It suddenly registered with us while we were at the basketball game here Tuesday night. The high school boys don't participate in the cheering! Why? Strangely enough, many of them are football players who would weary such a lack of school spirit if they were playing. Several others are baseball players who fussed all last year about not getting any student support.

Financial institutions gave a picture of sound growth for the county during the past year as they totalled up their assets and deposits for 1961. They provide just one in a number of facts which show that Deaf Smith County is destined to keep on growing and prospering in the future.

With Mrs. Merlin Kaul
Arriving on Friday to spend Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Warren and her mother, Mrs. C. Randle, who lives in the Warren home, was Mrs. Warren's sister, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Ehrle, Sharon and the twins Marilyn and Carolyn of Tulsa, and a daughter of the Ehrles, Lt. and Mrs. Roger Scaggs, who are stationed at Roswell, N. M. When the Ehrle twins, who are 11 years old, arrived at the Warren home they found that their aunt had put up twin Christmas trees in their honor.

On Christmas Day the Warrens, Mrs. Randle, and their guests went to Lubbock and all gathered in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Davis and son Randle for the Christmas dinner. Mrs. C. Randle was hostess for the dinner which was cared for by caterers. Joining the group in Lubbock was Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Randle of Colorado City. At this family-get-together, Mrs. C. Randle had her entire family together — all children, grandchildren, and two year old Randle Davis; the only great grandchild. There were 15 present in all. Little Randle Davis has the distinction of being the first son born in the family in 56 years.

COTTONSEED, A USEFUL BY-PRODUCT from cotton, piled up at Deaf Smith County gins during the week as they continued to run at full capacity. Yards at all of the gins were full of heavily loaded trailers as area farmers continued harvesting the crop. An estimated 70 to 80 per cent of the crop has been stripped. With continued good weather farmers should finish stripping most of the remaining acreage within the next week or 10 days. The cottonseed is hauled from area gins to oil mills. (Staff Photo)

Lamesa Whips Whitefaces In Meet Consolation, 65-52

HALE'S GULF SERVICE
830 S. 25 Mile Ave. EM 4-0012

Randy Dowell turned in his best game of the season Saturday but the Hereford Whitefaces just couldn't find themselves as they fell to Lamesa, 52-65, in Lubbock.

The loss knocked Hereford out of the Caprock Holiday Invitational tourney as the Whitefaces had lost to Vernon 46-60 in the first round.

Hitting with radar accuracy, Dowell tossed in nine baskets, most of them from the far left corner, to garner 18 points, and scoring honors for the team.

Wallace Franklin opened with a two-pointer for Lamesa before Dennis Hodges hit a pair to put Hereford in front for the only time during the game. Gene Westmoreland came back for the Tornadoes with six quick points before Jim Haney drilled two free throws for the Herd.

But the smooth Lamesa team pulled ahead as Hereford ran cold. Dowell added four points and Mack Cansler got two for the Herd, which trailed 12-16 at the end of the first period.

Hereford fell further behind in the second quarter, scoring 13 points while Lamesa picked up 14. Jerry Curtisinger got five points, while Dowell hit another four, Hodges and Dwight McGee each picked up a field goal.

In the third period, Hereford picked up the tempo, but found it more than matched by Lamesa.

Dowell was about the only Whiteface during the period as he hit for five straight field goals as Lamesa resorted to a close zone defense. Mack Cansler came through with two field goals from the top of the circle.

Six Lamesa players were scoring during the same period to chalk up 20 points and a commanding 50-42 lead at the start of the fourth quarter.

As the last eight minutes ticked off, Curtisinger tipped in a rebound to put Hereford within six points. But a field goal and a free throw spread the margin to nine points again before Curtisinger hit a free throw. Then the roof fell in as Lamesa added a field goal and four free throws before Hodges hit for five points.

But it was too late as Lamesa's tough defense kept the Herd from closing the gap.

In addition to Dowell's 18 points, Curtisinger had 12 and Dennis Hodges got 11.

But Gene Westmoreland and Wallace Franklin each scored 18 for the Golden Tornadoes.

Inability to hit free throws in the tourney hurt the Whitefaces. They made just six of 12 attempts against Lamesa, which was scoring on 11 of 15 attempts. Against Vernon, in the first round, Hereford hit 16 of 28 free throws while the Lions made 22 of 27.

DODGERS MISSED FRESE
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gene Freese, Cincinnati third baseman, might have been a Dodger had general manager Buzzie Bavasi taken the advice of Fred Hutchinson, manager of the Reds.

"When I left the Cardinals, Freese was still there," recalls Hutchinson. "I advised Bavasi to grab him. 'Freese will wear out that left field screen,' I told him."

Last year Freese cracked out eight homers in Los Angeles, seven over the left field screen.

... THE BAR OF JUSTICE IN MY COURT.

"Man must pay for the error he makes, the sin he commits... he must reap what he sows." Surely God tempers justice with mercy in His judgments upon us every day. It is that way too, in this judge's court, because he thinks principally of salvation for the man before him. Too often transgressors, both young and old, resent the kindly-intended judge. He sits in court to serve his country and the will of God. It would be well to remember that God shall bring every work into judgment. And that people who go to church more, go to court less.

Mrs. Tom Draper Speaks At Noon Kiwanis Meeting

Mrs. Tom Draper, speaking at the regular noon meeting of the Hereford Kiwanis Club on Thursday, outlined briefly the Extension Service program for the Deaf Smith County area.
 In discussing the program, Mrs. Draper, the county home demonstration agent, pointed out that the program was divided into three parts — agricultural, a combination of agricultural and home demonstration, and home demonstration work.
 County agents and home demonstration agents do other things besides feed livestock and teach people to sew, she pointed out as she outlined the program.

During her talk, Mrs. Draper discussed the work of the Deaf Smith County Program Building Committee and its committees and programs.

When the need for a new committee is felt, she continued, it is organized and the new program begun.

As an example of the work done in establishing new committees and programs, she told of a program recently set up to train domestic help.

The training sessions of the 20-hour course, she said, were designed to demonstrate the modern methods of housekeeping. Each person completing the course will be issued a certificate.

She concluded her talk by touching on the activities and programs of the various home demonstration committees.

In summarizing her talk, Mrs. Draper pointed out that all committees working through the Program Building Committee still have a lot to do in teaching the techniques of better living.

HEAVILY LOADED COTTON TRAILERS filled the yards at Deaf Smith County cotton gins this week as weather of the year's end continued to remain dry. All of the cotton-gins in the area are working at capacity as farmers continue later-than-usual harvesting of the 1961 crop. Bad weather prevented stripping of the major portion of the crop and the harvest was delayed until mid-December. (Staff Photo)

Escheat Law Battle Looms As Fourth Session Begins

BY VERN SANFORD
"Escheat" is a word you'll hear often during the next 30 days.
With the fourth session of the 57th Legislature under way the most important item on the agenda is "escheat." Governor Price Daniel called this third special session because he believes the more than 1,500 banks and savings and loan associations should be subject to escheat.
But just what is "escheat"? It's a process as ancient as Roman history; written in Old England's feudal law; described by Webster as, "Reversion of land to the crown, or to the state in the United States, by failure of persons legally entitled to hold the same."
Escheat provisions were incorporated in the constitution of the Republic of Texas, and enacted as a state statute in 1885.
Texas law always has stated that when anybody dies without heirs, or disappears and can't be found, his property shall be turned over to the state, after seven years. But the law has lacked a provision by which persons or institutions holding property of missing persons were required to report it.
Governor Daniel started pushing for a provision three years ago, and last summer the Legislature finally passed a reporting provision. But the bankers have fought it long and successfully. They are still exempt from the reporting law, although all other businesses and public agencies must comply.
During the interim between legislative sessions, a special house committee had been investigating enforcement of escheat laws applicable to banking institutions. Committee discovered that much of the $4,000,000 escheatable accounts lying dormant in Texas banks is being dissipated through service charges and recommended that:
1. The Legislature add banking institutions to the escheat enforcement law without delay, and require banks to advertise for lost owners after 7 years.
2. That this matter receive prompt attention in the January session, because the committee estimates a year's delay would mean the loss of $1,000,000 through the procedure of service charges on accounts that don't require service.
3. That the committee keep on working to see if there are any other considerations which should be brought to the attention of the 58th Legislature.
Loan Shark Legislation
Although the Governor hasn't said he'll introduce loan legislation at the special session, it's considered a safe bet that the uproar over "loan shark" practices of sky-high interest rates will prompt him to place this issue on the January agenda.
The Legislative Council had a heated debate, and voted 9-2 to recommend a loan bill backed by Representative Cris Cole of Houston.
Cole's bill sets a 10 per cent ceiling on interest to be charged on loans.
A lender would be able to charge more than 10 per cent on loans under $1,500 only if he got a state license, paying $200 for investigation and $200 a-year license fee. To get the license, he'd have to hold $15,000 in liquid assets for each loan office, and post a $20,000 surety bond, plus $5,000 for each branch, plus the $200 annual fee for each office.

Cole's bill calls for creation of a Consumer Finance Commission which would examine each lender's books annually, at the expense of the lender.
Interest charges would be limited to 10 per cent per annum on the amount of cash advance, plus a "service and availability charge" of 3/4th of one per cent per month for each $1 of the first $100 of the loan on loans over $100.

On loans under $100, the charge would be $1 for each $5 borrowed, with at least 15 days to be allowed to repay each $5 of the loan.
If excessive charges are made, the lender would have no right to collect principal or charges, and would be fined from $100 to $1,000, and confined to the county jail as long as six months.
The dissenting votes in the Legislative Council were from Senator Charles Herring of Austin, who calculates the minimum rate on loans of $1,500 to be 45 per cent, and Rep. Don Kennard of Fort Worth, who figures a $5 loan for 15 days would cost the borrower 464.4% interest under the Cole bill.
Tourist Boosters Reach 1,000
The 600 who decided to organize a Texas Tourist Council at the November "Texas for Tourists" conference here, have swollen to an estimated 1,000. They will gather in Austin on January 10 for the first Council meeting.
After the group approves a constitution and elects officers for the "nonpartisan, nonprofit" tourist promotion organization, it will host a "dutch lunch" for all representatives and senators.
Luncheon will feature a presentation urging that money be made available from the General Fund to the Texas Highway Department for tourist advertising purposes.
W. Price Jr., chairman of the Tourist Council's executive committee, writes, "We have every reason to believe that the Governor will submit in his call appropriations for the tourist attraction program before our meeting on January 10."
Earlier, the committee estimated that $3,000,000 would be needed from General Revenue to get the advertising program underway. The Council hopes to augment this amount with $2,000,000 in private subscriptions.

Presidential Task Force
National interest in Texas' program of work with the mentally retarded resulted in the appointment of Charles S. Eskridge, director of the Division of Special Education of the Texas Education Agency, to the President's Task Force Committee on Education and Rehabilitation.
Eskridge will serve with physicians, scientists, educators and rehabilitation specialists selected from other sections of the country.
Approximately 5,000,000 Americans are mentally retarded, of whom four per cent reside in institutions at an annual cost of almost $300,000,000.
The Texas Education Agency has been notably successful in a cooperative school work program of local school education of mentally retarded children between the ages of six and 17.
Housing For The Aged
In an effort to stimulate housing for those men and women among Texas' 745,000 old folks who need either specially-built small homes, apartments priced within their limited incomes or institutions that offer nursing care, the Governor's Committee on Aged has prepared a guide to federal building programs.
Guidebook outlines procedures and requirements for obtaining building loans from seven federal agencies, some of which are virtually unknown to the average citizen or organization.

Response has been so great that the original order of 3,000 copies is just about depleted.
Committee Chairman Senator Crawford C. Martin has ordered a second printing.
Short Shorts
Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler has asked the Attorney General to take "all necessary steps" to stop dredging of a deep water channel in Calhoun County until that county's navigation district returns 20,639 acres of unused underwater land to the state.
Agriculture Commissioner John C. White says he will run for re-election. He's been undefeated since he first won the post in 1950.
Senator Ralph W. Yarborough announces that preliminary design work has started on a special commemorative stamp honoring the late Sam Rayburn.
Brigadier General Everett S. Simpson is encouraging Texas men to enlist in the Texas National Guard's 36th Infantry Division. The six-month active duty training program will be reinstated this month.
UT's Bureau of Business Research reports retail sales in the state for November rose 1.9 per cent above October, and six per cent over November, 1960. 7.7 per cent more building permits were issued during the first 11 months of 1961, than in the same period last year.
Texas Highway Department reports a total of 61,979 miles of roads in the state network far more than any other state's.

The only impartial grading of meat for quality is that done by graders licensed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. U.S.D.A. graders use a stamp in the shape of a shield—like the one shown above—to indicate grades. All beef cuts sold at your Safeway are from meat that has been government-graded and stamped "USDA GOOD." Only beef of top eating-quality is sold at Safeway. Not all stores sell government-graded beef. Don't be misled by meaningless names and symbols. Also bear in mind that the Government doesn't use alphabet letters for grading meat. So-called grades "AA" and "A" are not government meat grades.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING

Sausage Tastes Especially Good During Cold Months

Sausage is a minced and highly seasoned meat, made from pork, available the year around in the local food stores. Home-made sausage is occasionally available, too, reminding one of special meals prepared in childhood at "hog-killing" time, when sausage was ground, seasoned and packed. Fresh liver was cooked, the remainder of which was divided and shared with the neighbors. Liver, a meat necessary to the diet because of its rich content in keeping the body from becoming anemic, can be prepared in several ways to make it more appetizing.

Cracklins are prepared from the bacon rind or skin that is removed from a side of bacon or fresh pork. The rind is cut into small pieces with a part of the fat left on. Place the meat, with the fat side down, in a heavy iron skillet. Place in a very slow oven for several hours, depending on the amount of meat being prepared. At intervals, the melted fat should be poured off to prevent smoking. When the majority of the fat has been cooked out, the cracklins are done. Cool slowly; drain on absorbent paper. Mighty good for snack time!

LIVER

Remove outer membrane from 1/4 to 1/2 inch slices of liver. Kitchen shears are handy for removing the veins. Dip slices into well-seasoned flour; brown quickly over moderate heat. Liver will be done when the second side is brown. Don't overcook - liver toughens easily. Serve with fried onions or crisp bacon slices.

To broil, allow three minutes on each side, or alternate squares of liver and cut bacon steaks on skewers. One pound of liver serves four.

LIVER LOAF

1 pound of beef liver
1 medium onion, chopped
1/2 pound pork sausage
1 cup dry bread crumbs
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon lemon juice, fresh, frozen or canned
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon celery salt
Dash pepper
2 beaten eggs
1/2 cup stock
4 slices bacon

Cover liver with hot water; simmer 5 minutes. Drain liquid and reserve for stock. Put liver and onions through the food chopper, using the medium blade. Add remaining ingredients, except the bacon. Form in a loaf in a 10 x 5 x 3 inch pan. Top with bacon slices. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for 45 minutes. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

French-Fried Liver

Remove veins from liver; scald in hot water. Cut into strips like potatoes. Salt and pepper. Roll in flour and drop into very hot shortening or cooking oil. Brown quickly and drain on absorbent paper. Serve immediately.

A spicy tomato sauce is delicious served as a dip with the french-fried liver. This is a quick, different method of preparing liver.

Sausage-Apple Stacks

1/2 cup chopped apples
1 1/2 tablespoons chopped onion
1/4 cup bread crumbs
1 pound sausage roll or bulk sausage
Combine apples, onion and crumbs.
Make 8 sausage patties. Top 4 patties with stuffing, then a sausage patty. Bake in a shallow pan in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 45 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Mock Goose Scotland
1/2 pound sausages (or sausage meat)
6 ounces of mashed potatoes
1 teaspoon oatmeal
1 onion, shredded
1 egg to bind
Pepper, salt and sage (to taste)

Skin sausages and, after cutting into small pieces, put into a large bowl, adding alternately mashed potatoes, oatmeal, onion, sage, salt and pepper. Switch one egg with one teaspoonful of milk, adding same to the dry ingredients to bind. Grease casserole lightly and place the mixture into same, forking round the edge. Bake in a moderate oven for 1 1/2 hours.

Sausage Cake

Preparations: Assemble ingredients and utensils needed. Use 10 inch tube cake pan, greased and floured.

Ingredients:
1 box light brown sugar
2 eggs
1/2 pound raisins (1/2 box)
1 cup raisin juice
3 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking soda
2 teaspoons baking powder
2 teaspoons nutmeg
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 pound sausage
1 cup nuts
1 1/2 cups water

Cook 1 1/2 cups water, 1/2 pound raisins (1/2 box). By cooking these ingredients, you will get 1 cup of raisin juice. Set aside. Mix in a large bowl: 1 box light brown sugar, 2 eggs. Add: 1 pound sausage and 1/2 pound raisins. Mix and set aside.

Sift in a large bowl: 3 cups flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 2 teaspoons baking soda, 2 teaspoons nutmeg, and 2 teaspoons cinnamon.

Add dry ingredients alternately with the raisin juice to the sausage mixture. Mix enough to blend.

Add one cup of nuts. Mix only enough to blend in. Put batter into 10 inch tube cake pan.

Bake: 350 degrees for one hour or until done. When done, remove from the pan.

Tourtiere Pie

Tourtiere is a famous French-Canadian dish for Christmas Eve, eaten after midnight Mass, but is delicious anytime. It dates back to when the first settlers came to Canada; there was a bird they called a tourte, similar to a wild pigeon; the pie was made from this bird. However, the bird is non-existent now and pork is substituted.

Put in a frying pan:
1 pound minced pork sausage
1 small onion, chopped fine
1 small clove of garlic
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon savory
1/4 teaspoon cloves
1/2 cup water

Bring to a boil, simmer without cover for 20 minutes, or long enough to reduce the surplus of water, it must be just moist.

Let the filling cool and put in between two pastry shells. Cook in an oven 500 degrees and serve hot.

TEMPLE TERRACE, Fla. (AP) - Jack Russell of Clearwater, former major league pitcher and star, won The Sporting News Trophy at the Tampa Chamber of Commerce golf tournament held during the minor league meetings. Russell shot a 77. Former no-hit pitcher Ewell Blackwell shot 81-74 to take the low net honors.

Major league managers who played were Birdie Tebbetts, Bill Rigney, Al Lopez, Fred Hutchinson and Alvin Dark. Rigney, who plays a lot of golf in California, had 82-4-78 for second low net.

DOCTOR AND CRUSTACEAN

TUCKER'S TOWN, Bermuda (AP) - A doctor and a land crab helped Ralph Hutchison, 50, of Saucon Valley, Bethlehem, Pa., and Cotton Bay, Eleuthera, Bahamas, win the ninth Bermuda Goodwill professional golf title with a one-over par 72. Hutchison's tee shot on the 18th hole bounded into a land crab hole in the rough of a ravine entering the Atlantic. Fifteen people looked five minutes before Dr. Charles W. Werley, of Hutchison's club, found the ball. (Editor's note: No, the doctor didn't have the ball up his sleeve, as teammates and rivals jokingly suggested).

Hutch took a free lift and hit his second shot over a coral cliff 20 feet high. His third shot landed on the green 40 feet short of the cup. He sank the long putt for a par 4 and beat Jack Mallon, 50, of Wheatley Hills, East Williston, N. Y., and Roy Bronsdon, 57, of Greenwich, Conn., by two shots in the 18-hole test.

Hutchison got $600 for his victory. There was some suggestion that he give Dr. Werley his trophy.

KNOW YOUR DUCKS

WASHINGTON (AP) - "Know Your Ducks," a motion picture on waterfowl identification for hunters, has been released for free showings by the Fish and Wildlife Service, the Department of the Interior. It is a 14-minute 16 mm sound and color film.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - Impish and Coffee Break have been chosen the best 2-year-old harness horses for 1961. Impish, a filly owned by Eaton-Ridge Farm of Norwich, N. Y., was the best juvenile trotter. Coffee Break, property of C. & M. Stable of Archbold, Ohio, was named the best juvenile pacer.

R. A. Freemans Celebrate 60th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Freeman of 125 Sunset Drive, Hereford, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary on Christmas Day, Dec. 25, in their home with an open house, hosted by their children. Many friends attended.

On Christmas Day, Dec. 25, 1901, Miss Maud Jacobs and Robert A. Freeman were married in Melbourne, Ark. The couple had grown up together, both attending a one-teacher country school.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman are 80 and 77 years of age, respectively. She was born on Jan. 10, 1884; he was born Jan. 28, 1881, both in Arkansas.

Born to this union were six children: four daughters, Mrs. Lillie Mae Vaughn of Downey, Cal., Mrs. Mildred Childress of Tulsa, Mrs. Mattie Hobbs of Reserve, N. M., and Mrs. Chloe Kuhnley of Moriarty, N. M.; and two sons, Mark Freeman of Spearfish, N. D., and J. D. Freeman of Prescott, Ariz.

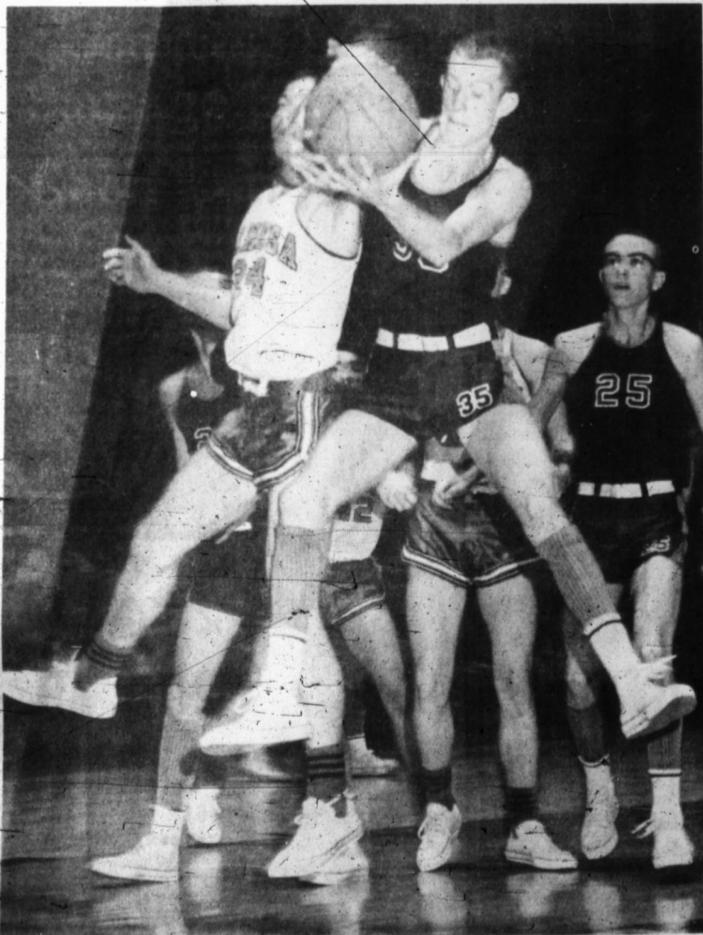

The couple came to Texas for a short time soon after their marriage. They returned to Arkansas for a period of five years before returning to Texas in a covered wagon in 1906; settling in Eldorado, Tex. The family moved, by train, to Tullia in 1910, staying for two months. Land near Tullia, at that time, could be bought for ten dollars an acre. Later that year, the Freemans moved to Adrian where they purchased land in 1929, making their home there until 1946. They moved to Hereford in that year; selling their farm in 1958, and buying a home in Hereford.

Major Legislation Faces Congress In Next Session

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT:

In the closing days of the year 1960, I wrote a newsletter entitled "1961," and pointed up two of the major problems that would be facing the first session. These were Federal aid to education and medical aid to the aged.

That newsletter could be reprinted today and point up two of the major problems that will face the Congress in 1962. Hence, it would appear that the advocates of Federal aid to education, as well as the advocates of Federal medical aid to the aged have not yet been successful in these undertakings.

It can be expected that much effort will be expended during this last session of the 87th Congress to push these measures along. However, I think past experience would indicate that very little headway will be made in either area during the coming session of Congress and that these two issues will still be pending in 1963, unless completely dead.

Much of the time of the next Congress will be taken up on the subject of Foreign Trade. This will originate in the treatment of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act which will be up for extension and revision. However, in addition, it can be expected that there will be many problems in the field of foreign trade and in our relations with foreign governments on other subjects that will be quite time-consuming.

As I pointed out in a previous newsletter, the Soviet Bloc is becoming quite active in world markets, and it is difficult to tell just what course the Reds will follow. There is no question but that they are vigorously opposed to the European Common Market scheme. They do not want strong economic ties among the European countries, or between the European countries and this country.

They realize that a strong economic development along the lines of the Common Market can lead to a strong political alignment, which would mean greater expansion of military strength in the whole structure.

It will be most interesting to watch the developments during the year 1962 and the means by which the Reds undertake to undermine the Common Market. The actions of this country on the Reciprocal Trade question will be watched with eagle eyes by countries all over the world.

There are a number of Bills still pending in the Congress which passed one of the Houses, but not the other. One of these, H. R. 5751, amends the Subversive Activities Act to make it possible to deal more effectively in controlling Communist and other foreign propaganda, and also requires registration of domestic organizations or combinations directed or financed by a foreign country or foreign political party. This measure passed the House and was favorably reported by the Senate. It can be most helpful in the fight against Communism.

Another measure that will be of great help is H. R. 8465, which prohibits shipment in interstate or foreign commerce of articles imported to the United States from Cuba. This would effectively prevent any trade with Cuba, and would be in keeping with the general feeling of the people of this country as to doing business with Castro.

Extensive hearings were held on this measure before the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, of which I am a member. These hearings were most interesting and pointed up the need for this type of legislation. This measure passed the House of Representatives but has not yet been reported in the Senate. It is hoped that early action will be had.

WITH GOOD, CLEAR WEATHER at the year's end, farmers in the Deaf Smith County area continued harvesting the county's crop of sugar beets. Production this year is estimated at 40,000 tons from the approximately 2100 acres of beets planted. Yields from over the county are described as normal and the crop in general is very good with high sugar content. Farmers in the area should be finishing the harvest within the next week. (Staff Photo)

Another measure that has passed the House of Representatives and is presently pending in the Senate is H. R. 8603, which requires public disclosures of identical bids on government contracts. You will, no doubt, recall the exposures in the past two years of some of our major industrial concerns engaging in price fixing activities. Price fixing by the government is abhorrent in the free-enterprise system. Likewise, price fixing by the producers of goods that are supposed to be sold on a competitive basis is equally abhorrent, if not more so.

The defense structure of this nation requires extensive contracting with private enterprise industrial concerns under competitive bidding practices. When these organizations conspire to fix prices and the result is imposition upon the American taxpayer, firm and prompt prosecution is in order. Hence, this particular measure could be most important in seeing that fair competition is maintained under free enterprise system and that the taxpayers are not victimized by the greed of a few.

We can also expect much attention to be paid in the next Congress to the problem of taxation. It is a continuing and arduous task to see that the tax structure is fair and that the burden is equally distributed. This can change from day to day; hence the need for continued re-evaluation. Exhaustive studies have already been made with relation to the basic tax structure, and it is hoped that effective action will be forthcoming in the near future from which tax relief may flow.

First National Service Always Improving

LOAN DEPARTMENT HAS COMPLETE SERVICE

The installment loan department was organized in October of 1956 to provide a convenient and low-cost place for bank customers to finance consumer purchases, home improvements, and to make personal loans for a great variety of purposes. Since its organization, this department has made over 7,000 loans totaling over seven and one-half million dollars. At present, the department has 1100 borrowers who borrow for personal expenses, automobile loans, medical and dental expenses, vacations, education and expenses, furniture and appliances, etc. In addition, farm credit is extended to purchase farm machinery and equipment of all kinds, payable in annual or semi-annual payments.

Loans made by the bank in participation with the Small Business Administration are also handled in this department, and the First National is one of the first banks in the Tri-State area to join with SEA in this type of financing. SEA loans are particularly adaptable to small businesses needing working capital or long term financing on machinery and equipment. Many direct loans to small businesses have also been made by this department since its organization.

Today, the First National Bank has the only complete, separate bank installment loan department in this area.

BANK HAS 87 SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES

In banking, the best bargain is said to be the best. First National now has 87 safe deposit boxes available for rental. These boxes range from $3.30 to $11.00 per year, tax included, and provide, without a doubt, the best protection available for valuables and papers.

Pointing to the growth of this department is the fact that an additional eighty-five boxes are on order, which will make a total of 172 rental units. Access to safe deposit boxes is available only to the registered box holder, using his key and the bank guard's together. Private rooms are also available to the box holder. These rooms were once known as "coupon booths," since most customers kept only bonds with removable coupons in their boxes. This is not true today, however, since present-day customers keep a wide variety of valuables in their boxes; wills, deeds, insurance and car papers, birth and marriage certificates, etc.

INSURANCE PROVES POPULAR TO CUSTOMERS

In the past two years, First National has made available to all its borrowers a plan whereby the life of the borrower may be insured for an amount (up to $10,000.00) necessary to pay his loans in the event of his death.

This insurance, written through a local agent, is placed with one of the southwest's strongest companies. It is issued at the option of the borrower, at exactly the bank's cost, and will cover the life of the borrower to age 70 with a maximum of $10,000.00 protection.

Written on the premise that no man's debts should live after him, this insurance has proven an extremely popular with First National customers, over one thousand of whom now have this protection.

MANY CUSTOMERS USE CORRESPONDENT SERVICE

The First National customers deposit over 700 out-of-town checks daily, which amount to an average of $175,000.00. To collect these checks in the fastest possible manner, the bank employs the services of a large network of other banks, plus the excellent facilities of the Federal Reserve Bank. In addition, these banks provide credit information on out-of-town firms for use by the bank's customers and drafts, and bank's exchange and drafts, and perform many other services. The participation by correspondent banks in loans to First National customers has added millions of dollars in loan funds to the economy of this area.

BOOKKEEPING DEPARTMENT HANDLES MANY CHECKS

First National's bookkeeping department, employing eight persons under the direction of Sue James, handles an amazing number of checks each year.

It is estimated that almost one million items, checks and deposit slips, are processed by this department each year. The latest in high speed proof-reading and photographing equipment is used to assure the most error-free records. To be placed in use this year are new style, vertical deposit slips, giving the customer additional room for notations and memoranda.

BANK CREDIT IS BEST FARM CREDIT

Primarily a farm bank, First National extends a larger amount of farm credit (over fifteen million dollars annually) than any other financial or farm credit agency in this area; providing that bank credit is the best farm credit.

Under the direction of Executive Vice President V. O. Henneman, the commercial and farm loan departments of the bank have serviced the needs of twelve hundred borrowers.

Outstanding farm and commercial loans have grown in the past twenty years from $371,000.00 to an amount exceeding five million dollars.

In 1959, the bank added its staff a farm economist, Jack L. Kassahn, graduate of Texas

BANK SUPPORTS COMMUNITY ACTIVITIES

The support of the First National Bank in all programs designed to help and improve our area continued in 1961. The activities and organizations supported included United Fund, Grain Sorghum Producers Association, Texas Sugar Beet Growers Association, Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, Panhandle Livestock Association, H-P-Hans Research Foundation, Hereford Area Foundation, Junior Livestock Show, Harvest Festival, Texas Research League, Deal Smith County Chamber of Commerce, 4-H and FFA Clubs and many other groups and organizations working to aid soil and water conservation, cotton, cattle, sheep, wheat, grain sorghum and vegetable production and marketing.

The activities of First National's officers and directors, working with many other people of the area and directed to obtaining favorable legislation which will allow this area to increase sugar beet production and to establish a nation wide plant, are known nation wide. During 1961, the bank cooperated with the local bar association in helping to sponsor "Law Day - USA" and in publishing advertisements designed to encourage people to keep their wills up-to-date.

Sponsorship with a number of other local firms, of Welcome Wagon service, was also started in 1961. This service calls on newcomers to Hereford, makes them welcome and furnishes information concerning schools, churches, civic clubs, etc. For several years, the First National bank has sent samples of agricultural products to A & M College, Kassahn's duties in providing assistance and information to farm customers, and in supervising farm loans, has greatly aided the bank in maintaining a closer relationship with farmers in this area.

Included in the above farm totals are many millions of dollars in livestock loans made to area farmers, ranchers and livestock feeders. This very important segment of our economy has always felt "at home" with the First National, due to its many years of experience in livestock financing.

Board Increases Capital, Surplus To $500,000

A recent action by the Board of Directors of the First National Bank of Hereford has caused the capital and surplus accounts of the bank to increase by the sum of $100,000.00.

The increase was affected by the transfer of $100,000.00 from undivided profits to surplus, making the Surplus account $300,000.00 and Capital $200,000.00.

Banking officials pointed out that regular increases to capital and surplus accounts are desirable in every growing bank, not only to better serve the needs of the community, but also to provide for a stronger and more flexible banking institution.

First National's History

Parallels Growth Of Area

On the afternoon of September 29, 1900 — over 61 years ago — a group of 12 pioneer settlers gathered in the court-house in Hereford to organize the Hereford National Bank. Some of these men were merchants, others were farmers and stockmen; all believed sincerely that Hereford was going to make a "right good little town," and that the bank had a good future. Minutes of that first meeting are recorded in a framed book with imitation leather cover and a red binding. The book is now kept under lock and key in the new, modern home of the First National Bank. Needless to say, the old minute book is one of the prized possessions of the organization.

The 12 organizers, whose names are recorded in the "minutes" of the state and federal requirements in securing their charter. The bank was created with a capital stock of $25,000, and land for the old Western Union Land Company, which did much toward early settlement of this area after the Santa Fe tracks were snaked across the prairie.

The men who attended the organizational meeting were: John E. Ferguson, F. J. Clinkenbeard, F. M. Avis, E. Carver, F. B. Fuller, W. S. Higgins, T. M. Palmer, L. E. Tannahill, Ira Ajm, R. J. Kibbe, A. J. Lipscomb, and C. R. Moreman. In the same meeting John E. Ferguson was named president of the bank, F. M. Avis, vice-president, and F. J. Clinkenbeard, cashier.

In a meeting on May 15, 1901, the directors met and approved $5,000 insurance against "daylight holdups and night robberies"; they also placed the president and cashier under $10,000 bonds. The records further indicate that need for the bank existed because on June 26, 1901 the directors met and voted "8 per cent" dividends to stockholders, also placing $500 in surplus. This $500 surplus was the first recorded by the bank, which now boasts $200,000 capital and $300,000 surplus.

Salaries back in the early days, like bank holding, were not so expansive as in 1961. The minute book shows a transaction Jan. 13, 1903, where the directors "fixed the salary of the president at $125 per month; cashier $100 per month" and the going salary for bookkeepers was $60 per month.

Things apparently rocked a long well for the institution until Jan. 9, 1906 when six directors, voting 225 shares of stock, gathered at the bank and voted to change the name of the institution to the "First National Bank" of Hereford. No reason for making the change was given in the minutes, which did note that the change would go into effect "after 30 days notice." Those attending this meeting were: W. H. Fiqua, C. W. Dodson, L. Gough, R. J. Kibbe, John E. Ferguson and W. S. Higgins.

Removal of the First National Bank in 1908 recorded another "first" in its long annals of service. The old Hereford National was located on the same lot the bank stood before moving and, although the name of the firm was changed in 1906, and a new building later constructed, the "Third and Main Location" remained the same. The new location is across the street north, but still on the intersection of "Third and Main." It has often been noted that banks have personalities and such has been the history of the First National Bank in Hereford. During the 61 year period, it has been guided under the reins of seven presidents, all of whom have devoted their lives, principles and theories to the development of the bank and the community. The seven men who piloted the bank through good times and bad, wet years and droughts; they have altered the services of the bank to fit ever-changing economies and have seen the country break up from early day cattle ranches and range lands into a vast domain in irrigation into the present semi-industrial production which supplements other crops.

Hereford has always been basically an agricultural area, however, with a strong emphasis on cattle, wheat and grain sorghums — although the bank has had applications for loans on every thing from flax to strawberries.

Serving the bank as president down through the years have been: John E. Ferguson, 1900-1905; J. L. Fugate, 1905-1910; W. S. Higgins, 1910-1918; George L. Muse, 1918-1942; E. B. Hedrick, 1942-1956; V. F. Patterson, 1956-1959; and Henry Sears, 1959 and currently serving as president.

The First National Bank of Hereford today stands as one of the outstanding banks in the Texas Panhandle. That the officers and directors are still striving to keep pace with the growth of the community is attested by their new building built in 1958 and their sustained growth which is qualified by the 1961 assets of over $12,000,000.

Present officers are: J. H. Sears, president; V. O. Henning, executive vice-president; C. C. Ackler, vice-president; Roy Phillips, vice-president; Miles Roberson, vice-president; Mark Woodall, cashier; Harry E. Cayler, assistant vice-president; Jack L. Kassahn, assistant vice-president; Helen S. Smith, assistant vice-president; and Heien S. Smith, assistant vice-president.

HENRY SEARS — president of the bank since May 5, 1959, is the seventh president since the bank opened in 1900. He is not only an active bank president, but also, is very active in state and local interests. Among his many activities are: he was president of the board of regents of state colleges; currently, vice-president of West Texas chamber of commerce; chairman of the United Fund Drive in 1961; chairman of the fund drive of the Hereford Area Foundation, and many others.
