wife, Estell Dowell, 56, and Jean Harris, 47, a housewife, Rt. 1, Dimmitt who died while being transferred from Plains Hospital in Dimmitt to Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo.

The accident occurred when a 1961 model sedan driven by Joe Otis Covington of Amarillo and a 1961 model sedan driven by Dowell collided while traveling south on Hwy, 385,

DOWELL started to pass Covington and met a 1963 model sedan driven by Miss Simpson which was northbound on the highway.

Dowell attempted to drop back in the traffic behind Covington. When he did his right front fender struck the left rear fender of the Covington vehicle causing Covington to spin out into the path of Miss Simpon's vehicle on the rain-slick highway.

The Dowells and Mrs. Harris had attended the wedding of the Dowell's daughter, Jerri, to James Brandes at Dimmitt. They were traveling behind Covington who was an uncle of Mrs. Dowell and Mrs. Harris.

The newlyweds were located in Hereford and were notified of the accident.

Friendly Gesture A friend in need is a friend

Earl Harkins has found that his neighbors and co-workers have enforced this policy pret-ty strongly since his tractor accident six weeks ago.

With his leg broken, the young Easter Community farmer has been bed-ridden since July 5. Neighboring farmers took over his crops and fields and have kept everything running smoothly. In order to assure Earl that everything was O. K., a group of his friends loaded Earl in a station wagon and took him for a tour of his fields Friday morning.

TWO CHURCHES

Mt. Sinai, St. John National Baptists

in Hereford, this article deals with Mt. Sinai Baptist Church and St. John Baptist Church, both members of the National Baptist Convention,

By LARRY FUHRMANN Staff Writer

Nestled in the low-rent sections of Hereford are two of the city's smaller churches, both comparatively new. Both the churches are a part of the National Baptist Convention.

MT. SINAI Baptist Church is housed in an unpretentious concrete-block building on Knight St. The building was erected in 1960, with an annex being added in 1963. The Rev. H. B. Whitten organized the church here with about 10 charter members on Sept. 6, 1953. The group was organized at Avenue Baptist Church, and then began meeting in the Parkview School, located on Virginia St. in south Hereford, Rev. Whitten is now in his 13th year as pastor of the church. He formerly had been a pastor at Hawkins, Texas.

TODAY Mt. Sinai Baptist Church has about 70 members, according to the church secretary, Mrs. Homer Eastman.

St. John Baptist Church, located at 500 Mable, is formulating plans for a new church building in the near future. Presently the group is meeting in a small converted residence near the church's parsonage.

The 30-member church was organized in 1956 with the Rev. A. D. Robinson as the first pastor. Serving as pastor now is the Rev. C. W. Allen.

Housing Bill Includes 'Cold War' Veterans

"Cold War" veterans now qualify for low down payment, up to $30,000, announced Mike Justice, president of the Hereford Board of Realtors, today. A new federal housing law, just signed by President John-son, extends home loan benefits to millions of post-Korean War veterans, said Justice, on the basis of information supplied by the National Association of Real Estate Boards of which the local board is a member. IN ADDITION to Cold War veterans, the law assists older veterans who have not used up their eligibility under any Veterans Administration program, he added, "This includes World War I and Spanish-American War veterans," said Justice. Under the new program, the Federal Housing Administration would insure 100 per cent of the first $15,000 of a home mortgage, 90 per cent of the value in excess of $15,000 to $20,000, and 85 per cent of the value in excess of $20,000 to $30,000. "In other words," explained Justice, "a veteran would need no down payment for a home worth $15,000 or less. For a home worth $20,000 he needs a $500 down payment, and for a $30,000 home he needs $2,000." THE VETERAN must have served at least 90 days on active military service and have received an honorable discharge, "On his mortgage, he would pay the standard FHA interest rate of 5-1/4 per cent, the same rate as the previous VA programs, plus an additional one half of 1 per cent to cover the cost of government insurance," said Justice. He advised eligible veterans interested in purchasing a home to consult a Realtor, a profes-

She was dressed in white silk organza over French taffeta, the fitted bodice with wide scalloped neckline and three-quarter sleeves, the skirt with darts at the waistline controlling front fullness and folding the fabric to form a chapel train. Cut motifs of Alencon lace re-embroidered with crystals and seed pearls were appliqued above the waistline and down the skirt.

Lace and satin petals with love knots of seed pearls and crystals formed a headpiece to hold the tiered illusion veil which fell over her shoulders. She carried white feathered mums on the Kappa Chi Bible, and a handkerchief which had been carried by an aunt and her sister in their weddings.

Bridesmaids' gowns were leeveless and floor length, of forget-me-not blue peau de soie. Empire waists were accented with bows of the fabric and skirts were of A-line cut, Blush veils of matching tulle were held in place by satin rose headpieces and they carried heartshaped bouquets of white pompom mums with lace border and ribbon streamers. Miss Jolly wore a frock of blue peau de soie, with short full skirt and a scalloped cape collar on the fitted bodice. The flower girl's dress was in the same blue, of maggoire faille with embroidered empire waist and short A-line skirt. Both wore white pom-poms with pours of blue tulle in their hair.

Wedding music was by an a capella chorus directed by Stan Knox and soloists, Mrs. Edwin Axe, who sang O Promise Me, DeKoven, and Jerry Harvill of Memphis, Tenn., whose solo was Whither Thou Goest, He also gave a special reading as the chorus hummed background music. The hum of an up-to-date data processing system greets visitors to Electro Data Service.

Housed in offices at 127 West Third, the recently opened Hereford firm utilizes IBM equipment to provide accurate and speedy "bookkeeping" service for local businesses.

"Speedy and accurate" seems to be an understatement when the impressive maze of electronic equipment goes into operation. - Results of accounting operations are electronically typed out at the rate of something like 1,700 words per minute.

- Margin for error is as nil as the chances that two different operators will make identical typographical errors in feeding information into the data processing system.

Marris Easley, owner of Electro Data Service, said that the service was established "in order to provide the most modern methods in business accounting and analysis to local businesses."

Spirit Of Progress Still Primary Factor In Hereford

Now that Hereford's Variety Park project has been officially opened, our community faces the acid test of just how well the improvements will serve the area in years to come.

The project, without doubt, has been controversial since its inception, but it seems to us that everyone is bound to admit that Main Street's face lifting has resulted in a definite improvement whether, as individuals, we agree with specific de-

Spare Time At A Premium

Lack of time is a complaint we hear on every hand these days. It comes from business people, farmers, ranchers, school teachers, and especially from housewives. What's more, with so much "smoke", there is bound to be quite a bit of "fire".

Comparatively speaking, the situation has no rhyme or reason. With so many automobiles, we get more places, and we get there faster than ever before. The housewife is blessed with scores of labor-saving gadgets and food innovations; for instance, which speed her work and save hundreds of hours for her each year—and the same thing pretty well goes for all other phases of modern life.

Finally we have come to the conclusion that people were pretty lazy in previous generations, or they were history's best procrastinators. There is also the possibility that all of our new-fangled time saving devices have brought along with them byproducts in the form or more things to do and more places to go.

Anyway, no one ever seems to have any spare time, especially if you want them to do something for free.

Farm Supports Facing Crisis

Rep. Walter Rogers probably struck a keynote this week when he reported briefly on the proposed one-package farm bill as "controversial and subject to heated debate".

In short it appears that administration leaders are coming to the conclusion that farm benefits and subsidies should be gradually whittled away until they have been fully eliminated, or at least minimized. One of the methods rests in presenting such highly questionable legislation that it may well be delayed and whittled

The big reason for such action, if true, rests primarily in the growth of Labor Strength as compared with a constant decline in rural voting power. Re-districting, for instance, will contribute extensively to a general drop in rural representation.

As always, the farm program is definitely controversial. But it does seem that farm supports, marketing and other federal supervision is on the wane in many Washington minds. This, of course, will have a tremendous impact on our local, state and national economy—and it indicates that the agricultural producer, along with other people who are dependent upon agriculture, should stop, take inventory and at least consider what they expect to do-when, and if the circumstance does arise.

tails or methods or not. Besides, even the critics may come to see the day when they will appreciate the sidewalk plantings and soft music.

Most important of all, however remains the fact that we live in a community which is willing to grow along with its people. Just how many towns do you suppose would be wiling to extend the effort, time and money involved in modernizing their facilities? The fact that Hereford's merchants are conscientiously working to make the project a success indicates that they do appreciate the patronage they receive, and that they are ultra-progressive. These are the kind of people who will not accept defeat, and it is the same spirit which has contributed so much toward the present growth and expansion of the community as a whole.

While individuals improve their homes and business facilities from time to time, this is one of the few instances in the nation that we can recall where an entire town has adopted an overall improvement project of this type, and many of the few occasions which have been recorded resulted from necessity as a result of flood tornado or hurricane damage.

Another factor, perhaps secondary, appears in the fact that Hereford financed its project on the local level-despite the fact that participating federal funds are available for such improvements through the Urban Renewal program.

During the past decade, this community has undergone tremendous changes, especially as irrigation provided opportunity to shift into a high-gear, diversified economic program, but when it comes to thinking, foresight, and general progress we still pretty much hang onto the attitude of the cattle men in the old days. Our people. are proud of their county, proud of their town, and we know of no other community in the world where the people pitch in and those who live in Hereford and Deaf Smith

Towns, like individuals, do possess personalities, and we hope the day never comes when Hereford undergoes a change away from this particular phase.

Cost Of Living

Our government experts are working overtime to pass, by decree, various measures to boost income as though income could be raised by government edict.

The house subcommittee that came out this week with a proposal to boost the minimum wage law to $1.75 per hour are working on a Pandora Box of inflation. When the unskilled laborer goes to $1.75 the man working for $2.50 will want $3.25 and so it goes. Nothing can be more certain under this than a rise of prices and a decline in the purchasing power of money.

The steel workers union has served notice that at the end of August they will seek higher wages from the steel companies. The steel companies have already received one big labor boost in the new Medicare Social Security bill which boosts their share of Social Security by $100 per employee.

It was no surprise to read that the cost of living has gone up in June for one-half of one per cent, the biggest increase in two years. But the big jump, as any housewife knows, was the 6 per cent increase in just one month, in the cost of meat, poultry and fish, coupled with a June increase of 3.7 per cent for fruits and vegetables and a 10 per cent jump in the cost of June consumer prices are up more than 19 per cent from their 1959 level. That inflation has lowered the purchasing power of a $10 bill down to $9.

And this big price jump in food has been accomplished without the farmer getting in on much of it. The big increase comes in the processing, with labor costs eating up most of it.

A failure of the government to recognize the fact that American laborers on government unemployment checks were not going into vegetable fields to work has resulted in a loss of vegetables and a rise in price. It didn't take any genius to forecast this, and most farmers and farm groups did just that, only to be ignored.

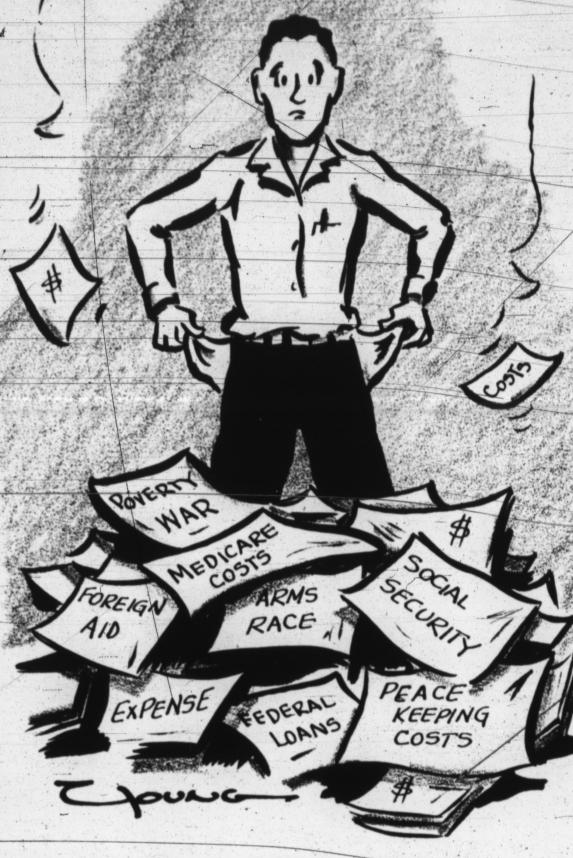

The failure to balance the federal budget, even in a time of high national prosperity, has resulted in cheap dollars that the government wants to create:

The government is sensitive to political considerations and with organized labor calling the tune, it can get just about any kind of labor bill it wants out of Congress.

So if you can make us rich by putting the minimum wage bill at $1.75 per hour. why be a piker? Let's have a bill that makes it law for everybody in these United States to get $1,000 a day. Or $10,000 a day. It makes just as much sense, and if we're going broke eventually, why not

'Courthouse Tradition' Ousted For Progress

The second large grant made by trustees of the Jim Hill estate was made to Boys Ranch. The $35,000 was presented to officials of the ranch by R. L. Thompson.

Two sand urns purchased by the county commissioners replaced the traditional spittoons in the courthouse, and an old courthouse tradition was lost.

'Where's the baby?" is a simple question, but one that Martin Pierce, a Westway farmer, couldn't answer ten years ago. It seems he had taken his son and year-old daughter with him to visit a neighboring farmer. When he returned home his wife inquired as to the baby's whereabouts, and Martin didn't know. As it turned out, he had left her at the neighbors . . . bet he didn't hear the end of it for a long-time.

Coming soon after Clark's appointment as ambassador to Australia, the action focused attention on the fact that Johnson sometimes is criticized by politicians who think he names too many Texans to prestige federal positions. Many Texans, however, have complained that Johnson has to lean over backward because of this criticism.

Deason is a beagle fancier. The President's beagle, Him, and the late Her, were bred at Deason's kennels.

DEASON, over the past 16 years, managed and gradually obtained full ownership of Austin radio station KVET, formed after World War II by a group of Johnson's friends, including Gov. John Connally and Austin Congressman Jake Pickle.

In 1963 Deason was awarded a construction permit for an UHF (channels 14-83) television station in Austin. Earlier this year, Deason, in a report to the Federal Communications Commission said he had delayed putting the station on the air because of inability to get a network affiliation.

Febuary, Deason agreed, subject to FCC approval, to sell radio station, the UHF-TV construction permit and a filed application for an FM station for $500,000 Deason sold KVET to Roy Butler, automobile dealer of Austin.

THE BOOTLEG ---Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm reports on a dream he claims he had. May have been something he ate.

I don't dream very often, mainly because I don't go to sleep at night with any big unsolved problems on my mind, which I manage by not thinking up any during the day time, but the other night I had a dream.

According to it, President Lyndon Johnson woke up one morning in the White House, bounced out of bed eager for the day's work, and then discovered there wasn't a single piece of legislation left for him to get passed.

What?" he demanded of an assistant, "You mean to say there's not anything left to pass? Not even any minor legislation? Not one teeny one?"

No sir, Mr. President, there's nothing left. Medicare, Civil Rights, Voting Rights, Income Tax Cut, Aid to Ele-mentary Schools, the Housing Bill, War on Poverty, Higher Education Bill, Foreign Aid, Cigarette Smoking, the Drug Bill, the Gold Reserve Bill, Presidential Succession, the Transportation Bill, the Agricultural Bill, the Immigration Bill, The Space Exploration Bill, the Flood Control Bill, the Highway Bill, the Urban Renewal Bill . . . . there's just absolutely nothing left."

"Of course," another assistant put in, "we've still got foreign affairs to work on."

'Oh, I know that," the President cut in, "that's my main job, but what I want to know is what am I going to do for recreation? A man can't spend all his waking hours on foreign affairs, he's got to have some domestic legis-lation to get his mind off his work."

About that time a bi-partisan delegation of Congressman and Senators came in and they were restless too.

'Look," their spokesman said, "something's got to be done, Mr. President. Here we had enough legislation stacked up for what we figured was a lifetime of work, and here it is not even Labor Day and we're out of bills

"I've got an idea," a Presidential adviser spoke up. but about that time my dog barked and I woke up and I have no notion what the idea was. I believe though somebody will think of something.

Yours faithfully,
