

What Was Top Story Of 1970?

What was the biggest news story of 1970 in Deaf Smith County?

Plenty happened, in the realm of both "favorable" and "unfavorable" publicity. New industries came into Hereford. Deserving civic leaders received honors. Daring burglaries and controversial grand jury action brought the area state and nationwide exposure.

Look over the following list of major stories of 1970 and select what you feel were the most important, from 1 through 10, numbering them accordingly. Tear out the article and send it back to us, either by hand at our office or by mail to P. O. Box 873.

The selections of our readers will be compiled and reported later this month in a special tabloid section on the happenings that made the news over the past 12 months. Please mark your selections and get them back to us as soon as possible.

—Henry Sears named Citizen of Decade and Earnest Langley Citizen of Year at Chamber of Commerce Banquet.

—City residents approve 1 cent sales tax, by 3-to-1 vote.

—County voters reject junior college district by solid 2-to-1 vote.

—Wilson & Company opens meat packing plant west of Hereford.

—Tierra Blanca Elementary School, revolutionary new non-graded, no-window building, opens its doors.

—Area farmers endorse trial flights over area for infrared photographs to determine if plant and crop disease can be spotted quicker than otherwise possible.

—Citizens push Day Care Center and Public Health Clinic, a pair of long-sought additions, into creation in Hereford.

—County gives $50,000 boost to Deaf Smith County Hospital to help on charity load; and sends to the legislature a proposal to set up a hospital district for the county.

—Avalanche of maize buries 21-year-old man in fatal grain elevator mishap which took Fire Department workers and other volunteers several hours to recover his body.

—Pioneer Natural Gas wins disputed rate increase.

—Portion of Russian satellite imbeds itself in field northwest of Hereford, near Adrian.

—Hereford Whitefaces win third-place finish in district football race despite being predicted for last in first try in Class AAAA; Larry Wartes is coach of year; Mike Wartes is all-district and all-South Plains quarterback.

—John Aikin resigns as county attorney and is succeeded by Andy Shuval, after county commissioners balk at wage demands of expected replacement Rex Easterwood.

—Right-of-way negotiations start for widening of U. S. 60 west of Hereford.

—Farmers form Watchdog Committee to alert and unite area farmers about potential price-lowering factors as they occur.

—Police chief, sheriff lambast, county judge for mass dismissals of court cases without consulting them or the county attorney; with subsequent change in procedure by judge that touched off verbal battles with county attorney in courtroom over setting of trial dates.

—City issues $1.4 million permit for construction of 132-unit low-income apartment complex, sending city farther ahead of other West Texas cities in new housing permits.

CHRISTMAS CROWD — School bands and choirs provided Christmas music Friday night as residents crowded around the 47-foot Christmas tree on the Courthouse lawn. Other persons sat in double-parked cars in the streets for a short ceremony that ended with the turning on of the tree's Christmas lights.

Firms Were Concerned Though

Rail Strike Has Little Effect

The nationwide railway strike that crippled the country only briefly last week had only slight effect on businesses in Hereford.

Many local businesses were worried the strike would last longer than it did. However, a court order, issued only 18 hours after the strike went into effect, forced the picket lines down throughout the country and workers returned to work. Had it lasted longer, Hereford would eventually have suffered several discomforts.

The court order gave the strikers an ultimatum of going back to work or facing a $200,000-a-day fine for contempt of court if the strike continued in violation of federal injunction.

Commuter trains and passenger trains throughout the country were idle from midnight (EST) Wednesday until around 6 p. m. Thursday when the court orders were issued. Passengers, freight and Christmas mail movement was completely stopped during the strike.

Locally, business was not noticeably affected although the post office was forced to place an embargo on certain classes of mail.

Nolan Grady, Postmaster, said Friday the embargo was placed on second, third and fourth class mail except to 14 near-by states that are served by truck service.

"WE COULDN'T accept it for mailing, but only for one day and I don't think we were really affected," he said. "We did have several unhappy customers, though."

Newspapers, magazines, circulars, parcels up to 16 ounces and parcel post were not accepted for mailing at the post office, but that was only true for Thursday. Grady said operations were back in full force early Friday.

HE SAID that if the strike had lasted longer "it would have caused considerable trouble."

Holly Sugar, in the middle of sugar processing, was caught with only a limited amount of limestone, which is essential in its processing operations.

Bob Ginn, agriculture manager at Holly, said Thursday that the factory was facing a possible shutdown unless the factory could obtain additional limestone. The limestone is shipped to the plant by rail.

THE PLANT had only enough limestone to last through about 10 days of processing, and had the strike continued, the factory would have had to make some kind of adjustment.

The railway strike came on the heels of the harvest season and would have affected only two growers, Ginn said. Most of the beets are already harvested and piled in the yard and the only farmers who would have had to haul their beets by truck were one in Friona and another in Bovina.

ACTIVITY AT the local Santa Fe Depot was completely stopped Thursday, according to G. T. Slaughter, agent. He said the strike did not put the local station behind in any way because there were no trains that came into the station.

"It didn't hurt us although I expect it could have, it would probably have hurt big businesses like Holly, Wilson and Missouri Beef because they could not get their cars in," he said.

Wilson Beef and Lamb felt no effects from the strike although one spokesman, said it could have had it been longer.

"AS FAR as shipping meat, no, we were not hurt," said Vernon Swanson, "but as far as marketing, yes. It gave us a real erratic market on both procurement and sales. If it had lasted longer it would have drastically curtailed our operations, but as it was it did not disrupt things too much."

Stanton Places 17 In All-Region Band Group

The Stanton Junior High School band placed 17 members on the Class A High School and Class CC Junior High All-Region Band following competition recently in Panhandle.

Stanton had the largest number of members named to the band and had the largest number of first chair players.

The students, by qualifying for the All-Region Band, will go Jan. 15 and 16 to Canyon where they will rehearse with two directors, Dr. Garner and Francis McBeth.

McBeth, a nationally known composer and director, has composed two of the pieces of music which the students will play. Other pieces of music are Minnesota Mard, Africana, Battaglia and Chant & Jubo.

The Stanton band members competed against high school members from Canadian, Stratford, Groom, Gruver, White

John McNey

McNey Buys Into Bank At Dalhart

John W. McNey of Hereford recently purchased an interest in the First National Bank of Dalhart and was named chairman of the board of directors, according to Jerry Detwiler, president of the bank.

McNey and Detwiler, also a former Hereford resident, now hold controlling interest in the bank.

McNey has served as manager for Farr Better Feeds, a division of W. R. Grace & Co. Prior to moving to Hereford he lived in Ft. Collins, Colo. where he was employed by the USDA for 10 years and with the Denver Union Stock Yards and John Clay & Company.

He graduated from Colorado State University with a degree in Animal Husbandry.

McNey will begin at the bank in the near future but his family will not move to Dalhart until school is but next year.

Whitefaces Rout Big Spring, 96-74, In Snyder Tourney

SNYDER — The Hereford Whitefaces followed the scoring of Dana Rush for a 96-74 rout of Big Spring Saturday morning and advanced into the consolation finals of the Snyder Basketball Tournament.

RUSH THREW 20 points through the hoops — mostly on outside jumpers — to get the Herd off to a 45-26 halftime lead and Coach Ron Mayberry's crew coasted in.

Twelve players saw action for Hereford in the contest, the Herd's first of the year against Class AAAA competition.

Hereford played Brownfield

Saturday evening for the consolation title.

HEREFORD WAS in the consolation round because of its opening loss in the tournament to Snyder, 84-50, after leading throughout the first half.

"We just played well from the start," assistant coach Barry Arnwine said Saturday afternoon before the consolation championship match. "Rush got 15 points in the first half and he's the one that got the lead for us. We just really dominated the game. We worked hard on the boards and got a lot of points inside."

Keith Kitchens added 16 points, David Myers 14 and John McNey 13 in the runaway victory, with Blake Arnwine and Harold Schmucker contributing 8 points, Mike Wartes 7, Larry Roberts 3, David Hicks 2, Jeff Loerwald 2, Lester Mays 2 and John Sparks 1.

THE LEAD was only 16-14 after one quarter, but the Whitefaces broke loose for 29 points in the second quarter while holding Big Spring to 12. The lead grew slightly to 70-49 after three quarters and then finally to 96-74.

In the loss to Snyder, Coach Arnwine said Hereford played two games — a good first half and a "terrible" last half.

Hereford led 15-6 after one quarter and it appeared the Herd would run away with the contest. It was 29-21, Hereford, at the half.

"YES, WE were in good shape, then, but we came out cold in the third quarter and it killed us," Arnwine added. "They hurt us with a half-court press."

Snyder outscored Hereford 20-10 in that third period to take over the lead, 41-39, going into the final period and then held on for its 54-50 victory. Hereford hit only 31 per cent from the field in the game.

Kitchens led Hereford scorers with 14 in the game, with Sparks adding 13 and McNey 12. Myers had 6, Wartes 3 and Arnwine 2.

THE LOSS and victory gave Hereford a 9-3 record going into its final tournament game Saturday.

Hereford's next game is Tuesday night in Amarillo against Caprock. The Whitefaces' next game in La Plata Gym is Friday night, against Palo Duro.

School Offers No-Price Lunches

Hereford students will take home with them this week applications for qualification under a new free and reduced-price program on school lunches.

Depending on family income and the number of children in school or day care centers, children may receive their lunches for only 10 cents, 20 cents or free.

THE PROGRAM takes effect Jan. 1. The Nixon administration is sponsor of the program, which will force every school in the nation to offer free lunches to low income families.

Many school districts have said they feel the program will ruin their financial situation. Tom Harkey, director of special services in Hereford's school system, said the program is expected to cause few changes here since Hereford has offered free lunches for some time.

"TO GIVE free lunches does require some extra trouble and paperwork and a lot of schools have not been willing to do it, and they are the ones who will feel it the most," Harkey said.

The charge to students who can pay is 35 cents at the elementary schools and 40 cents in the junior high schools and high school. However, since some families find it difficult to pay this full price, the school will provide these lunches free of charge or at a reduced price to those children determined by the principal of each school to be unable to pay the full price.

THE FOLLOWING income scales will determine whether a family gets free or reduced-price meals:

Family Size of 1
Below $1,200 income, free;
20 cents.

Family Size of 2
Below $1,800 income, free;
cents if one child in school or day care center, 10 cents if two children in school or day care center.

Family Size of 3
Below $2,400 income, free;
cents if one child in school or
day care center, 10 cents if two children in school or day care center.

Family Size of 4
Below $3,000 income, free;
cents for one child in school or service institutions, 10 cents for two children in school or service institutions, and free if three children are in school or service institutions.

Family Size of 5
Below $3,500 free; $3,500-
$4,270, 20 cents if only one child in school; 10 cents each if two children are in school; free lunches if three or more children are in school.

Family Size of 6
Below $4,100, free; $4,100-$4,820, lunches 20 cents each if one or two children are in school or day care centers; 10 cents each if three children in school or day care centers and free lunches if four or five children are in school or day care centers.

Family Size of 7
Below $4,600, all lunches free;
$4,600-$5,320, 20 cents for lunches if two children are in school;
10 cents each if three children are in school; free lunches if four or more children are in school.

Family Size of 8
Below $5,100, free lunches;
$5,100-$5,820, 20-cent lunches if three children are in school, 10-cent lunches if four children are in school; free lunches if five or more children are in school.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers. (Q) My job requires me to keep in fairly close touch with some of my customers. To do this I must use my own car. Are my car costs deductible if I'm not reimbursed for them?

(A) The use of your car on company business is a deductible expense to the extent that you are not reimbursed by your company. Driving back and forth from home to work, however, is a personal expense and not deductible. Many taxpayers find that the standard mileage rate of 12 cents per mile for the first 15,000 miles and 9 cents a mile thereafter, is a convenient way to figure this deduction. It only requires a reading of your speedometer at the start and end of your business driving. Parking fees and tolls may be added to the mileage costs. If you prefer, you may deduct the actual expenses of operating your car. Include depreciation, insurance and similar costs but be sure to prorate them between the business and personal use of the car. (Q) For some years I've provided a home for my father. If he moves to a nursing home because of ill health will we still be able to claim him as a dependent?

(A) A close relative does not have to be a member of your household to qualify as a dependent. In the situation you describe, as long as the other dependency tests are met you may continue to claim your father as a dependent. Furthermore, if your father is in a nursing home primarily because of the medical care provided there, the entire cost of his maintenance is considered a medical expense. If personal or family reasons prompted the decision for him to enter the home, only those expenses specifically for medical care will be considered deductible medical expenses.

(Q) Can I deduct the pledge I made to my church's building fund drive? (A) No, however, you may deduct the amount you actually paid this year on your pledge as a charitable contribution. That part of your pledge which is paid in succeeding years may be deducted when paid. (Q) How does a farmer handle conservation expenses for tax purposes?

(A) You may deduct some of these costs but must capitalize others. The cost of structures or facilities subject to depreciation must be capitalized with the costs recovered through annual depreciation allowances. This covers such items as water wells, pipes, tiles and concrete dams. You may elect to deduct, within certain limitations, the costs of drainage ditches, diversion channels, earthen dams and ponds along with certain other expenditures. If you de-

Cultural Club Yule Luncheon Given Friday

Mrs. J. G. Gandy read Patterns of Love and Miracles of Christmas as program at a Cultural Home Demonstration Christmas luncheon Friday in the home of Mrs. Grady Parsons.

Mrs. M. W. Summer led the devotional and gifts were exchanged. Table was laid with a red cloth and centered with a red candle in the center of a green wreath.

Guests present were Mrs. Earl De Hart and granddaughter Michelle De Hart, and Mrs. H. E. Houck of Kansas, mother of Mrs. Summer. Other members in attendance were Mmes. Paul Corbett, P. M. Houser, George Parker, Ira Scott and Roy Thompson.

Australia, almost as large as the contiguous United States, holds only slightly more people than metropolitan New York City.

by MELVIN YOUNG We understand, through the grapevine, that J. W. Robinson, Jr. and Marvin Coffey have given up the game of golf. Or have they just given up playing as partners?

The pheasant hunters have hit town and every motel in town has been booked solid for months in advance by the out-of-towners who annually come in for the event. The local restaurants are also doing a booming business. G. D. Caison, owner of the Caison House told us Saturday morning that he had a record breakfast run — so big in fact that he set up a buffet line in order to serve them all.

We also understand that the folks over at the Red Carpet Inn were displaying a sign that said "Please do not cletn pheasant in the bathtubs."

Well now, that's a new wrinkle.

You know, we've about decided that the only sportsmen in the world more dedicated than golfers are the hunters. They'll get up at unbelievable hours in the coldest weather to participate and never complain.

We suspect that if they had to arise at 4 a. m. to milk the cows it would be another story.

And if you're having trouble getting your work day started, you might try this little "organizer," called "Things To Do Today."

The local Medical Auxiliary is again sponsoring "Project Christmas Card," and have informed us that donations can be made at either of the local banks and in some of the grocery stores.

For the benefit of those who are new in our community and may not be familiar with the project we'll try to fill you in. The deal was started a number of years ago and has been very successful and works like this. Rather than sending Christmas cards to your friends in Hereford you make a donation to "Project Christmas Card" instead, and the money raised is used for some worthwhile project at the hospital. Just before Christmas, your name will appear in a full page advertisement in the Hereford Brand along with the other donors, wishing all your friends a happy holiday. Late donors will be recognized the following week by the same means.

Project Christmas Card has done a lot of good in our community since its inception several years ago and it's a good way to send your greetings (locally) and do a little good for your friends and neighbors as well. We have a fine hospital here and thanks to such organizations as the local Medical Auxiliary, a lot of things have been done out there without the need for additional taxes. And that's always good news.

It's just a couple of weeks until Christmas and I'm hoping that all you good people will do your shopping early, so that I won't encounter all the crowds on Christmas Eve, when I normally do mine. And please don't leave too large a selection. That always gets me confused.

And as one radical said to the other: "What happens to our unemployment checks when we overthrow the government?"

Flower Show Winners Listed

Sweepstakes winners in the Christmas flower show held by Hereford Garden Club Friday afternoon were Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr. in the horticultural division and Mrs. R. L. Ethridge in artistic arrangement.

The placement show was staged in the Ethridge home with the theme, Everyone Loves Christmas. Arrangements of flowers, foliage, pine cones and decorative baubles were displayed outside and inside the house.

Mrs. Ray L. Johnson was general chairman of the show, which replaced the annual fall flower show scheduled for mid-October but canceled because an early freeze damaged plants which would have been displayed.

For horticultural specimens, first places went to Mmes. L. W. Norvell, G. W. Newsom, R. W. Mitchell, Wilson, Ethridge and Hill. Mmes. Wilson, Mitchell, Hill, Norvell, Ethridge and Manjeet won red ribbons.

Qualified flower show judges who decided the awards were Hereford women: Mrs. John N. Jacobsen Jr., a member of Hereford Garden Club but not an entrant in this show, Mrs. W. H. Gentry and Mrs. Jess Robinson of Bud to Blossom Garden Club.

Kandy Hill To Represent Dorm

Miss Kandy Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Hill Jr., was nominated this week to represent her dormitory, Smith 3 at West Texas State University, in a contest for Miss Southwest Texas at San Marcos in February.

Miss Hill will model in bathing suit and evening gown and perform a gymnastic routine as her talent entry.

Microfilming began in 1923.

Candles By Pound

Wax, Work Make Gifts

By SUE COLEMAN Women's Editor

Polished walnut candlesticks which Mrs. J. G. Gandy found during a trip in the Missouri Ozarks last summer sparked her interest in a handcraft which has resulted in a collection of distinctive gifts which will go for Christmas to relatives and friends on her list.

SHE WANTED CANDLES befitting the handsome holders produced by Ozark craftsmen, but when she shopped for them found the prices above her budget. A good craftsman herself Ruth Gandy decided to make her own, just as she wanted them.

More than 30 pounds of candle wax have gone into the many-colored candles she has made this fall, and she has helped a niece make others.

The wax, colorless, is purchased at a hobby shop, where she also finds the dyes and chemicals which can be added to melted wax to make a harder, clearer-burning candle, or to make the colors opaque.

MRS. GANDY HAS bought some candle molds, and she also molds the wax in various containers for an assortment of shapes and sizes. Vari-color effects are achieved by molding wax in a shallow container until it is semi-solid, then cutting it into squares before it hardens, as fudge is cut, or chopping it into rough pieces.

These squares or pieces are then put in the molds, using one or more colors, and wax of a lighter color, or white, poured in over them.

Striped effects, as in the par-fait candle which has a soda straw molded into it as an amusing touch, are achieved by pouring a layer of one color, letting it harden and adding the next.

SOLID COLORS also appeal to Mrs. Gandy, and she puts these candles in attractive holders or adds a wreath of plastic flowers or fruit at the base for pattern.

One of the wooden holders from Missouri is the base for a huge round white candle, wreathed with purple grapes and green leaves, which is a favorite of the candle-maker.

She has found other attractive bases, some to be painted or otherwise beautified, at dime stores. And objects not intended as candlesticks at all, such as small glasses and bowls, have been transformed to hold candles in the hobbyist's workshop.

The Hereford housewife is adept at other handwork also, and enjoys learning a new craft when possible. She is active in Home Demonstration Club work of this county, is currently chairman of the County H. D. Council and a member of Cultural H. D. Club.

Wheat Organization Forms Headquarters In Amarillo

The Texas Wheat Producers Association executive committee today announced that the organization will establish headquarters in Amarillo for its research, market development and legislative service programs on January 1, 1971.

Leo Witkowski, of Hereford, President of TWPA, said that also on that date, Bill Nelson, Amarillo Agricultural Economist will become the organization's Executive Vice-President and administrator of all the Association's programs. Witkowski said that these two announcements are significant moves on the part of Texas wheat producers to attempt to raise their income by capturing new domestic and foreign markets, initiating new and expanded production and marketing research and a more active roll in shaping government policy affecting wheat.

Currently wheat is a $100 million cash grain crop in Texas. The use of wheat for grazing and backgrounding cattle for feed lots adds about that much more to the state's agricultural income.

Witkowski said that at this crucial time of expansion for wheat and for the wheat organization, that he is particularly pleased to have the interest and service of their new executive officer, Bill Nelson, available to TWPA, for he is highly qualified from both education and experience in all facets of the association's activities. No stranger to wheat, Nelson was reared on a wheat farm near Hollis, Oklahoma before obtaining B. S. and M. S. degrees at Oklahoma State University and Colorado State University, and advanced studies at the Executive Institute of Organization Management and Keio University, Hirochi, Japan. Nelson's professional assignments have included eight years with the Oklahoma Extension, three of them as County Agricultural Agent and five as Extension Grain Marketing Economist, before moving to Amarillo in 1957 as founding executive vice president of Grain Sorghum Producers Association. In this capacity, Nelson was instrumental in GSPA co-sponsoring along with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, the first tours to the West Coast to interest High Plains bankers, cattlemen, and businessmen in "sorghum belt" commercial feed lots, and in initiating high concentrate grain feeding research at Texas Tech and research in meat quality of sorghum fed beef. Since these activities were initiated, new markets for Texas grain sorghum have grown to exceed 200 million bushels annually. In search for export grain markets Nelson has traveled to over forty countries in Europe, Asia, South America and Australia.

The High Plains economist has almost continuously since 1957, served by appointment of Secretaries of both Agriculture and Commerce, on cabinet level advisory boards and councils relative to agricultural policy, foreign trade and business development.

"For the past few months I have had the opportunity to assist the officers and directors of TWPA in a consulting capacity. I have been impressed with the potential future of Texas wheat and especially the current energy and dedication of the associations leaders and membership. It is with great confidence that I have recently divested myself of responsibility in the two agricultural service companies in which I was engaged since 1968, to now devote full time and energies to wheat and the wheat organization. Even before assuming full time responsibility in January, I will assist TWPA with their Twentieth Annual Convention in Amarillo on December 12, and represent TWPA at the annual board of directors meeting of Great Plains Wheat, Inc. in Washington, D. C. later this month and assist the directors' meeting of Great Plains Wheat, Inc. in Washington, D. C. later this month and assist the directors prepare for the National Association of Wheat Growers Meeting in Portland, Oregon, January 5-9," Nelson said.

Nelson is a director of Water,

Inc., a trustee of the High Plains Research Foundation and a member of the advisory board of the School of Agriculture, West Texas State University. He is an overseas veteran of the "I" corps of Army Engineers.

The organization's new office will be located in Suite 600, Bank of the Southwest, 2201 Civic Circle in Amarillo. In addition to Witkowski, other members of the TWPA Executive Committee are C. L. Edwards of Panhandle, Secretary-Treasurer; Dwight Hamilton of Olney, vice-president; and Ken Kendrick of Stratford, advisory director.

READY FOR SEEDING — A. F. Marnell checks the mulch made by the shredding of a drilled crop of sorghum. This dead litter crop could mean the difference between success and failure of seeding waterway grass. Marnell will plant grass into this litter crop early next spring.

Mulch Necessary In Seeding Grass

Planning pays off in establishing grass according to J. C. Brown, District Conservationist with the local Soil Conservation Service office here in Hereford. By nature, Brown said, people don't like to wait when they have their minds set on a goal. But he points out that in one case where waiting is necessary is in the process of establishing grass. Grass should be considered as a crop just as milo or corn is considered a crop.

Plans should be made now. Dryland planting of grass requires longer to establish and therefore requires a few more steps to insure a stand after planting.

Grass seedlings are very tender and delicate when first emerging from the soil. Therefore, dryland plantings need a protective crop in which to start early growth. This is best provided by a crop of sorghum grown the previous season. "Dead litter crop" is the common term given such a crop.

Grasses planted on bare, clean soil are susceptible to blowing soil particles. Soil moisture is also lost more rapidly from clean ground. A dead litter crop can catch drifting snow and hold more rainfall on the land. Many times a half inch of moisture during the critical growth period of grass seedlings can mean the difference between success and failure of the planting.

Brown said that plans should be made now "if you are going to plant permanent grasses. It costs from $10 to $15 dollars per acre to establish grasses and proven guidelines have already been developed through trial and error. Plan for a dead litter crop to improve your chances of success."

DEVELOPING TRAILS

BELLEVILLE, Ill. — The Belleville Junior Women's Club is in a campaign to convert nearby railroad right of ways into hiking and recreation trails.

Mrs. Terrell R. McLe more, conservation chairman of the club, has made a survey of trails in existence and those that could be developed.

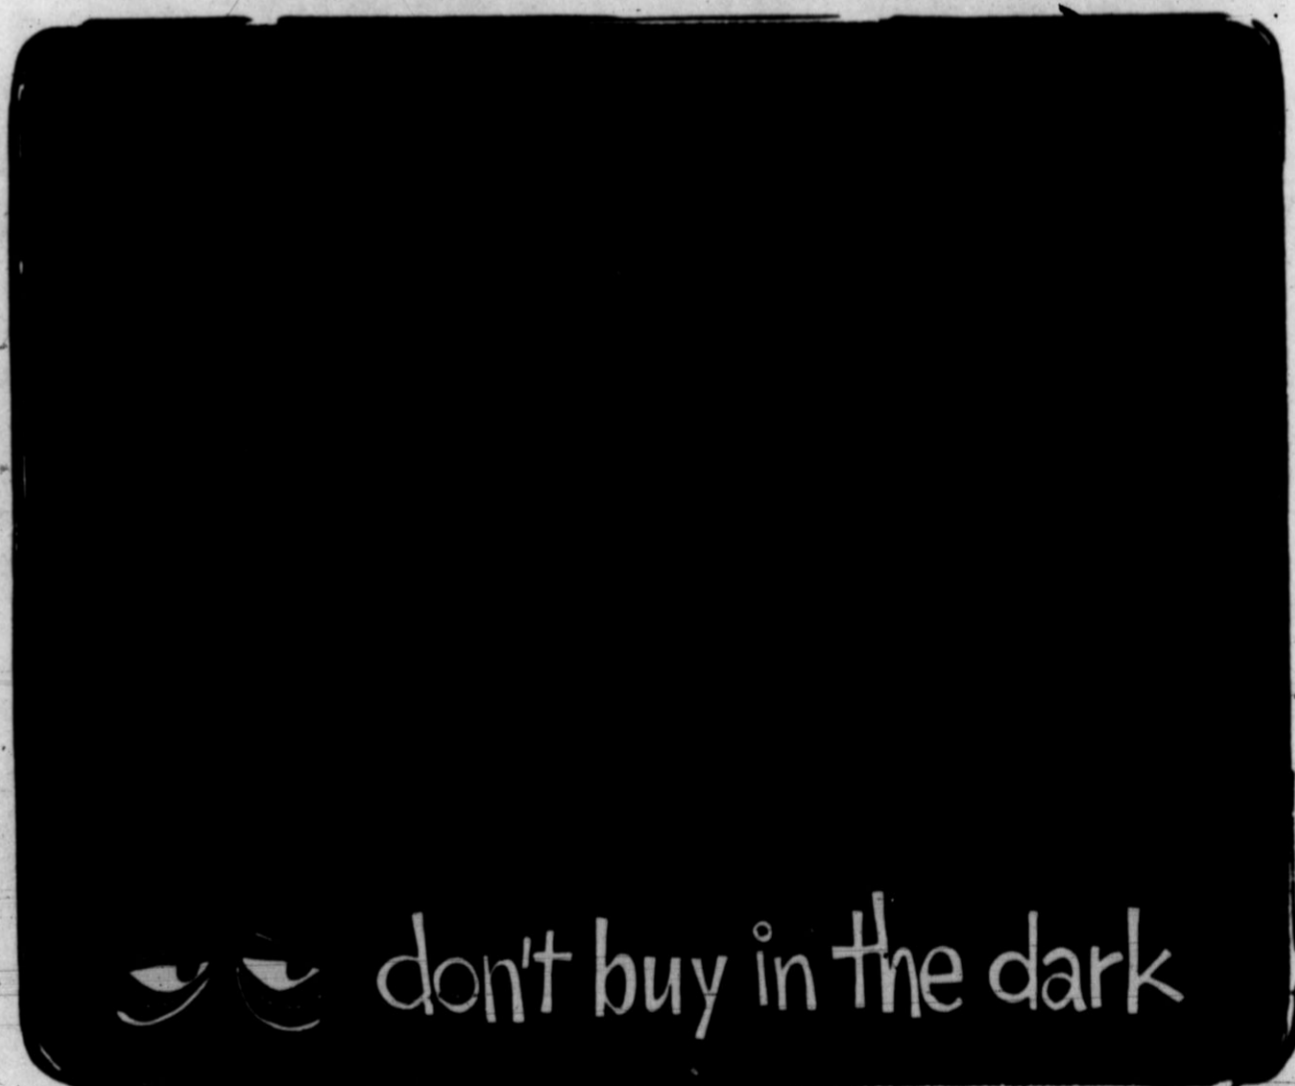

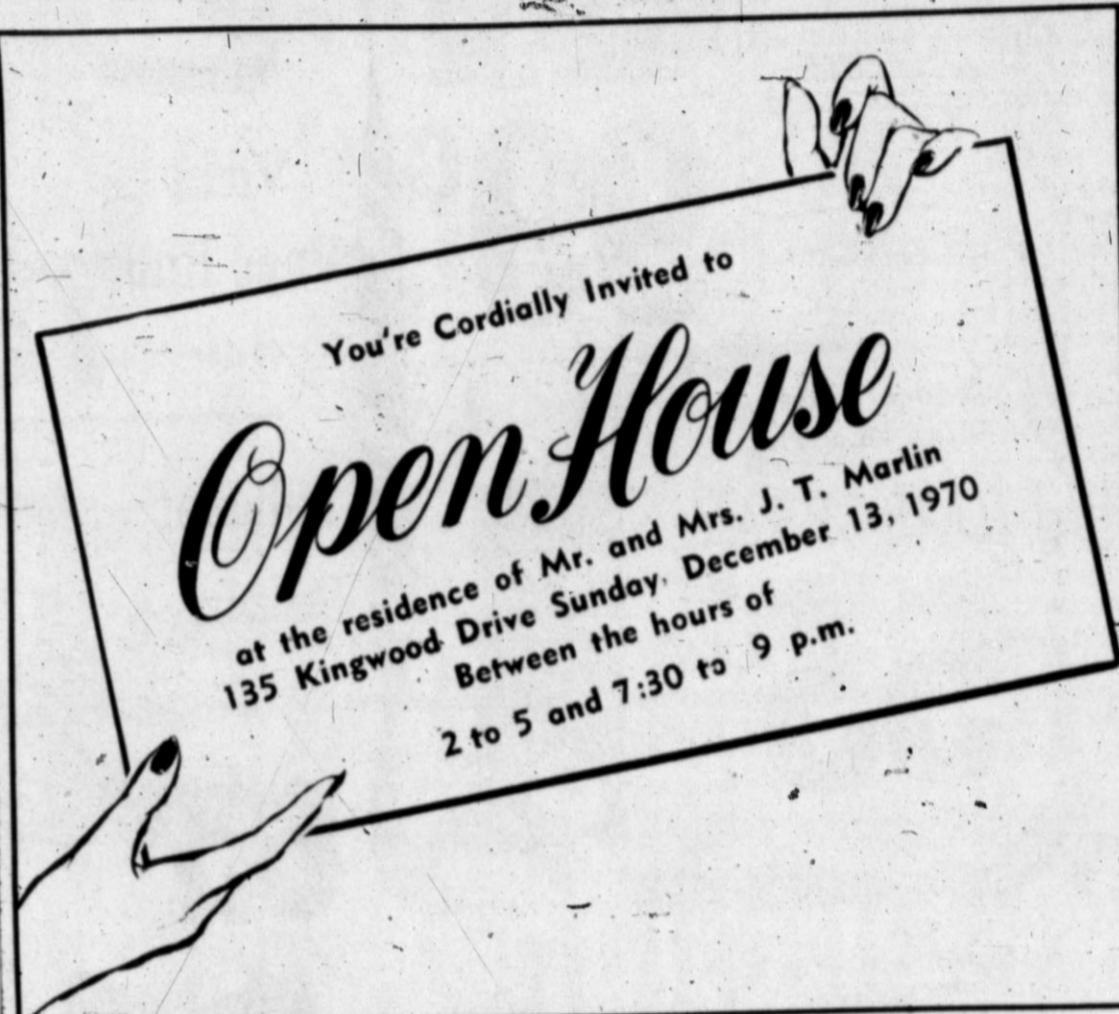

"There are miles and miles of unused tracks in the Belleville area which could be converted to trails or parks as part of community improvement," she said.

To support her argument, she cites other trails that were developed.

One is the 30-mile Illinois Prairie Path west of Chicago in DuPage County. It utilizes the old road bed of the abandoned Chicago, Aurora and Elgin Railway.

Established in 1966 under a 12-year lease granted by the county, present owner of the right of way, Prairie Path was used last year by more than 10,000 persons.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

There's one woman here who isn't in a dither about Christmas shopping, gift-wrapping etc. She's probably the only one in the world and maybe should have a monument erected to commemorate her.

IT'S BESS WERNER, who is taking such a relaxed view of the season because she has a system about gifts, which frees her from holiday tension and also, she has found, pleases her family.

She simply spreads her family gift giving over the year by making presentations on birthdays instead of Christmas. That's logical, she avers, because a birthday is a person's own special day and calls for the main gift of the year.

Then on Christmas, any little remembrance will do for a gift.

The giver can concentrate one at a time on just the right thing to get for each of his loved ones as their birthdays come around.

BY THE WAY, I caught Mrs. Werner with a surprised look on her face at the Pioneer Club lunch Tuesday, then helped her laugh when she explained the cause. She gave the luncheon invocation as the guests stood at the tables, and quite properly her head was bowed and her eyes shut.

At the end she opened her eyes and that was when she got the surprise. At her feet was an open box full of money.

Now Bess hadn't been praying for money, not even for a good cause, and she was startled that the boxful had just materialized. But she soon found that there was no miracle and the money wasn't hers.

Mrs. Burl France, at the place next to hers, had collected the money from members for a Christmas project of the club. She had set the box on the floor beside her own feet, and when she stood for the prayer she had inadvertently shoved it over toward Mrs. Werner.

Oh well, prayers hardly ever bring such a quick material return!

Heavy Load For Next Legislature

Editor's Note: Texas Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin spoke recently at an appreciation dinner for members of the Texas Legislature from the Houston area. Excerpts from that address follow.

By CRAWFORD C. MARTIN

WE SHOULD thank these legislators and offer our sympathy and cooperation as they carry out their future responsibilities.

I went to the Legislature more than 20 years ago, but when I look at the agenda for the new Legislature in January of 1971, it still causes me a great deal of apprehension.

Think about some of the challenges that face these members and their colleagues.

— A tax bill of at least half a billion dollars.

— A welfare crisis.

— Legislative and congressional redistricting, which is always one of the hottest potatoes of all.

— The automobile insurance controversy.

— The fight over what kind of mixed-drink law to pass, in line with the recent constitutional amendment.

— That's just a few of them. Maybe we could best show our appreciation to the members by pledging to meet again after the session to thank them. I'll guarantee that the members of the Legislature will earn their pay. That will be the most precious $400 a month any of them ever earned.

The average citizen can be pretty unreasonable. A lot of people want good schools, good mental hospitals, good law enforcement, good roads and so forth. . . but they want somebody else to pay for them.

Public demand for government services has shown no sign of decreasing, in Austin or in Washington. The so-called economy bloc in both capitals has been shrinking in recent years.

I BELIEVE in pay-as-you-go. The Texas Constitution says that's how it should be done, and it makes sense.

We're going to see more pressure in the coming years for policies and programs which circumvent the pay-as-you-go principle. I just hope we are cautious about this.

Long-term commitments to major spending ought to be screened more carefully than ever, or we will be saddling our children with obligations and debt for programs which may be sensible today but obsolete within a few years.

Our legislators cannot function effectively under a system established 100 years ago. We've got to stop giving part-time attention to full-time problems.

One of our commitments for the 1970s should be to provide, finally, a decent level of annual salaries for members of the Legislature.

A second commitment should be to provide, at long last, an adequate staff for these members.

We have consistently short-changed the legislative process in Texas, when compared with other states. We've held the lid on modern government by imposing horse- and- buggy restrictions on the Legislature.

A day of reckoning will come — and come sooner than we may think — if we don't make some needed reforms.

Our whole American system is founded on the principle of justice. But it seems to me that we have allowed the administration of justice to get a little too rusty — a little too cumbersome — and we're going to have a day of reckoning on this, too.

THIS WILL be one of the challenges your legislators will face. A State Bar Committee has drafted suggestions after a 5-year study. These give the Legislature something to work from.

Texas and Oklahoma share a unique system in criminal laws. These are the only states with a separate Court of Criminal Appeals. Some have suggested that we do away with the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals and put jurisdiction over all cases in one Supreme court.

I disagree. I want to keep the Court of Criminal Appeals; we should go one step farther and set up an intermediate appellate court system to handle criminal cases.

Courts of Civil Appeals help reduce the case load of the Texas Supreme Court. We could make our criminal appellate procedure more efficient by providing a similar system of intermediate courts.

Every state and the federal government must focus on our system of justice if we are ever to stop this wild ride toward more and more crime.

Right now, if a man commits a crime in Texas, his chances of being caught are only one in four.

If he commits a serious crime, his chances of being caught, indicted, convicted and punished are only 1 in 20.

JUSTICE GREENHILL of the Texas Supreme Court pointed out recently that in England average time between arrest and trial is not much more than a month. And the interval between the time of the sentencing of the defendant and the final disposition of the case in English Court of Criminal Appeals is four weeks or less.

In this country, it sometimes takes years for a law violator to begin serving a sentence.

Swift and certain punishment has always been considered to be a major deterrent to crime. What kind of deterrent do we really have in our present system?

On the other side of the coin, there are numerous cases of innocent individuals who have endured long delays before the courts clear their names, not because of the delaying efforts of attorneys but because of the work load in the system.

Revision of our juvenile code will also be before the next Legislature. We all know that juvenile crime is a growing menace with some figures.

SINCE 1960, adult crime has not risen in this country to any appreciable extent. But crime has jumped 58 per cent. Of all crime, the largest proportion is committed by boys and girls 15 years of age.

Much of the increase in juvenile crime can be traced to drug abuse. During the 1960s arrests for crime were up 11 per cent — but arrests for drug violations rose 165 per cent.

Known drug addicts in America must steal $35 million a day in cash or merchandise to support their drug habits. It's impossible to control theft, burglary and robbery until we control the drug traffic.

Members of the Mafia are already operating legitimate cover businesses in Texas. It is only a matter of time until the Mafia will try crowding into our local variety of organized crime — gambling, prostitution, narcotics and theft rings. Anybody who thinks this is not happening has his head in the sand.

WE MUST do everything within our power to keep Texas from becoming a happy hunting ground for big-time organized crime.

Organized crime is an underworld that shows little of its body to the average American. Our laws are really not written to combat this type of underworld. Our whole philosophy of law, of constitutional safeguards for the defendant, is designed for the individual criminal. It is not designed to cope with the existence of an underworld set up on a corporate basis. It's like trying to get at the corporation president by arresting the janitor. We can sometimes apprehend and convict the man at the bottom, but we can seldom get to the man who gives the orders.

That's why I think it's so important to provide for state wiretapping under court order. This is permitted under the Federal Omnibus Crime Act of 1968. In 1969 the Legislature failed to enact this law. I hope it does so in 1971.

These are the kinds of challenges your elected lawmakers must confront. I learned a long time ago that a legislator cannot enjoy the luxury of giving his undivided attention to one controversy. He usually has three or four swirling around his head at the same time. Let's give our legislators our sympathetic understanding.

H.D. CHATTER Final Exam's Over, Hurrah!

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

Today we're really celebrating as the final exam in the Psychology course was yesterday. This fall semester has been too rushed for me to think about Psychology at 6:15 a. m. every morning.

ANYWAY, I DID ALL right and have three semester hours and a passing grade. Also, a lot of ideas to think about.

The last three months while I was trying to work in some study time for this course, I kept thinking over and over that the day I enrolled was the day I should have had a committee running my business. Anyway I'll have time for some other things.

THE RED DRESSES and pants suits at Christmas parties are adding to the festive air. At Mrs. Albert Lamb's Thursday almost everyone was dressed in red. Too, the reds were pretty together as they ranged from oranges (yellow-red) to plum (blue-red). Only two ladies were not wearing red. Mrs. Roy Lee Wilson wore blue and Mrs. J. C. Morrison, white. The colors for fall and winter clothes are still bright and clear.

PICK A NEW FASHION beat as you plan for holiday parties, suggests Joanne Thurber, Extension consumer specialist in clothing and textiles. And remember, whatever you choose, think about the total look.

Begin at the top with your hair. Curl, braid, ribbon or bow it. Add the neckline news of chokers and dog collars. Then put rings on your fingers. Don't forget to give some thought to the finish line; legs should match with the right shoes or boots.

You may add some of this year's accessories to last year's dress, Miss Thurber says. Take last year's mini and add velvet pants.

IF YOU'RE PLANNING on something new, you can choose from a wide variety. Fabrics are rich and elegant, with lots of velvets, soft wools, jerseys and crushable knits. Necklines are high, and sleeve and hems are long. There's a whole rainbow of color, from purples, corals, yellows to muted browns, greens and grays.

Also found in holiday looks every year are crepes, chiffons and organzies in fluted, sunburst or fan-pleated dresses. Metallics are also a hit on the fashion scene this year.

Frill and spills are not compatible, reminds Miss Thurber, so wear party garments with care.

YOU CAN PLAN NOW for the holiday ahead and avoid the last minute meal time and party preparation rush. Just consider the

One caution to keep in mind is to use moisture-vapor-proof wrapping or air-tight containers to insure good keeping of foods. Tin cans are fine for cookies and breads. If you plan to use some as gifts, you may even gift wrap them before freezing so they will be ready to give away.

PLAN MAIN DISHES to include adequate meat or other protein food per serving. Be sure to pack them tightly to prevent the development of a warmed-over flavor.

Some spices and seasonings tend to become strong under freezing conditions, so it's best to season foods lightly. Add more flavoring during the heating process before serving. Store a few party foods and extra ice cubes in the freezer if you have space.

Include a variety of dips, since most will keep well for about six weeks. Appetizer and other similar dainties may be frozen in layers with a sheet of freezer wrap between them, with all the layers overwrapped. Pie dough for both pies and tiny tarts may be rolled into the desired size, layered flat, then wrapped. Allow the dough to thaw before shaping.

You can also prepare various punch combinations and freeze them. Plan your meal and party menus now, and make the best use of your freezer space.

Margarine was invented about 1870 by a French scientist, Hippolyte Mege-Mouries, as a result of a contest sponsored by Napoleon III. The new product won the contest.

Pupils To Hear WTSU Soloists

Songs by five West Texas State University students, voice pupils of Elsa Porter, will make up a program in Mrs. D. W. Palmer's home Sunday afternoon, following a workshop for the hostess' pupils.

The workshop participants and their parents have been invited for the musical and an informal meeting with the college music students and their teacher.

Climax of the program will be the Letter Duet from the opera, Merry Wives of Windsor, recently presented by the WTSU Opera Workshop. Margaret Hathaway and Lynda Sharman will sing this selection as they did in that production.

Miss Hathaway, mezzo-soprano, will be heard in solos, O Bellissimi Cappelli (Falconieri) and Richard Cory, by Duke. Miss Sharman's soprano solos will be Ravel's La Flute Enchantee; a Puccini aria, Senza Mamma, O Bimbo Tu Sei Morto! and To This We've Come, from Menotti's opera, The Consul.

Vicki Kendall, soprano, will sing Col Mio Sanguine Comprerei, by Stradella, and the art song, Black Is the Color of My True Love's Hair. Other soprano no selections, by Alicia Boone, present three numbers, a song by Shubert titled Wohin, Out in the Dark (Rubbra) and an aria from the Mozart opera, The Magic Flute.

Newcomers Hold Christmas Tea

A concert of Christmas music was presented by Robert M. Wert, minister of music at the First United Methodist Church, at a Newcomers Christmas Tea held Thursday in the Community Center.

An unfamiliar woodwind instrument called a recorder which resembles the clarinet, was introduced by Wert as being popular centuries ago and seldom heard today.

Wert played soprano and tenor recorders and Miss Melinda Watts, alto. Mrs. Wert was vocal soloist and Miss Suzanne Smith pianist for various selections.

Hostesses for the tea were Mmes. R. W. Eades, Robert Emery, Ben Larsen, Tommy Bowling, Gaylon Bryan, Richard Ottesen, Kenneth Klechak, and R. C. Hoelscher.

Gifts Traded In Auction At Party

A gift package auction was the unique form taken by the Christmas exchange at Calliphan Study Club's annual party Thursday evening, which included husbands of members. The party was given in the beautifully decorated home of the D. C. McWhorters.

Guests drew numbers for turns in claiming the packages heaped under the tree. As the turn came, each chose one of the packages or took a package already held by an earlier claimant, who then had to make a second choice.

After the considerable confusion and package-swapping, gifts were opened, refreshments served and an evening of casual visiting enjoyed.

Hostesses were Mmes. Roy Grubbs, George Warner, Clyde Cave, Hazen Woods, Bob Word, Tom Kendrick, J. T. Gillbreath Jr., Gene Parsley and Vernon

Swanson. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert H. Griffith of Houston, house guests of the Keith Simmers.

In addition to hostesses and their husbands, those present were Mrs. C. J. Crump, Messrs. and Mmes. R. P. Coneway, Emil Dettman, Alton Fraser, David Gibson, Millard Nobles, Samuel Milburn, Ansel McDowell, Jack Wilcox and Dale Furr.

Use Of Lovegrass Program Guest Shows Crafts

Ermelo Weeping Lovegrass seems to have carved a niche in the agricultural economy of the eastern Panhandle.

In a grazing management demonstration this past summer, the grass produced 253 pounds of beef gain per acre with stocker heifers, explains Ed Garnett of Amarillo, area farm management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. This was more than two pounds per head per day. A special bright spot was the grass' performance in a year or less than average rainfall.

Management Steps Cited Garnett points out that proper management of the grass was the key to its top performance. He outlines these management steps as indicated by the study:

1. Start with thrifty, healthy cattle.
2. Maintain a stocking rate high enough to achieve maximum harvest of the grass produced.
3. Rotate pastures to allow for proper regrowth (30-40 day intervals).
4. Fertilize according to a soil test during March, May and early August if moisture is available.
5. Provide free choice minerals at all times, especially phosphorus.
6. Provide clean, fresh water in a convenient location to pastures.
7. Control both internal and external parasites through recommended practices.

The "semi-dormant period" considered to be of consequence in studies conducted in other locations in Texas and Oklahoma was not observed during this study, points out the specialist.

Purpose of Study "Purpose of the study was to evaluate the performance of lovegrass under intensive management," explains Garnett. "Factors such as stocking rates, potential gain per acre, proper rotation, feed value of the grass and severity of the reported problem of semi-dormancy were of primary interest."

Assisting in the study along with Garnett were Wheeler County Agricultural Agent Max Hatter, Collingsworth County Agricultural Agent Don Reeves, Extension Farm Demonstration Assistant Dwane Scott and Extension Specialists Dr. Frank Petr, Dr. Roy Miller and Dr. Bill Clymer.

"Weeping lovegrass is no stranger to this area of the Panhandle," says Garnett. "During the drought years of the 1930's and 40's, thousands of cultivated acres were seeded to this grass to control wind erosion. Other acres were seeded during the Soil Bank program. Although the grass is well adapted to the sandy soils of this area and will produce abundant forage under low rainfall conditions, little information is available on its grazing performance.

Demonstration Outlined The grazing demonstration was conducted on a 15-acre site on the Verbon Smith farm near Wheeler beginning April 15. Smith is one of the state's "whole farm demonstration" co-operators working with the Extension Service.

The site which had been seeded in the spring of 1968 was equally divided into three pastures of five acres each and stocked with 30 "No. 1 Okies" averaging 410 pounds each. Horn fly dust bags, an 18 percent phosphorus mineral blocks were provided.

According to Garnett, the heifers were allowed to graze each five-acre plot for one week intervals for a 21-day rotation. After the first grazing period, the excess grass was mowed to encourage regrowth. Anhydrous ammonia was applied at 70 pounds per acre on March 25. On May 20, 100 pounds of 30-15-0 per acre was applied as a top-dress, and on August 5, 33 pounds of actual nitrogen was applied after the cattle were removed to allow the stand to recover.

Garnett points out that the stocking rate was reduced to one head per 15 acres after June 10 for 30 days and then to one head per 1.87 acres for the remainder of the grazing period due to the lack of summer rainfall.

Economics Discussed Looking at the economic picture, the per acre cost of establishing the Weeping Lovegrass pasture was $25.12 or $25.1 a year based on a 10-year life. Annual maintenance cost was figured at $4.42 per acre.

According to the specialist, total costs per acre per year including the land charge and fixed costs were $22.80. Variable production costs make up $9.80 of this total. Assuming a return of 15 cents per pound of gain, a return of $31.15 per acre to

Creative Art in the Home was the subject of a guest speaker to Summerfield Study Club

Thursday afternoon, when Mmes. Clayton Sanders, L. B. Lookingbill, J. R. Euler and Thurman Atchley were hostesses in the Sanders home. Mrs. Ted Acton was introduced by Mrs. Sanders to give the program, a talk and demonstration on handcrafts for home decoration with the accent on holiday decoration and gifts. She showed how a number of ornamental pieces were made, told what material was used and where to find it.

The opening meditation was by Mrs. Earl Lance Sr. and Mrs. Lookingbill led the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Mrs. Ray Johnson conducted a brief business session.

Exchange of gifts from a sparkling Christmas tree was a feature of the afternoon, and the management and labor above variable production costs was realized.

"Using these figures, a gain of 153 pounds per acre would be required to cover all costs," points out Garnett. "In the short run, a producer can continue to operate if he covers only his variable costs. This would require 65 pounds of beef gain per acre at 15 cents, the low for the area. Thus the enterprise compares favorably with other crops currently being produced in this area of the Panhandle as a potential for increasing net farm income.

"Increasing farm income — that's the name of the game! And this is also the goal of both the Panhandle Economic Program (PEP) and '376 in '76,' the statewide agricultural income program launched this year by the Extension Service." The specialist adds that production guidelines on weeping lovegrass will be available in the near future.

holiday motif appeared also in refreshments.

Mrs. W. A. Gearn was a guest. Other members present were Mrs. O. E. Williamson and Mrs. J. E. Woodard, new on the club rolls, and Mmes. Guy Walser, Jack Streun, L. C. Roots, Mack Noland, J. B. Noland, L. H. Lookingbill Sr., Earl Lance Jr., Lee Curry and R. B. Baker.

Christmas Tree Burn Scheduled

Members of Women's Chamber of Commerce Beautification committee met Tuesday and voted to ask local Camp Fire and Boy Scout groups to participate in this year's Christmas Tree Burn.

Christmas trees will be picked up, taken to a designated area and burned Saturday, Jan. 2. The group collecting the most trees wins $20. Second place winner gets $10.

This is a beautification project to prevent the littering of dead trees in alleys and possible fire hazards following the Christmas season.

American Christmas Not Strange To Gaby

By JANIE REINART
Staff Writer

Gabriele "Gaby" Lottner, American Field Service Student from Germany, sees nothing unusual about the American way of celebrating the Christmas season. Her country prepares for the birth of Christ in much the same manner with slight differences.

ADVENT SEASON, the period when people start preparing themselves for the birth of Christ, begins four Sundays before Christmas, Gaby began. Each Sunday one of four candles on an Advent wreath is lighted, carols are sung and Christians try to do at least one good deed a day. Parents tell their children if they are not good they will not get anything for Christmas, laughed Gaby.

Santa Claus comes during the night of Dec. 6. Children put their shoes outside the door that evening and in the morning find them filled with candy and toys.

THROUGHOUT ADVENT schools and particularly churches present Christmas plays using Mary, Joseph, the Christ Child, and shepherds as characters.

Two or three weeks before Christmas a market opens up in the city square with toys and other items for Christmas giving. Persons from all over Germany and Europe come to Nuernberg to purchase Christmas articles. In the center of the market a life size nativity scene can be viewed.

Each year a pretty girl between ages 17 and 19 is elected as Christ Kindel (pronounced Chris) or Christ Child. Until last year the girl was required to be an actress. Now any interested girl may apply.

SHE MUST FIRST write a letter to the city newspaper and enclose a personal photograph. The newspaper staff chooses six to eight girls and prints pictures and stories concerning each entrant. Readers select their favorite and vote by letter.

The girl must enjoy the presence of children because she will have to work closely with them during her two year term.

Throughout the Christmas season she dresses like an angel and speaks at the market place. She is selected six to eight weeks before Christmas so that she may learn her duties and practice speeches.

CHRIST KINDEL attends parties like America's Santa Claus and makes special visits to orphanages, hospitals, etc. Her speeches begin something like "I'm Christ Kindel and I've come from heaven to tell you..." and she tells the children stories with examples suggesting peace and good will.

A vice-Christ Kindel, or runner-up, is also elected to stand by in case Christ Kindel becomes ill.

Children leave their letters to Christ Kindel on the window sill "because she can't get in the house with such big wings," explained Gaby.

"SOMETIMES SHE leaves a note saying we were bad and don't get anything this year. My mother did that to me one time but of course I got something; you always do," she laughed.

Christmas trees aren't enjoyed in Germany before Dec. 24, or Holy Eve. A room in each home is locked with the decorated tree inside and wrapped gifts under it, and is not unlocked until Dec. 24.

Christmas morning families finish last minute shopping, said Gaby.

IN THE AFTERNOON they listen to and sing Christmas carols. In the evening they attend church, hear a sermon, sing carols or watch a play given by the youngsters. Later that night the Christmas bell is rung by the head of the family and gifts are opened.

Christmas in Germany has become more and more commercialized than traditional as before, said Gaby. "Like in America," she added.

Gaby, 17, lives with the Wilbur Gibson family at 122 Liveoak. Her American sister is Mona Gale Gibson, 18, a senior at Hereford High School.

3 Local Youths Initiated Into Honor Society

Three students from Hereford were initiated into Alpha Chi, national honor society at West Texas State University.

They are Dorothy A. Brownlow, Darrell A. Knabe and Pat-sy A. Manchée.

They are among 113 junior and senior students selected for membership. A 71-over-all grade point average on a 3.0 basis is required for membership in Alpha Chi.

Comedy Object Of Club Gifts

Laughter was the object of the gift exchange at the Christmas party of Hereford Chapter, Young Homemakers of Texas, at the Community Center Thursday evening.

Each member had brought a package with a strictly 40-laughs item. These were distributed and opened by guests, who included members' husbands.

The only real gift was the one presented by the chapter as a mark of appreciation to the sponsor, Mrs. M. T. Burel-smith.

A program in keeping with the season featured two Christmas legends by Mrs. John Bob Drake, one explaining the origin of tree lights and the other telling an old folk story of storks at Christmas. The prayer was given by Mrs. Jim Culpepper. Snacks, sandwiches, coffee and soft drinks were served as guests conversed. Welcomed as present were Terry Watson, Messrs. and Mmes. Bill Drake, Hugh Latham, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Behrend.

Members and their husbands present were Messrs. and Mmes. Dorman Duggan, Leland Shelton, Comy Rountree, Jackie Stallings, Bud Thomas, Connie Urbanczyk, Charles Whatherford, Drake, Culpepper, Burel-smith and Mrs. Linda Newton.

HARVEST END NEARS — Harvest operations at Holly Sugar, as evidenced by piles of beets shown here, is nearing an end, but processing is expected to last several more months. Officials at the plant said harvesting should be completed by Tuesday.

Holly Nears End On Its Beet Crop

Holly Sugar, after a brush with a possible shut down because of the railway strike, is pouring on the coal and the final harvest hauling is expected to be completed by Tuesday.

Bob Ginn, agriculture manager, said about 15,000 tons still are left to be harvested and that should be completed by Tuesday.

The factory has received approximately 600,000 tons of beets since operations began in October. This compares to about 350,000 tons for the same time last year when area farmers' crops were hurt by bad weather throughout the season.

"We have about 200,000 tons of beets in the yards now," Ginn said, "and we have processed approximately 400,000 tons to date."

He said processing is going along smoothly and the beets that are still in the yard are keeping although cooler weather would insure they would not spoil.

Sugar content is holding steady at 13.42 per cent, considerably higher the percentage at this time last year.

TSTI Offers Course For Shoeing Horses

A school for farriers or horse-shoers will be one of the many evening class programs to be offered at Texas State Technical Institute during the school's second trimester of operation.

Enrollment for the spring trimester evening classes will begin at 7 p. m., Jan. 5 in the Educational Building, located across the street from the entrance to Bell Helicopter.

In addition to the farrier's class there will be 18 other programs made available to evening students.

The Farriers school will be offered as a short course and will meet each Wednesday from 7 to 10 p. m. for five consecutive weeks, according to Bill Holzapple, head of the T. S. T. I. Farm and Ranch Department.

The purpose of the course, says Holzapple, is to teach students the art of trimming and shoeing and the corrective measures necessary for the improvement of a horse's performance through proper selection of shoe trimming, and corrective shoeing.

Those taking the farrier's course will also be instructed in the anatomy of the skeletal structure of the horse in order to be able to follow correct practices in working, training, and the restraint of animals for safety.

For full information on the course, call or write Holzapple at T. S. T. I., Box 4228, Amarillo.

Another new course that will begin in January is a class in Silk Screen Processing which will be taught one night each week.

The course will consist of instruction in the composition, lettering, color and design required for commercial silk screen operations, according to Bob Bayle, head of the T. S. T. I. Art Department.

The course will also include laboratory work in the practical application of color mixing, making, screen cutting photographic stencil and the actual screen making, screen cutting photographic stencil and the actual screen painting on various materials, said Bayle.

The teaching of the commercial applications of silk screen processing will be the primary function of the course, he said.

Other Evening Class offerings include, courses in: Aircraft Electrical Systems and Components; Aircraft Hydraulics System; and Airframe Mechanics Refresher Course.

In the Art field, other evening classes include basic drawing, painting (oil and water), fashion illustration, figure drawing and lettering.

A 15-week course in both basic and advanced shorthand and typing for technology and industry is being offered by the Technical Communications department.

Other evening courses being offered include: blueprint interpretation; Mechanical and Aeronautical drawing; basic wood-working and cabinet making;

and a course in Small Engine Mechanics.

Animal genetics and problems in ranch production are also being included in the Evening Class offerings by the Livestock and Ranch Department.

A course in Business Math will be taught by Joel Griffith, who is in charge of the math, physics and human relations departments at TSTI.

Tuition and fees will vary with the different course offerings, but should average approximately $25 for a 45-hour evening course.

Pre-enrollments are being accepted for all classes at this time, says Verdel Turner, school registrar.

Students attending either full or part-time classes at the Mid-Continent Campus of TSTI are eligible to rent either two, three or four bedroom homes located on the campus.

For further information contact the TSTI Information Office.

Farm, Ranch Leaders Meet To Select Beef For Dinner

Deaf Smith County ranchers and cattlemen will eat steak and talk research at a meeting Wednesday night at the Hereford Country Club.

Oscar Easley, Joe Easley, Jim Sears and Harlan Vander Zee, along with Hi-Pro Feeds and Farr Bettler Feeds, will host area cattlemen with a briefing on the West Texas State University Nance Ranch project.

The Nance Ranch, five miles east of the WTSU campus, was donated to the university by Mrs. Lucille Nance Jones, widow of George Nance, and her husband, L. L. Jones. Ranchers around the Tri-State area are being briefed on the significance of this new project to the High Plains cattle business.

Dr. Charles Smallwood, dean of the school of agriculture at WTSU, will be at the meeting in Hereford to discuss the future of the Nance Ranch and answer questions and take suggestions from Deaf Smith County cattle people.

Also at the meeting will be James A. Potts, vice-president of Taylor-Evans, Inc., and Carroll Doshier, an area insurance man and rancher-farmer who, along with others, are assisting the university to coordinate the project with area ranchers in equipping and stocking the ranch.

Ranchers of this area are being invited to the meeting by letter and phone. Anyone interested in the project should call Homer Garrison at 364-2435 for additional information.

It's Not Hard To Select Beef

COLLEGE STATION — The buying of beef for the family table or for the home freezer often turns into a chore. But, advises W. W. Bailey, Extension livestock and meat specialist, it need not be.

Meat, he notes, has been graded for quality, how palatable it will be when served, for many years. Most steaks and roasts are cut from the top three grades, Prime, Choice and Good. Choice quality will have a bright cherry red color and flecks of fat intermingled with lean (marbling).

The lean will be fine in texture and firm in appearance. The outside fat on a roast or steak grading Choice should be a half-inch or less. All of these can be noted on a cut of meat in the self-service counter, Bailey said.

When a side or quarter of beef is purchased for the home freezer, it is an easy matter to purchase the desired quality grade. However, this is not all of the needed information. Choice grade carcasses can have from two-tenths to an inch of outside fat. No one wants to buy outside fat at a high price and then trim it off and there is a solution, says Bailey.

To meet the changing conditions, the U. S. Department of Agriculture in 1965 started another kind of grading which indicates the quantity of salable meat on a carcass.

These are known as yield grades and are numbered from 1 to 5. Yield grade 1 carcasses are a resident of this area since 1965, when he moved from Tucumcari, N.M. He was found dead of an apparent heart attack shortly after noon Thursday, beside his tractor in a field where he was at work.

Born March 22, 1918 at Dalt, he married Tomasita Quintana Dec. 20, 1945, at Corazon, N.M.

To get the most from beef purchases, the best quality grades should be used in combination with the newer yield grades.

With the addition of the interim session, it also is possible for a student to earn as many as 50 hours a year. "Someone who wanted to could complete his undergraduate career in three years instead of four," Dr. Jones remarked.

According to the new calendar fall semester 1972 will begin on Sept. 1 with the dates for the other sessions following closely those of the 1971-72 academic year.

"The revised calendar will give students almost four months in which to earn money for school, travel or whatever," Dr. Jones said. "It also will be possible for faculty to increase their earnings either by taking on the additional teaching loads available or by using the time for outside employment."

"We are not making them work, but if they have enough pride that they want to earn their own lunch, then we think this is wonderful and we are not about to discourage it," Harkey said.

"There are other children that fall under these income levels that could get free lunches but probably won't. Some have already told us they will wear the applications up, that they don't want free lunches."

THE PROGRAM will be administered, he said, so that there will be no outward indication of which children are on free lunches and which are paying. No child will know which children are getting free lunches unless the child himself tells someone about it, Harkey said.

The state will reimburse the school 30 cents for each free or reduced lunch it provides. With that provision, Harkey said, the local school system should not be set back at all by the new federal program.

The lunch consists of a meat or meal alternate; two vegetables, or one vegetable and one fruit, or two fruits; bread; butter; and milk.

FAMILIES WHO feel their children may be eligible for free or reduced price lunches are urged to complete the applications and return them to the principal at the school where their child attends. Additional copies may be obtained at the principal's office.

Harkey said each principal will review each application promptly and notify the family within seven school days as to the decision made.

ALL information provided on the application will be held in the strictest confidence, Harkey said. There is a precise income scale that will determine a family's eligibility, but Harkey said the school will make exceptions in unusual circumstances or hardships which affect the family's ability to pay for school lunches.

FOR EXAMPLE, free or reduced lunches probably would be allowed when a family is hit by prolonged illness; unexpected expenses due to fire, flood or other disaster or this nature; seasonal unemployment; and similar emergency situations.

Any family not satisfied with a principal's decision on its application may request a hearing with Harkey to appeal. The request may be made orally or in writing to Harkey at the School Business Office, Avenue F and Union, 364-0606.

The school district's formal free and reduced price policy statement and the procedure that will be followed when a decision is appealed are on file in the principal's office at each school and may be reviewed by any interested person.

VFW Seeks Servicemen's Names, Addresses For Surprise Message

The local unit of the Veterans of Foreign Wars is sponsoring a series of radiogram Christmas messages to Hereford area military personnel who are stationed overseas.

Members of the VFW are trying to get mailing addresses of every local person serving in another country.

The name and address must be complete, serial number and all, just as if we were sending a package or something else," said Mrs. Wayne Driskill.

A message will be sent to each by a local amateur radio operator. No charge is involved. "These need to go out by the 15th (Tuesday), so that does not give us much time," Mrs. Driskill said. "We would like to get every one of the names of those who are overseas."

Vigil Funeral Held Saturday

Funeral services for Cipriano Vigil, 52, who resided on the Thurman Atchley farm 12 miles southwest of Hereford, were conducted Saturday afternoon in St. Anthony's Catholic Church by the Rev. Michael Graham, associate pastor.

Burial in St. Anthony's Cemetery was directed by Gilliland Funeral Home. Vigil had been

ENMU Plans To End Fall Semester Sooner

Eastern New Mexico University has joined the ranks of several other universities in adopting a revised calendar which next year will have fall semester ending prior to Christmas and spring semester beginning some two weeks after New Years.

The new calendar, which is effective for fall semester 1971, recently received final approval from the board of regents at Eastern. It earlier had been passed by the main administrative bodies within the University.

Beginning in the fall of 1971, classes will begin three weeks earlier than usual on Aug. 30. And instead of the Christmas break coming near the end of the semester, the holidays will be between semesters starting Dec. 18, 1971.

Spring semester for academic year 1971-72 will begin Jan. 12, 1972, rather than Feb. 7 and will end May 4, 1972, instead of June 1 — almost a month earlier than usual.

"Since a large percentage of our summer session students are area school teachers, we have scheduled a three-week interim session between spring semester and the regular summer session," explained Dr. George Jones, assistant dean of academic affairs.

Dates for the interim session are May 4-26, 1972. Students may take from three to four hours in short courses during this new session.

Tentative dates for the other summer activities in 1972 are June 5-17 for the pre-session workshops, June 19-Aug. 11 for regular summer session, and Aug. 14-23 for post-session workshops.

"We will coordinate these tentative dates with the public

Last Rites Held For Longtime City Resident

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Bodkin, 91, longtime resident of Hereford who died Wednesday in West Park Cemetery was buried in West Park Cemetery after funeral services Friday afternoon in the Presbyterian Church, of which she was a member.

The Rev. Russell Wingert, minister, conducted the rites. Gilliland Funeral Home directed burial.

Mrs. Bodkin and her husband, the late Joe Bodkin, came to Deaf Smith County in 1909 from Ohio, where she was born July 18, 1879. She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Otto Olson of Hereford, two grandchildren, eight great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild.

The 100-mile "Liberty Trail" winds through Philadelphia and four nearby counties — Bucks, Chester, Delaware and Montgomery.

Tech Plans Sun Bowl Reception

LUBBOCK — A reception for students, ex-students and friends of Texas Tech University will be held from 8:30 to 10 a. m. Dec. 19 in El Paso's Holiday Inn Downtown Grand Ballroom.

Wayne James, executive director of the Texas Tech Ex-Students Association, said ex-students and friends in El Paso to attend the Texas Tech-Georgia Tech Sun Bowl football game Dec. 19 are invited to the reception.

Canyon Taxing Offices Merge

The Canyon school and city tax offices were merged last week by a unanimous vote of the board of trustees and the city commission.

The merger had been under consideration for about four years and authorities say it will save city and school taxpayers about $5,000 annually from the first year.

The merger is effective Jan. 1 for assessments and Feb. 1 for collections. The merger may be terminated by either party by notice as specified under the contract but such termination must come at the end of a taxing year.

The school will assess and collect taxes for the city under the contract and retain 5 per cent of taxes collected for the city. This will cost the city about $13,000 next year.

GEOGRAPHY GROUPING FRANKFORT, Ky. — Geography, rather than type or severity of illness, will determine how patients are grouped in Kentucky's psychiatric hospitals during the coming year.

Each of the four institutions will be divided into four geographic units with 200 patients in every unit, making it easier for area volunteers and relatives to visit.

BOWL TICKETS — Marshall Day of the Hereford Brand presents Mary Shelton with two tickets for the Cotton Bowl game on Jan. 1. Mrs. Shelton received tickets for winning the Hereford Brand sponsored Football Contest.

SHELTERED LIFE
LONDQN — Students take up teaching because they fear the outside world, says a university survey. The Assistant Masters Association which compiled the survey, also suggests undergraduates are too firmly entrenched in "the rut of the classroom world."

A survey of 76 principal countries turned up 53 that celebrate the new year on Jan. 1. About 12,000 buffalo survive in Canada.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING SUGGESTIONS

1. Prepare your shopping list at home; not in a busy store.
2. Shop early so you will have time for comparison shopping and will get the most for your money.
3. Set a budget and stay within it.
4. Make sure your gifts are exchangeable and save your receipts.
5. Shop with cash so you will not be limited to shopping where you have charge accounts.
6. Get a Christmas loan from your credit union if you have not saved enough for your Christmas shopping.

Formby Heads Tech Journalism Advisory Group

LUBBOCK — Clint Formby, general manager of Radio Station KPAN in Hereford and noted statewide and nationally for his work in behalf of broadcasting, has been named chairman of a Mass Communications Advisory Committee at Texas Tech University.

The announcement was made Tuesday by Texas Tech President Grover E. Murray.

Advisory committee members are leaders representing journalism, radio, television and advertising throughout Texas.

Dr. Murray said they will be asked to help guide the move from a Department of Journalism to a School of Mass Communications at Texas Tech.

The first meeting of the committee took place Saturday, A. 2 to 5 p. m. business meeting followed a luncheon, and the day ended with members attending the Texas Tech-University of Arizona basketball game in Lubbock.

Dr. Billy L. Ross, who heads faculty in journalism, advertising and telecommunications at the university, said committee members "will give us the benefit of their expertise in the development of curriculum, financial assistance and internships and other training programs for our students."

The three areas of study were united in one department at the university last August. Advanced degree programs are offered with emphasis in any of the three areas.

Formby is past president of the Texas Association of Broadcasters, a past president of the Texas Tech Ex-Students

Mavs Prep For Canyon

The La Plata Mavericks basketballers, after winning only one of their three games last week, seek to improve on their overall 2-4 record Monday when they host the Canyon White teams at La Plata gym.

The ninth grade, still undefeated in two games, took the only win last week when they edged Plainview Estacado, 59-45 last Monday. The eighth grade fell to the Plainview team 30-24 and the seventh grade lost a close one, 23-22.

The ninth-graders had three boys in the double figures in their win with James Harris getting 18, Dan Vanderzee 14 and James Waits 10.

La Plata surged to a 16-9 first quarter lead and led at the half by a 30-22 score. In the third quarter it was 42-30 and at the end of the game it was 59-45.

Also contributing points were Jerry Brock with eight, Jim Marsh with seven, Wayne Schumacher and Andrew Wingert with two and Chris White with one.

Mike Munnerlyn popped in 10 points to lead the eighth grade in its 30-24 loss to Plainview. He was followed by Marvin Harris with five, Lynn Tarr with four, Scott Reich and Doug Charest with two and Barry Allen with one.

Plainview led 12-5 at the end of the first quarter and lengthened its lead to 21-7 at the half. Estacado led 28-11 at the end of the third period and the Mavericks almost overtook them in the final period before bowing 30-24.

Dave Charest lead the seventh grade's losing effort with 14 points, followed by Lance Martin with four, and David Emerson and Davis Ford with two. After falling behind 9-8 at the

Music And Talk Feature AARP Dinner Program

Music of Christmas featured the program at a potluck supper for 38 Thursday evening, when the Deaf Smith County Chapter, American Association of Retired Persons, invited guests for the evening in the fellowship hall of First United Methodist Church.

Evergreen branches and poinsettias decorated the U-shape tables where the covered dish meal was served.

Connie Goeringer of the Hereford Toastmasters Club was guest speaker, and his subject was Avoiding Defeatism. He suggested activity and, wholesome attitudes for the retired man or woman to counteract the "just-give-up" feeling.

Christmas songs by Hereford High School Choir, directed by Jane Gulley, entertained the group.

DECORATIONS READIED — Pine cones, green branches and bright-colored ornaments were sorted by a committee from the Association of Retired Persons which decorated Thursday afternoon for a dinner that evening in First United Methodist fellowship hall. From left are Lucille Brown, bringing more decorations to the table; Mrs. H. J. Wilhelm, treasurer of the local chapter; Virgil Dodson, acting president, and Mrs. W. O. McCutchen.

PROJECT CHRISTMAS CARD

REACHES 14TH YEAR

PART OF THE HOLIDAY season in Hereford for the 14th year, the Medical Auxiliary's Project Christmas Card is under way now. Contributions are asked from all residents; each is asked to give the amount he would spend to mail holiday greeting cards to others in this community. To replace these cards, the Auxiliary lists names of—all contributors on a page in the Hereford Brand's Christmas edition, with the message of greetings. The money is used to purchase equipment needed in Deaf Smith County Hospital but not available under its budget, and a part goes to a nursing scholarship.

The Sunday Brand

SECTION TWO

HEREFORD, TEXAS, 29045, SUNDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1970

POINTING OUT the message to the community, Mrs. Joe Whitley, left, indicates the words of instruction on one of the posters which are placed above the canisters where contributions may be dropped in several business houses and the hospital lobby. Also surveying the poster is Mrs. Gerald G. Payne, president of Hereford Medical Auxiliary this year. Auxiliary members made the posters and the gaily decorated felt skirts for the canisters which call shoppers' attention to the project.

THIS IS THE WAY, says Kelly Hamblen, that contributions are to be placed in the canisters. With money and the donor's name enclosed, an envelope from the stack below the poster is dropped through the slot which Kelly reaches on tiptoe. Her mother, Mrs. J. D. Hamblen, an Auxiliary member, watches her demonstration.

EARLY CONTRIBUTION is made by Harlan Vander Zee, president of Hereford State Bank, as he meets

Mrs. Millard Nobles before a poster in the bank lobby. Accounts in the name of the project are open in both banks of the city, and many residents make their gifts to Project Christmas Card with deposits each year.

COFFEE AND CAUCUS are combined at a planning session of Auxiliary members in Dr. and Mrs. Payne's home. Mrs. Weslie Owen and Mrs. A. T. Mims, participants, are both familiar with Project Christmas Card through help in a number of years past. The Auxiliary is composed of wives of Hereford physicians and dentists.

Entertainment following the dinner was provided by Percy May, doing impersonations of Bill Cosby.

Victory Class Collects Gifts For 'Daughter'

Gifts for their "adopted daughter" at Girlstown, Gloria Scott, were taken by Victory Class members of Avenue Baptist Church, to their Christmas party Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Billy Wall.

Members also exchanged gifts from the white-flocked Christmas tree decorated with flashing lights, which was a part of the handsome room decorations in the Wall home. Games directed by Mrs. G. W. Duncan and carol singing by all the group completed entertainment for the evening.

Refreshments were served in holiday colors to Mmes. Louis Hagar, C. E. Coleman, Carlyle Sargent, Clois Kemp, Don Larkin, Don Davison, Charlie Riggin, Duncan and the teacher, Mrs. Johnny Townsend.

Christmas In Holy City Told By Club Speaker

A letter from Jerusalem, telling of Christmas observances in that city, where many Christian travelers go at the anniversary of Christ's birth, was read by Mrs. J. V. Perrin at the Bippus Home Demonstration Club holiday party in her home Thursday.

Members told their Christmas plans in an informal program after the exchange of gifts. Meeting places and program leaders for coming months were scheduled as yearbooks were completed in a short business evening.

Muskox were exterminated in America because they never learned that the ring-of-bulls formation that warded off wolves successfully was useless against men with rifles.

period. First 1971 meeting will be on Jan. 13 in Mrs. Kenneth Homfeld's home.

Mrs. John Seay was a guest and members present were Mmes. G. V. Hall, Jack Fortenberry, C.T. Douglas, C. F. Buker, C. F. Homfeld, Kenneth Homfeld, Wayne Sifford, John Hill, Kenny Tolbert and Jimmie Bradley.

Crisis For All Texans

Texas Attorney General Crawford Martin recently outlined the dilemma that faces the Texas Legislature when it convenes in January. Whether we realize it or not, it is a problem concerning every Texan.

(Article by Martin in elsewhere in today's Brand.)

The chief legal officer for this state, who had two decades of legislative experience, comments that challenges facing legislators are almost overwhelming. Among other things, he mentions the welfare crisis, a need for more than $500 million in additional revenue, mixed-drink legislation, the always difficult problem of redistricting and the auto insurance controversy.

HE ADDS, "I'll guarantee members of the Legislature will earn their pay." He strongly recommends that legislators be paid "a decent level of annual salaries" and that they be given an adequate staff.

Note especially this key statement: "The average citizen can be pretty unreasonable. A lot of people want good schools, good mental hospitals, good law enforcement, good roads and so forth. . . but they want somebody else to pay for them."

That "somebody else" will be hard to find in 1971. The search to avoid current taxation may lead to some fiscally desperate measures. Some may propose that the financial burden be passed on to future Texans. That would, of course, be contrary to the spirit of the Texas Constitution which requires a pay-as-you-go policy — a directive which has been ignored in the past by obligating the next Legislature to spending without providing the means to finance it.

TEXANS — elected officials and their constituents — need to face the facts.

We must pay the costs of the service we demand.

We must maintain the financial stability of this state.

We must update legislative and judicial methods (as well as our basic document, the Texas Constitution) to meet today's needs.

Crime must be curbed and the cumbersome process of law enforcement and the trial of the accused must be modernized.

It's a big bill, financially and in every other aspect. As Mr. Martin emphasizes, legislators need our sympathetic understanding and our strong support. They need to know that Texans want responsible government and action now, not postponed until some indefinite future.

Christmas — A Day

Researchers have come up with some interesting background on Christmas customs that add depth and meaning to the most momentous of all holidays. Many historians believe that Christmas may have had its origins in ancient Greek and Roman festivities to observe the midwinter change of seasons. The use of greenery at Christmas also grew out of ancient Greek and Roman customs. The celebration of Christ began in the third century but was not officially sanctioned until a century later when Pope Julius I authorized an investigation to determine Christ's probable birth date, which led to the selection of December 25. On that date, in 353 A. D., the Feast of the Nativity was first observed in Rome.

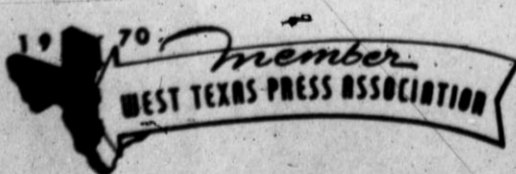

Other Christmas customs originated in many lands over the centuries. The traditional mistletoe branch began with the ancient Druids, who believed the plant had the power to miraculously cure disease and counteract poisons. The decorating of Christmas trees began in the eighth century when St. Boniface persuaded the pagans to adorn fir trees in their homes in tribute to the Christ Child. A fourth-century bishop of Turkey, Saint Nicholas, was the real-life predecessor of Santa Claus.

And so the stories go. As the great day of rejoicing and renewal — December 25 — approaches, millions will prepare to greet Christmas with a bone-deep feeling of gratitude and thankfulness. It is one occasion, one tradition, and one observance that has withstood the test of time. Those who attempt to tear down all standards by which humanity lives have so far not had the temerity to burn the Christmas tree.

The Last Peg

A Maryland congressman has drawn attention to the tax-exempt status of post offices, federal office buildings and other property owned by the United States government. The congressman feels these should be subject to local property taxes. He says nothing about an even more onerous burden borne by all taxpayers. That is the tax-exempt status of government commercial business enterprises such as federal power projects.

There is a vast difference between government property of a noncompetitive public service nature and that which enters into business in competition with private citizens and not only escapes taxes but takes over the business of enterprises that provide important sources of tax revenue for every level of government. Figures have been cited for years by authorities in the electric power field to show that if tax-favored electric power projects of the government were subjected to the same level of taxation as private enterprise, the investor-owned electric industry could more than hold its own in any comparison of rates.

Advocates of government in business — particularly the power business — have fought tooth and nail to prevent commercial government ventures in the power business from being subjected to taxes like any other business. Removing the tax-privileged status of these government undertakings would remove the last peg upon which socialized power-advocates have been able to hang their arguments of superior efficiency.

A major pharmaceutical company will soon be selling a computer system that doctors could use for quick diagnosis of kids' ailments, reports the Public Service Company of Colorado. The doctor would simply telephone the computer from office or hospital, list the symptoms by code number, and in a flash the computer would report back what the problem is. Just to help out, the computer will also alert the physicians to other symptoms to look for. But, it won't take temperatures, prescribe medicine or reassure anxious mothers.

The Gulf Oilmanac, published by Gulf Oil Corporation, says most lighting engineers and vision specialists recommend soft overall lighting for the room where the TV set is located. When the room is totally dark, the contrast between the screen and the surrounding area is too great for comfortable and efficient vision.

You can become the possessor of an American flag that has been flown over the U. S. Capitol. According to The Elks Magazine, "All you have to do is write to your congressman for this favor, enclosing $3.45 for a 3 x 5 flag, or $6.00 for a 5 x 8." Congressmen report a growing demand from persons who have learned about this.

American Indian Receives Much-Needed Federal Aid

By BERT MILLS

Washington, D. C. — President Nixon urged Congress last July to create a new era for the first Americans, the Indians, whom he described as "the most deprived and most isolated minority group in our nation."

Congress has made a bare beginning on the program the President proposed. Of eight recommendations requiring legislation, only one bill has passed this year. This measure will benefit the Toos Indians of New Mexico. Hearings were held on two other bills. Those and the other five are expected to be introduced in 1971.

In November, the Bureau of Indian Affairs of the Department of the Interior, an agency dating back to 1924, was reorganized. Commissioner Louis R. Bruce, a reservation-raised Indian himself, said the realignment would place the Indian people "in closer contact with the decision-makers" and broaden their opportunities to guide and improve their own affairs. BIA intends to shift from a management to a service organization.

The Indian problem is national in scope. While the large tribal concentrations are in the west and southwest, the Bureau operates in 26 states. There are at least a few Indians in every state except Hawaii. Nationally, there are about 700,000 Indians, including Aleuts and Eskimos in Alaska.

How Do You Define An Indian? Strangely enough, despite a mass of treaties, laws and court decisions, there is no accepted definition of an Indian. The Bureau of the Census follows a self-declaration policy. If a person claims to be an Indian, he is for Census purposes.

If a person does not declare himself an Indian but appears to be either a full-blooded American Indian or of mixed Indian and white blood and is enrolled in an Indian tribe, he is counted as an Indian. If not a tribe member but regarded as an Indian within his community, Census counts that person as an Indian.

To be eligible for Bureau of Indian Affairs services, a person must live on or near a reservation, trust or restricted land, or be a member of a recognized tribe, band or group. For some purposes, one-fourth Indian descent is sufficient to qualify as an Indian.

The Indian population is rising, due to a birth rate twice that of other Americans and despite high infant mortality and an average age at death of 44 — one-third less than the national average. When Columbus discovered America, there were an estimated 840,000 Indians here. The total dropped to 243,000 at the low point near the end of the 19th century. The trend has been upward ever since.

Poverty is the Big Problem Indians have many problems, including health, education, and economic opportunity, but the biggest problem is poverty. Unemployment among Indians is 10 times the national average, and runs as high as 80 percent on some reservations. For reservation Indians, average annual family income is only $1,500.

Indians comprise two one-hundredths of the population and own 2.5 percent of the land. However, much of the land is unproductive and remote from industrially-developed areas. There are few jobs in Indian country, and too few Indians are trained to hold the jobs that do exist. Indians are eligible for a variety of welfare and training programs. If Congress passes the President's welfare reform proposal, more than half of all Indian families would be eligible for Federal benefits.

Some Indians want to remain on a reservation and "live like an Indian." Others want to move to the city and be assimilated in the white population. The Federal policy now is to let Indians decide for themselves and to help either way. Various programs bring industry to the reservation, and there are a few conspicuous success stories.

Federal paternalism has marked most past efforts to improve the lot of Indians. But the President is strong for self-help and has called for "Indian energies and Indian leadership" to assist Uncle Sam. Sixteen of the top 21 posts at BIA are now held by Indians and more than half of the agency's 14,500 employees are Indians.

Palefaces have little to brag about on the past record of solving Indian problems. If those white faces turn red with embarrassment when and if the red men lead themselves to a better life, it will be only just. After all, the Indians got here first.

Talk of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE

IT'S A FACT — Texas boasts more exotic game animals than any other U. S. state.

Not only have many rancher-sportsmen imported, bred and stocked their ranges with animals from Africa and elsewhere, but many of the strange species now roam wild in some areas. For example, it is estimated that there are at least 10,000 European wild boar in the Central Texas Hill Country and in Aransas County on the Gulf coast.

The blackbuck antelope, a native of India, now roams wild in the Texas hills. African aoudad sheep, famed for their scimitar-shaped horns, abound in several areas.

THE SIGHS OF TEXAS — On the back of a large truck: "Avoid Probate. Don't Pass on My Right Side!"

WHAT'S IN A NAME? — Dallas-based Braniff is the only major U. S. airline named for the individual who founded it.

Tom Braniff was an Oklahoma City insurance man when he and five others bought a small plane for their personal use. Shortly after, Braniff bought out the other owners and with his brother, Paul, as the only pilot, began daily scheduled passenger flights between Oklahoma City and Tulsa.

Braniff, who moved his home and business operations to Dallas in 1942, died in the crash of a private plane while on a Louisiana hunting trip in 1954.

SENSING THE NEWS

By Anthony Harrigan

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Southern States Industrial Council

The House Committee on Internal Security has performed an important service by issuing a report on fees paid radicals who address campus audiences. This report gives insight into the way in which the New Left finances its activities.

U. S. Rep. Richard H. Ichord (D-Mo.) Chairman of the Committee, stated in the report that "the people of the United States have a right to conclude that the campus speaking circuit is certainly the source of significant financing for the promoters of disorderly and revolutionary activity among students." He also disclosed that student activity funds are primarily responsible for giving radical orators a campus platform.

The Ichord Report covered only a small sample — 3 1/2 percent — of U. S. colleges and universities. The questionnaire the Committee sent to educational institutions was voluntary and the subpoena power was not utilized. Nevertheless, the Committee learned that $108,967 had been raised for radical causes at this small sample of colleges and universities. It is only reasonable to conclude that the total radical fund-raising by campus speeches must run into millions of dollars. New Leftists and Communist Party speakers on campuses have received as much as 2,500.00 per appearance.

The Committee reported that it "found a select group of people repeatedly involved, particularly those convicted in the Chicago 'conspiracy' trial; Jerry Rubin, Abbie Hoffman, Dave Dellinger and Rennie Davis cropped up frequently."

The Internal Security Committee report makes fascinating reading, though it will shock concerned parents and taxpayers. A wide range of educational institutions in the country have allowed extremists and revolutionaries to speak on their campuses.

For example, Eldridge Cleaver, the Black Panther leader now living in Algeria, spoke at the University of Alabama, October, 1968. On April 28, 1969 Kent State University — scene of a bloody riot by radical students — gave a platform to Bernadine Dohrn, who is wanted on federal charges. Mark Rudd, who led the first major riot at Columbia University, was a guest speaker at Rice University March 21, 1969.

The Committee has broken down the list of speakers according to radical groups. Listed under the Communist Party, USA, are Herbert Aptheker, Marxist theoretician hired by Bryn Mawr College as a black studies lecturer; Angela Davis, charged with murder in connection with the death of a California Superior Court judge; and Linus Pauling, the radical scientist who received the Soviet Union's highest award, the Lenin Prize, this year.

Also listed under the various radical groups were Dick Gregory, leftwing "comedian" and political activist; Nat Hentoff, a writer for the New York Review of Books; David Dellinger, organizer of anti-Vietnam marches on Washington; William Kunstler, one of the principal spokesmen for New Left revolutionaries; Dr. Benjamin Spock, baby doctor turned radical protester; Staughton Lynd, former Yale University professor and frequent visitor to Hanoi; Reies Tijerina, head of the Alliance de Mercedes, an insurrectionary movement in New Mexico; and C. T. Vivian and Wyatt Tee Walker, long identified with protest movements in the South.

Ironically, all this valuable information, which is needed if legislative action is to be taken to block use of campuses as funding centers for revolutionaries, would be denied the public if U. S. District Judge Gerhard A. Gesell has his way. Judge Gesell, an ultra-liberal member of the federal court in the District of Columbia, has granted a court order barring Committee distribution of the report. The order was sought by the radical American Civil Liberties Union.

As a practical matter the order is meaningless, for individual members of Congress already have distributed copies of the report, as individuals, and are free to continue to do so — even under the terms of the court order. Nevertheless, Congress certainly should reject this unprecedented judicial interference with congressional authority. This is the first time a federal judge has sought to prohibit a congressional committee from having a report issued by the public printer.

If the Gesell order is allowed to stand, Congress — the authentic voice of the American people — will be in danger of being muzzled by every district judge who opposes a particular congressional inquiry. The separation of powers doctrine inherent in the U. S. Constitution plainly indicates that a federal court has no authority to interfere with the normal operations of the Legislative Branch.

Gladys' Garden

By Gladys Howton Manieot

Note: The following article was one I wrote for the American Boxwood Society, of Boyce, Virginia. This was done at the request of the editor, Mrs. Edgar M. Whiting. I am a member of The American Boxwood Society, and was pleased that Mrs. Whiting asked me to write an article relative to Boxwood, as it is grown in Texas. Since it is one of the most used of Christmas Greens, I thought it would be timely to repeat it for our readers.

B. Sempervirens suffruticosa, Dwarf Boxwood 26-10a, is a good plant here also. This last spring I planted eight of these, for border of one of my cutting plots. They have grown

Lullaby Shower Given

Mrs. Thad Keyes was honored Tuesday afternoon with a lullaby shower in the Community Room of the First National Bank. Mmes. W. H. Goettsch, J. A. Crofford, Ted Sumner, Conrad Urbanczyk and Miss Billie Goettsch hosted the courtesy.

Twenty guests were received by the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Lee Roy Rickman, and her husband's mother, Mrs. Andy Keyes. Mrs. Goettsch was at the register.

Cake squares in yellow baby bootie decor were served by Miss Goettsch and Mrs. Urbanczyk ladled punch. The serving table was laid with lace over yellow cloth and centered with a basket of daisies tied with a yellow satin bow and miniature storks, and a crystal candle holder retaining lighted yellow candles.

A scramble baby-word game was played and Mrs. Linda Newton read the essay "What is A Mother."

A yellow and green carnation corsage featuring an infant figurine in the center was presented the honoree.

Cub Scouts Work On Skit

Boys in Cub Scout Den 4, Pack 51 cleaned up the Boy Scout Park Tuesday and practiced for their skit which will be presented Tuesday at the regular pack meeting.

The boys were served refreshments by Nancy Nogler, Den Mother, and the meeting was closed with the boys forming a living circle and repeating the Scout Promise which was led by Denner Danny Romo.

Those attending were Danny Romo, Craig Gallagher, Felix Soliz, Barry Morgan, Bobby Torres, Gary Vogel, Roger Torres and Raymond Torres.

real well this summer. The dwarf was also used by our Church Garden Club, in landscaping a new portion of the church grounds. These were used as border plantings, in a redwood, boxed framed planting. With these we used the coral geraniums. Very effective.

I think many of the characteristics of the Boxwood will make it a very popular planting in our part of Texas. Its evergreen loveliness in winter is one of its most liked features, making the winter gardens interesting and pretty.

Here is some information about the Boxwood in addition to that in the above article:

Winter care of Boxwood is very important to the plant, and this evergreen plant, in gardens, depends upon man for timely care and protection, to survive winter weather with little or no damage and to begin growth each April in healthy, vigorous condition.

One of the most important winter protection for boxwood is to see that it enters the dormant season in healthy, vigorous condition, with good drainage (both surface and subsoil,) and with adequate moisture. It is a plant which thrives on moisture and humidity.

Another preventive measure of importance, is to prune the tips lightly in late September, to reduce snow and ice holding capacity. This also tends to strengthen the branches and induce lateral growth; also to thicken and improve the plant's shape.

Be sure also that the plants are cleaned inside. It should be free of leaves, twigs and other debris. Any dead matter inside the bushes help to hold snow, preventing its falling to the soil, nearest the roots.

The above cultural suggestions are good practice throughout the year. Care should be used to keep the bushes free from insects, and mildew, also in some areas Red Mites are bad on the boxwood, therefore prevention should be used to keep the bushes in the most healthy condition possible.

Dropouts May Win Diploma Through Test

Beginning next month, persons with as low as a sixth or seventh grade education can go to Hereford High School and take a series of five 2-hour tests that will earn them a high school equivalency diploma if they pass.

Acting on a request by the Community Action Agency, the School Board approved in October an attempt to offer the General Education Diploma (GED) test here. Within the past week school officials received a contract from Washington to begin offering the test.

THE LOCAL CAA has been holding classes recently to instruct interested persons and prepare them to take the test.

Robert Thompson, high school counselor who has been named chief examiner for the GED testing program, said there is a $10 fee for taking the test. Anyone interested in taking the test should contact him at 364-0617.

"All material necessary for testing has been ordered," Supt. Roy Hartman told the School Board Tuesday night.

In the past, persons from this area interested in taking the test had to go to Amarillo Junior College.

THE TEST will be given on the first and third Mondays of each month. Since the test is broken down into five, two-hour tests, it will take Monday morning, Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning to complete. It will be all written, all in English.

The five tests will cover these areas:

- correctness and effectiveness of expression;
- interpretation of reading material in the social studies;
- interpretation of reading material in the natural sciences;

-interpretation of literary materials;

-general mathematical ability.

Probably three of the tests will be given on Monday and the other two on Tuesday.

A TEST booklet preparing a person for the GED test is available at bookstores. It includes problems similar to those a person would encounter in the test.

If a person fails the test he can continue taking it as many times as he pleases until he passes it.

Bob Holman, assistant superintendent, said it should present no problem to the school in presenting the tests. School officials planned to do it a couple of years ago but didn't carry through, he said.

The GED tests are expected to help the local school system in that they will allow many persons to go to work as aides in migrant classes and put their bilingual ability to good use. A high school diploma is required for employment as an aide in the school.

"WE HAVE about 35 aides in the school system now, including about 26 in the migrant program. Almost all of them are Spanish-speaking high school diploma kids. Three nurses' aides are Mexican American, and in the special education department there are others," Holman said.

"But this is the first qualification, that they have a high

Research Looks Into Problem Of Feedlot Wastes

CHICAGO — In Texas beef cattle outnumber people seven to one. The beef cattle raised in commercial feedlots of the High Plains of Texas produce money in the bank, an attractive economy, and enough solid waste each year "to form a mountain."

In three research papers, Texas Tech University Specialists told the American Society of Agricultural Engineers meeting in Chicago Tuesday that progressive cattle feeders, universities, state regulatory agencies and others are experimenting with new design concepts based on a systems approach to the entire problem of feedlot waste.

The systems, Dr. Meenaghan said, "and can be used for obtaining nominal treatment of beef cattle wastes" although even with the best conditions, the system "will not be sufficient for complete treatment."

The researchers said that while methane gas is produced in sufficient quantities for sale, the only profit to the feedlot operator would be in efficiency of operation which would contribute to a saving in overall cost of waste control.

Prof. Grub, in reporting on composting waste both in a drum digestion system and in open composting, concluded that this, too, is a feasible solution but "requires skilled management to obtain satisfactory results."

Most waste now is piled in open composting without any system for stabilizing it, the researchers found. It could be treated in specially designed digesters or in exposed compost piles turned at regular intervals. When stabilized the compost could be stored in a wet and dry state without danger of heating, attracting insects or causing noxious odors. While feasible, this also represents added cost to the feedlot operation.

Working with Grub in this study were a graduate student, J. D. Martin, and Instructor L. L. Keeton. Keeton also presented a paper on the effects of manure depth on runoff from southwestern cattle feedlots. This research was done in association with Grub, Wells, Meenaghan and Albin.

LAE Has Dinner Guests

A dinner party with husbands of members as guests was the pre-Christmas entertainment for Lae Afflatus Estudio Club this year, and the A. H. Cook home was the place.

Rooms were decorated in the seasonal spirit, and the colors of Christmas were repeated on tables where the dinner was served. Games, a gift exchange and an hour of informal conversation followed the meal.

In addition to members' husbands, guests for the party were Miss Madeline Bell, Mrs. Tandy Legg and Mrs. G. P. Owen.

87 Will Die Over Holiday

AUSTIN — Colonel Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, warned Saturday that traffic crashes in Texas over the Christmas and New Year holiday periods may claim as many as 87 lives.

He said 52 deaths are expected in the 78 hours of Christmas from 6 p. m. Thursday, Dec. 24 to midnight Sunday, Dec. 27. He also estimated 35 traffic deaths during the New Year holiday from 6 p. m. Thursday, Dec. 31 to midnight Sunday, Jan. 3.

Speir said the Department of Public Safety will place all available patrolmen on the highways during both holiday periods to enforce the law and aid motorists. He added that many local law enforcement agencies will be joining in this all-out effort to reduce the number of holiday accidents.

The DPS director said a special "Operation Motorcide" would be in effect over both holiday periods, during which periodic tabulations of traffic fatalities will be made and given the widest possible dissemination in order to focus public attention on the added dangers involved in holiday travel.

"We urge each individual driver to join in these efforts and help us prove the estimate of 87 fatalities too high. Many holiday accidents and will be prevented if Texans will adopt 'Drive Friendly' as their personal slogan while behind the wheel," Speir added.

Nunley At Home On Leave From Vietnam Service

Ricky L. Nunley, Specialist 5, is home on 30-day leave from Vietnam following 12 months service there. He is spending the time with his parents, the W.B. Nunleys, 511 Avenue K.

Nunley left July 26, 1969, for basic training at Ft. Lewis, Washington and attended computer school at Ft. Benjamin, Ind. for 8 weeks. He is computer-scheduler, stationed at Long Binh, Vietnam.

On his way home he spent four days with his brother Ronnie in Hawaii. Ronnie is in the Marine Corps with headquarter Supply in the accounting department at the U. S. naval air station, Kaneohe Bay.

Mrs. Jack McNeese of Johnson City, daughter of the Nunleys, and her family will arrive this week to spend a holiday weekend in Hereford.

The McNeeses have three children, Kelly, 7, Randy, 5, and Kristi, 1½. Mr. and Mrs. McNeese are both formerly of this city.

Raiders Begin Preparation For Saturday's Sun Bowl

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech has launched practice for its encounter Saturday with Georgia Tech in the Sun Bowl, and no one is more anxious for the game to arrive than the Red Raider's Doug McCutchen.

The Bronte Bruiser has just been named to United Press International's All-SWC first team and was selected the offensive sophomore of the year by the Associated Press.

"I'm really looking forward to playing Georgia Tech," McCutchen said shortly after learning of his latest honors. "I think it is a great opportunity for our team to face a fine team like Georgia Tech. I am sure it will help us for next year too."

The former resident of Bronte, Tex., (pop. 999) was pleased with his awards, but felt his teammates deserved most of the bouquets.

"It's a great honor," he said, "but I think everything I have done must be attributed to the rest of the guys on the team. Everything we have accomplished this year has been through a team effort."

McCutchen averaged 97.1 yards per game to beat out Texas' Steve Worster for rushing honors in the SWC. Doug rolled up 1,068 yards during the season to become the first Tech player ever to break the 1,000-yard mark. The old Tech record of 966 yards was held by Donny Anderson. McCutchen also became only the fifth runner in SWC history to break the 1,000-yard mark in a single season.

The hard-running halfback also established a school SWC single game mark when he rushed for 204 yards in Tech's victory over TCU. His performance was just two yards shy of the all-time Tech single game rushing mark of 206 yards established by Walt Schlinkman in 1942.

"The TCU game was my biggest thrill this season," McCutchen said. "I never thought I'd get 200 yards in one game. It also was a big thrill to score a touchdown against Texas."

"But the most important thing is getting to play on this team with these bunch of guys," he continued. "The season we have had and getting to go to the Sun Bowl is the most gratifying part of the entire year."

McCutchen is somewhat of a rags to riches story since his arrival at Tech. Following his freshman season, he was red-shirted in 1969 and when spring training opened under new head coach Jim Carlen, Doug wasn't near the top of the heap.

"On the first day of practice, I was running third team and didn't see how things could get much worse. On the second day, I found out they could because I was down on the fourth team."

Considering McCutchen had been named all-state twice and was one of the most sought after runningbacks in the state, it was indeed a new situation for Doug to find himself so far down on the list.

Speed was my main problem," McCutchen relates. "In high school I could go half-speed and still get five or six yards. I never had any trouble turning the corner."

Then when I got to Tech, I found that the defensive men were so much faster. I had to learn North-South running."

It didn't take McCutchen long to convince the Raider coaches he didn't belong on the fourth team.

"I started running over people down there and soon Coach Car-len brought me up to the second team to see what I could do."

On his first two carries McCutchen gained 40 yards and went over for a touchdown. He hasn't looked back since.

Mon Amis Party Includes Guests

Mon Amis Club members entertained their husbands and other guests at a Christmas party Friday evening in the Easter Community Building, which was given a holiday air with lavish decorations in red and green.

Mrs. Jack White, social chairman, was in charge of hostess arrangements with all the members assisting.

Games of dummy bridge and 42 combined with "just visiting" to entertain the group. Home-made candy, pie and coffee were served.

Guests included Mrs. Webb Connelly and Webb L. Connelly of Austin, mother and brother of James Connelly who are house guests in the Connelly home here, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Flood.

Members and their husbands at the party were Messrs. and Mmes. Buster Thomason, Roy Botkin, Leroy Edwards, Jerry Don Lance, Don Tindal, Guy Walser, Raymond Wiley, Martin Young, L. C. Roots, White and Connelly.

GI Loans To Mean More To Veterans

Veterans using GI loans will have improved opportunities to finance homes and will pay less for loans as the result of two important actions of recent weeks.

The latest was the lowering of the maximum rate of interest to 8 per cent, effective Dec. 2. The rate had been 8½ per cent since last January.

This reduction combines with provisions of the Veterans Housing Act of 1970, recently signed by the President, to make the housing outlook considerably brighter for millions of veterans in the view of Administrator of Veterans Affairs Donald E. Johnson.

Johnson pointed out that the new law allows loans on mobile homes and condominiums for the first time and also allows GI loans to be used for refinancing homes already owned by veterans.

In addition, it also restores the expired, unused eligibility for loans to veterans of World War II and the Korean Conflict.

It also lowered the cost of loans by doing away with a .5 per cent funding fee previously paid by post-Korean veterans.

Johnson said that the average GI home loan at this time is about $20,000, meaning that the buyer would save $2,530 over a 30-year loan period from the reduction in the interest rate.

"This reduction plus the greater flexibility the new housing law gives the veteran make the housing outlook considerably brighter for men just coming home from service and it also allows older veterans to take a new look at their housing needs and perhaps find ways to meet them better," Johnson said.

Johnson said that the new ability veterans have to purchase mobile homes with GI loans will be a big help to young veterans with limited income. "The best thing about this provision is that it does not prevent the veteran from buying a conventional home with a GI loan at a later time when his financial condition is better," Johnson said.

Eligibility for a loan is restored to a veteran once a mobile home loan is paid off. The law also provides that loans for mobile homes may include funds for lots on which to place the units.

Johnson said that the restoration of eligibility for loans to World War II and Korean Conflict veterans will affect nearly 9 million veterans.

"These men now have the ability to use an important right they have earned at whatever time in life it will mean the most to them," Johnson said.

Georgia Tech Faces Tough RR Tackles

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech has found the recipe for building top defensive tackles — just develop a winner at one position and then duplicate him; the result is Wayne McDermand and Bob Mooney.

The similarities between McDermand and Mooney are indeed striking, and defensive line coach Bob Brown is the first one to point them out.

"I WOULD have to say that Wayne and Bob are more alike than any other men on the squad. Neither player is overpowering or exceptionally quick, but they get the most out of their ability.

Brown and head coach Jim Carlen are hoping McDermand and Mooney continue their winning ways against Georgia Tech in the Sun Bowl Dec. 19. Both of them have been near the lead in tackles for Tech in each game this season; something unusual for a defensive tackle.

McDermand, 6-4, 222, was named to the Associated Press All-Southwest Conference team for his play this year, which included a game in which he led the team with 11 tackles against Tulane. He also batted down numerous enemy aerials in key situations throughout the season.

"BOTH PLAYERS just won't quit on defense," Coach Brown explained. "That's why they are in on so many tackles. Some defensive linemen will quit if a play goes in the opposite direction, but Bob and Wayne keep on pursuing until the whistle blows."

"Leadership is their strong suit, and they have been outstanding in that category all year," Brown said. "We look to our seniors to provide leadership for our club, and Bob and Wayne sure haven't let us down. They set an excellent example for our young players. They just don't quit hustling."

While McDermand was garnering all-conference honors this season, Mooney's praise has come more from his opponents, who should know what they are talking about. Bobby Wuensch, Texas All-American offensive tackle rates Mooney as one of the best he has faced in his career.

"Bob is simply a real fine player," Wuensch said. "He does everything well and plays both the pass and the run real strong. He is tough physically and gives you a battle all the way."

Mooney and McDermand think a lot alike, too. They both agree on the strong points of Georgia Tech.

"THE YELLOW Jackets are a great defensive team," McDermand said. "I would say defense is their strong point."

"Rock Perdoni (Georgia Tech's All-American defensive tackle) is a great one, and the rest of their defense is great. They also have a real good running back in Brent Cunningham. He will be tough to stop."

Chances are Mooney and McDermand will be tough to stop in the Sun Bowl, too. It will be their last game in a Tech uniform.

Both of Tech's defensive tackles would like to end the season the way it started: with a win.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED — Engagement of Miss Connie Bryant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Bryant of Country Club Drive, to Randy Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Martin, 119 Beach, is announced by the parents of the bride-elect.

Ogallala Recharge Presents Problems

CHICAGO — Use wells, shafts, holes, pits, trenches, spreading or rubble cones, and all of them still leave problems for those trying to recharge the Ogallala Aquifer.

Texas Tech researchers Wednesday told a national meeting of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers that the "depletion per year from the Ogallala Formation ranges from 3.5 to 7.5 million acre-feet" dependent upon seasonal rain and snow fall.

"If a portion of the water could be recharged into the Ogallala, the rate at which the groundwater is being depleted could be decreased," they said in a report on the results of recharge studies and evaluation of various systems of artificial recharge possible for the High Plains.

Prof. Walter Grub read the report for the research team which included: Marvin J. Kvo-racek, who is working toward the doctoral degree at the University of Arizona; S. A. Dens, who received his master's degree at Texas Tech, and S.H. Peterson, working toward the master's degree at Tech.

One of the largest unconfined, hydrologically isolated aquifers is the Ogallala of the southern High Plains, underlying 35,000 square miles, the researchers explained. It is cut off from the Rocky Mountain streams, which once filled it with water, by the Canadian River to the north, the Pecos River to the west and the Caprock escarpment to the east.

"The irrigation acreage is projected to be six million acres by 1980," the paper said, "but due to the rapid depletion of the ground water, it is expected to be only 2.2 million acres by the year 2020."

The rubble cone method of recharge has not been investigated although it has been proposed as a possible part of a water storage plan. Rubble cones are fractured areas created by nuclear or conventional explosives extending from above the point of explosion to the bottom of the crater made by the explosion.

As a result of the team's investigations of other methods, they reached nine conclusions:

- 1) proper design of a recharge well is very important;
- 2) pressure injection recharge wells show promise for use with highly turbid water;
- 3) development of economical water clarification systems is needed for systems using runoff or other inferior quality water;

4) careful study is needed of pollution hazards in recharge;
5) more study is needed to evaluate the effectiveness of shallow holes;

6) when a porous media underlies the surface, periodically maintained pits can be an effective mechanism for recharge;

7) hydraulic connectors or shafts are best in areas which have a highly permeable layer some distance below the surface and above the aquifer if a head loss problem in the backfill can be solved;

8) trenches and spreading basins are best where a highly permeable layer lies at or near the surface; and

9) development of public acceptance of explosions necessary to produce rubble cones in order to evaluate this recharge method.

Services Slated For Infant Girl

Graveside services at Tyler Springs Cemetery in Stillwell, Okla., are to be conducted for Loretta Soap, four-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Soap, who died Saturday morning in the family home at Danforth Trailer Court in South Hereford.

The baby was born last Aug. 9 at Talequah, Okla., and the family came to Hereford later that month. Survivors in addition to the parents are two sisters.

College Teaching Changes

LUBBOCK — Presidents, deans and faculty representatives of junior colleges from Texas and several adjoining states were told Friday that "the revolution in college teaching... is being accelerated."

Dr. Arthur W. Chickering, visiting scholar, Office of Research, American Council of Education, Washington, D. C., was one of two principal speakers at an internship seminar sponsored by Texas Tech's Junior College Center for Professional Development.

The other speaker was Prof. Jane Harper, chairman of the Department of Foreign Languages, Northeast Campus,arrant County Junior College, Fort Worth. Her subject was "Packaging Learning Activities."

Dr. Chickering pointed to the increased efforts to individualize college teaching. "There is now a much wider range of students attending institutions of higher education," he said, "including those from low income families up through the affluent. The students are no longer just from upper middle class families."

"We must help all of them learn, and the experiences students receive are weighed against their particular family and social backgrounds. Consequently teachers must give individual students more time."

He listed some of the innovations in higher education including credit of examination, placement policies, seminars and pass-fail policies.

Dr. Chickering also told of the emphasis being placed on learning experiences available to students through media other than books.

"The boundaries of teaching are loosening. As part of college instruction, more and more professors are taking students on field trips, giving them experiences in off-campus community and social activities, and suggesting they study abroad."

"This portion of their training gives students really relevant experiences," he said.

Xmas Toys Should Be Educational

COLLEGE STATION—Christmas toys are always the easiest and most fun to shop for because they don't require careful consideration.

Right? Wrong! Selecting play materials for children requires the same selectivity as any other Christmas item, reminds Jane Fleischer, Extension family life education specialist at Texas A&M University.

Toys, of course, should be safe. Safety requires toy construction so that no items can be pulled off and swallowed, or that none can be broken off, leaving sharp edges.

Toys should have non-conducting cord material, such as cotton. However, any string will carry electricity when wet.

Toy hammers and small sets should have securely fastened handles, and wheels on wooden toys should be fastened well, preferably with screws.

Toys with keys should not revolve when the toy is working. Since toys are for children, select ones that the child can manage himself. A toy for an age should give the child a feeling of adequacy and should set the appropriate standard for physical and mental development. For example, most mechanical toys may be too intricate for children under four years old.

But toys should not be too restrictive. Choose one that offers variety for the child's needs. It should stimulate imagination and make-believe, encourage quiet play or vigorous body activity, apply both to playing along and group activity. Pets or toy gardening equipment fit in, through role-playing toys.

Role playing is particularly important for boys, who need to identify with men and men's occupations. When Dad leaves the house and goes to an office, the son is often unaware of just what his father's job is. So it is more difficult for him to identify with his father, except, perhaps, through role-playing toys.

Copies of the guides are or will soon be available at the county Extension offices in the areas where spring and early summer potatoes are grown and persons interested in more details should contact the local Extension Service office.

Some two dozen holidays are celebrated annually in the United States Virgin Islands. They range from Three Kings' Day—marking the end of the two-week-long Christmas Festival—to Supplication Day, July 25—when residents pray they may be spared tropical storms.

No Change For Potato Acreage

COLLEGE STATION — Spring and early summer plantings of 81,400 acres, the guide includes 18,500 acres for Texas. The national total would result in the production of 12.8 million hundredweight, moderately more than in 1970.

IT'S GOOD TO GET HOME... I'M SO TIRED THIS EVENING

DAGWOOD, WAKE UP! WE'RE SUPPOSED TO EAT DINNER AT THE TUMBLEYS' TONIGHT

DAGWOOD, WAKE UP! I'M ALL READY TO GO

COME, DEAR, PLEASE! WE HAVE TO GET GOING

WAKE UP, DEAR, WE'RE ON OUR WAY

HI, FOLKS... HERE WE ARE

OH, WELL, THE DINNER IS SIMPLY DELICIOUS

IT WAS SO SWEET OF YOU TO HAVE US OVER THIS EVENING

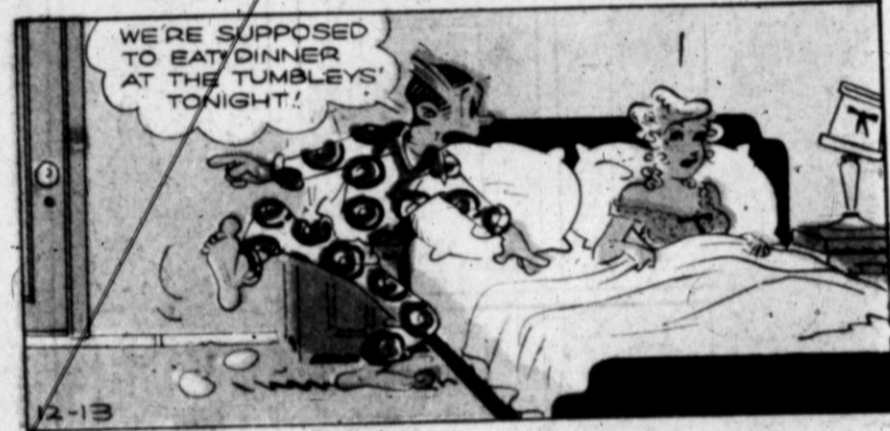

BYE-BYE, AND THANK YOU SO MUCH FOR A LOVELY VISIT

WE'RE HOME NOW, DEAR... NOW GET IN BED AND HAVE A NICE SLEEP

BLONDIE, WAKE UP... I JUST REMEMBERED SOMETHING

WE'RE SUPPOSED TO EAT DINNER AT THE TUMBLEYS' TONIGHT!

THAT'S NOT FRISKY?

NO, A STRANGE SEA LION. SEE THAT WHITE PATCH OVER ITS EYE?

I WONDERED HOW FRISKY GOT OUT OF HIS PEN!

GET FRISKY OUT NOW. WE'LL NEED HIM - AND HURRY - THERE GOES THE THIEF!

UNDERWATER AT THE OCEAN LAB -- THE MYSTERIOUS THIEF!

THERE HE GOES WITH YOUR SECRET REPORT!

QUICK - OR WE'LL NEVER CATCH HIM!

FRISKY WILL GO AFTER HIM AND LEAD US TO HIM!

AFTER HIM, FRISKY!

MONK MONK

THERE GOES FRISKY!

SEND FOR THE TRANSPORT BUBBLE. WE'LL NEED IT IF WE HAVE TO GO UP FAST!

BUT WHO DID YOU NAME IN YOUR REPORT AS THE THIEF?

NOBODY. IT WAS A TRAP INSTEAD OF A HUMAN WE CAUGHT A SEA LION!

AT LEAST NONE OF US DID IT!

HERE COMES THE BUBBLE!

HERE COMES FRISKY. HE'S BACK!

HE'S SIGNALING. HE WANTS US TO FOLLOW HIM!

COME ON, LOTGAR!

UP THEY GO -- FOLLOWING THE SWIFT FRISKY -- TO WHAT?
