SIGHTS, FACES SEEN

A donkey will be the main feature in the Jaycee membership drive which began Monday night and will continue probably two weeks. It works like this: J. A. McWhorter, chairman of the drive, who has already secured this new member, will present the donkey to another member on the list, who, in turn, presents it to another member until said member finds a new recruit for the Jaycees. The donkey trading does not begin until Monday morning, thus providing an opportunity for all members to secure their new member before being forced to take the donkey.

Grammar school students are very much impressed by the precautions taken to prevent fire. As a proof, the Central School students cleared the building in one minute and 40 seconds at a fire drill Thursday morning. This really is a good record especially when the stairways in the school are considered.

Merry Christmas! D. C. Martin, principal of Central School, had wondered why he didn't receive the usual Christmas greeting from a friend of his. He and the friend always kept in touch through Christmas cards, but last year—no card. Now Martin knows. Last Monday he received a Christmas card from the friend. It was postmarked Dec. 12, Carlsbad, N. M., and there were no markings on it. Whereabouts of the card the last 10 months remain a mystery.

Charlie Crowell of the veterans schools reports many of the farm boys he instructs are not realizing as much from their maize crops as they had anticipated. Heads on the maize looked heavier than they were because of their premature growth, the result of so many bugs and worms earlier in the season. The crops are averaging from two to four thousand pounds per acre, he said.

Women around town have wondered how to iron a chef's hat like that worn by Frank Heas, chef at Hotel Jim Hill. It towers at least a foot above his head with innumerable pleats formed just above the band. He says the proper way to iron them is to make each pleat exactly the same—which is quite an achievement in the eyes of the average person. The shape of this hat really resembles those "dress-up" paper sacks worn by tiny cooks.

Brand employees have been enjoying lettuce this week. W. E. Harris of the Atterbury-Beasley shed has made two trips down town with his arms loaded with huge beautiful heads of lettuce—too big to sell, but really good to eat. Mr. Harris says the grocery stores do not want such large heads of lettuce because they are too large for immediate use by the average family. Many of them measure 8 inches in diameter and their quality is superb.

Welcome, ESA delegates. Hereford has the honor of playing host to district conventions of women's clubs the second week end in a row. The Epsilon Sigma Alpha convention is now in session at Hotel Jim Hill.

Wreck Damages Two Cars On Main Street

About $800 worth of damage was done to the two cars involved in a collision at Third and Main Friday evening, according to local police.

James William Hund, driving a 1946 Ford Tudor, and travelling west failed to stop at the flashing red stop light and crashed into a 1948 Ford Tudor driven by Donald Wayne Zellner, the police said. The '48 Ford belongs to J. W. Ward of Route 1.

About an equal amount of damage, $400, was done to each car.

CORING AND PEELING (top photos) was first in order of the day when the women of the Federated Council of Church Women met at the Hereford Cannery to pack the tomatoes gathered by the boys of Boy's Ranch. Taking part in the project were Mesdames Frank Terrill, Bruce Wooddell, N. E. Milburn, S. L. Easley, Tom Carter, Henry Hastings, Bob Wilson, Hugh Witherspoon, J. C. Cummins, B. M. Suddeth, G. W. Edwards, Joe Smith, Bert Steele, Elton Malone, Cecil Malone, Phillip Barkley, John Slaton, and E. W. Harrison.

Boy's Ranch Youngsters Have Fun And Tomatoes

Amid the aroma of ripe tomatoes, rotten tomatoes, and fresh plowed soil, 27 boys from Boy's Ranch, Old Tascosa, picked up 35 bushels of tomatoes Friday afternoon at the farm of Leon Coffin, 5 miles north of Hereford. The tomatoes were canned yesterday by women from various churches at the Hereford cannery for the boys.

They were donated by Mr. Coffin and his sons, Bert and Harry, who raised 60 acres of tomatoes this year.

The youngsters did very well, said Don Mitchell, of Boy's Ranch who was in charge of the group for the trip. He remarked, "It's a pretty big job to watch 27 boys in patch just full of ripe tomatoes." With a chuckle, he added the boys had had a few "friendly" tomato fights during the afternoon.

It was evident the boys were thoroughly enjoying the occasion. Nearly every boy had tomato juice dripping off his chin, and many could be seen taking big juicy bites as they worked.

When the boys completed the work, they gathered around the truck with shouts of "I've got a stomach ache," "I ate 30," "I ate 35 if you count the little ones and the big ones." "Washing up" exercises followed at the big irrigation well on the Coffin farm.

Lions Buy Lunch

Lunch was furnished the boys by the Lions Club. The Lions are taking an active part in Boy's Ranch work, having two weeks ago paid the boys' ex-

Hereford Youth Recovering From Blow on Head

Robert Hicks, age 14, was injured Thursday afternoon on his way home from school when he was struck by another youth, according to Sheriff J. C. Reese. The incident did not occur on the school grounds.

Robert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Hicks, was added, the sheriff said. He was taken to Dr. H. H. Cooke's offices for examination and was later taken to his own home. The boy said he could not remember how he got home. He was reported resting all right Friday.

The other youth involved has been questioned by local officers on other charges.

An investigation of the incident is being conducted by the Sheriff's department.

Man Injured In Amarillo Fight

A. J. Hostler is in Deaf Smith County Hospital recovering from injuries inflicted in a brawl which followed a "crap" game in the Earl Hotel in Amarillo Thursday night, local police revealed yesterday.

According to the police, Hostler was cut across his chest and across one leg. The blade of the knife broke off in his back and was still there when he was brought to the hospital by his brother, Louis Hostler who was home on leave from his naval station in California. The blade is reported to have just missed his spine.

Hostler is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Louie Hostler, who live south of Hereford.

Rumors Grow On Oil Activity

Although Deaf Smith County may not have any producing oil wells, there is definite evidence of interest in the oil play of the county.

Rumors, rumors, a crowded hotel and extensive leasing activities are the most prevalent phases of the activity to date.

One man, seeking property for leasing in the county, said his company had come to Hereford "with the money in escrow ready to drill five wells." He said the landowners here "must not want an oil field very bad." They made commercial leases, he added.

The same individual said his company definitely will drill or well in the county. No information, however, is official.

A location, reported ready for staking and definite last week, was reported later to have fallen through.

Paul P. Holland, manager of Jim Hill Hotel, said 33 persons seeking rooms, were turned away Wednesday night when the hotel filled earlier in the day.

Much of the increase in business at the hotel comes as a result of harvest and oil activities, the hotel manager pointed out.

Leasing activity continued unabated in the county, but no definite announcements were made concerning drilling.

Robert Thompson Named Red Cross Drive Chairman

Hereford Red Cross Chapter chairman, Fred W. Baird, this week appointed Robert L. (Bob) Thompson chairman for the 1951 Fund campaign. It was announced this week by Mrs. Dyalhia Bradley, local Red Cross head.

Thompson said Friday he had accepted the appointment and had high hopes for the success of the drive.

The chairman said although the amount of the goal to be met by Deaf Smith county citizens had not yet been set, it may be higher than in previous years as a result of the Korean war and the international situation.

"I feel sure Deaf Smith County can be depended on to make the goal, whatever it is," the new chairman said.

Announcement will be made later of divisional chairmen, Mrs. Bradley said.

Elderly Man Struck by Car

Lewis E. Pyka, age 61, is recovering in Deaf Smith County Hospital from injuries sustained in a traffic accident Friday evening four and a half miles west on Highway 60. He was struck by a car driven by James Rufus Scrivner of Holtsville, Calif.

Scrivner told Sheriff J. C. Reese Mr. Pyka was walking on the edge of the pavement, going with the traffic. Two cars coming from opposite directions failed to dim their lights, thus blinding the driver who said he did not see Mr. Pyka until just before his car struck him. Scrivner swerved his car to the side but could not avoid hitting him, he said.

Reese said Scrivner took Mr. Pyka to the hospital where attendants reported his left leg broken. The California man remained in Hereford overnight to check on Mr. Pyka's condition. Reese commended Scrivner for taking the time to stay here, especially in view of the fact he was on his way to his mother's funeral in Oklahoma. The funeral was delayed so he would have time to make the trip from California.

The sheriff said there would be no further investigation of the matter as it was termed unavoidable.

BOY'S RANCH

comes to Hereford for Ripe, Red Tomatoes

A BIG DRINK from a big pipe occupies Larry Trotter. The boys from the ranch not only used the well for drinking water but also to remove some of the extra juice and tomato seeds gained from their afternoon's work.

During the past 12 months Boy's Ranch, population 163, including teachers, staff members and 132 boys, served a total of 178,485 meals—at a cost of 14 cents each.

This low cost per meal, the envy of every housewife, is possible because of donations, according to Cal Farley, president, who listed a few of the donations: 6,040 loaves of bread, 67,478 eggs (produced on the ranch and farm), 27 tons of potatoes (many Hereford donations), 10,790 gallons of milk (produced on ranch and farm), 3,860 pounds of Pinto beans, 26,312 pounds of pork, 21,396 pounds of beef, plus vegetables in unaccounted quantities from wholesale dealers. The list also included 20,800 pounds of laundry, 487 appointments with doctors, and numerous other donations.

"We feed good, too," stated Farley. "Food is the first way to the hearts of these boys—because they never before had good meals."

Farley said Boy's Ranch is doing everything possible to avoid the routine pitfalls for youth. He said a boy gets into trouble, appears in court. "If he goes to reform school, he gets a post graduate course," Farley declared; "if he comes out, gets in trouble and goes to the pen, that's his college degree," Farley continued. "Our purpose is to help boys get on the right track—and keep them there."

Farley also praised the work of Ezra Norton, Hereford cattleman, in supervising the Farm Hereford Herd, which he says is coming along fine. He also paid high tribute to Lyle Blanton, Hereford man who is director of the organization and who is in charge of the Springlake Farm project.

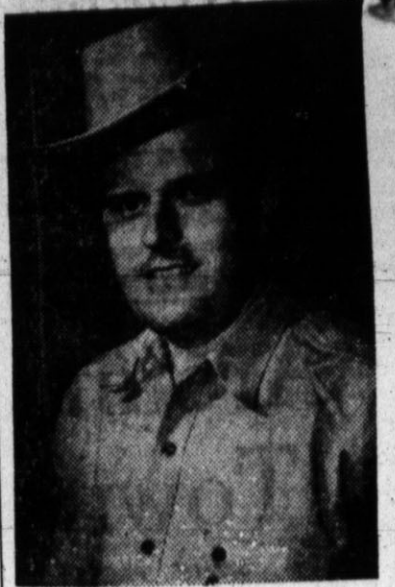

"Hereford has been wonderful," he concluded. "If every town in the United States were as generous and thoughtful, our big headaches would be over."

CAL FARLEY, "father" of Boy's Ranch, came to Hereford Wednesday, talked before the Lions Club—and Saturday found a delegation of Hereford women from various churches busy canning hundreds of gallons of tomatoes at the Hereford Canning Plant. (See Pictures on Page 1).

Cowgirl Concert Here November 1

Bryce Jordan

ABILENE — Bryce Jordan, director of the Cowgirl Band at Hardin-Simmons University, will conduct the group in a concert in Hereford at the high school auditorium Wednesday, November 1 in the afternoon.

Jordan is beginning his second year as director and has succeeded in making strides toward preparing the band for engagement throughout the year.

He attended the University of Texas where he received his bachelor's and master's degrees in music. While there he was flute soloist in the Symphonic Band, Radio House Orchestra and Symphony Orchestra. He was also a member of the Austin Symphony Orchestra.

A native Abilenean, he was graduated from Abilene High school and later attended HSU.

During World War II, Jordan served in the Army Air Force and participated in various Air Force bands. He was piccolo soloist in the 329th AAF Band and served as acting director in various AAF bands.

He was formerly the director of the University of Texas ROTC Band and now holds the position of Associate Professor of Music Education and Music Literature at Hardin-Simmons.

Jordan has attended the University of North Carolina where he did academic work toward a Ph. D. He is a member of Phi Mu Alpha, Sinfonia, Pi Kappa Lambda, and the American Musicological Society.

Grady Hall Elected Fraternity Officer

Grady Eugene Hall of Hereford has been elected historian of Delta Sigma Pi, professional commerce and business administration fraternity at the University of Texas.

Hall, a law student, is a member of Beta Gamma Sigma, national honorary scholastic business administration society, and the Pre-Law Society, social club for law students. He is the son of B. G. Hall.

Black Club Studies Use of Feed Bags

The Black Study and Social Club met on Thursday of last week in the new home of Mrs. Howard Elmore.

"Living in and out of Feed Bags" was the program theme for the meeting. Each member displayed several useful items made from feed bags.

Refreshments were served to the 12 members present.

Mrs. Crutchfield Is Auxiliary Hostess

At the meeting of the auxiliary of St. Thomas Episcopal Church in the home of Mrs. J. Roy Crutchfield recently, plans were made for the printing and distribution of a cook book, featuring recipes famous in Deaf Smith County.

Mrs. F. L. Alexander read excerpts from the book, "Christian Behaviour," and Mrs. Alton Fraser gave an interesting book review on the life of Mohandis Ghandi.

Among the members present were Mesdames: F. L. Alexander, Jack Bradley, J. Roy Crutchfield, Alton Fraser, Doc Kirby, Bruce Miller, Bert Steele, Curtis Trawick, Worth Ware, and Bill Waldrop.

The next meeting of the auxiliary will be at the home of Mrs. Alton Fraser.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Holladay of Teague have been visiting here with Mr. Holladay's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. McGilvray. Another brother, D. W. Holladay, and his wife, of Littlefield, and their son Reuben, Jr., from Tech were dinner guests of the McGilvray's Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. McGilvray attended homecoming ceremonies at McMurry College in Abilene Saturday and Sunday and visited their daughter, Mary Helen.

SPARKY takes time out for a big bite of those delicious tomatoes. A 15-year-old, his real name is Leslie Sparks. He was one of the boys who thoroughly enjoyed making a picnic out of something that is really work so far as adults are concerned.

TOOTSIE'S pose indicates just exactly what it was. He "accidentally" let one tomato "slip" across the field toward another fellow just before the photographers clicked the shutter. The boys did a good day's work, but with 27 boys in a 60-acre field of ripe tomatoes, there naturally would be a few tomatoes flying through the air. His name is Tommy Berry, age 13.

All of the pictures of boys from Boy's Ranch on this page were taken on the Leon Coffin farm five miles north of Hereford. The tomatoes Coffin donated to Boy's Ranch were picked on the farm and were canned by ladies of the Federated Council of Church women.

JERRY KNOWLES gets it right in the face—a nice juicy ripe tomato. It's probably good for his freckles. Ray Gamage is holding him while Fain Kennedy does the work.

BOOKS ON PARADE

"Forgetting One's Self," Is Theme Of Library Book About Librarians

By CORINNE JENNINGS
"Forgetting one's self, in giving service to others," is the theme of Eleanor Cameron's first novel, "The Unheard Music." Mrs. Boydston, county librarian, says of this new book, wherein a librarian is featured as the central character.

Jane Fielding, who works as a reference librarian in a California university town, plays an important part in the lives of several people and in so doing finds happiness and the ability to forget her own lonely and unhappy life brought about by an unhappy love affair.

Because of the experience she has an exaggerated interest in all sorts of people and is able through these contacts to become emotionally of age and this is the core of the story.

Critical and discriminating readers will like the good characterization, the warm appreciation of human beings which make up a good story; one which took the author six years to write. It is mature in outlook and Mrs. Cameron handles a difficult theme with wisdom and subtlety in an unusual manner that will appeal to women readers.

All the events take place in one day's living of Jane in her place of work; with many crises arising to be brought to focus by the death of Mathew Hinden, an elderly composer whom she has befriended.

Since the time is limited to short space there is not much action and much of the book is given to Jane's thinking which makes it a little slow at times but nevertheless worth reading because of the delightful portrayal of the heroine. Jane is a pleasant, intelligent and healthy sort of an individual and she lives through some of the other characters seem merely good character portrayals.

There is Mac, the journalist and his wife, Nance; Sam Eccles, the good-hearted neighbor; Topsy, who heads the library; Claude and the beautiful but unhappy married Alexis; and the musician, Mathew, who figures so importantly in the story. These are only a few who come to the library to help make up a small world known to Jane.

In one day, love, hate and death touched Jane's world along with a number of other minor happenings which each had a place in her life.

The author like her main character must enjoy humanity and her picture of the life in a public library is peopled with likeable folks.

She seems to stress the need of an individual service of a librarian who has the capacity for friendship and a genuine interest and pleasure in people.

Mrs. Homer Brumley and Mrs. Bonnie Brumley attended to business in Amarillo Thursday.

Baptist Convention Has Many Speakers

Messengers (delegates) will have no excuse for arriving late and leaving early from this year's sessions of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, Nov. 7-9 in Ft. Worth.

The committee on business, led by Dr. E. D. Head, president of Southwestern Baptist Theological seminary here, and the arrangements committee, headed by Homer Covey, Ft. Worth, have provided speakers for the opening and closing nights who should attract thousands to these services.

Rev. R. H. Cagle, Hereford, will preach the annual convention sermon. Dr. John L. Hill, Nashville, Tenn., will be another outstanding speaker.

Speaking the opening night will be Dr. Robert G. Lee, Memphis, Tenn., president of the Southern Baptist Convention. And for the closing night, program planners have scored something of a scoop by getting Billy Graham, young evangelist from North Carolina, who has been creating a sensation in revivals from coast to coast.

Emphasis is being placed this year on getting every one of the 3,400 Baptist churches affiliated with the convention represented at the Ft. Worth meeting. Convention president William Fleming, Ft. Worth layman, is writing a personal invitation to each church and pastor.

Forsythia And Pyracantha Defy Catalogs And Webster

Nursery catalogs, and even Webster's dictionary, say that forsythia blooms in the early spring, but Mrs. Leroy Aven's plants evidently haven't read the catalog.

Her forsythia is now in full bloom. In order not to be outdone, Mrs. Aven's pyracantha also has some blossoms. It is loaded with berries, and the new growth on the plant is in blossom. Mrs. Aven says she is sure the new blossoms will not have time to mature.

The forsythia is a flowering shrub which furnishes some of the earliest centerpieces of the spring. Its branches are loaded with yellow blossoms very early, even before the leaves begin to appear. Mrs. Aven's forsythia is very unusual now as it is covered with foliage and blossoms at the same time.

Oldtimers in the nursery business here say they have never before seen either of these plants blossom this time of year. J. R. Daniels of the Hereford Floral Shop, who has been raising nursery stock here for 20 years, says this occurrence is very unusual. Further south, fruit trees will sometimes bloom the second time, he said.

"I never heard of it before," said Mrs. J. F. Ward, 101 East sixth street. Mrs. Ward has been raising flowers, shrubs, and trees for 25 years in this section of the Panhandle. Mrs. Aven lives at 308 W eighth street. Her pyracantha grows at the southwest corner of her house where it has full advantage of the warmest sunshine, and the forsythia is on the south.

Another oddity of nature was reported this week by Mrs. O. F. Nixon, who says that she has several blossoms on her cherry trees at her home on Mable Street. The trees bloomed as usual in the spring and had a fairly good crop of cherries on them.

Attend Local Convention

Mr. and Mrs. A. Petersen and Mr. and Mrs. E. Ramey of Hereford attended the Palo Duro Local of the Texas Rural Carriers Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilson in Amarillo.

The Rameys gave a report at the meeting at the state convention of Rural Carriers at Dallas last July.

Mrs. L. H. Thomas of Falls and Nelson Smith of Farwell, both state officers, gave interesting reports of the national convention of Rural Carriers at Spokane, Washington.

Other guests present at the meeting Saturday were Jordan Ama, Amarillo postmaster and Mr. and Mrs. Art McKay. Mr. McKay is city clerk at Amarillo.

B&PW Registers 140 Guests at 23rd Annual Conference Last Week End

Representing 11 towns over the Panhandle, 140 guests registered at the 23rd annual conference for District 9, Business and Professional Women's Club, at Hotel Jim Hill Saturday and Sunday.

Delegates were from Amarillo, Pampa, Borger, Lockney, Plainview, Dumas, Dimmitt, Lubbock, Panhandle, Perryton, and Hereford.

At the banquet Saturday evening in the dining room of Hotel Jim Hill, Miss Della Sagner, president of the Hereford club, presided. After the Invocation by Mrs. Dyalitha Brady, Ray Cowert welcomed the guests. State President Hazel Blackwell of Weslaco gave an interesting address on the club theme, "Measure Up for Full Partnership."

Dinner music was furnished by Ursalee Jacobsen and Mrs. Francis Parker, who sang "Ave Maria," accompanied by Mrs. J. C. McCracken. Following the banquet, a "fun frolic" was in charge of the Dimmitt Club.

Miss Margaret Ventress of Amarillo, district director, presided at the Sunday morning breakfast. Rev. Roy Ford of the First Christian Church spoke to the club on "The Way of Life." Special music was given by Mrs. A. C. Thompson, and Mrs. Frances Parker sang "The Twenty-Third Psalm."

At the business meeting following breakfast, Mrs. Ruby Travis of Dimmitt was elected district director to succeed Miss Ventress. Iris Graham of Amarillo was named chairman of the nominating committee and Gladys Howard of Pampa was elected alternate.

Dimmitt won the only award, a presentation given for the highest percentage of representation. Panhandle was second.

The 24th annual conference will be held at Borger.

"We're just awful proud of them," remarked Wayne Edwards who was one of the promoters of the canning project. Others were J. W. Robinson, Mrs. Roy Ford, and Mrs. Bruce Woodell. Many people assisted the project in various ways.

Ladies of the First Christian Church canned 75 gallons of tomatoes on Thursday from the Coffin patch for the boys. Labor for the canning yesterday was donated by the other churches. The First Christian ladies also canned nearly the same amount for the Juliet Fowler's Orphan Home in Dallas.

Good Projects Here

"Yes, I think there is a future for tomatoes in this area," said Mrs. Leon Coffin. "If we hadn't had the rain at the time we did, we would have made a fortune from them this year."

This has been an unusual year because of weather conditions. Mrs. Coffin explained, referring to the numerous insects caused by the lack of hard freezes last winter and the late rains which damaged the tomato crop. The Coffins also had some hail damage this year.

A great deal of expensive labor was required in raising the 60 acres of tomatoes. The Coffins planted the seed on April 25. While the plants were still small they were thinned and weeded by Mexican laborers and weeded twice later. Four times the crop was dusted for insects by airplane. This labor, of course, is in addition to the tractor work and irrigation.

Because of the damage, none of the Coffin tomatoes were rated as number ones, said Mrs. Coffin. The family had already secured plenty of markets for number ones, most of which were in the larger cities in Texas.

Early in the season they shipped several tons of tomatoes to Muleshoe to the cannery. They are trying to sell as much of the remainder of the crop as possible to individuals.

Donald L. Pinckert Injured In Accident

Donald Lee Pinckert, age 14, is now recuperating at Deaf Smith County hospital from injuries sustained in a bicycle-car collision Tuesday at noon. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Pinckert.

Donald Lee, with a group of other bicyclists, was riding from school to town to eat lunch. He was struck by a slow moving car coming out of the alley by Jack's Shoe Shop on Fifth St.

The boy is suffering from a broken leg which cannot be set until a deep cut on his leg begins to heal, his mother said.

Donald Lee will celebrate his 15th birthday Saturday.

Ret. Alvin Young was saying goodbye yesterday morning to friends he met on the street. He has just finished his 10-day furlough from Ft. Bliss here with his mother, Mrs. Maydelle Young.

Mrs. Seth B. Holman, now of Amarillo, was a welcome visitor in Hereford Friday and Saturday.

When the town of Hereford is fortunately unable to provide any items of sensational news the Brand office usually comes through. Jim O'Hair, new show foreman at the Brand, was taken to the hospital Monday about 8:15 a. m. after he was hit with 110 volts of electricity while attempting to make a minor repair on a line-type machine. Jim was holding a trouble light and was perfectly grounded against the machine when the drop cord shorted and sent the terrific voltage through him. He was unable to release it until the current had been cut off.

County Vote May Be Law

Guesses by county officials and others this week indicated the vote in the general election November 7 may be much lower than last year.

Robert L. Thompson, county clerk, said only four absentee ballots have been cast. Eight more are still out, he said.

There are over 2,500 registered voters in the county, Thompson revealed. Those who are exempt may bring the total higher than expected.

Most guesses centered around 1,600.

Harold Cooley, House Agriculture Committee chairman, predicts allocation will have to be raised to three and a half million bales next year.

This raise will be kept secret until after the November election because the Truman Democratic administration is afraid to admit such an embarrassing and terrible error in calculation.

Why will the export allocations have to be raised? Because the government already had sixteen million six hundred thousand bales of cotton in storage and our maximum consumption next year will be ten and a half million bales. That will leave us with a surplus of over six million bales. The maximum reserve practicable for the United States is two million bales. The remaining four million bales plus must be sold abroad.

In a telephone conversation with a lawyer, a Democratic lawyer, for the Agriculture Committee I was told, quote: This is just flimflam to impose selective price controls, with the cotton farmer as the sucker. Cotton is selling at some places in the world for eighty-five cents per pound. This particular Brannan plan is simply a vicious way of driving the price of cotton down, because the Truman administration feels that the cotton farmers always will vote Democratic.

I think it's a poor trick and I hope you beat this crooked administration from Pampa to Washington, unquote.

As a member of the Agriculture Committee, I will fight to achieve justice for the cotton farmers, now and from now on. Ben Guill, M. C.

Stapp Chiropractic Clinic

112 W. 3rd Hereford, Texas Phone 128 IN PAMPA, TEXAS

328 N. BALLARD AGREED PHONE 539

"After practicing medicine for 15 years, and spinal orthopedics for 10 years I am daily astonished at the remedial power of Chiropractic spinal adjustments as a cure of disease."

LeForest Potter, M. D. Orthopedist, New York

Case histories published here are from the files of Dr. Stapp. They are displayed here to show the extent and scope of Chiropractic.

While the wide scope of Chiropractic is amazing to the uninformed we do NOT recommend chiropractic as a CURE-ALL. Chiropractic is effective in those cases only where the cause is found to be defective in organic misalignment due to spinal misalignment (subluxation).

BACK PAINS

CASE 360 (Umbarger, Texas): A farmer, age 58, came to the clinic complaining of back-ache, shoulder ache and leg ache. He said he was constipated, had gas on his stomach and dreamed all night long. Complained both his hands shook and said he had dizzy spells and was also bothered with hay fever. In the process of a chiropractic analysis it was discovered he had a skin rash on his arms and legs that itched constantly. He said, "I don't think anything can be done about that."

have had it for twelve years." A spinal analysis revealed nerve wave interference and spinal X-rays located the spinal subluxations causing the interference. Adjustments restored alignment. The patient is in general good health now and does not suffer with the skin rash.

ASTHMA

CASE 325 (Friona, Texas): On January 31, 1950 a mother brought her nine year old son to the clinic. She said, "I understand Chiropractic is good for asthma." She said that that family had spent untold sums of money for doctors and medication. They were in hopes Chiropractic could do something for her son. He had suffered from asthma since the age of two weeks. Nightly they had to rub his chest with medication when he woke choking for breath.

Throughout the year they had taken him to several clinics and had tried all kinds of treatments and medication. They were eventually told he would outgrow it. But he was steadily becoming worse. Chiropractic analysis made. Patient adjusted and nerve pressure removed. Within a week attacks had stopped. Boy gained weight and was sleeping the night through. Family overjoyed. Case dismissed April 30, 1950. Family occasionally brings boy in for checkup.

Mrs. Jackson Is Study Club Hostess

Mrs. Clinton Jackson was hostess for the Child Study Club session held in her home Thursday evening. Mrs. Maurice Tannahill, president, presided and two new members were welcomed during the business meeting. They were Mrs. Jim Childre and Mrs. J. W. Witherspoon.

Mrs. Joe Story was leader of the program and discussed the question "Can You Love a Child Too Much?" Answering the question she discussed an article written by June Bingham, a mother of four children, who thinks you cannot love a child too much if it is the right kind of love. Mrs. Story told of three kinds of love listed by the author: 1—Duty love prompted only by a sense of responsibility, 2—Understanding love, prompted by a desire to understand the child and his problems, and 3—Smother love which is given by the over-protective parent. Mrs. Story also discussed Emily Post's "Children Are People" who believes that what is not taught to the child early is seldom acquired.

Mrs. J. C. Reese gave the second part of the program and summarized a magazine article written by an 11 year old girl, "Bringing Up Parents." A realistic viewpoint of parents relation to a child was presented in which the young author expressed a child's need for more interest on the part of parents in the things children like to do. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. N. D. Bartlett, Jr., instead of as listed in yearbook outlines.

Hereford Crumbles Under Powerful Wolves' Attack

The forward wall of the Dalhart Wolves erupted holes in the Hereford line at Dalhart's Memorial stadium Friday night and marched to paydirt in the first minute of play. Hereford did the same thing seconds later, but all doubts about the outcome of the fierce contest ended four quarters later with Dalhart on top 27-7.

Spasmodically playing some of the most explosive first-half football Hereford fans have seen all season, in weaker moments the Whitefaces crumbled beneath the knife-like plunges of Dalhart backs, Billie Ritter, Busby Taylor and Wendell Howell. The Wolves rammed over 252 yards rushing to Hereford's 86 and broke up the Whiteface passing attack by intercepting two tosses and knocking down a score of others.

PLAY BY PLAY

Quarterback Jack Stanton received on his own goal line and returned the kickoff to Whiteface 27. The Herd began defending the east goal with a strong wind in their faces. Walker made a 2-yard gain, but Stanton's fumble was recovered by Dalhart on the next play, and the Wolves began their first touchdown drive.

Ritter racked up two touchdowns seven more, then Taylor made two and the first Dalhart first down. He was hit on the Hereford 30-yard line by Harold Morton.

Tim Corbett stopped Ritter on the first down before he gained a yard. Cessnun chalked up eight behind dynamite blocking. Corbett and Engman stopped Ritter after a half-yard gain. Fish knocked Ritter for a one-foot loss, but the Whitefaces were penalized five yards for offsidess, moving the ball to the five-yard mark.

Ritter was stopped by Dement on the four-yard stripe, but Cessnun barged the Herd line to go the necessary four and score. Ritter made the point good and the score 7-0.

Cessnun kicked off, and Walker took the ball on his own goal line and stampede 40 yards, stiff arming and squirming, before finally being hit hard by two Wolves.

The Whitefaces were on fire. Stanton tried right end for 7 yards. Morton chalked up two more and Engman another.

A Stanton-Brock pass was good for five, and Morton hit scrimmage. Stanton carried for ten yards and another first down.

From the Dalhart 15, Engman stomped six yards. Powered for the final drive, Stanton stormed wide around left end and came over the goal standing up. Engman tied the score 7-7 when he made the point good.

Dement kicked off for the Whitefaces, and Ritter took the ball on his own 10-yard line and plowed up to the 29.

Two five-yard penalties brought about another first down for the Wolves and put the ball on their own 39. Walker stormed over to stop Ritter on the 49.

Morton stopped the Dalhart runner on the Hereford 49. Cessnun was downed by Walker and Morton after a five-yard gain. Ritter carried down to the Hereford 28, but fumbled and Walker recovered.

Stanton's pass to Morton was good for eight yards, and a penalty of 15 yards for unnecessary roughness brought the ball back to the Wolves' 40. Stanton was thrown for a seven-yard loss when Wilcoxson got through the line. Walker came back five yards, and Engman took a pitchout on the next play for four yards more.

Second Quarter

Stanton tried a pass to Morton, but it was incomplete, and the Wolves took over on number of downs on their own 33.

Walker stopped Ritter after a fast run totaling a gain of 27 yards for the Wolves.

Dement nailed Ritter five yards behind the line of scrimmage. Ritter chalked up seven yards on the next play. Corbett got through on the next, and nailed Busby Taylor two yards behind scrimmage. Ritter shot a pass to Howell for 12 yards.

Fish stepped in on the next play and stopped Ritter one yard before he reached scrimmage. Brock got him next time after he made a three-yard gain. Cessnun tried left end, but did not gain. On the last down Ritter shot a pass to Howell again, and gained 18 yards.

The Whitefaces dug in, but it was no use. Ritter made one yard from the Herd three-yard line, then went through for two more on the next, and scored. He tried and succeeded with the point, bringing the count to 14-7.

Walker took Ritter's kickoff from the Hereford 20 to the 35. Brock picked up nine yards with a pass from Stanton, and Stanton carried on the next play for three more.

Walker was downed five yards behind scrimmage. Stanton tried a pass to Graham, but it fell incomplete. Stanton carried for seven. With eight yards to go for a first down, Engman kicked 45 yards to Taylor, who took it on his own goal line and snake-hipped out to the 26. A five-yard penalty on the next play put the ball on the Dalhart 31. Slagle got through to throw Cessnun for a two-yard loss, and Ritter made seven before being hit by Engman.

Ritter picked up five yards. Cessnun six, and the Wolves had another first down. On the way, now, Taylor broke through for four.

The drive was momentarily interrupted when Kelly intercepted a pass from Ritter, intended for Howell. Stanton carried for two, but his pass on the next down to Brock was intercepted by Ritter, and the Dalhart team carried on from there.

Ritter passed to Howell for 13. He tried through the center of the line, but failed to gain on the next down, he met with little success, plowing two yards and over the goal line for the third Wolf score. Once more Ritter's try for point was good.

Half time came after Engman received the Dalhart kick on his own 20 and ran for 13 yards.

Third Quarter

Hale returned Dement's kick from his goal line to the 15. Ritter tried, but failed to gain. Howell made a yard and Ritter chalked up another first down by carrying for 16 yards.

Brock stopped Taylor after a four-yard gain, and Engman stopped him behind scrimmage. Ritter did it again, this time going for 15 yards before being downed by Walker.

Howell made four and Ritter five. Engman stopped Taylor before he could gain more than three.

Engman and Slagle came in together on Howell and held him on the Hereford 34. Walker stopped Ritter after a five-yard gain, and recovered Taylor's fumble on the next play.

Morton took over for five, and Engman made seven more. A 15-yard penalty for unnecessary roughness brought the ball back to the Hereford 17. Two attempted passes from Stanton to Morton fell incomplete, and Engman kicked 50 yards to Ritter, who took it on his own 35 and returned it to the 45.

Ritter carried for five yards. Howell for three more (Fish and Kelly stopped him) and Ritter brought on the next first down by slipping through for four before being nailed by Dement.

Taylor made two (Brock stopped him) and Ritter made nine.

Engman intercepted Ritter's pass to Howell and returned it to the Herd 26. Slagle fumbled on the next play and Ritter recovered, giving the Wolves possession again on the Hereford 32.

Ritter struck right end for 14. Corbett, Engman and Kelly stopped Howell and Ritter before the Wolves could make another first down, and Engman kicked out of danger from his own ten.

Taylor returned the kick 25 yards to the Hereford 20, where the Whitefaces were assailed a five-yard penalty. It was Ritter and Taylor the rest of the way. Despite Engman and Dement's tackles, Taylor scored from the Whiteface two-yard line. The point was no good, and the last score of the game had been made.

Walker took the Dalhart kickoff on his own ten, and was smacked hard in his tracks. He made two yards on his next play, and Stanton passed to Morton for 18 yards, placing the ball on the Hereford 30.

Stanton gained two yards carrying, but his pass to Brock on the next play to Brock was intercepted by Miller, who was downed on the Hereford 44.

Taylor carried for eight, before Kelly got him. Ritter was stopped by A. Brock before he could gain. Taylor made three and another first down.

The Whitefaces dug in. Ritter made two, but Brock and Witherspoon stopped Taylor on the next play and threw him for a two-yard loss. Ritter made five and recovered three, and the Wolves had possession.

A fumble on the next play brought no gain, but left the Whitefaces in possession. The last play of the game came when Stanton skiffed left end for 20 yards.

SCORE: DALHART 27, HEREFORD 7.

Connected Rooms Are Asked for Library

Connected rooms to house the books and equipment of Deaf Smith County Library would be obtainable by a few alterations in the present construction of the basement of the courthouse, according to County Librarian, Mrs. J. J. Boydston.

Mrs. Boydston and Assistant Librarian Mrs. Corinne Jennings pointed out that many steps could be saved and better service could be provided by the removal of part of the wall separating the main rooms of the library from the other room in which most of the magazine files and many old books are kept.

"If a large door were cut in the wall," Mrs. Boydston said, "we would be able to provide many more services than are now possible." She added that she did not know what steps would be necessary of what technical construction problems would arise, but that if the door could be cut, the library and the county would be greatly benefited.

The wall separating the other room from that of the County agent's office is no more than a wooden construction, the librarian pointed out, and could be cut away giving the library use of one entire side of the basement—or first floor. Such a project would require the removal of the county agent's office to another part of the courthouse.

Under present arrangements, Mrs. Boydston said, the library is housed in three different rooms—one for the library proper, another for the magazine files and other books and still another in the office of the Selective Service Board.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd West are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Bohannon of VanNuys, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Self of Clarendon visited in the home of her brother, W. H. Ebevin, Friday.

Visitors in the Tommy Crone home Wednesday and Thursday were Mrs. Crone's nephews, LeRoy and Billy Joe Thompson of Spokane, Wash.

- 1. TOUCHDOWN PLAY—Jack Stanton, Whiteface quarterback, skirts his own left end to make Hereford's lone score of the game against the Dalhart Wolves. Bill Engman, center, may be seen taking out his man as Randolph Thomas, far left, moves into the play.
- 2. AROUND RIGHT—The Whitefaces caught fire the second time they gained possession of the ball and slammed from their goal line to Wolf paydirt. Quarterback Stanton tries right end and gains seven yards during the drive.
- 3. LAST PLAY—The Herd seemed well on its way again when Quarterback Stanton skiffed left end for 20 yards. But seconds after the ball was snapped, time ran out, and the game came to an end.
- 4. NAILED—Tim Corbett and Bill Engman nailed Billie Ritter as he ran wide to the right during the initial Dalhart touchdown drive. On the play snapped in the photographs, Ritter made only a half yard.
- 5. HEMMED IN—Two Whitefaces, Stanley Slagle (center) and another unidentified man, close in on Clois Howell, Wolf left end, to stop him after he had snagged a pass and gained 18 yards in the second quarter on the second touchdown march the Dalhart Wolves made to stop the Whitefaces, 27-7.

Students View Sugar Beet Harvest At Charley Hodges Farm Wednesday

By MRS. R. C. CHILDERS
Brand Correspondent

All the fourth grade pupils from both Central and Shirley schools were brought by bus Wednesday to the Charley Hodges farm to watch the digging of sugar beets. There were about 125 pupils in the group. There were six fourth-grades and their teachers. The teachers were Mrs. Cawthon Bryant, Mrs. R. B. Miller, Mrs. Mary McInnis, Mrs. Ben Malone, Mrs. Tandy Legg, and Mrs. Charley Hodges, hostess and teacher also at Shirley School.

The children and teachers were amazed at the size of the beets this year. Mr. Hodges says they weigh around 25 pounds each. Mr. Hodges says he would like to wait for frost but that the digging is so slow he feels that he must go ahead as he has so many. He felt he had to get started in order to get through on time.

Cultural United Nations flag bravely flew beside old glory at the Post Office United Nations Day. There were only two other flags flown that day and they flew over the Courthouse and at the High School. There may have been more flags over town but they were not reported.

W. E. Robinson, from Claude spent the day in the home of his daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Earl DeHart Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Cornell from Dallas were recent visitors in the Earl DeHart home.

Mr. and Mrs. Cawthon Bryant and son, John David, were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Childers Wednesday evening.

Raymon Childers, Jr. played a group of piano selections at the Kiwanis guest night at the Jim Hill Hotel Thursday evening.

George LeGrand's service truck mysteriously caught fire and burned Sunday about noon in the field. Neighbors seeing the fire investigated and called Mr. LeGrand, but it was too late to save anything. The truck was loaded with gasoline and oil and other supplies needed for field operations.

The milo on the Wayne Johnson farm averaged around 180 bu. to the acre. Mr. Johnson said he only had a few acres in that patch, but is hoping that the rest will do that good. He believes that he can start again Monday. The weather has been simply wonderful for the grain harvest. It isn't often that the grain can be cut before frost. Usually farmers have to wait for frost to kill the growth before it will do to cut. The chaf from the grain isn't so bad before frost and makes the working with the grain more pleasant.

The Workers 4-H Club met at the R. N. Cooke home Tuesday. Miss Doris Mahaffey met with the girls and instructed them as to how and when their workbooks should be finished. Mrs. A.

F. Hargett, one of the club's sponsors, was present, also. Girls attending this meeting were: Carolyn, Alice, Margaret Freda, and Dora Inman. Glenda Hargett, Paula Beth Corbett, Mary Dufer, Sue, Coleen, Carolyn and Jan Cook, Jeanne Palmer and Patsy Caywood and the hostess.

Three women of this vicinity and in this immediate club won a $40.00 payment on a Singer sewing machine at the fair at Amarillo this year. They all received letters recently notifying them. They were Mrs. R. N. Cooke, Mrs. Earl DeHart, and Mrs. Paul Corbett. The letters stated they could choose a Deluxe or a portable machine and they would allow them $20.00 for their old machine.

The Workers 4-H Club had a Halloween Party at the R. N. Cooke place Friday night with the Westway 4-H group as guests.

Summing up the ideas set forth in the book Mrs. Reinauer quoted "Faith is the Key to all problems large or small. Set aside a few minutes each day to relax physically and mentally, then in whatever way is most natural make contact with your own inner self and with your God. Revive in yourself a joyous power which may become your guide in the art of living."

Roll call was answered by members giving tips on interior decorating.

Music Study Club Begins Study of "The Classic Era" At Meet Monday

Miss Frances Dameron was hostess for the Music Study Club Monday afternoon when a study of "The Classic Era" was featured with Mrs. C. C. Ferguson as program director. Describing the classic era, Mrs. Ferguson said, "The term classic denotes a style characterized by a fine sense of roundness of form, equilibrium of means of expression and content, discipline of mind, and an absence of any vulgar or sensational effects, especially the over-emphasis of emotional content. The classic composer builds and constructs with highly developed skill, but that does not mean that form is stressed at the expense of emotional values. On the contrary, Haydn, Mozart and Beethoven and many of their colleagues were deeply interested in human problems, and their compositions glow with warm human feeling."

Musical selections illustrative of the classic era included: "I Have Lost My Eurydice (Gluck)" sung by Mrs. W. T. Carmichael; "Hayden's The Creation," a piano solo played by Mrs. B. Y. Crosthwait and a choral number, "The Heavens are Telling" by club members.

One Slow Burning Fuse

"Too often a socialist is only a communist wearing a slow burning fuse," says the Bozeman, Montana, Daily Chronicle.

One of the grim lessons of modern history is that socialism and communism, in the long run, arrive at identical ends—the dictatorship and subjugation of the individual by the state, the destruction of representative government, and political domination of all a nation's energies and resources. It is true that a few sincere and intelligent socialists, such as Norman Thomas, can make an appealing case for their philosophy. But the hard fact is that not all men have Mr. Thomas' character or belief in the dignity of the individual. Evil, self-seeking men are always ready to take advantage of the groundwork done by good men.

Hitler called his government socialist, and so did Mussolini. These governments differed in no essential respect from Stalin's. So, if we are to fight communism at home, we must also fight socialism. We must fight it wherever it appears. As an example, take the long-standing drive to socialize the electric industry. Whatever your own feelings toward this industry, its fight against socialism is in your interest. For if one essential enterprise is taken over by the government, the stage will be all set for taking over others. Then, little by little, step by step, the government becomes the controlling factor in all our lives.

It takes the slow burning fuse a little longer to reach the bomb than the fast burning fuse—but it gets there just the same. And the explosion is just as destructive.

Great Churchill

We suspect that we would support Mr. Winston Churchill in any election held in the islands of England and no man living deserves greater respect and admiration from mankind.

The history of Mr. Churchill has been wrapped up with the destiny of his country since the Boer War. In the first World War, he was First Lord of the Admiralty and in the second struggle, he was Prime Minister and Minister of Defense. Not only has he served his nation, and, we think the world with signal success, but he has a gift for expression that makes his writings an outstanding contribution to literature.

Recently, he was in Denmark, as the guest of the King and Queen, to receive an honor from the Danish wartime Resistance movement. In his speech, he took occasion to hail "the new world across the ocean" for "its buoyant strength to sustain and rescue the old." He expressed the opinion that we, of the present time, have been asked to do nothing more than what the free world can do.

French Need Help

The French are taking quite a beating along the borders of Indo-China where the Communists are threatening a major drive, following signal successes upon French outposts.

The American people are hardly aware of the tremendous struggle that France has waged in that area since the conclusion of World War II. The contest has strained the weakened combat ability of the French government. Disasters have occurred before and there has been some scandal connected with events in the Far East.

Now comes the information from Washington that American assistance, in the form of arms and munitions, we suppose will be forthcoming for the French. We cannot pass judgment upon the occupation of the French in French Indo-China but we recognize the necessity, as in Korea, to teach the salutary lesson that aggression does not pay.

One Guess Allowed

At Lake Success, the delegates to the United Nations discussed the question of financial assistance for the economic development of the undeveloped areas of the world.

It is freely admitted that the deterrent to great progress along this line, including road-building, brush-clearing and basic public services, is the lack of cash.

Can any smart reader figure out where the talking delegates expect to get the money?

Health Axioms

From time immemorial, health axioms have circulated throughout Deaf Smith County, and elsewhere and there are those who swear by them, just as they cherish magic formulas to cure many diseases.

Gradually, however, doctors, scientists and better education are exploding some of these beliefs, although it would not be safe to state that all of them are without value. Just for fun, let's check up on your own ideas. Do you think:

That a persistent cough developed into tuberculosis; that one gets warts from handling toadfrogs; that eating seed-containing fruit causes appendicitis; that you should not go to sleep after eating a big meal; that light hurts your eyes when you have a cold, or that removing a splinter with a pin will cause blood-poisoning?

Now, before reading any further, check up on your opinions. How many of the things listed above fit in with your own belief?

Well, the answer to all of them, according to health authorities, is a vigorous negative!

Readers often wonder why editors write their stuff and editors often wonder why people read it.

THE Washington Merry-Go-Round

Fireside Chat Proposed

SECRETARY of State Acheson has been urging President Truman to deliver a fireside chat warning the nation against falling for the Russian peace offensive.

Acheson fears that victory in Korea will lull Americans into forgetting that western Europe is still Russia's No. 1 objective and that to let down now would prove disastrous later. Therefore, he has suggested the President give a blunt talk to the people, perhaps on Columbus Day, and in this way explode Moscow's peace talk.

Acheson wants the President to point out that Russia still has 75 divisions in eastern Germany—15 of them armored—and is now stockpiling huge quantities of food and raw materials—something you do only when you are preparing for war.

Senate Poet Laureate

Scott Lucas, the hard-boiled senate leader, is one thing; but Scott Lucas, the rhymester, is another. Most people don't know that when the senator from Illinois gets fed up with long, drawn-out senate debates he scribbles lyrics. Here is one he turned out when the senate was tied up in a table-thumping debate on oil:

"Who is this old man oil
That raises hell in committee toll?
Open his mouth and let him in,
Hear his words, they'll be the oil."

"Remember, boys, he's a very old man.
He looks like Bill and acts like
Muss;
He's a traveler of world renown,
Gushing and running from town to town."

Korean Costs Increase

Most people don't realize that the cost of the Korean war to the taxpayers has been increased by about five billion dollars, because of two factors: 1. Unpatriotic war manufacturers and raw-material dealers have hiked prices; 2. President Truman, though given ample power by congress, has failed to invoke price controls.

As a result, it now costs the armed services more for their needs, without exception, than they paid before the Korean outbreak. Probably the most shameful is the sudden increase in the price of medical and surgical goods, urgently needed to save lives in Korea. The army must now pay $220 for an instrument and medicine cabinet that cost only $195 before the Korean war. The price of glycerin, a medical compound in demand in military hospitals, has shot up 114 per cent. Even rubber surgical gloves for operating on wounded soldiers have increased in price from 17 to 22 cents per pair.

The high-octane aviation fuel that keeps our planes flying over Korea costs 30 per cent more than before the war. At the same time, fuel oil has shot up 54 per cent. The air force is also paying as high as 175 per cent more for resistors, actuators and other electronic spares for aircraft, and the navy is paying 18 to 12 per cent more for ship parts than these same items cost before K-day.

Business As Usual

In addition to paying 62 per cent more for zinc, the army and navy had to get tough before they could even buy enough zinc for batteries urgently needed in Korea. Assistant Secretary of the Army Alexander and Assistant Secretary of the Navy Koehler personally had to put pressure on the zinc companies in order to get military orders filled.

Believe it or not, these companies—Anaconda, Sullivan Mining, American Smelting and Refining, and American Zinc company of Illinois—wanted to take care of their civilian clients first rather than risk losing business. Now the same companies are protesting against supplying zinc for the nation's strategic stockpile.

The basic commodities used in the manufacture of military items were the first to skyrocket after Korea. Crude rubber shot up 162 per cent, with some British companies charging as high as 200 per cent above the pre-Korean price. The price of wool, so essential for the freezing Korean winter, increased 61 per cent. Cotton for summer uniforms shot up 50 per cent. Steel scrap, which sold for $24 a ton before the Korean war, now costs $38 per ton.

Here are a few other comparisons between the prices the armed forces paid before and after the Korean war began: radio receivers up from $50 to $910 a set; radiac training sets, $94.00 to $289; shipping boxes, 82 cents to $1.24 each; five-gallon gasoline drums, $1.79 to $1.98 each; khaki trousers, 74 cents to $4 cents a pair; adhesive tape, 26 cents to 30 cents a roll; tires, $16.14 to $20.46 each; fire hose, $20.64 to $23.10 per 50 feet; ground interrogator, $1,842 to $2,303 each.

These are typical of the prices the armed services are paying.

THE AMERICAN WAY

The Most Powerful Man In America

'Tater Peelin's

By Roberta Campbell

It seems to us that when a woman who is indeed a mother in the true sense of the word realizes that medical science has failed her in a valiant fight to remain with her family and there is nothin' left to do but die that it would be like havin' to die twice.

Most of those from Hereford who stood at the grave of Nell Farmer Soll in Canyon's cemetery last Friday remember that it was under similar circumstances that she gave up her own mother, Mrs. W. B. Palmer, here when she was the age Ruth Ann is now.

Home Comin' at West Texas State on Saturday seemed to have chalked up a winnin' score from the dedication of the Chapel Dr. Hill had worked so hard for, right on through a 39 to 18 victory for the Buffs over the Sam Houston Bearkats.

The barbecue came near bein' a tie though, because by the time the last visitors had gone through the chutes there was little left but ribs of what everybody declared was the best beef yet.

It was quite a sight when we visited the barbecue pits the night before to see 14 beeves slowly brownin' over coals from mesquite wood.

Speakin' of winners we wonder if we were to check Flower Show records back for the last ten years if the name of Mrs. E. Ramey wouldn't be found most often in the first and second places on the lists.

Homer Fox Says: Did You Know..

Back in 1939 we had our last real Pioneer day celebration, and that was what we called it, not counting the birthday party we had in '48. Anyway, in '39 the committee issued a bright ribbon for the real old timer to wear, and to qualify for this ribbon you had to be a resident of Deaf Smith County for 35 years.

Charles Skelton was about 11 years old at that time. He had his boots, shirt and handkerchief, and early that morning of the celebration, through some of his very best scheming and brain work, Charles managed to ram rod a first class deal and came out with a brand new Stetson cowboy hat. He wanted one of those old timers ribbons worse than anything, and as soon as he got his hat jammed on his head good, he tore out for headquarters and his ribbon. You can imagine Charles' disgust when they told him he had to live here thirty five years before he could qualify for a ribbon. Charles says, "It doesn't make sense. I have been here as long as any one. I have been here all of my life; I was born here." At least he had a good argument.

When Elaine Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Thompson, was a little shaver, she was quite a picture show fan and also quite a Daddy girl. Anytime you would see Bob at the show, you could look around and Elaine was there also.

This particular afternoon I was sitting right behind Elaine and Bob. She was small enough that she almost had to stand in the chair her Daddy was in to see the picture good. It wasn't long until she was so wrapped up in the picture that she didn't know any one else was in the world but her and the ones on the screen. Anyway, it came to a scene where an old boy was trying to get away from his wife.

He came through a door that opened into a swimming pool. He looked for a place to hide and finally settled down in a corner in the pool. His wife came through the same door looking for him. She stopped and looked and said, "Now I wonder where he could have gone." Elaine, standing in her daddy's chair, was still on the screen and with her eyes as big as saucers, she leaned way over and pointed with her finger and said, "There he is right there in the corner." Everyone in the show heard her. Elaine broke up the show, but she didn't know it. "By George" that old gal in the picture found her husband in the corner of the pool and that was what Elaine was trying to help her do.

Back in the twenties when every one was interested in golf. Would say that at least one man out of every business house in town was playing or at least trying to play golf. Remember one afternoon some of the gang finally persuaded my good friend Gaston Baer to try it a whirl. Big, good natured, friendly and always ready for a joke. It happened to be a pretty busy afternoon at the golf ground and he had to wait for some time before his squad could start. According to golf etiquette, when you shoot into the direction of a squad in front of you and there is any danger of the ball carrying to them, you are supposed to yell "Fore" as a warning, and they can watch out for the ball. Gaston sat there long enough that afternoon that he knew exactly what to do when his time came to shoot.

Finally when his time did come, he stepped on the Tee, swung his club a few times to lamber up, sat the club head on the ground and looked down at the squad a couple hundred yards ahead of him, threw back his head and yelled in Tarzan style—"Three ninety eight!"

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Bootleg Philosopher on his farm near Bootleg is still misinterpreting the government's credit restriction program, his letter this week reveals.)

Dear Editor:

I been readin some more about the government's credit restrictions, how some dealers say credit controls is gonna put them out of business, on account of nobody can buy anything unless he's rich, in which case he's probably already got it, and I myself have already been stopped from buyin a new cook stove due to the fact the government won't let anybody sell me one for a dollar down and a dollar a week, says I got to pay at least a third down, which eliminates my stove-buyin from now on, but I've been workin on an idea.

If you give American ingenuity a chance, it'll come through and what I want to know is what would be wrong in goin ahead and followin the government's rules and payin a third down for a new car, say, but work out an installment payment plan for the down payment? Say the car costs $1800 and the downpayment has to be $600, go ahead and meet them terms, but pay out the downpayment at $5 a week.

Of course, my favorite plan, which wouldn't require no round-about way, is to have the government sell money orders on the installment plan, which would enable a man to select a new car, find out how much a third down is, go by the post office, take out a money order for that much, pay a dollar down on it, get the full amount, go to the car dealer's, hand over the money, and drive off. This way the government's credit controls would be preserved, the car dealer would be doin business, the car buyer would be happy, and the government's main goal of makin people contented and thrifty even when they ain't got enough sense to be would be achieved.

As I understand the reason for the credit control program, the government just don't trust a car dealer to have enough sense to get enough down-payment to protect himself, and while there may be some dealers in that category, I wish the government would publish a list so I could pick out the nearest one and head for him.

If there's any hardware store or lumber yard or appliance dealer or car dealer in this vicinity who ain't got enough sense to get enough downpayment on any item he's sellin, I wish I could find him, and if the government really wants to make me happy it can just forget its credit controls and furnish me with that list.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Louisa's Letter

Dear Louisa:

I have a husband who has a good job traveling and is only home on the week ends. I have a little girl by a former marriage and a baby by this husband.

My husband thinks I should leave my little girl and follow him around on his trips although we have money invested in a business here and someone needs to look after it.

He seemed very proud of my little girl before we were married but now he seems to dislike her. He never buys her anything and doesn't want me to get her things although buying for the baby is all right.

He gives me very little money and what he does with the rest of his salary, I do not know. When he comes home he is very cross and it is really no pleasure having him.

I am very much distressed as I feel that his attitude to my little girl will ruin our whole family life besides doing her harm. I hate to leave my husband but I can't see where things are getting any better.

Yours is a bad situation and unless your husband is a man who can listen to reason and help work out your problems, there does not seem to be much chance of things getting better. Evidently, he is jealous of your little girl and the attention you give her and takes it out on all the family by being cross and stingy.

If your husband was a good provider and his only fault was being jealous of your little girl, it might be better for all of the family for you to compromise by letting your little girl stay with her grandmother part of the time. In this way you could go with him some of the time and be able to do more for the child financially.

But if your husband does not support you, I can see no reason to stay with him and suffer fuss and confusion every time he comes home. Certainly, such an atmosphere is not a good one for children growing up.

Dear Louisa:

I have three more months before I finish as a trained nurse but I have fallen in love with a boy who wants me to marry him. I have only known him two months as he comes from another state.

My parents want me to finish my course but he wants me to marry him right away.

What do you think I should do?

Answer:
Finish your course and then marry him. Surely if he loves you he won't want you to throw away three years of hard work by not waiting three months to get your diploma.

In these times, every girl should know how to make a living. She does not know what the future holds for her and she may be left a widow with little children to support. If she has a good paying profession, it may save her grief and worry.

It also seems to me that you have known this boy a very short time to be considering giving up everything in order to marry him.

LOUISA.

Most Important Democratic Duty Is Intelligent Voting-Say Citizens

What is the most important duty of a citizen in a democratic nation?

Mrs. Wallace Cox:—I think voting is the main thing. However, it is better not to vote if you don't know what you are voting for. I would recommend doing as much reading as possible to find out about candidates and current problems. Vote for the man and not for the party.

Gene Griffin:—I would say for everyone to cooperate and do his share as far as everything goes. I believe everyone should vote—that's the American Way. If the people are going to run the government, it takes everyone to do it. Voting is every citizen's duty. Everyone should pay the poll tax. People do not have any complaint coming, if they don't vote.

Mrs. Bess Henneman:—I believe the most important duty is to keep actively informed on what is going on and to exercise the privilege of voting.

Mrs. Dale Kelly:—The most important duty of a citizen is serving God and his fellow citizen. If people would just obey the laws we have, we would have a lot better government. So few people realize the importance of voting until something comes along in which they are especially interested. Many don't pay their poll taxes because they think nothing important is coming up.

Cap Oldham:—The most important duty is voting. Of equal importance is the everyday living of what you really believe—that would make a better government.

Morris Easley:—I'd think voting is the most important. If you vote, that is the most democratic thing you can do, but you are better off not voting unless you understand who and what you are voting for. Know something about the ones in office. Everyone getting out to vote is important.

Mrs. P. L. Dishman:—The most important thing is to pay your poll tax, so you can be a good citizen. I would also stress reading in order to vote intelligently.

School Programs Answer Questions

The late afternoon recreational program for boys at both Central and Shirley Grammar Schools furnishes the answer to a lot of problems, says the principals, D. C. Martin and Byron Durham.

From 4 to 6 o'clock each afternoon, Coaches Rex Lee of Shirley and J. E. Moad of Central provide plenty of activity for the 53 boys who participate in the program.

The program, which takes care of all boys from the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades who wish to participate, has resulted in a fine spirit of competition between the two schools, according to the principals.

Both of the coaches were recommended highly by the principals who said the men have really placed sportsmanship and high ideals above winning and have well-impressed these principles on the boys. They described the boys as the "right age to mold" stressing the importance of the proper guidance in this formative stage of their lives when they are eager to learn. Since the boys understand the game is for fun, fighting in groups or between individuals has not been reported since the program began.

Most of the boys who take part are from town, but several parents who live in the country feel the program is worthwhile and come to town at 6 for their boys.

Before a boy is allowed to participate in the after school activity, he must have written permission from his parents. Roll call is made just as in regular classwork in order that the parents and school authorities may have an accurate check on the whereabouts of the boys—not that they need to be forced to attend. Mr. Martin said the boys become so attached to their "coaches" that one will often walk in the office and say "Mr. Moad;" then with a red face change it to "Mr. Martin."

When a boy misses class, he must bring a written excuse from his parents. If the excuse is not furnished, his name is dropped from the roll.

Seasonal games are played and both the coaches keep the boys out-of-doors when the weather permits.

Health and first aid are also big features of the program. The school authorities believe

Northcutt Wins Third in Festival; Jr. High Softball Tourney Is Held

By MRS. A. L. CROSS

Arcenia Northcutt, who was sponsored by the 4-H Club, won third place in the Clovis cattle festival. Her award was $50.

The clubs sponsored a party last Friday night for funds to vote for Arcenia as cattle queen. Canasta and 42 were enjoyed in the Ralph Northcutt home, while dancing was enjoyed in the Northcutt barn.

The barn was strung with various colored lights, and covered bales of hay were placed around the sides of the barn.

Cake, cookies, doughnuts, coffee, and punch were served to over 50 families of the community.

Mrs. Campbell Is Hostess

The Home Demonstration club met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. A. G. Campbell for an all-day meeting with a covered dish lunch at the noon hour.

One sure way to be prepared is to start early.

Bobby Glenn Watts, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Watts of 207 Short St. in Hereford may some day bring glory on the gridiron to himself and the Whitefaces, and the Dalhart newsman printed the future Herd material's picture in his column and made several interesting and well-phrased comments about the boy and his family.

"... In about 13 years a bunch of us may be out in Dalhart's Memorial stadium cheering for the Wolfpack to put the double whammy on this little fellow who looks like he might be a Whiteface some day," Law commented.

Mrs. Watts is the former Miss Margaret Caldwell and a friend since her college days of the Law family.

New Land Guide Is Adopted Here

At the regular meeting, on October 23, of the supervisors of the Deaf Smith County Wind Erosion District a new and improved guide or outline for the use of all land in the District was discussed and approved. This provides for the safe use of all agricultural lands so that losses from wind and water erosion will be held to a minimum. There is a growing concern in the district about the continuing practice of allowing much irrigation water to run off the land into the barrow ditches and lakes.

Applications for assistance in conservation work were approved for E. B. Luce and Jack Nelson, J. M. Hamby, George E. Herbert and Ben Bush, and Joseph A. Schulte.

The Board passed a resolution extending an invitation to the leaders of all Agricultural Agencies operating within the District to meet with the Board at their convenience in an effort to further the complete job of Soil and Water Conservation.

The Board also discussed the Program and Work Plan for the newly created Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District, which is to become the operating conservation district when all the details are worked out. The old Adams grader which the District has used for many years was sold to H. H. Lanford. Other business matters discussed included repairs for the caterpillar D 7 tractor, storage of vehicles, and revised State Conservation House Bill No. 97, photographic equipment for an educational program, and conservation work on specific farms.

Long Time Ago

45 Years Ago.
We learn from Wm. Atkins of Texico who was in Hereford the first of the week that there was trouble between the Railroad construction company and the negroes near that place Saturday afternoon. As a result of which several of the latter were considerably beaten up. Mr. Atkins also informs us that all the negroes will leave Texico at once.

Each week continues to bring new pupils to the college and already over 100 matriculates have been made. There seems to be a united effort in all parts of the Panhandle to make the Panhandle Christian College a success, even beyond the hopes of the most sanguine.

Railroads will build a town in a financial way but compare the population of the railroad town to that of the school town. With the best equipped college buildings west of Ft. Worth in Texas and with the best teachers which money can procure, it is only a matter of a short time when Hereford will be regarded, far and wide, as the educational center of all West Texas.

The farmers continue to bring in their wheat and oats for shipment, a feature to the grain situation in this county which will be of interest to everyone is that every car of wheat which has been shipped from this point this year has ranged in weight from 60 to 62 pounds to the bushel, the standard in the best wheat countries being only 60 pounds. It should be constantly borne in mind that all this was done on $5 and $10 land in its primitive state of cultivation.

Your ideal answer to every storage need!

Here's the perfect building for general storage, stock shelter or dairy barn. This sturdy, fire-resistant Quonset 40 gives you the added strength, permanence and reliability found only with Stran-Steel's arch-rib, clear-span design. It offers varying-length flexibility, rugged durability and many-use versatility—all at reasonable cost. See us for complete details without delay.

John Dale Kelly Receives Award

John Dale Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Kelly, was one of the 12 4-H Club boys who received awards at the State Fair in Dallas. One boy was selected from each of the 12 districts in the state and John Dale represented this district.

The boys were judged by the Rural Youth committee on the basis of their club records. John Dale's record was obtained from his scrapbook.

"You're not just one-time champions," said James W. Aston, chairman of the fair's Rural Youth Committee. "You have a responsibility to continue as leaders in farm work." He addressed the youths at a banquet honoring 50 outstanding farm youths of Texas, one outstanding student, being chosen from the 4-H Clubs for both boys and girls, the Future Homemakers of America, and the Future Farmers of America in each district.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly and a younger son, Charles, were in Dallas for the banquet. Mrs. Kelly said the president of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce, John W. Carpenter, has offered $100 to a boy and the same amount to a girl for the best letter giving five reasons why "boys and girls should stay on farms." He stressed the fact that the contest is open to all 4-H club boys and girls, F.F.A., and F.H.A. members.

John Dale was graduated from Hereford High school last spring where he was an officer in F. F. A. He is a past president of the county 4-H Club for boys. He is now a freshman at Abilene Christian College.

Joe Easley's team was the first to return with all of the required articles. Each member of this team was awarded a noise maker as a prize.

After all teams had returned they each presented a skit using the properties they had acquired.

Democrats

Your Vote Will Be Counted For
BEN GUILL For Congress

Don't believe anybody who tells you that if you participated in the Democratic primaries you can't vote to re-elect Ben Guill. Your Ballot for Ben Guill will NOT be thrown out. It cannot legally be thrown out.

The Supreme Court of the State of Texas has repeatedly held that the so-called Democratic pledge is not binding in any way. Here is what the Supreme Court has said:

"One who has taken the statutory pledge is legally free to vote as he chooses in the General Election." —16 Tex. Jur., "Elections," Sec. 57

"In Key v. Schneider, 110 Tex. 383, 218 SW 479, 221 SW 880, it was declared that the qualified elector who participated in a primary and took the statutory pledge was legally free to vote as he chose in the General Election."

—Love v. Wilcox, Supreme 8 SW (2d) 515. Court of Tex.,

That is the legal status of the pledge. These decisions mean you can vote for the man of your choice in the General Election on Tuesday, Nov. 7.

What Do Democratic Party Leaders Say?

What do Democratic Party leaders say? Only last July the Chairman of the DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE said officially that every man has the right to vote for the candidate of his choice regardless of party labels.

BEN GUILL Says

"It's about time the political parties started pledging THEIR support to the people, instead of demanding that the people sign pledges that they will support THEM.

"In times like these we should not ask a man if he is a Republican or a Democrat—we should ask only if he is a GOOD AMERICAN. We have no place now for partisan politics or even bi-partisan politics. We have a place only for NON-PARTISAN AMERICANISM."

BEN GUILL Is Doing A Good Job For The Panhandle In Washington. Let's Give Him A Full Term Of His Own.

Re-elect BEN GUILL to CONGRESS of the happiest occasions of her childhood days she recalls, were when the first lamp was brought in to the home and when the first cook stove was purchased.

Railroad Train

There was much astonishment when a railroad train was viewed for the first time. The first tracks were laid from Newton to Salisbury and all stockholders were given a free ride. Her father, being a stockholder, took all of his family on this famous ride. The engine rumbled and panted and groaned and many persons thought the world surely had come to an end.

In 1873 she married P. W. Sigmon, a neighbor boy and in 1892 they came to Texas and settled in Stoneburg. Two years later they moved to Bowie just after its first business house had been built. There they raised their family and took active part in all phases of the Pioneer life of the community.

Mr. Sigmon died in 1904, leaving her with 11 children. She continued to live there until 1941, when she moved to Fort Worth to reside with her daughter, Mrs. G. P. Whitley.

Since she has been confined to her bed or wheel chair, her most interesting pastime is listening to the radio for she is almost blind and cannot now see to do the lovely handwork she previously made.

Mrs. Benefield, who has returned from the celebration, reports that her mother is still very interested in world events and in the progress of her beloved Presbyterian Church. She remembered most of the 125 old friends who attended the open house.

Faye Knox To Sing In University Group

Faye Knox of Hereford, a student at Eastern New Mexico University, will be one of the members of the University choir, which will present its first concert at Portales Thursday evening, November 2, under the baton of its new director, William P. Harrison.

The free concert will feature—in addition to numbers by the 43-voice choir—solos, duets, and ensembles. Harrison has chosen five groups of numbers—sacred selections, vocal ensembles, semi-classical, operatic excerpts and negro spirituals.

Johnnie Foster and son of Belview were Wednesday guests of Mrs. Lela Coltharp and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Vaughn.

Affinities for Some Foods Provide Taste Appeal for Meals of Family

Most people have a sense of taste which in a large measure tells the cook what foods to combine even though her eyes are on the nutritive value of a well balanced meal. Authorities say that saltiness, sweetness and bitterness are all the tastes there are, and in planning the food for a meal the variations of these tastes are as important as the color harmony of the interior of the home, in effect. While every woman's "design for eating" must vary in relation to her family's needs, a study of food combinations for taste is well worth the effort.

Here are two recipes used often by Mrs. Clyde Cave, which provide a good example of affinity between foods, with taste appeal quite apparent in each one.

Cheese Sauce
1-tablespoon butter
1-tablespoon flour
1-cup milk
1-cup grated American cheese.

Melt butter and add the flour and blend. Add the milk and when it begins to thicken add the cheese. Stir constantly or cook in double boiler to prevent burning.
