

Nuclear Dumping Program Set in Tulia Next Monday

By BOB NIGH
MANAGING EDITOR
TULIA - State Senator Bill Sarpalius of Hereford will be among the dignitaries present when an informative program on the burial of nuclear waste in the Panhandle is presented by STAND (Serious Texans Against Nuclear Dumping) at the Tulia High School Auditorium Dec. 14.

The meeting, organized by STAND, which was begun by Mrs. Glenna Crooks, will begin at 7 p.m. on the 14th. Other officials who have indicated that they will be present include State Representative Chip Staniswalis of Amarillo, U.S. Congressmen Jack Hightower and Kent Hance, and state Agriculture Secretary Reagan Brown.

U.S. Senators John Tower and Lloyd Bentsen have indicated that they may also have representatives at the meeting as well.

The meeting is designed to inform the public of the presence of salt-core drilling currently being done in the Panhandle area, particularly in Swisher County.

STAND was begun after concerned Swisher County citizens learned that an area landowner had signed a lease to permit drilling of a hole to test suitability of salt formations under the area for storage of nuclear waste. According to Staniswalis, who has joined with STAND in opposing the salt-core drilling, an additional drilling site has been discovered in Swisher County, and reports of preparations for such drillings in at least three other Panhandle counties, including Deaf Smith County, have been received.

To be included in the presentation Dec. 14 are comments by Staniswalis and other officials or their representatives, a slide presentation by STAND, and reports on other drilling sites being considered in Mississippi, Utah, and New Mexico.

Since its inception STAND has won endorsement of the Panhandle County Judges and Commissioners Association for a resolution opposing location of a nuclear waste site in the area. Several county commissioners' courts approved such a resolution, including Deaf Smith County.

STAND members have learned that the Department of Energy (DOE) has scheduled "educational meetings" concerning the test drilling program sometime next month.

Mrs. Crooks said her members consider the DOE educational campaign "a little late," since drilling is already underway. According to STAND the DOE "is taking the position that there's no cause for alarm since designation of a dump site is still down the road."

But, officials of the Bureau of Economic Geology in Austin, which will handle testing of cores found in any new drilling program, say the Reagan administration wants to see "demonstrated progress" in the program by 1983 or early 1984.

The idea of nuclear waste dumping in the area is nothing new. Radioactive materials from the Pantex plant, the nation's final assembly point for nuclear weapons, have been buried in the area since 1965.

The nuclear castoff is said to include low-level wastes such as discarded rags, clothing, and plastic from the plant, as well as highly radioactive plutonium 239 residues and residues from military weapons accidents.

Before the release of a report on the dumping of such wastes, an official at the plant had denied that such dumping was going on.

Mr. and Mrs. X, Four Children Needing Help

When problems arise, such as a father suffering a heart attack and not being able to work, some families have relatives and friends to help them get by. Mr. and Mrs. X of Hereford are not so fortunate.

He has been able to work for several months, and the only money they have is a small workmen's compensation check. They do not like to ask for help, but it will be a sad Christmas for the parents and four children without someone sharing.

You can help such a family by contributing to the Christmas Stocking Fund of Hereford. It is administered by an anonymous group of businessmen—all volunteers.

Readers can share in this project by sending a check, cash or money order to Christmas Stocking Fund, The Hereford Brand, Box 673, Hereford Tex. 79045. Donors can also take the gift to the newspaper office at 313 Lee.

The Brand is publishing names of contributors in the newspaper and announcing a running total of the gifts. If you wish your gift specified in a certain way, or listed anonymously, please notify the newspaper.

Haig Urges Allied Unity In Arms Reduction Talks

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) - Secretary of State Alexander M. Haig Jr., meeting NATO allies in Brussels, is prepared to press for deployment of nuclear missiles in Europe and look for ways to deal with Greece's decision to partially withdraw from the alliance's military affairs.

Haig, beginning an 11-day trip to seven nations, was expected to meet today with Greek Premier Andreas Papandreu, who has announced a "partial suspension" of Greek participation in NATO's military wing.

Papandreu, a socialist, also has advocated phasing out U.S. military bases in Greece. U.S. officials say Haig wants to determine whether Papandreu will follow through or is only setting up a negotiating position to achieve other goals.

On Tuesday, Papandreu said he told other NATO ministers that because of problems with neighboring Turkey - a NATO member - Greece is being "forced to consider a process of disengagement from agreements that are pre-judicial."

He refused to elaborate on "disengagement" and "partial suspension" but did criticize an agreement reached by Greece's previous conservative government providing for Turkey and Greece to share disputed air space over the Aegean Sea.

Defense Secretary Casper Weinberger, who conferred with Papandreu Monday, had no comment on his statements. U.S. spokesman said.

Haig will report to other NATO ministers at the alliance's annual year-end meeting about the status of U.S.-Soviet negotiations aimed at eliminating medium-range nuclear missiles from Europe.

A U.S. official who did not want to be identified said Haig will attempt to strengthen NATO's 1979 commitment to delay new U.S. missile should U.S.-Soviet arms reduction talks fail.

"We will be looking for general support of both tracks," said the official, referring both to deployment and negotiations with the Soviets.

The official said Haig would not attempt to get NATO support for possible U.S. action against Libya. Some U.S. allies are known to question the wisdom of sanctions against the government of Libyan leader Moammar Khadafy.

Haig is traveling under unusually strict security because of reports, taken seriously in Washington, that he is a possible target of a Libyan assassination team.

After the NATO meetings Thursday and Friday and a Saturday session with officials of the European Common Market in Brussels, Haig will go to Israel, Turkey, Pakistan, India, Egypt and Morocco before returning to Washington Dec. 19.

At each stop, Haig will stress the need to bolster defenses against possible Soviet aggression. U.S. officials said. Pakistan, Israel and Egypt are key elements in the U.S. strategy to prevent further Soviet incursions into the Middle East.

School Board Commends Actions Of HHS Students; Hears Reports

By JERI CURTIS
Staff Writer
"No brag, just fact" seemed to be the addage to fit the discussion at the Hereford Independent School District board of directors meeting last night.

With nearly a third of the hour-and-a-half meeting devoted to casual, yet enthusiastic, chatter about Texas Stadium and the Whitefaces' win against Ft. Worth Easter Hills, Saturday night, Sally Strain moved that the board approve a resolution commending Herd coach Don Cumpton, the football team, the pep squad and the school personnel for their excellent representation of Hereford. The motion was unanimously approved by a full board.

Larry Wartes said students usually aren't verbal about their feelings about out of town trips, however, "the reaction from this trip to Dallas has been good."

He said that although the HHS spent about $20,000 to send about 400 students on activity buses, he felt it was money well spent.

"These kids will remember this trip for the rest of their lives," he noted.

Dr. Harrell Holder, HHS administrator, said the costs for stadiums in playoff action has gone from $400 at West Texas State University to $4,000 at El Paso, to $9,500 at Texas Stadium.

He said Texas Tech will charge $2,000 for the use of Jones Stadium this Saturday when the Herd meets Richardson Lake Highlands in semi-finals. However, he added that the Chamber of Commerce is picking up the

Parking Designated For Playoff Game

Texas Tech athletic department officials have requested fans who plan to attend the Hereford-Richland Lake Highlands semifinal football playoff game at Jones Stadium Saturday night to park on the North, East, and South sides of the stadium only.

Only the gates on the East side of the stadium will be open for the game scheduled to start at 7:30 p.m. The parking lot immediately West of Jones Stadium will be closed to football fans.

The West parking lot is being reserved for fans attending the Texas Tech-West Texas State basketball game, also set for 7:30 p.m. at the Lubbock Municipal Coliseum.

Advance tickets for the game are now on sale at Troy's Sweet Shop and at HHS. Advance adult tickets are $5 each, with student duets priced at $3. All tickets at the gate Saturday night will cost $5.

tab. The board took action on selling a school bus to a school district near El Paso. The bus was purchased by HHS to be used in the special education department.

When alterations were made to fit federal handicapped student regulations such as installing a wheelchair lift and widening the rows, the bus only seated a few more than another bus HHS already had. The bus was sold at the same price paid for it originally.

Marjorie Lassiter and Sadie Brandt presented the monthly curriculum report on the referral process of children with mental or physical physical handicaps.

The district served 780 students through the cooperative which covers Vega, Boys Ranch and Adrian as well as the Hereford area. About 90 percent were from Hereford.

The enrollment in Hereford schools suffered a deeper slash this month, dropping to a total of 4,848 students. Wartes said the drop has been distributed evenly through all the grades.

Enrollment dropped 87 from the last month's report and is down 338 from last year at this time.

Hijacked Airliners In Cuba

By The Associated Press
Three hijacked Venezuelan jetliners with more than 100 hostages aboard landed in Cuba on Tuesday. A commandeered Libyan jet with at least 38 hostages touched down in Beirut and then flew to Tehran.

All four aircraft were seized Monday and had made several stops. Officials said the Venezuelan planes, hijacked Monday on domestic flights, made stops in Aruba, Colombia, Honduras, Guatemala and Panama. One of the planes was on the ground briefly in El Salvador.

Officials said the planes - two Aeropostal DC-8s and an Avenas Boeing 727 - landed in Cuba, the Communist-ruled island 90 miles off the Florida coast, and the passengers would be returned home Wednesday night.

An Aeropostal spokesman said the passengers and (See PLANES, Page 2A)

The Classroom Teachers Association reported that Mike Moon of Family Services would be at its Jan. 11 meeting to discuss recognition of the troubled child.

The board also accepted resignations of Beverley Davies, Tierra Blanca, and Lavada Sherron, Alkman.

Mine Explosion Kills 13 in Tennessee

By JOHN NOLAN
Associated Press Writer
WHITWELL, Tenn. (AP) - An explosion ripped through a coal mine Tuesday, killing 13 miners in a collapsed shaft three miles inside the mountain, authorities said. It was the third mine disaster in the Appalachian coalfields in the last five days.

Emergency rescue teams equipped with air tanks and masks had to crawl through a shaft that is only 36 inches wide in some places to reach the bodies, a mine company spokesman said. The cause of the explosion had not been determined, and an investigation was scheduled to start Wednesday morning.

William B. Allison, president of Tennessee Consolidated Coal Co., said in a statement that all 13 men had been found "and there were no survivors." He said it was the worst accident in the company's history.

John Parish, press secretary to Gov. Lamar Alexander, said there were 20 men in the mine at the time of the explosion, but none of the other men were in the shaft where the explosion occurred and all 17 escaped safely.

The disaster left 24 men dead in three mine accidents since Thursday of last week. It was the nation's worst coal mine accident since 15 men were killed last April 15 in an explosion at a mine near Redstone, Colo. Allison's statement said the explosion occurred at about noon CST in what is known as the 003 section of the No. 21 mine operated by Grundy Mining Co., a subsidiary of Tennessee Consolidated. The mine is about 30 miles northwest of Chattanooga in a mountainous area of southeastern Tennessee.

Family members gathered outside the company's office at Whitwell Mountain began crying when rumors of the deaths started circulating. Several were comforted by friends.

Parish said in Nashville that the victims were identified as: Larry Cooley, Danny Cooley, Jimmy Wayne Rogers, Roy White, Jackie Tate, Harvey Nolan, Charlie Myers, Gaylon Parsons, Darrell Rollins, Lee Grimes, Frankie Wilburn, Jacob Kilgore and Ed French. No ages or home towns were

Administration Discounts Effects Of Budget Deficits

WASHINGTON (AP) - Although administration economists have taken to declaring that record budget deficits of $100 billion won't fuel inflation and high interest rates after all, the Senate Budget Committee chairman insists that much red ink "will be devastating to the economy."

President Reagan, who was meeting today with Republican congressional leaders on budget matters, has decried the effects of budget deficits in the past. In his first economic speech last February, he said, "We know now that inflation results from all that deficit spending."

But William A. Niskanen, a member of Reagan's Council of Economic Advisors, told a seminar of economists Tuesday that an analysis of past trends shows no meaningful relationship between budget deficits and inflation or between deficits and interest rates.

"We face the prospect of what are perceived as very large deficits for the next few years," Niskanen said, but added that it would be a "major mistake" for the administration to reverse its tax-cutting policy.

And Murray Weidenbaum, Chairman of the Council of Economic Advisors, said the administration must seek to reduce the deficit beginning in 1983, but added that "sizeable" deficits still can be financed without driving up interest rates or forcing the Federal Reserve Board to abandon its fight against inflation through restricted growth of new credit.

The comments follow reports from administration sources that a new, bleak forecast prepared for the president last week showed the budget deficit surging to a

Khadafy Warned To Drop Hit-Team Plot

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Reagan administration is warning Libyan strongman Moammar Khadafy to drop a purported plot to kill U.S. government leaders or be prepared to suffer consequences, according to an authoritative source.

The United States contacted the Libyan regime through a third country and spelled out at least some of the evidence the administration has obtained about the alleged plot, the source said Tuesday.

Khadafy, in an interview last Sunday, had challenged the administration to reveal its proof. A day later, President Reagan declared, "We have the evidence and he knows it."

Along with detailing some of the evidence it has, the private U.S. message contained a warning that the United States would take action against Libya if it refused to cancel the alleged plot, said the source, who refused to be identified.

The source refused to say what consequences were threatened or to say what country was used as an intermediary.

ABC News reported Tuesday that the message was given to Belgium, which has been handling U.S. contacts with Libya since the administration ordered Libyan diplomats out of Washington.

Word of the warning message came to light as the administration asked the Senate to temporarily hold off action on a resolution declaring congressional support for a boycott of Libyan oil exports.

In addition, Reagan held his second meeting in two days with national security advisers about possible sanctions against Libya. An oil embargo is known to be one (See WARNED, Page 2A)

Bonin Possibly Beaten By Cell Mates

LOS ANGELES (AP) — William Bonin, charged with killing young men and boys in the "Freeway Killings" case, told authorities he fell and broke his nose while sharing a cell with two other men — one a defendant in the "Hillside Strangler" case.

Sheriff's deputies say they'll investigate whether Bonin was beaten. Bonin, who is charged with the homosexual-torture slayings of 12 young men and boys along Southern California highways, was pulled from the lockup in the Criminal Courts Building Tuesday after a deputy heard him pounding on the wall and crying for help.

Deputies Give Up Search Of Missing Texas Man

BUENA VISTA, Colo. (AP) — The wife and son of a Texas man who has been missing for five days say they believe he is in danger and sheriff's deputies should not have given up searching for him.

Bobby Lee Wood, 42, of Abilene, Texas, was last seen in the Cottonwood Pass area on Thursday. He escorted a group of students on a three-day showboating trip in the area last week, according to spokesmen for the Chaffee County sheriff's office.

Authorities believe Wood left camp Thursday night without telling anyone, walked down a trail to his truck, got a pair of skis and departed. The students believed their guide was in no danger and took two days before notifying the sheriff's department of his absence.

Three In Custody For Marijuana Possession

LONGVIEW, Texas (AP) — Three people were in custody today following the seizure of 1,200 pounds of marijuana at the Gregg County airport, officials said.

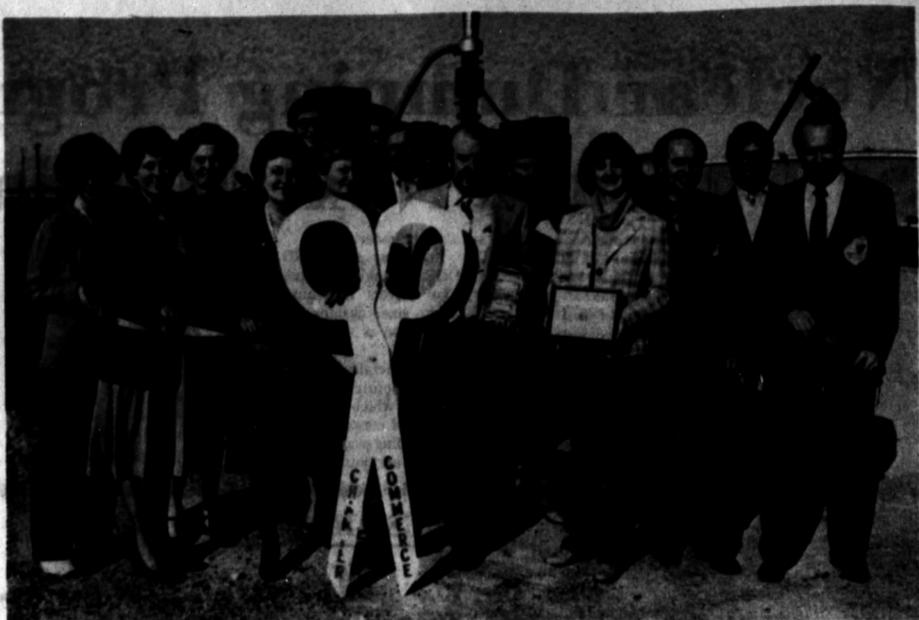

Authorities said the illegal weed was found aboard a 402 Cessna that landed about 4 a.m.

Agents from the Department of Public Safety and officers from several other East Texas law agencies confiscated the plane and a van that was waiting for the craft.

Officers say the trio offered no resistance.

Psychologist Speaks At Monthly Meeting

Dr. Bill Locke, psychologist from Texas Tech University, was guest speaker Tuesday at noon for the Hereford Board of Realtors monthly meeting.

Dr. Locke discussed "Burnout," a term used to describe persons who strive to reach unattainable goals. Some individuals reach the point of mental and physical exhaustion, or severe disillusionment at the least.

In an achievement-oriented society such as ours, some people set their goals too high and leave no way out if the goal cannot be reached, he explained. Being realistic about these factors can be a way of avoiding "burnout," of course.

The speaker was introduced by Jerry Hardin, program chairman for the meeting. Melvin Jayroe presided at the monthly meeting and introduced committee chairman for the Hereford Board of Realtors of 1982.

These chairmen include: Clarence Betzen, programs;

Marie Griffin, education; Marn Tyler, community revitalization; Henry Reid, "Make America Better;" Lynn Jones, energy conservation; Betty Gilbert, TREPAC; Don Tardy, legislative; Beverly Jayroe, public relations; Jerry Hardin, banquet; Mark Andrews, multiple listings.

DONALDSONVILLE, La. (AP) — Already indicted in Louisiana and Texas and suspected in 10 more states, the man known as the "Ski Mask Rapist" faced questioning by Ohio authorities today about crimes for which another person has been imprisoned.

On Tuesday, Jon B. Simonis, 30, of Lake Charles, La., was ordered held on $4 million bond in an Ascension Parish courtroom here and also indicted on assorted offenses by a grand jury in Tyler County, Texas.

Those charges resulted from an Oct. 29 break-in at Gonzales.

While Simonis was appearing at Donaldsonville, a grand jury at Woodville, Texas, was indicting him for aggravated robbery, aggravated rape and aggravated sexual abuse of a 14-year-old girl.

Bond of $300,000 bond was recommended for whenever Simonis might be brought to Texas to answer those charges.

Chief Deputy B.J. Vardeman said the Tyler County charges involved the Sept. 28 rape and robbery of a Woodville family.

Vardeman said Simonis allegedly entered a home about 7:30 p.m. and bound the father with duct tape.

"He (the father) had tape over his eyes, his ears, his hair... He was tied up and handcuffed," said Vardeman.

The man's wife was raped and a 14-year-old daughter was forced to have oral sex with Simonis, Vardeman said. The intruder then fled in the family's car after stealing jewelry and coins.

The deputy said Simonis admitted the crimes during an interview at Jena.

"He is cool and super-smart. In my 30 years of law enforcement, I have never heard a confession like that. That guy has a memory...for detail. I left there stunned," Vardeman said.

option under consideration even though Libyan oil exports to the United States already have dropped to less than one-third of what they were earlier this year.

There were mixed signals from Capitol Hill and the White House about when the administration would complete a two- or three-month-old review of political and economic relations with Libya and decide whether to impose sanctions or take other steps.

After conferring with the White House, Senate Republican Leader Howard H. Baker Jr. convinced Sen. Gary Hart, D-Colo., to withdraw a non-binding resolution declaring that Congress "would support and act favorably on a decision" to suspend oil purchases.

The Republican leader said Reagan soon may ask Congress to impose some sanction against Libya, but had asked in the meantime that legislators hold off any moves of their own.

"There will be a decision (from the administration) within the next 24 to 48 hours," declared the GOP Senate leader. "This is a delicate moment."

Within an hour, however, White House spokesman David Gergen summoned reporters and said the administration was not committing itself to reaching any decision that soon.

Rapist Faces Questioning

record $109 billion in fiscal 1982, $122 billion in 1983 and $162 billion in 1984. The nation's largest budget deficit was $66.4 billion in 1976.

Sources said the projections had been revised downward slightly by Tuesday, when Reagan met with his advisers on his upcoming budget plan, but the changes were not significant.

tax cuts enacted so far this year, Domenici said.

Reagan has abandoned his pledge of balancing the budget by 1984 in favor of a promise to reduce the size of the deficit in future years by keeping pressure on Congress for further spending cuts.

But Domenici said little progress can be made in paring deficits as long as the administration continues to rule out deeper cuts in Social Security, a slowdown in its record buildup of the military budget or significant tax increases.

Domenici's comments came as the Senate began debate on a binding budget resolution that would accommodate Reagan's wishes for a delay in tax increases or cuts in government benefit programs until next year. The measure basically parallels the temporary spending outline Congress adopted in the spring.

Consideration was resumed

Massachusetts, the top Republican on the House Appropriations Committee, said the compromise measure contains about $730 million more for social programs than the White House wants, a factor that should keep moderate and liberal Republicans from bolting the GOP ranks.

Conte said the Republican proposal also calls for raising the pay cap that's been in effect for senior bureaucrats for the past two years. The plan has passed the Senate twice this year, but has never made it through the House.

Aides said some civil servants would receive relatively small increases, while those whose pay has been capped at the highest level for the full two years would get increases of more than $9,000, from $50,112 to $59,560. Between 35,000 and 40,000 bureaucrats would be affected by the provision, they said.

Economists See Small Gain In Wholesale Inflation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The deepening recession is slowing price increases at the wholesale level at the same time it dampens demand for goods and services, economists say.

In advance of today's release of the latest figures on inflation at the wholesale level in November, economists were predicting a slower increase than October's 0.8 percent gain.

Edward Yardeni, chief economist and vice president of E.F. Hutton & Co. Inc. brokerage firm, looked for a small 0.3 percent climb in November prices.

"Business is lousy and commodity prices are coming down," he said. "The recession is doing some good on the price inflation front."

Forecasting Project, predicted an increase of 0.5 percent, after adjustment for seasonal changes, in November's measure.

He said he expected increases in the price of new cars and small trucks to show up again in the new figures and a "slight uptick" in energy prices. Foods prices should be "off a bit," he said.

Price changes that show up in the Producer Price Index are a good barometer of how food, energy and other commodity prices will move at the retail level, as measured by the Labor Department's Consumer Price Index.

Charges of simple assault will be filed against a man who broke a window and entered an apartment at 821 Avenue K Tuesday. Anna Morales told police that Rudy Castillo began hitting on her when he entered the apartment. Later he told her that he cut his hand on the window and asked her to take him to the hospital. She did, then called police.

Charges also are pending against two junior high students allegedly involved in an assault at Dairy Queen, 801 Park. Gregory Patterson, 200 Beach, told police that two Mexican kids attacked him and four others with chain belts. Two cars were crew members in Cuba were resting at the Hotel Priton in Havana, the capital. The Cuban Interior Ministry said the hijackers surrendered and "will be placed at the disposal of the competent courts," the Cuban news agency Prensa Latina reported.

Passengers freed along the way said 10 hooded and heavily armed people were involved in the highly coordinated operation. The Cuban news agency Prensa Latina said there were 11 hijackers.

The motive for the hijackings remained a mystery Tuesday. Freed passengers and various officials gave three descriptions of the hijackers — Venezuelans asking for $10 million and the release of political prisoners, Salvadoran leftists fighting to overthrow the U.S.-backed civilian-military junta, and Puerto Rican nationalists seeking independence for the U.S. commonwealth.

It was not known whether any Americans were aboard any of the four planes.

There were conflicting reports about the number of hostages aboard the planes that went to Cuba. Prensa Latina reported 108 hostages.

Later, Radio Havana reported 118. Earlier reports had estimated there were about 150 on board, including the hijackers.

The Libyan jetliner, taken over by Shiite Muslims to dramatize the disappearance three years ago of their spiritual leader, landed in Beirut on Tuesday night after two unsuccessful attempts to touch down, witnesses said. It was the plane's second landing in the Lebanese capital in less than 24 hours.

Five hours later, the plane took off again and landed nearly three hours later in the Iranian capital. Radio

Tehran said the hijackers were "negotiating" with officials of the Iranian Foreign Ministry, but it did not say what they were asking.

Tehran said earlier the plane would not be permitted to land, but the later broadcast said the Libyan Embassy interceded on behalf of the hostages.

Before the aircraft arrived in Beirut, reporters monitoring conversations said the exhausted pilot radioed he had only two hours of fuel left after being refused landing permission by Cyprus, Lebanon, Syria and Iran.

Simonis sounded remorseful in Tuesday's appearance at Donaldsonville.

"I am fully aware of the charges against me," Simonis told Louisiana District Judge Charles S. Becnel. "I have brought a lot of people harm. I have put physical and mental scars on these people's minds."

"I feel bad this has happened," he said. "I feel bad for what I have done. I don't expect the people to forgive me."

"It is my judgment I have done wrong and I would just as soon plead guilty and save the people time and money. I am ready to plead guilty to the charges and take the sentence, whatever might be handed to me."

Becnel would not accept the guilty plea. Instead, he told Public Defender Alan J. Robert to confer with Simonis prior to his arraignment on three charges of aggravated rape, four counts of armed robbery and one count of aggravated burglary.

Jake Diel Awarded Surfacing Contract

AMARILLO — Jake Diel Dirt & Paving Inc. of Hereford has been awarded the contract to place additional surfacing material on three highway sections in Hereford.

Diel's bid of $284,151 was the lowest of six bids submitted on the work to the Texas State Highway and Public Transportation Commission.

Additional surfacing material will be placed on the following highway sections in Hereford:

- on Loop 211, from U.S. Highway 385 east to U.S. 69.
- on U.S. 385, from 400 feet south of FM 1058 north 800 feet.

- On FM 1058, from U.S. 385 west 1.1 miles.

This work was authorized in the 1982 Highway Safety and Betterment and Rehabilitation Program. The additional surfacing material will extend the useful life of the roadways and prevent further deterioration of the riding surfaces.

Lewis R. Loyd of Canyon will be the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation engineer in direct supervision of the work.

'Poor People's Banks' Flourish In El Paso

By RAMON RENTERIA
El Paso Times Writer
EL PASO, Texas (AP) — They are the "little boys" of the Texas credit industry, playing a competitive game in a world of instant cash.

You find them sandwiched between bars and economy dress shops, next to taco stands and side by side in some places along streets congested with pedestrians. "Con su firma" (signature) loan companies — salvation pit stops for people too poor or too desperate to get credit elsewhere — are common along El Paso's San Antonio street as well as in the Downtown districts of Dallas, Houston, Austin, Longview and McAllen.

Vernon Lemens, general counsel for the Texas Finance Institute in Austin — trade association for small lending companies — calls them the "poor people's little bank," catering often to people trapped in a lower income bracket.

Signature loan companies loan money without security to people with good and not-so-good credit ratings. A typical client could be a maid, an American soldier, a Ciudad Juarez, Mexico, school teacher or an expectant mother needing quick money.

Lemens said most signature loan companies would go broke if they "loaned to everybody that didn't pay their debts."

"All they have to collect with is just goodwill between the customer and the manager of a loan office," he said.

Lemens defends small credit lenders, saying they are law-abiding businesses upholding professional standards and ethics and serving a vital role in a community's economy.

"We used to have loan sharks in Texas but that's long past. A loan company that abused the customer now wouldn't stay in existence long enough to pay his bills," he said.

Armando Gutierrez, manager and part owner of El Paso Loans, is convinced many of his customers could not buy groceries or make ends meet without the instant cash lure of signature loans.

"Let's face it, most of them need this type of help are Mexican people," he said. "It's pretty hard for some people. I've seen people that have done 100 loans or more in this type of business."

Gutierrez said profit can be made in the competitive signature loan business.

"But you have to get the right combination of honest people. You try to counsel your clients to where they can get back on their feet instead of abusing their credit," he said.

He has also seen potential profits evaporate into the uncollectables file, especially when borrowers declare bankruptcy.

Until May, signature loan companies only loaned up to $100. But the Legislature, with a little persuasion from the small lending industry looking for a better profit on its investment, has increased the loan ceiling to $250 to give borrowers more buying power.

After 13 years in the business, Gutierrez worries whether the bigger loans will help when wages for his habitual clients have not kept pace with living costs.

His business is part of a corporation owning about a dozen similar operations throughout the state.

David Kaplan, part owner of Union Finance, said the small lending business is not as profitable as some people suspect.

"Some of these companies are hardly surviving. There's about 10 to 15 percent uncollectable. If somebody doesn't want to pay, there's little you can do in the state of Texas," Kaplan said. The state Consumer Credit Commissioner regulates small lenders like El Paso's Money Store, Friendly Loans, Pocket Loan Service or Central Finance Co. as strictly as bigger lenders.

El Paso has about 20 signature loan companies, only a fraction of more than 600 small loan companies licensed in Texas. The firms are owned individually or by a corporation or partnership.

Small loan offices in Texas peaked at 716 in 1978. Twenty-four of those had gone out of business the following year.

In 1970, the average signature loan office in Texas had 499 accounts and loans receivable amounting to $36,000. By 1979, the average office had 625 loan accounts and net loans receivable of about $50,000, according to state statistics.

The success formula for some signature loan offices is partly based on a steady stream of clients willing to borrow at high interest rates.

Borrowing $100 for a month costs $14 in interest charges. The same amount on a six month loan would amount to a payback of $134.

John Burgess, consumer protection specialist with the state regulating agency, said the state sets higher interest rates on signature loans because of the bigger risk of lending money to people that bigger companies may reject.

"The risk they take is greater but their return is so good that a lot of these companies don't even check the Credit Bureau when you borrow money," Burgess said.

At the same time, very few small lenders want to make bigger loans because interest rates and profits slide downward as the amount of credit increases.

Lemens, the industry spokesman, said profits averaging 5 or 6 percent also justify the more expensive money.

"These companies have to make a living. So if you cut it any lower, they can't operate," he said.

The state is adamant about enforcing credit law violations and not allowing arm-twisting collection tactics, such as threatening Mexican borrowers with jail terms if they do not repay their loans, Burgess said.

Burgess said he rarely gets complaints about signature loan customer abuse or unscrupulous business practices.

"Some of these companies are going to be forceful like any other business to get their money back. But we don't have people being abused physically as far as we know," he said.

The Abundant Life

BY BOB WEAR

Successful living and bicycle riding have at least one thing in common. The bicycle must be kept moving along, in order to remain upright. It is much the same with us, because we must keep moving along; in order to find reasonable satisfaction in living. The scenery may change now and then, and the details of the way may change, too; but we must keep moving along.

The Forward Movement does not require a sustained maximum effort, but there must be effort adequate to meet current needs. Some people move along faster, and some seem to do better than others; but this is of no particular significance.

Some persons are overly ambitious, and eventually fall by the way. They are not satisfied with a sensible pace, but constantly over-extend themselves. The people who are reasonable, and wise, and sensible just keep moving along. This is living.

There are other failures. They are the people who are not willing to put forth sufficient effort to keep moving along. They, for a variety of differing reasons, slow down and drop out. Some may be quitters, and others are too easily discouraged. Whatever the reason, they do not seem to realize that the living is in the moving along.

Moving along is not movement away from the things which are true, and good, and decent; but is movement that is sustained by these time-proven sources of light and strength. It is not drifting; it is not some type of competition, but is uniquely the pace that is best suited to each individual.

Great accomplishments, as such are generally defined, will not necessarily mark our way; but this will not mean that we are falling. In fact, the life lived well is the greatest accomplishment of all.

GREAT ACCOMPLISHMENTS, as such are generally defined, will not necessarily mark our way; but this will not mean that we are falling. In fact, the life lived well is the greatest accomplishment of all.

"To hear always, to think always, to learn always, it is thus that we live truly; he who aspires to nothing, and learns nothing, is not worthy of living." — A. Hays.

We must know that life is to be lived in the present, but that it is constantly moving toward the future. Abundant living can be neither static, nor regressive, and not digressive; but must be fundamentally and essentially a life of moving along according to the best time-tested guidelines.

The Distance we have gone is not very important, but it is extremely important that our movement is in the right direction. It can be.

Poor Folks Pay While Wealthy Play

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Poor Mexican-Americans are footing a disproportionate part of the expense for putting on the 10-day Fiesta celebration each year, a city councilman charges.

"Fiesta queens and kings are being promoted, crowned, dined, wined, chauffeured and paraded on the dollars that come from San Antonio's poor people," says councilman Bernardo Eureste. "People who can least afford it are footing the bill for the Fiesta Commission."

The city councilman proposed an alternate method of financing for the 1982 Fiesta and said he would call for boycotts and pickets if the Fiesta Commission and other council members do not go along with it.

About 65 percent of the commission's income is generated by the Fiesta Carnival, which grosses about $2 million from a crowd that is mostly "Mexican-American ... from the poor and modest backgrounds," Eureste said.

The Fiesta Commission had been scheduled to meet Monday afternoon, but the meeting was cancelled after Eureste conducted a news conference to lodge his complaint.

Parties Mark Lennon's Death

By RICK HAMPSON
Associated Press Writer

One year ago Regina Wilde stood on the same New York City street near the same police barricades, staring through tears at the dark gateway where John Lennon was murdered.

But on Tuesday the 23-year-old college student returned to the Dakota Apartments for a party, not a wake, on the first anniversary of the former Beatle's death.

"Last year I felt sorrow. Someone close to me had died," she said, cupping a candle with her hand to shield it from the raw night wind. "This year I feel happy. This is a tribute. He will live forever and ever and a day."

The feeling was the same around the world that John Lennon helped change. Joy that his words and music endured seemed to be replacing sorrow over the burst of madness that ended his life a year earlier.

In Liverpool, the cradle of Beatlemania, it seemed like 1965 again when a local band kicked off an outdoor concert tribute to Lennon with the Beatles' "Eight Days a Week."

Teen-agers jumped up and down and screamed, and a few fainted, just as others had 20 years ago. A dozen girls crushed in the gyrating crowd were passed head over head toward ambulances, which took two of them to a hospital for treatment of rib injuries.

The celebration, attended by about 3,000 in near-freezing temperatures, ended with a five-minute candlelight vigil.

In San Francisco, two climbers marked the anniversary by scaling eight floors of a skyscraper and unfurling a banner calling for an end to the nuclear arms race. Edwin Drummond, 36, and Lia Simnacher, 21, abandoned their climb after officials of the 45-story building agreed to let the banner hang for the day.

But as soon as they were on the ground, officials bunched up the banner and hauled it inside. A lunchtime crowd of several hundred cheered the protesters and booed when the banner was removed.

The 30-foot hand-painted cloth pennant said "Imagine No Arms," a reference to a Lennon song and viewpoint.

At the Dakota, where Lennon lived and finally died at the hand of Mark David Chapman — who is serving a 20-year to life-in-prison sentence — about 400 people sang Beatle songs, held candles and talked about why they came.

"I don't know how I would have handled it if I was able to make it (last year)," said Scott Smith, 17, of Madison, N.J. "It goes all right with me now. The impact is over. I've had time to get used to it."

Greg Hoffman, 16, of Brooklyn, said the anniversary was "different" because last year "people didn't come because of publicity, they came because of what they felt. This year many people are coming to get in front of the cameras."

Joseph Erdelyi Jr., 70, held a placard advertising sheet music for his "John Lennon's Requiem" for $5 each.

Yoko Ono, Lennon's widow, had left the Dakota, reportedly for a day of meditation with their son Sean, 6, at their Long Island estate.

CBS Wins Ratings Race

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS won the networks' ratings race for the second straight week, thanks mostly to a one-two finish by "60 Minutes" and "Dallas" and six other shows, including the new "Falcon Crest," in the Top 10, figures from the A.C. Nielsen Co. showed.

ABC's "NFL Monday Night Football" game between Philadelphia and Miami placed third in the week ending Dec. 6, an extraordinarily high finish for the normally popular sports program. And there was a promising sign for struggling NBC — the network's new "Bret Maverick," starring James Garner, finished seventh for the week.

It was the second consecutive No. 1 finish for "60 Minutes," and the newsmagazine, prime-time champion for the 1979-80 TV year, seems to be mounting a challenge to "Dallas," last year's winner and the top-rated show five times in the first seven weeks of the current season.

"Dallas" still leads "60 Minutes" for the season to date, though by a slim margin.

For CBS, it was the second straight first-place finish in the weekly competition, after swapping the lead twice in four weeks with ABC.

Senator Sticking With Creationism Law

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The legislator who sponsored Arkansas' creation law says he did so because it was compatible with his religion. "It had to be compatible," Sen. James Holsted, D-North Little Rock, said Tuesday. "I'm not going to stand before the Senate and try to pass something I don't believe in." Holsted testified Tuesday to U.S. District Judge William Overton during the trial of an American Civil Liberties Union lawsuit that says the law is an unconstitutional establishment of religion. The ACLU also says the law is vague and violates academic freedom. Holsted said the First Amendment prohibition against laws that establish religion is not violated because the law bans religious writings and "doesn't mention any particular god." He believes in a literal interpretation of the Bible, that fundamentalists are the legislation's most ardent supporters and that the law favors a literalistic interpretation of Genesis, Holsted said. The creation account the law authorizes for public schools, starting next fall, presupposes a creator who is divine, he said. The ACLU lawsuit was filed for 23 plaintiffs, including 12 clergymen. The ACLU says the Balanced Treatment for Creation-Science and Evolution-Science Act is a move by fundamentalists to force their literal interpretation of Genesis into the schools. The law says that if the schools teach evolution they must teach a theory called creation-science, which it defines as including creation of everything suddenly from nothing. The state says creation-science is scientific and that evolution is at least as religious as the creation view. The ACLU says evolution is the only scientifically valid view. Holsted said he got the bill from a constituent, but that it was drafted by a creationist, Paul Ellwanger of Anderson, S.C. The ACLU's other three witnesses Tuesday included a philosopher, who said creationist writings are dishonest and illogical, and two scientists, who said the law's creation theory isn't science. G. Brent Darymple of the U.S. Geological Survey said creationists attempt to date the earth's age and to refute evolutionist figures rely on disproved assumptions and false data. They have used figures the originators of the figures have rejected, he said. If creationists are right in some of their criticisms of the techniques, then the earth is older than evolutionists say, not younger, Darymple told the court. Geneticist Francisco Ayala of the University of California at Davis, Calif., said evolution had been demonstrated in laboratories, including his two-year study of 25 generations of fruit flies.

Parents Battle Closing One-room Schoolhouse

WOODEN VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — A dozen children peer out the door of their one-room schoolhouse at a sick animal nosing through trash in the yard. Cows low nervously on the other side of the fence, but Arlene Samuels remains calm.

"A coyote. Could be rabid," says the teacher's aide, fetching her .22-caliber rifle. A shot rings out.

"Good thing I got him," she says. "That was my last bullet."

It's a sunny fall day and the children at Capell Valley school have just had a lesson that wasn't on the agenda, one they would have missed at the schools in Napa where the school board plans to bus them.

"In the country, you don't call for help," Mrs. Samuels says. "You learn to take care of yourself."

They've been taking care of themselves for more than 20 years at Capell Valley, Wooden Valley and Soda Canyon schools, the one-and two-room schoolhouses that the Napa Unified School Board has voted twice to close.

A successful lawsuit brought by angry parents calling themselves the Save Our Schools Committee forced the board to vote a second time on the matter. Now two board members face a spring recall vote that could oust them a year and a half before the end of their terms.

In rural Napa Valley north of San Francisco, where tangles of grape vines flourish and the grass turns yellow and brittle under the summer sun, they produce most of the state's finest wines. And some of its brightest, most motivated children, parents and teachers here say.

That's the reason many of them came here, and that's the way they want to keep it, say Mary and Len Colson, who formed Save Our Schools with their Napa neighbors.

After the board's vote, the parents activated a petition that will keep Capell Valley, enrollment 30 students, and Wooden Valley, 18 students, open for another three years. But even that has failed to defuse an emotionally explosive situation.

"Two of the schools they voted to close, to save money, are staying open for another three years," Mrs. Colson said. "Where's the money being saved? It would be laughable, if it weren't so sad."

Part of their discontent can be traced to a 16-year-old promise made by the Napa Valley Unified School District. Back then, parents say, the board struck a deal with the area's rural residents: join the district and the tiny schools will never be closed.

Dorina Helms, one of the board members facing recall, said none of the old board members remembers that pledge. Today's board, facing declining enrollments and limited funds, couldn't honor it anyway, she said.

"I didn't become a school board member to say no to people. I became a member because I wanted to become involved in the process that would allow students to maximize their potential," she said. "The dollars realized from closure would allow us to distribute the money more equitably to all the schools."

But the parents speculate that the board wants to close the schools to sell the valuable real estate beneath them. They say the closures might also appease the parents of city school children who resent the tiny schools, particularly Soda Canyon.

Exports Pivotal to Ag Economy

WASHINGTON (AP) — With expansion of exports considered pivotal to improving the flagging U.S. farm economy, America's transportation network must be made more efficient, the Agriculture Department's transportation chief says.

The key, according to Martin Fitzpatrick, is an integrated transportation network that eliminates bottlenecks on the waterways and maintains service on important, though sometimes uneconomical, farmbelt rail lines.

"Agricultural exports are essential to maintaining farm incomes," Fitzpatrick says, citing the fact that a third of the nation's commodity production goes to foreign buyers.

"The last thing U.S. farmers need is to have their income potentials hampered by marketing problems," he says. "Transportation is critical to continued growth in agricultural exports."

On Monday, the Agriculture Department reported that wheat exports in 1981-1982 should hit a record 50.1 million tons, half the world trade. Export tonnage for corn is also expected to exceed the previous year's level.

And although the United States has prospects for improved marketing in Africa, Russia, Spain and Egypt, the analysts say the this country is facing some problems in maintaining and expanding exports elsewhere. Those gains, they say, could be offset by new wheat sales agreements Canada and Australia have made with China. They also say growth of the U.S. market in Japan, Taiwan and Korea is being inhibited for various reasons.

"Without adequate service on a timely basis at reasonable cost, export markets will diminish," Fitzpatrick said.

that modernization drive must rely, not on tax dollars, but on user fees paid by those who use the waterways as President Reagan has proposed, said Maj. Gen. E.R. Heiberg.

"This is unpopular in many corners," Heiberg told the panel. "But the nation has to wrestle this problem to the ground."

accomplished."

As far as rail transit is concerned, Robert Blanchette, head of the Federal Railroad Administration, said the industry is still suffering from decades of overregulation that has caused many railroads to go bankrupt, most notably the Rock Island and the Milwaukee.

But he said last year's rail deregulation law has permitted the government to step in during emergencies to insure rail service is available where needed even as it brings about the free market environment that can return the industry to prosperity.

Fourth Ag Meeting Set In Amarillo

AUSTIN — The fourth of seven planned meetings of the Senate agriculture Subcommittee will be in Amarillo December 17, Sen. Bill Sarpalus said today. Sarpalus is chairman of the subcommittee.

Sarpalus said the panel will hear testimony on six topics he described as "vital to the Panhandle economy, as well as the state as a whole."

"We will hear testimony on grain elevator explosions, grain elevator bonding, water availability for crops and livestock, farm labor, the state loan guarantee program for agricultural land and on transportation of agricultural commodities," he said.

"We have heard a lot of testimony on grain elevator explosions in our Fort Worth and Corpus Christi hearings. We have heard expert testimony that has told us we need more research into the cause of the explosions.

On another topic, Sarpalus said the recent defeat of the Water Trust Fund is a setback, but the extent of that setback is not fully known.

"We know we are running out of water, and we can predict with some degree of certainty the rate we will use water. What we want to do at these hearings is to refine our projections and determine what we can do to slow water use, and maybe find a way to get more water."

"For example, there is some important work going on at the Bushland Research Center that involves using wind energy to pump up irrigation water. We hope to find out more about this and other methods at our meeting," he said.

The meeting will be at the Texas A&M Research Center, 6500 Amarillo Boulevard West, on Thursday, December 17, at 9:00 a.m. It is a public meeting, so any interested person may attend, Sarpalus said.

Department analysts reported that recent export shipment rates for corn and wheat have been slightly below levels anticipated for the season, apparently because many importing nations expect no price increases and because of continued high interest rates and

The director of civil works for the Army Corps of Engineers told the congressional Joint Economic subcommittee on agriculture and transportation that the inland waterways network, which is responsible for moving the bulk of export grains to port, must be modernized if it is to satisfy the rising demand to move farm commodities.

But severe constraints on federal expenditures mean

With pressure to move farm goods on U.S. waterways expected to double by the end of the century, Heiberg said failure to modernize the waterway system will mean severe bottlenecks and traffic constraints. By the year 2000, he said, 44 U.S. locks and eight Canadian locks will be more than 50 years old.

"Many critical components of the existing waterway system are of a past technological era and will have to be replaced or modernized if the waterway system is to meet its full potential," he said. "I am concerned that if we get into a long argument or impasse on user fees, needed improvements will not be

In the case of important but uneconomical rail lines in grain-producing areas, Blanchette said the government is having substantial success working through states, local governments and shipper associations to retain needed service without excessive regulatory interference.

Farm Conservation Trends Must Face Improvement

(Editor's note: The U.S. Department of Agriculture has identified the critical soil and water resource problems of the nation, analyzed them, and proposed a national conservation program to address them. This is the second in a series of three articles that outlines the conservation problems, trends and analyses, and the proposed national program.)

Continuing present nationwide soil and water conservation trends would mean serious future conservation and farm production problems, according to a U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) report.

The finding is based on an analysis of the condition and trends of the soil, water and related resources of the United States. The analysis was part of a report required by Congress in the Soil and Water Resources Conservation Act of 1977 (RCA), explains Tom Cunningham, district conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service (SCS) at Hereford.

The analysis shows that the demand for food and fiber produced in the United States would increase while technological advances in agricultural production would decrease.

Without better technology to boost production, the demand to produce more food and fiber will mean that more acres of marginal land will be farmed. The result will be increased soil erosion rates and other resource problems.

If this happens, the productive capacity of American agriculture would decrease and production costs would increase.

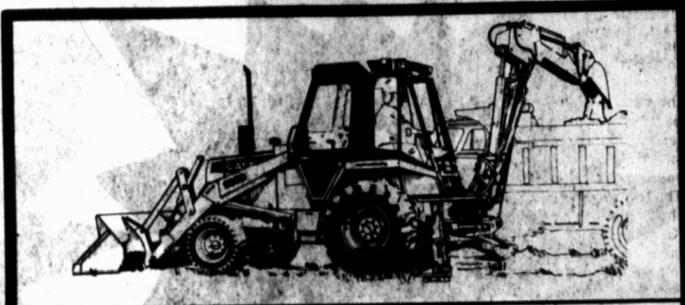

The report says that these resource problems need to be addressed most quickly: Excessive erosion rates, upstream flood damages, groundwater depletion, and deteriorated water quality.

To project future conditions, the USDA analysts used a computer model to simulate the nation's agricultural productivity related to erosion. Although the model's results can't be taken as absolute indicators of what will happen, they do show the relative direction of American agriculture and the possible magnitude of future resource conditions and problems.

RCA Appraisal Part II, the second of three major RCA documents, contains the detailed analysis of the trends in the use and condition of America's soil and water resource base. A copy of this and other RCA documents is available for reference use at SCS and Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service offices throughout the state.

A short leaflet summarizing the RCA findings and proposed conservation program is also available at these USDA offices. The leaflet contains a pre-addressed, postage-paid response form that may be used to send comments to USDA. Responses should be mailed by January 15, 1982.

Tobacco Production Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Increased tobacco production in the United States, China and Cuba will push world production to more than 5.8 million metric tons this year, up 4 percent from 1980, the Agriculture Department says.

The 1.4 million metric ton crop in China, up 22 percent from 1980, is the result of a 47 percent increase in the area planted with flue-cured tobacco, the department said. That production jump was prompted by a 20 percent increase in leaf tobacco prices.

Cuba brought its blue mold problem under control after seeing a 1980 crop of only 5,000 tons.

Legislation Can't Save Railroad

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation aimed at keeping the Rock Island Railroad running along a 900-mile stretch in four states won't come in time to save the line from a Dec. 31 shutdown order, says a spokesman for shippers.

"A shutdown is imminent, and we can't avoid it," said Jim Smith of Herington, Kan., president of the Oklahoma-Kansas-Texas Rail Users Association, in an interview Tuesday.

Smith was among witnesses who testified Tuesday on a bill that would increase the government's power to keep bankrupt rail lines operating and expedite their sale.

The Senate Commerce Committee is scheduled to vote Thursday on the measure, but Smith said it's extremely unlikely that anything can be done in time to meet the deadline.

The Dec. 31 date was set by the 7th Circuit Court of Appeals, which ruled that the Interstate Commerce Commission does not have power to continue service on the line. The ICC is expected to appeal that ruling, and Mrs. Kassebaum said she is looking at legislative alternatives to head off the shutdown. But one Senate source said the prospects for success are slim.

Smith said halting service on the line from St. Joseph, Mo., through Kansas City, Topeka, Kan., and Oklahoma City to Dallas, would idle 400 workers, many of them former Rock Island employees, leave 210 shippers with no rail service and deprive more than 70 communities of affordable transportation for their goods.

"We've got one small grain elevator 15 miles from Herington that doesn't even have a paved road leading to it," Smith said. In another instance, a rock quarry near Richards Spur, Okla., would have its shipping costs more than doubled if forced to ship by truck instead of rail, he said.

The bill is designed to facilitate sale of track of bankrupt railroads and give the ICC the power to grant temporary operating authority. The ICC would have authority, with consent of the bankruptcy court, to set a purchase price in cases where the trustee and the potential buyer cannot agree.

Murder Charge Dropped In Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — Murder charges against a Houston man, who allegedly acted as an informant in the FBI's investigation of convicted contract killer Charles V. Harrelson, have been dropped because two witnesses could not be located, prosecutors said.

State District Judge Perry Pickett dismissed the charge Tuesday against Hampton Robinson III, but District Attorney John Holmes said the charge could be re-filed if investigators find the witnesses.

Robinson was accused in the slaying last May of William Scott Green, 36. Robinson's trial was delayed three times because the witnesses could not be found.

Robinson was sentenced to a year in jail and fined $2,000 when he was convicted of criminally negligent homicide in the 1976 slaying of rancher Thomas Taylor Bauer, 32, of Victoria.

Green Wasting No Time Re-Shaping Cubbies

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — Dallas Green, the new vice president and general manager of the Chicago Cubs, is wasting no time reshaping the perennial National League East doormats. Green is using this week's annual winter baseball meetings as the initial vehicle for his promise to rebuild the Cubs.

The meetings are in their third session today, and already Green has acquired eight players, including two in the major league draft.

Green started his maneuvering Tuesday morning by signing free agent pitcher Ferguson Jenkins to a one-year contract.

Several hours later he completed a three-for-two deal with the Philadelphia Phillies, the team he managed the past two years.

The Cubs acquired young catcher Keith Moreland and pitchers Dickie Noles and Dan Larson for pitcher Mike Krukow.

Green still wasn't through. He returned with an announcement he had signed free agent pitcher Bill Campbell.

On Monday, he exchanged pitchers with the San Francisco Giants, swapping Doug Capilla for Allen Ripley.

The only other action as baseball executives talked about potential trades was on the managerial level.

The New York Yankees, despite reports from a source close to the team that a change would be made, announced Manager Bob Lemon would return for another year.

Speculation was that Yankees' owner George Steinbrenner, upset over losing the World Series, would make a change.

The Boston Red Sox, who loved Ralph Houk out of retirement, extended the manager's contract two years through 1984.

There were the usual rumors including Seattle moving outfielder Tom Paciorek to Kansas City.

Phillies' General Manager Paul Owens, enthused over obtaining Krukow whom he said would win 15 to 18 games, still sought pitching help.

The reports were that Owens is willing to part with Garry Maddox, his gold glove center fielder, to get Houston pitcher Vern Ruhle.

Owens also covets Milwaukee's Mike Caldwell, and probably would give up some young talent to get the left-hander. He hasn't given up on dealing for Toronto's Dave Stieb or Jim Clancy, and also is interested in Blue Jays' outfielder Barry Bonnell.

St. Louis Manager Whitey Herzog said he is trying to trade outfielder Sixto Lezcano for the best pitcher he can get. He'd also oblige shortstop Gary Templeton's desire to leave St. Louis, but is finding it hard to get value for the infielder.

Attorney John Schneider, representing free agent pitcher Ron Guidry, said there were 13 teams in the bidding, including the New York Yankees.

Stanton Boys Sweep Yucca

The Stanton Dogie boys basketball team swept a three-game set with Clovis Yucca Monday notching a 31-20 win in 7th grade play, a 47-19 victory in the 8th grade contest, and a 62-46 decision in the freshmen game.

Kyle Streun's 10 points led the Dogie 7th graders to their win, with six more points coming from Keith Herrera.

Johnny Pena's 14 and Rodney Torres' 12 points boosted the Stanton 8th graders to their lop-sided win, and Chet Bunch exploded for 17 points in leading the Dogie frosh to their win.

The Dogie 7th and 8th grade squads are both now 3-1 on the year and in loop play, while the 8th graders now own an even 3-3 mark.

While the Dogies were enjoying a field day, the La Plata Mavericks faced tough squads from Clovis Gattis, dropping all three games.

Gattis took the 7th grade game 32-24, won the 8th grade matchup 35-25, and took the Mav frosh by a 56-41 count.

Bobby Baker's six points topped the Mav 7th grade, while Todd Shire, David Manchey, and Mark Artho each added four. Casey Smith and Don Tardy scored eight and seven points respectively for the Mav 8th grade, while Mike Scott's 12 points topped the Mav freshmen in their loss as Blair Rogers added 10.

All six local junior high teams will be playing in the Hereford Junior High Tournament, which begins tomorrow at the Stanton and La Plata gyms.

In 7th grade play La Plata faces Plainview Blue in the first round tomorrow, while Stanton "B" plays Plainview Red and Stanton "A" matches up against Canyon Purple.

The local 8th graders will open play after lunch, with the La Plata "B" team playing Canyon White, the La Plata "A" team facing Canyon Purple and Stanton challenging Plainview Blue.

In freshmen action the La Plata "A" team plays Canyon Purple, while the Mav "B" team will square off against Plainview Blue. Stanton's "A" team will meet Plainview Red, while the Dogie "B" team will host Canyon White.

Play in the tourney will continue Friday, and will wind up on Saturday.

Mav 8th, 9th Fems Winners

The La Plata 8th and 9th grade girls basketball teams each moved their district records to 3-0 with wins against Clovis Gattis Monday.

The Mav 8th graders clipped Gattis 32-8, while the fem freshmen rolled to a 61-46 victory on the basis of Darla Alfred's 14 points. Connie Zinser added nine points to the frosh win, while Shannon Owsley led the 8th grade win with seven points, and Tara Johnson added six.

The Maverick 7th grade failed in their bid for a La Plata sweep, falling to Gattis 33-22. Tonya Redwine had six points in the loss.

The La Plata 8th grade also finished fourth in the Canyon tournament last week, defeating Dumas 44-33 in the opener as Shelly Edwards had 15 points and Becky Curtis added 10. The Mavs then lost to Dimmitt 29-26 in the semifinals, and then to Bushland by a 41-23 count in the third-place contest.

Stanton's girls also played a Clovis bunch Monday, facing Yucca at Clovis. The Dogie 8th graders came away winners, but the Stanton 7th and 9th grade teams lost.

Sara Alonso tallied a whopping 25 points as the Dogie 8th grade girls won 37-19 gaining their first district win of the year. JoDee Pruitt's four points topped the 7th grade Dogies, who dropped a 30-16 decision, while Stacey High tallied nine points, and Lisa Redmond added eight as the frosh from Stanton lost 61-29.

La Plata's girls will face Yucca at the high school gym next Monday, while Stanton will host Gattis the same day.

'Horns Edge Herd

The Hereford Whitefaces saw their season record drop to 4-4 last night as the Caprock Longhorns took a 54-46 win over the Herd in Amarillo.

Despite an 18-point performance by Hereford's Steve Welch, the 'Horns prevailed in a game which was close throughout the first half, with the Herd holding an 11-10 lead after one period and a 27-25 bulge at intermission.

Caprock came back with a third-period onslaught, however, to notch the win. The 'Horns outscored the 'Faces 19-9 in the crucial stanza, and held on to preserve the win as both teams scored 10 points in the final quarter.

In junior varsity play, the Longhorns took the HHS sophomores by a 76-21 count. Craig Jones' nine points topped the HHS soph effort.

Hereford will play Tascosa Friday in the opening round of the Amarillo Tournament as they seek their first win of the season.

Even With Bowie Out

Kentucky Takes Indiana, 85-69

By LARRY SIDONS AP Sports Writer

Tell a college basketball team it will be without its 7-foot center for at least the first month of the season, including a game against an archrival who happens to be the defending national champion, and most squads likely would start to think about what might have been.

Not Kentucky. With towering junior Sam Bowie out with a broken leg, the second-ranked Wildcats are still unbeaten, including a 85-69 thrashing of 10th-ranked Indiana, last season's NCAA title-holder, Tuesday night.

A 29-11 spurt led to guards Dirk Minniefield and Jim Master helped the Wildcats build a 47-25 halftime lead. "The first half was absolutely super," said Kentucky Coach Joe B. Hall. "It was about as good a half as we could have played."

Minniefield scored 12 of his 22 points and Master 11 of his 17 during the first-half run.

"Master and Minniefield," said Bobby Knight, whose team fell to 2-1. "They shot well and their guard play was great. We just got beaten badly in the first half by a team that's a hell of a lot better than we are."

In other games Tuesday involving teams in The Associated Press Top Twenty, it was No. 4 Wichita State 94, Long Beach State 71; No. 6 Iowa 79, Iowa State 68; No. 8 Minnesota 80, Drake 55; No. 13 Missouri 78, Illinois 68 in overtime; No. 14 Tulsa 93, Oklahoma State 62, and No. 18 Southwest Louisiana 91, Louisiana College 59.

The Top Ten

After No. 2 Kentucky pulled away in the first half at Lexington, Indiana closed in during the second half as, in Hall's words, "we showed a lack of a killer instinct and we just went native."

Kentucky also was helped by two quick technical fouls against Knight, who argued with an official over what he believed was an offensive goaltending violation by Kentucky. Master hit three of the four technical free throws to give Kentucky a 25-13 lead.

Ted Kitchel led No. 10 Indiana with 17 points and Randy Wittman added 14.

Fourth-ranked Wichita State had a tough time shaking Long Beach State, trailing 49-48 early in the second half before scoring 22 of the next 30 points. Cliff Livingston scored 25 points and grabbed 19 rebounds, leading the undefeated Shockers to their fourth victory. Guard Tony Martin and forward Antoine Carr added 19 and 16 points, respectively, for the Shockers.

Dino Gregory paced Long Beach State, 2-2, with 25 points and eight rebounds.

Freshman Michael Payne scored 17 points and Bob Hansen added 16 as sixth-ranked Iowa defeated Iowa State.

The Hawkeyes, 4-0, led by 11 at the half and by as many as 15 before Iowa State closed to within seven points, 61-54, with 8:10 remaining. But Kevin Boyle then hit a short jumper and fed Steve Carfino for a 17-footer to increase the lead to 65-54 with 6:01 left, and the Hawkeyes hit 12 of 13 free throws down the stretch.

"Iowa State made a good run at us in the second half. They should thank us," said Iowa Coach Lute Olson. "We used very poor judgment when we were up by 15 points. We were impatient. Once we got patience, we made them play defense for a while."

Freshman Barry Stevens had 18 points for Iowa State, 2-2.

Twenty points from guard Darryl Mitchell and 17 from 7-foot-3 Randy Breuer led eighth-ranked Minnesota past Drake.

The Gophers, 4-0, held a 14-4 lead after the first 6½ minutes, maintained that advantage through the first half and pulled away after halftime, with Breuer going to the bench midway through the second half.

Drake, 1-3, was paced by 13 points by Stephen Butler and 12 by Leon Van Hook.

The Second Ten
Ricky Frazier scored 28 points, including a basket with 2:22 left in overtime to put 13th-ranked Missouri ahead for good in its game against Illinois.

John Sandvold added 34 points for Missouri, now 4-0. Craig Tucker, whose three points in the final seconds of regulation time sent the game into overtime, led the Illini with 23 points.

David Brown, Paul Pressey and Greg Stewart, Tulsa's big front line, combined for 67 points as the 14th-ranked Hurricane defeated Oklahoma State, which lost for the first time in five starts.

Southwestern Louisiana improved its record to 6-0 by crushing Louisiana College behind the scoring of Alfred Turner, Dion Brown, Graylin Warner and Dan Gay.

Louisiana College led 10-10 in the early going, but the Ragin' Cajuns ran to a 34-27 halftime advantage and led by as many as 34 points in the final period.

Unranked Teams

Elsewhere Tuesday night, Rob Williams scored 30 points in 13 minutes of play to lead the Cougars to a 165-70 victory over Texas Lutheran.

Brigham Young beat Utah State 51-43. Scott Sinek's free throws preserved BYU's third victory against three defeats.

John Pinone's 27 points helped Villanova remain unbeaten with a 65-54 victory over Providence. The Wildcats, 4-0, outscored Providence 16-4 at the start of the second half for a 51-36 advantage.

Texas also stayed unbeaten with a 91-63 victory over Biscayne, as Denard Holmes with 16 points topped four Longhorn starters scoring in double figures.

No Matter How They Stand; Oakland Raiders Can't Win

By The Associated Press

The Oakland Raiders cannot win their division title. That is about the simplest part of the American Football Conference playoff puzzle.

After beating the Pittsburgh Steelers Monday, the Raiders could secure for a wild-card berth. Oakland won the Super Bowl last season from a wild-card position.

The Steelers' 30-27 loss to Oakland helped just about everyone but themselves in the AFC scramble. It:

— Enabled the Bengals, 10-4, to remain two games ahead of Pittsburgh. One more victory by Cincinnati (or one more loss by Pittsburgh) will give the Bengals the division title, their first since 1973.

— Left the Steelers with an 8-6 record, tied in the conference standings with the Kansas City Chiefs and San Diego Chargers.

— Kept alive the Raiders' slender hopes of reaching the playoffs. Oakland is 7-7.

The weekend's action eliminated only two more AFC playoff contenders — Houston, 6-8, and Cleveland, 5-9, even though the Oilers beat the Browns last Thursday night. They joined Baltimore, 1-13, New England, 2-12, and Seattle, 5-8, on the sidelines.

Here is a look at what each AFC team has to do and what help each needs to win a division title (remaining games in parentheses):

Oakland (Chicago): At San Diego could finish tied at 9-7 with any of the other three teams but would lose out either on head-to-head competition (having been swept by both Denver and Kansas City) or by virtue of a poorer division record, no better than 2-5 against the Chargers' no worse than 5-3.

Miami (at Kansas City; Buffalo) clinches by sweeping its final two or winning one, while the Jets and Bills lose one apiece.

Buffalo (at New England; at Miami) clinches by sweeping its final two games.

New York Jets (at Cleveland; Green Bay) clinch if they win their remaining games and Miami and Buffalo lose one apiece. If they win their remaining two, they're assured of at least a wild-card spot.

Cincinnati (at Pittsburgh; at Atlanta) clinches with a victory of its own or a loss by the Steelers.

Pittsburgh (Cincinnati; at Houston) clinches only if it wins its two games and the Bengals lose their two. The teams would finish tied at 10-6 and the Steelers would get the title based on a better division record, 5-1 to Cincinnati's 3-3.

Denver (Seattle: at Chicago) clinches by sweeping its final two games.

Kansas City (Miami; at Minnesota) clinches by sweeping its two games, while Denver and San Diego lose one apiece. If Kansas City and Denver finish tied at 10-6, the Chiefs win the title based on a better conference record, 8-4. The Broncos can do no better than 7-5.

San Diego (at Tampa Bay; Oakland) clinches if it wins its two games and Denver loses one. If San Diego and Denver finish tied at 10-6, the Chargers get the title based on a better division record, 6-2. The Broncos can do no better than 5-3. If San Diego and Kansas City finish tied at 10-6, the Chargers win the title by virtue of their season sweep of the Chiefs.

UCLA Cagers Given Two-Year Probation

LOS ANGELES (AP) — UCLA's talented basketball team, considered among the nation's best before this season began, won't get a chance to prove it in the postseason national collegiate championship tournament.

That's because the NCAA, citing numerous violations, slapped a two-year probation on the Bruins' basketball program Tuesday. It also ordered the university to return its second-place trophy from the 1980 tournament.

UCLA, which won 10 national basketball championships under Coach John Wooden from 1964 through 1975, also will be barred from next spring's NCAA tournament. The Bruins, however, will be eligible for the 1983 tournament.

There had been speculation that UCLA might be able to play in the National Invitation Tournament next March, but the NCAA ruling also wiped out that possibility.

UCLA Athletic Director Bob Fischer wouldn't comment on the NCAA's action. "Tomorrow we have a press conference. I have nothing to say until that time," said Fischer Tuesday night.

It had been announced earlier that a press conference would be held today, starting at 10 a.m. PST.

Coach Larry Farmer was unavailable for comment, but a member of the UCLA athletic department said he was certain that nobody involved with the school would say anything until the press conference.

Wooden also was unavailable for comment. The Associated Press was told that he was out of town and wouldn't return until sometime today.

In addition to the probation, the university has been told to "disassociate one representative of its athletic interests from participating in any recruiting activities on behalf of the university in the future," the NCAA said in a prepared news release.

The NCAA said UCLA already has taken such action against a second representative.

The earliest basketball violation cited by the NCAA occurred in 1977, two years after Wooden retired and was replaced by Gene Bartow. Bartow coached for two years, then was replaced by Gary Cunningham, who coached the next two seasons.

Larry Brown was the Bruin coach for two years after that and Farmer was named head coach prior to this season.

The violations include allowing basketball players to sell game tickets in excess of their face value, free use of cars, cash payments to basketball players, lodging and meals for recruits' relatives, and providing reduced apartment rentals, the NCAA said.

Country Club Directors Host Annual Christmas Ball

The Hereford Country Club's annual Christmas ball was held Saturday night as directors hosted approximately 300 members. The club was gaily decorated in traditional Christmas trimmings, with two Christmas trees, two eating and drinking areas, and two bands. Directors greeted members as they arrived. Attendance would have been even greater except for the Whiteface football game being played in Texas Stadium. Scores of the game were announced during the night, and many party-goers had radios at their tables. Some of the directors and their wives are pictured above. (1) Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brookhart and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Cordray; (2) Mr. and Mrs. David Hutchins and Mr. and Mrs. J.C. McCracken; (3) Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Bowling and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Walden; (4) Tom LeGate, Brookhart and Rex Easterwood. Photos were made by Stephen Futrell.

Jan Salazar, left, and Connie Sessions are shown in the Deaf Smith General Hospital with a fetal monitor which was purchased with donations from Project Christmas Card in past years. Approximately $75,000 has been collected in the 25 year history of the project, with proceeds going to a wide variety of uses in the hospital and in providing scholarships for students going into the health field. The project is conducted annually by local doctor's and dentist's wives. Also helping with the project this year, but not mentioned previously is Doris Rush. Canisters will be available at locations throughout Hereford until Dec. 14, and names of those who make donations will appear in a large greeting in the Hereford Brand's Christmas edition. Good Timers Hold Graduation Dance

The Good Timers Square Dance Club welcomed their new members Monday night by honoring them at a graduation dance. Joining the club members and officers in the graduation ceremony was the treasurer of the Texas State Federation of Square and Round Dancers, Ed Mo-

Creary, and his wife, Angie. New members graduating were Herb and Elizabeth Vogel, Rick and Judy Wilkins, Jack and Betty Hughes, Tommy and Madeline Rosson, David Dunwoody, and Willard Moser. The graduating class and the club members presented the caller and teacher, Larry Kuper, a check as an appreciation gift for giving the lessons. The presentation was made by Rick Wilkins.

Newly elected club sweetheart, Betsey Kuper, was presented her sweetheart badge by her husband, Johnny. Visitors from Walcott were welcomed to the dance.

The world's newest nation is also one of the smallest. Antigua and Barbuda, neighboring islands, became independent Oct. 31 after more than three centuries of British rule. It joins a growing list of mini-nations in the Caribbean, with Antigua and Barbuda soon to be replaced as the newest. The Netherlands has agreed to independence for Aruba.

Ann Landers Narcolepsy Easily Controlled

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Your answer to "S.T. Out West" about her husband falling asleep reminded me that I owe you a big thank.

Several years ago you printed a letter from a woman whose husband fell asleep at the darnedest places—in church, at ballgames, playing bridge. You advised, "He should see a doctor. He might have narcolepsy." The same thing had been happening to me for years. I cut out that column and carried it around for seven months.

For years I had been telling my doctor I was falling asleep five or six times a day. He would check my weight, blood pressure, etc., and say, "You are OK—get more exercise." It got so bad I was falling asleep in the middle of dinner. I would open my eyes to find the food still in my mouth. The only time it was a plus was when I fell asleep in the dentist's chair and scared him half to death. He thought I passed out.

Finally I went to my doctor and handed him your column. After reading it he said he had no idea this was the way it was with me. He sent me to the hospital for some testing to rule out other causes. Then he put me on medication. That was six years ago, and the results have been fantastic. I'm a new person.

Please, Ann, keep telling people about this. It is easily controlled, but most doctors seem unaware of it. I personally had never even heard the term "narcolepsy" until I read it in your column. Thank you.—W.P.K., Williamsport, Pa.

DEAR MRS. W.P.K.: Glad I helped. And now a word to the doctors out there. Isn't it a disgrace to the profession that a reader had to be diagnosed first by ME? "Nuff said."

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Regarding the letter from the fruit peddler: It all boils down to one thing. Who should get stuck with the overripe cantaloupe, the peddler or the customer? The customer has read articles after articles on how to tell if produce is in good condition. Clothing can be

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Preventive medicine works

DEAR DR. LAMB — Surely you agree that a person can be checked up on Thursday and drop dead or have a heart attack and die within hours the next day. This happened to my father-in-law. My husband, with no history of high blood pressure, suffered a stroke and has been disabled for seven years. His blood pressure has been in the 180s before and after the stroke. What good have his annual physical checkups been? Send me your Health Letter on medical examinations.

DEAR READER — Even good medical examinations that include all the tests we know of that can or should be used in a medical examination will not prevent some such cases from occurring.

If doctors did coronary arteriograms and visualized the coronary arteries, they would find more advanced disease earlier, but the procedure is costly, time-consuming and not without risk. It is a good procedure in people who have symptoms or heart disease but it is not something that we recommend as part of a regular medical examination.

The standard, good quality medical examination will find many cases of high blood pressure, high cholesterol and abnormalities people do not know they have, which will enable them to be treated early — thereby decreasing the risk and disability.

Your husband may have been unlucky. Or he may have had a high cholesterol or have been a smoker. Also, a few strokes occur because of a birth abnormality in the arteries to the brain.

As you requested, I am sending you The Health Letter number 10-2, Your Valuable Medical Examination. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1561, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10101. As it explains, the regular medical examination is our best tool in finding the diseases that account for most of the deaths that occur. That includes heart attacks, strokes and cancer.

One of the most remarkable museums in Italy displays only umbrellas. The Umbrella Museum in the village of Gussone recalls the days when virtually the entire town made and repaired umbrellas and parasols.

On Indonesia's island of Java, the mythical goddess of the South Sea — Njai Lore Kidul — is important. A room with a bath is always kept reserved for her in one of the island's best hotels.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Polly Fisher

Catsup on dress

DEAR POLLY — My daughter asked me to write and ask if you know how to get catsup out of her daughter's pink cotton velvet dress. She's tried a number of commercial pre-wash sprays without luck. — R.A.D.

DEAR R.A.D. — Apparently this dress has been laundered with the stain still in it — and my guess is that the stain has set into the fabric. If the fabric can be treated with chlorine bleach, that's about the only thing that may be able to get the stain out by now.

The next time an accident like this happens, soak the stain in cool water immediately. A non-greasy stain like catsup usually comes out fairly easily if treated while the stain is fresh. More often than not, laundering severely sets the stain, making it difficult, and sometimes impossible, to remove. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — I'd like to know if you have any ideas about what to do with worn-out playing cards. By worn-out, I mean the cards are still good, but not to play with. I hate to throw them out. — MRS. J.W.

DEAR MRS. J.W. — I'm not sure what worn-out-but-still-good is. If they're just too sticky to deal properly, you can clean them in a number of ways. Sprinkling them with cornstarch removes the stickiness and gives the cards a nice slick surface, making them easy to shuffle and deal. You can also clean playing cards using a dough-type wallpaper cleaner.

If you have several decks, each of which is missing a few cards, you can make a serviceable deck by combining them into as many complete decks as possible. While you may not want to use these for the weekly bridge club, such decks are fine for children's games. In fact, I've found that most small children are delighted with old playing cards, so neither worn or incomplete decks.

A little creative thinking could probably turn up a number of craft projects that the cards could be used for. You might be able to make cute invitations, placemats or even place cards for a children's party or an adult card party using these cards. I'll be looking forward to hearing all the other ideas our readers are sure to come up with. OK, everyone, start dealing! — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — Even though summer is over, I thought your readers might like to know how to make iced tea without the usual fill a glass with clear drinking water. If chlorinated city water is used, allow the jar of water to stand six to 12 hours, lightly covered, to dispel the chlorine. Then put tea bags (about one bag per pint of water) into the jar, cover tightly and place in the refrigerator. Allow tea to steep for 24 hours or more until desired strength is obtained. You can let the tea bags steep for as long as 48 hours without the tea getting overly strong. — E.M.N.

DEAR POLLY — If you have an "instant-on" television set, you can save energy by unplugging it when not in use. This also reduces the chance of fire. — ROBIN

DEAR POLLY — When preparing bell peppers for stuffing, use a grapefruit spoon with a serrated edge to remove the seeds and membranes. This is much faster than using a regular knife. — W.W.
