Commission Looks At Campfire Hut

The City Commission considered subjects ranging from the location request of the Campfire Girls Council to the water rights at the Wilson and Company site at their short Monday night meeting. All commissioners were present except Albert Maxwell, who was detained by other business activities.

The election for the city commissioners will be conducted at the Community Center instead of City Hall, it was announced. The change was made in view of the expanded parking space and room available at the Community Center over City Hall. The date of the election remains unchanged — April 2.

Five local men have entered the race. Elmer Combs, Charles Bell and W. B. Dowell have filed in Place 3 and Ervin Ward and Johnny B. Pool have filed in Place 4. Maxwell and Lloyd Sharp, who now hold these seats did not file for re-election.

Melvin Young of the Rotary Club presented the commissioners with the original plans of the proposed Campfire Girls Hut, and discussed with them plans for future construction through funds from the Jim Hill Estate and Rotary, and "perhaps matching funds from the Lions and other clubs" for a building which measures 80 x 50 feet. Young approximated the cost to be $30,000.

The commissioners voiced their approval of these plans, and pointed out that the building would provide enough space for five groups to meet at one time.

The site most favored for its construction, Young explained, was North Park. The commissioners were in agreement with this plan.

City Manager Dudley Bayne read a letter that had been received from Wilson and Company, which said that Wilson would cooperate with the City of Hereford on their building site, with the exception of future expansion. The letter was in reference to the site of a proposed water well for the plant, with the request that it be moved further north, as far as possible.

The commissioners discussed this aspect at some length and agreed to investigate further possibilities for moving the well site.

They also discussed the question of the letting of contracts on bids for Wilson site, but postponed action for further study.

A request for a Hereford city flag, by the Mid-Plains Pioneers, was brought up, but no action was taken.

FIRST DAY OF SPRING? — Spring officially arrived at 7:33 a.m. Wednesday—but so did another snow storm. It was easy to tell which way the wind was blowing by the way the snow stacked up on such things as telephone poles and trees. Tyler Vance captured the snowy beauty.

Fertilizer Sale Kiwanians Set

The Hereford Kiwanis Club will be selling fertilizer door-to-door on Friday and Saturday here.

The club is collecting the money for community projects.

Bobby Owen of the Summerfield Fertilizer Company, in charge of this Kiwanis project, advised the Brand to "tell the people to have their money ready!"

The commissioners discussed this aspect at some length and agreed to investigate further possibilities for moving the well site.

They also discussed the question of the letting of contracts on bids for Wilson site, but postponed action for further study.

A request for a Hereford city flag, by the Mid-Plains Pioneers, was brought up, but no action was taken.

Beef Producers Hear Specialist

Before a crowd of some 35 area beef producers, Dr. Lowell M. Schake, Extension area livestock specialist, presented a program on cross-breeding in the Community Center last Tuesday night.

Schake, who has been employed at the Extension Service since last August, presented slides on the pure-bred and cross-breeding programs which are being carried on at various experimental stations across the state.

Terminating the meeting as a monumental occasion, due to the fact that Hereford is the Hereford capital of the world and the sole purpose of the meeting was to discuss the cross-breeding of cattle, Schake explained with the aid of slides the results of breeding the two most distantly related species of cattle, namely the Hereford and Brahman.

Using these two types of cattle, he explained that the experimenting began as far back as the 1920's in Sonora, then in Lufkin in 1944-51 and finally in Hereford in 1954 and the results have proved that the breeding of the two types of cattle have shown tremendous strides in the cross-breeding field.

Explaining that in the experiments where the sire was a Brahman and the dam was a Hereford, the results proved to be poor as the average weight gained during weaning time was not sufficient as it proved to be when the dam was crossed with Brahman and the results of this crossed with a pure Brahman.

Ben Barnes Will Be Here Today

A Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor, Ben Barnes, will be present for an informal coffee in his honor today at the Jim Hill Hotel ballroom. The public is invited to attend. It begins at 9 a. m. and will continue throughout the day if necessary, officials said.

Barnes, who is not yet 30 years old, has already served four elected terms as a state representative, with two terms as Speaker of the House.

He is a native of Eastland and Comanche counties, in West Central Texas.

In connection with this Schake said, "The sire does not contribute to the hybrid vigor which we want to achieve. And this points out that the program must be built around a cross-bred cow and not just cross-breeding."

Using charts to emphasize the differences obtained in the experiments, he stated that the major contributing factor in the betterment of the cattle as being the cross-breeding and not pure-breeding.

Schake ended his program with the statement that the main purpose of the cross-breeding program was to produce a greater amount of lean edible meat to provide food for the people of the world.

Chamber Of Commerce Sets Banquet To Celebrate National Accreditation

The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce has gained its highly valued accreditation. Earnest Langley, president of the chamber, and Bill Thompson, manager, have announced.

Dennis O'Rourke, president of the board of Holly Sugar and a director of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, will present the certificate of accreditation to the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce on Thursday, March 28.

The Lions, Rotary, Kiwanis and Optimist clubs of Hereford are co-hosting the dinner meeting to be held in the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Tickets are on sale for the event at $2 per person. The Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce will be only the sixth chamber in Texas — and only one of 119 in the entire United States — to achieve the accreditation since the award was initiated in 1954.

Receipt of the accreditation certificate recognizes the activity of the Deaf Smith County Chamber in a wide and effective program. Standards of excellence were developed by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, based upon research into effective local chambers of commerce across the country. These standards are used to measure those chambers seeking accreditation. Ralph Shelton, Director of Accreditation, Local Chamber of Commerce Department of the United States, Washington D. C., spent two days (February 7 and 8) here for his inspection, following his Washington review. He and the chamber officers looked over the problems of the community, investigated where the chamber stood with them, and came to a mutual agreement on the findings.

Shelton recommended the local chamber to the National Board of the Chamber of Commerce, who agreed with the findings. Shelton said, "For a chamber to become accredited, it is a mark of distinction." He further stated that the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce "was voluntary."

The Hereford High School Choir will present a musica-

Hereford Native Is Ready For Third Vietnam Tour

Sergeant John Rogers, a native of Hereford who has been a professional soldier for seven years, is here on furlough before beginning his third tour in Vietnam on April 13. Sgt. Rogers is a paratrooper.

His relatives here are his grandmother, Mrs. Henry Tiegel of 338 E. Fourth; and aunts and uncles Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lovings, Route 1, Hereford, and Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Sowell of 809 W. Third.

Sgt. Rogers said that he would leave Hereford a little early because "the man on my job now in Vietnam is coming out in April and I should be back there before he leaves." He is a gunnery sergeant with the choppers now.

"We've got to be there or I wouldn't keep going back," he said. "If South Vietnam falls, the communists are going to keep on creeping south. Australia and New Zealand know this. That's why they are there." Sgt. Rogers said that he was not interested in the political issues connected with it, "at least enough to voice any opinions on them. Being a professional soldier, he explained that he looks upon it (the war and the defense) as his job and that is his primary concern. He explained that Vietnam could be compared with all parts of the United States. "Some of it is like New Mexico and Texas, but most of it is like Florida. The Pleiku area, near the Cambodian border, is like Wyoming. But there is a lot of jungle—even on the mountains. That may be hard to believe, but that is what they have."

Sgt. Rogers left Hereford in 1948. He became a paratrooper and went to Japan with the 11th Airborne Division. He returned with them in 1949, but was one of the 4,400 who returned in

Chamber Elects Young As Officer

Dale Young, district manager of Pioneer Natural Gas, has been elected as vice-president of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce to fill the unexpired term of J. Frank Ford Jr.

Ford resigned last month in order to devote his activities as candidate for State Representative in the upcoming election.

Young was elected at the Chamber of Commerce board of directors meeting held early Wednesday morning in the Jim Hill Hotel ballroom.

At this meeting, there was also discussion in regard to the Chamber president-elect serving as master of ceremonies at their annual banquet. The board agreed to draft a policy to give the president an option to accept or reject the assignment as emcee.

Chamber manager Bill Thompson pointed out that in the past the president has not had this opportunity.

Also discussed were the plans for the future of the junior college in Hereford. President Earnest Langley said that there would be a meeting in this regard on April 4 at the Community Center.

Plans for the chamber's accreditation were also brought forth. See story on this page.

Hereafter, 10 members of the chamber will be invited to attend the board meeting each month. And the chamber has changed its fiscal year to coincide with the calendar year. In the past, their fiscal year has run from February 1 through January 31.

Little Sister To Be Chosen By Homemakers

The annual Little Sister tea at which the Hereford Chapter, Young Homemakers of Texas, will honor girls of the high school Future Homemakers organization, will be held at 3:30 p. m. today in Community Center.

Presentation of the YHT Little Sister for this year will be a feature of the tea. She is to be chosen from five candidates, juniors in the FHA. The candidates are Chris Loerwald, Anna Johnson, Jan Turrentine, Lanny Buck and Jane Witkowski.

The girl designated as Little Sister will compete in an area YHT contest next September, and the winner there goes to state competition. Candidates must meet requirements set by the state group.

Mrs. James Welch of Dimmitt will be the guest speaker, giving a program titled "How About a Hat?" On the hostess committee are the YHT president, Mrs. Layton Sawyer, and Mrs. Lawrence Baird.

Mrs. Durham Is Teacher Of Year

Margaret Durham, the Home-making teacher at Hereford High School and set to retire at the end of the present school term following a long career in local education, has been named the 1968 Teacher of the Year.

Mrs. Durham was the selection over four other worthy candidates, who were listed as Ben Gollehon, Ethel Womble, Ruby Mulkey and Lottie Wertenberg.

The Sunday Brand will present a feature profile of Mrs. Durham, who is the wife of James J. Durham. They live at 147 Ranger in Hereford.

SOS Campaign Begins For Local Red Cross Chapter

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

S. O. S. is still a distress signal, according to the Hereford Red Cross chapter — except that in their new campaign it means "Support Our Servicemen."

The local added distress is that the United Fund fell short $796 in 1967 for the Red Cross portion, and there is a definite need for this amount.

James F. Collins, president of the American National Red Cross in Washington, D. C., reported that he has recently returned from an extended tour of the Far East, which took him to Japan, Korea, Hong Kong, Thailand and South Vietnam.

"Because of the Red Cross commitment to our servicemen in these distant lands and to their families here at home, I want to take this opportunity to report to you directly about the job our volunteers and career staff are doing in these overseas locations."

Collins said, "That job has grown in the three years since the buildup of American manpower in South Vietnam began in 1965. The Red Cross Staff has increased from 35 to more than 350. Emergency communications between field staff in South Vietnam and chapters in this country have risen for some 7,000 a month to more than 29,000 a month at the present time."

He reported that upon arrival in Saigon he was met by General Westmoreland's Chief of Staff and taken to his headquarters. "During this meeting, Gen. Westmoreland was very enthusiastic in his praise of the job Red Cross is doing for the men of his command. He made it clear he was glad he had come to see how well the Red Cross staff was standing up to the intensely difficult situation.

"All the Saigon area was under martial law, and all the military staff who had been able to get out of their hotels and billets were living at headquarters, including Gen. Westmoreland himself. The streets were clear of civilian traffic, and there was much movement of military and continual sounds of firing during the evening. In the morning, we went to Red Cross headquarters and talked with many of the staff. The woman on the staff were not able to attend, since they could not leave their billets because of the existing situation.

"During my travels in South Vietnam, I talked with hundreds of military personnel and with more than 150 Red Cross staff. I visited, among other installations, the headquarters of the 25th Division, the 12th Evacuation Hospital at Cu Chi, Headquarters, U. S. Army, Vietnam, personnel of the 93rd Evacuation Hospital at Long Bien, the air force hospital and the 6th Convalescent Hospital at Cam Ranh Bay, our base at Da Nang and MACV headquarters. At these locations, after seeing where they work, we had discussions with all our people.

"Everywhere we went, we found morale unshaken, both among military personnel and Red Cross workers. And I learned beyond any doubt that the Red Cross is doing an essential job with the acclaim of all those we serve."

Collins said that "typical of the spirit out there is the devotion to duty of one of our field men at a large replacement center. All the new servicemen coming into Vietnam arrive there and then are reassigned to their fighting units. Hundreds of messages come to the center each day and our field director has to locate the men they are intended for and see that the messages are delivered to their new unit. On a day when mortar shells were coming in with persistent regularity, we were informed by the senior field director that this man kept at his job and remained at his phone far beyond the point of personal safety.

"The morale of the young women on our staff is equally admirable. During the period of intense fighting their only concern was that they were not allowed to conduct their clubmobile runs and visit the men at outlying posts. As for the hospital workers, no one removed from the scene can fully appreciate the steadfast devotion to duty that keeps them on their feet through long days and into the night serving the sick and wounded."

It is pointed out that a ten-dollar share will provide Red Cross comfort supplies for 15 servicemen wounded in Vietnam. A $5 share will make it

Birth Of American Legion Celebrated At Local Post

By EARL MOSELEY

The Hereford American Legion Post No. 192 celebrated the 49th anniversary of the founding of the organization Tuesday night with a speech, some music and a covered dish supper. The celebration was held at the post house in Veterans Park, south of the city.

Past Department Commander Jack W. Flynt of Dimmitt was guest speaker. Flynt gave the audience the historical highlights of the American Legion, with the question, "What has held the legion together" all these years?

A group of 20 officers who served in the American Expeditionary Forces in France during World War I are credited with planning the legion. AEF Headquarters had asked these officers to suggest ideas on how to improve troop morale. One officer, Lt. Col. Theodore Roosevelt Jr., whose father had been the 26th President of the United States (1901-09), proposed an organization of veterans. In February 1919, this group formed a temporary committee, and selected several hundred officers who had the confidence and respect of the whole army.

The 20 officers did their work so well that when the first organization meeting took place in Paris in March 1919, about 1,000 officers and enlisted men attended. This meeting, known as the Paris Caucus, adopted a temporary constitution and the name, The American Legion.

Congress granted the legion a national charter in September 1919. In 1921, the country was plunged into a short economic depression. Millions of men lost their jobs. About four million soldiers had been thrown back into civilian life, and the legion turned itself into a nationwide employment service, with 11,000

TRAILER HOUSE FIRE — Four units of the Hereford Volunteer Fire Department answered a call on South Schley Sunday night around 7:30. Firemen quickly extinguished the blaze, which was termed "potentially dangerous" by Chief Jap Dickerson. The fire is under investigation by the local department. The house belonged to a migrant worker.

Services Are Held For Mrs. Jim Hill

Funeral services for Mrs. J. E. (Jim) Hill, 63, resident of Hereford since the first year of the town's founding, were conducted Monday morning in First Christian Church, in which she had been the member with the longest record of membership. Mrs. Hill died Saturday afternoon in Westgate unit of Kings Manor, where she had been a resident a few weeks. She had lived in her home at 411 East Fourth until she was hospitalized several months ago after suffering a broken hip.

Farewell Party Set For Carvers By Bridge Club

The Hereford Duplicate Bridge Club will host a farewell party for Mr. and Mrs. Russell Carver at 7:30 today in the Community Center.

The Carver family is moving to Fort Worth. Carver was president of the Hereford State Bank before his retirement.

It was also announced that games for the Duplicate Bridge Club will not be held March 28 as the Amarillo tournament begins that day and many members are expected to enter competition there.

Fort Worth Bank Appoints Carver Vice President

FORT WORTH — Directors of the First National Bank of Fort Worth Tuesday elected Russell E. Carver a vice president, announced. He will serve in the correspondent bank department.

Carver was born in Canadian and began his banking career with the First National Bank there in 1957. He spent 21 months in the European Theater during World War II and after discharge, purchased an interest in an International Harvester dealership. He returned to the bank at Canadian five years later.

He has served with the Texas State Bank in Austin and for a time held controlling interest and was president of the Hereford State Bank.

Dr. Wills Hurt In Car Accident

Dr. Raymond Wills, 66, of 209 Ranger, was injured Wednesday morning when his car went out of control and overturned 17 miles north of Hereford on U. S. 385.

Investigating Highway Patrolman Robert Sanders said he had not determined fully the cause of the accident since there was a flat tire and the car also had struck the ice.

The 1956 Ford had traveled some 110 feet after it struck the icy spot before overturning once. The accident occurred about 10:30 a. m. as Dr. Wills headed north.

Dr. Wills was reported in good condition at Deaf Smith County Hospital Wednesday afternoon. The attending physician said injuries included a concussion, lacerations of the face and neck, and a fracture of the second rib on the right side.

Scout Meeting Set For Today
Any 5, 9 or 10-year-old boy interested in joining scouting is invited to attend a meeting at 7 p.m. today in the Scout Room of Community Center, where Pack 50 will be meeting. Pack 50 is sponsored by the Hereford Lions Club.

School Activities Are Picking Up

By PENNY YOUNG Staff Writer

Hereford High School activities are on the go again with the approaching date of the UIL play contest to be held in Canyon the 29th. Not only will the play cast participate in this, but such groups as typing, informative speaking, persuasive speaking, slide rule, ready writing, literature comprehension, etc.

Band records were ordered last weekend by Mrs. Margaret Daniels, secretary at Hereford High School.

There have been a number of boys in HHS who seem to have a desire to look like a bird. At least that's the impression that is given as they all wadded their assistant principal if he wouldn't shave their heads. And he did.

The band is still working hard to achieve that I rating at concert and night-reading contest this year. They have even been resorting to their weekly Thursday night rehearsals for two hours.

Well, for a while there, we almost felt like springtime was upon us and we could begin wearing our spring clothes and participating in springtime activities. However, the weather fooled us again and sent flurries of snow for us to enjoy for several more days.

Wintertime may still be here in a sense but it didn't dampen the spirits of HHS juniors. Senior rings were ordered Monday and as usual, will be in the following September.

Students enjoyed a Highway Patrol Assembly yesterday. However, it wasn't the ordinary run-of-the-mill speeches given by some stiff-necked perfectionist. Sgt. Pike, Deputy Sheriff in Kermit County, Michigan gave a humorous view of the problems of hotrod drivers emphasizing the fact that most of the bad driving is done mainly because of a tendency to show off. He ended his program with a magic act.

Our baseball boys traveled to Tascosa to compete with their high school team and came out on top with a score of 6-5.

Hereford High seems to be a school with prospects and deserves to be commended. Especially the administration.

branch offices. Vets reported to American Legion posts for jobs. More than a million men found jobs this way.

The legion also began its fight for the relief of wounded and disabled soldiers.

At the close of World War II, the legion helped write the G. I. Bill of Rights and worked for its adoption by Congress.

The American Legion ranks as the largest veterans' organization in the United States. It takes part in programs that promote the American way of life at the local, state, regional and national levels. They also sponsor community projects and educational and charitable programs.

The legion has more than 16,000 posts throughout the country.

Roosevelt died in 1944 while commanding World War II infantry troops in France. He was active in the Allied D-Day invasion of Europe on the Normandy beachhead of June 6, 1944, and was in ill health at that time. He was 57 when he died.

The organization he had helped organize is restricted to military personnel from World War I service to the present time. Flynt called it "The Great Idea."

He pointed out that the legion had realized the menace of the International Workers of the World (the name that communists originally had) as early as 1919. In the 20s, the legion had closed its ranks on national problems, as they had in the 30s and 40s. "We had our good times too, but we grew up," he said. "Another war came for American men and we were shoulder-to-shoulder."

Flynt stressed that at war's end "the legion's work had just begun." It went through all the crises through the Korean War and into the present Vietnam conflict.

"God has already been evicted from the classroom," he pointed out, along with the opinion that the present Congress had given the President everything he wanted "and more!" He spoke against the various programs of the Johnson administration and told how the legion should be working to counteract them.

Flynt said the legion "wished the war in Vietnam ended and the American man returned home."

He concluded, "We must lead by example, for God and country, as Teddy Roosevelt Jr. did. Show us again the idea that is bigger than we are! The American Legion," he repeated, "for God and country."

On the music program, Linda Jacobson played a guitar and sang a solo of "America." After moved out for Vietnam. When his first tour was ended in August 1966, he came back to Fort Campbell, only to return to Vietnam the following January, with the 173rd Airborne Brigade. Sgt. Rogers has been in the 173rd since then.

"The morale there is high," he said. "We thought the war might be over in the middle of '68 — and it still might. Now, the Viet Cong are fighting more or less conventional, and we like that better!"

Sgt. Rogers had high praise for the young G. I.'s. "They are really doing a fine job. I am really proud of them."

Local Business Gets First In Driving Safety

Texas Safety Association Inc. of Austin has awarded the Industrial First Place prize to Gifford-Hill Western Inc. of Hereford, in concrete pipe installation and sales.

The award was presented during the 29th annual Texas Safety Conference, held March 17-20 at the Sheraton-Dallas Hotel at Dallas.

Gifford-Hill Western was judged on a competitive basis with first place awards being given to firms having the best safety record for their type industry. Companies are grouped by number of man-hours worked in the past year. Group D, which the Hereford company was set in the competition, included companies whose employees have worked from 50,000 to 200,000 man-hours.

Speaker Lists Importance Of Keeping Farm Records

Some 30 farmers were urged to keep a good set of records on their crops during a talk on farm management sponsored by the Hereford Young Farmers Tuesday night.

Dale Hansard of the Northrup King Seeds Co. told those present that "farming is big business, a business Hereford couldn't do without."

"You should keep a very good set of records concerning these questions so that you will know what is going on around your farm. These records, we believe, will help to improve production on your farm."

Under "planting dates and what should be considered," Hansard listed soil temperature, moisture conditions, midge control and weed control. "If the soil is too old when the sorghum is planted, he explained, it will reduce the stand. The farmer should wait until the soil temperature is 65 degrees and going up before planting so that the seed will germinate and get up fast.

Also, the farmer can watch his dates and plant so that the crop will not be endangered by the midge, during the midge's peak. "You must know everything about the hybrid you're planting," Hansard also pointed out the danger of weeds and how much damage they do.

In describing importance of "planting rates," Hansard said the sorghum must have an adequate stand, but not be too thick and row spacing is important.

"The fertilizer is where the production really comes from," continued Hansard. Under that topic, he said important items include soil testing to see what is in the soil; yield goal, which should be projected ahead; balancing of the fertilizer out in the way it is going to be needed; type of fertilizer used; method of application, and time of application.

The farmer, in water management, should know "when will I start, where will I start, how many waterings will it take, how many acres can I water in five days, and which variety needs to be watered first," continued Hansard.

Washington Report

From Congressman

BOB PRICE, 11TH DISTRICT, TEXAS

1200 LONGWORTH OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C. 20546

As the cost of living continues to rise, workers in major industries demand and usually receive wage increases to match. Most everyone, it seems, manages to add higher wages and other costs into the price of goods and services we buy. Most everyone, that is, except the farmer. Net farm income for 1967 was actually down from the year before by $1.9 billion. Farm income statistics published by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in February show that realized net farm income last year declined from $16.4 billion to $14.5 billion, while farm production expenses increased $1.1 billion, and cash receipts from farm marketings declined from $16.4 billion to $14.5 billion. That represents a drop in realized net farm income of 11.5 percent in one year.

U. S. NEWS AND WORLD

REPORT graphically illustrated the sad state of American agriculture. Their report shows that agriculture is the largest of the 12 biggest U. S. industries. Agriculture leads in assets, spending for equipment and machinery and in number of workers. If farmers and ranchers had been adequately paid for their production, agriculture would be first in income and second in sales — but it is not. The article reports that agriculture sales are less than 17 percent of assets while the next 11 largest industries have sales which average 108 percent of their assets per year.

What other industry could survive a drop of 11.5 percent in income in times like these? And the only way many farmers and ranchers have survived is by going deeper into debt. In fact, farm debt has increased by $20 billion during the past six years — up by 90 percent. Interest rates at record highs jumped carrying charges on borrowed money by $1.2 billion. This story could go on and on, real estate taxes up and up, a 31 per cent increase in production costs since 1960 —

An Earth, Texas, farmer compares the situation in West Texas with the depression of the Thirties. He writes: "I farmed through the depression of the early Thirties, and I also farmed in the depression of the middle Sixties, the same place and the same land that I farmed in the Thirties. To prove the point I offer these figures. . . He goes on to list comparative costs of machinery, equipment, labor and farm prices, then and now. "Tractors are four to five times as high as they were even in 1941. The same holds true with everything else that the farmers use in order to produce."

"The last money farmers made was back in 1962 or 1963. In my opinion the Administration is using the farmer in such a way as to cause more trouble at home than we could ever stop overseas. When a farmer has $300,000 to $400,000 invested in farm business and can't make a good living for his family, there is something wrong with the way things are being handled. I do not believe there is a farmer in this part of the country that is worth as much as he was two years ago. I have talked with lending agencies, and they agree with me. Unless something is done this nation is going to be hungry in a few years. This nation was built on family-size business; and when we lose that, we have lost the strength of our nation and our freedom as well."

And this is the program the President urges Congress to make permanent — even before the present farm commodity program expires at the end of next year.

I believe Congress can do better, and I can see no reason to extend a program that has failed without a determined effort in Congress to substantially change farm policy and restore stability to an industry that has achieved more and prospered less than any major U. S. industry.

Uncle Sam's Selective Service

Editor's NOTE: Below are questions now being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Colonel Morris S. Schwartz State Selective Service Director, 209 W. 9th Street, Austin, Texas 78701. He will welcome your questions.

Q — I began graduate study in law school in September 1967 and am making satisfactory progress. Will I be entitled to continued deferment in I-S for my second year of law next September?

A — No. Under the advice of the National Security Council on February 16, 1968, deferment for graduate study was limited to medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine, osteopathy, and optometry, or to those who had entered the second or subsequent year of graduate study in ward, the group comprised of Cynthia Hanna, Randy Corlis, Margaret Adams and Rev. Matt Matthews of the Methodist Church sang "This is My Country," during which Regina Hampton gave a patriotic recitation and prayer. Rev. Matthews also whistled. They were well received by the audience.

The hostess chairwomen were Mrs. W. J. Smith and Mrs. R. E. Drager. Members of the American Legion Auxiliary served the dinner.

the fall of 1967.

Q — Under what authority does the National Security Council make recommendations on graduate and occupational deferments?

A — Congress by law has directed the National Security Council to advise the Director of Selective Service periodically concerning deferment of needed professional and scientific personnel and those in critical skills and other essential occupations.

Q — Now that the National Security Council has recommended that the lists of essential activities and critical occupations issued by the Departments of Commerce and Labor be suspended, is there a change in the authority for granting occupational deferments?

A — No. Local draft boards have the continuing responsibility under law to use their discretion to grant occupational deferments in individual cases, based on a showing of essential community need.

Pattersons Continue Travel, Church Week

Volunteer work for their church, combined with travel and visits with family members and friends, is a part of the Elmer Pattersons' plan for retirement years and is being carried out at present with a trip to Hawaii.

They are due to leave Friday by plane from California for the new state to visit a daughter and to assist in establishing a Church of Christ on the island of Maui. Their daughter Sheryl, Mrs. Joe A. Caldwell, lives in Kula on that island.

Bessie and Elmer Patterson have made two previous long tours to places in the United States where congregations of the Church of Christ were being formed, and have helped with Bible classes and other phases of the church work.

The Church of Christ is new in Hawaii; when the Coldwells went to Kula they found no congregation there but a few interested residents soon began holding services in their home. Now they are ready for a church building and a resident minister, and the Pattersons will work there about six weeks.

Then after a return home for a time, the couple will be off again, this time going outside the U. S. to serve with Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Crowson in Jamaica. The Crowsons are well known in Hereford, and visited here last year on vacation from their missionary duties.

Mr. and Mrs. Patterson returned in January from work with a church in Vermont last fall. They made a leisurely homeward trip with stops to visit in the homes of two other daughters, Mrs. Virgil Bennett of Troy, Michigan, and Mrs. Roy Ward of Oxford, Ohio, and to welcome a new granddaughter, Becky Bennett.

On their way to California this week they visited at Roswell, N. M., with a sister of Mrs. Patterson, and spent some time in Ventura, Calif., with another sister before starting the overseas flight.

While they are gone their home at 610 E. Fifth will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Baum, who were recently married.

"We are thinking of hanging out a sign on the house, labeling it 'Honeymoon Cottage'," Mrs. Patterson said. "During our last absence it was the home of another newlywed couple, the Doug Melendys. And we went there as newlyweds, 36 years ago in June!"

Glady's Garden

By Gladys Howton Manjeot

We never run out of a topic for conversation, if nothing else we can talk about the weather and not repeat ourselves very much, because it is so variable.

Yes, we are having another West Texas spring, with widely changing temperatures making inroads into the fruit development of many trees.

While many fruit buds and blossoms are relatively freeze resistant, temperatures as low as in the 'teens are just a little too low to expect survival. However, our temperature did not go too low during the last cold spell of weather, and we feel that perhaps our fruit crop was not harmed too much. The apricot trees are the ones which are usually the most advanced, and none of them were in full bloom.

Chances are if there was some damage there will be enough of a fruit crop to be useful. If the trees are permitted to bloom and produce their full potential, then there is damage to the trees because of weight. Very FEW gardeners will never remove any of the fruit so that it will not be too full or crowded. If this is not done damage often results. So therefore the cold weather may turn out to be a blessing in disguise by helping to limit a full huge fruit crop.

If the fruit trees are on the north side of buildings then they have a weather protector which is very helpful. To the new home owner in planning to plant some fruit or nut trees, we would suggest that they be slanted on the north side of buildings for protective measures to shield in weather exposures.

It will pay those who have fruit trees, and they are budded, to keep an open ear to weather forecasts, and if below freezing weather is forecast then it would pay to erect some form of tent or plastic framework over the trees, to cover them for protection and added warmth. If you are growing low dwarf fruit trees the polyethylene plastic sheeting is inexpensive enough that this type of temporary protection can be used. Mr. J. B. Harlin, has used this type protection for his apricot and cherry trees and it did pay off. If anyone has fruit he will, because he cares and tries to aid his fruit trees in production, by giving them protection from weather and other extra attentions.

My mother always advised Art and me to spray the top of the trees with water, which would tend to insulate the flower buds from the low temperatures, if they do not go too low. Also keep roots cool.

Driving about town I have noticed that some have pruned their roses, some have not. Am glad that I have waited, as all new growth will have frozen this last cold spell. Better to be slow than sorry.

Another bonus from this recent weather is the additional opportunity to plant trees before the weather gets to warm, or to transplant trees or shrubs which need to be transplanted. Then bare root trees can be planted now and their growth is almost assured. Let me caution you in planting bare root plants to not uncover them until you are ready to place the roots directly in the ground. Also, if planting potted plants, never lift the plant by the top, but carefully lift from the bottom of the container, and use care in getting them planted carefully in the place dug for them. This caution is to protect the roots which are so tender, but through which the growth of the plant is promoted. If the roots are bruised, broken or overly exposed to air or wind they will be damaged and could cause the plant not to live.

Since we are writing about the cold weather which we had, let us remember to have plenty of water for the birds. It is very important that our feathered friends be cared for. An additional thing we can do is to have an open pan of gravel or coarse sand for them, as an aid to digestion. Have seen some very pretty birds, and friends have told me of some new birds which they have had at their feeders. Birds are really helpful to the gardener and we should look out for their welfare and care.

Another contribution from the cold weather is that we can stay in, keep warm and read. Have been reading extensively these past few days and it has been food for my soul. The following is something that I came across in searching for materials about flowers, vegetables, etc. Most every flower has a meaning to their name-for instance, the pansy is for thoughtfulness, and I learned that the Violet stands for faithfulness. The violet, as a symbol of Faithfulness has been celebrated by no less a poet than Shakespeare himself:

*Violet for faithfulness,
Which in me shall abide;
Hoping, likewise, that from your heart you will not let it slide.*

Some maidens of antiquity once became the object of Venus' queenly wrath, when a dispute arose whether she or they were the more beautiful. Cupid judged in favor of the maidens; and in a fury Venus beat them until they were blue. Thus the maidens became the first Violets. This anyway is the story as Herrick tells it.

A garland of Violets, worn about the head, prevents dizziness.

Where roses and Violets bloom in Autumn, an epidemic will follow within the year.

A bunch of Violets has long been a gift of a lover to his sweetheart, and in many old Bibles or library books one will find pressed violets. They are sweet and have been a favorite throughout the years, in many countries. . . . A. S. Kull.

What is your favorite flower? Why? Do some research on flowers and stories connected with them it is a fascinating study.

"Bad habits are like old cars—the best way to get rid of them is to trade them for good ones." Glad.

Have You Seen? The apricot trees at the Jim Arney home. They are in full bloom, and they gracefully fall over the fence and make a beautiful background for the house. Very pretty. The daffodils are like rays of golden sunshine at the Clinton Jacksons, the Warners, and Mrs. O. G. Hill's. In fact they are beautiful all over town.

5 Initiated By Rainbow

Five girls were initiated into the Order of Rainbow at a meeting of Hereford Assembly in the Masonic Hall Monday evening. The new members are Debbie Armstrong, Karen Scott Vicky Ruland, Carmela Burgess and Suzanne Smith.

Officers headed by Judy Lookingbill, worthy advisor, conducted the initiation ceremony. A social period followed, with refreshments served by Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill Jr. and Mrs. R. B. Hutson.

State Rainbow Officers Are Honorees At Lunch

Honoring two state officers who made official visits to Rainbow Girls in this area last week, girls of the Hereford Assembly attended church in a body Sunday morning, then had lunch in the home of Mrs. R. B. Hutson, worthy matron of the local Order of Eastern Star.

Miss Janice Wagner of El Paso, who as worthy grand advisor heads the Rainbow order in Texas, and Miss Kay Rollins of Laporte, grand representative from Alaska, were guests of the Hereford group.

Mrs. Hutson, an ex officio member of the Rainbow Girls advisory board, was hostess to the First Baptist Church, Sunday. It was of forsythia, hyacinths, and daffodils. All of these are an arrangers delight. Be sure and share the loveliness of your cut flowers with the family, on the breakfast table or at the dinner hour. They really add that certain something, and you don't have to have as much food if you have something beautiful on your table.

Painter Speaks To Dawn Club

Paintings and their use in home decoration were discussed by Mrs. E. A. Guinn, Hereford painter, as guest speaker to Dawn Home Demonstration Club at a recent meeting in the home of Mrs. J. E. McCabe. Mrs. Guinn showed some of her own work and explained what artists mean by primitive style in painting, a field in which she has done outstanding work.

The speaker defined art as "making or doing something creative" and said there is no set way to paint or achieve any other art form; the artist must express himself.

In the brief business period members were reminded of a work day set for March 22 at Dawn Community Center and the next regular meeting April 5, a luncheon in the home of Mrs. J. B. Caraway.

Hereford's population in 1950 was 5,208.

of appreciation from Cub Scout Pack, which is sponsored by the Lions Club. At the same time, Skypala presented Bill Shore with a pin for serving as representative between the Lions Club and scouts. Dave Hamblen and Ray Barber, scoutmaster and assistant scoutmaster, respectively, also were presented pins for their work.

School Activities Are Picking Up

By PENNY YOUNG
Staff Writer

Hereford High School activities are on the go again with the approaching date of the UIL play contest to be held in Canyon the 29th. Not only will the play cast participate in this, but such groups as typing, informative speaking, persuasive speaking, slide rule, ready writing, literature comprehension, etc.

Band records were ordered last weekend by Mrs. Margaret Daniels, secretary at Hereford High School.

There have been a number of boys in HHS who seem to have a desire to look like a bird. At least that's the impression that is given as they all asked our assistant principal if he wouldn't shave their heads. And he did.

The band is still working hard to achieve that I rating at concert and sight-reading contest this year. They have even been resorting to their weekly Thursday night rehearsals for two hours.

Well, for a while there, we almost felt like springtime was upon us and we could begin wearing our spring clothes and participating in springtime activities. However, the weather fooled us again and sent flurries of snow for us to enjoy for several more days.

Wintertime may still be here in a sense but it didn't dampen the spirits of HHS juniors. Senior rings were ordered Monday and as usual, will be in the following September.

Students enjoyed a Highway Patrol Assembly yesterday. However, it wasn't the ordinary run-of-the-mill speeches given by some stiff-necked perfectionist. Sgt. Pike, Deputy Sheriff in Kermit County, Michigan gave a humorous view of the problems of hotrod drivers emphasizing the fact that most of the bad driving is done mainly because of a tendency to show off. He ended his program with a magic act.

Our baseball boys traveled to Tascosa to compete with their high school team and came out on top with a score of 6-5.

Hereford High seems to be a school with prospects and deserves to be commended. Especially the administration.

As the cost of living continues to rise, workers in major industries demand and usually receive wage increases to match. Most everyone, it seems, manages to add higher wages and other costs into the price of goods and services we buy. Most everyone, that is, except the farmer. Net farm income for 1967 was actually down from the year before by $1.9 billion. Farm income statistics published by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in February show that realized net farm income last year declined from $16.4 billion to $14.5 billion, while farm production expenses increased $1.1 billion, and cash receipts from farm marketings declined from $16.4 billion to $14.5 billion. That represents a drop in realized net farm income of 11.5 percent in one year.

REPORT graphically illustrated the sad state of American agriculture. Their report shows that agriculture is the largest of the 12 biggest U. S. industries. Agriculture leads in assets, spending for equipment and machinery and in number of workers.

If farmers and ranchers had been adequately paid for their production, agriculture would be first in income and second in the year before by $1.9 billion. The article reports that agriculture sales are less than 17 percent of assets while the next 11 largest industries have sales which average 108 percent of their assets per year.

What other industry could survive a drop of 11.5 percent in income in times like these? And the only way many farmers and ranchers have survived is by going deeper into debt. In fact, farm debt has increased by $20 billion during the past six years — up by 90 percent. Interest rates at record highs jumped carrying charges on borrowed money by $1.2 billion. This story could go on and on, real estate taxes up and up, a 31 per cent increase in production costs since 1960 —

Roosevelt died in 1944 while commanding World War II infantry troops in France. He was active in the Allied D-Day invasion of Europe on the Normandy beachhead of June 6, 1944, and was in ill health at that time. He was 57 when he died.

The organization he had helped organize is restricted to military personnel from World War I service to the present time. Flynt called it "The Great Idea."

He pointed out that the legion had realized the menace of the International Workers of the World (the name that communists originally had) as early as 1919. In the 20s, the legion had closed its ranks on national problems, as they had in the 30s and 40s. "We had our good times too, but we grew up," he said. "Another war came for American men and we were shoulder-to-shoulder."

Flynt stressed that at war's end "the legion's work had just begun." It went through all the crises through the Korean War and into the present Vietnam conflict.

"God has already been evicted from the classroom," he pointed out, along with the opinion that the present Congress had given the President everything he wanted "and more!" He spoke against the various programs of the Johnson administration and told how the legion should be working to counteract them.

Flynt said the legion "wanted the war in Vietnam ended and the American man returned home."

He concluded, "We must lead by example, for God and country, as Teddy Roosevelt Jr. did. Show us again the idea that is bigger than we are! The American Legion," he repeated, "for God and country."

On the music program, Linda Jacobson played a guitar and sang a solo of "America." After moved out for Vietnam. When his first tour was ended in August 1965, he came back to Fort Campbell, only to return to Vietnam the following January, with the 173rd Airborne Brigade. Sgt. Rogers has been in the 173rd since then.

"The morale there is high," he said. "We thought the war might be over in the middle of '68 — and it still might. Now, the Viet Cong are fighting more or less conventional, and we like that better!"

Sgt. Rogers had high praise for the young G. I.'s. "They are really doing a fine job. I am really proud of them."

Editor's NOTE: Below are questions now being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service Director, 209 W. 9th Street, Austin, Texas 78701. He will welcome your questions.

Q — I began graduate study in law school in September 1967 and am making satisfactory progress. Will I be entitled to continued deferment in II-S for my second year of law next September?

A — No. Under the advice of the National Security Council on February 16, 1968, deferment for graduate study was limited to medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine, osteopathy, and optometry, or to those who had entered the second or subsequent year of graduate study in ward, the group comprised of Cynthia Hanna, Randy Corlis, Margaret Adams and Rev. Matt Matthews of the Methodist Church sang "This is My Country," during which Regina Hampton gave a patriotic recitation and prayer. Rev. Matthews also whistled. They were well received by the audience.

Services Are Held For Mrs. Jim Hill

Funeral services for Mrs. J. E. (Jim) Hill, 93, resident of Hereford since the first year of the town's founding, were conducted Monday morning in First Christian Church, in which she had been the member with the longest record of membership. Mrs. Hill died Saturday afternoon in Westgate unit of Kings Manor, where she had been a resident a few weeks. She had lived in her home at 411 East Fourth until she was hospitalized several months ago after suffering a broken hip.

Born Sept. 24, 1874 in Illinois, she was Inez Harris before her marriage to George A. Stambaugh in Collin County. She had come to Texas with her parents at an early age. Mr. and Mrs. Stambaugh moved to Hereford in the first months of 1899, shortly after the town was established, when buildings were being moved to the site of Hereford from the original county seat of La Plata.

Her husband was a pioneer merchant here, first operating a feed and grain store, then becoming a partner in a mercantile firm, and in 1904 establishing the Stambaugh Dry Goods Store, where Mrs. Stambaugh worked with him. After his death in 1925 Mrs. Stambaugh and her son, George V. Stambaugh, operated the business until they sold it in 1930. After remaining a widow for many years, Mrs. Stambaugh married J. E. Hill, prominent cattleman and farm owner of the county, in 1942 at Clovis, N. M. Mr. Hill died in 1949.

Local Business Gets First In Driving Safety

Texas Safety Association Inc. of Austin has awarded the Industrial First Place prize to Gifford-Hill Western Inc. of Hereford, in concrete pipe installation and sales.

The award was presented during the 29th annual Texas Safety Conference, held March 17-20 at the Sheraton-Dalles Hotel at Dallas.

Gifford-Hill Western was judged on a competitive basis with first place awards being given to firms having the best safety record for their type industry. Companies are grouped by number of man-hours worked in the past year. Group D, which the Hereford company was set in the competition, included companies whose employees have worked from 50,000 to 200,000 man-hours.

"You should keep a very good set of records concerning these questions so that you will know what is going on around your farm. These records, we believe, will help to improve production on your farm."

Under "planting dates and what should be considered," Hansard listed soil temperature, moisture conditions, midge control and weed control. "If the soil is too old when the sorghum is planted, he explained, it will reduce the stand. The farmer should wait until the soil temperature is 65 degrees and going up before planting so that the seed will germinate and get up fast.

Also, the farmer can watch his dates and plant so that the crop will not be endangered by the midge during the midge's peak. "You must know everything about the hybrid you're planting," Hansard also pointed out the danger of weeds and how much damage they do.

In describing importance of "planting rates," Hansard said the sorghum must have an adequate stand, but not be too thick and row spacing is important.

The "fertilizer is where the production really comes from," continued Hansard. Under that topic, he said important items include soil testing to see what is in the soil; yield goal, which should be projected ahead; balancing of the fertilizer out in the way it is going to be needed; type of fertilizer used; method of application, and time of application.

The farmer, in water management, should know "when will I start, where will I start, how many waterings will it take,

Speaker Lists Importance Of Keeping Farm Records

Some 30 farmers were urged to keep a good set of records on their crops during a talk on farm management sponsored by the Hereford Young Farmers Tuesday night.

Dale Hansard of the Northrup King Seeds Co. told those present that "farming is big business, a business Hereford couldn't do without."

flute trio-second division. Back row; Gary London, solo, clarinet quartet-first division; Kima Marsh, flute trio-first division; Lisa Williamson, flute trio-first division, and Nancy Fisher, flute trio-first division. Not pictured, but winning a second division rating was Dee Dee Boardman.

Pattersons Continue Travel, Church Week

Volunteer work for their church, combined with travel and visits with family members and friends, is a part of the Elmer Pattersons' plan for retirement years and is being carried out at present with a trip to Hawaii.

They are due to leave Friday by plane from California for the new state to visit a daughter and to assist in establishing a Church of Christ on the island of Maui. Their daughter Sheryl, Mrs. Joe A. Coldwell, lives in Kula on that island.

Bessie and Elmer Patterson have made two previous long tours to places in the United States where congregations of the Church of Christ were being formed, and have helped with Bible classes and other phases of the church work.

The Church of Christ is new in Hawaii; when the Coldwells went to Kula they found no congregation there but a few interested residents soon began holding services in their home. Now they are ready for a church building and a resident minister, and the Pattersons will work there about six weeks.

Then after a return home for a time, the couple will be off again, this time going outside the U. S. to serve with Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Crowson in Jamaica. The Crowsons are well known in Hereford, and visited here last year on vacation from their missionary duties.

Mr. and Mrs. Patterson returned in January from work with a church in Vermont last fall. They made a leisurely homeward trip with stops to visit in the homes of two other daughters, Mrs. Virgil Bennett of Troy, Michigan, and Mrs. Roy Ward of Oxford, Ohio, and to welcome a new granddaughter, Becky Bennett.

On their way to California this week they visited at Roswell, N. M., with a sister of Mrs. Patterson, and spent some time in Ventura, Calif., with another sister before starting the overseas flight.

While they are gone their home at 610 E. Fifth will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Baum, who were recently married.

"We are thinking of hanging out a sign on the house, labeling it 'Honeymoon Cottage'," Mrs. Patterson said. "During our last absence it was the home of another newlywed couple, the Doug Melendys. And we went there as newlyweds, 36 years ago in June!"

Glady's Garden

By Gladys Howton Manjeot

We never run out of a topic for conversation, if nothing else we can talk about the weather and not repeat ourselves very much, because it is so variable. Yes, we are having another West Texas spring, with widely changing temperatures making inroads into the fruit development of many trees.

While many fruit buds and blossoms are relatively freeze resistant, temperatures as low as in the teens are just a little too low to expect survival. However, our temperature did not go too low during the last cold spell of weather, and we feel that perhaps our fruit crop was not harmed too much. The apricot trees are the ones which are usually the most advanced, and none of them were in full bloom.

Chances are if there was some damage there will be enough of a fruit crop to be useful. If the trees are permitted to bloom and produce their full potential, then there is damage to the trees because of weight. Very FEW gardeners will never remove any of the fruit so that it will not be too full or crowded. If this is not done damage often results. So therefore the cold weather may turn out to be a blessing in disguise by helping to limit a full huge fruit crop.

If the fruit trees are on the north side of buildings then they have a weather protector which is very helpful. To the new home owner in planning to plant some fruit or nut trees, we would suggest that they be planted on the north side of buildings for protective measures to shield in weather exposures.

It will pay those who have fruit trees, and they are budding, to keep an open ear to weather forecasts, and if below freezing weather is forecast then it would pay to erect some form of tent or plastic framework over the trees, to cover them for protection and added warmth. If you are growing low dwarf fruit trees the polyethylene plastic sheeting is inexpensive enough that this type of temporary protection can be used. Mr. J. B. Harlin, has used this type protection for his apricot and cherry trees and it did pay off. If anyone has fruit he will, because he cares and tries to aid his fruit trees in production, by giving them protection from weather and other extra attentions.

My mother always advised Art and me to spray the top of the trees with water, which would tend to insulate the flower buds from the low temperatures, if they do not go too low. Also keep roots cool.

Driving about town I have noticed that some have pruned their roses, some have not. Am glad that I have waited, as all new growth will have frozen this last cold spell. Better to be slow than sorry.

Another bonus from this recent weather is the additional opportunity to plant trees before the weather gets to warm, or to transplant trees or shrubs which need to be transplanted. Then bare root trees can be planted now and their growth is almost assured. Let me caution you in planting bare root plants to not uncover them until you are ready to place the roots directly in the ground. Also, if planting potted plants, never lift the plant by the top, but carefully been a gift of a lover to his sweetheart, and in many old Bibles or library books one will find pressed violets. They are sweet and have been a favorite throughout the years, in many countries. . . . A. S. Kull.

What is your favorite flower? Why? Do some research on flowers and stories connected with them it is a fascinating study.

"Bad habits are like old cars—the best way to get rid of them is to trade them for good ones." Glad.

Have You Seen? The apricot trees at the Jim Arney home. They are in full bloom, and they gracefully fall over the fence and make a beautiful background for the house. Very pretty. The daffodils are like rays of golden sunshine at the Clinton Jacksons, the Warners, and Mrs. O. G. Hill's. In fact they are beautiful all over town.

5 Initiated By Rainbow

Five girls were initiated into the Order of Rainbow at a meeting of Hereford Assembly in the Masonic Hall Monday evening. The new members are Debbie Armstrong, Karen Scott Vicky Ruland, Carmela Burgess and Suzanne Smith.

Officers headed by Judy Lookingbill, worthy advisor, conducted the initiation ceremony. A social period followed, with refreshments served by Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill Jr. and Mrs. R. B. Hutson.

State Rainbow Officers Are Honorees At Lunch

Honoring two state officers who made official visits to Rainbow Girls in this area last week, girls of the Hereford Assembly attended church in a body Sunday morning, then had lunch in the home of Mrs. R. B. Hutson, worthy matron of the local Order of Eastern Star.

Miss Janice Wagner of El Paso, who as worthy grand advisor heads the Rainbow order in Texas, and Miss Kay Rollins of Laporte, grand representative from Alaska, were guests of the Hereford group.

Mrs. Hutson, an ex officio member of the Rainbow Girls advisory board, was hostess to the First Baptist Church, Sunday. It was of forsythia, hyacinths, and daffodils. All of these are an arranges delight. Be sure and share the loveliness of your cut flowers with the family, on the breakfast table or at the dinner hour. They really add that certain something, and you don't have to have as much food if you have something beautiful on your table.

Painter Speaks To Dawn Club

Paintings and their use in home decoration were discussed by Mrs. E. A. Guinn, Hereford painter, as guest speaker to Dawn Home Demonstration Club at a recent meeting in the home of Mrs. J. E. McCabe. Mrs. Guinn showed some of her own work and explained what artists mean by primitive style in painting, a field in which she has done outstanding work.

The speaker defined art as "making or doing something creative" and said there is no set way to paint or achieve any other art form; the artist must express himself.

In the brief business period members were reminded of a work day set for March 22 at Dawn Community Center and the next regular meeting April 5, a luncheon in the home of Mrs. J. B. Caraway.

Hereford's population in 1950 was 5,208.

The Deaf Smith County Research Foundation was begun in 1951.

of appreciation from Cub Scout Pack, which is sponsored by the Lions Club. At the same time, Skypala presented Bill Shore with a pin for serving as representative between the Lions Club and scouts. Dave Hamblen and Ray Barber, scoutmaster and assistant scoutmaster, respectively, also were presented pins for their work.

125 Guests Are Present For 91st Birthday Tea

Congratulations from about 125 callers were extended to Mrs. Lee Kendall on her 91st birthday Sunday afternoon as she was honored at a tea in the home of her son, Joe Kendall, 116 Douglas.

Members of her family to the fifth generation were present to assist as hosts. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kendall greeted guests at the door. Misses Louan and Vickie Kendall were at the registry.

Great-granddaughters, Mrs. Earl Jackson, Mrs. Gary Tyler, Miss Connie Bainum and Miss Sharon Hagans served in turn at the refreshment table.

Set against a wall, it had a tall arrangement of jonquils, lavender hyacinths and jonquils.

Yellow candles at the center back, with a bow of yellow ribbon at the base.

Streamers from the bow extended over the lace cloth, each ending with a piece of antique jewelry of sentimental value to Mrs. Kendall — her wedding band, a cameo brooch, gold earrings she wore as a young girl.

Earl springtime blossoms of jonquils were in other bouquets over the house while others bloomed gaily in a bed beside the front porch.

Representing the five generations with Mrs. Kendall were her son; his daughter, Mrs. Delbert Bainum; her daughter, Mrs. Tyler; and the Tyler children, Christi, 4, and Gary Jr., 18 months.

Another great-great grandchild present was Joe Ky Shultz, son of the Joe Shultzes of Melrose, N. M. Mrs. Schultz is the daughter of Mrs. J. B. Noland, daughter of the late Mrs. Ky Lawrence, who was Mrs. Kendall's daughter. A fourth great-great-grandchild was not here for the birthday this year.

Other out-of-town guests were the honoree's nephew, P. E. Caldwell, and Mrs. Caldwell of Lubbock; the Rev. and Mrs. M. Weathers of Amarillo and Dr. Ivoley Bishop of Plainview.

ACTORS IN SJHS 'HUCK FINN' — Neil McAndrews and David Henslee as the Duke and the King, a pair of picturesque hoboos who convince Huckleberry Finn that they are of royal blood, impress Mary Jane and Joanna, played by Carolyn Langley and Suzanne Solomon, in this scene from the stage version of Mark Twain's classic American story which will be the all-school play presented in Stanton Junior High auditorium this evening and Friday. These are among supporting actors in the three-act comedy which will be staged at 7:30 p.m. both days, directed by Horace McGuffin.

SJHS Play, Huckleberry Finn, Opens Two-Night Run Thursday

Authentic atmosphere of a mid-19th century small town in Missouri will be apparent in the stage setting for Huckleberry Finn, three-act comedy adapted from the famous Mark Twain story, which an all-school cast will present at Stanton Junior High today and Friday.

Neil McAndrews, Suzanne Solomon, Carolyn Langley and Carl Brown.

Education Group Meeting Today

Curtain time is 7:30 p.m. for both performances. Harold Schmucker will appear in the title role as the adventurous orphan boy in the little community on the Mississippi River. Horace McGuffin is director.

The Panhandle Council for Social Studies will be the guest of Hereford citizens today. Approximately 50 people from points throughout the Panhandle and Plains area are expected to attend the meeting set for 6:30 a.m. at the Cason House.

Stage sets have been planned by Jon Birdsong, SJHS art instructor, and Bea Nishamuta, homemaking teacher. Some props and furniture have been loaned by Deaf Smith County Museum to make the settings realistic.

Local members of the council expected to attend are Flo Dickenson, Mildred Ramey, Jeff Smart and Eleanor Hudspeth of Stanton Junior High School, and Joan Fuston and Mrs. Spicer Gripp of LaPlata.

Woodcuts made by Birdsong's students give a period look to the program covers. Costumes of the actors will also be in keeping with the date of the story.

Today will mark the first time the council has ever met away from its home base at Canyon. Wayland College Social Studies Department of Plainview will present the program. They will have a discussion on the "Jacksonian Democracy."

Backstage work will be in charge of Robert Holland and Mike Click. Students in the supporting cast are Dion Miller as Huck's friend Tom Sawyer, Carol Scott and Janet Miller as Aunt Polly and Aunt Sally, Lester Mays as a runaway slave, Jim; also Martha Ann McBride, Becky Hickman, David Henslee,

There were still a few Longhorns on the ranges as late as 1890.

Concerning Veterans

The 1968 edition of "Federal Benefits for Veterans and Dependents" is now available from the Government Printing Office in Washington, D. C., Jack Coker Manager of the VA Regional Office, Waco, announced today.

Published by the Veterans Administration, the new booklet reflects new legislative changes including the Veterans' Pension and Readjustment Assistance Act of 1967. This Act:

- *Gives Vietnam era veterans the same benefits available to other wartime veterans.
 - *Expands and increases a variety of benefits, including various types of educational assistance, for all qualified veterans who served after January 31, 1955.
 - *Expands and increases certain benefits to older veterans and dependents.
- In addition to explaining these new benefits, the 1968 edition of this annual VA publication reviews all existing benefits available to America's more than 26 million living veterans — from the Spanish-American War to the Vietnam era — and to their dependents and survivors. Today, these veterans and their families make up almost half of the population of the United States.

Also, the booklet gives the address and phone number of more than 170 VA installations scattered throughout the 50 states, Washington, D. C., Puerto Rico, the Canal Zone and the Philippine Islands.

Single copies may be obtained for 20 cents each from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402. Discount rates are available for quantity purchases.

Kiwanis Awards Attendance Pins

Bill Nafzger was awarded an 18-year perfect attendance pin at the noon meeting of the Kiwanis club last Thursday.

Nafzger received the top perfect attendance pin, followed by Bartley Dowell with 17 years, and C. E. Coleman with 14 years. Several other members also received pins for perfect attendance at the meeting.

Calvin Goodin announced the date for the elementary track meeting sponsored by the club as April 23.

Speaker for the meeting was David Denny of Borger, who participated in the Texas Farm Bureau meeting held at Waco this past summer. Topic of the high school student's talk was "Communism," with excerpts from a speech by J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI.

Busy Agenda To Face Chamber Group Friday

A meeting of the Government Affairs Committee of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce will be held at noon Friday at the Hickory Log in Sugarland Mall.

The committee expects to have a busy session. Harlan VanderZee, president of the Hereford State Bank and chairman of the Government Affairs Committee, reported that the agenda will include committee organization, the purpose and procedures. There will also be a discussion of projects and programs for future meetings.

A series of slides, "Your Stake in '68," will also be shown.

KIWANIAN MEETING — The presentation of an 18 year perfect attendance pin highlighted the noon meeting of the local Kiwanis meeting Thursday. Tracksters Take Third In West Texas Relays

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

The Whiteface track team, which was divided between two meets this past weekend, saw one group of boys take the third place win at the Odessa meet and the majority of the participants sink to the bottom at the Levelland meet.

At Odessa, Jim Childers nabbed the first place spot in the broad jump with a leap of 21 feet 10 inches while Bobby Burwick placed fourth in the finals in the same event with a leap of 21 feet 3 1/2 inches.

In the sprint relays, the Whiteface group took third place with a time of 44.5. Boys running the relay were Elgin Williams, Bobby Burwick, Steve McAndrews, and Gary Goodin. Larry Wartes, coach for the Herd, pointed out that the main factor for the teams' placing third in this event was the anchor running of Goodin. He pointed out that the team was somewhere around the sixth place spot when Goodin took over on the final 1-g of the relay and he brought the team up to the third place spot with a determined bit of running.

The mile relay team garnered a sixth place spot in the meet with a timing of 3:35 with McAndrews, Childers, Tony Malouf and Burwick doing the running duties for the Herd.

Goodin took the first place position in the high hurdles with a clocking of 14.6 then went on to nab the first place medal in the inter-media hurdles with a time of 39.8. Childers took sixth in the high hurdles for the Whiteface team also.

David Kelley collected another first for the local team as he ran the mile with a time of 4:42.6 while Charlie Inman came in seventh in the same event only six seconds behind his team mate with a time of 4:48.

Burwick collected the another first for the local team as he ran the 440-yard dash in a time of 59.5.

With ten other teams entered in the Odessa meet, the Herd was third in their division with a total of 69 points behind Monahans which had 70 and Odessa Ector with 107 1/2 and Kermit who had 122 1/2.

In the Levelland meet, the local team had a poor showing as only two boys placed in the entire meet. These were Johnny Cornelius who took fifth in the discus and Percy Mays who took sixth in the 880-yard run.

The next meet for the Herd team will be this weekend when they play host to a junior high and senior high meet to begin Saturday morning at 9:45 a. m. Entered in the meet are six high schools and nine junior highs.

Levelland, Littlefield, Abernathy, Friona, Dimmitt, Borger, and Hereford will compete in the high school division, while all of the above teams will also compete in the junior high division with the exception of Borger and the additions of Walcott and Highland Park of Amarillo.

THREE BAG TAGGER — Jim Scott, Whiteface centerfielder was the one thing that stood in the way of the Tascosa Rebels Tuesday when he connected for a game-winning triple in the top of the seventh inning to win the game for the Herd.

Whiteface Nine Salvages Game With Four-Run Explosion In 7th Inning

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

Erupting for four runs in the top of the seventh inning on four hits, and led by a two-run triple by centerfielder Jim Scott, the Whiteface diamond nine were able to salvage a seventh inning 6-5 win, over the Tascosa Rebels.

Barry Johnson, who started the game for the Herd, was tagged for two hits right off the bat in the first inning before the host team could be retired. Coming up to bat in the bottom of the frame, the Whitefaces were put down in order as no one could get a hit.

Second inning action saw Johnson hold the opposition to no runs and no hits as the opposing pitcher did the same to the locals in the bottom of the same frame.

Lynn Betts took over pitching duties for the Herd in the bottom of the third inning and was immediately tagged for three hits and one run before the side could be retired.

As in the previous two innings, the Whiteface nine were again held scoreless and hitless in the top of the third frame. The Tascosa team was unable to hold the Herd in the top of the fourth frame as the base-batters connected for two hits and were able to push one run across the plate to narrow the score to 3-1 in favor of the Rebels.

In the closing half of the fourth frame the Tascosa team hit the defense for two runs on no hits to lengthen their lead to 5-1.

Fifth frame action saw the Whitefaces connect for one run and one run, then went into the bottom of the frame to stop the Rebels from scoring as they put them down in order. The sixth inning went scoreless for both teams but the Tascosa team did manage to get one man on before the Herd shut them down.

The seventh and final inning proved to be the big one for the Herd as they collected four hits and pushed four runs across the plate. The big factor for the locals was a two-run triple by Jim Scott that put the Herd ahead to stay by a 6-5 score. Scott's triple came in the final frame with two men out and the team trailing by one run.

Betts, who was credited with the win, allowed only two runs and four hits in four innings and Johnson, who started the game allowed only three runs and four connections in three frames of pitching duties. Betts now owns the best record for the team as the stands at three wins and no losses on the season.

Golfers Nab Lead In District Meet

By MARSHALL DAY

After falling 10 strokes behind in the initial district outing in the golf world, the Whiteface linksters rallied back in the Tula Meet to take the district lead going into the next district meet which is to be held in Hereford next month.

In the first meet which was held in Muleshoe, no Whiteface player could seem to overcome the Muleshoe team as each player failed to shoot lower than 82.

Steve Hendon was the low shot man for the team in the first meet as he shot an 82. He was followed closely by two players who both shot 85's and these were Marsh Pitman and Russell Phillips. Don Maxwell shot a 96 while Terry Albracht shot a 97 bringing the team total to 318 at the end of the first meet, 10 points behind the Muleshoe Mules who had 338.

The B-team linksters who participated in the Muleshoe Meet found the same difficulty as did the varsity golfers as the team total came to 367 with Wayne Steamer shooting a 83, Paul Hendon with an 86, Steve Sanders with a 91, Santry Rush with

Key Club Hears Wartes Speak

Larry Wartes, head football coach and athletic director at Hereford High School, was guest speaker at a Key Club banquet Monday night where some 20 persons were present.

After the evening meal, the club conducted a business meeting before Wartes began his talk to the boys and some of the fathers.

Speaking on the principles that go into making a person a better and more learned and respected citizen, Wartes stressed points that must be followed not only by athletes, but everyone.

"Most of you will be graduating soon and then it will be time for you to go on to college, and then the most important thing to begin making decisions for yourself," he said.

"These decisions you make will make you. What you decide and what you do now will make you what you will become," he commented.

Wartes went on to point out the necessary things which are important in the lives of everyone. These, he pointed out were: enthusiasm, the power to resist temptation, dedication, and the resourcefulness to make the right decision, just to name a few.

Meeting Is Set For Ball League

Charlie Moreno, this year's coach of the Irrigation League Hereford Rebel baseball team, has announced that there will be a meeting for all last season players and anyone else who is interested in playing in the league.

The meeting is set for 1 p. m. Sunday, March 24th at the Dameron Park. It was pointed out that the minimum age for the league is set at 16 years of age, while the maximum age goes on up.

Team No. 8 as they hit for a team total of 183. Cope had the best for his team as he hit 44 of a possible 50 while three shooters hit 36 out of 50. These were Bob Sims, Jim Easley, and Bud Goodwin. Doyle Vines added 31 for the other member score for the team total.

High individual gun for the match was Jim Cramer as he was able to bring down 45 targets out of a possible 50.

It was pointed out that the average score for the entire match was between 25 and 30 targets out of 50 and spokesman M. C. Knox expressed the fact that this goes to prove that the shooters are far from experts and thusly urges everyone who wants to, to come out Sunday for a day of 'plunkin' and practicin'.

While there has not been another date set for the next league shoot as of yet, when it is it will be announced. Anyone interested in shooting is urged to be at the range Sunday, March 24th at 1 p. m. for a practice shoot.

Vega Wins One From Herd Girls

In a non-conference breather for the high school volleyballers, three games were played and the Stanton Jr. High team, along with the high school B-team found little competition with the Vega team, while the varsity squad found things just a little different.

In the first game, the Stanton girls downed the visitors with little difficulty by scores of 15-1 and 15-11. In the second game, the B-team also downed the opposing team by handy scores of 15-0 and 15-2 while the varsity girls fell in the final two-of-three by scores of 15-11 and 15-12 after winning the first game by a 15-4 tally.

The next game for the locals will be today when they travel to Tula to encounter the Hornets for their third district contest. The game will begin at 8:30 p.m.

DR. RED BARN PROFITS
To Mr. Sorghum Grower
Re: Hybrid sorghum seed for your exact growing conditions
Signed R. B. Profits

Write your "PRESCRIPTION" to high sorghum crop yields and profits

Now, you don't have to be content with growing a "standard" sorghum seed under your "unique" growing conditions. Red Barn offers you eleven different hybrid sorghums — there's one to match your exact growing conditions. Follow the prescription and the result will be the highest yields you've ever had!

Your Red Barn man can help you with a production plan aimed at higher net profits for you. He'll help you select the right sorghum hybrid to fit your growing conditions; water availability, method of irrigation, soil fertility, land slope, herbicide program, insect and disease control needs.

Red Barn sorghum hybrids are clean growing, winter tested and high germinating. They are bred for outstanding yields, consistent performance, early vigor, good standability, and easy threshing.

Red Barn also offers three varieties of hybrid sorghum-sudangrass to meet different growing conditions.

Your Red Barn dealer is a good man to know. Give him a call or drop in to see him today. You'll be on your way to extra profits this season!

All-Star Game Set In Church League

With the regular league play coming to a close for the Church League Basketball, plans have been announced that there will be an All-Star game this coming Monday, March 25th.

At the end of regular season play two teams have ended up with the same records. These are the First Baptist and the Catholic church and they both have identical records of eight win and two losses. It has not been decided whether or not there will be a play-off between two teams yet, but it is still under consideration.

It was also announced at the All-Star game there will be a 50 cent contribution from adults and a 25 cent contribution from school age children to help defray expenses of using the gym.

Members for the All-Star game were selected by popular vote by members of the competing teams and these include three from each team.

All-Star members include Earl Jackson, Harold Kidds, and Frog Furguson from the First Baptist; Doc. Hicks, Fred Lookingbill and Joe Kerr from the Presbyterian; V. Blair, Billy Redman, and A. L. Weaver from St. John's Baptist; Roy Jeters, Gary Tyler, and D. Cornelius from Avenue Baptist; Jim Arney, Tim Tucker, and Charles Skinner from the Methodist Church; and Ronnie Rainey, Clyde Coleman, and Bob Baker from the Catholic Church.

The public is invited to attend the game which will begin at 8 p.m. in the high school gym Monday, March 25th.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Most of us, probably, use a good many padding words in our everyday speech without being conscious of it, and with some of us it's an affliction. We were talking here at the office of a woman we like, but sort of wish she wouldn't continually call us darling, honey, or dear while she is talking to us.

NOT JUST women, some men are guilty of this, too. And they are no worse off, really, than the one who interjects a "really" or "you know what I mean" into every sentence. (Yes, that first "really" is intentional!)

We feel sorry for the one who hems and haws with uh, er, um before he can say anything, either in conversation or attempting a speech to a crowd. And we mustn't forget to include in this list the person — sometimes it is a woman — who can't talk without profanity, dropping a hell or damn into his speech regularly, whether it is called for or not.

Maybe if each of us could hear himself often, there wouldn't be so many padding words used. Which would cut down considerably on the words per minute spoken in this country, and that might be a good thing.

IT'S HAPPENED so many times lately that it's frustrating; I keep meeting and passing Eloise McDougal at first one place and then another when both of us are on our way somewhere and there's no time to do more than say a hurried "Hello" as we pass. Surely we'll find ourselves at the same place, sometime, when we have time to exchange "How are you's" at least!

IT WAS Margie McGowen who called to my attention an error in Mrs. Al Baum's recipe for Chicken Tetrastini in last Thursday's Brand — but it's an error so big that I'm sure any cook who tried the recipe recognized it as one. A big error in a recipe is better than a little one.

We use the abbreviations lb. and tb. for pound and tablespoonful in recipes, and guess what happened to the 2 table-spoons of flour the recipe needed in the sauce? Yes, two pounds certainly would be a bit much. ANOTHER SEASON for brides is here, with multiple weddings planned for the Easter and spring holiday periods, and engagements being announced for June weddings.

So it's time to remind prospective brides and their mothers that getting a wedding story in the paper is no hard chore if it's done with due regard to deadlines and policies of the paper, and it's not difficult to find out about those.

The main thing to remember, so you won't be disappointed at the way a story or picture turns out, is this: "See or call the society editor before . . ."

Before you want to announce the engagement, before the wedding date, before time for a shower or party — always before!

Area Composer's Music Presented

Three Hereford musicians presented sacred music by an Amarillo composer in a Sunday afternoon recital sponsored by the Music Study Club in First Methodist Church.

Mrs. R. C. Godwin, soprano, sang Charlotte Ingham Word's but most weddings aren't elopements and it makes me quite unhappy to have someone come in with a wedding story a week or two after the event, then feel hurt that it can't be handled as though it were really news.

songs with Mrs. Joe Hacker as organ accompanist, and Don Baugous played organ solos also composed by the Amarillo woman.

Mrs. Word, who is the mother of Bob Word of Hereford, was in the audience and was introduced by Mrs. Wesley Fisher who, as vice president and program chairman of Music Study Club, welcomed guests for this program observing Texas Composers Week.

Adding interest to the recital was a group of paintings by Hereford Art Guild members, arranged in the church entry. Religious subjects and flower paintings by Mmes. Hilrey Aven, Mark Schaffner, Vivian Major, Juston McBr. and other Guild members were included.

The organ soloist opened the musical program with Prelude in A and later played two selections, a more complicated Prelude in B Minor and one titled In Memoriam.

Mrs. Godwin's solos ranged from a melodic setting for The Lord's Prayer to dramatic numbers, But The Greatest Of These Is Love and the final piece, O Lord, God Of My Salvation. The latter was made more impressive as she related the circumstances of its composition.

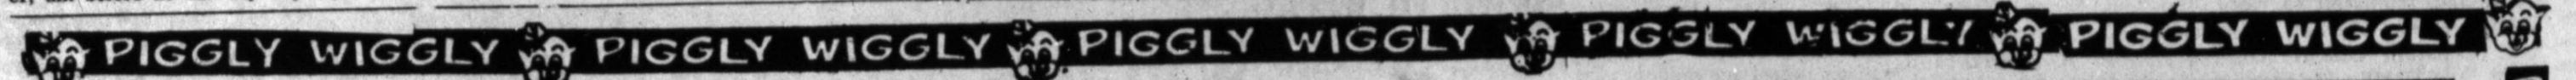

Other songs were Let Me Sing Of My Love For My Lord, Teach Me To Pray, If It Were Not So and another prayer, I Thank Thee Lord. The soloist emphasized the deep religious feeling conveyed in words and music of the varied program numbers. Hostesses from Music Study Club were members of the hospitality committee, with Mrs. Dale Young as chairman. Mrs. Godwin is president of the club.

When East Carolina beat George Washington 71-68 in basketball it marked their first victory after 18 straight defeats on the road.

Best hockey scorer in Michigan State history is Doug Roberts who scored 28 goals and 33 assists during the 1964-65 campaign.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING!

First Kitchen Was Tent

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

As a bride who didn't know how to cook, Mrs. R. B. Hutson enacted the pioneer's wife when she came to Deaf Smith County in the summer of 1925 — and she was permitted to come along with the men who drilled wells and put up the first buildings on land north of Hereford, because her husband assured his father that she could cook.

HUTSON'S FATHER had bought 2300 acres of unimproved land here and the crew came out to live in tents while they got a place ready for the young couple to live.

"One of two spoiled children, I never had cooked," Mrs. Hutson says, "but Bill's brother knew how to cook so we got up at 4 o'clock every morning to begin the day's work in the cook-tent, and I learned!"

Since then, the Hutsons have lived on the same farm. At first it was in a three-room house and she reared her three sons in that home. In recent years a brick house of her planning has been built.

PART OF THE planning was to locate the ranch-style house so that trees which had grown around the original house would frame the new place attractively. Huge maples and willows add their gracious touch to the wide lawn and give the place an inviting look.

Mrs. Hutson was born and raised near Lakeview in Hall County, and was Beatrice Dennis before her marriage.

The Hutsons' children are Billy, assistant postmaster here who was graduated from Hereford schools like his brothers, and attended Texas Christian University; James, a ministerial student in Howard Payne College who is due to graduate in May; and Keith, Texas Tech graduate in engineering, now with Post Manufacturing Co. at Seguin.

THERE ARE three grandchildren and Mrs. Hutson confesses a special feeling for her two granddaughters, since her children are all boys. For the past 19 years she has been on the sales staff of the Rutherford store, a job she thoroughly enjoys because "I just like people, and here I have a chance to see friends every day, and make new friends."

This enthusiasm for her work earned her the first designation as Salesperson of the Month when the local radio station began that feature last year. She had previously worked in a flower shop, but is best known for her school bus driving job which began as a temporary thing and lasted 30 years.

DURING WORLD War II, when it was difficult to find bus drivers, she volunteered to "help out" until a driver could be found for the route near her home. Association with the youngsters who rode her bus in the following years kept her happy in the work which she continued even after she became an employe at Rutherford's when her boys were grown up.

Not with a view to a new career, but because she likes to keep learning, Bea Hutson is now enrolled in an adult class in typing at Hereford High School — loving every minute of it. She wants to take an arts and crafts course next term, too.

Not only to her personal life and job, but to community activities part of her energy has been devoted. She is closing a term as worthy matron, highest office in the local chapter of the Order of Eastern Star, to which she was elected after a membership of only six years.

FOR 12 YEARS she worked with small children's classes in First Baptist Church, and she has held all offices in the Women's Missionary Union — her favorite the chairmanship of community missions.

Before she took a full-time job, she was a member of study clubs and bridge clubs, but dropped those for lack of time.

Liking people in general, she likes to entertain and to prepare refreshments for the church and Eastern Star groups which she often invites to her home.

A well-stocked freezer makes hostess duty easy, she says; last Sunday she found no difficulty in serving lunch to 41 persons in the Order of Rainbow and its advisory board, of which she as OES leader is a member.

At a tea for Rainbow Girls a few weeks ago, the item on the refreshment table which drew most attention from the guests was a confection in strawberry shape, as delicious as it was pretty. Here is her recipe for the decorative sweetmeats:

MOCK STRAWBERRIES
2 pkg. strawberry flavored gelatine dessert
¾ cup Eagle brand milk
2 tsp. red cake coloring
½ tsp. vanilla
1 cup angel-flake coconut
1 cup finely chopped pecans
2 bottles red sugar
1 bottle green sugar
Mix all ingredients except red and green sugar, refrigerate 2 hours. Form into berry shape, roll in red sugar and top with green sugar to simulate the co-

Club Recreation Workshop Held For H.P. Women

Recreation which can be a part of club programs or parties for club members and their families, was demonstrated at the annual recreation workshop for county Home Demonstration Clubs Monday afternoon at Community Center.

Mrs. Viola Williams, recreation chairman in the County H. D. Council, was assisted by Mrs. Dale Hallows, Mrs. J. E. Sorrells and Linda Sorrells in directing games and contests which club recreation leaders may use later in their own clubs. Mrs. Blanche Hardin read a poem of the type suitable for opening club programs.

Refreshment were served after the workshop. Others present were Argen Draper, County H. D. Agent, and Mmes. W. J. Lueb, Paul Hoff, Carlos Vaughn, Joan Williams, S. N. Thweatt, Eva McKnight, A. B. Kemp and Richard Golden.

April 1 Deadline For Medicare Aids

April 1 is the deadline for two parts of Medicare, Travis C. Briggs Manager of the Amarillo social security office warned today.

This is the last day older people not previously enrolled in the voluntary doctor bill insurance under medicare can sign up with coverage to begin effective next July 1. Although most older people in the Panhandle are now enrolled, some still need to take action by April 1.

Those who miss out on this second chance to enroll will have to wait another year, and pay a premium that is 10 percent higher for each full year they could have had the medical protection, but were not enrolled. Those who wait three years past their first chance to sign up for the medical insurance will not be able to sign up at all.

The second deadline on the same day concerns medical insurance payments for services received during July, August and September 1968.

Anyone who had the "doctor bill" part of medicare during that period and who had bills amounting to more than $50 during the entire last 6 months of 1966 may be eligible for some medicare payment if it has not already been claimed.

Briggs emphasized that medicare claims may be made even if the bills for the services have not yet been paid.

Panhandle residents who need assistance in applying for the medicare benefits, or who wish to enroll in medicare, should get in touch with the social security offices at 1006 S. Adams, Amarillo, or in the Hughes Building in Pampa. Field representatives from these two offices visit most of the larger towns in the area regularly.

Son Of Hereford Man Is Injured In Vietnam War

Army Specialist 4th Class Robert T. Clark, 20, son of Mike Clark of 814 West Park, was injured by gunfire while engaging enemy forces on a combat operation in Vietnam March 11, the Brand has been informed.

Clark's wife, the Brand was told in a letter from Michael Clark of Corpus Christi, was informed of her husband's injury March 7.

A frequent visitor to Hereford, Clark reportedly was injured in the right arm, was treated and hospitalized in a Vietnam base hospital. He is not believed to be in serious condition.

Clark is a native of Borger and a 1965 graduate of Carroll High School in Corpus Christi. He received basic training at Fort Polk, La., before being assigned to the 101st Airborne Division.

Clark has been in Vietnam since December.

Senator Tower Speaks

Civil Rights, Disorders Are Discussed By Senator

This past week the Senate has had under consideration a comprehensive Civil Rights Bill which contains among other things, the so-called Open Housing provision. This is a measure that I have been consistently opposed to. Now, I've always favored the principle of fair housing and that's the very reason I do not favor this bill. Any measure of this nature limits the principle of fair housing due to its restrictive content. That is, it forms a potential danger because it threatens a fundamental right which I hold essential — the right to reasonable and responsible enjoyment of private property. A bill such as this puts restrictions on the right of an individual to transfer ownership of his land to whomever he pleases. We should not curtail the right to the free and fair disposition of property. What we have here is a private action in private dealings between private individuals in the disposition of privately-owned property. This open housing bill is potentially dangerous in its extension of the role of the Federal government and the bureaucracy over these private property rights.

I favor the local approach to problems of open housing. I would note that 94 local open housing ordinances have been adopted since 1958 — although some of these ordinances are now inoperative because they have been voided by referendum. During the last year alone, 47 local governments enacted open housing provisions. This is half the total number enacted since 1958 when the first local ordinance was enacted. In addition, 21 states, 5 counties, and the District of Columbia have enacted open housing legislation. I endorse this local approach — it is better for all concerned to have a local and primarily voluntary approach. It is best for the local community, for the respective states and for the nation.

Rather than seeking further federal involvement in this most important area of the housing field as called for in the pending measure, it would be far better, I believe, to seek responsible ways to encourage the voluntary implementation of local determination. Enforcement matters such as fair housing should be left to the domain of the individual and of the local government or the state.

In addition, let us ask ourselves whether enforced open housing is really the way to solve those problems primarily economic in nature and scope. Those of lower income means just do not have the financial resources with which to improve overnight their housing facilities. Other aspects of civil rights legislation already having the force of law, such as education and employment, are of much more fundamental importance. Given these other important rights and resulting economic strength, any open housing problems would largely resolve themselves.

Through Federal open housing legislation, we are forcing the Federal government into an area from which it has, for a long time, been rightly excluded.

It would be wiser, as I have already noted, to settle such matters on a local level where governing bodies are aware of differences in community concern and the diversity of problems which arise from history and local tradition, rather than to bring in the Federal government to lead us we know not where.

I would also like to comment this week on the Civil Disorders recently been issued. It was a very interesting report but I think its general thesis — that Americans don't care that America has and is failing and that racism rules — is simply not true. I'm in the process of compiling a report on just how much money and effort Americans through private and public programs have devoted to urban needs in recent years. Clearly Americans through their welfare, charity, education and employment programs have indicated a recognition of the problem and a determination to ameliorate that problem. The report ignored progress in its preoccupation with problems. I happen to think racism is on the decline in the United States and I happen to think Americans are working and living together better and better with every passing day. I don't believe the United States of America has failed. It's succeeded better than any other society in the world's history to provide a better life for its people, to provide for political and social and economic progress for everybody. I don't believe America has failed and I believe we will continue to make progress if we can maintain in this country a climate of freedom.

Easter Seal Drive Provides Services

The Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas offers a variety of services to the physically disabled citizen of Deaf Smith County, according to J. A. Hodges, Jr., the Easter Seal Representative for the county.

"The Texas Easter Seal Society can provide services to people and families who cannot afford to pay all or part of the cost involved. We can assist in paying for physical, occupational and speech and hearing therapy when it is prescribed by a medical doctor," he said.

"Should a family or individual have to travel to another town for therapy we can help defray traveling expenses when the family is unable to meet them."

"We can also provide assistance to individuals and families in purchasing orthopedic equipment such as wheelchairs, walkers, crutches, braces when prescribed by a medical doctor."

"We can provide help to families in reaching the right person or agencies to receive help that the Easter Seal Society does not provide. This is very important when special testing, evaluation or hospitalization might be necessary. Also people are often eligible for services from public or private agencies but do not know the person, requirements, or place to get the help, perhaps the Easter Seal Society can help," he added.

Hodges urged anyone who might be able to benefit from the help provided by the Easter Seal Society to contact him at Hereford State Bank, Hereford, Texas 79045.

Easter Seal Services are available to any adult or child with a physical handicap. The 1968 Easter Seal Appeal will provide funds for a wide variety of educational projects and treatment services for Texans.

Carl Cole

Carl Cole Joins Marine Corps

Carl Cole, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cole of 114 Avenue B, left Amarillo Monday by plane in route to the Marine Corp training camp at San Diego, California.

Cole who attended Hereford High School, took the mental and physical tests last Friday and was sworn in Monday before he left on his flight to Camp Pendleton. He is expected to be in basic training for about 12 weeks before he will return home on leave.

McKee Funeral Rites Planned At Fort Worth

Funeral services for C. W. McKee, 50, of 411 Ave. J, were pending in Fort Worth Wednesday, waiting the arrival of his son, Sgt. Gary H. McKee, from Viet Nam where he is stationed with the U. S. Army. Mr. McKee died Saturday evening in a local hospital following a heart attack.

A native Texan, he had been a resident of this county since February, 1960, when he came here from Springtown. He was a retired grain elevator superintendent. Born Aug. 19, 1917, he married Lela Smith Sept. 23, 1939, at Fort Worth.

With Gilliland Funeral Home in charge of local arrangements, the funeral and burial in Fairview Cemetery were planned in Fort Worth.

In addition to Sgt. McKee, survivors are three daughters, Mrs. Greg Banner, Rebecca and Ann McKee, and two sons, Carl Wayne and Patrick all of Hereford; also his mother, Mrs. Jewell McKee of Fort Worth; three sisters, three brothers and a grandson.

The campaign will run through Easter Sunday, April 14.

HEREFORD HUSTLERS — The two greeters shown at the right in the red coats are known as Hereford Hustlers, a prestige group of official greeters for the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce. Shaking hands with an out-of-town guest is Melvin Jayroe, chairman of the group, and Carl Carlile stands beside him. There are only 18 other "Hustlers" and they serve at all important civic functions held in the city.

Hereford Hustlers: Working For Betterment Of County

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

The Hereford Hustlers is comprised of a special group of members of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce. They can be seen at almost all events in the county that has to do with bettering the community and aiding in civic pride.

The Hereford Hustlers serve the county. Chamber manager Bill Thompson described them as a "Prestige Group," one to which is attached honor and integrity.

It is also described as one of the best units of gaining the needs of Deaf Smith County. Right now, there are 20 Hereford Hustlers — "It wasn't given to them, they had to work for it."

Melvin Jayroe, chairman; Dale Young, vice-chairman; Charlie Bell, Gene Campbell, Oliver Stred, Wayne Thomas, Frank Ball, Ralph Owens, Johnny Pool, Opal Norton, Clete Corlis, Larry Summers, Geneva Summers, Katherine Kester, Bill Thompson, Paul Abalos, Terry Hodges, Lynton Allred, Carl Carlile and Russell Carver. The Hustlers are not necessarily confined to 20 members. But the membership is restricted to 25 members in one year. It will be noted that three of the "Hustlers" are ladies. It has been reported that "The Lady Hustlers" title has caused a few raised eyebrows and a few chuckles. But the ladies take it in their stride.

A name change was even discussed for them — to become "Hereford Rustlers," but it was soon vetoed. It seems it had a double meaning too.

But one of the lady members of the Hereford Hustlers reported that there are many functions where it is really necessary and quite proper for them. Almost ever civic function, she explained, are attended by the wives of the various personalities.

The ladies have only been a part of the group half the time the Hustlers have been in operation. The Hereford Hustlers have been "in business" four years.

How does a Hustler obtain membership? "He must earn twenty points in one fiscal year, according to the rules. He earns those points by getting new members into the Chamber of Commerce."

One personal member ($30) annual or draft will count two points. Four points will be gained for one business member ($60) annual or draft. One business member on a monthly statement basis is 2 points, while one business member quarterly or semi-annually gains 3 points.

When the persons reaches 20 points, he is given a red jacket — which is the property of the Chamber of Commerce.

To retain the membership, he must have earned 30 points each fiscal year. It is harder to remain a Hustler than to become one."

They earn these points by continuing to get new members, plus working as needed.

For annual banquet ushering, they are awarded 5 points, 4 points for area Chamber banquets, 3 points for other area events (at Easter, Milo Center, Friona, etc.), 2 points at local events (ground breaking, plaque delivery, etc.), and one point for committee meetings.

One thing, that is required: One new $60 member — for four points.

Permanent membership is obtained after earning the 30 points each year for three consecutive years. Then the Hustler gets to keep his coat. And they become an addition to the See HUSTLERS Page 2

Dimmitt Man To Be Honored As State's Outstanding Ginner

E. L. Gene Morrison of Dimmitt will be honored in Dallas April 2 as Texas Outstanding Ginner of 1967. Morrison operates a gin at Sunnyside south of Dimmitt and has been associated with cotton gins over 40 years.

He will receive the Horace Hayden Memorial Plaque signifying the honor from the Texas Cotton Ginners' Association during that organization's fifty-fifth annual meeting. The convention which annually attracts over 5,000 people opens a three day show on March 31.

Morrison is a director and member of the executive committee of the Ginners' Association.

He started working in a cotton gin for his father before graduation from high school at Abilene and helped build a gin without blue prints. He bought his first interest in a cotton gin at Ballinger in 1934. His modern plant near Dimmitt gins more cotton in a single day than his first gin could turn out in a week.

Morrison and his wife have three sons, Bill, who lives in Fort Worth, Dick, whose home is in Irving, and Gary of Atlanta, Ga. The Morrisons are active in the First Baptist Church of Dimmitt where he

Rotarians Hear About Drilling Activity In Deaf Smith County

The Rotary Club speaker Monday at the Hickory Log in Sugarland Mall was David Watson, an employee of the Big T Pump Company in Hereford. Watson, who had been brought to the luncheon from his work in the field, has been with Big T for the past year.

He told the Rotary members the story of his company's efforts toward drilling a deep well on the Virgil Owens farm in Deaf Smith County, described the drilling process and exhibited samples of the earth formations which they had drilled through during the past few months.

Watson said that Owens had two previous wells drilled by other companies which were successful and declared that the new one was "very successful."

Afterward, the Rotary audience asked several interesting questions in regard to its cost and operation, because of the present activity toward the search for more water in this area.

Watson told them that a pump had been installed at 730 feet and was pumping "about 1,000 gallons per minute" at the present time. The well had been drilled to 780 feet. A 20-inch hole had been drilled, he said.

Area Residents Encouraged By California Water Film

By TYLER VANCE Staff Writer

Persons interested in plans to bring water to the High Plains from the Mississippi River had their hopes "lifted" last Thursday evening, as the Deaf Smith County Water Association presented a film on the California water project.

Bob Hand of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and Neil Johnson of Channel 11 TV in Lubbock were on hand to present the film, and also show some slides depicting the construction of the project in California.

Hand. The film presented by the group showed the construction of the project, including several new machines invented for special jobs in the project. The main problem evidenced by the film was the moving of earth and rock to the building locations, and pumping the water over the Tahachati mountain range.

"When we say water in West Texas and New Mexico, we have everybody's attention," said Johnson in his opening remarks to the group.

"After seeing the California project, I believed they can furnish the southern High Plains with some much needed directions," Johnson said, and added, "We are at the threshold of bringing water to West Texas."

The film showed details of the size of the water project in California, and the way in which the water association functions.

"The California plant is costing in the area of $2.5 billion, whereas estimates of cost on the Texas project have been as high as $8.5 billion" said Bob Hand. The slides shown after the film presentation illustrated the progress made in recent months. Some of the dams were completed, and the recreational areas created by the backwaters were already in use.

A chart showed the state charges to the agency or association and the annual agency charges.

Johnson pointed out, "Municipal and industrial water tolls based on capital will be charged by the state, a minimum operational maintenance, power and replacement charge, and a variable operational maintenance charge. Also a delta water charge place on every acre foot to repay conservation activities in the project. A surplus water charge in years of increased membership maximum. Honorary life memberships are given in the Chamber of Commerce for those who have gotten 50 new members for it.

It was pointed out that a personal membership in the Chamber was that of a person whose company is already a member, ministers, retired persons, etc.

The Hereford Hustlers meet monthly for fellowship. And whenever you see a man ushering at the various conventions and other social functions in this area — wearing a red coat — you will know that he is a man who falls into that special group of Deaf Smith County citizens who is working for the progress of his Chamber and his city.

rainfall will be placed on municipal and industrial water as well as agricultural water."

"Now the agency charges. They are the same as the state charges in the first two categories, but the third is quite different. The agricultural charges to the user will be $6 per acre foot to the areas with ground water, and $9 per acre foot to the areas without ground water.

The charge to the underground water areas are cheaper because the people with underground can mix it with the project water, and use it for less price.

The state is the wholesaler, the state — the retailer, and the people who use the water — the consumers," Johnson explained.

Surplus water will be sold at a variable rate, plus $2 an acre foot. The difference in charges for the first four items are made up in number five a "zone of benefit" assessment.

"We have to convince people how this system will help them," said Johnson. It is going to be a tremendous selling job."

The California project was a joint federal-state project. After the film and slide presentation, a question and answer period was held, during which a few questions concerning the project for Texas were answered.

One question answered was on the availability of a reservoir site in the Texas Panhandle. The officials expressed optimism at the prospects of using the canyons north of Amarillo for holding large amounts of water which would be brought from the Mississippi River.

The advantages for those along the route of the Mississippi water canals were discussed, including recreation areas for south Texas. "Everybody is going to want to put their bucket in the ditch," said Hand.

Watson has been in the drilling business since 1947.

to put a 16-inch casing into it. He said they had to build a stronger rig to handle the heavier load. They had previously drilled nine shallow wells successfully, but this had been their first attempt at a deep well. Until a year ago, he told them, Big T had been in the pumping business only.

Services Held For Don Fudge

PLAINVIEW — Funeral services for Don Fudge, 36, a former resident of Hereford, were conducted Tuesday afternoon at Plainview where he had lived since 1962. Fudge died Sunday afternoon of a gunshot wound, it was reported. Burial was at Plainview Memorial Park Cemetery.

Fudge was found in his office at his furniture store, the Family Mart, according to the report. A pistol was on a desk in the office. The Lubbock justice of the peace has conducted an inquest.

Fudge was married to the former Melba J. Bryant. Prior to coming to Plainview, the couple had lived at Amarillo. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge in Hereford and the Baptist church.

Survivors other than his wife are two sons, Ronnie and Ricky, Plainview; and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Fudge of Amarillo.

4-H Horse Club To Have Outing

The 4-H Horse Club had its first meeting March 12 at the Community Center.

It was decided the club would go to the judging clinic at Cockrell's Arena in Amarillo on March 16. The team consisted of James Lee, Jimmy Clark and Donna Woodward. They reported it as it is a very informative day of demonstrations and instructions on halter and performance. Later in the day they judged in a contest.

It also was decided that the club would have a practice judging session on Saturday, March 23. Members will meet in front of the courthouse at 1:30 p. m. and from there go to Jack Streun's.

Anyone interested is urged to come along, said James Lee, president. Pat Cooper is secretary of the organization, and Al Lee is leader.

All-School Play Set At La Plata

"June Mad" will be presented as the All-School play by LaPlata Junior High on Thursday and Friday, March 28-29.

Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

In 1917, the Seventh Day Adventist organized its Sabbath School in Hereford.

FOR GOD SO LOVED THE WORLD

Now as never before the world needs the Holy light that flows from the Sacred pages of His Holy Bible. The adequate Lord and the needy world must be brought together. Ambassadors of God must be summoned and transportation chartered to bear the gospel message to the "four corners of the earth." The candles we light must illuminate the Holy Word, and churches everywhere must keep preaching that Christ is what the world must have for its health and salvation. Like Paul and Barnabas may we be ministers of His Word. The whole world needs the light from the candles, the influence of the cross, and the inspiration of the Bible.

Poem To Hereford Woman From Husband Depicts War Feelings

Mrs. Hugh Latham, whose husband is now stationed at Cam Ranh Bay in Vietnam with the Air Force, has received a poem written by the Airman First Class which has been published by the Air Force newspaper.

Mrs. Latham and her 7-month-old daughter Karen June are living here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Callaway of 522 Blevins. Airman Latham's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Latham of Friona.

The poem the young airman wrote deeply expresses the feelings of the G. I. being on battle-grounds away from his home and family, and how he worries about them. But his principal worry is of home, where he has heard of the 'hippies' and draft-card burners.

He states that "if they think our country is so unfair, send them to China and see how they like it there." Latham is "an American and glad that I am, I'm doing my part for Uncle Sam."

Airman Latham makes a strong point toward the people on the home front should "don't just talk," but to do something toward helping the fighting man end the war.

His poem began with "together and alone, a young soldier so far from home." But he ended it with "I'm serving my country and soon will be home, and my wife and I will be together in a safe home, while guys like you (the 'hippies'

Dawn Club Hears Texas Music By Guest Guitarist Songs by Texas composers and folk songs traditional in the state made up the program for Dawn Music Club at a recent meeting when Dick Kendrick, guitarist, was the guest performer. Mrs. Alfred Smith and Mrs. Carl Wimberley were hostesses in Dawn Community House. Kendrick played selections on the electric guitar accompanied by Mrs. R. E. Curtisinger; then she changed from pianist to harmonica player and they played duets, the state song, Texas Our Texas, and an old square-dance tune, Soldiers Joy.
