

Speaker Says Democracy Must Remain Secure In US

Kenneth Brooks realized a "crazy idea" Friday night as he visited Hereford and spoke to about 150 members of the Lions, Rotary, Kiwanis and Junior Chamber of Commerce and some of their wives.

Mr. Brooks, from Herefordshire, England, explained that when he first planned to come to America for the Institute of International Relations, which was held in San Antonio he decided to "drop by Hereford" since he was going to be in Texas. He added that "dropping by" in Texas required a longer trip than it is possible to make from one end of the British Isles to the other.

After extending a greeting from Hereford and Herefordshire, England, to Hereford, Texas and incidentally apologizing for his pronunciation of the word. He said he found they have been mispronouncing the name for many years in England when he arrived here.

Delving briefly into the history and geographical aspects of his English home, Mr. Brooks said the population of their county, (shire means county he said) is 140,000 and it is considered among the more sparsely populated of the country. The county is approximately the same size as Deaf Smith county.

Herefordshire, England is the birthplace of Hereford cattle, from which Hereford, Texas derived its name.

Mr. Brooks then commenced the more serious side of his talk, saying, "many Americans have an erroneous impression that Britain has become a race of sarks." However, he said they are quite free and haven't given up their individual liberty.

The Englishman went into considerable detail concerning the much discussed and controversial British National Health Service. He said he was not trying to sell the idea, but merely explain it. He drew parallels on many of his points such as:

"It is a scheme demanded and wanted by middle class and upper middle class people. Labor was already protected."

"The $10 million dollars in the British national budget for the National Health service is less than 2 1/2% of the amount set aside for drying surplus Irish potatoes blue in your country."

"Before the service was inaugurated Woolworth's Dime store was selling two million pairs of spectacles a year. Since it started they don't sell any. This is a positive gain for the community."

Mr. Brooks explained that they do not have government patronage in politics in England, but that we do here, and he believes it is almost inconceivable to expect such a service here without patronage which might seriously handicap the health service.

He briefly mentioned that he is continually surprised with America. For instance the Tennessee Valley Authority is probably bigger than all of the nationalization services of Britain combined. And he added that of course we never called the TVAV socialism or nationalism.

He is sure they will never be able to reach the American degree of subsidization.

He touched on the increase in production in Britain and said a comparison of working days lost by strikes in proportion to the populations show they have lost only 1/75 as much as the U. S. has during the past year.

In closing Mr. Brooks gave his opinion on the question of what the prospects are for peace and war. He said throughout Europe there is a strong conviction war is not imminent or likely to come. The people there are more perturbed by the anxiety America is showing.

"They are fearful that some minor matter might start another conflict because of hysteria in some parts of America, not Texas, however."

"If Democracy is insecure in America what hope is there for it to survive in Europe?"

Hereford Jaycees Win National Recognition

Hereford Junior Chamber of Commerce was awarded second place in the Nation in the Civic Improvement Class at the National Convention in Chicago Saturday.

Local Jaycees also placed second in the state on this particular division. More details will be available next week.

Five Boy Scouts Attend National Jamboree Soon

Five Hereford Boy Scouts are at Camp Don Harrington this week end getting ready for one of the greater events of their young lives—a trip to Valley Forge, Pennsylvania next Saturday.

It's the Annual National Boy Scout Jamboree held at Valley Forge, and Donald Zimmerman, Norman Bartlett, Lee Drake, Dabney Williams and Hubert Godfrey will be there.

This week end, at Camp Don Harrington near Amarillo, the Boy Scouts from this district will get together for their final inspection and organization. Seventy boys and seven Scout leaders will organize into troops, run last-minute inspections and otherwise prepare themselves for the big trip. No leaders from Hereford will make the Pennsylvania jaunt.

Expenses of three of the boys was helped along by donations from the Lions Club, Rotary Club and American Legion who each sponsored one of the boys. The other two Scouts making the trip are being sponsored by their parents.

The Scouts will go from Hereford to Washington, D. C. and will visit various places of historic interest during their stay in the eastern part of the country.

They expect to be gone until July 6, according to J. C. Reese.

THEY LET SOME AIR OUT

But It Didn't Deflate Everyone Entirely

Ten years ago, when the 1940 census was being taken, Hereford was practically indifferent to the final total. The war had started in Europe and agriculture and stock were just beginning to bring some decent prices.

This was before the day of "The Town Without a Toothache." This was before people in Hereford became population conscious. Hereford comprised an even section—640 acres.

Nobody was surprised when they only counted 2,584 people as the Hereford population. Hereford was just a country town in West Texas, no dustier than any other place. Probably a little cleaner, though, in the opinion of most. The only paved streets then were Fifth, Third, Lawton, Main, Lee and Union. The Town Was Jumping But when 1950 rolled around, a lot of water had passed under the bridge. Hereford was now a little city. People were bubbling over with enthusiasm and guessing population figures ranging from 3,500 to 12,000 people. With annexation, Hereford's area now equaled two sections.

Using figures derived from utility meters, births and the amount of business transacted here compared to other towns known to be larger, the man on the streets of Hereford estimated a little high. Only a few were looking for figures under 5,000 and they were considered "way off."

As it turned out they could have the last laugh except that even they were a little downhearted at the final figure being under 5,000.

Didn't Disappoint Mayor Mayor W. E. Dameron isn't one of the disappointed ones. At least, he isn't as disappointed as most.

"I didn't think we would have any seven or eight thousand people in Hereford. But I thought we would have between five and six—closer to six."

"We were hoping for something over 5,000 so we could set up our home-rule plan. We can't do it now. But I am satisfied. We have almost 5,000 of the best type of people. We are all pushing for the betterment of Hereford. I am for quality rather than quantity anytime. I don't think we gain very much if we grow by taking in people who don't have any of the right kind of interests in their city. We are one of the best little towns in West Texas," Dameron said.

Didn't Surprise Henry Henry Williamson wasn't surprised at all. He says his estimate had always been between 1,500 and 5,000 people.

"In my opinion, if the City of Hereford hadn't annexed the additional territory recently, the population would have been 1,000 people less than the 4,806. It just isn't here. Hereford, as it stands now, is capable of handling just about as many people

All Candidates In For County Offices

Four additional candidates had filed for office in Democratic Primaries July 22 up until 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, according to C. C. Acker, chairman of Deaf Smith County executive committee.

Ed Curtsinger filed for constable, Elmer Northcutt entered the commissioner's race in preferred three, and Bruce Wooddell filed for County Animal and Hide Inspector. Midnight, Saturday night, was deadline date for filing. Gilbert K. Howard recently filed for County Attorney.

As the slate snapped up Saturday, Robert Thompson, J. C. Reese, Velma Hodges, Andy

Thomas and Gilbert K. Howard were the only un-opposed candidates. Thompson is "up" for County Clerk. Reese is in for Sheriff. Hodges is running for County Treasurer and Thomas is Justice of Peace candidate. Howard is running for County Attorney.

Contested Offices Other candidates have opposition. Sylvester Slagle and Marion Rutter are both after the precinct one Commissioner's job. G. T. Higgins and J. C. Morrison are in the race for County Commissioner in precinct two; Carl Perrin and C. G. Richardson will vie in the precinct four commissioner race; J. T. Guinn and Elmer Northcutt are opponents in precinct three.

Two County Judge candidates are Ezra Norton and Leonard Foster.

Other important dates include June 22, the day for candidates and campaign managers to file first expense accounts for the primary; June 18, the day for county committees to meet to determine the order of the ballot and apportion cost of primaries among candidates; June 24 is the last day for county and precinct officers to pay apportionment cost of the election to county chairman.

June 17 was the last day for candidates to file for office. June 5 was the last date for candidates for state office to file with the state chairman requests to have names placed on the primary ballot. State chairman was to notify state committee of all requests by June 9.

It is probably alright that they don't speak English, yet. There wasn't much to say late Wednesday afternoon.

Wyché Road Waits For Six Farmers County Judge Leonard Foster said Saturday if six farmers don't come in and sign right-of-way deeds for the Wyché farm to market road, southeast of Hereford; chances are dim of getting action from the Highway Commission until next year. Two farmers signed the deeds Friday, but Judge Foster said six more will have to do so before it can be submitted to the state.

Fire Destroys Home Of Newcomers To America

Even before the fire department could get there, several hundred Hereford residents were making a dust-clogged race track out of the country road to the Ollie Peters farm five miles north of Hereford late Wednesday afternoon.

Scant minutes before, young Mrs. Peter Hasuk, who with her husband and 4-year-old daughter were just 20 days out of their native Poland, first saw her home burning as she was milking 100 yards to the rear of the house. Mother and daughter saw the fire at the same time.

Mrs. Hasuk ran to the front door and met a mass of flame. She raced around to the back and saw that the bedroom was the only room not burning. She managed to get two mattresses and a trunk. Mrs. Peters said how she got that trunk out of the house, no one will ever know. It took both Peter Hasuk and Ollie Peters to unload it from the pick-up.

Then time ran out for Mrs. Hasuk. By his time her husband came in from the field having seen the smoke from about a mile away. They could only stand and watch—watch everything they owned burn away.

When the fire trucks arrived soon after, there was nothing to do but watch. The building, last remaining part of an old college building which used to stand in Hereford, burned down in 25 minutes. Between sobs, Mrs. Hasuk, could only speculate on the cause. It might have been an oil stove, electric wiring or the water heater.

The Hasuks came from hardships of Europe. Only to find hardship in America before they had their feet on the ground. But they found something here they hadn't known in Europe—good neighbors.

Northcutt Announces For Commissioner In Precinct Three Race Elmer Northcutt authorized the Brand to announce his candidacy this week for commissioner of Precinct Three, subject to action of the Democratic Primary.

In announcing Mr. Northcutt said: "I am a candidate for commissioner in the third precinct in answer to demands from many friends in that area."

I have never been a candidate for a county office before, but I assure you I will fulfill the duties of the office to the best of my ability."

Jailed Labor Camp Man's Bond Is Set For $500 Joe Garcia who, according to Sheriff J. C. Reese, lives at the Labor Camp, was arrested Wednesday by the sheriff's department and charged with transportation of liquor for sale in a dry area.

He was placed in county jail pending posting of $500 bond. Sheriff Reese said Garcia is still in jail.

Booster Boosts City H2O Pressure Back To Normal

Your water pressure better now?

Anticipating a lower water pressure way back last winter, the city advertised for and bought a 1,500 gallon p.m. booster pump. Everything was installed and ready except a starter. Time dwindled and the starter never showed up from the company which got the order from the City of Hereford.

During the last 30 days, Debate Putting Walks, Curbs, Or Both, Around The Courthouse Block

County Commissioners are, as yet, undecided on the question of curbing or sidewalk—or both—to be laid around the courthouse after the recent widening job.

Judge L. H. Foster said the commissioners, at their last Monday meeting, discussed all three possibilities but no decision was reached. No figures of cost are available on the work, Foster said.

The present work is almost finished. Foster reported a layer of tar and covering are down and is being smoothed over. He said one of the above named courses of action will have to be decided upon shortly because electric work will have to be started on the street lights which will be replaced around the building.

He said several persons have remarked the advantages of a sidewalk because of the safety factor involved but the commissioners might deem it too expensive at the present time.

Clyde Russell Heads Odd Fellow Officers

New Odd Fellow officers were elected Monday night during the regular Odd Fellow meeting at Odd Fellow Hall.

Clyde Russell was elected Noble Grand and W. B. Nafziger was elected Vice Grand. They will serve one-year terms of office. Leonard Foster and Charley Sowell carry on as recording secretary and finance secretary for the duration of their terms.

Half of the officers are elected at each election, according to Foster.

All offices are for one year.

JOINS ARMY James David Brents, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brents, 318 Mount View Ave., Taft, California, was enlisted in the U. S. Regular Army on 15 June, 1950 by 1st. Lt. Jack L. Curray, Recruiting Officer.

Hog Shipments Continue Brisk

Contrary to custom, hog prices and shipment from Hereford are steady and at a fairly high rate in the face of hot weather, according to buyer Henry Williamson of Brumley Hog Company.

Williamson said Saturday afternoon approximately 5,500 head of hogs, worth in the neighborhood of $240,000, have been shipped out of Hereford between January 1 and June 1. Prices started out January 1 at 15.25 cents a pound and have fluctuated up and down but rose to almost a peak of 19.25 cents at this time.

Hogs come from the entire Hereford area which includes Friona, Dimmitt, Tulla and Hereford. Hogs are bought at the different towns and brought in to Hereford for shipment.

Shipments are to Los Angeles and Ft. Worth. They go direct to the packing plants from Hereford, Williamson said.

The hog business is a year-round affair, Williamson said, but generally at the outset of hot weather, prices fall slightly and shipments decrease somewhat in number. But this year no appreciable decrease in either phase has shown up yet, Williamson said.

Census Winners Will Be Announced Thursday

Winners of the Hereford Bull column sponsored census estimating contest will be announced Thursday. We tried to get pictures of the three guessers coming closest in both the county and city divisions. However we were unable to get them all in time for this paper and will hold off until Thursday.

Winner in each case will receive $25 for coming the closest and we can say this now, a couple of guessers were plenty close.

THE 7 COMES OFF OF 7,500—Chamber of Commerce Manager Pete Cowart has to wipe tears from his eyes as Dub Reeves finishes painting out the 7 on the front of 7,500 while Jim Kirby seems to enjoy Pete's discomfort. But like all good Chamber of Commerce the Hereford manager was out early Thursday morning changing the sign. "The estimated 7,500 that was on the sign would have been correct if so many people hadn't left because of the drought," Cowart stated emphatically.

Somebody should have named the Buick the Rotary Club started with back in February. It has done so much traveling without actually moving an inch that it is confusing to refer to it without a name. Wayne Evans was the second owner and he gave it to the Hereford Community Hotel corporation to help spur bond sales. Then Cecil Guseman came into possession of the Buick Wednesday night and he is giving the proceeds from the sale of the car to defray costs of buying and installing the air-conditioning system for the ballroom, lobby and coffee shop.

Hereford had a little bull that went a long way not long ago, and now they have a little Buick that did a lot of good without moving.

Cream-O-Plains Dairy will give away poppies to the youngsters after the Wednesday morning free show and story telling hour at the Star Theatre. Almost twice as many are expected for the show this week as the 174 present last week. The show starts at 10 o'clock.

Hereford, Texas gave Kenneth Brooks of Hereford, England the impression that it was bubbling over and almost bursting at the seams.

Mr. Brooks also said he was astonished at the building and recent construction here. He particularly pointed at local churches in making this statement.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Alexander will leave for New York City Wednesday to attend ready-to-wear market. It will also be an extended vacation trip for the couple.

The offices of W. R. Hair, Blue Turpin, Sam Nelson, Otto Massey and J. C. Ricketts have undergone extensive changes during the past week. Mrs. Oberthier had the walls and ceilings painted and the five tenants had a new asphalt tile floor put in. They will also have new partitions installed.

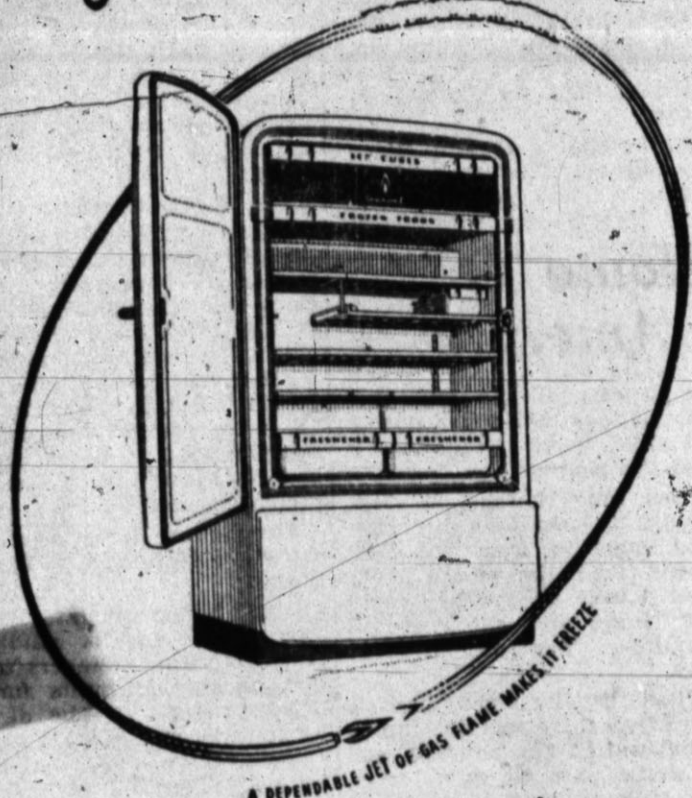

"Gaylord Newell comes in for his share of national publicity this month as two national grocery trade magazines—one from Chicago and one from New York—played up his new grocery store on a "It Can Be Done" theme.

Twin accidents occurred Saturday at the Waldron Melton home bearing out the old adage that troubles come in pairs. Saturday morning the pet collie of Mrs. Melton, which had been a gift on her honeymoon, died of injuries received some time ago. The family was pretty well upset over this. Then Saturday afternoon while the family was in the living room, lightning struck the house. Two light bulbs were shattered and a ball of fire played over the top of the kitchen stove for several seconds.

Waldron had been sitting in a chair close to one of the light bulbs and had just gotten up to walk to the other side of the room when the bolt struck.

Even accidents can have their lucky moments!

Joe Landers spent a couple of days this week in the hospital after an accident Tuesday night in which two fingers of his left hand were nearly severed. He had started to milk and was putting some salve from a glass container on the sore teats of one of the cows. The cow kicked, broke the glass bottle, and crushed Joe's hand between her leg and the glass. The thumb and little finger were nearly cut off in addition to deep cuts in the middle of his hand.

LOOK AROUND AND BE PROUD OF

"The Best Little Town"

Since 1901, when The Brand was established, we have been growling, grumbling and complaining about things the town needs and about conditions which should be improved. This is the nature of newspapers and, certainly during the past 15 years, The Brand has been no exception.

This day, Sunday, June 18, we officially and publicly take it all back. If we ever said that the merchants were not progressive, if we ever said the town was sleepy or sluggish (and we have said them both scores of times) we apologize. We are sorry! We admit we were wrong! We extend to you, Mr. and Mrs. Hereford, as a community, the biggest and finest verbal orchid of which man can dream.

Based upon the official census count of 4,808, we believe that Hereford has more active, enterprising business men and more complete public facilities than any other town this size in the Southwest. Following the lead of our Chamber of Commerce, Hereford was generally accepted as a town of 7,500—and more people, estimated the population near 10,000 than 7,500. We acted, felt and operated as a community, as individuals and as business men, as though our town were 10,000 or more.—We constructed and built and pushed like a 10,000 population town. Consequently, we progressed and prospered like a 10,000 population town.

Now that we are getting over the blow of being an under-5,000 population town, let's look at things like they really are. Let's take inventory: our municipal water and sewerage facilities will accommodate approximately a town of 10,000; our paved streets are ready to serve a town of 10,000; our hotel is a 10,000 population hotel; our schools are becoming adequate for present population; our churches will accommodate more members by the thousand. All Hereford likes being a town of 10,000 is "More People"—6,192 to be exact.

Boasting practically all of the advantages of a town of 10,000, Hereford's loss in the census count is really incidental. In addition, the gain of 86 per cent in population during the past decade indicates that Hereford will, within another decade, reach the 10,000 mark.

Meanwhile, we do take off our hats to Hereford. We have acted like, and felt like, a town of 10,000 for so long that we actually got to believing it ourselves. Furthermore, it is a swell feeling and a fine situation. As a community and as individuals, we are doing a terrific job.

Furthermore, we like it. Don't you?

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Secret Well Kept

ONE OF THE most carefully guarded secrets of the war was the fact that Japan was floating balloons across the Pacific ocean to Oregon, Washington and even as far east as Illinois and Texas.

U. S. Censors gave strict orders to suppress all news of these balloons; and even when an Oregon family climbed into a tree to examine a balloon and was blown to bits, censors suppressed the information.

Reason for the strict censorship was that American commanders didn't want the Japs to know how successful their balloon campaign was. If the Japs realized their balloons were getting across, it was believed they would launch many more thousands.

After the war-ended, cross-examination of the Jap military revealed that 60,000 of these balloons had been launched from the Kurile islands and Formosa. They crossed the Pacific at an altitude of about 17,000 feet at a speed of over 100 miles an hour and were equipped with gadgets which made them descend after a certain distance. The prevailing winds across the Pacific made the flight relatively simple—despite the fact that the Pacific is the widest of all oceans.

The balloons were equipped as incendiary carriers to set fire to northwest forests, and later they were to be equipped as carriers of bacteriological warfare.

Balloons to Russia

Use of these same type balloons to carry propaganda into Russia was proposed in this column two years ago. The wind currents from Germany, France, Austria, Turkey or even England make it easy to float balloons into Russia. In fact, they could be inflated so as to come down in certain planned areas, carrying not only propaganda, but bars of soap, candy, shortwave radio sets, etc.

The weather bureau, with whom I conferred at the time, confirmed the fact that floating the balloons into Russia would be fairly easy. Secretary of Air Symington and Chief of Staff Omar Bradley gave their enthusiastic approval. But at that time the state department said no.

However, with increasing Soviet jamming of the Voice of America, and with the increasing urgency of getting American ideas across to the Russian people, the state department under live-wire assistant Secretary Ed Barrett is re-examining the matter. A sincere effort is being made to put across the Acheson idea of "Total Diplomacy."

A Candidate Forgets

Wills Smith, one of North Carolina's candidates for the senate, has been stumping the state telling folks that he is the great friend of the working man. One of his full-page advertisements reads: "I believe in high wage scales for the American working man."

What Lawyer Smith has forgotten, however—of at least what he wants the people of North Carolina to forget—is that he actually opposed a 46-cent minimum wage for the working man as late as 1947. Despite the fact that the federal minimum wage now is fixed at 75 cents, Smith informed the North Carolina general assembly that the 46-cent minimum was "harsh, unreasonable and unnecessary."

NOTE—In contrast, candidate Smith last year received a fee of $23,137.77 for liquidating the Madix Asphalt Roofing Co. of Raleigh. Since the job took him only 98 days, he was paid at the rate of $219.28 a day in contrast to the $16 a week which he told the general assembly was too high for North Carolina workmen. While liquidating the firm, incidentally, Smith lived at the beach resort of Morehead City and charged his client 10 cents a mile expense for riding back and forth to the beach.

Soviet Eyes Okinawa

A Soviet plot to force the United States off its Pacific island bases is revealed in recent reports to the joint chiefs of staff.

The clue to Soviet plans is the massing of thousands of Chinese forced laborers to build giant airports within bombing range of China's Fukien province.

Louey and Harry

Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson's report penchant for talking the cuff is getting him in trouble with President Truman—who also talks off the cuff.

The President complained to an old friend the other day, "Louey talks to Bernie Baruch and tells him things he doesn't tell me. I have to learn about them third hand."

Note—Mr. Truman has no love for the elderly Baruch since Baruch didn't aid re-election.

Not Conducive to Efficiency

LOUISA'S LETTER

A great many letters come from readers about long engagements, so I shall try to answer them all at one time.

There are times and circumstances which make a long engagement necessary. It is certainly very foolish for two young people who make just enough money to live comfortably on with their own people but, who could not possibly stretch it to support a home to get married. They are only asking for trouble.

Love has to be very courageous to battle with poverty and hardships from the very beginning of marriage. In such a case, I say to stay engaged by all means, until you can see your way clear to at least support yourselves.

Another case where I approve of long engagements is where the girl and boy are very young. They are not ready to settle down to the important business of making a home or rearing a family. Their education is not complete in many ways. If they postpone matrimony, they will possibly fall in love a number of times before they find the man or woman whom they will really love all their lives.

It is a rare thing, indeed, to admire the same kind of man at twenty-five that we do at seventeen and many of the bored married men and women of today are those whose partners have failed to grow a mental inch since their high school days.

But if you are old enough to get married and are making enough to live simply, for goodness sake, go on and get married. It is especially unfair to a young woman to stay engaged for years and years. She gets to the place where she is neither fish nor glow, nor good red herring.

All of her friends are married and she is not of the married set, the single set is composed of younger girls and boys and, worst of all, everybody seems to regard her as a certain young man's property and if he is not on hand for every occasion, she is left to twiddle her thumbs. A long engagement seems to take the bloom off of marriage to a great deal of money is not necessary to successful marriage. The happiest couples are those with a fair income, love, faith in each other and the will to work together. So I say to those couples who ask about long engagements, don't stay engaged too long if you are sure you have found the right man or woman—that is, unless you are very young or too poor to be comfortable.

Yours,
LOUISA.

About Your Home

By Frances Dell

People, who delight in beautiful, weedless lawns and are determined to have one, can save themselves much work and worry by realizing that weed seeds are ever present, and are carried about by wind, birds and such. Pulling up or cutting the weeds as they come up is an endless job. Even the new weed killing chemicals on the market only eliminate weeds temporarily.

The only sure way to a weed-free lawn is to have a carpet of grass so thick that weeds can't get a start through the heavy growth of grass and the deep, closely-matted root system. Grass will make such a carpet if the soil is rich in plant food and if it gets enough sun and water. The proper nourishment can be obtained by applying a completely balanced plant food at the rate of about four pounds per one hundred square feet.

It will be necessary to keep the lawn weed-free until the grass has formed a carpet. From time to time, during the first two or three years that a lawn is formed (Continued on Page 4)

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher comes up with a strange notion of banking this week, as follows:

Dear editor: I was reading in a paper last night which I picked up off the counter at Ike's Cafe and will return next week if they complain about it that Russia has offered to pay off its lend-lease debt of two billion dollars to the United States provided we'll accept payment at the rate of 2 cents on the dollar.

As I understand it, the United States is gravely consider this proposition. Now of course it wouldn't take me or you long to give Russia an answer on this, but that ain't what interests me right now.

What interests me is the type of international banking methods in use today, and what I'd still like to know is why we can't have some of em down here in Deaf Smith County?

Say last year I was confronted with a financial emergency, and there ain't no time of the year when I couldn't arrange one, and went to the bank and they loaned me $500. Well, along about now say the note comes due. Under the present system we got around here, the bank sends me a brief notice that the note is due and payment is expected.

But national governments don't employ such embarrassin' methods. We send a man all the way to Russia, outfit him in a new suit of clothes, and have him wait around Stalin's office a few days, when he's admitted and hands over a diplomatically-worded note sayin we hope Stalin is in good health and his family is fine and along toward the end, as a sort of after-thought, we beg his pardon for mentioning it but there's a slight matter of two billion dollars past due now for five years. And then Russia, in about two months, gets around to offerin to settle for 2 cents on the dollar.

Now what we need here in Deaf Smith County is a similar system. When my note comes due at the bank, I'd like to get some international treatment. If the bank would wait five years before sending a man out here to inquire about my health and casually mention that $500 note, and give me a couple of months to make a counter offer, say 5 cents on the dollar, I ain't got quite as much nerve as Russia and wouldn't expect no 2-cent deal, I'd feel a lot better about things and I imagine bankin' business would increase a thousand percent. If you hear of anybody around here tryin this method out, let me know right away how they come out.

Yours Faithfully,
J. A.

Fast Spending

Business experts know that the lending of money goes on at a record-breaking pace, with the Government, commercial banks and other credit agencies falling over themselves to provide funds to consumers.

A financial writer suggests that there are some perils in connection with a large private debt, especially in view of the large volume of installment loans outstanding. Nevertheless, figures show that credit advanced in 1949 was 9.7 per cent of disposable income. This compares with eleven per cent in 1939 and 9.2 per cent in 1929.

Apparently, this is about a normal rate but there has been some expansion of credit since the end of last year.

One phase of the commercial credit policy revolves around home building. Veterans are allowed to buy with no down payment and the public generally gets low income interest rates and long periods in which to pay. The fear is that a down-turn in business could throw much of this property on the market but, in view of the population increase of 19,000,000 people in the last ten years, this seems unlikely.

GUEST EDITORIAL

Important Race

The biggest political scrap in Texas this year will be for the office of Lieutenant Governor. About a dozen men are seeking the job. Most of them are well known political leaders in Texas, and are in position to gather stronger backing from the areas of the state.

Some folks may think that the office of Lieutenant Governor is relatively unimportant. That is not the case. While few men have managed to reach the office of Governor by direct election, yet a number have succeeded to the office through death or retirement of the Governor.

Governor Hobby reached the Governor's office through the impeachment of James E. Ferguson; Coke Stevenson became Governor when Pappy O'Daniel was elected U. S. Senator; Allan Shivers reached the Governor's office when Governor Jester died in office.

The office of Governor is constantly in the mind of all who seek to become Lieutenant Governor.

That is not the most important feature of the office. The Lieutenant Governor presides over the State Senate, composed of 31 members. He appoints the committees, and directs legislation. It is pretty hard to pass a measure which is opposed by the Lieutenant Governor. It is relatively easy to pass measures which are favored by the presiding officer.

Care should be taken in the selection of your next Lieutenant Governor. There are several capable candidates seeking this post. —Canyon News

Happiness and Self-Control

The peace and happiness of the average citizen of Deaf Smith County does not depend upon the amount of money possessed, the success of any organization to which he belongs, or the outcome of any great struggle abroad.

The contentment that makes for human happiness is within the reach of every individual who is able to face life with a philosophy that solves personal problems. The acceptance of religious tenets often provides the answer, whether these religious beliefs are adopted as an individual or as a member of some religious organization.

The capacity of the individual for self-control is the key to happiness and contentment. It is a product that you cannot buy, or receive as a gift. It is within the reach of all but is obtained by very few.

The business that shows a profit, regardless of executive direction, will show larger profits with intelligent management.

We can't answer all the problems that beset farmers, but we can say that those who raise their own foodstuffs will never go hungry.

The main trouble with solving problems, as we see it, is that they are being tackled by too many people who know nothing about them.

One of the tragedies about a college education, is that many graduates will not know what to do for a livelihood after commencement.

Where is the man who expected his vegetable garden to produce the results pictured in the catalog that he studied a few months ago?

The sweet young things will look prettier than ever this summer, which means that the young men will have little, or no, defense.

SUNDAY'S CURRENT QUESTION

Golfers Get A Thrill From All Good Shots

In your opinion, what is the greatest thrill in golf?
Mrs. Carl McCaslin: My greatest thrill comes when I get a good solid hit on the ball. I don't mean when I slice it or anything. It makes me feel good when I drive a good one and it takes off. I don't do it very often but that is what makes me keep playing. When I hit one good I keep thinking I'll do it again. I sure enjoy the game but I think some of the other girls may have better scores.

Harold Close: I suppose the greatest thrill would be a hole-in-one. But I have never made one. The biggest kick I get out of golf is making a perfect approach, about six inches from the cup, from 50 or 75 feet out. I usually shoot about a 48, for nine, these days. I have been playing about six or eight months but I used to play about 10 years ago.

Mrs. Wayne Evans: I think the greatest thrill to golf is getting off a good, long, straight drive—right down the fairway. I get a kick out of all phases of golf and I am no better driving than I am at putting. The farthest I ever drove was from number 6 to 7 tee. I started the game last year when they took in a ladies class and I am crazy about the game. I only wish I had more time to play.

Carroll Whiteside: That's the thing every golfer looks for—a hole-in-one. I haven't made one yet, but I came within six inches on number six about two weeks ago. I took a birdie, which I got a kick out of, but it wasn't a hole-in-one. I get the biggest kick out of approaching. My driving is poor and my putting is terrible. Last Sunday, I shot a 40, a 44 and a 47 on three separate nines. I'm not too consistent.

Deward Roberson: Oh, brother—it's hard to say. I guess most people would say a hole-in-one. I've never done that before. I guess I would say a hole-in-one. Of course, I have come pretty close. I missed it about six inches on number four here on the Hereford course. But the thing I enjoy most about golf is the opportunity it gives to get out and be with your cronies and try to beat them at the game. It isn't all, just to win. It is the fellowship golf gives. That's the biggest kick I get out of the game.

Ticklers By George

"You can't just play music, you've got to feel it!"

All right, Amarillo, you can cry on our shoulder awhile now. Since this is election year maybe we can demand a recount or maybe we can just lay it on the 1940 census because we were figurin' 7,654 on the basis that it seems the town has at least doubled in size since we moved into our wigwam here eleven years ago.

We had a nice thank you speech planned when Jimmie Gillentine handed us at least one of the twenty-five dollar checks.

We haven't had any bees in our bonnet but this is the second time they've settled in the walls of the house and we are contemplatin' puttin' a sort of a self service over the breakfast table from honeycomb to hot cakes.

Several of our neighbors are tryin' bees and the honey is just about the best we've ever eaten.

One nice thing about the nursery business is that though Mr. Hennen may find the weather a shade hot as he gives his little trees a drink now he can look forward to the time when he and his customers can look over the stock in cool comfort. The little evergreens are beginnin' to assert themselves as individuals.

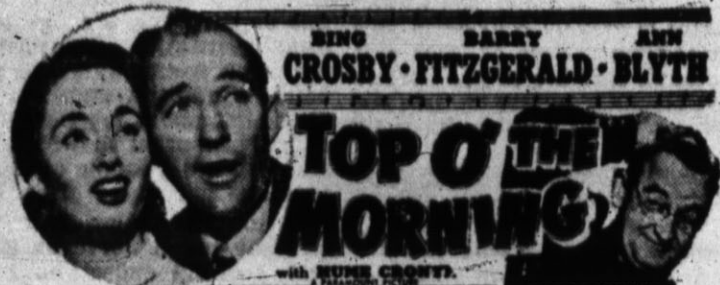

Just about the time we get one cold drink machine figured out another kind shows up and we have to start taxin' our feeble brain all over again.

well-meaning people during the summer months by giving the lawns a light sprinkling once each day. This actually does damage, not only to the top blades, but to the root system as well. Thoroughly soaking once or twice each week should be quite sufficient under ordinary conditions.

There are many useful household articles which can be made from worn pillow slips. If there are holes or slits in the pillow slip, cut it down to about half its size to be used for a broom slip-cover. A covered broom makes an excellent tool to clean and dust cobwebs off ceilings, corners and walls. When becomes soiled, it can be moved and washed.

Wedding Rites Will Be Held In Bride's Parents Home July 10

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Witherspoon will be the scene of the wedding of their daughter, Jo Ann and Leo Hennington, which is scheduled for July 10. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Hennington.

Announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage was made at a dinner given by Mrs. Witherspoon Thursday evening.

A rainbow color theme, which will be used in the wedding, was featured in decorations and appointments for the dinner with the table laid in lace over pink and blue. A fan shaped arrangement of larkspur and delphinium was placed at one end of the table before which stood a miniature bride and her attendants dressed in pastel shades of pink and green. Placed diagonally across the table a wide blue sash ribbon told the news in gold letters "Jo Ann and Leo—July 10," and was caught at opposite corners of the table with nose-gays in pink.

Guests were seated at tables for four laid in pastel colors and centered with pink roses. Place cards were not cups in shapes of boats, indicative of his Navy service, with names written on tiny sails.

Guests seated were Mary Katherine Carroll, Doris Jean McGee, Martha Thomas, Faye Knox, Joyce McGee, Jane Witherspoon of Amarillo; Mesdames Harold Loerwald, Bill Simpson, G. C. Hartman, Jr., Elvin Hartman, Vern Witherspoon, L. V. Hennington and the honoree.

The wedding which will be held in the home will have minister Bob Wear of the Church of Christ as the officiant.

Both young people are graduates of Hereford High School and she attended Amarillo Junior College last year. He will complete his basic training at the U. S. Naval Center at San Diego soon.

Marriage Service Performed Here

At ten o'clock on the morning of June 1 the Hereford Methodist Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Theima Davidson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Davidson of Sudan and Robert Kennedy, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Kennedy, Sr. of Newberry, S. C.

Before an altar decorated with baskets of mock-orange blossoms and fern, the double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Rollo Davidson of Memphis, brother of the bride. The benediction was given by Rev. Don Davidson, also a brother of the bride, and pastor of the local church.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Owen of Canadian were the couple's only attendants and only members of the immediate families attended the wedding.

The bride was attired in an ice blue satin frock with white accessories and her corsage was of snapdragons and stephanotis.

Mrs. Kennedy taught school in Pampa the past four years. She received her B. A. degree from Texas Technological College, Lubbock, and her master of arts degree from Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn. Mr. Kennedy took his B. A. degree from Erskine College, Due West, S. C. and master of arts from Peabody. He is now dean of men at Erskine College and the couple will make their home there.

Kelly Gray Reports On Recent Trip South To Visit iGrls Ranch

By MRS. MERLIN KAUL
 Kelly Gray gives an interesting report of his recent trip to visit Girls Ranch near Whiteface. He accompanied the late O. E. Sherman before his fatal accident on Sunday morning. They had gone to Whiteface to visit Mr. Sherman's daughter, Mrs. M. H. Powers.

Mr. Gray says Miss Amella Anthony, a former school teacher, in charge of the Ranch. When they first arrived at the ranch, an interview with Miss Anthony was not available. She and several of the girls were out building fence.

The ranch has an area of 1,400 acres. Sixteen girls and one baby live there. The baby, now nearly two-years old, was a victim of polio. They found her in a closed room where it had been deserted by the mother.

A new dormitory, now being built, will have 32 rooms and facilities for 64 girls. Future plans include several more buildings.

In talking to attractive, efficient Miss Anthony, she informed them that the ranch is not able to support itself yet; that the work is being carried on through donations from individuals, clubs and civic groups. She stressed the fact that money is badly needed.

Miss Anthony further stated that plans are to put the ranch back in grass, buy some cows and, she hopes, to have it self-supporting by 1961.

Fresh Pineapple Cake Meets A Man's Favor

What father wouldn't be delighted with a fresh pineapple cake made especially for him? This is the season when nature offers perfection in flavors and the fresh pineapple has a moistness and fine flavor that no forms of pineapple can claim. Canned pineapple may be used for this recipe but the results of the extra trouble in preparing the fresh fruit is well worth it. Mrs. W. F. Gillis makes fresh pineapple cake often because it is one of his favorites, and every time others sample it they want the recipe. It is ideal for the family or may be used as a fitting climax to a summer party meal. Here is her recipe:

White Cake
 1/2 cup butter
 3 egg whites
 1 cup milk
 1 1/2 cups sugar
 2 1/4 cups flour
 2 teaspoons baking powder

Let's
Cook
Something

Cream butter and sugar, add baking powder to flour and alternate flour and milk in adding to sugar and butter mixture. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites.

add one teaspoon vanilla extract and pour in three nine-inch cake pans. Bake in 350 F degree oven for about 30 minutes or until light brown. Stack with pineapple filling while hot.

Fresh Pineapple Filling
 2 cups ground pineapple
 1 12-ounce can pineapple juice
 1 1/2 cups sugar
 1 level tablespoon corn starch
 butter size of walnut
 Mix all together and cook until thickened (in double boiler or on slow flame stirring constantly). This should be prepared while cake is baking so that both cake and pineapple can be hot when stacked. This particular type of cake needs no topping but a powdered sugar icing may be spread thin over top and sides if preferred. Mrs. Gillis serves it with any dessert or just by itself but he likes it best with tall cold drinks or ice cream.

Miss Helen Acker Is Bride Of Austin Rose, Jr. Friday

MRS. AUSTIN ROSE, JR.

Wearing the white satin gown worn by her sister, Mrs. J. T. Carroll in her recent marriage, Miss Helen Acker became the bride of Austin Rose, Jr. at 4 p. m. Friday in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Acker who were hosts at a reception after the wedding in Hotel Jim Hill. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Rose.

The pews were marked with candles along the center aisle leading to the altar, and tied with satin ribbons and white flowers. The chancel and altar were banked with emerald fern trees and baskets of white gladioli and stock, and lighted by white tapers standing in branched candelabra. White satin pillows formed the kneeling bench. Mrs. Glenn Snyder presided at the organ and accompanied Mrs. B. F. Cain, who sang "Thine Alone" and "I Love Thee." She also played "Because" as the mothers were seated and Schubert's "Ave Maria" softly during the ceremony. The traditional wedding marches were used.

Rev. Don Davidson, pastor, officiated at the double-ring ceremony which was witnessed by relatives and friends of the families and out-of-town guests.

Mrs. J. T. Carroll was her sister's matron of honor, and another sister, Kathryn, and Miss Martha Bjornquist of Austin were bridesmaids. Their dresses of lime green net and lace and the glow of the scores of candles gave an added note of beauty to the setting in all bridal white. The attendants' dresses were identical with very full skirts of nylon net over taffeta worn over hoops and sleeveless tight-fitting bodices of lace over which were worn capelets of matching net and lace that extended to the waistline in the back. They wore lime green satin slippers and net mitts with lace-trimmed bonnet hats of the net completing their ensembles. The honor matron carried a cascade bouquet of purple asters and the bridesmaids carried pink asters.

Bride Wears White Satin
The bride made a lovely picture in traditional white satin as she was escorted to the altar by her father who gave her in marriage. Her gown was fashioned with a light fitting basque buttoned up the back and coming in a bustle-bow. Long fitted sleeves came to points over the wrists and a drop shoulder effect dramatized with bertha fold of satin, accented the high neckline. The skirt terminated in a very long train. Her veil of illusion fell in three scalloped tiers to finger-tip length and was set in a crown of tiny seed pearls and orange blossoms. Her only ornament was a triple-string of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom, and she carried colonial cascade bouquet of miniature calla lilies and stephanotis.

MRS. WILLIAM F. CRAIG

Miss Dorothy Dee Wilde, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilde, and William F. Craig, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Craig, exchanged marriage vows in a double-ring ceremony held at 6 o'clock Thursday morning in St. Anthony's Catholic Church. The Reverend Nathaniel Madden officiated at the service which was read before the altar decorated with larkspur in rainbow colors and lighted white candles.

Mrs. Bob Kershen, organist, gave the wedding music including Rossini's professional and recessional. She also accompanied Miss Adeline Koelzer who sang "Ave Maria" and "O Perfect Love."

Mrs. James Wilde and Mrs. Louis Beckman presided at the bride's table with Mrs. Beckman serving the three-tiered wedding cake and Miss Marilyn McMathews assisting with the bride's book of names. Following the reception the couple left on a wedding trip to points in Colorado. The bride wore away a navy dress with pink accessories with the wedding orchid worn on her shoulder. Upon their return they will make their home in Hereford. Mrs. Craig graduated from St. Joseph Academy at Abilene and attended St. Mary's in Amarillo. (Continued on Page 2)

ON FIFTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Couple Advise 'Marry In Youth-- And Stay Married'

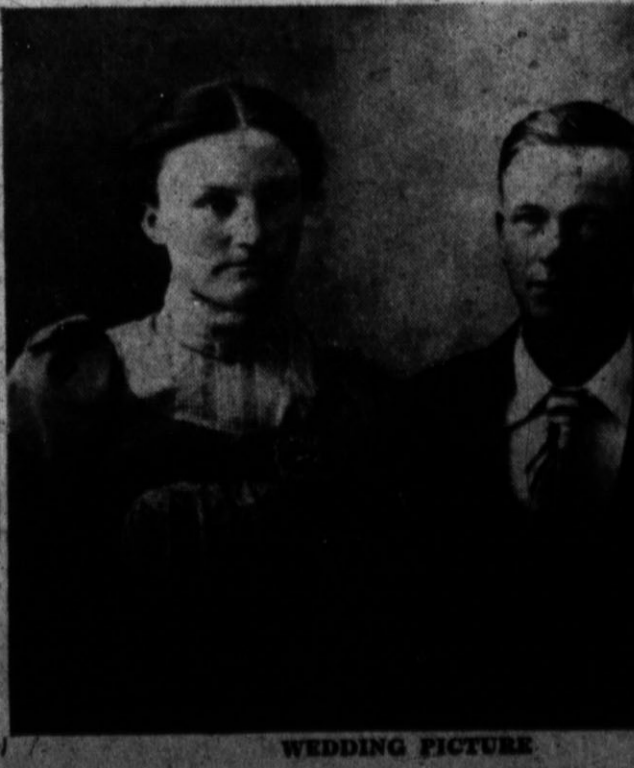

"Staying married is more important than getting married," remarked W. C. Neill on the eve of the couple's golden wedding anniversary observed here in the home of their daughter, Mrs. B. E. Roberson Sunday. He recalled that it took just one look at the pretty girl he met so long ago, for him to make up his mind about her, but he had so much competition it was almost a year before they were married. "That's the same girl I'm married to today," he added.

Miss Mattie Johnson was born in Kaufman County and moved to a farm near DeLeon when she was four, with her parents. Mr. Neill came to Texas from Prescott, Ark and when his family moved to a farm near DeLeon, they were only a mile apart. The young man of 1900 is 71 now and she is 69. Her eyes twinkled when she gave her age as 18 when she married, but "It's better to get married young because you have more time to get adjusted," they explained. "I wanted Mattie pretty bad for I rode horseback 25 miles to get the license and I never once thought about being scared until I saw the preacher shaking. We had no time for a honeymoon trip for we had a crop to harvest. We hitched the saddle horse to the buggy and right after the ceremony drove to our farm home." "You could set up housekeeping for less than a hundred dollars in those days," he remembered and she reminded him that she had her own bed room suite. At the end of the first year they had saved 80 dollars in cash and he loaned 40 of that. Later they moved near Merkel and it was there that their 10 children were born and raised. The Neills came to the Panhandle in 1939, locating at Black where he operated a grocery store and served as postmaster. In 1945 they moved to Dawn and put in the first grocery store there, also serving as postmaster. In the fall of 1947 they moved to Levelland and later to Lubbock where they now reside. The years hang lightly on their shoulders. Both are young in spirit and young in step. They devote their time to their garden and flowers, attending their church, the Baptist, and visiting their children. "At the turn of the century people didn't have much to worry about--no income tax and not much money. We've been re-markedly free of arguments or trouble," he said. And few other things were allowed to upset the balance of their marriage. They are proud of their nine living children, proud that they are all willing to work and accept their responsibilities and their share of life's load. "They had the best mother in the world," he said, but she replied: "It was their dad who set the example and guided them along the right path." Both agreed that teamwork in the long pull together has paid off. They were too busy all through the years to get into trouble and there wasn't much time for fun. "There are going to be many more changes in this old world and we would like to be around," they agreed.

Anniversary Celebration
The Neill family, six sons, three daughters, 16 grandchildren and one great grandchild, gathered at the B. E. Roberson home Sunday to honor the couple. Hours were from 3 to 5 but from early afternoon until late into the evening approximately 100 guests were calling to extend congratulations to the happy couple. The refreshment table was laid with a drawn work linen cloth and featured a three-tiered wedding cake topped with the numerals "50" in gold, surrounded with yellow daisies and greenery. Mrs. John Graham of Lubbock and Mrs. Pat Neill of San Angelo served cake and

Mrs. Wm. Neill, Abilene and Mrs. Dorothy Jones served punch. Miss Wanda Neill and Gayle Roberson provided informal music throughout the afternoon. The couple's children are: L. O. Neill and Mrs. John Graham of Lubbock, T. O. Sweetwater, Mrs. B. E. Roberson, Hereford; Mrs. Herbert Ray, Levelland; Pat Neill, San Angelo; William Jr. of Abilene, George W. of Water Valley and Kenneth W. Neill of Summerfield.

Texans in Washington

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Another highly-placed Texan says it's time the Lone Star state exercised its historic right to divide itself into five states. This time it's Rep. Lloyd Bentsen, Jr. of McAllen. Bentzen's views, expressed in his weekly newsletter, corresponds to a statement made at Amarillo recently by General Ernest O. Thompson of the Texas Railroad Commission.

Both say they are motivated by the same thing: A feeling that eight more votes in the U. S. Senate might give Texas a better chance to retain control of its tidelands. The U. S. Supreme Court ruled recently that the Federal government has paramount rights to the tidelands.

The Rio Grande Valley congressman said: "Apparently this is the time for Texas to exercise the option it retained when it joined up with the Union."

"Now is the time for Texas to break down into five states as is Texas' privilege and send 10 senators to Washington. With almost one-tenth of the senatorial representation in the country, and then perhaps our northern Democrats would lend a more attentive ear to Texas problems."

"With Alaska posed for admission to the Union, Texas would no longer be the biggest state in the Union anyway after that happened."

"Needless to say Texas would still want to keep the name of Texas. A probable compromise would be to name the five states East Texas, West Texas, Central Texas, South Texas—and lest our northern friends might think we were too obviously bidding for their support, instead of North Texas we'd call it upper South Texas."

John Nance Garner, former speaker of the House and later Vice President, used to say Texans ought to consider the idea seriously, because of the extra eight votes they'd get in the Senate. He would concede the chances of such action were pretty remote.

Around the Capital:
The experience of two Texans has been cited by the Veterans Administration to show how far incurred physical handicaps can be overcome.

After telling how two other ex-G. I.'s in wheelchairs had gone into the jewelry business in Michigan, the V. A. is a nationally-circulated bulletin said:

"Five hundred miles south, in Dallas, two World War Two veterans who lost most of their eyesight in battle action have opened a restaurant that is netting them good incomes."

One is Quentin King, whose optic nerve was injured when a Jap dive bomber hit the destroyer on which he served. His partner is Dayton Bledsoe, wounded when he stumbled across a German anti-tank mine hidden on a French road.

King started out first, opening a restaurant in Grand Prairie, near Dallas. Last September, after taking in Bledsoe, he opened a restaurant in Dallas. Jointly they bought a second.

"The veterans work hard," the V. A. continued, "starting at 6 in the morning and closing at 9 or 10 at night. But business is so good they are thinking about purchasing a third restaurant."

RECEIVES DEGREE—Raleigh Hollabaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hollabaugh, was a member of the graduating class of the University of California at Berkeley when degrees were awarded Friday night. He received his degree in the School of Accounting.

A graduate of Adrian High School, Mr. Hollabaugh spent 4 years in the Navy. On August 18, 1946 he was married to Miss Dorothy Miller of Oakland.

His mother went to California for the graduation program and she will be accompanied home by the couple who will make a short visit here.

he feels he is almost a Texan. His two right hand men in the state department are Texas. Mann and Dick Rubottom. A former Corsicana resident; much of his time on Capitol Hill is spent with Texans discussing Mexican relations.

Incidentally, an East Texas girl is a newcomer to state department personnel. Rebecca Gerlach of Livingston, a Baylor U. graduate, is here for an indoctrination course before going abroad as a clerical aide in a legation. She doesn't know which one yet.

Mrs. Acker wore a navy sheer with navy lace hat and navy accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore navy with a navy blue velvet hat. Both wore corsages of feathered carnations in white.

Reception Follows
The reception which immediately followed the wedding, was held in Hotel Jim Hill ballroom. White stock and Marguerite daisies were arranged in silver bowls with candles in the bride's table which was garlanded with lime green satin ribbons caught with small corsages of daisies.

Assisting at the reception were Helen Pitman, Cecelia Guseman, Mrs. W. L. Davis, Jr. and Mrs. Bill Waldrep.

For her going away costume the bride chose a navy and yellow linen suit with navy-velvet hat and navy accessories. Her corsage was of white feathered carnations. Upon their return from the short honeymoon trip the couple will reside on the Rose farm 27 miles northwest of Hereford.

Mrs. Rose is a graduate of Hereford High School and a graduate of the University of Texas. While in the University she was a member of Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority.

Mr. Rose graduated from Lubbock High School and is a senior student at Texas Tech College, Lubbock. The couple will return to Tech in the fall where he will receive his degree in January. During the war he was a member of the Air Corps, serving as a paratrooper for one year.

Assistant Secretary of State Edward G. Miller, Jr., in charge of Inter-America affairs, plans to visit three South Texas cities in July.
En route back to Washington from a visit to Central American republics and Mexico, he will be in Laredo on July 22 to join in a local celebration honoring a hometown boy who has made good in the diplomatic field. The honoree is Tom Mann, head of the state department's division which handles relations with Mexico, Central America and the Caribbean countries.
Miller will be in Waco on July 24, and in Houston on either the 25th or 26th. He doesn't know yet the exact date.
The Assistant Secretary of State discussed his tentative plans in an informal coffee session with Bentzen and Rep. John E. Lyle of Corpus Christi in the latter's office at the Capitol.
"This trip to Mexico and back through the Republic of Texas winds up a year of traveling I've done throughout the western hemisphere," smiled Miller. "I've saved the dessert to the last."

Pulitzer-Prize Winner 'The Way West' Is Good

By CORINNE JENNINGS
Although the phrase, "blood, sweat and tears," was uncoupled in the era of the long toilsome trek made by a wagon train in A. B. Guthrie's book, "The Way West," it could be applied to their journey made from Missouri to Oregon.
One hundred men, women and children were organized as a group to make the long trip from their homes and farms located mostly in the Missouri country to follow the cry "On to Oregon."

The leadership was given first to one man who was assisted by a picked council, but he lost it early when he grew overbearing because of his power. Death delayed travel and was the incident which brought about his downfall. Most of the men were solid substantial people but there were a few of the other kind, too.

Women played an important part in the trip, with some of them being resentful toward the whole plan and their husbands in particular; others hated leaving their homes and friends but stood by their men who wanted to move on; still others, whose husbands were their lord and master were left with no say at all. A single girl because of her beauty attracted the men's eyes often.

One of the amusing incidents came about when the wagon train in crossing the prairie country found there was no fuel with which to cook except the buffalo chips there. The men felt hesitant in asking their wives to use them, but after quite a lengthy discussion among themselves they do so, putting the children to work to gather the fuel.

Rattlesnake bite, one of the hazards of the trail, took the life of one youngster. Other perils were the ever present Indians which were not often seen but always near, water, which was unfit to drink and sometimes not to be had; storms, both dust and rain, and numerous other things which arose from day to day.

Only the timely arrival and quick thinking of the trail scout saved the life of one young man of 19 who grew careless just once in his watch for Indians and thoughtlessly left his gun out of reach.

The old scout was essential to such a group and did a good job of trail pointing and lived over his past in memories as he went along, recalling other times when he had spent much time in the wild country as one of the mountain men of the still earlier days.

As the group pushed onward, important events took place—a marriage, since the train was fortunate in having a preacher in their midst; a baby was born; dances were held for them in the forts, but as time passed they spent more time in just resting and letting their stock browse and drink from the streams to make up for the many dry camps made. The men spent more and more time in mending the wagons and harness and the women mending and washing their clothing.

And though the group as a whole toughened, the weak leaned heavily on the strong for courage and strength in order to reach their final goal.

The rivers were larger and at times raging torrents had to be crossed, the mountains were higher and more rugged, the trails less traveled and the day's journey lessened in miles, when all were impatient to reach their long looked for valley before winter arrived.

THE AMERICAN WAY

Should Be an X-Ray Camera

The story is fine reading and one that grips and holds the reader's interest with its warmth and aliveness. The characters are handled wisely, the situations are realistic and convincing. We agree with Clifton Fadiman, a recognized critic, who says, "It is the finest book of this type in existence," at least, it is the best we have ever read of wagon trains and their journeys headed for any destination. And we can understand why it won the Pulitzer Prize for last year.

Fomer Hereford Girl Is Married

Announcements have been received here of the marriage of Miss Martha Mae Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Stewart of Fayetteville, Ark to Joe Leming, also of Fayetteville. Mrs. Leming is a former Hereford resident having lived here until recent years with her parents.

The wedding took place Friday evening June 9 at Wiggins Memorial Chapel of the Methodist Church in Fayetteville with the pastor, Rev. Paul Bumpers, officiating. Her sister, Pearl Marie, was her only attendant.

Mrs. Leming is a graduate of Fayetteville High School and has been employed as a receptionist in a doctor's office. Mr. Leming is employed by Kaiser-Fraser Automobile Agency in Fayetteville where the couple will make their home.

Among the out-of-town relatives attending the wedding were Mrs. Art Grimes and son, James, of Hereford, aunt and cousin of the bride.

Shower Honors Recent Bride

Mrs. David Sowell, a recent bride, was honor guest at a gift party given at the home of Mrs. Phillip Miller recently. Other hostesses were Mesdames: Elmer Combs, Garland Solomon and W. B. Nunley.

The bride's table was done in yellow and white and laid with a white satin cloth overlaid with misty nylon nets. Puffs of nylon net formed a cloud of pale yellow around a large mirror in the center of the table. Blue cornflowers were tucked into the folds of net and on the mirror rested two hob-nail slippers filled with blue cornflowers. Mrs. Greig Lee of Hedrick, Okla. served yellow punch and Mrs. J. B. Sowell, Jr. presided over the cakes which were squares of white featuring tiny yellow wedding bells on top. Jeanean Sowell assisted guests in signing the guest register.

The shower was introduced in the sun room where attractively wrapped packages were piled high beneath a huge blue and yellow umbrella, under which the bride sat to unwrap and show the lovely array of gifts.

A large group of friends and relatives attended the party.

Few Farmers Will Harvest

By MRS. GLEN MAY
Brand Correspondent

Miss Florence Brock left Sunday for Mineral Wells where she attended a Rainbow Girls' Rally. Glen May, who is harvesting near Paducah, was at home over the week end.

Lawrence Matthews, Knob Noster, Mo., was a week end guest of his sister, Mrs. Howard Bishop, and her family.

Friends of Mrs. Glen May were entertained in her home Wednesday morning at a "Plastic Party." Demonstration was given by Mrs. C. E. Watts, Hereford. Refreshments were served Mesdames E. H. Bishop, Fred Axe, F. A. May, F. E. Clowdus, W. E. Clowdus, Clyde White, Mrs. O. A. Sterling of Hereford and the hostess.

This community enjoyed a good rain Saturday night of last week. L. A. Matthews reported three inches. Practically all feed will have to be replanted.

Harvest time is almost here with nothing to harvest: C. E. Leasure, J. V. Burgess and G. C. Pope are the only farmers in this area whose wheat survived the green bugs. Surviving also the drought, it will make a little over five bushels per acre.

Mr. and Mrs. Ewell White and children are visiting friends and relatives in Oklahoma this week.

Texas Army Reserve Strength Is Growing

Austin, Tex., — Increases since January of this year have pushed the Enlisted Reserve strength of the Organized Reserve Corps in Texas to more than 6,000 men and women according to information made public today by Colonel Oscar B. Abbott, Chief of Texas Military District.

A minimum of 7,600 and a maximum of 10,700 Enlisted Reservists will be needed for Class A and B units and for divisions of the ORC training throughout Texas in 1957, it was pointed out.

At the close of the Army's fiscal year June 30, many enlisted Reservists are expected to be lost to the Organized Reserve for failure to earn required points for retention. But Reserve officials expect the intake of new and interested men will continue so that Enlisted Reserve strength can be maintained at the number authorized to receive drill pay.

"Most recruits entering the ORC are under 21 years of age and have no prior service," a spokesman said. "Veteran enlisted men show little interest in the ORC program. Many veterans who wanted to continue their military careers remained in the Regular Army or joined the National Guard before training pay was authorized for ORC members."

Recruiting for the ORC is now being conducted principally at unit level and the activity of unit officers this year is credited with gains made since January 1st.

Former Residents Have Twenty-Fifth Wedding Anniversary

Of interest to their many friends here, is the celebration held by Rev. and Mrs. Thurman Morgan observing their 25th wedding anniversary recently in Ft. Worth. They are former Hereford residents when he was pastor of the First Christian Church. Rev. Thurman Morgan is director of ministerial students and assistant to the dean of Brite College. Mrs. Morgan is TCU president. M. E. Sadler's secretary.

The celebration was observed at a dinner with almost the entire wedding party in attendance including Dean Colby Hall, who married the couple.

When the guests came to the door the Morgan children, Paul and Martha Sue, who are both musicians, struck up "Liebestraum" and "At Dawning."

The children are keeping up the "graduate from TCU" tradition their parents started for the family. Paul finished last year and has a scholarship to Chicago U. this fall. Sue will start to TCU when she graduates at Paschal next January.

ONLY BETTER WHEAT CAN HOLD BEST MARKET

Take a swing through the wheat growing sections of Oklahoma and Texas and you'll come up with some interesting "ifs," relative to wheat varieties.

For instance:

If it weren't for the huge export business in wheat, millers would be pretty darn particular about the kind of wheat they buy.

If elevators had facilities for separating wheat according to varieties, good quality wheat would be drawing a premium.

If entire neighborhoods grow one variety of high quality wheat, the farmers get a premium, but if only John Smith grows Pawnee in Red Chief territory, Pohn has to sell the Pawnee for the price the Red Chief brings.

If European stomachs and pocketbooks weren't so very, very empty, much of the wheat going abroad would be turned down. In other words, if Europe were paying hard cash for the wheat, Chiefkan wheat, or flour made from Chiefkan would not be bought.

If export business continues heavy through 1950 varieties still won't matter much, but if the export buying is lopped off, one of two alternatives will result: Either elevators will pay a premium for high quality varieties or else they will refuse to buy low quality wheat entirely.

We all know it doesn't pay to gamble. Neither will old, undesirable varieties out-yield new, desirable varieties of wheat. Cash returns per acre are definitely highest with the new improved varieties. Besides the increased yields, millers this season are offering premiums for carlots of wheat high in percentages of acceptable types. Next year undesirable types now going to export may be discounted or avoided entirely.

Seventy per cent of today's bread is baked in commercial bakeshops that use mechanical mixers and require strong gluten varieties of wheat. Housewives will not accept poor bread at any price. Texas wheat growers today know they must grow strong gluten varieties to improve the demand for their wheat.

Comanche and Westar are ideal for the South Plains and the Panhandle. Wichita is best for the early territory.

Avoid Future Discounts --- Don't Gamble

COMANCHE originated in Kansas from a cross of Ora and Tenmarq — 5 years old — high yields in all tests — suitable for all of winter wheat territory in Oklahoma and Texas — excellent in quality — fairly good straw — good test weight — proving popular with growers who have tried it.

WESTAR — developed for the Panhandle region of Texas — from a cross of Kanred and Hard Federation with Tenmarq — similar to Comanche but higher in yield in the Panhandle — highly resistant to leaf rust but susceptible to stem rust — excellent bread making properties — extremely popular with Plains wheat growers —

WICHITA — early — from an Early Blackhull cross with Tenmarq — made by Kansas — similar to Early Blackhull — better straw — higher yields — superior in milling and baking — approved for Texas Plains not for Oklahoma as Triumph has out-yielded it in most tests. — Popular with growers from Amarillo south and southeast.

Long Time Ago

45 Years Ago.
A new land and immigration company was brought into existence when C. L. Davis, C. B. Oxendine and H. H. Hawkins organized the Hereford Realty Company. The new firm had offices in the W. G. Roberts building, north of Hereford House.

G. A. Stambaugh advertised his interest in the dry good business of Hereford Mercantile for sale in The Hereford Brand.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Lyles, Garland, who spent their honeymoon in Hereford, were shot and killed by a man by the name of Jones according to The Hereford Brand. The shooting, according to The Brand, took place near Farmers Branch.

J. Ray, who was editor of The Hereford Brand, said he would make the assertion, without fear of successful contradiction, that Deaf Smith and Castro Counties would produce more oats in 1905 than any other two counties in the Panhandle. He said no crop failures were reported and farmers were getting 20 to 60 acres of oats.

At a meeting of Hereford Lodge No. 849, June 17, 1905, officers were elected to serve a year: L. A. Simpson, W. M.; John B. Vannoy, S. W.; W. H. Russell, J. W.; Jno. E. Ferguson, treasurer; Charles B. Gogger, secretary; W. S. Files, Tiler; Jno. Humphrey, J. D.; D. Humphrey, J. D.; E. B. Black, Chaplain; T. M. Palmer, S. Steward; W. B. Beach, J. Steward; H. B. Webb, T. M.; C. G. Paulson and J. F.asley, finance committee.

Ira Aten and his family arrived in Hereford from Imperial, California.

Charles Donald, who had three sections of ranch north of Hereford, had his ranch hurt at a run away.

Prof. Lee Clark, Waco College professor, arrived in Hereford for a few weeks' rest before returning to Waco.

J. L. Vaughn, who ranched near Plainview, was in Hereford after he sold his cattle, 1,000 head, to M. W. Shelley of Hereford.

Joe Clark, who attended TCU at Waco, was home spending his vacation.

Dr. W. N. Barnett, in Hereford several days prospecting, returned to his Pecos Valley home. He was negotiating for one of J. E. Nix's sections, south of Hereford.

A. H. Elliston went to Louisville, Ky. to be present with some old soldiers at a reunion. He took ample Deaf Smith County literature to make this section well-known.

Sam Bratton, Lewis Turrentine, Miss Jessie Wright and Miss Sina Hodges went to Clarendon to take examinations for teachers' certificates.

Rat Jowell came in from Globe, Arizona where he was engaged in developing a mine.

George L. Abbott, Umbarger stock farmer, was showing samples of his 1905 oat crop. Abbott was in the grain business on a larger scale than anyone in the county. He had 160 acres of oats which he would average 40 to 50 bushels to the acre.

George L. Muse and A. J. Thompson, two prominent ranchers who lived several miles northeast of Hereford, were about ready to harvest their oat crop.

A change in Hereford realty occurred when the deal by which G. F. Pearce became owner of the Reesp Hough residence in Ricketts addition, south of the river. Pession was given and Mr. Pearce had Messrs. Worley and Feemster build an additional room and improve the place generally.

Miss Millicent Griffith closed her private school for a month after meeting with success during the short term.

spray gun he had brought home from his construction job. He was found dead under the car, suffocated by the vapor of the cleaning agent.

Proper use of solvent, says the doctor, calls for opening all the doors and windows when cleaning floors, the underside of household furniture, or clothing. The idea is to get as much ventilation as possible. A fan blowing on the working area, is helpful.

When doing a job of this sort, work for a short time—avoiding inhaling the vapors as much as possible—and then get into the fresh air for a minute or two.

The first symptoms of vapor poisoning are nausea, dizziness, headache and fatigue. When you notice them, get outside as soon as possible, the health official advises.

The trouble with many American homes is that they have no "head of the house" and no "wife of the house."

Democracy is not assisted by careless criticism of officials, whether they serve local, state or federal governments.

Doctors Advise Young Sandra Wakefield To Attempt Normal Life

Mrs. J. W. Terry, aunt of 6-year-old Sandra Wakefield, who recently went to Galveston to undergo an operation on her heart, Thursday said doctors there, after going into Sandra's chest, found things weren't so bad after all.

They said nothing should be done at this time. They advised Sandra's parents to let her go to school next year and to, like any other parents, let Sandra lead a normal life.

In two or three years, maybe, Mrs. Wakefield said, doctors may in the event Sandra hasn't fully recovered, attempt to straighten Sandra out permanently with a major operation.

But right now, Sandra feels just fine.

There are some congressmen who would like to investigate some of the investigations that are going on.

The child who attempts to reform father and mother ought to be between the shafts pulling the family load.

Vapors From Cleaning Solvents Can Be Very Dangerous At Times

There's a lot of punch corked up in that little bottle of cleaning solvent out on the back porch. State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox called them "hazardous, when special precautions are not used."

It seems that solvent vapors are heavier than air, which means, according to Dr. Cox, that they will collect at floor levels. The danger of using solvent for such household chores as taking spots off the linoleum, or cleaning dirt or grease off the back steps, is that you have to get on your knees to do the job.

And when you're on your knees, you're closer to the accumulation of solvent vapor.

The state health officer proved his whole point with this story:

A man attempted to remove the grease from the underside of his car by spraying it with a

BY LEE FALK & PHIL DAVIS

SURVIVORS FROM THE SEA TELL AN AMAZING STORY OF HOW AN ENORMOUS "GLOWING" WHALE DESTROYED AN ENTIRE FISHING FLEET!

BACK AND FORTH IT WENT, UNTIL EVERY BOAT WAS GONE!

MANY OF US SHOT AT IT WITH RIFLES! NOTHING COULD STOP THE GHOST MONSTER!

Hmm--WE'LL GIVE YOU DRY CLOTHES AND FOOD, AND RETURN YOU ALL TO PORT.

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF THEIR STORY, CAPTAIN?

PRETTY SOLID "GHOST" TO OVERTURN A WHOLE FLEET. I'VE HEARD OF WHALES ATTACKING SMALL BOATS, BUT--

SHIP TO STARBOARD!

3 AS THEY DISCUSS THE TALE, THERE'S A SUDDEN CALL FROM THE LOOKOUT--

ANY SIGNS OF LIFE YET, CAPTAIN?

NO. IT'S A CRUISE BOAT. SEEMS DISABLED--JUST DRIFTING! NO REPLY TO OUR RADIO SIGNALS--

A MOTORBOAT IS LOWERED FROM THE ARGOS--THEY SPEED TO THE DRIFTING SHIP...

HELLO; UP THERE.

NO ANSWER, LOTHAR. TOSS THE GRAPPLING HOOK. WE'LL HAVE TO CLIMB ABOARD.

THEY REACH THE DESERTED DECKS--MANDRAKE CALLS--THERE IS NO REPLY!

HELLO--HELLO!

NOBODY HOME?
