WITH COUNTRY NEWSPAPERS

Department of Scissors and Paste-pot—Clippings and Comments—Politics et Cetera.

Hall County Herald.—Congressman John H. Stephens was a passenger on the north bound Tuesday morning. He took occasion to shake hands with several friends on the platform. He is spending a few weeks in his district looking after his fences and making some speeches. He has been harshly criticized by several papers in the district of late on account of recommending postmasters whom the editors did not approve. It is the first time he has ever had a chance to select appointees and correspondingly the first time in eighteen years that he has had any general criticism.

Lynn County News.—One of Collier's book agents was in town this week and we insisted that we did not care to look at his array of books, he remarked that it did not require any brains to run a country newspaper. That's altogether true; but we were a book agent once and found out how little brain matter it takes to be a book agent as we had but few cells and only a few more now. It's nice to be able to have a business that requires no brains.—Hereford Brand.

You have fully explained it Bro. Elliott. We have heard of a number of book agents who became country editors, but have yet to hear of a country editor becoming a book agent.

Clarendon News.—In discussing the gubernatorial situation last week, the Hereford Brand remarks that Texas has suffered for many years, not so much on account of incompetency in the governor's chair, but for lack of business men in the halls of legislation. Our opinion is that said utterance should be made famous on account of the abundance of veracity involved.

BEGGARS AND FAKIRS.

Colorado Record.—An alleged blind man was working the town of Snyder last week with a most pitiable tale of woe. City Marshal Wolf took charge of him saying as he did so, "You come go with me," and started toward the court house. "What are you taking me to the court house for?" asked the blind man. "If you are blind how do you know I'm taking you to the court house," inquired the city marshal. He was examined by a physician, who declared only one of his eyes was out. Examination showed the fakir had $40 in money on his person and a deposit slip for $50 more. These are the kind of frauds that bring suspicion on really deserving and destitute persons who are often compelled to apply for help.

Lubbock Avalanche.—This same guy, rooster, duck, or fakir, whatever is the best name to call him, hit this town on his tour through the country, and "got about" over the city nicely, never making a bobble, a misstep or had to inquire the way. This serves as another proof of the Avalanche's contentions, that we should have a society to look after this sort of cattle, and see that they get nothing, but a rousing "get-out-of-town" and a notification ahead that they are coming and give them nothing. They would soon clear themselves out of this territory, and the public would be better off. There are truly needy cases, we know, and we are always ready to assist all we can in such cases, but we believe that such assistance should come from an organized society that properly investigated the case. This would place assistance where needed and eliminate the dead beat.

Hereford has been "worked" a number of times by fake beggars. When will the people quit giving worthy fakirs? Never. The Brand thinks it would be well for the City to pass an ordinance requiring all who beg or solicit funds to secure a "permit" before they hold out their tin cups and subscription lists. The average beggar is unworthy; many of them downright swindlers; and only a few deserve the assistance of the people.

On the Skunk Arroyo.

A number of Hereford's sport loving men enjoyed an outing last week on the breaks of the Canadian, hunting on the Alamocitas Canyon, the Skunk Arroyo and Los Seis. There were just five in the crowd and they did not kill quite their daily limit of quail, the limit being 125 per day. In the camp were: R. W. Lovelace, E. Cardwell, Gus Woodburn, Carl Cockrell and C. S. Payton of Amarillo, superintendent of plant department for the Southwestern Telephone Co. The day was filled with sport excitement, the night with fun making and the dismal howl of the lost coyote. All enjoyed the camp cooking especially with the abundance of blue quail which they all say are extra fine for the table or camp. The editor of the Brand was kindly remembered with a platter of this game bird, which, when properly prepared, is fit for kings.

Commissioners Court Meets.

The Commissioners Court of the county met last week in regular quarterly session and transacted the usual routine of business, allowing a number of bills, and passing upon the reports of the different officers. One thing the court did was to raise the bounty on coyote scalps. The county will, hereafter, pay $1.25 and this added to what the state pays will make $2.00 for the manrading animal's hide. The quarterly report of County Treasurer Roscoe Davidson was passed upon and found to be correct. The report, showing the receipts and disbursements of the different funds, will be found on another page of this paper.

Another Hunting Crowd.

Quail hunting in the brakes of the Canadian seems to have spread. Another crowd of seven men went bagging for quail in that direction last Sunday afternoon, three autoes taking the bunch over. They arrived late Sunday afternoon just in time to catch the full benefit of the rain. But Monday and Tuesday and part of Wednesday they tried their luck and were successful. In the crowd were: C. Smith, R. T. Money, Theo. Cochell, Clell Cochell, Ra Cochell, Payne Gilliland, all of Hereford, and Marvin Garner, county clerk Randall county. They returned Wednesday afternoon.

Thanksgiving Services.

Next Thursday, the liberty loving people of America will assemble at their places of worship to give thanks for the blessings of the passing year. At Hereford, the churches will unite in a service at the Presbyterian church. Elder G. A. Faris, pastor of the Christian church, will deliver the Thanksgiving sermon. He will rehearse the origin and history of the day and will also tell "Why the Day." A program of special music is being prepared, the best singers from all the choirs joining. The services will begin promptly at 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning.

W. Farwell of New York, a member of the Farwell family of Capitol Syndicate Company, was in Hereford this week visiting with his friend, C. R. Smith. He was here looking after some private land interest and other matters of business.

Mesdames Roloson and Price Entertain.

Mrs. W. A. Price was at home with Mrs. F. T. Roloson Friday afternoon, Nov. 14. This delightful function was a social tea, to which a large number of lady friends of these charming hostesses were invited. The cozy home of Mrs. Roloson was never prettier than on this occasion. Mammoth yellow and white chrysanthemums were effectively used to decorate the reception suite and in the glow of many tapers the effect was beautiful. The fact that Mrs. Price contributed the flowers from her own green house added to their appreciation. The dining table was especially attractive in its array of cut glass with tea service wafers and mints which emphasized the color scheme. A highly pleasing program of music and readings was rendered during the receiving hours by the following ladies: Mesdames C. D. Wright and H. B. Stephens, Misses Gallaher, Betts, Gregg, Black, Mounts, Pratt and Price. Another enjoyable feature of the tea was the guest book, a dainty little water color done in yellow and white, the handiwork of Mrs. J. E. Ferguson. After the guests had registered they were presented with favors appropriately decorated to carry out the color scheme. Other ladies assisting in the house party and contributing to the success of this, one of the most enjoyable functions of the season, were: Mesdames P. W. Price, Emmett Cardwell, J. E. Ferguson, Stephens, Arnold, Gibson, Short, Hawkins and Miss Belle Woodburn.

Surprised Her Husband.

Mrs. G. H. Guinn surprised Mr. Guinn last Monday night by celebrating his birthday. After night fall, the neighbors began to come in by ones and twos until some twenty or more were present and they began to make merry. A number of that always interesting game of forty-two was played after which the hostess served an appetizing salad course with coffee. Mr. Guinn is now past 25, but feels as young as ever, he says. The fact that the guests played 42 does not signify that he is near that age. All present enjoyed the evening and the hospitality of the Guinn home.

Rev. R. H. Purser and daughter, Miss Bonita, left Wednesday for a two months' visit back to old Mississippi, where the family formerly lived. A number of his church members and other friends were at the station "to see them off."

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Walker returned Tuesday night from a visit to friends at Granger, Texas. They visited the Cotton Palace at Waco while in that section of the state.

F. M. Drum of Endee made a call at this office Tuesday. He and Otto Elliston have a contract with the county to do a lot of grading on the principal roads leading west by the Ramsey place.

E. B. Black has been confined to his room and bed for some ten days with la grippe. His friends hope for his speedy recovery.

Mrs. R. T. Mooney and Mrs. L. R. Bradley have a lot of fine, fat turkeys for Thanksgiving for sale. Phone 75-2 or 3 rings.

English Friends Visit Hereford.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hazel of Hazel Court, London, England, spent last Saturday in Hereford. They arrived on the early train from California where they had been to visit the land of the Pacific and left for Denver Sunday morning at 7 o'clock. While in Hereford, Mr. Hazel in company with R. N. Mounts, visited some of the ranches near Hereford and went over the sections just west of town. Later in the day, thru the courtesy of Mr. McDonald, he visited a number of the irrigated farms and wells and saw one of the big pumps in operation. In the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Hazel spent an hour in the suburban home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Elliott, and their visit was greatly enjoyed by the members of that family. This is the first trip Mrs. Hazel has made to the States, but he had been to America once before. They came this time to attend the International Printers Cost Congress held last month at New Orleans, he being interested in the printing business, having two places in London that employ some fourteen hundred workmen. After the close of the Congress, he and Mrs. Hazel then began their tour of the United States and Hereford was in their itinerary. The real object of their visit to Hereford was to look at some land lying just west of Hereford, consisting of thirteen sections, in which Mr. Walter Hazel, his father, and a number of friends are interested. They have owned this land for a number of years, but none of them had ever seen the country nor the lands. He was agreeably impressed with the location of the land and the beautiful country, especially with the water supply. Both he and Mrs. Hazel were pleased to learn that Hereford was modern in many respects, finding the little city of the Plains with public water works and sewerage system, electric lighting and heating, commission form of government for the city, graded streets and many blocks of concrete sidewalks, and the number of substantial homes with lawns and flowers, the public buildings and other evidences of progress and advance civilization.

Mrs. Laird Hostess to U. D. C.

The organization of the United Daughters of Confederacy entertained the U. C. V. and other friends Saturday, Nov. 15, hours from 4 to 6 p. m. A very interesting program was rendered, which consisted of the following numbers:

Music—Medley of Southern songs.

Reading—Mrs. S. J. Dodson.

Piano Solo—Mrs. Gibson.

At the conclusion of the program refreshments of coffee, sandwiches and pickles were served and an enjoyable social hour was spent.

You've never seen a more festive array here of beautiful new things in house furnishings. Come in and enjoy the spectacle and see what it suggests for your home. We have just unloaded a new car of up-to-date furniture. E. B. Black Co. It

Birthday Surprise.

Some twenty friends of Mrs. W. A. Ricketts surprised her last Tuesday by calling upon her just at high noon with well filled baskets and taking charge of the kitchen and dining room. She was taken completely unawares and was not permitted to interfere with the secret arrangements the ladies had made. A bountiful spread was laid and all present enjoyed the meal to the fullest extent. Congratulations were extended and many well wishes made for her. The pleasure of the day was mutual.

J. A. Hasser spent the summer back at his old home in Indiana. He says that his old friends are interested in the irrigation projects in this county and asked many questions. They can hardly believe the wonderful story of the water supply, he says, having heard of the long drought that has visited this section. Many of them own land in Deaf Smith county and they, of course, want to see the irrigation development go forward.

Rev. J. M. Sherman, former pastor of the Methodist church of Hereford, but now presiding elder for the Sweetwater district, will be in Hereford today to visit with his son, John W. Sherman. He will probably fill the pulpit Sunday.

E. B. Black Company, the ever enterprising furniture house of Hereford, have received this week a full car of chairs; chairs of all kinds for their Hereford friends.

Banqueted the Board.

An item of local news that was overlooked, but it is nobody's fault that it was not reported; just thought the other feller would do it; was that of a dinner party given at the home of Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Henson just at the close of his first year's pastorate in Hereford, when the Stewards were entertained. A fine spread was prepared and all present enjoyed the occasion very much, especially the preacher. During the dinner, at which they lingered long, a number of toasts were offered and the Brand has succeeded in securing a copy of two of them which are here appended. The first is by John Sherman, the congenial assistant cashier of the Western National Bank, and it runs as follows:
Here's to the preacher and his salary small,
Who works all the time for us all;
To elevate our morals, help us live happy and right,
Is the problem that confronts him both day and night.
Yet when Conference rolls around,
A dollar for the preacher can scarcely be found.
We pay for our groceries, dry goods, "E-T-C."

But when it come to the preacher, we say "Oh, Gee
Let him rustle for his money or do without,
A preacher's family never gets hungry or wears clothes out."
So let's quit kicking about the salary small,
And punch up the brethren, one and all.

The second is by J. I. Walker, lawyer, layman, real estate man and irrigationist and it goes thusly:

I toast the gobbler that went to roast, without a friend who cared to boost; and later found that his friends all loved him not, but this he learned after he was shot. For a good, mild gobbler had he always been, though he lost his head to a sputtering hen; and ate of the seeds without reading label, until he found himself on Henson's table. So it is with the world says Uncle Davy, but we'll soften his grief with this good gravy; for we love this gobbler since he's dead, so we'll end this toast and wait for bread.

Children Taught More by Motion Pictures Than by Their Parents

Theo. Hansap, president of the Kansas Welfare League, in his address before the Welfare Conference said he believed that the Motion Picture shows had more to do with the teaching of the children of Kansas than their parents. He says that the children imitate the actors in these shows and get their standards of morality from them.

There are a few people who put the Motion Picture Show on an equal with the saloon and gambling hall, but it is ignorance that condemns the Motion Picture show. They should first investigate before condemning.

The Star Theatre is a good place for the people of Hereford to start an investigation. The ministers as well as all parents are welcome and the management would be glad to have them come. There will not be anything shown that will offend.

And For Three Summers Mrs. Vincent Was Unable to Attend to Any of Her Housework.

Pleasant Hill, N. C.—"I suffered for three summers," writes Mrs. Walter Vincent, of this town, "and the third and last time, was my worst.

I had dreadful nervous headaches and prostration, and was scarcely able to walk about. Could not do any of my housework.

I also had dreadful pains in my back and sides and when one of those weak, sinking spells would come on me, I would have to give up and lie down, until it wore off.

I was certainly in a dreadful state of health, when I finally decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I firmly believe I would have died if I hadn't taken it.

After I began taking Cardui, I was greatly helped, and all three bottles relieved me entirely.

I fattened up, and grew so much stronger in three months, I felt like another person altogether."

Cardui is purely vegetable and gentle-acting. Its ingredients have a mild, tonic effect, on the womanly constitution.

Cardui makes for increased strength, improves the appetite, tones up the nervous system, and helps to make pale, sallow cheeks, fresh and rosy.

Cardui has helped more than a million weak women, during the past 50 years. It will surely do for you, what it has done for them. Try Cardui today.

They are the fastest shells in the market. Their speed is demonstrated beyond question by the one sure test in all ballistic matters—the Electric Chronograph.

Then, too, there is the experience of thousands of seasoned gunners who have been shooting the Remington-UMC Steel Lined Shells ever since they came out.

The steel lining is the thing. It grips the powder—holds it in compression—puts all the drive of the explosion behind the shot.

Your lead travels quicker—you shorten up your lead. You cut down the guess work on lead and angle—you get more birds.

Your dealer carries these speed shells. Get them. Use them. Find the Red Ball mark on every box of shells and metallics you buy.

BRAND PUBLISHING CO.

Entered April 17, 1901, in the postoffice at Hereford, Texas, as Second-class mail matter. First number of the paper issued February 23, 1901, as the Hereford Reporter; first number of The Brand issued March 21, 1902.

Subscription Price $1.00 Per Year, Strictly in Advance

Any erroneous statement affecting the character or reputation of any individual or firm which may appear in The Brand, will be gladly corrected upon being brought to the attention of the publishers.

All reading matter appearing in The Brand marked "A" or "B" with figures prefixed or "adv" is paid advertising.

DISPATCHES report this week the first case in the violation of the "Bogus Check" law. A young man, having no funds in the bank, wrote out a check or two and passed them. As a result he is now facing a two years' sentence in the pen. This is a good law and one that should be rigidly enforced. Merchants and banks have lost untold thousands by the nonchalance gentlemen who live by their wits only.

WHISKY SHIPMENTS STOP

November 18 Last Day Express Packages Containing Booze Come Into Hereford.

As the new state law with reference to shipment of whisky into "dry territory" went into effect on Nov. 18, midnight, the last shipments of whisky were received on that day and Hereford received her share of the booze. Those who were at the station on Monday and Tuesday "seen a sight" that they will never forget—the express car was full of pasteboard packages, stacked to the ceiling. The next day the car was empty. Where all these were going nobody knew, but the thing that interested several of the depot crowd was the large number of original packages thrown off at Hereford. No doubt, this extra supply was shipped in because when spring comes the snakes in this section are likely to be numerous and as "snake medicine" will be hard to get, this precaution was necessary. The express companies will not receive for shipment into "dry territory" any more booze; not for a while at least. If the thirst gets beyond control, a trip to the wet springs will have to be made, each one for himself, for, as some claim, you cannot sell nor give booze away in dry territory.

"Your Time is Out."

So many subscribers write to the Brand when renewing their subscriptions that they do not want to miss a single copy of the paper, that the management adopted, nearly two years ago, the method of notifying subscribers when their time was out. One notice is sent and then, if no remittance is received in a reasonable time, the expired names are dropped from the list. The management regrets to do this, but it is a matter of business importance. So if you get a notice any time this month, it would be well for you to renew your subscription at once, as no back numbers can be supplied. The notice is headed, "Your Time is Out," and on the reverse side will be found the Yellow Label which has the date to which you have paid your subscription. If there be an error in the date, "kick," but kick as politely as you can and call the attention of the management to the error; it will be corrected gladly. Contrary to the usual custom of weekly papers and some so-called religious papers, the management reasons thusly about subscriptions: When a person pays for a year's subscription, he makes a contract for one year only and is under no obligation whatever to pay for the paper for another year if the publisher continues to send the paper to him. However, the post office department has ruled that if a person takes a paper from the office after the expiration of his subscription, he becomes liable for the time he so takes the paper. The Brand thinks this contrary to good business principles and should not be used by newspapers. Therefore, the management does not want anyone to feel under any obligations to pay for any "overtime" they should receive the Brand, but if you should be summarily cut off the list after "your time is out," do not feel, in the least way, censured or put out. Several, however, have spoken to the management to continue sending them a paper, and in such cases, the obligation to pay for back subscription is just as obligatory as any other honest debt. 41-3t

FIRST BOGUS CHECK SENTENCE

Fred S. Parks Found Guilty Under New Law and is Given Two Years in Penitentiary.

Fort Worth, Nov. 17.—The first trial on a charge of swindling in Tarrant county under the "bogus check" law was held before Judge Jesse M. Brown in the county criminal court Saturday and resulted in a conviction and a sentence of two years in the penitentiary. This trial was that of Fred S. Parks, who passed a check when he had no money in the bank to cover same.

This law was considered for some time before it was finally passed, and R. E. Kerr, secretary of the Credit Men's association, was largely instrumental in its drafting and final passage. While the law is not as "tight" as its promoters desired, it is believed to be much better than anything that formerly existed and is expected to have a decided effect when its penalty becomes generally known. The case was prosecuted for the state by Assistant County Attorneys Wesley B. Ammerman and W. Callen Bailey, and each was well pleased with the result of the first case.

Receives a Barrel.

The friends of A. J. Lipscomb are looking for him to return to Hereford any day. On Tuesday, a 60 gallon barrel was received by the express company marked to him, and his friends feel that he is close on the trail. Just what is in the barrel no one knows as they have not had the chance to examine its contents. It may be mineral water as he has been sojourning at Mineral Wells for several days, but we cannot imagine what he is going to do with a whole barrel of stale water when we have so much good, fresh aqua pura at Hereford.

These Questions are often asked by customers:

"What Does Mazda Mean?"

"Whence is the Name Mazda Derived?"

"Why is it applied to the Electric Light?"

¶ The Persian priest, carrying the sacred flame on a salver, is a historical personage dating back into the mists of antiquity. He worshipped a god of life and light and divine wisdom. Ahura Mazda, many thousands of years before the opening of the historical period. The illustration thus aptly indicates the historical antiquity and first meaning of MAZDA.

¶ As to the present meaning of Mazda, it is today not merely an unfulfilled yearning for the race ideals of light, truth and wisdom, it represents more nearly an accomplishment. Mazda is today "the mark of service," the sign of a world-wide scientific endeavor which now for the first time in the history of the world offers a solution of the age-long problem of light.

The "Common Sense" stands up.

Avoid Sedative Cough Medicines. If you want to contribute directly to the occurrence of capillary bronchitis and pneumonia, use cough medicines that contain opium, morphine, heroin and other sedatives when you have a cough or cold. An expectorant like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is what is needed. It cleans out the culture beds or breeding places for the germs of pneumonia and other germ diseases. That is why pneumonia never results from a cold when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. It has a world wide reputation for its cures. It contains no morphine or other sedative.
