

Bitter Gilbert Battle An Example

Tokyo Road Will Be Long, Hard And Costly

By HENRY KEYS London Daily Express war correspondent.

PEARL HARBOR, Nov. 26 (Delayed)—American seizure of the Gilbert Islands from the Japanese is a blueprint of the road to Tokyo.

Spectacular and critical almost to the last, the struggle even so was but a tactical highlight of the vast strategic plan.

As it was, we won by the narrowest of margins. During the heat of battle, while I was watching dive-bombers and warships bombarding the enemy strong-points, Rear Admiral Harry Hill, who commanded the operation, told me that the enemy bears...

"The Japanese," he continued, "have made Betio the hardest nut any naval or military commander has ever been ordered to crack."

"The high command have given us all they have. Look at all of these battleships, cruisers, destroyers and transports lying dead in the water waiting for those magnificent marines with rifle and bayonet to clean up that island so the transports can unload."

"Right now we on this bridge are looking at the greatest and most terrible scrap America has ever been in, and yet the real fight isn't here at Tarawa.

Germans In Retreat Before Red Forces

Fleeing Units Abandon Much Of Equipment

Harassed By Guerillas, Nazis Give Up 9 Miles In 24 Hours

LONDON, Sunday, Nov. 28 (AP) — Approximately 300,000 Germans were forced into a hasty retreat from Gornal today, abandoning equipment and stores, as Soviet guerillas infiltrated to set mines and road traps in their rear.

The Russians indicated that fleeing Nazi forces who lost Gornal Friday were in desperate straits.

The entire Gornal region, along about 100 miles of front, seethed with movement as the Germans fell back and rushed reserves to plug gaps in their crumbling lines.

Major Diplomatic Move Is Indicated In London

By JAMES M. LONG LONDON, Nov. 27 (AP)—Mounting evidence of information from abroad strengthened belief in London tonight that one of the major developments of the war is expectable momentarily—in the diplomatic rather than the military field—closely related to Allied worldwide victory strategy.

The nature and full implications of such an important break could obviously relate directly to the flashing of a go-signal for the final crushing blows which leaders of the United Nations fighting alliance have promised Germany and Japan.

Meanwhile reports from abroad gave a new turn to the recent welter of foreign accounts of the possible meeting of the Allied "big three" by suggesting a fourth big Allied power also might be represented by its leader at such a conference.

This is based on the likelihood that any such talks would be of such broad purpose that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek might sit with President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin.

Berlin Hammered In Third Heavy Assault By RAF

LONDON, Nov. 27 (AP)—RAF heavy bombers spread fresh ruin with steel and fire through stricken Berlin last night, in 20 minutes, hurling down "much more than 1,000 long tons" of bombs in the third night assault this week in the campaign to obliterate that heart of Nazism.

Other bombers hammered Stuttgart, 300 miles southwest, simultaneously. Thirty-two big planes were lost, but the air ministry today paid unusual tribute to the crushing American blow at Bremen Friday and said the American drain on German air strength had contributed greatly to the success of the RAF's long hop in clear weather to Berlin.

Guided by fires still blazing in the German capital, the RAF gouged great new wounds and set conflagrations visible for 200 miles, their bombs spiraling to 14,000 long tons the total weight of explosive heaped on Berlin in 1943, and boosting the total for little more than a week to some 6,000.

It was the fifth straight night of raids—counting two light Mosquito stubs—on sleepless, doomed Berlin, and wholesale evacuation of the city seemed ever more likely.

Stockholm newspapers said the new attack was concentrated in the west and central sectors, with huge fires in the Charlottenburg area, and that 500,000 Berliners were homeless.

The Germans' failure to break up the attack was a "signal victory" for the U.S. Air Force, which knocked down 56 Nazi fighters Friday over Bremen and did "much to take the edge off the enemy's counterattack" at Berlin, the air ministry declared.

The Americans' whittling of Nazi strength was especially appreciated because, due to clear weather, the RAF bombers were open to attack by German fighters all the way across Germany.

Reviewing The Big Spring Week— Joe Pickle

It can rain here. After most folks had resigned themselves to perpetual drought, it actually rained last week.

A good word always is in order for a good movement. We boost first this thing and that, this institution and that, but we leave out our churches.

Among other things due that "good word" are the tuberculosis seal sale, now underway, and the Salvation Army, which has a fund campaign in full swing.

Significant is the statement by B. J. McDaniel, city manager, last week before the chamber of commerce.

Enemy Losses Reported To Be Heavy

By ROBERT EUNSON SOUTHWEST PACIFIC ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Sunday, Nov. 28 (AP)—American marines and soldiers have driven 800 yards to the northeast during bitter fighting to extend their beachhead at Empress Augusta Bay—stepping stone on the west-central coast of Bougainville in the northern Solomons leading toward Rabaul.

A spokesman for Gen. Douglas MacArthur, in announcing the advance today, said strong enemy opposition was overcome, "although no count has been made. Japanese losses were heavy."

(More details were supplied from the South Pacific headquarters of Adm. William F. Halsey where it was reported that the fight opened Monday, requiring four days to gain the precious yardage.

(The enemy fought from well prepared positions. They used machine-guns and mortars.

(The Japs appeared to be moving overland behind the beachhead from the Jaba river on the south side of the American positions to attack on the northeast.

Obviously alarmed over the fact that the troops of Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery have been able to crack the outer crust of their winter defense line along the Sarnro, the Nazis are feverishly building strong new gun positions and other defense works around Mignano to the west—key point on the Fifth army front guarding the main road to Rome—and erecting other strong points along the 10-mile route from Mignano to Cassino.

These German preparations were disturbed yesterday by American Warhawk fighter-bombers which threw their full weight against the trench systems and gunposts in the vicinity of Rocca d'Evandro, four miles west and south of Mignano.

8th Army Moving Ahead, Protected By Bomb Barrage

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, ALGIERS, Nov. 27 (AP)—The Eighth army has sliced deeper into the elaborate German defense system northwest of the swollen Sangro river under cover of one of the war's most intensive "bomb barrages."

The exact extent of the gains made yesterday in a drive toward enemy hill positions was not disclosed. From these high strong points German guns poured a destructive fire into the Eighth army's hard-won bridgehead across the river.

The American Fifth army smashed two counterattacks against their footholds in the mountains west of Venafro, from which it threatens a broad valley leading toward Cassino and Rome.

The Chinese declared tonight that they were tightening their net around invading Japanese forces in northern Hunan province and that nearly 10,000 enemy troops had been killed in fierce fighting for the rice bowl city of Changteh.

The Chinese have estimated the Japanese have approximately 100,000 troops fighting in the northern Hunan area, but a communique announcing the encircling of enemy forces in that area did not specify the number of Japanese caught in the trap.

A Japanese column attempting to by-pass Changteh on the east was attacked by Chinese forces west and southwest of Hanchow where heavy losses were inflicted on the Japanese. Other Chinese troops made "further progress" on both sides of the Yangtze river in Hupeh province.

The Christmas lights were on last night—with the gaily festooned tree on the courthouse lawn offering the brightest collection of holiday luminescence -- and stores were filled with shoppers who were, in the main, heeding the calls to shop and mail early this year.

The pre-Christmas season reaches a climax on Monday night of next week, December 6, when merchants join in sponsoring the annual Gift Treasure Hunt. Merchandise awards will be distributed; and in addition this year, special distribution will be made of war bonds running more than $100 in cash value.

These are to be given in connection with a program to be staged at the courthouse square, details of which are to be fixed by a merchants committee this week. Santa Claus is expected to make a visit.

Gifts to be distributed in the Treasure Hunt will be displayed by the stores on the night of December 6, as a feature of special window displays.

His service with the highway department was the longest of any department engineer. He had supervised construction of most of Texas modern highway bridges, including the $2,750,000 structure on state highway 87, over the Sabine-Neches waterway.

Funeral services probably will be held in Austin Monday.

DALLAS, Nov. 27 (AP)—Selection of an opponent for the University of Texas in the Jan. 1 Cotton Bowl here will probably be made tomorrow, Dan D. Rogers, chairman of the board of directors of the Cotton Bowl Athletic Association, said tonight.

He revealed that there was no chance of a decision tonight since Coach D. X. Bible of Texas had asked for an additional 24 hours in which to consider the list of available teams and to sound out his players on their preference.

Fred Astaire In Gay Dancing Romance Has Joan Leslie As His New Dancing Partner

Giving the agile Fred Astaire his most likeable role in years, RKO Radio's "The Sky's the Limit" teams him for the first time with Joan Leslie in a tuneful romantic offering which deals with an A. V. G. pilot's adventures during a brief leave in New York City. The picture is the Ritz theatre's feature for today and Monday.

Robert Benchley heads the supporting cast as a millionaire publisher and Miss Leslie's employer, the heroine being a roving photographer for one of Benchley's magazines. Astaire, wearing civilian clothes to avoid notoriety during his few days of leave in the metropolis, falls hard for the girl and tries his best to intrigue her.

He does so, successfully dodging all her efforts to find him a job, but then he discovers that Benchley also is in love with her. Feeling that a flier in wartime has no business asking a girl to wait for him, Astaire tries to further Benchley's suit. The heroine doesn't see it that way, and things build up to a gay climax of cross-purposes and misunderstandings.

Two striking dance routines by the two stars, two solo dances by Fred himself and four new hit tunes by Johnny Mercer and Harold Arlen are featured in the picture. "My Shining Hour," "I've Got a Lot in Common with You" and "One for My Baby and One for the Road" are the hit song numbers, the music being that of Freddie Slack and his orchestra.

Fred and Joan dance one of their spectacular routines at a big service men's canteen, and the other in Benchley's luxurious penthouse, while Fred's big solo, "One for the Road," winds up with a startling performance on the top of a night-club bar.

New Dance Team—Youthful Joan Leslie (of "Serena York" and "The Hard Way") is the newest dancing partner for Fred Astaire, and joins him in some high and fancy stepping, as well as in some gay romancing, in "The Sky's the Limit." The picture is at the Ritz theatre today and Monday.

Stars By The Score Appear In State Film

More than forty top ranking stars in one picture is something of a record, even for fabulous Hollywood, but that is the score Paramount runs up with its show of shows, "Star Spangled Rhythm," which is due to entertain today at the State Theatre.

Definitely the field day of field days for movie fans, "Star Spangled Rhythm" boasts among its players Bing Crosby, Bob Hope, Fred MacMurray, Franchot Tone, Ray Milland, Victor Moore, Dorothy Lamour, Paulette Goddard, Vera Zorina, Mary Martin, Dick Powell, Betty Hutton, Eddie Bracken, Veronica Lake, Alan Ladd, and Rochester, with William Bendix, Jerry Colonna, Macdonald Carey, Walter Abel, Susan Hayward, Marjorie Reynolds, Betty Rhodes, Dona Drake, Lynne Overman, Gary Crosby, Johnnie Johnston, Gil Lamb, Cass Daley, Ernest Truex, Katherine Dunham, Arthur Treacher, Walter Catlett, Sterling Holloway, the Golden Gate Quartette, Walter Dore Wahl and Company. And if that weren't enough to amaze and delight movie-goers, they will also be able to see three top Paramount directors turned actors for the occasion — Cecil B. DeMille, Preston Sturges, Ralph Murphy!

With a lineup of talent such as that listed above, it is easy to believe reports that "Star Spangled Rhythm" is the greatest, truly all-star musical comedy ever produced by any movie studio.

Jean Porter Has Big Role In Ritz Film

Spunk put Jean Porter on the road to stardom, for although barely five feet tall she tips the scales at ninety-eight pounds and is a very determined young lady.

When, at the age of three, she made her first public appearance singing "My Daddy Was a Minstrel Man," she was speaking the truth. Her father, Henry Porter, who now lives in Big Spring, was a minstrel man. Born in Cisco, Tex., Jean left four years later with her family to tour in vaudeville.

When her father gave up trouping the Porters settled in Hollywood and Jean enrolled at Lawler's Professional School. But getting in front of a big city audience was a lot harder than landing a spot on the road. Jean was greatly in demand for benefits. But she was after bigger things. As "Babes on Broadway" went into production Jean auditioned for a spot in the chorus and got the job.

Turkey Hints Of Stronger Probability Of Entry Into War

Major Points Won By Relief Delegation

By SIGRID ARNE
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 27 (AP)—European delegates to the United Nations relief and rehabilitation administration, who have been fighting here in a solid bloc for a stern policy toward Germany, had won two major points at issue Friday.

They succeeded in:
1. Delaying action on a proposal to use UNRRA funds to return to Germany those Germans in other lands at the end of the war.

2. Defeating an amendment whereby Germans would pay only "to the fullest possible extent" instead of all costs for relief operations in their country.

Argument over the first issue was highlighted by a dramatic address by Yugoslav Minister Constantin Fotitch, who described how Germans had entered his country and driven people from their homes with nothing but the clothes on their backs. He wanted the Germans accorded the same treatment.

The committee decided to iron out the matter at a special session of the UNRRA council to be called in a few months, or in the event of a sudden crack of the peace conference.

The amount the Germans would pay for relief extended on home territory was at issue in the general policy committee. It had been decided by a sub-committee that all expenses connected with relief operations in enemy territory would be borne by the enemy territory concerned.

The argument was brought up in the general policy committee that Axis nations might be withheld funds at a time when UNRRA health officials might have to work in their areas to prevent epidemics from spreading to neighboring Allied nations.

To meet the issue it was proposed that the phrasing be changed to make the Axis countries pay only "to the fullest possible extent."

The amendment was defeated with the European nations standing shoulder-to-shoulder and the Latin Americans, for the most part, backing them up.

The note split the "Big Four," China, the United Kingdom and the United States voted for the loop hole which would permit UNRRA funds to be spent in Germany. Russia voted against it.

The Polish vote seemed to place Poland in a position where she would agree to have UNRRA relief sent into enemy territory even though the enemy nations might not be able to pay.

Cairo Parley Major Factor In The Trend

ANKARA, Nov. 26 (Delayed AP)—In what may be a part of a campaign to prepare the Turkish public for war at the side of the Allies, the newspaper Tanin said editorially today that the Cairo conference had greatly increased the possibility of Turkey's entry into the war.

Referring to the recently-concluded talks between British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Turkish Foreign Minister Numan Menemencioğlu, Husein Yaichin, prominent pro-democratic journalist, wrote in Tanin:

"If it could be said that before the Cairo talks the possibility of Turkey's not entering the war was predominant, that situation is now reversed after the Cairo talks."

(The German-controlled Vichy radio quoted Turkish newspapers Saturday as saying that Istanbul's municipal authorities were preparing "to black out the city." The broadcast, picked up by CBS, implied that the measure did not apply Turkey's immediate entry into the war.)

Yaichin made no attempt to predict when Turkey might be expected to drop her neutral status. "The precise conditions under which Turkey would enter the war are not apparent at this time," he wrote. "When and where are still questions to be decided."

Yaichin went on to point out that, under the terms of the Turkish-British treaty of 1939 it was not necessary for Turkey to be attacked directly "to necessitate her entry into the war."

He summed up the present situation thus: "The party has approved the government's action in accordance with the (Turkish-British) alliance."

"To say we shall act in accordance with the obligations of the alliance can have no other meaning than to enter the war."

Bombing Tests To Be Scored In Two Ways

CARLSBAD, N. M., Nov. 27 — In the Ninth Bombing Olympics to be staged at Carlsbad Army Air Field Sunday, two methods of scoring will be used to insure accuracy—photography, and triangulation.

Lenses of cameras will be trained on the white mushroom of smoke that will arise as each bomb is dropped. Competing will be 27 student bombardiers from nine Army Air Forces bombardier training schools, four of which operate under the AAF command and five under the AAF Western Flying Training Command.

In addition to the precisely accurate system of spotting each bomb burst by photographs from the plane, the impacts will be measured by triangulations, which will permit results of the bomb impacts to be announced within one minute after the missile hits.

Photographers in the bombing planes will photograph each bomb hit, catching the proximity of the bomb burst to the target "shack." Guess work is eliminated and true and exact decisions on nearness of hits is guaranteed.

The cameras are taken to the bomb photograph laboratories on the base, where the film is cut and processed. The film then goes to bombardier headquarters statistical section where statisticians determine scores made by the bombardiers.

Representatives of the AAF Training Command, Central Bombardiers Instruction School, AAF Western Flying Training Command, and AAF Central Flying Training Command will compose the official board of judges.

Rain Cuts Cotton Harvest Short

Inclement weather pulled the cotton harvest up short past mid-week and left the county's total ginnings for the season at around 23,400 bales.

Four local gins reported a combined total of 10,508 bales, approximately 500 bales up for the week. A drizzle which started Thursday morning completely stopped the movement at that point.

Ginners estimated that no more than five per cent of the crop remained in the fields, and this remnant will be a long time in trickling to gins. Grade and staple now are at low levels, and unless farmers wait until cotton has a chance to dry thoroughly from this spell, the quality will be almost unmarketable.

Price of lint going into the loan hung around the 17 cent average and seed were firm at $55 a ton. Feed prices were constant with head maize moving all the way from $25 to $30 a ton and threshed "ilo showing a top of $1.80 cwt. Bundles were unchanged at five to seven cents, mostly turnrow prices.

Sissy Or Suicidal Maniac? Not Japs Says Robert P. Currie Who Knows

The Jap is neither a sissy nor a suicidal maniac, take it from a man who has seen nearly 450 combat hours against him.

Lieut. Robert P. Currie, who has been here for the past week on furlough to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Currie, has seen some pretty rough times as a bombardier on a Liberator, and most of them due to the wily Jap. However, he has seen Jap pilots—apparently hell bent to crash head on into the bomber—tip a wing or duck under or skip over at the last second. Although Lieut. Currie never saw captured Jap pilots himself, he talked with those who have. When Yanks professed surprise that the Japs had bailed out, the prisoners, many of them who spoke good English, laughed and shrugged their shoulders. "I'm not Hari Kari," they said.

When he left the India-China-Burma theatre, where he had seen all his service as a bombardier, Lieut. Currie had 448 combat hours to his credit. He was in India for better than a year. While time over the targets rated No. 1 on the problem list, he figured the sweating out the heat, weather and insects was about as tough.

Graduating from Big Spring high school in 1932, Robert was in New Mexico Military Academy for the next two years until he graduated in 1934. Then followed a year and a half at Tulane before he returned here.

Enlisting in the army in October 1940, as an aviation cadet, he was progressing nicely until, with John Camp Adams, a Forsan youth, they turned up in a California flying school and eventually were washed out. Adams got into bombardier training quickly but Robert's didn't work so fast. Eventually, he was sent to Albuquerque, N. M. and finished his training there in May 1940.

His first station was in Hawaii, but soon he moved on to India to a base where they had to fret about getting supplies, ships, etc. about as much as enemy. Tents furnished shelter for a time, next bamboo shacks and just three weeks before he left, they were quartered in new barracks. This perhaps, sums up the fight for supplies in that area—a struggle that is by no means over but which is going more favorable.

Not long after he landed in India, Lieut. Currie was on his first mission—a hot one over Rangoon. Looking back, he doesn't remember that he tightened any more for it than later ones.

"You're naturally tense when you go in over the target," he recalled. "If the ack-ack come up and its plenty hot, then you are naturally tight when you come back in. But when things get going, you forget all about that. It's like being in a football game—after you get down to playing you relax."

Lieut. Currie was a member of the crew which holds the record for over-water combat flight—once to Nicobar Island. It was on this trip that he had in some good luck with his nose machine gun as well as with the bombardier.

As the ship came in over the island, he spotted Japs flocking to their gun emplacements. He grabbed his gun and strafed the area so intensely that the enemy had to take to cover. By the time they could return to their guns, the ship—already crippled by the ack-ack and forced to drop to 400 feet—was safely away.

That flight was for approximately 1,000 miles each way but all over water. The same crew has one 2,700-mile flight to its credit, but they flew over a tiny peninsula enroute, which took it out of the strictly over-water class.

A philosophical soul who believes in taking things as they come, Lieut. Currie never worries to or from missions. In fact, he just plain sleeps and reads to pass the time away. On some occasions he looks in on the pilot, or prepared the lunches.

A major was aboard on one flight when Lieut. Currie called up to his pilot and said he was celebrating his 400th combat flying hour. "Huh," snorted the major, who had been listening in. "I wonder how much of it is sleeping time?"

But Lieut. Currie, and the thousands of bombardiers like him, aren't sleeping when they come in over the target—often with an "enemy reception committee." They're part of the team which is blasting Jap shipping and supply lines, preventing him from becoming too firmly entrenched and to give him a taste of things to come.

ARMY TAKES OVER
PEABODY, Mass., Nov. 27 (AP)—Production in 13 leather and tannery plants in the Peabody-Salem area resumed today with the army in charge after a 15-days strike which affected approximately 2,500 workers. Officials reported that production was close to normal.

Pecos Records Ordovician Lime Strike

SAN ANGELO, Nov. 27 —Pecos county this week recorded its fifth Ordovician lime strike and the shallowest and highest structurally in West Texas in Bryce McCandless of San Angelo No. 1-101 Atlantic (Cordova Union).

A production increase to 179 barrels in 12 hours was registered by the first deep producer in the McCamey field in Upton county and opener of the second Silurian lime area, Texas Pacific No. 52-A John F. Lane, Account 2. More was logged by C. U. Bay No. 1 Blyler & Lowe, 1-3-4 mile northeast extension to the Fallerton field in northwestern Andrews county, and by Woodley No. 1 L. A. Harless, northeastern Hockley county discovery.

Wildcats staked or started included two in Yoakum county and one each in Irion, Pecos and Ward counties.

McCandless No. 1101 Atlantic (Cordova Union) in Pecos county flowed into the pits an estimated 15 to 25 barrels of 35.4 gravity oil, showing only one-half of one per cent basic sediment. Testing was through a three-eighths inch tubing choke following treatment with 2,000 gallons of 2-11 through 69 gun perforations in 5-1-2 inch casing from 4,012 to 4,027 feet.

The pipe was cemented at 4,093 feet after the Ellenburg was topped at 4,005 feet, 1,608 feet below sea level. Sulphur water was encountered in deepening to 4,103 feet and was plugged off. The well is in the C SE SW 101-11-H & GN, one mile southeast of Owego on the Santa Fe railroad and 8-1-4 miles southeast of the Apo-Warner field, Pecos county's first Ordovician producing area.

Increased oil recovery by Texas Pacific's Silurian strike in the McCamey Permian lime field followed completion of gun perforating of 5-1-2-inch pipe between 7,125-90 feet and treatment of the lower 10 feet with 1,000 gallons of acid. Preparations for an official gauge were underway. The well is in the C SW NE SE 5-GC & SF, three miles northeast of McCamey.

Shell staked No. 1 Boyce E. Tankersley, proposed 7,500-foot wildcat in southeastern Irion county, 1,650 feet from the north, 1,653 feet from the east line of section 12-CG&SF, almost in a line between the shallow Merton pool and the Page field in Schleicher county. The test will be on a 20-section block, 5-1-2 miles west of Stanolind No. 1 W. H. Williams, 7,425-foot failure.

The Texas Co. No. 3 Mabee, C SE NW 32-40-2n-Q&MMB&A, became the second producer in the Mabee pool in southeastern Andrews county, swabbing 4.8 barrels of oil hourly on a natural test at 4,720 feet. It is one mile east and slightly north of No. 1 Mabee, the discovery.

Skelly No. 1-N University, C SE NW 4-10-U, half mile northwest extension to the Mascho pool, was finished at 4,620 feet with a daily pumping potential of 135.85 barrels. It had been treated with 2,000 gallons of acid.

Abandonment of Honolulu No. 1 E. B. Homann, north central Gaines county wildcat, C SE SE 96-G-WTRR, was likely as seven gallons of oil with 15 gallons of water, hourly following gun perforating from 5,385 to 5,400 feet.

Phillips No. 1 "Sterling," western Sterling county wildcat on the J. L. Glass ranch, C NW NE 3-31-5s-T&P, had drilled below 9,090 feet. Its announced original scheduled depth was 9,000.

He Found A Way Into The Football Game, Got A Share Of Coat, Hitched A Ride

By HELEN WILSON

A slow rain started with the kick-off at the Big Spring-Sweetwater football game Thanksgiving, and a biting wind hurried in under the seats, causing spectators to wrap their blankets a little more snugly around their knees.

As always at football games, my thoughts wandered from the show on the field. I began a check of the people scattered through the stands and made a general survey of the stadium. It occurred to me that the shrubs had lost all their leaves and looked like naked posts protecting the field.

Below me sat a little boy, clad in blue jeans, a light weight shirt and shoes that his dirty little toes could peek out of. Every muscle in his body twitched with cold, and he was taken with coughing spells now and then.

"Hey fellow, climb up here by me and get warm" I offered, and after looking me over to make certain I wasn't making fun of him, he squeezed down beside me, grateful for half of my coat. The rain on his tousled blond head left the same effect as a wet dog warming before the fire.

During the last half of the game (which I completely ignored) I learned that the boy was six years old; that his father was dead; that he had two brothers in the service, and that his mother ironed for a living.

"I got two pairs of socks" he defended when he saw I was looking at his feet "But I jest forgot to put 'em on."

His warped attitude of people and life in general became evident as he grew warmer.

When asked if he was feeling better, he looked gruff, wiped his nose with the back of his sleeve and replied, "What do you think?"

According to the lad, his mother did not know where he had been for the past hour and a half. "I jest heard the band and decided I'd go to a football game. Anyway if she'd knew, she wouldn't let me go—she don't let me go nowhere. Anyway, I wasn't out no money, cause I slipped in," he laughed.

By this time he was sharing my coat with me, and someone whispered to me that he was just a little bum.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY kept beating on my brain as I talked with him, and as the gun popped signaling the end of the game, he looked at me and said, "Hey, are ya ridin' or walkin'—if you're ridin', how about a lift?"

Well, he hooked his ride which carried him to a tiny shack down in a poorer section of town. In

War Blamed For Youth Delinquency

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (AP)—Disputing every accusation in a grand jury presentation charging lawlessness in Brooklyn's Bedford-Stuyvesant section, a police survey of the district blames wartime conditions, not police laxity, for a rise of juvenile delinquency in the area.

A 61-page report on the survey, submitted by Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine to Mayor F. H. LaGuardia, who released it last night, contained a variety of figures and stated: "An analysis of these statistics would indicate there has not been a growing condition of lawlessness in this area."

Vengeance Being Exacted For That 'Day Of Infamy'

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst
Approach of the second anniversary of Pearl Harbor finds disaster closing in on the German-Japanese authors of that "day of infamy."

Pledges voiced in that dark hour are being redeemed to the letter not alone in the Pacific, but in the Atlantic, the Mediterranean, the Indian Ocean, in the China Sea, and in Russia, Italy and Germany.

The hour when Tokyo can be air blitzed as have been Hamburg, Berlin and a dozen other Nazi cities no longer is remote. Thunderous preludes for that are being sounded from New Guinea to the Marshall Islands as the Allied attack advances. The expanding power of the United Nations is bringing offensive warfare at last.

It is in Germany, however, that the strain of approaching defeat for the crumpling Nazi-Japanese axis falls most heavily, tightened almost to a breaking tension by staggering military defeats in Russia and the devastating Allied air blasting of Berlin.

Nor can Hitler's generals greatly doubt that the Allied-Russian war fellowship is about to be sealed by higher authority, perhaps soon enough to make next December 7 a day to be recalled with rejoicing by all liberty loving mankind in starkest contrast to the onens of Japanese infamy that blackened that date in 1941.

Red armies everywhere are on the attack; the myth of Nazi military invincibility has burst like a soap-bubble; the Russian offensive now is unparalleled in history in scope and power.

Anglo-American sea power dominates the seven seas and Allied air power rules the skies over Europe and Asia.

Italy has become a bloody Allied-Nazi battle ground, a dragging German military liability instead of an asset in the struggle. A powerful and growing French army is based in Corsica, poised to strike into France itself against Nazi invaders. Greece and the Balkans seethe with anti-Nazi upheavals as does France, the low countries, Norway and even little Denmark.

And to cap it all, in Britain a mighty Allied army is awaiting only the signal of its high command to follow-through across the channel in a crunching second-front attack to destroy Germany in a Russian-Allied vise that is about in position to squeeze the whole continent of Europe.

Cape Horn is named after Hoorn in the Netherlands, home town of Schouten, the navigator who discovered it.

Patton Will Have To 'Be Good' To Get Further Advancement

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP)—Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr. will have to prove by future good conduct that he deserves advancement before the senate military committee approves his promotion to the permanent rank of major general, members said today.

Unverified reports reached the capitol that President Roosevelt

J. A. Buchanan Of Colorado Succumbs

COLORADO CITY, Nov. 27—Funeral services for John A. Buchanan, 83, prominent real estate dealer and resident of Colorado City for 54 years, will be held Sunday afternoon at the Methodist church here with the pastor, Rev. C. M. Epps, and the district superintendent, Rev. Cal Wright of Abilene, officiating. Mr. Buchanan died suddenly late Friday.

He was actively connected with civic affairs in his town and county. He had been democratic executive committee chairman of Mitchell county for more than 20 years, was a Mason, and an Odd-fellow. He was a steward and a trustee of the Methodist church.

For the past 40 years he had been agent for out of the state owners of thousands of acres in this and neighboring counties. He managed the Snyder ranch interests in Scurry county, the Crawford lands in Mitchell, Midland and Nolan counties, and the estate of the Brown heirs in Mitchell county.

Born in Tennessee in 1860, he moved to Hill county, Texas with his parents in 1874. He married Anna C. Smith in Abbott, Texas, in 1884. The couple came to West Texas. His wife and son, Roy D. Buchanan of Colorado City, and three daughters, Mrs. G. T. Hammock of Cedarrest, N. M., Mrs. Lewis Major and Miss Katherine Buchanan of Colorado City survive him. Dr. L. C. G. Buchanan of Clovis, N. M., is a brother.

Four Texans Get Nine Jap Planes

HEADQUARTERS OF THE 14TH U. S. AIRFORCE, CHINA, Nov. 26 (AP)—Four Texas fliers accounted for nine of 31 Japanese planes destroyed as China based bombers and fighters smashed at Japan's Formosa island in a Thanksgiving Day raid.

Col. Clinton (Tex) Hill of Victoria, former American Volunteer Group ace, brought his total of Japanese planes eliminated to 18 by destroying one bomber in the air and another on the ground as he led one of the fighter sweeps.

Capt. Sam Palmer of Fort Worth, leading another fighter outfit, downed three bombers and a Zero, thus became an ace with five confirmed victories.

Capt. James Williams of Huntsville destroyed a bomber on the ground and Lieut. Alfred Yorston, Jr., of Waco, Tex., another former American Volunteer pilot, got two bombers in the air.

may withdraw Patton's nomination because of his intemperate upbraiding of two soldiers in Sicily, but most senators thought the chief executive would stand behind Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's decision to let Patton off with a dressing down and his apologies to the seventh army.

There was strong evidence that a majority of the military committee also would like to mark the case closed but doesn't know how to let go of it gracefully. The members have been subjected to a veritable landslide of telegrams and letters from parents expressing concern that their sons may be subjected to the sort of treatment Patton dealt out to the two victims of battle nerves, one of whom was cuffed so hard his helmet rolled off.

For this reason, the committee is expected to proceed slowly in its handling of the president's recommendation that Patton be rank of cavalry colonel.

Chairman Reynolds (D-N. C.) said the committee will meet next week to consider Eisenhower's report on the Patton affair.

Coahoma Man Given Good Conduct Medal

Members of a station complement squadron at an aerial reconnaissance station in England recently were congratulated by First Lieutenant Harry F. Citek of Flushing, Long Island, New York, after they had been awarded Good Conduct medals for "exemplary behavior, efficiency and fidelity."

Among those to receive the awards were Staff Sergeant Herman Sharenbrock of Ripon, California, Private Cramer Thomas of Coahoma, Texas, and Sergeant Cecil P. Miller, of Longview, Washington.

Private Thomason, an army orderly, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Thomason, of Coahoma. Before entering the army September 1, 1943, he was employed at the Cosden refinery here. He attended Coahoma high school.

In 1917-18 few women were employed in shipyards; now 7 per cent of the shipyard workers are women.

Minors Due To Put Some Issues Up To Baseball Meeting

By SID FEDER
NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (AP)—Except possibly for some slugging about night baseball, it looks like a peaceful party for the major leagues at the winter meetings here next week—but the minors are getting up their sleeves and getting ready to throw some Sunday punches.

This is the first time in 24 years the majors and the minors have sat down together in New York. In addition to post-war problems and difficulties that figure to pop up for the 1944 campaign, the minors are bringing quite a collection of firecrackers with them in a bundle of 16 amendments to make it a hot time in the old town.

Chief of these changes is a proposal by the American association (double-A) for an associated scale of voting power among the minors, stretching from ten votes for each AA league in the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues down to 1 for a class "D" loop and one altogether for all E circuits. Naturally, the leagues below AA are ready to fight about this, and William G. Bramham, the national association president-treasurer, who comes up for re-election at the meeting, is on their side.

There's another row cooked up by the 15 leagues which didn't operate in '43 but paid their national association dues. They're hollering for the voting privileges which were taken away from them by a ruling of Bramham, after a mail vote of the nine active leagues last season. The Texas league, which hopes to start in again in '44, leads this parade.

The majors will do a lot of "chinning" over the player limit—some clubs, including the Yankees, want this boosted from 25 to 30 players per club—and night baseball, to which Brooklyn probably will return next year. The Washington Senators and the St. Louis Browns are a cinch to ask for a boost in the legal limit of lit-up baseball.

78th Squadron Leads In Post Basketball

The 78th bombardier training squadron protected a perfect record in the Big Spring bombardier school enlisted men's basketball league after the second round last week, holding a one game advantage over the 2052nd.

Monday, however, the team gets a test when it meets the 812th (S) which is tied for third. Other games on tap are 325th versus Medical Detachment and the 812 (N) versus the 2052nd.

In the set-to at the end of the week, the 812th (N) got its second win of the season by beating the Medicos 47-38 with Landkamer scoring 17 points and Stasolla 11. Grass of the Medics was high point man with 16. Brewton, a mate, added eight more.

The hapless 365th, once scourge of the league, dropped a game by forfeit. At the same time the 359th made it three wins by nosing out the 812th (S) in a close game that ended 19-18. Mullins had six points for best in the 359th and Warford, Cheatham and Logan each roped four. Blich and Chapman tallied five points each for the 812th while Mitchell and Brown added four each.

Landkamer was pacing the league in scoring with 45 points. Not far behind was Barbour (78th) with 41. Others were: Logan (359) 39, Stasolla 34, Kowalsky (365) 32, Blicha 30, Weinstein (78th) 30, Warford 30, Sallsbury (812th-N) 29, and Grass 28.

15-Year-Old Lad Is Accidentally Shot

ABILENE, Nov. 27 (AP)—The condition of Bobby (Tex) Tate, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Tate of Buffalo Gap, who was accidentally shot yesterday, was reported slightly improved this afternoon.

Two blood transfusions were given the youth yesterday.

The bullet, fired from a small-caliber rifle by a cousin while the boys were on a hunting trip, struck young Tate below the heart, lodging near the kidney.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Thompson have received word that their son, Louis Jean, an engineering cadet, has been ordered from Stillwater, Okla., to Columbus, Ohio, where he will be given special training in Ohio State University.

Forsan Meets Van Horn Here In Bi-District

Although there is no direct basis for comparison, the Forsan Buffaloes should rule as favorites to win the bi-district six man football title here Friday when they meet the Van Horn team at 8 p. m. under the lights at Steer Stadium.

Forsan, district No. 5 winner, in addition to having the "at home" advantage, carries considerably more weight in its team than shown by Van Horn, tops in district No. 6.

However, one Van Horn back, Kiko Calderon, who weighs in at 145 pounds, has three years experience behind him and is expected to prove dangerous. Bill McKenzie, who weighs in at the same level and who is co-captain with Calderon, has two years behind him while Artemio Luna, 125-pound half back, has three years experience. C. A. Morris, 115 pounds, carries two years experience at his end post while Eugene Carr, at end, has only one year. At center the choice ranges between Bobby Wilson, 150 pounds, with three years experience, or Homer Lee Scarbro, 102 pounds, with two years. A. D. Morris, 100 pounds, is the only other substitute and plays at end.

Harley Grant, backbone of the Forsan backfield, weighs in at 150 pounds. J. B. McDonald, speedster who shone brightly in closing games of the season, tips the scales to 145 and Sammy Porter weighs in at 140. On the line Darwell Peacock, 145, Dwight Painter, 136, and Robert Milliken, 138, round out the picture. Forsan has a good defense and a potent and fast offense.

Big Spring has another representative in the WAVES, though in a round-about way. She is Mary Dallas Handley, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. T. M. Collins. She was reared in Big Spring but has been away for several years. Enlisting at Tucson, Ariz., she was sent to Huntington College at New York for her training. In letters home, she gives the WAVES a mighty good word.

Bertelli Named As The Year's Top Gridder

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (AP)—Able Angelo Bertelli, the "Springfield Rifle" of Notre Dame's mighty gridiron power until Uncle Sam put the finger on him in mid-season, today won the Heisman trophy as the outstanding college player of 1943 by a vote of sports writers and broadcasters throughout the country.

The quarterbacking brain and pass-pitching ace of the Irish for six all-victorious games before being ordered to the U. S. Marine base at Farris Island, S. C., won in a walk, polling 648 points—more than the combined total of the next five candidates in the balloting held annually by the Downtown A. C. here. Nearest to him were Bob Odell, Pennsylvania's crack defensive back, with 177, and Otto Graham of Northwestern, with 140.

Finishing "in the money" for the third time—he was second in 1941 and fourth last year—Bertelli was elected top man in every section of the country polled—south, southwest, Pacific Coast, midwest and east. In this, he duplicated the award-winning vote piled up for Frankie Sinkwich, the Georgia galloper, a year ago.

Bishops Want Food Sent To People In Occupied Countries

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP)—The Catholic bishops of the United States today threw their support behind proposals that food be sent now to the hungry peoples of Nazi-occupied countries.

Such a relief program has been vigorously advocated by former President Herbert Hoover and others in this country but the British government has opposed any relaxation of the blockade on the grounds that food shipments to Europe inevitably would ease the Nazis' strained position. President Roosevelt has indicated sympathy with the idea but questioned its practicability.

The bishops' position was made known by the right Reverend Monsignor Michael J. Ready, general secretary of the national Catholic welfare conference. He made public a letter to the senate foreign relations committee endorsing specifically a resolution by Senators Gillette (D-Iowa) and Taft (R-Ohio) which would direct the state department to seek cooperation of the British, Swedish and Swiss governments with the Red Cross and other relief organizations in shipping and distributing the food.

The first Marines, recruited in Philadelphia in 1775, were paid $6 a month and given a daily ration of rum.

Farm Income Shows Decline During The Past Month

AUSTIN, Nov. 27 (AP) — Farm cash income in October in Texas showed its first decline of 1943 as compared with 1942, with the slump attributed to two chief factors.

These said Dr. F. A. Buechel, of the bureau of business research, were earlier ginings of cotton in 1943 (mostly in August and September as compared with 1942's bulk of ginings in October), and a decline in the marketing of cattle, calves and sheep. Cash income from agriculture in Texas during October amounted to $162,000,000 as compared with $177,000,000 during the same month of last year—a decline of seven per cent. Aggregation income for the first ten months of the year totaled $890,000,000 compared with $732,000,000 during the similar period of last year, a gain of nearly 22 per cent.

Pope Calls For Day Of Prayer

LONDON, Nov. 27 (AP) — Pope Pius XII, designating Dec. 8 as a day for public prayers for peace throughout the world, said today "only gospel can bring the nations together again."

The papal letter to Luigi Cardinal Maglione, papal secretary of state, broadcast by the Vatican radio, called on the faithful to turn to God.

The pope said "even if this gigantic conflict — certainly the greatest that the whole world of history has ever witnessed — is daily raging with increasing violence and causing innumerable tragedies and ruin on both land, at sea and in the air we see with sadness that many are living forgetful of their personal duties to God. "They ignore and sneer and violate His holy laws."

Points Still Must Be Given For Meat

LUBBOCK, Nov. 27.—Lifting of restrictions on farm slaughterers of hogs, announced recently by the War Food Administration, does not in any way affect Office of Price Administration requirements for the collection of meat points in the transfer of meat, J. Doyle Settle, district rationing executive, announced today.

The War Food Administration announcement simply removes for a period of ninety days all restrictions on the slaughter of these hogs, Settle said.

Farmers killing their own hogs and desiring to market the meat should consult their local war price and rationing board if they are not already registered as primary distributors of meat, the rationing executive said.

Giving the signals for bombers to take off is an important job. Wacs feel deep satisfaction, knowing they have a real share in winning the war.

Open House For Prospective AIR-WACs To Be Held At AAFBS This Afternoon

Today the AIR-WAC at the Big Spring Bombardier school are holding "open house" for any prospective AIR-WAC who might like to drop in and see for themselves how one of the world's largest bombardier schools trains men to blast the Axis from the air.

According to Captain Arthur Foulks, the AIR-WACs recruitment officer, prospective AIR-WACs may be accompanied by their parents and any interested women friends who might like to experience the thrill of seeing a busy war college in action. Beginning shortly after noon today, groups of interested women from approximately 15 counties in the Big Spring area will be streaming into the school.

"Each group," said Captain Foulks, "will be conducted on a separate tour of the post. They will visit the AIR-WAC buildings and see where the AIR-WACs are quartered and where they eat and play. They will be taken to the recreational centers of the post, such as the theatre and the bowling alleys. They will visit the Link Trainer, the giant bomber trainer hangars and many other points of interest."

The tour also includes a visit to the line where guests may climb into the control tower and see how the big bombing planes are guided on and off the runways. They may go down on the ramp and look over the long rows of bombing planes, and they may go inside the great airplane hangars and watch the activities of the soldiers and AIR-WACs as they work to keep 'em flying for their Uncle Sam. All these interesting behind-the-scenes views of a bombardier school at work may be witnessed today by any prospective AIR-WAC who may care to avail themselves of this unusual opportunity.

Each tour will also include a visit to the officers club where refreshments will be served, after which the visitors will be entertained with a short program at the ground school building, and hear an informative talk by Captain Foulks on the "AIR-WACs part in this war."

For those visitors who have no means of transportation, army cars will leave from the USO at half-hour intervals between 12 noon and 2:00 p. m. Those with cars may assemble at the front gate to the school at 12:30 p. m. today.

Free army transportation is also leaving from Sweetwater, Colorado City and Lamesa.

Truman Group Studies Charges On Expenditures At Ordnance Plant

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP)—The senate Truman defense investigating committee said today it had checked into alleged unauthorized expenditure of federal funds for landscaping and other purposes at the Red River Ordnance depot near Texarkana, Tex., but had turned the matter over to the war department because army officer personnel was involved.

The war department declined to make any comment whatever. In September the Truman committee received a letter from a Red River Ordnance civilian employe setting forth certain facts which seemed to him to constitute irregularities in the use of funds appropriated to build the huge depot. A committee official said the complainant, who since has left the depot to work in a distant state, charged that unauthorized money had been spent

Artery for Victory—Workmen are pushing the construction of a 12-inch pipeline from Midland to Corsicana so that West Texas crude oil may be fed into the famous "Big Inch" pipeline which is carrying fuel for victory to the midwest and east. Last week the line was being extended past Big Spring on its rush journey to the east as more than 200 crewmen blasted ditch for the feeder artery, laid and welded pipe, and covered the ditch behind them. In the left hand view, the line may be seen snaking its way across the typically rolling country just south of Big Spring where the line hugs the back side of the South Mountain range. In the center, workers watch a machine which lifts the welded pipe up while another follows close behind to apply asphaltic compounds to combat rust and corrosion. Later, cross bars will be removed and the pipe lowered into the ditch. At extreme right, electric welders join two sections of the big pipe together. These men work fast and efficiently, for their work must hold. Oklahoma Constructing Co. is handling the job here and Charles Ice is superintendent. (Herald Photographer).

Seal Sales Net One-Fourth Of Needed Amount

Initial response to appeals to buy Christmas seals has put the Howard County Tuberculosis association approximately a quarter of the way to its objective of $2,400, it was announced Saturday.

At the same time, Mrs. Ira Thurman, seal sale chairman, urged those who have been mailed a supply of the stamps to send in their contributions as soon as possible.

This year the association is undertaking one of the most pretentious programs in its history. It has set as its goal the testing of all first and fourth year high school students and of every first grade pupil in the city. In addition to these, those reacting positively will be subjected to X-ray diagnosis with the association bearing the expense for indigent cases. This will pale last year's commendable achievement of 394 tests, 62 X-rays, and assistance to several active cases in getting admittance to the sanatorium.

Because the strain of wartime conditions and the wartime pace, local association officials are raising their sights to prevent the "white plague" from breaking the shackles imposed by 30 years of heroic work made possible through the sale of Christmas seals. Efforts will be increased on every hand to seek out an untreatable case, to seek out and build up resistance of those exposed to tuberculosis, and to encourage more healthful living.

blockade has prevented the Japanese from moving barges down the west coast from Buka to supply punch for such an attack.)

On the Huon peninsula of northeastern New Guinea, jungle-fighting Australians, who wrested the plateau stronghold of Sattelberg from the Japanese, moved along the enemy's line of retreat and cut the Bonga-Waroc trail on the north. The Aussies also captured Puno Hill, a large irregular height dominating the northeastern half of the important jungle trail.

Above the peninsula, the next important Japanese base is Madang on which other Australian forces have been moving from along the Ramu valley. The spokesman said there had been no advance in the valley the past few days but that Aussie patrols still operated on the lower part of a good road which leads to Bogadjim, Madang's defense outpost.

Allied air forces were active on both the Solomons and New Guinea fronts.

Snow Melting In Panhandle

By The Associated Press

Clearing skies over West Texas melted the season's first snow yesterday while continued rains in some sections of South Texas retarded harvesting of winter vegetables and grains.

A four-inch snow at Plainview Thursday and Friday soaked into wheatlands under a bright sun. The same was true at Pampa where an .18-inch precipitation was welcomed, but ranged needed more moisture.

At Abilene two inches of rainfall beneficial to winter grass and small grain failed to relieve the water shortage.

At Brownwood, .82 inch was not enough to benefit ranchers and farmers, and .69 inch at Wichita Falls was described as little more than a teaser. The total rainfall at Wichita Falls since June 5, date of the last heavy rain, was 2.42 inches.

The Davis mountain was reported covered with a slow rain, followed by snow.

me himself."

Then the sheriff related how Norris finally gave him details for the location of money near Fort Worth. From these instructions, Chambers said he drew a map, which was produced in the court room and placed in the evidence.

Chambers related that he went to Kennedale near Fort Worth to look for the money, and that he and a resident of that town, following instructions, finally came to the spot where Norris said he had $5,600 buried.

"The ground under the tree had been thoroughly dug up," Chambers said. "but we dug some more, but found no money."

"I returned to Madisonville and went to see Norris and told him 'You told me the truth all right, but someone got there ahead of me and the money was gone.'"

Chambers said Norris asserted "I know who got it" and named a Fort Worth attorney, who, he said, had found the location of the money from another source.

to our target (a railroad center in northern Italy).

"We lost a couple of our guns—the nose one went out and they shot up the ball turret—so we were weakened on that side," he recalled.

The ship fell behind and the Nazis swarmed in. In the battle that ensued one of the fighters was shattered, but another cut loose from below and a 20 mm. shell ripped into the cockpit, struck Lieut. Blissard's right leg at the knee and literally blew it off. A fragment ripped into his leg.

"It didn't hurt so much," he said. "I was sort of stunned. Then I looked down to see what I had left. My right leg was gone—I could see that, and my left one felt like it had been shattered and was bleeding badly."

Without his legs to counter-balance him, he could not reach the first aid kit but managed to grab a loose undershirt, with which he fashioned a crude tourniquet for the left leg. The shell had seared his right leg so that it scarcely bled.

Lieut. Blissard commanded the co-pilot to take over. About that time another fortress caught fire in the attack and started down, so the Huns forgot the "Wolf Pack" and streaked for it.

"We got away and continued to the target and dropped our bombs," he said. It was two hours before they put down at an Italian airfield, from where he was rushed to an Italian naval hospital for the amputation. U. S. surgeons were flown in to administer plasma.

At the field where he landed an Italian colonel took off his wings and pinned them on Lieut. Blissard. His own squadron commander did the same when he saw him.

He is holder of the Distinguished Service Cross, the Purple Heart and the Air Medal with oak leaf clusters.

County To Send Delegates To Farm Meet

With initial returns from its membership drive showing pronounced success, the Howard county chapter of the Texas Farm Bureau voted Saturday to send two delegates to the National Farm Bureau Federation convention in Chicago starting Dec. 6.

Frank Loveless, president of the Howard county unit, and Charley Lawrence, Luther, were selected as delegates to the national party, and Earl Hull and C. T. DeVaney were made alternates.

At the meeting it was announced that 1944 memberships now stood at 166, with a large number of these taking memberships for the first time. C. T. DeVaney, secretary, was hopeful that by the time teams completed their contacts for renewals, that the total for 1944 would exceed the 320 for the past year. Until recently, Howard county led the state in memberships.

Reports from the state convention in Dallas Nov. 16-17 were made by Loveless, DeVaney, Akin Simpson and Ed Carpenter, four of the five delegates. Among other things, they pointed out that the bureau was standing firm for 100 per cent parity which would include the increased cost of labor and of machinery; against a subsidy on agricultural products or a roll back in prices on these same products.

Next meeting of the bureau will be on Dec. 18 when reports from Loveless and Lawrence will be heard.

City-Wide Revival Campaign Entering Final Week Today

Encouraged by increasing attendance at both morning and evening services, churches cooperating in the city-wide all-church revival begin the second and last week of the special spiritual campaign today.

The various churches, whose ministers are in the pastors association, are holding their own morning services, and several are making this a special effort to encourage church membership. In the evening, however, the joint service will be resumed at the First Baptist church with the Rev. W. O. Vaught, Jr., pastor of the University Baptist church in Abilene, in the pulpit.

His subject is to be the "Cross of Christ." This evening's service, set for 8 p. m., is a "men's night" affair with a men's chorus furnishing the music. The Rev. Aisie Carlton, minister of St. John's Methodist church in Lubbock, is in charge of the music.

This morning, the Rev. Vaught is speaking at the First Presbyterian church. Preceding this, however, he is to be the speaker at a "Decision Day" effort set at the First Baptist church for 10 a. m. in lieu of the regular Sunday School.

A successful first week was rounded out Saturday evening with a youth program, followed by an all-night prayer meeting at the First Baptist church with each of the cooperating ministers and members of their congregations having charge at various intervals.

Arthur Kasch Heard On A Broadcast From London

Many a Big Spring radio listener, tuned to the Red Cross Eagle Club broadcast by BBC from London and picked up by Mutual, suddenly came awake Saturday when the announcer asked the youth "with the big smile" where his home was.

"Big Spring" came the reply, "the Main-spring of West Texas."

This was Master Sergeant Arthur Kasch, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Kasch, who is based in England as a crew chief with the Eighth air force. His parents had been notified of the broadcast in advance by a BBC representative, but they were as excited as those who chanced upon the program.

The family's old dog, hearing Sgt. Kasch's voice, came up to the room, Mrs. Kasch said.

As to what he intended to do after the war, Sgt. Kasch was uncertain. "I intended to get married," he said in the broadcast, "but the war outlasted the girl."

DETROIT, Nov. 27 (AP)—R. J. Thomas, president of the United Automobile Workers (CIO), in a letter addressed to the presidents of all UAW locals, today called for "fullest support" in a "concerted drive" to crack the Little Steel wage formula.

He asked also for strict adherence to the union's no strike pledge.

Pete Long Killed Shortly Before A Planned Trip Home

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Long had expected Pfc. Peter L. Long, Jr., home for the Thanksgiving holidays.

Instead, a few days before Thanksgiving, his father laid his remains away at San Antonio, where Pete, Jr., had been reared. Mrs. Long was ill and could not attend the last rites.

Pfc. Long was one of 16 men killed in crashes on Nov. 15 adjacent to Buckingham Field, Fort Myers, Fla. His parents said he had written that he expected to finish his training on Nov. 17, just two days from the time his ship crashed, and planned to be here with them for Thanksgiving. Long has returned from San Antonio where a military funeral was given his son.

Few Taxpayers Are Taking Advantage Of 2 Pct. Discount

Comparatively few taxpayers are taking advantage of the two per cent discount offered for payment of current taxes in November, County Tax Collector J. F. Wolcott said Saturday.

According to records of his office, payments for the month had totaled only $5,875.21, and Bernie Freeman, assistant collector, estimated that less than that would come in by Dec. 2, deadline for payment in time to receive benefit of the discount.

City and schools offer discounts for payments made before the end of November. October payments were so heavy this year until not a large amount of taxes are outstanding.

Bluejackets Show It Can Be Done, Trimming Notre Dame, 19 To 14

Sailors Score With Pass In Final Seconds

GREAT LAKES, Ill., Nov. 27 (AP)—The Great Lakes Bluejackets came on an arm and a prayer to make a myth of Notre Dame's invincibility.

Big Steve Lach, the former Duke University and Chicago Cardinal star, looped a fantastic desperation pass 46 yards into the arms of Paul Anderson for a touchdown in the last 30 seconds of play which gave the Sailors a 19-14 triumph before a screaming crowd of 23,000 trainees. It was the first defeat this year for Notre Dame and ruined the Irish chance for their first unbeaten, untied season since 1930.

Anderson, ex Western Reserve griddler, hugged the spiraling ball on the goal line and stepped into the end zone without an opponent within 15 yards of him.

The dramatic finish was of the variety which will be talked about as long as football is played. For the fighting Irish had just ended a 75-yard scoring march in a duel with the clock to go ahead 14 to 12 with a minute remaining in the game.

Notre Dame's kickoff went out on the Bluejacket's 39. Lach then pitched 15 yards to Cecil Pirkey to reach the Irish 46. On the next play Lach faded back and with End Paul Limont virtually hanging around his shoulders like a necklace, he shook free and catapulted the ball to Anderson, who was hovering around the goal line with his motor running.

Anderson's perfect catch and Steve Juzwik's subsequent placekick provided a bitter anti-climax for the most brilliant Notre Dame season in 13 years.

The Sailors' sturdy line limited the terrors of the T to 181 yards by rushing, their poorest showing of the season. Meantime, Great Lakes powered by Emil Sitko, Notre Dame freshman last year, and Dewey Proctor of Furman, drilled through the vaunted Irish forwards for 284 yards by rushing, the best showing of any of Notre Dame's nine previous opponents. Sitko gained 114 yards on 17 trips while Proctor punched 155 on the same number of carries.

Creighton Miller, the Irish's leading ball carrier, was stopped like a derailed express, picking up a mere 63 yards in 27 attempts for his poorest record of the year. Johnny Lujack, although hitting on seven of his 16 passes, was able to add only 64 aerial yards.

Notre Dame, however, ended its campaign with an average rushing gain of 313.9 yards per game to beat a national record which had stood since the University of Colorado posted an average of 310 behind the running of Whizzer White in 1937.

Rice, Texas To Play In Okla. Tournament

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 27 (AP)—The all-college tournament sponsors said tonight that entries had been received from the basketball co-champions of the southwest conference—Rice and Texas.

With the entrance of the two Texas quintets the list for the annual Christmas holiday tourney was half complete. Only eight teams will participate Dec. 27-29 this year. Oklahoma and Oklahoma Aggies were previously announced as participants.

Both Texas outfits were all-college contestants last season, the Longhorns taking third place and Rice winning the consolation bracket.

Georgia Tech To Meet Tulsa In Sugar Bowl

ATLANTA, Nov. 27 (AP)—Georgia Tech, champion of the Southeastern conference, wound up its regular season today with a 48-0 triumph over Georgia and headed for a New Year's Day engagement with unbeaten Tulsa University in New Orleans' Sugar Bowl.

While a sell-out crowd of 30,000 watched, Tech's navy-powered Engineers thundered over civilian Georgia for four straight periods, inflicting the worst defeat of their tradition-steeped, 50-year rivalry.

Eddie Prokop, one-man hurricane on the loose, scored three touchdowns—one of them a 66-yard return of a pass interception. He booted six extra points.

Selection of Tech and Tulsa for the post-season game was announced by Sugar Bowl officials soon after the Yellow Jackets crushed Georgia. Coach Henry Frnka of Tulsa scouted Tech with two assistants. Tech's Coach W. A. Alexander did not scout Tulsa, explaining that although he accepted the Sugar Bowl bid two weeks ago he had not known who his opponent would be in time to watch Tulsa slaughter Arkansas Thanksgiving.

Randolph Beaten By SLI Stalwarts

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 27 (AP)—Southwestern Louisiana Institute defeated Randolph Field, 6-0, here today, turning a Glenn Dobbs pass into a touchdown.

Set back on their own one yard line by a terrific 50-yard kick by Alvin Dark, the Ramblers' former all-American at Tulsa University elected to pass rather than safely punt, and Fred Jacob, reserve SLI halfback, gathered the ball in on the 18 and went all the way for a score. The conversion attempt failed.

Nebraska Whipped By Oklahoma, 26-7

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 27 (AP)—Oklahoma scored the first Sooner football victory in history on Nebraska today, taking a 26 to 7 win before 4,000 that gave the Oklahomans a clean slate of five victories and no defeats in Big Six conference play this season.

From the time in the first period that Gerald Lebow tossed two passes, the first to Bob Brunley for 16 yards and the second to Dud Wooten for 13 yards and a touchdown, the game was in the Sooner bag.

Hapless Frogs Trampled By Ponies, 20-0

FORT WORTH, Nov. 27 (AP)—Southern Methodist stropped a 20-0 defeat on hapless Texas Christian today to close out the Southwest conference campaign and drop the Horned Frogs into the cellar with Arkansas.

It was the most dismal season in 20 years for the Purple which managed to win only one conference game and that over Arkansas.

A crowd of 4,000 watched the Mustangs get a touchdown in the second period, two in the third and miss two other chances to score on penalties, while the best TCU could do was move to the opening 36-yard line in the fourth quarter.

Wayne (Red) Shaw, returning to the lineup after being out most of the season with a broken leg, sparked the early drives of the Mustangs and it was his 33-yard sprint in a cut-back over tackle that brought the first touchdown. Dave Redman made the next score on a 17-yard dash around left end and the final Mustang touchdown came on a pass over the goal line from Lloyd Parker to Billy Walling.

Rice Bowled Over By Southwestern, 21 To 7

HOUSTON, Nov. 27 (AP)—Southwestern University's Pirates, packing power and finesse on a muddy field bowled over Rice Institute 21 to 7, here today before 4,000 spectators.

Southwestern scored in the first, third and fourth quarters and Rice bounced back to tally its only marker late in the fourth quarter.

Rice, moving from its 22 in the first quarter, called a kick and Gordon Holton, an end, smacked through to block Bucky Sheffield's punt on the 13. Joe Baumgardner raced around end for a first down on the two and Fullback Jim Mitchell ground over for the touchdown. Spot Collins converted.

In the third stanza Sheffield was tackled on the Owl ten as he tried to punt. Southwestern covered and Bob Campbell pierced tackle for a second score. Collins again converted.

The final Southwestern score came in the fourth when from the Southwestern 41 Campbell fell back and heaved a pass to R. L. Cooper for 36 yards and a touchdown. J. C. O'Neal, a tackle, converted.

Navy Overpowers Army In Last Half For 13-0 Win

WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 27 (AP)—Navy's football machine, stymied completely by an alert, aggressive Army team for two periods, turned on its power today in the second half of a bruising, bitter contest to steamroller the Cadets, 13 to 0, in the semi-privacy of Michie stadium. The defeat marked the fifth consecutive year the Middies have turned the trick.

An estimated 15,000 spectators, residing within the 10-mile limit, saw a football show which kept them in various stages of hysteria throughout most of the afternoon. For two violent periods it was the kind of ball game that was a masterpiece of midfield offensives, featured by savage blocking, violent tackling and dogged all-around play which kept either team from presenting a robust threat.

A break came midway in the third period. Hal Hamberg sent a punt to Glenn Davis on the Army six, and Davis stepped outside as he caught it. Davis was caught back on the three a moment later, and Max Maxon's punt was run back by Hamberg 10 yards to the Army 43.

Navy power began to function, and, with a Hamberg-Hills-Hume lateral pass play good for 25 yards, the Middies advanced to the six. Three more plays found the ball still two yards away from the goal.

This was the payoff moment, the do or die play for both teams. The imported Navy cheer leaders tied themselves into knots trying to get their proxy cheering section to show enthusiasm, but the cadets, distinguished by white caps, stared silently and glumly, and the silence was deafening when, a moment later, Bob Jenkins crashed over with Army defenders draped on him like confetti. Vic Finos placekicked the point.

Late in the same period, after Hamberg had run back a punt from his own 49 to Army's 44, the march again was on.

This time it was the robust Hume, clawing and bullying and crushing his way through the wavering Cadet ranks. As the fourth period opened he surged through for 15 yards to the Army 25. Jim Pettit gave him a lift with a 10-yard gallop, then one resumed his solitary offensive until he reached the one. From there, on fourth down, Pettit high-dived into the end zone. Fenos' placekick was blocked.

From that point on Army tried everything it had—passes by Davis and the in-again-out-again Doug Kenna, futile stabs at the line, anything. Davis even tried a pass from deep in his end zone. It was completed for 20 yards, but

Quail Said To Be Plentiful This Season

AUSTIN, Nov. 27 (AP)—Quail shooting, favorite sport of thousands of Texans, starts Wednesday.

Hunters who have been working their dogs for weeks will be happy to hear the state game commission reports the bird crop good — "good as last year's," which was excellent.

In normal times 300,000 Texans shoot 3,000,000 Bobwhite and Blue Quail in the 47-day season from Dec. 1 through Jan. 16.

Phil Goodrum, director of wildlife restoration for the commission, today estimated the number of hunters would be reduced to 200,000 through wartime factors. Each hunter will average 10 birds during the season, Goodrum figures.

Bobwhite quail are found everywhere in Texas except west of the Pecos river. There the Blue quail ranges but it represents only 15 per cent of the season's total bag.

The best Bobwhite country lies in three general areas centered by Smith county in northeast Texas, Gonzales county in South Central Texas, and Jim Hogg and Kenedy counties in Southeast Texas. Few birds are to be had in the blackland belt, the Hill country, or in the territory between Beaumont, and Lufkin, game commission biologists indicate.

Editorial - - - More Frankness Needed In Military News

What this country needs to give the people more confidence in their war leaders is less hide-bound censorship and more frankness and promptness in handling war news.

General Eisenhower didn't exactly suppress news of Lt. Gen. Patton's assault upon a shell-shocked soldier. He left it up to correspondents at his headquarters, after pointing out that to break the story then might be of help to the enemy. The correspondents thought so, too—and it is entirely possible that this was the correct view. We had tough going in Sicily from start to finish; if the Germans had been tipped that the American army commander there was in trouble, they might have seized the occasion to redouble their efforts and thus make Sicily a much costlier prize for the Allies.

But this story sizzled and smoldered for three months, long after Sicily was taken and Italy invaded. Finally it was busted wide open by Drew Pearson in a radio broadcast. It was what happened after Pearson broke the story that we wish to criticize. The war department said it had "no information or comment" on Pearson's story. If it had no information the inference is that it doesn't know what's going on, for all correspondents and thousands of soldiers in the Mediterranean zone have known the story for three months.

Similarly, General Eisenhower's headquarters adopted what looked like evasive tactics in the hours immediately following Pearson's revelation. It denied that Gen. Patton "was ever reprimanded by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower." This turned out to have been a circumlocution; Patton was not reprimanded formally—merely given a gentle cussing out by his commander in chief. Also, "No report has ever reached this headquarters of any soldier refusing to obey an order by General Patton." This likewise was true, but it didn't answer Pearson's charge.

Instead of adopting these evasive tactics, which it maintained for 24 hours or more, the army should immediately have come across with the whole story, sparing nothing and no one. When it could no longer deny or hedge it took roundabout means of baring the story—letting unidentified staff members reveal the details piecemeal.

Our censorship is shot through with the silly notion "that the American people aren't adult, but must be nursed along on pap and pretense. This is an absolute negation of all our claims of democratic procedures and freedom of the press. It implies that we are the same sheep-like people that Mussolini and Hitler and Tojo lead around by the nose. It withholds or doctors up the stark facts of war; under pretense of keeping information from the enemy, it suppresses facts which the American people are entitled to know, and which the enemy already knows.

Net result of this wet-nursing of war information is to create a feeling of complacency on the part of the people, and when this complacency reaches dangerous levels somebody in authority jumps all over the people for being complacent.

The best way to destroy complacency is to give the people all the facts that it's safe to print. The best way to harness the energies and devotion of the American people is to give them the facts of war straight from the shoulder, without sugar-coating.

A suppressed story of this magnitude is like a neglected ulcer—it gets bigger and uglier and more dangerous the longer it is ignored.

The most potent force in American life in war and peace is an informed public opinion. There is evidence that the brass-hats are afraid to trust the good sense of the American people. To us, this is a more serious and dangerous situation than the Patton incident itself. We hope for a more realistic and forthright handling of the facts of war in future.

Washington Daybook— Cordell Hull Achieves Status Of A War Hero

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON—This war has made a host of heroes—military, diplomatic and industrial—but I doubt if there is another on the war scene who has crowned his long public service with such an achievement as Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

Although it isn't generally known, the Moscow conference was Hull's baby from the outset. Hardly had the thunder of bombs at Pearl Harbor died away than the idea was born with Hull that the United States, England, Russia and perhaps China, should get together for an examination of aims and objectives and finally to sign and deliver a pact that would make those objectives known to the warring world.

He nursed that idea through a dozen diplomatic mazes, through that black period when the fall of all Western Russia seemed just around a Stalinist corner. He overcame the hurdles of indifference, animosity, and fear of failure, which leaders of all the nations involved felt at one time or another.

Yet, with all that, the bringing to fruition of his fixed idea wasn't nearly so remarkable to me as the fact that the aging, often ill Secretary attended the conference in person and took a lead in the grueling sessions.

Secretary Hull was 72 years old last October 2. His health has not been so good for several years and his spare frame has often needed periods of rest between the more arduous State Department tasks. He had vowed never to set foot in an airplane. He had been warned by his physician not to make any "long trips."

But faced with the conviction that he alone could best represent his nation in a conference which he had been mulling over for a year and a half, Hull climbed into a plane that flew him to Puerto Rico; took ship for Casablanca and flew again across Africa, up the Levant and into Moscow.

According to reports from Moscow, it was the verbal bull's eyes from "the last of our log-cabin statesmen" that often knocked out the conference obstacles. That is believable. It's an accepted fact now that the Soviet Union doesn't like diplomatic double-talk. Hull doesn't know any.

Hollywood— Fantasy Makes A Hit

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—There is no dramatic medium more suited than motion pictures to the projection of fantasy, and no business that has been more frightened of the word than the movie business—until recently.

What goes on in many of the studies today is literally out of this world. There are excursions into the hereafter, glimpses into the supernatural, and gay, whimsical, or tender ghosts, some of them holding communion with the living.

For a long time, probably because some forgotten fantasy was filmed and promptly died at the box-office, Hollywood has steered clear of any theme exploring death. The hereafter except in standard horror movies, was deemed as risky as boy-meets-girl was sure-fire.

If "Death Takes A Holiday," made a beautiful picture, it could which apparently had no appreciable effect in stemming the tide of World War II.

And then there's "Outward Bound." They're changing the title, mainly because the first film version, with Leslie Howard and Doug Fairbanks Jr., fine as it was, confirmed the local fear of fantasy at the box-office. And the story has been placed in a wartime setting, but it is still the story of an ocean liner whose passengers, seemingly all alive, make the astounding discovery that they're dead and bound—outward.

Nobody seems afraid of "Outward Bound" this time. The cast includes John Garfield, Paul Henreid, Sydney Greenstreet (who plays his first sympathetic role in reels), Eleanor Parker, Dennis King, Edmund Gwenn, and George Coulouris (playing another of his very unsympathetic roles).

If it's the beginning of a cycle, now is the time for it. A war picture doesn't necessarily concern itself with battles.

Capital Comment— Starlings Again Are Swarming Washington

By GEORGE STIMPSON
WASHINGTON—The starlings have returned to Washington in force. This time of year tens of thousands of these rusty, dusty little birds come into the city every evening to roost on trees, window ledges, statues, building cornices or any other place they can rest their tiny feet.

Some of the linden trees on Pennsylvania avenue resemble huge blackberry bushes after a swarm of starlings have settled on them. Many twigs and small limbs are broken by the weight of the birds. During the summer you see a few starlings around the parks, but then they travel separately and not in flocks. When winter approaches they gather in great flocks for company and come to town for heat and shelter.

No matter what time of night I walk along the avenue to Capitol Hill, these birds are fluttering and twittering and giggling. They seem never to sleep.

Most people like these friendly little birds. They are objectionable in only one respect.

The Supreme Court has granted a review of the "Texas white, primary" case and the nine justices are mulling over the question.

Chapter 6
A myriad of conflicting noises rang in Pete's ears as he stood near a half-finished ship, waiting for the foreman to bring the man with whom he was to work. He laid a hand on the steel tubing of the ship. The staccato pounding of the riveters, working on the same ship sent tiny vibrations through the stainless-steel framework. He could feel these as his hand came in contact with the tubing and it sent a pleasant new thrill through his veins.

In a few moments, he was going to begin helping to design and build a fighting ship... a good fighting ship!

For the first few moments, the terrific explosions of the big drop hammers on the other side of the plant, followed almost immediately by the locomotive-like exhausts of each stroke, caused him to duck his head, instinctively. But now, he enjoyed this master noise of them all along with all the other sounds which sang of the tremendous power which man had harnessed. Long rows of wingless fuselages stretched out far behind him were shining in the sunlight of late afternoon.

Tim Brandon came up and introduced him to Ralph Barker, the lead-man, who seemed to be a perfectly swell sort of person. Pete asked about the designing engineer, but Barker had received no instructions in this connection.

"All I know is that you're to work as a general rigger... that's what Tim told me," Barker explained.

Pete was crestfallen. He wondered why they hadn't sent the engineer. Maybe they'd send him later. A pair of girls walked past carrying drill motors. One said, "I told him I had to have another nickel. I ain't had a raise in three months. 'Better make it while you can.' I told him, 'This place will make a swell skating rink... after the war.'"

A middle-aged man with stooped-shoulders and dirty overalls several sizes too small leaned over, dropped his rivet-gun on the concrete floor and tied his shoe-lace. A tall girl in bright green slacks and yellow blouse slouched past whistling, "My mamma done told me... with a broken drill bit in each hand. A vagrant gust of wind swept through the high rolling doors at the head of the line loosing a strong whiff of fresh dope from the paint shop.

"I'll put you with 'Old man Moses,'" Barker said.

"Old man Moses" proved to be a lean man of some sixty years with a friendly but toothless grin. "I'm doing a little 'dog-chasing,'" he told Pete and handed him a piece of steel wool. "There ain't no screws to be had for this ship and we got to kill time until they turn some loose. Lots of parts are scarce as hell around here, pretty often, and in the meantime, we got to 'chase the dog,' which is what we call killing time. They call me 'lead-man of the dog-chasers.'"

He burst forth with a caekling laugh. "So now," he continued. "We grab ourselves a piece of steel wool and polish tubing, so they won't think we're not doing anything. Looks bad, not to be doing anything when the big shots come by, specially the general manager, Ernest Kahl." He drew a deep breath, the foul air from the paint shop wheezing into his lungs. "One thing you got to learn is to look like you're busy as hell... when you ain't."

He instructed Pete as to the procedure used in polishing tubing. "Don't rub it too hard," he cautioned. "The stuff's pretty thin, and you might get it too thin. It's best to get a worn-out piece of steel wool."

Now, Pete was working alongside Alf Mason, alias, "Old man Moses," polishing tubing, and he didn't like it. Surely they thought vine. Buddy... 'grapevine.' All the working-men know all about it, but it hasn't got to the foremen and lead-men, yet."

Men's Wear of Character

STORY

For a moment Pete was stunned. "Okay," he said, finally, "and if you know so much about it, then maybe you can tell me why they put me on this job of dog-chasing, instead of with the engineer."

"Sure, I'll tell you. H. C. should have looked up your record before he hired you. He made a mistake, so he's taking it out on you, giving you a tough break, thinking you can't take it... and if you can't take it... he'll fire you."

So the personnel manager was going to take it out on him, was he? Made a mistake and now he was going to take it out on him... make it hot for him. Rollins thought he couldn't take it, did he?

He faced Alf, eyes blazing. "Listen, Alf, You pass the word back to Mr. Rollins, that if he thinks I can't take it, he's badly mistaken. He hasn't got anything so tough that I can't take it. Tell him I said that, will you?"

"Sure... sure. I'll pass the word back, buddy... and say, I believe you really mean it, too. You're all right, buddy."

Before the war, industries manufacturing electrical products employed the largest proportion of women.

Tax Men To Be Here Dec. 1-4

The income tax problem is coming up again soon—Dec. 15 is the final date—and for those who are having worries about complying with the regulations, federal tax men will be in Big Spring the first four days in December to give assistance.

Deputy Collectors H. W. Aze and J. G. Harris will be in room 17 of the postoffice basement, Dec. 1-4, inclusive, from 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m. to assist in the completion of returns. This will be their only visit here before the final date of filing tax returns.

The current tax payment act of 1943 provides for the payment of the larger amount of income tax reflected on returns filed for the calendar years 1942 and 1943, plus 25 per cent of the smaller year's tax liability, if over $50.

75 per cent of the smaller year's tax liability will be forgiven. Farmers and stockmen who derive 80 per cent or more of gross income from the active conduct of farm or ranching operations must file "Form 1040-ES" on or before December 15, 1943. The law provides that the entire unpaid balance of the larger year's estimated tax for 1943 be paid in full at that time.

Ministers Make A Tour Of The Local Bombardier School

Ministers of the Big Spring Pastors' Association were conducted on a tour through the Big Spring Bombardier school Friday under the sponsorship of the AAFBS AIR-WAC recruiters.

Chaplain James L. Patterson presided over the opening program which was held in the post chapel, and talks were given by Lieut. Elizabeth Haidacher, Lieut. Dessie O. Smith and Lieut. Roland Hatfield, who explained the purpose of the AIR-WAC during the present emergency and the part which women are now playing at the Big Spring Bombardier school.

The group inspected the WAC area, which included the dayroom, mess hall and barracks, and were served refreshments in the officers club. Participating in the tour were the Rev. Dick O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist church, the Rev. R. E. Dunham, pastor of the East Fourth Baptist church, the Rev. J. E. McCoy, pastor of the First Christian church, the Rev. W. L. Porterfield, pastor of the Wesley Memorial Methodist church, the Rev. H. Clyde Smith of the First Methodist church and the Rev. E. C. Lee of the Main Street Church of God.

Compromise On Food Subsidies Being Sought

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP)—Any senate consent to continuation of food subsidy payments apparently hung today on efforts of a small democratic bloc to split strong opposition ranks with a quick vote on the house-approved bill which would permit outlay of the funds for a limited period and a restricted amount.

While administration lieutenants fanned that faint hope vigorously, majority leader Barkley (D. Ky.) called for a public airing of the controversy "so the people will get the full story."

Farm bloc leaders—confident of outright defeat of President Roosevelt's price subsidy program—pressed, however, for a quick vote on the house-approved bill which, after Dec. 31, would ban government payments to keep down retail food prices.

Meantime, the group of democratic senators were striving to win over farm bloc spokesmen to the compromise proposal although no specific subsidy ceiling or time limit for the program had been decided.

War Food Administrator Marvin Jones and Price Administrator Chester Bowles will head the administration witnesses appearing against the subsidy ban. Farm organization spokesmen will open the hearings Tuesday. Mayor La Guardia of New York and a group of other mayors supporting subsidies are scheduled to be heard Friday.

Turkey Damaged By Earthquake

ISTANBUL, Nov. 27 (AP)—The Black Sea region of north central Turkey was hit hard by an earth quake today and first reports reaching here said 30 persons were killed and hundreds of buildings destroyed. Although the quake was felt at Ankara, its center appeared to be in the hills south of the Black Sea.

The force of the shock broke the needle of the Istanbul seismograph. Telephone and telegraph communication between Istanbul and the Kastamonu region 125 miles east were disrupted by the quake and it was feared greater damage may be reported when the facilities are restored.

The Anatolian news agency reported that three shocks totaling 25 seconds were felt between 10:23 o'clock last night and 1:25 o'clock this morning (6:25 p. m., CWT, Friday).

More Support For Oil Price Increase

SANTA FE, N. M., Nov. 27 (AP)—Governor J. J. Dempsey of New Mexico today announced support from a twelfth governor as he prepared to go to Washington to seek congressional backing for an increase in the price of crude oil.

The latest chief executive to join in support of the price increase, Dempsey announced, is New Hampshire.

Previously, he said, he and Governors Stevenson of Texas and Schoepfel of Kansas who launched the move have received backing of governors of Louisiana, Oklahoma, Nebraska, Ohio, Connecticut, Maryland, Illinois, Pennsylvania, and Wyoming.

Women constitute about 49 per cent of the textile workers this year; about 77 per cent of the clothing workers.

Labor Issue Headed For High Court

AUSTIN, Nov. 27 (AP)—The state supreme court today paved the way for R. J. Thomas of Detroit to carry his challenge to the controversial Texas labor union control law to the United States Supreme court.

Thomas, president of the CIO Automobile Workers Union, this week was refused a rehearing in the State Supreme court in his appeal from a contempt sentence affirmed earlier this month.

Chief Justice James V. Alexander signed an order under which the contempt sentence's execution will be held in abeyance pending an appeal to the U. S. Supreme court.

Thomas was fined $100 and sentenced to three days in jail for contempt of District Judge J. Harris Gardner's court in Travis county. Judge Gardner had issued an injunction forbidding Thomas to solicit membership in a union without first registering with the secretary of state and obtaining a permit in compliance with the labor union regulation statute.

Texas Youth Wins Natl. 4-H Award

CHICAGO, Nov. 27 (AP)—Six years ago Billy Soll Estes, a Clyde, Tex., farm boy, started his agricultural career with one ewe lamb.

Today, with a bank account of $28,739, he was named winner of the national 4-H achievement award at the organization's national convention here.

Winner of the girl's achievement award was Geneva G. Duhm, 18, of Black Reek, Wis., whose farm and home income over the last seven years was $1,626. Each winner will receive a trophy from President Roosevelt and a $200 college scholarship.

Estes, 17, sold the flock founded by the ewe for $900 and invested in swine. His total earnings from swine were $17,000. He earned the remainder from crops, cattle and sheep, all raised on the 1,600 acre ranch of his father, John L. Estes.

Miss Duhm's income was measured in 241 garments, 47 home items, 32 special jobs, 1,122 quarts of canned food, 962 foods and nutritional enterprises, 367 fowl, two acres of garden and two dairy animals.

M'Murry Campaign Making Progress

The McMurry College endowment and building fund campaign which is being sponsored by Methodist churches in the Northwest Texas conference has hardly started and already one-sixth of the local goal, or $5,270, has been raised in Big Spring, according to announcement Saturday.

The total contributions thus far amounts to subscriptions from less than 20 persons, and during the next 10 days, the church hopes to receive contributions from every member of the congregation. The total campaign goal amounts to $1,750,000 and the First Methodist church has been asked to raise $30,000 of that amount.

M. E. Ooley is district chairman for the campaign, and D. F. Bigony has been named local chairman.
