Board Hires Choir Director Furniture Bought For New Schools

Hereford school board, in a four-hour and 45 minute session Tuesday night, bought furniture for "temporary" classrooms and the junior high auditorium, named five additional teachers and discussed locations for proposed new buildings.

Grocer Shoots Self; Condition Is Called Good

Ramon Casarez was reported in good condition in Deaf Smith County Hospital Wednesday after he was taken there Sunday with self-inflicted gunshot wounds.

Casarez operates the Boynton's No. 2, a small grocery store on the Dimmitt highway. He told a friend he was heading into Hereford from near La Posta and if he was not there by 10 a.m. Sunday to call his wife, because he might have had some sort of trouble.

The friend failed to call Casarez's wife until 10:15 a.m. and Casarez pulled up in front of the Economy Liquor Store and honked until the friend came out.

Jose Hinirose came to the car and noticed Casarez's face was bloody and a .22 calibre pistol was lying nearby on the seat.

Casarez asked Hinirose to take him into Hereford Hospital, but then objected when he attempted to carry him in.

Hinirose told investigating officers that Casarez told him that he, (Casarez), had shot himself.

Casarez's wife told officers that he had been dispond for the past few days and had told her he was borrowing the gun to go rabbit hunting.

According to investigating officers, the bullet entered Casarez's neck and went through the roof of the car near the rear view mirror.

Casarez told the officers that he had inflicted the wounds himself.

The incident was investigated by officers of the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department.

Among the teachers named was a successor for Don Moore, senior high choir director, who resigned to accept a similar post at Eastern New Mexico University, Portales.

Named as Moore's successor was Jim Ramsey, who has been choir director at Phillips in the northern part of the Panhandle. Ramsey, who is single, has a master of education degree from North Texas State University, Denton, and is president of the Texas Choir Association. Superintendent Paul Stevens told the board Ramsey is "one of the outstanding high school choral directors of West Texas."

Warren H. Wolfe, who has a bachelor of science degree in education from Arkansas State Teachers College, was named as a junior high mathematics teacher. Mrs. Dean Bradley, who has taught in Muleshoe and Oton, was named to the home-making staff. She has a degree in home economics from Tech.

Also named at Tuesday night's session was Janetta Maloney, who will do part-time physical education work at Northwest Elementary School. She has a bachelor's degree from Southwestern (Oklahoma) State College.

Also announced at the Tuesday night meeting were the names of several other teachers previously hired. Bobby G. Kenner and Marjorie L. Kenner were elected for spots on the senior and junior high staff, and Bobby Combest has been assigned to Shirley Elementary school. Also named to the school staff were Jean Schumacher, Ada Harris and R. W. Sheriff who will be assigned later.

Sites for new buildings were discussed, but no official action was taken, pending study of abstracts, a prerequisite to buying property for the schools, board president Ivan Block said.

Two members of the Walcott school board, Floyd Brown and Willis Duggan, met with the Hereford board and asked that the same system for transferring Walcott's high school pupils to the Hereford district be continued. (Continued on Page 4)

Public Invited To Take Part In Flag Day Parade

Public Thursday was invited by the American Legion Auxiliary to take part in Saturday's downtown parade to mark Flag Day. The event is being held one day early since June 14 falls on Sunday this year.

Everyone is urged to carry an American flag—any size—and join in the march.

The parade will start at 6th and Main and proceed down Main to 2nd. There it will turn east to Sampson and disband in front of the courthouse. The Auxiliary will serve refreshments to all participants who carry a flag, according to Mrs. Ira Ott, president of the Auxiliary.

Also helping with the affair will be the Optimist club with Larry Summers assisting as parade marshal, and leading the procession will be the Whiteface band. Several youth groups will participate, among them the 4-H clubs and the Civil Air Patrol.

The American Legion Auxiliary is sponsoring this parade in hopes that it will inspire citizens of Hereford to be more aware of the meaning of the American flag, and some of the sacrifices made in its defense. It is also the hopes of the Auxiliary that the public will be interested enough to inform themselves and their children of the proper respect due Old Glory," said Mrs. Ott Wednesday.

When a flag is passing in a parade or review, all persons present should face the flag, stand at attention, and salute, she pointed out. Those in uniform should render the military salute, and when not in uniform, men should remove their hat with the right hand holding it at the left shoulder, with the hand over the heart. Men without hats should salute in the same manner, and women also salute by placing the right hand over the heart. Aliens stand at attention.

These etiquette rules were pointed out by the Auxiliary.

Salute to the flag in the moving column should be rendered at the moment the flag passes, however, in a parade of this type with several flags, the spectator should salute the first column or unit passing, then stand at attention for the remainder of the parade, Mrs. Ott said.

Mrs. Ott pointed out several aspects of flag etiquette that people tend to otherwise overlook.

Commissioners To Crack Down On 'Crawlers' On County Roads

Record Heat Hits Hereford; Dryland Wheat Being Cut

Strong hot winds and zooming temperatures hit the Panhandle Sunday bringing in a premature summer as temperatures rose near the 100-mark in Hereford.

The hottest temperature over the Panhandle was recorded at Childress Sunday afternoon, where the temperature reached 107. The official mark recorded in Hereford Sunday afternoon was 97, which was a high for the entire week.

"The irrigated wheat in the area would naturally tend to shrivel," Lefty Thomas, Deaf Smith County agent, said Wednesday, "but it would take 10 days or more of this type weather to really affect the irrigated wheat."

"The dry-land wheat," Thomas continued, "is already so far under the bridge that not much would help it one way or the other."

"We are expecting more than a 75 percent failure in the dry-land wheat yield this year as nearly 70 percent of the crops have already been abandoned and plowed under."

The hardest hit area, according to Thomas, was the northwest portion of the county, where all the wheat is dry-land.

One farmer in that part of the county abandoned 5000 acres of dry-land wheat last week.

The dry-land wheat, which farmers are still attempting to salvage, will produce a very, very low yield according to Thomas.

Most of the dry-land wheat in the county will be harvested within the next week as the hot, dry winds tend to make the wheat mature earlier.

"Some irrigated wheat will be cut by the end of next week,"

Thomas said, "but the harvest will not get into full swing for about two more weeks."

"Some of the fields over the county will yield 50 to 60 bushels per acre, but over (Continued on page 2)

Court Warns Of Lugs On Vehicles

Deaf Smith County residents were warned this week that the operation of crawler-type tractors and other damaging equipment on the county roads was in violation of Article 784 of the Penal Code of Texas, and that offenders could be prosecuted under the provisions of such statute.

Pointing out that crawler type tractors and other equipment with steel lugs or wheels tend to cut into the road bed on county roads, causing an undue amount of damage, the Deaf Smith County Commissioners issued a sternly-worded warning to offenders to cease and desist, or face prosecution under the provisions of the law.

The commissioners advised the public that it is a violation of Article 784 of the Penal Code of Texas to "obstruct or injure a county road, and the operation of crawler-type tractors and other equipment with steel lugs or wheels which cuts into the road bed on county roads is prohibited; and that any structures of any kind placed in bar ditches of county roads which obstruct or tends to obstruct such roads is prohibited; and further that the plowing of bar ditches also constitutes an injury to the roads under such statute, and constitutes a hazard to vehicular traffic; and also that the public be advised that the dumping of refuse, garbage, rubbish or junk within 300 feet of a county road is a violation of Article 696a of the Penal Code; and further that if such notice does not stop such practice criminal complaints will be filed under the provisions of such statute."

The court passed the above order at the regular first-of-the-month meeting, Monday, June 8. "Offenders will be warned", said a spokesman for the court, and if they fail to comply with the law regarding the care of county roads, then further action will be taken.

It was also pointed out during the meeting that some county farmers had been using the road for a turn-row, which is also prohibited under the provisions of the law, as well as the practice of plowing into the bar ditches. "The practices constitute a hazard to vehicular traffic and must not be allowed", said commissioners.

In other action Monday, Commissioners voted unanimously to permit a local art class to continue the use of the Bull Barn once each month; approved the paying of bills for the various county offices; granted permission for two gas line crossings; and voted to pay the expenses of one meal for the upcoming Highway 385 Association meeting that will be held in Hereford.

The local art class has been using the Bull Barn once monthly for several months, but a recent complaint by a local merchant caused the commissioners to take a second look at the situation. The complaint had been filed because an out-of-town (Continued on Page 4)

The Sugar Story — Part II

Sugar-Making Starts With Slicing Of Sugar Beets

By Phil Duncan

has yet been no sugar extracted from the beets.

The sugar is diffused from the cossettes through a process called dialysis or osmosis, that is when a dissolved substance is separated from other substances with beets, the walls of the cells of the plant tissue act as the diffusion membrane.

Since time is required for sugar to diffuse through a given distance, advantage is obtained by shortening the distance. Thus, the beets are cut into thin slices. Ideally cossettes should be cylindrical, in order that the diffusion be uniform from all parts, but the closest practical approach is the rectangular cross section.

As the beets are carried into the continuous E. T. Diffuser, they are met by a stream of hot water flowing in a counter current direction.

Approximately 250 tons of beets per hour are carried into the giant diffuser and approximately 250 tons of hot water per hour flow into the diffuser from the opposite end. Retention time in the diffuser is approximately 1½ hours, making a com- (Continued on page 2)

Brownfield Smashes Herd's Hopes For Try At State Title

The Brownfield Cubs ended all hopes of the Hereford Whitefaces Wednesday as they downed the Herd 12-6 in a hitting onslaught at Brownfield.

The Herd managed to take the lead in the top of the first inning as the first batter up, Ronnie Duncan, managed to get on first on an error. Frank Cain followed Duncan with a pop up to first and got the first hit of the day. Joe Coffman followed again with a single and Duncan came home for the first run of the game.

Eugene Green hit a hard grounder but was tagged at first. Steve Hodges then followed up with a stand-up double driving in Coffman, but Charlie Moreno hit a grounder and was out at first retiring the sides.

Gary Nunn, the first man up for the Cubs, fled out to third, followed by Archie Jennings, who slammed a stand-up double to leftfield. Amillo Garcia hit a grounder to third and was out at first, and Jennings was tagged as he tried to steal third, retiring the sides.

Lynn Cook was the first man up for the Herd in the top of the second inning and hit a grounder to the pitcher and was out at first. Jim Haney struck out for the second out of the inning. David Stevens, the next in order was walked and Ronnie Duncan followed with a single. Frank Cain struck out for the final out leaving men on first and second.

Connie Vernon fled out to centerfield for the first out of the second inning as the Whitefaces still possessed their two-run lead. Bobby Demison hit a grounder to first and was safe at first. Johnny Baum, the next in order slammed a home-run tying up the game for the Cubs.

Big Jim Haney managed to strike out the next two Brownfield batters to retire the sides with the score tied 2-2.

Joe Coffman hit a blooper to the short stop and was tagged at first for the first out of the third inning. Eugene Green walked up and slammed the one-run home run of the game for the Whitefaces. Steve Hodges was walked but Charlie Moreno hit a line drive to the pitcher and was tagged at first. Lynn Cook was walked as he was hit by the next pitch, but Jim Haney was tagged at first on a pop-up and retired the sides with the Herd leading 3-2.

The Cubs began a long third inning which saw the Cubs go completely through the batting order to take a 7-3 lead on the Hereford Whitefaces. Johnny Baum closed his second home run of the day to help the Cubs raise their lead.

David Stevens hit a single in the top of the fourth, but the next three Whiteface batters, Ronnie Duncan, Frank Cain and Joe Coffman were retired in order.

The Cubs were retired shortly, but not before Archie Jennings could slam a stand up double to rightfield. The Cubs retained their 7-3 lead going into the top of the fifth inning as Eugene Green, Steve Hodges, and Charlie Moreno were retired in order.

Haney managed to lead the bases in the bottom of the fifth inning but the infield assisted him in not allowing any hit in the inning as all the Cub batters fled out.

The Herd began their bid for the lead in the top of the sixth inning as they scored two runs but the Cubs pitcher, Craig Collier managed to strike out three of the Whiteface batters with the bases loaded.

The Cubs retaliated in the bottom of the sixth as they chalked up five runs to run up a 12-5 lead before they could be retired.

Lupe Ramirez was sent in to relieve Jim Haney in the bottom of the sixth, but was retired by Larry Minks as he could not stop the Cub onslaught.

Amillo Garcia was sent to replace Craig Collier as the Herd began their bid for the lead in the top of the sixth inning.

The Herd in their never-ending style got men on first and third in the bottom of the seventh inning despite the 12-5 lead. Moreno came in for the run to (Continued on page 2)

Jury Is Called For County Court

We've been wondering when the fish stories would begin to circulate, and now we know. With the vacation months upon us, we're beginning to hear the tales of woe... of those who can't get off to go... as well as the stories of the big one that got away from the more fortunate souls. And the seasonal mad lady known as fishing fever has also struck. It is no respecter of persons, striking young and old alike; men as well as women. The fever starts slowly and then builds to epidemic proportions before the summer half past; and it wouldn't surprise us if the entire community has been infected before the middle of July.

"Slim" Wester stuck his head in the door of the Commissioner's Court room Monday, almost causing a stampede with his invitation of "let's go fishin'"; directed at no one in particular, and perhaps everyone present. "Slim" is one of Hereford's most noted fishermen, noted not only for his fishing skill but also the stories that he tells.

R. C. McGilvery is another one. He can hear a minnow wiggle at thirty yards, and will head for the nearest pond at the drop of a sinker.

But the men have no corner on the sport of fishing. Many of the ladies enjoy the sport as well. One that we have in mind is Mrs. C. N. McClure, who has become quite an angler since husband Claude retired from the farm. The McClures, like Wester, enjoy the sport, but unlike Wester, they have not learned to use a fisherman's rule when measuring the size of their catch. Perhaps just the opposite.

For instance, when reporting on their recent catch at Burson's Lake, located some 19 miles Northeast of Silverton, Mrs. McClure had this to say:

"Fishing sure was good, but you know, those fish were deformed. Their heads and their tails were too close together".

Well now... that sounds like the midget that wasn't short... just built close to the ground.

However, after checking with Claude, we have discovered that fishing was a little better than first reported. It really depends on the fisherman.

As we mentioned before, the McClures have become quite interested in fishing and boating since Claude's retirement. Along with "Sug" Lee, manager of Lee Tire & Supply, they have built a boat which we normally refer to as "Claude's Excursion Cruiser," due to its ample size. For a while they kept the craft anchored on Buffalo Lake, but in recent months have moved it to Burson's Lake northeast of Silverton.

Burson's Lake is small we understand, but ideal for those who want to enjoy a little fishing without having to contend with the water skiing set.

Water skiing is fine sport certainly, but skiing and fishing don't go well together... particularly on a small lake.

No trot-line fishing allowed either. Throw lines with no more than two hooks per line are permitted besides your rods and reels, and all motor boats are required to go no faster than trolling speed.

The recreation area also includes a large swimming hole which is roped off and which is apparently deep and clean. Other facilities include air conditioned cabins, a cafe and a store stocked with fishing equipment, minnows and baits of all kinds.

In fact, Claude was so enthusiastic about the place, that he's sold us. We're thinking of making a weekend trip in the near future.

Leo Forrest brings us another postal card, and this time he's bragging on the postal service. The card, mailed at Friona, contains no address whatsoever; completely blank on the address side with the message side of the card reading only: Light meter, 5244, June 4, 1964, read by Mrs. Rex Blackburn. The card was delivered post-haste, without delay.

And this one didn't even have a ZIP Code Number.

The first load of wheat has been delivered to Hereford. Grown on the Lafton farm, the wheat was delivered Monday to Pitman Grain Co. It was dryland wheat, making 10 bushels to the acre.

Lord Thomas Dewar once said: "The human mind is like a parachute. It functions only when it is open."

The hill of Monte Testaccio near Rome consists of the fragments of an estimated 40,000,000 wine and olive-oil jars.

The Scotch government spinning school in the 17th century gave each student a spinning wheel as a graduation present.

all the average for the irrigated wheat in the county will run near 35 bushels to the acre.

"This is not a good yield, but is considered average for the irrigated wheat in this county."

"The possibility of hot winds affecting the irrigated wheat is almost out of the question," Thomas continued "because most of the wheat is in the 'hard dough' stage and very little can damage the yield at this stage."

CHICAGO — Tax tatters — 753 of them — received $458,688 in total rewards during 1963 for supplying the Internal Revenue Service with information that led to the recovery of $12.7 million in taxes, penalties and interest.

Commerce Clearing House says informers whose stories proved up received an average of $609, a decrease of $174 from the average paid some 665 informers in the previous year.

Claims for rewards were filed by 4,660 informants. But 3,513 of these claims were rejected because the informant could not meet Internal Revenue Service requirements to qualify for the payoff.

Thanks, Folks

Your support in the Democratic Primaries was gratifying, and I would like to take this means of expressing to you my deep appreciation for choosing me to represent the Democratic Party in the general election this fall.

Of course, the battle is not over until the last shot is fired, and I'll be looking forward to your continued support in the general election in November. If you decide then to make me Commissioner of Precinct 1, I will do everything within my ability to be a worthy member of the court.

This has been my first experience at politics... and I might add that I've been a little apprehensive about the whole deal... but the confidence you have shown in me is heartening and I am indeed appreciative.

Thanks again, and if at all possible, I'll be seeing each of you before the general election in November.

Big Fireworks Shaping Up For Democratic Convention

By Vern Sanford
 Texas Press Association
 AUSTIN, — State Democratic party leaders here have completed advance preparations for a June 16 Texas party convention which could turn into a donnybrook or go off smooth as silk.

Action will take place at Houston's big coliseum and the swank Shamrock Hilton Hotel, convention headquarters.

Delegates and alternate delegates who will cast the 2,834 authorized votes (some counties are sending up to 15 times their authorized strength) will be quartered in 27 hotels scattered all over Houston.

Big job is selecting delegates to the August national presidential nominating convention in Atlantic City and picking Texas national Democratic committee representatives.

Big argument is whether the convention will go on record as favoring the as-yet unwritten national Democratic platform.

Gov. John Connally, who claims a two-thirds to three-fourths margin of control, prefers that delegates remain silent on the liberal national program. He wants to write his own state platform at the September state convention along moderate-to-conservative lines.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough and State AFL-CIO President Hank Brown argue the convention not only should pledge its support to President Johnson (there is no argument about that) but to his liberal program as well.

Some 26 per cent of the convention's seats are in contest.

Austin Attorney Will D. Davis, chairman of a State Democratic Executive Committee sub-panel on credentials, has instructed heads of 14 rival delegations from seven counties to send him advance written briefings on their positions.

Hearings will begin Monday (June 15) at 9 a.m. in the Shamrock. Recommendations of Davis' group will be passed along to the full SCEC, which will decide in an 8:30 a.m. Tuesday (June 16) session which delegations will be seated. The convention opens at 10 a.m.

Rival fund-raising events are scheduled Monday (June 15). The pro-Connally SCEC will stage a $10-a-plate dinner to finance the convention. Yarborough's Gulf Coast friends have scheduled an appreciation dinner for the senior senator at the same time.

If President Johnson has any preference about how things should go, he apparently kept silent on them during his recent trip to Texas. Aides maintained to the end of the visit he did not discuss politics with old friend Governor Connally, Senator Yarborough or anybody else.

REDISTRICTING — Texas Legislative Council study committee has set three hearings to gather firsthand advice from the homefolks on how to form 23 Texas congressional districts of equal population. Dates are July 9, July 10 and July 17.

They will be held in Fort Worth, Dallas and Houston. Others apparently will follow.

Legislators, political party spokesmen and the general public from counties where the meetings will be held and surrounding counties are invited to attend the sessions and give their views on how best to comply with federal court redistricting orders, said C. M. Mittle, Chairman Sen. George Mofett of Chillicothe.

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr warned the committee that the 1965 Legislature must solve the congressional redistricting question.

Carr said, "The more you base it on any other considerations, the greater risk you run of having to go through the same thing again in the courts."

LOAN REGULATIONS — Small loan company advertising of such terms as "lowest costs," "quickest service" and "easy payments" is "misleading" under new state regulations. All advertising claims by lenders are subject to the test of absolute accuracy.

Regulations were adopted after public hearings here and go into effect on July 1, Regulatory Loan Commissioner Frank A. Miskell has announced.

Miskell lists other regulations as: No strong arm collection practices permitted. . . Companies must keep detailed records showing all charges on loans. . . Borrowers must be furnished copies of insurance policies purchased in connection with loans. . . Money collected in premiums must be turned over to the insurance companies promptly.

COURTS SPEAK — State Supreme Court in a Sweetwater case said cities, by ordinance, can establish compulsory retirement ages for policemen.

The high court also: Held oil field truckers don't have to haul pipe at lower rates set by the Railroad Commission in 1962 until a court attack on the rates finally is settled.

Set arguments for July 8 on Dallas County Flood Control District's suit to keep the city of Irving from annexing district lands and on appeal of Dr. Daniel William Scott Jr. of Houston from revocation of his license by State Board of Medical Examiners order.

Court of Criminal Appeals was urged to reverse the murder conviction and death sentence of Carl Junior Hackathorn, 19, for slaying Mrs. Bobbie Jewel Nuttycombe, 18, of Dallas.

That court also was called on to order a $100,000 bond reduced to $10,000 on Samuel Spivey, another 19-year-old, charged with robbery by firearms in a bizarre Houston robbery-torture case.

The attorney general's office asked federal court to dismiss state appeal of an interstate commerce commission order permitting higher passenger train fares in Texas.

STATE SCHOOL SITE — The big question of location of a newly-approved West Texas State School for the mentally retarded will not be settled until September, according to most recent reports from the Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools.

Board's site selection committee, made up of C. E. Bentley of Abilene, former Lt. Gov. Walter Woodul of Austin and Jesse M. Osborn of Muleshoe, has been visiting some 30 West Texas towns which are competing for the school.

BIG SHOPPER — The idea of a $6,900,000 grocery bill would be enough to cause the average to swoon, but that was the size of the State's grocery bill for fiscal 1963. When the overall item is digested, it points to thrifty shopping.

The $6,000,000 fed some 40,000 inmates of state eleemosynary institutions, such as state hospitals, special schools, medical schools and correctional institutions. Cost of feeding each person under state care is about $173.68 per person. . . and that shopping triumph should be enough to make the housewife green with envy.

State Board of Control, "Housekeeper for the State," and its purchasers have mastered the technique of conquering spoilage and waste problems to the point that it is looked on as a model by all the other states, Canada and Puerto Rico.

Purchasing Chief Sam G. Cook believes that inmates of Texas institutions are probably the best cared for and best fed of any in the country. He says it is because the state purchasing law lends equal importance to acceptance of the "lowest" and "best" bid from food wholesalers.

AIRPORT AID — Texas Aeronautics Commission is seeking $450,000 in state aid to help build local airports during the next two years.

At budget hearings here Commission spokesmen and representatives of towns over the state argued for a program to insure at least one airport in all 154 counties. Thirty-five now have none.

Commission requests a $1,100,000 budget for the next biennium, including the airport program and $200,700 for an agency headquarters building at the Austin Municipal Airport. All funds except the building cost would come from aircraft fuel taxes.

AG DECISIONS — Attorney General Carr has: Ruled that a county clerk should not accept for recording in the Deed Record a certified copy from another court of record where the seal of the court has not been affixed thereto;

Held state highway funds cannot be used to finance a Texas travel exhibit at sports and vacation shows under either the state constitution or current laws;

Concluded that the party whose candidate for governor received the most votes in the 1962 general election will have first spot on the general election ballot this year.

IMPROVEMENT PLAN — State Highway Commission authorized a $168,000,000 improvement program to get more safety and less congestion on 2,067 miles of primary and state highways.

Of the amount authorized, $151,000,000 is earmarked for construction, and $15,000,000 for right-of-way. About 65 per cent of the cost is expected to come from state gasoline tax revenue and license fees and the rest from federal grants in aid.

SHORT SNORTS — Highway Commission authorized $180,700 for construction to enhance recreation resources at Dam B State Park, Eisenhower

 The measure was approved. The board said 13 pupils will be sent to Hereford from Walcott.

The board went into purchase of school desks at considerable length Tuesday night when four salesmen brought samples of their products and submitted bids. Biggest single item was purchase of 575 opera type chairs to go into the re-modeled junior high auditorium. American Desk Company was awarded contract for all desks and chairs.

The board also bought desks of various sizes for additional classrooms. The schools, bulging at the seams, will have to "farm out" five rooms, probably in some city church. Arrangements have not been completed for this phase of the program, the board said. At present the schools are considering use of five classrooms in the new education building of First Methodist Church, but no contract has been signed.

Five other rooms are being "salvaged" at other schools as temporary quarters until an additional elementary school building can be erected.

As one of the future building sites, the school board is considering a 16.8 acre tract north of Northwest School, owned by C. M. Stapp. Asking price is $1500 an acre.

The board also is considering other tracts to be used for future building sites. A new junior high building is in the offing with an additional elementary school as first on the building program, all part of a $1.4 million bond program approved ear-

 The firm had been selling supplies to the women, while giving free art instructions.

The policy of the court has been to grant use of the Barn only to those persons or organizations engaged in non-profit or charity activities, which would exclude any firm from using the building in which to do business for personal gain.

However, after meeting with a delegation of women representing the art class, it was felt by the court that the group should be allowed the use of the lier this spring after a citizens' committee had made recommendations for a vastly expanded school housing program.

Draft of a proposed bus barn and warehouse was presented in "rough" form by the school's architect, Herb Braisher, but no action was taken.

The board also discussed transfers in and out of the district. Transferred out, to permit pupils to attend nearer schools were:

One to Amarillo, four to Canyon, eight to Umbarger, one to Friona, four to Adrian, 10 to Vega and two to Wildorado. Altogether, 17 pupils including 13 high school pupils, will be transferred into the district from Walcott.

Stevens told the board that the school teaching staff now is complete except for 11 teachers. By schools, present needs are: One teacher at Aikman Elementary School, five at Central including those classrooms "farmed out"; one in junior high and four in senior high school.

building, since the instructor sold only those items used in connection with the instruction. Commissioners also granted permission to Doug Nix as well as Frank Brorman for the crossing of a county road with a gas line.

Nix asked permission to cross a county road beginning with the Southwest corner of the SW 1/4, Sec. 113, Blk. M-7, to the Northeast corner of Sec. 129, Blk. M-7, situated in Deaf Smith County, Texas.

Brorman's gas line would cross a county road "starting at the Southwest corner of Sec. 8, Blk. K-5, thence South across the road to approximately the Northwest corner of Sec. 51, Blk. K-5, thence East to the Northeast corner of Sec. 50, Blk. K-5, thence North across road to approximately the Southwest corner of Sec. 9, Blk. K-5, all situated in Deaf Smith County, Texas.

Also given the approval of the court was a request by Guy Lawrence, first vice-president of the International Parks Highway Association for the feeding of some 45 delegates of that organization when they meet in Hereford, early next year.

The court would pay the expense of one meal.

The International Parks Association meeting is scheduled for April 1965.

Just before the court adjourned for the day, Fred Ostwald, a resident of Ft. Morgan, Colo., and commissioner of Precinct 2 of that county dropped by to pay his respects to the local court.

Ostwald is on a vacation trip through the Southwest and has dropped in on several county commission meetings along the way.

A crash program of research on nonchemical methods of pest control was urged by the National Agricultural Research Advisory Committee in its quarterly report to the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Increased research on how pesticides function and what happens to them after use, together with development of new, safer and more economical chemicals is needed, the committee said.

300 homes are one inch thick

In addition to length and width, a newspaper advertisement has a third dimension — thickness. Thickness is circulation, the number of advertisements printed and actually delivered. You pay for an advertisement on the basis of length and width, but what you really buy is the opportunity to talk about your merchandise and service to a specified number of readers. Laid one upon another, a one inch stack of your advertisements in this newspaper equals 300 homes reached.

Thickness... or circulation... is the dimension that gives promise to your sales message, that it will reach potential customers. It is important for you to know whether this thickness is a promise or a fact.

The ABC insignia assures you that our circulation is measured by the highest standards in the advertising and publishing industry. It is the symbol of our membership in the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

ABC is an independent auditing association whose sole purpose is to give accurate and factual circulation reports. ABC audits are trusted by national advertisers and advertising agencies. ABC can be trusted by you.

Our tell-all ABC report shows how much circulation we actually deliver, where these copies are distributed, how much readers pay, and other information you should know about the thickness of your advertising here — facts, without opinion, compiled from a physical audit of circulation records by trained ABC auditors.

When buying advertising, be sure to measure all three dimensions — length, width, and thickness. Insist on the facts. Be ABC-sure!

Properties For 'Fandangle' Are Now Arriving From Albany

Properties for the presentation of "Fandangle" in Palo Duro Canyon June 11, 12 and 13 are being shipped from Albany, its home location.

This musical production was first staged 1938 and has been repeated at intervals ever since. A main part of the scene will be two three-dimensional sets — a weather beaten ranch house and barn. These two buildings will frame the amphitheatre stage.

Costumes are all authentic. George Catlin visited the Texas Indians in the early 1800's and his paintings are considered authorities.

Rehearsals for the production are now being held both in Canyon and Albany, and work on installation of lighting units started the first of June.

All seats in the amphitheatre are reserved. Tickets are $2.50 for riser seats and $4 for chairs. They may be ordered in advance by sending remittance and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Fandangle, Box 268, Canyon, or they can be bought at Cooper-Melin box offices in Amarillo or the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation office in Canyon.

Herd Drops First Game To Cubs 16-8

The Hereford Whitefaces dropped the Region 1 opener here Monday 16 to 8 amid two grand-slam home runs clouted by Brownfield batters in the final innings.

The Herd pitching staff was completely exhausted as Mike Ranspot, Jim Haney, Larry Minks and Lupe Ramirez were all used by Coach Ronald Speed in an attempt to stop the Brownfield onslaught.

The Herd managed to come back in the bottom of the first inning as they brought in three all-important runs. Ronnie Duncan hit a pop-up single for the first hit of the ball game. He stole a second and Eugene Green hit a single, allowing Duncan to go to third. Steve Hodges hit a double, driving in Duncan, and Coffman was held up at third. Moreno followed up with a single, driving in Coffman and Hodges for the tying runs.

The Cubs managed to keep up their hot pace as they came through with two more runs in the second inning to push ahead 5-2.

The Herd once again proved their comeback ability and scored two more runs in the bottom of the second to tie up the score at 5-5.

The game then went into the fifth inning before either side managed to score again. The first runs came when the Cubs scored two runs in the top of the bottom of the sixth. The Cubs were finally retired and the Herd managed to get home with three runs making the score 12-8.

Going into the top of the seventh inning, Haney was still hurling and managed to get the bases loaded. Ronnie Davis clouted the second bases-loaded home run of the day and gave the Cubs a 16-8 edge.

The Herd batters were retired in order in the bottom of the seventh inning with the Brownfield Cubs walking away with the Region 1 opener.

Pitman Urges Participation In CROP Plan

John D. Pitman, local chairman for the CROP organization, announced today that farmers are needed to participate in the foods program.

This is another part of the Christian Rural Overseas Program which sends food to needy areas of the world.

Pitman said that any farmer who would like to participate in "Friendship Acres" should contact him — "Friendship Acres" indicates land that a farmer has set aside for the program. The farmer takes his grain to his own elevator, where the organization takes over.

Farmers' participation is just another part of the program to help feed the needy people of the world. Teenagers every year ring doorbells on Halloween, "trick-or-treating" for CROP.

Pitman said he would like to see most of the farmers in the area participating, even if they can only set aside one acre.

fifth, making the score 7-5. The Herd was retired in order and the Cubs began the fatal fifth inning which saw the Cubs cross the plate with five runs and build up an almost insurmountable lead.

The majority of the runs came when Bobby Nunn hit a bases-loaded home run on the first pitch thrown by Jim Haney in the top of the sixth.

The Cubs were finally retired and the Herd managed to get home with three runs making the score 12-8.

Going into the top of the seventh inning, Haney was still hurling and managed to get the bases loaded. Ronnie Davis clouted the second bases-loaded home run of the day and gave the Cubs a 16-8 edge.

Baseball Gains In High Schools

By Harold V. Ratliff
Associated Press Sports Writer

Eight teams will go to Austin next week for the state school-boy baseball tournament.

Interest will be at a minimum compared to the other sports but it shouldn't be like that.

True, baseball was the last of the major sports to come under the aegis of the Texas Interscholastic League and it takes time to build. But baseball seems to be going much slower than the other sports did.

Fewer schools play it than any other sport in the league program. Yet it is one of the most important and gives less trouble than any of them. There have been few inept squabbles.

Baseball was the last sport to be taken into the program. For years the schools held out on grounds that there was more chance of a boy running into professional baseball. No other sport had the temptations of baseball, they said. Too many towns would get a ball club together and pay the boys to play.

But at Dallas a man named P. C. Cobb was making baseball an important part of the sports program. He showed what could be done.

The League instituted baseball as one of its official sports in 1948. And for 16 years it has been conducted without the hint of even a minor scandal.

American Legion, Little League and other leagues for youngsters was the reason. The boys played in these leagues and passed up the summer semi-pro clubs. Baseball has a struggle to get its just dues because the football coaches generally don't want it because it might interfere with their spring training (for the big schools) and the track coaches don't want it because it interferes with their activities.

There has been a proposal to play baseball in the summer when school is out and this would not interfere with other sports and chances of drawing a crowd would be better. But too many schools oppose this because it would mean added expense — coaches during the summer months would have to be paid extra.

However, this year the state tournament is being held two weeks later than usual and will be going on when school is out. It's a sort of experiment to see if baseball would do better if it had a better season.

In most of Texas it is impossible to play baseball in the spring. February and March weather what it is. Thus the baseball season is only about six-weeks — the shortest season of any sport.

Baseball is the only major sport that is enjoyable all the way. Even practice is fun because there is no drudgery. And there is little chance of injury.

It also has a future as a profession. A boy can make more money in baseball and last longer doing it than even football with its big professional salaries.

High School baseball is protected against the pros since there is an agreement with the pros that they will not attempt to sign a boy until his class graduates.

There is no need for such an agreement in football because a high school boy is not good enough and strong enough for pro football. He needs development by the schools and colleges.

A high school baseball player, however, is prime for the pros. They like to get him young and develop him themselves. The sport does not require a tough, strong boy since he has no particular need for size and toughness. His sport is a matter of speed and skill.

College Clothes Theme Planned For Symposium

"College Days Wardrobe" will be the 1964 Clothing Consumer Day feature planned by the Deaf Smith County Clothing subcommittee. The annual affair will be held tomorrow at 8 p. m. in the Community Center ballroom.

The program, planned by the clothing subcommittee and the education committee of the home demonstration club council, will be led by Mrs. Don Steele. A tea has been planned immediately following the symposium, in honor of those girls who graduated from high school this spring.

Featured on the program will be Hereford girls representing various colleges. The girls will speak for the campuses they represent, and will discuss clothing for formal and informal wear, clothing for school, clothing for casual occasions, clothing for sports, both participating and spectator, and what to expect of the climate and season in the part of the state where the college is located.

All girls home from college are urged to attend—each one is to represent her own college. Dorothea Prowell, home economics teacher at Hereford High School, will lead a discussion of new fibers for college wear. Gonda Smith will explain care of the girl's school clothing.

Hostess chairmen for the annual event are Sharon Bezner and Dorothy Marnell. Jean Beene, assistant county home demonstration agent, will give the summary of the program, and this will be followed by the tea.

Education committee of the HD council will serve tea. Chairman of the committee is Mrs. Orval Galley. All high school girl graduates and their mothers are invited to the annual event, whether they plan to enter college this fall or not.

College Clothes Theme Planned For Symposium

"College Days Wardrobe" will be the 1964 Clothing Consumer Day feature planned by the Deaf Smith County Clothing subcommittee. The annual affair will be held tomorrow at 8 p. m. in the Community Center ballroom.

The program, planned by the clothing subcommittee and the education committee of the home demonstration club council, will be led by Mrs. Don Steele. A tea has been planned immediately following the symposium, in honor of those girls who graduated from high school this spring.

Featured on the program will be Hereford girls representing various colleges. The girls will speak for the campuses they represent, and will discuss clothing for formal and informal wear, clothing for school, clothing for casual occasions, clothing for sports, both participating and spectator, and what to expect of the climate and season in the part of the state where the college is located.

MUSIC PROFESSOR — Don W. Moore recently joined the faculty of the School of Music at Eastern New Mexico University as opera workshop director and assistant professor in music. He earned his bachelor's degree from McMurry College and his master's from Eastern. Prior to joining the Eastern faculty, he was a teacher in the Hereford, Texas, Public Schools for 14 years. He is married and has five children.

Along about 1886, publishers joined with representatives of allied trades in voluntarily adopting common standards of printer's measurements. This is called the "point system." Today, point, pica, and agate line are rigidly defined units of measure universally understood and used in our industry.

In 1914, publishers joined with representatives of advertisers and advertising agencies, and once again voluntarily adopted a common set of standards — this time, to measure circulation values. Further, publishers cooperated in setting up an organization to maintain these standards, and to use them in measuring and reporting the circulations of publications.

In helping to set up this organization, publishers willingly gave advertisers and advertising agencies majority voice in its operation, its standards, and its application of these standards in measuring circulations.

This year the Audit Bureau of Circulations marks its fiftieth year of providing the basic measures of circulation values. Along with more than 4,000 other members, we pause with pride to salute the accomplishments of this outstanding example of self-regulation in industry.

Through the reports issued by the Audit Bureau of Circulations, we, along with other ABC publisher members, voluntarily and regularly give you, the buyers of advertising, more verified factual information about ourselves than is available for any other media at any time.

The distribution of your sales messages in this newspaper is a measured fact, verified by independent audit. Measured facts also provide the basis for our advertising rates.

Whether you use inches or points, ABC is your yardstick for measuring circulation values.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING

Serve Asparagus With Style

By Cecily Brownstone

Few things in this world taste better than fresh asparagus accompanied by Hollandaise sauce.

Each good cook has her own favorite method of preparing this delectable vegetable and sauce. If you haven't yet hit on yours, you might like to try these recipes which we esteem.

SKILLET ASPARAGUS SPEARS

Cut off the tough white looking ends from a bunch (about 1½ pounds) of fresh asparagus so the spears are an even length.

With a swivel-blade vegetable peeler, peel away the outer covering of the asparagus up to the buds.

Wash thoroughly in cold running water. Or if there's a suspicion of sand on the asparagus, wash them in a sink half full of hot (110 degrees) water, gently pushing the spears back and forth. Rinse thoroughly in cold water, then let the asparagus stand in a sink half full of cold water for about 10 minutes.

Drain well. If the asparagus is not to be used right away, put them in a clear plastic bag, close the end lightly, and refrigerate. The asparagus will keep well this way overnight.

At cooking time, place the spears in a deep 10-inch skillet with 1 cup boiling water and ½ teaspoon salt. Cover and boil vigorously for 8 to 10 minutes or until tender; lift the cover a couple of times during the cooking to help the asparagus retain their green color, or leave the cover off for the first half of the cooking time.

Drain the asparagus well and serve at once with Hollandaise Sauce. Makes 6 servings.

HOLLANDAISE SAUCE

MADE IN A BOWL

½ cup (1 stick) butter
2 large egg yolks
1½ tablespoons strained lemon juice

Divide the firm butter into 4 even pieces.

In a small bowl (from a mixing bowl set) beat the egg yolks slightly with a whisk; whisk in the lemon juice. Add 1 of the pieces of butter.

Place the bowl in a deep skillet (about 8 inches) of simmering water; have the water come as high up the side of the bowl as possible.

Adjust heat so water simmers and never boils; stir-beat with the whisk until the butter melts. Whisk in a second piece of butter the same way, and then a third, and last the fourth.

Continue beating after the last piece of butter is added until the sauce is a little thinner than the consistency of mayonnaise.

If you like, you may add a dash of salt and cayenne pepper.

Serve the Hollandaise Sauce as soon as it has thickened.

If you want to keep the sauce for a couple of hours before serving, turn it into a wide-mouth vacuum jar and cover tightly. Do not uncover until the moment of serving and it will be pleasantly warm — the temperature Hollandaise should be.

If you ever have any Hollandaise Sauce leftover, store it in a small tightly covered jar in the refrigerator. You may use it as a spread (instead of butter) for soft rolls that are to be split and heated before serving.

Minister Discusses 'Prayer' Decision

Editor's Note: The Rev. B. L. Davis, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Hereford, recently gave a sermon on the subject, "Supreme Court... To Pray or Not to Pray," in which he gave the history of the prayer-in-schools issue and reasons behind the Supreme Court's decision to bar required prayers. Much research went into the preparation for the sermon. Opinions expressed are those of Mr. Davis.

By The Rev. B. L. Davis

"SUPREME COURT... TO PRAY OR NOT TO PRAY"
Scripture: Matthew 22:21 "Render therefore unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's; and unto God the things that are God's."

I certainly would not set myself up as a know-it-all, but being vitally concerned along with a great host of Christian Americans lest we lose our religious freedom which we have prized with precious blood down through the annals of time, I have tried to inform myself as best I could concerning the Supreme Court's ruling about prayer and Bible reading in public schools. The following message entitled "Supreme Court... To Pray or Not to Pray" was delivered on Sunday morning, May 31, 1964, at the First Baptist Church of Hereford, Texas.

There is a book written by an Episcopal theologian, Charles Wesley Lowry, entitled "To Pray Or Not To Pray" which champions a sweeping movement in our country that zealously advocates the amending of the first amendment of our Constitution, the Bill of Rights, that guarantees religious freedom. Growing out of the decisions of the Supreme Court in 1962 and 1963 concerning government-composed and government-sponsored prayers and Bible reading in public schools, Dr. Lowry paraphrases Shakespeare's famous soliloquy, "To Pray or Not to Pray... That is the Question."

DOES To Install New Members

B.P.O. DOES will hold their initiation of new members in Elks Hall, Monday, June 8, at 8 p.m.
DOES from the Amarillo and Clovis Doves will assist in the ceremonies.
Hostesses for evening will be Mrs. Ruben Munsen, Mrs. Bob Dillard, Mrs. Ralph McCullough, and Mrs. Carl Hollingsworth.
All Hereford DOES are urged to be present for this important occasion.

question! The question is, "To pray prayers composed by government officials, to pray and read Bible readings prescribed by government officials... that is the question! For, thus far this is all the Supreme Court has said — that the state cannot establish exercises in our public schools without violating the first amendment to the Constitution, which reads, "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof."

After the Constitution was ratified on September 17, 1787, many in our country were concerned lest it did not guarantee human rights in an unequivocal way. The first ten amendments to the Constitution, known as "A Bill of Rights", were adopted by the first congress called to meet in New York City, March 4, 1789. They were later ratified by various states, and on December 15, 1791, were made a part of the Constitution.

There is grave concern by many, and I join this group, lest in the pressure brought to bear that we weaken the bulwark of our freedom to change the first amendment of our Constitution that guarantees this freedom. I should like to deal with this vital subject of deep concern under four subdivisions.
I. CONFUSION ABOUT THE SUPREME COURT'S RULING
Many people are upset at the United States Supreme Court because they think the Court has refused to "permit" children in public schools to pray. As a result of this misunderstanding these misinformed people are beating the drums for a constitutional amendment that would "permit" or "allow" Bible reading and prayers in public schools.

The public press which in 1962 and 1963 carried banner headlines to the effect that the Supreme Court banned prayer and Bible reading from public schools is now saying editorially that the Court did no such thing.

The Atlanta Constitution, a major newspaper in Atlanta, Georgia, carried an article on April 10, 1964, "Return the Bible to the school" day was proclaimed for April 11th by both the Atlanta mayor and the Georgia governor. They urged all citizens to support a nationwide drive to promote the passage of a constitutional amendment to permit voluntary Bible reading and prayers in public schools and the recognition of God in the public life of the nation. Encouraging the proclamation and witnessing the signing was a prominent Baptist minister among others.

Did I read aright? ... a constitutional amendment to permit voluntary Bible reading and prayer in public schools? "To permit" or "voluntary"? Why, the Supreme Court has not ruled that voluntary prayers and voluntary Bible reading violate the constitution. The Court says that prayer and Bible study sponsored by the state is a violation of the constitution.

When Supreme Court decisions were handed down, such editorials as these flooded the newspapers: The Washington Evening Star began: "The Supreme Court has spoken. Both the Lord's Prayer and Bible reading have been barred from the public schools..." (June 18, 1963). The Wall Street Journal wrote: "What the Supreme Court has done, in the name of protecting us from the establishment of religion by the state, is to establish secularization... at-helm, if you would have it jointly... as the one belief to which the state's power will extend its protection." (June 19, 1963). If newspapers of this stature so grossly misread the Supreme Court's decisions, can we expect any better understanding from the readers? If the newspapers and the governors by the use of "permit", "free", and "voluntary" so grossly misinterpret the Court decision, is it surprising that the man on the street, frightened and bewildered, would panic?

"Congress shall make no laws respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof." One would ask, what law did Congress pass which violated this part of the Constitution? The answer is obviously, "None at all." In fact, Congress had not even discussed the matter until the Supreme Court made its historical rulings.

It is believed by many that the Supreme Court had no authority to consider these cases in the first place. This statement is based on Article 3, Section 2 of the constitution under the general subject "The Appellate Jurisdiction of the Supreme Court."

II. WHAT THE SUPREME COURT ACTUALLY RULED

The rulings of the Supreme Court have not restrained the people but the state. "You cannot enforce religion," the Court has said. The use of words and how we interpret them makes a world of difference. Key words in the controversy are "permit" and "allow."

A I understand it, in neither the New York Regent's prayer case (1962) nor the Schempp-Murray cases (1963) did the Supreme Court rule against "permitting" or "allowing" children to read the Bible and to pray. In both cases the Supreme Court refused to "permit" or

Three Girls Get Top 4-H Awards

Deaf Smith County 4-H club members went to the state contests in College Station last week and came home with two top prizes and several smaller prizes. Jean Beene, assistant county Home Demonstration agent, said Wednesday.

Headlining the winners were Maura McAndrews, Lou Ann Witkowski and Joann Marnell. Maura, who is 16 and will be a senior in Hereford High School next autumn, won first place in public speaking for girls at the 4-H Round-up, beating out 24 other girls who had also won in district events.

Maura, a member of the Willing Workers' 4-H club in Hereford, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. McAndrews who live three miles east of town. For her winning she received a gold medal and a chest of silver. Her subject was "Man's Becomings," based on the hope that "there is hope for man's future because he builds tomorrow on what he has learned today."

In addition to speech, she carries on five other 4-H projects: safety, foods, clothing, dairy foods and yard improvement. Maura received much of her instruction from a class conducted last school year by Virgil Dodson.

This is her second year to try for the top prize in public speaking. Last year she won third in the district event. This year she finished first at the district meet in Canyon, going on to cop the coveted state prize.

She also is active in the Theatrics and received the award at school this past year for best understudy. A demonstration on civil defense, given by Lou Ann Witkowski and Joann Marnell, members of the Merry Maidens' 4-H club, was top for the state in team demonstrations for girls. Title was "Wake Up and Live," and the demonstration was highlighted by a model bomb shelter which the girls had made. Part of the demonstration included a miniature "explosion" to show what fall-out means.

Each won $25 in cash and an invitation to give their demonstration at the Texas Home Demonstration Association's civil defense workshop in Rice Hotel, Houston, Sept. 16-17.

Lou Ann graduated this spring and Jo Ann is a senior this year. Lou Ann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Witkowski, Mrs. Witkowski is the coach. Jo Ann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Marnell.

Lou Ann has been in 4-H club work for 10 years and carries on these projects: clothing, foods, garden, yard improvement, canning, food preservation, safety, junior leadership and public speaking. Twice she has won the county bake show, and has modeled in the state dress review twice. She placed third at state in a safety demonstration, and has held high offices in both local and county organization. This past school year she was annual queen and "allow" school boards or state legislatures to regulate such praying and Bible reading.

In the New York Regent's prayer case the State Board of Regents composed a prayer which was recommended and published as a part of their "Statement on Moral and Spiritual Training in the Schools." The Board of Education of Union Free School District No. 9, New Hyde Park, N.Y., "acting in its official capacity under state law," directed the school district's principal to cause the prayer to be said aloud by each class in the presence of the teacher at the beginning of each school day. To this situation the Supreme Court said, "The constitutional prohibition against laws respecting an establishment of religion must at least mean that in this country it is no part of the business of government to compose official prayers for any group of the American people to recite as a part of a religious program carried on by government." Nothing about "permitting" or "allowing" people to pray was involved in the case.

In the Schempp-Murray cases the state laws of Maryland and Pennsylvania required daily readings of portions of the Holy Bible or recitation of the Lord's Prayer in the public schools. The Supreme Court found that these were laws requiring religious exercises and thus in violation of the First Amendment. Specifically, the Court said,

"The place of religion in our society is an exalted one, achieved through a long tradition of the individual heart and mind. We have come to recognize through bitter experience that it is not within the power of government to invade that citadel, whether its purpose or effect be to aid or oppose, to advance or retard. In the relationship between man and religion, the state is firmly committed to a position of neutrality."

Nothing about "permitting" or "allowing" people to read the Bible and recite the Lord's Prayer was involved in these cases. The First Amendment guarantees that government shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof. As I understand it, every decision of the Supreme Court thus far involving the religion section of the First Amendment indicates that it would stand firm against any governmental action that would attempt to regulate the religious life of the people. The Supreme Court has not said that you cannot pray or read the Bible, nor has it said by law that you can. Look again at the First Amendment.

"Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof."

THE PRESSURE TO ALTER THE FIRST AMENDMENT

Since the Supreme Court decisions, a total of 147 separate resolutions by 111 congressmen to nullify the decisions in the Constitution have been submitted to Congress. The one that is before the Judiciary Committee now is called "The Becker Amendment." This proposal is sponsored by Congressman Frank Becker, a Roman Catholic and a representative from New York. Twenty-six congressmen have joined in offering this resolution. One hundred sixty-one congressmen have signed a discharge petition that would rob the Judiciary Committee of the responsibility of hearing witnesses, analyzing the evidence, and making recommendations. It is like calling for the "question" on a controversial recommendation as soon as the motion is made, without giving opportunity for discussion and possible opposition. Thirty-two percent of the Baptist Congressmen have signed the petition. Only 57 additional signatures are needed to throw this emotional bill on the floor of the House where pressure upon the congressmen would be almost unbearable. The Becker Amendment reads: "Section 1: Nothing in this Constitution shall be deemed to prohibit the offering, reading from, or listening to prayers or biblical scriptures, if participation therein is on a voluntary basis in any governmental or public school, institution or place. Section 2: Nothing in this Constitution shall be deemed to prohibit making references to belief in, reliance upon, or invoking aid of God or a Supreme Being in any governmental or public document, proceeding, activity, ceremony, school, institution, or place, or upon any coinage, currency, or obligation of the United States. Section 3: Nothing in this article shall constitute an establishment of religion."

Judiciary Committee of Congress has been barraged by petitions and letters urging the passage of this bill. Congressman Becker said, "I am getting 1500 letters a day and they run 9 to 1 in favor of the bill." Representative Chenoweth of Colorado said, "My heavy mail runs 99 to 1 in favor of 'prayer.' Congressmen are reeling under emotional pressure and appalled by the bitterness of these messages. One beleaguered congressman said in Newsweek, "What is there about God that brings out the worst in people?"

Those who would arouse national emotions to a frenzy and who stir up thousands of signatures would brand people like your pastor as "against prayer, God, America, and the Bible" as wittingly or unwittingly being a tool of Communism, Atheism, and secularism. All because I not only agree with the decisions but also with the line of reasoning employed by the Supreme Court, that compulsory prayer and Bible reading should never be made mandatory by state, nor become a state religion. If it did, then our children could be commanded to pray to the "Hail Mary" in Maryland and New Orleans, to listen to the reading of the Book of Mormon in Utah, and to observe a Buddhist worship exercise in Hawaii.

Some people may be on the bandwagon to embarrass the Supreme Court because they are angry about other decisions. Most legislators from the deep south are supporting this movement. After the ruling of 1963, Governor Wallace of Alabama ordered for the first time prayer and Bible study in the public schools of Alabama in defiance of the Supreme Court. Of course this action is in direct violation of the First Amendment. The Supreme Court ruled that prayer and Bible reading be "permitted" or "allowed" but never "forced" or be made compulsory. You cannot enforce religion.

I share with many the deep concern about the growing secularism in our nation! This is a complex problem. But what is the remedy? Well, some are saying, "If we can restore and preserve the external forms of religion, even by the coercion of the state, we shall restore a Christian posture to our nation." Some have said "Let us amend the First Amendment of the Constitution to make compulsory prayer and Bible study the exception to the Constitution." In other words, let us have one establishment of religion made by Congress!

The governors of the 50 states in their 54th annual meeting in Hershey, Pennsylvania, on July 3, 1962, almost unanimously passed a resolution proposing "an amendment to the Constitution of the United States that will make clear and beyond challenge the acknowledgement by our nation and people of their faith in God, and permit the free and voluntary participation in our public schools."

Congressman Chenoweth said at a hearing a few weeks ago, "The time is here when the rights of the majority should be recognized and enforced." This is the most frightening and un-American statement reported by the press! We forget as we think of our local point of view that the Constitution is a national document covering fifty states to Maine and Florida. Majority rule never applies where basic human rights of minorities are involved. If they did, then our children would be commanded to pray the "Hail Mary" in Maryland and New Orleans, to listen to the reading of the Book of Mormon in Utah, and to observe a Buddhist worship exercise in Hawaii. God grant that the pressures brought to bear not cause us to alter or change the First Amendment, so dear to proponents of religious freedom.

IV. THE DANGER INVOLVED IN CHANGING THE FIRST AMENDMENT

If I could speak to America today, I would commend the masses for their concern and zeal. But my earnest, sincere appeal would be "Don't tamper with the First Amendment!" In America, where the wall of separation of Church and State has stood for 174 years, the Christian faith has prospered as nowhere else in all the world. If we weaken the Constitution on religious liberty, we can open a gate that will be widened in the years ahead. James Madison warned us, "Beware lest what now is a trickling stream shall become a raging torrent."

I wish I had time and space to tell you the thrilling story of the struggle of early American patriots to get this amendment into the Constitution. I perhaps should read a list of names of Baptist heroes who suffered and were imprisoned for the cause of religious liberty. My heart is deeply moved as I read them.

Dr. W. W. Sweet, of the University of Chicago, a Methodist, wrote, "Thomas Jefferson had inscribed on his tombstone the epitaph 'Author of the Declaration of Independence and of the Statute of Virginia for religious freedom, and Father of Virginia.' But justice compels the admission that Jefferson's part in this accomplishment was not so great as was that of James Madison, nor were the contributions of either of both as important as was that of the humble people called Baptists." Baptists of all people should prize this precious liberty. Shall we the descendants of these great patriots, the recipients of their heritage, bought at such a price, let this liberty go?

We do not know what the future holds. We cannot speak for future court decisions. But today, at this time, I know it would be tragic to weaken the bulwark of our freedom, to change an amendment that does not need to be changed. It is perilous.

I am not an alarmist by nature, but there is a good possibility that if the Bill of Rights is weakened, we shall wake up to find liberty gone, and the government that has invaded every other area of life shall enter by mandate this sacred province. Who knows but what the government would next decide which religion to sponsor. Federal aid to parochial schools will not be far behind if the Constitution is weakened. You cannot coerce people into being religious. Even God cannot do this. Religion is one's voluntary response to God. Each of us must decide for himself. On July 4, 1776, the Liberty bell rang in Philadelphia, in Independence Hall, and the Continental Congress signed the Declaration of Independence. For 174 years the United States has stood as a symbol of that freedom. Our liberty-loving fathers secured it by suffering even unto death. The "soul liberty" which is ours to enjoy actually drips with blood.

We need to remember that since the dawn of history man has had to struggle for his God-intended freedom. There has always been a struggle between individuals and churches on the one hand and the state on the other. The battle for religious liberty has not been won yet.

In the Star Spangled Banner we love to sing, "The land of the free, and the home of the brave." We sing, "My country,

'tis of Thee, Sweet land of liberty, Of thee I sing: Land where my fathers died, Land of the pilgrims' pride, From every mountainside let freedom ring!" (Continued on Page 3)

REPORT

Junior Garden Club Discusses Amarillo Trip

Members of Junior Garden Club discussed their recent pilgrimage to Amarillo to visit parks and the Rose Garden flower show of the South Amarillo Garden Club. Theme of the show was "Weather".

The group also heard a report on the decoration of baskets for the father-daughter supper.

Schedules of Hereford Garden Club's annual flower show were distributed among members.

Hereford Garden Club sponsors the junior group.

Basic steps in flower arranging were shown and explained. Selection and grooming of horticulture specimens were illustrated.

Leaders attending the meeting were Mrs. John Jacobsen Jr., Mrs. A. M. Stoy and Mrs. Gordon Elliott.

Members present were Misses Carroll Todd, Becky Elliott, Linda Glenn, Shelly Rush, Susan White, Regina Hampton, Cathy Hampton, Linda Jacobsen, Marsha Hardwick, Sharon Hagans, Rena Coffin, Mary Stoy, Susan Ballard, Jan Scott, Camille Pavicek and Billie Jo Witherspoon.

Day Camp for youngsters in the Blue Bird program of Camp Fire will be held on June 18, 19, 20, it was announced this week. Registration is set for the Camp Fire Hut June 18, at 2 p.m. Cost for the program will be $1 per girl.

The session Thursday will be from 2 until 4 p.m., while on Friday the camp will begin at 10 a.m. and conclude around 4 p.m. Saturday's session will begin at 10 a.m. and conclude at 1 p.m.

A varied program of hand craft, games and songs has been planned by the sponsoring Neoki Horizon Club. Assisting the Neoki group will be members from the Lola and Cuntinta Camp Fire groups. A rank ceremonial, by girls of the Cuntinta group, will be the feature of Saturday's program.

With the various age groups from high school seniors through seventh graders participating in carrying out the annual camp, it is hoped that the younger Blue Birds will get to see activities of the program at different age levels, sponsors said. Adults working with the girls will be Mrs. Mary Gooch, Mrs. Glen Watts, and Mrs. Abie Crume.

Friday's activities will be carried out in Damron Park, with the Thursday and Saturday sessions held primarily at the Camp Fire Hut. Girls will assemble at the Hut for the opening of the program each day during the three-day camp.

All girls in the Blue Bird program, as well as those who plan to enroll in the Blue Bird groups this fall, are invited to take part.

My "Pop"

... a grand guy in any language. A very special fellow at our house. Without him around, night brings fright. But for him we couldn't eat as well, nor as much. He may be gruff at times; he may be firm when he disciplines. And we may answer "yessir" in agreement when he commands, but he is the very foundation of everything at our house.

It takes him to silence the doggie ... to persuade Jr. ... to laud sister's successes and to heap high praise on all the things mother does ... that's "My Pop". They possess rare qualities, these fathers. A good one is a source of joy to every child. Then on this Father's Day, let him have it right in the heart. Aim all the good things at him. Give him the treatment he so justly deserves and make him wish for another Father's Day very soon. Play with him but also pray with him. Be a worshiper with him at your church this week.

Rules For Small Business Loans Liberalized Sharply

The very small businessmen - chiefly operators of retail shops or service establishments - many of whom have had a hard time obtaining financing in the past - will now find it much easier to qualify for a Government loan, Jack Teddlie, Lobb-Bock Branch Manager of the Small Business Administration, said Wednesday in an interview in Hereford.

The new, liberalized loan program was announced by President Johnson at White House ceremonies in Washington, May 26, which Teddlie attended, along with SBA Administrator Eugene P. Foley, Cortland J. Silver, Chairman of SBA's National Advisory Council, and other businessmen and Government officials.

The White House ceremonies, in connection with National Small Business Week, were the climax of a trip to Washington by Teddlie along with other SBA regional directors and branch managers to review the Agency's activities.

"President Johnson's Administration is definitely concerned with the welfare of small business," Teddlie said. "He assured us that he has small businessmen very much in mind every day and his interest was clearly demonstrated by his willingness to take time out from a very busy schedule personally to greet the SBA representatives."

The SBA's new small loan program reflects a new emphasis on helping the very small business, Teddlie said. SBA Administrator Foley has frequently expressed the view that the agency in the past has not done as much as it should to help the businessman at the lower end of the small business scale, he said. Yet they are often the businessmen most in need of financial help, and those who have the most difficulty in obtaining it.

The new small loan program was designed to meet this need, Teddlie said. Under this program SBA will make loans to small firms up to a maximum of $15,000 for as long as 6 years under greatly liberalized terms. Primary emphasis will be on the character of the applicant and his past record of meeting obligations, and no application will be turned away merely because he lacks collateral to pledge as security for the loan.

"SBA believes that you have to take a chance on people," Teddlie said, "and we will take a calculated risk in cases where we believe the applicant has a favorable earnings potential sufficient to repay the loan."

"We have simplified our procedures and requirements for these loans. We believe it is important to help the many thousands of struggling small firms, as a means of creating new jobs, and stimulating the Nation's economy."

"It is clear," Teddlie said, "that the SBA will have an important role in President Johnson's war against poverty. More and more it is becoming apparent that a thriving small business community can do much toward taking up the slack in unemployment."

He said that top SBA officials in Washington are also concerned with the large number of business mergers which may be a threat to small business and the problem of industrial conversion from defense to commercial production.

cuts back on defense production and the economy converts primarily to provide for civilian needs.

REP. ROGERS WRITES

Computers, Not Voters, Determine U. S. Returns?

It is Tuesday, November 3, 1964, election day. Twilight blankets the Eastern Seaboard. The polling places are closing. The election tallies and the computerized forecasts "naming" our next President are flashing westward across the Plains and mountains to the States washed by the Pacific. In the West the polls are still open and will be for several hours more.

From television and radio, millions upon millions of Western voters are learning before they have voted how election trends are developing. The computers are predicting how their votes will count — for a winner, for a loser, in a landslide, as deciding ballots in a close race.

To what extent is the Presidential vote in the West influenced by early returns from the East?

In his classic study of a Presidential election, "The Making of the President 1960," Theodore H. White observed, "The psychology of the bandwagon, of being with the victor, may effect ten, twenty or fifty thousand California votes; conversely, the psychology of emergency may, if there seems to be the slightest hope, rush sluggards out of their homes to vote their convictions. Both parties focus tightly on Connecticut on election evening to transmit early returns to influence the California vote."

For several reasons Connecticut is the key Eastern

State in early return considerations. It is populous; the Democratic and Republican parties are well organized; its voters ballot on voting machines, and the results are all but completely tabulated half an hour after the polls close.

Polls in Connecticut close two and three hours before the polls in California, Washington, and Oregon — four and five hours before they close in Alaska and Hawaii. If early returns do influence elections, there is less time but still ample time for votes also to be influenced in Midwest and Mountain States after the tallies flash from Connecticut and other states up and down the East Coast.

Constant improvements are being made in reporting techniques of television, radio, and the printed press as well as in communications technology. The effectiveness of computer vote analysis is improving. Unlike pre-election polls, which (as we have seen this year) are shaded by uncertainties and "undecideds," data computers can predict election outcome with cold accuracy providing the calculations are based on returns from carefully selected precincts with clear histories of past voter performance.

I believe the answer, if one is required, must be found in amending election laws or writing new ones.

State legislatures might agree to a uniform election code prohibiting the release of Federal election returns in one State until the polls have closed in all States. As a last resort, would the people of the country be willing for their Congress to separate Federal elections from the election process as it is now constituted and in that way establish time control over the release of Federal election returns.

Perhaps some day we will have to wrestle with a solution to this question: The Marshall Islands, now a U.S. Trust Territory in the Pacific, are not hours behind the East Coast — they are a full day ahead of it.

In some distant year, if the islanders do attain the vote, will Americans be saying, "As go the Marshall Islands, so goes the Nation?"

After the 4-H contests were completed, the group toured Texas points of interest, including the Capitol in Austin, the Alamo and Breckenridge Park in San Antonio, and Johnson City. They also attended a Teen Fair in San Antonio sponsored by the Lions clubs. Enroute home they

Lions' Wrestling Card Tags Some Of Nation's Best

Four massive hunks of flesh will highlight Saturday's wrestling card at the Bull Barn as the Hereford Lions club resumes its series of matches. Harold (Slim) Wester said Wednesday. Wester is managing the series for the Lions club.

The big show will come in the form of a tag team match when four of the nation's top grunt-and-groan artists will be out to twist off their opponents' respective necks, legs, or arms, depending on what comes handy.

Ricky Romero, a smiling tower of a man, and former football player Dory Funk Jr. will battle it out with Sir Nelson Royal, the derby-wearing sartorial expert, and the big, blonde, bearded Viking in a tag match that may last as long as an hour, or for two out of three falls, whichever comes first.

That's the headliner on the Lions' card.

But another match that promises plenty of action will be when Bob Geigel will meet Waldo Von Krupp in a 45-minute grunt-and-groan session that may be cut shorter if one of the big boys runs up two falls in a row.

To start the action out, two of the headliner tag team members will put on a little two-man set when Sir Nelson Royal and Dory Funk Jr. will see which one can get a fall in a 20-minute time limit.

Texas farmers and ranchmen received $135.2 million from the sale of all crops, livestock and livestock products during March, according to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. Cash receipts from all marketings were down 5 percent from March 1963. Sales of livestock and livestock products accounted for $107.7 million of the March 1964 receipts while crops contributed $28.1 million.

GOOD INTENTIONS
Miami — Twenty well-meaning firefighters caused more damage than the hotel fire they attempted to battle, the Miami Fire Department said.

Hotel guests grabbed a fire hose, but ran out of hose 40 feet from the fire, so they decided to give the area a good soaking, "for good measure."

The Fire Department said its men arrived, threw a mattress out the window. Damage from fire: slight. From water: substantial.

Everybody benefits when food is fresher... more plentiful —thanks to America's Rural Electrics

Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative, Inc.

Rural power is a wellspring of America's food abundance.

Thanks to his consumer-owned rural electric system, America's farmer does his work faster and more efficiently.

Electricity helps him feed and water more cattle and hogs, hatch and care for more chickens, milk more cows. It lights his barns, cools milk and cream, and keeps food fresh and safe. The end result is fresher, healthier food on your table. And it takes less of your family budget than ever before.

Consumer-owned rural electric systems—in most cases cooperatives—help guarantee that America's farmers will be able to meet all of this nation's growing demands for food. These rural electrics were built with the help of Rural Electrification Administration loans—and they are owned and directed by the people they serve.

As farmers use more and more electricity to produce more and better food, REA loans continue to help the rural electrics keep pace with the growing demand—and everybody benefits.

Letter To The Editor

The Hereford Brand, Hereford, Texas Gentlemen:

In answer to your very fine and "thought-provoking" editorial of Sunday, June 7, entitled "Trashy Literature Offers Challenge to Community", I would like to offer the following to the public.

Society has the basic right to protect itself from destruction. Whether this destruction comes from without, in the form of war, or from within, in the form of crime or moral decay.

Every member of Society has the moral duty to do what he or she can to prevent the destruction of the society of which he or she is a member. If we consider the society we live in a desirable one, we are duty bound to work for its preservation.

This is why we are called, in time of national danger, to serve in the armed forces of our Beloved Nation. This is why private citizens may be deputized to assist officers of the law in the performance of their duty.

This is why society also has the right to censor and to censor. Many citizens have come to believe that censorship is a danger to Society. It definitely would be, if one man had the power and used it on the rest of society.

This is not the case in these United States. Here, it is the other way around. Here, Society has this power and it may be, indeed it often must be, used on and individual.

This is why we have laws. Every law with a criminal penalty is a form of censorship, a stricture of the free choice of the individual. We censor the murderer, the thief, the cheat, the traitor.

Would anyone say the law against murder was an infringement on free choice? Yet it is. No one can exercise his free choice to murder, to steal, to speed on the highways. Why? Because, without laws, we would have anarchy. Anarchy would destroy society and SOCIETY HAS THE BASIC RIGHT TO PROTECT ITSELF FROM DESTRUCTION.

"But", you say, "this has nothing to do with obscene literature. We have a right to buy what we will, to consume what we will, to read what we will."

DO YOU? Can you buy a vial of opium in Hereford? There may be some who feel there is nothing wrong with opium on an open market. But Society says, "The unsupervised sale of opium would be a force tending to destroy society", and SOCIETY HAS THE BASIC RIGHT TO PROTECT ITSELF FROM DESTRUCTION.

Can you buy bombs, machine guns, whiskey in the city of Hereford? Hundreds of drugs, Government documents, war materials and many other items are unavailable to the average citizen.

WHY? Because Society feels that he is not qualified to handle them wisely. And we all feel that Society is right.

Now, in the first place, we are not attempting to make literature, of any sort, unavailable to anyone. Anyone who wants this type of reading material available to his family, in his home, can obtain it by subscription.

However, we do not feel that the average teenager is mature enough to cope with this literature when it is openly displayed on the newsstands.

We see the crime rate go up in the U.S. as the moral standards go down. We feel that, after J. Edgar Hoover has said that salacious literature is much to blame, after doctors have told us that many cases of mental mixups among teenagers are traceable to bad reading, after many many cases of teenagers in moral trouble telling ministers that they fell into temptation from lewd reading and movies, WE ARE INCLINED TO BELIEVE IT.

We feel therefore, that as members of this society we also have the moral duty to help preserve it.

We feel that this literature is morally dangerous to our children and to our neighbors children, and though we meet some who cry "censorship" and "infringement of free choice". We still intend to use every means at our disposal to rid our town of this poison.

As for the action of the City Council of Hereford, they have only asked this committee to investigate and report to them on the situation. Who could possibly fear the results of such an investigation?

Robert Betzen
Chairman
Citizens Committee
For Decent Literature

WOMAN JAILER GETS OUT

DIXON, Ill. — After 39 years in jail, the only woman jailer in the United States is getting out.

Mrs. Esther M. Schwank says she is resigning as turnkey and matron of the Lee County Jail.

When she took the job in 1925, she had no idea it would turn into such a lengthy stay.

During the years she was praised as a good cook, kicked, cursed and even hit on the head.

She was treating a prisoner for a sore arm when he took out a hammer and struck her on the head. He locked her in the cell and fled.

But the prisoner was back in his cell within 40 minutes.
