New 40,000-Square Foot Shopping Center Starts

Discount Store, Market Among Firms Signed

Hereford is to get a new shopping center on Harrison (Park Ave.) just west of 25-Mile Ave. It was announced Saturday, and construction of the first unit already is under way.

Bill Stockstill, Pampa, announced the new 40,000-square foot center which will be called "Park Avenue Shopping Center." Hogns Construction Co., also of Pampa, will erect the buildings, Stockstill said.

Centering the new shopping area will be a Gibson's Discount Store to cover 20,000 square feet. Other businesses signed up, Stockstill said, include a grocery and several smaller firms, including a coffee shop. Names will be announced later, the builder says.

Bob Neely will be manager and part owner of Gibson's, an associate store of a well-known Texas chain. He and his family will move to Hereford shortly.

Stockstill said the discount center will be stocked with $175,000 worth of merchandise, ranging all the way from automobile tires to clothing and will be increased to $300,000 before the end of the year. A local firm will operate a pharmacy as part of the store, and the store will be open on Sundays from 1 until 8 p.m.

The center will sit 250 feet back from the street, he said, providing in-front parking for 250 automobiles or 60,000 square feet. The structures will be of concrete block with brick and glass fronts, and the entire unit will be air-conditioned by refrigeration.

Gibson's will have a $75,000 toy department to open before Christmas shopping starts, the owner said.

"Modern decoration designs will be carried out to make the buildings modern and attractive in every way," he said, "providing a mall-type frontway connecting all the buildings."

Architect will be H. Don Eliff Jr., Amarillo.

Stockstill has been clearing off the land for several weeks, moving off residences to make ready for the shopping center. He said the entire area will be paved, and the builders are shooting for a Nov. 1 opening of the stores.

He did not say what other firms have been signed up for space in the new center, "but all will be first-class shops."

Youth Sessions Planned Here; Clark To Speak

Dr. Robert T. Clark, vice president in charge of research at Harding College, Searcy, Ark., will head the list of speakers and panelists at the Youth Forum slated for Aug. 21-23.

The congregation of the Central Church of Christ is sponsoring the forum, with the youth of the church, actually being in charge of the programs.

Several prominent speakers will be present for the three-day event, which will feature a "hootenanny" Saturday evening.

The forum is designed to accommodate more than 500 youths from Hereford and the surrounding areas, and all the youth in the area are urged to be in attendance at the forum, regardless of denomination, Marvin Crowson, forum director, explained.

"Many aspects of the Christian life will be covered in the Youth Forum and we have a varied program that will provide topics of great interest to everyone present," Crowson said.

Dr. Clark, featured speaker, will deliver talks to the assembled youth, on topics varying from moral standards to the truth versus the theory of evolution.

"Remember Now Thy Creator" is the title theme of the entire three-day forum, according to Crowson.

Dr. Clark received his B.S. degree from Harding College, Searcy, Ark., in 1939. He received his M.S. from the University of Tennessee in 1942 and a Ph.D. from the University of Rochester Medical School in 1949. In 1962 (Continued on page 2)

Train Strikes Cattle Truck; Driver Is Hurt

Shurl D. Goodall, Del City, Okla., remained in good condition in Farmer County Hospital, Saturday after the loaded cattle truck he was driving was struck by a fast moving west-bound Santa Fe freight train, shortly after 7:40 a.m. Thursday.

Twenty head of cattle were killed in the collision, which sent Goodall to the Friona hospital and demolished truck and trailer.

The train struck the truck at a point where the trailer and truck connect. Goodall told investigating patrolmen that he was on the truck before he saw the train. Thirteen of the cattle were killed instantly in the collision and seven were shot by the highway patrolmen after they arrived at the scene. All of the cattle were killed in the wreck.

Goodall suffered several broken ribs and cuts and bruises about the body. He was thrown clear of the truck by the impact of the collision.

He was traveling north on the county road, onto US 60. The truck belonged to Johnny Armstrong, Oklahoma City, during the previous season.

Hereford will meet Plainview in the season opener at Whiteface Field on Sept. 11 at 8 p.m. Dimmitt will be the second foe of the season to face Hereford at the local field, followed by games at Littlefield and Levelland. Lovington, N. M., will meet Hereford at the local field the following week and the next week, Oct. 16 and will be an open date.

The conference opener will be with Canyon, there on Oct. 23, followed by games with Perryton, here; Muleshoe, there, Tulla, here and Dumas, there, the final game of the season.

Young Farmers Convention Set

Young farmers from 28 Panhandle counties, some 300 altogether, will be here Saturday, Sept. 12, for the fourth annual meeting of Area I, Young Farmers convention, it was announced Saturday by Jess Robinson, vocational agriculture teacher here. The local vocational agriculture department with Robinson and David Nicholson as leaders, will be host to the convention.

Two sessions are planned, an afternoon meeting starting at 1:30 and a banquet session in senior high cafeteria at 7:30 that evening.

Presiding will be Wilbur Adams, Lockney, Area I president. Afternoon program will be divided into two sessions, Robinson explained, a general session and a business meeting. Donald Joe Cox, Bula, a runner-up for Texas Young Farmer award last year, will give the invocation, and David Brumley, Hereford, will introduce the guests.

Weldon Mason, Brownfield, president of the Texas Association of Young Farmers, is to speak, and Holly Sugar Co. is presenting a film to be followed by a tour of the new Holly refinery here, nearing completion.

A coffee break is slated for late afternoon, and final talk of the afternoon session will be given by E. L. Turner, consultant. (Continued on page 2)

The accident occurred in front of the H&S Produce shed on State Highway 194. Their other children were riding with them at the time of the accident — Carla, 8, and Lyle, 7. They suffered minor injuries.

The truck, loaded with potatoes, backed into the path of the approaching car. Castro County Deputy Sheriff Granville Martin said the truck was pulling away from the produce processing shed.

Mrs. Suggs suffered a neck injury, jaw fractures and multiple lacerations. Carla suffered a head injury.

The Suggs family was on route to a lake cabin at Lake Conchas N. M. for a vacation. Suggs, who had practiced law at Lockney since 1961, was also school attorney and was secretary of the Lockney Chamber of Commerce. He was a member of the board of the First Methodist Church and taught an adult Sunday school class.

A native of Hereford, Suggs was married to Barbara Wingate Nov. 24, 1960, in Austin. Surviving, in addition to the immediate family, are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Suggs of Hereford; a sister, Mrs. Ira Haven, El Campo, and the grandmother, Mrs. Dora Suggs, Hereford.

Funeral arrangements Saturday were pending at Gilliland Funeral Home here.

Bill Michael, senior high principal, said he especially would like to discuss schedules with pupils who are just entering high school or who have never attended Hereford schools before. He said pupils who pre-enrolled last spring need not see him.

Grade and junior high principals are also in their offices each morning from 9 until 12 Monday through Friday and "will be glad to discuss schedules with all pupils who are new to the system," a school official said Saturday.

In senior high, pupils who have found it necessary to change their class schedules since they enrolled in advance last spring also should visit Michael this week, he said.

A Better Grain Sorghum Always Sought

Research, A Never-Ending Task

By Larry Fuhrmann
Not all farming is simply sow and reap; some research is involved in producing better crops, which accounts for the fact that today's American farmer, is feeding more persons than ever before.

A field of grain sorghum is a common sight in this country, but it is not often that a person will see such a field with paper sacks on the heads of grain. Such is the sight on a breeding plot on the George Warner and Howard Hunter farm near Summerfield. This plot contains 12 acres.

In addition to the area being used for breeding work, part of it is set aside for performance testing. One hundred different grain varieties are being tested in the plot. The performance test on this type sorghum plant includes a number of forage and grazing varieties.

Warner is general manager for Miller Seed Co. here, and uses the test plot to develop new varieties of sorghum for the company.

Head of the research program is Glen Kuykendall, who is a plant geneticist. Kuykendall is one of the outstanding sorghum plant breeders in the country. He was on the staff of the agricultural experiment station at Chillicothe and later was with two widely known seed firms before coming to Hereford.

Kuykendall has several local boys helping him with the project. Those boys are Larry Cooper, Loy Searcy, David Combs, Paul Hunter, Lawrence Warner, Gary Roth, Chris Smith, Mike Lee, Tommy Powell, and Dewey Simons.

Kuykendall explained that qualities most looked for in the development of a new grain hybrid are the amount and quality of the grain; when the grain (Continued on page 2)

Meredith explained he was expecting an improved team this year as several boys are returning that got some experience

The tournament will be played at the John Pitman course next Saturday and the following Saturday with nine-hole series for the younger groups and 18 holes for older players. Competition will be between like age groups, it was explained.

All 9 and 10 year-olds and 11 and 12-year-olds will play nine holes of golf each Saturday, and 13-14 and 15-16-17-year olds will play 18 holes on both Saturdays.

Play will start at 8:30 a.m. each day and competition will be on medal play.

Student 'Bones Up' On Austria

By Sara Gillentine

Suzanne Langley has discovered many interesting things about Austria since she has decided to attend the University of Vienna in September.

"One of the main things that upset me at first were the mistaken ideas that some of my friends had about the country. I have been asked many times if Vienna is the city of canals or if there is any danger from the kangaroo in Austria," Miss Langley said.

Naturally she is eager to explain to everyone that Austria and Vienna especially, is the cultural center of Europe. It was in Vienna that such great musicians as Hydan, Beethoven, Mozart, Schubert and Strauss studied.

Suzanne Langley

Miss Langley will study in Austria under a program sponsored by the Institute of European Study. During the 19 months that she will be in Austria, she will study European and American courses as well as take different tours throughout Europe.

She will leave from New York City Aug. 26 on the ocean liner Queen Elizabeth, and arrive at Southampton, England. While in England, she will visit London, Oxford, and Burgess, then she will travel to Brussels, Belgium; Paris and Aachen France; Bonn and Munich, Germany; and then to Austria.

While in Austria, Miss Langley will stay in an Austrian home, under the direction of (Continued on page 2) metures; ability to stand up; and resistance to disease.

New hybrids are developed by the pollen from the male parents fertilizing the heads of the male steriles, or seed row parents. For this reason, sacks must be kept on the heads to keep "offbreed" pollen from fertilizing the seed row plant.

In the breeding program, something over 15,000 hand crosses will be made. The process begins several days before the male sterile plant begins to bloom. At this time the head is covered with a paper sack to keep all unwanted pollen from fertilizing it. The paper sack is left on the plant about a week, or until it is ready to receive pollen from the specific male parent.

Pollen from the male parent then is gathered in a paper sack that has been kept on its head. The sack with the pollen in it is then placed on the head of the male sterile plant.

To keep records straight, the plants are marked to make or record the parents that are involved in each cross. For each cross, there is a pair of tags, both having the same number, but a different letter. For instance, one tag would be R1234 and the other would be S1234. The "R" stands for pollen restorer (male parent) and the "S" stands for sterile, or seed parent.

The tag marked R1234 is then wrapped around the male parent plant and stapled at the time pollen is collected. The tag numbered S1234 is attached to the male sterile plant at the time the head is pollinated.

The entire field will be harvested by hand, with seed from the various plants kept in separate paper sacks. Records are made so that researchers will know the genetical makeup of the hybrid seed.

Next step in the process is testing the new hybrid. Kuykendall said that in the event they come up with a hybrid which appears to have all the qualities they want, this hybrid then is entered in the testing program. In most cases, testing will take place over a period of three years or more.

This testing program is carried out at a number of locations in Texas and a number of other sorghum growing states. Those experimental crosses that perform well in this testing program for the farmers are then put into the production program, Warner explained.

So basically, that's how it's done. It's the way farmers are using science to improve their yields, and get what they want in the way of better performing sorghum varieties.

shausfrau or a landlady. "The biggest problem is the fact that we are responsible for our own heating. I will probably have either a coal, oil or wood stove but I will have to furnish the fuel myself. The winters are extremely long and hard in Austria and we are allowed only one free bath a week. At least that is what it says in my information. I am sure of one thing though, even if I have to skip meals I'll take more than one bath a week," she said.

The weather is so cold that the people find it very uncomfortable to take warm baths and there is also a shortage of hot water.

While at the University of Vienna, Miss Langley plans to take The History of Music, philosophy, German literature, the history of Europe since 1939 and Comparison Between Russian and Western Political Science. She is a German major and a political science and history minor. Last year she attended Texas Technological College in Lubbock.

"I first decided to study in Europe while I was attending the University of Colorado last summer. My German professor suggested some different study programs and after checking into all of them, I decided on this one," Miss Langley said.

The Institute of European Studies has programs in four European cities: Paris, France; Madrid, Spain; Freiburg, Germany and Vienna. These classes are designed to mold together the best points of an American and European University.

During the Christmas holidays, the Institute has a ski trip in Switzerland planned for all students in the program who wish to make it. February, students may take a much longer break between semesters than do American schools. They do not attend classes during the entire month of February. Student may take a planned tour sponsored by the institute or may tour on their own or may stay in Vienna if they wish. Some of these tours include Russia and Poland; Yugoslavia, Greece and Egypt; Yugoslavia, Greece and Israel and Spain.

While in Austria, Miss Langley is hoping to visit some of the exchange students who have attended Hereford High School in past years. Some of the ones whom she is planning to see are Heidi Reustbauer, from Switzerland; Frank Hergert, from Germany; Gillian McArthur from Scotland and Christa Holz from Gran, Austria. Christa has a brother who lives in Vienna and Miss Langley hopes to see her often when she is in Vienna.

"I have heard much about the people of Vienna. I understand that they are a very artistic and sensitive people. They attend concerts and opera concerts often for about 16 cents in American money," she said.

She also explained that during the Second World War, these people would go hungry to hear the music of the orchestras tends to much more than just music. They have an interest in art and the theatre as well as

We wonder sometimes just "where did the summer go?" Here it is the middle of August and school is scheduled to begin on the 27th. That's less than two weeks away.

But actually, we'll be happy to hear the school bells ring once again. It seems that with the beginning of the school year, everything settles down to a more orderly pattern, and we just generally fare better than during the summer months.

The kids seem to enjoy shopping for their back-to-school togs as well as the supplies they will need. And it creates something of a carnival atmosphere all over town.

Among the pre-school activities is a Back-to-School fashion show which will be presented by Gaston's Monday night at the High School Auditorium. Proceeds from the ticket sales will go to the High School's Activity Fund.

Bob Gilman from Dallas will be narrator and Sherri Carmichael is co-ordinator.

Tickets will be on sale at the door, with the curtain going up at 8 p.m.

Phillips are co-chairmen for the project.

We have had a number of calls concerning the new biology textbook now under consideration by the Texas Textbook Committee. The textbook comes in three versions: The Green Version, entitled simply "High School Biology", is apparently the tamest of the three, but according to our source of information, over 14 per cent of the entire text is strictly evolution, and most of the rest is groundwork for this atheistic 14 per cent.

The Yellow Version is known as "Biological Science: An Inquiry Into Life," and every chapter in this book teaches evolution.

The Blue Version, according to our source, is called "Biological Science: Molecules to Man" and is pure evolution from cover to cover; completely materialistic and completely atheistic.

Anyone wishing to lodge a protest concerning the above books can do so by writing to the Texas Education Agency in Austin or to Representative Bill Clayton of Springlake, who represents this district in the state legislature.

Also on the agenda for Monday, both afternoon and night, is the Rudy Bros. Circus, presented annually by the Hereford Oasis Shrine Club. Proceeds from the circus will be used to help defray cost of the annual crippled children's clinic held in Hereford.

The matinee performance will be at 2:15 p.m. and the evening show will begin at 8:15 p.m.

Announcement was made this week of a shopping center to be located just south of the Catholic Church on Harrison Highway. This center will house the new Gibson's Discount Store, a supermarket, a drug store and several other businesses.

The announcement was made by Bill Stockstill, Pampa rancher-financier, who said that work would start immediately on clearing the property for the new center. H. D. Ellett Jr. of Amarillo is the architect and the center will be built by Hogan Construction Company of Pampa.

Bob Neely, part-owner of the center, will move to Hereford in the near future.

Actual home building around the Hereford area has slowed some, but there are still a number of new structures going up. Many of the homes now being built are in the moderate to higher price range, and it appears that only a few are being built for speculation. Many of these speaking for the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce

"Six months of the term of Austin Rose as president have gone by" observed Pete about his Chamber of Commerce "and a survey of the accomplishments of those six months is in order. The old saying about not being able to see the forest for the trees is very applicable to Chamber of Commerce activity" he observed.

are sold before work begins. In the meantime, rent property is still as scarce as hen's teeth, but that situation should ease some when the Holly mill is completed. Although we do not have the bulk of the workers living in the Hereford area, we do have many of H. K. Ferguson's permanent staff members now living here.

Hereford should continue to grow in the years to come, but perhaps not as fast as it has in the past two. However, that remains to be seen, and we're real interested in seeing the 1965 school enrollment figures.

A forgetful patient went to his doctor. The doctor wrote a prescription in the usual illegible hand doctors reserve for themselves.

The patient put the prescription in his cardcase, forgot to get it filled.

Every morning for two years he showed it to the conductor as a railroad pass. Twice it got him into Radio-Music Hall, once into Yankee Stadium to see the Yankees play.

He got a raise from the cashier by showing it as a note from the boss. One day he mislaid it at home; his daughter picked it up, played it on the piano and won a scholarship to a conservatory of music.

Now, how about that?

"Many committees have made appreciable strides in accomplishing the goals set for them, but in reporting them separately the mass impact of Chamber of Commerce activity is lost. Let's set them down here for the record and see if the organization isn't justifying its support."

"The Publicity and Public Relations committee of Roy Faubion has reprinted the very colorful brochure after careful updating and revision. These are being distributed to new residents, to tourists, to interested people all over the nation. The 5,000 printed is estimated to last no more than two years."

"This committee also has helped to prepare and publish the mimeographed FACTS AND FIGURES booklet, a compilation of statistical data for the use of prospective commercial and industrial firms. This booklet contains everything from agricultural production data to a weather history of the area and is as complete as it can be and as timely as a six months revision can keep it."

"The informative sign at the airport also was a project of the Publicity and Public Relations committee as was the preparation of the movie of scenes in growing Hereford and the library of color slides of scenes and crops."

"Another active committee has been the Tourist and Convention Committee under the chairmanship of Ernest Kendall. This group has attended the state and national meetings of the U. S. Highway 60 Association and the International Parks Highway Association (U. S. 385). The representatives of Hereford at the IPHA meeting in Williston, N. D., bid successfully for the convention to be held in Hereford next year. The state meeting will be

Board of Directors who have, in turn, referred the recommendations to the service clubs and Chamber action committees for accomplishing. The Newcomer Advisory committee held a welcome coffee for new residents.

"The Retailers committee has sponsored a very successful SOS sale, the initials standing for Sale-on-Sidewalk. This committee is currently studying, through a subcommittee of downtown businessmen and property owners the development of a downtown association for the solution of certain downtown problems.

"The Agriculture committee and the Livestock committee have hosted the feedlot tour sponsored by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and a similar tour by the Rancher-Stockman publishers. They also co-sponsored the agricultural chemicals conference held recently at the community center.

"Other activities include the publication of a monthly membership newsletter in a new off-set format using the new polaroid land camera to pictorially present the activities of the Chamber to its membership. The staff has worked closely with the Board of the Golden Spread Western Junior Livestock Show in its initial planning meetings.

"The Aviation Committee has announced that the annual All Texas Air Tour will visit the Hereford Municipal Airport for a 'howdy' stop early in October. This committee is also making some progress towards securing a direct line to the Amarillo Flight Service Station and is working to obtain a rotating beacon light. The Civil Air Patrol, sponsored by the Aviation committee, is growing rapidly and in service to the community.

"The Industrial committee has held several planning meetings for the purpose of review of prospects and charting our future course. The office staff writes more than sixty letters per month to manufacturers whose names are obtained from the Texas Industrial Commission and from a directory of food processors. The Committee is also assisting Holly with its plant location plans and has helped obtain statistical information on the (Continued on Page 6)

STAY SHARP ALL SEASON

Ever-Sharp knives that hold a razor edge all season! New cutter bar that holds a sharp edge up to 20 times longer than ordinary bars! Both features are standard with all Gehl Chop-Alls to give you a full season of short-cut, non-stop chopping... from the first load of hay to the last load of corn.

The new Gehl knives are chrome-edged to stay sharp, chop clean, to give you short-chopped feed. The new cutter bar is faced with tungsten carbide, the same material used to cut or drill steel. Together, the two give you trouble-free chopping and a short, fine, uniform cut — best for feed, best for storage.

HERE'S PROOF! At the Farm Progress Show, it was proved that you can get up to 28% more silage in your silo with Gehl's short cut.

GEHL Chop-All Mower Bar
mows off tall or short; chops fine

No crop too tall. None too short — for the new Gehl Chop-All Mower Bar. With one-two precision you mow forage clean; then chop fine for better packing in silos.

Retracting fingers on the powered feed roller keep the crop "on the move" from auger to chopper throat. Eliminates crop bunching and slow-downs. Three power-driven compression rollers then flatten the crop... hold it tight. The payoff: Six chrome-edged knives and long-lasting tungsten-carbide cutter bar turn out famous Gehl fine chopping.

Gehl's new Select-A-Cut transmission lets you vary forage length—short, medium or long—with the push of a lever. New Easy-Swing drawbar adjusts right from the tractor seat. A rigid tripod (optional) holds the forage deflector more firmly in place.

Auxiliary 'All Set' For Harvest Dinner

For the Harvest Dinner Tuesday in the Bull Barn, 11:30 a.m. - 2 p.m., the American Legion Auxiliary are all set with only last-minute details to be completed, according to Mrs. Ira Ott, Auxiliary president.

Tickets are still available from any member of the Auxiliary at $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children. Tickets will be on sale at the Bull Barn door Tuesday. This meal to be served buffet style will have on its menu roast beef and a variety of area-grown vegetables, salads, and homemade breads - white loaf bread, whole wheat rolls, and cornbread. Home-prepared desserts and beverage also will be part of this meal-with-a-purpose.

Money from this fund-raising Harvest Dinner will swell the Auxiliary's scholarship fund, from which they made an annual award to a veteran's child for furthering his education.

Mrs. Grant Hanna will oversee the serving of the paying dinner guests. She will be assisted by members of the Junior Auxiliary, Lisa Williamson, Debbie McCutcheon, Cynthia Hanna, Joette Hanna, Janice Newson, Mary Kay Wagner, Nancy Newson, and Betty Durham.

Mrs. C. A. Sauley, head of the vegetable committee, has reported that vegetable-growers of the area have been more than generous in donating products for this benefit-dinner. The ladies of her committee, with other auxiliary members, have gathered the vegetables and prepared them for the kitchen detail to turn into tasty dishes of great variety for the dinner.

Heading the kitchen detail, Mrs. Alice Swigart has been ably assisted by her special group: Mrs. Carl Schroeder, first assistant, Mrs. J. E. Young, Mrs. Leon Vinton, Mrs. Carlos Vaughan, and Mrs. Glenn Boardman, plus the efforts of other Auxiliary volunteers.

Mrs. Hazel Sparks, chairman of ticket sales, has been assisted by Mrs. C. R. McGhee, 500 West Park, Mrs. C. O. Wilkins, 108 Ave. G., and Mrs. Mable Wagner, 137 Beach. Sales are going well, she reports, and she would like to emphasize that tickets will be sold also at the door of the Bull Barn during dinner hours Tuesday.

Pete...

"The Industrial Committee worked extensively with the James Allan & Sons Packing Company earlier in the year and anticipates now that construction on that firm will start during 1965.

"The staff also answers an average of five inquiries a day from tourists, potential new residents, business or professional men, students, and a host of others including those seeking lost kin folk. The annual banquet was again a major project and a successful one, though delayed by the 'great blizzard' of February, 1964. The staff has also helped many new residents to find housing.

"The membership committee has adopted a new incentive plan and has come up with $2,400 in new membership pledges since February 1st. The Human Relations committee has held monthly meetings to discuss and explore areas of concern to various racial groups, an intangible but necessary activity.

"These and many others too numerous to catalogue here make up a pretty impressive record of Chamber of Commerce accomplishment," Pete concluded.

Fragrant Pear Relish Rates High

By Cecily Brownson

Associated Press Food Editor NOWADAYS GOOD cooks are likely to treat their family and friends to delightful old-fashioned homemade relishes — but they do so without the trouble Grandma went to in preparing them.

How does this happen? Modern cooks make the relishes in small batches and serve them right away or store them in the refrigerator.

In Grandma's day, relishes were made in vast quantities. Bashed baskets of fruits and vegetables were peeled and chopped. Huge preserving kettles were brought from their storage places. Jars were washed and sterilized. No more — well hardly ever.

With no fuss, you can have the old-fashioned aroma of fruits and vegetables, simmering in a spicy syrup, wafting over your kitchen, and you can have old-time pride in a homemade confect.

If we've persuaded you to try this small-batch preserving, then we urge you to start with this recipe for a relish made with Bartlett pears. It's the best of its kind to come our way.

Its attributes? Because light-colored spices are used, the pears and tomatoes called for hold their pretty colors, and the Bartletts hang on to their delicate flavor. If you follow recipe directions and dice the pears in good-size pieces, they will retain their shape.

The first time around, we served this Fragrant Pear Relish with a mushroom meat loaf; then later with sliced cold veal, with broiled fish, and with a mild curry. All our tastes voted for the relish and menu combinations.

REP. ROGERS WRITES

Foes Unite When Security Of Country Is At Stake

Friends and foes in foreign lands have often miscalculated the ability of Americans to unite in common purpose when our national security is threatened.

But it should come as no surprise at home and abroad to see our people unite suddenly and solidly behind our Commander in Chief when our rights and our freedom are insulted.

At this writing, it is impossible to forecast events in the next few days arising from the crisis in Southeast Asia.

But, as our leaders have repeatedly warned the Communists, aggressive challenges have been — and are being met — and met decisively. The actions taken by our President and our armed forces following the Tonkin Gulf torpedo boat attacks should signify clearly to all that the United States means to stand firmly by its commitments.

President Johnson made several statements that should receive careful attention abroad as statements of unified, bipartisan American attitude: "There is no threat to any peaceful power from the United States of America. But there can be no peace by aggression and no immunity from reply." And: "Let no friend needlessly fear, and no foe vainly hope, that this is a Nation divided in this election year. Our free elections, our full and free debate, are America's strength,

1 cup sugar 1 teaspoon salt 1/8 teaspoon cayenne pepper 1 teaspoon dry mustard 1 teaspoon ground ginger 1/2 cup elder vinegar Pare, core and coarsely dice pears — there should be about 1 1/2 cups out in 1/2- to 3/4-inch pieces. Dip tomatoes into boiling water for a minute or two and remove skins; cut into medium thick wedges to make 2 cups.

In a kettle, mix together the pears, tomatoes, green pepper, onion, sugar, salt, pepper, mustard, ginger and vinegar. Bring to a boil, stirring often. Simmer until pears are soft and transparent and liquid is thickened. Makes about 1 quart. Serve warm or cold. Store any relish not used in tightly covered jar in refrigerator.

Federal Officials Commend Texas' Civil Rights Act

By Vern Sanford Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — Texas' progress in the field of race relations was commended by visiting federal officials here to discuss aspects of the new Civil Rights Law.

Gov. John Connally met briefly with Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges; former Florida Gov. LeRoy Collins, director of the new Community Relations Service; and former Gov. Buford Ellington of Tennessee.

Session was one of a series to be conducted with governors in all states at the request of President Johnson to discuss the Community Relations Service operation. Agency will provide consultation service at the state and local level to resolve discrimination disputes.

Governor Connally predicted Texas will continue to move forward without outside help. Meanwhile Texas School Boards Association warned that action on the part of segregated schools between now and Labor Day may determine their continued eligibility for federal funds.

According to Department of Health, Education and Welfare officials on the Civil Rights Law, all the answers won't be known until new regulations are drawn late this month.

But the law has been introduced as banning federal aid to segregated facilities. Texas schools now get about $30,000,000 a year in federal money for such programs as the national defense education act, vocational education, school lunch and milk program and aid to districts where federal installment bring in a large number of pupils.

HEW personnel indicate "tentative procedures for enforcement of Title VI (of the Civil Rights Law) will require assurance from local school boards of compliance or intention to comply before federal funds will be awarded."

APPOINTMENTS — Governor Connally selected Pat Taggart of Waco, president of Newspaper, Inc., as a member of Texas State Historical Survey Committee to succeed Sam Priyvit of Childress for an unexpired term extending until January 1.

New members of the State Board of Vocational Nurse Examiners are Miss Hedwig Pustejovsky of Houston, Mrs. Jimmie L. Morrison of Hico and Mrs. Naomi Younger of Levelland. Their terms extend until September 7, 1969.

Dr. J. A. Barrington, Wichita Falls, and Dr. Claude Wiley, El Paso, were named to six-year terms on the State Board of Veterinary Medical Examiners. They succeed Dr. John McCoy of Paris and Dr. Edward Dwellie of Alice.

Kirby Hillin of Dallas and Virgil A. Walston, Houston, succeed W. J. Burdick of Dallas and Kenneth Nelson of Diboll to six-year terms on the State Board of Registration for Public Surveyors.

Allen Searight, community coordinator for Texas Industrial Commission has accepted a job as executive director of Texas Historical Foundation. Larry Milner, San Angelo, will take over Searight's duties with the Industrial Commission on August 15.

aspects of a Texas plan for community mental health programs. Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler refused to consider the sale of 10 tracts of school land in Bandera County, explaining that he thought his own staff had set values too low.

Treasurer Jesse James reported an increase of $459,999 in tax revenues for stamps on ale, liquor and wine from July, 1963, to July, 1964, for a total of $10 million last month.

Attorney General Carr announced the recovery of $52,425 against two defendants charged with operating slanted oil wells; making a total of $80,270 in judgements which have been returned against slant-hole drillers and operators.

Texas Education Agency has formally requested of federal authorities the establishment of a multi-million-dollar residential vocational education school at old Gary Army Airfield, San Marcos.

Governor Connally will tour four northern Mexico states bordering Texas Aug. 15-18.

University of Texas' Bureau of Business Research reveals that its seasonally-adjusted index of business activity in Texas hopped 16 per cent above June 1963, level, marking the 41st month in an upward swing that rivals the 45-month expansion record set between October, 1949, and July, 1953.

Tourist attendance of 16 key Texas attractions have served 10,100,000 this year, up 15 per cent over the first six months of 1963, and will get better during the second half of the year, Texas Tourist Development Agency predicts.

Awtreys and Guests Attend Clovis Reunion

Ulysses, Kans., visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Awtrey Sr., Dimmitt Highway, last weekend were their son, W. H. Awtrey Jr. and his family.

Last Sunday all took a picnic basket lunch to the park in Clovis, N. M., and joined other relatives and friends in celebrating the 72nd birthday of H. R. Bryant, brother of Mrs. Awtrey Sr. Among the 25 observing the occasion with the Hereford relatives were those from Friona; Ulysses, Kans.; Grady, Portales, and Clovis, N. M.

Frank Bezners Return From Two-State Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Bezner and their children, Jane, Judy, and Frank Jr., have returned from a week's vacation in Colorado and New Mexico.

Chief points of interest, especially to the children, according to Judy, were Pike's Peak, Seven Falls, and the Royal Gorge.

Though normal retirement age in the United States is 65, many distinguished people have remained extraordinarily productive late in life. Verdi finished the opera "Falstaff" at 80. Goethe completed "Faust" shortly before his death at 83; the Greek dramatist Sophocles wrote "Oedipus Rex" at 75 and "Oedipus at Colonus" at 89.

Going East? Here's What to See — Part VIII

Doing The Fair Quickly? It'll Take Three Days

By Sara Gillentine
New York — Part III
To see every exhibit at the New York's World Fair would take at least two weeks, but with careful planning, the visitor will find it possible to see many of the more outstanding exhibits and pavilions in about three days.

There are many ways to get at the Fair, some expensive and some very economical. Visitors who wish to drive to the fair in a private car will find the route plainly marked by more than 1500 Unisphere symbols which have been placed on the main highways and roads.

Probably the most widely used mode of travel is the subway. Any of New York's three subway lines will connect with IRT Flushing Line and go directly to the Fair. The cost is 15 cents and the express ride from Times Square on World's Fair specials takes about 20 minutes.

From Pennsylvania Station to the Fair is a 12-minute express ride which costs 50 cents one way or $2.50 for a round trip plus one admission to the Fair.

It is also possible to get to the Fair by any New York City Cab. The cost is usually expensive, 25 cents for the first one-fifth mile, five cents for each additional fifth. The minimum is about $2.50 but with traffic and tolls the cost is usually sharply higher.

By boat, the grounds may be reached in several ways. Cruise boats, hydrofoils, and private boats leave from many places in the city. The average price is a little over $3.

Bus service to the Fair is good. The price is higher than the subway but the buses are run on a 20 minutes interval from Manhattan, Brooklyn, Queens, Jamaica and LaGuardia Airport.

Probably the most unusual way to arrive at the Fair is by helicopter. This transportation is sponsored by the New York Airways and has 30 flights daily to and from the Fair's Port Authority Heliport. The fare ranges from $5 to $10.

It is important for the tourist to realize that the Fair is divided into five different sections and to try to see the things of interest in one section before going on to the next.

These sections are the industrial, the international, the federal and state, the transportation and the lake amusement area. In the center of these sections sets the Unisphere, which is the symbol of the Fair.

This Unisphere is a 12-story-high stainless steel model of the Earth. It is dedicated to "Peace through Understanding," and will remain at the site when the Fair is over, as a permanent gift of the City of New York. The Unisphere, which is the largest representation of the earth ever made by man, has curved sheets of stainless steel representing the land masses; the capital of every nation is marked by a light.

The Fair offers almost any public service that is needed, from a diaper-change facility offered by the Scott Paper Company, to first aid stations, to beds in private alcoves rented by the Simmons pavilion.

There are many different ways to see the Fair. The most popular way is by an independent walking tour but there are also, glass-domed bus coaches, Glide-a-Ride tours, passenger escorts, the Monorail, the Aerial Tower Ride, the Swiss Sky Ride, and children's tours. These tours range in cost from 25 cents to $11.

While at the Fair, the visitor is supplied with the latest world news from 9 a.m. to 11 p.m. by the General Foods' Communications Arches. The Time-Life News Service supplies world, national, sports, weather, traffic and financial news, which is flashed on these 11 Arches.

Special facilities have been established for a number of groups. Servicemen will find a USO information service at the Coca-Cola pavilion. Masons can get information about lodge events at the Masonic pavilion and Boy Scouts will receive news of Scout happenings at their pavilion. Rotarians can get information on daily meetings and programs at the New York Rotarian information center in the National Cash Register pavilion and women's groups in their own official hospitality center, sponsored by Purex.

Public telephones are spotted around the area at more than 1,400 locations, and there are 60 mailboxes located around the grounds.

The 1964-65 World's Fair is supposedly the most comfortable Fair which has ever been held. Benches are located beside parks throughout the area and even some of the entrances to the different exhibits have been air conditioned.

Although the lines are extremely long to many of the exhibits, the majority of them move rapidly and the usual waiting time is about 20 minutes for the larger exhibits, although this will vary at different times during the day.

Two Bowl Teams Meet Red Raiders In First Games

Three bowl participants lead off Texas Tech's home football schedule this fall.

First three foes in Jones Stadium for Coach J. T. King's Red Raiders are Mississippi State, the Liberty Bowl winner; University of Texas, the Cotton Bowl champion; and Southern Methodist, nipped by a touchdown in the Sun Bowl. Completing the six-game home card are West Texas State, Washington State, and University of Arkansas.

Road contests are with Texas A & M, Texas Christian, Baylor, and Rice.

Mississippi State opens the home slate at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 19. Wade Walker, former Texas Tech assistant coach, is MSU athletic director, and Vic Spooner, who played end for Tech, is an assistant coach there. Texas, gunning for another national championship, will be met in night game a week later, Sept. 26.

Three successive road games are interspersed before Southern Methodist engages the Red Raiders in a contest climaxing Dad's Day the night of Oct. 24.

Following a regionally televised game with Rice, the Red Raiders return for a three-game home stand winding up the season. First comes the Raiders' oldest rival, West Texas State, at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 7. Washington State of the AAWU, whose Cougars first met the Raiders last fall, plays Texas Tech in the initial day game of the home schedule at 2 p.m. Nov. 14. Arkansas will furnish opposition for the homecoming game at 2 p.m. Nov. 21.

Both season ticket and individual game orders are being accepted by the Texas Tech Athletic Department. Season ticket prices (plus a 50-cent mailing fee) are $24, $27, $30, and $36, depending upon the seat location. Game tickets sell for $4, $4.50, $5, and $6.

Mix butter with paprika and celery seeds; slash hard rolls diagonally but not through the bottom; spread cuts with the butter mixture and heat.

IRRIGATED QUARTER SECTIONS
When operating costs rise and gross income doesn't... more acres is the only way to hold up your income. Here are some small tracts that may be close enough to you that you may be about to pass up... just because you don't know they can be bought.
SOUTHWEST... Fair quarter section with 1200' of tile and small, good, clean, house. Has approx. 50 acres of cotton (that's worth a ton) and the rest in beets and grain. $40,000.00 cash down payment and we can make a loan of $40,000.00 for the balance.
SOUTH... Approx. 120 acres of rough land about half irrigated from a 6" well and the other half in grass. Located close in... $37,000.00 total and half cash down payment.
SOUTHEAST... About 70 acres, unimproved except for a 5" well, located on the pavement. $35,000.00 total... name your own terms or trade your home. This would be a beautiful place to build a new home and raise a family.
SOUTHWEST... Good quarter with about 50 acres of cotton... full allots... about 1/2 miles of tile... Owner might take $15,000.00 to $20,000.00 down payment & all the rest could be paid at about what the rent is now paying.
NORTHWEST... Nearly perfect quarter in the very best of water... good allots... $80,000.00 total and the owner only wants $20,000.00 down and he will carry the balance himself.
FINANCING... In most instances where you already own more than 200 acres, we can increase the loan on your own farm for enough to make the down payment on any of the above. We would place your loan with

Our news media is partly responsible for this tax increase, and the others that will undoubtedly follow. Were we not deluged with propaganda about Hereford's "prosperity"? Did not out banks show that there were more depositors now in Hereford than at any time in the history of the town? Would not a church have to be pressed into service to provide classrooms when school opened this year, said a pathetic cartoon?

One wonders if this misleading information has not led our new superintendent to believe that Hereford was a modern Utopia where money is no problem to anyone, since he had hardly unpacked before he was asking for a substantial tax increase.

I believe that all the additional classroom space we need could be provided without any tax increase. I can't see the necessity of paying some architect to draw up a plan for a new unit everytime we need to build. Two grade schools have been built in Hereford in the last 10 years. I wonder why the same blueprints couldn't be used to build another grade school. Or, why wings couldn't be added to these two schools such as has been done at the hospital. We have paid out enough money to architects since I have been in Hereford to build a small grade school.

Also, I believe we are paying far in excess of the actual cost of construction by letting out all of our contracts to outside contracting firms. By the time they sub let it out to other contractors, and they do the same to others, we find ourselves paying so many profits that our buildings have cost us twice their worth by the time they are turned over to the Board.

Very few people in our city have the slightest idea what methods are used in compiling a citizen's taxes. Here's the way it is done, and I don't agree with it: The city, county and state, and the school has hired a professional tax firm in Amarillo to secure the information about your property. These professionals also collect all the information as number of bathrooms, amount of pavement, fences, wood-burning fireplaces, etc. With this information they list houses in classifications running from "deluxe" through the alphabet down to "D" or lower. Other than one bathroom (which is required in Hereford) they tag the others worth $900 is the house is "deluxe", and $100 dollars less for each decreasing classification. Then they tell the agency here what to charge. The school, city and county then takes 40 per cent of the total value they tack on to your property and thus the school charges you $1.85 per $100 dollar value, the city charges $1.40, etc. So, leave off all the frills, forget about extra conveniences, make the outside as plain and unattractive as possible, and you'll come out better on your taxes.

A question that puzzles me, and I presume it does others, is why the hundreds of new homes built in Hereford in the past few years haven't provided enough additional tax money to take care of the school expansion program. When I arrived in Hereford nine years ago they were growing wheat on property that now sports millions of dollars worth of new homes, with scarcely any that would bring in less than $400 a year in taxes which would go to the school, city, county and state.

Another thing I believe should be corrected in Hereford is the over-evaluation of property by these professionals. I made a check at the courthouse this spring after buying a home and found the tax valuation was $2360 above its present market value. I took this information before the tax equalization Board and they lowered it by $800, but still left it $1500 above the market price.

With the new increase in school taxes I will pay over $10 more than was paid last year, even with the lowered valuation. I believe that many of our other citizens would find that their property had been over valued by these tax professionals whose very lifeline is their ability to get the public to pay more taxes.

I believe the trend toward more and more taxation in Hereford can be halted if responsible citizens would form a committee whose goal would be encouraging people to run for these public offices who are dedicated to greater economy in our local systems.

After getting them to run for office I believe they should actively campaign on their behalf, seeing to it that they are not branded as "John Birchers" by the spendthrifts of our city who want to keep people out of office who will not yield to their demands for high taxes.

Sincerely,
V. W. Marcontell

15 Tons Of Elephants Here For Shrine Show

When Capt. Eugene Scott and 15 tons of ponderous pachyderms come thundering into the center ring at the Shrine Circus tomorrow people will know that the Shrine Circus is back in town. The Rudy Bros. Elephants have achieved a high degree of fame throughout the show world. Recently returned from a tour of Mexico and the Orient during the winter months, they have appeared in more motion pictures than any other like troupe in motion picture history.

Ranked third in animal intelligence tests the chimpanzee is one of the few mammals that scientists claim can "think for themselves". The practical jokes they invent and the pranks they play between performances lend credence to this belief and really justify the phrase, "Fun by the Ton".

Wayne Phillips, Circus Chairman, says, "What would a circus be without elephants?" and he informs us that this year the Rudy Bros. elephants have trunks full of new tricks and routines.

In spite of their huge size these sawdust stars are really most agile on their feet and you will really be surprised when you see "Judy" actually do the "Twist".

Chamber Warns Of Itinerant House Painters

The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Wednesday warned homeowners against itinerant house painters who offer to paint homes and barns at unrealistically low prices.

Bill Thompson, manager of the chamber, said thousands of homeowners are victimized each summer by fly-by-night operators whose extravagant promises concerning the quality of their paints and workmanship fail to materialize in the finished job.

According to the National Better Business Bureau, with which the chamber is affiliated through membership, a recent issue of the Virginia Department of Agriculture Bulletin sets forth these guidelines for homeowners:

1. Talk first with a reputable paint dealer and tell him of your needs. He will be able to offer suggestions that should prove helpful when planning the painting job with a contractor.

2. Deal with a contractor known locally. A reputable painter will specify in writing exactly what he will do and what he will use (trade name, color, etc.) This is your best safeguard and may be your only recourse if the job is not satisfactory.

3. When in doubt about a painter ask him for a 30 day credit arrangement. Virtually all reliable contractors will agree to this. If your painter does not, it's a good bet he may not be available if trouble arises after the job is completed.

4. Be at home when the painting is done, and check to see it conforms with your contract.

5. Remember that you get what you pay for. Cheap paint or an inferior job will cost more in the long run.

Latinos Capture Five Big Wins; Continue Streak

The Hereford Latinos continue to ring the victory bell as they latched onto five more consecutive wins since July 25. The Latinos defeated the Amarillo Lobos by a score of 5 to 3. Lupe Ramariz did the pitching for the Latinos and was backed up by a very tight fielding team on the defensive side, and by the big bats of Oscar Garcia, Obie Lesi, Shortie Salinas, Paul Torres, and by the other members of the team.

During the second game on July 25, the Latinos played a magnificent game both defensively and offensively. In the bottom of the first inning, third baseman Miranda opened up with a home run over the left field fence to start the Latinos off to a flying start then the next three batters all knocked doubles and triples. The Plainview

Indians were somewhat disturbed to say the least, over the playing and hitting of the Hereford Latinos since they had a record of some 19 wins and no losses for the season. The Indians used some five pitchers to attempt to stop the Latino onslaught, but the attempt was made in vain. Kendrick, with 13 strikeouts was the winning Latino pitcher.

August 1, the Hereford hosted the well known Brownfield baseball club which is composed of a number of Brownfield High School players, especially one Mr. Garcia who led the Brownfield High School baseball team and helped defeat Hereford by a score of 17-2, as Brownfield took over the Whitefaces' road to the State baseball championship.

But the Hereford Latinos were soon to put a gigantic block in the way of the famous Brownfield team by way of Latino pitchers: Lupe Ramariz, Gilbert Charles, and Oscar Garcia, and by the hard-hitting bats of the Latinos. The pitcher for Brownfield, Garcia, whose reputation as a pitcher now seems doubtful, lasted only one-third of an inning against the Latinos and was replaced due to the very important reason that he allowed the Latinos 11 runs, however, it would be unfair to say that Garcia is not a fine ball player; he knocked a home run and played excellent ball as shortstop for the Brownfield team. The Latinos defeated Brownfield by a score of 22 to 6.

August 8, the Latinos traveled to Nazareth where they had one of the most exciting games of the year. In the first inning the Latinos gained two runs and held a lead of 2 to 0 until the 3rd inning when Nazareth scored 2 runs to tie the game 2-2. Both teams played heads-up ball until the fifth inning when Hereford scored 2 more runs. The score was Hereford 4 and Nazareth 2 until the last of the 9th inning when Nazareth scored 1 more run. Then, the Latinos infield and outfield made 3 magnificent plays: the outcome: Hereford 4 and Nazareth 3. In total, there were six innings on the part of each team where batters were downed in order. Also some eight plays added vigor to the game. The game was one of the best played and most well-balanced of the year. The losing pitcher for Nazareth was Ray Smucker and the winning pitcher was Hereford's Gary Kendrick.

When the Latinos returned to Hereford, they were still in a mood for ball, so they engaged the Hereford ABC team who had just finished a game with the Hereford Rebels, who they defeated by a score of 8-7. The seemingly exhausted Hereford Latinos seemed to get off to a bad start as the ABC team scored 1 run at the first of the game and then another to lead the Latinos 2 to 0. Things were looking pretty dark for the Latinos as the ABC team played a very excellent and greatly improved defense. It wasn't until the fifth inning when Sabino, outfielder for the Latinos, knocked a home run with Paul Torres on base to tie the score 2 to 2, that it seemed that the Latinos might have a spark of hope; then, an entirely new game started with both teams continued to play excellent ball.

It looked as if the game might go extra innings, until the sixth inning when big Paul Torres rocketed a ball over the left field fence for his first home run of the year; the score then was Hereford Latinos 3 and the Hereford ABC's 2. And the score remained: Hereford Latinos 3 and the Hereford ABC's 2.

Next Sunday the Hereford Latinos will travel to Brownfield to engage the team which they have defeated once this year, but in the game of baseball unpredictable things happen very often, and it could be that Brownfield may have a big surprise for the Hereford Latinos, and pitcher Garcia may be just the man to deliver it!

When golf pro Bill Meyers of Daytona Beach, Fla., had a double bogey 6 on the first hole of this year's 100 tournament in Hartford, Conn., he said "these guys shake me up." He was playing with long-hitting George Bayer and U. S. Open Champion Ken Venturi.

Miss Lemons, Mr. Boynton Marry In Church Ceremony

BRIDE'S BOOK REVIEW — Bridal attendants in the Boynton-Lemons wedding of Saturday, Mrs. Jack M. Miller, matron of honor at left, and Miss Carolyn Boynton, bridesmaid, are reviewing pre-nuptial courtesies for the bride, the former Miss Kay Lemons, and her wedding plans in the special Bride's Book. Mrs. Miller is sister of the bride and Miss Boynton is the groom's sister.

Aisle candelabra holding bridal white bows and greenery marked the wedding procession of Miss Roberta Kathleen (Kay) Lemons when she became the bride of Jay Wayne Boynton in the sanctuary of the First Presbyterian Church Saturday evening.

Before a sunburst of greenery enhanced by altar vases filled with white gladioli and carnations, the Rev. Russell Wingert, pastor of the church, officiated as the young couple exchanged marriage vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Lemons, 141 Emma. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Boynton, 404 Star.

Mrs. Charles Holt presented organ nuptial music and accompanied Miss Joyce West, who sang "If I Could Tell You," and Walker Parris in "The Lord's Prayer."

Mr. Lemons gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a formal gown of white bridal satin designed with belted skirt and pleated oval chapel train held by re-embroidered petal points of Chantilly lace encircling the waist. The fitted bodice fashioned with scooped neckline was marked by a row of tiny self-covered buttons at back closing with abbreviated rows at wrists where lace motifs were repeated. A crown of seed pearls and Chantilly lace held her elbow-length pouf veil of silk illusion. Fashioned of white French roses, two hearts held the white cattleya orchid of the bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Jack M. Miller, Portales, N. M., was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Carolyn Boynton, sister of the groom; Mrs. Dan McDowell, Lubbock; and Mrs. Joe Mack Hale, Canyon. With scooped necklines and cummerbunds of self-material, their identical ensembles were fashioned of antique gold peau de sole with dyed to match shoes and headdresses of antique gold roses securing their matching nosegay veils. They carried heart-shaped bouquets of pompon chrysanthemums.

Clifton Corley served as best man, and groomsmen were Bobby Lemons, Charles Thomas, and Bill Fitzgerald. Ringbearers, both from Amarillo, were Tracy Rogers, cousin of the bride, and Carl Smyth, cousin of the groom.

For the wedding of her daughter, Mrs. Lemons chose a silver blue swiss silk dress accented by bone accessories, blue satin pillbox, and corsage of white roses.

Mrs. Boynton, the groom's mother, was gowned in toast lace over matching taffeta, with harmonizing accessories and corsage of white roses.

For their wedding trip that will take them finally to points of interest in Old Mexico, the bride wore a two-piece suit of French blue with white collar and dyed-to-match accessories and pillbox hat. She wore her bridal orchid as her corsage.

After the ceremony, a reception honoring the young couple was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Laid in white Madeira linen, the serving table was centered with an arrangement of hearts fashioned from antique gold peau de sole.

Assisting in the house party were Miss MarGwen Lackey, Mrs. Pat Newman, Mrs. Jack Gilliland, Mrs. Joe Deavenport, Mrs. Cecil Boyer, Mrs. Gene Bagwell, Mrs. John Blocker Jr., and Mrs. Charles Hill. Miss Kathryn Bagwell registered the wedding guests in the church foyer.

Graduate of Hereford High School, the bride attended Lippert's Business School, Plainview. During the past two years she has been employed by the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce. Majoring in architecture, Boynton will be a senior in the University of Oklahoma, Norman, Okla., in 1964-65.

The young couple are planning a home in Norman, Okla., when the groom resumes his studies this autumn.

Out-of-city wedding guests included Mrs. Charles R. Lemons, grandmother of the bride, Panhandle; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Miller, Portales, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Kitchie, West Los Angeles, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Boynton, Oxnard, Calif.; Mrs. and Mrs. W. D. Boynton, Santa Fe, N. M.

Guests from other Texas cities were Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Boynton, Vernon; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wayne Boynton and Kym, Lockett; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bagwell, Kathryn and Tony, Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Boynton and Mr. and Mrs. Dan McDowell, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mack Hale, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Alsup; and Mr. and Mrs. Stan Kilman, Canyon.

Amarillo guests included Miss MarGwen Lackey, Mr. and Mrs.

Willie Potts, and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Newman; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Rogers, Tracey and Gena; Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Drummond and children.

All auxiliary and home demonstration club members are reminded, Mrs. Ott says, that the last of the cooperative summer picnics at the hospital is scheduled for Thursday, Aug. 20.

At a recent meeting of the auxiliary it was announced that "The Martin Dies Story" is the book placed in Deaf Smith County Library as a memorial to Mrs. Alfred May.

Mrs. Ott, auxiliary president, announced also that from the 18th District Convention held in San Antonio she had brought back a citation certifying that the local unit merited special recognition for having an enrollment by Jan. 1, 1964, exceeding its 1963 membership.

With this fact before the organization, all members were urged to pay their dues by the beginning of the auxiliary new year in September and to recruit new members.

Greatest effort of the auxiliary, Mrs. Ott points out, at present concerns arrangements for the Annual Harvest Dinner next Tuesday, 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m., in the Ball Barn and each member's selling tickets for that event.

Kings Manor Reports

On Tuesday, August 11, our home at 425 Sunset Drive was a busy and happy place. Ten new residents who are to move into King's Manor near the first of September were guests for the evening. The occasion was an orientation visit to get acquainted and answer questions about the details of moving into our home. Such questions included what size are the drapes, what kind of carpet and how much shall I bring, what pieces of my own furniture can be used without crowding my room, what freedom and privileges will remain mine, and many others of an individual nature.

These new people include Mrs. Grace Richardson, Hobbs, New Mexico; Mrs. S. A. Sifford, Lubbock; Miss Lillie Hostettler, Amarillo; Mr. Arthur Thompson, Amarillo and Hereford; Mrs. Clara Shore, Hereford; Mrs. Lee Curry, Hereford; Mrs. Clara Fry, Hereford; Mr. O. Wilder, Hereford; Mrs. W. A. Hitchcock, Amarillo; and Mrs. Lola Hughes, Ropesville. Those from Hereford need no introduction to most of our citizens. They are people whose work and lives and family have contributed well to our community. They will continue to be helpful and be sources of joy to the family at King's Manor. Mrs. Hitchcock is the mother of ten wonderful sons and daughters who grew up in a Methodist parsonage in this conference. Their father Rev. W. A. Hitchcock was a beloved member of the Northwest Texas Conference. Mrs. Grace Richardson is a retired teacher who continues some private teaching and is active with a wonderful hobby of keeping up with her students. She is a member of an Episcopal Church. Mrs. Sifford is the widow of one of the most colorful preachers in the story of Methodism in Northwest Texas. Rev. S. A. Sifford with his wonderful family gave many years of service to the church and was outstanding in his evangelistic zeal. His bright red hair made some contribution to a character who never knew strangers and who was loved by all. Mrs. Sifford has never been frightened by problems and will be a glorious source of happiness. Miss Hostettler is known in Hereford as an unusual person. You will remember her as one of the most effective librarians Hereford has ever known. We have a library arrangement at King's Manor and Miss Hostettler will be a part of it. Her charm and eager interest in the current day will mean a great deal to our life in King's Manor. Mrs. Hughes has lived at Ropesville many years. After her husband's death she went back to college and secured a permanent teacher's certificate. She expects to do substitute teaching in Hereford. She will also carry some responsibility in the routine program at King's Manor. She has no children, and like most of our residents expects this to be her last move. She has been an unusual Sunday School teacher for many years. This makes six resident at King's Manor who have been unusual Sunday School teachers for many years.

Within a few months our program at King's Manor will invite many Hereford people to meet with us in activities for retirees out in the city. Then you will discover that these thirty five or forty residents at King's Manor are neither old nor entirely retired. They are eager for every day of life. On September 3rd from two until six P.M. our day of "Open Campus" will demonstrate our youth and our zeal for life. After that time we will tell you about those who are to move to Westgate for more intensive health care. Please come to see us at any time.

The pictures in our report today are quick shots to give you an idea of the construction we will have completed on September 3rd.

Rising School Costs Reflect Needs, Growth Of Hereford

Announcement was made this week of the jump from $1.60 to $1.85 in school taxes. The reason cited by the board, was rising costs, reflected through the 1964-65 budget.

While rising costs are never popular, we doubt if the announcement came as a surprise to many citizens and tax payers. We know, at least, that we have predicted it more than once through these columns as inevitable. Furthermore, when compared with present day cost of living indexes and applied to the tremendous school growth in the community, it is difficult to find much fault with the situation.

Of much greater importance is the fact that our school board is diligently applying itself toward general improvement of our public schools.

Schooling has never been cheap. Some people even predict that it can ultimately bankrupt the country if it continues to expand on the present ratio. In our opinion, and we believe the majority of the people in this community will agree, we want top-notch, first class schools — and we want them at the most reasonable figure possible. Meanwhile, we know that they will cost money and, as general costs rise, so will our school costs, along with other forms of government. This is part of our way of life, and it has always been a principle included in our democratic form of government.

Instead of declining in cost, we can

Need We Lose Second Child?

We do not know where Homer Garrison, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, got his figures but if he was correct when he said, "every second child will be killed or injured before living out a normal span of life," it is obvious that we have other things to worry about in Texas than atom bombs.

Col. Garrison made his statement in Canyon this week regarding the ever-increasing death toll on Texas highways, when he pointed to a 13 percent increase in traffic deaths over last year. Furthermore, we are inclined to believe that Col. Garrison put his finger on the most important point, when he added:

"The key is that we must have active support of the people themselves." He further advocated a revised drivers license law, expanded driver education program and an enlarged highway patrol.

Because the loss of every second child born in Texas would be far greater than any toll ever suffered in this nation, be it through war, famine or pestilence, it is easy for us to realize that highway slaughter is by far the most ominous problem which we face in this state and nation today.

The time has come to stop winking an eye, or looking the other way when this subject arises. Where we have been deaf to clever slogans and warning signs, it is time that we considered the problem seriously — as adults — and instead of shaking our heads, it is time that we joined Col. Garrison in at least making an effort to bring endless highway slaughter to slow-down and, ultimately, to a halt. Only when a determined citizenship comes to this conclusion, and enters into a unified campaign with vigor can we expect affirmative results.

expect our schools of the future to cost even more. Already, state-wide plans have been discussed regarding establishment of junior colleges on the county or district levels. It is also important to remember that each new school plant requires administrators, teachers, janitors and other personnel, and that the building itself is only the beginning of expanded costs in any school program.

In return for these expenditures we can enroll our graduates in colleges all over the nation provided our school rating is acceptable; we turn out several hundred boys and girls each year who are well trained, and capable of competing with graduates from other schools without apology or concession. In some cases, we like to feel that our youngsters are even a little bit better trained than the average. And we think, along with the school board, that this is what the people of the Hereford district want above all else.

Our boys and girls are the most important crop in the community. We want them to have equal opportunity with other youngsters — and this is the only way possible to maintain such standards.

Furthermore, we can be happy that our schools are still controlled and operated within our community — by ourselves through the people we choose to elect — and not on a federal level, which would definitely establish a new, nerve-shaking cost spiral. And the most important factor in keeping them this way is through the continuation of good schools, efficiently operated for the benefit of all concerned.

In Behalf Of A Good Judge

While we are not familiar with the recent Dallas News article in which District Judge Harry Schultz was cited as having spent all of 1963 without trying a single case, we are bound to join Judge Schultz in protest and rebuttal.

From observation, we have always found Judge Schultz to be energetic, prompt and prone to handle his work with dispatch. From only four of the counties in the 69th district, Judge Schultz reports that in the first six months of this year 322 new cases have been filed, and 190 have been disposed of. Last year he tried 402 cases.

Where the Dallas publication got off the beam, we do not know, but they were definitely in error. Furthermore, as the judge points out, many of the cases dismissed were after hours, even days, in pretrial conferences which led to many of the settlements. Add to this the distances ranging from 30 to 100 miles between county seats — and we feel that Judge Schultz manages to keep fairly busy throughout the entire year.

About the other districts, we cannot say, but we do know from experience that Judge Schultz has conscientiously and energetically fulfilled the duties of his office as district judge for more than a decade. He has discharged these duties with honor and dispatch and wisdom. His job, though far from easy, is often without recognition; his pay is far from exorbitant and, we feel sure, is less than he could secure through private practice if he were so inclined.

Through his dedicated efforts, programs of child support have been introduced into several counties in the 69th judicial district, and he may well have established a pattern for child support in statewide divorce procedure as future years unfold.

To thank him with untruths and libelous indictments would be ingratitude, and we feel sure that this is not what the Dallas News anticipated. Meanwhile, those who have known and observed Judge Schultz, can but laugh at the absurdity of these mis-statements.

All of these people, especially in the six counties where he serves and works, protest the attack vigorously. Instead, we have always found in Judge Schultz a tireless worker, a dedicated man, and an outstanding jurist. We have shown our appreciation time after time by re-electing him to the post of district judge. Let us also add:

"More judges of the caliber of Judge Schultz, we need all over Texas, and throughout the entire nation."

Nugget

A Kansas newspaper tells an interesting story which might be read with profit by some of our legislation-happy solons.

In one part of ancient Greece, it relates, it long was the custom, when a man proposed a law in the popular assembly, for him to do so on a platform with a rope around his neck. If the law passed, they removed the rope. If it failed, they removed the platform.

While we wouldn't think of advocating the introduction of this custom in our Congress, it is intriguing to speculate on what would happen if it were instituted. Of one thing we can be quite sure: It would cut down on the number of bills introduced each session.

Panhandle Paragraphs

One thing about being a weekly newspaper editor: There is never a dull moment. Just as we started to press with the first run last week, a piece of metal became jammed in a track on our press and it locked down. Being under the gun, as they say (facing a mailing deadline) we left the press and went to Anson; to have our paper printed. Anson is the nearest paper our size. . . . We consider the misfortune a real break in that it could have been a whole lot worse. It keeps you on pins wondering what's going to happen next.

The Denver City school district's board of trustees today had slashed school taxes, albeit by a penny per $100 assessed valuation. The tax slash, from $1.71 to $1.70 came at a Thursday night meeting of school board members. The budget reflects an increase of $42,663 over the school budget for the '63-64 school year. . . . due primarily, to increases in school personnel salaries.

The first load of the estimated $12 million Lamb county grain (sorghum) crop came into Littlefield Friday, an early cutting by Bill Owen, 2 1/2 miles southeast of town on a 20-acre field planted in May. Owen and Virgil Bitner, combine contractor, cut about 4000 pounds of the new crop before deciding that the grain needed a few more days' curing time. . . . The first load brought a $50 bonus, $1.74 per hundred. Clint Byers, purchaser, said the new market was "opening at $1.75 on the basis of 15 percent moisture."

Because of the higher cost of material and labor and the additional needs of our growing town, it will be necessary for the City of Vega to raise the assessed value of your property from 45 percent to 50 percent of actual value. The city appraisers have also rechecked all property within the city and have given depreciation on some older buildings and have added the improvements to others.

Ollon's cucumber crop, less than half the size it was last year, is moving right along. Last year 750 acres of cucumbers were contracted in this area; this year the contracted crop is only 330 acres. But averaging 25,000 pounds per acre, the area crop should run well over 8 million pounds. At a 50-pound-per bushel rate, production should be around 165,000 bushels. And that's a lot of pickles.

THE BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Bindweed farm has discovered a new problem to worry about, his letter this indicates.

Dear editor:

According to an article I read last night, the average farmer is now producing enough to feed 31 other people.

Fifty years ago he was lucky to feed himself and maybe two others, but as the population of the towns and cities increased and the population of the farms decreased, coupled with the masterful production ability of us farmers, the number of non-farmers depending on us to feed them has continued to mount, and the figure now stands at 31, and it may go still higher.

Now I have been thinking about this and while it's pleasant to admit we're doing such a fine job, still there are dangers involved.

For example, when they say the average farmer, that takes in a lot of different sized operators. Frankly, if there are 31 people in town depending on me to feed them, they're in for a hard winter and a poorer spring. In fact, I don't see how they've made it this far.

What happens of course is that some farmers are producing enough to feed 100 or more, maybe 300 or more while others, like me, recognizing a surplus when they see one, figure if they take care of themselves and three or four laying hens they've had a good year.

But here's the thing that worries me. What if the Supreme Court hears about this and comes out with a ruling that it's unfair and un-Constitutional for one farmer to have to feed 300 while others feed only one or two?

You think there's any possibility of the Court's re-districting the farming problem and requiring me to feed 31 others?

I need to know this, as I am making my 1965 farming plans now. Also, the 31 others counting on me need to know even worse; so they can get their garden plots plowed and their belts tightened.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

A&M Professor Seeking To Develop Super Chick

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Dr. John Quisenberry is a quiet man who is trying to build a super-chicken.

The project starts with removal of the eggs from their shells and placing them in transparent plastic shells developed by Dr. Quisenberry at Texas A & M University. Through the plastic, he can watch the baby chick form. He and fellow researchers can watch the heart take shape and begin to beat and see the blood start to circulate.

The next step, and it is a big one, is to design the chicken-to-be while it is still in the shell. Dr. Quisenberry, research director for the American Poultry and Hatchery Federation, said recently, "The average hen in the United States lays 212 eggs a year. But an occasional hen may lay as many as 350. We believe the superior characteristics of that hen might be transferred to other hens."

A hen can't be expected to live more than four or five years. But theory is that tissue from a superior hen can be kept alive indefinitely in a laboratory. Tissue cells contain the hereditary chemistry that makes the chicken great. The trick will be to transfer those characteristics from the laboratory's tissue culture to the living egg inside a plastic shell.

Dr. Quisenberry believes that this is possible by taking a cell from the tissue culture and, in the microscopic process, planting it in the egg.

Roosters would not be needed to continue this chain of events — they could disappear entirely. The offspring would normally be in every way identical with the tissue culture hen.

This would be much the same as grafting plants. Dr. Quisenberry refers to it as "vegetative propagation of animals."

When each of the first generation of super chickens is laying an average of 350 eggs a year, there will doubtless be a rare bird from the bunch that lays 375.

Dr. Quisenberry said, "In a slightly different way, some successful work has been done along this line with frogs."

"If it can be done with chickens, it can probably be done with man. When men of exceptional abilities come along, the world might wish to perpetuate those abilities."

Bank Pipe Cooling From 1455 Feet Away

Dallas (AP) — The 5,000 occupants of the 36-story Republic National Bank Building are working in cool comfort thanks to a cooling device a quarter-mile away.

Seven huge fans atop the 11-story Medical Arts Parking Garage circulate air through a cooling tower that ultimately lowers temperatures in the downtown bank building.

A 1.145-foot tunnel carries 25,000 gallons of water per minute beneath the city streets. The water circulates between the air conditioning equipment 80 feet below the street in the bank basement and the remote cooling tower.

Hereford Irrigation Is Superior To Idaho's

James C. Harris, who left this county about four years ago for Idaho, has been here for some days on business and visiting. He has been in the irrigation districts of Idaho and upon his arrival here stated that the best improvements he saw in this section are the big irrigation wells. "Irrigation is making Idaho and irrigation will make Hereford, if the people will get down to real farming with water," he says.

An article contributed this week to the Brand calls upon the ladies of Hereford and the county to unite their efforts in forming a club the purpose of which is to beautify the city. The first work will be placed at the cemetery in proper condition. After that, a systematic plan of laying out parks and otherwise beautifying the city will be undertaken. Hereford needs such a club.

There is some talk of two or three of the Hereford Sunday Schools engaging in a friendly attendance contest. The proposition is to figure the percentage of attendances and collections on an equitable basis and to compare these "batting averages." The school obtaining the highest average or rank to be declared the winner. The school that comes last in rank to acknowledge their defeat by serving the winner at a social banquet or entertainment to be determined by agreement. It is suggested that each school appoint a committee of two to meet in joint session with similar committees from the other schools. This committee would decide the manner of conducting the contest and the duration and all matters pertaining thereto.

Mr. Virgil O. Strickler of New York City will deliver a free lecture on Christian Science, October 26 at 8 p.m., court house. The public is cordially invited.

Ralph Yarborough brought his campaign for Governor to Hereford Friday afternoon in a brief talk generally aimed at what he termed "Shivers Smear Tactics." He also switched from his previous attack on the "small newspapers of Texas" to the larger ones, more particularly the Amarillo Daily News, which he termed as being run by "Kansas Republicans."

Indicative, possibly, of the successful 1954 potato harvest in this area was the way it drew to a close this week on the Howard Gault place, four miles southwest of Hereford.

A congregation of around 250 workers and four diggers were concentrated on the small 25-acre tract, and gathered up the last red Pontiac from another field that consistently produced more than 300 sacks to the acre. Gault's 1954 yields were high throughout the season, running around "300 sacks and better."

If you thought it was hot in July, you were right. Such, at least is the indication of water consumption records for the City of Hereford, where July 1954, broke all previous records with an estimated consumption of 58,483,111 gallons of water. Hand in hand with gallons goes monthly water bills, which also set a new record in July with a total of $10,526.96.

Style Show To Feature Back-To-School Fashions

Back-to-school fashions — college, grade and high school — will be featured at an elaborate show in the high school auditorium tomorrow night at 8 p.m., produced by Gaston's Popular Store, it was announced Saturday. Fees will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for children under 12; the proceeds to go to the Hereford High School Activity Fund. Co-ordinator of the show will be Sherri Carmichael, and Bob Gilman, Dallas, will be narrator. Music will be provided by Dixie Sims at the organ, and sets have been designed by Erin Wertenberger. Styles will range from formal to the strictly casual, and will present clothes for the very small school-ager to college level and career women, it was explained. Hereford girls will model the styles which will feature well-known brands in a variety of fashions. Among the styles to be displayed will be a Pendleton Junior plaid wool wrap-around skirt accented with a Pendleton classic pull-over worn by Alana Cromber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

William Seyfert. A tasseled scarf will complete the picture. And Penni Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Jones, will wear Jantzen's new ski look for fall — a lime and moss-colored ski sweater top and slim capri pants. Kay Brogdon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Brogdon, will model the newest dance dress for autumn. She will wear the new "skinny-skinny" discotheque, a sequin-studded dress. Extra-curricular clothes will be worn by Suzanne Hart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hart. For the show, Suzanne will display the newest in Petti Juniors, butterscotch stretch pants, coordinated with an extra long white cardigan.

Mary Stoy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Art Stoy, will swing out in discotheque style in her black velveteen jumper by Patty Duke. The scoop neck is accented with a bow. There's flounce at the hem. Patsy Stoy, her sister, will show classic go-togethers from Evan-Picone, the sort of clothes that will take her from the classroom to the football game. Her knife-pleated skirt is topped with a classic pullover, and a tweed bulky cardigan. She will carry one of the new Morris Moskowitz shoulder strap bags. Most campus clothes are work clothes and should be as uncluttered and as neat as a desk. Marsha Hardwick, daughter of Mrs. Marilyn Hardwick, will model just that kind of fashion — a California Charmer blue corduroy jumper, teamed with a precise pin stripe blouse. LICENSES GOING OUT — New hunting and fishing licenses are scheduled to be sent to some 2,800 dealers by August 14, State Parks and Wildlife Commission announces. Old licenses expire on August 31. More than 2,300,000 are expected to be paid during the coming year — at the rate of $2.15 for fishing license and $3.15 for a hunting license. Ten Presidents of the United States could trace their ancestry to Northern Ireland.

Daniels Honeymooning In Colorado, Wyoming

Jim Roy Daniel and his bride, the former Miss Paula Sue Moore, who were married Friday afternoon, are on a wedding trip to Colorado and Wyoming and will later live in Lazbuddie.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Carlton Faulkner Moore, 213 Ranger Drive, is a 1961 graduate of Hereford High School and attended Eastern New Mexico University, Portales, N. M., two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy P. Daniel, Lazbuddie, are the parents of the bridegroom, who is a graduate of Lazbuddie High School and a 1962 graduate of the Oklahoma State University, Stillwater, Okla. He operates his farm near Lazbuddie.

Officiant at the candlelight wedding in the home of the bride's mother was Bob Wear, minister of Canyon Church of Christ. Against a background of greenery enhanced by candelabra with white tapers among arrangements of white and tropical roses, he performed the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. John T. Sims, pianist, played traditional nuptial music; and Mrs. R. C. Godwin sang "Through the Years" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Carlton

E. Moore. The bride's formal gown of white imported Alencon lace and English net over silk taffeta was designed with bouffant skirt sweeping into a chapel train. Lace scallops re-embroidered with seed pearls outlined the scooped neckline of the molded Alencon lace bodice with brief sleeves. Her tiara of seed pearls secured the elbow-length veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of orchids atop a white Bible.

As bridal attendants, Mrs. George Scott, Canyon, and Miss Linda Edwards were gowned in sleeveless floor-length sheaths of gladiola chiffon designed with draped neckline and with narrow satin band at waist. Matching hats and shoes completed the ensembles. They carried tropical rosebuds.

A reception in Mrs. Moore's home followed the ceremony. Miss Terry Smith, Amarillo, registered guests. Mrs. Joan Scott and Mrs. Eddie Skypala served refreshments from a table laid with imported Italian linen and silver appointments. Tropical roses formed the centerpiece.

Among out-of-city wedding guests present were Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Houston and Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Rea, Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Curry, Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Thorn, and Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Ivy and Christy, Friona; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Briggs, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Thorn, and W. H. Gammon, Lazbuddie; Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Norton, Farwell; and Mr. and Mrs. Carrol Hunter, Portales, N. M.

Shower Compliments Mrs. William Legg Jr.

Mrs. William Tandy Legg Jr., recent bride, was complimented at a shower in the South Main home of Mrs. Lynn C. Kester Friday evening.

Greeting the guests, Mrs. Kester introduced them to the bride in the receiving line with Mrs. Tandy Legg, mother of the groom; and Mrs. Bruce Blackaby, Portales, N. M., the bride's mother.

The bride, the former Miss Janet Elaine Blackaby, Portales, became the bride of William Tandy Legg Jr. in an August 1 ceremony in Portales First Methodist Church.

Miss Avie Justice, organist, presented a program of background music for the occasion. Assisting in showing of gifts were Miss Gail Webb and Miss Sue Minor.

Presiding at the service table were Mrs. Ed Ransom, Amarillo, and Miss Marlene Legg, sisters of the groom. Covered with deep-scalloped organza cloth appliqued in linen motifs, the table was centered with an arrangement of pink roses and silver candelabra with pink tapers.

Sharing house party duties with Mrs. Kester were Mrs. Clinton Jackson, Mrs. W. R. Hair, Mrs. Clarence Schultz, Mrs. Pat Robinson, Mrs. Martin Gilliland, Mrs. Lawrence Carlson, Mrs. H. V. Crawford, and Mrs. S. C. Ramsey.

Also Mrs. Fred Welch, Mrs. Fritz Christman, Mrs. Jimmie Allred, Mrs. J. J. Durham, Mrs. B. E. Roberson, Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill Sr., Mrs. H. L. Hershey, and Mrs. L. E. Minor.

The newlyweds are planning a home in Roswell, N. M., where Legg is on the teaching staff of the public schools.

Mrs. Daniel Feted At Brunch

Mrs. G. Wayne Edwards and her daughter, Miss Linda Edwards, honored Miss Paula Moore, then bride-elect of Jim Roy Daniel, at a late July brunch-paper shower.

The Edwards home at 112 Centre was the scene of this informal courtesy for the future bride. Miss Edwards had been selected as a bridal attendant for the Moore-Daniel wedding.

The brunch table had an overlay of white organza accented by coral flowers with white daisies in crystal footed bowl. Appointments were crystal and silver.

Guests shared the honoree's delight in the variety and practical usefulness of the paper gifts, with no duplication among packages from the twenty guests.

Those on the guest list were intrigued by this invitation: Paula's to be married; So let's out a caper — Give her a shower Of things made of paper: Books, napkins, placemats and such, Or even Kleenex, soft to the touch. Could be plates and cups For picnics by road; So come for the fun To Linda's abode.

Present for this summer variety were Miss Cherry Holt and Miss Maribeth Gilliland; the honoree, Miss Moore, and her mother, Mrs. Carlton Faulkner Moore; Mrs. Vance Robinson, Mrs. Lewis Block, Mrs. Eddie Skypala, Mrs. John Beasley, Mrs. W. C. Russell, Mrs. Gene King, Mrs. Jim McDowell, Mrs. Pat Robbins; and the hostesses, Mrs. Edwards and Miss Edwards.

The marriage of Miss Moore and Daniel was solemnized Friday afternoon in the home of Miss Moore's mother, 213 Ranger Drive.

...plenty of HOT water with an ELECTRIC water heater!

From a cold start, a quick-recovery Electric Water Heater will heat 10 gallons of water to 150° F in 33 minutes or less. And, in a 24-hour period, a quick-recovery Electric Water Heater can supply one-third (about 400 gallons) of an entire average family's monthly hot water needs.

FREDDIE SPEAKS HIS PIECE!

YOU'VE NO RIGHT TO SPEAK TO MOTHER LIKE THAT, FREDDIE! YOU'RE A BRUTE AND I'LL NEVER FORGIVE YOU FOR HURTING HER FEELINGS!

HER FEELINGS? HOW ABOUT MINE? I'VE PUT UP WITH HER SARCASTIC REMARKS FOR YEARS! YOU CAN'T EVEN GO HOME TO YOUR MOTHER AFTER A FIGHT, BECAUSE SHE'S ALWAYS RIGHT HERE!!

OF ALL THE NERVE! TALKING BACK TO ME LIKE THAT! I WARNED SUSIE YEARS AGO SHE WAS MARRYING A BORN LOW-BROW! FOR TWO CENTS I'D NEVER SPEND ANOTHER NIGHT UNDER THIS ROOF!

WELL, I JUST HEARD ONE ABOUT THE NEW MODEL CAR CALLED THE "MOTHER-IN-LAW SPECIAL," BECAUSE THERE'S A LOUD-SPEAKER IN THE BACK SEAT!

DO YOU KNOW ANY GOOD MOTHER-IN-LAW JOKES, BINGO?

GO HOME, ARNOLD! IF YOU LISTEN TO THEM YOU'LL BE EVEN MORE AGAINST MARRIAGE!

WHY, SWEET! I'M NOT AGAINST MARRIAGE-- ONLY UP AGAINST IT!

MY BROTHER AND HIS MOTHER-IN-LAW ARE ALMOST INSEPARABLE!

IS IT TRUE, POP, THAT GRAN'MA HAS ONLY VISITED US ONCE SINCE YOU MARRIED MOM?

YEH! THAT'S WHAT BURNS ME UP! SHE CAME THREE WEEKS AFTER WE WERE MARRIED, AND NEVER LEFT!

YOU'LL NEVER HAVE FAMILY TROUBLES-- YOU'RE TOO MUCH OF A DRIFTER!

ONCE THEY PUT A CATFISH IN HERE WITH ME AND WE WENT AROUND TOGETHER FOR QUITE A WHILE!

GEE WHIT, MYRTLE! MAYBE WE'D BETTER GO OUTSIDE BEFORE WE GET MIXED UP IN THIS FAMILY FEUD!

I DON'T LIKE TO TAKE SIDES, BUT GRAN'MA HAS HAD 'SIS COMING FOR A LONG TIME!

OH SURE! I HEARD IT TAKES FOUR PEOPLE TO DRAG 'EM APART!

THERE'S A BIG WEED OVER BY THAT TOMATO PLANT!

YOU MISSED SOME FLOWERS OVER HERE, GRANDMA!

WHAT HAPPENED TO YOU?

NOW, THIS IS WHAT I LIKE-- A QUIET ROAD OFF THE MAD HIGHWAY! GIVES ME A CHANCE TO FORGET I'M A FEDERAL COP DEALING WITH THE MORE UNPLEASANT ASPECTS OF LIFE

THIS IS IT-- OUR FAVORITE PICNIC SPOT, STILL UNSPOILED

WELL, GIVE IT TIME!

JASON-- HAVE YOU EVER WONDERED WHAT ANNIE DOES WITH HERSELF ALL DAY LONG WHILE YOU'RE BUSY?

OH, I IMAGINE SHE PLAYS THE USUAL CHILDREN'S GAMES-- AND THEN SHE'S WITH YOU AND MARILEA A GREAT DEAL OF THE TIME

NOT LATELY, JASON-- WE HARDLY SEE ANNIE AT ALL LATELY--

HOW'S THAT?

I'LL ASK YOU A QUESTION-- WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT A PLACE CALLED BARGEVILLE?

NOT VERY MUCH, EXCEPT IT'S A COLLECTION OF OLD BOATS AND BARGES INHABITED BY A BUNCH OF RAFFISH, WOULD-BE ARTISTS AND POETS AND THE LIKE

WHY DO YOU ASK?

HAS ANNIE TOLD YOU SHE SPENDS ALL OF HER TIME IN THEIR COMPANY?
