Youth, 19, Killed As Pipe Strikes 13,000-Volt Line

A 30-minute attempt to revive 19-year-old Daryel Lee was of no avail after the man was electrocuted Tuesday afternoon.

Lee apparently was killed instantly when a section of irrigation pipe that he was moving came in contact with a 13,000-volt electrical transmission line on the Sulphur Park Ranch east of Hereford.

Working nearby, Roger Hagar, 18, was knocked from his feet by the shock, although he was not in contact with the pipe. Hagar, who received only a slight burn on his hand, rushed to a nearby farm house to summon aid.

He explained the accident to Mrs. J. A. McAndrews, who called for an ambulance.

Gilliland Funeral Home ambulance reached the scene within minutes, followed by the first aid unit of the Hereford Fire Department. An oxygen resuscitator unit was put into use for some 30 minutes as ambulance attendants, fire department first aid workers, sheriff's deputies, and highway patrolmen attempted to revive the victim.

"He did not breathe," stated one first aid worker. Lee was pronounced dead at approximately 5 p. m. Tuesday. Officials were notified of the accident at 4:08 p. m., minutes after it happened.

Explaining the tragedy later, Hagar stated, "I was working with Lee. We were moving irrigation pipe. He had picked up a section and it touched a power line."

"The next thing I knew I was lying on the ground. I saw what had happened and went to a farm house to call."

The two were working alone on the Sulphur Park Ranch five miles east of Hereford. The

A SMALL BURN on the end of a 40-foot section of aluminum irrigation pipe marks the death of Daryel Lee, 19-year-old farm hand on the Sulphur Park Ranch. Lee was electrocuted when the end of the section of pipe he was moving came in contact with an overhead electrical line Tuesday afternoon. The electrical shock was powerful enough to knock a bystander, Roger Hagar, off his feet, although he was not touching the pipe. (Staff Photo)

Swimmers Set Dual Meet Here

A dual swimming meet will be held at the Hereford swimming pool at 11:30 a. m. Saturday as members of the Hereford Athletic Club meet the Western Riviera Club of Amarillo, according to Wayne Lawrence, swimming coach.

All youths from 6 to 16 years old who are interested in competing in the meet are urged to come out, said Lawrence. To compete, it is not necessary to have attended any of the swimming workouts.

Swimming and diving competition will be divided into two-year age groups in both boys' and girls' divisions, according to Lawrence.

The meet will be held under Amateur Athletic Union rules and is sponsored by the Hereford Athletic Club. The public is invited to attend.

Woman Injured As Pickup Flips

One woman from Borger was injured about 9:15 a. m. Wednesday when the pickup in which she was riding overturned, throwing her through the windshield.

Injured was Mrs. Lynette Reams Nichols, 26, of 131 Ocila, Borger. She received broken ribs, bruises and cuts in the mishap. Four other persons in the vehicle were not hurt.

The accident occurred when the driver, Clifford Robert Reams, 19, was distracted while driving west on U. S. Highway 60 about eight miles east of Hereford. He swerved left onto the grassy median and the vehicle started to roll as he tried to cut back on the highway. The 1961 cab-over-engine pickup rolled completely over and turned 180 degrees, coming to rest on the right side of the highway just off the pavement. Damage to the vehicle was estimated at about $200-$300.

Uninjured in the crash was Reams, Mrs. Nichols' brother, and her three children: Stuart Allen, 3; Lissa Gay, 2; and Marc, 1½.

Reams told investigating Highway Patrol Sgt. Bill Wells that he was taking his sister and her children to Littlefield for a visit. Reams lives with the Nichols, who operates a custom janitorial service there.

Mrs. Nichols was taken to Deaf Smith County Hospital by Gilliland Ambulance and the children were brought in by a passing motorist. They were examined at the hospital by a

Latin-American Pleads Not Guilty To DWI Charge

A 51-year-old Latin American entered a plea of not guilty Wednesday to charges of driving while intoxicated, first offense, in Deaf Smith County Court. Judge H. C. Williams presiding.

Entering the "not guilty" plea was Pete Sandoval. He was arrested about 7 p. m. Tuesday on West Highway 60.

A bond of $500 was set by Judge Williams.

Junior Hereford Breeders Conduct First Field Day

It has long been said that "the proof is in the pudding," and so last weekend people from "The Hereford Capital of the World" added proof to their claim.

Some 1,000 persons were on hand Saturday for the first annual field day of the Panhandle Junior Hereford Breeders Association on the Walter Graham Happy Hereford Ranch near Happy.

Herefordites demonstrated the things that make this

Continuing Rain Slows Harvests

Heavy rains from evening and nighttime thundershowers plus hot, humid weather over the weekend and during the first of the week have combined to slow the end of the wheat harvest and to keep potato and onion fields muddy in the Hereford area.

Most of the grain in all sections of the county has been cut with approximately 10 percent remaining to be harvested. Heavy rains the past four nights in the area have kept fields from drying out enough to support combines.

As potatoes and onions mature, the rains are also beginning to plague vegetable farmers in the area. Several areas

City Golf Meet Deadline Friday

Entry deadline for the annual Hereford City Golf Tournament has been set at Friday, June 29, at 6 p. m., according to host Bud Posey.

Tournament competition will be held Saturday and Sunday, with the finals slated for Wednesday, July 4. A dinner for all contestants and their wives is scheduled in the Jim Hill Hotel Ballroom Friday at 8 p. m.

"There will be no qualifying rounds as players will be placed in flights according to their handicaps," state Posey. "Golfers from Hereford and Dimmitt are eligible to participate in the tournament."

John Ethridge, defending champ, is placing his crown on the line against other favorites, including Bob Lindsey, Joe Kerr, Dale Tinnin, Glen Render, Punk Gilbreath, Don Martin, H. B. Thomas, and Russell Carver.

Man Sentenced On Bad Check Charge

Cleon Lloyd Smith, 29, was given a 30 day sentence plus $27.45 in court costs Tuesday for swindling with a worthless check in Deaf Smith County, Court Judge H. C. Williams presiding.

Smith was arrested here Saturday at a local business firm by Sheriff's deputies.

Jaycees Slate Donkey Baseball Game On Sunday

The Hereford Junior Chamber of Commerce members will square off for a donkey baseball game here Sunday at 2 p. m. in the Riders Club Rodeo Arena as the Mountain Canaries meet the Jumpin' Jacks.

Featured in the ball game will be the stubborn, tricky donkeys of Ralph Godfrey, Crescent, Okla. All have been specially trained for the game.

The game will be played under regular baseball rules except a 16-inch ball will be used. After hitting the ball a batter must ride a donkey around the bases, which are six feet in diameter.

For the game a regulation softball diamond is used with the exception of the bases. Out in the field, all team members, except the pitcher and catcher are mounted. In order to pick up a hit ball, infielders and outfielders must ride up to the ball, dismount, pick it up, and get back on the donkey before throwing the ball in or tagging a runner.

It was explained that for a tag out, the rider, not the donkey, must be tagged for the out. That is, unless the donkey does something unexpected. And the animal usually does.

Jaycees are presenting the donkey ball game plus a trick mule act to raise funds for club activities.

Tickets for the game are now on sale from any Jaycee member at $1 for adults and 50 cents for children through 14 years old. Tickets may also be purchased at the gate.

Team members of the Mountain Canaries with Doc Carter as captain include Ray Fitzgerald, Gerald Hale, Jack Jones, Ray Paivador, Paul Schroeter, Martin Moore, Dale Wynn, Walter Kaul, James Brownlow, Dave Hopper, and Don Sanders.

Jumpin' Jacks team members, captained by Ken Brock, are Bruce Fink, Larry Kaul, Buddy Pickens, Fred Ruland, Joe Whitley, Payton Ramey, Lee Drake, Joe Easley, Bill Lankford, Wayne Fuller, and Dale Barkley.

Handling tickets sales at the gate before game time will be Bob Cagle, Wendell Maloney, C. J. Lance and Ralph Starr.

Concessions during the game will be handled by the Hereford Riders Club.

Weapon Charges Draw Jail Term, Fines For Two

Two persons, an Amarillo teenager and a Fort Worth man, drew six month sentences each and court costs Tuesday in Deaf Smith County Court, Judge H. C. Williams presiding, on charges of carrying prohibited weapons.

The Amarillo teenager, Leonard Wells Green, 17, 5101 Bowie, was arrested here Friday night with four companions in the 500 block of Main St.

A sword and a nine-shot .22 cal. pistol were found in the vehicle plus two fifths of wine, according to the Hereford Police Department report.

Three of the teenagers were juveniles. They were turned over to Potter and Randall County juvenile authorities here Monday. Fined $44.50 including court costs by Justice of the Peace C. B. Miles for illegal possession was Martinez Blas Jr., 19.

The Fort Worth man sentenced for carrying a prohibited weapon was Palmer Wooten Miller, 29. He was arrested here Monday at 201 Ross after a complaint was filed concerning the shooting of a pistol.

When law enforcement officers arrived, the man is reported to have run out of the front door. He hid in bushes at the side of the house and then ran to the back door where he was arrested.

It was alleged that a pistol was found in his belt at the time of arrest by the Hereford Police Department and the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's office.

Did Windshield Start A Fire?

Hereford Volunteer Firemen puzzled over the cause of a mysterious fire in the upstairs garage apartment at the J. B. Noland place six miles west of Hereford, on Monday.

The fire started as the curtains on a window caught fire, burned a window shade and a small portion of the ceiling, according to Fire Marshal Clay Angelo.

Little damage to the structure resulted from the blaze, but the origin of the fire had the department puzzled.

It is believed that the blaze started from the sun's reflection off the windshield of an automobile and through the window on to the curtains, according to Angelo.

The blaze was classed as the most unusual fire handled by the department.

"THE BEST CRY I ever heard," according to one bystander, "was the one that little boy gave!" Russell Streu was revived through the use of mouth-to-mouth artificial resuscitation by his father after the young boy fell into the Hereford Municipal Swimming Pool Tuesday evening. The boy finally began breathing, and later after a few whiffs from an oxygen resuscitator, let out a cry that told bystanders that he would be fine. He is the 3½-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Streu. (Staff Photo)

AT MUNICIPAL POOL

Youngster Saved In Real Lifesaving Demonstration

By Wain Miller, Brand Staff Reporter. Those attending a water safety instruction course at the Hereford Municipal Swimming Pool learned their lesson well Tuesday evening as a demonstration of artificial respiration — for real — was perhaps responsible for saving the life of a young boy. It was during an adult water safety instruction class that Mrs. Evelyn Blankenship noticed young Russell Streu floating face down in the water.

After finding that the youngster was not breathing, she quickly pulled the boy from the pool. Mrs. Rose Ann Frazier, one of the swimming instructors, rushed to the boy and began mouth-to-mouth artificial resuscitation.

She had completed one breathing cycle — inhalation and exhalation — when the boy's father, Oliver Streu, Water Safety Chairman, reached him.

Streu had been instructing a portion of the class at the opposite end of the pool. He continued the mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. After three breathing cycles, 3½-year-old Russell Streu began to draw his own breath, his first since entering the water.

Moments later the Hereford Fire Department first aid unit arrived and an oxygen resuscitator unit was put into use to help revive the boy.

Young Russell finally gasped and began crying — a sign to those around him that he would be all right. "It was the best cry I ever heard," exclaimed one of the adult students.

26 Take Farm Skills Course

Jess Robinson, agriculture instructor in Hereford High School, is attending the four-day Farm Mechanics Skills Short Course on the campus of Texas Tech this week. It began Tuesday, June 26, and ends Friday, June 29. The course is designed to acquaint agriculture teachers with the necessary skills in teaching high school students the proper use of hand and power tools used on wood and metals.

The course is being taught by Bob Craig, farm mechanic specialist from Texas A & M College, and Louis Eggenberger, assistant professor of agricultural education at Tech.

Vocational agriculture instructors from 25 Texas towns and one New Mexico town are attending the course.

Around Town

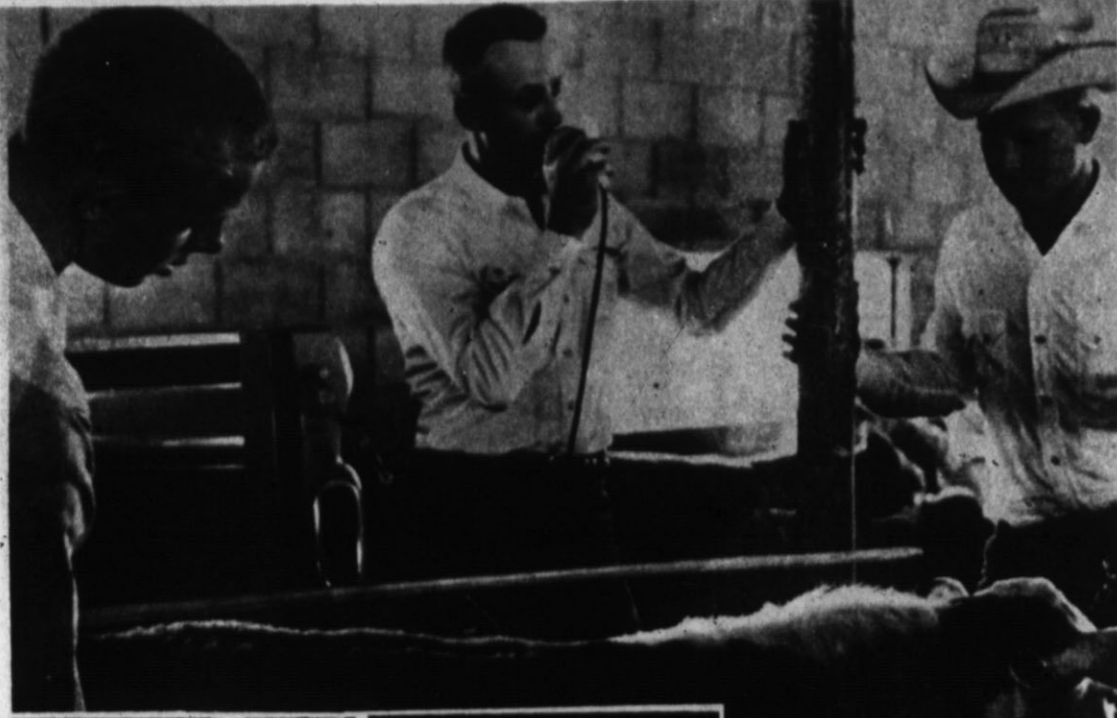

Henry Aycock, Chief of Police here until his resignation earlier this month, was hired Tuesday night by the City Commission of Lufkin to be Chief of Police there. He will report to head the city's 23-man department on Monday, July 2. Lufkin is about 20,000 population. Aycock said his family would remain here temporarily, until he can find housing for them in Lufkin.

We had a most interesting visit with Bob Dillard at the Hereford Airport the other day. Bob, who looks after the airport, had a two-pound coffee can filled with "Pecos Diamonds" that he had collected near the Pecos River in New Mexico. They are six-sided quartz crystals, usually with another, smaller crystal protruding out one side. They are quite unique in rock formations. Bob said that a rock hound, or anyone else interested, could come out and look at them.

Hereford School Board will meet at 8 p. m. Thursday, June 28, instead of last Tuesday, as we had reported earlier.

 Allison racked up a total of 290 of a possible 300 points in the competition. The saddle was awarded by the Taylor-Evans Farm Store of Canyon, with Jay Taylor of Amarillo making the presentation.
 Jim Higgins, president of the Panhandle Junior Hereford Breeders Association, accepted the trophy which he won recently for placing first in the association's speech contest. Later he gave his talk, "My Future With Herefords" to the large crowd.
 In his winning talk, "My Future With Herefords," Higgins stated, "The Hereford breed is here to stay, and so our job as Junior Breeders and the cattlemen of the future is to improve the breed and to promote it in every way possible.
 "Cattlemen have earned the respect and cooperation of the community," Higgins continued, "and since I have chosen a career as a cattleman, I have decided to work with the Hereford Breed."
 Following the talk by Higgins, featured speaker for the day was John Connolly, democratic gubernatorial candidate. Connolly, who had accepted the speaking engagement before entering the political race, spoke strictly of the cattle industry and the "excellent future which it has for young breeders."
 Connolly arrived in Hereford Friday afternoon for a look at the local cattle, before delivering his speech in Happy on Saturday. Beginning his talk, he stated, "The last 24 hours have been most enjoyable, I have seen some great cattle."
 Connolly, who has been a registered cattle rancher since 1938, stated, "It is a pleasure to meet with you Junior Breeders, since it is you who will be our leaders of tomorrow."
 "The future of the cattle industry looks good. Your parents have given you the opportunity to experience what it takes to be successful cattlemen. You will perhaps embark upon a career as a cattleman with an advantage over the present breeders."
 "But still I would impress upon you the necessity of an education. For knowledge, unless report crops ready, but fields are too muddy.

 Some onions in the Hereford area have been pulled and sacked, but were still in the fields Tuesday drying out. Some potatoes are also ready to dig, but harvesting has been set back due to continued rains.
 The only area in the county not reporting moisture is the far western section. Pasturelands in that area are said to be dry and in need of rain.
 Rainfall officially recorded in Hereford has upped the total amount for the year to 9.49 inches as 1.61 inches was recorded for the last four-day period.
 Rainfall amounts list .38 of an inch for Sunday; .10 for Monday; .78 for Tuesday, and .35 for Wednesday.
 In the city, rainfall so far in June has totaled 5.70 inches while the total for the first five months of the year only reaches 3.79 inches.
 The unseasonably heavy rains accompanied by heavy hail storms in mid-June combined with little or no rain in the early part of the growing season and insects to cut the wheat crop in the county this year.
 Hail damage has been reported over wide sections of Deaf Smith County with some areas reporting severe damage.
 Grain men have estimated that the combination is responsible for 50 to 60 percent of the wheat loss in the area. Vegetable crops, grain sorghum, and cotton have also been destroyed in some sections and have had to be replanted.

 getting, "cause none of it is falling on the west part of the county."
 The Albert Maxwells and Ed Skypala have gotten back from their trip to Nice, France, for the International Lions convention. Ed is spreading tall tales all over town about things that happened to him. Albert hasn't said much yet, probably because he hasn't had a chance. Really I think that Albert is waiting for an opportunity for a full rebuttal of Ed's yarns. But Skypala's stories about the exchange students are delightful and we want to pass some of them along next week to our readers.
 Publisher Jimmie Gillentine and his family have returned from a visit to Dallas, Six Flags Over Texas and Corpus Christi. "Hot" is about the only comment we've gotten from them yet, but Jimmie probably will tell more about it when he has absorbed a bit more West Texas air. He did say that Six Flags runs Disneyland a close second... and is much less expensive.
 Russell Carver brought Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Block as his guests to a Rotary Club Ladies Night at the Country Club Tuesday evening. He stood up, said, "I'm happy tonight to introduce my guests..." and then leaned over to Ivan and asked in a stage whisper, "What is your name, anyway?" Then, he sat down and never did introduce Ivan and Francis by name.
 If you want to talk about what makes a car great in the eyes of the world, I suggest you twist Joe Kerr's arm just the tiniest bit and let him expound upon the virtues of his Mercedes-Benz. Joe still shakes his head and says, "I didn't know that anyone made such cars!"
 Last weekend in Lubbock we stumbled upon a sports car rally in a supermarket parking lot. We could hardly believe what we saw: The driver, blindfolded and being guided around a closed, circuitous course by his passenger. Some used voice signals, but the more experienced co-pilots held one hand atop the driver's head, turning it to indicate where he should go next.
 Understand Paul Harvey got his thumb pretty badly mangled when it got caught between a boat and a dock. It happened a few days ago and is still in rough shape. Guess Paul will have to count with the other hand or let someone else at the store keep track of the money.

 As usual, the exchange students really made a hit in Hereford. They are a delightful group and, as always, end up acting more like home folks than weekend visitors.
 Rain, rain, go away—Wheat is wet, so's the hay! We need to harvest, make that pay. So come again, about Labor Day.

 Apparently the boy had fallen into the water. Rescuers theorized that he knocked the wind out of himself when he fell in, perhaps as a result of hitting the side of the pool.
 Only a few lessons before, water safety students were instructed in proper rescue procedures and mouth-to-mouth artificial resuscitation.
 Both students and instructors put their learning into action Tuesday evening to revive Russell Streu. The young boy spent the night in Deaf Smith County Hospital for observation after he had been revived.
 It was the first serious water mishap at the local pool since the Red Cross began its water safety program a few years ago.
 Monday evening, Bill Hardwick, water safety program assistant chairman and young Streu's uncle, stated that Hereford is "lucky" to have the learn-to-swim program, according to one of the students. "We didn't know then how true the statement was."

TELEPHONE TALK
 by Gene Adkisson, Manager

REPAIR SERVICE

The next time you get a bill to cover repairs on some appliance in your home or for replacing parts in your auto, take a long, appreciative look at your telephone. Considering the amount of usage it gets, the telephone is an amazingly trouble-free mechanism. The majority of our customers seldom need to have their phones repaired. Should trouble develop from normal usage, however, repairs are made quickly and without additional charge. Good, fast repair service comes about because telephone people genuinely feel their job is important. This "spirit of service" is found all along the line. Kind of old fashioned, but it's there. This is just another reason why you can count on your telephone when you need it most.

YOUR TELEPHONE ON WHEELS

Today's busy farmer, rancher, or stockman is a man on the move. Modern trucks and cars have solved his transportation problem and often times his car becomes his office on wheels. But every agriculture businessman knows his telephone is a necessity.
 D. F. Stout, an irrigation farm operator in Hereford, solved his communications problems by installing a Bell System Mobile Telephone in his car. D. F. Stout is on the move a lot — but he's never out of touch with his office, home or any of the Agricultural markets and buyers. Wherever he goes by car — his telephone is available — and he'll tell you — he uses it.
SERVICE AVAILABLE TO EVERYONE
 Here's telephone service adapted to your needs, too. It can be installed in any truck or car (including all compacts) and Mobile Telephone Service is fast, efficient, easy to use.

A REAL TELEPHONE — NOT 2-WAY RADIO

A Mobile Telephone is a "telephone on wheels" not a point-to-point radio system. You can make and receive all kinds of telephone calls — local calls, Long Distance calls, even overseas calls. Reception is loud and clear at both ends of the conversation. And, best of all special signals can be installed to let you know if a call is coming in when you are away from your car.
 Call by number. It's twice as fast.

Wild Pitch Is Margin In Game

A single pitch in the last of the seventh gave the White Sox a narrow 12-11 victory over the Red Sox Saturday night in Pony League play.

With the score tied 11-all going into the last half of the game, the White Sox drew two walks with one out. A passed ball put a runner on third as the Reds changed pitchers. But the first throw was wild and Johnson Benefield streaked home with the winning run.

The game was close all the way. The Indians scored once in the top of the first as Mike Moore drew a walk with two outs, moved around to third and tallied on Kenny Justice's double.

But that lead was a short one as the White Sox came back to chalk up five runs in the last of the first. Two walks and a wild pitch were followed by an error and a hit batter before the first out was made. Then came another pair of walks, an error and another two hit batters before the side was retired.

lowed by Jimmy Allison's double. Another walk was allowed before the first out was recorded. With two away, an error permitted two runs to score.

Red Sox tied it up once more in the top of the seventh as Jim Marcum walked and went around on a wild pitch and two passed balls.

But the White Sox had one more time at bat and took advantage of it. With one out, they got Johnson Benefield and Mitchell Bell on base with walks. Benefield went to third on a passed ball. Gene Drummond came in as a relief hurler but his first throw was wild and Benefield scored to chalk up the victory for the White Sox.

Jimmy Allison worked the first two and one-third innings for the White Sox. He gave up four runs on two hits, walked four and struck out five. Steve Hodges hurled the rest of the game and got credit for the win. He allowed seven runs on three hits, walked six and struck out seven.

Mike Moore hurled two-thirds on an inning for the Red Sox, allowing five runs and no hits. He walked four and struck out one. Wynn Buck pitched the next five and two-thirds innings, and was charged with the loss. He gave up seven runs on seven hits, walked nine and struck out five. Gene Drummond threw the last pitch of the game.

Justice paced the Reds with a single and a double in four trips up. Allison got two doubles in five trips for the White Sox, while teammate Bill Price hit a single and a double five times up.

Indians Defeat White Sox, 6-2

Indians picked up five runs in the last three innings to hand the White Sox their first defeat of the Pony League season. The Tribe took advantage of five hits and three White Sox errors to rally for the victory in a 6-4 thriller.

Both teams were scoreless through the first two innings. The Indians took a 1-0 lead in the top of the third as Doug Watson was hit by the pitcher. With two out, Bill Watts singled and Watson scored.

But the White Sox came back to mark up three runs in the last of the fourth after retiring the Indians in order. Chester West walked but was forced as Jimmy Allison got on by fielder's choice. Allison moved to second on a passed ball and Steve Hodges walked. Greg Johnson singled in Allison and Mitchell Bell's sacrifice scored Hodges. Johnson came home on Bill Price's single.

Indians came back to score two runs and tie it up 3-3 in the fifth. Felix Albar singled and Owen P. Smith, 1901 Rutgers Drive, Thousand Oaks, Calif., former County Attorney of Deaf Smith County, died Thursday, June 21, at the West Valley Hospital in Encino, Calif., after a short illness. He was 74 years old.

Mr. Smith was a retired attorney and a life member of the Masonic lodge. He was Past Master of the McKinney Masonic lodge; member of St. Patrick's Episcopal Church in Thousand Oaks, Calif.; past County Attorney of Deaf Smith County; and had practiced law in McKinney and Hereford before moving to California in October, 1960, from Bandera, Tex.

Funeral services were held Saturday morning, June 23, at 11 a. m. at the Griffin Brothers Funeral Chapel in Thousand Oaks under the direction of Griffin Brothers Mortuary. Interment was in Ivy Lawn Cemetery, Montalvo, Calif. The Rev. James W. England Jr., pastor of St. Patrick's Episcopal Church, conducted the rites.

Survivors are his wife, Edith Brough Smith, Thousand Oaks; two daughters, Mrs. Herbert Burke, Thousand Oaks, and Mrs. James Bugental, West Los Angeles, Calif.; two sons, Owen Guinness Smith, Winchester, Mass., and George Russell Smith, Fort Worth; two brothers, William W. The Red Sox were scoreless in the second, but the White Sox tacked on two more runs for a 7-1 lead. Jimmy Allison doubled, and stole third but was caught trying to score. Steve Hodges walked and Larry Brown was hit by the pitcher. Greg Johnson's single scored both runners.

Four runs came in for the Red Sox in the third; as they trailed 7-5. With one out, three walks loaded the bases. A fielder's choice failed to get the runners, an error allowed another run in and Eugene Sparks singled to drive in two runs.

After holding the White Sox without a score in the third, the Red Sox took the lead 9-7 on a four-run outburst in the top of the fourth. A walk was followed by two outs. But another walk was given up just before Moore and Justice singled with an error for good measure.

Fine defensive plays kept the White Sox from scoring in the fourth, despite a double and a single.

In the bottom of the fifth, the White Sox picked up a run as Brown and Price singled ahead of an error.

Gene Drummond scored for the Reds in the sixth as he walked and stole three bases.

But the White Sox rallied in the sixth for three runs and an 11-10 lead. Two walks were fol-

IMPROVEMENTS COST MONEY
CHATTANOOGA - A Harvard educator says the country's greatest need is an awareness of the need for educational improvement - and for the people to show themselves willing to pay for it.
 Dr. Dana M. Cotton, admissions and placement officer for Harvard, addressed the Chattanooga High School graduating class. He told a newsman that "too many people still have a begrudging attitude toward the cost of education."

YOUNG MAN AND THE SEA
INDIAN ROCKS BEACH, Fla.
 If George Wiesner goes through life with an antipathy toward pleasure boating, it's understandable.
 The 17-year-old Largo boy, fishing from a local pier with heavy tackle one recent night, hooked into a big fish, probably a giant grouper.

DEMAND JUSTICE
 The fish refused to tire. George fought him through the night. Other fishermen brought him coffee. Daylight came, and still the fight continued. It went on through the morning.
 A few minutes past noon, a pleasure boat came along, the operator oblivious to the fishing duel. Spectators on the pier yelled and waved their arms, but the boatman ignored them. The boat cut young Wiesner's line, and the fish swam away. He lost his fish after battling it for 13 1/2 hours.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING

Farmerettes Maintain Art Of Kitchen Hospitality

Farmerettes maintain the old-fashioned art of hospitality in the serving of Sunday dinners, meals served to neighbors, or drop-in company; making the activity an every-day occurrence.

The recipe contributors are all farm women who are busy cooking for harvest hands and their busy families. Great quantities of food need to be cooked with the most efficiency that can be mustered.

Mrs. Chuck Stokesberry, an anonymous donor, Doris Fuller, Mrs. T. J. Parsons, Mrs. H. S. Fuller, Mrs. Orval Galley and Mrs. J. B. Caraway have contributed these recipes as favorites and ones that they use in every-day living.

BAKED CATFISH

- 2 - 1 1/2 pound whole catfish, (cleaned and dressed), head removed

 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 - 1/2 teaspoon celery salt
 - Dash of garlic salt (optional)
- Melt oleo, add lemon juice and stir. Combine cracker crumbs with remaining ingredients and mix well. Dip each fish in oleo mixture, then roll in cracker crumbs. Place on cookie sheet or shallow pan, back of fish up. (Do not place so the fish touch) Bake at 350 degrees until tender and brown. (about 30-45 minutes)

 - Salt and pepper
 - 3 tablespoons chopped green pepper
 - 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- Combine corn, milk and eggs. Add crumbs, onion, green pepper, salt and pepper. Pour into greased casserole and dot with margarine or butter. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Makes six servings.

 - 1 package Lowery's spaghetti sauce mix
 - 1 or 1 1/2 pounds ground beef
 - 1/2 pound (approximately) American cheese
- Cook lasagne in salted water. Blanch in cold water, add 2 or 3 tablespoons cooking oil, stir lightly.
- Brown ground beef slightly to which salt and pepper has been added.

OFF THE Shelf

BY H. A. TUCK

Not since Advice and Consent have we read such an interesting book about politics as Hornstein's Boy. Its author is Robert Traver, author of Anatomy of a Murder. This book is filled with theoretical and practical political philosophy, some of which the reader to bound to dislike. But its thoughts are interesting and provocative.

The book opens with Walt Dressler, small town lawyer and former District Attorney, waiting for the plane that is bringing his former college roommate for a visit.

Walt recalls what an eccentric his old friend, Emil Hornstein, had been. Emil was the sort of a multi-millionaire junk dealer. He had been everywhere, done a lot of different things. His primary love was music, which had led him into radio, then into writing hated television scripts. He had worked on a woman's magazine and an unsuccessful political campaign. He was dark (described by some as a Castro without a beard), had a slight, romantic limp, and was adorable (and adoring) to women.

But his greatest attribute was his non-stop speaking ability. After 20 years why was he rushing from New York to a small town in the northern part of a midwestern state?

Dressler, a widower whose only daughter was in college, was both practical and idealistic. Although his practical nature told him that Hornstein's plan was idiotic, his idealism led him to agree to be a candidate for U. S. Senator.

Fighting against the moral corruption of the individual, Dressler returned to the now-restored St. Lorraine house where he and Hornstein had lived so long ago. His campaign also sent him to a meeting with the lovely Louisa Montgolfier, who owned the hotel.

But his campaign was most influenced by a running battle with the huge Sondelius, the political columnist who was determined to destroy him. Sondelius was a master of the guilt-man whose sadistic cruelty and sensual debauchery bordered on the perverse.

This is a blow-by-blow story of a grueling political campaign, interesting because it has seldom been told. But it is also a funny book in places, with some wonderful dialogue and humorous moments.

Walt Dressler, Emil Hornstein, Leon Falconbridge (the gentle, shrewd Negro who worked tirelessly for Walt), Sondelius—all are sharply drawn by the author's word portraits.

You probably won't agree with all of this book, but you will enjoy it as the campaign goes its weary, frantic course in Hornstein's Boy.

Place in a 325 degree oven for approximately 30 minutes. Serve hot.

Indian Relievers Hold Off Tigers

Two relief hurlers held the Tigers hitless for five innings in Pony League action here Friday as the Indians pushed across two runs in the top of the seventh for a 10-8 victory.

Starting the game for the Indians and lasting one and two-thirds innings was Bill Watts as the Tigers scored seven runs, Doug Watson pitched two-thirds of an inning before being relieved by Alex Guerrero in the third.

Guerrero was credited with the win as he faced 20 batters, allowed only one run, six bases on balls and struck out nine. The losing pitcher for the Tigers was Ed Mims who went the distance.

The game was tied twice as the Indians scored one run in the top of the third and fifth to overcome a 5-7 deficit. However, the Tigers came back in the fifth to push across another run.

Going to bat in the sixth, the Indians managed to score one run in the sixth to tie the game up at 8-8.

Lucas Cabrera led off the action in the top of the sixth by striking out on three straight pitches. Gary Payne pounded out a double and was safe at third on a fielder's choice as Mike Watts rapped a single.

Payne scored on a passed ball to tie the game. Watts was stranded at third as the next two batters, Guerrero and John Gilmore, went down on strikes.

In the bottom of the sixth, Guerrero faced only four Tigers. He struck out the first two, walked a third, and struck out the fourth.

In the top of the seventh, Billy Watts rapped out single to start the action for the Indians: Watts stole second and went down to third on a passed ball.

The winning run for the Indians was held at third as the next batter, Steve Knox struck out and two more, Doug Watson and Cabrera, were walked to load the bases. Clinton Wilson went down on strikes.

With two out, Payne grounded to the Tiger shortstop, Robbie Lemons. Lee Robinson on first base bobbled the ball allowing Watts and Watson to score.

In the first inning, the Indians threatened to score getting runners on first and second with one out. Payne led off with a single and Watts drew a base on balls. However, the threat died as Guerrero filled out and Mike Davis was called out on strikes.

The Tigers scored one run in the first as Wayne Miller moved around the bases on a fielder's choice, an error and a single by Richard Brook.

The second inning was the big inning for both teams as the Indians scored five runs and the Tigers came back with six. All

HERE And THERE

With Mrs. Merlin Kaul
"Wonderful!" "Lots of fun!" "Big!"

These were comments made by the foreign exchange students when asked to give their impressions of the United States, Texas, Hereford, and Hereford hospitality.

Honey Mastik of Rotterdam, Holland stated: "I love Hereford — it makes me think of home with the farm land and pastures. Texas is HUGE and BIG. I love horses and would like to stay here longer." Honey attended Huntington Park High School in Huntington Park, Calif. She had graduated from high school in Rotterdam before coming here. She plans to attend college (in France, maybe) and probably will major in art.

Edward Laurenti of Trieste, Italy, was a guest in the J. R. Allison home and said: "I'm really impressed with this town and I really like it. I lived in Beverly Hills while in California but the house was not as beautiful as the Allison home. This roping and riding is an unusual experience as well as the storms here. There are no storms like this in California — it's the first storm I've seen in '62. I like this climate."

Eddie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Josepha Laurenti. His father works for the government, allotted government funds with which he organizes special classes designed to train skilled labor. In creating skilled laborers, an effort is being made to decrease unemployment. Italy is a Republic with the Parliament made up of two houses as here — Senate and House of Representatives.

Nadia Tartaglia, guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charley Stone, is the daughter of Ottavio Tartaglia of Rome, Italy. He is a professional man and owns a private pension service which is government-sponsored. Nadia will be a sophomore at the University of Rome this fall and plans to major in economics.

Maria Elena Soler lives in Mendoza, Argentina. Her father, Julio E. Soler, is a lawyer and teaches at the University of Mendoza. There are seven members in her family — and she added, "six children, with the dog."

Werner Prigge of Freesenkamp, Germany: "My father is Johann Prigge. He is a crop farmer and hog breeder. Our farm consists of 15 acres and supports 11 people — nine children and my parents. I like it here — the farms, people; it's an experience that will influence my thinking when I return home."

Safnuel K-Ludwin and L. Nicholas Wollif, both of South Africa, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wilson. Their fathers are doctors and both are studying to be doctors. These boys have a tape recorder with which they record conversations, special programs, etc., to play to their families when they return home.

They recorded even the goodbye to their families in California. "I cried when I left," said Sam, "and I wasn't ashamed of it either."

Stella Ortweiler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Ortweiler of Sao Paulo, Brazil, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Thomas and family. Her family is part of a German settlement in that part of Brazil, her parents going there from Germany during the Hitler regime. Her father is a self-employed custom jewelry representative and her mother has a "soft plastic" office. Stella speaks four languages — English, German, Spanish, and Portuguese — and has also studied French and Latin. Schools are somewhat different in Brazil. There are few extra-curricular activities. Only one club — a social club — is allowed in the schools. Specialization is begun in the 10th grade — you have to choose then what you wish to major in — science, normal training, languages, etc. Stella said, "I liked my school in California very much, but one thing I didn't like — the continual rush. Why I didn't even have time to write letters. I couldn't stand that too long — it got on my nerves. One other thing I don't care for here and that is the COFFEE. It's just like weak tea. I sort of chuckle to myself when some one says, 'Oh, you should put some cream or sugar in this coffee as it is so strong.'"

Monica Stadler, is the daughter of Dr. (of Philosophy) and Mrs. W. (Willy) Stadler of Zurich, Switzerland. Dr. Stadler is a writer and theater and radio critic. Her mother, Gunda, has a weaving shop — designing and weaving carpets, upholstery, curtains, and tapestries. Her sister married Yael Aloni and now lives in Israel. They have two sons, Monica will be a senior at a Teachers' Training School at Kusnacht this fall. She can speak English, French, German, and Italian as well as Swiss-German.

In California, Monica attended The Bishop's School in La Jolla. This is an Episcopal school attended by girls from wealthy families of the United States, Monica attended as a day student the first semester and as a boarding student the second semester, spending the week ends with her American family.

"La Jolla is a rich town," she commented, "but the family of which I was a part was a good average American family. I've found out one thing about America — that is, that the average family DOES NOT have a swimming pool and own a Thunderbird, and some of the other luxuries I'd been told about." Monica was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Morrison and Judith. Thierry W. M. De Preux was a guest of Dr. and Mrs. A. T. Mims and family. Thierry entertained the Mims family with slides and pictures of his country and home in Switzerland after supper with them Saturday night. At the picnic dinner on Sunday Thierry was busy snapping pictures and "having fun."

Kai Christiansen of Tampere, Finland, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rolf Christiansen. He has two sisters. His father is the president of a small cellulose factory and his mother is a dentist. "Most of the dentists in Finland are women," he says. Kai attended school in Escondido, Calif., last year and enjoyed his work there. "And I like Texas real well."

Sonmez Ozyurek of Manisa, Turkey, was a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Young. He attended the First Baptist Church with them Sunday morning. His father is principal of an elementary school and his mother is an elementary school teacher. He has one sister and one brother. Sonmez graduated in June from San Diego High School. "Texas IS a big state. It is larger than my country — Turkey," was his comment.

Kari Prestmo, Trondheim, Norway, was a guest in the Roy L. Campbell home and attended the Temple Baptist Church with them Sunday morning. Her father died not long ago and her mother has a weaving shop where she designs and weaves draperies, upholstery fabrics, etc. Kari plans to attend college and major in languages.

Caroline Brigham, Pasadena, Calif., is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin. She is now working in the New York Office of the American Field Service. Asked for a statement of her feeling toward her work she said, "It is wonderful to be a close part of a family of over fifty countries."

Joe Romero-Lauzzari of Peru was a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Duvall. He attended church at St. Anthony's with the Loerwald family. Mr. Duvall took him to the Henry Kuper home at Summerfield where he borrowed Carolyn's accordion. At the picnic dinner Joe entertained the group with "dinner" music and had everyone singing — even Texas songs. The exchange student group enjoyed a sing-song with accordion accompaniment. At the Kuper home he "was having so much fun playing and singing that I could hardly get him away to come to the picnic," said Duvall.

Ellie Love and Caroline Brigham, sponsors of the group were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Springer. Miss Love, whose home was in Waukesha, Wis., is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin. She is now working in the New York Office of the American Field Service. Asked for a statement of her feeling toward her work she said, "It is wonderful to be a close part of a family of over fifty countries."

Miss Love, whose home was in Waukesha, Wis., is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin. She is now working in the New York Office of the American Field Service. Asked for a statement of her feeling toward her work she said, "It is wonderful to be a close part of a family of over fifty countries."

her roommate had been a chaperone and had been so enthusiastic about it that she decided she would try it. "And I love it," she commented, "meeting kids with different customs, accents, ideas, but yet — SO MUCH ALIKE! I think it is the finest program yet devised for promoting World Peace!"

33 Exchange Students Visit

The Hereford Brand

The Hereford Brand, Thursday, June 28, 1962 Section Two

MOVIE CAMERAS hummed as students spotted cowboys herding cattle on a local ranch.

A bus loaded with 33 exchange students arrived Saturday evening for a week-end of rest, relaxation, and recreation. Serving as their official hosts were members of the Hereford Kiwanis Club, who guided the guests through a busy itinerary.

Following a brief welcome at the high school cafeteria where the students met their host families, they spent Saturday evening at home.

After church on Sunday, a picnic was held in their honor. Later the students took a bus tour of farms, ranches, and a grain elevator. Many of the students considered the rodeo and trail ride Sunday afternoon at the Riders Arena the highlight of the stay, however.

Local teenagers were hosts for a youth fellowship at the Community Center Sunday evening to climax the visit. Monday morning the 33 students from 19 foreign countries boarded the bus to continue their tour across the nation before arriving home.

A HEREFORD BULL intrigued the students as they visited the Cocanaugher Ranch Sunday afternoon. County agent Lefty Thomas explains the qualities of the Hereford breed.

A PICNIC at Dameron Park Sunday allowed the students to get their share of food and fun, while visiting with host families and friends.

STEALING THE SHOW at the youth fellowship held Sunday evening at the Community Center, the exchange students entertained themselves and the large crowd of local teenagers that were on hand. Jose Romero of Peru provided accordion music and Maria Soler-Corvalan of Argentina sang. All of the exchange students got together for some songs at right.

WATCHING A RODEO was fun, but riding horses on a trail ride was even more so, the foreign students agreed. Hereford Riders and Junior Riders staged a rodeo at the rider's arena and provided a trail ride for the guests.

GREETING THEIR HOSTS, the visitors were introduced to host families at the high school cafeteria Saturday evening (at left). Above, students bid farewell as they prepare to continue their tour of the nation Monday morning.

Texas 1961 Traffic Safety Record Is Best In History

By Vern Sanford
Texas has something to brag about: The best traffic safety record in Texas history.
The National Safety Council "grades" all states on traffic safety. Of a possible 100 points, Texas got 84 for its efforts to solve traffic deaths and injury during 1961. A big share came from the second lowest traffic death toll since 1945 — "only" 2,314 killed on the highways in 1961.
California had the best score with 86. Michigan was second with 85. Texas tied with Illinois and Ohio for third place among the "big traffic" states.

Gov. Price Daniel said that holding down the death rate despite steadily-increasing traffic made a real record — fewer deaths per 100,000 miles traveled than ever before.
NEW INDUSTRY
Every Texas city is looking for new industry. But they aren't alone. Every state has some sort of industry-attracting program.
In May, Texas tied with Illinois for fourth place in the number of new industries opened for business. Each had 30. New York's 49, California's 35 and Pennsylvania's 32 led Texas.
Some states allow public-supported bond issue to finance plant buildings. The Texas Industrial Commission thinks this should be done by private finance, but it asked the Texas Research League to make a study to see which approach is best.
Texas Industrial Commission is running ads this month in Business Week, Wall Street Journal, Dun's Review and American Banker magazines and newspapers, inviting industry to look at Texas for new plant sites.

LONG SUIT
A West Texas judge may spend the winter — and part of the spring — in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.
Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert named District Judge J. H. Starley of Pecos to preside over the big water rights lawsuit in Hidalgo County, where the tangled skein of water rights will be unraveled.
Trial is scheduled to start in September on the main lawsuit. The big question, whether landowners have a right to use irrigation water from the Rio Grande without a state permit, already has been settled.
Texas Supreme Court said lands deriving from Spanish and Mexican grants do not have a riparian right to use water for irrigation.
With that big question answered, Judge Starley will go into a hundred other questions in the suit involving all users of the Rio Grande from Maverick County to the Gulf.
Visiting judge had to be sent in since District Judge Magus Smith was disqualified because he had been an attorney for some of the interested parties before he was elected judge.

"GO WEST, YOUNG MAN, go west!" advised Horace Greely many years ago, but in his wildest dreams he probably didn't figure on anyone doing it by bicycle. But Nate Aller set out May 20 from Phoenix, N. Y., peddling all the way to Tucson, Ariz., where he plans to enroll in the University of Arizona. Transportation costs were small, and the view is tremendous. Toting along his bedroll, and other essentials, as well as a camera, he came rolling through Hereford Friday morning at a fast clip (for a bike). Oddly, enough, he had had only two flats before reaching the Town Without a Toothache, but reports encountering his third here. (Staff Photo)

ROAD MEN
Texans who work for better highways came to Austin for their annual convention.
They named Leslie Neal Sr. of San Antonio as president of the Texas Good Roads Association for the coming year.
They voted to increase speed limits to 70 miles an hour, and to let the State Highway Commission zone highways for speeds up to that limit.
John Connally, Democratic nominee for governor, told delegates that Texas should not divert its highway tax money to other purposes. But he warned that the cities need help on their street construction problems, too.

BOOKS
Bookmobile library demonstrations are being set up in Caldwell, Hays, Fayette and Coryell Counties.
State Librarian Dorman H. Winfrey announced the extension of the rural book program, state and local units of government.

GIFT DECLINED
The State Parks Board had before it a bold offer — but with a half million dollar string attached.
Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wheatley of San Antonio, offered the state their 4,778-acre ranch in Blanco County for a state park. But the condition was that the state spend $500,000 to make a sure enough park out of it.
Parks Board members divided. Harry Hornby, Uvalde publisher, said yes. He was joined by two members, but three opposed. So it was a 3-3 tie.
Ed Kilman, Houston editor who voted not to take it, hoped that the Legislature will see its way clear to provide the money in 1963, and that the offer by the Wheatleys will be renewed.
The Wheatley ranch lies along the Pedernales River. It abounds in wild game and scenic country for 10 miles along that stream.
Parks Board, fighting a hard fight with a short stick on money, just couldn't see how it could promise to spend $500,000.
It has a fund of $700,000 to be used next year on parks improvement. Meanwhile, Texas Tech is to draft a master plan for park development, showing where the start should be made in improving the long-neglected park system.

GRAIN SORGHUM
USDA Announces Revised Standards
Revised standards for grain sorghum has been set by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and are slated to become effective on August 1 in time for the harvesting of the 1962 sorghum crop.
The new standards are the result of three years' work with the grain industry, during which time standardization specialists of USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service consulted with producers, handlers, exporters and foreign buyers.
The changes were designed to make the grade standards of greatest possible value in serving as a uniform language of quality for trading in grain sorghum.
The revised standards increase the minimum test weight per bushel for Grade No. 1 from 55 to 57 pounds; Grade No. 2 from 53 to 55 pounds; Grade No. 3 from 51 to 53 pounds, and Grade No. 4 from 49 to 51 pounds.
Maximum moisture limits have been reduced for Grade No. 1 from 14 to 13 percent; Grade No. 2 from 15 to 14 percent, and Grade No. 3 from 16 to 15 percent. No change was made for Grade No. 4.

Standards now in use allow separate and specific limits for "nongrain sorghum" which includes sweet sorghum (sorgo), sudangrass, johnsongrass, sorgrass, and broomcorn. One percent is allowed in Grade No. 1, three percent in No. 2, five percent in No. 3, 10 percent in No. 4, and 25 percent in Sample Grade.
The revised standards abolish this separate, specific limit for nongrain sorghum. Instead, nongrain sorghum is classified as "other grains."
The effect of the change is that: each grade of grain sorghum now can contain a total of no more of the four elements — broken kernels, foreign material, other grains, and nongrain sorghum — than was previously permitted for the three elements — cracked kernels, foreign material, and other grains.
Four classes for grain sorghum have been established — yellow, white, brown and mixed — but all subclasses have been eliminated. Also eliminated are the special grades "bright grain sorghums" and "discolored grain sorghums."
Copies of the complete text of the revised standards are available from the Grain Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture Washington 25, D. C.

MORE OIL SUITS
Eight more operators in the East Texas Field were enjoined from interfering with tests on their leases to see if their oil wells run straight up and down.
And the Railroad Commission extended to the Hawkins Field of Wood County its prohibition against plugging wells.
Atty. Gen. Will Wilson got word that some wells in that field may have been slanted over to someone else's property, so he asked that the no-plugging ban include the big Wood County field.
When the investigation opened, several operators immediately plugged their wells with cement, thus preventing check into the variation from the straight and narrow path.
Of 27 wells checked so far, only one has been found to be straight.
Lawsuits continue to pile up on the dockets of East Texas courts, as neighbors sue neighbors they think have drained oil from under their leases.

From the way Texas Democratic nominees for the state Senate are thinking now — the new sales tax is here to stay.
There likely will be some modifications — but no chance of repeal, and little chance of making it one percent on everything instead of two per cent on most things.
That is the result of a newspaper survey of Democratic nominees for the Senate.
A clear majority — 17 of the 31 — felt that the sales tax would not be repealed. Only one among the 17 said he would vote to repeal it.
But several feel there should

STRESS EDUCATION'S "BASIC FUNCTION"

Large Group Of Ladies Hears Amarillo Candidate

By Wain Miller
Brand Staff Reporter

"I have been concerned with the quality of our public school education since my oldest son entered the first grade," explained Mrs. Edward McKay, Republican candidate for the State Board of Education from the 18th Congressional District.

While speaking before a crowd of some 100 ladies at the Hereford Community Center during a reception given on her behalf, Mrs. McKay stressed the need for "the return of a solid foundation in reading, spelling, and mathematics in our public schools."

"In recent years the public school has tried to become all things to all children," Mrs. McKay commented. "I would like to see the schools get back to their original function — that of educating youngsters."

Seeking election for a six-year term on the Board, the charming candidate explained the importance of the office and its functions.

Mrs. McKay was introduced by Mrs. G. N. McDaniel of Berger, former resident and teacher in Hereford and present Vice Chairman of the Republican Party of Texas.

"It's a pleasure to introduce Charlotte McKay as a candidate for the State Board of Education," Mrs. McDaniel said, "She has been associated with all sides of education."

"Mrs. McKay is the wife of Dr. Edward McKay of Amarillo and the mother of four children. She is a graduate of Oklahoma University and a former teacher."

As Mrs. McKay opened her talk she urged women to learn as much as possible about all candidates for all offices before voting in November.

She reviewed her life, pointing out the connections that she has had with schools. At the present she has four children, ranging from a high school junior to a college graduate.

Getting to the text of her talk, Mrs. McKay explained the function of the State Board of Education. She pointed out that this body is responsible for setting the standards controlling schools, curricula, teachers, and finances.

"The state board operates in a way similar to that of the local school boards. Board members are elected from each congressional district for six-year terms."

"The Board came about with the Minimum Foundation Law, or the Gilmer-Aiken Law, which established minimum standards for education. It is the Board's responsibility to implement legislation for the laws and to set standards."

"She explained that the Board also aids in the selection of textbooks for use by the local systems. "For these reasons members of the State Board of Education have a very important duty to the state."

"Since my oldest son entered the first grade and brought home his 'Dick and Jane' reader, I have been concerned with the quality of education."

"I feel that our texts today have lost their red meat. About 30 years ago progressive education was introduced. Under this no child could excel, but all were placed in a norm."

"The school has tried to become all things to the children," she continued. "I feel that schools have taken some of the responsibility that should be left to the home and the church."

"I'm not for cutting out all of the frills, but I would like to see a return to the function of public schools. I was shocked when, as a church youth sponsor, I saw that many high school students could not even read the Bible."

"Sputnik did the nation a favor in that it caused a serious look into education." She commented that much emphasis had been placed on science, but continued, "I think that if we teach our children to read, to spell and to multiply, we will get our scientists, for science depends upon these abilities."

"I would like to see more stress placed on these subjects in the elementary grades, but I know that these changes will not come overnight. Our schools will be only what the public demands."

"Our children must receive more 'discipline' courses — they must be taught to discipline their minds to think."

In concluding, Mrs. McKay stated, "I have been warned that the 18th Congressional District has opposed women office seekers, but I feel that the trend has changed this year."

Following the brief talk, Mrs. McKay conducted a question and answer period.

Serving as mistress of ceremonies during the reception, Mrs. Earl Plank urged all women to "get out the vote."

Serving as hostesses for the tea and reception were Mrs. M. C. Adams, Mrs. Troy Moore, Mrs. Henry Sears, Mrs. Sue James, Mrs. Marvin Diller, Mrs. Hap Cavness, Mrs. Carl McCaslin, and Mrs. Earl Plank.

APPRECIATING THE REASON
CHATTANOOGA — The city patrolman suddenly stopped his car on a busy residential street, blocking traffic from both directions. The stalled motorists fussed and fumed — and then they saw the cause of it all.

Backing out of her driveway in the middle of the block was a pretty blonde at the wheel of a convertible.

NATIONAL FORESTS WELL VISITED
BOSTON — More than 110 million persons will visit national forests in the United States in 1962, according to an estimate of the American Automobile Association.

The figure represents an increase of 8 million persons from 1961.

ELIMINATING COMPETITION
VALDOSTA, Ga. — City hall employes got free ice cream when a local vendor read that they were churning their own.

Said one of the employes, police Lt. D. W. Whaley: "I think he (the vendor) was afraid we would go into competition with him, so he closed us up."

TREE IN COVERED WAGON
JERSEYVILLE, Ill. — The oldest fruit tree in Jersey County, a 132-year-old pear tree, is bearing fruit again this year.

The famous tree was brought here in 1830 from New Jersey by Dr. Ralph Van Pelt by covered wagon.

The tree has attracted wide attention. Several years ago the Department of Agriculture and several state departments of agriculture cut scions from it for propagation.

'Soul Winning' Topic Of Victory Class Meet

The Victory Sunday School Class of the Avenue Baptist Church of Hereford met in the home of Mrs. Wilma Bryan, Thursday, June 21, at 9:30 a.m. for a coffee.

The opening prayer was given by Mrs. Erma Rickman. Mrs. Rosie Wall, president, called the meeting to order. Roll call was "A Bible Quiz", given by Mrs. Bryan, the program chairman.

A short business meeting was held after which the devotional, "Soul Winners For Christ", was given by Mrs. Rosie Wall. A prayer followed, given by the teacher, Mrs. Fannie Townsend. The class members formed the friendship circle and sang in unison, "Throw Out The Life-line". Mrs. Nancy Duncan offered the closing prayer.

Secret pal gifts were exchanged among the class members.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Nancy Duncan and Cathy, Fannie Townsend, Erma Rickman, Maxine Coleman, Edra Baxter, Margie Kemp, Rosie Wall and the hostess, Wilma Bryan.

INDEPENDENCE

... that good old American brand. A "way-of-life" that was signed into being, July 4th, nearly two hundred years ago. Ah, for that memorable day, when in the course of human events... Liberty Was Born. Then let us, on this Independence Day, rededicate ourselves to this "hope-of-the-world-way" this way of life that guarantees for all men, Freedom, Equality and Justice. Give us an unyielding faith and supply us with genius that cannot err. Endow us with vital religious convictions to pilot our inherited ship of state. Let us always remember that the source of our freedom is The Book. Then Americans, don't forget to remember that, Music Was Born When Liberty Spoke. It is our Independence Day!!!

'Don't Burn Stubble'

Warn Conservationists

The wheat harvest has once again rolled around which brings up the ages old problem of what to do with that wheat and barley stubble.

A great number of farmers do not seem to understand the great importance of properly handling these valuable residues. In the past, plant cover has not been appreciated by some producers and as a result they thoughtlessly watched these residues go up in smoke and in turn lost soil tilth, and at the same time caused soil erosion, pointed out Soil Conservation Service technicians of the Hereford office.

When the stubble is burned off the bare soil is exposed to the full force of wind and water. The SCS technicians stated that the major role of plant residues is to add organic matter to the soil. These residues also protect the soil from the force of falling raindrops which have the energy to dislodge soil particles and cause erosion on cultivated land.

Plant cover also slows down the force of surface flow by offering resistance to movement across the land at an erosive velocity. It should also be pointed out that when the soil is bare as from burning off plant cover the force of raindrops forms a compacted layer at the surface and sharply reduced the infiltration capacity of the soil and increases runoff.

Technicians gave as other reasons for saving the stubble: soil aggregates are built up, wind erosion is greatly or completely reduced, evaporation of soil moisture is reduced, and the plant residue is later broken down to add organic matter to the soil, and wildlife can derive food and cover from plant residues.

"Since the area is in a low rainfall belt and is trying to save irrigation water, it seems that we should use practices such as crop residue use by incorporating residues into the soil surface," stated Don Newman of the S.C.S. Recommended practices are shredding and discing, chiseling, listing, and fertilizing. These practices improve the soil and help prevent erosion.

Pitchers, Batters Slump As Redbirds Drop Second

Palo Duro of Amarillo made it hard on Hereford pitchers as the Amarillo squad ran up a 17-2 win over the Redbirds there Sunday afternoon. The Herd now has a 2-2 mark in conference play for the season.

Four Hereford hurlers were unable to keep Palo Duro off base while winning pitcher Dave Starker went all the way on the mound. Mickey Stevens received the blame for the Herd's loss, but was relieved in the second inning by Jim Haney, who gave the ball to Ken Loerwald in the fifth, who finally willed the pitching duties to Mike Ranspot.

Hereford scored its only two runs in the second inning on a triple, three walks, and a sacrifice, as the Redbirds managed only two hits during the game.

But Palo Duro pounded ten hits to take the win. Amarillo claimed the lead in the first inning by scoring three runs on two singles as four men got on base by being hit by the pitcher.

In the top of the second the Redbirds got its only scores after Eugene Green boomed a triple and then came in on a wild pitch. Hereford drew three walks, and a sacrifice fly by Mickey Stevens allowed the last tally.

Amarillo returned in their half of the second to add another run, as an unassisted double play by third sacker Ronnie Duncan ended their threat.

John Willoughby tagged a single in the top of the third, the second and last hit of the game for the Redbirds, but was stranded on base as three batters went down in succession.

A single and three errors gave Amarillo two more runs in the third as they advanced to a 6-4 lead.

Amarillo scored the first of three double plays in the fourth to freeze the score. Dan McDowell got on with a walk, but a pop fly by Stevens to the third baseman was good for the two outs to retire the side.

A triple, three walks, and two Hereford errors gave Amarillo another three runs in the fourth, and the Redbirds were four up, three down, in the top of the fifth.

Amarillo insured their win with seven runs on five hits in the fifth to make it 16-2. Palo Duro pulled off another double play in the top of the sixth to stop any advance. Eugene Green reached first on an error, but was caught off base after Palo Duro's left fielder hauled in a fly from Ken Loerwald.

A final single and two walks meant the final run for Amarillo to close the scoring at 17-2. The hosts finished the game with another double play, this time from first, to short stop, back to first.

Eugene Green tripled and John Willoughby singled to allow for all two of the Redbird hits, while Perry and Douglas blasted three-baggers for Amarillo.

On the mound, winning pitcher Dave Starker went the full distance, facing 28 and allowing only two hits. He gave up two runs, six walks, and struck out four.

For Hereford Mickey Stevens faced ten, allowing two hits and four runs while walking none. He fanned two, but hit four batters.

Jim Haney entered in the second, facing 19, giving up four hits, seven runs, and four walks. He struck out three. He was relieved by Ken Loerwald in the fifth.

Tax Reduction Proposed; Firearms Registration Hit

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT: In recent weeks I have received a tremendous amount of mail on two subjects — taxes and firearms. There has been a great amount of mail on other subjects, but these have been of particular interest because of the concern that I have had in both of them for a number of years. I shall treat them in the order above named.

TAXES The mail with reference to taxes has been centered on reduction of income tax. Many suggestions and recommendations have been made through the years as to methods and manners of reducing the income tax or abolishing it altogether. The present campaign is to try to obtain an increase in the deduction allowed for individuals and their dependents. The present American citizen is $600 for the individual and $600 for each dependent.

I am happy that this movement has begun. In 1951 I introduced legislation to increase the individual exemption to $1,000 and to increase the exemption for dependents to $750. A number of people asked me why I limited the dependents' increase to $750. My answer was that I had no objection to the bill being amended and increased to $1,000 for dependents, but in view of the number of dependents that I had, I didn't want the bill to appear as a bill for personal relief simply because I had six children.

In a subsequent year I reintroduced the bill and increased the $750 figure to $1,000, at the request of a number of other members of Congress. I have continued to press for the passage of this legislation through the years because I have felt that it was the fairest way to give proper tax relief. Further, it would provide tax relief where it is most needed — in the low income groups. At the same time, it would not discriminate against those in the higher income groups.

It would provide much needed assistance in many families throughout this country in helping to raise minor children. Anyone who thinks that you can raise a child for $600 a year has not had much experience doing it. In my opinion, the increase in the individual and dependents' exemptions would not only afford much needed tax relief to people throughout this country on a fair basis, but it could very well constitute the economic stimulant needed in many of our communities and areas and, in fact, would. It is my hope that the people will keep this campaign going full steam. Certainly every effort should be made to continually evaluate the tax structure of this country for the possible reduction and relief needed in all areas of the economy, commensurate with the maintenance of the proper defense of this country and its economic structure. But, in my opinion, the increase in income tax exemptions for individuals and their dependents would do more to stabilize the general economy, stimulate the purchasing power, and improve the national product than any other one factor.

FIREARMS The mail that I have been receiving with relation to firearms has to do with a bill that was introduced, to-wit: H. R. 613, requiring registration of firearms. This measure was widely discussed throughout the country on the basis that it would limit the right of the individual under the Constitution to "keep and bear arms." It was also argued that such a law would be following the practice pursued by Hitler and other dictators of the past; that is, it would enable those in power to know exactly where all firearms were located and in whose possession they should be.

Both arguments, in my opinion, are valid. I do not think that the bill, H. R. 613, has the slightest chance of passage. An attempt was made during the past Administration by departmental directive to require the registration of firearms. The technical name for such a procedure is "exercise of the rule-making power by a department." This attempt occurred in 1957. The proposed directive on the subject was an action by the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division of the Internal Revenue Service.

Along with a number of other Congressmen, all listed in the October, 1957, issue of The American Rifleman, I vigorously protested this action. Since the matter has again come to the forefront, I have reviewed my records on the matter and found that on December 12, 1957, I made certain notes as to what probably would be done by the Internal Revenue Service in pushing the matter further. I noted that the proposal to require a signed statement by the purchaser of ammunition had been discarded; that the rule requiring registration of all firearms would probably be discarded also. My notes also reflected that the proposal requiring the keeping of records of sale of firearms and ammunition forever would be reduced to 15 years.

The rules had previously specified that these records be kept for six years.

The other note that I had on the subject had to do with the serial numbers of firearms. In 1957 it was estimated that 80 percent of all 22 rifles and shotguns were not serially numbered. My notes reflected that this issue had not been settled at that time; however, individual firearms, 22 rifles, and shotguns of the sporting type and with barrels more than 16 inches in length still do not require serial numbering.

The author of the presently pending bill advised me that he had introduced the bill at the request of a number of people in New York because of the juvenile delinquency problem. It seems that much difficulty had been encountered in keeping up with firearms in that general area, primarily because of the interstate commerce nature of many of the transactions; that is, New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Massachusetts, and Rhode Island being so close together. He felt that a Federal law would help solve the problem for the law enforcement officers in that area.

Certainly everyone wants to do everything possible to help solve the problem of juvenile delinquency. However, it must be remembered that a Federal law affects everyone in the United States and must be weighed very carefully, because although it may settle a local problem on the one hand, it may create many other problems or losses of rights on the other hand. When these proposals are properly weighed, I feel sure that the result during this Administration will be the same as the attempts during the past Administration insofar as requiring the registration of firearms. It is my feeling that the provisions of the Constitution and its guarantee will be fully protected and that these proposals will not be adopted. SURPRISE VISIT A group of 57 relatives surprised L. H. Lane, 113 Avenue E, Hereford, with a visit on Sunday, June 17. Seven of his eight brothers and sisters, some from other states, with members of their families, brought covered dish lunches and spent the day visiting together. None of the visitors knew the others had the same idea. Among the guests attending were Mrs. Love Howard Sr. of Tulsa, a sister, and Mrs. Red Myers and daughter, Cindy, of Amarillo, daughter and granddaughter of Mrs. Howard.

WHY DIDN'T THEY SWIM? TULSA, Okla. — Swimming stars from five foreign countries failed to reach Tulsa for the "Water Follies of 1962." They were waterbound—trapped by floods which blocked highways in Texas.
