The Hereford Whitefaces will officially open their season Tuesday night in the gym against the Dimmitt Bobcats.

Members of the 8-team will begin their ame at 6:15 p.m. with the varsity team getting its game underway at 8 p.m.

Cagers at the high school have been having lite practice sessions since the beginning of school, but have not been really concentrating on the game until the past week.

THE SCHEDULE for this year's version of he Whiteface basketball team includes nine non-conference games, three tournaments, 10 conference games and two open dates.

Hereford's first four games will be at home with Dimmitt, Phillips, Plainview and Levelland.

The Whitefaces have six returning lettermen with three of them being returning starters.

Robby Lemons, Gene Duvall and Steve Hodges are the three returning starters and Gary Payne, Oscar Holmes and Roger Owen are the other three returning lettermen Canyon has probably the tallest team in the district with two or three players averaging six-six and six-seven.

Hereford does have good speed which will help the team a great deal against its tall opponents.

District 1-AAA has, in the past, been noted for its strong basketball teams and, according to the coach, will continue in this tradition with a'l the clubs sporting strong teams this year.

the bi-district playoffs. Friday's game was a defensive battle for both teams all through he skirmish.

Friday's squeaker saw the ball change hands 25 times in 48 grueling minutes with intercepted passes, fumbles, and punts by the dozen, it seemed.

THIS WAS brought about, of course, by two top-notch defensive units which made offensive maneuvers by both teams hard to complete.

Sports Edito

In short, it was a hard-hitting football game.

Fans from both sides were on their feet much of the game and the majority of students rooters for both teams never took their seat following the oening kick-off.

SPIRIT was high for Hereford and the surprise felt by Dumas players and rooters was something more than evident. Hereford made their first of two first downs on their first time to handle the ball in the game.

The second first down of the half, for Hereford, came just before the end of the first stanza in the ballgame.

DUMAS COULD not make a first down until near the end of the first half when they started a 51-yard drive which led to their first and only score of the evening.

At the end of the half the Demons had only drove for five first downs and the Herd only had two.

NEAR THE middle of the third quarter the Demons started a drive which moved them 90 yards, but never got them past the Hereford 20. The Demons received 45 yards in penalties during the drive.

Hereford didn't manage a long drive because of the Demons' brick wall defense.

ONLY ONCE did the Herd have a break when the Demons bobbled the ball on their own 10-yard-line and Billy Watts recovered for the Whitefaces.

Three plays later Watts scored on a six-yard pass from Hereford quarterback Steve Hodges. A conversion attempt was efficiently blocked by the strong Demon defense.

DUMAS' only score came after 51-yard drive downfield to the one-foot mark and quarterback Tim Gallaway drove across on the keeper play for the tally. Marshall Rigdon launched the successful kick for the extra point.

GREG RICHARDS and Tony Malouf led in defensive tackles for the Whitefaces with Richards accredited with three unassisted tackles and 17 assists while Malouf was accredited for one unassisted tackle and 13 defensive assists.

Twenty of the tackles were gang tackles by the Whitefaces. Gary Tucker, Charlie Brewton and Billy Coffin were also in on many of the Hereford tackles. COACH Jack Meredith said the coaching staff was "real proud" of the effort exerted by the men on the team, As the game ended the De-

"All the churches of Christ solute you." Rom. 16:16. The Greek word Ekklesia means the same as the English word Church. Ekklesia origionally meant the "Called-out". In the Greek city-states the Ekklesia, or Church, was that body of people called out from among the citizens by the herald for discussion and decision of public business. This compares favorably with the town-cryer, of early America, calling a town meet-ind Early in the Christian age the word church became an exclusive term for the followers of Christ. This is true Christ, the good Shepherd, called out by means of the Gospel, people from the world of sins to follow Him

To say the "called out" of Christ, is only another way of saying the church of Christ. Or, since this called out group of people belong to Christ, who purchased them with His own blood, the body of people may just as well be called Christ's church. The Apostle Paul tells us there is one body, and God gave Christ to be head over all things to the church, which is the body (Ephesians 1:22, 23 & 4:4)

At any rate the called out of Christ extend savutations to you.

SINCE THE FIRST Thanksgiving, when the Pilgrims and their Indian guests ate turkeys by the dozen, venison haunches, bushels of corn and squash as they thanked God for harvest bounty, food has been an accustomed part of the distinctive American holiday. is a time of family gatherings, with interest centered in the spicy-smelling kitchen until its products are heaped on the table; and of even bigger meals for entire organizations, more like the community feast which was suggested by Gov. William Bradford of the Massachusetts Bay Colony in his proclamation of the original observance. Club groups in Hereford are enthusiastically following the example of the Pilgrim Fathers as they relish meals that still star turkey and pumpkin pie, but with additions the early Americans would never have dreamed.

FAMILIES ARE GUESTS at many of the Thanksgiving parties which Hereford women organizations are hosting. In the serving line at the recent covered dish dinner for American Legion and Auxiliary members and their children, right, are Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wagner and their pretty daughters, Mary TURKEY AND TRIMMINGS, traditional fare for the holiday, were served by La Plata Club members to their husbands at a buffet dinner, first of many similar club events of this season. From left, above, are Mrs. Frank Prowell, Kenneth Rogers, Mrs. Milton Adams, Leroy Aven and Mrs. Urlin Streu. The three women form the club's hospitality committee, hostess group for the party. ANNUAL ENTERTAINMENT in Home Demonstration Clubs of Deaf Smith County includes Thanksgiving suppers for members' families. Typical was the one early in the week with the Cultural Club as hostess at Community Center. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Corbett, below right, were among the diners, as was pert blonde Denise DeHart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth DeHart.

GUESTS AND THE PRESIDENT of Cultural club, left below, enjoy the turkey supper. Mrs. J. D. Love, who heads club officers this year, and Mrs. Ralph Packard, a former member, look across the table toward Mrs. Packard's daughter, Cecelia, and Keile Robinson, daughter of the Vance Robinsons.

-Small Talk-

By SUE COLEMAN Women's Editor

Anybody with a good appetite can have a field day or two along about this time every year, when the benefit dinner season gets into full swing. Have you noticed how many opportunities you are having to buy tickets for suppers, luncheons and oth-er culinary events?

In recent weeks I've enjoyed the FHA girls' pre-football game dinner, the Kiwanis Club's pancake supper, the Methodist Men's chili supper and, this weekend, the Junior-Senior class supper and the Episopal Ladies' tasting table.

THINGS LIKE that are made to order for working women like me, who aren't sure whether we are more tired of our own hurried-up cooking or of frequent eating out. Meals served for the benefit of a club, church or school activity nearly always bring out the best of local cookery.

In fact, gourmet, writers in some of our swankier magazines advise travelers in the United States to make a habit of inquiring in smaller towns, whether church suppers or such meals are being served. It is there, the discriminating eaters say, that really good American food is to be found.

After sampling a few dishes served by the better cooks who contribute to these fund-raising affairs, you have to admit that the Snamrock Hotel can't offer any as delicious. Besides, you get a comfortable feeling for helping the good causes.

BEFORE starting out to get pictures of Thanksgiving dinners eat calories I do like plenty of used in this paper. I made the mistake of eating an early sup-per Tuesday. However, by the time the last stop was reached, I was hungry enough again to sample the fare being served to Cultural H.D. Club and its guests.

It reinforced my conviction that you can't beat that good old American institution, the covered dish meal where each woman brings her special dish, for downright good eating. People on diets just shouldn't give even a passing glance to the serving table.

EATING seems to be my subject, and there was the Gray Ladies' luncheon where Mrs. Clinton West gave a rather wist-ful but dubious look at the pizza served to a neighbor and remarked that she had never quite succumbed to the temptation to order one of the Italian delicacies because, although they looked delicious, they are so big!

The pizza eater was a guest from Valentine, Neb., Mrs. Grey cik. who, with her husband is visiting their daughter, Mrs. Paul Engler, and her family for a few days. Someone mentioned the weather in her home state, and Mrs. Greycik said it was snowing when they left and that they'd had some of the cold spells earlier this fall which managed to miss us.

AND IT must have been Audrey Thompson who spoke one definitive word about food at club luncheons when she surveyed the elaborate dessert before her and picking up her fork, declared, "Well, when I

Industry And Community Should Always Be Partners

Recently the Chamber of Commerce declined proposals of a large garment manutaturing plant to locate in Hereford and, like the man who bit the dog, that's news.

After carefully looking over the proposals, the C-C group decided that it was also horse sense, and most people who thoroughly understand the situation seem to agree. In addition to land and buildings with one-sided lease-options, the industry asked for some $50,000 in non-interest loans and grants for equipment and employee training programs. These things, the committee felt, were going a step too far. In some areas, where there exists an excess of adaptable building vancancies, the story could be different; Meanwhile, employment for 500 people is not to be sneezed at, but it does seem that some of the larger companies are following a pattern which does not always fully consider the welfare of the community concerned. Furthermore, competition for industry has become so rife that many of our communities are going for subsidized deals. In New Mexico, where the state has a loansubsidy plan several outright promotions have been reported.

Hereford has always pretty well considered that any new/industry and the community should be sort of "partners in progress". If the industry does not contribute as much to the community as the community contributes to the industry, the situation becomes one-sided in a hurry. Naturally, this works both ways, and unless the community can offer advantages to the industry, there is really very little incentive to locate in that particular communty. By advantages, we mean location, freight and distribution, natural resources, labor and other factors which are so important to the overage industry.

Outright subsidies, in case the area has nothing else to offer, could perhaps offset some of these factors but, in a multi-million-dollar venture, we doubt that $100,000 or $200,000 would assure sucess of the proposed venture. To say the least, if does seem that this area could well continue to concentrate on attracting those companies which find our basic assets sufficient incentive. We now have several industries of this type; to subsidize other new industries, in actuality, would hardly be fair to those which already exist.

Certainly, we do not wish to be left out completely in this phase of growth, and competition may force some alterations in the future, but at the present time it appears that we have an alert, practical committee. We should continue to weigh carefully those things which the industry has to offer us, and with equal care measure those things which we have to offer the industry. Only by working toward mutual interests, can both the community and the industry grow and unless they both grow and prosper it is a poor partnership indeed.

Maybe so. But since when is private profit to be sneered at?

A businessman who seeks profit for himself has to render service to others. It just works that way in the profit system.

Another thing that isn't worth what it costs, says

Roadside Beauty

Texas will enter full cooperation in carrying out Mrs. Johnson's pet program of highway beautification, according to recent releases. The program will be conducted through the highway department, which will receive some $6 million from federal coffers in carrying out the improvements. Prime target will, as stated, be junk yards and large bill boards which block the view. Basicly, the Texas approach will pretty well center around plantings along the roadways, fences and other means of covering up the so-called eye-sores.

Needless to say, the task will be gigantic. There will be much wailing and moaning and, without doubt, some inequities will result. The state has designated two years in which to carry out the plan, which we doubt will be completed in twice. that time.

Despite the many woes, however, the overall result has merit, and in the course of time it should contribute extensively toward an America of which we all be proud. Whether it will be worth the cost is another question, the answer to which depends a lot upon whether we put some of our "unemployed" to work, or whether we hire others and still retain these folks on our public dole.

Unfortunately, we feel that we already know the answer, but when it comes to confirmation, only time will tell.

of Texas today, specifically in the frame work of its government.

The-4year term failed on Nov. 2, but someday it will have to be passed. The governor honestly admits he was "in error" when he launched his career as a state official by suggesting time limitations on the governor. The state has become so big, the problems have multiplied so greatly just his three years as governor, that in Texas will be forced to grant longer tenure to its executive officials so they will have time to plan and to execute properly the functions of their offices.

But even more important, Connally thinks, is this—and The News agrees: The people of Texas should seriously consider the advisability of approving annual sessions of the Texas Legislature.

AS A STATE, we are growing at the. rate of a million every four years.

In 1940, the cost of state government was $165,000,000 a year. By 1950 it had jumped to $527,000,000. In the current fiscal year, it will be $1,824,565,003. The number of state employes, now around 67,000, is growing at the rate of 1,000 a vear.

About the time of Pearl Harbor, more than half of all Texans livied on farms or in rural communities. Today 75 per cent live in towns and cities and in 10 more years the figure will be 90 per cent.

At the time of Pearl Harbor, the major source of income was agriculture and related activities; today, it is manufacturing and Texas will have to create 700,000 new jobs in the projected population increase between now and 1970.

OUR GOVERNMENT must adapt to these changes, and the Legislature is the moster powerful branch of that government.

Legislature will have increasing difficulty meeting those changes, if it convenes only once every two years-at which time it follows procedures that should have been undated long ago.

The 181 men in the House and Senate, most of them competent and dedicated. cannot possibly do justice to the state's problems and its fiscal obligations in the short time allotted. The great bulk of this legislative work is crammed into the final month when individual tempers become frayed and bills are hurried to completion without sufficient study and evaluation.

A great portion of the Texas electorate shudders at the thought of giving a state legislator more money, or more time for his job. But shuddering won't keep Texas in the forefront of progress. State governments face constant encroachment from Washington-and constant meddling. To remain sovereign, they must do their own jobs more fully and responsibly. -The Dallas Morning News

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm brings himself up to date on Castro, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:

Because a man can't handle more than five or six trouble spots at a time, the newspapers have been neglecting Fidel Castro over in Cuba lately, but I found a newspaper yesterday which brought me up to date.

According to it, Castro is having some trouble keeping the Cubans contented and is now doubling up on his promises.

For example, he has promised that by 1975 every child in Cuba, if he hasn't left for the United States, will get one and a half quarts of milk a day.

You can't beat a promise like that, because by 1975 all children old enough now to read the news will be 15 to 25 years old and wouldn't be interested in that much milk anyway.

But Castro doesn't stop there. You don't catch him promising a lot of stuff without saying how he's going to pay for it.

To finance this program, he said, Cuba by 1970 will be growing 30 million rabbits a year, which it will export for cash, to buy cows with,

Now I don't know how many rabbits Castro has on hand at the moment, but if he has as many as 15 or 20 of the right mixture, he can reach his production quota of 30 million in five years all right, but he wans to watch that sixth year. Then's when the total is liable to jump to 500 million, maybe a billion, and when is he going to get the ships to have all them rabbits in?

Instead of trying to sell them abroad for money to buy cows with, I believe he'd be on safer around if he just forgot about the quart and a half of milk per child and promised each one of them a pair of rabbits.

To change the subject, I don't know why New Yorkers don't use bigger fuses to keep their lights from going off, and while it's one thing to be in the dark and another not to be able to figure out why, I recommend that for future emergencies they stock up on kerosene latterns. Some people say they don't give enough light, but I've seen Ben Cartright walk over to the wall of his living room at the Ponderosa, turn up a coal lamp, and get more light than you can find in a television studio.

What steps should the Comoffshore Outer Continental Shelf? These points only begin to touch on the kinds of problems to be

THE OIL and gas industry has a major interest in the Com mission's work, not only because of questions involving the andling of development of Outer Continental Shelf resources but also because the Commission will be studying such areas as the shale-rich lands of Colorado, Utah, and Wyoming and unexplored and untapped lands in Alaska,

It is of great importance to the industry to know whether and to what extent new sources of oil and natural gas might be made available for production. As matters stand now, a maze of law and regulation discourages potential developers of mineral reserves; the Public Land Law Review Commission will have made a contribution merely by straightening away the confusion.

But, in addition, it is hoped that the Commission can bring forth solid recommendations pointing to wise policies for America's future. WALTER ROGERS MEMBER OF CONGRESS 18th DISTRICT OF TEXAS
