Soldier In Korea Asks For Letters

"Operations mailbag!" That's what The Hereford Brand has been asked to promote for a lonely American soldier in Korea, who would like to correspond with some nice young girls in this community.

We'll surely help to enlist the aid of some "pen pals" from Deaf

Smith county for a fighting man who craves letters from home.

In Saturday's mail, we came across the following letter:

"Dear Mr. Editor:

My reason for writing this letter to you is to obtain the address of some nice young girls that would be interested in corresponding with a soldier in Korea.

"If possible, I would like to get my name and address in your paper so that some of these girls might see it and drop me a line.

"At the present time, I haven't been getting much mail and I felt that perhaps I could remedy that situation by writing to you. Anything you could do for me in behalf of my mail situation would be deeply appreciated. If it is impossible to get my name, address and motive in your paper, then maybe you could give me a few ideas how I might contact some 'sweet young things'."

Sincerely,

Lyle Blanton, 1951 "Man Of Year", Honored Friday

"Do you have a sense of humor?"

After asking the 350 guests at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet that question Friday night, Edward McFaul, former professor of psychology at the University of Chicago, proceeded to tweak each and every funny bone in the Hotel Jim Hill ballroom.

McFaul kept the audience reeling with his brash humor and his animated delivery throughout the 45 minutes he spoke to the annual gathering.

He reached into his bag of humorous anecdotes and just kept dealing them out to his listeners.

The Chicagoan said that if a person lacks a sense of humor, he also lacks a sense of balance. You never know where you'll find humor, he offered.

"When there is something in your life you can't change, you'd better learn to live with it," he counseled. Telling how students at a school for the blind learned to live with their handicaps through a sense of humor, he added, "If you can find humor in a school for the blind, you can find it right here in Hereford, Texas."

Listing the places where one can find humor, McFaul began reeling off jokes about perfume counters, restaurants, marriage, life itself, etc.

Humor changes, he reminded his audience, showing how humor has progressed through the "mule, knock-knock, practical joker, church social" and other stages.

In illustrating his point, McFaul sharpened some "old saws" to the best advantage. What makes people laugh? "A thing is funny only when you're in the mood for fun," he intoned. "There is no joke for a common denominator for an any audience in the world. There are lots of common denominators in the world of sorrows."

"It is easier to be long-faced than to be happy or triumphant." "Human dumbness" is the most accepted common denominator for humor in the world, McFaul said. "Why do we laugh at dumb merron stories? Because we like to hear about someone dumber than we are."

We are likely to laugh at the incongruities of life if they are not too twisted, the humorist told the group. Sometimes we get pretty important in our own mind as to who we are, he cautioned. To remedy this, he suggested that we put half ourself on the stage of life and half ourself in the gallery of life and "have a good laugh at yourself."

"I am talking about pretensions, not duty. There is never anything funny in the ultimate. . . . Anyone who can laugh at the ultimate is either a fool or a cynic."

Humor can be found sometimes when a superior person falls. Humor can be found in the pun, which is the childhood path over which we must all travel. There

Hereford Man's Father Dies At Portales Wed.

Funeral services for Charles Robert Owens of Portales, father of Charles W. Owens, were conducted Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the First Baptist church in Friona.

There was also services conducted Friday morning in Portales.

Burial was in the Friona cemetery.

Owens died on January 23 at his home in Portales following a long illness.

Born February 11, 1882, in Austin, Owens was married to Emma Sharp in 1908 in Iowa Park, Texas. He lived in Friona for 20 years before moving to Portales about four years ago.

Survivors include: seven sons, Charles W. Owens of Hereford; Juel S. Owens, El Paso; Jim E. Owens, Bovina; A. R. Owens, California; Floyd Owens, Albuquerque; Louis and Dale Owens of Portales and one sister, Mrs. George Duren of Electra, Texas.

Lyle Blanton is Hereford's "Man Of The Year" for 1951.

Presentation of the honor—an annual recognition by the Hereford Lions club for outstanding service to the community—was made at Friday night's annual Chamber of Commerce banquet by Ray Cowser, president of the Lions.

Recognition of the "Man Of The Year" was one of four awards made at the annual event. In presenting the award, Cowser outlined the community service rendered by Blanton since he moved here from Gruber in 1937.

Hereford's new "Man Of The Year" was cited by the Lions club president for his unselfish work on behalf of Boys Ranch since the beginning of its career in 1939. In addition to supplying the organization with its needs in bottled gas for five years until the laying of a natural gas pipeline, Blanton still retains active interest in the rehabilitation work for boys there as a member of the ranch's board of directors.

Service to the community rendered by Blanton during his years (1946-1950) as city commissioner was also recounted by Cowser in making the presentation of the trophy recognizing him as "Man Of The Year."

Humanitarianism displayed by the 1951 "Man Of The Year" was also revealed at the presentation. A private pilot, Blanton has on many occasions made his own airplane as well as his services available to persons in distress and flying them to down-state hospitals and medical specialists.

Mr. and Mrs. Blanton are the parents of two children: Mrs. Todd Herrington of Midland; and Darrell, of Hereford, who is associated with his father in the Blanton Butane Co.

Other presentations made at Friday's banquet were lifetime membership in the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce given to Mrs. Elmer Patterson and Burlie Elliston.

Mrs. Patterson, Hereford, respondent for the Amarillo Globe-Times, was given the recognition for her efforts in publicizing Hereford and Deaf Smith county through the press with story and pictures.

Elliston, former president of the Chamber of Commerce, former manager of the Palo Duro Canyon State park, and local realtor, was honored for his untiring efforts in spreading the word about Deaf Smith county through film and lecture in 43 states of the nation and in Canada.

Bob Wear, who made the presentation to Mrs. Patterson, and to Elliston, explained that unbeknown to many residents, the "Old Horse Thief" had made these tours showing a color movie of this area at his own expense.

Both were presented with framed lifetime membership certificates.

"Full Steam" Behind Final "March of Dimes" Effort

The final days of the 1952 "March of Dimes" campaign in Deaf Smith county are going under full steam.

This year's campaign had reached the $2,000 mark on Saturday morning with everyone pulling to top the $8,000 goal for the county.

Hereford was "dime conscious" for the polio-drive all day Saturday. The community's "coffee habit" was paying off with all proceeds from 10c cups of coffee going to the "March of Dimes" kitty.

You couldn't buy a penny's worth of parking at any of Hereford's parking meters on Saturday as the city donated all revenue from the meters — at 10c a throw — to the campaign.

Three more big promotions remain on the calendar for the drive—the Jaycee radio program, the Mother's March, and three VFW sponsored dances.

The radio program Sunday is expected to net another $2,000 for the drive and everyone is urged to tune in on the program that starts at 1:45 over KPAN — 860 kilocycles.

Hereford has been divided into eight districts for the radio campaign and there will be Jaycees assigned to each district to pick up donations that are called to the radio station during the afternoon.

There will be local talent on hand all afternoon to furnish entertainment. Plans are also being made to interview several polio victims who have been helped by the "March of Dimes."

The Child Study club will hold its annual "Mothers March For Polio" on Thursday night between 6 and 8 p.m. During this two-hour period, members of the Child Study club and volunteer workers will contact every home in Hereford.

All the home that are not contacted during the blanket drive but would like to make a contribution to the drive are asked to call either Mrs. Maurice Tannahill or the chairman of their district.

The slogan "Dance so that others may walk", is being used by the VFW to promote their three "March of Dimes" benefit dances on February 1.

There will be ballroom dancing to the music of Jack Hay's orchestra at Hotel Jim Hill; square dancing at Fireman's hall with the Shirley Brothers band and a teen-age dance at the clubhouse in Veteran's park.

All dances start at 9 o'clock.

NPA Irrigation Meeting At Lubbock On Monday

A meeting of all water well drillers, pump manufacturers and distributors and prospective well owners to explain the new National Production Authority order covering water or irrigation wells has been scheduled for Monday, Jan. 28 at 2 p.m. in the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce building, 902 Texas avenue, Lubbock.

The NPA has announced a new procedure to be followed by water well drillers and prime contractors in applying for authorized construction schedules for water wells including irrigation wells.

Previously, farm and home owners were required to file an application for authority to commence a water well and for allotment of controlled material if completion of the well required the use of more than two tons of steel and 200 pounds of copper per project per quarter. Wells requiring no more than this amount did not require an application. The farmer and the home owner may still follow this procedure if they desire, but an alternative have been provided through Dir. 4 to CMP Regulation 6.

Under the new system which becomes effective in the second quarter of 1952, the water well contractor or driller may file a ever had. I also taught one year in Wayland college. I resigned from the Hereford schools in 1945 and started doing Veterans Service work in Deaf Smith and Oldham counties. I raised my children in Hereford, each one graduating from high school here.

"To those that do not know me I would ask that you contact the parents or students that I have taught as to my past record as a teacher and to character. I tried to teach good citizenship as well as music. I would be happy for you to talk to any of the Veterans I have served as I have tried to give them the best and most courteous service. If you feel that I am qualified and entitled to your vote, I would appreciate your help and if you should elect me to this office, I will assure you that I will give the most efficient and courteous service possible. This is the first time I have asked the voters of Deaf Smith county for a public office."

CMP-4C application with NPA, for a quarterly allotment of steel and copper sufficient to drill all wells for which he may contract in the following quarter requiring the use of not more than six tons of steel and 200 pounds of copper. Individual applications must be filed for each well using more than these amounts.

The deadline date for filing of the application by the contractor is 45 days before the first day of each calendar quarter; therefore, the deadline date for filing second quarter applications is February 15.

In addition to the CMP-4C application, Form CMP-65 which is a base period and inventory reporting form, must accompany all original quarterly applications. A water well driller is defined as any person who is engaged in the business of constructing or drilling of water wells.

The new system will provide two distinct advantages for water well contractors and prospective owners:

(1) It will assure the contractor of a supply of steel and copper for three months operation.

(2) It will offer relief for the farmer and home owner from filing an application if he has contracted with the water well driller and will use no more than 6 tons of steel and 200 pounds of copper.

Personnel of the District Office of the U. S. Department of Commerce, National Production Authority, in Lubbock pointed out that in figuring their steel requirements for a well, the weight of all casing, whether new, used or shop fabricated, must be included. The contractor is still permitted to use steel and copper obtained by his customer to drill the customer's wells, but he may not include these amounts in his requirements for quarterly allotment.

Farm owners who wish to obtain their own materials to drill their own wells or furnish material to the driller must request approval and submit CMP-4C applications to the County Production and Marketing Association Committee in the county where the well is to be located if their requirements are more than 2

State Has 13,211 4-Fs Awaiting Re-Examination In Near Future

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 9.—Texas draft boards have a total of 13,211 men classified 4-F who must be re-examined by the armed forces, Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, state Selective Service director, said here today.

The men to be re-examined are those who have failed the armed forces mental test. These men have been acceptable to the armed forces on physical and moral grounds. Amendments to the draft law in 1951 require that these men be re-examined because of armed forces lowered mental standards.

National draft headquarters on December 13th called for re-examination of class 4-F registrants who have been found unacceptable by armed forces examining stations solely for mental reasons.

Headquarters directed all local boards to report the number of men in this category. The survey as a result of this showed the state total of 13,211.

State headquarters already has called on the draft boards to furnish 2,391 of these 4-F registrants for re-examination in January. No calls for future months have been received. Calls for re-examination of these men must come from national draft headquarters.

According to survey results, only about 15 per cent of these men classified 4-F in Texas are so classified for failing the armed forces mental test alone.

Nationally, according to Selective Service headquarters in Washington, an estimated 300,000 solely for failing to pass this test. There are probably a million and a quarter 4-Fs over the nation and its territories.

Westway School Changing Into Community Hall

WESTWAY — The Westway schoolhouse is no more — instead the building is being transformed into an attractive community and worship center. Slick Miles of Hereford has been the head carpenter on the job and the men in the community have worked with him as much as possible.

Improvements were made mostly in the auditorium where the sliding doors were removed, a new hard wood floor laid, new windows put in and the interior painted. The east windows were removed and a double door entrance made. A small room was built in one corner to provide a place for supplies and a niche for men's hats. The space formerly used for a hall will be used for a Sunday school class room and the large room on the north has been divided into four classrooms.

Hardwood floors will probably be laid in these rooms also and all will be painted. Pale green paint has been used for redecorating the rooms.

More stucco will be put on the outside which will be given a white dash.
The young people are making plans for an outdoor recreation space and for landscaping and cleaning up the grounds.
Billy Jackson started the project and has been finance chairman and Merlin Kaul has been chairman of the improvement committee.

"Grass Roots" Voting Unit Is Formed Here

Hereford's business and professional men—and some of their employees — will soon be "casting their vote" on pending national legislation.

Their wishes on legislation will be forwarded to Washington and the nation's senators and representatives by the local unit of the National Federation of Independent Business, now being organized in Hereford.

Aim of the Federation is to let the sons know what the people back home think about proposed legislation.
Once each month a bulletin called "The Mandate" is sent out to every member. In the bulletin are several pieces of legislation currently being considered by Congress.

The member marks an endorsed ballot showing how he would vote on each bill. The ballot is then mailed to a local member of the federation selected as the tabulator. This member makes up the tabulation and sends the results to his district congressman.

Bringing the indirect voting on national legislation back to the grass roots stage was an idea spawned in 1944 by a group of business and professional men.

Today it has the largest individual membership of any business organization in the county. Operating on a non-profit basis, the federation sounds out its members by ballot each month and sends the results to congressmen and senators.

The legislation to be voted on is selected by a committee in Washington headed by George J. Burger. The bills are sifted by the committee and the ones most important to the independent businessman are used in the monthly poll.

George Roberts of Amarillo, who is forming the local group, is inviting each independent business — with a top limit of 10 employees — to join. The employee limit is imposed to limit any large firm from controlling the voting strength.

To date, Roberts said, all major cities in the nation have been organized along with many of the secondary cities. Now, the organization is working on the smaller cities, villages and towns.

When the nation-wide organization is complete it will be broken down into 48 chapters — one for each state — and the same service on state legislation will be provided by the 48 chapters.

Men who will be contacted by Roberts within the next few days will be all types of independent and professional men, farmers and ranchers in and around Hereford.

Charges Fraud In Sale of Annuity

Fraudulent representation in the sale of a $100,000 annuity saving bond is charged by Herbert E. Bippus of Deaf Smith county against the Sam Houston Life Insurance company of Houston and Fred Pryor, Lubbock, agent for the company.

Bippus seeks cancellation of a $100,000 note he executed and delivered to Pryor as agent for the company on August 30, 1951, return of $6,000 he paid to the company as interest on the note for the first year, court costs, and interest on the $6,000 from the date of delivery of the check, August 30, 1951.

The case was filed in district court by attorneys for Bippus on January 17.

In his petition, Bippus alleges that on August 16, 1951, Pryor, as defendant corporation's agent, represented the purchase price of an annuity savings bond the plaintiff wanted to buy as $100,000. Pryor said it would be unnecessary for the plaintiff to actually pay the defendant the sum of $100,000 as the bond would have cash loan value of $100,000 immediately after acquisition, the petition alleges, and that Bippus use the cash loan privileges for purposes of paying the cash purchase price of said bond by executing a note without personal liability which would be secured solely by said bond, the note being for a principal sum of $100,000, and by executing a check for $6,000, which would constitute the payment of interest on the $100,000 loan for the first year.

Bippus further charged in his petition that on the occasion mentioned above, Pryor further represented that under the terms of the bond to be delivered to Bippus there would be a clause guaranteeing the plaintiff an annual payment of dividends beginning with the first year by the defendant corporation in a principal annual sum of $2,500 plus an annual interest payment by the defendant corporation to the plaintiff on the bond of 2 1/2% or $2,500 annually.

The agent also represented, Bippus alleged, that under existing federal income tax laws, the $6,000 to be paid annually by Bippus as interest on the $100,000 loan was deductible as an expense from Bippus' income for the year in which it was paid; that the annual dividend of $2,500 to be received by the plaintiff was not includable in Bippus' income for tax purposes; and that the interest to be paid annually to him was not includable within his income.

On or about August 30, 1951, the petition charges, Pryor and Bippus met in the Hereford State bank at which time and place Bippus executed and delivered to Pryor as agent for the Sam Houston Life Insurance company a note for a principal sum of $100,000 payable to the Sam Houston Life Insurance company which contained a clause stating that no personal liability on the part of the plaintiff arose by virtue thereof and which was secured by the annuity savings bond at which time the plaintiff executed and delivered to Pryor a check payable to the defendant corporation in the sum of $6,000.

Bippus further charges that at the time of the delivery of the check, Pryor told him again that the bond contained clauses which guaranteed an annual dividend payment beginning with the first year of $2,500 and that Bippus would also receive $2,500 annual interest payment. He also said that Pryor represented that upon maturity, the bond would have a guaranteed maturity value of $160,000 from which the $100,000 loan would be deducted, leaving a net payment to Bippus of $60,000 out of the guaranteed maturity; that the $6,000 annual interest paid by the plaintiff was deductible from his income tax and that the dividends and interest to be received by Bippus annually would not be taxable.

According to the petition, unbeknown to the plaintiff, the representations were false because the bond didn't provide for an annual payment of dividends in the principal sum of $2,500 beginning with the first year; the bond does not contain a 2 1/2% annual interest clause; and that contrary to statements by the agent, any dividends paid under the profit-sharing clause of the bond would be taxable as income; and that any interest received would be taxable.

Bippus charges that the statements made by Pryor were false and fraudulent and known to Pryor as agent of the Sam Houston Life Insurance company to be false at the time of making. He would not have signed, Bippus charged, were it not for the representations made by Pryor.

The plaintiff alleges that he didn't have the opportunity to examine the bond before execution and delivery of the $100,000 note and $6,000 check. Pryor fraudulently procured Bippus to sign, execute and deliver the check and the note, the petition charges.

Bippus asks in his petition that his bond and note be cancelled and judged void and he have judgment of $6,000 plus interest since the date of payment, and costs of the suit.

Attorneys for Bippus are Witherspoon, Alkin and Thomas.

Choirs Are Entertained

Choirs of the First Baptist church were entertained at a banquet held at the church Tuesday night.

Mrs. J. B. Harlin, chairman, and Mesdames Jack Roberson, Jimmie Allred, Bill Price and Dennis Baker were in charge of arrangements and Mrs. Wayne Evans, chairman, and Mesdames D. C. Kinsey and George Graham arranged decorations.

The musical theme was prominent with the musical staff and notes adorning tables. The speakers' table was centered with a harp arranged with pink gladioli and flanked by pink tapers.

Bob Lawrence was master of ceremonies and the invocation was given by Rev. R. H. Cagle.

Six persons modeled different styles of choir robes which will be the gift of an unnamed member of the church. Those modeling the robes were Peggy Graham for the junior choir, Mrs. Bob Lawrence for the intermediate and Mrs. O. G. Hill, the adult choir.

Modeling the men's robes were Johnny Pool, A. J. Schroeter and J. T. Wood.

The main speaker for the evening was Eugene Phelps, musical director of the Amarillo First Baptist church, who spoke on choir music and its proper selection and rendition.

Bay View Study Club Has Program On Modern Classics

A program on "Modern Classics" was presented at the Bay View Study Club session held Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Colby Conkwright. Roll call was answered as members participated in the "March of Dimes" roll call.

Mrs. J. W. Kirby was leader of the program which had to do with the life of Willa Cather. In discussing "The World of Willa Cather", Mrs. Kirby told how the author came from Ireland to Virginia and later to Nebraska, becoming editor of several magazines and writing many books.

"People she knew became Willa Cather's world and her characters as she wrote of them were real people whom she had encountered", she said.

Mrs. C. J. Crump reviewed Willa Cather's "The Lost Lady" the story of a second wife who was lost to herself. "She was not so much a character as a thin miniature painted on ivory—and it would have been no more fun in cheating her than cheating in a game of solitaire. Mrs. Crump reported.

Members attending the meeting were: Mesdames D. H. Alexander, Phillip Barkley, H. L. Benefield, C. J. Crump, Howard Gault, E. W. Harrison, George Heard, A. M. Jones, W. S. Kerr, J. W. Kirby, Paul Mathers, J. P. Slaton, J. W. Spradley, H. C. Williams, Bob Wilson, Miss Frances Turrentine and the hostess.

Some of the A&M students who are home for mid-semester vacation are: Peyton Ramey, Pat Kerr, Joe Hershey, Kieth Savage, James Durham, and James Alston.

"Sugar On The Slate" Satire On Revolutionary Teaching Methods

Reviewed by Corinne Jennings

"Sugar on the Slate" was the phrase coined by the teachers in Peyton junior high to cover the new ideas, theories, projects, and such, absorbed by their principal, Mr. Burkhardt, at the summer sessions he attended and brought back to put into practice. The book by the same name is authored by Don Fontaine.

Many of the new practices were short-lived, but this year following summer work shop, Mr. Burkhardt was convinced the program of instructional activities would have a more lasting effect of jolting Peyton's teachers and pupils out of their complacency.

To aid him in the new project, he was able to hire the lively Miss Malvinia Phipps—who taught Latin in another school—to join his staff. She was the one who started the thing off just as he had planned and expected by presenting a Roman extravaganza, "Spectaculum Romanum." It got out of hand once, but on the whole it had the desired effect of bringing most of the others in line, and each began his own activity.

Mildred Pilson believed in following a traditional form of teaching and up to the second quarter of the year had continued to follow the same pattern of pedagogy. But after the Latin show, things began to change and she found that she was the only one not supporting Burkhardt. At first she ridiculed and scorned the others for deserting her, but on a little snooping tour she found even her best friend had been won over to the ranks, and was running a bank and minting money in her arithmetic class.

At her friend's suggestion, she planned one of her own that was to out-do them all and she almost did the trick. On a tour of a nearby farm where an older boy had recently won a championship with his 4-H calf, everything was going pretty fair until one inquisitive girl, Rose, began questions which were checked in time there, but when taken home had the parents calling with others about beginning a new course in the school.

The discussion led to a near riot with many of the women walking out so that plan was abandoned but not before the principal had a number of phone calls and a few headaches over Miss Pilson's project.

Not only were the teachers striving to out-do each other now but the children were thoroughly awake and the parents plenty busy helping with the said activities.

But it took the school's "City Government Day" a project of running the town for a day, to get the whole town and even the railroad company up in arms. An up-to-date lawyer worked unbeknownst to the city officials and citizens with one of the teachers and the elected children officers. (Rose was elected the mayor), dug up some of the ancient town laws (which every town has). When these were put into use, trouble really began.

This episode and the Peyton school's loss of the championship in a quiz program to a smaller rural school brought a revolt against the new mode of teaching. With the trustees in the lead and about all the parents in town, a mass meeting followed the City Government Day where the principal is called to return to the old modes of learning.

This book comes recommended to you by a teacher, Mrs. Purris Williams; an ex-teacher, Mrs. N. G. Elliston; a high school reader, Janice Craig; and a well-read man, H. F. Neely, for its subtle humor and light satire, its truth as to what happens when new methods are tried, from the teachers and a pupil's angle.

Never dry, highly entertaining and informative, it is suggested for your reading by Mrs. J. J. Boydston, librarian of the county library.

County HD Agent Reports

By Argen Draper
County HD Agent

The Texas Forest Service is again offering seedling to farm families for windbreaks. These seedlings will cost the farmer $1 per hundred plus express or motor freight charges.

The species available are: Chinese elm, cottonwood, osage orange, arbutus elm (this is small leaf Chinese elm, slower growth than regular Chinese elm. Probably best for windbreak), red cedar, Russian mulberry, sycamore, and thornless honeylocust.

If you are interested in a windbreak, go to see several first. The spacing is so much more easily "seen". There are a number of excellent windbreaks in the county. Your former home demonstration agent, Miss Sadie Lee Oliver, who is one of the best horticulturists in the state of Texas, did excellent work in Deaf Smith county in helping farm families plan windbreaks to stop wind and sand. To drive by a windbreak does not answer the questions you should have answered in regard to setting out a windbreak.

Some of the good demonstrations are on these farmsteads: N. G. Elliston, Ira Ott, A. E. Jury, former Liston Wilson place, five miles south on Highway 51, Mrs. Bess Werner, former Dick Barnard place fourteen miles north on Highway 51, and J. T. Guinn. There are others over the county. Some of them large enough to give protection and others just started.

To plant a windbreak that will give satisfactory protection, plant at least three rows; other rows can be added later. One row should be evergreen. This year red cedar is the only evergreen available through the Texas Forest Service. In planning a windbreak get it at least 100 feet from he has been visiting relatives.

The Elbert Walkers have been having their share of illness this winter. Last week two of their three little sons were hospitalized with virus infection. The third child was staying at the home of Elbert's mother, Mrs. John Wood and at last report it was feared that he might have contracted the infection.

The R. N. Cooke family left Saturday for their new home in Nacogdoches. They have visited often in homes in this community and helped in various community enterprises. Success and happiness is wished for them in their new home.

Andy Kersten is using this "in-between" farming season to add to the attractiveness of his new home. He has been busy the past few days setting out a windbreak of evergreen trees and building new fences.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thompson have sold their farm at Bootleg and are moving to South Dakota. Walter is leaving at once but Mrs. Thompson and Charles Murray will complete the school term here.

Addresses of service men from this community include:

Pfc. Raymond Morrison; HF 18-421-025, HQ, HQ, Sq.; March AFB, Riverside, Calif.

Pfc. Bill Roberts, US 54039134; Co. A, 160 INF, Regt. 40 Div. APO 6; c/o P. M. San Francisco, Calif.

Cpl. Carl Schroeder, RA 1836-4803; Co. B, 66 Med. Tk. Bn. APO 42, c/o P. M. New York, N. Y.

Cpl. Schroeder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schroeder, 205 Norton street in Hereford, and formerly of this community, is now serving in the Arms department with the Army in Germany. He is stationed near Mainz in the French zone. Before Christmas he was hospitalized for about a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Townsend and girls were visitors last Sunday in the home of Mrs. Townsend's sister, Mrs. A. A. Allen at Adrian.

West Hereford HD Club Meets

West Hereford Home Demonstration club held a regular meeting with Mrs. Edd Cox Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Carlos Vaughn, president, led the group in reading the club collect, "Just For Today".

Roll call was answered with special assignments and during recreation, Mrs. Roy Boyd was the prize winner.

Mrs. Howard Gore was leader for the program on "Kitchen Equipment" with Mrs. Tom Draper, CHDA, speaking on large kitchen equipment which she has in the house.

There should be enough space between rows for cultivation. When the trees grow the shade will control weed growth but for several years the ground will need to be worked.

The trees should be given sufficient space in the row for maximum growth; use Chinese elm, honey locust, green ash and other trees that drop their leaves in the winter and plant them 10 to 15 feet apart.

This nursery stock is available from the Texas Forest Service at Alto, Texas. When orders are filled by this nursery they will send you instructions on how to obtain the best growth from tree seedlings.

Seedlings are so small, it might be a good idea to have a tree row in the garden so you can give them the best of care. Then plan to transplant them to the permanent windbreak when they are large enough.

Order blanks may be obtained from the Extension offices at the Courthouse, for windbreak plantings on farmsteads.

said should be convenient, sanitary and pleasant.

Mrs. Draper announced that four kitchen demonstrations will be held the coming year.

Reports from committees were heard and the club constitution, by-laws and policies were read and revised. Announcement was made of Recreation Training School on February 7-8 at Veterans park, and of a school on organization scheduled for February 11. Announcement was also made of the First Aid Course now being conducted on Tuesdays and Fridays in the home of Mrs. Louie Olson with Mrs. Earl DeHart as director.

Members present were: Mesdames Ulys Pierce, Jack Flowers, Edna Bove, Howard Gore, Carlos Vaughn, Roy Boyd, Tom Draper, Minnie Walker, John Jacobsen Sr., Frank Wilde, R. H. Hale, P. H. Luck, Vern Witherspoon, Wes Bradley and the hostess.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN CLARK

John Clarks Observe 60th Wedding Anniv.

Thursday was almost like any other day for Mr. and Mrs. John W. Clark, but not quite, for January 24 marked 60 years of married life for the couple. Although no special recognition of the day was made, because of ill health, the day was crowded with memories that set it apart from all the rest.

The couple was married in Southwest City, Mo. They came to Texas in 1910 and have been residents of Hereford for 42 years. He owned and operated a blacksmith shop until 1927 when he was injured in a fall breaking his hip. He has not been able to work since.

They live alone and do everything together. They help each other keep house, shop for groceries, and when one goes to visit their daughter, Mrs. Art Grimes, the other goes too. He is still able to drive the car and they make some sort of a little trip almost every day.

For years after his accident, Mr. Clark was able to have a few chickens and a little garden, but lately he has had to give up all outside activities. That doesn't mean they have lost interest in the outside world, however, and their faces glow as they talk about their immediate family. Besides Mrs. Grimes they have one other daughter, Mrs. H. L.

Stewart of Fayetteville, Ark. Their proudest possessions are their four grandchildren whose pictures occupy a prominent place in their home.

At 80 and 78 years respectively, Mr. and Mrs. Clark gave the impression of looking forward while enjoying the past, and presenting a challenge to those of younger years to "Grow old along with me—the best is yet to be."

Modern Music Study Continued By Club

Mrs. Jeff Gilbreath was leader of the lesson—which continued the study of modern music—at the Music Study club session held Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Ellis Coombes.

Mrs. Gilbreath told something of the composers featured in the program for the afternoon, giving descriptive background for selections presented.

Of Ravel, she said: "He was born in France in 1885 and began composing in 1901. Although he was not a modern, he adhered to the ballet, sonatas and music for orchestration."

"Rachmaninoff wrote Russian music. He had a perfect ear for pitch and was master of all moods. He visited America in 1909 for the first time."

"deFalla was a Spaniard, but studied in France turning to gypsy folklore. He died in South America in 1946."

"Strauss was born in Munich in 1867 and died in Bavaria in 1949. He wrote many operas in many countries."

"Debussy lived in France all of his life. He began to study music at an early age and is called the father of modern music."

The musical portion of the program included: "Sonatine—First movement (Ravel) played by Mrs. J. C. McCracken; "Romance" (Rachmaninoff) Mrs. Bob Lawrence; "Valse Caprice" (deFalla), Mrs. Bill Brady; "Traumerel, Op. 9 No. 4" (Strauss) and Mrs. J. E. Beyer.

Building the program on the motto, "There is a woman at the beginning of all great things", members of the Pioneer Study club heard panel discussions on the subject, "Woman's World", at the meeting of the club held Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. E. Beyer.

During the business session, Mrs. N. E. Gass gave a report on current events in the national and state federations, stressing the safety program and calling attention to safety hazards in Hereford. She also conducted a quiz on hand signals.

Beauty at Home

By Lynn Carter

Q. My face is very dry and sensitive to soap. How can I wash it?

A. Try washing it with warm milk. Women with dry, scaly skins should also drink plenty of milk daily to supply their skins with the nourishment needed to keep it firm and clear. Milk cleanses because of its creamy consistency, softens and whitens the skin.

Q. What can I do for chapped hands?

A. A good healing pomade can be made of one ounce each of cocoa butter, oil of sweet almonds one dram pure oxide of zinc, one dram of borax, and six drops of your favorite perfume oil. Use this at night before retiring.

Q. How can I keep my arms white-looking?

A. Make a paste with a few lumps of laundry starch and cold water. Rub this on the arms, let it dry and stay on for a half-hour, then rinse off with cold water.

Q. What is a good skin bleach I can mix at home?

A. Mix a tablespoon of rose-water and three tablespoons of pure lemon juice. Leave this on the skin for five minutes, then rinse off with warm water. Then apply some almond oil.

Q. How can I exercise to raise a slumped chest and to flatten the abdomen?

A. Lie flat on back, legs together, spine pressed against floor. Hands on shoulders, elbows pressed well down at sides, chin level. Now, extend arms above head (keeping them close to floor), and bend right knee to chest. Replace leg and arm to starting position. Repeat with the left leg. Alternate 10 times.

Q. How should the bulging type of eyes be made up?

A. Use only dark eyeshadow and blend it up to the eyebrows.

Q. How can I clean my knees and heels more effectively?

A. Add a little powdered pumice to a soap lather, and scrub these areas round and round with a brush. Rinse and massage with hand lotion.

Q. How can I best encourage good complexion?

A. Regular elimination is vital. And you must spend some time outdoors in the fresh air. When you have beaten the "inside" problems, concentrate on creams to smooth the outer layers of skin. At least one daily cleansing with warm water and soap is necessary. Use a complexion brush three times weekly to stimulate the skin. And always follow your washings with lubricating cream.

Q. How can I conceal dark circles under my eyes?

A. They will be less prominent if rouged slightly.

ANSWERS TO THE QUESTION

Why Should I Join the V.F.W.?

FOR ALL OVERSEAS VETERANS IN THIS AREA

ELIGIBILITY to membership in the Veterans of Foreign Wars is a priceless privilege. This distinction must be earned by overseas military service. It can never be purchased with gold or favors.

To the eligible veteran, the Veterans of Foreign Wars offers an opportunity for patriotic service to community, state and nation—plus the chance to help protect the benefits to which he is entitled under the law.

The membership dues in the average Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars seldom exceed the nominal sum of $5.00 per year. This is an insignificant investment for the eligible veteran who appreciates the opportunity to help preserve and protect certain government benefits to which he, or his loved ones, may be presently entitled—and other benefits for which he, or his dependents, may be qualified under future emergencies.

Compare this small investment of $5.00 per year to an insurance premium amounting to at least $200 annually, which non-veterans would be required to pay in exchange for equal benefits.

Every benefit being granted to veterans by the federal government can be credited to the Veterans of Foreign Wars. From the day this organization was founded in 1899, the V.F.W. has fostered the basic veteran welfare principles upon which all veteran legislation is established today.

Every eligible veteran owes it to himself, and to his dependents, to subscribe to the one form of "insurance protection"—membership in the Veterans of Foreign Wars—that will help safeguard and preserve the government benefits to which he is entitled.

TO HELP PROTECT THESE GOVERNMENT BENEFITS

1. Free hospitalization, for service-connected disabilities, in government hospitals, including necessary medical or surgical treatment. Free hospitalization and medical treatment, for non-service-connected disabilities, optional in discretion of Veterans Administration.
2. Out-patient and dental treatment, and prosthetic appliances.
3. Vocational rehabilitation, including formal education or on-the-job training, for service-disabled war veterans.
4. Domiciliary care in V.A. Homes or State Soldiers Homes for veterans unable to earn a livelihood due to permanent physical disabilities or ailments due to accidents or old age.
5. Compensation ranging from $15 to $360 monthly for war veterans with 10 per cent or more service-connected disabilities.
6. Compensation ranging from $12 to $288 monthly for peacetime veterans with 10 per cent or more service-connected disabilities.
7. Dependency allowances for dependents of veterans who are service-disabled 50 per cent or more.
8. Pensions ranging from $60 to $120 monthly for war veterans (90 days or more of honorable service) with permanent and total non-service-connected disabilities.
9. Pensions for widows and dependent children of service-deceased veterans starting at $75 per month for a widow, plus allowances for children.
10. Pensions for widows and dependent children of deceased World War I veterans starting at $42 per month for widows, plus extra allowances for children. Some pension provision applies to widows and dependent children of deceased World War II veterans where said veterans had some degree of service-connected disability at time of death.
11. Pensions for Spanish-American War veterans, from $60 to $120 monthly.
12. Payment by the Veterans Administration of up to $10,000 on a specially constructed home on behalf of any veteran who has lost the use of his two lower limbs in service.

13. Payment by the Veterans Administration up to $1,600 on an automobile for a veteran of WW II or service after June 26, 1950, when the veteran has lost the use of one or both feet or hands or is substantially blind, such disability having been incurred in service.

14. Aid to World War II veterans on home and business loans.

15. Burial allowance of $150 for all veterans, regardless of the size of estate left to the next of kin.

16. Free burial rights in any National Cemetery for all veterans.

17. Flag for nearest of kin when any veteran dies.

18. Special preference for veterans in Civil Service employment.

19. Free access to the help of U. S. Employment Service and Veterans Placement Service in every state.

TO AVAIL YOURSELF OF THESE V.F.W. BENEFITS

1. Free assistance from Service Officer, Employment Officer and Welfare Officer in every V.F.W. Post.
2. Free access to the help of V.F.W. National Rehabilitation Service in each Regional Office of the Veterans Administration.
3. Representation before Service Department Boards in Washington, D. C., as to retirement and correction of service records.
4. Deposit of copies of service records with Post Service Officers so as to insure prompt action in establishing entitlement to hospitalization or to establish eligibility to benefits for widows and orphans in event of veteran's death.
5. Protection of existing veteran welfare benefits, and the enactment of new legislation favoring veterans, through representation by the V.F.W. National Legislative Service.
6. Admission without cost to the V.F.W. National Home for the widows and orphans of deceased V.F.W. members.
7. The opportunity to participate in V.F.W. social activities and facilities on the Post level.
8. The right to wear the emblem of membership in the only veterans organization that is composed exclusively of overseas veterans.

Letter To The Editor

To The Editor:

I believe you to be broad-minded enough to consider these few remarks in regard to the rotten laws being forced upon us by our trusted law-makers.

The factories are over-stocked with new cars that they can't sell to the working class as long as they have a good car, these companies get together, work out their plans to force people to buy. They go to our representatives, show them that to protect the public every car owner should be able to pay any damages he should of course, sounds good. So they can form an insurance co., and have no doubt that these same trusted law-makers of ours hold heavy stock in the company. Course it costs them nothing and is a money-making business, we all swallow that, it sounds fair and right but here is what they are working up to. The manufacturers point to these same trusted lawmakers that the working man and the farmer must be forced to junk his car and buy a new one, hence this inspection law with the test so high and strict that only a small per cent will pass, well we are sold down the river, the people all of them have built good roads through road taxation kick them off the road if they don't buy a new car. This is the biggest scandal yet, and don't know if we have men brave and honest enough to dig in and uncover this dirty scheme at present, but it will come to light if we can get the Press to help, our freedom is being sold. Time we stop these rackets, what are you people who depend upon Mexican labor going to do when harvest time comes? Their cars won't stand the test, so they will be denied the highway. Does these extreme laws held the defence program not so they hinder and damage you could choose a few of the best points, put them in paper form, and get them to the people. Your Most Respectfully,

J. W. Sherrell, Loraine, Texas.

Les Meres Study Club Holds Meeting With Mrs. C. B. Hudson

Mrs. C. B. Hudson was hostess in her new home Monday night for members of Les Meres Study club with Mrs. Monroe Parker serving as co-hostess.

During the business session members voted to adopt the project of raising funds for the Mexican Labor Camp hospital. Plans were made for the Valentine dinner party with husbands as honor guests. The date for the dinner has been set for February 8 at the Veterans Memorial clubhouse.

Mrs. Glenn Gripp was in charge of the program on "Speech Defects". She reviewed an article on that subject and quoted from authorities who believe children with speech defects are emotionally upset in many instances. Poor hearing may also be the cause, she stated and recommended that parents seek out the causes in attempting to help the child.

Mrs. R. N. Yarbro discussed an article entitled "Was I Missing Something?" in which the author told how she overcame the feeling of being left out or ignored in family affairs. In describing the theme Mrs. Yarbro said, "Why not take an inventory of yourself this first month of the year, as did this author who realized that she was not giving her family any reason to include her in their interests or love, and suggested following the scripture reading "Give and it shall be given unto you".

Members attending the meeting were: Mesdames L. R. Boyer, Joe Davenport, Dick Gholson, Howard Gore, Glenn Gripp, Spicer Gripp, W. D. Jones, Eugene Noel, Monroe Parker, W. N. Reiger, Elvin Wilson, R. N. Yarbro, two new members, Mrs. J. E. Brisendine and Mrs. Gib Howard, and the hostess.

the Canadian River in Texas and never get off the JJ ranch.

Some of the outstanding men and women of the Panhandle of Texas were Joe and John Rhea and most especially Mrs. Joe Rhea.

Mrs. Rhea went out to a dug-out on the Rio in New Mexico in the early 1880's. There were very few people in New Mexico then—perhaps a sheep ranch every now and then.

Some time after the Rheas came, the XIT built a large rock house in the Tierra Blanco draw—this was the Escabado and the number 5 division of the XIT ranch.

Mrs. Rhea stayed out there in New Mexico in a cow camp for several years alone a large part of the time since Joe and John were out with the cattle. She oiled windmills or whatever else had to be done on a ranch.

"What's It" Winter Dish That Sticks To Your Ribs

Many a meal planner finds the weather a source of menu inspiration. Cold winter days call for foods that stick to your ribs while the hot summer weather indicates lighter foods and frothy cool desserts.

The recipe offered today which derives a tang from the tiny flakes of cheese used as a topping, originated in the Old South and was obtained by Mrs. A. L. Manjeot on a recent trip through many of the southern states. She visited many historic spots and famed eating places and was able to secure some southern recipes to add to her growing collection. She was unable to obtain the name of this particular recipe, it was called "What's It" by others enjoying its goodness until "What's It" became its only name. Here it is and altho it may be served at any time of the year, right now might be called the open season for the dish.

What's It

- 1½ pounds coarsely ground beef-Chicken may be used
- 3 tablespoons margerine or Crisco
- 1 large onion
- 1 can chopped mushrooms
- 1 number 2 can tomatoes
- 1 small package noodles
- 1 cup grated Longhorn cheese
- ½ teaspoon chili pepper salt and pepper to taste.

Just to prove what kind of people were in the Panhandle, Mrs. Rhea one time said that of all the men who stayed all night in their cow camp never one of them said one disrespectful word to her.

Later the Rheas built a nice large three-room ranch house and Mrs. Rhea was wearing diamonds.

However, like many other cattlemen, the Rheas sold their ranch and went into business and went broke.

Another outstanding family was the C. G. Witherspoons. They built a home in Amarillo but homesteaded a quarter section of land in the eastern part of Deaf Smith county.

Among the things that the Witherspoons did was to teach school for $30 per month. They also taught in the first school in Potter county.

Mrs. Witherspoon was one of the first families to live in La Plata. She cooked for more transient men than any one woman on the plains.

- Mix Together
- 4 egg yolks
- 1 cup butter
- 2 cups sugar
- 1 cup nuts

Alternate layers of whole graham crackers and pineapple mixture ending with crackers. Top with the stiffly beaten whites of four eggs to which has been added ½ cup sugar. Place in 300-F oven and allow to brown. Serve hot or cold.

Mrs. Don Davidson has had numerous calls about the recipe and the error caused little difference in the outcome. The graham crackers are placed in the baker whole instead of being crushed which gives a little difference in consistency. The corrected recipe is repeated below:

Give it Air and Watch it GO!

TAKE ONE GALLON of good gasoline—8.350 gallons of ordinary air—mix well and feed in small doses to a Fireball Engine—and what do you get?

Well, mister, the closest we can come to describing the result is to tell you—it's something like the mighty thrust of an airliner—swooshing down the runway for a take-off.

All of which is another way of saying that this newest and finest of Buicks can rev up to 170 horsepower, the highest in its distinguished history.

Now, you seldom need all this horsepower. But it's nice to know you can boss it around—even if you use no more than an eighth of it at 40 miles an hour.

BUT BUICK ENGINEERS never do things by halves.

In the process of getting this whopping new charge of power, Buick engineers also came up with more miles per gallon from gasoline.

And they did it with one of the neatest bits of ingenuity we've seen in years.

Instead of building a whole new engine—they focused on ways to feed a better mixture to the great Fireball Engine they already had. A mixture of fuel, which costs money, and air, which is free.

The result was the Airpower Carburetor—a four-barrel automatic—which works on a booster principle.

Two barrels are sized and designed to supply the just-right thrifty mixture of fuel and air for anything from smooth-running idle up to some 40 or 50 miles an hour.

Then—when you call for more power—for a quick spurt out of a tight spot—for an unbroken gait up a steep hill—or for full-throttle operation—the reserves go into action.

You have two more barrels—to feed the just-right thrifty mixture for extra power—something like "second wind."

LIFE'S GREAT behind this great-powered eight, but that's only part of the story.

The rest is about interior styling stepped up to a new plateau of excellence and taste—of silencing to a point where a whisper sounds almost loud inside this car in motion—of bigger brakes and a smoother ride—and of Power Steering® as you have always hoped it might be perfected.

How about coming in and getting that story soon?

Sure is true for '52

Letter To The Editor

TO THE EDITOR:
All Citizens should cooperate with their neighbors and local officials of not only Panhandle towns but all towns, especially towns in the Panhandle section where winds blow free from interference of mountains or hill sides.
Streets and yards should be kept free from all health-menacing accumulations of garbage and rubbish, warns Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer.
Since garbage, rubbish and other types of refuse are of no value to neighbors, every neighbor is responsible for the waste materials which they produce and is under obligations to collect and dispose of waste materials discarded by their residents. The officials of every municipality or other political subdivisions encounter the problem of collecting and disposal of waste discarded by their residents.
Improper disposal of refuse presents definite hazards to public breeding places for ants, flies and other vectors of disease transmission. Odors, smoke and disagreeable appearances are other important considerations.
The State Health department and county health units are vitally interested in proper storage collections and disposal of refuse. They stand ready and anxious to aid towns or individuals in solving their problems.
Receptacles for storage should be of watertight metal with lids that fit. Final disposal is a serious and difficult problem which individuals and communities must solve according to local conditions. Waste materials should never be dumped on property belonging to another or organizations. We must keep the Panhandle clean and free of contagions and diseases. Mrs. E. J. Williams.

The above list will be shifted around, more than somewhat, before next season with a number of native Southwestern sons returned to their habitat thereby. As I surmised, Kansas U's basketballers, in peering over their shoulder, just eked by Nebraska and Missouri and this week windup in second place nationally, albeit still undefeated... Saturday night they meet K-Aggies and next week the Okie-Ags and if they get by that twin, which they won't, they should go back to the top. I'd like to see those two go's and the St. Louis-Okie Ag game Saturday... And by the time this hits the asphalt, two of those tussles will be history... Saw the Buffs tuck Tech away Thursday last and but good... To me it was another case of putting all your fish on one stringer, for when Tech's Nolan, No. 62, missed seven crisp shots in the first half that wrote finis to Tech's offense, who depended on the stretch lad completely... They had no front line drive and lack any pattern that would avail them of a right side lane completely unimpeded nor did they pass out on a screen from No. 62... They did use a pass out from his sub, No. 57, Brown, and successfully... However, Brown was so inept defensively that he let his man, No. 1, Burrus, sew up the game for the Buffs in the last stanza... Nolan did OK on the rebounds and Burrus, but no hit the bucket... Both clubs plastered the hoop from the charity line... Didn't keep a tally but it was way above par. Both teams are big enough but what do they use for speed?

Grandstand Gropings

Although I was surprised at seeing an item of other than local yokel sports interest in the gazette to the northeast... The other evening they mentioned the advent of big-time pro football into the Southwest, via the newly-born Dallas Rangers... The scribe partially named the cast that played for the New York Yanks the past season and among them he naively listed Zollie Toth of Oregon... Perish forbid, such a listing, which undoubtedly would have befuddled the opponents of the LSU Bayou Bengals, who have reason to remember Mr. Toth's antics much to their misery and addition thereby to the lost column and although he listed George Ratterman, as one of the greatest backs

This is to announce that Sidney N. Fuller, Certified Public Accountant, will join the staff of the Accounting Office known as E. C. Eubanks, Public Accountant, on the 15th of February.
I have contracted to sell this business to Mr. Fuller, who will take over management April 1, 1952, and I will have his assistance in completing Final Income Tax Returns, this season.
Mrs. E. C. Eubanks

of all time, (he never made it as a starter at ND), he failed to list the man who benched him, Bob Celeri of Cal, who, I presume, is still with the ex-Yanks... He also listed Dan Edwards of George, wherever that may be... However, the last place Yanks, which ranking, Dallas has not mentioned publicly, do have a good draft list, although the original draft pick doesn't mean much since it is done arbitrarily, with no consultation with the picked. As witness Maryland's Bob Ward who says nix to the Proboys. You may be interested in the draft grab of the Dallas Rangers, nee New York Yanks. Here they are, name and school: Les Richter, California; Gino Marchetti, San Francisco; Gino Jorgenson, Colorado; Dave Cianelli, Maryland; John Pettibon and Jim Mutscheller, N. D.; Jim Hammond, Gene Felker, and Ray Such, Wisconsin; Pat Cannamella and Dean Schneider, USC; Jim Lansford, Paul Williams and John Adams, Texas; Gil Bartosh, TCU (supposed to play another year there); Russell Hudeck, Texas A&M; Douglas Moseley, Kentucky; Chet Freeman, LSU; Jack Bighead, Pepperdine; Bill Ward, Arkansas; Vince Kaseta, Tennessee; Lee Molnar, Buffalo; Dick Horn and Harry Hugasian, Stanford; Jim Moynihan, Rutgers; George Young, Bucknell;

Do You Remember...?

Sulphur 'n Molasses

You don't have to be a grandpa to remember sulphur 'n molasses, but like other witch doctor "cures" sulphur 'n molasses has practically vanished from the American scene. Why? Well, fortunately, there are ethics among druggists who present safer and more effective ways of keeping well.

HAVE YOU CHANGED THE OIL IN YOUR WATCH LATELY?

Sounds silly, doesn't it—but it is a fact that your watch oil deteriorates—gets gummy—just like the oil in your car! Dust and foreign particles mix with the old oil and in time cause serious damage. Bring your watch in to us today for a thorough cleaning and save costly repairs later on.
