Sims News

Farmers in this area are rapidly getting wheat sown so as to take advantage of the moisture present as a result of the recent rains. Rains which have ranged from three to five inches have filled the lakes and wheat should come up to good stands throughout the area. Pastures have made a rapid growth since the rains came, and good grazing is now available.

Singers from this vicinity are invited to attend the basket dinner and singing which will be held Sunday at the Bippus Community House.

To Assist in Sowing
 Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mayfield and son of Wichita Falls moved this week to the Leo Gallagher farm to assist with wheat sowing.

The "pot luck" supper will be held Sunday night at the Sims Community House.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mulkey and son attended a supper at the Joe Evans home at Hereford Saturday night honoring Mrs. Raylan Evans, who with her son, will leave soon for St. Louis, Mo., and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Evans and David, who are moving soon to Abilene.

Hilda Straffuss was hostess at a supper Sunday night at her home. Guests included Father Nathaniel Madden, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Straffuss, and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gallagher.

"BUTCH" WINFREY, who works at the Hereford News Stand, has made a number of friends, particularly among the coffee crowd. When they heard she was going to quit and get married, 17 of the customers chipped in to buy an electric toaster. Frank Barber made the presentation Friday afternoon, as most of the others watched. She is talking now about not quitting, just so she can continue to serve coffee to such nice people. (Staff Photo.)

Varied Salads Will Give Variety In Midsummer Meal Planning

By midsummer the housewife has about exhausted her supply of salad recipes and finds it hard to get the family to register any enthusiasm over the same old thing.

Here is a recipe that not only picks up jaded summer appetites but goes right into the fall and winter with good grace. It is especially good with ham and fried chicken, but is equally good with beef, lamb, or pork roasts.

Mrs. George Graham collects recipes, and when she gets in a rut with her cooking, she gets out her files and comes up with something different. This recipe for "Reception Salad" is one of her favorites and doesn't stay in her files without use very long. The recipe makes enough for a small luncheon or party, but may be halved for the small family.

Reception Salad

2 packages lime jello
1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple
4 small packages Philadelphia cream cheese
1/2 cup chopped celery
2 pimentos
1 cup chopped nuts
1 cup of cream-whipped
Drain juice from pineapple and dissolve the jello in juice, adding enough water to make four cups juice and water combined. Chill and add all the other ingredients (which have been cut up fine) and then whip the cream and fold in

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I want to say some more about the slogan "Town Without A Toothache". Even though our town is not responsible for the slogan, we cannot overlook the fact that at the time it was handed to us on a great big platter of publicity the essence of the slogan was based on findings and facts first reported by Dr. Edward Taylor, Director of Dental Health, Texas State Board of Health, Austin, Texas. This report was made to the American Dental Association's 83rd annual convention assembled in session at Houston, Texas.

You will recall that Dr. Geo. W. Heard, a local dentist, first discovered the unusual dental situation at Hereford. In his practice he noticed few of his patients in the little town of about 2500 population suffered from tooth decay. . . especially native born residents and among those who had resided here for a few years. In January 1939, Dr. Heard brought this unusual dental situation to the attention of Dr. Taylor, while they were in attendance at a dental convention in Amarillo. He urged Dr. Taylor to visit Hereford and Deaf Smith County, sometime.

Dr. Taylor showed a great deal of interest in Dr. Heard's story. He came to Hereford and Deaf Smith County during the year 1939. Dr. Heard's story had a lot of merit, and organized a partial preliminary dental survey in Hereford and area which was carried on for two years or more before he made announcement of his findings and studies to the world. A few weeks after his announcement was made the Pearl Harbor disaster happened. War was declared. We all turned our attention to the winning of the war, all critical materials as well as manpower etc. was frozen for the war program and winning of it. Dr. Taylor and the Texas State Board of Health were forced to curtail their study and survey at Hereford until such time they could resume their work. When peace was declared. . . everybody was happy and wanted to and did turn their attention to individual affairs moving toward goals of their own. This was as it should have been—just natural.

In the autumn of 1946, Dr. Taylor made preparations to resume his survey for further study. He brought his assistant to Hereford to assemble additional raw food products of the area, he was here three or four days gathering up and assembling the food samples for further analysis and study. Taylor returned to Hereford on or about Feb. 15, 1947, to make further investigations.

While I was Secretary-Manager of the Chamber of Commerce I worked very closely with Heard and Taylor and the Texas State Health Department in making these partial preliminary surveys though my connection with the organization was severed on Feb. 15, 1947. I am not familiar with Taylor's further surveys and study since that time though I have a copy of a letter written by Taylor and sent to me direct from his office in Austin, Texas, bearing date of Nov. 26, 1949, in which he states—I quote "This, we included notwithstanding the fact that apparently the citizenship of Hereford and Deaf Smith County has, since our original report in 1941, been rather reticent in its support of our contention." Unquote.

I'll be more than pleased to show you the full copy of his letter and will be pleased to show it to any other bona-fide resident of Hereford and Deaf Smith County. Apparently the survey and study begun by Taylor and the Texas State Health Department in the Hereford area is at a standstill. . . it has not been completed.

You know as well as I do that Hereford and Deaf Smith County, has materially benefitted many fold from the partial preliminary survey conducted by Taylor and his department, especially since his announcement was made at Houston in 1941.

What happened when the announcement was made? The press picked it up. . . almost instantly Hereford, Texas, had an heir. . . the "Town Without A Toothache" was born. Over night Hereford was a common household word throughout the nation. . . every cross-road, hamlet, village, town and city within our boundaries knew about Hereford, Texas. In the course of a very short while the news spread. . . Hereford, Texas, was a familiar name in all of the Allied countries of the world.

National publications. . . such as Collier's, Readers Digest, Editor's page of the Saturday Evening Post, Ladies Home Journal, all large daily news papers, hundreds of other national magazines, periodicals, farm papers, radio, even the London press picked it up. . . all published the story about Hereford, Texas, "Town Without A Toothache". . . not only once but over and over. National publications sent its representatives here to get first hand information, Universal Newsreel sent its representative here and made shots in the dental office of Dr. Heard, on main street, school students were included as well as other important information.

These shots were shown by Universal Newsreel in its short titled "Strange As It Seems" to more than 80 million people through the nation and the world. What did all this constructive publicity cost Hereford and Deaf Smith County? A measly six dollars for two helpers to assist in moving and setting up the equipment of the Universal Newsreel on various locations to get the shots they wanted.

May I ask you. . . has Hereford and Deaf Smith County benefitted? You have witnessed the progress Hereford and Deaf Smith County, has made since 1939. I'll grant you that all the progress was not brought about by this gratis free ride on a publicity train. . . as we had another program going which played an important part in the development of all the Panhandle, and especially the Hereford area. The war program did not bring it about. . . no war projects were established here (except the prisoner of war camp) for about two and one-half years. While the war was on, we actually gained in population in both the city and county. . . instead of losing population to the defense areas.

What caused the influx of a substantial increase in our population during the war and since? You know and I know some of the answers. While we did not coin the slogan. . . the press did. . . it stuck. I'll go down fighting for the proper recognition of Dr. Heard and Dr. Taylor, in their work and honest efforts to show us (they not only showed us but proved to us) what we have at our door steps.

Have we been fair with these men? Do we appreciate the unheard of broad program of constructive publicity handed to us by the press and radio. . . gratis. In my opinion we let them down. What do you think? It appears that we closed our eyes so we could not see and closed our ears so we could not hear the message brought to us by Drs. Taylor, Heard, Press and Radio. Yes. . . we laughed and made fun of it around here. . . not altogether because we felt the slogan was presented on a false basis but mostly because of our false pride. . . we were simply stupid, blind and not broad-minded enough to open our minds and accept reports and facts presented to us by these men.

We didn't understand it nor would we go to the trouble to enlighten ourselves on the facts. Our neighbors throughout the nation and elsewhere throughout the world accepted the messages of these men and to this day are begging and clamoring for a small portion of what we have and enjoy. We were and are today asleep on the post. It is little wonder that unscrupulous persons over the nation have taken advantage of our weakness. A few months ago I came into possession of a small glass jar containing a powdered concoction supposedly manufactured and packed at Los Angeles, California, bearing a label pertaining to its contents. . . nicely worded and presented. In this wording on the label appears and I read the following: "edible Hereford, Texas type" I don't know anything about the ingredients nor where they came from. . . but if the ingredients were NOT compounded from products produced in the Hereford area. . . then why should it be necessary to incorporate Hereford, Texas into the wording on the label?

All we have to do is draw a wee-bit on our imagination to understand why the name Hereford, Texas is used. I have reason to feel that others over the nation have capitalized on the name of Hereford, Texas and promoting sales of products claimed to be from Deaf Smith County. In my opinion if and when we have evidence that such a violation is being committed we should not hesitate to unite in a concerted effort and prosecute the violator to the fullest extent of the law.

It behooves all of us. . . each and everyone. . . to be on constant guard at all times. We have a name and a reputation to maintain, protect and preserve for posterity. . . or else we will stand before the Bar of Justice indicted by nation-wide public opinion.

I further feel that when we learn of those over the nation and those who may come into our midst seeking to promote and exploit our natural resources such as grains and other raw food products (raw or processed) by devious underhand means and make representations misleading for such products or for food products claimed to be produced in Deaf Smith County. . . when they are not. . . we should take action. Then there are those who have sought us out and will seek us out from time to time for the sole purpose of using the name of Hereford, Texas, for a date line to promote their shady schemes and wares. . . if and when we learn of this sort of activity it should not be tolerated.

A good authority has said—Quote—Over a period of thousands of years, a soil almost unmatchable in its rich mineral content has been built in the Hereford-Deaf Smith County area with a decided influence on the food and feed plants which in turn have greatly improved the health of the people and animals. . . these are positive factors which are here, because nature placed them here and it is impossible to reproduce them artificially—Unquote.

No doubt we have hundreds of new people in our midst who don't understand the why and wherefore for this friendly controversy about the slogan "Town Without A Toothache". . . hence why I have undertaken to give a brief history on facts leading up to the subject. Why advocate killing the "Goose that laid the golden egg? Now then counties.

. . . if you fellows will stop kidding the slogan around. . . I'll stop howling about it. Note—the word WE as used shall be construed by the reader to mean Hereford and Deaf Smith County, Texas. Many thanks for your time and for the space in your paper.

Respectively,
E. B. Posey

P. S. You carry a slogan on the front page of your paper which I consider to be outstanding "More People. . . More Farms" why look further for an answer to your problem?

Some people are born lucky. Others get into the newspaper business. I come back from a nice vacation, feeling fine and what happens? The Lions Club puts on a "slave auction" and I get sold to a sure enough slave driver—Neil Cooper. What makes me feel worse, though, is the fact that Bill Decker and Jim Bob Allison were also bidding on me and if Neil had kept his big mouth shut I would have had a nice, soft bank job. Go to work at 9 o'clock and off at 3 o'clock. Besides, it would have been a lot of fun to handle money all day. Cooper had to hike the bid 25 cents, though. Everyone else is going to work Tuesday, Sept. 1, but Cooper—the slave driver—says, "No, Sir. You work Saturday." Furthermore, he says to be there at 4:30 in the morning. He says they have a truck load of pineapples coming in and that will keep me occupied until 8 o'clock Saturday morning. After that he says the real work starts.

Maybe it could have been worse.

A TRIBUTE TO

The Future Farmers of America!

Youngsters just reaching life's first dawn of maturity, here and throughout the entire length and breadth of our beloved land, are dedicating themselves to being guardians of the good earth. In homespun words, they are going to be farmers. Mother Nature will be their sponsor and mentor. The lucky old sun and the gentle wind and the rain and snow will conspire with them to prepare the tender soil and germinate the tiny seeds into sturdy, fruitful plants and trees. Of all the things that Man can do under the canopy of heaven, none is more richly satisfying or productive than tilling the soil and tending flocks and herds. How fortunate these teen-agers are! How wise! We salute their grand organization with genuine pride—and say "God bless you all; you shall inherit the earth!"

though. Ben Childers has a car of cement to unload. He bid in May or Henry Sears. Boy, that should be worth the money. They are going to buy a scoreboard with the auction proceeds and I have a sneaking idea that if no other person in the stands appreciates the fancy electric gadget next season that Henry and I will fully appreciate it in every respect and detail. Certainly, there are no two more relentless slave drivers than Neil Cooper and Carl McCaslin.

Anyway, here's news for Neil. I've had a lot of grocery store experience. For years and years, I worked in one after school. It has been a long time, but I am still a good prune peddler. Whoa! I just happened to remember. Sept. 5 is the Saturday before Labor Day. This will mean double work. Is that a dirty gig? I told you Neil was a slave driver. S. O. Wilson is the only fellow who got a worse deal than mine. Mrs. Wilson bid S. O. in during the auction—and I know that he will have plenty of trouble all day Tuesday. I'll bet he does all of the things she has been trying to get done for months and months. Even in my predicament, I feel sorry for S. O. I sure do. I am glad my wife didn't think of such a deal.

Quite a few people have been asking about Drowsy Water Ranch. It is a really nice place. Not fancy or fancy. Just down to earth, real comfort. Very few of the guests fish—and the fishing is extra super. The only trouble is that there are so many fish you really get tired of hauling them out. Many of the guests are from the East and horseback riding is most popular. My personal opinion is that the automobile is here to stay—and I always felt like a horse was something you rode when you wanted to go somewhere that you could get no other way. However, most of the people around Drowsy Water figure horseback riding in the same class I always put cherry pie and ice cream. They have four sets of rides each day. Instructional rides, slow rides, intermediate rides and fast rides. Some of them run all day and some for only a half day. Guess our kids must take after their grandparents. Anyway, they practically lived on horses. Buz, our eight-year-old was crying when he left because he could not stay another day and ride a Brahman calf in the rodeo they pull once each week.

Eisenhower didn't give me a bit of trouble. He was located about 18 miles south at Frazer, Colo., which appears to be his favorite fishing spot. Funny thing, too, but seldom was the fact mentioned around the ranch. Denver seemed to be making quite an affair and termed the town as the "Summer Capitol" in the news papers. Ike had to go into New York for a dedication about that time, however, and that is why I managed to get so much rest. Talked with a boy from Lowery Field who took all of the pictures of Ike and his staff and he said that Ike went fishing quite often—and was always escorted by a delegation of FBI men. I can't imagine a fellow going fishing with a body guard, but he assured me that it is always necessary. Too many cranks and crackpots.

Cecil and Mrs. Malone were swell hosts. I would judge that business was a little bit slow, but they never complained. Not even when 17 head of knifolds dropped in on them unexpected. Drowsy Water belongs to a dude ranch association which has weekend guests from Lowery Field each Saturday and Sunday. Jerry, the photographer, was one of these boys. The awards are made each week for outstanding work among the service men.

Another thing. If you ever had ambitions to be a dude wrangler, forget it. It is even worse than working for Neil Cooper. These wranglers start out at 6 o'clock each morning. They work hard all day, then take care of the horses. After supper they come in and entertain. Blais, one of the wranglers, played a guitar and sang three of four nights. Jim, another wrangler, played the French harp and called at barn dances. They usually get off around 11 o'clock each night. Average pay for a dude wrangler is 75 bucks a month, board and lodging. From Colorado most of them move into Arizona, where they wrangle during the winter. It's a tough life, but some of them seem to like it. Big John, the head wrangler at Drowsy Water, has been there 10 years. He plans all of the rides in addition to his regular duties. All of these boys are excellent cooks—and they sometimes have trouble with temperamental guests. However, they seem to like the work and they have regular spots they make each season.

Three familiar faces around Drowsy Water were Mrs. Ollie Forbus, former operator of the Green Hedge Cafe in Hereford. Also Joy Craig and Wilma Norris. Mrs. Forbus is in charge of the kitchen and, boy, she really turns out fine meals. The two gals also seemed to be enjoying the summer. They rode calves in one of the rodeos, but didn't help Texas prestige much. All three appeared to be just a little bit homesick. It made me feel pretty good the way they scrambled for The Brand, which comes in on Tuesday and Saturday. The Malones figure on closing out after hunting season. Cecil, it seems, ran across a bear last year while hunting deer, but got so excited he missed all three shots. The Malones plan to spend the winter in Hereford again this year. They stayed in Colorado the first year, but said it snowed 170 inches and they had to go out of the second story windows on snow shoes. It was the only way they could travel.

They have quite a few "cook outs" and one day at noon the wranglers fixed hot dogs. The weiners were sliced, inserted with a wedge of cheese, then wrapped in bacon and sealed with toothpicks. Weiners were then fried and buns toasted on the huge grill. It was really tasty and offers a variation for home cook outs to those who might be interested. Pickles, mustard, onions and relishes were served on a long table. They also had chili and beans to complete the meal. Four blankets felt mighty good at night. The ranch is approximately 8,300 feet above sea level. The Malones said we were the first from Hereford this season—and they sure went out of their way for us to have a good time. Even my wife, who hates Colorado vacations, said she had a good time. So did I—without mounting a single horse.

Incidentally, they give you a horse when you arrive, and you keep him during your entire stay. Some people get mighty attached to their horses. They have 61 head of horses on the ranch. Goodness knows how many saddles. They have saddles in all sizes and of all descriptions. Big, little, medium—and a special one for Big John, or maybe he furnishes his own.

A note of sadness always comes with the passing of a friend and this is especially true of Mac Pitman. Mac was one of the most generous fellows in the world, but he never made a fuss about it. He did thousands and thousands of things for people—and often the benefactors never knew what Mac had in mind. This included his own personal time and talents, as well as money. Lots of people who are generous with money frequently drop out when it comes to personal sacrifices of time and ability. Mac was generous with all of these things. Rev. Scott quoted Mac's mother as citing Mac along this line. It was indeed a genuine tribute and one which was merited and well deserved. Those who knew Mac Pitman will miss him sorely. Those who did not, have already missed the friendship of a man who could always be counted upon in time of need; a man who never sought credit for his deeds, but who could have boasted many.

Another community loss will be the Wayne Evans family. They plan to leave Tuesday or Wednesday for Abilene, where Wayne will enroll in Hardin-Simmons University to work on his Master's degree. In addition to his academic work, Wayne will be educational director in the University church and will teach an undergraduate class in business administration in the afternoons. They hate to leave Hereford, naturally, and the community will miss them both sorely. Wayne, in addition to church activities, has been selected as "Man of the Year", has served as president of the Chamber of Commerce, president of the Lions Club, and was instrumental in the building of Hotel Jim Hill. He has been a sparkplug in community development. Zona has also contributed much. Did you ever see a man with outstanding accomplishments who did not have an exceptional wife? Somehow, they seem to go hand in hand. Congratulations to Hardin-Simmons University!

Just heard a rumor that Chas. Houston expects to market the first '53 lettuce in about one week. This should be a banner lettuce year. Things are looking good. About the only hazard left is price. May be it will be OK. Wheat and potatoes fizzled out in June. About the only 1953 crop we had was brides—and they weren't too numerous.

By the way, I bought Dee Lowery, Shirley School principal, in the Slave Auction Friday. Dee will wash the windows, develop a few pictures, sweep out, do some printing, answer all complaints, deliver all papers which are missed—and WRITE THE BULL COLUMN for Thursday. I don't want him to have to work too hard. After all, I am no slave driver like Neil Cooper or the Carl McCaslin outfit. Bill Patton will also take pictures of the activities next Tuesday.

Rose-Point Lace Gown
 Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white rose-point lace and slipper satin, fashioned with lace bodice, decollete yoke of illusion outlined with sequins and pearls, and long pointed sleeves. The full skirt was made of shirred tiers of marquisette with a panel of lace in front and a paneled train of the lace in back. Her fingertip veil-of-illusion fell from a lace cap dotted with sequins and pearls. The wedding bouquet was a single white orchid topped a white Bible, with showers of stephanotis and white rosebuds. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom.

It's sensational! Nobody can match Ford's Crestmark Body! It's hull-tight to seal out weather and noise. And no matter which beautiful baked enamel finish you choose for your Ford, inside colors and upholstery are color-keyed to it!

it's Ford for looks!

Ford's heart-stealing good looks are just one reason . . . it's worth more when you buy it. It's worth more when you sell it!

Take Ford's new ride, for example, which reduces front end road shock alone up to 80%. Take Ford's power steering . . . the newest and finest in the industry! And take Ford's choice of 18 models—the widest choice in Ford's field. No wonder Ford has won the title of America's "Worth More" car!

RATTLESNAKES ARE BORN alive, but there is seldom an opportunity to see any of them before they reach the size where the average person doesn't want to stay close to them. T. L. Sparkman, who lives south of Hereford, found 14 unborn snakes inside a female rattler which he killed Monday in a field south of Dawn. Five are shown still enclosed in the membrane, while a sixth, which was alive, has been uncurled. Its size can be compared to the short pencil at the right. In the center are the nine rattles taken from the snake that was killed. The little snake was about nine inches long, and had the familiar button on the end of its tail. (Staff Photo.)

ning in '53. Two other teams, in that decade, Princeton, in 49 thru 51, and Oklahoma, in 48 thru 52, members of the Ivy League and the Big 7, respectively, are the only teams in their conferences who even came close to the dollar knife. Actually, year in and year out, in that period, you could take a nucleus of 30 teams from the above and blanket the finish. For the sake of space, take the last five years and I will list the teams that have so finished and the times they were in the top ten and we will add up the total at the finis. Oklahoma—5; Michigan State, Notre Dame, Michigan, California, Army, Tennessee—3 each; Georgia Tech, Texas, Princeton—2 each; singles by USC, UCLA, Oregon, Stanford, SMU, Rice, Baylor, Illinois North-western Minnesota, Wisconsin, Ohio State, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, LSU, Kentucky, Maryland North Carolina, Clemson and College of the Pacific. COP finished 10th in '49 and is the only team outside my short list which made it.

Out of the 31 teams making the raffle in that span here is the recap: Big 10-7; Pacific Coast-5; Southeast Conference-7; SWC-4; Southern Conference-3 plus the Okies, the Irish, Kazmeier & Co., Blaik's boys and the lone outsider, COP.

So far for '53 the consensus for the leaders includes: Notre Dame, Georgia Tech, Michigan State, Navy, USC, UCLA, Rice, Tennessee, Alabama and Pennsylvania (How did they get in there with Fran Murray gone and George Munger going). . . More anon the best paid boys ain't guessed yet. . .

One Put Man WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. VA. (P)—Roy (Legs) Hawley, athletic director at West Virginia University, is a one-put man once he gets on a green. Recently in a round of golf at Greengrier he one-putted 14 of 18 greens.

Not Irish, But "Pat" Is His Name DETROIT (P)—Gene Gedman, the Detroit Lions' right halfback from Indiana, isn't Irish. But he answers to the name of "Pat." He says that it is a holdover from the days when he was going to high school. Seems that he always wore patent leather shoes because it made him appear to be the high stepping fellow that he is in the Lions' backfield.

The Yoruba tribe of Nigeria is divided into many clans, which identify themselves by varying patterns scratched on members' faces.

Of the wearers of glasses in the United States, 56.4 percent are females and 43.6 percent males.

Highway Department Revision will take place September 1 in the Highway Department, State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer announced, "in the interest of economy and efficiency."

Some positions will be abolished, Greer said, and some divisions will be merged, while some new divisions will be created.

The changes were made necessary, Greer declared, because proposals for more financial support of the highway department failed in the last Legislature.

Meetings Scheduled Meanwhile, the Texas Highway Commission began a series of meetings with corresponding bodies representing other states.

The first of these sessions was scheduled at Texarkana August 27 with the Arkansas highway commission. Others were to follow with the commissioners of Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Louisiana.

Integration of interstate highway plans will be the topic before the meetings.

Money In The Bank

The State of Texas will end the year with money in the bank. Comptroller Robert S. Calvert estimates that there will be $25 million in the general fund at the end of the fiscal year September 1. This is the state's "getty cash" account. There are millions in other accounts, such as the highway fund, unemployment compensation fund, permanent school fund, and many others.

SHORT SNORTS: Officials of the U. S. and Mexico met at Laredo to talk about the meeting of the two nations' presidents for the Falcon Dam dedication in October. . . King Paul of Greece has sent a Greek flag to Governor Allan Shivers, who shipped a Texas flag to the king two years ago. . . The state will be covered by a radar net, set up and operated as a defense measure by the U. S. Weather Bureau, the Department of Public Safety, and the state civil defense organization. . . The Texas State Guard Association will have its 11th annual convention in Fort Worth December 11-13.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I keep moths out of a piano?

A. Rub turpentine occasionally over the woodwork on the inside of the piano. Moths will not trouble it, even if unused for a long time. A small bag of gum camphor put inside a piano at each end protects the felt.

Q. How can I make lumpy gravy smooth?

A. Rub turpentine occasionally over the woodwork on the inside of the piano. Moths will not trouble it, even if unused for a long time. A small bag of gum camphor put inside a piano at each end protects the felt.

A. Beat it with an eggbeater until the lumps disappear. When the gravy does not brown as it should, add to it a tablespoon of strong coffee. The addition of a tablespoon of cream to brown gravy makes it delicious.

Q. What can I do to furniture that has become so dried that it refuses to take a polish?

A. Apply with a soft cloth a solution made of three parts linseed oil to one part turpentine. After this, wipe with a cloth which has been dampened with alcohol, and let stand for a few minutes before polishing.

Q. How can I remove mildew from linen?

A. Soak in kerosene for two days, then wash well; rinse thoroughly.

Q. How can I rid the kitchen of flies or mosquitoes?

A. By placing a cup of vinegar on the stove where it will simmer enough to make an odor. Or, burn camphor gum on the stove two or three times a day.

FOIBLES

Since it is now deep in the middle of the forecasting season, as far as football is concerned, one's initial concept of the forecasters is that they do a remarkably accurate job. But do they? To satiate my own curiosity I delved into a few records, which I unearthed, literally, from the back room and elsewhere, much to Mrs. Snare's concern and confusion, and leading directly to my ultimate and well deserved rout.

Leave us drop no further back than last lap, here is the way the top ten looked according to the AP, in the order of their finish at season's end: Michigan State, Georgia Tech, Notre Dame, Oklahoma, Southern California, UCLA, Mississippi, Tennessee, Alabama and Texas. UP's list was identical except Wisconsin replaced Texas as number 10.

Now about the 1952 precasters, Francis Wallace in his 13th yearly prediction, had 'em finishing thusly, (which they didn't): Maryland, Michigan State, Georgia Tech, Notre Dame, Oklahoma, Wisconsin, Illinois, California, Pennsylvania, and UCLA. He missed AP with five and UP with four. The Saturday Post with a newcomer, Fred Russell, essayed as follows: Maryland, Mich. State, Ga. Tech, Illinois, Oklahoma, California, Texas, Tennessee, Wisconsin and UCCLA. Missing UP and AP with four each. One of the better paid pre-season seers, Stanley Woodward, picked 20, and not 10, first ranking teams in 1952 and deftly overlooked Georgia Tech (2d all the way), USC (5th, likewise), Alabama and Mississippi (the two clubs that took Maryland off the nationwide hook-up and put Jim Tatum on the hook).

The three universal blanks were Maryland, Illinois and California, in the latter's case some of it's overzealous alumni averred the Bears never did finish and wanted to substitute Pappy Waldorf's finish instead. They had little or no success and this lap nobody is paying to much attention to the Golden Bears and I'd guess, early and from here, that they should oughta. On the overall pre-season guessing it isn't as difficult as a casual glance might dictate.

Run down the top ten teams of the last 10 years and save for a few isolated cases they originate in five major conferences, the Big Ten, Pacific Coast, Southwest, Southeast and Southern plus 3 big Independents, Army, Notre Dame and Michigan State, which is now number 10 in the Big Ten, begin-

MANDRAKE

BY LEE FALK & PHIL DAVIS

IN MANDRAKE'S MAGIC HOUSE, THE KITCHEN SEEMS TO GO WILD BEFORE THE BANK ROBBERS' STARTLED EYES!

MY NERVES ARE JUMPIN'. I'M SEEIN' THINGS! I GOTTA LIE DOWN. WHERE'S A BED, YOU? IN THERE.

AND THE BED SUDDENLY SEEMS TO HEAVE--

WE GOTTA GET OUT OF THIS CRAZY HOUSE!

WE CAN'T LEAVE, MAC! THEY'RE WATCHING THE ROADS! WE BURIED THE BANK CHEST IN THE GARDEN!

BANK ROBBERS!

Ah--A SOFT BED--UH!

MIND IF I GO OUT FOR SOME AIR?

NO, SIRREE! I'M LOCKING UP! NOBODY'S LEAVIN' THIS HOUSE!

WHAT HOUSE?

THE HOUSE SEEMS TO VANISH IN A FLASH--THEY STAND IN THE OPEN AIR--
