McPherson Denies Allegations in TFWU Letters

Managing Editor

Two letters on letterheads of the Texas Farm Workers Union, San Juan, concerning activities of local law enforcement officers relative to the TFWU during the peak of the vegetable workers strike here this summer have been circulated among some members of the community here recently.

The items prompted a response from Sheriff Travis McPherson Thursday after-

The letters allege that McPherson and his officers harassed strikers during June and July, antagonized the workers and violated their civil rights.

The letters carry the signature of TFWU president Antonio Orendain and claim "agribusinesses have hired a 'patriotic all American centering around demands sheriff" and add that McPherson is "nothing else than a vicious antifarmworker sheriff whose main concern is insuring that the labor force in this area is kept under control, intimidated and repressed if they speak out against the injustices done to workers."

The TFWU also alleges in one of the letters being circulated here that local sheriff's deputies are "constantly provoking the strikers, swinging their billy clubs and saying 'we'll settle you down with our billy clubs' ... we are faced with the situation where McPherson and his deputies are provoking violence."

The letters from Orendain call for a letter writing campaign to both McPherson and District Attorney Roland Saul for a halt to "harassment of strikers", "antagonizing of farmworkers" and "violation of civil rights."

McPherson contacted The Brand Thursday to counter the claims brought forward in the letters, pointing out that he is "proud of the manner" in which officers of his department handled themselves during tense moments of the vegetable strike this summer and adding that he is not anti-farmworker. "I thought all along that I was elected to this office and here I find out from this letter that I was hired by the shippers and growers," stated McPherson.

"I'm paid by the taxpayers of this community and my only obligation is to the taxpayers of this community who I serve. I don't intend to make anyone wealthy outside of this community who wants to come in and stir up trouble," stated McPherson.

McPherson claimed there is "no basis" for allegations of billy club swinging and other actions and stated that his officers in the strike fields were actually the individuals facing harassment.

"I think my officers did an excellent job in keeping calm and avoiding violence here this summer," McPherson continued.

"Law officers were in the fields at the request of the landowners, and to see to it that the people who wanted to work wouldn't be harassed. I was very surprised at the peaceful nature of some of the workers out in the field."

"Some of those people on the strike lines were threatening the people who were working and they were getting real upset. I think there could have been some real problems had we not been out there," stated the

"I don't know what all the allegations are about violating civil rights. I'm definitely not against the farm worker. I feel they play a very important role here and are important citizens," McPherson commented.

Clayton Defenders Claim Entrapment

HOUSTON (AP) - Defense attorneys for Texas House Speaker Bill Clayton plan to ask prospective jurors in the upcoming Brilab trial if they believe entrapment is a valid defense for a public official accused of accepting a bribe.

Austin attorneys Roy Minton and Charles Burton filed a list of proposed questions Thursday they say they want U.S. District Judge Robert O'Conor to ask when jury selection begins next week. "Do you agree with the proposition that government inducement to commit an offense may include persuasion, fraudulent representations and pleas based on need, sympathy or friendship?" one proposed question read. The attorneys also want O'Conor to ask jurors if they "believe that elected public officials ought to be held to much stricter legal standards than ordinary people." Other proposed questions asked if jurors "believe that most people who give big political contributions expect special favors for themselves." And if jurors "believe that whether they like it or not, politicians have to accept big contributions if they are to have a chance to get elected."

Clayton and Austin attorneys Randall B. Wood and Donald W. Ray were indicted June 12 of federal extortion, racketeering, fraud and conspiracy charges.

Texas GOP Convention Opens

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Texas Republicans begin a state convention today dedicated to the downfall of President Jimmy Carter on Nov. 4.

Presidential nominee Ronald Reagan will be in San Antonio 10 days from now, part of a major campaign drive through South Texas and the Houston area. State GOP Chairman Chet Upham will rap the convention to order in midafternoon, standing in for Rep. Tom Loeffler, R-Texas, whose congressional duties kept him overtime in Keynote speaker is Gov. Bill Clements, Texas' first Republican governor this century who says Carter's defeat is the prime aim of his administration.

Following Clements to the speakers stand will be former Texas Gov. John B. Connally, who lost his presidential nomination bid to Reagan and Bush. He and Clements habe been teaming in an intensive grass roots campaign throughout Texas' non-urban areas.

"Texas has been the eye of the storm in every presidential election this century and it is the battleground against this time," Upham told the State Republican Executive Committee Thursday afternoon in a pre-convention meeting.

"We are going to have more operations going in Texas and more volunteers working than ever before," Upham promised. "We have a structure in place that is better than it has ever been before in Texas," Ernest Angelo, Midland, state campaign director for Reagan-Bush.

Candidates Exchange Accusations

WASHINGTON (AP) -President Carter has told America's Jews that the seeds of trust sown by his administration upon the deserts of the Mideast already have flowered into the only peace ever known by Israel, and "We will stay the course, no matter how difficult."

"I cannot assure you we will always agree with every position taken by the government of Israel," the president said Thursday night in an address to B'nai B'rith. "But whatever differences arise, they will never affect our commitment to a secure Israel."

Carter was received warmly but without jubilation by the Jewish service organization, as he defended policies which Ronald Reagan and John B. Anderson had attacked before the same audience.

Reagan, the Republican candidate, had said a night earlier that Carter put Israel in danger with weak and confusing policies. Anderson, who appeared just hours before the president, said Carter was using the Mideast for political purposes. Reagan, campaigning in the South on Thursday, also accused the Carter administration of playing fast and loose with national security for political gain. In Jacksonville, Fla.,

Reagan said the president's political operatives had engineered leaks about the "Stealth" project to thwart enemy radar, thereby breaching one of the biggest military secrets "since the Manhattan Project."

Anderson, meanwhile, received financial news which could boost his bid to become a major contender this fall. The Federal Election Commission ruled 5 to 1 that the independent challenger is entitled. retroactively, to a share of

Cubans Get Sponsors

DALLAS (AP) - Two owners of a halfway house for homosexual runaways here say they sponsored at least 12 homosexual Cubans from the Fort Chaffee, Ark., refugee camp, the Dallas Morning News reported.

Scott Helber and Melvin Mitchell told the newspaper the Cubans were flown to Dallas individually or in small groups during June, and stayed with them until they could be turned over to other homosexual sponsors.

The sponsors paid Helber $50 for each Cuban to pay for expenses related to the sponsorship program, such as food and clothing, he said.

"It was a disaster," one sponsor was quoted as saying by the newspaper. "Can you imagine spending two months in a refugee camp and then being shipped off to a place like this? What a great impression of America. Fort Chaffee sent these people to anyone who would take them."

At least 40 foes of Iran's revolutionary regime were killed and "a number" of others wounded in a three-day battle in rebellious Kurdistan, Tehran Radio reported.

The government broadcast said one government soldier was killed and two others wounded in the three-day battle, which it said took place in an area between the Kurdish towns of

Merivan and Sanandaj in northwest

The joint staff of the army and the revolutionary guard corps in Sanandaj, 250 miles west of Tehran, was quoted as saying the "counterrevolutionaries" were opposed by a combined force of army troops, revolutionary guards and progovernment Kurdish tribal warriors.

Since the 1979 revolution that overthrew the shah, the Kurds in northwest Iran have been fighting a guerrilla campaign for the autonomy they were never strong enough to win from the monarchy.

In January, the revolutionary government gave the Kurds a "final ultimatum" to end their revolt or be punished. Since then, hundreds of Kurds have been reported killed in fighting with the army and the revolutionary guards.

Borger Man's Fate

Rests with Jury

HOUSTON (AP) - A jury of nine men and three women must decide the fate of George Marshall Hall, a 24-year-old Borger man charged with capital murder in the death of a Hutchison County jailer.

Jurors began deliberations about 1:15 p.m. and recessed late Thursday afternoon without reaching a verdict.

Prosecutors and defense attorneys completed their final arguments shortly before noon in the two-day trial. The trial was moved from Hutchison County to Houston on a change of venue because of extensive pretrial pubilicity.

Hall is charged in the death of Jack Thompson, a 43-year-old Hutchison County jailer. Prosecutors allege Hall shot Thompson to death during a June 11, 1979 jail break in the West Texas Community of Stinnett.

Clyde Jones, 27, of Borger, made the break with Hall and testified at his trial that he took the jailer's .357 magnum and handed it to Hall, who shot Thompson.

Jones was convicted and sentenced to life in prison.

Last of Polish Strikers Returning to Work Today

WARSAW (AP) — The last of the striking coal miners in southern Poland were scheduled to return to work today following an agreement the communist government hoped meant an end to its worst crisis in 10 years.

Warsaw Radio announced that the holdouts from three collieries in Upper Silesia, estimated to number 15,000. agreed to return to the pits after reaching "complete agreement" with a government commission headed by Minister of Mines Wlodzimierz Leicak.

More than 200,000 miners and workers in related industries who struck last week went back to work Thursday after they were assured the right to form independent trade unions granted the strikers in northern and central Poland plus work-free weekends, pay boosts pegged family allowances and improved safety regulations. But the holdouts demanded management changes at their mines. The miners were the last to settle in the nationwide wave of strikes that began Aug. 14 in the Baltic port of Gdansk and won for the workers government promises of social and political reforms unprecedented for a Soviet Bloc country. The right to form unions independent of the official unions dominated by the Communist Party was the chief concession won, and leaders of the strikes that shook the country for nearly three weeks were making plans to form new associations around their strike committees. One such new union was reported to have held an "information meeting" in Wroclaw, 180 miles southwest of Warsaw.

Despite angry charges from Moscow of foreign interference in the Polish crisis, the AFL-CIO at a meeting in Washington Thursday voted to set up a fund to help the Polish workers "in getting their new independent trade unions off to a good start." The general board of the American labor giant launched the fund with a $25,000 contribution and urged other unions to pitch in.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, on Thursday condemned assistance to Polish workers by Western trade unions, calling it meddling. The comment apparently was prompted by an earlier report that the International Federation of Metal Workers in Geneva, Switzerland, had collected $121,000 for the Polish workers. But the AFL-CIO action was expected to provoke more heated comments from the Soviets.

Hereford Man Reported Missing

Hereford police are currently looking for a 42-yearold Hereford man reported as missing yesterday, and are also investigating several incidents of vandalism.

According to Capt. Ray Morgan of the HPD, Hugh Osborn of 110 Lake Street was reportedly going to Amarillo for a business meeting yesterday but failed to appear and has not been heard Morgan reported that Osborn has been suffering from heart trouble and high blood pressure.

He is described as 6 feet tall, 160 pounds with brown eves and short brown hair, thin built and fair complected.

Osborn departed Hereford in a blue GMC pickup with a white camper top, and police units in the Panhandle have been placed on alert for his appearance.

An automobile in the 400 block of Ave. G was vandalized yesterday as the windshield was broken with a heavy object, and a window at the clubhouse of the Hereford Country Club was also broken.

Several youths in the 700 block of Ave. G became embroiled in an argument yesterday that culminated in damage to a bicycle when one of the youths took a hammer to the spokes of the bike, then fled when police were summoned.

A red motocross bicycle was also reported stolen from Bluebonnet school vesterday. Police issued seven traffic citations Thursday.

The League of Women

"Traditionally, the league has gone on with its candidate events if there are two or more candidates who agree to appear together - even if somebody chooses not to participate," she said.

But if the somebody happens to be the president of the United States, the show loses much of its impact.

Letter To The Editor

I was in Hereford all night Sunday and never have I enjoyed the people at the Hereford State who volunteered their time and energy for our cause!! It is people like these who have profound affect on us. There are times I am ready to give up but then I remember how great the people are in Hereford that help with the Telethon and my determination to keep going is renewed.

Thanks to each of you. Elks and Elketts, I leave a very special love for you. God bless one and all and to all the people in Hereford for making this years MDA Telethon the success it was.

Sincerely always, Mrs. Betty Spring

Organized is a Talent

am writing this letter in pencil because I don't know what I did with my pen. Does this make me any less of a person? Certainly not. But it's a sucks his thumb. When we very good illustration of what I am writing to you about.

You have said time and time again that people who don't write thank-you notes. for gifts are slobs. Don't you realize, Ann Landers, that being organized is a talent, the same as being able to draw, or sing? Some folks have it and others don't.

I happen to be one who doesn't, but this doesn't mean I am less appreciative or less grateful than the person who sits down immediately and vrites a warm and witty note.

The good Lord gave me a loving heart to make up for my inability to get organized. I wish people would see that. You could help a lot by softening up and being less hard on me and my kind. The world needs more compassion. Please come over to our side. I am signing this letter-Loved Your Gift, Sorry You're Miffed

DEAR LOVED: You ratt ed the wrong cage, honey. am fresh out of good conduc medals for people who can' get their act together and blame their genes.

The way I see it, if a person can take the time and trouble (not to mention the money) to send a gift, the recipient should be able to find a few minutes to let that person know the gift was received and appreciated. No excuse is good enough.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Recently you published a letter from a 16-year-old girl who excelled in sports and could beat all the boys. She complained because the boys wouldn't date her. You suggested that maybe she wasn't a gracious winner.

I suspect there was more to it than that. Is it possible that the boys weren't gracious losers? Perhaps their male egos couldn't tolerate being beaten by a girl, so they retaliated by refusing to date

Girls should be gracious winners, but they should never feel they must do less than their best in order to pamper the male ego. These boys should grow up and realize that being beaten by a girl in sports doesn't make less any them masculine.-Disappointed In

Brantford, Ont. DEAR BRANT: Of course some boys are poor losers, but it was the girl who wrote. I sensed from the tone of her letter that she took special delight in creaming her opponent. This is a poor approach-

-no matter what the gender. Girls who excel in sports have rare opportunity to ace themselves in with the fellows. (I really envied them when I was a teenager!) To blow that advantage by being a gloating winner is dumb.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Regarding "Sister Who

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I Cares" (her brother still sucks his thumb at age 11), your answer, "He'll grow out of it," is not necessarily true.

My husband (age 28) still were first married he tried to hide it, but now he walks around the house with his thumb in his mouth constantly. I have gotten used to it, but our children see this. When I tell them to stop they say, "Daddy does it." Any suggestions?--Hopeless In Holland

DEAR HOLLAND: Yes. Show this column to your husband and say, "Shame, shame, double shame. Everybody knows your name." Apparently he operates at an infantile level and this might get him to go back into the closet with his pacifier. (P.S. Don't bet anything you can't live without.)

Planning a wedding? What's right? Ann Landers' completely new "The Bride's Guide" will relieve your anxiety. To receive a copy, send a dollar, plus a long, selfaddressed, stamped envelope (15 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

ARE YOU WISE, OR OTHERWISE? If you are wise, live a life of steady goodness, so that only good deeds will pour forth. And if you don't brag about them, then you will be truly wise!

And by all means don't brag about being wise and good if you are bitter and jealous and selfish; that is the worst

For jealousy and selfishness are not God's kind of wisdom. Such things are earthly, unspiritual, inspired by the devil. For wherever there is jealousy or selfish ambition, there will be disorder and every other kind of evil.

But the wisdom that comes from heaven is first of all pure and full of quiet gentleness. Then it is peace-loving and courteous. It allows discussion and is willing to yield to others; it is full of mercy and good deeds. It is wholehearted and straightforward and sincere. And those who are peacemakers will plant seeds of peace and reap a harvest of goodness.

Thursday night. The 15-year-old Jaeger beat Ivanna Madruga of Argentina 6-1, 6-3 to advance to Friday's semifinal against 18-year-old Hana Mandlikova Czechoslovakia.

Mandlikova, seeded eighth, beat Barbara Hallquist 6-2,

Defending champion Tracy Austin will meet Chris Evert Lloyd, whose string of four Open titles she snapped a semifinal. The women's final will be played Saturday.

McEnroe lost the first set to Lendl, a . 20-year-old Czech who is seeded 10th, but rallied to win 4-6, 6-3, 6-2, 7-5 after giving the largest crowd in Open history a display of his antics - grabbing his hair, pounding his racket, complaining to match officials, slamming the net cord, talking to himself and exchanging barbs with fans in courtside seats.

Lendl's hard passing shots scored effectively against McEnroe's serve and volley game in the opening set, but after that they began missing the mark. McEnroe, the defending champion and No.

year ago, in the other 2 seed, played several loose games, but not enough to blow the match.

> With the score tied 3-3 in the second set, McEnroe won 12 of the next 15 games to lead 3-1 in the fourth. Lendl came back to win three games in a row and was ahead 5-4 before McEnroe won the final three games of the match, including a decisive service break in the 11th game.

> McEnroe will face threetime Open winner Jimmy Connors in one semifinal Saturday, while top-seeded Bjorn Borg of Sweden will take on unseeded Johan Kriek of South Africa in the other. The final will be played

The third-seeded Connors, who won this event in 1974, 1976 and 1978 and has gotten at least as far as the semifinals in each of the last seven years, wore down Eliot Teltscher 6-1, 3-6, 6-3, 6-0 in an afternoon quarterfinal.

The night session, featuring Jaeger and McEnroe, surpassed the paid crowd of 18,288 that attended last year's final.

Austin, Lloyd and Pam Shriver are among those who reached the Open at'the age of 16, but Jaeger is younger -15 years, 3 months.

Rookie Rebounds in PGA Classic

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) - As a collegian he was a prominent golfer - the 1978 U.S. Amateur champion, a threetime All-American at Ohio State and winner of the prestigious Northeast Amateur Invitational two years in a row in neighboring Rhode Island.

However, rookie pro John Cook literally had to come out of nowhere Thursday to tie veteran tour players Gibby Gilbert and Bob Eastwood for a share of the opening-round lead in the $300,000 Jimmy Fund Classic at Pleasant Valley Country Club.

Among a group of 12 that finished two shots off the pace at 68 was Ken Harrelson, former major league baseball player with Kansas City, Boston and Cleveland and currently a television broadcaster for the Red Sox.

Few observers other than Cook and playing partners Eastwood and Patrick McGowan were aware that when he sank a 10-foot birdie putt on his 18th hole he was 5-under par with a 32-34-66. At no time was Cook's name on the leader boards.

"It was kind of strange not seeing my name on the leader board," Cook said. "I don't look at the board much, but it is a lift seeing your name up there." Gilbert, 39, had his name on the board most of the afternoon as he charged into the lead with a 33-33-66 with five birdies on the sun-kissed 7,119-yard course. Eastwood, too, had his name up early as he went around in 34-32-66.

Cook, who will be 23 next month, has won $27,000 on the PGA, although his best finish was a tie for eighth in Philadelphia. "My first five months I played very poorly" he said. "I had trouble adjusting. The scheduling was a problem, the day-to-day, week-to-week grind."

"I still haven't played a tournament the way I'm capable of playing. When you hit the ball good, you've got to score well.

Brewers Rally Past Royals

By KEN RAPPOPORT AP Sports Writer

Dan Quisenberry has put out a lot of fires for the Kansas City Royals this year.

But Thursday night, he personally fanned one into a roaring blaze.

Before it was over, the Milwaukee Brewers rallied for eight runs in the ninth inning to pull out a 9-5 decision over the American League West leaders.

"I can remember when Texas came in here and did the same thing against Quis," said Kansas City Manager Jim Frey. "After that, we went about three weeks without allowing a run. This was the type of situation in which we have gone to him all year."

Quisenberry, with a major league-leading 31 saves, was brought into Thursday night's game after starter Larry Gura — leading 5-1 — had given up singles to Don Money and Dick Davis at the start of the ninth.

Elsewhere in the American League, New York beat California 5-3; Oakland turned back Baltimore 7-1; Seattle trimmed Boston 7-4 and Toronto nipped Chicago 3-2.

Before Quisenberry. 11-6, lost it for the Royals, they had built a 5-1 lead with the help of a solo homer by Frank White in the fifth and a tworun blast by George Brett in the seventh.

Brett had a 1-for-3 night to drop his major leagueleading average to .401.

Yankees 5, Angels 3

Gaylord Perry and Ron Guidry combined on an eighthitter and Lou Piniella and Rick Cerone had RBI-singles during a three-run first inning to lead New York over California.

The victory, coupled with losses by Baltimore and Boston, put the Yankees 21/2-games ahead of the Orioles and 81/2 in front of the Red Sox in the AL East race.

Perry, 9-10, and the winner of 288 major league games, allowed three earned runs in six innings, giving up seven hits with two walks and two strikeouts. Guidry, relieving in the seventh, earned his first save of the season.

New York got four hits and three runs in the first inning off Frank Tanana, 7-10, who gave up 11 hits and five runs before leaving in the sixth.

A's 7, Orioles 1 Tony Armas, Dwayne Murphy and Mike Edwards drove in two runs each and Matt Keough hurled a six-hitter to lead Oakland over Baltimore, snapping the Orioles' fourgame winning streak.

Oakland pounded 15 hits off Baltimore starter Mike Flanagan, 13-11, and reliever Sammy Stewart as the A's snapped a seven-game losing streak. Keough, 14-12, struck out one and walked none and during one stretch, retired 11 straight batters.

Mariners 7, Red Sox 4

Bruce Bochte drove in three runs with a sacrifice fly and a single and Dan Meyer cracked a two-run homer as Seattle stopped Boston. The loss was the second in a row for the Red Sox after a ninegame winning streak had brought them to within 61/2-games of first place in the AL East.

Glenn Abbott, 10-10, was the winner with spotless relief help from Manny Sarmiento, who came up from the minors just Thursday afternoon to gain his first save this season. Dennis Eckersley, 9-12, took the loss.

Blue Jays 3, White Sox 2 Garth Iorg's triple off reliever Ed Farmer in the ninth inning scored Roy Howell from first base with the winning run as Toronto beat Chicago.

Farmer, 6-8, issued a oneout walk to Howell and Iorg followed with his gamewinning triple to right.

Jackson Todd, 3-1, scattered nine Chicago hits, struck out seven and did not issue a walk in going the distance. Chicago's Ross Baumgarten allowed seven hits, struck out four and walked one over eight innings.

LOS ANGELES (AP) -Once upon a time, Philadelphia rookie righthander Bob Walk landed in jail for throwing at Houston's Cesar Cedeno - from the leftfield pavilion at Dodger Stadium.

Walk Lands

"Yeah, they hauled me off for throwing stuff," said Walk, a native of suburban Newhall. "We always sat out in left field. That's where the rowdies sit."

Thursday night at Dodger Stadium, the 23-year-old Walk did his pitching from the mound, and for seven innings was headed for his first major league shutout. He settled for his 10th win in 14 decisions, a 3-2 victory over Los Angeles as 36-year-old Tug McGraw preserved the triumph with his 17th save.

The loss ended the Dodgers' seven-game winning streak, but they remain atop the National League West, one-half game ahead of Houston. The Phillies have a one-game lead in the NL East over Pittsburgh and Montreal.

The Phillies took a 3-0 lead on home runs by Mike Schmidt (No.36) and Greg Luzinski (No.17), but when Walk gave up a leadoff single in the eighth to Dave Lopes he was replaced by Warren Brusstar.

After Brusstar got the first out, Dusty Baker followed with his 27th homer, and the Dodgers were within a run.

Brusstar gave up two more singles before McGraw took the mound. He retired pinch hitter Joe Ferguson on a popup to shortstop and gave up a single in the ninth before getting 42-year-old pinch hitater Manny Mota, in his first at-bat all season, to ground to shortstop for the final out Shortstop Larry Bowa threw the ball into the dirt, but first baseman Pete Rose was able to dig it out.

Los Angeles starter Jerry Reuss was in search of hisseventh straight victory. But Schmidt tagged him for a tworun homer in the first the eighth home run Schmidt has hit off the left-hander.

Luzinski hit his homer in the seventh and Reuss, 16-5 left after seven innings. Bob by Castillo finished up for the Dodgers.

Expos 4, Giants 0

Rookie Bill Gullickson fired a three-hitter for his first major league shutout as he pitched Montreal over San Francisco. The 21-year-old Gullickson, 7-4, struck out seven and walked two.

The Expos scored their first run off Hargesheimer, 6-7, in the fifth inning on Chris Speier's RBI-double. In the sixth, Montreal added two unearned runs. Rowland Office and Gary Carter, on base with singles, scored when Cromartie hit a two-out fly ball to leftcenter field which went for double when left fielder Terry Whitfield and center fielder Bill North both watched th ball fall in front of them.

In the eighth, Parrish doubled to score Carter, who had singled and stolen se cond.

Padres 3, Mets 2

Pinch hitter Gene Tenace singled home the winning run in the ninth inning as San Diego handed New York its sixth straight loss.

Neil Allen, 5-8, the third Mets pitcher, walked Barry Evans leading off the ninth. Chuck Baker followed with a single that sent Evans to third and Tenace, batting for San Diego starter John Curtis, 7-8, bounced his single just inside the third base line to send Evans home with the winning run.

The Padres had tied the game 2-2 on Broderick Perkins' leadoff homer in the sixth. Perkins is hitting .467 in his first 18 games since being recalled from the minors.

So he knows about offense. And so, it would appear, do the Broncos, who buried the Green Bay Packers 38-0 in their final exhibition game. "We're capable of playing that way every week," Miller said. If they, indeed, play that well, they'll be shoo-ins for the American Conference West title.

But first, there's the small matter of the regular season, starting Sunday with a game in Philadelphia against the Eagles, a consensus selection to surge past the Dallas Cowboys and Washington Redskins and win the Na tional Conference East title.

Sunday's other games are Oakland at Kansas City, Houston at Pittsburgh, Baltimore at the New York Jets, San Diego at Seattle, Chicago at Green Bay, Cleveland at New England, Atlanta at Minnesota, Miamir at Buffalo, the New York Giants at St. Louis, San Francisco at New Orleans, Tampa Bay at Cincinnati and Detroit at Los Angeles. Dallas visits Washington Monday night.

"We've got a good (tough) schedule and people respect us more. We can't afford to play poorly if we expect to win. We've got to play like mad. Our last exhibition game (a last-minute 24-23 loss to Oakland) showed that." The Raiders, in Oakland once again (and maybe only for 1980 before moving south to Los Angeles), should have a pretty interesting quarterback battle going for part of the season. Dan Pastorini, acquired in the trade with Houston when Raiders' boss Al Davis sent Ken Stabler packing to the Oilers, has

"Lam" Jones. Oklahoma Grabs Texas Speedster

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) -When Texas speedster Bubba Hill signed to play football for the Oklahoma Sooners Thursday, Barry Switzer let it be known Hill wasn't just any old halfback joining the team.

"I saw him play and I thought he was the best wishbone halfback I'd ever seen in high school," the Oklahoma coach said of the/ star who left Texas A&M a week ago. He officially enrolled at OU Thursday. Hill was one of the most sought after recruits from the Texas prep ranks a year ago. The all-state and prep All-American rushed for 2,053 yards and scored 24 touchdowns his senior year at La Porte High School in La Porte, Texas.

Hill will have to sit out this fall and will become eligible to play next year as a sophomore. He was placed on athletic scholarship. "I've been running the wishbone for six years. I don't know why I ever decided to change from that to the veer. I couldn't realize this (OU) was the place for me," he said. Hill was said to be unhappy with his prospects for playing at Texas A&M as a freshman and left the team. "I was blindfolded. I was told all kinds of lies - not exactly lies — but just stuff they

Spectacular Bid Bids In Belmont

NEW YORK (AP) - "I think Spectacular Bid is the greatest horse I've ever seen," says trainer Gerry Belanger, who won't see the Bid in Saturday's $300,000 Marlboro Cup at Belmont Park.

The Belanger-trained Glorious Song, a 4-year-old filly, beat colts in three stakes this year and she ran second to Spectacular Bid in the Amory L. Haskell at Monmouth Park Aug. 16.

She will face males again in the 11/8-mile Marlboro seven of them - but Spectacular Bid will remain on the sidelines because of a weight assignment that gave the 4-year-old colt, winner of all eight starts and more than $1 million this year, 136 pounds. That was 13 pounds more than second top-weighted Winter's Tale, who was entered.

Nelson Bunker Hunt and Frank Stronach's Glorious Song, ridden by Jorge Velasquez and weighted at 117, is given an excellent chance of making this prestigious handicap her fourth win over males - one was the Michigan Mile and One-Eighth - sixth in 10 starts this year. She was made 5-1 in the early line behind Jaklin Klugman, 118, 5-2, and Winter's Tale and Temperence Hill, 119, each 4-1 for the race which will start bout 4:40 p.m., EDT, and be televised live by NBC.

Winter's Tale, owned by Paul Mellon and ridden by Jeff Fell, finished seventh in the Whitney in his last start but in two races before that won the Suburban and Brooklyn handicaps.

Jaklin Klugman, ridden by Chris McCarron for actor Jack Klugman and John Dominguez, was sidelined for three months with foot problems after finishing fourth in the May 17 Preakness but has won his last two starts including last Saturday's Jerome Handicap at Bel-

Lobiolly Stable's Temperence Hill, ridden by Eddie Maple, won the Belmont Stakes June 7, then failed in three efforts before winning the Travers Aug. 16 at over two years have passed since ABC News broke the mold with an evening news format featuring three anchormen rather than the customary one. And now, another long-standing tradition seems to have fallen by the way: ABC's position as the No. 3 network in news.

It's been four months since ABC's "World News Tonight" slipped past "Nightly News" on NBC and into second place in the evening news sweepstakes. This summer, for the first time, "World News Tonight" ran ahead of a competitor -

"World News Tonight" now has been runner-up to CBS' "Evening News" 17 of the last 18 weeks, the exception being the week of Aug. 18-22. The margin separating ABC from NBC in the evening news ratings is not a large one, though for July, ABC had 25 percent of the audience to 22 for NBC and 27 for CBS.

Ratings are important, but ABC News' ascent clearly means a good deal more to the man largely responsible for the only significant development in network news standings in a dozen years.

HEALTH

Finds it hard to sleep

DEAR DR. LAMB - I am a female, 61 years of age and having trouble getting to sleep at night. I've been taking over-the-counter pills, such as Nytol and Sominex, for two years now. I have tried many things to get away from tak-ing them, but they just haven't worked. I do have some arthritis in my spine, knees and shoulders and I take Percodan every night for the pain and also some aspirin. Could you please give me some information on how to break the habit of taking these sleeping pills?
DEAR READER - If

you're having pain, it's some-times difficult to sleep. The first question is, are you tak-ing enough of the proper medicines to control your pain so that you're comfortable when you go to bed? If not, you may need to make some adjustments in that area before you're successful in controlling sleep.

Most of the sleeping pills that people can buy for themselves leave a lot to be desired. Some have ingredients that can be harmful. Fortunately, the amount present in these sleeping pills is so small that it usually doesn't cause any trouble. The difficulty is that the amounts are also so small that they don't produce any effect and the person may decide to take more than the amount recommended. When this happens, these ingredients can cause severe reactions, so it's most unwise for anyone to take more of any of these pills than is recommended on the package.

Many of the sleeping pills that doctors prescribe also lose their effectiveness in about two weeks. That's why no one should take medicines regularly every night to enable them to sleep. Pretty soon you have both a sleeping problem and a drug problem.

New York, NY 10019. The Health Letter that I'm sending you will outline a program that you should follow to enable you to sleep naturally at night. It's very important to slow down at the end of the day, both physically and mentally, and develop a regu-lar habit. Go to bed at the same hour each night. Don't go to bed except to sleep. By following regular habits, such as those outlined in The Health Letter I'm sending you, you may find that you will be able to sleep without any sleeping pills.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I'm a 62-year-old female and I have been drinking distilled water. I've been told it is not good for me as it does not have any minerals in it. I have real good teeth so I would like to know if I should keep drinking

DEAR READER - Distilled water will not hurt you. It's true that some people get an appreciable amount of minerals from their water, particularly if it's "hard water." However, the most important mineral source for your body comes from your diet not your drinking water. So you should be sure that you're on a well-balanced diet that includes enough milk or other dairy products to pro-vide a sufficient amount of calcium every day. That will be one of the major factors in helping you maintain those good teeth.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I wish you would give some advice to us "skinnies." Not all of your readers have the same sort of weight problem. Some of us have as much trouble gaining as others do losing.

I don't relish gaining the extra 10 pounds I'd like to have to keep from looking so scrawny by stoking up on milk shakes. A doctor had my mother add those to my menus when I was a 5-foot-6, 100 pound student. I dained 100 pound student. I gained again when I got tired of drinking so many of them. I've weighed around 110 for the past 30 or 35 years. My question is, what should one use as a source of additional calories if one wants to gain?

DEAR READER - If you ust want to gain pounds of body fat, you can eat more than the number of calories your body uses. The same basic laws of energy apply to skinny people as to heavy people. You'll need to eat the foods that we ask people not to eat the weak people lose. to eat who want to lose weight, the high calorie foods that contain fat and sweets.

You can find out how many calories you need to gain weight by finding out how many calories your body uses under basal resting conditions. I'm hoping that more doctors will start using the old fashioned BMR test to find out how many calories people

The liters of oxygen used per hour multiplied by 4.825 tells you how many calories you use each hour under resting conditions. Multiply by 24 for basal calories for all day. Add the calories your body will need to equal the energy used in physical activity of all forms throughout the day. Then add more calories for weight gain.

You should start doing some strength exercises. Cal-

Exercise is a bit like diet. If you build up muscles with strength exercises and then don't maintain an adequate exercise program, you'll lose those muscles you grew and your weight will go back to where it was. Similarly, if you increase your body weight by gaining fat from eating extra calories and then decrease your calories enough, you will lose the fat you've gained. Basically, whether one wants to gain weight or lose weight, maintaining the desired level once it's achieved depends on having permanently altered one's lifestyle in relationship to both diet and physical

Removing old wax

DEAR POLLY - My light gray furniture has become discolored from using furniture wax. How can I remove this old wax? — MRS. A.B. DEAR MR. A.B. - For removing old wax you might try a solution of one tablespoon of turpentine and a tablespoon of olive oil in one quart of warm water. Mix well and use a cloth wrung out of this to rub briskly over the furniture. Repeat until excess is removed and the surface clean. Dry with another soft cloth, and when completely dry put on a thin coat of paste wax and rub to a shine. Go easy on the wax after this. Of course, this, as any suggested remedy, should be tested on an incon-spicious area of the furniture. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — How can oil paintings that are not protected by glass be cleaned of dust and dirt that have accumulated? — BETTY DEAR BETTY - Oil paintings should always be cleaned by a professional. To just remove dust you might try carefully blotting with a piece of soft fresh bread if dusting with a soft brush does not do the job. —

DEAR POLLY - My Pointer is a reminder to all who send rifts through the mail, especially when sending memorials. Please include your return address on the envelope. During a recent death in our family we received so many memorials and some did not have return addresses. As our address books are not always up-to-date it is very difficult, and in some cases impossible, to send a thank you.

A return address on an envelope containing money is also important in the event the sender has used an incorrect address and the letter must be returned. — SHARY DEAR POLLY - When house cleaning I carry an old toothbrush with my other tools, as it is great for getting dust and dirt from the wall-to-wall carpeting near the baseboard, which the sweeper does not reach. — MRS. J.R.N.

DEAR POLLY — I put coffee grounds around the outside of the house to keep the spiders and bugs away. They also seem to be good for any plants there. — MARGARET.

DEAR POLLY - I want to tell Mary Lou that I have a most satisfactory way to shell pecans. I put them in a pan and cover with cold water. Place on the stove and bring to a boil, remove from the heat and let nuts cool in the water. When cool enough to handle I slit one side with a knife and the kernels come out whole. The bitter brown part stays inside the shell. - GLADYS
