school and many other aspects of the country.

"I live in a small village of about 1500 people," she said. Her home is located in the Midland portion of the country, surrounded by hills.

Each day she rides a train or bicycle seven miles to a larger town for very schooling.

Heidi's school is a gymnasium, which trains students desiring to enter college. She takes 13 or 14 subjects, always with the same class of ten boys and ten girls.

Until the sixth grade, all children receive the same education. Those wanting a higher education then go to a gymnasium and later to college. The others, she said, have two more years of schooling in practical arts and crafts.

She explained that while the mountain area of Switzerland is best known in other countries, its residents were mostly poor and ill-housed. They make only a bare living, she said, from their tiny hillside farms and small dairy herds.

Land is scarce and the farms are small, while the houses are mostly two and three story and crowded together.

"You have so much room in Texas that sometimes I feel I have an inferiority complex," she smiled.

Religion is not very important in Switzerland, since the Protestant Church is state-supported.

Most of the mountain region is Catholic, she said. "Most people in Switzerland go to church five or six times a year, not more."

Since Switzerland has few natural resources it must rely on its three exports: watches, electricity from water power and dairy products, to provide money for imports.

"You people in Texas have oil pipelines, but the government has been putting up pipelines from the mountains to the valleys, so now we have milk pipelines," Heidi grinned.

Heidi also explained that most people don't know that the southern part of Switzerland, the lowlands, has a warm, sunny climate much like that along the Riviera. Palm trees grow in this area, which is almost tropical at times.

Dr. C. E. Hicks presented a new member, pharmacist Joe Thames, to the club.

President Jesse Robinson appointed Lowell Sharp and Guy Lawrence as the club's representatives to the board of directors of the Hereford Athletic Club.

Highway Patrol Exams Slated

"The Texas Department of Public Safety still has an ever present need for young men who are interested in the field of law enforcement as a career," it has been announced.

Major Harry Hutchison, Commander of the Department's 60 County Region No. 5, announced the deadline of Feb. 10, 1961 for applicants who desire to take the next entrance examination. The next examination to select recruit patrolmen to fill the vacancies now existing in the Department's Field Services will be given in different cities of the state Feb. 14, 15 and 16.

"Young men between the ages of 21 and 35, and who have the other basic qualifications have an opportunity to receive the best police training in the nation," Major Hutchison said. "Our training academy in Austin offers approximately 14 weeks of training in all of the modern, up-to-date methods and procedures of police work. The salary starts when the recruit starts training, and upon graduation from the school all of the proper working tools are furnished each man."

Hereford Youth On Junior Staff

Bill Corbett, a former Hereford boy and one of the 261 youngsters from all over the nation who are now making their home at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch near Amarillo, Texas, has become one of the few boys in the 22-year history of the Ranch to be appointed to membership in the Ranch's Junior Staff in less than one year.

Corbett went to Boys Ranch seven months ago and this week received his appointment to the Junior Staff. The Junior Staff is composed of a small group of the Ranch's older boys who have displayed qualities of leadership, citizenship and achievement that enable them to hold positions of responsibility and authority among the boys.

"Although he has only been with us a short time, Bill has demonstrated his abilities as a member of the Junior Staff in various ways," Cal Farley, Ranch founder and president, said. "He is of special assistance to his dorm parents by helping the younger boys who live in the 'family' of 36 boys. This includes helping them with their chores, their studies in school and their everyday problems. He also helps new boys adjust to the Ranch, making them feel welcome."

The former Hereford boy arrived at the Ranch in July. He is a sophomore in the full-accredited Boys Ranch High School and an Honor Roll Student.

Williams Home Scene Of Group II Meeting

Group II of the Christian Women's Fellowship met in regular session in the home of Mrs. Glenn Williams recently.

The meeting was called to order by the leader, with all present joining in singing the opening prayer. A short business discussion followed.

Mrs. Paul Corbett, who will lead the new study for the next six months on "Into All The World Together," presented the first series of study.

Speaking on "Together In Facing A New Day," Mrs. Corbett said there must be an awareness of the fact that a new kind of world outreach program is called for in the face of today's opportunities and needs and no church can escape the missionary obligations. The churches must understand the need for new insights and new movements in world missions today, she said.

Mrs. Carl Williams presented the worship period on "A Way Of Courage." Mrs. Williams brought out the fact that to face a new way of living requires courage, not only economic, moral and social, but also spiritual.

At the close of the devotional, the regular C. W. R. prayer was repeated in unison. Refreshments were served to Mesdames Paul Corbett, F. S. Smith, Ida May Vaughn, J. J. Clark, George Muse, Nona Howell, Ray Sult, Carlos Vaughn, Carl Williams, Louise Roberson and the hostess.

Death can

a closely held corporation wide open!

When a stockholder dies, serious problems arise. Business insurance from New York Life can help solve them.

The man who owns stock in a closely held corporation may leave his heirs and business associates a big share of trouble.

Suppose the widow inherits the stock. Will she receive dividends? If she wants to take an active part in management, will the other stockholders approve? What salary can she expect? Suppose she has to sell the stock to provide income or to pay death taxes. Who will buy? ... and at what price? Even if the surviving stockholders are willing to buy, they may not have funds available. And unless a controlling interest is for sale, an "outside" buyer could be hard to find.

TELEPHONE SERVICE IMPROVEMENTS FOR HEREFORD IN '61

As we move into the second year of the "Soaring Sixties," many of us in HEREFORD are busy with new plans for next year. The year ahead is always a new challenge... A new opportunity for each of us to do a better job.

Our job at the telephone company is to continue providing you with ever-improving telephone service.

One way of improving your telephone service is to offer you a wider range of things that make telephone service more convenient and enjoyable. Examples are the new Princess phone, color phones, wall phones, and the new home interphone now being introduced.

Another way is to expand the communications network, improve its quality, make it more efficient and trouble-free.

Some of the improvements planned for HEREFORD are: To replace our long distance lines out of Hereford with a new buried cable which will make the service in and out of Hereford virtually stormproof. In addition the cable will provide enough additional circuits to care for Hereford's future growth for years to come.

Another innovation is to provide unlimited calling to other states for a monthly rate. This service is called Wide Area Telephone Service, or WATS for short. It is designed for customers who make a large number of calls to widely scattered points.

In 1961, we'll not only give you better service but we'll do it more efficiently. This is important, because greater efficiency helps fight inflation.

Our ability to achieve greater efficiency — through technical advances in the telephone business, innovations and new methods — helps make it possible for us to give you, at reasonable rates, telephone service that grows better year after year.

IMPORTANT NEW FILM ON NATIONAL DEFENSE

How safe are we from an enemy missile attack? A new color film, "Seconds for Survival," produced by the Bell System offers a dramatic and positive answer.

The film, which is being offered for showings at Church, school, civic, and business group meetings, is narrated by Raymond Massey and shows how the United States defense network guards against enemy attack.

Would your group or club like to see this movie? If so, just call the telephone business office to make arrangements. There's no charge, of course. I hope you can see it soon.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

GLENN SCOTT, public information supervisor for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, presented the program at the noon meeting of Hereford Rotary Club Monday in the ballroom of the Jim Hill Hotel. His program, entitled "Voices Across Time and Space", included a demonstration on how signals are bounced off a satellite orbiting in outer space in an experiment known as Project Echo. At upper left, a miniature satellite was used in the demonstration. (Staff Photo)

'Voices In Space' Topic Of Program

Glenn Scott, public information supervisor for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, demonstrated how telephone calls are bounced off satellites in a program before Hereford Rotary Club at noon Monday in the ballroom of the Jim Hill Hotel.

Scott's program was entitled "Voices Across Time and Space." Using miniature equipment, Scott showed how Bell Telephone Laboratory scientists bounced telephone calls off a satellite orbiting in outer space in a special experiment known as Project Echo.

"Bell scientists believe a system of about 50 satellites in random polar orbits at a height of 3,000 miles could provide communications facilities between the United States and all areas of the world," he said. "About 26 transmitter-receiver stations which would work in pairs would be located throughout the world to provide the ground terminals for the system. They might also be used to transmit live television programs to any point in the world."

He pointed out that the Bell Telephone System transmission network today includes more than 100 million circuit miles to carry phone messages within cities and has some 60 million circuit miles for long distance calling. The program was introduced by D. D. Dillard, district manager of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Teens Are Topic Of Club Program

Mrs. Gilbert Davis led the program at the Monday evening meeting of El Nino Study Club, held in the home of Mrs. Jack Kassahn.

Mrs. Gayle Neal conducted the business session in the absence of club president, Mrs. Pat Hill.

An informative program on "Teenagers" was presented by Mrs. Gilbert Davis. She maintained that each child is an individual and should be treated as such. She advised mothers present to talk to their children while they are young, thus gaining their confidence for later years. This would encourage them to seek parental advice as they grow older, she commented.

Mrs. Davis concluded her program by saying that the greatest fault with parents is in giving the impression they don't understand their children.

Those attending were Mesdames Ivan Block, Opal Bookout, Ben Childers, R. A. Daniels, Gilbert Davis, John Jacobson Jr., Gayle Neal, Wayne

Travels Described At Class Meeting

Golden Circle Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church met recently in the home of Mrs. Dola Phillips, 230 W. Fourth. Mrs. Lucile Olson assisted as co-hostess.

Mrs. Bertie Benson, class president, presided. Mrs. Ruby Smith, brought the devotional and for entertainment Mrs. Smith spoke on her travels in the southern states.

She showed church bulletins from the different churches which she and her husband had visited during their trip.

The closing prayer was read by the class teacher, Mrs. Lottie Clark.

Those present were Mesdames Bertie Benson, Teresa Hale, Pearl Young, Janice Sides, Velma Kendall, Lottie Clark, Donnie Owen, Lasse Roberson, Lucille Olson, Gladys Manjeot, Viola Gray, Irene Marcum, Ruby Smith, Elsie Boardman, Gladys Miller, Miss Della Stagner and the hostesses.

Thomas, Melvin Young, Paul Stevens and the hostess, Mrs. Jack Kassahn.

Civil Defense Methods Do Merit Consideration

Civil Defense, to most people, falls in the same indifferent category with freedom, air and food. We do not worry about or appreciate such things until we suddenly find ourselves without them! For this reason, most Americans in this area are prone to leave the chore of civil defense to other people.

Meanwhile, our government, our military leaders and our political candidates keep telling us the importance of preparedness along this line. They recommend shelters, institute nation-wide radio alerts, and recommend special emergency planning kits. These things continue to challenge us in much the same degree as water on a duck's back.

Now, we notice, the subject is being approached once again, this time through the department of agriculture — and we are honestly beginning to wonder if perhaps there may not be some soundness to the continual warnings. At least, it would be well to listen, consider and carefully investigate.

Amarillo means "helium" in certain circles, and should Amarillo ever become a military target chances would be excellent for Hereford to also be shellacked. There are other good reasons, too, why our area might well become an important target.

Those who have suffered the woes which follow a tornado may have a mere glimmer of things that happened when the atom bombs descended upon the two small cities in Japan. In a nutshell, adequate civil defense means possible survival for ourselves and our loved ones. It may not be enough, and there is no guarantee. On the other hand, it is the only available method possible when the battle front shifts from a foreign field to our own back yards — and this is where any future war will most likely occur. Certainly, none of us would want American troops on the battlefield without guns, ammunition or gas masks. Yet, when we turn our heads to the constant federal appeals, we are placing our families in such a position.

Therefore, it is practical that we do take time to listen and to fully understand the civil defense planning currently to be outlined through agricultural and soil conservation departments in the area.

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

Imprisoned in England for his faith at the age of 25, William Penn wrote: "My prison shall be my grave before I will budge a jot, for I owe my conscience to no mortal man."

Persecution did not daunt the spirit of the Quaker who founded Pennsylvania. It made him resolve there would be religious freedom in his new land, "because no people can be truly happy tho' under the greatest enjoyment of civil liberties, if abridged of the Freedom of their Consciences." Pennsylvanians enjoyed civil and religious liberties, and helped pass them on to us through the Constitution. Indians responded to Penn's brotherly love.

Pennsylvania was Penn's "holy experiment" where government was for "the good of mankind."

Panhandle Paragraphs

POLICE PROBE DELINQUENCY

Extensive investigative efforts during the past few days by Dumas police officers apparently have nipped in the early stages what could have been a full-scale juvenile delinquency problem in Dumas. Officers this weekend revealed that approximately 12 youngsters, between the ages of 13 and 16, had been questioned last week for a variety of misdeeds ranging from the inhaling of dangerous gasoline fumes to petty thievery and sexual promiscuity.

By late Saturday only in one case, however, had actual charges been filed, although a number of informal hearings have been conducted in juvenile court here, presided over by Judge Archie S. McDonald. Full-scale investigation began by Dumas police after three girls, ages 13 and 14, were caught by officers inhaling fumes from a truck's gasoline tank. "They were putting their mouths over the exposed opening of the tank and inhaling the fumes," Police Chief Frank Hudson said. "Two of the girls already were groggy from the fumes and the other was trying to duplicate the feeling." Hudson said it apparently was making many of the youths groggy although others had become sick and had not tried it again. "They thought it was an easy way to get a 'buzz' without drinking. What they didn't realize was the danger to their health." Police had been investigating the rumors of delinquency for at least two weeks. After stories were related to officers by those involved, the majority of teenagers were released in the custody of their parents. Possibility of some charges being filed, however, was under study.

TMA MAN SPEAKS ON MEDICAL CARE

"The doctors of Texas recognize an obligation to provide the best medical care at the lowest possible cost," Donald M. Anderson of Austin, assistant executive secretary of the Texas Medical Association, told the Dalhart Rotary Club Friday. He also stated that the cost of all commodities and services in this country have risen much faster than medical care prices. Anderson outlined positive programs which have been undertaken by medical societies to improve services by physicians. Public grievance committees have been appointed by county medical societies to clarify and adjust differences and misunderstandings between patients and doctors, such as fees and quality of medical service. The Texas Medical Assn. also is working hard to provide a larger and more equitable supply and distribution of physicians, particularly in rural areas. "What's happening in medicine today also is engulfing business, industry and agriculture," Anderson said, "the trend is to spend more and more government money in order to build a top-heavy bureaucracy."

About Hubcaps: It's Better To Be Chicken' Than To Be Plain Stupid

The rash of hubcap thefts reported during the past few days is not exactly an unheard of situation in this community, or for that matter, in any other community in the United States. The circumstance appears to be seasonal and, unfortunately, it is chronic.

Most generally we like to think of these escapades as the work of thrill seeking youngsters, and may even catalog them in the same category with Halloween pranks. Following one previous outbreak of thefts, officers found a cache of several hundred hubcaps in the cemetery. Apparently no effort was ever made to sell the stolen caps, which were taken for the sheer thrill of acquisition.

Why people would steal with no anticipation of profit cannot be explained with logic. The basic reason is highly similar to the "Russian Roulette" fad which swept the country a few years back. To a gambler, it would stack up as "no deal", because the best he could do would break even, and when gamblers risk their money they definitely want a chance to come out ahead.

The people who lost hubcaps, on the other hand, may not always take such a liberal view of the thefts. Replacement costs run from $40 to $60, which they must pay out of pocket or in the form of increased insurance premiums. A heavy financial loss probably occurs at the same time to the law enforcement departments, and this must be offset through taxes.

These things are bad enough, and we are willing to admit that 99 times out of 100 the youngsters will outgrow the childish tendency to lift hubcaps — but what about that hundredth time? This is the youngster who may be a bit pushed for cash, and realizes that hubcaps can be sold in the field of "hot merchandise". Next time, this youngster will go out and maliciously steal hubcaps for personal gain, rather than for "fun". The rest is an old story. He starts taking larger items, and ultimately winds up before a judge.

Is Teaching A Wonderful Job?

"I think teaching is one of the most rewarding vocations a person could choose." This statement, often variously phrased, has appeared in many of the teacher interviews which have been running in the Whiteface, official high school publication. To many people, these statements are most important, because they literally translate into unspoken words which say "that our children are in good hands."

The teachers do not mean to imply that they are making more money than anyone else — although this condition has greatly improved in recent years, and justly so. They do mean that they are doing a job which they thoroughly enjoy, one in which they realize money is not the sole objective of mankind; that they like boys and girls, and that their own lives are richer because they have been able to help others along the way.

This conclusion is highly important in the teaching profession, but certainly not exclusive. It applies with equal emphasis to other professions, trades and businesses. Often the true craftsman who loves his work is equally as interested in his finished product as in his pay check, and the same is true of doctors, lawyers and trades people.

Personnel directors in giant corporations have, in recent years, come to rank attitude by side with ability. The man or woman who truly loves his work is the one most likely to turn out the finest product.

In addition, his value becomes so apparent to his superiors that he seldom has to worry about his job.

This hundredth case is the truly sad part of the juvenile tendency to lift hubcaps. We wish it were possible that every youngster might see the consequences of the "sport" in this light, because we feel sure that instead of being "chicken" because they did not participate, those who refrain could defend themselves on the grounds of ordinary, common sense.

A New Angle On Negro Problem

From the pen of Bob Horton, former Carthage resident but now of Austin, comes words that stress again the hypocrisy of some of our bleeding heart groups.

Bob wrote: "A bunch of fuzzy minded students have been picketing the Texas Theater because it won't admit Negroes."

"It made me wonder, seeing all these misguided bleeding hearts, why they didn't try to do something worthwhile for the Negroes. I'm quite sure that over in East Austin there were any number of Negro children who didn't even know it was Christmas."

"There are so very many ways that the Negro needs help, yet these supposedly 'hundred percent Americans' have to beat their breast and cry because a white man doesn't want to sell them theater tickets."

"The State School (mentally retarded) and the State Hospital (mentally ill) are always asking for volunteer workers to help brighten the lives of those unfortunate, but I haven't heard of any of these self styled humanitarians going out there to help out."

Bob has hit the nail on the head again. This has been our contention all along that these bleeding heart individuals aren't really concerned with lending a helping hand to the Negro or anyone else, but are exhibitionists and hypocrites.

If these students had been picketing all over town for food, toys, medicine and clothing for Negro children, or devoted their time to comforting the ill or soothing those in sorrow, we could be sympathetic to their cause. But this is typical of so much of the fuzzy minded hypocrisy that prevails in America today.

These fuzzy brains seek admission for Negroes into theaters, schools, lunch counters and the like, but won't turn a hand to provide them with a crust of bread.

Spices Originate From All Countries Of World

BY MRS. E. L. CRISWELL

Wouldn't you know it? After having written one article on spices and herbs I ran on to a little map of the world with the main sources of spice and herbs that are grown in each country and on all continents. This is one of the most interesting maps I have seen in a long while.

For instance, in the United States we have paprika, mustard seed, capsicum, herbs and of course sesame seeds; and France has the greater variety of any nation, even India, India, or the Far East, was my idea of where the spices were grown and sent to the other countries of the world but it has only eight—France has eleven.

Of course I can't name them all but just to see if you are surprised, I will name these from France, France has celery seed, oregano, fenugreek, savory, tarragon, thyme, majoram, chervil, basil, fennel seed and rosemary. From India comes celery seed, ginger, cardamom seed, pepper, fenugreek seed, fennel seed, dill seed and tumeric.

Only two nations have nutmeg, and they are Indonesia and Trinidad. Cuba has a one - and only ginger, and some of the southeastern states have ginger, but not in a very large supply.

It is really fun to stop at the spice shelf in the food markets and study the different spices and see which article of food to use them for seasoning and where they are from. Next time you go to the store, take a few minutes to see just how interesting and exotic spices can be and that word spice really covers many, many different seasonings.

Try rubbing a little rosemary into your Swiss or broiled steak and just before serving sprinkle a little "Praise Allah" seasoning over it and test for a delicious new wrinkle to a favorite meat dish.

Become familiar with the different flavors of different spices and if the aroma does not rush at you when the spice jar is first opened, it is not fresh and you may be disappointed in your cookery or you might over-season when you have a fresh supply.

Never store spices near heat or in direct sunlight. Buy small containers unless your family has a favorite that will be used shortly, as sometimes their aroma departs.

Spices are usually parts of plants or seed or pods and herbs are leaves or different plants, dried and stored in airtight containers. Vegetable seasonings, such as garlic salt and onion salt are dried and ground and added to salt, and so in times with spices and seeds added to the formula.

Have you tried bay leaves in vegetable soups or chicken soup, or on plain boiled potatoes?

Cinnamon is not just for cake, cookies or cinnamon toast. Try it on sweet potatoes, pumpkin and squash. Spices aren't mysterious unless you never try them.

Cloves is a time-honored and familiar spice, but have you tried it in cream of pea soup or just plain old cream of tomato soup. Cloves is listed as growing in only two countries and they are Madagascar and Zanzibar. Come on, let's have fun with new flavors and seasonings and enjoy them with a conversation of the country from which they came.

Snowstorm Brightens Prospects For Wheat

Ten to 12 inches of snow blanketed the Plains area Monday and Tuesday, bringing much-needed moisture to crops and grazing land throughout this section and considerably brightening prospects for winter wheat. Precipitation began Monday morning and a light rain which turned to snow in the afternoon, and the steady snowfall continued until noon Tuesday. One and one-quarter inches of moisture was recorded in Hereford on the weather gauge at the City Hall. H. A. Witherspoon reported. The snowfall was general over the Panhandle-Plains area and over eastern New Mexico. However, the moisture recorded in the Hereford area was the highest reported throughout this region. Eight to ten inches of snow was reported at Dimmitt, and a foot at Happy. At Amarillo the weather station reported six and one-half inches of snow, and a total precipitation of .82 inch from the rain and snowfall of Monday and Tuesday. Friona reported 12 inches of snow. Highways throughout this section were blocked by drifts Monday night and Tuesday. Bus service on the New Mexico Transportation Co. lines was halted Monday night and Tuesday and Santa Fe trains were running behind schedule. Hereford streets were virtually closed to traffic Tuesday morning and members of the Hereford Fire Department cleared drifts from Main street with fire hoses after the snowfall stopped at noon. Temperatures were rising Wednesday, with warmer weather forecast for the Plains area this week.

SUBIRRIGATION — Irrigation is practiced in many parts of the United States, not only where the rainfall is deficient but in more favored sections. In the same way that drainage increases the value of the land, irrigation with tile not only increases the valuation but the crops as well. Surface irrigation has been used for ages in all parts of the world. Sub-irrigation has been tried in many places, and has proved to be an ideal way of watering the soil.

The BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm probably is too literal-minded, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:

I'm not interested in any appointment in Washington, I can get talked about enough right here at home where I'm comfortable without going to the national capital for it, but I have been following the newspaper accounts of hearings on appointments made by the new President and it looks like I could qualify for nearly any of the jobs.

That is, I wouldn't have any conflicts of interests. I wouldn't have to sell off any stocks and bonds. I got a clean bill of health on that score, which seemed to be the only point the committees were interested in checking into when a prospective appointee came before them.

As I understand it, conflict of interest means if a man owns stock in a big company doing business with the government, he's got to get rid of his stock before he can serve, or else he might have a natural tendency to let government contracts where it would do the most good for his stock.

I have been thinking this matter over, and while I'm not going into the fairness of the law, it's probably a pretty good one, still I'm afraid Congress is going to have trouble enforcing it, if it goes into it far enough.

For example, take the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare. As I understand it, his job is to promote the health, education and welfare of the people, consequently, to avoid any personal conflict of interest, does this mean he has to get rid of his family and all of his other relatives and friends? Obviously, he can't be promoting measures which will rebound to the interests of his own family.

Or take the Secretary of Agriculture. He ought to know something about farming, and about the only way I know to learn something about farming is to own some land, yet clearly a land-owner would run head-on into a conflict of interest if he promoted something for the good of the land or the good of the farmer, although there are people who will say there have been Secretaries of Agriculture who could never be accused of promoting anything like that.

This thing requires considerable study. And to top it off, I understand President Kennedy has converted his possible conflict-of-interest holdings into government bonds. And there you are. Every time he promotes something for the good of the government, isn't he promoting the soundness of those government bonds?

Getting qualified men for government service is getting harder and harder all the time, but I doubt if I'll ever get hard enough to where I'll qualify.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

BLACK NEWS

Mrs. Braxton Is HD Club Hostess

by MRS. DELTON LEWELLEN

The Black Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. J. R. Braxton Thursday, Jan. 19.

Mrs. Carl Maurer of Friona was the guest speaker, who spoke of her trip to Venezuela. She also showed a film of Venezuela. She showed several items that were made in Venezuela, which made the program very interesting.

Refreshments of coffee, hot chocolate, salad, nuts and crackers was served to Mesdames H. H. Elmore, Fern Barnett, T. J. Presley, Johnny Marrs, Bill Carthel, Ralph Price, Roscoe Ivie, George Frye and daughter, Kimberly, Clyde Hays, Delton Lewellen, Donna and Pamela and guest Mrs. Carl Maurer.

Mrs. Louis Jurack of Plainview came Friday to the Black Community Club House where she held a Dresden Painting party.

The hostesses were Mrs. Fern Barnett and Mrs. Delton Lewellen.

Those attending were Mesdames A. H. Boatman, Lester Dean, Dick Rockey, H. H. Elmore, Otey Hinds, E. H. Cummings, Jim Cocanougher and Travis Stone.

The next painting party to be held at Black will be on Feb. 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Rockey were happy to have their son,

H. V. Rockey, home a while this weekend. He was on his way to Albuquerque, where he has a position teaching in the Montgomery Elementary School.

H. V. took his final exams from T. C. U., in Fort Worth on Friday. He completed the requirements for a bachelor of science degree in education.

There was a fire behind the Black Elevator Sunday afternoon. It seemed there was some men going to do some work with some tar and the tar wagon began to burn and got out of control.

It really made a lot of smoke which drew a pretty large crowd.

The Friona Fire Department arrived on the scene and after dousing the fire a few times brought it under control.

The Black Community is real proud of the boys that did so well in the stock show at Hereford.

Tommy Tatum had a Duroc that placed first and another pig that placed fourth. He had some calves that placed third and eighth.

Craig Coon was awarded the showmanship cup. He placed fifth place with a lightweight Hereford, he had a first place Duroc barrow and a second place lightweight Berkshire barrow.

Ricky Bob Coon also showed

A FOUR-FOR-FOUR batting average was chalked up by Mrs. Bill Angel of Hereford last week. She submitted these four hand-colored portraits for judging in the Texas Professional Photographers' Association convention at Tyler. All four won ribbons. (Photo by Angel)

some outstanding pigs. Maynard Greeson had a calf that placed ninth in the lightweight division and he placed second and third with his lambs in their classes.

Another congratulations is in order to the eighth grade boys and girls for winning the beautiful trophies for their good basketball playing in the tournament at Sudan on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Rockey were in Amarillo on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Prewett and family and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Tannahill were in Hereford for a birthday dinner on Thursday evening honoring Maurice Tannahill.

The Rev. and Mrs. Bill Burton and family and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baldwin and girls enjoyed supper in the Bruce Parrs home on Thursday evening.

Several of the college students were home this week. Graham Prewett was home from Lubbock where he is attending Tech.

Judy and Betty Barnett and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Barnett and son, Chris, were home from college this weekend. They visited with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fern Barnett.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Tatum and Pamela, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Houlette and Debbie of Borger and Mr. Joe Dillingham of Albany were visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Tatum over the weekend.

Mrs. T. J. Presley and Mrs. H. H. Elmore were in Clovis on Wednesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Otey Hinds were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Ivie.

Mrs. Kermit Deaton and Mrs. Betty Wiggle of Artesia were visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Tatum on Sunday.

Mrs. Fern Barnett, Mrs. Ellis Tatum and Mrs. Clyde Hays attended the Home Demonstration Club Council in Farwell on Monday, January 23. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Nazworth and Billy Ray spent the weekend in Amarillo visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Washington and girls.

Miss Judy Taylor and Miss Linda Toole of Canyon were visiting in the home of Mrs. George Frye on Monday.

Mrs. Traut Booth and Mrs. Joe Butler of Dimmitt spent the day in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Frye and daughter, Kimberley, on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Potts and family and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Shapley all of Amarillo visited Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Delton Lewellen and girls.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lewellen and Tommy Lou enjoyed visiting in the home of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Kelley and girls in Plainview on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Carthel and boys visited Bill's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Mac Lain and family of Lakin, Kan.

Mrs. Bill Carthel and Mrs. George Frye were shopping in Amarillo on Friday.

Mrs. Bill Carthel attended the 91st birthday of her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Byrd of Dawn at the home of Mrs. J. V. McCabe in Dawn.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Stone and family visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Carpenter and family of Ballyburros on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Stone and family and Mr. and Mrs. Harland Frye enjoyed driving and sight-seeing around the New Mexico state line on Sunday. In the evening they enjoyed playing 42 in the home of the Stones.

Mrs. Lester Dean and girls visited with Mrs. S. J. Greeson in Hereford on Sunday afternoon.

Weekend guests in the Coy Patton home were Mrs. Grace Crandall of Colorado Springs, Colorado, mother of Mrs. Coy Patton is visiting in their home a few days this week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Townner, Mrs. Patton's sister and husband of Colorado Springs, Colo., also visited in their home.

Coy's brother Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Patton of Seminole, visited Sunday.

Mrs. David Arnold, aunt of Mrs. Coy Patton and her daughter of Amarillo were also Sunday guests.

Mrs. Huck Nichols is now employed as a beauty operator for the Vogue beauty shop in Friona.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Braxton and boys attended the basketball games last Tuesday night at Tulla along with several of the others from the Black Community. A few of them were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lewellen, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Buckley and Mrs. Huck Nichols.

We were very sorry to hear about Coy Patton being in the hospital again. Coy suffered another heart attack on Friday morning. We just heard from Mrs. Patton and Coy was dismissed from the hospital on Monday afternoon.

We are very glad the Jim Buckleys are settled in their own home again. Glenna and Beatrice Crow of Hereford spent the weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Deaton and girls.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Patton and daughter, Charla visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Coy Patton this last weekend.

MAN'S CASTLE INVADED

DENVER — This is about a Denver man, who, like so many husbands, has a joint checking account with his wife at the bank. Only he has a separate account, too, for poker winnings and similar windfalls.

One day a vice president called him into his office and showed him a check written on the separate account and signed with the man's name. The signature was almost identical — but not quite — to the man's own handwriting. But the man said he'd be glad to approve it. He recognized the handwriting. It was his wife's.

The former Geo. Greenman & Bros. shipyard, which built square-rigged ships during the 19th Century, is now the site of Mystic Seaport, Conn., a recreated 19th Century coastal village.

Izalco, a famous volcano in San Salvador, erupted every few minutes from 1770 until about two years ago. Then, to the dismay of proprietors of a new hotel offering front seats for the show, it quit.

HEY REFI That seems to be the cry of Dumas' Jim Morgan (35) while Thomas Coffman of Hereford, left, seems to cast a dubious look toward an official. Ignored by all were Glenn Staggs of Dumas (55) and Carl Miller of the Whitefaces. The rugged action came here last week as the Demons edged Hereford 54-51. No. 45 for Dumas is Dick Rector. REMEMBER WHEN?

BY CHARLIE SEEDS
Historians certainly won't record this event as the most important thing that happened that year . . . but it did attract more national attention, and more reams of newspaper copy, than just about anything else that happened.

This was the year that a "Princess" story came true, when an American girl married one of the world's richest Princes. The girl wasn't exactly an unknown. She was a "queen" in her own right . . . reigning queen of Hollywood's beautiful women. Her name was Rita Hayworth.

Her real name was Rita Cansino. She came from a dancing family . . . and she danced her way into movies and to stardom. She had been married before, to the boy genius of radio and movies, Orson Welles . . . but she'd never been married to a Prince. Remember the wedding when Rita married Aly Khan? It was headline news. Remember the year?

There was big news in automobiles that year . . . the first complete model change since before the war. The cars were really new. Crowds lined up to see them . . . but getting one was almost like dreaming of becoming a Princess. There just weren't enough to go around!

The year was 1949.

There's big news today in the completely new 1961 Ford, America's NEWEST car! And there's big news in the deals we're making right now. For trade, delivery, price, and terms, you can't beat the deal you'll get at CHARLIE SEEDS MOTOR Co., Inc. W. Hwy. 60, Phone EM 4-2727.

UNSTICKING PAINLESSLY

GREENVILLE, N. C. (AP) — Dr. Lucile H. Charles calls her technique for painless removal of adhesive tape "not in speedily pulling the tape away from the patient, but rather slowly removing the patient from the tape."

Dr. Charles, an English professor at East Carolina College, has had her technique reprinted in many national magazines and newspapers. It goes like this: "With the thumb and the index finger of one hand gently lift a corner of the adhesive tape. With the fingers of the other hand, gently and slowly press the skin that is just beneath the tape, away from the tape and toward the center of the dressing or bandage. Continue the process until the adhesive has been entirely removed."

TIME TO CELEBRATE

ENID, Okla. (AP) — The birth of a boy to Queen Farah of Iran resulted in three aviation cadets getting the night off at Vance AFB near here. The students, all Iranians, were Mohammed H. Riahi, Bijan Anvar and Kardestani Mokir-Hassan.

A FAST SHUFFLE
BELLEVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Dancing can be dangerous. Mrs. Doris Schulte, 34, said she suffered a back injury when she was accidentally bumped by another couple while she and her husband, Bernard, were dancing at a party. She was taken to a hospital in an ambulance.

PIERCING PRACTICE

RED BANK, N. J. — The age-old practice of piercing earlobes for earrings is being modernized, according to Jeweler Paul Seldin.

The old method was to force a probe through the flesh to a cork held on the other side of the lobe. But this painful system has been replaced by a spring-loaded device which, Seldin says, "permits greater accuracy and doesn't hurt a bit."

Through the centuries people have had their ears pierced for a number of reasons — to improve eyesight, guarantee good hearing, and ward off the evil eye. But the best reason, Seldin said, is insurance. "If you buy a pair of earrings for $1000, you don't want them to fall off."

Law Is Featured At Club Program

Progressive Home Demonstration Club met Jan. 17 in the home of Mrs. Dale Hallows. Mrs. O. L. Carmichael presided over the meeting.

The program was on "How a Bill Becomes a Law" and was given by Virgil Dodson. Mrs. C. V. Burges introduced the speaker. Dodson explained the various steps it took for a bill to become a law. He said that it had to be sent to a committee to be studied or to be tabled. He also mentioned that people should be more interested in our government.

Mrs. Lester English read a letter that she had written to her Senator. Everyone was urged to write a letter to her Representative or Congressman before the next club meeting.

Mrs. Alvis Jolly was elected club nominee for District delegate, Club nominee for County Texas Home Demonstration

Council Chairman was Mrs. H. S. Fuller, present chairman. The next meeting will be Feb. 7 in the home of Mrs. H. L. Hershey. The members present were: Mesdames Lester English, Alvis Jolly, E. C. Hammett, P. L. Carmichael, H. L. Hershey, Fred Autry, Leon Coffin, Darrell Thomanson, C. V. Burges and Dale Hallows. There were two visitors, Mrs. D. L. Larson and Virgil Dodson.

Mental Health Is Program Highlight

Wyche Home Demonstration Club met Thursday in the home of Mrs. Charles Packard.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Ernest Highers, introduced by Mrs. Wilbur Axe.

Mrs. Highers gave a book review on "Christianity and Mental Health." She brought out the importance of a balanced life which includes work, play, love and worship. The importance of keeping busy to keep from worrying over things that never happen are reasons for tensions which lead to mental distress.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Norman Hodges.

Attending were Mrs. George L. Olson, Mrs. J. V. Pickens, Mrs. Norman Hodges, Mrs. Wilbur Axe, Mrs. Charles Packard and a guest, Mrs. Ernest Highers.

Hardwick Looks Forward On Theatre's 44th Anniversary

"Yes! The picture show business has changed a lot since I held my first job as a youngster of 13 years, and no question about that," says Francis Hardwick, manager, as he made plans to observe the 44th anniversary of the Star Theatre in Hereford this week.

Hardwick, who has served as manager-owner of the Star for the past 15 years, comes from a long line of theatre people. His father, Eugene F. Hardwick, operated the Air Dome Theatre in Roswell in 1906, and was one of the early exhibitors in the southwest. Also associated with the Star since 1953 is Bill Hardwick as assistant manager, who represents a third generation of theatre exhibitors to be connected with the Hereford shows.

"I got into the business when a projection machine operator got drunk," Francis recalls. "I was only 13, and when I reached the age of 15, I got my first manager job." Still a young man, he turned to ranching and did not re-enter the theatre business until the family moved to Hereford 15 years ago. In theatre circles, as well as in Hereford, Francis Hardwick is known for his promotions, which are often unique and clever. He has painted footsteps, laid out mummies in coffins and has even sold dollar bills for 90 cents.

"I just feel that a man who advertises something and does not follow through to merchandise the product is making a mistake," he says. "This applies to other businesses as well as to mine."

"No, TV isn't a taboo word around the Star Theatre," he continued, "but I will say that it has never hurt so much as many people figured, including numerous theatre exhibitors. When the price of cars went up in 1957, we felt the effect more sharply."

"The one thing that probably hurt the show business more than any other was the federal ruling which took the distributors out of the theatres - because it also took away the incentive to produce big pictures."

He feels that the business today stands on a threshold of new frontiers, due to the ever-growing number of independent producers. Today, ac-ording to Hardwick, some of the best pictures are coming from producers like Jerry Lewis, Gregory Peck and Bert Lancaster.

"Pictures definitely run by trends," Hardwick adds. "The new trend is the 'family picture' - and it is going over in a big way. Until recently, the trend has centered around horror films, and the appeal has been limited. It probably grew out of an effort to compete with television."

Hardwick further believes that the movie theatre should definitely be an integral part of the community. "In fact," he says, "towns which lost theatres in recent years have seen them reopened as a cooperative effort on the part of other business men, who were losing volume. Many towns larger than Hereford closed their matinees, but we kept ours going - often at a loss - because we feel that we have an obligation to the community."

Billing the Star Theatre as "Deaf Smith County's biggest baby sitter," Hardwick was one of the early exhibitors to recognize a need for entertaining children and offering relaxation for weary mothers.

"We like Hereford and Deaf Smith County," he says; "They have been good to us, and upon the occasion of our 44th anniversary we are happy to announce a 'Theatre-Community' contest. We hope you will enter, and we do promise to continue giving the community the best type of movies and entertainment available in the industry."

THE STAR THEATRE IS CELEBRATING IT'S

Get More Out of Life - Attend A Movie Often . . . .

Where You Get More For Your ENTERTAINMENT $

Dear Friends:

In February, the Star Theatre will celebrate its 44th Anniversary, its 25th year under the same associate management and its 15th year under my personal management.

Although the movies are passing through a stage of severe criticism, they, the movies are really better than ever. The motion picture theatre still provides the cheapest and best entertainment for the whole family, where all the family go or a group for Enjoyable Entertainment.

Some people apparently think that the motion picture theatre should add "baby sitting" to its basic function of providing entertainment: "The movies should be run", they say, "so we can send our children there anytime. And, the Motion Picture Production Code shouldn't give a seal of approval to films we don't want our children to see." That's their opinion; we must disagree. Certainly there are films not suitable for children. They are probably indented by the P. T. A., the Protestant Motion Picture Council, the Catholic Legion of Decency and numerous other interested groups. It is easy to find out about movies. This enables the public to choose its film entertainment.

But, the Production Code never was intended to replace parents. It never was intended to make every film appropriate for a "Junior Matinee". It was -- and still is -- intended to assure that motion pictures of many kinds, make for many audiences are kept within a reasonable moral bounds. This is what it does.

It leaves bringing up the children to the parents, which seems to be what parents are for. We think that is right and we hope that in this country, parents are here to stay.

In the future our plans are as follows -- when we have a picture that children should not see, knowing that a large number of children depend on the movies for their Saturday and Sunday afternoon entertainment, we will have one showing of a picture suitable for children. This will be the first show the afternoon, one showing only before the regular show.

They are not making any more adult pictures than have been made in the past; but the percentage of adult pictures is greater due to the fact that parents are sending their children to see the family type picture and not coming themselves, therefore family pictures are a money losing venture.

REP. WALTER ROGERS WRITES:

The Mail Bag Produces Many And Varied Items

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT:

The mail in the office of a Member of Congress brings many and varied items. It would be impossible to include in one newsletter a discussion of all of the subjects touched on in one day's mail.

Usually, this mail increases tremendously during the first part of a session of Congress. Some letters have to do with the problems of veterans; others have to do with the problems of the farmer, perhaps the general farm problem, or the trials and tribulations encountered under one of the many facets of the government farm program. Others have to do with the many segments of commerce, both domestic and international.

Passport problems are always plentiful. Matters concerning the many, many problems which beset the Social Security system always make up a large part of the mail. The several military services are always high on the yardstick of problems affecting the people of this country. There are many, many more items which could be mentioned, but I want to discuss one particular item which always holds a high place in the concern of the people of this country. That is the mail concerning Communism and the Communist movement in this may be assured that vigilance is still the watchword and that every effort is being made to meet every challenge by the Communist menace.

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

Final Legislation Usually Irish Stew Of Compromise

BY VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN — When the Legislature faces a difficult problem on which there are sharp differences of opinion, the final legislation is usually a sort of Irish stew of compromises.

Ingredients for this session's main dish, state financing, are fast pouring into the pot. Simultaneously, Gov. Price Daniel and the Legislative Budget Board presented plans for state spending in 1962-63. Governor Daniel recommended general revenue spending of $497,964,734. Budget Board recommended $356,183,172 — a difference of $123,781,562.

New spending recommended by the governor would include a medical care program for the aged, $600 a year salary hikes for public school teachers and other improvements in education.

As a primary source of new money, the governor endorsed the payroll tax proposal recommended last fall by the State Finance Advisory Committee. He also approved raising state college tuition by $50 a semester.

Daniel urged lawmakers to handle separately the deficit that's expected to be about $65,000,000 by the end of the fiscal year. For this he tabbed a temporary 3 per cent natural gas tax, a franchise tax, escheat bill and transfer of the farm to market road program from the general revenue to the highway fund.

A brake on headlong expansion of city limits would be provided in a bill introduced by Rep. W. T. Oliver of Fort Neches.

Under the bill, cities could annex only 10 per cent of their surrounding territory each year. Meanwhile, each city would have a measure of control through "extraterritorial jurisdiction" of a zone from 1/2 to 5 miles deep on its perimeter. This would give the city direction over construction and sanitation codes and enable it to prevent the development of outlying slums.

Many officials feel that some Texas cities have gone overboard in annexing more territory than they are able to digest.

Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo, long time critic of present auto insurance regulations, has outlined a liberalized plan he will ask the Legislature to approve.

Changes recommended by the senator:

1. Use of only that part of a driver's record which was made since January, 1960, date the new merit system went into effect. As set up, insurance rates are based on driver's record for the past three years.
2. Eliminate from the list of violations causing insurance rate penalties (a) speeding less than 15 miles per hour over the limit (b) stop light violations involving amber, rather than red lights and (c) "creeping" at stop signs.
3. Eliminate from accidents that result in a penalty those where less than $100 damage is caused. Present limit is $25.

Texas' public schools' share of state spending has dropped from 35.5 per cent in 1950 to 30.6 per cent in 1960.

In a report to Governor Daniel, Texas Education noted that while state spending on public schools has doubled in the decade, other states have upped school financing even more.

In the 1950-60 period, the scholastic population increased 34 per cent, enrollment 46 per cent and average daily attendance 50 per cent. State spending on schools rose from $187,000,000 to $356,000,000.

Texas State Board of Education, TEA's policy making body, has recommended a raise for teachers, but did not specify how much it felt the raise should be.

There's money to be made in museums, mansions and missions — if they're kept up and made attractive to tourists.

An improved and increased array of historic spots could increase tourism 10 per cent and thereby state tax revenue $1-750,000 a year, the State Historical Survey Committee reported to the Legislature.

Committee did not ask for state funds to renovate historic buildings. Instead, it suggested an $82,775 appropriation for leadership and guidance of local groups who want to preserve or improve something in their locale.

Also recommended was a $50,000 a-year appropriation for the Civil War Commission to be used in setting up Texas' part in the centennial observance. Other states in the South, many of whom already have combined scenery and Civil War mementoes to make big drawing cards for tourists, have the jump on centennial planning.

Women's rights advocates have come to Austin every session, as far back as most legislative observers can remember, to try to get rid of one or more of the Texas laws that treat women differently from men.

Every session, the women are treated with courtesy, viewed with amusement and their bills are good naturedly buried.

This year the irked women, mostly members of the Federated Business and Professional Women's Club, are going all out. Instead of trying to get one or two individual statutes repealed, they are trying for a constitutional amendment guaranting equal rights for women and abolishing — at a stroke — all laws to the contrary.

Rep. Ben Atwell of Hutchins (Dallas County) will introduce the measure in the House.

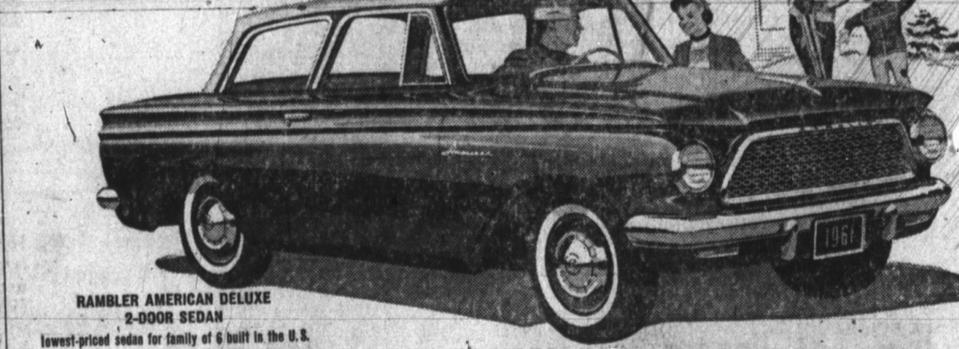

Spokesman for the Texas Republican party's "new generation" of leadership is Tad Smith of El Paso.

Smith, a 32-year old attorney, succeeds Thad Hutcheson of Houston who resigned.

Republicans are setting their sights on: (1) Getting revisions in the election code which they blame for their loss of Texas in the general election. (2) Running a strong race, in the April 4 special election to name a new U. S. senator. (3) Building up momentum for a serious effort to challenge U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough when he comes up for re-election in 1964.
