DIMMITT SQUIBS

Happenings in the Busy Castro County Seat Briefly Told

EDITED BY AN UNKNOWN

Frank Vaughn made a flying trip to Hereford this week.

The Dimmitt baseball team meets every Saturday for practice.

Miss Bessie Davis reports that her music class is progressing finely.

We are glad to see so many people are taking an interest in our Sunday school, as we had a very large crowd last Sunday.

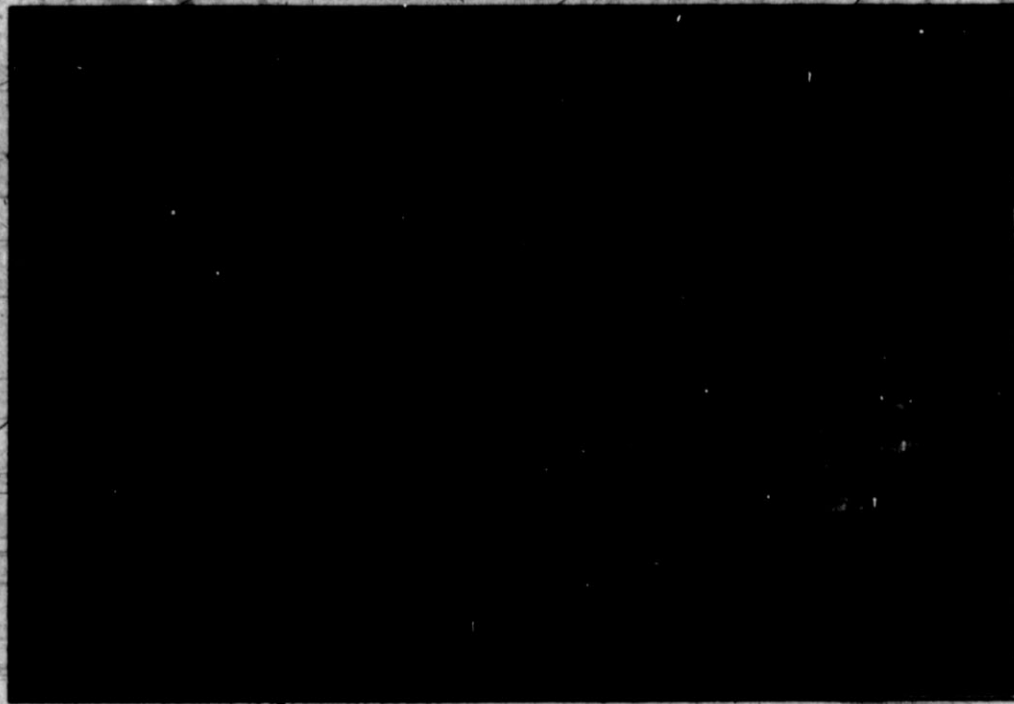

John E. McEntire, Castro county's assessor, has just about finished assessing taxes for the present year, and reports that he does not think he will miss a man.

It was publicly announced that there would be a basket picnic at B. T. Bell's place, three miles east of town, the 15th of this month, and everybody is invited to be present with their basket of "good times."

The boys of this county met last Saturday in Dimmitt and organized a base ball nine for the coming season and elected Allen G. Bell as captain. We are sure we will witness some good games this summer as all the boys are taking an interest and they have some good players with them this year.

Fine rains last week has made everything look fine now. In this county the farmers are all very busy with their crops and the prospects are that there will be an abundance of feed stuffs raised this year. Everybody should keep their eye on the indicator for when we do need feed, we need it very bad.

"We are not much of a sport" says a Kansas editor, "but when we meet a cinch in the road we recognize it. We made the following bargain with a friend yesterday; We were to stand at a given point half an hour and watch the ladies who passed. For every lady who reached her hand back to see if her skirt was gaping or to tuck it under her belt, we were to receive a nickel. For every one who failed to do so in walking a block we were to give him a dime. We got sixty-two nickels from him and gave him one dime—a lady with both arms off came along."—Ex.

A Non-Subscriber's Experience.

One day last week down in the thickly timbered section of this great state, a man was caught out in a severe rainstorm, and to avoid getting a drenching he crawled into a hollow log. The storm was terrific and of course the log got wet and began to swell and by the time the shower was over the hollow in the log had contracted so until our man couldn't budge. In fact it was squeezing him so tight that he couldn't sigh (there wasn't room enough for him to take a deep breath); so he began to think of the many little mean things he had done during his forty-seven years here below—beating his grocery bills, looking the other way when they passed around the hat at prayer meeting, laying around the court house in order to get on the jury, pitching horse shoes and playing croquet on Sunday, and a few more items of this stripe, until finally he remembered borrowing and reading his neighbor's paper for fourteen years, and it made him feel so small that he just crawled out of that log as easy as could be.

PORTALES NEWS

Items of Interest in the Busy New Mexico Town

EDITED BY MISS LULA HARDIN

Lee Simpson is reported to be out of danger.

Our new operator is a Mr. Anderson from Kentucky.

Mr. Frainmel shipped his cattle from here this week.

Arther Pearson from Granite, I. T., arrived here Monday.

Mr. Buchanan and family have moved to the new railroad.

Mr. Reed shipped three train loads of cattle to South Dakota.

Mrs. John Scott has gone a trip to Mineral Wells for her health.

Miss Eva Humphrey of Hereford is visiting her sister, Mrs. C. O. Leach.

Mr. Swain was in town this week and was entertained by Mr. Lindsey Sunday.

T. M. White and Lee Weddington have gone to Southwest Texas, prospecting.

The Methodist protracted meetings will begin June 7, and will last a week or ten days.

Mrs. Charley Moore's son Andrew was thrown off a horse and badly hurt but is now improving.

Edgar Hardin and Tom Lockwood left Tuesday for the new railroad where they will be employed.

The Misses Johnson visited Miss Dora Moore the first part of this week, when she returned with them for a week.

Last Saturday afternoon Portales was visited by a very heavy hail storm which lasted several hours, doing some damage.

Miss Lulu Hardin visited Miss Mollie Boykins for the first part of the week, when the latter returned with her for the balance of the week.

Mr. Kilgore, our night operator here, has been transferred to Hereford to a day position. Mr. and Mrs. Kilgore made many friends here and will be missed very much.

Do you want to learn shorthand? If so see Ben Bounds at once. If enough scholars can be obtained a class will be started. He will be found at McGlothlin & Black's furniture store.

DEATH ON NORTH DRAW.

The Little Son of S. P. McKinney Received a Rattle Snake Bite.

On the 18th of May, relentless death, that sooner or later comes to all, entered the abode of S. P. McKinney and thinned the family circle, and now in a graveyard in Childress county, sleeps little Elmer, never more on this earth to gladden the hearts of his fond parents. But death is not an end, but a beginning to all who are prepared to enter on that new life, which extends to eternity, and little Elmer is now an angel by the side of that God, who spared not His own Son, to extend hope and salvation to all who believeth on Him, and when the tap of the bell calls his parents home, Elmer will be at the "Beautiful gate waiting and watching for them."

Elmer was born July 20, 1890. He was on a visit to his grand parents in Childress county, and was bit by a large rattlesnake and only lived a few hours. The family have the sympathy of the community.

LEE GILES.

DIED.

Mrs. S. A. Dyer at the residence of John Hamilton, at this place on Saturday, May 25, aged 88 years, 5 months and 6 days.

Mrs. Dyer has just been here for a short time visiting her son, E. W. Dyer, and daughter, Mrs. Hamilton, when she was taken sick with throat trouble, and continued to grow worse until death relieved her. She leaves seven children to mourn her loss. A son and daughter here, one son in Hillsboro, one in Kansas City, two daughters in Bosque county and one in Hill county, besides many relatives to mourn her loss. The funeral took place Sunday with services at the Baptist church conducted by Rev. Moore. The church house was densely crowded and a vast concourse followed the remains to the Plainview cemetery.—Plainview Herald.

Mrs. Dyer was an aunt to Frank Dyer, of the lumber dealing firm of E. W. Dyer & Son of this place.

We Deny the Allegation.

The editor of this paper escaped the crash that lately befell a host of rich persons throughout the country. The report that we lost a million or so as a result of the Wall street panic is wholly without foundation. Neither is it true that we tried to monopolize the oil fields at Beaumont and failed. Such reports wound our feelings and have a tendency to impair our credit both at home and in Europe. No sooner had this infamous report reached the public when an almond eyed son-of-a-gun insisted on retaining possession of our Sunday shirt for an indefinite period of time because of a difference in shortage amounting to "fifty-cent." Fortunately, however, we were able to put up the necessary margin and averted a panic. Editors seldom ever speculate extensively. Occasionally one of them goes it pretty strong on corn (in the distilled state), but we have never heard of one cornering the product to such an extent as to diminish the supply or advance the price. People should be careful how they talk about editors. We knew an editor one time who died as the result of slanderous remarks. It was rumored about town that he wouldn't pay his debts and he starved to death.

Speak kindly of the editor, and some day he will hit you with a beautiful half-column boquet. Speak harshly of him and he is liable to hit you with a bill for two or three years' past due subscription.—Colorado Stockman.

D. R. Gass left yesterday for a two weeks' pleasure trip to Denver and other Colorado points.

Station Agent T. J. Davis has been on the sick list this week, but is now improving under Dr. Gough's skillful attention.

On Wednesday a paper was circulated and about $75 realized in a very short space of time for the purpose of sending R. D. Askin, who has been suffering for some time with rheumatism, to Mineral Wells in the hopes that his health would be benefited thereby. He left yesterday morning.

Dr. Claude Wolcott, the Amarillo eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, came in Tuesday and established a temporary office at the residence of G. E. Burns, being called to treat several patients residing here.

Prof. T. J. Page of Chillicothe, who was elected to succeed Prof. J. R. Overstreet as principal of the Hereford High School, came in this morning to look over his new field of labors. He is stopping at the Humphrey.

W. R. Evans received yesterday of the Hinds Carriage Company of Quincy, Ill., a handsome rubber tired, red geared carriage. It is needless to say this new purchase will not lessen his popularity among the fair sex.

We have received notice that a new time table will go into effect next Sunday, by which the eastbound passenger train will leave here at 2:12 a. m. instead of at 2:38, as at present. The westbound train arrives at the same time as formerly.

The attention of our readers is respectfully directed to the new adv. of Mullins & Boyd on page six of this issue. These gentlemen have formed a copartnership for the transaction of a general real estate business and any business entrusted to their care is assured of receiving prompt and efficient attention. W. M. Spencer, the Rock Island contractor, came in yesterday from his camp, leaving this morning for Kansas City, Mo.

A. L. Conwell of Oklahoma City was in town Monday. Before leaving he placed a fine Smith & Barnes piano in the Ritchey House parlors.

Stambaugh & Lipscomb on Monday loaded out five cars of oats, consigned to Ware & Maney, the Rock Island extension contractors. It required 66 wagons to haul this amount of grain out to the scene of operations. In addition to this another car of oats was sold and delivered to different parties in town. It wasn't much of a day for oats, either.

Monday evening Nester Gass drove out to Joe Camp's with a load of supplies. The latter wished to come to town and accepted an invitation to accompany Nester. In some manner the horse became frightened and Joe jumped from the wagon, sustaining a fracture of the lower leg. Dr. Tinsley was called and reduced the fracture and at last accounts Mr. Camp was doing as well as could be expected.

The broom manufacturing firm of Woodruff & Allison have dissolved and a stock company formed for the manufacture of that useful article. The officers of the new company are G. A. Stambaugh, president; A. J. Lipscomb, secretary-treasurer; T. R. Allison, general superintendent, and J. N. Askren, traveling salesman. That the business will be a success under its present management is unquestioned.

The five trolley victims in Brooklyn serve as a reminder that the trolley still holds its own as a man-killer.

Senator Tillman is not a good man to try to bluff. Senator McLaurin should have known that as well as anybody.

Tom Reed will hardly miss the chance to even his score with Joe Manley, who is a candidate for the republican nomination for governor of Maine.

If senators and representatives are not employes of the government that pays their salaries and mileage, as the comptroller of the treasury has decided, pray whose employes are they?

The shooting of a German soldier by an American legation guard in Pekin, while unimportant in itself, is not calculated to improve relations between the United States and Germany.

Senator Hanna is one of the organizers of a trust formed to operate 2,000 acres of coal lands near Massillon, Ohio. Let's see, wasn't Hanna the duck who declared there were no trusts?

To rule the Philippines is going to cost a heap of money outside of the army that must be kept over there all the time. A salary list just prepared by the Philippine commission foots up $1,200,000 a year.

Armed Louisiana farmers drove a party of surveyors out of a parish in which oil was recently discovered, because they suspected them of attempting to secure the mineral rights in their homesteads.

To the surprise of many, "comrades" Teddy and Hanna were together—that is, they were in the same town—several days and yet there was nothing doing in the political line.

It was considerate of Senators Tillman and McLaurin to defer the hot times in South Carolina, which are to convince Mr. McKinley that the democracy of the state is still on deck, until fall.

Col. Watterson still has the epigram habit. He said the other day: "One might as well talk of the crops in 1920 as the nominees of 1904." That's true enough, but it won't stop the talking about candidates.

The big life insurance companies are thinking of taking a whack at the "christian scientists," by refusing to issue policies on them.

Princeton students probably know all about the danger of blowing out the gas, but two of them—seniors—were nearly asphyxiated by gas, because one of them unintentionally turned it on again after putting out the light.

In order to prevent the question of responsibility for the destruction of the Maine having to be determined by the Spanish claims commission, the claim of the heirs of a sailor on the Maine has been thrown out by the government on a technicality.

In declaring by a vote of 101 to 7 that Booker T. Washington was not one of the greatest negroes in the world, the Philadelphia Conference of the African M. E. Church declared that it was not one of the world's even moderately wise organizations. Booker Washington is doing more to teach the negro how to be a useful member of the community in which he lives than any other individual in this country is doing.

It is hoped that Secretary Root has backbone enough to live up to his decision not to reinstate those dismissed West Point cadets.

What great discoverers the members of the National Civil Service Reform League are! They have found out that the federal officials in Kentucky are compelled to pay a political assessment of five per cent of their salaries. If they really wish to astonish the country they should point out a state in which federal officials are not compelled to pay a political assessment.

Bounds & Co., the druggists, have placed a handsome revolving show case for their stock of jewelry. It is a beauty and makes a decided improvement to the ornamentation of their pharmacy.

By an oversight the fact that Mrs. W. H. Clary, who has been spending some time visiting friends at different points in Missouri, returned to her Hereford home on Saturday, May 25, was not mentioned in last week's issue.

You will notice that I have taken the agency of the New York Life Insurance Company at this point. If you wish to examine the best contract written, I would like for you to call. I am not going to bore anyone. It is only a business proposition. Jno. E. Ferguson. 10tf

J. H. Williams, one of Deaf Smith county's popular young cattlemen, left on Sunday's train, ostensibly for El Paso, where he was to confer with parties relative to a cattle deal. He got as far as Carlsbad, where he met the parties he wished to see, thus saving his going to the Pass City.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Constitution of This Land of Liberty

JUGGLED BY SUPREME COURT

And They Decide That the Constitution Does Not Follow the Flag—The Tillman-McLaurin Fight.

(From our regular correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, June 5, 1901.

The constitution has stood some hard knocks in the past from partisan decisions of the United States supreme court, and it will stand the extraordinary and contradictory decisions handed down this week in the insular cases. Although for the time these decisions give the administration a free hand in carrying out its imperialistic colonial policy, they will doubtless make enough democratic votes among the serious-minded, who believe congress to be the creature of the constitution, instead of the constitution being the football of congress, as the principal one of these decisions practically holds to be, to elect the next president. There is not the slightest doubt that a majority—a vast majority—of the people of this country regard the constitution as the best protection of their liberties, and to doubt that they will resent its being juggled with in order to make it the exigencies of the McKinley administration is to doubt their intelligence. Democrats, of course, regret that this decision was made, but they find consolation in the belief that it will result in hastening the return to power of the democratic party, which has ever been the defender of the constitution and believer in its Senator Bailey of Texas, who has an established reputation as an able exponent of the constitution, said of the insular decision of the United States supreme court: "The decision is certainly bad enough, but it is not so bad as the administration papers are claiming. The friends of the administration are congratulating themselves much too early if they think the decision relieves them from the embarrassment of constitutional restriction in dealing with our new possessions. They will find the question of taxation one of the least among the perplexities of a colonial policy; and they can only carry out their plans for governing these islands by setting aside other and greater constitutional provisions. The court is apt to find that the next case will not furnish it with a subterfuge like the words 'The United States' to which it can limit constitutional guarantees. It will be compelled sooner or later to meet the proposition as to whether congress can enact laws for these insular possessions which are contrary to the express inhibitions of the constitution. The decision, standing by itself will become the source of mischief and confusion.

But its harm will not end there. Following so close upon the decision in the income tax case, it will inevitably convince the people that the supreme court of the United States holds the laws of congress constitutional or unconstitutional, according as it deems them wise or unwise. With the wisdom of the law the court properly has no concern and its only inquiry ought to be whether the law is or is not constitutional. For many years this rule was followed by the court and then its decisions were respected by all men; but I regret to say that at this time the conviction is almost universal in the public mind that is the most important decisions are political rather than judicial."

Presidential booms have been before now constructed of flimsy material, but nothing was ever flimsier than the material out of which a few republicans are trying to build a boom for Senator Foraker—the decision of the supreme court that the Foraker Porto Rico tariff act is constitutional. There is one unsurmountable obstacle to Foraker's getting the republican nomination for president—Hanna. Hanna wants that nomination himself, but even if he didn't he wouldn't allow Foraker to get it. Although the ex-agencies of Ohio politics have made it necessary that the two men should be openly on friendly terms, it is an open secret that Hanna hates Foraker, and the republican machine will have to undergo radical changes before any man can get the party nomination for president against Hanna's wishes. He may not be able to get it himself—democrats are afraid to hope that they will be favored with so much good luck—but he will be able to defeat any other candidate and probably to name the man. So the Foraker boom may be recorded as having died a-borning.

Much interest is felt in Washington in the Tillman-McLaurin fight in South Carolina, which will demonstrate how much truth there is in the claim that republicanism under the disguise of McLaurinism is making headway in that state. The point has been raised and many believe it valid that the paper signed by Senators Tillman and McLaurin and sent to the governor of that state is nothing more than a notice of their intention to resign September 15, and that either or both of them can if they see fit, for any reason, or for no reason, withdraw therefrom at any time before that date and remain in the senate. In other words, that the resignations, so-called, have strings attached to them which can be pulled without the hindrance of anybody if either or both desire to do so.

Although the general impression is that free trade with the Philippines until congress legislates otherwise naturally follows the Porto Rico tariff decision of the supreme court, Secretary Gage has ordered that duties under the Dingley tariff law shall continue to be collected upon imports from the Philippines.

Gen. Fred Grant seems ambitious to become the Admiral Sampson of the army. He reached Washington this week and brought a bit of news with him in the shape of a claim for credit for himself for the capture of Aguinaldo. He said: "It was my troops that captured Aguinaldo, they were under command of Gen. Funston." Surely one Sampson should be an ample sufficiency for both army and navy.
