

Special Services Mark Easter Celebration In City

By BETTY KOELZER
Staff Writer

Churches in Hereford, as throughout the world, celebrate the feast of Easter today, using their own medium of rejoicing "Alleluia" to the Risen Saviour. At least two congregations are holding Sunrise Services another a church family dinner. One church is opening a revival, and two others are closing revival sessions.

everyone to make up his mind about Jesus Christ. A thinking person can hardly face up to the historical fact of somebody's coming back from the dead and not make judgment concerning same. Acceptance of it is Christian; rejection is "you name it!" Rev. Simeon Heine, pastor of St. Anthony's, Catholic Church, said. His congregation along with St. Joseph's Mission, began an Easter observance last evening with the "Easter Vigil."

This ritual consisted of the light service, signifying the light of Christ coming into the world of darkness; the baptismal rite, with the actual baptism of an adult and an infant, which corresponds with the practice of early Christians who accepted new members on the eve of Easter; and the Eucharistic service. St. John's Baptist Church, with Rev. C. W. Allen as pastor, was scheduled for a 5:30 a.

m. Sunrise Service with the message by Rev. L. V. Mays, of the Friendship Church, Friona. Rev. Eugene Brink of the First Christian Church also announced an early service, 6:30 a. m. in the chapel, led by the young people of the church. Breakfast is to be served following both early services. Members of the Mount Sinai Baptist Church will gather at noon in the dining hall for a church family dinner, with each family bringing a covered dish. Immanuel Lutheran Church worship service at 11 a. m. will feature an infant's baptism. As is the practice every fifth Sunday, the members of the First Baptist, First United Methodist and First Christian Churches will meet jointly at 7 p. m. The service will feature the ministers of the three congregations, Gerald Mann, Clifford Trotter and Eugene Brink, in a presentation of the story of the disciples who encountered Jesus on the Road to Emmaus on the first Easter evening. The public is invited to attend this community service at the First Baptist Church, at which time the Kiwanis Club members will attend in body. At 6 p. m., Rev. J. T. Marlin, pastor of the Central Church of Christ, will present "Lessons from the Holy Land," illustrations on film, which he made during his three trips to Palestine.

The Avenue Baptist Church is in the midst of a four-week Sunday School campaign, with "Crown Him King" as the theme, turning the crown of shame into a crown of glory. A revival with the same "Crown Him King" theme will begin at the 7 p. m. service with an evangelist, Rev. Andy Hornbaker of the First Baptist Church, Security, Colorado, conducting the services and Joe department of Wayland College, Plainview, directing the music. Evangelist Mickey Warlick of Plainview will be closing a revival at the Temple Baptist Church at the 11 a. m. service, while Tommy Keener of Tulsa directs the revival music. Closing of a week's revival at the Frio Baptist church, at 11 a. m. will be conducted by Mike Riley of Baylor University, and singing will be led by Andy Belows, Oklahoma City.

Hereford Airs Its Protest

Four Hereford businessmen presented the city's grievances on slow delivery of freight before a special hearing of the Texas Railroad Commission at Graham Friday with indifferent success.

"That's a good question that anybody could guess at, whether we were successful," said Bill Patton, who flew himself, Gary Parrack, Paul Harvey and Bill Lamb to and from Graham Friday.

"We appeared before them and laid our complaints on the table, and we don't know any more than that. The four of us took, I guess, about 20 minutes," Patton said.

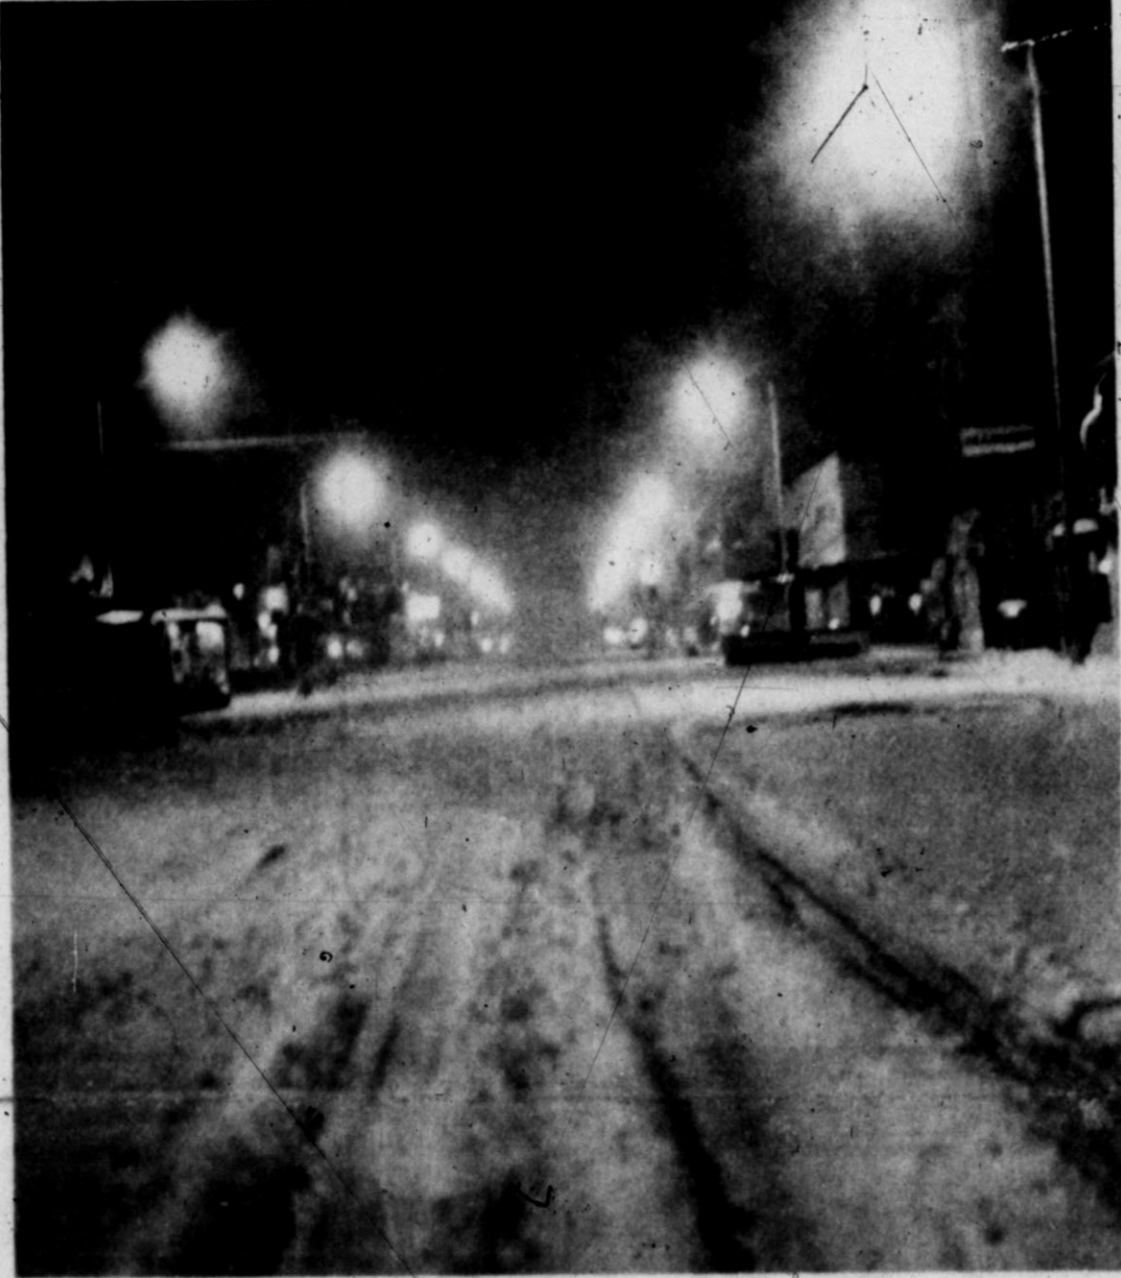

The transportation committee of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce probably will meet in the next several days to discuss next steps in trying to solve the problem.

The Railroad Commission refused to hear any complaints regarding interstate shipments, explaining that its jurisdiction is limited to freight shipped entirely within Texas. The Hereford delegation may try to talk with the Interstate Commerce Commission about that phase.

"We asked point blank, why can't we get more than one freight line into Hereford? The only answer we got was Red Ball told us all they could do was bring stuff in from the West. They couldn't bring anything from Amarillo. That's the way their franchise reads," Patton said.

Merchants, Red Ball and ICX hold franchises to ship freight in and out of Hereford, but Red Ball and ICX no longer do business in the city, although they have refused to give up their franchises to others. With the entire business falling on its shoulders, Merchants has been unable to handle the workload as fast as Hereford businessmen would like.

"The Railroad Commission is very interested in what's going on. They wanted to know in their own mind why it took so long, five and six days, to get. See PROTEST, Page 2

Blinding Snow Lashes City, Strands Travelers

One of the heaviest March snow storms in recent years swept into the Hereford area Friday, leaving almost every motel packed with stranded travelers, blocking highways and streets and giving farmers something to smile about.

Throughout the county, farmers reported five or more inches of snow, with winds piling drifts as high as five feet in some areas. Friday's snow, combined with last week's moisture, is expected to boost the soil moisture considerably, aiding the county's crops.

Though farm work was halted somewhat, farmers were generally pleased with the unexpected moisture.

Leo Witkowski, who farms about 20 miles southeast of town, reported that said snow drifts on his farm "will detain work a little for preparing the ground for irrigation and will make cattle feeding a little difficult or a while."

Witkowski said the snow "has affected us farmers about like it affected the Lubbock rock festival — we have had to make changes in all our plans."

The Red Carpet Inn and the Chateau Inn reported an overflow of guests during the heavy snow Friday night. Both motels said they had to turn guests away because they could not accommodate the large number seeking overnight shelter.

"All of our 31 rooms are completely filled and we sent our overflow to the other hotels and motels in town," Mrs. Bill Freeland at the Chateau said.

"We had travelers from Clovis, Lubbock, Ohio, Kansas, Idaho and even New York who were forced to spend the night in Hereford."

The Red Carpet reported its 51 rooms filled by late Friday night, mostly with local people who could not even get to their homes near here.

The Department of Public Safety issued hazardous driving conditions late Friday and early Saturday, discouraging travel on county roads, although the snow was beginning to melt Saturday.

James Case of the highway department sent out a full 15-man working crew Friday night to clear roads enough for travel though the roads here were not impassable as they were in neighboring counties, Case said. Roads near Bovina and Friona were closed and highway department workers there were having trouble keeping them clear because of blowing drifts. "The roads in this county were no trouble to clear, although they were still slick," he said.

Snow was reported lighter north of town by Sam Patterson at Milo Center. He said when the storm hit Hereford around 5:30 p. m. Friday Milo Center had not even a hint of moisture.

Phillip Miller, who farms near the Walcott Community, said he received .20 inch of moisture and about five inches of snow. "The wind blew pretty bad out here," he said, "and roads east and west of here are blocked."

An overnight low of 18 for the city was reported, with about six inches of snow on the ground. Reports from Amarillo indicated one inch of moisture with its six inches of snow. Reports from Clovis said that city had received .51 moisture and three inches of snow.

The snow came on the tail end of what appeared to be a warming trend where temperatures had risen from 49 for a high on Wednesday to 55 the following day.

Pastors Oppose Airing Of Playboy Views

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

Local Baptist pastors — with one exception — joined with the First Baptist Church of Amarillo this week in denouncing action taken by the Christian Life Commission of the Southern Baptist Convention at a recent seminar which featured a public affairs manager of Playboy magazine and the author of a best-selling book.

The controversy arose over the appearance of two speakers on the seminar's program in Atlanta, Ga. — the Rev. Joseph Fletcher, author of the book "Situation Ethics," and Anson Mount, public affairs manager for Playboy magazine. Both men were reported as having startled the Baptist denomination with their talks of sex and immorality.

Gerald Mann, pastor of the

He's for it

First Baptist Church here, was the lone backer of the Christian Life Commission of the Southern Baptist Convention in regard to its choice of speakers. He also disagreed with the actions of the Amarillo church.

"First, I want the Christian Life Commission to be aware that not all Baptists in this area are opposed to their policies and actions, and secondly, I think you have the right to know all the facts before you decide what your opinion is," Dr. Mann said.

Mount was quoted as saying the purpose of his publication was to "remind people that sex can and ought to be fun" while "all the organized church has ever had to say about unmarried sex is 'Don't.'"

The Rev. Mr. Fletcher was quoted as saying he was "prepared to argue that the Christian obligation calls for lies and adultery and fornication and theft and promise-breaking and killing sometimes, depending on the situation."

As a result of the speakers' talks, the First Baptist Church of Amarillo withdrew its financial aid to the commission until they could determine their future conduct. The Amarillo church is the largest contributor to the commission of all the churches in the Southern Baptist Convention.

Except for Dr. Mann, local pastors, when questioned on the subject, agreed with the actions of the Amarillo church and expressed their distress at the speakers selected for the meeting.

Dr. Mann said the purpose of the seminar was to "help define what an authentic Christian moral stance in the 20th century should be."

He said the Christian Life Commission, to show the urgency of the need for a systematic and biblical ethic, invited the two popular opponents of Christian ethics to state their views and why they held them.

To issue rebuttal to these two men, the Christian Life Commission selected Dr. Henlee Barnett of Southern Baptist Seminary and Dr. Bill Pinson of Southwestern Baptist Seminary.

In the debate, the Baptist professors fared very well, Dr. Mann said he was told by men who attended the seminar.

TO COLLEGE DISTRICT Ministers Give OK

The Hereford Ministerial Association gave its strong endorsement Friday to the establishment of a junior college district here.

Eugene Brink, president of the association, said a resolution to support the proposal drew almost unanimous approval.

"This is the kind of progressive action which has distinguished Hereford in the past," a spokesman said about the college. "By our votes this week, we express our faith in the future," the ministers said in a statement. "Our merchants, our schools, every church and community enterprise will profit from the presence of a strong junior college here."

The association said the junior college is needed because of the increasing costs of attending senior colleges and because of the increasing number of persons who need college training.

"Financing a junior college will not be easy, but if the district is formed in this election we have three years in which to work out the financial support which will be required," the statement continued. However, the ministers said, this kind of community building "is part of the stewardship required of us who own land and property."

Easter--A Happy Time For Children

Pace Quickens On Sales Tax, College Vote

Absentee voting stepped up to a brisk pace the past week on the question of whether to create a junior college district here.

School Tax Assessor-Collector Orpha Ciek said 141 absentee ballots had been cast through Friday on the junior college and school trustee election, which will be decided April 4.

At City Hall, 24 absentee votes were in for the scheduled April 7 balloting on a proposal to put a 1 per cent city sales tax into effect.

Raymond White and Ed Loerwald are seeking reelection to the school board and Bartley Dowell and Roland Barton are seeking new terms on the City Council, but all are assured of reelection since two places are open in each case.

Click attributed most of the absentee ballots for the school election to school teachers who have left town for the spring break.

The Rev. Sam Ogan, pastor of the Frio Baptist Church, "I am a little perturbed at the matter because it all seems to be a departure from our old dogmatic standards of the church."

Voicing extreme disapproval with the actions of the Christian Life Commission, the Rev. Ogan said he feels the commission did make a bad decision in scheduling the "extremely radical and probably non-Christian speakers."

"I think the organization in itself has a wonderful purpose, even though they might have gone a little too far this time," he said.

The Rev. Jim Bozeman, Temple Baptist Church, said he feels everyone is entitled to his opinion, but he was "basically in agreement with Dr. Moore, though he might not be entirely correct in his actions."

Don Larkin, pastor of the Avenue Baptist Church, voiced strong disapproval on the actions of the part of Dr. Foy Valentine, who headed the program for the committee.

"I fully agree with Dr. Moore, because it makes no difference whether Dr. Valentine was associating himself with the Christian Committee or not, he automatically tied us in with his actions and caused us to be humiliated for the ideas the seminar projected," the Rev. Mr. Larkin said.

"We do not need to be the ones to start something such as this. They (the two speakers) are given all the opportunity to broadcast the propaganda from hell through their publications," the pastor said.

The Rev. Mr. Larkin said the whole seminar was "like casting your pearls before the swine" and that the whole church will suffer in some way from the ideas projected.

"It is like a person seeing a young man do something wrong and then automatically condemning all the young without thinking of the millions that are doing wonderful things," he said.

Dr. Winfred Moore, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Amarillo, made the announcement of withdrawal of the church following an agreement reached by members of the church.

In his statement, Dr. Moore said:

"It is unfortunate that the Southern Baptist Convention on Christian Life Commission is further removed from the people than is a pastor, and it takes longer for the message of the people to get through to them."

"I agree that Dr. Valentine and the Christian Life Commission have a right to their opinion about the method of getting the message of Christ out. I agree that Mr. Mount and Rev. Fleicher have a right to speak, but I am opposed to their use of financial support of my church to furnish a forum for Playboy and the situation ethics group to sound forth. "So far as I am concerned the Christian Life Commission could be dissolved before noon tomorrow and we would be much the better for the action. As for me, I am not willing to furnish another dime to support such work as this commission."

Dr. Moore received numerous calls and communications from churches throughout this region commending the Amarillo church on its actions.

In complete disagreement with the Amarillo church's withdrawal, Dr. Mann said that many pastors in the convention are "up in arms" over the seminar because the two speakers were provided a forum for propagating their ideas at the expense of the Baptists.

"Now, let me say that I have no quarrel with what another church in our convention does. I respect their right to do what they please. However, I request the right to do the same thing. Therefore, let me simply say that I support wholeheartedly what the Christian Life Commission has done," Dr. Mann said.

The first reason for his stand, Dr. Mann said, is because "it is the duty of the Christian Life Commission to help the churches meet the ethical crises of our time. This, he said, is what the Christian Life Commission is doing. "If we are going to conquer the foes of Christian ethics, we have to know whom we are fighting and how we are going to fight them," he commented.

"Second, inviting these men to debate is not to say that we approve of their views. Fletcher's book is a best-seller, and 30 million Americans read Playboy each month (many of them Baptists). These philosophies are already popular and are accepted by many simply because the church has not given them any reasonable rebuttal. The only answer to a bad philosophy is a better philosophy, not verbal insults and silence," he said. "And if we have to be afraid to face opponents' head on, then we must be afraid of the outcome."

"Third, I believe that we do have an answer to Playboy and Fletcher, a good answer," the pastor said. "And that answer was given splendidly at the seminar. Therefore, I say that what the Christian Life Commission did must be done again and again, until the whole world knows that Christian morality is not some outdated system of 'don'ts' but a way of life in which men are set free to be what they were created to be and to enjoy."

"I say 'Hats off' to the Christian Life Commission for trying to live and to minister in the 20th-century."

Coplen Assumes Top NMMI Duty

Colonel Chris Farren, athletic director for NMMI High School in Roswell, announced recently the promotion of Captain Eddie Coplen, a former teacher here, to head coach of the Military Institute's Colts.

Coplen has been an assistant coach at the school for two years and will take over the duties of Coach John Ussery who has been named backfield coach for the Junior College Broncos.

Elect Adams To Lions Presidency

The Hereford Noon Lions Club elected Dr. Milton Adams as its 1970-71 president Thursday night at its annual Election Party.

Dr. Adams, an optometrist, will succeed A. J. Major Schroeter. Ray Simpson also had been nominated, but Adams got the most votes in the balloting that followed the customary campaign speeches in a highly informed atmosphere.

The Lions also named Lynton Allred as first vice president, Don Waters second vice president, and John Thames third vice president. Nolan Grady is the new secretary, Flake Barber the treasurer, John David Bryant and Lynn Brisendine the tailwaiters, Larry Fuller the Lion Tamer, and Milton Durham and Wayland Smith the directors.

"This is an office every Lion looks forward to being elected to but would probably never mind losing," Adams said. "If each of you will continue to give of your efforts, the Hereford Lions Club will continue to be the best in the United States."

The election party also served as ladies' night. A number of other guests also attended.

Harvey said the commission seemed to disagree with the Hereford delegation, however, on its complaint that it often takes three or four days for Merchants to get merchandise from Amarillo to Hereford, after the freight had arrived there from other cities.

"They didn't seem to think that was so terrible," Harvey said, "so maybe we're mixed up on what's long and what is not, I don't know."

Zone-Leading Hereford Golfers Go To Amarillo

Hereford High's golf quintet, will compete with top area teams Friday and Saturday in the Amarillo Relays.

The team just beat the snow Friday, out shining Muleshoe and Tulia in the second round of district 1-AAA south zone action here. Hereford entered the match in a tie with Muleshoe but ended in the lead by 15 strokes.

Hereford's team shot a 307, with Marsh Pitman firing a 73, Wayne Stoerner 75, Dana Rush, 79, James Jorde 80, and Paul Hendon 81.

The Muleshoe team shot a 322 and Tulia scored 390.

"It was cold and windy on the first nine holes. The temperature was about 34 degrees," Hereford coach Jim Holmes said. "It was better on the last nine except for the wind."

Pitman, Hereford's top golfer, leads the south zone individual competition by four shots.

Elks To Install 18 New Members

Eighteen new members will be initiated into Hereford Elks Lodge 2289 Monday at 8 p.m., bringing the total membership of the club to 80.

The 18 new members were approved at a meeting of the club last week along with eight reinstatements.

C. D. Kelton, Exalted Ruler of the club, said the initiation of the new members points out that the club, which was down to only 19 members in early February, is climbing back on its feet.

Tuesday will be the final day for new members to apply for membership at a cut rate cost of $30 for initiation fees and the first year's dues, he said. Beginning Wednesday, initiation fees for new members will jump to $50 plus $40 for the first year's dues. Reinstatements will jump to $80.

The club recently announced plans for construction of a new lodge building on Country Club Drive. It will include volleyball and tennis courts, a swimming pool and possibly a miniature golf course. The lodge building itself will contain a meeting room, recreation room and a dining room and lounge which will be open daily.

Anyone who wishes to join the organization should contact Kelton or call the lodge before Wednesday at 364-9053.

Baseball Team Meets Lubbock Teams Next

Hereford's baseball team will make attempts to recover from its losing trend this week. The Whitefaces play Lubbock Dunbar Tuesday and Lubbock Estacado on Friday.

Both games will be in Lubbock and will begin at 4 p.m.

Melvin Robinson's two-run single for Borger in the fifth inning capped a four-run rally and sent Hereford down the drain Thursday for its fifth consecutive loss, 6-2, prior to Saturday's doubleheader here with Portales.

Hereford's surprising discovery, second sacker Rick Lee, was partly responsible for both Whiteface runs, which came in the third and fifth frames of the game with Borger.

Until the fifth inning, Hereford and Borger swapped the lead. Right fielder Tommy Stoy gave Hereford a 1-0 lead in the third inning. He reached first base on an error by the catcher, stole second, and then scored on Lee's single.

Hereford's other score came in the fifth. Lead off men Gary Lemons and Lee both walked, Stoy advanced them to second and third with a bunt, and scored on a passed ball.

Borger had taken a 2-1 lead in the fourth after starter Kevin Lafleur gave up a double, walked another man and then threw a pitch which escaped the glove of catcher Harold Schmucker, allowing the runners to advance to second and third.

A sacrifice bunt scored the first run. The next batter, attempting to bunt on a squeeze play, missed the ball but Schmucker bobbled it and the second runner scored.

Alan Wagner appeared in the sixth inning in relief.

"I should have pulled Lafleur sooner than I did after they got to him early in the fifth," Hereford coach Fred Upshaw said. "He did a good job but he just got tired."

Jeff Maxwell, who went four innings, and the winner, Jimmy Healey, held Hereford to three hits.

"Even though we lost, it was the best game we've played all year."

"It was also the best Wagner has pitched," Hereford's coach called Borger "about the best Borger 'about the best team we've played all year."

He said, "We feel we played a good game since they only got five hits but it was that fifth inning that really killed us."

The Bulldogs of Borger are finished with non-conference play and are ready to start their district 4AAAA campaign.

The Whitefaces will be in Andrew's three-day tournament April 9-11 after this week's play with the Lubbock schools.

On April 14 they will begin conference action against the Dumas Demons.

Veteran Rice Track Coach Will Referee Texas Relays

AUSTIN—Emmett Brunson, long-time successful coach at Rice University, has been named referee of the 43rd Texas Relays to be held Friday and Saturday April 3-4 at The University of Texas.

Relays director Jack Patterson, who was captain of Brunson's teams at Rice in the 1930s, made the announcement.

Brunson, a former mile and half-mile champ as a Rice undergraduate in the 1920s, has coached the Owls since 1934 and has led them to five Southwest Conference championships. He also coached several Olympians and world record holders.

His 440 and mile relay teams set new state standards at the NCAA last summer. The Rice sprint corps ran a 39.5 440-yard race, and the mile combo went 3:07. Rice was named the outstanding team in the university division of the 1969 Texas Relays.

Despite construction work on the addition to Memorial Stadium, the 43rd Relays will have the same format of recent years—preliminaries Friday morning and afternoon, finals Friday evening and Saturday afternoon.

Because of the artificial football turf and track in Memorial Stadium, discus and javelin events will be held west of San Jacinto Boulevard on the football practice field. Prelims and finals in these two field events will begin Friday at 9:30 a.m. Finals in 17 other events will be Friday evening, with 20 finals set for Saturday afternoon.

Women Bowlers In State Action

Women of the Hereford Women's Bowling Association and the Sunset Lanes team attended the state bowling tournament last weekend in Beaumont, host city for 1970.

Included on the Sunset Lanes team were Jean Watts, Wilman Clark, Pauline McDonald, Bertha Arnold, Alice Lueb, and Margaret Collins. Representing the Hereford Women's Bowling Association were Stella Varnie, Bonnie Jones, Carrie Shipley, and Clara Prosser. They attended with a team from Farwell.

Girls bowling a 200 game or better with averages above 149 received TWBA pins. Jean Watts was a recipient with her 216 game.

A chevron was awarded to Clara Prosser for her 175 game. She and other participants with a 149 average or better bowling at least a 175 game received the honor.

The tournament is scheduled to extend February through May. The outcome of local participation will now be known till then.

The popular Masters Mile, for men 40 years and older, will be held at 6:30 p.m. Friday.

Track powers from the midlands, led by recent NCAA indoor champion Kansas, will be here along with all of the schools from the Southwest Conference and Texas.

At the 1969 Texas Relays, Kansas State, Rice and UT El Paso each won two university class relays, with Kansas taking the other.

Except for the Masters Mile, there will be no open events at the 1970 relays. Only eligible undergraduates will be allowed to compete in the university and college division. There will be a high school division plus four events for girls.

Patterson, relays director since 1964, is making an effort to keep the same schedule year after year.

The Friday night portion of the relays will feature the Masters Mile, 440 hurdles, high school two-mile relay, college and university spring medley relays, university-college three-mile run, girls' 40 dash and the high school, college and university 880 relays.

Field events Friday will include the university-college javelin, discus and long jump, and high school long jump, shot-put and high jump.

On tap Saturday will be the following:

University-college pole vault, high jump and shot-put; university four-mile relay; high school and university-college high hurdles; girls' high school and university-college 100-yard dash; college and university two-mile relay; high school and girls' sprint medley relays; high school, college and university 440 relays; the Jerry Thompson mile run, and closing with the high school, college and university mile relays.

SET TO TEE OFF — Hereford High golfer, Dana Rush, gets set to tee off in Friday's south zone match here. Rush shot a 79 for 18 holes. Hereford now leads the south zone by 15 shots. —Staff Photo

Tracksters Hit Mid Point In '70 Season

Hereford High's track and field men will compete in the Amarillo Relays Friday and Saturday as they enter the second half of their 1970 track campaign.

Senior Percy Mays' time of 2:04 in the 880 yard run nabbed him first place in the event at the Dumas Invitational Track Meet Friday.

Hereford finished fourth in the meet with 42 points behind the top three teams of Dumas, Borger, and Laughton Eisenhower, Oklahoma, respectively. Other teams participating were Amarillo Caprock, Pampa, Canyon, Muleshoe, and Guymond, Oklahoma.

Tony Gorman took third spot in the discus event with a dis-tanctance of 134 feet 8 inches. He also heaved the shot put 49-1 for fourth place. Billy Bob Taylor, HHS sophomore, pole vaulted 11 feet for second place.

Other Whitefaces ranking in the meet included Ralph Waits — third in the high jump, Mickey Brisendine — sixth in the 440, and George Fuller — fifth in the broad jump.

The Herd mile relay team consisting of Hector Rodriguez, Ralph Waits, Brisendine, and Mays, placed fourth in the mile relay.

Following the Amarillo Relays, Hereford will compete in the Borger Relays April 11 and challenge for the district title on April 18 in the district meet at West Texas State University.

Hill, Rusher Are Star Belle, Beau

With a 639 handicap, Lowell Rusher was selected Bowler of the Week in Bells and Beau action while Jeanette Hill, with 38 pins over her average, was named Star of the Week.

Rusher took the high three-game series for the men, scoring 570 pins, and high individual game at 222. He also bowled a 202 game. In women's competition Anne Radney held the high series at 506 and high game of 189.

Other high series included Perry Hill at 512, Mike Clark 504, and Frank Lopez 552 and an excellent single game of 204.

Converting splits were Jean Watts 4-5 and 5-6-10 and L. V. Watts the 3-10 and 4-6-10 pins.

The Chumps had high team series with 2145 and also high team game with 787.

Weekly results of Bells and Beau teams are as follows: The Chumps 3-1; The Hollies 1-3; Team 8, 4-0; Vaughn Real Estate 0-4; Gifford/Hill Western 4-0; The Handicaps 0-4; Whiteface Aviation 2-2; Coy's Crew 2-2; Lucky Seven 4-0; the Low Rollers 0-4; Wilson and Company 1-3; and Sunset Lanes 3-1.

The Chumps lead the league with their 25-11 record. Right behind is the Lucky Seven 24 1/2-11 1/2. Other standings are Gifford Hill Western 15-15; Coy's Whiteface Aviation 21-15; Coy's Crew 19-13 (incomplete); Sunset Lanes 14 1/2-21 1/2; Wilson and Company 14-18 (incomplete); Vaughn Real Estate 13-15 (incomplete); the Handicaps — 10-26; and the Low Rollers 9-27.

Welch, Texsuns Sweep Honors

Olive Welch swept individual honors in recent bowling action with her 520 three-game series and 191 high game while Texsun Feed Yards bowled the high team series of 1780 and high team game of 649.

Daisy Huntsinger was selected bowler of the Week following a performance of 105 pins over her average.

Sunset Lanes now holds the number one spot with a 54-38 record. Other standings are as follows: One Hour Martinizing 52-40; Hereford Flying Service 51-41; Furr's 48 1/2-43 1/2; Merry Widows 43-49; Hi-Way '60' Truck Stop 42 1/2-49 1/2; Clark's House of Flowers 40-52; Texsun Feed Yards 37-55.

South Bend, Ind. — Notre Dame's worst defeat of all-time was a 59-0 loss to Army in 1944.

Rev. Andy Hornbaker will be preaching in the Revival Services at Avenue Baptist Church, 190 North 25 Mi. Avenue beginning Sunday Evening, March 29th at 7 p.m. and continuing each morning at 10 and evening at 7:45 through April 5th. Don Larkin, Pastor.

A nursery will be provided for children through 3. The public is invited to attend all these services.

NOT QUITE — Donny McDermitt, Whiteface third baseman, tags a Plainview baserunner on the feet in Tuesday's double header with Plainview for a valuable out. Hereford was downed, however, in both games by scores of 11-5 and 9-0. —Staff Photo

Feast Days Observed

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

Most countries of the world observe feast days during spring; each has a religious origin. In these countries certain foods have become symbols of the holidays.

From Central and Eastern Europe have come a myriad of Easter breads and cakes. In Germany and Austria, Easter bread is baked in oblong loaves of braided yeast dough called Easter Stollen.

Golden Bread which is similar to French toast is served in parts of Ireland at Easter. In England cheese tarts are a specialty. Panettone, a delicate fruit bread, and Torta di Ricotta are two Italian Easter treats that we have come to know in America. Other countries have contributed their favorites.

In these United States the wide variety of festive holiday breads enjoyed at Easter attests to our true melting-pot heritage. With modern adaptations of traditional recipes and an endless variety of ingredients, home bakers and commercial bakers can make holiday breads a delightful experience.

At one time any woman proud of her artistry in the kitchen scorned the use of purchased cake and bread mixes. But this has changed.

The ready-mix field has blossomed to the extent that here is a seemingly endless array of mixes so nearly perfect that many women claim they equal the finest "scratch" recipes.

Exhaustive experimentation by a number of mix manufacturers has added a moistness and flavor that early mixes did not have. Mixing time has also been cut to a fraction so that many delightful products can be hand-mixed in half a minute or so.

Teen-agers have learned that they can prepare their own foods with mixes. Many mothers have encouraged the children to help with cooking by buying mixes just for them. Using mixes help in learning techniques in manipulation.

Regardless of their age, creative cooks like to add their own special touch to mixes, giving a certain satisfaction that allows one to say, "I made it myself."

Who knows? The whole idea of letting the children bake the muffins may be a subtle way of encouraging them to eat breakfast or any other meal where appetites seem to lag.

Cereals and grains are one of

New York — The last major league 20 game winner in two leagues during one season was Hank Borowy, 21-7, who won 10 games with the New York Yankees in the American League and 11 with the Chicago Cubs in the National League.

Book Review Given By Mrs. Bill Bradley

Mrs. Bill Bradley presented a book review entitled "God's Smugglers" by Brother Andrew, to members of the Valeda Study Club Tuesday in the home of Mrs. George Olson.

Throughout the book Andrew tells the story of ten years of secret work behind the Iron Curtain and the discoveries he made during that time. Some of those discoveries were "how to depend on God's law of supply," "how to find a marriage partner," "how to move ahead," "how to find the people God wants you to work with," "how to let go of self and rely only on God," and "how to walk the Royal way rather than take the beggar's path."

Sandstorms, Tornadoes, Blizzards

In 68 Years, She's Seen It All

BY SUE COLEMAN

While Hereford is enjoying its customary "unusual" spring weather with sudden shifts from hot to cold and from wet to dry—and while residents are still talking about the rainfall patterns and early freeze which dealt blows to 1969 crops of this area—there is one old-timer who is not the least surprised at any of it.

Mrs. A. G. Bell, who has been here since 1902, has experienced the Plains' extremes of balmy sunshine and vicious blizzards, rains that turned the unpaved streets of early-day Hereford into mud-puddles, hailstorms, droughts and even a tornado which twisted her house on its foundation.

Of only one siege of weather she says, "We haven't had anything like that before or since". That was the long dry spell of the 1930s with its destructive dust storms.

The Bell family was living on a ranch south of Adrian for six years during those "dust bowl" days, when farmers and ranchers of the Texas Panhandle watched hopelessly as winds thick with dust from the plains states to the north, rolled one after another over their land, picking up more soil as they swept by.

"One of our boys, James, was staying in Hereford to go to high school, and my sister also lived here, so often on weekends the youngest son, Charles, and I would drive in to visit them", Mrs. Bell says. "There was no paving then, and a lot of times the dust would blow so thick we couldn't see whether we were in the road or not."

"When I try now to describe those sandstorms to somebody who wasn't here then, they just don't believe me!"

There were intervals of rain during the dry years, of course, and Mrs. Bell remembers keenly one downpour which made all roads impassable for a time. It is fixed in her mind because her husband, who "could always grow a good garden", had made an excellent crop of turnips that fall.

"He had 100 bushels of turnips that he decided to hold for a better price, so he buried them in a draw near the house," she relates. "That big rain washed down the draw, and all the turnips rotted".

One of the snows which caused much discomfort to Panhandle residents, Mrs. Bell says, was in the winter of 1918. Not only was there a deep snow, but the below-freezing weather hung on for weeks so snow remained on the ground.

It was at that time that the influenza epidemic which followed the close of World War I, was raging here as well as over the nation. The weather made travel difficult for ranch families and doctors often couldn't get to patients who needed them. Two of the Bells' neighbors died of flu within a short time.

The Bell family lived on ranches most of the time from their marriage in 1903 until 1939; when they moved to the house at 604 West Third which Mrs. Bell and her only daughter, Evelyn, still occupy. Her husband died in 1941.

She was one of the daughters of Mrs. Mollie Daniel, known to Hereford pioneers as "Ma", who came here from the small town of Era, near Gainesville, in the summer of 1902. Mrs. Daniel, a Kentucky native, had operated a hotel at Era, and came to take charge of the old Hereford House near the Santa Fe depot.

"My husband came with the hotel", Mrs. Bell laughs. Allan Bell, a young lawyer who had been in West Texas since 1894, was one of the permanent guests at the Hereford House. He and Lena Daniel were married in just a year.

Their family included sons as well as the daughter. The oldest, Daniel, now lives in Scottsdale, Ariz., after operating theaters in Dallas many years. Robert also lived in Dallas until his death six years ago. James' home is in California and Charles, who has had a 28-year career in the U.S. Air Force, is in Birmingham, Ala.

All the boys attended Texas A&M, and Mrs. Bell is proud that she had three sons in military service and one in defense work during World War II.

Since they all live in different states, and her grandchildren are scattering to other homes, now, Mrs. Bell enjoys travel in her visits to them. She likes trips, long or short, and talks of pleasant family excursions even in the days of model-T's and unpaved highways.

Her husband was an early Scoutmaster here and she went along on some Scout trips. One she remembers was to Bottomless Lakes near Roswell, N.M., with Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Morgan, A. M. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Dyer and Mrs. Edith Hughes as adults in the party.

There were visits to Carlsbad Cavern long before that scenic spot had plush accommodations for tourists. The drive up to the cave entrance in their old-model car was quite an experience, the Hereford woman declares, and her first descent into the cave was in a big bucket -- "not a bit like the elevator there now!"

Energetic Mrs. Bell has been a breadwinner as well as a housewife, and for 20 years was the Fuller brush salesman in a territory covering four counties. She drove over the entire area making calls in homes.

"One friend was horrified when she heard that I was driving alone", she chuckles. "She asked what I'd do if a tire went flat, or I had to spend a night away from home. Well, there weren't many flats and somebody always came along to help fix them, and I got a lot more invitations to spend the nights with friends, than I could accept".

There were other jobs, among them that of an enumerator to take the 1940 census. Mrs. Bell says her experience as a salesman began with a subscription contest staged by the Hereford Brand about 1910, when she won a piano and after that "I was always selling something".

One of the longest records in membership in Pioneer Study Club is held by Mrs. Bell, who admits—or maybe boasts—that she will be 90 years old her next birthday, Dec. 16. She likes to play bridge and is a member with several long-time friends of a club which has regular games.

Handwork occupies some of her time, but she has never resumed a hobby she dropped when she became busy raising her family, that of painting in oils.

OLD ROCKING CHAIR PRIZED — Mrs. A. G. Bell crochets a modish see-through vest for a granddaughter in her living room at 604 West Third, one of the city's oldest residences. The pioneer woman is sitting in a big handsome rocking chair which belonged to her mother, the late Mrs. Mollie Daniel, who moved to Hereford in 1902 from Cooke County.

Q. — We have grown tired of the wallpaper design in our bedroom and have decided to paint over it. The paper is securely attached to the wall and I don't think there will be a n problem about it coming loose. What I want to know is whether any special type of paint must be used. The paper has a kind of light rose color. Will I have to put on two coats? Will the color in the paper bleed through?

A. — Generally, it is not a good idea to apply latex paint over wallpaper, since the water in the paint might loosen the paper. However, you can solve this problem and at the same time insure against the color coming through by applying a first coat of aluminum paint. One coat of your selected color then may be sufficient, but you will have to judge for yourself after the paint has been applied and allowed to dry. Either latex or solvent-thinned paint may be used over the aluminum covering.

Q. — I made a wood cabinet some years ago. Since the wood was walnut, I used a wood filler to close the pores, but found it a very tedious job. I now have a chest of drawers made of birch. Is there any way I can avoid using wood filler?

A. — Although it is sometimes done, it is not necessary to use a regular wood filler on birch. Its tiny pores (as compared with oak and walnut) can be filled with a liquid sealer if desired.

Q. — Our large wooden salad bowl, which we have had for many years, is losing whatever finish it had. How can it be finished so that no taste of the finishing material will get into the salad?

A. — Rub the bowl with a very fine grade of sandpaper. Brush away all grit. Apply linseed oil to the inside and outside surfaces, wiping off any excess. Using a dry, clean cloth, rub the oil wells into the wood. Place the bowl where fresh air can get at it and leave it there for a couple of days. It then is ready for use. The finish will last a long time if the bowl is dried immediately, each time it is washed with cold water. Never let it soak in water and never, never put it in a dishwasher.

Q. — I carefully sanded a varnished table, then put on a coat of lacquer. It produced a bubbly effect and now the whole table top is ruined. Is there anything I can do to restore the top?

A. — There's no solution except to use a commercial remover to get off all the old finish. You can then apply whatever finish you wish. But never apply lacquer over a varnished or painted surface.

Betty Crocker Award Goes To Bishop Girl

Mary Lee Morgan of Bishop, Tex., High School, has been named Texas' 1970 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow.

Selected from 34,380 senior girls in 954 Texas high schools on the basis of a Dec. 2 written examination of homemaking knowledge and attitudes, she will receive a $1,500 college scholarship from General Mills, sponsor of the annual education program.

She is also now eligible for national honors.

Chosen as runner-up for Texas was Mary Katherine Boeppel of Bay City High School, Bay City. She will be awarded a $500 educational grant.

Honorable mention recipients in the state are Mary Ann Beseda, Abbott High School, Abbott; Faith Ellen Brundage, Bellaire High School, Bellaire; Clovie Lee Norris, Cross Plains high school, Cross Plains; Juanita Love, Hawkins high school, Hawkins; Janis Faye Johnston, Ter Senior high school, Houston; Nancy Lynn Hillery, Westchester Senior high school, Houston; Deborah Jo Ford, Seminole high school, Seminole; and Geneva Elaine Woelfel, Thorndale high school, Thorndale.

As State Homemaker of Tomorrow, Miss Morgan, with a faculty advisor, will join winners from each of the other states and the District of Columbia April 12-17 for a tour of Washington, D. C., and Colonial Williamsburg, Va. Culminating the tour will be announcement of the 1970 Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow, whose scholarship will be increased to $5,000.

Three national runners-up will receive scholarships increased to $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000. Centering on personal observation and interviews during the tour, national judging will be conducted by Science Research Associates, Chicago, which also constructed and graded the Dec. 2 test.

The Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow, only national scholarship program exclusively for high school senior girls, was begun by General Mills in the 1954-55 school year. This year's record enrollment of 646,941 senior girls in 15,040 high schools brings total participation during the program's 16-year history to more than seven million young women.

Scholarship awards total approximately $1 1/2 million. In addition, each year, schools of State Homemakers of Tomorrow receive a set of Encyclopedia Britannica from Encyclopedia Britannica, Inc.

Grazing Date Is Extended

Farm program cooperators in Deaf Smith County may now graze annual diverted program diverted acres until May 14, according to Wayne Mayfield of the local Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

This is the second consecutive year the spring grazing date has been extended. This modification in grazing of diverted acres was made possible by recommendation of the local ASCS county committee.

Producers should remember, Mayfield said, that the revised non-grazing period of May 14 through October 15 is applicable only to annual program diverted acres under the feed grain wheat program.

Hereford Grown But The People Still Friendly

By JANIE REINART
Staff Writer

"Hereford's grown! It seems to have doubled in size since we left nine years ago. Like the change, though, and the people are still as friendly as they were when we left," said lovely Mrs. Johnny Latham.

Her and her husband and four children - Mark 9, Lance 8, Renee 5, and Cindy 1 - returned to Hereford in January from Estancia, New Mexico where they lived for four years. Prior to living there they resided in Moriarty, New Mexico, which is 17 miles from Estancia, for five years.

Joan Latham was born in Albuquerque and attended Hereford Schools where she graduated in 1958. She then attended Tech and W. T. She enjoys working with children and playing the piano. A member of the Newcomers Club she plans to join more organizations later on. Latham is also a 1958 graduate of Hereford High School and has attended college at Tech. He now farms six areas of land north, east, and south of the city. A member of the Lions Club he also likes to hunt and fish with his sons and build things. He is now in the process of converting their garage into a den. He designed their home in Estancia and in Moriarty established and owned Moriarty Grain Elevator and Fertilizer. He was born in Ropes, near Lubbock, and has lived on a farm all his life.

This is the first time the Lathams have ever lived in town and are enjoying every minute of it. They are now doing some improvement work on their yard.

Mrs. Latham plans to go back to school soon at W. T.

Rebekahs Host District 5 Meet

Hereford's Rebekah Lodge hosted the District 5 meeting and salad supper Tuesday evening with twelve guests attending from the Friema and Dimmitt areas.

Mary Lou Weatherford, outgoing District Deputy President was honored with a party, and presented a gift. Elected to take her place for the coming one year term was Mrs. Charles Wise of Friema.

Mrs. Roy Manning, Noble Grand, presided over the business meeting. Elected as new Noble Grand was Mrs. P. B. Sowell.

Other business included a report by Mrs. Clarence Hollabough, representative to the Rebekah State Assembly in San Antonio the 14th and 15th of March.

The next meeting will be April 7 with the installation of officers.

NOTE OF THANKS

The sorrow of the burden that we bear is lessened by the thought that "They are in God's Care."

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to everyone for their deepest sympathy and kindness during the loss of our loved ones, Doyel and Robert.

We also extend our sincere thanks to the Gilliland Funeral Home and also Brother Trotter. We also thank everyone for the floral offerings and food brought by all the kind neighbors and churches.

By MELVIN YOUNG

You may be getting a little tired of hearing about a junior college, but better to discuss it now and take appropriate action, than to look back a few years from now and wonder why we didn't. So, we might just throw out a few more tidbits for your consideration.

We've been hearing so much about the tax burden of the Levelland Junior College that we decided to call the tax officials there and get the truth. We have even heard reports that the Junior College tax constituted 70 percent or more of the local tax load. That, to put the matter bluntly, just isn't so.

According to Levelland tax officials, Hockley County land carries a valuation up to $225.00 per acre for the best, so to arrive at percentages and due to the fact that the boundaries of the school district and the junior college district are not contingent, we used what they considered was an average valuation, their Class C irrigated farm land. Using this base we determined that a 1/4 section would be subject to a tax of $15.36, county tax $24.58 and school tax of $76.80. Percentage-wise, the junior college gets 13.1 per cent of the taxes, the county 21.1 per cent and the independent school district 65.8 per cent.

Okay, let's include the city property and we'll use an average $20,000 home as the base. This home would be subject to $24.00 junior college tax, $38.40 county tax, $115.20 city tax, and $120.00 independent school district tax. Percentage-wise, the junior college gets 8.1 per cent, county 12.9 per cent, city 38.7 per cent and local school district 40.7 per cent.

The total tax bill on the land would go up or down according to the class or valuation, but the percentages remain the same.

—HB—

We also got pinned to the wall this past week for leaving the impression that all the farmers were against the junior college, and found out right quick that this was not the case. Actually, we've known many from the beginning who were strong for the college, not because they enjoy paying out tax dollars, but because they realize the importance of affording our youngsters an opportunity to get an education. This opportunity may be denied to many in future years unless we have a local community college, simply because the major state supported institutions have become so overcrowded that they will soon be limiting admission on a scholastic basis. And if your children, and mine, don't happen to be in the top 10 or 15 per cent, they are apt to be left out. A junior college here would assure them a beginning at least.

—HB—

By the way, Hereford is in a rather unique position with the junior college. We understand that only 7 applications out of the past 50 have been approved by the Coordinating Board, Texas Colleges and Universities. These people study the local situation a long time before approving an application and if they feel the tax base is not strong enough or that the student load does not merit the establishment of a district, then the request is refused.

—HB—

One local sage has suggested that street numbers should be placed in rear of each dwelling where trash is collected. The purpose being that city employees could report the persistent trash offenders — then the city could take appropriate action to cure the problem.

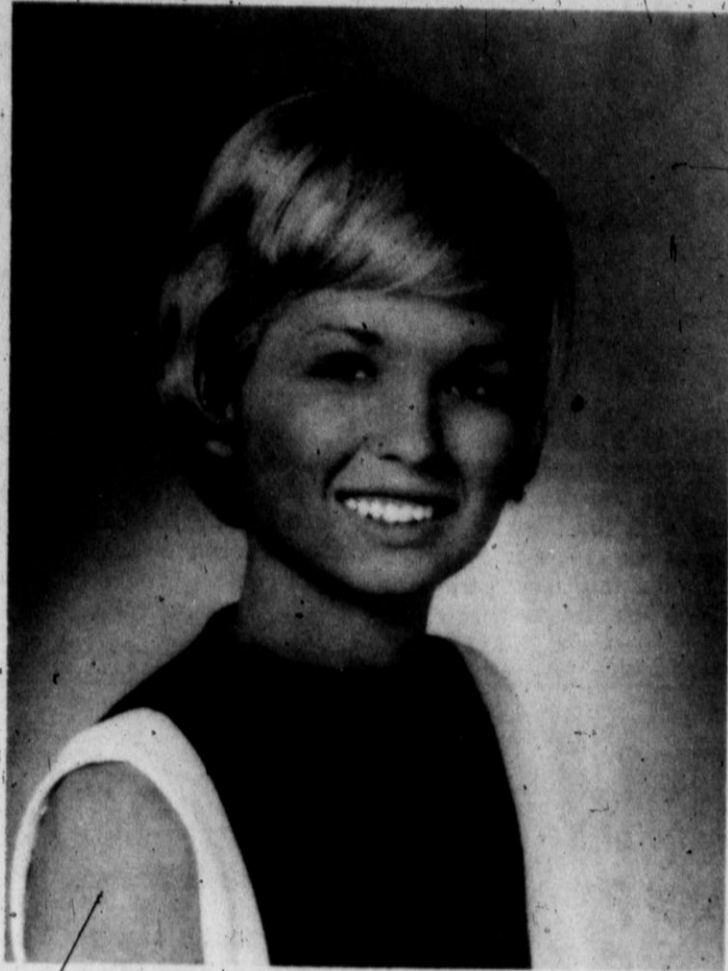

Could be he has a point there. However, let's wait until the wind quits blowing. Right now, we're not sure whose trash we're cleaning up — ours or the fellow down the alley.

—HB—

By the way, we're happy to see the improvement being made along Tierra Blanca Creek on city property. Much improvement has been made and we understand that more will be done as fast as they can get to it and, as long as they have sufficient funds in the budget to continue. This is the property that was donated to the city by the American Legion and has been designated as a park area.

—HB—

Happiness, we're told, can't buy money.

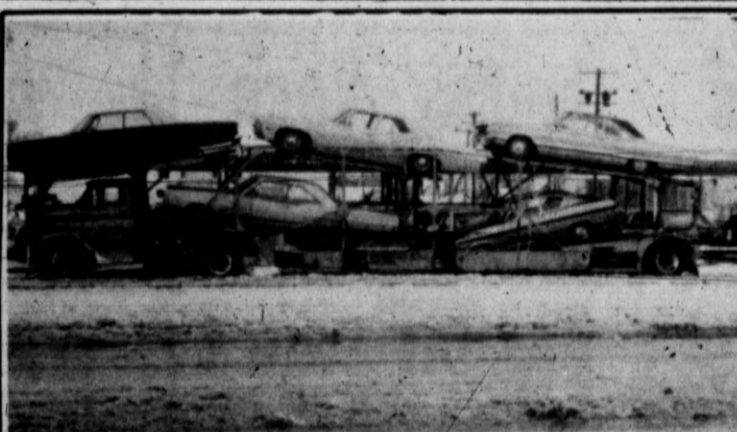

IS ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Clearman, Box 1367, Hereford, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Carole, to Stewart Neblett, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Neblett of Houston. Vows will be exchanged June 20 in the First United Methodist Church with Rev. Clifford Trotter officiating. Both have attended Southwestern University and are now attending the University of Texas in Austin. Miss Clearman is a 1967 graduate of Hereford High School and Neblett is a 1967 graduate of Robert E. Lee High School.

Record crowds have been attending the revival services at Frio Baptist Church the past week. An estimated 250 persons have been present at most evening services. Preaching has been Mike Riley, a Baylor student and Music director is Andy Bellows. Services are scheduled to run through Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Bellows and Riley are staying at the Olin Parris home at night and visiting others during day-time.

Karen Hamanaka, a sophomore student at Baylor, is spending the Easter holidays with Debbie Ogan.

Visiting the Ogans Monday night were Mr. and Mrs. Lemon Nall and Lore of Salida. Monday afternoon visitors of the Ogans were Mr. and Mrs. John Peoples, also of Salida. The Peoples were here to attend funeral services for her brother Monday afternoon. Mr. Wesson Monday afternoon. Mr. Wesson died Saturday at Dimmitt after several weeks illness. The funeral was in Dimmitt's First Baptist Church.

Both the Peoples and Nall families are friends of the Ogans from the years the Ogans pastored the Salida Baptist Church several years ago.

Mrs. Arthur Blackburn and her brother, Carlyle Sargent, returned this week from several days stay at Dallas, where their sister-in-law, Mrs. Raymond Sargent is seriously ill. Mrs. Sargent underwent back surgery several days ago and was reported to have pneumonia.

Mrs. H. M. Mobley and Austin Mobley returned the first of the week from a visit with the Raymond and Don families at Farmington, N. M. Mrs. Mobley has been there a week and Austin went during the weekend. Carla, daughter of the Raymond Mobleys, is attending Draught's Business College, Amarillo, and visited the Mobleys during the weekend.

Ben Drager of Oklahoma City and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vogler and the Harold Voglers, of Lamesa were among wedding guests of the E. F. Voglers for the marriage of their daughter, Mary Ann, to Lynn Fisher Friday night. The Dragers and Voglers were guests in the Vogler home at dinner on Saturday, also.

Harry James Vogler was hoping to come home the last of the week from Deaf Smith County hospital, where he has been since undergoing surgery Monday.

Frio Homemakers Club met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Harlan Barber. The program was given by Mrs. Jackie Andrews and was on the subject of fashion trends and popular new materials. Others attending were Mrs. T. L. Sparkman Jr., Mrs. Eugene Baldwin, Mrs. Sam Ogan, Mrs. Owen Andrews, Mrs. Chesley Johnston, Mrs. David Yandell, Mrs. Easley, Mrs. Frank Robbins, Mrs. Annie Springer, Mrs. Wayne Nelson, Mrs. Andy Bellows and Miss Darlene Sparkman.

The next meeting will be April 14, at the home of Mrs. Owen Andrews and will feature a guest speaker.

How to look for mortgage money and not find it.
By all means, go look for it yourself.
Not all lending institutions are in the mortgage business.
And in those days of tight money, not all of those that are have money to lend.
But there is mortgage money available, if you know how to find it.
That's where we come in. We're Realtors.
We may know of a house for sale where you can assume the existing mortgage. Or a lending institution with money available. Or a private investor who's interested.
In every case, we're pledged to a strict code of ethics. In your best interest.
So use us to your best advantage. That's what we're here for.

Kite Contest To Be Held April 12

If someone tells you to go fly a kite the next few days, make plans. The Hereford Evening Lions Club is sponsoring a kite flying contest April 12 and entry forms must be filled out and returned by April 6.
The contest will be open for those being the junior division and the senior division. Eligible for the junior division will be anyone 4-12 years of age and the senior division will be for anyone 13 and up.

Deadline for entering the contest is April 6 and entry forms may be obtained from any of the city's schools, including St. Anthony's.
Ribbons will be presented the winners in each of the five contest categories. Ribbons will be given for the largest kite, the smallest, the one that stays up the longest, the one that goes up the highest and the most unusual.
Evening Lions officers said that all kites entered in the contest must be flyable.
Junior division flying will be gin at 1-30 and conclude at 2:30 p.m. and senior entries will send their kites up at 3 and bring them down at 4.

For The Sake of Your Child's Future Educational Needs

We Encourage You To Vote

FOR

The Creation of A
JUNIOR COLLEGE
DISTRICT

SATURDAY, APRIL 4th

◦ The only proposition that will be considered Saturday, April 4th concerning the junior college question is the actual creation of a Junior College District, contingent with the boundaries of the Hereford Independent School District. This is not a vote for bonds or the levying of taxes.

◦ The Citizens Committee for the Creation of a Junior College District feel that if this proposition fails, we will not have the opportunity again to gain a junior college for our area. We also feel that without a junior college here, many of our youngsters will be denied the opportunity to continue their education due to the crowding conditions of the 4-year schools. It may well be that, unless your youngster is in the top 10 percent of his high school class, he will not be admitted to the present state supported institutions.

◦ We feel that the creation of a junior college for our area will not only help the students graduating from high school who want to further their education but it will greatly benefit adults of the area who wish to take night courses and vocational educational courses. We believe that every employer in the area will benefit through the furthering of training of employees and the availability of young people who might wish to take part-time jobs.

◦ We feel that a junior college located in Hereford will keep our area strong economically and will encourage the further expansion of our industrial community, keeping the tax structure sound through increased valuations and help keep ad valorem taxes low.

◦ We feel that a junior college here will keep our young people at home longer, allowing them more time to mature before they are faced with the many problems encountered when entering a 4-year school. We believe that two more years of parental control might well mean the difference between a mature, stable, responsible tax-paying citizen, and the alternative — the irresponsible hippie - type that seems to abound on our college campuses today.

◦ We feel that it is in the interest of all citizens of the Hereford Independent School District to go to the polls Saturday, April 4 and cast a ballot FOR our children — VOTE FOR THE CREATION OF A JUNIOR COLLEGE DISTRICT.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Don Edelman are the parents of a daughter, Kimberly Dawn, born March 9. She weighed 7 lbs. 2 oz.

Miss Cynthia Ann Beene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Beene, Route 1, Hereford, and David Frederic Summers, son of Mrs. Frederic G. Summers of Ingram and the late Mr. Summers, were married Saturday in the George Warner home, 805 North Main.

The double ring ceremony was read by Dr. Gerald Mann, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

A pedestal bouquet of stock and white carnations, flanked by arrangements of greenery lighted by tapers burning in seven-branched candelabra marked the place of ceremony in the living room.

Miss Elise Beene was her sister's maid of honor and Albert

Kennedy of Ingram was best man.

Ushers were Gordon Summers of Marshall, Tex. brother of the bridegroom; and David Doss of Sul Ross University.

The bride's young sister, Christie Beene, and her brother, Stephen, served as flower girl and ring bearer.

Another sister, Miss Beverly Beene, and Chester Gentry, a cousin were candle lighters.

A program of nuptial music was presented at the organ by Miss Patricia Ball of Lubbock, cousin of the bride and Hubert Gentry Jr. of Houston, read selections from "Honey and Salt" (Sandburg) and "Sonnets From the Portuguese" (Browning).

Given in marriage by her father, the bride's princess gown of white silk organza over peau de soie was styled with a chapel length Watteau train. Re-embroidered Alencon lace formed the yoke, ring collar and circled the pyramid skirt. Her chapel length veil of English net was bordered with scalloped lace medallions and fell from a satin Camelot cap. She carried a cascade bouquet of glamelias and Lily of the Valley with trailing English ivy.

Her only jewelry was her engagement ring which had been handed down from bridegroom's mother, and she carried out the tradition of "something old, new, borrowed and blue and a sixpence in her shoe.

The feminine attendants wore formal gowns of yellow chiffon over peau de soie designed with portrait neckline and A-line skirt. The empire bodice was complimented by a satin band, belted at the back with bows.

The maid of honor carried a bouquet of white daisies and baby's breath and were matching flowers as a headpiece. The candlelighter and flower girl wore single daisy blossoms in their hair.

The reception honoring the bride and groom was held at the Hereford Country Club where guests were registered by Miss Julia Gentry of Houston, cousin of the bride.

Three serving tables decorated in yellow and white carried out the chosen colors of the bride. Each table was laid with net with swags caught at the corners with Lily of the Valley and greenery. The service table was centered with an arrangement of rosebuds, daisies and baby's breath and a four-branched silver candelabra holding white tapers.

The bride's table held the bride's bouquet and a three-tiered wedding cake decorated with yellow rosebuds and topped with the traditional bride and groom.

The bridegroom's table held the maid of honor's bouquet and a layered chocolate cake.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Hubert Gentry Jr. of Houston, Mrs. Gordon Summers of Marshall, Miss Paula Gipson of Garden City, Kan., and Miss Diane Bently of Wichita Falls.

Others assisting were Misses Gwendolyn Flache and Linda Huffines, both of Lubbock.

Following a brief wedding trip the couple will be at home in Lubbock where they will continue their education at Texas Tech.

For traveling the bride wore a navy linen A-line dress with navy shoes. Her glamelia corsage was lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a foods-nutrition major and will graduate cum laude in May. She is a member of Phi Kappa Phi and Phi Upsilon Omicron.

The bridegroom is an electrical engineering major at the university where he is a member of Institute of Electronics and Electrical Engineers.

Out-of-town wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Gentry, Shallowater; Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Gentry Jr. and family, Houston; Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Beene, Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. Preston Beene, Roby; Mrs. Jack Ball and Chris, Mesquite; Mrs. G. L. Beene, Fort Worth; Mrs. Jim Humphries and children, Edgewood; Mrs. Lorena Basham, Glendale, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Summers Marshall, Mrs. Fred Struben and Mrs. Owen McBride, Houston; and John Rollins, Lubbock.

Following the reception, a wedding supper for the couple and their families was held in the George Warner home.

Rice bags of yellow net tied with yellow satin ribbon were distributed by young female guests.

Art Guild Observes Art Week

The Hereford Art Guild met Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church. Religious Art pictures were on display for Festival of Religious Art Week.

Mrs. Juston McBride presented the program on a Spanish Artist, Francisco Goya. She gave a history of his life and paintings and slides of his works were viewed.

Refreshments were served to sixteen members and one guest, Mitch Guinn, by hostesses Mrs. Herbert Friemel and Mrs. Ludwig Kovaks.

Williams-Westphalen Wedding Solemnized

Marriage vows of Miss Fanelda Sheryl Williams of Denison, Iowa and Russell James Westphalen of Kiron, Iowa were spoken in a double ring ceremony at First Christian Church here at twilight Saturday, with the Rev. Eugene Brink conducting the service.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. John Carl Williams of Hereford and the late Mr. Williams, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Edlef Westphalen.

After the wedding and reception the newlyweds left on a trip which will take them to Kiron, Iowa, where they will be at home after March 31.

A bouquet of white gladioli and pink carnations and a white satin kneeling bench formed the background for the ceremony, with flanking tapers and palm trees.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her brother, Delmo Williams.

She was attended by Miss Carol Ann Kreebone of Jefferson, S.D. as her maid of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Edward De Lozier of Hereford, sister of the bride, and Miss Frances Whitson of Spearman.

Larry Westphalen of Burlington, Iowa, served his brother as best man and groomsmen were Dennis Kuhlmann of Ricketts, Iowa and Dean Teut of Charter Oak, Iowa.

Guests were ushered by Duane

Williams of Amarillo, Arvell Williams of Hereford, both brothers of the bride; and Edward De Lozier.

Rings were carried to the altar on a heart-shaped pillow made by the bridegroom's grandmother, by Don DeLozier, nephew of the bride; and candies were lighted by Arvell Williams and Duane Williams.

Wedding music was by Mrs. Joe Hacker, organist, and she accompanied Ben Gollehon as he sang "A Pledge" (Black), "A Wedding Blessing" (Carlson) and "The Lord's Prayer" (Mallote).

The bride wore a gown of white bridal taffeta with appliques of sequin-studded lace at the rounding neckline, at the empire waistline and scattered on the front of the floor-length skirt. A chapel train, attached at the natural waistline, complimented the gown. Her shoulder length veil of illusion was held by a crown of pearls and she carried an all-white nosegay of roses and crystal chrysanthemums.

She carried out the tradition of "something old, new, borrowed and blue with a penny in her slipper which was from her father's collection dated the year of her birth.

Pink satin made the formal gowns of the gemine attendants with rose velvet sashes marking the empire waistline.

They carried nosegays of pink carnations with rose streamers.

The reception honoring the bride and groom was held immediately following the ceremony in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

White net over satin covered the service table which held the bouquets of the bride and her attendants. The three-tiered wedding cake, surmounted by the traditional bride and groom was served by Miss Pat May of Panhandle. Punch was ladled by Mrs. Lynn Cook of Austin.

Wedding guests were registered by Mrs. William Johnson of Hereford.

For traveling the bride wore a three-piece navy-blue knit suit with red and white trim. Her accessories were white.

The bride was graduated from Hereford High School and West Texas State University. She is employed by the Office of Special Education in Storm Lake, Iowa and serves as a speech clinician for Crawford County.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Schleswig High School and is currently engaged in farming.

How Much Do We Care?

Many selfish reasons for approving a community and vocational-technical college for Hereford undoubtedly exist. Most business and professional people can make money by it. Most families with children can save on educational costs while assuring training for their children beyond the high school level. Many adults of all ages would take advantage of new educational opportunities to attend both day and evening classes.

But realizing the dream of a community college to serve the educational needs of thousands of residents throughout the years—people otherwise doomed to remain undereducated and underemployed — may well rest with the unselfish people of Hereford who are able to look beyond themselves and their immediate self-interest to help many who are not capable of helping themselves.

—How many people have ever dreamed of helping needy young people get a college education or training that would prepare them to hold good jobs and become useful citizens?

—How many have dreamed, intending no particular benefit to themselves, of helping their community become a better place in which to live?

—How many have wanted to see conditions changed so that people can lift themselves up by their own bootstraps and make themselves useful, taxpaying citizens rather than potential welfare cases?

—Who has not thought at one time or another of making contributions to the general welfare of the society in which he lives?

One of the greatest opportunities to be a good citizen ever afforded the people of Hereford is offered by the election to create a junior college district April 4. Few gifts or contributions to the betterment of individuals or the community will match in returns an unselfish vote for the proposed community and vocational technical college here. The individual cost is so little for such great cumulative benefits. Support creation of a junior college district. Urge your neighbors and friends to do so.

GOOD FOOD IS MY LINE
By Red Hagan

When you sit down to your winter holiday feast of turkey and all the trimmings, I suppose like most of us, you look back nostalgically to that first Thanksgiving which the Pilgrim fathers celebrated by feasting on a bird native to their new-found homes. You think, how wonderful it is that we're still carrying on in the same old tradition by eating the same meal as your ancestors. It isn't my desire to disillusion you, but nothing could be further from the truth. That turkey you eat at Thanksgiving or Christmas time is even more of a foreigner than the Pilgrims were when they landed. He's an import from Mexico who landed in the United States later via Europe. Improved by many generations of selective breeding, this is your imported holiday meal.

Veterans Turn To Panorama Of War

To Risks Unknown
by Douglas Reeman

In 1943 the war for the Allies had reached a turning point. There was to be no more retreat, no more pride in mere survival, but an all-out effort to carry the war to the enemy's territory, to seek and destroy him on his own ground.

From the captured bases and makeshift harbors in North Africa the men of Britain's Royal Navy's Special Force were to be the probes of each major attack. They were an odd collection and as varied as their ships in which they carried the war far beyond the enemy defenses. But theirs was a strange war where almost overnight the amateurs had become the professionals.

To the unorthodox battle-ground came the little corvette Thistle and her new commanding officer, John Crespin. Both were veterans. She was from the savagery of the Atlantic, and he from the torment of seeing his last command destroyed and her company murdered in cold blood.

He had to overcome his inner despair, to hold down his resentment at being under the command of a man already too long exposed to close combat and seemingly tainted by the very enemy he has fought and above all, to weld his little ship into a single unit in order for her to survive.

The mounting struggle carries them deeper into the enemy's territory, to the remote Adriatic islands where partisans and guerrillas can see no farther than the rape of their own lands, where the only common factor is an overwhelming hatred of their enemy.

The whole panorama of war—and especially of war at that time—was made up of individual episodes. No one can tell how much difference each made to the whole or, indeed, if some were necessary at all.

This is the story of one such episode, of a ship and the eighty men of her company who, when the time came, forgot differences and made the best of it.

The Garlic Tree
by Ellen Bromfield Geid

When Anni Banerof married Jacinto Madureira, she left a tradition-bound Connecticut background and a predictably privileged future for his family's fazenda in Brazil's vast and unpredictable Mato Grosso.

Terra de Pau D'Alho, Brazilians call it, the land of the Garlic Tree, the symbol of good earth, rich with promise for those who understand its true value. It is also a forgotten land, ignored by all but a few like the Madureiras who struggle against the harsh indifference of the wilderness to create a civilization in its midst.

Mexican Pottery May Be Poison

Homemakers can test their own Mexican pottery to detect harmful lead in the glaze. The lead can cause severe illness through lead poisoning.

Recently the Food and Drug Administration warned that continued use of some Mexican pottery or earthenware for food purposes could cause lead poisoning.

Lead is a cumulative poison so it is essential for people to take all steps possible to see that lead intake is kept to a minimum, according to Frances Reasonover, Extension foods and nutrition specialist at Texas A&M University.

The homemaker can place vinegar in the dish or casserole and let it stand overnight. The dish should be only partly filled with vinegar so she can easily see if there is any difference in the glaze below the vinegar line, says the specialist.

If she detects a change in the glaze, the dish should be used only for non-acid foods. Acid foods include fruits such as tomatoes and citrus fruits and vegetables such as green beans, spinach and broccoli. If the homemaker wishes to bake in the pottery, Miss Reasonover suggests lining the dish with aluminum foil.

Pottery that shows a rough or dull glaze rather than a glossy one gives the most lead when mildly acid solutions are placed in it, Miss Reasonover says. She recommends that the careful consumer test any highly glazed dishes before using them for foods with a high acid content.

The warning has been conveyed to all state health authorities as the first in a series of steps to remove hazardous products from the market. Action is based on FDA's legal responsibility to protect the health of the U. S. consumer the specialist adds.

The U. S. government has informed the Mexican authorities of these measures in order to cooperate in finding a solution to the problem.

FDA chemists test glazes with a five per cent acetic acid solution. They let the acid stand overnight in the dish then analyze the solution for lead. In all of the dishes they have tested lead showed up when the glaze had been visibly dulled by the acid solution.

The first message transmitted by telegraph between Baltimore and Washington on May 24, 1844 was: "What hath God wrought."

Saturday's Vote: On District, Not Taxes

When voters go to the polls next Saturday, April 4, concerning the proposed junior college, it will be for the sole purpose of creating a district. This election will have nothing to do with bonds or with indebtedness. These things will come later on down the line. We mention this because people keep talking about taxes.

What's more, we think this is good. All of us know that the question must be faced sooner or later. We also feel it equitable and just that people have a right to oppose this, or any other development, especially where taxation is involved.

It is a bit contradictory however, when someone tells you that he favors education, that a junior college would be "fine... wonderful," but "can we afford it?"

What gave us the greatest civilization and the most luxurious living conditions mankind has ever known? The answer is mass education. How did we develop the automobile, television and atomic energy? What put our astronauts on the moon? Was it pinching pennies, or was it education? When America, the State of Texas, or Deaf Smith County can no longer afford education, there can be only one answer: We have become so self-centered that we are digging our own graves.

Few of us realize just how much the world is changing. This emphasizes education all the more, especially on the local level. America, and particularly our area, is crying for mechanics, plumbers, carpenters, electricians and other skilled workmen. To us, this is the forgotten phase of the proposed college. Like the 39 other junior colleges scheduled for Texas, the one here would offer transferrable credits to major colleges and universities but, even more important, it would provide training in skilled trades such as the ones mentioned above. Continued adult education and night classes are other important avenues it would open for the community.

In a mad howl about money, too many of us cannot see the forest for the trees. No one likes to pay taxes, but we should remember that education provides the only means of cutting them down.

All of us know full well that federal income taxes — not local taxes — afford our big, bad bugaboo. "If and when" our income tax schedules drop to any extent, it will come after we educate our population to the point they can hold responsible jobs for which there is now such great need. Only through shifting people from the liability of relief rolls into assets as fellow tax payers can we hope for relief along this line. Furthermore, why shouldn't these people pay their pro-rata share of the costs of living in this great nation?

In addition, area costs seem to have been exaggerated at times. Taxes on a $20,000 home would be raised $52.00 a year. Since this is deductible from income taxes, the average owner would save around $13.00, thus reducing the actual expense to $39.00 a year — or $3.25 a month. On 100 acres of irrigated land, the tax would increase $45.00 a year, with a likely net deduction on income tax of $18.00 to $22.50.

If this strikes you as outrageously expensive, take a look at the approximate 600 students from this community who are presently attending colleges and universities at an average cost of $3,000 each. More than 300 are freshmen and sophomores, a category which may soon be forced into junior colleges somewhere. With tuition at $100 each, and by living at home, residents of this community immediately chalk up a saving of $2,900 per student or a total of $870,000 a year — $1,740,000 saved by local people over the two-year period. That money normally spent on food, clothing, cleaning, miscellaneous expenses, etc. would at least be spent at home. Furthermore, of the senior students surveyed in our local high school, more than 75 per cent indicated an interest in attending a local college.

From the wealthy people, who can best afford to send their children to college, apparently stems greatest opposition. This is unusual because most of them are in a high income tax bracket, and can automatically cut any additional local taxes sharply. Frankly, we doubt if a single one of them will be denied a trip to Europe, a fur coat, or a new Cadillac when the district is created and, even if they were, their money could go to no better cause.

In addition, approximately 65 per cent of the taxes in this district are paid by business, industry and city home owners. And it is because of the growth in this area that the last elementary school was constructed without the need of raising taxes, and also the reason our local Independent School District taxes are among the lowest in the area.

The proposed junior college is probably the greatest opportunity this community has ever been offered. We are fortunate, indeed, to join the vanguard in the new "technical-arts" system of education which originated in New York and California, and which is rapidly blanketing the entire nation. The opportunity comes to us because of our past record of meeting the challenge of progress, based on the fact that:

A community either moves forward, or goes backward. It never stands still, or coasts indefinitely.

Red Cross Month

President Nixon has proclaimed March as National Red Cross Month, so it seems appropriate to look at the Deaf Smith County chapter of the American Red Cross and those who have given their efforts to make it of maximum effectiveness.

Residents of the county who have volunteered their time to make the local Red Cross chapter successful are not the least of the assets of Deaf Smith County.

A special salute to these:
—Eleven first aid instructors who took advantage of training offered by a national instructor-trainer and now offer themselves as instructors to others interested in learning how to cope with situations requiring knowledge of first aid. Curtis Traweck is chairman of the First Aid committee.

—Seventeen instructors and aides who spent more than 570 hours last summer teaching 486 children and 160 adults how to swim and how to handle themselves in and around swimming pools and lakes — whether while swimming or in a boat. The volunteers will be available again this summer. Doris Rush is water safety chairman.

—Thirteen registered nurses who have received their Red Cross badge, which means they have each attended Red Cross orientation classes and given at least 20 hours of volunteer service.

—Six mother and baby care instructors and one home nursing instructor. Mrs. Glen Anderson is chairman of nursing services.

—Twenty uniformed volunteers available for any service contributing to the morale of any group, for duty in disaster, for promotion of the welfare of persons stricken by any type of misfortune, and for service to those in the military and their families. Jerry Jackson is chairman of the group.

—A disaster committee, of which Buddy Bloomer is chairman, which provide training to 35 persons a year ago through a disaster workshop in Hereford. Mrs. Ralph Owens is the nurse on the committee.

—A caseworker, Genevieve Miller, who provides trained service to military families on a 24-hour-a-day basis when it is needed; and two duty workers on call if she is unavailable.

—The Deaf Smith County American Red Cross Youth, directed by Mrs. Clint Formby. Through funds received from enrollment programs and talent shows, the volunteers contribute to the relief of sick and starving children throughout the world, to Girlstown and Boys' Ranch, to families stricken by disaster, to the needy, and to the recreational needs of patients in veterans' administration hospitals.

—A 24-person board of directors, which governs the activities of the hundreds of Deaf Smith County volunteers. Bartley Dowell is chairman.

Anyone interested in joining the team of volunteers or in receiving instruction in any of the areas the Red Cross is devoting itself may contact the Red Cross office in Hereford or any of the chairmen.

National Red Cross Month has a strong local flavor in Deaf Smith County.

"HOW ABOUT GIVING ME A HAND"

Connally Urges Industry To Move To Rural Areas

Former Gov. John Connally told the annual meeting of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association last week that the government should sponsor relocation movements to get industry out of overcrowded cities and into rural areas.

Otherwise, he said, the situation in the cities soon will become unbearably tense. He urged more economic development in rural areas by government and private enterprise to ease the stress on urban areas and on the residents who live there more by necessity than by choice.

The former Texas governor, now a Houston attorney, was one of several speakers who addressed the 93rd annual meeting of the TSWCA in Corpus Christi. Gov. Preston Smith and W. D. Farr, president of the American National Cattlemen's Association, also spoke.

Frank H. Lewis of Bay City was chosen president at the meeting, attended by more than 1,000 members and visitors.

Among the stronger actions the membership took was to endorse the proposed constitutional amendment to allow an alternate means of evaluating agricultural and timberlands for tax purposes. Taxation based on income producing value rather than potential sale value has long been advocated by cattlemen.

Outgoing President T. L. Roach, Jr. expressed the optimistic mood of the cattlemen.

"Recently in the last 12 to 18 months, most of us have been getting by a little better than we have for some years. I am not saying that prosperity is here in all its glory but I do believe that the producer, cow-calf and stocker operator in the next few years will find himself in a more optimistic position than has been the case in the last few years," he said.

Elected first vice president of the TSCRA was William C. Donnell, Marathon; and Hilmar G. Moore of Richmond was named second vice president. Don C. King was re-elected secretary-general manager.

New directors are John Armstrong of Kingsville, L. E. "Sonny" Nance of Fort Worth, William B. Blakemore II of Midland, J. E. Birdwell Jr. of Lubbock, Leon Locke of Hungerford, James L. Donnell of Fowler, and J. I. Cartwright Jr. of Terrell.

Farr said the relative economic position of the cattlemen is the most favorable it has been in recent years. With proper restraint on the part of producers and feeders; he said, existing price levels can be maintained.

Governor Smith outlined in his presentation his Goals for Texas program. The program is an attempt to give a full dollar in service from the state for every tax dollar received. This plan is geared to develop from the grass roots a state government aimed to build a better place in which its residents live, work and raise children. Hereford is not represented among the regions which recommend new goals.

The 1971 meeting is scheduled for Fort Worth. The membership voted to return to Houston for the TSCRA 1972 meeting.

Talk of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE

LOVE STORY — Every Thursday night for more than 40 years, a huge bonfire used to burn on a ridge outside of Fort Davis, in Jeff Davis County.

It was a signal fire built by a beautiful Mexican girl named Dolores as a sign of her constancy and faithfulness to a lover she could never marry.

Older residents of Jeff Davis County, in the barren Davis Mountains, recall seeing "the love fires of Dolores" when they were children. The fires began in the late 1860's when a Mexican cowboy remembered only as Jose fell in love with Dolores. Each night as he herded his cattle, he built a bonfire on a mountaintop as a signal of his love.

On a Wednesday night before their planned wedding the next day, Jose lit his usual signal fire. But during the night, Apache Indians attacked his camp and he was killed. Instead of going to her wedding on Thursday, Dolores went to a funeral.

The following Thursday night, Dolores built a signal fire on a mountain outside of town as a message of constancy to her dead lover. She continued to light a fire each Thursday night until her own death about the turn of the century.

WHAT'S IN A NAME? — Hermleigh, in Scurry County, has had its ups and downs over what to call itself.

Because R. C. Herm and Harry W. Harlin gave land in 1907 on which to locate the town, the citizens asked the post office to name it "Hermelin" to honor both. Washington authorities refused and changed it to Hermleigh.

During World War I, however, local patriots decided that a name with German origins wasn't proper and petitioned Washington to rename the town Foch after the famous French general. The change was approved.

When the war ended and the town's fighting men returned home, they decided that they didn't like the new name. In 1921, they again petitioned the post office to change the name back to Hermleigh. Washington agreed, and it has been Hermleigh since.

65 YEARS AGO — 1905

Jacob B. Morrison, the famous scientific lecturer of Greenville, Ohio, is scheduled to be in Hereford April 14th and will deliver his famous lecture on "Air, Sunshine and Showers" and the Wireless Telegraphy. . . . On Monday morning, just as day was breaking, someone tried to make his entrance into the residence of Byrle Elliston, north of town. The attempt was made at the rear door and would doubtless have proved successful had Byrle not appeared on the scene with Winchester and sent a volley of seven shots whizzing after the retreating figure, neither shot taking effect.

50 YEARS AGO — 1920

Last Thursday afternoon at four o'clock, a representative number of ex-servicemen met at the courthouse and organized the Tierra Blanca Post of the American Legion. . . . The second annual Father and Son Banquet of the Presbyterian-Christian Churches of Hereford followed the precedent of the first annual banquet held in 1919 in sending an overflow crowd with the feeling that this world is a good place in which to live after all. . . . At a meeting last week of interested citizens, a committee was appointed to go over the books of the Hereford Power and Light Company and make a report to the City Commission as to the company's request for a raise in rates for this city.

35 YEARS AGO — 1935

A decrease of two children is shown for this year in the census of Hereford Independent School District. There are 879 scholastics this year; there were 881 last year. . . . A pair of leisurely robbers literally moved in on R. G. Wiseman, aged farmer living five miles north of town, Sunday night. After binding him and taking $20 in cash from his person they nonchalantly loaded his truck with his wheat from his granary and drove away. . . . Restrictions on planting of wheat for 1935 crop and uses of contracted acreage have been modified by the Department of Agriculture.

30 YEARS AGO — 1940

The Red Cross still needs $483. That is how close they are again to making it in Deaf Smith County. . . . Hereford city officials and Chamber of Commerce directors met in a lengthy session Thursday night in an effort to work out a national procedure for sales and distribution of Hereford wheat which would be satisfactory to all concerned. . . . Don Wilcox, who was working on a telephone pole he was electrically working on.

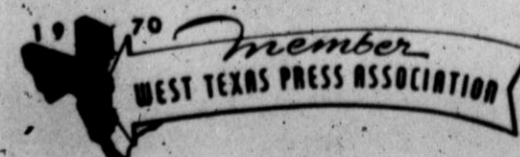

5 YEARS AGO — 1965

An 18-year-old youth remains in critical condition Saturday with multiple gunshot sustained Thursday night melee at the labor camp. Nicol Garcia was one of two youths wounded in an outbreak that sheriff's office authorities believe resulted from a family quarrel. . . . Joe Bradley, Texas Employment Commission manager, feeling his way along like everyone else in the wake of cancellation of the bracero program, said Thursday that the farm labor situation in this area has been one of "so far, so good."

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm tackles or dodges, we can't tell which, a traffic problem.

Dear editor:
I know that when a man is broke he's not very interested in talking about money and by the same token I have a feeling people are getting tired of reading about pollution and traffic congestion. Mainly they want something done about it immediately so long as somebody else does it, but I can't help reporting on a proposed solution to the traffic problem on Wall Street.

According to an item in a newspaper that turned up on this Johnsongrass farm yesterday, some brain on Wall Street, noticing how much congestion occurs when 35,000 stock broker employees leave their offices at quitting time at 5 o'clock every afternoon, hit on the idea of letting them out half an hour earlier to beat the rush-hour congestion.

This makes sense. I'm in favor not only of quitting half an hour early when you can, I'm in favor of knocking off at noon on some days and not even starting on others, but some Wall Street efficiency expert up there said, all right, if we let them quit half an hour early in the afternoons they'll have to start half an hour early in the mornings.

It's this type of thinking that makes me glad I'm where I am. If a man has to get up half an hour earlier in the morning to beat a traffic jam in the afternoon, in other words has to lose sleep to fight the problem, it seems to me the problem is the winner.

It's like the agricultural experts. They're always telling farmers how they ought to improve their pastures so their ows will do better, but what I want is for them to be working on a cow that'll do better on what I've got to offer. Invariably they put all the work on me instead of the cow.

I've tried for years to get this point over, but nobody pays any attention to it.

As Shakespeare almost said, truth crushed to earth frequently lies there unrecognized.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Glady's Garden

By Gladys Howton Manjeot

"I hold that the best purpose of a garden is to give delight, to give refreshment of mind, to soothe, to refine, and to lift up the heart in a spirit of praise and thankfulness."

—Gertrude Jekyll
Today has been such a beautiful day, that it has certainly been difficult for me to stay in the house and do the necessary household chores. I would much have preferred to be outside and to dig in the good earth, and pull weeds. Did take a bit of time off and cleaned up some trash, and dead materials, also pulled a few weeds, but the home-work has to be done, so Glad has been house-bound, you might say.

Gardening is such a fascinating and satisfying hobby, yet there is much to be done as one plans and plants.

To the new home owner, who is thinking of having a garden, may I say that it is MOST important to carefully plan every step that is made and everything that is done for the garden. Careful planning of a garden, large or small, is far more important than the average beginner realizes.

If, before the actual work of planting were started, more were given to matters of design, the kinds of plants to be used and their arrangement, much disappointment and expense would be avoided and more good gardens would grace our city, suburban and country homes.

In this field, and in many others, a little foresight is worth a great deal. Changing plantings of trees, shrubs and evergreens and altering such basic features as paths, terraces, rock gardens, fountain areas, and other featured areas (after they are installed), will prove very expensive, and even sometimes prohibitive. Take time, give sufficient thought, and seek to visualize what the outcome will be.

The first step is to plan the garden and the complete landscape design on paper. Then develop it. Don't get in a big hurry, take each step slowly and thoughtfully. Select the best of plant materials, seeds, and bulbs.

I would much prefer to have three good roses, of fine stock, and selection than to have a half-dozen mediocre quality plants. It pays in many ways to purchase or use the best. Glad's garden can't.

It is my sincere hope that all residents, and businesses, will have a bit of a garden or planting, and enter wholeheartedly into the beautification and cleanup campaign which the Ladies Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring. Hereford can be one of the loveliest and nicest towns in the southwest, if we will but purpose in our hearts to do our part.

Very soon the contest voting for the Beauty Spot of Hereford and or area will start. How will your garden and premises rate?

Perhaps you would like to know how the Beauty Spot is selected. With the permission and aid of the Beautification Committee I am giving some of the steps by which it is selected.

First, a committee composed of interested and informed people, consisting of both men and women, are appointed by the Beautification Committee.

Second, these persons are then given a chart or score rating used in evaluating the selection. The following points are those which are in the scoring:

Neatness and Cleanliness—20 points

I. General appearance—50 points

Relationship of plantings—20 points

Balance and unity (design of landscape enters into this)—10 points

II. Harmony of the over all picture—25 points

Color accent and harmony—15 points

Relationship or harmony with architecture—10 points

III. Beauty—25 points

Eye appeal—15 points

Overall effectiveness—10 points

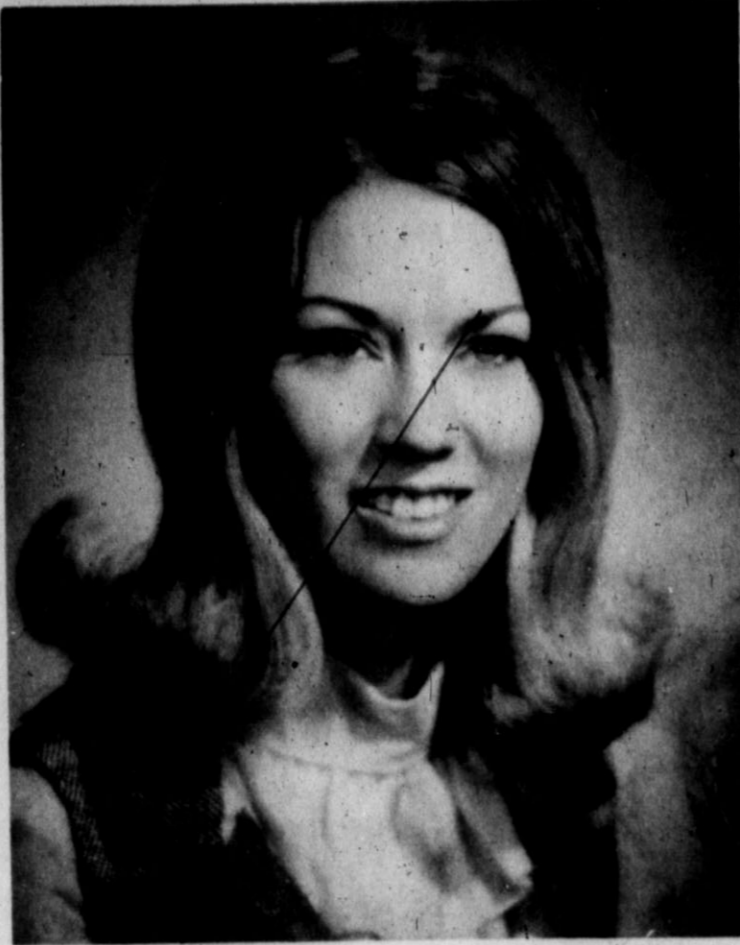

Total points—100.

The Beauty spot will be chosen April through December. Christmas decorations not considered. Same choices to be made within the county of Deaf Smith. The committee for selections will carefully seek out the Beauty Spot, Conference, and evaluation follows. This is not done just for a day, but throughout the entire month various sightseeing tours are made, and much study give to the selection. Once a year it is the desire of the Beautification Committee, that a rural home and nonresident selection be made by the committee.

The same resident garden can not be selected more frequently than three years, and the non-resident every two years.

The committee works under the sponsorship of The Ladies Chamber of Commerce, and a coordinator from that organization.

Keep in mind the above listed points, and remember that the attractiveness of the chosen place adds beauty and interest to the town and country. Also please know that the landscaping need not be elaborate or expensive. Cost of such either in the residential selection or the non-resident will not have influence in the final choice.

IS ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. Joe Peters, 600 Avenue F, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Susan, to Frederick Bubeck, son of Mrs. Paula Bubeck of Houston, Texas. A spring wedding is set. Miss Peters is a graduate of St. Scholastica Academy, Fort Smith, Arkansas, has received a degree from the University of Houston, and is now teaching Junior High Mathematics there. Bubeck is presently in Los Angeles with the United States Army.

Stanton Choirs Are In Contest

This is truly a worthwhile project which the Ladies Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring and personally I am grateful to them. This project has added much to the beauty and cleanliness of Hereford for a number of years. Take it as a challenge, and let us all work together to beautify and clean up our home town.

The selected flower to feature in the planting this season is the PETUNIA. (More about this particular flower next week.)

In keeping with the Clean-Up and Beautification campaign Glad is going to use slogans (both in English and Spanish) as a closing thought. When you read them, think on the message therein, then share with a friend or neighbor, and if Spanish friends, please call their attention to the slogan.

Hereford the Beautiful—KEEP it that way.
Hereford la hermosa—mantengala asi.

Census Forms Out

The first step of the headcount of the Panhandle for the 1970 Census was taken Saturday when questionnaires were distributed to residents who live in the jurisdiction of the Amarillo office of the Bureau of the Census.

According to R.L. Butler, district manager, residents should fill out the questionnaires as quickly as possible so they will be complete for the house-to-house canvass which begins April 1. The questionnaires, he said, will consist of seven questions about every person in a household and 13 questions concerning the dwelling.

Information requested on the dwelling will be the number of rooms, cooking facilities, if the dwelling is rented or owned, and the plumbing. For the personal information to be gathered, the census will request the residents to give their name, address, whether married or single, sex, color or race, month and year of birth and the relationship to the head of the household.

This information, Butler said, will be kept confidential and only statistical totals and averages will be published. No individual can be identified in published reports, and census information cannot be given to any other governmental agency, local officials, tax collectors, police, health welfare or school officers or anyone else.

Butler pointed out that at every fifth dwelling visited by census takers, additional information will be requested in order to compile information on the standard of living. Census takers for this area will begin their training for the census Monday and Tuesday in Amarillo.

The training session will be conducted by crew leaders with emphasis to be placed on a systematic, thorough canvass of every dwelling unit during the census. Classroom training sessions will cover map reading, census definitions, proper manner of asking questions and the use of the census questionnaire. Each individual census taker will be given a map of the enumeration district he will be covering and during the course of his census, he will be required to canvass every street and road and visit every dwelling unit within the boundaries of his assigned district.

Rites Held For Past Resident At Carlsbad

A former Hereford resident, Mrs. J. S. Garret of 608 North Mesa, Carlsbad, N.M., died Monday night following a long illness. Funeral services were conducted at 10 a.m. Thursday in the city's cemetery.

Survivors include her husband, Sperm, sons Bill and Pete of Carlsbad, one daughter of Carlsbad, several grandchildren and numerous great grandchildren.

She and her husband lived here in the early 1900's. They ran a small dairy north of town. They moved to Carlsbad in 1937.

Residents of Bratsk, Siberia, average about 30 years of age, giving the city of some 134,000 one of the youngest populations in the world.

COTTON AND SOYBEAN GROWERS!

Put a Planavin barrier between you and this year's weeds

Herbicide

Shell Planavin, used right, provides a chemical barrier an inch and a half within the soil which gives you all the advantages you should expect from an incorporated cotton/soybean herbicide. Effective and long-lasting, the Planavin barrier protects your crops from weeds and grasses that rob water and nutrients. Give your cotton and soybeans a headstart against weeds. Use Planavin. With Planavin, you have a two-day leeway between application and incorporation. Isn't it time to come in and see us and change to Planavin?

AMUSING? THEY'RE BLOCKBUSTERS! HERE'S A WOWER... WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN A PRINCE, A PAPA GORILLA, AND A BALD MAN?

THAT'S WHAT I SAY... WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE?

A PRINCE IS AN HEIR APPARENT... A PAPA GORILLA IS A HAIRY PARENT... AND A BALD MAN HAS NO HAIR APPARENT! GET IT? OH, HA, HA, HA!

TEE, HEE, I LIKE THAT ONE!

SIMPLY HILARIOUS!

HERE'S A SIDE-SPLITTER... KNOW WHAT YOU GET IF YOU CROSS A PORCUPINE WITH A WORM? BARBED WIRE! HEE, HEE, HEE, HEE!

HOW!

THAT'S WHERE YOU BELONG.... BEHIND SOME!

HAW, HAW, THAT'S GOOD, ROSCO! WELL, I'VE GOTTA MOVE ON. I GOTTA SELL SOME STUFF SO I CAN EAT ENOUGH! GET IT? HA, HA, HA!

IT WAS NICE SEEING YOU AGAIN, COUSIN SUNSHINE.

YEAH, I'M SURE YOU'LL DROP IN AGAIN SOMETIME.

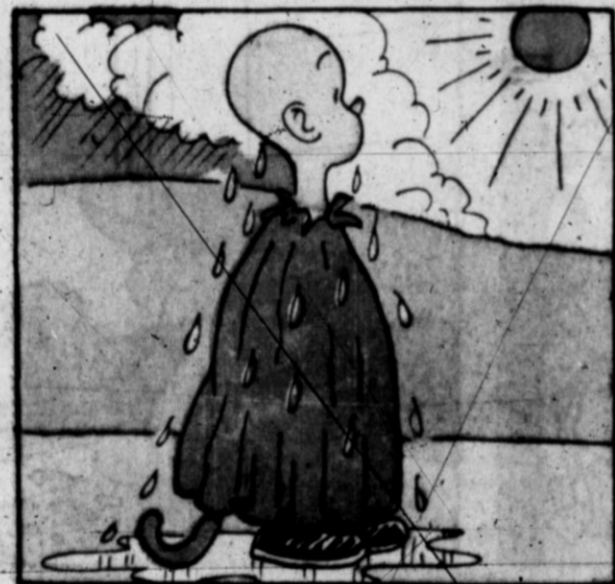

WELL, HE'S GONE, BROTHER. NOW WHAT'S TROUBLING YOU?

I DON'T KNOW WHETHER TO BE HAPPY OR SAD. AFTER ALL THOSE CORNY JOKES HE TOLD, I CAN'T REMEMBER A SINGLE ONE!
