Police Slate 'Drive'

By PHIL DUNCAN
Staff Writer

After a rash of accidents last week, which kept city policemen hopping and boosted traffic accidents for the month to 16, Police Chief Marshall Padgett and Corporation Court Judge Jim Neill have issued a sternly-worded warning to traffic violators.

"We are seeing an unprecedented rise in traffic accidents this month and during the past several months," Padgett said. "This situation must be controlled before it is allowed to get completely out of hand."

"Beginning immediately, the Hereford Police Department will be making an all-out effort to combat this sudden rise in minor traffic accidents. The radar units of the department will be used more extensively in an effort to control speed violations within the city limits, a chief factor in most accidents.

Cite Two Factors
Padgett explained officers were concentrating especially on speeding violations and reckless driving.

"These are the two main factors involved in most of the accidents investigated by our department, and we feel if we can curb these to some extent, we will have made a major effort in cutting down the number of accidents," Padgett said.

Corporation Court Judge Neill explained that violators would receive much stiffer fines than have been used during the past several months if the present trend continued.

"We have been going pretty easy on the people that received violations at wrecks for failure to control speed, failure to yield right of way, negligent collision and all the other unnecessary violations which cause the accidents.

To Stiffen Fines
"The court will not be so lenient in future cases and violators will receive much stiffer fines," Neill said.

Policemen investigated 11 accidents last week accounting for more than $3,870 in damage to personal property.

In the only injury of the week, Nancy L. Tyler, 17, Friona, was involved in an accident Tuesday with a parked vehicle belonging to Deaf Smith County.

She was taken to Deaf Smith County Hospital after the accident. Injuries were not serious.

Miss Tyler told officers she was attempting to pass another vehicle on the left and hit the car, which was parked on the left side of the street.

The accident occurred shortly after 9:40 p.m. near the intersection of Main and 4th streets. See WRECKS Page 3

A Letter To Hereford

Citizens of Deaf Smith County

Are you sincerely interested in your children and youth of Hereford?

We have the finest city and some of the finest people, here in Hereford. To continue being a top city we need to be interested and enthusiastic about our needs.

We are a busy people and we don't take time for the really important things in our lives, our youth. The City of Hereford has been extremely fortunate to have the many activities for its youth to participate in. These agencies can not continue to function, unless you, the citizens of Deaf Smith County, get behind behind the drive to support your United Fund.

Think back, when each of the seven agencies were making individual drives, you would give a ten to five dollar contribution. Now that we have a United Fund, to pool our efforts in one solicitation, we are still getting the two to five dollar donations. The needs can't be met with this, our donations must be multiplied by seven times.

This Tuesday night, December 15th, you will be given an opportunity to put your United Fund over its goal. To meet $7,000.00 and if every Mother, Father and individual would do their very best, the goal will be reached.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton, do you want to see our town with out the seven agencies? If you have already made your contribution and are called on Tuesday night, give $2.00 more to assure our reaching the goal this year.

Sincerely,
Melvin Jayroe
United Fund Drive Chairman

$7,000 NEEDED FOR GOAL

UF's Try Set Tuesday Night

Hereford's "sink-or-swim" United Fund effort begins at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, and by 8 p.m. — barring unanticipated difficulties — the town should know if the 1964 goal is to be met.

About $7,000 is needed. Melvin Jayroe, chairman of this year's drive, said officials "are hoping to have out 200

That determined dog over there on the right lives in my backyard. We share the yard with nice neighbors. I tripped over Tuffy in the dark the other night. He just said "woof." In appreciation, I put him on today's front page.

Inside today you'll find several items on the United Fund — an editorial and cartoon on page 4 of section two and a picture page on the second section's front page. We think the UF is pretty important. Otherwise, news is rather general on clubs and meetings and goings-on.

You've been real nice about letting us know what's happening. We want it if it news. Keep it up.

ON HOUSING

Council Holds Action

The City Commission remains undecided — and apparently is more muddled than before — over the part the city should play in a proposed 200-unit, low-cost housing project for farm laborers.

A group of sugar beet growers asked the council last Monday to give them a written "declaration of cooperation" indicating the city would not frown on such a project. The commission declined to make an immediate decision and called a special meeting Wednesday.

On Wednesday they again tabled the issue and said another public meeting would be called when additional information is secured.

No Growers There
None of the beet growers present Monday night attended the Wednesday session. Austin Rose Jr., who is president of the Texas Sugar Beet Growers Assn., said later the housing authority directors were unaware of the meeting. "We still need the declaration," he said Thursday.

But in their place was a platoon of new faces, largely real estate operators, who are opposed to the project. "It doesn't answer any of the questions, it doesn't answer any of the needs we all have," asserted N. D. Bartlett Jr., developer of the Buena Vista housing project — a facility used largely by farm laborers.

Mayor Ray Cowser and the commission were openly puzzled by the failure of the sugar beet growers to appear. "The reason we called this meeting was the urgency — the group said they had to have an answer by the 15th," Cowser said.

Information Lacked
The mayor asked City Manager Dudley Bayne if he could throw any new light on the subject.

In Monday night's meeting, James W. Witherspoon, attorney for the Deaf Smith County Housing Authority, said an indication of approval from the city was needed before the group could enter into negotiations with the federal government for funds to construct the project. He said the bonds, however, would be purchased by private interests and only guaranteed by the government.

Bayne said he had twice examined the project. See COUNCIL, Page 2

563 FARMERS ELIGIBLE

Vote On Cotton Quotas Tuesday

Deaf Smith County cotton growers will vote Tuesday on upland marketing quotas for the 1965 growing season. Faust Collier, office manager for the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS), said 563 farmers are eligible to vote along with their wives — a total possible vote of 1,126.

Passed Easily
Previous county referendums have passed easily. Marketing quotas for the 1964 crop were approved by 94 per cent of the county's growers who voted.

Polls will be open at the Deaf Smith County Courthouse from 8 a.m. until 6 p.m., Collier said. The office manager described the basic program children: If at least two-thirds of the growers who vote in the referendum approve the quotas, the quotas will be in effect for the 1965 upland cotton crop. Marketing penalties will apply to any excess cotton produced on a farm, price support loans at a level within the range of 65 to 75 percent of parity will be available to farmers who do not exceed their acreage allotments and, in addition, price support payments can be earned by farmers for keeping their acreage within the farm's "domestic" allotment. See COTTON Page 2

IN FRIDAY NIGHT PARADE

Santa Greet Hundreds Of Hereford Children

July 27 St. Nick appeared in downtown Hereford Friday night to the delight of hundreds of area youngsters who lined Main St. on each side for nearly five blocks to get a glimpse at the famous Yuletide visitor.

The Knights of Columbus Band, "Keep Christ In Your Christmas" was judged best by the Deaf Smith Chapter of Commerce and awarded a $25 cash prize for first place.

The parade proceeded south on Main at precisely 7:30 p.m. exhibiting several floats, marching bands, twirling girls, dancing groups and was climaxed by Santa Claus, riding on the Santa Santa Club fire truck.

Stations in the parade assembled at the corner of Main and Main streets and proceeded south in Hereford where they turned left and went to Camp Hill, where the parade was disbanded.

Decorative stars were open until 9 p.m. Friday, giving all of the shoppers viewing the parade a chance to do some Christmas buying.

All merchants reported much heavier buying than in previous evenings and according to the merchants, people See PARADE Page 3

No Turn

Police Chief Marshall Padgett announced Friday that left turns for vehicles traveling north and south on Main St. would not be allowed at the intersections of Main St. with Third and Fourth streets.

The decision was made by the city commission Monday, in an effort to maintain a smoother flow of traffic on the busy street.

City employees installed the signs Saturday and the new plan went into effect immediately, according to Padgett.

"Drivers can turn left at the Third and Fourth Street intersection, but will not be allowed to turn left off the busy street," Padgett said.

Padgett warned all violators of this plan will be issued citations.

Fines for the violation can range from a minimum of $1. See TURNS Page 2

Report of the efforts and accomplishments of the organization and the problems facing the sugar beet growers in the future will be given by executive secretary of the organization, James W. Witherspoon of Hereford.

Reports will also be heard from the president and board of directors, as well as those from the general membership.

"We need to be united and must be active participants in our organization if we are going to further the interests of the sugar beet growers in Texas," Witherspoon concluded.

"We were misled," he commented. "It's no bonanza."
Mayor Cowsert also gave a dim view of the proposal.

"We all know that we depend on migrant labor to get out our crops," he said. "We can't do without them. But I don't think this is the answer. I don't think you could build enough housing out there, or you could — but the cost would be prohibitive."

"You could build that many every year," added councilman Lloyd Sharp. "And when the growing season gets here, the farmer is going to be out looking for a place to put his laborers."

One of the visitors asked, "What's wrong with the labor camp now? Is it full?"

"It's full and it's a disgrace to the town," replied the mayor. "I think everybody will agree to that."

Bartlett suggested that there would be little objection to the project if the sugar beet growers constructed the housing on their own, without federal assistance.

"The sugar beet growers... are a nice bunch of guys. They have their share of the capital. If they want to go out themselves and build houses, let them go ahead. But why should you and I be forced to go out there and put our funds in their project? That's what we would be amined explanatory materials left by Witherspoon and "there is nothing in here like what they were describing." He said that the programs were all concerned with urban renewal and displacement of persons by interstate projects.

"Won't Solve Problems"
Several of those in attendance spoke against such a low-cost housing project because of the belief that it will not solve the problems it is meant to ease.

"The price they pay (for rentals) is so low they'll never leave," suggested Bartlett. "You'll get a bunch of dead-beats. And they say the government won't have a hand in it — the minute they get their hand in it they'll tell you exactly how to run it."

Bartlett said he thinks the sugar beet growers "are being misled in thinking that these houses will be filled by itinerant laborers who come in here to work. The people that will live there we don't want."

Tells of Project
The Hereford developer told of what he called a "similar project" started back in the 1930s at Lamesa which is still in operation "and not 10 per cent of the people who live there are doing anything."

"We need to be united and must be active participants in our organization if we are going to further the interests of the sugar beet growers in Texas," Witherspoon concluded.

Alternate Choice
"On the other hand, if more than one-third of the growers who vote oppose the quotas, then there will be no quotas and no penalties applicable to the 1965 upland cotton crop, no 'domestic allotment' program providing price-support payments, and price support to farmers who comply with their acreage allotments will be available at 50 percent of parity as directed by law."

The regular acreage allotment program is not affected by the outcome of the balloting, Collier said.

The allotments will remain in effect whether or not quotas are approved — as a means of determining eligibility for the available price support.

Collier pointed out that, while the secretary of agriculture is directed by law to proclaim quotas for the next crop when the total upland cotton supply exceeds normal, it is the growers themselves who decide whether or not quotas shall be used.

Vote Is No. 12
Farmers eligible to cast ballots are all those engaged in the production of the upland cotton crop in 1964.

The cotton quota vote coming up on Tuesday will mark the twelfth consecutive year in which growers have voted on marketing quotas for their upland cotton crop," Collier said.

Notices of individual farm acreage allotments for the 1965 upland cotton crop have been mailed to farmers in Deaf Smith County, according to Collier.

Collier pointed out that any question about the allotments should be taken up immediately with ASC county committee.

Deaf Smith County allotment for 1965 is 10,461 acres, some 235 acres less than the original allotment for 1964.

"These slight variations from year to year are partially due to changes in planting history formulas used in computing base acreages."

"In 1964, Deaf Smith County received an additional 480 acres distributed by the state ASCS office from acres released from areas where acreages were not used."

"It is yet too early to know how much acreage may be expected from this source for this year. It is expected that this released acreage will be known probably in March, well before planting time," Collier said.

Election officials Tuesday will be: At Dawn, Mrs. E. C. Hammett, Mrs. T. J. Parsons and Mrs. Taft McGee; At the county courthouse, Mrs. George Turentine, Mrs. Jimmy Jesko and Mrs. J. C. Morrison; at Ford, Mrs. Raymond Smith, Mrs. Alton Hollingsworth and Mrs. A. J. Jamerson.

Car Total Loss

Jose Guadalupe Uvalle, 328 Ave. E, was arrested by officers shortly after 3:10 a.m. Sunday morning.

According to Padgett, Uvalle was proceeding east on Park Ave. and attempted to turn right onto Ave. E, but jumped the curb and clipped off a sign post on the Safeway parking lot.

Uvalle then proceeded North on Ave. E, where he struck a parked car belonging to Renaldo Sanchez.

Police estimated damage to Sanchez's car at $170. After striking the Sanchez vehicle, Uvalle proceeded North on Ave. E, and turned into an alley, where he abandoned his vehicle. Officers arrested Uvalle a short time later. The car Uvalle was driving was judged a total loss by the investigating officers.

26 Landmarks In Deaf Smith County Designated For Historical Markers

Twenty-six landmarks in Deaf Smith County history were designated for probable historical markers in a five-year program to be spearheaded by the Deaf Smith County Historical Survey Committee at a meeting Friday morning.

Considered for either historic medallions or markers are sites and structures ranging from the cemetery at old La Plata to the D. L. McDonald irrigation well. Also included are the site of Ayr, one of the county's ghost towns, the site of the country's only cowboy strike, and cattle holding grounds, where huge herds awaited shipment from Hereford when it was one of the area's largest early-day shipping points.

Goals To Austin
The proposed list will be submitted to the Texas Historical Survey Commission in Austin for possible inclusion in a booklet being prepared for presentation to the legislature. Actual marking of the sites is to be carried out over the five-year period through the cooperation of the county and interested citizens, according to Mrs. Elmer Patterson, local chairman. The group heard a report from Mrs. Henry Sears on the historical essay contest sponsored recently by the committee. J. E. Elliston reported the city commission in a recent meeting authorized collection of material for a proposed county museum, and cooperation of the historical survey committee in that project was planned.

This was the final meeting of the county committee for the Now hold on there podner. No more left turns off Main Street on 3rd and 4th or suffer the consequences.

That's right. The City of Hereford, in an effort to alleviate a portion of the Main Street traffic problem, has decreed it so. Signs were erected Friday with the ordinance to go into effect immediately.

Actually, it's probably a pretty good thing. But we can visualize the confusion of some of our motorists who have been turning left off Main Street for the past thirty or forty years, stalled in the middle of the intersection with a frantic policeman trying to get the situation in hand. It could be hilarious. Habit, you know, is a hard thing to break.

And while we're on the traffic situation, we might as well pass on this bit from Mrs. J. W. Robinson Jr. She has suggested that the police department refrain from passing out traffic citations during the holiday season. "It's just not in the spirit of Christmas," she says.

But checking a little further into the deal, we discovered why she so adamantly opposed the traffic tickets at this time of the year. And husband J. W. was making the most of her misfortune, in spite of the fact that he'll probably have to pay the tab. A little fast in the 30 mile zone, the officer said.

We sympathize with her. We picked up a traffic citation once, and haven't heard the last of it yet.

Clint Formby has just completed a monumental task for the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce. Clint, due to his long record of service to the community, had been named as a committee of one for the purpose of eliminating an "out-house" along U. S. Highway 60 on the Santa Fe right-of-way. This committee ultimately became known as the "Out-House Committee", with Clint the principal (and only) member.

But true to his nature, Formby came through with flying colors. The eye-sore has been removed.

Twenty years ago, the Halloween crowd would have taken care of a situation such as this! Actually, Clint has a knack for getting appointed to the better committees. He is a member of the National Radio Code of Ethics Board, and has recently picked up a committee appointment there that is a corker. Ask him about it.

Carlos Vaughn, 303 Ave. H, called early Thursday morning to let us know that he had a crank-type telephone that he would donate to the Deaf Smith County museum. So we have already struck paydirt in our appeal for the antiquated talking boxes. But we're not through yet. We need

If that isn't punishment enough, the Judge figures he can find another old nag around to donate to the Hicks stables. And he's also notified the tax department that the ownership of that "thoroughbred" has changed.

another one. And then, we will need to go to work and get our museum built.

Other items donated this week include a 30 gallon iron kettle and an old piano stool. The kettle and stool were donated by Mrs. May Roberts, 1509 Mable St., who says that it originally belonged to her grandmother, Susan LoDuskey Quaid Wells. Mrs. Roberts figures that her grandmother, who was part Cherokee Indian, acquired the kettle almost 100 years ago in Tioga, Fannin County, Texas, near the close of the Civil War.

The piano stool probably dates back that far or before, but we're not sure. Efforts will be made to determine its age.

Mrs. Allen Oliver also called to offer a couple of items for the museum. These Indian grinding stones were secured by her 15-year-old son Bruce and include a total of 11 stones. The Olivers are leaving Hereford soon, and this is their contribution to the Deaf Smith County Museum. Oliver is the former manager of the Hereford Country Club.

We understand that Commissioner Donald Hicks is in for a surprise.

Donald has been boarding a horse at his farm for County Judge H. C. "Hank" Williams, and when the tax men came around checking on the animals last spring, Donald told them the horse was a thoroughbred and valued at approximately $5,000.

When Judge Williams learned of this, the roof blew off his office. Here he sat, with a horse that was actually worth less than the saddle he wore, but on the tax rolls as a race horse.

But this week the Judge got his revenge. He quit paying the board bill and presented the horse to Mark Hicks, Donald's teen-age son.

400 Lions, Wives Attend Christmas Party Thursday

More than 400 Lions, their ladies and special guests crowded into the Hereford High School cafeteria Thursday night to enjoy a musical and comedy program that lasted more than two hours. The occasion was the ladies night Christmas party presented annually by the Hereford Lions Club.

James Wheeler of Amarillo, district governor of Lions District 2-T-1, was guest of honor. The musical program, highlighted by the singing of Mrs. Dick Godwin, presented a variety of numbers ranging from the light comedy of the Eastern New Mexico University Cleft-Dwellers, to the more sophisticated spiritual presentations. Other numbers were presented by Suzanne Seigler, accompanied by Nicky Osborn, a piano selection by Osborn, and two vocal numbers by Mrs. Larry Rankn of Levelhand who was accompanied on the piano by Don Baugous of Hereford. Mrs. J. C. McCracken was piano accompaniment to Mrs. Godwin.

Last to appear on the program was a little old man from the North Pole, none other than St. Nicholas himself, who stormed through the south door of the cafeteria just as the guests were preparing to depart. He presented gifts to all the ladies present, as well as special gifts to a number of those present.

Two Hereford Officials Will Attend Hearings

At least two Hereford officials of the Texas Sugar Beet Growers Assn. will attend public hearings Wednesday in San Antonio which have been called by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Austin Rose Jr., president of the growers assn., and James W. Witherspoon, executive secretary and legal council, plan to attend the meeting at the Gunter Hotel, Rose said.

Wages Is Topic
The main topic is expected to be the wage determination for sugar beet workers. This year, the hourly wage was set at $1.15. Some farm officials have indicated they expect the wage to be upped to $1.25 next year.

"A farmer is not eligible for the conditional payment unless you comply with the minimum wage," Rose said.

Information received here by Faust Collier, manager of the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office, said the hearings also will take up the issue of whether prices paid to growers are "fair and reasonable."

Want Line Held
A continuation of the San Antonio hearing will be held Friday at McAllen, Rose said it has been the general practice of the USDA to hold the hearings in areas where the laborers live and not where the growers live. "We will recommend that the present wage be maintained," Rose said.

Deaf Smith School Board Okays 2 Buses

The Deaf Smith County Board of School Trustees met in regular session Thursday in the office of H. C. Williams, county judge and ex-officio county superintendent. Members present were D. D. Zimmerman, president; J. C. Morrison, secretary; Melvin May; Jack Weaver and J. V. Perrin.

C. R. Anthony Co. Has Xmas Fete

C. R. Anthony and Co. held its annual Christmas party Thursday night at the American Legion Hut. Attending were Paul Harvey, the local store manager, and his wife and 12 employees and guests.

At the party employees were given their annual Christmas bonus checks. The Christmas Service Bonus was inaugurated in the early thirties when the total amount of bonus was only about $5,000 for approximately 57 stores.

The company now has grown to over 300 stores in 22 states, and these bonus checks are sent early enough for the employees to use them for their Christmas shopping.

The number of employees participating this year is 2,550 and the total amount of the bonus is $76,780. This annual bonus is based on the years of service with the company.

Explorers Hall in the National Geographic Society's new headquarters in Washington contains the world's largest unmounted globe. The sphere weighs about a thousand pounds; it measures 11 feet from pole to pole and 34 feet around the equator. The globe rotates on a spindle that can be lowered by remote control so that the globe can be manipulated on a cradle formed by eight wheels.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Want Citizens 'To Wake Up'

Dear Editor:
A word to the wise:
Wake up Americans! Haven't you been asleep too long? Don't you love your country enough to find out for yourself what is true or false? Can you truly say, "I know what my country stands for today," and prove it by what you have read for yourself or do you go by what you hear only?

Before the election, I'm afraid too many people believed what they heard without checking to see what was the truth. This reminded me of the old story we all know, of a man who was crucified on the cross by people, too busy and lazy to find out for themselves the truth. The majority didn't want to hear or believe the truth.

They are gradually, but slowly, disarming your wonderful country right before your eyes. You feel real secure now, but stay asleep long enough and you will awake to find your freedom gone. The government has already taken freedoms away from the farmer, yet they still won't admit that the government is big enough to give you everything. It is also big enough to take everything you have!

This same thing has happened to all the other countries that have fallen to communism.

Do you love your country enough to learn for yourself what communism is. How it works and how it creeps upon a country before it's detected?

You have been free so long. You don't think anything can take away your security. Let me tell you, you are living on false security. Awake Americans! Read, Look around you at what is going on. You might be surprised! When Russia speaks of peace, it's an entirely different meaning. We use our meaning. The one we have known all these years. To Russia there is no peace until everyone is under government control. Don't let anyone blind you to the fact that they are going to change now.

Awake now! And don't turn your back on God's way of life. Help fight for the freedoms America has already lost. I pray that you will have another chance.
Mrs. Oyd Eller

Ice Producing Plants Part Of Modern Living

DALLAS (AP) — Although electric refrigerators appear to have taken over, ice producing plants are still thriving.

The ice industry is even using technological advancements to expand its services, and in Dallas alone, the industry in 1964 had sales of $125 million.

Thousand Tons

One of the big sales of ice companies these days is in the form of crushed ice, sold largely to drive-in groceries where families buy it for ice cream, ice chests and a dozen other uses.

7 Companies supply ice for everything from party drinks to cooling boxcars.

One of the major firms in Dallas is Southland Ice. It has 12 plants in Texas and can produce more than 1,000 tons of ice in 24 hours.

Ice is produced in 300-pound blocks from water immersed in huge cans in brine. It is dumped from the cans, and sold in many forms, sometimes in the 300-pound block, and again down to finely shaved ice called snow.

Indian crafts were first ceremonial or utilitarian, with beauty only a secondary consideration.

Stanton Students Think Of Others At Yuletide

Every year the homeroom students share some of their blessings with other boys and girls who may not be so fortunate. It is their way of spreading a little Christmas cheer.

Fred Mercer's homeroom voted to bring an assortment of items to be sent to Girls' Town in Whiteface. Clothing and food brought by the students in Mrs. Fred Welch's homeroom will be given to the welfare department to be distributed.

Mrs. Eleanor Hudspeth's room is collecting money and canned goods for their Christmas project. The money will be given to Boys' Ranch to help buy a new suit for one of the boys. The canned goods will go to the welfare department.

The ambitious students in Mrs. Ray Todd's homeroom are trying to collect enough money to buy a suit as well as other clothing for one of the boys at Miller's room is bringing canned food to be given to the Good-Will Center. The students in John Murdock's room plan to give money, food and clothing to the welfare department.

Miss Velda Oberst's room plans to give clothes to Boys' Ranch. Students in Mrs. Lowe's room are collecting clothing and toys. The students in Mrs. Denny Richardson's room are going to take cookies, nuts and candy to King's Manor.

Students in Mrs. Ray Todd's and Mrs. Phillip Shook's homerooms plan to help. This year for Christmas, the students in Bob Kenemer's room are collecting money to be given to Boys' Ranch. Another room collecting for Boys' Ranch is Mrs. Joel Hodges'. To remind the students of this project they have made a special bulletin board about Boys' Ranch. Bill McCarty's seventh grade homeroom is collecting money to send to Boys' Ranch for their Christmas project. They are also taking little toys and coloring books to put in the Red Cross Box.

The students in Mrs. Tandy Legg's room are filling a box with food and clothing. This collection is for a needy family in this area. The box will be given to the Deaf Smith County Welfare Agency. They are also taking money for eightier Boys' Ranch or Girls' Town. The students in Mrs. Sam Ratcliff's room are collecting food to be given to the welfare department.

The days before Christmas are passing in a hurry now and the students in Mrs. Claudia Ola Brown's homeroom have decided to collect both clothing and money. They feel it really doesn't matter how much clothing or money is collected as every little bit will help. They plan to send the things to Boys' Ranch.

Mrs. Charles Duvall's homeroom is planning to give a Poinsetta to King's Manor.

For many of the students here at Stanton Junior High Christmas takes on a new and happy meaning when they are busy helping others have a Merry Christmas.

Red Cross Show Is Success; $150 Raised In Donations

The Red Cross talent show at Stanton Junior High School was a complete success this year. $150.03 was collected on our membership drive. This money was presented to Mrs. Corine Neely, secretary for our county Red Cross work.

The program consisted of skits and musical numbers given by twelve of our homerooms. Mrs. Welch's homeroom was complimented on raising the most money from all the rooms.

Art Class Plans Christmas Party

All the art classes will have their annual Christmas party in which all the decorations, favors, and extras are made right in class. Observations show that some of the beautiful layouts are slowly and beautifully going into shape. On one table one might see jolly old St. Nick faces on a plain paper tablecloth, and on another candles or angels, all painstakingly painted onto the tablecloth. Many of the tables are making centerpieces with sleighs, nativity scenes or snowmen. Mrs. Wertenberger, teacher, is furnishing the refreshments.

The only reason the class can have a party is because it is an assignment. Each table or committee tries to make his or her own table the most beautiful and tries to keep everything a secret until the day of the party. This may be a class assignment but oh what fun!

This room collected more than $20.

The Red Cross is now organized and is at work. More than 150 students have volunteered to work with the Red Cross. Mrs. Wertenberger is the teacher-sponsor. The officers are Renette Hubble, president; Kerri Kameron, vice-president; Deborah Hodges, secretary; Janice Galley, assistant secretary and Evelyn Kuper, reporter.

The group has almost completed a project for the Amarillo Air Force Base. They have made tray mats for the tables, small favors, and decorations for the rooms.

Teachers Like Working Classes

By JANE ZINSER and LAUREL DAVIS

This is the final article presenting new teachers at Stanton Junior High. The new teachers featured this edition are Miss Velda Jean Oberst, Bob Kenemer, Mrs. Eula Lee Cave and Rodney Laubhan.

Miss Oberst teaches seventh grade math and one class of eighth grade English. She is from Canyon and attended college at the University of Texas. Her idea of an ideal class is one that works together more on their own. She has a pet dog named Mister and likes sports and music. Miss Oberst is one of the cheerleader sponsors. She also has a hobby of collecting cups and saucers.

Bob Kenemer teaches seventh grade science and art and crafts as well as eighth grade science and social studies. He is from Carter, Okla. and attended college at Oklahoma State University. His wife Lynn is a teacher in Hereford High School. They have one son, Vaughn, who is 16 months old. Kenemer enjoys outdoor sports.

Mrs. Cave teaches special education. Her idea of an ideal class is one that works together well. Her family includes her husband, Clyde, and their dog Kandy. She taught last in Plainview. Her hobbies are handwork and music. She especially likes children.

Laubhan teaches seventh and eighth grade physical education and eighth grade social studies. This is his first year to teach. He attended West Texas State University. In Laubhan's family are his wife, Mary, and their pet cat Priscilla. He is from Follett and now lives in Friona. He enjoys hunting, fishing and searching for relics.

Christmas: Time for Happiness

By MARTHA MORGAN
 Most people think Christmas is a time for headaches, sore pocketbooks, and I hope, she (or he) doesn't get me a green hat again! For them, Christmas is just another day off from work, a time for all effort to be spent on strained happiness. After Christmas they are miserable — here we go on a diet again.
 But Christmas is a time to be using your natural happiness, a happiness that comes from knowing you have made someone happy. It is a time to think and to sweep out the cobwebs that have long been gathering. Christmas is the time to enjoy yourself fully with, of course, some limits. This time was set aside to celebrate Christ's birthday and to remember why He was sent.

 Everyone knows that it is not right to think about the gifts you're getting instead of the ones you give. I think if everyone concentrated on giving instead of receiving, it would be a much happier season.
 Advertisers don't know what Christmas is. To them it is to gather their riches. If it were advertised about the significance of Christmas as much as their products to sell, Christmas would take on an entirely new meaning.

Basketball Season Now In Full Swing

The seventh grade basketball team is coached by Rossie Simpson. Simpson coaches basketball because he has always liked it. The school has basketball because it is good for agility, it has good competition and they hope that it will make better men out of the boys.
 The boys work out by shooting baskets for about fifteen minutes, then they have passing and ball handling drills for about eight to ten minutes. Then they have defensive drills for about ten to fifteen minutes and then run their sprints before taking their showers. The boys that are on the team were chosen on three things:
 How well they handle the ball and shoot and by how good they are on defense. When a boy is not selected for the team he is put into weight lifting. The seventh grade is scheduled for thirteen games and will enter two tournaments. The boys on this team are Keith Anderson, Brent Caviness, Tim Fuston, Donald Franklin, Allan Harding, Paul Hendon, Denny Hicks, Danny Massie, Ronald Matthews, Percy Mays, Jackie Meredith, Tommy Stoy, Johnny Wall, Steve Whitaker, Greg Whitaker and Mark Woodward.

A million and a half people live in the 5,461 square miles of Northern Ireland.

Librarians Help With Routines

Eleven girls were chosen at the first of the semester to spend one class period in the library. Their job is to help Mrs. Hartman, the librarian, by shelving books, checking books in and out and many other jobs that are required to keep the library operating. Not only is library fun, but the librarians learn how to file cards, put books on the shelves and other useful things.
 Student librarians are needed during homeroom periods as well as during classes. Carolyn Hernandez, Debbie Rickman and Sharon Cash work in the library during homeroom period. Their work during this period is only checking out books, accepting fines and signing passes. Other students working in the library during class periods are

Students Of Six Weeks Named

Recently, the homeroom representatives chose Lanny Buck and Santry Rush as students for the third six weeks. These students were selected according to their grades and citizenship. The homeroom representatives chose the students by each homeroom selecting a name and submitting it to the homeroom representatives for the final choice.
Lanny is the daughter of Mr.

and Mrs. W. W. Buck. She is an eighth grade student. Some of her many activities include girl scouts and cheerleading for the eighth grade. Santry Rush is the son of Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Rush. Santry enjoys playing football and basketball.

'Last-Ditch' Drive Will Decide United Fund Future

Hereford's United Fund drive is in trouble, and serious trouble at that. The problem is lack of money. Since October 1, the drive has brought in approximately $23,000, leaving a total of $6,222 to be raised if the community is to meet its goal. Let us also point out that the drive has fallen short in three of the last four years.

As a result, United Fund leaders have scheduled a "last-ditch" drive for Tuesday night. In all probability, the outcome of this drive will determine the future of United Fund in this community.

If we view the annual UF drive objectively, we must attribute failure or success to the "method of collection" more than any single factor. Hereford and Deaf Smith county have made their goal many times before, and in much leaner years. This particular year, we have on record all-time high bank deposits, savings accounts, new homes and new cars. Consequently, the present plight of United Fund must be attributed primarily to the drive, which ultimately centers around the general method of collection — or to the fact that the people no longer are interested in the programs which the fund represents.

Some people complain that organization and solicitations have been less vigorous in recent years than in the past, and this is possible. The final, "back-to-the-wall" drive, it seems to us, should pretty well provide an answer to this phase of the operation. If it is successful to the point of raising our quota, all will be well and good. But if it meets with failure, then we have a big, community-wide problem on our hands.

Fund failure this year indicates that participating agencies would be forced to pull out of the organization, and make their own individual drives and solicitations — and no one could blame them with three out of four years of deficit operation due to United Fund failures.

While The Brand does not consider United Fund perfect, it has always seemed to us a practical and beneficial operation for the community for several reasons: 1) budgets are submitted and organizational spending is paid to the bone after being reviewed by a group of United Fund appointees; 2) untold hours are saved on the part of solicitors and donors, because one call replaces 10 to 15 where each agency must seek its own donation; 3) all drives are screened, and numerous drives can be eliminated if the donor insists that he contributes to United Fund and, consequently, sends the applicant to the UF board for screening.

These are the factors we have in mind when we refer to "method of collections" and, from experience, it does seem to us that United Fund is preferable to the old hit-or-miss method. At the same time, if it does not work we have no choice but to drop the annual United drive. Unfortunately, charity cannot be eliminated through abolition of United Fund, and one way or another we will be called upon to contribute to these various charitable organizations.

If we wish to continue with United Fund, there is one simple solution. We must dig a little deeper and keep the organization intact. If we are tired of this method and want to try something else, we will in all probability have this opportunity next year. To say the least, we are standing at a crossroads and we, the people of Deaf Smith county, will give the answer in this final, wind-up drive Tuesday.

The Brand feels that loss of the United Fund will be a step backwards for the community. We believe that it would be a shame to lose all of the ground which has been gained during the history of the drive, but if this is what the people want the only thing to do is give the old method another trial. Certainly, we cannot expect the participating organizations to continue along the routine which United Fund has led them during recent years.

South Hereford Remains Aloof

A delegation of some 100 people gathered during the past week to talk about South Hereford annexation and, apparently, a rousing time was had by all.

When the smoke cleared away, the situation seemed to pretty well be up to residents of South Hereford which, in our opinion, is the way it should remain, due to the fact that present residents of Hereford have very little to gain — and a lot to lose — in case an annexation program should become a reality.

It would require an estimated $250,000 to annex and service South Hereford and this amount, over a normal period, would grow into $500,000 when interest and other costs are added to the bonds. Hereford, in return, would receive an estimated $10,000 annually in city taxes — or $250,000 in 25 years — leaving a deficit of an additional $250,000 which present city residents would pay in the form of a net loss. Our principal benefit, it seems, would be the privilege of adding a few hundred more people to the population signs next census.

If South Hereford residents were enthusiastic and united in wanting to join the city, it is possible that annexation would be practical and neighborly — and we feel that the present residents would carefully consider their wishes. So long as they are divided and majority-opposed, however, it seems foolish to even consider forcing any group to come into the city, especially when the cost would be so tremendous.

Hereford schools, true enough, have considered a location in South Hereford. Primarily, we presume, to serve the people of the area. If, due to insurance rates and other city advantages, it is not practical to locate a school in the area under present conditions, then it is probable that the school district will have to seek another location. And we feel sure that most residents of South Hereford are familiar with, and have carefully weighed this particular factor.

There are other factors, of course, and numerous people who would like to annex, but it seems to us that the question should be officially presented when and "if" the group follows voluntary annexation procedure and petitions in a legal manner to become part of the city. This pretty well appears to be the thinking of the city officials — and it does make a lot of sense.

Nugget

H. R. Gross, according to the last count, is coming back to the House of Representatives. For a while we thought he would be missing from the 1965 session of Congress.

H. R. Gross is a needer, and also he often is a comfort to our sense of humor. He is the man who always wants to know why. Why is the bill necessary? What does it do precisely? How much will it cost the taxpayer?

Since 1949, Mr. Gross has been needing government departments and his fellow House members on points such as these. Every organization needs a challenger, and Mr. Gross (from Waterloo, Iowa) is the man in the House.

President Johnson's sweep of Iowa almost tripped Mr. Gross, who is a Republican. Unofficially, he won by only a few more than 400 votes. Cheers for those 400! Without Rep. Gross, the House would be duller, and the taxpayer poorer. — Washington Daily News.

TEXAN IN WASHINGTON

That 'Texan' Label Isn't Sure Key To Appointment

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON (U) — Being a Texan these days can be a handicap as well as an advantage when it comes to federal job appointments.

To avoid criticism from those who believe he is surrounded by too many fellow Texans, President Johnson is doubly demanding that those he does select are the best qualified persons available for the jobs in question.

A case in point concerns the hunt for a man to succeed Mortimer Caplin as Commissioner of the Internal Revenue Service. Under consideration is John G.

Heard, 42-year-old Houston man, member of a prominent Texas family.

Qualified for Job
Highly qualified for the job, Heard is both an attorney and a certified public accountant. Most U. S. revenue commissioners have been one or the other, but none has been both. Recommendations that he be appointed to the $28,500-a-year post are understood to have been received by the president from many parts of the country.

The job is being held down on an acting basis by a career IRS man who, incidentally, also is a Texan. He is Bertrand M. Harding. Born in Fort Worth in 1919, he grew up in San Antonio and attended college in Ohio and Minnesota. His regular position is deputy commissioner.

Heard, born in Waco, is the son of the Rev. Dow H. Heard, Houston Baptist minister, and Mrs. Heard. He is married to the former Joanna McCann of Dallas. They have three children, John, 15; Betsy, 13; and Nancy, 9. A graduate of Baylor U., BA 1943, and Georgetown U., here LL.M. 1951, Heard served in the Marine corps in the Pacific in World War II.

AROUND THE CAPITAL:
One of the most talked of books in Washington currently is one written by Booth Mooney, Texas author and former aide to President Johnson.

Recently published by the Follett Publishing Co., Chicago, it is entitled "Mr. Speaker." It deals with the development of the power attached to the man who heads the U. S. House of Representatives.

It is a fascinating, colorful story because it largely is the biography of four political giants who held the Speakership—Henry Clay, Thomas Reed, Joseph Cannon and Sam Rayburn.

In a preface, Mooney notes that the idea for the book came from the late Speaker Rayburn, a Texan who held the speakership for 17 years—more than twice as long as Henry Clay, the runnerup who served in the House more than a century ago. Mooney had approached Rayburn with the idea of writing a book about his career, which had included service as Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives. Rayburn turned him down, but then countered with the suggestion that he write a book about the outstanding Speakers throughout the history of this country.

Panhandle Paragraphs

Last Saturday was the busiest day the merchants have had so far. The Christmas shoppers were making up for lost time and could see that gift list look on the faces of the people as plainly as if they were holding a piece of paper in their hands. There will be more such days before the holidays arrive.

—Deck's Didactics in Wellington Leader

Weather conditions will be watched with an unusual amount of interest in these parts for the next few weeks. A good cotton crop is still in the fields and its harvest in due course will depend entirely on the weather or lack of it. A white Christmas this year is not on the farmer's list to Santa Claus, rather they would prefer some more of that dry weather like we had all during the spring and summer.

—b.m.n. in Castro County News

An unqualified statement in a newspaper is assumed to be the work of the editor. That is why all newspaper stories and headline are sprinkled freely with "it is alleged," "it was charged," "he said" and the like. We never say a man committed a crime. Rather we say that he was charged with a crime, or that he was convicted of the crime, if that be the case. We never call a man a murderer, rather we call him a "convicted murderer". Even now, newspapers do not call Lee Harvey Oswald "the murderer" of John F. Kennedy. We use such expressions at the "alleged murderer."

—H. M. Baggarty in Tulsa Herald

Hardeman County needs an annual county fair. That is the consensus of a growing number of people around the county who would like to see more attention drawn to this gem of the Greenbelt. And with the facilities at the Hardeman County Pavilion being improved every year and other activities, the time is ripe for such an annual event.

Members of the Hutchinson County Junior Livestock Show, of which Charles Beedy, is secretary, held its annual dinner last night in the Berger Hotel when and where they made plans for the annual showing and the accompanying barbecue, featuring livestock raised by young people of Hutchinson County.

The Gospel Har-Mo-Neers, a men's quartet from Berger which made a big hit in a recent appearance in Levelland, will sing in the city again twice this weekend. At 7:30 p.m. Saturday, the group will be in Faith Chapel on West Ave., then at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, they will sing in Fifth St. Baptist Church.

Switching to another "sign of Christmas," it's of note to pass along the information that the Optimist Club trees have been placed on sale at the corner of Third and Broadway. Proceeds from the Optimist inspired operations go toward the furtherment of boy's work. Incidentally, as well as tree purchase from the club's lot in essence a gift for local youth. Special cards redeemable on tree selections are currently on sale and may be obtained from Optimist Club members for the sum of four-bits. When a buyer chooses his tree from the Optimist lot, the 50-cent card automatically balloons into a dollar's worth of buying power, so prospective purchasers would do well to seek out an Optimist in order to take advantage of the special saving.

New-home building in Canadian has maintained a moderately brisk pace for the past five years or more — but the supply of available housing still isn't keeping pace with the demand. As of right now, just about everything in town that can be rented and occupied — and a few places that can be rented but really shouldn't be occupied as human habitations — are full to overflowing, and we know of at least a few people in the past few days who have had to look to other towns for living quarters which they would have preferred right here.

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Bindweed farm has what probably is an unscientific view in his letter this week.

Dec. editor:

A bunch of us was sitting around talking about that rocket the United States has launched to Mars and wondering how much figuring and calculating it took to aim it in the right direction, considering the fact the earth itself is twisting and hurtling through space at the same time, making the job sort of like trying to hit a racing animal from the back of a pick-up truck bouncing over a pasture, using a boomerang for a weapon.

"It sure takes perfect timing," somebody said. "He's right, and personally I take my hat off to the scientists who're doing it."

For example, you know of course it'll take about eight months for the rocket to get within television range of Mars, and you realize what time of year that is? It's July, and this is another example of perfect timing.

With the Russians also having a rocket sailing in that direction, July is positively the best month of the year for the finish, the month that has the least competition from anything else. Obviously, you were going to catch those scientists timing the climax during the fall football season, during the winter basketball season, during spring baseball practice, or during the late summer of the major league games.

July was exactly the right month to get the people's undivided attention, and I look forward to the time. If it's handled right, and we can get a few more nations taking up the sport, it'll be a real shot in the arm for the dull summer month. We'll need three or four more, though, to make it a real contest. How much attention would football get if only Harvard and Yale were playing?

Once the other entries are signed up, the sport has almost unlimited possibilities, as we'll never run out of planets to race to. There are billions of them out there. This is exactly what July needed.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Hereford is to ban left-hand turns on Main Street at intersections of Third and Fourth according to action of the city commissioners this week. The measure was apparently adopted as a safety precaution, following decision to leave Main street parking in its present category.

To say the least, it will take a bit of "getting used to" on the part of most people, but in the long run it represents application of successful methods used in other growing communities faced with similar problems. And after a few months, it will probably be accepted as routine, along with other innovations which have been necessary in the face of continued growth.

Meanwhile, if it does prevent an accident or save a life, the inconvenience will be a small price to pay.

Season Ends With 3-3-2, 7-1 Records

Football season is over for Stanton Junior High Dogies. The seventh grade team played a pretty good season. They won three, tied two and lost three ball games. The teams they defeated were Coronado of Plainview, Canyon and Happy. The coaches of the seventh grade team were Rossie Simpson and Clyde Coleman.

The eighth grade team, by the way, were a little more fortunate than the seventh grade team. They had a grand record of seven wins and one loss. The team they lost to was Happy. The score in this game was 16 to 0.

There are seven office girls in Stanton Junior High. They are Patricia Hill, Cindy Caviness, Billy Goetsch, Patsy Daniels, Rogie Rogers, Julia London and Deborah Bailey. These girls pick up absentee reports from the different rooms and record them in the office. They also run errands and take messages to the students and teachers.

What America Means To Me

By MITZI GAMEZ

America! What does America mean to you? Many of us have probably never stopped to think about it.

We never stop to think about what a great country America really is. America has many beautiful places maybe you have not been fortunate enough to see all or even some of its beautiful places, but at least you know that they are there.

If you were to go out to another country where people are less fortunate; they would ask you many questions about America. What is America like? Is America really beautiful? And many more questions like these.

If these questions were asked to you could you answer them or might you be like Philip Nolan, the man without a country?

You would stop to think about it and the results would be that we could end up appreciating our country much more than we do now.

You never know what you have until you lose it or until you come to think that you might lose it. This is a common saying which in this case, as in many others is true. As communism is spreading to us now you could lose it.

Some of us, even now, don't appreciate America as we should. I believe that democracy will remain and that we can and will continue to keep it and, also that we can keep communism from spreading if we only realize the importance of a great democratic country like America, which is not only great and strong, but also very beautiful!

Teachers Planning Local Science Fair

Preparations are now under way for a local science fair, sponsored by public schools, to be staged here in the high school cafeteria late in February. Several teachers have met and begun planning, according to Don Blankenship, assistant principal at Shirley Elementary. Winners in the local science fair will be eligible to compete in the annual fair held in Amarillo.

Progressive Club President Gives Credit To Members For Assistance

Mrs. J. D. Gilbert Jr., Progressive HD President. (Brand Staff Photo)

Busy years of homemaking, of community and church service find Progressive Home Demonstration Club's president summarizing her club's activities thus:

"I feel that success in these endeavors is based on the complete cooperation and support of all the club members. They are good workers and make every undertaking a group project."

Such an attitude accounts for Mrs. J. D. Gilbert Jr.'s re-election to another term as president of the Progressive club.

With this climax to her three-years of Progressive membership, she recalls high points, values gained from her work in home demonstration clubs:

Member 14 Years
"I first joined a home demonstration club 14 years ago in Brownfield, serving there as secretary and reporter. I joined Progressive Home Demonstration Club three years ago. This year is my first experience as a council member. I have found that this strengthens interest and gives me a broader understanding of the council activities."

"Being a club member, I feel, helped me to know my neighbors and meet new friends. I continually learned new methods of improving my life and that of my family."

The Home Demonstration Program is a well-rounded program which helps me grow in all phases of homemaking."

Cites Participation
"Recounting Progressive's activities during her term as president, Mrs. Gilbert noted club participation, with refreshments and attendance, in senior-College Wardrobe Tea and in the cooperative Home Demonstration-American Legion Auxiliary picnics at Amarillo Veterans Hospital."

She pointed also to the club's serving meals at several farm sales to make money for contributions to charitable projects, including United Fund and March of Dimes, and for expenses of three club members at THDA convention in Houston.

Among her personal efforts in 1963-64, she named her attendance at recreation workshops and well-acquainted coffee for new residents Deaf Smith County and helping with irrigation school luncheon and commissioners appreciation luncheon. Progressive club work at earlier dates included her serving as member of yearbook, program, and finance committees.

Boasts 4-H Clubs
Proudly Mrs. Gilbert emphasized that Progressive Home Demonstration Club has two 4-H leaders in its membership. "Our club," she added, "sponsors two 4-H clubs. Progressive had a St. Patrick's Day luncheon with 141 boys and girls as guests and entertainers on the program for the occasion."

How did Mrs. Gilbert prepare for responsibilities of leadership? She thinks she grew into readiness from early beginnings and through her married life as a farmer's wife.

Artis, N.M., made a gift to Deaf Smith County when she sent her native child Nickie (born Betty Everts) after high school graduation on her happily married way with her husband.

J. D. Gilbert Jr., via Brownfield to Hereford in 1952.

Her Brownfield home demonstration experience, Mrs. Gilbert declares, opened and developed new interests and home skills that have helped her see her son, Johnny (16) and daughter, Karen (12), actively participating in youth activities.

Shares Sports Interests
The family shares Johnny's interest in sports. A junior in Hereford High School, Johnny early became a young stockman, and as a member of FFA, he showed calves at the last two Tri-County Livestock shows and will be showing again at the Golden Spread Western Junior Livestock Show in early 1965.

In the seventh grade, Karen centers her interests in her Camp Fire Girls group and in music, both piano and voice. Mrs. Gilbert says they are very proud of their children's interest in music and their sharing in that phase of Hereford's cultural arts.

She is a member of the junior chorus and the newly formed sextette in junior high school and of the junior choir at church.

A former four-year assistant Camp Fire Girls leader, Mrs. Gilbert still has as much fun as the girls when she helps direct them in their parties and various activities.

Regulars In Church
Firm foundation for her home and community life, Mrs. Gilbert states with assurance, rests in her family's church life. Her husband, her two children, and Mrs. Gilbert are members of the First Baptist Church. Her church work includes membership in Women's Missionary Union, four years as Sunbeam teacher and director, her helping each year as teacher and/or superintendent in the Beginners Department of Vacation Bible school.

Any time for hobbies? Mrs. Gilbert gives warm assurance that sewing and furniture refinishing are her favorites. She refinished a bedroom suite, she recalls, from information that came from the home demonstration club.

Sewing for her family ranges from her making simple garments to tailoring coats and suits and making draperies for her home. Mrs. Gilbert adds, with pride, that her sewing was self-taught. Many of her skills, she feels, she developed from hints and helps given by the home demonstration clubs.

Reviews Events
Observing Progressive Home Demonstration Club's year-end calendar, Mrs. Gilbert spoke enthusiastically of a book review and citizenship program as two outstanding events, with the highlight on recent guest day tea in the home of Mrs. T. J. Parsons for prospective members.

Looking to the year ahead and her new term as president of Progressive, Mrs. Gilbert is making plans with her club members for furthering improvement of homes and community. They hope to achieve definite goals, she notes, through the same spirit of cooperation that always marks the membership of Progressive Home Demonstration Club.

(Next Profile: Mrs. Orval Galley of Dawn Home Demonstration Club.)

"EACH OF US LOOKS UP TO HIM AS WE DO TO OUR OWN FATHERS"

I CAN'T SEE MY DADDY AS GEORGE WASHINGTON..

BLOOP!

MY DADDY CERTAINLY ISN'T THE LINCOLN TYPE

I JUST DON'T GET A PRESIDENT IMAGE WHEN I THINK OF PAPA

LET'S THROW SNOW-BALLS AT THE OLD CRANKS COMING HOME FROM WORK

MY STOMACH FEELS LIKE IT'S TIED IN KNOTS, AND I CAN'T GET MY BREATH -

MY LEGS FEEL FUNNY - MY TOES TINGLE!

YOU'D BETTER GET HER TO A DOCTOR!

AM I POISONED, DOCTOR?

I'M IN AGONY!

I THINK SHE'LL BE BETTER IN A FEW MINUTES -

HOW DO YOU FEEL?

IT'S LIKE A MIRACLE - THE PAIN'S ALL GONE!

WHAT WAS WRONG WITH HER, DOC?

JUST A BAD CASE OF 'NEW-CORSETTIS' BROUGHT ON BY A TOO-TIGHT GIRDLER!
