Deaf Smith County United Fund Fastest In State

An indisputable title of "fastest city in Texas" was earned early this week for Hereford when Debbis Knox and Melvin Jayroe called state United Fund headquarters and said, "We've reached our goal." Two weeks after kick-off, Alex Schroeter tallied up the receipts and the goal was exceeded by several dollars. By noon Wednesday, several hundred more dollars were turned into the drive chairman. Not the first city in Texas to finish the fall United Fund campaign, Hereford completed theirs in the shortest time — from kick-off to reaching the goal. Five division majors topped their hundred percent mark. The schools with division major Johnny Clark pulled in the highest percentage with 149 percent. B. F. Cain and Bobby Owen, majors for the governmental agencies and rural areas respectively, each collected 103 percent of their goals. Leo Forrest with banks, utilities and lawyers collected 104 percent. Cleo Corliss, division major for a commercial district reported 99 percent of his goal by check-in time Tuesday morning. Buddy Blomcr with the other commercial district had 95 percent by that time and Ben Childers, who had the largest sum to collect over $6,000, had collected 75 percent of that amount. Joe Soto had collected 13 percent by Tuesday morning. Goal was set at $30,400 and the check-in time revealed that the majors had collected $30,449.59 in the two weeks working time. Debbis Knox, drive chairman, said Wednesday that he would like to express his appreciation to the organization, the majors, captains and workers. "They should be proud to work in a community like Hereford. Those who gave should be proud of the community. We had some individual disappointments, but over all, 't has been an outstanding campaign." Knox expressed the feelings of the many who worked in the annual drive.

Sheriff's Resignation Triggers Political Strife

Sharp Accepts Position In 69th Judicial District

Lowell Sharp, Sheriff of Deaf Smith County for more than 10 years, Monday submitted his resignation to the Commissioners Court of this county, effective immediately. The letter of resignation however, stated that he would remain at his post until a qualified replacement could be named. Sharp has resigned to accept a position as Adult Probation Supervisor for the 69th Judicial District, an appointment made by Judge Harry Schultz of Dallas.

Sharp was first elected to office in 1952 and served the county as sheriff from January 1953 until Aug. 1957, when he resigned to enter the fertilizer business here. He was replaced at that time by Charles Skelton. Sharp was re-elected in Democratic Primary, 1960, and then appointed to fill out the term of Skelton, in Aug. 1960 who also had submitted a resignation. Skelton did not run for re-election and chose to vacate the office as soon as a replacement had been duly elected. In resigning, Sharp told the Commissioners Court that he planned to stay with the new position, if possible, until time for retirement. "I'm 53 years of age," he said, "and I don't care to make another race for sheriff." Sharp's present term of office would expire in 1968. He indicated that the vacancy created by the resignation of Adult Probation Supervisor J. C. Reese offered the opportunity for "some measure of security" until such time as he chose to retire. "It is only after many hours of serious thought and consideration that I have accepted the position of Adult Probation Supervisor of the 69th Judicial District," Sharp said in his letter of resignation. "My wife and I both feel the position would be better for us in many ways, and especially in looking down the road several years. "My association with the court has been most satisfactory." County Commissioners Tabled Action Monday

The surprise resignation of Deaf Smith County Sheriff Lowell Sharp Monday morning, has set in motion a series of events that has led to a Republican candidate for Sheriff for the first time in the history of Deaf Smith County, and a controversy between the local Democratic Executive Committee and the Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court over authority to name a successor.

Acting swiftly Monday, the Democratic Executive Committee certified Deputy Sheriff Ed Roberson as candidate for the office, several hours before the sheriff's resignation had been seen by the four county commissioners. This would have meant virtual appointment of the Sheriff had not the Republican party chosen to also certify a candidate, Deputy Sheriff Leland S. (Pete) Cole. Leo Witkowski, chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee told the Commissioners Court late Monday that Sheriff Sharp and County Clerk B. F. Cain had come to his house Sunday night with the sheriff's resignation, suggesting that the executive committee could get a candidate on the ballot if they could meet before the deadline (Tuesday midnight) and certify a candidate. The Republican executive committee was notified Monday morning and certified an opponent Tuesday afternoon.

But all was not in harmony. The Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court refused to accept the resignation of Sheriff Sharp Monday stating that they felt imminently more qualified to name a successor than was the Democratic party. "There is some friction in the courthouse," Commissioner Latham told the group, "and the commissioners court is right in the middle of it. We haven't had time to consider this man or anyone else," he said early Tuesday morning. "We're not trying to slap down the Democratic Executive Committee," said Commissioner Donald Hicks, "we just want to do what's best for the county and we don't want to do it in 15 minutes." At that time, the only candidate that had been certified was Ed Roberson, which would have See STRIFE, Page 2

Bonds Sold By City Commission

The Fort Worth National Bank submitted the low bid Tuesday to the Hereford City Commission for $610,000 in bonds for water and sewer improvements in the city. Effective interest rate on the bonds was 4.07513. A bid of 4.06943 was submitted by three firms who had joined together, the Columbian Securities Corp. of Texas, Rowles, Winston and Co., and Russ and Co. A third bid of 4.1009 was submitted by Dittmar and Co., Inc., Rotan, Mosie and Co., and Underwood, Neuhaus and Co., of San Antonio, and the highest bid of 4.281639 was submitted by the First Southwest Company, and Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith of Dallas. Three Taxing Agencies

Tax Offices To Re-Evaluate

Deaf Smith County's three taxing agencies, city, school and county resolved Tuesday night to work out their own tax inequities as they come to them with the professional advice of Jim McMorries, tax consultant. Also in the resolution that was passed after long and argumentative discussion was the upping of McMorries' yearly fee to $4,000 to be prorated among the three groups as the present $2300 fee has been. During the discussion, conducted by Judge H. C. Williams, it was pointed out that the inequities in evaluations might not be as severe as had been thought in the past. The three groups had met on two other occasions to discuss tax evaluation problems. It was pointed out again Tuesday night that the original problem had been that the three tax collectors had not been cooperating in keeping evaluations equitable. After the first meeting, hosted by the school board, the groups reached the conclusion that the three collectors could work together and resolve some of the problems that had come to light when citizens met with the various boards of equalization. At the second meeting, Jim McMorries tax consultant to the three agencies met with the groups. Host for this meeting was city governmental officials. At this meeting, the group discussed a complete re-evaluation of city property when it was discussed that the schedule was out of date. Rural property at that time was said to be in "pretty fair shape" as far as evaluation is concerned. It was pointed out that values had been adjusted where well sizes had changed and where new wells have been drilled. The county officials hosted the Tuesday night dinner. At this week's meeting McMorries presented his plan to the group to completely re-do city property values, writing a new schedule for $15,000. This would take in five major problem areas — the downtown business district, highway properties that are now evaluated at too low a figure, surrounding areas, contiguous to the city where properties are too low, as well as older areas of the city where property values are too high because of depreciation and mixed neighborhoods. McMorries at first made the offer to work the areas within the city for the fee but then volunteered to include the fringe areas as well. Several proposals were made See TAX, Page 2

Early season records will be thrown out the window this week as District 2-AAA teams begin battling for the district championship. Hereford and Dumas will start inter-league play as favorites for the title, but Dumas still is picked to nose out the Whitefaces. Both teams hold 4-1, won-lost records, but the Demons have faced much stiffer competition in defeating three Class AAAA teams and the Panhandle's top-rated Class AA team, while losing to another strong Class AAAA team. Meanwhile, Hereford has won over two Class AA teams, a Class AAA eleven and a Class AAAA team, while losing to Phillips, 20-8. Dumas defeated the same team 8-0. Muleshoe begins the district play with a 2-2-1 record, while Canyon, Perryton and Tulla each have 2-3 records. Starting district play, Hereford will travel to Canyon; Dumas will do battle with the Mules at Muleshoe and Tulla goes into the Rangers territory to play Perryton. Results of play by District 3-AAA teams against outside competition shows HEREFORD defeating Floydada 14-7 and Olton, 47-8, losing to Phillips 20-8, then beating Levelland 33-8 and Del Norte of Albuquerque 10-8; DUMAS defeating Amarillo Palo Duro 14-0 and Phillips 8-0 before being trounced by Pampa, 20-6, then coming back to defeat Amarillo High 15-14 and Borger 17-7; MULESHOE tying Dimmitt 6-6, losing to Littlefield 21-3, edging Olton 7-6 and smashing Morton 67-8 before losing to Denver City 17-0; TULLA losing to Vernon 24-6, beating Floydada, 14-0, losing to Plainview, 26-14, upsetting Littlefield 15-14 and losing to Quannah 14-7; CANYON losing to Phillips 18-6; beating Levelland 22-6 and Spearman 6-0, then losing to Vernon 28-9 and Tucumcari, N. M. 14-13, and PERRYTON losing to Pampa 20-14, beating Woodward, Ok. 49-7, losing to Dalhart 18-7 and Amarillo Caprock 34-15 before beating Liberal, Kan., 26-6.

Municipal Power Plant Proposed By Dimmitt

DIMMITT—Faced with deciding a $2.4 million bond issue Oct. 25, city residents here have heard this week from both the supporters and opponents of the election. The Dimmitt City Commission called the election to authorize the $2,400,000 in revenue bonds to build a municipal light and power company. The city then would be in competition with the Company for the 1,400 customers. City Manager E. B. Noble explained the commissions action in a public meeting last Thursday. "Our city is presently faced with the problem, as are all other cities in the U. S. today, of finding additional sources of income to take care of our ever increasing needs. The electric system can supply this additional income which otherwise would have to be raised through a general tax increase." Noble said the commission had called the election on such short notice because "we must be to the point that we can sit down and negotiate with Dimmitt Wheat Growers which will sign with someone for its electricity in the near future."

meant election without opposition, or in effect, naming of the next county sheriff by the Democratic Executive Committee.

Commissioners told the Democratic committee they felt more qualified to name the successor, and indicated displeasure at not being informed of the resignation before the Democratic Executive Committee took action.

"We're within our rights and we intend to have a Democrat on the ballot."

Contacted Tuesday afternoon, J. Frank Ford, Jr., speaking for the Deaf Smith County Republican Executive Committee had this to say:

"As a result of the fast turn of events during the past two days, it is our belief that any man would be at a great disadvantage in trying to do his job as sheriff of Deaf Smith County without winning a fair and open race at the polls in this county on Nov. 8. For this reason, we are certifying, Mr. Leland S. (Pete) Cole on the Republican ticket so that the voters can make a meaningful choice, and so that the winner will know that he has the support of the citizens of this county as he undertakes this most important task of law enforcement.

"We feel that it is unfortunate that this has occurred so near to election day, putting so much hurry in people's decisions, but under the circumstances, we believe that an open and above-board race will benefit all concerned. We will support the winner, whichever man wins, and our main concern, locally, is that we have honest, fair, capable law enforcement with a maximum amount of cooperation between the Sheriff's office.

the Commissioner's Court, and the City Police."

Ford was speaking for Republican County Chairman Keith Jorde who was out of town.

Witkowski, County Democratic Chairman, issued the following statement Tuesday. The County Democratic Executive Committee met Monday morning and upon being advised of the resignation of Sheriff Lowell Sharp, was required by Article 13, 12a Section 3 of the Texas Election Code to nominate a Democratic candidate for Sheriff to be placed on the November 8 ballot. Those present were Leo Witkowski, County Chairman, Bill Gentry, H.H. Miller, Jack Weaver, Louis Woodford, Raymond Higginbotham, Leo Forrester and Wayne Higgins. Chief Deputy Ed Roberson was the unanimous choice as the nominee.

Upon being advised by the Commissioners Court that they felt that they were closer to the situation than we were and could better handle it, we called a meeting of our Committee for Tuesday morning and invited the Commissioners to meet with us, and 100% of the Committee was present on Tuesday morning, which included Elmo Hall, J. S. Stocks and Carl Straffus. The County Committee unanimously confirmed the action of Monday. Upon the suggestion by some of the commissioners Court that Mr. Sharp might have withdrawn his resignation and that the actions of the County Executive Committee might be pre-mature, the committee called Mr. Sharp to meet with them in the Commissioners Court and Mr. Sharp confirmed that he had tendered his resignation and was not disposed to change his action. He reiterated that his resignation he tendered to the Committee yesterday was still effective.

The Election Code provides for the Executive Committee to name a nominee and provides for a method which allows the people to vote and elect a Sheriff. Any other political party the same rights as the Democratic Party to name nominees.

The Commissioners Court said that they had tabled the resignation of Mr. Sharp. Such action would deprive people of a right to vote and the County Chairman called the Executive Secretary of the State Democratic Executive Committee and was advised by him that if a letter of resignation had been submitted by the Sheriff, that the County Democratic Executive Committee was obliged to place a Democratic nominee on the ballot. This had to be accomplished Tuesday because the County Clerk had to have ballots for absentee voting Wednesday morning. The ballots had to be printed before midnight, Tuesday night and the action could not be further delayed since absentee voting starts Wednesday morning. The Democratic Executive Committee in this action was merely fulfilling the obligation placed upon it and invited, encouraged and solicited the cooperation of the Commissioners Court in preventing any disturbance of any character.

Wary and still smarting from the "battle for authority," the County Commissioners accepted the resignation of Sheriff Sharp Tuesday noon.

Absentee voting for the 1966 general election was to have started Wednesday morning, but was delayed until about noon, according to B. F. Cain, County Clerk.

Sharp's resignation will become effective as soon as a duly elected replacement has been sworn to office, probably immediately after the court canvasses the ballots following the election.

Bus 51 had stopped to make a left turn when Mercer applied his brakes and according to the police report, they failed, causing $160 damage to the first bus and $450 to Mercer's bus. Mrs. Sherman had her bus back on the route Tuesday morning and she has driven it each trip since. A later check of the brakes on the second bus indicated no major problems, since they were functioning at that later hour according to the school business office.

during the meeting, suggesting various ways the three agencies might work with the professional company to absolve the inequities.

One proposal considered by the groups would divide the city into zones that would receive the attention of the tax collectors for re-evaluation - one zone each year until the entire city property received re-evaluation.

Another proposal that was discarded after talk with McMorries was to approach the problem with the three tax collectors, along with a man furnished by McMorries, to begin a complete re-evaluation and see how far they could get within a year. McMorries said that this plan would create problems because all areas would not be completed by the time that next year's tax rolls had to be made out and that would leave some properties still needing attention.

The groups, after discussing this problem, decided that the time involved in a complete re-evaluation would be greater than any of the tax collectors could spend and that this factor deemed the plan not feasible.

The taxing agencies, after delving into the density of the problem, concluded that since the original problem of lack of operation within the three agencies had been resolved that the attacking of the problem of inequities could be approached economically and wisely by the three collectors working on the evident problems as they appear through the year, with the consultant's periodic assistance.

Among city officials present were Mayor Ray Cowsett, City Commissioners Albert Maxwell, Dick Barnard, Joe Easley, Lloyd Sharp and City Manager Dudley Bayne.

School representatives included school board president Larry Ballard, school board members Bill Gentry, Hugh Clearman, L. B. Russell, Olin Parris, Raymond White and Supt. Johnny Clark and school tax assessor Orpha Click.

Hosting county officials include County Commissioners Donald Hicks, Earl Holt, Marcus Latham and Bruce Coleman. Also present were Oliver Stre who served on both city and school boards of equalization and Ernest Kendall, who served with Streu on the city board of equalization. tern Public Service Company, said in Hereford Tuesday that the plant as proposed "is impractical because it will not provide enough power to carry the new starch plant and half the residents of Dimmitt."

"One of the cardinal principles in this business is to have a reserve capacity equal to the biggest unit," said Weber. "The starch plant will require about 5,300 kilowatts of electricity per hour the year around and half of the population would bring the total to about 8,000 KW."

Weber added that SWPS already has submitted a proposal to supply electricity, heat and steam to the proposed new starch plant for approximately $335,000 per year. The city is expected to charge the plant about $680,000 for the electricity.

The history of the city-owned power system in Tullia also was presented during open meetings in Dimmitt last week. Those attending were told that Tullia had a net income of $220,888 last year after expenses of about $166,000 were taken out.

Weber told the Brand that Dimmitt residents are paying a lower rate for electrical power consumption, according to the rates presented by the Tullia official at the meeting last Thursday. "The average customer consumption in Dimmitt is 395 KW hours a month, for which they are charged $10.66," said Weber. "In Tullia, the same consumption would cost the city resident $14.85. So he is paying taxes in every sense of the word with the higher electric rate."

Weber added that "the bottom step on the industrial rate in Tullia is 1 1/2 cents and we can sell an industry on the same level that much power for three-fourths of a cent."

SWPS has a franchise with the city of Dimmitt until 1984, and under the terms of the franchise 2 per cent of the company's gross revenue goes to the city.

Bill McMorries of Amarillo, consulting engineer for Dimmitt said SWPS has been making a profit with an overall corporate net income last year of $15,609.00. The average income per customer, both commercial and residential, amounted to $329, as compared with the average expense per customer of $136.

McMorries said Dimmitt could operate a plant at a profit, "even with competition, and the electrical rate should be identical with that of SWPS."

In an interview with the Castro County News last week, Noble stressed the bond would hold a lien only on the electric system itself, and the holder of the bond can never call on the payment of the bond from tax sources.

Noble also said that the city establishes rates by ordinance and usually the rates are the same for both public and private utility companies. Weber said "it's true that taxes can't be raised, but electrical rates can be raised to enable the city to pay off the bonds."

During his talk last Thursday, McMorries said the proposed electrical plant would need an annual revenue of $865,000 to be able to handle operating costs salaries for 13 persons, pay principal and interest on debt and show a net profit of $113,192 annually. He said it could be operated at a profit.

Weber said that SWPS intends to stay in Dimmitt until the franchise expires, and sees no need for expansion. "We have all the power that Dimmitt needs to grow right here," said Weber. "If they want industry we'll help them go out and get 10 more industries and then serve them."

"The peak demand in the city this year was 5,300 kilowatts," said Weber, "and we had 40,000 available. Dimmitt also is in line with three sources of power, the Nichols Station in Hereford, Plant X 4 miles south of Earth, and the Tucco Plant, near Abernathy."

Weber said his company had decided against public meetings but will present their opposition to the election through the news, papers, radio and printed material. "We're sticking to the facts," he said.

City commissioners have held a joint meeting of the Lions, Rotary and Jaycee clubs, a public meeting, and have spoken for the radio and newspapers. Taxpayers who have lived in Dimmitt six months or longer and own property will be eligible to vote.

The 1967 National Open golf championship will be held June 15-18 at Baltusrol, Springfield, N. J., the scene of Ed Fugol's surprise victory in 1954.

In Viet Nam

Struggle For Progress Told Lions By Co-Op Manager

Members and guests attending the weekly luncheon of the Hereford Lions Club at noon Wednesday, got a first-hand look at the Viet Nam war from a man who spent six months working with the Vietnamese people.

John Ammons, manager of the Mid-West Electric Co-operative in Roby, told the large group assembled at the Jim Hill Hotel that the Vietnamese people themselves are fighting a constant battle to rid their country of Communists, and the Viet Cong.

Ammons recently was sent to Viet Nam under a program in which the United States government is attempting to establish electric co-operatives in that country similar to the ones said Ammons, "our government saw that something had to be done about Viet Nam. We either had to get out or start to fight for freedom there." "A study commission was sent to the country and they advised that we stay there," he continued. "At the same time, they advised that the best way to help the Vietnamese people would be to better their way of life."

"It was decided that the first thing would be to give the people there electric power, and a special bill was passed by Congress to develop electric co-operatives there."

Ammons, who told of the history of Viet Nam and its people, was one of the rural electric co-operative managers to make the trip. He said the country had been ruled by foreign powers most of its existence and long to be free.

"The Chinese dominated the Vietnamese people for almost 1000 years, then France moved in about 1883 and rules them until 1940. The Japanese occupied the country until the end of World War, at which time France moved back in."

"War began in the small country again and the Vietnamese invited the Communists in to help fight France. The Communists stayed and some of them are still there today," said Ammons.

The speaker described Viet Nam as being completely in a tropical zone, with high temperatures, having a 12-month growing season and an annual rainfall of from 68-72 inches. "They have hamlets there with the population ranging from 3,000 to 7,000 and there is no electrification, plumbing or any other modern convenience."

Ammons said his job was to go into the different villages, explain the co-operative program, sign the people up for the program and get it started. "The primitive conditions there now are somewhat like we had in the United States 60 and 70 years ago. They have great potential, however, and many of them would make good teachers or lawyers if given the education."

Chiefs in the villages, said Ammons, would tell him that if they found any Viet Cong in their hamlet the people would kill them. "It was that simple," Ammons stated. "After talking with the chiefs," he continued, "I never was scared in the hamlets. In the woods and large cities, yes, but not in the hamlets."

Some of the hamlets, he said, had never been visited by a white man. "Usually, if the Vietnamese person was over 30, he could speak French and Vietnamese. If he was younger, he could speak some English."

Ammons also said he constantly saw numbers of refugees leaving Viet Nam in an effort to get away from Communism.

"I can see one big dissolution of the Vietnamese people are going to have," Ammons said. "They think that since they have used American materials and leaders in constructing the co-operatives, that they are going to equal the American standard of living immediately."

Ammons said he could remember one incident distinctly and would remember it always. He had visited one of the villages to present the program and was seated when an old man came over, drew himself up in what he considered to be a military stance and began to speak Vietnamese.

"He talked steadily for about three minutes and I only understood one word — the United States," Ammons asked the interpreter what the old man had said and was told that the old man had said "I am so proud that the United States has the heart and desire to improve people such as we are. I am not going to live long enough to see us get our own elected powers, but I wanted to get a start for my children and grandchildren."

Price Proposes Tax Credit Plan

A three point program to aid on the local level was outlined Wednesday by congressional candidate Bob Price.

"By granting a Federal income tax credit for property taxes paid to school districts local school systems could enlarge their revenues by raising the tax rates without any additional burden on taxpayer's, the 18th District candidate said to members of the Gruber Lions Club.

Price also suggested that tax credits for tuition payments to private colleges "would allow many more parents to send their children to such schools thereby cutting the demands on public school facilities."

"I also propose that income tax laws be changed to allow

Marching Contest Slated In Canyon Next Tuesday

The Whiteface Marching Band will be participating in the AAA and AAAA marching contest at Buffalo Stadium Tuesday, Oct. 25 in Canyon. Competing in the AAA division will be Canyon Tullia, Dumas, Muleshoe, Littlefield, Dunbar of Lubbock, Childress, Perryton, Levelland and Hereford.

With a team of ninety, the Whiteface Band will attempt to equal their past record. They have made seven consecutive I ratings in marching and four consecutive sweepstakes. One of the band's strong points is the quality of music it plays. On the agenda for the contest is "Voice of the Guns," "Seranada," "Burvera," "Colossus of Columbia" and "Crown Imperial," most of which are AAAA numbers. Ben Gollehon, high school band director says, "We're playing some pretty hard music."

In past years, the band has been named the outstanding concert band at Six Flags Over Texas and at the Enid Tri-State Festival. They have also participated in the Buccaneer Festival and year before last participated in AAA marching competition in New Mexico. Last year the Whiteface Band marched before 22,000 people in Buffalo Stadium during halftime of a West Texas football game.

Judges for the contest will be Hiram Henry from Oklahoma State University, James Jacobsen from Texas Christian University and Fred Prentice from Midwestern University. The Hereford band will march at 10:15 in the morning and will be told of their rating at 12:00. Gollehon said any interested persons are invited to attend the contest and that there will be no admission into the stadium.

The Whitefaces will battle the Canyon Eagles at Buffalo Stadium Friday night and Gollehon feels that the band will be using the halftime show "as our pre-contest rehearsal" for routines and music will be those used in the contest Tuesday.

This year's drum major is Roger Suttle and the majorettes are Trisha Hill, Alana Cromer, Deborah Walden, and Margaret Phipps.

Commissioners had applied for funds to aid in the project. Approval of such a grant calls for the federal government to match 50 per cent of the funds.

Initial construction on portions of the project already have begun.

Council Hears Testimonial

Speaking to the Council on Alcoholism at a 7:00 a. m. breakfast in the La Hacienda Cafe Wednesday was Burnice Luck of Cleburne, Tex.

Luck gave the testimony of his life when he "spent 25 years with a bottle in one hand and probably a pair of brass knuckles in the other." Luck told the group, "I'm not a speaker I just have a testimony I believe that God called me for my testimony just the same as He did Billy Graham."

Luck has written a book entitled "God Made Me New" which took two years to write. He was introduced by the Rev. Ronald Harpster, pastor of Avenue Baptist Church.

Following the program there was a committee meeting to plan the Alcohol Information Week which will be the last week in November.

GEHL MIX-ALL Grinds! Mixes! Delivers!

The Gehl Mix-All, with economy plain feeder and exclusive crusher-feeder attachment, grinds, mixes and delivers the most uniform on-the-farm feed.

Here's proof: Samples of feed grains, ground by Gehl and competitive mills, were compared in a "sieve-shaker" analysis (a grinding uniformity test used also by commercial feed manufacturers). In test after test, Gehl samples were the most uniformly ground. And, the more uniform the grind, the better the mix!

In the Mix-All hammermill, 66 thin, alloy-steel hammers cut... not pound ingredients on a big grinding surface for faster feed flow with reduced "fines." Come on in for a close-up look at all the Mix-All features, including the swinging auger-feeder.

COFC Committee To Investigate Sunday Closings

Directors of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce voted Wednesday to create a "Blue Ribbon" committee to investigate the voluntary application of the Texas six day work week law with its optional Saturday or Sunday closing for retailers as applied in Amarillo and other communities, to determine how effective their action has been, how it was accomplished and then to report back to the Board with a recommendation as to what action if any the Chamber should take in Hereford.

Nominees for election to the Chamber Board of Directors were approved. Ballots which will be placed in the mail on November 1st will carry the names of Clete Cortiss, Dale Young, Ed Line, Earnest Langley, Joe Whitley, Jerry Detwiler, Irving Alexander and Mrs. Jack Renfro. Members will have until 4:30 p.m. on November 15th to return their ballots to the Chamber of Commerce office. They will vote for four of the candidates to serve a three year term beginning February 1st, 1967.

In other action the Board received the report of the membership committee indicating that the recent membership drive produced 43 new members for a total of $2,450 bringing the total chamber membership to 385 with $31,102 in total pledged membership support.

The recommendation of the Civil Emergency Planning Committee that the City of Hereford and Deaf Smith County give full consideration towards employing a full time qualified civil defense director was approved. Recognizing the need, the Board felt that the biggest problem here was one of public recognition of the importance of this position. It was pointed out that such a person might not

Amendments

Many Officials Give Approval

Seven organizations and associations of county, district and precinct officials and employees have announced their support of Senate Joint Resolution No. 4, No. 5 on the ballot, to be voted on November 8.

This was announced today by the committee formed by the Texas Federation of District, County and Precinct Officials to encourage statewide support of Amendment No. 5.

The amendment authorizes the State Legislature to provide retirement plan for county employees and officers to be financed by participants in the system and prohibits the state from ever appropriating funds for the system. The organizations and associations which have now come out strongly endorsing Amendment No. 5 and urging its approval include:

Texas Federation of District, County and Precinct Officials; The Sheriff's Association of Texas; The County Treasurers Association of Texas; Tax Assessor-Collector's Association of Texas; County & District Clerks.

"These organizations and their friends are working hard to encourage general support for Amendment No. 5 and I feel the public in general recognizes the need for the retirement system it will provide," Smith said. "Such systems are now available to virtually every group of governmental employees as well as those in private enterprise so there is every reason for county employees to enjoy such benefits," he added.

"Particularly in view of the fact that it will be the participants themselves who will finance the system — not the state — from every making an appropriation for the system under the provisions of the Amendment No. 5," Smith concluded.

CANDIDATE SPEAKS

Miller Says That Democrat Needed

Dee Miller, candidate for U. S. Representative from the 18th Congressional District, speaking at a rally of Hartley and Dallas County Democrats Tuesday night in Dalhart, called for a unified effort to get voters to the polls on November 8.

"If the 18th Congressional District is to have a voice that will be heard in Washington; then it must send a Democrat to speak in its behalf," Miller said.

"A Democrat meeting with the 22 other Democratic Congressmen from Texas will be able to formulate and when necessary, oppose legislation."

Miller continued, "A Republican from the 18th Congressional al District will be a voice outside the door, unheard and ineffectual."

My opponent has spent thousands and thousands of dollars on his television," Miller said, "and he has not yet said one word about what he stands for — it is always just what he is against. He has not even used the word REPUBLICAN. Silent Bob's secret is out though — he is a Republican, a Kansas Republican; educated in Oklahoma financed by moneyed eastern Republicans and advised on what to tell the voters of this district by the Bruce Alger Republicans in Dallas."

"My only promise to the voters of the district is that when I go to Washington I will represent all the people of the district — not a minority group with special axes to grind."

Miller will speak to the Canyon League of Young Democrats at 7:30 tomorrow night, October 19, in the Green Room of the Student Union Building on the West Texas State University Campus.

OLD STONE FORT
Nacogdoches

The Old Stone Fort standing on the campus of the Stephen F. Austin State Teachers College at Nacogdoches is generally believed to have been built during 1779 or 1780.

It has been held and garrisoned at various times by Spain, Mexico, the Republic of Texas, the Confederacy and the United States.

It was truly an outpost in the wilderness!

Nacogdoches itself, one of the four oldest civilized settlements in Texas, was named for the Nacogdoches Indians. Here in 1716 the Spaniards established Mission Nuestra Senora de Guadalupe around whose deserted buildings Nacogdoches was permanently established in 1779.

WARTIME ENGLAND

LONDON — German playwright Rolf Hochhuth wants his latest play done in London first instead of in Germany "because of political objectivity."

Hochhuth previously stirred up an international fuss with "The Deputy" which concerned the role of Pope Pius XII in World War II. The new drama, "The Soldiers" concerns wartime events in England.

Horse Disease Is Wide-Spread

An outbreak of Encephalomyelitis among horses has become wide-spread in Texas according to the Texas Veterinary Medical Association. Reports of the viral disease have been made by veterinarians and horse owners alike in east, central and south Texas and in the Texas hill country. According to veterinarians and the TVMA the outbreak is believed to be the worst in many years taking its toll in deaths of from 20% to 90% of those animals infected and often leaving surviving animals with permanent brain damage. It is feared the disease may spread to all areas of the state.

Encephalomyelitis affecting the horse population in Texas at the present time is the same type of virus that has plagued the human population in Texas this year and in other recent years. Like in the human population, the mosquito is the primary vector that transmits the virus and it is spread to the bird population and then to horses and man.

Symptoms of the disease in the horse consist of lack of coordination, paralysis of the mal attitude and behavior. Most horses stand in a peculiar, unnatural stance with the head and neck drooped in a sleepy manner thus the common name of "Blind Stagers" and "Sleeping Sickness" are frequently used to describe the disease. Death occurs in three days to two weeks in animals lost to the virus.

The Texas Veterinary Medical Association warned that the disease is extremely dangerous to the horse population although there is no danger of spreading the disease from the horse to man. The Association urged that horse owners see their veterinarian immediately for advice and vaccination of their animals. Annual immunization of horses and other equine species is recommended in all areas having a history of the disease or a high mosquito population.

ORIGINAL CAST ALBUMS

Several record companies previously have helped underwrite costs of specific shows, but now Capitol Record is providing Producer Hillard Elkins with $250,000 for the development of several works-in-progress. In return, the firm receives first option on recording three shows among eight ventures Elkins controls.

FLOODING FURY — This water hydrant, and many others in Hereford, was opened Tuesday morning for a short time. The purpose of this was to flood the drainage ditches and flush the trash out of the main lines. According to Bill Byers, superintendent of the City's Street Department the purpose was also to eliminate unpleasant odors caused by the cluttered drains. Byers said this is done periodically, depending upon the amount of rain we get.

New Easter Seal Ensures Service

A new state-wide Easter Seal treatment and service program which will ensure equal rehabilitation services to all crippled children and adults in Texas, will be presented during the annual convention of the Texas Society for Crippled Children and Adults to be held October 21, 22 and 23, in McAllen, Texas.

Robert W. Milam, M. D., chairman of the Society's Treatment and Service Committee will present the new program on the second day of the convention.

Opening session of the convention, Friday at noon, will be highlighted by a panel discussion and demonstration of new developments in treatment of brain damaged children. Three outstanding physicians Dora A. Chao, M. D., of Houston; Kenneth Reidland, M. D., of McAllen; and Alfonso Tohen, M. D., of Mexico City, have been working on developments of treatment for brain damaged children. The panel discussion will be on findings in this field.

Rehabilitation speakers from across America will lead sessions during the convention. Featured speakers include Joel Stark, Ph. D., Associate Director of the Division of Speech Pathology and Audiology, Stanford University School of Medicine; Leigh Rook, Ed. D., Associate Director of the Medical College of Virginia, School of Hospital Administration; Margaret Rood Director of the Department of Physical Therapy, University of Southern California; and Harold Weiner Executive Director of the National Public Relations Council of Health and Welfare Services. Doctor Stark will speak at a Sunday morning breakfast for speech therapists.

Dr. Rocke will address physical therapists in a similar Sunday breakfast session.

Included in the three-day convention will be election of a board of directors, a report on proposed reorganization of the Texas and National Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults and presentation of the plan for treatment and service to all physically disabled in Texas.

REP. ROGERS REPORTS

Public Opinion Reflected In Congressional Houses

Dear Fellow Texan:

The collective judgment of the Congress is more reflective of the national mood than any evaluation made by pundit, pollster or even President. The 435 members of the House of Representatives and 100 Senators speak for the people in deciding issues. Whether or not we as individual American citizens agree with the majority verdict, we abide by it. We do so because we believe in the rule of law, that under the Constitution the people themselves are the true leaders of government, that the people's will is best expressed through a responsive, representative Congress.

Congress is frequently criticized because, in the view of some, it is too slow to act. There is nothing new about this kind of criticism; it has been heard throughout our history, through the administrations of both political parties. Critics seem to concentrate especially on the time Congress takes to dispose of legislative recommendations sent to Capitol Hill by the President, who, under the Constitution, is empowered to recommend to the Congress "such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient." From time to time resolutions have been introduced in Congress to set deadlines for decisions on Presidential recommendations. In my view, it is well that all such proposals have been pigeon-holed. To assent to Presidential priorities in legislating upon the independence and prerogatives of the legislative branch — the people's branch — and to threaten uncontrolled Executive domination of Congress.

When Congress is slow to act on legislation it is usually because there is no clear view as to how the people of the nation feel about the proposal. When opinion is divided, Congress does not act swiftly. When the people are obviously united behind a proposal, action by Congress quickly follows.

As we have seen in recent years and again in this Second Session of the 89th Congress, the extent and very serious nature of legislation before Congress is such as to require lengthy sessions. In the early days of the Republic, Congress could dispose of such matters as were placed before it in the winter and spring and then adjourn. But as the country has grown and the facets of problems facing it have become more complex — and as governmental power has shifted from the State legislatures to the national Congress — the responsibilities facing the House and Senate have grown and the study of congressional procedure has been made by a joint House-Senate committee and Le-

Second Of FHA Hobo Days Set

Girls of Hereford High School FHA are ready to cry "Help" for their current project, which is to supply help to residents of the city. They will observe the second of two Hobo Days Saturday and they hope to receive numerous calls for help.

Specifically, FHA members are ready to hire out for all types of odd jobs that day, for work in either homes or business houses. They will pool their wages to finance FHA projects of this year including sponsorship of one of the foreign students in HHS.

Not enough calls were received last Saturday to keep the members busy and they hope for more this week. Telephone calls may be made to 364-4790, Gail Risher at 364-3816 or Susan White at 364-1362.

gislatory recommendations may be forthcoming. However, I very much doubt that any substantial steps can be taken to "streamline" the consideration of bills. Further, I believe it would not necessarily be in the country's interest to promote speedy decision-making. Proposed laws must be examined carefully, with full deliberation as to their consequences. Congress should be judged by the wisdom of its actions, not by a stopwatch.

Thomas Jefferson once said, "I think it a duty in those entrusted with the administration of their affairs to conform themselves to the decided choice of their constituents." In other words, Members of Congress are to be representatives of the people, not trustees acting in a well-known best manner. It has been my observation that the great majority of Congressmen and Senators follow this precept.

Sincerely, Your Congressman Walter Rogers

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Syphilis Is Still Rampant

IS there any way by which young men and women can be protected against the ravages of venereal disease? A few years ago it seemed that these dreadful conditions could be wiped out, but now the newspapers are filled with the terrifying statistics that these diseases are on the increase. Is there a vaccine against syphilis and gonorrhea?

H. G., New Jersey Dear Mr. G.: The greatest protection against venereal disease are morality and education. Public Health officials and educators have relentlessly bombarded parents and children with the distressing facts that venereal disease is at the highest level in our history.

Religious advisors and schools are supporting physicians in an effort to protect the adolescent and adult from these diseases which often leave permanent effects on their entire lives. The antibiotics and the sulfa drugs can only be considered as being moderately protective when they are taken within a few hours after exposure.

A false sense of security, because of these drugs, has led to more frequent, indiscriminate exposure to the possibility of disease. Some types of the germ that causes gonorrhea have become resistant to drugs and are unaffected by them. Many diseases produce an immunity within the body so that reinfection does not occur. This is typical of small pox, measles and mumps. A single attack of gonorrhea, however, does not produce immunity against it.

There is said to be some immunity against syphilis but the protective aspects of the body's defenses cannot be relied on during many exposures.

There is no vaccine against syphilis or gonorrhea that will confer immunity.

The casual attitude of adolescents is reflected in the totally false statement that "gonorrhea is just like a cold and that syphilis can disappear by itself."

This is monumental ignorance of the devastation that can be caused by venereal disease. Gonorrhea in women can cause disease of their Fallopian tubes and prevent them from ever giving birth to children.

Gonorrheal arthritis can leave permanent damage to the joints. Syphilis that "goes away by itself" refers to the open sore which may heal and thereby disguise the fact that syphilis is running rampant within the body.

There must be no letup by parents and educators against the catastrophe of venereal disease.

Boys' Club Film To Be Shown Here

James E. Sperring, Regional Director of BOYS' CLUBS OF AMERICA, will show a 25 minute color film of activities of Boys' Clubs to a public meeting this Thursday. The meeting will be held in the Flame Room of the Pioneer Natural Gas Co. at 7:30 p. m. under the sponsorship of the Recreation Committee of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

The Recreation Committee is not endorsing or attempting to organize a Boys' Club in Hereford at this time but due to the outstanding record of this organization in other areas we have invited Mr. Sperring to Hereford to allow Hereford people to become better informed on the organization. Woody Wilson, committee chairman stated. The public is invited and it is particularly hoped that those individuals interested in and concerned with youth activities attend the meeting.

Following the meeting the Recreation Committee will visit with all those attending the Thursday meeting to determine whether it is felt that the Boys' Club program could fill any needs not being met by organizations already operating in Hereford. Particularly urged to attend are representatives of the United Fund, of the schools, of police and welfare agencies dealing with youth and of other interested civic clubs having youth programs.

Bob Greenlee, shot putter from Daytona Beach, will captain Yale's indoor and outdoor track teams next year. He will also captain the Eli football team next fall.

Church Youth Officers Named

Meeting for a formal installation of new members and installation of new officers at the Summerfield Baptist Church Monday afternoon, the Intermediate GA's used the GA colors of green, gold and white. The table, covered with a white-linen cloth, was centered with a green floral arrangement and gold tapers in gold bell holders with an open Bible before them. Focal point was a mission map of the world placed behind the table. Each girl lighted her white candle from the counselor's gold one as scripture was quoted. The service was based on the scripture, "Ye are the light of the world."

Following a business and planning meeting the installation of officers was conducted by Mrs. James Arnold, counselor. The GA emblem was used as the symbol of installation with each officer adding a piece until the wall emblem was complete — a white star bearing the gold GA monogram enclosed by a green octagon edged with gold. Devotional thoughts were based on the meaning of the emblem as related to each office and the colors of green for growth, white for purity and gold for sincerity were used. Officers installed were: Janet Lookingbill, president; Mary Jo Clearman, vice president; Ellis Been, secretary and community missions; Carl Cole, program chairman and Kathy Austin, prayer chairman and mission study.

A TIME TO SMILE — Louis Machuca topped the United Fund goal with a flourish to show that Hereford and Deaf Smith County had exceeded their goal — with more coming in. Melvin Jayroe and Debbs Knox, officers can't keep from grinning about being the fastest campaigners in the state. (Hereford Brand Photo)

By MELVIN YOUNG

It's always nice to live in a small town. So many interesting things happen during the course of a week.

The United Fund goes over the top — the city, county and school taxing agencies agree to cooperate — and two candidates for sheriff suddenly appear on the ballot just 20 days before a general election.

Where else but in a small town could all this happen?

The resignation of Sheriff Lowell Sharp caught a lot of people by surprise. Most of all, the Commissioners Court.

It is, we think, most unfortunate that the county commissioners were not informed of the resignation before the local Democratic Executive Committee. The sheriff, after all, is a servant of the people and directly responsible to the commissioners court of this county — not the Democratic Executive Committee.

The committee, by the way, had certified a candidate early Monday morning before the court could act upon the resignation of the sheriff. Had not the Republican party stepped in to the rescue and also certified a candidate, we would have had, in effect, a sheriff appointed by the Democratic Executive Committee.

These remarks, incidentally, are not to be construed as an endorsement or a rejection of either candidate. They are both fine law enforcement officers. The decision as to the next sheriff of Deaf Smith County will be left to the voters, as it should be. We believe the citizens are well enough acquainted with both candidates to make a decision — even at this late hour.

Both men have worked in the sheriff's department as deputies — both have had prior law enforcement experience before becoming associated with the Sheriff's department. Both are well schooled in this business of "law enforcement."

We regret that Sheriff Sharp has resigned. We think he has done a good job over the years and has one of the most efficient departments in the area. He will be missed in this capacity.

We realize however, that the new situation offers many challenges and we can think of no one more capable of handling the position of Adult Probation Office than Lowell Sharp. This office lost a good man when J. C. Reese resigned, but again, Reese is quite capable of handling his new duties.

Meanwhile, dust off your poll tax receipt folks, there's a new sheriff's race on the ballot.

Congratulations to Debbs Knox and Melvin Jayroe, drive chairman and president respectively of the Deaf Smith County United Fund.

The local fund drive went over the top Monday and money is still rolling in. And congratulations too, to each and every worker who helped to put the drive over, and to those who opened their hearts — and their purses — to give for this most worthwhile community effort.

All the agencies dependent upon the United Fund for support appreciate you.

Incidentally, you might be interested in hearing that Deaf Smith County was the first fund drive in the state of Texas to go over the top. Not in the nation, as some area publications have been reporting, but first in the state. And that's still a pretty good record.

Deaf Smith County Farmers Union members will host the annual district banquet set for tonight.

Services Held For V. L. Clark

Funeral services were conducted in Amarillo Saturday afternoon for Vander Lloyd Clark, 58, who died in a Hereford hospital last Thursday of burns suffered a week earlier in an accident at his trailer home, 215 Witherspoon.

Mr. Clark has been employed here as a cafe cook. He was a native Texan, born Sept. 14, 1908.

A daughter and a son survive him. The funeral was held in an Amarillo funeral chapel and burial was in Llano Cemetery. Local arrangements were in charge of Gilliland Funeral Home.

Sale Benefits Children's Clinic

Another $4,234 has been added to the operational funds of the West Texas Rehabilitation Center, thanks to the annual Horse Sale phase of the Cattleman's Round-Up for Crippled Children.

The amount is more than double what the 1965 Horse Sale raised.

A total of 53 horses and one goat went to the auction block Saturday at the Abilene Livestock Auction Company. Top selling horse of the sale was "Bill Hemphill," a Quarter Horse donated by W. F. Martin of Hamlin. Guy Caldwell of Abilene paid $375 for the animal.

"Davids Scooter," a grandson of "Scooter S," and donated by David K. Danciger of Midlothian, was bought by Joe A. Mize, also of Midlothian for $233.

The three phases of the Round-Up-Cattle, sheep and goat, and horse sales — have raised $88,740 for the Center, and still another phase is planned.

On November 19th, a "country-store-type" sale will be held in Old Abilene Town. Featured will be quilts, farm implements, "and a little bit of everything," said Shelley F. Smith, WTRC executive director.

The Round-Up provides about one-third of the operational funds for the non-profit Center, which provides free treatment to 1,818 patients. Most of the operating expenses come from United Funds and memorial contributions.

Subpoenas Issued In Clifford Case

Attorneys for the state and defense have issued subpoenas for 11 local and area newsmen to appear Friday in the change of venue hearing for William B. Clifford of Danyon.

Clifford, charged with intent to murder in the April 8 shooting of Billy Joe Stevens of Hereford, will appear at 10 a. m. in 69th District Court here Friday. He was found guilty of murder with malice in the April 8 shooting death of his wife in Canyon and has begun serving a two-year sentence in the state penitentiary at Huntsville.

Subpoenas were issued from the district court this week for radio and television broadcasters in Hereford and Amarillo, and newsmen in Hereford, Amarillo and Borger.

Presiding at the hearing Friday will be Judge E. C. Nelson of Dalhart, who has come out of retirement to fill in for 69th Dist. Jdgc Harry Schultz of Dalhart. Schultz has had a foot ailment for several weeks. candidate speaks 2-36-millersays

ONE MINUTE PLEASE

THE CHURCH I LOVE... CLEARS UP RELIGIOUS CONFUSION

"For God is not a God of confusion but of peace." (1 Corinthians 14:33). Self-willed men create confusion and turmoil; God, who is love, brings peace and harmony within the body of those who follow him.

A masterful conductor can bring a concert of harmony in a great orchestra when each member follows his exacting lead. There is no confusion, for each, keeping his eye on the conductor, acts only as the master will. Let one or more of the members of the orchestra become self-willed, refusing to follow the leader, and confusion is the result. If such confusion continues, men will refuse to join the orchestra and many of the original members will drop out. Only the most ardent lovers of music will remain. And sorrow will fill their hearts because the peace and harmony, they once enjoyed so much, has gone.

"God was in Christ reconciling (bringing back to harmony) the world to himself." (2 Corinthians 5:19). So God, in his mercy, love and grace for mankind, appointed his Son Jesus Christ the Prince of Peace, as Conductor to bring harmony and peace out of confusion and turmoil that has fastened itself upon Adam's children.

"All this is from God, who through Christ reconciled us (the apostles and the rest of the church) to himself and gave us a ministry of reconciliation." (2 Corinthians 5:18). The church has the assignment to clear up religious confusion and bring harmony and unity to Christendom. In this work we are promised, "God will supply every need of yours according to his riches in glory in Christ Jesus." (Philippians 4:19).

The problem is created when self-willed and defiant men, who take pride in their own ignorance, choose not to follow the Masterful Conductor, Christ Jesus. Confusion in Christendom is the result.

In spite of this problem the church must continue, "with all lowliness and meekness, with patience, forbearing one another in love," to be "eager to maintain the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace." (Ephesians 4:2, 3).

Knox Makes Area Bread

Hereford Bakery Is Local Industry

In the bakery business since 1931, Debbs Knox says "Anything there is to do, I can do." Knox, whose father owned a bakery in Amherst, Texas, began working in his brother's bakery in Hereford December 25, 1933. At that time the bakery was located on Main St. where the First National Bank now stands.

with the Park Avenue business "since we've been here our volume has more than doubled," he says.

The Hereford Bakery is about the only small bakery left which is individually operated, says Knox. He manufactures almost every type of bakery item imaginable using special recipes of his own. Knox says he's tried various commercial mixes for cakes, donuts and brownies but wasn't satisfied with the quality of the results. Most ingredients he secures locally. He says "everything we can get locally, we do." Things like eggs, milk and sugar he can find in the Hereford area without going to wholesale houses.

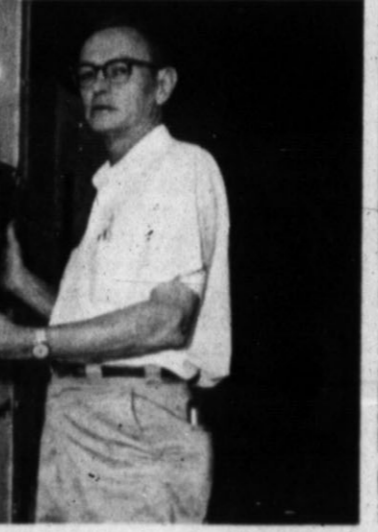

delivery boy. Of the three women employed by Knox — Thelma Carroll, Neola Bohner and Wilma Bohner — two work in the front selling merchandise while one supervises the bread wrapping machine. Knox says he still bakes himself. "When I have to."

Goods are baked from 1:30 a. m. until noon and placed in the stores fresh each day.

Knox and his wife have three children, two of which are Hereford residents and the other, Brant, attends Texas Technological College. The two living here are Mrs. Bob Noland and Mrs. Dean Hacker. They also have three grandchildren, Michael and Cindy Noland, 8 and 6 respectively and Kerrie Hacker, 4. They reside at 133 Ave. B.

and is a past deacon of that church. He was a volunteer fireman for fifteen years and assistant fire chief thirteen years of that time.

Knox says of the bakery business, "It's been my life's work" and from all appearances he will continue with it as long as he is able.

SWEET TOOTH SPECIAL — Debbs Knox, owner of the Hereford Bakery, pulls a pan of brownies fresh from the oven. Knox supplies all Hereford grocery stores and Tri-State Baking Company of Amarillo with at least a portion of his goods.

Knox supplies all the local grocery stores and some cafes with his goods which are packaged in the bakery. He supplies Tri-State Baking Company of Amarillo with 100 percent whole wheat bread and brownies. He feels that the bakery does a "real nice volume business."

Knox's wife does all the cake decorations for the bakery. She says she had never done anything of this type before marrying into the Knox family, but when a baker who did the decorating quit she began doing it temporarily. And she says, "I've been doing it ever since." Mrs. Knox has quite a bit of natural artistic talent and she feels that this is necessary in order to be really good at it. The bakery uses no artificial decorations unless they are especially requested. Most decorations for wedding cakes are ordered commercially. All ceramic figurines are ordered in this way, though some other decorations Mrs. Knox designs herself.

A&M Schedules Annual Horse Show

COLLEGE STATION — Special entertainment and demonstrations will add a new dimension to Texas A&M University's annual Horse Show Short Course here Nov. 6-8.

The ethics session is next. Yeates said probable areas to be covered are relationships between the stud manager and mare owner, buyer and seller, owner and veterinarian, owner and insurance company, and owner and trainer.

Program Chairman B. F. Yeates, Extension Service animal husbandman, said the overall session is still in the planning stage, but tentative plans for the extra attractions call for a Shetland show, polo game, and performance demonstration with a wide variety of horse types.

Demonstrations will include cutting horses, Shetland harness, Arabian native costumes, polo techniques, Tennessee Walkers, and gaited and jumping horses.

Other second-day topics are nutrition, genetics, reproduction, and a panel discussion on settling mares. The latter will include pasture breeding, hand breeding and artificial insemination.

The demonstration of various horse types and equipment is scheduled for the evening of Nov. 7.

Yeates said a short course subject expected to draw much attention involves ethics in the horse business.

Activities start the first day with registration, the Shetland Show and polo game. Registration continues on the second day and the short course gets down to business with a talk on the Texas horse industry. Short course speakers are not yet confirmed.

A&M veterinarians take over the final short course session Nov. 8. Topics to be covered are immunization programs for disease prevention, internal and external parasites, colitis and lamenesses.

Yeates said a special feature will be an actual post mortem demonstration of horse disorders.

The short course ends with a question-the-experts session.

Sponsors of the overall event are the Animal Science Department and the College of Veterinary Medicine at A&M.

Conservation Tour Of Farms Slated For Friday Morning

New farming methods on two Deaf Smith County farms will be shown to the public at 9 a.m. Friday during a tour sponsored by the Soil Conservation Service and the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Scheduled for inspection on the tour is the water parallel terrace system and grassed waterway on the Earl Clark farm and a new grazing program on the Johnnie Estep farm. The two farms are 10 miles southeast of Hereford on Farm - to - Market 1259.

James D. Gouddy, supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration office, said Estep has seeded about seven acres of a rye-velch mixture in an effort to fill a grazing gap for his livestock next March through May.

Gouddy explained that in 1959 Estep rented a 657-acre farm. The farm contained 530 acres of very good crop land, 25 acres of native grass and 65 acres of crop land that was not well suited for cultivation. Estep, the Soil Conservation Service and the ASCS office worked out a plan for seeding the undesirable crop land to improved pasture, as well as complying with all crop allotments and using conservation practices on the remaining crop land, said Gouddy.

Estep presently is producing wheat, cotton and grain sorghum along with the livestock enterprise, but is concerned with the lack of moisture for his cows during certain periods of the year.

Estep hopes that the rye-velch mixture will fill a gap from mid-March to mid-May when the other areas on his farm are grazed out.

profile very slowly. So when we have fast or large rains, a lot of the water won't soak into the ground and runs off, creating an erosion hazard."

"For this reason," Green continued, "these terraces have a slight grade into the waterway so that the runoff water will slowly drain into the grass and the original erosion problem is controlled. These are designed specifically for the Pullman soils of the area."

Bill Kahlich is presently operator of the farm.

Clark seeded the waterway to Western Wheatgrass in 1964 and it presently is providing an excellent protective cover of grass. The parallel terraces were built in 1965.

Green explained that the soils in this area "are very fine textured and take water into the WINTER WHEAT: With generally favorable moisture conditions farmers have planted much of their intended acreage of the 1967 winter wheat crop under much more favorable conditions than was thought possible a few weeks ago. Early planted fields are up to a good stand and will, with only a small amount of additional rainfall, be providing considerable pasture for livestock in a few weeks.

In most wheat producing areas all acreage not protected by growing crops or adequate vegetable cover will be planted to wheat to provide pasture for livestock and to protect the soil from damage by high winds during the winter and spring months.

Texas Cattle Market Hopes Considered Good For Year

COLLEGE STATION — Texas cattle prices will remain favorable for the remainder of 1966 and into 1967, especially for the efficient producer, a Texas A&M University agricultural economist predicted today.

John G. McHaney, Extension economist, said continued strength in the general economy would insure an increasing price trend for beef cattle, beginning very late in 1966. All of 1967, he added, should be favorable if our economy continues to grow and range conditions remain good.

McHaney said feed lot operators at the present were more reluctant than usual to bid up feeder cattle prices. Their feed costs are rising and will be higher in the months ahead than in the first half of 1966 and fed cattle prices have declined to narrow their margins, he said. But, taking all factors into consideration, feeder prices are expected to remain near current levels which are much better than for the same period a year ago.

As for fed cattle prices, he said they should hold during the October-December period to average near the year-ago levels. Marketings of fed cattle are expected to continue large but the increase over a year ago probably will be less than that which took place in the summer of 1966.

Downward price pressure can develop if range conditions over the nation deteriorate; thus, forcing large movements of grass cattle to slaughter at a time when fed cattle marketings are already heavy. Too, feeding to heavier weights could put continued pressure on fed cattle prices during the rest of the year.

Another factor influencing fed beef prices will be the increase in the pork supply for the remainder of the year. Pork production later in the year will be above a year ago and poultry supplies are expected to continue above year-earlier levels, the economist said. Increased sources will tend to keep pressure on fed beef prices, concluded McHaney.

Water Recharge Report Is Given

"Eighty-four acre feet of water have been stored in the Ogallala formation from the two playa lakes at the High Plains Research Foundation thus far in 1966. The water conserved is enough to apply four inches per acre on 253.8 acres," according to Jim Valliant, Soil Scientist, who completed his B.S. in Agricultural Engineering at Texas Technological College.

Five hundred and eighty-one acre-feet of surplus lake water from rain and tailwater runoff into the playa lakes have been placed underground through recharge from 1959 to January, 1966. This does not include the 84 acre-foot acre-feet amount to 27.5 percent of the total amount pumped from all four wells on the Foundation farm during this time.

These artificial recharge wells are multi-purpose. They are (1) an irrigation well, (2) a recharge and drainage well, (3) a lake pump, and (4) a tailwater return system.

Proper installation and proper maintenance are the keys to the success of multi-purpose (recharge) wells. The three major installation factors are (1) Recharging for twenty-two hour and pumping for two hours, (2) recharging water at 85 percent of the pumping rate, and (3) use of the multi-purpose well for irrigation whenever possible — use this well more than the other wells. Each phase is designed to remove any solids which are placed in the formation and keep the well at peak pumping and recharge capacity.

Grasses and other crops such as hybrid grazers are being studied as a means of clearing water in the playa lakes and to obtain income from an otherwise unprofitable area on the farm.

Results obtained at the Foundation and by many farmers through the use of multi-purpose (recharge) wells indicate that artificial recharge of surplus water can be an immediate means of conserving water and replenishing the groundwater formation in the Texas High Plains, as well as being profitable.

C. H. Janeway, Special Representative of the Foundation, in reporting this interview with Valliant said: "Jim has assisted ed many farmers and irrigation companies as consultant in planning and supervising the installation of multi-purpose (recharge) wells. These wells are located in many communities in the area in addition to the two recharge wells at the Foundation. Some of these locations are Hart, Edmonson, Olton, Littlefield, Lockney, Tulla, Hale Center, Cotton Center, and Plainview."

FEED GRAINS: While some corn fields were severely damaged by hot, dry weather late in July and early in August most of the acreage has responded favorably to the improved growing conditions of the past four or five weeks. If present prospects for the 1966 corn crop are realized this crop will be the third highest of record. In the main grain sorghum producing territory favorable growing conditions have pushed expected total U. S. production to a new high. But for a considerable part of the dryland grains orghum acreage to mature fully an average or later frost will be required.

Trotter Farms Cop Prizes With Hogs At State Fairs

Exhibits from the Trotter Berkshire Farm of Deaf Smith County ran away with a large portion of the ribbons in the Berkshire Breeding Swine Show last week at the Pan-American Livestock Exposition of the State Fair of Texas in Dallas.

Other awards won by the farm in the Berkshire show included first in Class 6 of the January Boar Pigs; second and third in Class 7 of the February Boar Pigs; third in Class 8 of the March-April Boar Pigs; second in Class 13 of the Mature Sows; first in Class 1 of the Mature Boars; second in Class 2 of the Junior Yearling Boars; third, fourth and sixth in Class 14 of Junior Yearling Sows; first, second and third in Class 15 of the Senior Sows; first, second and third in the January Sow Pigs; second, sixth, eighth and 10th in Class 19 of the February Sow Pigs; second, fourth and seventh in Class 20 of the March-April Sow Pigs, and second and third in Class 25, Get of Sire.

Buck Trotter said that in the past three fairs animals from the farm have won approximately $1,000 in prize money.

The farm exhibited the Grand Champion and Reserve Champion male and female at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo; the Grand Champion male and female at the Lubbock fair, and

Cotton Moisture Controls Grading

MEMPHIS, TENN. — The moisture content of seed cotton is the key to preserving fiber quality during ginning.

Fiber breakage is the major adverse effect of ginning on quality, and the degree of such breakage is directly related to the moisture content of the cotton at the gin stand.

For maximum quality preservation, the USDA Ginning Research Laboratories recommend that moisture content during ginning be kept in the range of 6 1/2 to 8 per cent. Fiber breakage increases progressively as moisture content is reduced below these levels.

When fibers are broken in ginning or ruptured so that they break in initial mill processing, there is an appreciable loss in use value. This is because length properties directly affect yarn strength, mill processing amount of manufacturing waste, spinning performance, and Length properties also determine the size yarn which can be made from a given cotton.

From the grower's standpoint, length is a principal factor that determines price. It also exerts a strong influence on the demand for cotton from a given area and on whether a premium will be offered or how much premium is paid.

The National Cotton Council stresses that moisture content of cotton should be checked a frequent intervals to make sure it is maintained at 6 1/2 to 8 per cent levels during ginning.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING!

Expert Shares Ideas

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

When a nationally-known writer of cookbooks comes to town we can hope to hear some new recipes along with other ideas about cookery, and Carol Truax was no disappointment to the crowd who heard her speak at the dinner Friday night opening the Holly Food Editors' Tour.

IN FACT, she gave more than was expected as she enlivened with humor and even clowning the solid facts she presented. White-haired, dark-eyed and vivacious, she said frankly that she liked to eat more than she liked to cook.

"You may think I should lose a few pounds," she remarked, "but actually I have lost more than 300 pounds — a little at a time and at different times, and in between I'd gain them back. But don't fool yourselves for a minute; overweight is caused by overeating."

That led to a discussion of calories and Miss Truax said there are many erroneous ideas about them even though the public is better informed than when dieticians first began stressing calorie-counting and, "in many people thought they were something to sprinkle on food."

SINCE ALL FOOD has calories, she said, a cook needs to know something about balancing high-calorie and low-calorie food in planning menus.

She used balance as the key word in menu planning, saying a meal should offer a balance of color, texture and flavor in food, that a heavy main course calls for a light dessert and a highly spiced entree for a bland salad.

Giving recipes for desserts, she said the dessert is not just an afterthought but the final touch to a meal, an epilogue which is a compliment to guests.

ICE CREAM CAN be the base is for special desserts, she added, and it need not be homemade. Starting with a good commercial ice cream, slightly softened, a hostess may add crushed fresh peaches or frozen berries, sweetened to taste, to achieve a quick dessert worthy of a gourmet's taste.

A blender is useful to make the peach or berry "smush," she said, and raspberries must be strained to remove seeds. The raspberry "smush," sweetened and frozen, is a delicious sherbet.

She also suggested mixing instant coffee powder into softened ice cream, adding that a spoonful or two of Irish whiskey in this mixture makes it extra special. She likes intensified flavors, she said, such as peach ice cream with fresh peaches and a dash of peach brandy added.

AS FOR QUANTITIES, in these recipes Miss Truax said they should be made to taste, and in order to do that, the cook must taste the mixture as she works on it.

That rule is also true in using spices and herbs, she continued, saying that overuse of seasoning is a common fault of cooks.

"The idea is not to put in enough to make the diner say, 'That's cinnamon', but to make him ask, 'What's that flavor?'" Your guests needn't know what seasoning is in a dish, so long as they know it's good."

Seasonings should be used with discretion, and in variety, for salad dressings, the culinary expert said. She praised the quality of salad vegetables in the United States, but said muth beer dressings are used by European cooks.

MOST AMERICAN cooks believe salad dressings difficult to make, but mayonnaise needs only one egg, oil, vinegar and a little sugar, whipped a minute in a blender or perhaps four minutes with a fork, she insisted. Then she advised taking a part of the plain mayonnaise at a time, using different spices or herbs for each salad.

A final recipe she gave was for fish baked in foil. Wrap it in lettuce leaves or spinach leaves to supply moisture, she said, add a little seasoning and lemon butter, wrap tightly in foil and bake in a 350-degree oven, about 40 minutes for a small fish or filet, an hour for a larger fish.

Miss Truax said she is often asked her opinion of mixes and ready-prepared foods.

"THEY'RE JUST FINE!" she exclaimed. "Of course they are used by women who never prepared food any better than that, and these cooks need some help. Those who cook well will keep on cooking, and that's as it should be."

A native New Yorker, Miss Truax is a professor and consultant in fine arts for the State University of New York; and continues to work with the Fine Arts Center in Colorado Springs, which she helped found, and the fine arts department of Colorado College there, of which she has been executive director.

She is producer of a summer theater series in Colorado Springs, and in addition conducts tours abroad. Her books of recipes with witty commentary have made her widely known.

The next book, due for publication soon, is The Cattleman's Beef Book, written with Omar Barker, and she is working on still another, The Art of Salad Making.

Hereford Groups Send Large BSP Delegation

Tied for the distinction of having the largest number of members present at the annual area conference in Borger last weekend, Hereford Beta Sigma Phi members lost to another group which had a higher percentage of its members there. Some 300 members of the sorority registered, representing 43 chapters over northwest Texas. The 1967 area meeting was awarded to Amarillo. Highlight of the two-day program at Borger was an address by Walter Ross of Kansas City, founder of the sorority which has grown in the last three decades to international scope. His subject was The God-Given Privilege of Choice. Borger members entertained visiting BSP members with a series of social events, sandwiched between business sessions and serious programs. Numerous door prizes were contributed by Borger merchants, and winners included Mmes. Nolan Grady, Harold Beauchamp, Chuck Loring and Bob Huddleston of Xi Epsilon Alpha Chapter, Mmes. John Gilliland and Lowell Hill of Kappa Iota. Others who went from Hereford Chapters were Mmes. Jack Straw, C. D. Fitzgerald Jr., Houston Frye, Harold Kins, Wendell Maloney, Rudy Metz, Duke Powell and Bobby Shelton of Kappa Iota; Mmes. John Schneider, Delbert Baum and Bill Kendall of XEA.

Bridge Club Makes Gift To Center

Gift of an electric dishwasher for use in the west kitchen at Community Center has been made by the Hereford Duplicate Bridge Club, which meets at the Center each Thursday evening. Installation of the dishwasher was financed from proceeds of tournaments and special games. Previous gifts of smaller pieces of equipment have been made to Community Center by the Duplicate Club. Weekly games of the group are open to any area residents who play duplicate bridge or wish to learn. Members sponsor a regional tourney here every summer, and play in various tournaments. Several entered a recent tourney at Plainview. Some of the Hereford players placed, although no tournament prizes were won. In the party were Messrs. and Mmes. Russell Carver, Francis Hill, Bill Dye and Ed Schroeter; Mrs. Max Leon, Mrs. John E. McCleskey, Mrs. Dick Ghelson and Andy Shuval.

Glad's Garden

By Gladys Howton Manjoo

The past few weeks Hereford has been very beautiful because of the masses of chrysanthemum blossoms, which were in varied colors, and sizes.

These spectacular beauties history can be traced back to the Orient for 2,500 years. They can be grown indoors, outdoors, in greenhouses, and by anyone who wants to grow them. From clusters of thimble-size blooms to gigantic "football" types, from daisy-like flowers to feathery spiders, from dwarfs that stand a little over a foot high to giants taller than yourself — you can make your choice or you can try them all. As to color—there you can have anything except blue, from brilliant yellows and reds to white, pink and soft muted shades of bronze, purple and gold.

The history is most interesting. Long, long ago, so the story goes, a beautiful maiden in a remote part of China walked among her flowers as she thought about something her sweetheart had told her. He had expressed a wish that they marry soon so that they could have as many years together as possible. She longed to know how many years this would be and finally begged an elf to tell her. The elf promptly said, "You will live together as many years as the flower you choose has petals." The lovely girl became frightened as she searched day after day and failed to find a flower with a multitude of petals. When she finally found one with seventeen, she quickly plucked it. Then, as no one was watching, she deftly split each petal in two, then four, until at last she had a flower with countless petals — a CHRYSANTHEMUM.

The origin of this fanciful tale is lost in time, but it's a fact that chrysanthemums were cultivated by gardeners in China more than 2,500 years ago. And in the fifth century, there lived such a noted breeder of mums that after his death the name of his native city was changed to Chu-hsien, the city of Chrysanthemums. The culture of the flower spread to Japan where mums were so fervently admired that great efforts were lavished on their improvement. The Order of the Chrysanthemum became the highest honor the Emperor could bestow. Eventually traders, botanists and explorers, roaming the seas, brought the mums to Europe. And during these years, no nation accomplished more in initiating new forms of the flower than France. There the little pompon varieties are said to have gotten their name from the pompons French soldiers wore on their caps. Chrysanthemums first reached North America late in the eighteenth century, were much admired and pushed into prominence with typical American zeal.

In our own area, we owe a debt of gratitude to The Horticulture Department of Texas Tech College, for the outstanding work they have done in their study, and improvement of the Chrysanthemum. Dr. Ed Zukauckas, and Dr. Elo Urbanovsky, started this intensive study and experimentation about fifteen or twenty years ago.

Dr. Zukauckas, came to Tech from New Jersey, and he had done some work on the propagation of chrysanthemums, and their uses in landscape. Dr. Urbanovsky, was deep in the process of re-landscaping the campus at Tech, and wanted color and sturdiness, in plants for the campus. They started by planting chrysanthemums, in small plots, near the greenhouses. Getting their plants from California, and other locations, and through experimentation and propagation they developed plants that would be adaptable to growth in this area, and would give bloom early enough that they could be enjoyed weeks before the first frosts, or freezing weather. This work grew and grew, and now they have acres of plants growing, and are still trying and testing. The campus is a beauty spot in our District, and the fall Chrysanthemum shows staged at Texas Tech each year are attended by throngs of people. It was my pleasure and profit to see the first plots, and to share with Dr. Zukauckas, and Dr. Urbanovsky as they have developed this wonderful phase of Horticulture for the college and the plains people. I grew some of the experimental plants in our garden, and have kept some of those that were best.

HAVE YOU SEEN: The chrysanthemums at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Mitchell, 365 Westhaven Drive? They are beautiful. Mrs. Mitchell is Horticulture chairman in the Hereford Garden Club, and has grown many of the new chrysanthemum introductions this year in her garden. Next week we will share with you the names of some of our favorites which have been most successfully grown.

The grounds at the Deaf Smith County Museum are taking on a new look, if you haven't driven by do so, it is interesting and very typical of early plains-days. Mrs. Sears and her co-workers are to be congratulated in the accomplishments made both inside and outside the museum. Be thoughtful and courteous and express to them your thanks and appreciation.

Of interest is the forsythia which is growing and BLOOMING at the home of Mrs. John Whiteside, 123 Ave. C. This has bloomed all summer and is unusual.

At Kansas City Farm Equipment Shown At Museum

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A group of Texans are planning to build their own pavilion at a Kansas City museum area devoted to preserving early-day farming equipment.

Chairman of the campaign to build the pavilion and to collect the Texas implements is K. D. Jones of San Antonio.

Delph Ericcoe Jr. of Uvalde, a civic leader in Texas, former state legislator and rancher-banker, recently visited the museum and is in the movement.

The museum is the Agricultural Center at Donner Springs, Kan., on the outskirts of Kansas City.

Gov. John Connally has given the Texas Pavilion project formal endorsement.

The center was chartered by Congress and opened to the public last year. Visitors during the year came from all states and 20 foreign countries.

One of the major attractions is a Longhorn that was donated by the Light Ranch of Cotulla, Tex.

Kenneth T. Anderson of San Antonio is chairman of the naage a home in the United States every 12 minutes. According to the National Fire Protection Association, one out of every 12 fires starts in rubbish. When you throw litter on our streets or allow it to accumulate around your property, it constitutes a fire hazard, and is MOST UNSIGHTLY. Hereford, is a beautiful town, but we have too many LITTERBUGS. . . are you one? . . . Teach your children and others by a good example, do not litter by being careless, and unthoughtful. KEEP HEREFORD BEAUTIFUL.

Glad

tional board of governors and more than 20 states already are actively supporting the center.

Texas will be the first state to build its own pavilion, although Missouri, Illinois and Wisconsin also are organizing campaigns to construct their own pavilions.

Elmo Mahoney, curator of the center, says there are two major classes of visitors.

"Thousands of our older visitors grew up on farms and they came to remember the old days and to tell their children about them. The other group, which will grow in importance through the years, is that segment of our population that has never been on a farm and is really amazed at the type of equipment, household items and tools that have been used on farms and ranches.

"Since our population is becoming more urban, I feel the agricultural center will become one of the top attractions in the nation, mostly because it is only one of its kind," the curator said.

Visitors are treated to seeing 50-year-old tractors weighing up to 20 tons rolling around on the large center grounds.

Special events are planned throughout the year, such as wheat threshing, plowing and other demonstrations with equipment that is no longer on the farms of today.

The center is supported by voluntary contributions and admissions.

"We hope to start building the Texas Pavilion late this fall and our campaign is now in full swing. This country was built on an agricultural economy, and we want Texas to share fully in recognition of its vital role," Jones said.

Home Variety Club Officers Are Selected

Officers and committee leaders for a new year were chosen by Rural Home Variety Club at a meeting in the home of Mrs. Boyd Foster Thursday afternoon and date was set for a Thanksgiving dinner to entertain families of members.

Mrs. Foster was returned to the president's office. Other officers are Mrs. Joe Hysinger, vice president; Mrs. Jack Coleman, secretary; Mrs. Bill Roberts, treasurer; Mrs. C. P. Worthan, reporter.

Mrs. Dale Hallows was named program chairman, Mrs. Woodrow Dutton and Mrs. Lewis West to the social committee, Mrs. Fred Boren and Mrs. Jack Williams, yearbook committee.

The Thanksgiving dinner will be on Nov. 18 in Community Center. The next club meeting will be on Nov. 10 with Mrs. Hallows and Williams hostesses.

Mrs. Clifford Hutson was hostess with Mrs. Foster Thursday. Mrs. Coleman's mother, Mrs. Era Maw Walthall of Otton, was a guest.

ATTEND FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Miller and Mrs. H. E. Miller went to Fort Worth the first of this week to attend the funeral of Miss Estelle Miller, who died in that city. Miss Miller, a sister of H. H. Miller and the late H. E. Miller of this county, had been employed as a nurse for many years at Bowie before she retired.

PLAY YARD — These chrysanthemums are growing on the play yard next door to the C. E. Hicks home, 105 Douglas. Dr. Hicks planted the flowers across the front of the vacant lot that is used by the neighborhood children and his sons for sand lot playing. (Hereford Brand Photo)

Memo To GRAIN GROWERS. . . . TIDE'S Fall Plow-Down Program Will Make You Money!

- Tide's Fall plow-down program is designed to make you money:
1. Fall plow-down spreads your work load . . . reduces time, labor and equipment requirements at planting time.
 2. Fall plow-down insures against uncertain Spring weather . . . gives you two opportunities to apply a complete fertilizer program. (Fall and Spring)
 3. Fall plow-down aids in decomposing stalks and builds up soil nutrients.

Basic suppliers say demand for Spring fertilizer will exceed the supply of raw materials and hopper cars. As soon as possible after harvest, shred your stalks and apply Tide's Prescription-Blend fertilizer and start your Fall plow-down program.

PRESCRIPTION MIX FERTILIZER
Tide takes soil samples from your land, free of charge to determine exactly what your soil needs. Then your fertilizer is mixed from high analysis raw materials to fit your exact requirements. Because it is made "on order", your fertilizer is fresh, dry, and free-flowing.

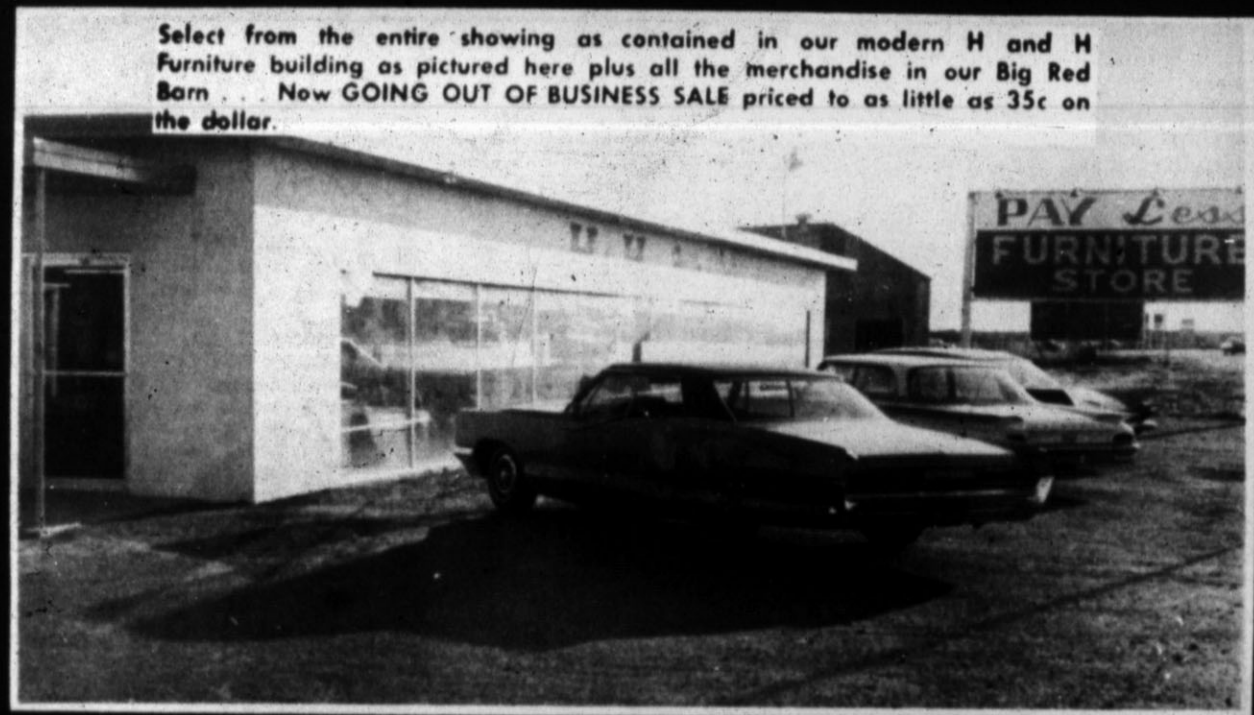

ECONOMICAL
With "prescription-mix", you buy only the nitrogen, phosphate, and potash your soil tests show you need. Storage is no problem, as Tide's TiltBox, holding 14,000 pounds, provides air-tight delivery and storage at the end of the row.

TIDE SERVICES
Tide grower services and products are planned to save time and labor . . . help take the guess-work out of farming. Agricultural Consultants, free soil tests, and Tide's custom designed, weather proof, delivery and storage equipment, cut your production costs.
TRY TIDE . . . you'll be glad you did.

SAMPLES SPACE FOOD — Mrs. John A. Smith, left, who lives north of Hereford, was among Home Demonstration Club women here who attended a recent program at Amarillo where food for space flights was discussed. She accepts a sample from the speaker, Helen Horton.

H.D. Clubwomen Attend Program On Annual Day

Members of Deaf Smith County Home Demonstration clubs joined some 500 women from over the Plains area at the annual Rural Homemakers Day program in Amarillo Friday. A coffee, luncheon and style show were sponsored by the women's division of Amarillo Chamber of Commerce.

Presentation of a silver plaque to Mrs. A. E. Hodges of Hereford, retiring president of Area I, Texas H. D. Association, and treasurer-elect of the state organization, was a program feature. Luncheon speaker was Helen Horton, consumer service director for the Pillsbury Company, which developed and supplied food for the Gemini and Apollo space flights. She described the food and gave samples to the women.

Mrs. Argen Draper, Deaf Smith County H. D. Agent, attended, as did Mmes. Jimmie Bradley and C. F. Homfeld of Bippus H. D. Club, Mmes. J. D. Love and Viola Williams of Cultural, Mmes. N. A. Brown and S. N. Thweatt of Messenger.

Also Mmes. John A. Smith and F. L. Eicke of Ford, Mmes. O. L. Williams and Hodges of North Hereford, Mmes. Charles Smith and John Hammett of Young Homemakers, Mmes. Taft McGee, E. C. Hammett, H. L. Hershey and J. D. Gilbert Jr. of Progressive.

95th Birthday Is Celebrated

Ninety-five years old Friday, Mrs. C. L. Williams continued her birthday celebration through the weekend with visits from a number of relatives from other cities, calls from friends here, cards, flowers and gifts galore.

Counting her descendants to the fifth generation for a total of 81, Mrs. Williams has two daughters and a son in her immediate family in addition to twin granddaughters she reared after they were orphaned as babies.

She has made her home with a daughter, Mrs. Charles Hood, 305 E. Sixth, the past six years and had made long visits here previously. Alert and cheerful, she appears younger than her 95 years and complains only that the sight from her brown eyes is not as keen as it has been.

Born Oct. 14, 1871, in Madison County, Kentucky, she was Minnie E. Harber before her marriage to C. L. Williams in 1888. By that time she was living in Texas, where she had come at the age of nine with her parents.

The family lived in Collin County several years, then moved west to Clay County in 1887. Mr. Williams followed his fiancée there for the wedding the next year. The couple established a home in the small city of Vashti and resided in the same house the next 53 years.

After his retirement, they lived at Bellevue until Mr. Williams' death in 1954.

Mrs. Mary Walker of Sayre, Okla., a daughter of Mrs. Williams, came for the birthday celebration and remained for a visit this week. Her son, T. B. Williams, lives in Lordsburg, N. M.

Others here on the weekend were the granddaughters whom she thinks of as her children, Mrs. Kathalee Yocum of Wichita Falls and Mrs. Nathalee Davidson of Bellevue; a grandson and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Williams of Wichita Falls, and a brother, E. D. Harber of Childress.

Relatives from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thompson of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Miller and children of Dawn.

A large cake, decorated for colors of chocolate brown and gold, was cut and served as the Sunday dinner dessert and with coffee to visitors.

Officers Elected For New Club

During a recent meeting of the Industrial Cooperative Training Chapter of the Vocational Industrial Clubs of America, officers were elected for the present school year.

Elected by popular vote at the meeting were Carl Hollingsworth, president, Rodney Goheen, vice president, Bonita Ruff, treasurer, Becky Long, secretary, Tyler Vance, reporter, Donnie King, sergeant-at-arms, and Dennis Owens, parliamentarian.

ICT, one of the new cooperative groups formed for the first time at Hereford High, now has a membership of 24 students.

Alvin Smith is the coordinator of the club.

Doll Collection Shown H.D. Club

A collection of Hopi Indian dolls was shown by Mrs. J. V. Perrin, hostess to Bippus Home Demonstration Club recently in her home. Each member was given a taste of tiki bread made by the Indians, as the dolls were examined.

The meeting hour was spent in work on the club scrapbook. Mrs. C. G. Burk presided for a brief business session and the next meeting was announced for Oct. 26 at Mrs. Jack Fortenberry's home.

Sister Of City Women Buried

Funeral services for Mrs. Myrtle Minton of Dalhart, sister of Mrs. Winnie Leverett and Mrs. Arline Dean of Hereford, were conducted Wednesday at Lakeview Methodist Church and burial was in a Dalhart cemetery. Mrs. Minton died Saturday at the age of 84. She is survived by a daughter, three sisters and two brothers.

FOR GOD SO LOVED THE WORLD

The Ages of Man

Here they are, pictured from One to Seventy... from infancy to old age. It seems a long, long time from one to seventy, but it is only a little while from Seventy to One. The point is, we don't have much time here. The clock's face shows the hours ticking swiftly away. Then, since eternity is so much longer, perhaps we should spend more time getting ready for the life to come. Better not to have been born at all than to spend your life in riotous living. Rededicate yourself. Support your church, give to the needy and be an influence for good. It won't make much difference how much land one owns when the bell rings. But don't forget... it matters much how one lives before the bell rings.

Taxing the Jackpot

Have you won any radio or TV jackpots lately? Collected any door prizes? Earned a bonus for the Suggestion-Of-The-Month at the office?

In each of these cases, you will have to share your good fortune with Uncle Sam. Each of these items must be included in your gross income at tax time.

True, not all winnings are taxable. Certain scholarships and fellowships are exempt. So are awards bestowed, without any special initiative by the recipient, for "religious, charitable, scientific, educational, artistic, literary, or civic" achievement. Nobel and Pulitzer prizes are illustrations of this exemption.

But miscellaneous forms of recognition, not fitting into any of the above-listed categories, are taxable.

Thus, an award to the "most typical family" in a community did not qualify for an exemption. Neither did an award for 25 years of continuous employment with the company.

In another case, hoping for an exemption, a man described as a "civic" achievement prize he won in a fishing contest. Genially but firmly, the court said no. The judge commented that the man's argument "merits the smile it was no doubt intended to evoke."

How does the government place a valuation on your booty? If you win cash, the valuation is obvious. But if you win merchandise or services, the tax must be calculated according to the "fair market value" of the prize.

That could mean the regular retail price. But in hardship cases, the valuation may be set lower. For example:

A man of moderate means won an ocean cruise on a luxury liner. After a court hearing, his prize was valued at less than the retail price of the cruise, since it was an extravagance in which he would not normally indulge.

In another case, the winner of an expensive automobile was taxed not on the original cost of the car but on its resale value.

And what if you simply can't afford—or don't want—to pay the tax on your winnings? You always have one final alternative that will let you off scot-free:

Turn the prize down.

SIX NEW PLAYS AND TWO REVIVALS FOR THE ABBEY

DUBLIN (P) — Six new plays and two revivals are scheduled for production this season by the Abbey Theater.

Among the premieres are: "One for the Grave," the last play of poet Louis MacNeice; "The General's Watch," by Maurice Power; "Death Is for Heroes," by Michael Judge; "At Bantry," by James McKenna; and "An Coinneal" (The Candle) by Pádraig O. Giollagain. Fresh stagings are slated for Sean O'Casey's "The Plough and the Stars" and Richard Johnson's "The Evidence I Shall Give."

NEW YORK (P) — Playwright Neil Simon expects to have four shows running simultaneously this season on Broadway. His latest work, "The Star Spangled Girl," is scheduled to open Dec. 14. Already on display are "The Odd Couple," "Barefoot in the Park" and the musical "Sweet Charity," for which he provided the book.

Pete Progress

speaking for the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce

Pete just returned from the annual conference of American Chamber of Commerce Executives held in Hartford, Connecticut, when he came into the office of New England in the Fall — the riot of colors as the oaks, the maples and the birches prepare to give up their leaves for the long winter — he reported on some of the ideas that came from the meeting.

Two two-hour sessions were given over to town hall type meetings. The over 700 delegates were divided into 14 seminars or discussion groups. Each group was asked to come up with conclusions on four questions. The first was 'What public responsibilities should the business community of cities be expected to assume?'

Next 'To what extent can the business community be expected to accept responsibility and provide leadership for major community problems?'

Thirdly the seminars were asked to 'Define and list the specific public responsibilities and activities which the business community and the chambers of commerce should carry out alone.'

Finally we were asked to 'define and list those (responsibilities) which the business community and the chambers should carry out in cooperation with governmental agencies and other local organizations in achieving solutions.'

As a basis for discussion there were listed a number of responsibilities. The seminars were asked to discuss these, to eliminate inappropriate items and to add others. First on the list was Business community initiative in setting priorities for physical development and listed as examples were water and sewer systems, refuse disposal facilities, highways, housing, residential renewal, industrial and commercial renewal, schools and libraries, parks and recreational facilities. The second category of responsibility listed was 'Initiative in working out solutions to social problems' with specific examples listed as health and welfare of the poor, unemployment, problems and grievances of the non-white community; housing, employment and educational opportunities; adult crime, youth delinquency.

A third category was stated to be 'Initiative in developing regional public policies' with such examples as economic planning, political institutions, coordination of federal and state programs. Final category of business community responsibility was 'Initiative in developing community leadership' with examples — for public office, for civic positions, for minority group leadership and for neighborhood activities (improvement groups).

All seminars were in agreement that the list should be added to, rather than deleted from and cultural affairs, parking and traffic control, public transportation and other items were specifically mentioned. The agreement was set in the general concept that the business community is primarily interested in operating in a business climate in which the economy is growing and in which business is able to operate profitably. Each of the examples was related to that climate and the costs of doing business, for each of the items has an effect on business either directly or indirectly.

It was agreed that the degree of need for the items listed would vary widely from community to community and that some of the examples would have no application at all in some areas.

Disagreement arose over the role of the Chamber in all of these fields. The general consensus was that in some areas the responsibility was an individual one rather than a group one; that in others civic clubs could more effectively act than chambers of commerce.

In those areas which affect government the opinion was expressed that chambers of commerce should work in closer harmony with the government unit concerned, that chambers of commerce should be informed on city budget limitations, on city long range planning and on practical political considerations which effect the decisions of elected officials.

It was agreed that in the area of economic development the Chamber was the logical action group to initiate and see through to a conclusion such activities as industrial development, retail and wholesale trade development and directly related projects. It was agreed further that the chamber might initiate, serve as an informational or research group, even a pressure group in many of the other fields but that the primary responsibility for actually carrying out the projects would rest with other groups either governmental or private.

To paraphrase a quote misunderstood and misused since its utterance, the group felt that if it was good for the community it was good for business; and that if the chambers of commerce were to maintain their role as the spokesman of business then the chamber should be active in all of those things which are good for the community and therefore good for business. In summary the label 'civic busybodies' could be applicable and could be complimentary so long as chambers of commerce recognize their limitations of finance and man power.

We feel that 'Pete' clarified some questions on the chambers role for us and hope that our presentation of his comments on the conference are of some benefit to Hereford.

TOTAL LOSS — This 1959 sedan driven by Bernice Scott was involved in a three-car accident Sunday morning when she and a 1965 truck driven by Victor Elizondo, 503 E. 2nd collided. Elizondo previously collided with Peggy Sue Drummond's 1961 sedan when it slowed for a dip in the road. The wreck occurred on Park Avenue and caused a total of $520. Bernice Scott was taken to Deaf Smith County Hospital by Gilliland Ambulance.

County Museum Is Rotary Topic

Mrs. Juston McBride was guest speaker for the Rotary Club at their noon luncheon Monday. She spoke on the work done for the Deaf Smith County Museum and shared with the club a few of the dreams of the county's Historical Society for future use of the museum.

Mrs. McBride gave a brief background history of Deaf Smith County and the surrounding areas. She emphasized the fact that the museum will also include the history of Castro, Oldham and Farmer counties because they are so closely integrated with Deaf Smith.

Mrs. McBride said "every place has history" and the Historical Society feels that it should be preserved. She described the work which has already been done to the old Catholic schoolhouse, telling of the gravel, castus, pickly-pear large rocks, etc. which have been transplanted in the front of the building. Beside the entrance they hope to have a square for a flagpole.

The entrance of the museum will house a series of paintings of Indian camps by Jean McGee and other artists, says Mrs. McBride. The period around which the museum will be built is approximately 1873 to 1900 she said. The museum will have an old kitchen, bedroom and living rooms furnished in decor of those times. Mrs. McBride says they "hope that this will be very realistic, or as realistic as we can make it, so many things are gone today."

Also featured in the museum will be a jewelry collection, hat collection, pieces of china and a gun collection. In back of the building will be some farm machinery and old hand-tools. There will be one room which will be available for use by the art guild from time to time. The Ford foundation art exhibit in January will be shown in that room.

Mrs. McBride did not specify a date for the opening of the museum, however, she did say that it will be soon.

Dr. Howard Johnson asked the club members to add their names to the hospital's list of blood donors. He explained this county's practice of using a "walking blood bank" and instructed them on the procedure to take to become a donor.

England added to tour
NEW YORK (AP) — "The Book of Job," a dramatic pageant that began eight years ago in Pineville, Ky., is adding England to its travel log.

The company sets out in October on a tour of a dozen cathedral cities in commemoration of the 900th anniversary of Westminster Abbey.

Alternating with it in performance will be "Romans by St. Paul," another Biblical play. The tour is being sponsored by the Religious Drama Society.

DOUBLE SERVICE FROM A SCRIPT
NEW YORK (AP) — Francis Coppola is getting double service out of his scenario for "You're a Big Boy Now." The feature film is being shot here with Coppola directing.

The 27-year-old writer is using the script as the requisite thesis for a master's degree toward which he is working at UCLA.

"It would be awful if the film should win an Academy award says Coppola. "Then I'd be sure to flunk — nobody at the film school ever agrees with the choice of Academy winners."

PRIZE WINNERS — These entries in the novelty division of the Holly sponsored Cook-off Saturday were the top winners. The lamb, entered by Dolores Cox of Grovesnor, placed first while the swans, prepared by Mrs. Cecil Burke of Amarillo, won second place.

Rev. Glenn D. Stafford
Assembly Of God Schedules Guest
Guest speaker for the Assembly of God Church in Hereford Sunday will be the Rev. Glenn D. Stafford of Amarillo. For the past nine years Rev. Stafford and his family have served his denomination in the South East Asian nation of Burma. Rev. & Mrs. Stafford went to Rangoon, the capital city of Burma in July, 1967 and began pioneer work for their church in that city.

The Staffords returned to the United States early this year but will go back to the Far East during the summer of 1967. Since Burma has been closed to foreign missionary activity, they have been asked by their mission board to go to the nation of Malaysia and work in the North Borneo states of Sarawak and Sabah.

The public is invited to hear Rev. Stafford tell of his experiences in Burma and make a report on Christian work there and how the current political situation is affecting the Christian churches of that nation. Color 35mm slides will also be shown according to Pastor V. W. Marcontelli.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

If I'm not a lot smarter about one subject, food, it certainly isn't the fault of the Holly Sugar Corp., which fed a vast lot of information to food editors of the area last weekend, along with entertainment and some excellent meals (prepared by Hereford food establishments in a manner that impressed the visiting newswomen).

SOME FASCINATING bits gleaned from the talk by Raymond Hassett of the spacemen's headquarters at San Antonio:

The space industry is not yet using all the knowledge which basic research has uncovered about food. In fact, research, conducted mainly by private industry, is about 40 years ahead of practical use.

It is quite practical for a man to make long space flights eating only vitamin pills and "living off his own fat," but he wouldn't like it. The process of eating fills a definite need, so food elements are not condensed into pills, as they could be today.

IN OTHER WORDS, food is reduced only to nibbling size instead of to gulping size so the astronaut can enjoy a food break in his busy schedule.

Attention is paid to making the condensed food tasty, but although at present it is better than dried food, it is, frankly, not up to a good home-cooked meal. So most of the developments in space food are of no particular value on the ground. However, the dehydrated food is handy for campers and some others, and Hassett said the flavor of some is so good that it may become popular for home and cafe use.

CONSIDERABLE VISITING was done here over the weekend by the Raymond Robinson family of Snyder. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson with their daughter, Karen, a student at Texas Tech, and son, Bo, were guests in the home of another daughter, Mrs. Wesley Poarch, and Mr. Poarch.

They also got in a visit with another son, Rich Robinson, an ag teacher in Hereford High School. The whole family group and a guest, Johnny Fuston, a teacher in Stanton Junior High, went to the Hoot Poarch home Sunday for dinner.

IN THE LONG list of winners in the All-Garden Club Flower Show-Tour of last Friday, compiled hurriedly after judging was finished a little later than expected, names of Mrs. Sam Long as winner of two blue ribbons and Mrs. B. E. Cooper of another, were omitted. These were awards in the horticulture division.

Hope nobody else was left off the list but if others were, hope they will be reported promptly. Making a list of awards when it must be rushed to a deadline is one of the nightmares in a reporter's life; that isn't a happy spot to make a mistake because no top prize winner wants to be shifted to the also-ran category.

IT WOULD BE NICE if every one of the beautiful flower arrangements in the show could be mentioned. Many which didn't even win a place drew much notice from the spectators.

Not entered in competition was a composition by Mrs. Ben Childers (who placed first on the one she did enter) titled The Common Glory for the Paul Green drama of that name and keyed to a bluebonnet scene in the Ansel McDowell home. Beautiful!

Another not in competition was a curve arrangement of bells-of-Ireland with small white

NOW — The LUNDELL 804 CHOPPER-SHREDDER with TOTAL PERFORMANCE

The Popular Lundell 804 Shredder is NOW available with a 72" direct loading spout. Think of the tremendous versatility of this machine on your farm. Do all your regular shredding operations and immediately switch to green chopping or corn stalk loading simply by closing the rear door.

Note the rear hitch for your wagon or tandem disc. No need to worry about side draft. The Lundell 804 chopper shredder is designed to handle the load.

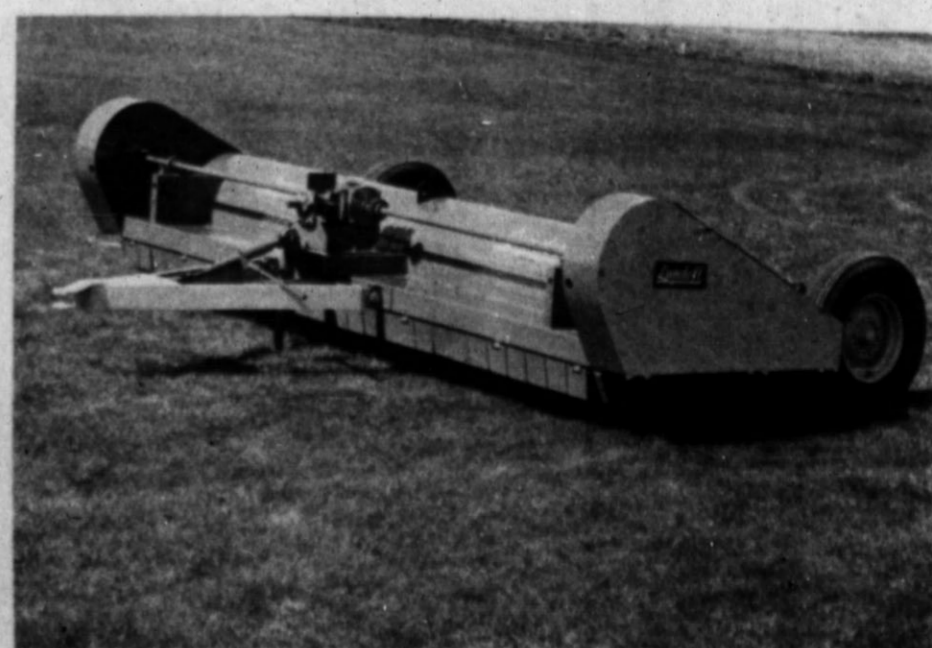

You owe it to yourself to see this machine before you buy any shredder.

Open the rear door — Shred and broadcast 12 ft. at a time.

Close the door and the Lundell 804 chopper shredder with the heavy duty cup type cut and throw knife will deliver 6' of material to a trailing wagon.

The Lundell 804 chopper shredder is the same machine as the popular Lundell 804 stalk shredder. Built with the same quality, plus the added spout feature.
