

Board leaves seats vacant

The Hereford school board decided Tuesday to let the voters decide who should fill two vacant spots on the board.

The spots were vacated earlier this year when Kathy Moore and Shirley Wilson resigned from the board. There was one applicant for District 4 and three applicants for District 5, and the board considered filling the seats from the list of applicants during an executive session Tuesday.

After the executive meeting, the board reconvened in open session and voted, 5-0, not to fill the vacancies.

"We just feel it would be best to have the voters decide," said board President John Fuston. "We had some very good applicants, and we appreciate their interest. We just had some problems with filling two seats with appointments. We'd rather let the voters decide."

The seats will be filled in an election next May. Two other board posts will also be up for election next spring.

The board heard reports on several programs at the meeting and heard concerns about the heavy workload being placed on teachers this year.

Catherine Cortez, president of the local Classroom Teachers Association, told the board of concerns expressed by teachers over curriculum guides and lesson plans.

Although Texas public school textbooks contain curriculum guides, teachers are not allowed to use them. They must also write detailed lesson plans for each class.

"There is a lot of time being dedicated to writing the lesson plans and trying to make them fit the lesson plans," Mrs. Cortez said. "The textbooks are beautiful, and they have a great deal of information in them. The state has gone to great expense to see that the textbooks meet the (guidelines), and we would like to be able to use the textbooks in an open manner (for curriculum guides)."

However, the state has ruled, for at least this year, that textbooks can not be used as curriculum documents.

"When we started out, we thought all of this was going to be of benefit to new teachers," Cortez said. "Since experienced teachers are having problems with all of this, I'm sure new teachers are, too. ...Preparing all of this is taking away precious time from us and it is frustrating. It is taking time away from working with students."

Superintendent Charles Greenawalt said he has asked all principals to meet with their teachers, one-to-one, to help with difficulties they are having. "I also want them to listen to suggestions teachers have," Greenawalt said. "We are not trying to make things more difficult."

The board also heard a presentation from Curriculum Director Alice Lockmiller on the new Texas Assessment of Academic Skills (TAAS) test to be given Oct. 16-18 to Texas students.

Children in grades 3, 5, 7, 9 and 11 will receive the new test, which replaces the Texas Educational Assessment of Minimum Skills (TEAMS) test given for the past seven years. TEAMS assessed the minimum skills of students; TAAS will test their maximum skills in reading, writing and arithmetic.

TEAMS tested rote memory, assessed the same skills each year, and tested only selected certain areas, one idea at a time. TAAS will test more areas, require a student to take several basic skills at a time and apply them, and require higher-level thinking skills.

"If a student had a difficult time with TEAMS, they will have a much more difficult time with TAAS," Lockmiller said. "We have made a real effort in our elementary curriculum to address the TAAS test, and we are adjusting our teaching so students will do as well as possible." Students who will be taking the test are receiving intense review of the subjects likely to be included on the test.

Lockmiller also warned the board that the scores will likely be much lower for TAAS than were TEAMS scores, since the test is more difficult and tests in a different manner.

The board also heard a report from Jeri Ann Parker, president of the HHS Student Council, on the council's activities. She introduced the council's executive board, reviewed activities over the summer, and told the board the council will receive a national award for its safety projects in the 1989-90 school year.

The council is working on several ways to improve student-teacher and student-administrator relationships, and is giving "Bull Chipper" awards for students and others for service activities.

Rumor mill, stomachs churn in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) - Psst. They're getting a new carpet down the hall, check it out. Psst. Guess who's buying new computers for the office? Psst ...

The hallway chatter at the Agriculture Department is rife with such nuggets, sometimes not so trivial in this time of budget balancing and spending crunches.

After all, unless Congress and the White House reach an agreement on how to whack $50 billion or so from next fiscal year's federal budget, it'll get pretty serious for government workers by Oct. 1.

In the USDA, for example, thousands of workers will have to take unpaid furloughs from their jobs as their contribution to fiscal solvency.

Meat and poultry inspectors will take holidays toward the end of the first two-week pay period of October. County offices that make payments to farmers in crop programs will close early.

Officials that take applications for emergency loans won't be servicing those quite so handily. Dairy farmers and other producers sharing in price support benefits will take pay cuts.

But if the government is so hard up, why all the talk about the Farmers Home Administration, the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service, the Foreign Agricultural Service and other agencies buying all sorts of goodies before the fiscal year runs out on Sept. 30?

"There's always been some of this," one mid-level employee said Monday. "But I can't remember when it's been this blatant to unload money."

The employee and several others, who insisted on anonymity, referred to their agencies splurging in the last few months - money that comes out of the current fiscal year's budget.

Obviously, one said, the agencies would rather spend unused or otherwise unneeded funds on expanding or remodeling offices with new furniture, drapes, computer equipment and other job-related devices than to lose the money by not spending it at all.

Kelly Shipp, chief spokeswoman for Agriculture Secretary Clayton Yeutter and director of the department's office of public affairs, discounted such talk and said year-end spending is "highly, highly scrutinized" by federal procurement officials.

Certain deadlines and procedures have to be met by those who spend USDA money, she said, and policies are in place "so there isn't unwise spending" as the fiscal year winds down.

But Shipp said there are lots of variables in government procurement and that often new purchases are put off until the end of the year when it's clearer how much money is available.

"You put off things that are legitimate purchases," she said. "You want to make sure there are adequate funds. So there are some legitimate reasons why people wait till the year end."

One of the unwritten rules among bureaucrats is to guard against having next year's spending request cut sharply by the Office of Management and Budget in the White House, or by an economizing appropriations committee on Capitol Hill.

After all, if the Forest Service or the Extension Service isn't using all the money authorized in 1990, why should additional funds be provided in 1991?

"That's the vicious circle of how we legislate," Shipp said in a recent interview. "It's not so much the mentality of the bureaucrats; it's the way the rules are set up. If there's a weakness ... it's that sometimes the (congressional) appropriations committee will look at your current services and cut you back."

Deputies seek murder clues

By JOHN BROOKS
Managing Editor
Deaf Smith County sheriff's officials are expected to receive a preliminary autopsy report today concerning the apparent murder of a Hispanic male teenager near Hereford on Saturday.

The body has not yet been identified, but authorities believe they will be able to confirm the identity of the youth based on leads received in the case.

The body of the teenager, which had been burned, was found in an abandoned farmhouse southwest of the city. The body had been set afire and was burned beyond reasonable recognition; however, authorities believe they will be able to confirm the identity of the youth.

Several suspects, mostly teenagers, have been questioned in the case, and authorities are searching for other information in the case. Anyone with information is urged to call Crime-stoppers at 364-2583 (CLUE). All callers to the Clue Line may remain anonymous by using a code name or number. Crimestoppers is offering a reward of $300 or more, depending on the nature of the information, and if it leads to an arrest and indictment in the case.

"We have heard several stories about what may have happened," Deputy Robin Ruland said this morning. "At this point we are checking out all leads, all stories, about the case."

Reflections

As the scene on the field at Dick Bivins Stadium is reflected by his sousaphone, Chris Matthews of the Hereford High School Mighty Maroon Band reflects the way the football game was going Saturday. The Herd lost the football game, 14-0, but the Mighty Maroon Band took the halftime show in a landslide. The band has chosen "Western Movies" for its show theme this year, with selections including The Magnificent Seven, The Cowboys, Oklahoma Crude, Wagon Train, and How The West Was Won. Fans will be able to see the show build and evolve throughout the season as the band prepares for its Oct. 27 contest.

Local programs receive funding

Two local projects were among the programs awarded $22.2 million in grants for state and local criminal justice programs, crime victims assistance and drug education projects.

The grants were awarded Monday by Gov. Bill Clements.

The Hereford Drug Abuse Resistance Education (DARE) program in Hereford will receive $18,104. The program uses Hereford police and others in a semester-long program to reach county youngsters about the dangers of drugs and other potential problems.

The Deaf Smith County Crime Victims Assistance Program will receive a $12,579, and the juvenile corrections department will get an additional $4,668.

Rewards approved by group

Deaf Smith County Crimestoppers has approved rewards of $500 in two felony offenses in Hereford.

A reward of $200 was paid for a tip which cleared up a burglary at a residence on Ave. J that occurred in July. As a result of the tip, two adults and two juveniles were arrested and $750 in property was recovered.

Two rewards of $150 each were paid to two different callers for tips that resulted in the clearance of a burglary at Rainbow Video. Over $2,500 worth of property had been stolen. Three juveniles were arrested and charged with burglary in the case. Some of the property was recovered.

Crimestoppers pays cash to persons who provide tips on felony crimes in Deaf Smith County.

Bush: 'No blackmail'

By CHRISTOPHER BURNS
Associated Press Writer

Countries worried about nationals stranded by the Persian Gulf crisis sought to speed up relief and evacuation efforts today, but a U.N. official said Iraq was refusing to permit shipments directly to trapped foreigners.

President Hussain Muhammad Ershad of Bangladesh left for Turkey and Jordan today in an attempt to speed up the repatriation of tens of thousands of Bangladeshis who fled Iraq and Kuwait after Iraq seized its neighbor on Aug. 2.

In Washington, President Bush reaffirmed U.S. commitment to force Iraqi President Saddam Hussein to relinquish oil-rich Kuwait.

"Let no one doubt our staying power. We will stand by our friends," Bush told a joint session of Congress Tuesday night.

He said his heart went out to the families of the hundreds of Americans held hostage by Iraq, but he declared, "America and the world will not be blackmailed."

Bush today was taping a message for Iraqi television explaining why most of the world stands united against Iraq's conquest of Kuwait.

White House press secretary Marlin Fitzwater expressed doubt Iraq would actually show an unedited tape of Bush, although its ambassador has said it would.

Facing Iraq's estimated 260,000 troops in and around Kuwait are more than 150,000 U.S. troops in the Persian Gulf region, hundreds of warplanes and a multinational flotilla enforcing a U.N. embargo.

At the United Nations in New York, a committee looked for a way to allow food to be delivered to the hundreds of thousands of foreigners in Iraq and Kuwait without breaking the embargo.

"The Iraqi authorities have refused to deliver foodstuffs to the third-state nationals," Marjatta Rasi, the Finnish ambassador who chairs the sanctions committee, said Tuesday.

"I don't think that the Iraqi government is willing to take the responsibility of the starvation of thousands and thousands of third-state nationals," she said.

The embargo has cut off virtually all trade but could permit humanitarian shipments.

India sought U.N. permission to send a ship loaded with 11,000 tons of food to Iraq for Indian nationals. The ship was sitting in port while 140,000 Indians risked starvation, said India's U.N. ambassador, C.R. Gharekhanhe.

The Philippines has also appealed for permission to send food to about 5,000 Filipinos stranded in Kuwait.

The five permanent Security Council members - the United States, Soviet Union, Britain, France and China - on Tuesday presented a plan for letting food into Iraq and Kuwait.

Under the U.S.-sponsored plan, Secretary-General Javier Perez de Cuellar would send a team to check conditions in Iraq and Kuwait to see if emergency food is needed, said a Western diplomat who spoke on condition of anonymity.

Centennial Clips

Nov. 8, 1898 - The first discussion of moving the county seat was mentioned in court minutes in August. An election was held on Nov. 8 and citizens approved moving the county seat to Bluewater. The new town went by that name until it was learned Texas already had a town named Bluewater. In order to get a post office, the name Hereford was selected, after the first registered Hereford cattle. Hereford thrived and the county had a population of 843 in the 1900 census.

News Digest

World, National

WASHINGTON - President Bush reaffirms America's resolve to stand up to Iraqi aggression and exhorts Congress to match the sacrifice of U.S. military forces abroad with a greater commitment to solve the nation's budget crisis at home.

UNDATED - No one listened more raptly to President Bush's televised address than the relatives of hostages held in the Middle East and American soldiers sent to face down Iraq's Saddam Hussein. "But I knew going in that he couldn't answer my questions," said Donnita Cole of Odessa, Texas. "I'm at the point where I want more than generalities. I want specifics. I want my husband."

UNDATED - Cracks appear in the U.N. trade embargo against Iraq as Saddam Hussein seeks to circumvent the economic noose around his country. A source says Iran has agreed to an Iraqi request to exchange food and medicine for oil and cash.

WASHINGTON - U.S. troops in Saudi Arabia are not allowed to drink liquor or associate with Saudi women. But there's nothing that says they can't laugh till their sides hurt. And laugh they will.

UNDATED - Jesse Jackson won the Democratic nomination for a symbolic District of Columbia post and former Vermont Gov. Richard Snelling won his Republican primary in a comeback bid in the last big round of statewide primary elections. Impeached Arizona Gov. Evan Mecham was trying for a comeback, too.

NEW YORK - A judge denounced three teen-agers as "mindless marauders" for their lack of remorse as he sentenced them to the maximum - five to 10 years in prison - for raping and beating a woman jogging in Central Park.

Texas

HOUSTON - Merchant seamen who have guided vessels around the world are coming out of retirement to man the helms and engine rooms of military supply ships bound for the Middle East.

WASHINGTON - Democrats praised President Bush's assertiveness in the Persian Gulf crisis during his speech to Congress but disputed some suggestions to resolve the budget problem.

EL PASO - Rural communities are hoping the Army can bring in reservists to continue air ambulance services that have been suspended because of the Middle East crisis.

UNDATED - The exiled Kuwaiti government and a band of U.S. oil companies have come through for Donnita Cole and five other families of oilworkers whose salaries were cut off the day Saddam Hussein's troops invaded Kuwait, New.

EMBERSON - A Texan evacuated from Kuwait who gave birth to her fourth child during the Iraqi invasion has returned home to tell of her harrowing hospital stay and a month spent in hiding.

UNDATED - Thanks to a hurry-up naturalization service, an Air Force serviceman and native of Colombia awaiting possible deployment to the Persian Gulf would go as a U.S. citizen.

SAN ANTONIO - A gang-related shooting that wounded three teen-agers at a high school during lunch break had the potential to be much worse, police say.

AUSTIN - Steven Fefferman was slowly tortured with "extravagant brutality" before he was killed in the bedroom of his Fort Worth townhome in late 1986, a prosecuting attorney told jurors in the capital murder trial of Ricky Lee Green.

HALTOM CITY - A former employee of the Texas Attorney General's office has been charged with aggravated sexual assault of a child and sexual performance of a child and is accused of videotaping a nude 12-year-old boy at a Haltom City home.

FORT WORTH - Although police believe they finally have found a piece of evidence in the slaying of an elementary school teacher last year, they say it will have no legal bearing on the case.

AUSTIN - State prison inmates will still be used as prey in dog training exercises, the Texas Board of Criminal Justice decided. And board vice chairman Jerry Hodge, whose participation in the practice sparked a controversy, was made acting chairman of the board.

DALLAS - In a cash and stock deal worth about $1.4 billion, Oryx Energy Co. says it will buy out its founding Pew family, one year after the company spent $1.21 billion to expand internationally.

WASHINGTON - Preliminary 1990 population figures are below estimates made earlier this year, in part because the Census Bureau missed many minority residents, according to a Texas congressman.

WASHINGTON - A former aide to then-Vice President Bush says he did nothing wrong in lobbying federal officials on behalf of an investor who could collect more than $1.8 billion in taxpayer subsidies for taking over 15 failed savings and loan institutions.

Scientists estimate that as many as 200,000,000 meteors enter the earth's atmosphere every day. These and other meteorites are estimated to add more than 1,000 tons daily to the Earth's weight.

Hodge named chairman despite dogging controversy

AUSTIN (AP) - State prison inmates will still be used as prey in dog training exercises, the Texas Board of Criminal Justice decided.

And board vice chairman Jerry Hodge, whose participation in the practice sparked a controversy, was made acting chairman of the board Tuesday.

Hodge temporarily replaces Charles Terrell, who resigned from the Texas Board of Criminal Justice effective Tuesday. Gov. Bill

Clements has yet to appoint a new chairman.

Clements said he would make an appointment in the "near future."

Clements' press secretary Rossanna Salazar said Hodge is one of several candidates being considered as chairman of the board that oversees the state prison system. Hodge refused to say whether he would take the job permanently if it were offered.

Clements reportedly was ready to

Former Bush aide pleads innocent to wrong doing

WASHINGTON (AP) - A former aide to then-Vice President Bush says he did nothing wrong in lobbying federal officials on behalf of an investor who could collect more than $1.8 billion in taxpayer subsidies for taking over 15 failed savings and loan institutions.

"I feel very strongly one reason I am here was that I used to work for George Bush," lobbyist Robert J. Thompson complained to a Senate Judiciary subcommittee Tuesday.

But panel members of both parties denied any partisan political goals in investigating Phoenix investor James Fail's takeover of 15 Texas S&Ls. The takeover resulted in creation of Bluebonnet Savings Bank of Dallas, which government officials say has become - thanks to taxpayer subsidies - the nation's most profitable thrift.

Members of the subcommittee on business rights referred variously to the takeover as suspicious, disturbing and embarrassing. They questioned whether Thompson used his position as a former aide to President Reagan and Bush to advance Fail's interests.

"The process that resulted in the creation of the Bluebonnet Savings Bank was conducted with and supervised by officials of the federal government, and I fully followed all rules of propriety," Thompson contended. "Among the thousands of words of sworn testimony that have been spoken, not one word has been uttered, not one fact has been disclosed, that suggest I did anything improper."

Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, the subcommittee chairman, said lobbyists' practice of selling access to government officials "goes directly to the heart of the simmering frustration people are feeling about Washington and its ways, as well as the boiling outrage they are expressing about the savings and loan debacle."

Thompson said that if Bluebonnet continues to prosper, he and his company stand to gain, in addition to their retainer and hourly fees, 2 percent of Fail's earnings from the savings and loan plus a $160,000 bonus.

Sen. Arlen Specter, R-Pa., said a document subpoenaed from Thompson indicates the payoff could be far higher, that Thompson could get 2 percent of the takeover price of the banks - not just 2 percent of Fail's earnings.

However, Thompson said that fee was just his proposal and was never accepted by Fail.

The subcommittee also questioned the propriety of Thompson's obtaining two loans totaling $500,000 from operations controlled by Fail. Thompson said he is paying market interest on both and is obligated to repay the principal.

The panel began looking into Fail's S&L takeover following the disclosure that he was able to do it with only $1,000 cash out of pocket plus loans from insurance companies he controlled. During the investigation, the subcommittee learned that Fail had not disclosed that he had entered a guilty plea to a fraud indictment against one of his corporations.

Federal regulators have testified since that the plea should have disqualified Fail from taking over the savings and loans. Those regulators, led by M. Danny Wall, who headed the now-defunct Federal Home Loan Bank Board, said they did nothing special for Thompson.

"We've learned enough about the Bluebonnet deal to know that all was not negotiated on the up and up," Metzenbaum said. If regulators subjected other takeover deals completed in 1988 to the same scrutiny given Bluebonnet and took appropriate action, "billions of dollars will be recouped for the U.S. Treasury," he said.

Bush's address praised by both parties

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Bush reaffirmed America's resolve to stand up to Iraqi aggression and challenged Congress to match the sacrifice of U.S. military forces abroad with a greater commitment to solve the nation's budget crisis at home.

"Let no one doubt our staying power. We will stand by our friends," Bush told a joint session of Congress Tuesday night in a speech that at times seemed aimed as much at Iraqi President Saddam Hussein as at the president's domestic audience.

Republicans and Democrats alike praised the address, saying it was an important reminder to Americans of the high stakes in the U.S. deployment of troops to the Persian Gulf region, and of the need for constancy in resisting Iraq's 6-week-old occupation of Kuwait.

House Majority Leader Richard Gephardt, D-Mo., sounded an even more hawkish tone, warning Saddam that if he starts a war, "we will finish it."

Bush also used the speech, his third such formal address in 20 months in office, to warn Congress against deep defense cuts that could hamper U.S. latitude in responding administration officials in painfully slow budget talks.

"The gulf situation helps us realize we are more economically vulnerable than we ever should be," Bush said, challenging lawmakers to agree on a deficit-reduction plan before the fiscal year ends in less than three weeks.

"America is tired of phony deficit reduction, or promise-now, save-later plans," he said. "Enough is enough. It is time now for a program that is credible and real."

Those comments prompted some grumbling from congressional Democrats, who pointed to a section in Bush's speech that advocated a series of tax breaks, including a cut in the tax rate for gains on investments such as stocks.

"George Bush has clearly made the decision that he wants to junk the current tax code," said Rep. Dan Glickman, D-Kan. "He mentioned the tax incentives, but he didn't mention the taxes to pay for the incentives," added Rep. Michael Andrews, D-Texas.

Bush did not mention his promise to support increases in tax revenues, but Gephardt reminded Americans of it in his official Democratic response to the presidential speech.

Bush's challenge to Congress included the development of a new national energy strategy that would reduce U.S. dependence on foreign oil, including opening the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge in Alaska to oil exploration.

Sen. Frank Murkowski, R-Alaska, wore a lapel button that said, "Iraq - No. ANWR - Yes." But the prospect of drilling in the environmentally sensitive area was sure to draw objections.

Bush repeated his oft-stated goals for the deployment of U.S. troops and the international economic embargo against Iraq, which include restoration of Kuwait's former government and stability for the gulf region.

But he added a new goal: "A new world order" dominated by commonly held values and enforced by "a new partnership of nations" that includes the United States and the Soviet Union. Bush said he would work to future crises. The House began work Tuesday on a $283 billion defense budget for 1991 that the administration has threatened to veto as too small.

"The world is still dangerous," the president said. While acknowledging that improvements in U.S.-Soviet relations might warrant some savings in the Pentagon budget, he added: "This is no time to risk America's capacity to protect her vital interests."

And he underscored his stand against letting U.S. policy be swayed by the predicament of the 1,800 Americans believed to remain trapped in Kuwait and Iraq. "America and the world will not be blackmailed," he said.

Minorities left out of census

WASHINGTON (AP) - Preliminary 1990 population figures are below estimates made earlier this year, in part because the Census Bureau missed many minority residents, according to a Texas congressman.

Rep. Martin Frost, D-Dallas, told a House panel Tuesday that he found a pattern of undercounting in minority communities that raises "very serious questions about the accuracy of the count."

Preliminary 1990 figures reported by the Census Bureau two weeks ago show more people in eight suburban, predominantly white Texas counties than 1988 estimates. But they show fewer people in eight heavily Hispanic counties, Frost said.

The 1990 early figure for Bexar County, where San Antonio is located, was about 34,000 people below the 1988 estimate, Frost noted. El Paso, Nueces, Hidalgo, Cameron, Brooks, Maverick and Val Verde counties had similar losses.

Tarrant County, home of Fort Worth, and Travis County, where Austin is, jumped up from the 1988 estimate. So did six suburban counties - Collin and Denton in the Dallas-Fort Worth area, Williamson in the Austin area, and Brazoria, Fort Bend and Montgomery in the Houston area.

Members plan for "Fiesta" style show

Members of Xi Epsilon Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority met recently in the home of Denise Hafliger to make plans for the "Fiesta" style show.

The stores participating with fashions will include Etcetera, Pants Cage, Vogue, Betty's Shoes, Little's, All Star Sports Center, Gibsons, Yiota's Korner Kloset, Sew & Tell, Sylvia's, and Class Act. Tickets are on sale by members of the sorority for $3 in advance or $3.50 at the door. The proceeds will go to Domestic Violence/Rape Crisis Center and Lifeline.

Hafliger presented a program "Outdoor Living" to sixteen members. She grilled foil-wrapped dinners of hamburger pattie, potatoes, carrots, and onions and served salad and chocolate dessert made by cohostess Dona Hendrickson.

President Gaye Reily presided over the business meeting. A certificate, which had been sent by Beta Sigma Phi's International office in Kansas City, Mo., was presented to past president, Margie Bell, for three-star rating for 89-90 year. The certificate is an award to the chapter for outstanding success in bringing friendship, social and cultural opportunities to each member. It is the highest rating a chapter can achieve.

Sharon Bodner volunteered to be a city council representative to fill a vacancy left by Kathy Hafliger.

A chapter Sweetheart will be elected at the next meeting. The International contest deadline is Nov. 1.

A report on the Beta Sigma Phi State Convention, which was held in Amarillo last June, was given by Connie Matthews.

Program Chairman Hendrickson announced the next meeting will be Tuesday, Sept. 18, at 7:30 p.m. at the Atrium. The program "The Image You Project" will be presented by LaJean Henry on scarf-tying. Susan Shaw and Susan Cardinal will be hostesses.

Registration for classes at AC set Sept. 13

Registration for evening adult continuing education classes in furniture upholstery, drapery, shade and curtain fabrication will be at 6:30 p.m., Sept. 13, at Texas State Technical Institute's Tascosa Building, said Lynette Slaten, upholstery and fabrication instructor.

Classes begin Sept. 20 from 5:30-9:30 p.m. The course counts for 3.6 continuing education units.

Tuition and lab fee costs $50, and the student must supply all course materials. For more information call 335-2316, ext. 359.

Commercial drivers will need to pass a knowledge test to obtain their commercial driver's license beginning later this year, so Texas State Technical Institute-Amarillo is offering a 12-hour course Sept. 15 and 22 to prepare these drivers for the knowledge test.

The two-part course will be from 9 a.m.-4 p.m. each Saturday on the TSTI-Amarillo campus with a registration deadline set for Sept. 14.

Toastmasters meeting held

The Toastmasters International club met Thursday at the Ranch House.

Jigger Rowland served as toastmaster. Milton Adams was the ah counter and the time was kept by Joe Walters.

Speakers for the evening were Jay Reeve, Rocky Lee, Bob Lohr and Joe Don Cummings.

Reeve spoke on "The Problem With Girls," Lee spoke on "As I Travel Down Life's Highway," Lohr spoke on "Beercanitis" and Cummings spoke on "You Never Embarrass a Woman."

Other members present were Joe Weaver, Bruce Hernandez, Margaret Perez and Roy Shave.

Anyone seeking to develop leadership and communication skills in a positive manner is welcome at the Ranch House at 6:30 a.m. every Thursday.

Bert Pinales, associate dean of economic development, said commercial truck drivers can take the written test while their current drivers license is valid and not wait until it expires.

The course cost $50 and will cover topics such as driving safely, transporting cargo safely, air brakes, combination vehicles and tank trailers and hazardous materials.

Packard hostess at meeting

The Wyche Extension Homemakers club met and were presented programs Thursday in the home of Louise Packard.

Tom Weems and Lajeane Henry presented a short video tape program on the United Way.

Henry spoke on the United Way's efforts in Hereford.

The poster boy, for High Plains Epilepsy Foundation, Mickey Hampton is from Deaf Smith County. All in attendance were encouraged to participate in the United Way.

Beverly Harder presented a program on "Taking a Risk." She spoke on the importance of refrigeration and changes being made in the handling of foods.

Other programs were planned at the meeting, and the year book was filled out.

The state meeting is set for Oct. 2-5 in Amarillo. All members are encouraged to attend.

Those present at the meeting include: President, Carol Odom, Ethel Logan, Clara Trowbridge, Louise Axe, Dorothy Lundry, Marcie Ginn, Corinne Odom, Mary Stubblefield, Betty Wilcox, Pet Ott and Louise Packard.

Fellowship meeting planned

Hereford Flame Fellowship will be meeting Thursday, Sept. 13, at 7:30 p.m. in the Hereford Community Center. Guest speaker for the evening will be June Neel.

Neel has been teaching Sunday school classes since high school and has supervised vacation Bible schools for many years. She has held children crusades in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas and Arizona and has taught the Happy Hearts Bible Club in Amarillo for the past 13 years.

The public is invited to attend.

Netters open with 11-7 win over Tascosa

The Hereford Whiteface tennis team opened the 1990 fall season with an 11-7 win over Amarillo Tascosa at Whiteface Courts.

The Herd netters, the last Hereford High School team to enter fall competition, held a 6-3 edge in boys play while winning five of nine matches in girls play.

Greg Coplen, Torey Sellers, Jamie Kapka and Donny Perales picked up wins in boys singles. Coplen edged Brent Hathcock in three sets 4-6, 6-2, 7-6 (9-7); Sellers knocked off James Longanecker 6-4, 6-2; Kapka topped Matt White 7-5, 6-3, and Perales beat Jason Crabtree 3-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Randy Robbins and Eric Cortez suffered losses in their singles matches as Trey McKinney whipped Robbins in straight sets 6-3, 6-4, and Billy Sampson handed Cortez a 7-6, 6-4 defeat.

Hereford boys took two of three doubles matches. Cortez and Sellers beat Hathcock and Mark Richardson 6-3, 4-6, 7-6 (9-7) while Kapka and Perales scored a 6-3, 6-0 win over Sampson and Ben Perriman. McKinney and Longanecker drubbed Robbins and Coplen 6-2, 6-4 in the other match.

On the girls' side of the net, Hereford split the six singles matches and took two of three in doubles play.

Trisha Munoz, Trisha Teel and Bri Reinauer all won in straight sets while Brenna Reinauer, Gina Alley and Robyn Sublett all lost in two.

Munoz beat Mary Liston 6-3, 6-0 while Teel won over Mikelyn Graham 6-1, 6-3, and Bri Reinauer downed Jennifer Beacher 6-3, 6-1.

Wilson Pate, who reached the Class 5A state tournament in the spring, handed Brenna Reinauer her first loss in two years 6-3, 6-2. Reinauer won 15 consecutive matches in straight sets in 1989. Catherine O'Brien defeated Alley, who was also 15-0 last fall, 6-2, 6-3, and Benjy Priddy dropped 6-1, 6-3.

In doubles play Sublett-Munoz beat Priddy-Liston 6-4, 6-1, with Teel and Emily Fuston topping 6-2, 6-3. Pate and O'Brien beat Brenna Reinauer and Alley 6-1, 6-4 in the other match.

In alternate play Perriman beat Brandon Flood 5-7, 6-3, 6-3, and Sampson beat Bobby Perales 6-0, 6-0.

The netters double up Saturday as they travel to Lubbock for matches with Monterey and Coronado.

Eyes on the ball

Jamie Kapka of the Hereford Whiteface tennis team contrasts on returning serve during Tuesday's dual match with Amarillo Tascosa. The Herd netters opened the fall season with an 11-7 win over the Rebels.

Amarillo High rolls through Herd 15-7, 15-4

The Hereford Lady Whitefaces were facing perfection Tuesday in their match against Amarillo High.

The Lady Sandies put every serve in play during the match in rolling to a 15-7, 15-4 win at Amarillo High.

"The kept putting their serves in the back corner," Lady Whiteface coach Brenda Reeh said. "It was all we could do to keep the ball in play, let alone try to get our attack going."

Brek Binder, Robin White and Shantel Cornelius each had three kills to lead the Herd. Cornelius added seven digs and a stuff while Kyanne Lindley passed six service receptions to setter. Lindley and Binder led the Herd at the service line as each had one ace.

Reeh said the stiff competition

Amarillo High offered was something the Herd needs heading into the District 1-4A season.

"They are without a doubt one of the best 5A teams in the state," Reeh said "and we need to play people that good if we're going to get stronger. It's a good thing to have a match like this before district starts so we can see where we need to work."

Amarillo High also dominated in the junior varsity match, taking a 15-0, 15-5 win. Angie Jowell served for three of Hereford's points in the second game after Amarillo High scored the first 26 points of the match.

The Herd will take on another 5A opponent Saturday when Lubbock High visits for a 2 p.m. match.

Groveton back tops list on schoolboy honor roll

By The Associated Press

Rodney Thomas of Groveton, who narrowly missed a 3,000-yard season in 1989, is off to a good start at reaching the milestone figure in 1990.

Thomas, regarded as one of the top running back prospect in the state, rushed for 240 yards on 27 carries and had touchdown runs of 25, 16 and 17 yards in a 37-13 victory over Coldspring.

Thomas' effort earned mention in The Associated Press Schoolboy Honor Roll and helped the Indians extend the state's longest winning streak to 17 games.

New Caney's 26-game losing streak came to an end last week and Lee Wilkens helped make it possible.

Wilkens rushed 142 yards and scored three touchdowns on runs of 2 and 62 yards and a 20-yard interception return helping New Caney to a 49-15 victory over Santa Fe.

Claude ended its 24-game losing streak with a 47-13 victory over Clarendon, keyed by tailback Jason Baker.

Baker rushed 26 times for 213 yards and had touchdown runs of 1, 2 and 7 yards. He also completed two passes for 10 yards and passed for a two-point conversion.

Huntsville's Chuck Clements took over the quarterbacking chores from brother Steve, the state's all-time passing leader. But it didn't get the Hornets a victory.

The younger Clements completed 28 of 44 passes for 358 yards and two touchdowns in a 27-13 loss to Waco.

Waco's Louis Fite was one reason for Huntsville's loss. He gained 238 yards and scored two touchdowns.

Dumas' Samuel Strauborn completed 22 of 55 passes for 305 yards and one touchdown but the Demons lost to Lubbock High 48-20.

In other outstanding performances:

--Hardin running back Andre Fairly had 21 carries for 234 yards and touchdown runs of 4, 7 and 68 yards in 23-14 victory over East Chambers.

--Randolph Barnes of Port Arthur Stephen F. Austin scored five touchdowns and gained 210 yards on 25 carries in a 36-14 victory over Barbers Hill.

--Isaiah Nelson of Little Cypress-Mauriceville scored five touchdowns on runs of 2, 37, 16, 15 and 24 yards in a 56-0 victory over Kirbyville. He gained 151 yards on 22 carries.

--Friona's Ismael Rocha rushed 21 times for 258 yards and three touchdowns in a 39-23 victory over River Road.

--Stratford's Paul Davis rushed 33 times for 239 yards and three touchdowns in a 42-28 loss to Springfield, Colo.

--Vernon's Derrick Richardson, ran 283 yards on 23 carries and scored four touchdowns in a 35-26 victory over Altus, Okla.

--Lon Garner of Jacksboro gained 200 yards on 13 carries and scored two touchdowns in a 36-7 victory over Holliday.

--Munday quarterback Bobby Dockins gained 283 yards on 10 carries, scored three touchdowns and kicked five extra points in a 64-19 victory over Haskell.

Mets take 'dramatic win' over Cards

By DICK BRINSTER
AP Sports Writer

Darryl Strawberry had a chance to be a hero for the New York Mets. For that, he can thank teammate Dave Magadan.

"It was a dramatic win and it could carry us," Mets manager Bud Harrelson said after Strawberry's two-run homer Tuesday night gave the Mets a 10-8 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

By winning, the Mets kept pace with Pittsburgh in the National League East. New York starts a two-game series with the first-place Pirates tonight at Shea Stadium, trailing by 3 1/2 games. New York is 48-22 at home, including nine consecutive victories.

"It wasn't supposed to be that way ...," Harrelson said of Strawberry's homer.

Tom Herr led off the ninth with a walk against Lee Smith (3-4), but Magadan popped out attempting to bunt.

"If Magadan bunts, maybe they walk Strawberry," Harrelson said. They didn't, and Strawberry made them pay.

"This could be a turning point for us," Strawberry said. "It probably was my most important home run of the year."

Strawberry, a free agent after the season, hit Smith's first pitch deep over the right field fence for his 33rd homer.

Elsewhere, it was Pittsburgh 5, Philadelphia 1; Cincinnati 5, Houston 3; San Diego 4, Los Angeles 0; San Francisco 2, Atlanta 0; and Chicago 11, Montreal 6.

The Cardinals tied the score 8-8 with two runs off John Franco (5-1), who blew only his fourth save opportunity in 35 chances.

Rookie Julio Valera, making his third major league start, helped himself with a two-run single in the Mets' three-run fourth. But the Cardinals took a 6-5 lead with four runs in the sixth off Valera and Bob Ojeda.

The Mets tied the score in the bottom of the sixth when Kevin McReynolds led off with his 22nd homer, off Ernie Camacho.

Herr's double scored Gregg Jefferies, who had reached on third baseman Zeile's fielding error, to give the Mets a 7-6 lead in the seventh. A sacrifice fly by pinch-hitter Mackey Sasser made it 8-6 after eight.

Milt Thompson, Ozzie Smith and Ray Lankford had hits off Franco when the Cardinals tied the game in the ninth.

Pirates 5, Phillies 1
Bobby Bonilla drove in the go-ahead run for the second straight game to back rookie pitcher Randy Tomlin, who had a key double.

Tomlin (3-2) worked six innings, allowing five hits and one earned run.

Trailing 1-0, the Pirates scored twice in the third against rookie Jason Grimsley. Tomlin, with his first hit in 19 major league at-bats, doubled with one out and scored the tying run on a triple by Wally Backman. Andy Van Slyke walked with two out before Bonilla singled to score Backman and chase Grimsley (1-2).

Reds 5, Astros 3
Norm Charlton pitched well and Chris Sabo took advantage of Jim Deshaies' wildness with a two-run single.

Charlton (12-7) gave up five hits over seven innings.

Eric Davis had a solo homer, Mariano Duncan a sacrifice fly and Sabo a two-run single off Deshaies (6-12). The left-hander walked six in the first four innings, helping the Reds score three times on just one hit in the fourth to snap a 1-1 tie.

Padres 4, Dodgers 0
Bruce Hurst pitched a five-hitter to extend his scoreless streak to 18 innings, Jack Clark had a two-run homer and Tony Gwynn a two-run triple for San Diego.

Hurst (9-9) struck out seven and walked one, in pitching his third shutout and seventh complete game.

Giants 2, Braves 0
Scott Garrelts pitched a strong game and Kevin Mitchell hit a two-run homer.

Greg Litton walked with one out in the seventh inning off Mark Grant (2-3). After Will Clark struck out, NL leader Mitchell hit a 1-0 pitch for his 34th homer.

Garrelts (12-10) worked into the ninth, allowing four hits while striking out eight and walking five.

Cubs 11, Expos 6
A 10-run second inning, its best in 17 years, enabled Chicago to overcome a 5-0 deficit against Montreal.

Damon Berryhill, Andre Dawson and rookie Derrick May hit two-run doubles in the inning for the Cubs, who had seven hits and sent 13 batters to the plate. Luis Salazar singled twice in the inning for Chicago.

It was the biggest output for the Cubs since a 10-run first against Houston on May 31, 1973.

Yount homer sinks Red Sox; Jays down Kansas City, 8-4

By The Associated Press

Last year, Robin Yount was the American League's MVP for Milwaukee. This year, he may be the MVP for Toronto.

Yount still plays for Milwaukee, of course, but he gave Toronto's suddenly rejuvenated pennant hopes a big lift Tuesday night with a tie-breaking two-run homer in the eighth inning that powered the Brewers to a 4-2 victory over the faltering Boston Red Sox.

Combined with Toronto's 8-4 victory over Kansas City, Boston's lead in the AL East shrank to three games, down from 6 1/2 a week ago.

The Brewers are 11 games out and Yount, batting only .236 after his MVP season, said it would "take a miracle for us to finish first, but we're in a fight with Detroit for third place and trying to win as many games as we can. You also get up a little more playing a contender."

In the AL West, Oakland boosted its lead over Chicago to 10 games by defeating Seattle 10-2 while the White Sox were losing to Cleveland 4-3. Elsewhere, it was New York 5, Texas 4; California 9, Minnesota 0; and Detroit 2, Baltimore 1.

Yount's 15th home run of the season and 223rd of his career came off reliever Wes Gardner (3-7) following a one-out single by Dave Parker, who also singled home the first of two Milwaukee runs in the sixth that tied the game.

Ron Robinson (10-3) won his sixth straight game, giving up four hits and two runs, one unearned, in seven innings. Dan Plesac finished for his 23rd save.

Veteran reliever Dennis Lamp, making his first start since 1987 because of Roger Clemens' shoulder injury, blanked the Brewers on two singles for five innings before tiring.

Blue Jays 8, Royals 4
Tony Fernandez hit his second career grand slam. Fred McGriff and Pat Borders hit solo homers.

Fernandez homered on a 3-2 pitch from Mel Stottlemyre Jr. (0-1) in the second inning for a 4-0 lead. Toronto's Frank Wills (6-3) went five innings, giving up four runs and eight hits.

Athletics 10, Mariners 2

Curt Young combined with three relievers on a five-hitter and Rickey Henderson helped break the game open with a two-run single and stole three bases.

Young (9-5) went 5 1-3 innings and won over Randy Johnson (13-9).

RBI singles by Willie Randolph, Walt Weiss and Terry Steinbach gave Oakland a 3-2 lead after seven innings and the A's poured on seven more in the ninth.

Indians 4, White Sox 3

Cleveland dealt Chicago's slim pennant hopes another blow when pinch-hitter Brook Jacoby drove in the winning run with a fluke double with two out in the ninth inning.

Reliever Barry Jones (11-3) lost for the second time in two nights after yielding a two-out single to pinch-hitter Carlos Baerga. Jacoby then hit a blooper that landed between shortstop Ozzie Guillen and center fielder Lance Johnson.

Yankees 5, Rangers 4
The Yankees, who had lost five straight, ended Bobby Witt's club-record winning streak at 12 games on Mel Hall's two-run, two-out triple in the eighth inning.

Witt (15-9) hadn't lost in 15 starts since June 17.

Lee Guetterman (10-6), the fifth of six New York pitchers, was the winner.

Angels 9, Twins 0

Mark Langston pitched a four-hitter for his first shutout of the season and Dave Winfield hit a two-run homer.

Langston (9-16), struck out six, walked one and retired 15 consecutive batters between the second and seventh innings. Winfield's homer capped a three-run fifth.

Tigers 2, Orioles 1

Detroit was blanked by Dave Johnson through seven innings and trailed 1-0 when Milt Cuyler and Tony Phillips opened the eighth with singles off Curt Schilling (1-1).

Jeff Ballard relieved and got Lou Whitaker to pop out, but Alan Trammell greeted relief ace Gregg Olson with a double that scored both runners.

Emmitt a starter, Timmy gets cut

IRVING, Texas (AP) - Emmitt Smith didn't take long to break into the Dallas Cowboys' starting lineup - four practice days, to be exact.

The No. 1 draft pick from Florida rushed twice for two yards on Sunday in a 17-14 victory over the San Diego Chargers.

On Tuesday, he was promoted to the first team by Dallas coach Jimmy Johnson.

Timmy Smith, who gained six yards on six carries, was released by the Cowboys.

Johnson also announced that he was moving Darryl Johnson from fullback to halfback as the Cowboys prepare for Sunday's meeting with the New York Giants in Texas Stadium.

Emmitt Smith, the 17th pick in the first round, had only three days' practice after a club record 48-day holdout. Johnson believes the absence of training camp shouldn't hurt Smith.

"We've seen enough of Emmitt to know he has a grasp of the offense," Johnson said. "He was with us in quarterback school and all of our mini-camps. It was inevitable that he would start."

"He has retained a lot of mental work from quarterback school."

Johnson said Smith should be "basically at full speed," although he said the former Florida star might in some cases be thinking instead of reacting like he should.

"He did some outstanding blocking against the Chargers," Johnson said. "He made a great cut block on a linebacker. And he's shown us in practice that he has outstanding hands as a receiver."

Johnson said former Texas Tech and Super Bowl star Timmy Smith "just didn't fit into our plans."

Johnson also said that fullback Alonzo Highsmith, obtained in a trade from the Houston Oilers, should make his debut with the Cowboys against the Giants although Tommie Agee ran and blocked well against San Diego.

"I anticipate playing Alonzo this week, although he doesn't know the offense yet," Johnson said. "I didn't want to play him last week and jeopardize our chances of winning."

Johnson said the Cowboys have come down quickly from their first home victory in 14 games. The triumph over San Diego tied the number of games the Cowboys won in all of 1989.

"We haven't been able to savor our victory because of the Giants," Johnson said.

"Even though we are an improved team, we had a lot of trouble against them last year. They are very talented. The Giants don't give you anything. You have to earn everything against them."

Tech preps for 'scary' UH Television

HOUSTON (AP) — Texas Tech coach Spike Dykes always has had a way of getting his team's attention. Thursday night's nationally televised game with 18th ranked Houston is no exception.

"We can't mope around; we've got Russia coming in here Thursday," he said. "We held Ohio State to 94 yards in the first half. That's one possession for Houston."

The Cougars' run-and-shoot offense ground up Nevada-Las Vegas 37-9 Saturday and Dykes observed no dropoff in the Cougar machine that was led by Heisman Trophy winner Andre Ware last year.

"It's scary," said Dykes. "Last year they were about as high octane as I've ever seen. I don't think there's much difference this year."

The Red Raiders lost to Ohio State 17-10 after leading 10-3 in the third quarter.

Houston will be the eighth nationally ranked team Tech has played in its last 14 games.

"They just had everything in completed form" against UNLV, Dykes said. "They looked in mid-season form. They looked good in all the places we looked bad."

Houston Coach John Jenkins, Cougar offensive coordinator under Jack Pardee last season, admits to subtle changes.

"We have some new looks unfolding, you have to keep moving forward," Jenkins said. "These defensive coaches are smart. You can't just keep beating them with the same thing."

Junior David Klingler stepped in as Ware's replacement and threw passes to nine different receivers against UNLV, led by Tracy Good with nine receptions for 101 yards and two touchdowns.

Manny Hazard, who set an NCAA record with 142 receptions last season, dislocated his left elbow in the second quarter against UNLV and will miss Thursday's game.

"When you talk about losing Manny, you're talking about the all-time record holder in the history of football," Houston coach John Jenkins said. "But we've got depth at that position."

The Cougars are good without Hazard, Dykes said.

"He's like the eighth wonder of the world," Dykes said. "You hate to see a kid like that get hurt. But it won't slow them down."

"If they could afford an injury at one position, they've got tons of receivers."

Dykes is glad the Raiders have a short week.

"If you had three weeks to prepare it would be the same," Dykes said. "Sometimes it's good to play in a hurry. You don't have a chance to go through all those contortions feeling sorry for yourself."

The Raiders, 9-3 with a victory over Duke in the All-American Bowl last year, have avoided the embarrassment of lopsided defeats that have plagued other Southwest Conference teams against Houston.

The Cougars defeated Southern Methodist 95-21 last season and also have beaten Baylor by 56 points, Rice by 64 and Texas by 51.

Jenkins doesn't anticipate an easier game than the Cougars' 30-29 victory in 1988 in Jones Stadium. Houston won 40-24 in the Astrodome last year.

"We've had some all-day fights with Texas Tech and this one should be no different," Jenkins said. "Last year we were up 17-0 and they kind of matched us score for score after that." Tech defensive coordinator Carlos Mainord has a brass roulette ball that he occasionally spins for inspiration.

"When we play Houston, it always comes up 'pray,'" Mainord said.

YMCA fall signup continues

The Hereford YMCA has opened registration for the 1990 girls volleyball league.

The league will offer competition for girls in first-sixth grades. The league will have separate divisions for first-third grades and fourth-sixth grades. Six-year-olds may participate in the first-third grade division.

Players must provide their own shoes and knee pads. Only tennis shoes will be allowed.

Entry fee for the league is $9 per player. All players must be YMCA members. One-year memberships may be purchased for $20. Those needing financial assistance may apply for scholarships.

Registration deadline is Sept. 14 with practices beginning Sept. 17. All games will be played on Saturdays beginning Sept. 22.

For more information, contact the YMCA at 364-6990.

County's birthday party set Oct. 6

Centennial committee schedules Texas-sized package of activities

By ORVILLE HOWARD
Special Feature Writer

One hundred seasons of feast and famine, and the thousands who lived those seasons, will be remembered when Hereford and the State of Texas salutes the Centennial of Deaf Smith County on Oct. 6.

A Texas-sized package of fun, the day-long celebration will hold in honor the deeds of the past, recalling how a wilderness of grass became the richest agricultural county in the state.

Mrs. Ruth McBride, head of the Deaf Smith County Centennial Celebrations, said scores of county residents have joined in a unified effort the past six months to make the affair one of the biggest county centennial celebrations in Texas.

"We've invited President Bush, Gov. Clements and a host of Congressmen and legislators from throughout the Southwest," said Mrs. McBride, who accepted the volunteer leadership position from County Judge Tom Simons. "In addition to the long list of dignitaries, we're expecting the entire county and thousands from the neighboring counties to be on hand for our Centennial Celebration."

Mrs. McBride, a long-time civic leader, gave due honor to the many local volunteer workers who are putting the wraps on the county-wide celebration.

"There's just no way to express my deepest appreciation to those who have put in so much effort in putting this celebration together."

The celebration will begin with a parade through downtown Hereford at 10 a.m. Besides bands and riding clubs, parade entries will include floats from local businesses, service clubs, churches and others.

Parade Chairman Shirley Garrison said the top three floats of the parade will each be awarded an official Deaf Smith County commemorative plate. Sponsored by the Hereford Board of Realtors, the plates depict the Deaf Smith County Courthouse encircled in gold and beige borders.

"The first 10 plates in numbered sequence will be auctioned off during a special event in the second floor rotunda of the courthouse during the noon hour," said Garrison. "The balance will be sold for $20 each on a first-come, first-served basis. The limited edition has been set at 300 plates."

Also during the noon hour, Hereford CattleWomen will hold a drawing for a special fundraiser.

Garrison also said any Deaf Smith County senior citizens who wish to ride in the parade will have a personal chauffeur, courtesy of antique and classic car club members.

"The members of these clubs have volunteered to provide rides in the parade for any of the senior citizens who wish to participate," said Garrison. "We'll make the necessary arrangements if they let us know ahead of time by contacting the office at the Senior Citizens Center here in Hereford."

The highlight of the celebration will be the unveiling of a bronze bust of Erastus "Deaf" Smith, the namesake of the county, at the south entrance of the Deaf Smith County Courthouse.

Hereford Attorney Earnest Langley will be the master of ceremonies for the 11 a.m. unveiling. Lois Hull of Canyon, the great-great-granddaughter of Deaf Smith, will unveil the bronze. Mrs. Hull has been active in Canyon for many years, and has played a leading role in TEXAS, the musical drama at Palo Duro Canyon State Park that just wrapped up its 25th season.

A number of special guests are scheduled to make appearances during the unveiling ceremonies, including sculptor Don Ray of Channing. Ray prepared the bronze especially for the centennial committee. Following the unveiling and the day's activities, the bronze bust will be moved into the second-floor rotunda of the courthouse for permanent exhibition.

Ray, a Texas Panhandle native, has been recognized nationwide for his sculptures and oil paintings. Through the past 20 years, most of his work has featured scenes of the Southwest and depictions of the life and times of the Comancheros.

Ray described the sculpture of Smith as being something "extra special" in his professional career.

"When Ruth approached me with the idea of commemorating the Centennial of Deaf Smith County with a life-sized bronze bust of Erastus 'Deaf' Smith, I was delighted to have been chosen to do it," Ray said in his Channing studios. "The concept of incorporating some exciting events of Smith's activities into a portrait bust was not new to Ruth, for she had seen the Charles Goodnight bust into which I had woven events of his life."

"After reading biographies of Smith, it was decided to incorporate the destruction of Vince's Bridge, Smith leading the charge at Concepcion, and Smith with cupped hand to his ear. Each of these are arranged around the large portrait so that the sculpture will have an interest from any view."

Ray said the bronze bust is being cast in Denver, Colo. It will stand 18 inches high and 9 inches deep, with a black marble base.

The bronze bust depicts the likeness of Deaf Smith, the legendary Texas frontiersman who served as a Texas military scout, soldier and a captain with the Texas Rangers. Though Smith figured prominently in many battles in the Texas War for Independence in the 1830s, he is perhaps best remembered for his courageous stand against the Mexican Army during the retreat of Gen. Sam Houston from Gonzales.

Smith was later put in command of Gen. Houston's scout detachment. It was his work as a spy scout that put Houston in a decisive position in the Battle of San Jacinto. It was Smith's performance as a militiaman in the blasting of Vince's Bridge that cut off the retreat of the Mexican Army and led to its defeat.

The nickname of "Deaf" Smith was attributed to his being hard-of-hearing, according to some historians. Others believe the so-called deafness may have been more of an act: Smith, by nature, was a quiet man of few words.

Smith died at the age of 50 less than a year after Texas had gained its independence from Mexico.

It was in Smith's honor and memory the county was named when it was created from Bexar County on Aug. 21, 1876. The county was attached to Oldham County for law and court purposes, and Tascosa was the county seat.

For 14 years, Deaf Smith County was attached to Oldham County. After a petition was signed by 98 county residents and was accepted by Oldham County commissioners, Deaf Smith County was voted into official existence on Oct. 3, 1890, marking the beginning of 100 years of progress that will be recognized statewide in the Hereford celebration next month.

Johnnie Turrentine and Fred Rivera, who are in charge of the entertainment at the celebration, have lined up many performers who will keep the outdoor atmosphere in tune with the times during the unveiling ceremonies on the courthouse steps.

"We've contacted groups of Western singers, Bluegrass bands, and mariachis, along with additional performers of Spanish and Mexican music," said Mrs. Turrentine.

Rivera is working to obtain a group to give renditions of German music in honor of the large group of German and Russian immigrants who developed a large section of Deaf Smith County into productive farmland. Long before the coming of the longhorns or the breaking plows, Indian, Spanish and Mexican farmers followed the blue waters of the Tierra Blanca Creek and the Frio Draw.

Mrs. Turrentine, who is also assisting R. W. "Bud" Eades with the food booths, said the Hereford Chamber Singers will give a rendition of "The Yellow Rose of Texas" after the unveiling of the bust.

Following the noon meal of the Centennial souvenir plates, the celebration will be centered throughout the courthouse square area. The public may enjoy food, covered wagon and buggy rides, and a stroll back in time at the Deaf Smith County Museum north of the courthouse.

Food of all flavors will be served by various organizations on the courthouse square. Food Chairman Eades said there will be no worry in finding a noon meal on the courthouse square and treats throughout the afternoon.

Many items will be for sale, including special Centennial t-shirts and caps.

A special treat for young and old will be featured at the museum. Several exhibitions will depict the life and times of Deaf Smith County over the past 100 years.

Museum Director Donna Brockman said the Deaf Smith County Historical Society will also feature a sidewalk style show of apparel from the 1890s.

"We've had a host of museum directors in here working to get all of the costume showcases ready for the public," Mrs. Brockman said. "The various styles will be decked out on mannequins, which will be arranged in a variety of lifestyles. The display will also include the cowboy and styles of the range."

Museum Demonstration Chairwoman Jeri Bezner said the live demonstrations of the early days will include a country classroom, bread making, butter churning, quilting, spinning, folk music, the Hereford Senior Citizens Line Dancers, and an old-fashioned lemonade stand. On the more rustic side of life in the Old West, the live features will include gunfights, farriers at work, and leatherworkers at a cobbler's table.

The afternoon will include tours of the E.B. Black Home, a railroad caboose, and a general mercantile store before the days of supermarkets and computerized cash registers. Several hands-on demonstrations will include working with a cream separator and a coffee grinder.

Mrs. Brockman said the winners of an essay contest for seventh- and eighth-grade students will be announced during the afternoon. The essay title, "History of Deaf Smith County 100 Years Ago," was aligned with the celebration. The deadline for the essays is Sept. 26, with entries to be turned in at the museum or Hereford Junior High. Cash awards will be given to the winners. As a museum visitor from Connecticut once said, "It's like a flower blooming in the wilderness." The museum is one of the finest county collections of archives and artifacts in the state.

Free rides on horse-drawn wagons will be given by Bruce Parr, who lives on his family farmstead near Black, about 11 miles southwest of Hereford.

Though Parr has a barnful of wagons, surreys and various models of stagecoaches and buggies, the Centennial Day rides will feature the stagecoach and surrey.

Garrison said the free rides are being sponsored by Champion Feeders, AZTX Cattle Co., Hereford Bi Products, Bradford Trucking, K-Bob's Steakhouse and Bar-G Feedyard.

Parr and his remuda have performed in New York, Chicago and Dallas and are frequently seen in area parades and trail rides.

All of the events are under the auspices of the Deaf Smith county Historical Commission, which includes Ruth McBride, Theresa Artho, Bill Bradley, Irene Cantu, Mary Cramer, Judy Detten, Bud Eades, Shirley Garrison, Andrew Kershen, Juanita Koetting, Mrs. Walter Kreig, Ernest Langley, Mrs. Glenn Nelson, Mrs. Lee Newman, Vesta Mae Nunley, Margaret Perez, Peaches Reinauer, Fred Rivera, Helen Rose and Johnnie Turrentine.

Abundant Life

BY BOB WEAR
Patient Endurance

The final test, the bottom line, for us human beings is in how well we preserve. The load gets heavy some times, and the road gets rough, but living must proceed. Of course, there are some good times, and some accomplishments, and many days are good days; but the test comes, sooner or later. It is therefore very important to all of us that we learn the skills which will produce the quality of 'patient endurance'. We dare not give up.

The basic nature of life is its continuance; and this includes the repetition of many things, the things which must be done again and again. We must not grow weary of these essential parts of the living experience. In addition to these, there will be something unexpected. It may be difficult to handle, and it may not; however, it must be done. To some extent we can condition ourselves for what we think of as the unexpected, and this will be helpful to us in maintaining our 'patient endurance'.

Most of us, perhaps all of us, know some of the feeling of thinking that we will just give up, but we do not give in to this feeling; because we know that this is not the answer. Somehow, within ourselves, and some times with the help of a friend, we find the desire and the strength to revive the victorious quality of 'patient endurance', and we move on. It may help us to realize that most conditions and situations are temporary, and with this, we can usually recall some past difficult time, when our 'patient endurance' brought us through the test reasonably well. This will help us to 'keep on keeping on'.

There will be some notable success, and there may be some failure; but we know that the living experience is a mixture of sunshine and shadow, of gain and loss, of joy and sorrow; but we have learned that the one constancy of 'patient endurance' moves us along with the sense of victorious living.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A pediatric nurse ignored getting stuck with a needle, thinking it was of no consequence. She believed she was not at risk because she worked with children. Unfortunately, the needle was contaminated with hepatitis B virus. The nurse became infected and was out of work for five months.

A security guard came to the rescue of a bleeding gunshot victim who had been dumped on the hospital steps. The guard later got hepatitis B.

An orthopedic surgeon in Texas nicked his finger during a surgical procedure on a patient who was an unidentified hepatitis B carrier. Within days he was critically ill with hepatitis B and had to have a liver transplant.

A medical resident thought he had the flu but continued to care for patients. When finally examined, his blood chemistry revealed, you guessed it, hepatitis B. His condition deteriorated rapidly and he went into acute kidney failure.

Fortunately, he recovered, but how many patients did he infect before he knew he had hepatitis B? Did he transmit the disease to his wife and child? Chances are that he did.

All of these people risked their lives and careers because they chose not to be vaccinated. They thought being careful was enough and didn't worry about becoming infected.

The incidence of hepatitis B in this country is alarming. If you are at risk you should protect yourself against hepatitis B virus infection by taking an injection of the hepatitis B vaccine. - Thelma King Thiel, American Liver Foundation, P.O. Box 28, Cedar Grove, N.J. 07009.

DEAR THELMA: Thank you for the alert. While your letter seems to be aimed at health-care professionals, the information is something we all need to be aware of.

If any member of the family gets hepatitis B, it is wise to check with a physician about getting the vaccine.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My wife died in 1977 after a long illness. Several months ago I married a family friend who was divorced. Over the years we had spent a lot of time together as couples.

My present wife and I are enjoying what I believe is a good marriage, with one exception. I have an office in my home which I use for business and also as a little retreat. I have several pictures on the walls of many places and people who are dear to me, including, of course, photos of my deceased wife, children and grandchildren.

My wife objects to the pictures of my deceased wife, saying that SHE is my wife now and all the pictures of my first wife should be put away. Last night she brought up the subject again and said, "How would you like it if I put a picture of my ex on the wall?"

I am not going to let this ruin my marriage and will put my first wife's pictures in a drawer before I'll let that happen. I honestly feel that she is wrong, however, and would appreciate your opinion. - Sounding Board Wanderer in Santa Barbara

DEAR SANTA BARBARA: The comparison of a beloved deceased wife and a divorced husband is a poor one. Those pictures should remain on the wall and I hope you will not knuckle under.

You can patch up a scratch on your car's finish in minutes for years of protection.

Music faculty to participate

Members of the West Texas State University music department faculty who are alumni of the University of North Texas will perform in concert Saturday, Sept. 15, at Mary Moody Northern Recital Hall of the WTSU campus. The 8 p.m. recital is part of the year-long University of North Texas Centennial celebration.

WTSU performers include Joseph Cox, trombone; Bill Evans, piano; Margaret Forrest, soprano; James Gardner, organ and keyboard; Robert Hansen, tenor; and Davie Ritter, trumpet.

A reception honoring UNT Chancellor and Mrs. Alfred F. Hurley will follow the recital. The concert is free and open to the public.

For more information, contact the WTSU department of music and dance at 806-656-2840.

It sounds as if this woman is envious of the relationship you had with your first wife. Too bad she is so insecure.

Do you have questions about sex, but no one to talk to? Ann Landers' booklet, "Sex and the Teen-Ager," is frank and to the point. Send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope and a check or money order for $3.65 (this includes postage and handling) to: Teens, c/o Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562. (In Canada, send $4.45.)

Save the environment

Our air may be cleaner, our natural resources safer and fewer animal species may face the threat of extinction, thanks to new environmental programs launched by many governments around the world.

While many cities in the U.S. and Europe, for instance, have started large scale recycling programs and community clean-ups, Australia has gone one step further. They've created the unique position of first-ever ambassador for the environment.

In addition to promoting recycling programs and working for a treaty that would ban mineral mining and other activities in Antarctica that could harm the continent's environment and ecosystem, the ambassador is fighting the practice of driftnet fishing. Driftnet fishing nets are made of very strong nylon, trapping almost all sea life whose path they cross, a characteristic that has earned them the nickname "walls of death." Many people around the world oppose driftnet fishing because it's indiscriminate in terms of catch, endangering marine mammals such as seals, whales and dolphins as well as sea turtles, sea birds and many endangered fish species. Lost driftnets can also be a navigation hazard.
