

Commission Lowers City Taxes, Detail Sales Tax

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer
The Hereford City Commission has reduced the ad valorem property tax from $1.40 to $1.30, following a discussion of the rate at a meeting Tuesday night, according to City Manager Dudley Bayne.
Bayne said that commissioners were having to limit themselves to that figure because they are not certain how much money can be raised during the coming year to cover the city budget. Much of it will depend on the results of the city one per cent sales tax election, to be held on Tuesday, Jan. 23.
Bayne pointed out that, if the sales tax election carried, it would be July 1968 before any taxes could be collected. Then it would be 3 per cent instead of the 2 per cent collected by merchants now, a penny on the dollar for the city government. The state would still receive two-thirds of the total.

Even then, only an estimated $40,000 to $44,000 would come in during the first fiscal year, Bayne said. The fiscal year runs from May 1, 1968, through April 30, 1969, and only about half the estimated total of $80,000 to $90,000 could be received, due to the late start. (The law reads that there must be a 6-month delay before collections can begin, following the date of the election.)
The city manager said that he and the city commissioners were as much against the ad valorem taxes for city property owners as anyone else. But the one per cent sales tax would include everyone and serve to fairly spread the overall cost of operating the city government. It would include the non-property owners as well as the tenants at a low rate, and make the expense become a more equal burden.

Bayne pointed out that the city had the power to increase the ad valorem tax rate, as well as decreasing it, and could have readjusted the property value for higher rates. But these actions had not been taken. "People say, why vote a tax on ourselves?" Bayne said.

"But our last tax increase in Hereford was in 1961, seven years ago. All costs are up. A growing city has more problems than others, too, and Hereford is certainly a growing city."
Bayne explained that 158 cities in Texas representing 6,200,000 people have already passed the one per cent sales tax. Only 22 cities have rejected it — with a population count of 378,000. As it now stands, 70 percent of the urban population of Texas are under the sales tax, as of Jan. 1.
Bayne went on to say, "This tax will not exactly hurt the little man. Groceries and work clothes are exempt under it, as they are under the state 2 per cent tax."

The city sales tax is applicable only to those sales now taxed under the State Sales and Use Tax Act. Among other items exempted are cigarettes, cigars, automobiles, water, telephone and telegraph, meals served by hospitals to patients, meals sold by a church, food products which are not prepared for eating, prescription medicines and prescription eyeglasses, cement, alcoholic beverages (unless included in meals), gasoline, farm machinery and products which will be used in the manufacture of another product which is not subject to this tax.
It is further broken down that the person whose annual income is less than $3,000 would pay only $12 in sales taxes for the year. An income of $3,000 — $4,000 would be $23; $4,000 — $5,000 would be $28; $5,000 — $6,000 would be $37; $6,000 — $7,000 would be $48; and $7,000 — $15,000 would be $53.

City taxes are deductible on Federal income tax reports.
Experiences of other cities which have passed the one per cent sales tax, Bayne said, have proven that a sales tax does not hurt the retail sales in a community. Rather, a clean, attractive and well-run city attracts people, makes it grow, and makes for better business. (This information was gained from cities in other states where the tax has been in use for some time.)

City manager Bayne reported that an extra patrolman and a parks department employee will be hired by the city, and a lot of the old playground equipment will be replaced. Also, a new electronic accounting machine will be added, for water billing payroll, etc.
"New container trash cans will be placed in the business area," he said, "which will cost the city about $40,000. But there will be no increase in trash collection fees, we figure it should pay for itself in saving manpower."
A new insect control machine will be purchased for $30,000.

"The money on hand will be eaten up pretty fast," Bayne said, "but we are taking it from our 1967 savings."
Named as judge for the Jan. 23 tax election was Robert Veigel Sr., and Lloyd Pool was named as alternate.
All balloting will be done at Hereford City hall.
Thus far no absentee ballots have been received for the tax election, absentee voting ends Jan. 19.
The Hereford Board of Realtors, during their regular meeting at noon Tuesday, went on record as favoring the one per cent sales tax. About 15 members of the organization were present.

150 Vegetable Growers Attend Annual Conference

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer
The sixth annual meeting of the West Texas Vegetable Growers Conference was held in the Hereford Bull Barn Tuesday before a crowd of over 150 persons.
The morning part of the program was concluded with a business meeting of the West Texas Vegetable Growers Council where they elected new officers for the upcoming year. Officers included Frank Barrett of Hereford, president; Truman Touchstone of Dimmitt, vice-president, and Charles Schlabbs of Hereford, secretary.

The meeting was adjourned for luncheon at noon and all persons who had registered ate at the Bull Barn.
Dr. Frank E. Robinson, Irrigation Water Management Director at the University of California in El Centro, Calif., was the key speaker as he gave a talk on "Headlines in Vegetable Production."
Robinson showed slides of the experiments and methods used in California for the development and improvement of vegetable production. Robinson also discussed the problem in California's research department as to the salt which accumulates from the water they use from the Colorado River. "Where salt is greatly accumulated," stated Dr. Robinson, "50 seeds must be planted in order for one to germinate because of the high amount of salt in the water we use."

Robinson finished his talk with this statement, "Because of the differences in climates in Texas and California does not mean that the experiments used in our study of vegetables will work here in Texas."
The second speaker of the program was Extension Horticulturist Vegetables Manager, Dr. John E. Larsen of Texas A & M University at College Station, Texas.
In his talk, Larsen emphasized the fact that methods in vegetable seeding needed improving and one of the ways to do this was to strive for precision planting.
"Precision beds, irrigation, insect and bird control are, just to name a few, some of the major problems faced in the effort to obtain precision planting," ended Larsen.
At 1:10 p. m. the meeting was See GROWERS Page 2

Charles Bell To Head Credit Union

Directors of the Hereford Federal Credit Union have announced the appointment of Charles Bell, a director in the organization, as manager of the local credit union this week.
Bell, Hereford civic leader and insurance man, will assume his duties by February 1, according to the announcement.
The board had earlier announced the appointment of Ben Livesey of the Katy Railroad Credit Union of Dallas to the post. But Livesey was unable to make the move due to Dallas commitments.
The change in managers came as a result of the recent retirement of Mrs. Dyalithia Benson, longtime holder of the position.
A resident of Hereford for the past 11 1/2 years, Bell came here as director of the Whiteface Band, a position he held for three years. He has been the local representative of Southwestern Life Insurance Co. for 8 1/2 years.
Bell is a graduate of Hale Center High School and holds a Bachelor of Science degree from West Texas State at Canyon and a Masters Degree from the University of Texas at Austin.
His community service activities include two terms as president of the Hereford Camp Fire Council, member of the National Campfire Council, president of the Oasis Shrine Club, district finance chairman of the Boy Scouts of America, director in the Khiva Temple, and producer and director of many Lions Club variety shows.
Bell's wife, Margaret, is a language arts teacher at La Plata Junior High. They are the parents of four children, Becky, a junior at Hereford High School; Sara, a freshman at La Plata; Kathi, a sixth-grader, and David, a third-grader, both at Northwest.
The Bells live at 213 Northwest Drive and are active members of the First Methodist Church.

6 Are Charged With Gaming

Six men, three of them from Hereford, were arrested early Wednesday morning by the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Office and charged with violation of gambling laws.
Charged with permitting gambling paraphernalia to remain on premises for gambling purposes was William B. Galloway of the Polynesians Apartments. He was released on $500 cash bond and the case will be heard in county court.
Charged with violation of gambling laws were Howard Norris of 5102 Matador Trail in Amarillo; Bob Hucheson of 3004 Van Buren in Amarillo; Kenneth William Cameron of 4309 Mesa Circle in Amarillo; Joe Soliz of 118 San Obregon, and Maudilio Munos Iruigas of 299 Brevard. Iruigas also was charged with carrying a prohibited weapon.
The five charged with gambling were released on $100 bond, and Iruigas also had a $100 personal bond placed on him for the prohibited weapon. They will be tried in Justice of the Peace Court and the weapon's charge will go to county court.
The sheriff's deputies made the raid on the apartment room about 2:30 a. m. Wednesday.

Venison Dinner To Be Saturday

Wesley Methodist Church, 419 Irving, will host a venison barbeque beginning at 5:30 p. m. Saturday.
The meal, which will continue until everyone is served, will cost $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for youths. All proceeds will be used for projects which are not listed on the church's budget.
One of the main projects for which the proceeds will be used, will be the assisting of the Wesley Foundation on the West Texas State University campus. The purpose of the Wesley Foundation is for the entertainment of young people and for the purpose of allowing youths to attend services while in Canyon.
Rev. Robert Williams, pastor of the church, will also be present during the barbeque, which will be served by the Methodist men.

Corporation Receives Loan

The Pitman-Easley Industries Corp. has been granted a Small Business Administration loan of $252,000, according to a telephone call from Sen. Ralph Yarborough's office in Austin Wednesday.
The announcement went on to say that the company is receiving a bank loan (presumably local) of $98,000 and a Hi-Plains Development Co. of Hereford loan of $140,000.
It was stated that the purpose of the loans is to acquire land to build and equip new feed lot structures. The announcement also said that the Pitman-Easley Corp. will create 20 new jobs at Hereford.
John Douglas Pitman made an announcement last June that the Pitman Grain Co. and the Easley Feed Yards were merging. Joe Easley joined with Pitman in issuing the statement.

However, at press time neither man could be contacted for information concerning Sen. Yarborough's announcement.
The Brand will furnish full details in Sunday's paper.

Appeal Denied Bill Clifford

An appeal by William Bond Clifford, who was sentenced here last February to 12 years in the state penitentiary for assault with intent to murder, was denied Wednesday by the State Court of Criminal Appeals.
Attorneys for the Canyon man had filed the appeal soon after a 69th District Court jury found him guilty of the charge and sentenced him to the 12-year term.
Clifford had been found guilty of shooting Billy Joe Stevens six times on April 8, 1966. He previously had served 13 months in the state penitentiary for the shooting death of his (Clifford's) wife on the same day.

Gerald Martin Will Work As Pilot For Movie To Be Filmed In Spain

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer
Gerald Martin, owner of the Hereford Flying and Agricultural Service, has been selected by the United Artists Corp. to be one of the pilots directly involved in the filming of "The Battle of Britain," a recreation of the actual World War II havoc in which the Germans dropped countless tons of bombs on the British coastal and inland cities.
"The Battle of Britain" is to be a large budget production, but as yet its stars are unannounced, according to Martin. The Hereford pilot is to be a part of the aerial scenes, which evidently will be put before the cameras first, not unusual for such pictures. He said members of the technical department for United Artists were Ben Fish and Mahamish Mahadi — the latter a Scotsman, he clarified.
The feature will have a 30-day shooting schedule there.
Martin is among five pilots who were selected for the assignment — four are Texans and one a Canadian. He and the others are set to arrive in Madrid, Spain on January 28, and will go from there to Seville two days later, where he understands they are to do their flying.
A few years ago, Martin is leaving Hereford soon for a movie job in Spain, where he will pilot one of the enemy's aircraft for a World War II factual drama.

3-Year Contract Extended Johnny Clark By Trustees

Supt. Johnny Clark Jr. received a new three-year contract during the regular monthly meeting of the Hereford Independent School District Board of Trustees Tuesday night.
Trustees also:
...authorized a pilot project for serving of breakfast in the schools.
...set the date for a trustees election.
...endorsed a plan which calls for placing a junior college in the immediate area.
...set the date for a past board member's dinner.
In voting a new contract for Clark, trustees praised the administration head for his work during his past two years with the school system. Members expressed a desire to give Clark a 10-year contract, but were informed that the length of school contracts is based on enrollment and the maximum for Hereford at present is three years.
A total of $50 per month will be added to Clark's Traveling expenses, trustees voted. The contract and traveling expense raise are retroactive and actually became effective Jan. 1.
Trustees discussed the proposed breakfast program at length before authorizing it. Clark informed the members that the breakfast would consist of orange juice, milk and cereal, and the students would be charged the amount the commodities cost the school.
Many students don't eat breakfast at home and perhaps would eat with the other students at school if given the opportunity, trustees decided. The program will begin as soon as it is set by school officials.
Clark also brought trustees up to date on action taken in Austin Monday concerning the proposed junior college for this area. He explained that the Coordinating Board of the state has proposed dividing Texas into 52 regions with several counties in each region, and putting junior colleges in the regions.

Region 5 includes Deaf Smith, Castro, Oldham and Parmer counties. Clark and Leo Forrest, chairman of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Education Committee, represented this area and city during an open hearing in Austin Monday concerning the plan.
Clark pointed out that the people in the different regions will have to vote on supporting the junior college and set the boundaries. The Coordinating Board will pick the location of the college and suggest a tax structure, although no way of financing the schools has been announced as yet.

Trustees voted unanimously to back the coordinating board's plan. It was pointed out that the trustees would pit their efforts with the Chamber of Commerce in supporting the junior college in the immediate area.

More HHS Grads Attend College

Statistics compiled by Hereford High School counselor Robert Thompson show that over 50 per cent of the graduating classes since 1959 have continued their education by going on to college.
Of the 122 students in the graduating class of 1959, 67 of these continued on to college for a 55 per cent total; 1960 had 60 per cent of the students go to college as 69 of 116 did so; the class of 1961 saw a slight increase as 61 per cent of the group furthered their education and 99 of the graduating 148 students of the class of 1962 for a 67 per cent total.
Also, in 1963, 68 per cent of the 106 students went on to college; 88 of the 133 students in 1964 decided for higher education for a 67 per cent amount 1965 saw a 7 per cent jump from 1964 as 74 per cent of it's class went on to college; 1966 saw a 3 per cent jump as 125 of it's 174 pupils were college bound, and last year, the per cent of college entrants fell 6 per cent as 128 of 187 students went to college.

Mr. Thompson said in regard to the decrease in last years percentage, "I feel the main reason for this is because of the vocational courses being taught in high school now. The dropout rate is almost down to nothing and this can also be connected with the vocational program because students are staying school to learn in these courses and proceed without the help of college."
Some twelve states and 72 colleges are now represented by students graduating from Hereford High School since 1959. Some of these include places such as California, Illinois, Indiana, Arizona, Massachusetts, and Colorado.

James Holland Receives Medal

PHU BAI, VIETNAM Jan. 3 — Marine Corporal James A. Holland, son of Mrs. L. N. Lewis of 120 Ave. B, Hereford, was recently awarded his first Air Medal.
He earned the award for meritorious achievement in aerial flight while serving with Marine Observation Squadron Three, First Marine Aircraft Wing at the air field in Phu Bai, Vietnam.
His squadron used the UH-1E "Huey" helicopter to conduct visual reconnaissance, armed escort, troop movements and resupply missions in support of U. S. Marines and Allied ground forces engaged in combat operations.
The tests are scheduled in the high school office to be held today and Friday. The students will report to the class in which they have tests and are not required to attend the others.
Today, the odd-numbered classes will be testing and students will work from 7:30 (if they have an early class) until 11:45, which is noon break.
Ninety minutes are set for each test. However at the end of an hour, the students may leave the class rooms.
After lunch break, they will again resume testing until 2:30. Friday schedule is much the same, except it will be the even-numbered classes.

3 Are Charged With Burglary

Investigation by the Hereford Police, Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Office and a Texas Ranger has led to the arrest of three men in connection with the Dec. 14 burglary of the Big T Pump Co.

Charged with the burglary are Charles Anderson of Abilene, Ernest Perry of Amarillo and Lubbock, and Danny Simpson of Clovis, N. M. The three have been released on bond.

Authorities recovered over 800 pounds of brass which had been taken from the local business. The brass had been sold in Lubbock four days after the burglary and was to have been sent to Chicago, but a train was stopped in Wynoka, Okla., and searched.

Approximately $75 in cash was taken from a safe which the burglars opened with welding owned by Big T. Vending machines also were burglarized and a 1965 Chevrolet El Camino stolen from the lot.

Martin ...

(Continued from page one) For non-flyers, the Confederate Air Force may need a bit explaining. Actually this group is a flying museum, well versed on most if not all of the older aircraft. For the experienced flyer, it is well known and has a mark of distinction.

Martin has never actually flown a Messerschmitt 109G before, but he said that he had always wanted to. He has flown several other types of World War II planes and probably got this assignment because of his great amount of experience with the propeller-type of aircraft.

The Confederate Air Force is an international organization. Gerald Martin is an officer in the group. With it he has been awarded the following citation: "Gerald Martin, Colonel, Confederate Air Force, has distinguished himself by exceptionally meritorious achievement in the performance of outstanding service to the Confederate Air Force."

"During the past three years, Col. Martin has rendered exceptional valuable service to the C A F by his outstanding performance and professional competence in aerobatic demonstration, flying the F M 2 Wildcat, in aerial exhibition at many of the more prominent U. S. Air Force bases and Naval Air Stations throughout the country.

"His dedication to the Confederate Air Force and his devotion to duty have been demonstrated by his readiness to travel, on short notice, to any spot in the nation as a representative of the Confederate Air Force. His record of participation in C A F activities has been of the highest order.

"Col. Martin has developed his skills and flying routine in the Wildcat to the point of excellence that has won for himself and the Confederate Air Force the respect and admiration of professional civil and military pilots across the nation. His flying skill meets the highest standards and places him among the top professional exhibition pilots of the nation.

"Col. Martin's friendliness, general conduct and outstanding airmanship, displayed while serving as a representative of the Confederate Air Force, reflect great credit upon himself and this organization."

The citation is signed by Commander Jethro E. Culpeper, Rebel Field, Mercedes, Texas, and dated November 11, 1967.

Gerald Martin has been flying since he was fourteen years old for the past seventeen years. For the past two years, he has been owner of the Hereford Flying Service here. He and his wife Sandra have four children. He was born at Lubbock.

J. W. (Jap) Dickerson

Dickerson Is Re-elected Chief

Officers were elected for the Hereford Volunteer Fire Department in a meeting which was held Tuesday night.

J. W. "Jap" Dickerson, who has served as chief of the department for the last three years, was re-elected to the same position for the fourth time. Other members who were re-elected were Max Stipe, assistant chief; and Wayne Fuller, secretary.

New officers include Bill Bradley, who succeeded Bill Craig at the treasurer's position, and Steve McKee who is the pension board's new member.

Each officer will serve for a period of one year with the exception of Craig, who will serve for three years.

AWARD PRESENTED — Formal presentation of a state award to Mrs. Leo Witkowski, right, was made at the first 1968 meeting of Deaf Smith County 4-H Leaders this week. Argen Draper, County H.D. Agent, is presenting the plaque denoting the Hereford woman's selection for a 1967 4-H Alumni Recognition Award, one of the four given by the State 4-H headquarters office at College Station. Mrs. Witkowski, a former top-ranking 4-H girl in Texas, has assisted her own children in achieving notable records in club work, and in addition has worked with other 4-H Club member of the county.

Contractor ...

(Continued from Page One) The upcoming trustee election was set for April 8, with the final date for filing being March 7 and the period of absentee-voting to from March 18 to April 2. The trustee election is set by law, but the school board has to give official approval.

Trustees seeking re-election to the board will be Dr. A. T. Mims, Bill Gentry and Hillery Aver, who finished out the term of L. B. Russell.

Election judges for the trustee balloting will be Tom Robinson, Robert Veigel and Mrs. H. V. McCabe.

The past board member's dinner was scheduled for March 15 by trustees. Orpha Click, tax assessor-collector for the school system, reported that tax collections are running about one per cent over those of last year in the same period. He said $1,282,000 had been set aside in the budget for tax collections at the start of the fiscal year, and the department is only about $70,000 under that figure at present.

An enrollment report presented by Clark showed that there were 421 students enrolled in Hereford schools as of Tuesday. In comparison, there were 4607 students on December 12, but only 4138 on January 10, 1967.

A breakdown shows 2419 students in the elementary schools, 1040 in the junior high schools and 783 in high school. Special students number 188.

Trustees also received reports on the percentage of Hereford High School graduates going on to college during the past few years and the plans for this year's graduating class. Another story in this issue of the Brand details how many graduates attend college.

Sturgeon stressed the fact that competition was needed no matter what group is involved and all this made up for a better market.

Affiliated with the department which handles cases involving disputes between two parties in the field of vegetable marketing, Sturgeon commented, "Over the past 37 years my group has strived to service our people — the vegetable growers — by installing station to station phones for quicker contact between two parties, and also by constantly trying to write clearer letters which will clearly state things which can and cannot be done."

Dr. Robert E. Berry, area plant pathologist, discussed the principles in "Disease Control in Vegetables" and showed slides of the different diseases and their effects on vegetables.

Assistant Horticulturist, Dr. Jack H. Kyle concluded the afternoon conference with a speech on the "Vegetable Research in West Texas" and its improvement and lacking in this area.

Tulia Nips Herds, "B" Team Wins

Leading until the last two minutes of the ball game, the Hereford High School varsity found it hard to fight off a determined group of Tulia boys as the Hornets dropped the Whitefaces Tuesday night by a 53-49 score.

The Herd went into the first District 1-AAA game as the underdog, but surprised everyone as the first quarter ended with the local boys out 18 to 9 with Bobby Burwick scoring ten of these points. Going into the second quarter, Burwick was taken out because he had accumulated three fouls. With the team's leading scorer out of the game, ball handling duties were taken over by Marsh Pitman as he lead the Herd's attack from then on out as he collected high point honors with 16.

As the half-time buzzer sounded, the Herd, still retained their nine point lead with a 29-20 scores. Third-period action saw the Herd lengthen their lead, as

Gregg Richards Gets Grid Letter

Of the some thirty-one letters that were awarded to member of the 1967-68 football team by the athletic department of Sam Houston State College, former member of the Hereford football squad of the 1965-66 season, Gregg Richards received his first.

Richards, who is a sophomore at SHSC, was awarded his letter for his efforts at the back position. Richards, who graduated in 1966, from Hereford High School was named to the honorable mention roster at the offensive halfback position his senior year at HHS.

Richards was one of 15 members of the SHSC squad who received their first letter.

they popped the net for 14 points to lead 41-27. Jim Childers, who had collected four fouls prior to the third period fouled out during the remaining minutes of the third quarter thus ending a threat to the Tulia boys, who then surged ahead.

As the final quarter began, the Whitefaces just couldn't seem to build up momentum to stop the fighting bunch of Hornets, as the Herd collected only eight points in the period while the Whitefaces in the last two minutes to take the contest by a final score of 53-49.

Prior to the varsity district opener, the B-team opened it's district schedule by defeating the Tulia B-team by a score of 55-44. High pointer for the team was Jim Rakestraw who collected 22 points.

The Whitefaces will play their next district tilt Friday night

Representatives To Visit Here

Girls now entering the last semester of their eighth grade year and their parents are invited to hear about a high school which offers superior education.

Loretto Academy, 4600 Hueco, El Paso, is the largest high school for girls in the southwest, dedicated to excellence in education and to the formation of outstanding young women.

Resident students at Loretto receive special assistance in studies and the advantages of living closely and selflessly with other young women.

Two sisters from Loretto will be in Hereford on Jan. 26. They will contact the parish priest and the local schools upon arrival.

If you are interested in hearing about Loretto Academy, leave your name and phone number at one of the local centers. The Sisters will then contact the interested parties.

at 8:00 when they go against the district favorites from Perryton in the La Plata gym.

Stanton, La Plata Enter Tournament

The two local junior high schools, Stanton and La Plata, will journey to Canyon to compete in the annual Canyon Junior High Basketball Tournament today, Friday, and Saturday.

La Plata will be the first of the two teams to meet competition as the 7th grade meets Dumas at 4:30 p. m. today and the 8th grade squad goes against the Canyon group at 3 p. m. Also playing today will be the 9th grade boys who will play the Canyon 9th at 4 p. m.

In Friday's action, Stanton will play two games as the 8th graders meet the Alamo Catholic boys at 3 p. m. and the 9th grade meets Highland of Amarillo at 4 p. m. The seventh grade drew a bye and will not play Friday.

Entered in the tournament are eight teams which include Tulia, Dumas, Dimmitt, Canyon, Stanton, La Plata, Alamo Catholic, and Highland.

Championship honors will be decided Saturday at 6, 7, and 8 p. m. for the 7th, 8th, and 9th grades respectively.

Consolation finals will begin at 2:45 Saturday for the 7th grade while the 8th grade finals will begin at 3:45. Ninth grade consolation honors will be decided at 4:45.

Camp Fire Board Elects Officers

The board of Hereford Camp Fire Council was organized for a new year at the annual meeting in Community Center Monday evening, when Jack Allen was elected president to succeed Charles Bell, the officers and eight new directors were named.

Tommy Carnahan was chosen vice president of the board, Mrs. James Durham secretary and Mrs. Baxter London treasurer. They were installed at the meeting in a ceremony conducted by girls of Starlighters Horizon Club.

Also taking office were previously-elected officers of the Camp Fire Leaders Association.

Mrs. Earnest Langley will serve as president another year, Mrs. Nathan Hopson vice president and Mrs. Carl Armstrong secretary.

New directors introduced Monday night are Mrs. A. T. Mims, Bob Holman, Rueben McGilvary, A. E. Hodges, Mrs. Wayne Thomas, Albert Cherry, Mrs. Durham and Melvin Young.

Approximately a hundred adults, board members and leaders of the Camp Fire program here, were present for the annual session, which included brief reports of retiring officers.

Girls from various Camp Fire groups of the city, who had at-

Year's Receipts, Rates Are Outlined

Totals for postal receipts in Hereford during 1967 were up some 13 per cent over the totals for 1966, Nolan Grady reported Tuesday.

After outlining the total receipts, which are presented on Page 2, Grady discussed at length the new rate increases.

Grady reported that there had been very little confusion locally over the change in postal rates, which went into effect last Sunday. However, he did say there had been approximately 50 inquiries over the telephone in regard to stamp combinations.

There appeared to be some confusion over the fact that it does not matter what combination of stamps are used, as long as the total amount of the postage on them will equal the postage rate required.

He said the post office had sold more stamps Monday than it usually did all week. On Saturday, there had been 56,000 one cent stamps on hand. He had ordered another 150,000.

When they had arrived Monday, the employees were down to approximately 500. By Tuesday, there were some 97,500 of them left (bought largely by people who already had five cent stamps and had to add the penny.)

Regular six cent stamps have been on sale. Approximately 37,600 of them were sold in the first two days.

As yet, the local post office does not have the 10 cent air mail stamp. On the one ounce rate, usually the old eight cent air mail stamp with a regular two cent stamp is used.

They do have the regular 10 cent stamps available, but the old air mail designs are used primarily to guarantee proper shipment.

Grady said the new 10 cent airmails should be received very

Wednesday morning. Acquainted in this county through visits to his son's home, the Rev. Mr. Iwig was well known over Northwest Texas for his work in the Presbyterian ministry.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Iwig, who have been in Electra since he became ill, will attend the funeral.

They were called back home the first of this week because of the death in an automobile accident of Mrs. Iwig's cousin, William Griffin, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Griffin of Canyon. He died Sunday morning and the funeral at Canyon was conducted Tuesday.

soon.

Grady reported that his office's largest evidence of confusion has been with the third class mail, which has largely consisted of unsealed envelopes. In the past, five cents would handle one ounce and many people are still placing the five cent stamps on them. The rate is now six cents per ounce.

He also offered the following information:

All first class mail above 13 ounces would have to use Air Parcel Post rates and would be shipped in the most convenient manner possible. Air mail postage over seven ounces would also be figured on the Air Parcel Post rates. Third class mail up to but not including 16 ounces will come under the fourth class rates.

Workshop To Be Held Monday

Teachers of language arts in Hereford Public Schools will attend the second session of a linguistics workshop at LaPlata Junior High School Monday evening. The series of workshop sessions is being conducted by Bob Holman, assistant school superintendent.

Designed primarily for teachers in elementary and junior high grades, the program will be open by invitation to high school teachers during the next few sessions, when the study will be related to their work, Holman says.

Meetings are scheduled at 7:30 p. m. each Monday until completion of 24 hours of study. The workshop deals with new methods of teaching English and the related subjects of reading, spelling and speech, in preparation for use of new textbooks expected to be adopted for next year.

Linguistics is defined as "A nineteenth century science which deals mainly with the science of language. . . the study of human speech in its various aspects. . . the relation between

Money Changes Made By Court

Deaf Smith County Commissioners dealt mainly with money during their regular meeting Monday, as they switched several accounts to take advantage of interest rates.

Commissioners took $14,000 from the 1966 Road Bond Interest and Sinking Fund and placed the money in CD's (certified deposits.) Also, $8,000 was taken out of the Right of Way Interest and Sinking Fund and added to the present sum of $6,000 for placing in CD' for one year.

Action also was taken to cash $5,000 in CD's from the Court-house and Sinking Fund, and cash $7,000 in the Jailhouse Fund and transfer the combined amount back to original funds, plus interest.

In other action, the commissioners approved the contract of Oscar Schillings as architect for construction at the Deaf Smith County.

Installation Is Set For Tonight

The Hereford Chamber of Commerce will install its new officers tonight (Thursday) at 7:30. The installation will take place at the Hereford Country Club.

Included will be Earnest L. Langley, local attorney, president; Frank Ford Jr., vice-president; Ed Linc, secretary-treasurer; Virgil Marsh, Dr. Millard Nobles, Don D. Zimmerman, and Don Baugous, directors.

Lahgley will succeed Neil Cooper, who will remain on the board for another year.

The outgoing directors are Raymond White, W. R. "Dub" Hair, Pete Caviness and Johnny Pool.

The new board and officers will officially assume their posts on Feb. 1.

Writing and speech."

New teaching methods offer a "transformational, generative approach to linguistics", Holman explains, adding that the aspects of interest to high school teachers include composition, generative rhetoric, modern grammar and interpretation of literature.

Cars, Speedway To Be Discussed

The prospects of reconstruction at the Hereford Speedway and the type of cars to be run during the coming racing season will be discussed during a meeting of the Hereford Racing Association at 8 p. m. today at Jones Restaurant.

To be decided are the types of cars to be run in races next season. It has been tentatively planned to run A and B stock and strictly junkers.

OF major importance will be the construction project, with present plans calling for widening of the track.

All drivers are urged to attend the important meeting.

OPERATION A SUCCESS — "Operation discovery", a drive for new members of the Church of Christ was a success. The members set a goal of 500-plus, to be reached by the first day of 1968, and reached it. As pastor Gene Fooks explained, "The goal of 500-plus was reached on the coldest day in two years. It was about 8 above zero when Sunday school began on January 7. There were other factors working against us also. Colds, sore throats, flu, pneumonia, measles, mumps and chicken pox kept many from working and attending. In spite of all this we reached our goal. This itself must be some kind of record on the High Plains of West Texas.

REV. AL BAUM — New pastor of the Greenwood Baptist Church.

Guest Sings On Valeda Program

A concert with songs varied enough to please the tastes of all hearers was presented by a guest, Bob Wert, for Valeda Study Club Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Hugh Clearman, hostess and program director, introduced Wert, music director in First Methodist Church here.

He commented informally on the selections ranging from opera to cowboy songs.

Mrs. J. C. McCracken was his piano accompanist as he sang an aria from an Italian opera; a German art song, "Calm is the Night"; a British sea song based on Massfield's poem, "Sea Fever"; Kern's "Old Man River" and Rodgers' "O What A Beautiful Mornin'." American musical comedy selections; the cowboy song, "Home on the Range," and a favorite wedding solo, "Because (D'Hardelot)."

Mrs. Robert Willmot conducted a brief business period in which members decided to invite guests for a special program on Water Conservation, scheduled for March 12 with a guest speaker who is an authority on the subject.

Other members present were Mmes. Glenn Watts, Billy Wayne Sisson, George Ritter, Gene Parsley and Armon Lauderback.

Father's Death Is Second Of Week In Family

Funeral services for the Rev. Jesse Iwig of Electra, father of L. J. Iwig of North Highway 385, are planned for 2 p. m. Friday at the First Presbyterian Church at Electra, which he served as pastor for a number of years.

His death followed an illness of a few weeks, occurring early tended the summer camp in New Mexico last year, presented the program on Indian Lore Refreshments were served afterward.

Next major event in the program here will be the Father-Daughter Dinner at the County Bull Barn Jan. 19. Girls from all levels of the Camp Fire organization — the younger Bluebirds, elementary and junior high Camp Fire Girls and Horizon Clubs for high school girls — will participate with their fathers as guests.

Water, Inc. Meeting Set, Look Into Future Given

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

Water Inc. will have its second annual meeting on Tuesday, Feb. 20, at Plainview, according to R. C. (Dick) Godwin, president of the Deaf Smith County Water Association, Inc. Godwin said that he was very interested in having as many people as possible to attend the meeting from this area because of the importance of fully understanding the aspects of the project.

The Bureau of Reclamation has had a budget of $200,000 for 1967, Godwin said, and will have another $200,000 budget for 1968, plus another $200,000 for the Bureau of Engineers. From this, he said that Water Inc. has hopes that by 1969 reconnaissance (which the reclamation bureau did last year, an examination of the region through its general natural features) would have more detail than appraisal.

Following this will come a feasibility study of construction, which will take several years. The feasibility would have to be approved by Congress, Godwin stated, which would probably come about 1970. There would have to be a bill enacted to authorize construction.

Godwin pointed out that construction would be expensive. But for the welfare of the potential user, the project must be promoted in Congress and the government agencies as well as the people in the area. "It is important above all else that the people will have to want it," Godwin said, "and will be willing to contract for water."

In order to be in a position to contract the water, the water district will have to control the surface water (they already control the underground water.) This authorization would have to be approved by the State of Texas, in the Master Conservancy District. The district would then have the power for water delivered.

A lot of discussion has centered upon the cost of the project, Godwin said. However, he pointed out that the farmer will pay only what he can afford to pay and nothing more. The rest will come out of taxes.

The Ralph Parsons firm of Los Angeles has been contracted to study the costs and handle the promotion by Water Inc. Their figures will be forthcoming.

The government expects all to benefit jointly in the project and the joint sharing of the cost repayment. It will cover the cost over and beyond the farmer's capacity, Godwin said.

The group had already been told that the water deficit for the area is large. It had been estimated that the West Texas area would eventually require an additional 15 million acre feet of water for ultimate development.

Water Inc. was formed in May, 1967, as the first major step toward getting enough water imported into the area to supplement that being removed from the underground sources. It is a non-profit organization through support of programs for the acquisition of a sufficient of water supply for present and future requirements of agriculture, the ranching industry and municipalities, and does promote, conduct and participate in studies, surveys and research programs for the importation, distribution, utilization and storage of water.

Other officers besides Godwin in the Deaf Smith County Water Association, Inc. are Wilburn Axe, vice-president; Joel Hodges, secretary-treasurer; Ray Cowser, Andrew Kershen, Henry Sears and James Witherspoon, the executive committee.

The board of directors are Axe, Labry Ballard, Dudley Bayne, Bruce Brown, Paul Coneway, Cowser, Clint Formby, Leo Forrest, Bill Gentry, Godwin, Donald Hicks, Hodges, Charles Hoover, Kershen, Palmer Norton, John D. Pitman, Denzil Pulliam, Austin Rose Jr., Sears and Witherspoon.

FHA Loans Help 765 Residents

More than 765 rural people in Deaf Smith and Oldham counties have new or vastly improved homes as a result of $156,900 in insured loan funds advanced through the Farmers Home Administration in the past two years, James Gouddy, local County supervisor of the supervised credit agency has reported.

Approximately $45,000 was advanced in 1967.

The rural housing program was greatly expanded in 1965 when, as part of President Lyndon B. Johnson's effort to strengthen rural America, the financing of the loans was switched from federal to private sources. Practically all of the rural housing loan funds now come from private sources on an insured basis.

Nearly $21,100 of the amount loaned during the past two years went to individual families with senior citizens, 62 years or older.

The construction that took place as a part of this credit program provided 2200 man-days of employment for carpenters, plumbers, electricians, and masons.

In addition, the housing funds circulating through the area gave the economy a $1,000,000 boost.

The annual initiation luncheon of Delta Kappa Gamma national honor society for women teachers was held Saturday at the Community Center.

There were fifteen new initiates from Deaf Smith, Parmer, and Castro counties, with the

Veteran Speaks To Club

A veteran of military service in Viet Nam, Larry Martin showed pictures he took there, and spoke informally to members of Young Mothers Study Club Tuesday evening at a meeting in Pioneer Gas Flame Room. Mrs. Jim Arney and Mrs. Larry Dobbs were hostesses.

After the showing of slides, the Hereford veteran answered questions of members concerning conditions in combat areas, and about the people and life in Viet Nam as observed during his year's service.

In a business session after the informative program, plans were discussed for the Valentine party at which members' husbands will be guests Feb. 13. Mrs. Ray Simpson presided for business.

Mrs. Bud Thomas and Mrs. Lynn Pittard will be hostesses at the next meeting, Jan. 23.

Other members present were Meses David Brumley, Raymond Gerk, A. T. Griffin, Al Hunter, Howard Hunter, J. McPherson, Chesley Johnston, Jerry Hodges and Charles Brown.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank Our Host of Friends, Jerome's Sunday School Class, Dorothy's Farm and Ranch Club, The Baptist Church for their kind words, food and flowers. Also Rev. H. V. Fields and Rev. Ron Harpster, the pallbearers, Gilliland Funeral Home, the doctors and nurses at the hospital for their wonderful services in the loss of our dear husband and father.

initiating officer being Mrs. Claude McDougal. She was assisted by Mrs. Opal Bookout, Mrs. Merlin Kaul, Mrs. A. G. Ratcliff, and Miss Bea Hawkins.

The new initiates are: Mrs. Tommy Braddy, Mrs. Elizabeth Wills, Mrs. Fred Mulkey, Miss Paula Green and Mrs. Albert Ricketts, all from Hereford.

Also Mrs. Flora Bledsoe, and Mrs. Nancy Westcott of Hart; Mrs. Sue Broderson, Mrs. Joanne Smider, and Mrs. Frances Duke, all of Dimmitt; Mrs. Lois Miller, and Mrs. Raymond Cook of Friona; Mrs. Sterling Donaldson of Farwell, and Mrs. Glens Sudderth, and Mrs. Rita Mast of Bovina.

Traditional society music was used in the ritual, the musicians being Mrs. Faun Welker, pianist and Mrs. H. V. Crawford, Miss Lucille Park, and Mrs. J. D. Neill, vocalists.

The program for the meeting was entitled, "Values Caught, Taught, or What," and was under the leadership of Mrs. Ralph Smith, chairman of the Research Committee. A skit depicted values of junior high students featured Mrs. L. Wertemberger and Mrs. Caudie Ola Brown. Life of elementary students was shown in a reading given by Mrs. V. P. Walker.

A highlight of the day was the presentation of the president's pin to Mrs. Kaul by Mrs. McDougal, on behalf of the society.

Hostesses for the luncheon arrangements were Mrs. J. J. Durham, chairman; and Mrs. Lawrence Carlson and Mrs. Elenor Hudspeth.

Those present from Hereford were Mesdames Charles Bell, Jim Bookout, Caudie Ola Brown, H. V. Crawford, J. J. Durham, Spicer Gripp, Earl Holt, Eleanor Hudspeth, Merlin Kaul, W. T. Legg, Claude McDougal, Fred Mercer, J. D. Neill, Tolbert Painter, Sam Ratcliff, Kent Snare, Earl Springer, V. P. Walker, Fred Welch, O. State OES Official Is Guest Here

A guest speaker to the Hereford Eastern Star Chapter Tuesday evening was Wendell Sims of Happy, a member of the Masonic Education Committee of the Grand Chapter of Texas. He discussed the relation between Masonry and the Order of Eastern Star.

Feb. 20 was set as the date for annual observance of Masonic Night in the Hereford OES. A supper will begin at 6:30 p. m. with local Masons and their wives as guests. Husbands of OES members will also be guests.

The 60th anniversary to the Hereford chapter was observed at the meeting. Mrs. B. E. Robertson was program director.

Hosts, Mrs. O. H. Culpepper, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Phipps, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Greeson, served refreshments to 27 members and Mr. and Mrs. Sims, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Rape whose membership in the Mt. Pleasant chapter, and J. W. Spencer of the Canyon chapter.

Announcement was made that a study group is meeting at 7:30 p. m. each Friday night at the Masonic Hall.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to offer our thanks to the many wonderful people who helped so much during the recent loss of our beloved son and brother, Allen.

To the doctors and nurses who cared for him, to the blood donors, the Rev. Robert Williams and ladies of the Wesley Methodist Church, to the many young people who were so helpful, to all those sending cards and flowers, also to the strangers offering help and sympathy. To all of you we can only say thank you and wish you God's blessings.

Offices In Duplicate Group Filled

Ed Schroeter has been elected director of the Hereford Duplicate Bridge Group, and Mrs. Bill Dye secretary-treasurer. Schroeter succeeds Mrs. F. W. Hill in the director's post.

The Hereford group meets weekly for games at Community Center, open to all interested persons. Those who have not played duplicate are invited to learn in the sessions beginning at 7:30 p. m. each Thursday.

Local players take part in area tournaments and play host each summer to a tournament which brings visitors from over the Panhandle-Plains area. The Hereford group is affiliated with the American Contract Bridge League.

Several members went to Lubbock last weekend to play in a sectional tourney.

Walcott Boys, Bushland Girls Win Tournament

Walcott Jr. High collected it's own tournament championship trophy Saturday as it defeated the Stanton 8th grade boys by a score of 44-20.

The Stanton 8th grade got into the finals by defeating Bushland 32-22 in Saturday's initial game but could not overcome the powerful Walcott team in the title tilt.

Following the Stanton-Bushland game Saturday, the La Plata 7th grade proved to much for the La Plata 8th graders as they collected consolation honors by a 31-23 score.

In the girls championship game, Bushland defeated the Walcott squad 39-20 to win the title.

When you are mixing honey and butter to use as a spread, be sure to have both the honey and the butter at room temperature so that they will blend easily and well. Store the mixture in the refrigerator; it's delicious served on hot biscuits, toast, pancakes.

QUITE A "FISH" STORY — The Henry Kuper family, and the Herman Acker family had quite an experience on their recent vacation in Acapulco.

co. (see story below.) In the lower right hand picture are left to right, Henry Kuper, Mrs. Herman Acker, Mrs. Henry Kuper and Herman Acker.

Local Residents Take Fishing Trip

Henry Kuper of Summerfield can't tell his friends about the "one that got away". His wife however, has something to tell about, and it is definitely not a fish story!

The Kupers, along with the Herman Acker family recently returned from a holiday vacation in Acapulco. While in the resort town, they decided to take a "deep sea" fishing excursion.

"We thought if we could catch anything as big as the bait we were using, the trip would be worth it," recalled Kuper. But sure enough, 17 miles from shore Mrs. Kuper hooked an eight-foot sailfish, worked 15 minutes to bring him in, and finally with the help of the crew, landed him aboard the boat.

"After that, everybody wanted to go fishing", Kuper said.

The total catch for the Christmas Day excursion amounted to one sailfish, and four "Dorado" fish, each weighing about 65 pounds. The sailfish itself weighed 126 pounds.

When asked if he wanted to go back next year, Kuper said, "After we landed that sailfish, I didn't know if we'd get back to shore or not".

The group decided not to have the fish mounted because of the cost, about $180, so when Ackers' son, Arnold caught another such fish, they turned it loose.

Chris Short of the Phillies and Ray Sadecki of the San Francisco Giants were the only south-paws among the National League's earned run leaders in 1967. Short had a 2.40 ERA and Sadecki had 2.78.

Sunset Keglers Bowling Action

The Sunset Keglers bowling "Star of the Week" was Jeanette Walterscheid, who finished with 111 pins over her average.

The current team standings are: Hereford Insurance, 41-23; Justice Realtors, 39-25; Owens and Hollingworth, 38-26; Medics, 38-26; Gault and Son, 37-27; Chester Gin, 33-31; Hereford W.L.I.N.G., 33-31; Sunset Lanes, 33-31; Thrif-T-Burger, 29½-35½; Boyd Machine and Supply, 27½-36; Hays Implement, 23½-40½ and Imperial Coiffeurs, 12½-51½.

For the teams who won and lost last week: Hereford Insurance, Gault and Son, Chester Gin and Medics each won 2 and lost 2. Imperial Coiffeurs won none and lost 4; Thrif-T-Burger had the same total. with no losses.

The high team 3-games: Gault and Son, 2287 points.

The high team game was won by Hereford Insurance with 846. The high independent game was won by Revella Skypala, with 221.

The high independent 3-game total ended in a tie: Molly Schofield and Wilma Clark each scored 538.

Vandals Strike Two Businesses

Justice Realtors and the Skylight Club were victims vandals over the past weekend, as windows were broken with air rifles in both buildings.

Police were told that someone had shot out four windows in Justice Realtors' East Highway 60, between noon Saturday and 7:30 p. m. Sunday with a B-B rifle. Damage was estimated at $200.

A large plate glass window in the Skylight Club, 100 block of Main, was broken about 1 a. m. Sunday owners told police. Damage was estimated at $100.

You say you wonder what your phone will be like in the year 2000?

By the turn of the century, chances are you won't recognize the familiar telephone. Based on services already in use or on the drawing boards, you can expect some pretty far-out developments.

For example, Picturephone* see-while-you-talk service, already in limited use, might well be offered in full color and three dimensions. With it, you could do the family grocery shopping, look at the new cars, or buy a new hat without leaving the house.

Electronic switching equipment, now in trial use, will call you back when a busy line you have called is free, or transfer your calls to another phone while you're away from home.

Telephones will be free to go where you go. A cordless portable extension phone, complete with dial, is currently undergoing tests.

Money handling will be revolutionized. You won't need to write checks or pay cash for most purchases. A telephone call to your bank's computer will take care of the payment. The same system will automatically pay monthly bills which you authorize and keep track of your bank balance. It might even figure your income tax.

By the year 2000, your telephone will probably be doing many other jobs, that now seem unthinkable. But then, television, satellites, computers—even the telephone—was "impossible" 100 years ago.

Looking ahead to keep ahead in communications is one way we try to make your every "hello" a real good buy.

Difficulties facing the present generation were compared and contrasted with those of the past as the speaker discussed life on the level of the average American home now and then.

Her talk followed a devotional period conducted by Mrs. Coy Phillips, who read a poem titled "My Desire," written by her aunt, Mrs. Guy Lemmons.

Entertainment at the start of the program was by the Daisies, a high school girls' quartet which sang comic and serious selections accompanied by their own guitars. Comprising the Daisies are Connie Bryant, Penny Young, Lynda Jacobsen and Levenie Benefield.

In a business session with Mrs. Hardy Benson presiding, Mrs. Jim Bookout reported for the shopping committee which she headed, on purchase of clothing and a doll as Christmas gifts for Kim Piazza, the club's "adopted" girl at Girstown USA.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses to members including Miss Mildred Elliot, Mrs. H. E. Henslee, Vivian Major, G. W. Newsom, Ray Suit, Floyd Dunavant and R. G. Blue

History Of Hereford Cattle Is Detailed For Rotary Members

A brief history of the Hereford Whiteface in the local area was presented to Hereford Rotary Club members Monday by Jim Conkwright, who raises the breed of famous cattle.

In a "classification" talk to his fellow Rotarians, Conkwright listed numerous persons who have had a hand in establishing the Hereford in the local area and giving it national stature.

The first Hereford's said Conkwright, were brought here about 1898 by G. R. (Rat) Howell, who became a national authority on the particular breed of cattle. Also listed among the earliest breeders of Herefords were Tom Ivy, Ed East, L. R. Bradley, and W. E. and Travis Dameron.

Conkwright also listed numerous other leading Hereford raisers and the years they were strongest.

Discussing his own family's operation, Conkwright related that his grandfather, H. G. Conkwright, had come to Hereford in 1907. He said his father had later taken over the operation and bought from other local Hereford breeders to build up his own herd.

Presently having 5500 acres in grassland and 1200 in farmland, up their herd with strictly cattle from Hereford. It is believed, Conkwright said, that his family presently has the largest herd of old line Hereford cattle in existence.

The Conkwright cattle, he continued now are in herds from Florida to Idaho and from Montana to Mexico, with the large part of the selling area being in Texas and Nebraska.

Last year, the Department of Agriculture announced it was establishing a new herd and hoped to do some crossbreeding. Some of the Conkwright heifers and bulls were chosen to help start such a herd.

The Conkwrights have replaced commercial cattle with the registered ones because of the bigger market, and presently have from 350 to 400 registered cattle and about 60 commercial cattle.

Plans call for gradual weeding out of the commercial cattle and working with the registered cattle only.

In closing, Conkwright said the future for the new cattle breeder is good because "he has a rich heritage to build on. But he will have to do good because of the past performances."

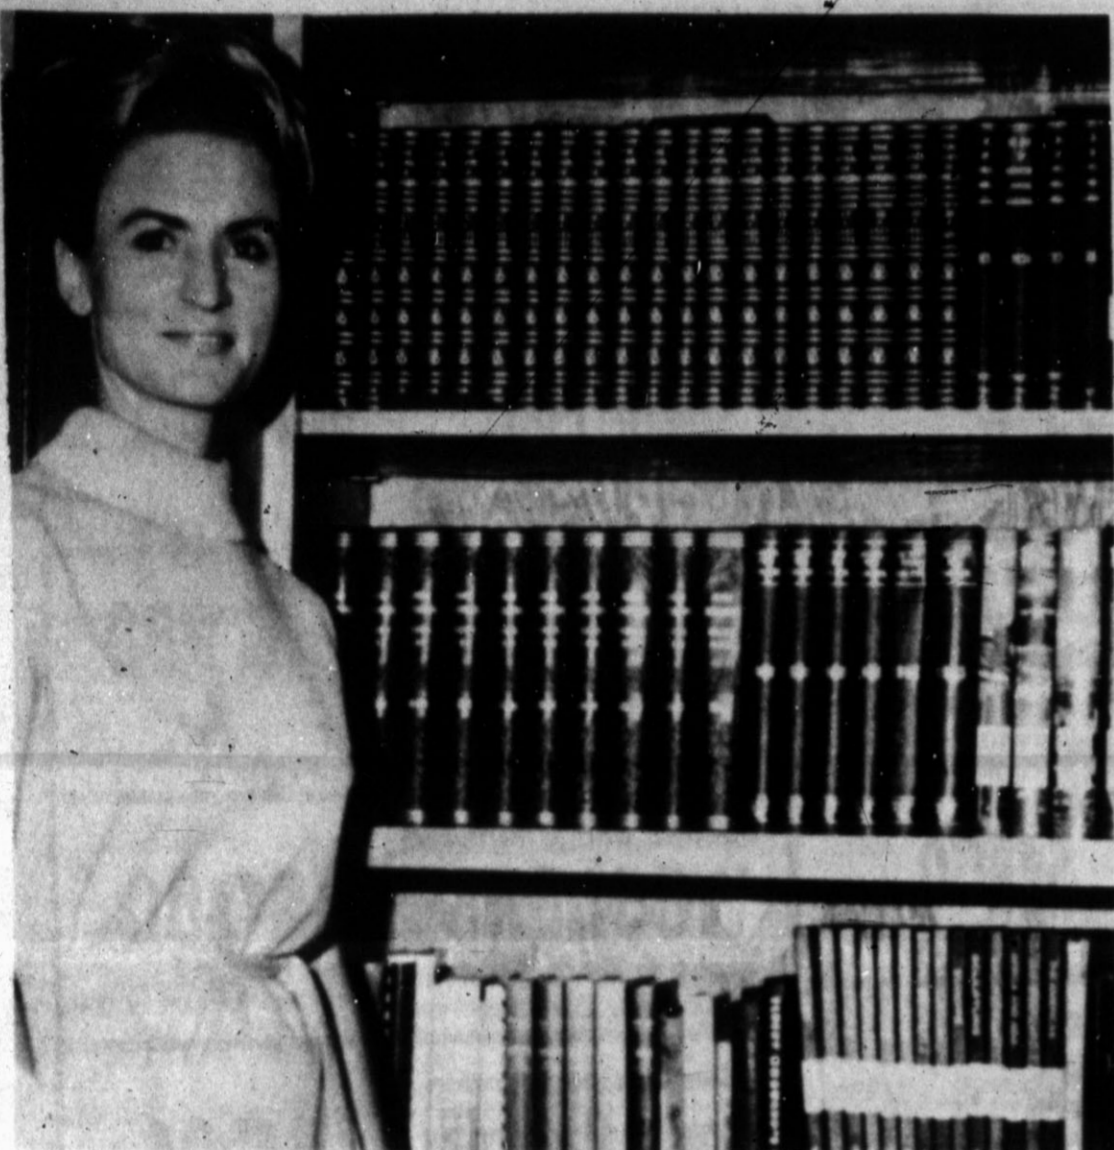

Mother Of Local Resident Dies

Funeral services for Mrs. Geneva Michael, 63, of May, mother of Hereford High School principal Bill Michael, were held Wednesday morning in Brownwood.

Mrs. Michael, who had 35 years of service with the Post Office Department before her retirement, died Monday. She had been assistant postmaster and her husband the postmaster in May.

Mrs. Leroy Bodkin homemaking her career

LET'S COOK SOMETHING!

House Fitted To Family

By SUE COLEMAN
Tailored to fit the family, its activities and the kind of informal entertaining its members enjoy, the Leroy Bodkin home southeast of Hereford is something of a paradox, a 30-year-old house which is new inside and out.

THE BODKINS have done most of the work themselves to completely remodel the house over a period of 3 years. When they moved to Hereford they inspected new houses in the city, then decided on improvement of the house on the farm; they have worked on it ever since.

Grounds have been improved too, and the pink-beige stone house is set on an attractive lawn in a clump of shady trees, with more trees bordering the driveway from the pavement.

Bodkin has been a farmer and the family has lived on farms except while he was in military service including overseas duty in the U. S. Air Force during the Korean War. Pretty blonde Mrs. Bodkin, who was Evelyn Miller before her marriage, grew up as a member of a farm family at Olton.

SHE WAS BORN there and went through public schools at Olton. The only daughter of three children, she learned homekeeping duties from her mother and grandmother — and learned to like them. As a homemaking student in school she reinforced the lessons she already had at home.

There are three children in the Bodkin family: Judy is 14, Jacquelin 12 and Jimmy seven, and their needs were considered in plans for doing over the house.

Its rooms are large, but there were only two bedrooms so the first program was to transform a "raw" basement into quarters for the girls.

PLENTY OF BUILT-in shelves, cabinets and closets were constructed by Bodkin to make it convenient, while Mrs. Bodkin made curtains, bedspreads and cushions and refinished furniture for the two big bedrooms.

Related by a cheerful red-and-white color scheme, each room reflects the personal tastes of its occupant. Both girls use a desk located in a central hallway, and a small upright piano which has been in the family half a century, and which shows handsome oak wood under clear lacquer which replaced "about a dozen coats of paint".

Upstairs is the master bedroom and Jimmy's room with its bunk beds and a boy's version of the dominant red color note. The long living room opens into a dining area which flows in turn into the kitchen space which is roomy enough for family members to gather around while Mrs. Bodkin does the cooking.

SHE LIKES TO prepare food for neighbors and friends, or for visiting relatives as well as for her own family, and she wanted the rooms arranged so the kitchen would be one of the "living" rooms.

A large hall centering the house has been turned to use with bookshelves and a closet which Bodkin built, also a glassed-in case high on one wall to hold the guns which he and Mrs. Bodkin use on hunting trips which both enjoy. Below it is the sewing machine which Mrs. Bodkin says she uses "constantly!"

"It never is closed", she says, as she sews some almost every day, for her daughters, herself or the house. She finds sewing a relaxing hobby.

BUILT-INS ARE for the children as well as the grownups in the family; a three-story doll house, with an attic where doll clothing can be stored, was designed by Mrs. Bodkin and built by her husband to house the girl's collection of teen dolls, and Jimmy's toy guns are ranged neatly in their own case.

"The best neighbors a person could have" are named as special assets of the Bodkins in their farm home. Friendliness was shown from the time they moved to the community, Mrs. Bodkin says.

She has been a member of Wyche Home Demonstration Club, which she will serve as president through 1968, since her first month in the community, when a neighbor "just dropped by and took me to a club meeting".

"I'M NOT THE clubwoman type", she explains, "but besides the association with my neighbors in Wyche Club, its program concerns the thing I'm most interested in — good homemaking, so I've enjoyed it very much". She has held various offices and was vice president the past two years.

She teaches in the Presbyterian Sunday School, as she has done for more than 15 years, working with youngsters of junior high age or fourth and fifth graders.

"Once I planned to stop teaching", she smiles, "but my retirement didn't last long. I missed it, because when I'm teaching I learn so much!" She has also worked with Girl Scouts in the past.

As a favorite recipe, Mrs. Bodkin chose one for a very special pie which she says "takes a few extra moments of time to make, but it's well worth that".

TEXAS CREAM PIE

Sift 1/2 cup sugar and 1 tb. flour into top of double boiler. Add 2 cups milk and heat until almost too hot to touch with the finger.

Pour one-fourth of this mixture over four egg yolks, slightly beaten. Mix well and add remainder of mixture. Cook in double boiler over boiling water for 3 minutes.

Remove from over boiling water and add one envelope of plain gelatin that has been dissolved in 1/4 cup cold water. Stir until gelatin is mixed well. Set aside until thoroughly cooled.

Beat 4 egg whites and 1/4 tsp. cream tartar. Add 1/2 cup sugar gradually, then add 2 tsp. vanilla. Fold into the cooled custard. Put into two paked pie shells and set in refrigerator an hour.

Whip 1/2 cup cream and add 2 tb. powdered sugar. Spread thinly over top of pie and decorate with grated semi-sweet chocolate.

Military Personnel To Get Special Low Mailing Rates

Packages up to 30 pounds for American military personnel served by Army and Fleet Post Offices overseas now can be sent by air transportation at special low rates, Postmaster Nolan Grady pointed out today.

"Area residents using this new airtel service will get much faster delivery on parcels to military personnel overseas," Postmaster Grady said. He said the airtel is available on a space-available basis upon payment of the domestic parcel post surface rate plus a flat $1 fee.

Packages weighing up to 30 pounds and not more than 60 inches in combined length and girth qualify for the new special airtel service for the new special said.

Postal patrons can get the airtel service on packages mailed to all military personnel at APO and FPO addresses overseas, and in Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico. Postmaster Grady noted that the new airtel also applies to parcels mailed back to the States by servicemen from these military post offices.

Parcels on which the $1 fee is paid get air transportation all the way — from Amarillo to the port of embarkation, and from there to the overseas base. Postal patrons formerly had to pay air parcel post rates to get similar service, Postmaster Grady said.

He said that in many instances the new airtel rates are considerably below comparable air parcel post charges. He cited these examples:

A mother here sending a 15-pound package to her son in Vietnam pays $3.35 for the new airtel service. The air parcel post rate for the same package is $9.79.

An eight-pound package going from here to Frankfurt, Germany, costs $2.75 under the airtel service. The air parcel rate is $5.87.

Postmaster Grady pointed out however, that it is not always to the mailer's advantage to use the airtel service. On some light packages, air parcel post rates may be lower than the airtel charges.

"Postal patrons should check with the Post Office for information on the best way to mail parcels to servicemen overseas," Postmaster Grady emphasized.

The new airtel service went into effect January 7. It was authorized under the postal rate bill signed into law December 16 by President Johnson.

Postmaster Grady explained that the regular postage on parcels mailed to servicemen overseas is based on the distance the package is hauled within the United States. No charge is made for carrying the package between the U. S. port and the overseas base.

Until January 7 airtel for parcels to servicemen overseas was restricted to packages weighing up to five pounds. Upon payment of the regular parcel post rates, these packages get service transportation to the port of embarkation and are airtel from there to the overseas posts on a space available basis.

There is no charge for this partial airtel and overseas parcels weighing up to five pounds will continue to receive this service, Postmaster Grady said.

Sales Improve On Banquet Tickets

The Hereford Chamber of Commerce reported that approximately 230 tickets had been sold, and distributed through Tuesday for the banquet to be held Thursday, January 18, with former Miss America Marilyn Van Derbur as guest speaker.

The chamber said that this was normal, in view of the fact that most sales are delayed on all events until the final day, comparing this event with those of the past.

However, officials issued the friendly warning that tickets should be purchased as soon as possible for this occasion, as there may not be any tickets available at the last minute.

Miss Van Derbur, actually Mrs. Lawrence Adler of Denver in her non-professional life, is expected to draw the largest crowd in Hereford history, according to chamber officials.

She will appear at the Deaf Smith County Bull-Barn. Tickets are on sale now at $5 each.

Aside from her former role as Miss America, she has constantly appeared as guest on several of the top television programs on both the national networks and through local syndication, and served as co-hostess and mistress of ceremonies in various beauty and travelogue specials. Also, she has made numerous public appearances as representative of AT & T and now represents General Motors.

Miss Van Derbur is perhaps the top young woman speaker in America today.

She was the unanimous choice of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce as banquet speaker.

Baptist Church Has New Pastor

Rev. Al Baum took charge as pastor of the Greenwood Baptist Church, Greenwood and Moreman, last Sunday morning.

Rev. Baum follows Rev. Graham Jarrell, who has resigned to enter the mission field in Mexico. The two men were formerly classmates at the Bible Baptist College, Springfield, Mo., and had not seen each other for two years when Rev. Baum arrived here.

Rev. Baum, formerly of Memphis, Tenn., served as assistant pastor and song leader for the Mid-City Baptist Temple there — a church large enough to claim ownership of ten buses for congregation transportation.

Converted while serving in the Marines in 1955, Baum felt that he had been called to preach shortly afterward and, upon his discharge from the service in 1958, entered the Baptist Bible College, which is associated with the Baptist Bible Fellowship International, who have close to 200 missionaries in the field.

He was ordained into the Baptist ministry in 1959.

Rev. Baum is here with his wife, La Vern, and their four children: David, 6; Steven 4½; Peggy, 3; and "Cowboy" Dan, 8 months.

Former pastor Jarrell was converted under the ministry of Mrs. Baum's father, Everett C. Lerch, in Florida. Rev. Lerch is now director of Faith Mission Publications, Bristol, Tenn., which offers tracts to all missionaries.

Rev. Baum said, "Plans for the future, we are going to have a real enthusiastic visitation program. And we are old-fashioned enough to believe the Bible and young enough to enjoy it."

He will also broadcast "Echos of Calvary" Sunday mornings from 9:30 — 9:45 on KPAN.

Pitching was one big reason why the Pittsburgh Pirates failed as pennant contenders in 1967. They ranked ninth with a team earned run mark of 3.74. Houston was at the bottom with 4.03.

Income Tax Facts

(Dallas) — Five requirements must be met to claim an exemption for dependents on Federal income tax returns, Mr. Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue for Northern Texas, said today.

A dependent must (1) have less than $600 gross income, except for a child who is 19 at the end of the year or a full-time student during some part of each of five calendar months of the year; (2) have received more than half of his support from the taxpayer; (3) not have filed a joint return with wife or husband; (4) be a citizen or resident of the United States, or a resident of Canada, Mexico, or the Republic of Panama, or the Canal Zone, and (5) either have been a member of the taxpayer's household for the entire taxable year, or be closely related to the taxpayer.

In determining whether chief support was furnished for the dependent, it is necessary to take into consideration all funds used for the support of the individual, including nontaxable items. For example, social security benefits, unemployment compensation, etc., used for the individual's support, while not taxable income, must be taken into consideration in determining who furnished chief support.

Two Accidents Occur Monday

Local police investigated two automobile accidents here Monday.

The first involved one car sliding into another at Ave. E. and Park Avenue. It resulted in damage of $150 to the 1966 Dodge sedan driven by Frank A. Montelongo of Hereford, but no damage to the 1959 Cadillac sedan driven by Patsy Townsend Burns.

One of the autos was making a right turn off Ave. E, while the other was traveling east on Park.

In the second accident, which involved two pickup trucks, Roberto Garcia, of Hereford, received a $150 damage, while the second truck, owned by Southwest Public Service, totaled $50 damages.

One of the pickups was traveling east on Highway 60, as the other was traveling north on Schley when the accident occurred.

The second truck was driven by Maxey Howard Wiseman, of Hereford.

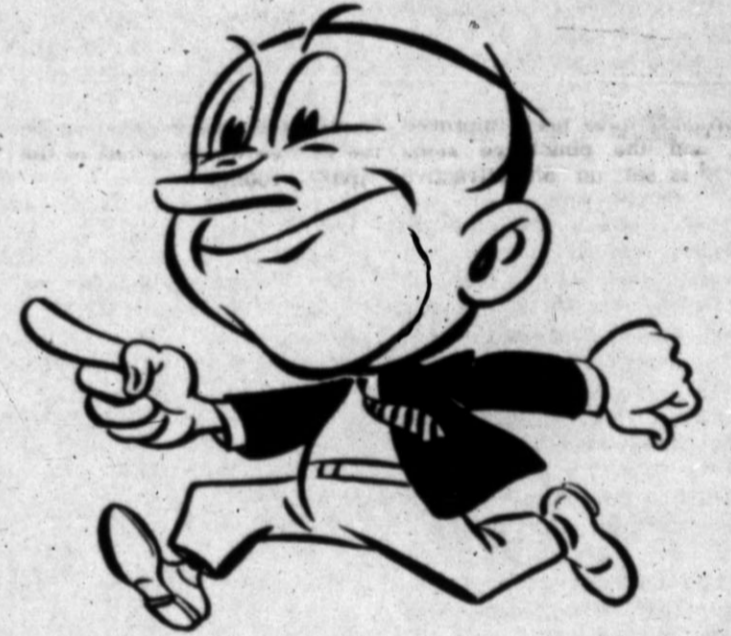

No personal injuries were listed in either incident. In each accident a citation was issued for failure to yield right of way.

After five games Tom Fambrough of West Texas State had a perfect record in kicking extra points. He made 19 for 19.

Michigan State football teams coached by Duffy Daugherty have an 85-42-4 record.

Gillilands Have Lasting Mark In Deaf Smith County History

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

The present location of the Gilliland Funeral Home at 411 East Sixth Street has been the site of the family business since its formal opening in February 1958, but it has had a long history in Hereford prior to that date. In fact, it goes all the way back for almost sixty-one years.

The late Matt Gilliland first opened an undertaking parlor in connection with a furniture store in 1907. It was located in the building on Main Street that is now occupied by Gaston's Popular Store. But this was only for a period of six years. Matt Gilliland sold the business in 1913 and moved to Pecos, in the Big Bend country. But this removal from the local scene lasted only two years, because he returned here in 1915 and went to work for the E. B. Black Company, again with the furniture and undertaking trades.

During this time, Matt Gilliland made history in a fashion—when he drove the first motor-driven funeral car in the State of Texas.

He had bought the gasoline car but had not as yet had the opportunity to use it in Hereford. However, N. S. Griggs was preparing for the funeral of a wealthy rancher at Amarillo and asked to use it.

But a loan agreement could not be made unless Griggs agreed that Gilliland should drive it. Therefore, he drove it to Amarillo and became a part of the funeral. In that fashion he became the first driver in Texas for the forerunner of the funeral cars of today.

Following this funeral, Griggs asked Gilliland to leave his motor-driven car at Amarillo for a while longer. It was another three months before there was a funeral in Hereford, when he returned it here.

He and Griggs and E. M. Blackburn of Amarillo got their undertaking licenses together in 1907. It took them only four weeks to complete their studies and take the examinations in those days.

Matt Gilliland died in 1959. At the time, he was the third oldest licensee-holder in Texas.

Marlin Gilliland followed his father and went to work for the E. B. Black Company. He then went to the Dallas School of Mortuary Science and received his license in 1936. Times had advanced since his father's entrance into the business. It took him three months of study.

In 1949, Marlin took the undertaking business independently, but it continued to be operated at the downtown location until 1957.

In 1963, John Gilliland followed his father, Marlin, into the business, after receiving his license. Then a few months ago in September—Charles Watson, Marlin's son-in-law, received his license and is with them.

They have an employee, Arthur Denny, who has been with them since 1947. He has served as ambulance attendant, custodian and almost all the other duty titles of Gilliland's.

Featuring all the modern science and knowledge of the funeral business of today, the Gilliland Funeral Home also has complete ambulance service.

In fact, the Gillilands are now anticipating a new car—to replace one that burned! A patient was being transferred recently from Westgate-King's Manor to a hospital at Odessa, when the car caught fire. The wind was high and the blaze could not be controlled. It was destroyed.

The patient, Marlin Gilliland reported, was removed from it without any knowledge that a fire was in progress!

Irrigation Is Important, But Conserve Water

COLLEGE STATION — Irrigation is vital to Texas farmers and yet the supply of ground water is seriously declining in several important irrigated areas.

According to C. Wayne Keese, Extension agricultural engineer, the Panhandle-High Plains the Trans-Pecos area and the Winter Garden of South Texas are areas experiencing a declining ground water level. He pointed out that the Trans-Pecos region was the most seriously affected.

"Declining ground water levels are doubly serious since water costs increase at the same time well yields decrease," Keese said.

This is an important factor because ground water supplies over 80 percent of Texas irrigated acreage. And since farmers irrigate more than seven million acres of cropland or about one third of the state's total harvested acreage, new methods must be found to make the water go further.

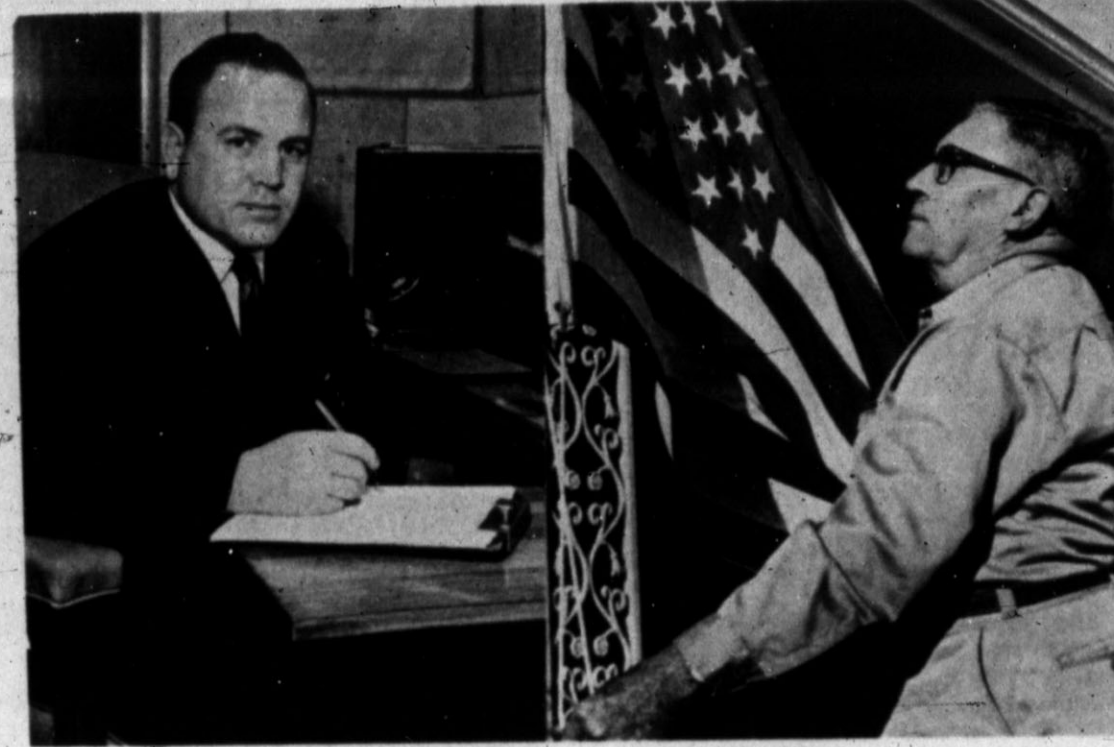

Keese said special attention should be given to developing areas and areas facing adjustments caused by dwindling ground water supplies to meet the growing needs for food and fiber indicated by the population growth in the states, the nation and the world.

Irrigation is necessary to Texas farmers if they are to meet the challenge of the future.

EXPANDING ECONOMY — The economy of the United States can be expected to continue to expand during 1968 with a disposable income for consumers, reports John G. McHaney, Extension economist at Texas A & M University. Prices, he adds, can also be expected to rise further with indicated increases in expenditure for consumer goods, capital outlays and government purchases.

SWPS Officials Announce 1968 Expansion Program

Power plant additions which will increase the company's electric generating capability by 225,000 kilowatts make up the major investments in a $17,818,000 construction program for 1968 have been announced by Roy Tolk, president of Southwestern Public Service Company.

"We have invested more than $200-million in new equipment in the last ten years for just one purpose, meeting the needs of our customers. Our 1968 program is another step in a continuing effort to assure our 45,000 square mile service area of the electric power necessary for it to reach its full growth potential," Tolk said in announcing plans.

The company's generating capability will go to 1,717,000 kilowatts, twice what it was ten years ago, with the completion of a 210,000 kilowatt addition to Nichols Station, northeast of Amarillo, and the installation of a 15,200 kilowatt gas turbine in the Guymon, Oklahoma area.

The Guymon installation will be used principally for peaking purposes during periods of high usage, but will also provide area protection, complementing transmission line power sources in the Oklahoma Panhandle. The plant will be operated by remote control from Guymon and can be brought up to full production in a matter of minutes.

All indicators point to 1967 as a definite pivotal year for cotton on the Texas High Plains.

This is the opinion of Donald A. Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock.

Production from the 23 counties represented by PCG will come to around 1,150,000 bales for the 1967 crop year, the lowest production from the area since 1950 and less than half the record 2,344,000 bales grown in 1961.

And Johnson says "I think we can assume that this will be the low point for the number of bales produced on the Plains for many years to come. There will almost certainly be more cotton planted in 1968 and most people now expect a 1968 harvest of between 1.5 and 1.75 million bales. From there we are hoping conditions will warrant a return to 'normal' production."

He cautions against firm predictions of planted acreage on the Plains for 1968, pointing out that many farmers, probably a majority, have not yet made firm planting decisions for the year.

"But with the premiums paid for Plains cotton in 1967, and with nationwide prospects for a crop in 1968 that will at best barely cover market demands, some farmers are going to set their sights on the higher profits that can be made from maximum plantings," Johnson believes.

He called attention to the fact that cataloged Government stocks of cotton are now down below one million bales and that very little cotton from the current crop is expected to remain in the loan after August 1, 1968.

"So Government sales of cotton shouldn't have any significant effect on markets for the 1968 crop, and that's one of the strongest plus factors seen in the cotton market for many years."

Johnson goes on to say that 1967 was a turning point for cotton quality as well as quantity.

The most spectacular change in the quality mix of the Plains crop came in staple length. In a single year, from 1966 to 1967, See COTTON TALKS Page 2

Nation's Economy To Continue It's Expansion During 1968

COLLEGE STATION — The economy of the United States can be expected to continue to expand during 1968 and the consumer's disposable income will also continue to rise.

This is part of the "Economic Outlook for 1968" by John G. McHaney, Extension economist at Texas A & M University. He based his outlook on the assumptions that the conflict in Southeast Asia will continue without major escalation, the proposed income tax surcharge will be enacted as evidence of renewed strong economic expansion piles up, and that interest rates will ease off after the first quarter of 1968 as the tax surcharge takes effect.

With these assumptions considered, McHaney says that the consumer's disposable income will rise with advances in output, employment and wage rates. Social security benefits will be raised, and although a tax increase may moderate the rise in disposable income, the consumer will gain in buying power.

Prices can also be expected to rise further with the indicated increases in expenditures for consumer goods, capital outlays and government purchases, McHaney believes.

The total government spending for goods and services continued to rise during 1967 and will probably do so during 1968. The growth in government spending at the state and local levels rose about 12 percent in 1967 and McHaney sees a similar increase in 1968. The federal purchases of goods and services mainly for defense, also rose in 1967 but at a slower pace than in 1967.

McHaney says that early surveys of businessmen's capital expenditure plans for 1968 point to an increase of about 5 percent which is a modest one, but reasonable in light of the average utilization rates in manufacturing of less than 85 percent of capacity in 1967.

Demand for housing is growing and can be expected to continue to grow in 1968, but McHaney forecasts limited growth because of tight credit conditions.

reliability of service which is prevalent in some areas of the nation and in political circles in Washington, Talk pointed out that Southwestern Public Service Company will have adequate reserve capabilities in 1968.

Water and electricity will begin combining forces for efficiency and economy in 1968 with the beginning of the utilization of the Sanford Dam Project by the 11-member cities of the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority. The major pumping on this system will be done electrically on a controlled peak system supervised at the Southwestern Public Service Company's dispatching center in Amarillo, with the most efficient generating units being utilized, thus keeping production costs as low as possible.

Other improvements planned in the 1968 program will strengthen the electric company's 42-00 mile transmission system which interconnects 10 major power plants and provide for additions to distribution facilities in communities throughout the service area.

"1967 was a year of decision on the High Plains and this is the basis of our optimism for 1968 and other years to come. The thoughtful consideration and financial support which has been given this year to plans and programs to bring imported water to this area typifies the initiative of the people of this region. This 'It can be done' spirit benefits the world and the nation — as well as this region, for no other area is better suited to agricultural development. With supplemental water, this territory will play a major role in feeding the world, and the diversified development of agriculture and industry will make it one of the most productive areas of the nation," Talk concluded.

the amount of cotton stapling an inch or longer almost tripled from 13.3 per cent to nearly 40 per cent. Final quality figures are not yet in, but 41.1 per cent of the first 950,000 bales stapled at least an inch and PCG is assuming the ultimate figure will be around 38 or 39 per cent.

Along with this dramatic improvement came a substantial rise in the tensile strength of area cotton. Average strength, or pressley, went up to 79,000 pounds per square inch on the first 950,000 bales, as compared to a final 73,000 psi in 1966.

"These quality advances were made in spite of a shortage of seed in some of the more sought-after varieties and under weather conditions that were far from ideal," Johnson notes, "and there is little if any doubt that another giant step toward longer, stronger cotton will be taken in 1968."

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

No doubt you've noticed lately a lot of hints for overcoming that post-holiday depression, the let-down feeling that follows a period of excitement and extra activity, the morning-after reaction which is multiplied because the first week in January is not the aftermath of one celebration, but a long train of 'em.

SUGGESTED remedies vary from bed rest to the old reliable feminine move of going out and buying a red hat.

Some authorities tell you sternly to clean the New Years confetti out from behind the furniture, put the decorations back in their proper boxes and on their proper closet shelves, get the remainder of the turkey out of the deepfreeze and make hash out of it.

In a word get it all over with and then face the future with a clean slate.

OTHERS SAY the best thing is to leave it lay, lock the door and take off for a winter vacation in Aspen or Acapulco. Of course that's for somebody whose budget is not as flat as mine after the holidays, and besides it entails the shock of coming back.

There are other suggestions touching points between the two extremes, and all of them are for those that can take them. None for me, thank you, as I appear to be out of step somehow and don't have a post-holiday problem.

All my effort was concentrated on getting through the holidays; now they are over, I feel better than for weeks, free as a breeze, even have the decorations stored away. No need for pep pills at all. In fact, maybe a tranquilizer is in order.

A KING-SIZED job is underway for members of Hereford Garden Club, who are decorating the County Bull Barn for the Chamber of Commerce banquet next Thursday. They held a workshop there Friday afternoon and got the project started.

Anything as big as the Bull Barn is not easy to decorate; you can't just stick a bunch of posies in the middle of each table and call the work done. It can be made most attractive with proper lighting and properties, I remember from last spring's H H S Junior-Senior banquet.

The garden club women have talent to design a decor to suit the occasion, and willingness to work to carry it out (they aren't just theoretical gardeners, you know; they do their own digging), so I'm looking forward to what Mrs. Ray Johnson & Co. have in store as a banquet setting.

This decorating job, by the way, will serve as practice for the club which soon has the task of arranging settings for a convention of garden clubs from all over West Texas, a meeting that will bring scores of visitors here.

Pioneer Club's Officers Remain

Another term for all officers of Pioneer Study Club was voted by members in the annual election Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. Delmar Sigle returned as president. The group will be installed to serve two more years, at this season's close May 14.

Mrs. Ted Panciera will again be vice president, Mrs. A. L. Manjeot secretary, Mrs. Ralph McCullough corresponding secretary, Mrs. O.G. Hill Sr. treasurer, Mrs. Henry Hastings historian, Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill Sr. parliamentarian.

Also serving second terms will be Mrs. Ray L. Johnson as yearbook chairman, Mrs. W. C. Hromas as Federation director and Mrs. P. B. Sowell as publicity chairman. Mrs. Paul Rudd was chairman of the committee which nominated the officers.

Two subjects, Youth and Medical Research, shared the program which opened with a meditation by Mrs. Wirt Phillips.

New discoveries in medicine and the progress of medical research were discussed by Mrs. Sowell, and in amusing contrast were the memories of Home Remedies of Pioneer Days, related by Mrs. J. M. Gilliland, Mrs. E. S. Ireland and Mrs. Allyn Bell, long-time members of the club.

The other topic was presented by Mrs. B. E. Brumley, speaking of The Restless Generation and surveying the picture of youth with its disturbing elements which attract public attention as well as its idealistic and hard-working majority.

Mrs. H. E. Miller and Mary Seigler were luncheon hostesses at the Cason House, who decorated the tables with bouquets of roses.

In the business period Mrs. McCullough made the final report on a bulb sale project which the club undertook to raise funds and to encourage community beautification. Hundreds of boxes of bulbs were sold to resident for next spring bloom, while club members planted others in parks and public grounds.

Reports were made on Christmas gifts to Girltown USA, and a project in which individual club members sent greeting cards to shut-in mothers of several members.

In addition to those named, members present included Mrs. Bess Werner, M. L. Simpson, J. V. Pickens, Henry Hastings, Burt France and Fred Barrett.

Early Resident Of City Passes

Funeral services for Jess Turnbow, 77, of Los Angeles, an early-day resident of Hereford, were conducted Jan. 5 at Rose Hill, Calif. His death occurred on Jan. 2 in Los Angeles. He was one of the children of the late Mr. and Mrs. Turnbow, who came to Deaf Smith County in 1899. J. H. Turnbow served as justice of the peace under four sheriffs of this county, in the 1920's and earlier had operated a hotel on South Main Street.

Jess Turnbow was a brother of the late Fless Turnbow of Hereford, whose daughter, Mrs. D. R. Grimes, now resides at 110 Catalpa.

He is survived by his wife, the former Maud Ware of Big Square, a daughter and a son.

Glad's Garden

WINTER FRIENDS.

During these cold winter, "shut-in days," am so GLAD that I have houseplants to enjoy and work with. The pleasure derived from them is worth far more than the efforts put forth in their care.

This morning while it was bitterly cold outside, and the snow was softly coming down, I groomed the plants and cleaned the containers. In grooming them I removed all of the dead leaves, and the spent blossoms. Cleaned out any foreign objects that had fallen onto the soil. Then I lightly stirred soil around the plants. Wiped dust and other residue from the foliage, then I turned all of the plants so they would have a different light exposure. The final attention was to give them all, a good drink of water, which was room temperature.

Some of the plants which are in bloom are: African violets. THE WHITE PERFECTION is one of the loveliest ones I have ever grown, the blossoms are unusually large, they measure approximately two inches across, are very double and a peppers are budding, blooming and have peppers on them. (These are some that I transplanted from the yard, where I had used them for border planting.)

The bright red Poinsetta is still flaunting its lovely self before the mirror. The Crossandra has been in bloom for weeks, the Klancho is in full bud and color is showing, soon it will be a thing of beauty. The Acalea has some blooms, but it has about completed its cycle.

Four years ago I planted a grape fruit seed, and have made the plant into a Bonsai. Have tried to give it an oriental shape. The foliage is most interesting as it has all stages of development, and a very lovely sheen.

The various patterns and coloring in the foliage plants are most intriguing. Coleus, ferns, philodendrons, ivies, Schefferia, succulents, cacti, rubber plant, Joseph Coat, miniature palm (which Rosemary has left in my care until they return from Okinawa) and the chrysanthemums are doing very well.

However, while I was working with the potted plants, I remembered that I had not planted an Amaryllis this year. The brightness and beauty of the Amaryllis cannot be surpassed.

For brilliance of color, size of blooms or care and culture, few plants can equal the new, improved hybrid Amaryllis. Gorgeous crimson, fiery scarlet, shrimp pink, or soft glowing salmon, not to mention purest whites, and striped trumpets a top 12 to 20 inch stem, each of which may bear two to four huge blooms 5 to 7 or even 8 inches across.

When the timing is right, these bloom about Christmas time, which makes them nice for gifts or for a bright splash of color for the holidays.

One of the fascinating and pleasing features of the Amaryllis is that in as little as three weeks after planting, particularly when the planting is made during late November or early spring.

Planting is very simple. Select a 5-inch pot, fill it to within an inch of the top with any good potting soil, available at the nearest garden store or other dealer. If you have some on hand then by all means use it. Set the bulb not more than the bottom third covered by the soil. The rest of the bulb should remain uncovered.

Some companies offer them for sale all ready potted, and these are a good buy. Most of these are the famous Holland bulbs.

After planting then give the bulb a good watering, and set in any moderately cool window (50 to 60 degrees temperature) in full light. There is no need to give them a period of temperatures just above freezing to produce roots, as with many other bulbs, or to keep them in the dark. Almost immediately roots will start to grow from the base of the bulbs and the flower buds, which have been there from the end of the growing season before, will begin to come out of the top. Usually the flower stem (or scape) appears before the leaves on this type, although this is not always the pattern of growth, it is flexible.

Blooming should last from one to three weeks, or perhaps even longer on bulbs with more than one stem. Last winter on one bulb, two stems grew, several weeks apart and each of these stems had four exotic blooms. When the flowers are gone, the flower stem should be cut off, the plant fed with any good liquid fertilizer according to the growers wish, or according to instructions from Company from whom the bulbs were purchased.

Keep the plant growing, having a watering and feeding schedule. The plant should be kept in a healthy growing condition, because the bulb is storing up food for the next years blooms. When the weather moderates, and all danger of frost is past the plant may be set outdoors.

Amaryllis may be either left in the pot in which it was grown, and plunge the pot into the soil up to the pots rim in a good growing garden soil, or the bulb may be taken from the pot, soil and all, and planted into the open garden soil. Give it the care of any other growing plant.

At the end of the growing season, before frost or freezing weather comes, the pot should be lifted, taken in and stored in a cool dry place, without water. If however the bulb was planted, then lift the bulb from its place, brush off any soil that may be adhered to the bulb, dry off for a few days, then store in a cool dry place, so that it may become dormant.

After approximately three months or more of such storage, the bulb may be repotted, or if in the pot, then add some more good potting soil and you will soon have another Amaryllis growing and what could be easier for so much beauty.

THINGS TO DO AND KNOW. During the winter days of continuous heat, it is a bit difficult for house plants to have enough humidity. A suggestion to retain moisture for plants, is to place the pot in which the plant is being grown into a larger pot, and in the recessed space between pots fill with moistened peat-moss, and continue to keep this moist.

Another suggestion is to place a container full of water near the place where the plants are kept, and the evaporation will be beneficial not only to the plants but to the persons in the home. Most of our homes do not have enough humidity. If it is convenient, it is also suggested that the potted plants should be sprayed occasionally. This however is not practical in most homes because of furnishings or floor coverings. If you have only a few plants, then take them to the sink in the utility room, and spray lightly with tepid water. These serves two purposes, aids in keeping plants clean and gives moisture. Rotate your plants and use them in different rooms, this increases the pleasure derived from them, as they are shared by more.

HAVE YOU SEEN???? The beautiful Nandinas, at the Hardwick home on the corner of Park and Star Street, they are very, very, pretty. The color is gorgeous. On the next block, going west note the lovely old silver leaf maple, the white bark, on the trunk's and the stateliness of the trees is inspiring.

Boys Ranch Film Shown To Lions

The Easter Lions Club was shown a film on the establishment of Boys Ranch Monday night.

Present for the showing was Louie Hendrick of Amarillo, editor of the Boys Ranch Roundup magazine, who has been with the organization for eight years, and Robert Veigel of Hereford, a member of the Boys Ranch board of directors.

Easter Lions president Alvis Jolley reported that the 35-minute program was also a memorial to the late Cal Farley, founder of Boys Ranch. Past recordings of Farley's voice had been dubbed into the soundtrack and was used as narration. He said the film was highly entertaining.

Jolley focused on the present needs at Boys Ranch, located at Old Tascosa, north of Amarillo. He said they had made an appeal for more grain for their cattle and other livestock. Plans are being made to help them.

FOR GOD SO LOVED THE WORLD

The House of GOD

Here is the Sanctuary where men meet God. It is where His message is spoken to the careless, sinful and needy... WHERE MEN ARE MOLDED FOR HIM. This is the church — where men bow to the God of Forgiving grace. Partner, if you haven't been a regular attendant, you are missing much. It is a place where we can kneel in prayer, enjoy religious fellowship and receive help for the difficult task ahead. If you will join me here at church, in the spirit of humility, and recognize God as father, friend and Saviour, right then YOU'LL BECOME ONE WITH THE COSMIC LIFE.

Letter To The Editor

To Whom It May Concern:

It seems that last night, January 8th, between 5:30 and about 6:15 the amateur radio transmitter that I was operating developed technical difficulties which caused my transmissions to be picked up on broadcast radios in Hereford. My wife even complained that I was coming in loud and clear on her electric organ!

Unfortunately these things occur — in this case I believe it was caused by the failure of a line filter condenser — and the operator has no way of knowing about it unless he is told. Amateurs as a group are always willing to cooperate to avoid being an annoyance to their neighbors when the fault is the fault of the operator's equipment. In fact the Federal Communications Commission requires this of us. Many time-amateurs are accused of causing interference problems of which they are not guilty; even then most amateurs will cooperate with the complaining party in helping him to locate the source of his problem.

The large body of amateurs while considering amateur radio as a hobby and enjoying the opportunity to visit with other operators around the world are to explore the technical aspects of the subject, also are devoted to public service. The record of that service to the public is in the files of the Red Cross, of Civil Defense and with many individuals and whole communities that have found amateur radio operators their only means of communications in times of disaster. I only detail this because during the time that I was causing interference last night my wife received an anonymous telephone call of complaint. I appreciated being notified of the problem I was causing; but I cannot understand why the caller felt it necessary to remain unidentified. There is no way now that I can check back with that person to determine if I have corrected the breakdown in my equipment. That someone felt they could not identify themselves when making a complaint to me concerns me as much as the fact that I was causing interference.

Sincerely and with apologies,
W. T. "Bill" Thompson,
W5JSM

Young Singer Presents Solos For Music Club

A young guest soloist, Miss Lynda Jacobsen, was heard on the program of Music Study Club Monday afternoon when Mrs. W. T. Carmichael with her mother, Mrs. A. O. Thompson, and sister, Mrs. A. J. Schroter, was hostess in the Carmichael home.

Mrs. Wesley Fisher was leader of the program on Musical Developments of the 18th Century, discussing work of two major figures, Mozart and Haydn, and introducing music to illustrate their work.

Miss Jacobsen was accompanied by Mrs. D. W. Palmer as she sang My Mother Bids Me Bind My Hair, by Haydn, and Voi Che Sapite, by Mozart. Mrs. Bill Bradley played as a piano solo an aria from Haydn's oratorio, The Creation, titled The Heavens Are Telling.

Mrs. Fisher spoke of Haydn as a constant experimenter in musical composition, who contributed much to the principles of modern orchestration and who described his own feeling about music in the words "When I think of the Divine Being, my heart is so full of joy that the notes fly off as from a spindle, and as I have a cheerful heart He will pardon me if I serve Him cheerfully!"

Music of Mozart is a perfect blending of German, Italian and French styles, the speaker continued. He was a prodigy, playing the piano as a child of three and being taken on concert tours by his father until he was of age and could leave home. He occupies a unique place in the field of music and his greatness will probably never be duplicated, Mrs. Fisher added.

Uncle Of Local Woman Is Buried

Jewell Smith, of the Deaf Smith County Welfare Department, attended the funeral of her uncle, John F. Skaggs, Monday at Hedley. Skaggs was 75, a retired farmer, died suddenly Saturday morning there, where he had had his residence since 1945.

His death occurred on the heels of the arrival of Mrs. Smith's half-brother, Marine Sgt. James Bob Skaggs, from Vietnam the previous day. Sgt. Skaggs also attended the funeral.

Young H.D. Club Names Member Woman Of Year

Woman of the Year from Young Homemakers Home Demonstration Club is Mrs. Huey Lowrie, chosen at a recent meeting when election of officers for 1968 was completed. Mrs. Lowrie will compete with nominees from other county clubs for the title of Deaf Smith H. D. Woman of the Year.

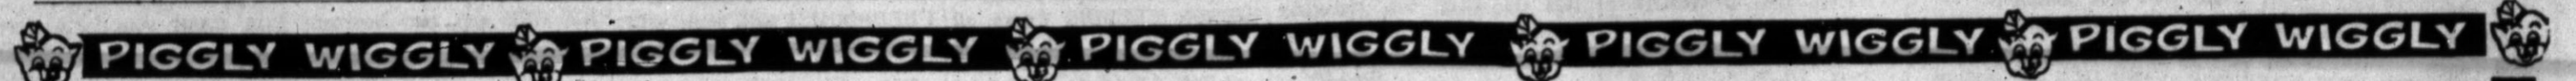

Mrs. Dean Bryant was named president for the calendar year and Mrs. Carl Armstrong vice president. Argen Draper, County H. D. Agent, will conduct the installation at the next meeting for them and the other new officers, Mrs. Lee Roy Burgess, reporter; Mrs. James Hill, delegate to County H. D. Council;

Mrs. Lloyd Smith, treasurer; Mrs. Lowrie, secretary. Mrs. Charles Brown was hostess in First National Community Room. As recreation chairman, she directed an unusual game in which Mrs. Kenneth Bryant received the award. Mrs. Richard Dodson was welcomed as a new member.

part of all drivers' licenses being issued this year.

New regulations make it necessary for all drivers to renew licenses in person at a Department of Public Safety office.

Each applicant will be photographed and given a standard vision test.

DPS Director Homer Garrison Jr. says that all licenses will be renewed to expire on the birthdate of the holder. Drivers holding licenses ending in an even number will get new licenses good for four years. If the license ends in an odd number, it will be renewed initially for two years, and thereafter for four years.

New licenses will be about the size of a standard credit card. About 250 full-time license offices will operate over the state to serve renewals.

There are some 3,800,000 licensed drivers in the State and the new requirements will affect some 2,500,000 this year, Colonel Garrison says.

EDUCATION AIMS — Performance, rather than spending or teacher pay, should be the basis of a more-efficient school system. So says Glenn H. Ivy, director of the Governor's Committee on Public School Education. His views were expressed to public school administrators at a their mid-winter conference here.

Among highlights of Ivy's preview of the most far-reaching inquiry into Texas' education needs ever undertaken were:

* To achieve national leadership in education, the state must seek excellence in performance and super-efficiency.

* Favored tax status for rural and suburban districts is a "luxury" the state cannot afford.

* "Unequal education" — like pre-school training for the non-English speaking and special programs for migrants — is necessary to offset disadvantages faced by many children.

* Education must be made "more relevant", to potential dropouts. In particular those with Spanish-language backgrounds. Obstacles to school attendance must be overcome.

ELECTION LAW SEMINAR SET — Officials responsible for conducting elections in Texas will go to school for a day. They will discuss new changes in voting laws.

Secretary of State John Hill, chief state election officer, called the workshop sessions for January 18 here.

Leading the discussions will be: Hill; State Democratic Chairman Will D. Davs; GOP State Chairman Peter O'Donnell Jr.; Mrs. Mary K. Wall of Hill's staff; Midland County Clerk Mrs. Rosanelle Cherry; and Dallam County Judge W.D. Henson.

New electronic voting equipment will be displayed at the seminar.

NEW CANDIDATE FILED — Gordon B. McLendon, Dallas

radio-television executive, true to predictions, jumped into the governor's race by paying his $1,000 filing fee.

In 1965 he ran unsuccessfully for the U. S. Senate. But he received more than 672,500 votes in his close race with Sen. Ralph Yarborough.

Secretary of State Hill says he plans to announce soon after the January 18 voting law seminar. AIR POLLUTION REGULATIONS — Cities of less than 5,000 population face new regulations relative to the burning of garbage and rubbish. New regulations were adopted by the Texas Air Control Board and became effective January 4.

Municipalities are regulated in the new rules, as well as industrial plants, business and individuals.

Rules permit burning wastes:

- * Outdoors, as long as the burning is outside a defined Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area;
- * Outside a municipality;
- * Between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p. m.

Regulations cover emissions of smoke and particulate matter, outdoor burning, sulfur compounds and air pollution from motor vehicles.

Board Chairman Herbert McKee of Houston pointed out that two problems are not regulated by the Board rules — odors and effects of emissions on visibility. City and county health officials will have to rely on the State's General Nuisance Law to control air polluting odors.

Nothing can be done about visibility regulations until a Federal study is complete, says McKee.

However, cities and counties will be able to use the Board's regulations to enforce pollution control of other wastes emitted into the air.

AIRLINES — Latest in a series of applications for licenses to operate intrastate air lines in Texas is that of King Flight Service of Wichita Falls.

King asked the Texas Aeronautics Commission to let it fly four times a day between Wichita Falls and Dallas.

MIXED DRINK TAX APPLIED — State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert stirred the ire of some 1,350 private club operators by ruling that as of January 1 their sales of mixed drinks and related services would be subject to state and local sales taxes.

A delegation led by the Texas Restaurant Association called on Calvert urging him to change his mind.

New ruling applies to private social clubs and veteran and fraternal organizations dispensing mixed alcoholic beverages. It covers set-ups, mixes, ice, service charges for mixing and serving — and even the 15 per cent tip most clubs add to the check.

"The entire charges for mixed drinks will be presumed as a part of the taxable gross receipts," Calvert's ruling states.

STATE'S SUIT LOOKS GOOD — Possibility that the Senate

Treasury will be enriched by several million dollars through an anti-trust suit charging price-fixing by five major pharmaceutical companies looked better this week. This after a Federal court jury in New York returned a guilty verdict against American Cyanamid, Bristol-Myers and Charles Pfizer and Company.

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin filed charges of price conspiracy in Austin against these three firms and Olin Mathieson Chemical and the Upjohn company. Suit alleged that state schools, hospitals and prisons paid too much for certain drugs because of a conspiracy and asked triple damages.

A Dallas Federal court has ruled that the Texas case can be processed 60 days after the New York decision.

CIGARETTE AND LIQUOR TAXES — State Treasurer Jesse James reports that Texans smoked less but drank more in December.

Cigarette stamp tax sales were down from the previous month $282,607 — to $10,100,000. Liquor and wine stamp sales were up. $263,635 — to $1,400,000 total.

SOUND OF HAMMERS — State Building Commission has awarded a contract to Lanphier Construction Company of Corpus Christi for $2,896,100 for first-phase construction at the new Corpus Christi State School for the Severely Mentally Retarded. Project was ordered by the legislature in 1965.

Commission also awarded a $108,224 contract to Troup Lumber Company for Tyler State Park improvements. Contract included a headquarters building, 30 screen shelters, one group shelter and restrooms and showers. It's a part of this year's program for improving existing state parks.

LICENSES SUSPENDED State Consumer Finance Commissioner Frank Miskell suspended for six days the licenses of Colonial Finance Corporation of San Antonio for making duplicate loans to the same customers as Credit Plan Corporation of San Antonio.

Like suspensions also were ordered in two other offices of the same owner in Corpus Christi and Houston.

State law forbids related firms from making loans to the same borrowers.

SHORT SNORTS Texas Employment Commission is seeking 1,500 employees for work at HemisFair '68 which opens April 6.

Williapi L. Ferguson, assistant administrator of the Texas Liquor Control Board and former Rusk County attorney, announced his resignation to enter private law practice, effective February 1.

House Speaker Ben Barnes appointed Dr. Clifton McCleskey, UT Government professor, and Colin J. Carl, Texas Legislative Council research associate, as directors for Texas legislative Internship Program.

More than 3,000 employers have had unemployment taxes reduced by a total of $15,000,000 reports the Texas Employment Commission.

Total of 158 cities containing 70 per cent of the urban population approved the one per cent municipal sales tax during 1967 — 22 rejected the levy.

Travis Stafford, Tulare, Calif., came during the holidays to visit his family, the Roy Staff. Mrs. Harlan Barber and Virgil fords, Dimmitt, and to take Mrs. Stafford and their two children, Kathy and Kim home. Mrs. Stafford and Kim came several weeks ago and Kathy was born in the Hereford hospital in November. They sent their furniture on by van to California, before they returned by train. A committee of the Easter Lions Club held a meeting at the Community building, Thursday evening to plan a farm sale to be at Easter Jan. 20. Harlan Barber is chairman of the committee which is inviting all interested persons to consign items to be sold.

Gary Mason and Weldon Stephan were qual hunting this week in the Eastern Panhandle, off the caprock.

The Weldon Stephens and Dale Wrights spent New Year with their parents, the Moody Stephens. Rhonda Stephan spent the whole weekend with them. The Dee Taylors spent New Year with relatives the Deward Taylors at Friona and an aunt, Mrs. Roy Miller at Lazbuddie.

The Buster Thomasons spent the New Year holidays visiting her brother, Joe Boykin, and family at Lawton, Okla.

Frio Homemakers Club will hold its first meeting of the new year in the home of Mrs. Henry Andrews, Tuesday at 2:30. Members plan to bring items to pack a box for Girlstown. New officers, including, Mrs. Dee Taylor as president, will be in charge.

Motorecycle Laws Are Detailed

The law governing the wearing of protective headgear for motorcycle operators and passengers went into effect Jan. 1, 1968, announced Major Luther Moore, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Major Moore stated, "Effective January 1, 1968, no person may operate a motorcycle on a public street or highway of this state unless he wears protective headgear which has been approved by the Department of Public Safety, nor may any person carry a passenger on a motorcycle on a public street or highway of this state unless the passenger wears protective headgear which has been approved by the Department of Public Safety, nor may any person ride as a passenger on a motorcycle on a public street or highway of this state unless he wears a protective headgear which has been approved by the Department of Public Safety."

The Major also added, any peace officer may stop and detain any motorcycle operator or passenger for the purpose of inspecting his protective headgear to determine if the head-

Concerning Veterans

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q - My husband was a veteran of World War II. I applied to the VA for widow's pension when he died in 1959. This claim was disallowed. Would I now be eligible for pension?

A - Legislative action has changed the requirements for eligibility to receive widow's pension since you applied in 1959. At that time widows of World War II or the Korean Conflict were eligible for pension only if the veteran had a service-connected disability.

Q - Will the profit I receive on the sale of my home affect the pension I started drawing last year?

A - No. Proceeds from the sale of personal property are not considered income for veterans receiving Public Law 211 pension.

Q - When a veteran has been notified of overpayment, should he request a waiver?

A - Yes, if he feels that he is without fault. The request should be made promptly.
