Future Of Agriculture Told In Chamber Meeting

Agriculture—its contributions, its needs and its future—was the topic Friday at the quarterly meeting of the members of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

Sam Thomas, agricultural specialist of Southwest Public Service in Amarillo, was the first speaker for the meeting. He opened by saying that Hereford was an exception to the trend of farm people leaving the farm and going to the city. Due to the decrease in number of farm units and the increase in farm size, as the general rule in the nation, most agricultural communities are dwindling in size. Thomas said that Hereford has moved contrarily to this trend and is one of the very few agricultural communities which has grown, and is the leading community as far as total population growth is concerned.

Thomas pointed out the production aspects of Hereford's farmers and ranchers and said that Hereford is also an exception in agricultural production.

In a breakdown of the money pumped into the local commerce by some of the leading agri-industries, Thomas said that grain storage contributes about $4 million dollars to the local commerce, cattle feeding contributes around $3.7 million, the slaughter industry contributes about $2.34 million, while the sugar beet industry adds another $37 million, to the local commerce. Totaled, Thomas said, some $646 million is placed into the local commerce by agri-industrial operations, not including commerce gains realized from agri-caused processing, transportation and financing.

He said that the total package realized by local commerce from agricultural operations will exceed one billion dollars.

"Deaf Smith County is equivalent to one-sixth of the High Plains area's money," Thomas said. "This is exceptional."

"We know that we are agriculturally based and have an agricultural economy, but we sometimes overlook the importance of agriculture to a community's commerce such as Hereford," he concluded.

George Warner of Arrowhead Mills was next to speak during the program. He said that he did not want to pose the group with any money or production figures, but would like to philosophize on certain aspects of the agriculture and its people in Hereford.

He pointed out that if the agricultural people had not taken advantage of the underground water, there might not be anything but desert in the place of the many different crops now existing in Deaf Smith County.

"In fact we might not even have the cattle industry," Warner said, "because the cost to transport feed in might have caused some problems."

Warner said that agricultural people are a special breed because they are in agriculture for a reason more than money.

"Agriculture people love life, particularly the act of putting a dry particle into the ground, and caring for it to watch a green living plant come from their efforts," he said. "They don't have an easy life, but their love of life and the pleasure that they derive from making plants grow help to keep them going during bad times."

Warner pointed out that every year bad weather ruins some crops, but that it was amazing to see the people keep standing, "and most of them keep smiling."

"The agricultural people are the backbone of the community offers one of the few opportunities to share life with these people who derive excitement from raising plants."

Warner said that the future of agriculture will demand thought and adaptation to the fact that the ground water table is sinking.

"However, the human is the most adaptive animal in the world. We have the most ingenious people in the world here in Hereford, and we will adapt to this matter of water."

He said that the current need of the people is to learn to work with nature, and that we should learn to use the water given to us yearly by nature.

"Let's consider that we are in a time in which all of us must learn to work with nature, to make it work," Warner said.

The final thought of the meeting was that cooperation between business and agriculture is the most needed thing today in order to make our commerce continue to prosper as they are the backbone of the entire country," Warner said.

"Hereford is agriculture—agriculture is Hereford. It's a good place to live, a good place to raise children, and Hereford

Few Changes Expected From Sale Of Wilson Plant

Very few changes in personnel are expected to occur July 3 when Armour and Company officially takes over the Wilson, Beef and Lamb plant here, according to a spokesman at the Wilson Denver, Colo. office.

"We are anticipating a smooth transition," the spokesman told the Brand Friday. "Armour will employ a large bulk of the people presently employed at the plant, with the exception of a few long-time Wilson people who have expressed a desire to remain with the company."

"There will be no lay-off, as far as we can see, and no dislocation.

"We will conclude our operations the end of next week and Armour will begin its operations July 3."

"It is Armour's intention and ours that there will be no cuts in the employees at the plant," he concluded.

The official transition of the plant is scheduled for July 1, which is Saturday.

The spokesman said there would be no further announcements from Wilson regarding the sale or transition, which was first announced in the early part of May, pending official approval of the board of directors of both companies.

The official announcement of approval by the boards was made earlier this month, but no other information was made available.

The purchase of the $6 million plant is expected to "give Armour an important base of operation in the large and rapidly growing Panhandle cattle feeding area," according to Clifton B. Cox, president and chief executive officer of Armour and Company.

The large plant, only in operation here since 1970, has a kill capacity of about 6,000 head a week and employs about 250 persons.

NOVELTY COLLECTION—A pegboard of criminal weapons and fools is the highlight of Sheriff Travis McPherson's office. Most of the knives have been involved in stabbings or assaults. The pistols were used in armed robberies and shootings. Blood stains remain on most of the blades to add reality to the collection.

Unusual Collection Decorates Wall Of County Sheriff's Office

BY GRANT MABRY
Staff Writer

Most people collect items of some sort—rocks, bottles, gum wrappers and paper clippings to name a few—but Deaf Smith County Sheriff Travis McPherson has a collection that is a near novelty. It is a collection of weapons and escape tools which he has taken from criminals.

When one walks into the lawman's office, his attention is initially drawn to a pegboard decorated with knives, guns, files and home-made escape tools. Each item has a history in itself, some exciting, others mediocre and others forgotten.

One of the most interesting pieces is four-inch file wrapped in band aids. McPherson found the file, in addition to a hacksaw blade, in the lining of a coat, while frisking an escaped criminal who had robbed the Mobeetie Bank.

"He was shot and captured once, but broke out of jail north," McPherson said. "We got word that he might be on a train headed here. Later the convict called our office saying he was tired of running and wanted to give himself up. We got him at a local cafe."

Now the "escape artist" is doing time in the Huntsville penitentiary.

The long knife located in the center at the top of the board was taken from a migrant worker who was chasing another worker around a building with all visible intentions of using it. Once the chase was stopped and the knife was taken away, it was discovered that both were intoxicated, but obviously the subject being chased has suffered a sobering experience.

The guns in the center of the collection were involved in shootings or armed robberies.

"The gun on the right was used in an armed robbery," McPherson said, "its owner had robbed a store and stolen a car. The funny thing was that it was a .32 caliber revolver, and he had it loaded with automatic shells. Besides that one part of the sight was missing, and if he had ever fired the thing it would have blown up in his face."

The hook-nosed knife and the switchblade were taken from a man involved in forgery. When he was caught and searched the hook-nosed knife was opened in his pocket.

"It was extremely sharp," McPherson said. "The man was so highly intoxicated that when he was questioned he said that he had walked to Hereford from Vega to buy some groceries—he didn't even know where Vega was. He was also wanted by the FBI."

Several of the smaller knives were involved in stabbing or assaults. Some of them still have blood stains on them. Some of the knives in the collection have been taken off of prisoners while they were in jail. One of the knives placed in the collection was a Boy Scout knife.

Some home-made weapons kept in a file, are too large for the current collection to hold.

"One of the meanest weapons I have ever seen was this timing chain black jack," McPherson said, holding the weapon in his hand.

Another of the home made weapons had the appearance of a weapon of the Middle Ages. It consisted of a three-foot length of chain, braided with a leather strap to a leather glove. When the glove was placed on the

Weather Again Ravages Area

Once again, Hereford was hounded by a three-day series of bad weather, yielding less moisture and more violence than last week's episode.

Wednesday night two tornadoes were sighted and confirmed by the local sheriff's office. The office watched clouds for three straight nights, Wednesday through Friday.

Damage reported to the office ran higher than last week. Three miles east of town, the roof of a barn was torn off by what was believed to be a tornado. Also, a garage suffered some damage. Quiet a bit of damage was reported at Milo Center and on Highway 385 North, a trailer house was reportedly blown over. However, no confirmation by the sheriff's office was made on this incident.

During the Wednesday night cloud-watch one of the patrol cars, while observing one of the tornadoes, ran through the twister and was blown off the road incurring some damage to the front end alignment.

Tom Simons of the KPAN staff reported that the KPAN rain gauges showed 55 inches of rain, on Wednesday and one-tenth of an inch of rain on Thursday, with an unmeasurable amount of rain for Friday. The total amount of moisture recorded by KPAN for the year was 8.78 inches.

Numerous reports of funnel clouds were reported across the county during the turbulent night.

The Wednesday night storm also caused some disturbance of electrical service when some lines southeast of Hereford were downed on the Floyd Rickman and Denzil Pulliam farms the last season.

Tickets to the banquet may be obtained at the Hereford State Bank, Dickies Restaurant, or by calling David McDonald at 364-4258.

Stubble Helps In Conservation

With wheat harvest in full swing, plans are now being made as to how the land will be managed for the next crop. Many agricultural producers are looking at the prospect of planting forage sorghum into wheat stubble for hay and grazing. Some are planning to double-crop using grain sorghum.

Shrine B-B-Q Is July Fourth

The annual Oasis Shrine Fourth of July Barbecue will be conducted at the Bull Barn this year and tickets will be available at the door.

The barbecue will be from noon to 2 p.m. and the proceeds will be used for the annual Oasis Shrine Children's Clinic held each May.

The tickets, if purchased from a shriner, contain an error about the time of the barbecue, but a spokesman for the organization says to ignore the ticket times.

Soil moisture in fields following harvest will vary greatly throughout the county, says J.C. Brown, District Conservationist with the local Soil Conservation Service office. Some irrigated sections have had as much as five inches in the past two weeks while other areas in Deaf Smith County have had practically no rainfall for the entire year.

In either case, points out Brown, wheat stubble left on the land is nature's best method of conserving soil moisture. He contends that if good soil moisture is present and the operating unit will be in need of hay or summer grazing to start stocker calves on this fall, now would be the time to plant a sorghum in standing residue.

Most farming units have suitable equipment to use in planting into standing stubble, Brown says. Flex planters work well in this type situation. Coulters are necessary in some cases where straw is not spread uniformly from the combine.

Sue Shirley Winner Of $400 Scholarship

A $400 scholarship has been awarded Sue Shirley, Hereford 4-H Club girl who has won numerous honors the past year in club activities, the state 4-H office at Texas A&M University has announced.

Given by Standard Oil

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Shirley, the winner is a 1972 graduate of Hereford High School and plans to attend

Texas Tech next term as a home economics major.

She recently was one of the blue ribbon winners in food demonstrations at the Texas 4-H Roundup, after winning county and district contests.

During her nine years as a 4-H

"STUBBLE".....

Standing residue protects young plants in the early stages of growth from high winds and soil crusting. With most of the rainfall coming in the summer months on the High Plains, mulch planting will allow most of the water to soak into the soil.

Brown concludes that the soil and water conservation benefits from mulch tillage or minimum tillage are tremendous. Soil erosion from wind and water can be virtually eliminated while rainfall can be stored in the soil for plant use.

He reminds all operators that stubble burning is prohibited under the Great Plains Conservation Program and also the ASCS program where REAP assistance is desired for conservation work.

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, founded to insure deposits in banks, may borrow billions from the U. S. Treasury but has made no such borrowings since it was organized in 1933.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor, On Sunday, June 18, the following article appeared in the Hereford Brand, but was hidden in the back pages of your paper where I doubt if many housewives read the article.

"ORGANIZED CRIME FIXING MEAT PRICES IN N.Y.C."

New Yorkers, upset by soaring meat prices, learned that part of the money they have been paying may have been exacted by organized crime.

The retail price of meat in New York has risen during the past year almost three times as much as the Consumer Price Index as a whole.

With all the hell the cattle industry is receiving from the housewife about high meat prices and Hereford, Texas being one of the most concentrated feeding areas in the world, this article could have at least been on the front page of the Brand. It should have made

Sickle Cell Anemia Is Concern Throughout State

Sickle cell anemia is probably the most common inherited disease in the world, and the occurrence of the disease in Texas is of growing concern to state health officials. Although medical science has just recently begun to untangle the mysteries of this disease, sickle cell anemia has been around for a long, long time.

For generations, stretching back a thousand years or more, some families in black Africa have developed an extreme resistance to killing attacks of malaria. Their resistance was caused by a genetic trait they carried that affected their red blood cells. Those with the trait lived to pass this genetic defense mechanism on to their children.

Despite all its powers against malaria, this life-saving genetic trait also had death-dealing properties. For if two people carrying that trait married, their children ran a one in four risk of getting sickle cell anemia—a killer in its own right.

Now, with malaria less of a hazard, sickle cell anemia has become the major killer.

It strikes mainly blacks. Sickle cell disease, the most common inherited disorder in the U.S., is believed to be present in one of every ten black Americans, or more than two million black U.S. Citizens.

Although the disease occurs in a relatively benign "carrier" form in most of these two million, approximately one in every 500 black infants is born with the life-threatening disease. It is believed that almost three percent of the total black population in the United States suffers from this malady.

Such individuals undergo painful episodes called sickle cell crises, and quite often death.

The disease is due to a genetically determined defect in hemoglobin, the respiratory pigment in red blood cells which enable them to carry oxygen throughout the body. Under conditions of diminished oxygen supply or physical or emotional stress, the abnormal hemoglobin molecules become attached to one another in such a way as to distort the normally doughnut-shaped red cells into a distinctive crescent, a quarter-moon, or sickle-shape. The inability of these sickled cells to pass freely through smaller blood vessels creates a "log jam" effect, blocking the flow of blood to surrounding tissues, thus causing the extremely painful and dangerous sickle cell crises.

Sickle cell anemia is actually one of the most common long-term illnesses of Negro children. Its incidence is much greater than that of some other well-known childhood disorders. In many cities with 30 percent Negro population, more than twice as many children are born with sickle cell anemia as cystic fibrosis and nearly nine times as many as phenylketonuria. According to the 1970 census, seven of the ten largest cities in the U.S. have at least 30 percent Negro population.

The treatment of patients with sickle cell anemia remains a difficult problem, since there is no cure and no truly effective management. All doctors can do is ease the symptoms of the disease and try to control sickle cell crises when they occur.

New research programs are now underway to try to find improved treatment methods. New forms of treatment may make possible reversal of the sickling process, thereby shortening or even preventing the sickle cell crises and the resultant tissue damage.

When a person inherits a sickle cell gene from only one parent he is said to have the heterozygous form of the sickle cell trait. When he inherits sickle cell genes from both parents he has the homozygous form and has the disease proper. Only half of those patients with homozygous sickle cell anemia survive to adulthood. The heterozygous carriers with only one sickle cell gene usually have no serious complications and have a normal life expectancy.

Sickle cell anemia, like most anemias, has many different symptoms. There may be an increase in heart action and pulse rate and a decrease in the amount of oxygen present in the blood. Symptoms include pulsating noises in the ears, dizziness, fainting, poor appetite, shortness of breath and increased amounts of urine. Abnormal physical signs include pallor, jaundice, skin hemorrhages, inflamed tongue or gums, or enlargement of the heart, liver, spleen, or lymph nodes. There may be leg ulcers, severe pains in bones, recurrent attacks of abdominal pain, nausea and vomiting. Many of these symptoms are mistaken for other illnesses.

Sickle cell patients are generally lean, are prone to infections, and tend to have bone breakdown and kidney abnormalities.

A similar genetic blood disease called Cooley's anemia, or beta thalassemia, attacks whites who live along the Mediterranean in Greece, Turkey or Italy.

Sickle cell anemia, like cystic fibrosis or muscular dystrophy, is only one of some 1,545 identified hereditary diseases.

HELPFUL TIPS FOR MOVING

BY BETTE MALONE

PACKING FRAGILE THINGS

Packing! It's necessary when you move! Many people who move prefer to have the mover provide professional packers to handle the difficult chore of wrapping and boxing—especially fragile items of china or glassware.

However, there are people who choose to do some of the packing themselves. If you decide to "do it yourself," remember you take on a big responsibility and should follow the basic rules of good packing. These include using plenty of cushioning material, wrapping items individually and filling the empty spaces in a carton with newspaper padding for a firm pack. Newspaper (unprinted newspaper), tissue paper or kitchen toweling are good for individual wraps, with newspaper reserved for cushioning material.

Another good rule is to place two or three inches of crushed paper in the bottom of a carton to serve as a cushion; then the heaviest items should be placed in the carton forming the initial layer.

Packing your treasures is a big, big job. To help you pack properly, United Van Lines has published a folder called "A Guide To Do-It-Yourself Packing." For a free copy, call your United Van Lines agent.

Miss Murphey Becomes Bride Of Ray Leasure

In a Friday evening home ceremony, Miss Marylin Sue Murphey and Clifton Ray Leasure were wed with the Rev. Gerald Mann of First Baptist Church officiating.

Miss Murphey is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Murphey of 501 Ave. I. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. C.E. Leasure Jr., 511 Star.

With the setting of the ceremony in the home of the Leasures, an altar fronted by a kneeling bench was decorated with greenery and a seven-branch candelabra with blue candles.

Miss Retta Kay Ward of Lubbock attended the bride as maid of honor and Jon Steven Leasure, brother of the bridegroom was best man.

Earnest Alan Murphey, brother of the bride, and Jim Allison, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, served as ushers. Candles were lighted by Darrell Wayne Murphey, brother of the bride.

Miss Rebecca Jean Hickman provided piano music for the wedding with Purcell's Trumpet Voluntary played for the processional and Clair de Lune, The First Time by Peter Yarrow was sung during the ceremony by Jim Allison.

Miss Murphey, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of chiffon and Venice lace. The formal length skirt was gathered to a lace empire bodice. Satin ribbons banded the waist, tied at center back and extended in streamers the length of the chapel train.

Clusters of French pearls embroidered lace overlaying the bodice and cap sleeves from which chiffon was gathered to form Camelot sleeves cuffed at the wrists with satin.

Her full length veil of illusion and satin she carried a bouquet of white gladiolas, blue pom-poms and babybreath.

Miss Murphey's only jewelry was a dinner ring given her by the bridegroom.

Her attendant wore a gown of pastel blue miramist over satin with white flowers accenting the empire bodice and full sleeves gathered at the wrists. A blue bow with streamers in the back ending in miniature flowers the color of her gown, was worn as a headpiece.

She carried a nosegay of blue and white carnations with babybreath.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Murphey wore a white and rose colored knit suit with long sleeved jacket.

Mrs. Leasure wore a pale yellow dress of candlelight silk with roll collar and elbow length sleeves. Both mothers had corsages of cymbidium orchids.

A reception followed the ceremony with Miss Mary Lou Leasure, cousin of bridegroom, registering guests. Miss Hickman played musical selections by Burt Bacharach during the reception.

Miss Jackie Pickens served punch and coffee assisted by Mrs. Bill Leasure of Dallas, the bridegroom's aunt, and Mrs. Jon Leasure of Amarillo. Mrs. Jim Allison served a three-tiered cake decorated in colors of blue and white.

The reception table was laid with candlelight gorgandy ornamented in applique. White gladiolas and blue carnations were arranged in a silver epergne for the centerpiece.

For a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N.M. Mrs. Leasure wore a green and white knit skirt and bolero with white lace blouse. The couple will be at home south of Hereford.

The bride attended Texas Tech and West Texas State University following graduation from Hereford High School.

Leasure will return to WTSU this fall as a junior.

Ex-Resident Has Top Program

Jack D. Pinckert, former Hereford resident who is now a chief missile technician in the U.S. Navy, stationed at New London, Conn., was guest speaker at the annual Old Lyme, Conn., Memorial Day celebration where more than 2,000 persons were present.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C.D. Pinckert of 119 South Ave. K, and a veteran of 17 years in the Navy's submarine and destroyer service. Born in Hereford, he attended local schools until he entered the Navy, completing high school work.

A clipping from an Old Lyme newspaper received by Pinckert's parents told of the annual Memorial Day parade sponsored by the American Legion Post of Lyme and Old Lyme, with refreshments served afterward by the Legion Auxiliary. The guest speaker wrote that 900 had been expected for the program, but about three times that number attended.

Veteran's Affairs

Q — I am attending school under the GI Bill and receive $205 monthly educational allowance for myself and wife. Will my wife be dropped as my dependent if she works and earns a certain amount of money?

A — No. Your wife's income has no bearing on the amount of educational assistance you receive.

Q — I receive compensation based on a 100 percent disability. May I obtain employment without a reduction in compensation?

A — Yes, if your condition is rated 100 percent. However, if your condition is rated less than 100 percent and you are receiving temporary compensation at 100 percent based on unemployment, your compensation would be reduced if you became employed.

if you became employed. Q — I am a World War II veteran who never used his GI loan benefits. Is it true that I can still use this benefit?

A — Yes. The Veterans Housing Act of 1970 restored unused, expired loan benefits to all veterans who were previously eligible. These benefits are now available until used.

Prince Rainier nearly hit by Gran Prix cars

Gran Prix cars on an unscheduled practice lap of the closed circuit almost collided with the fleet limousines bringing Prince Rainier and Princess Grace to the start of the recent Monaco Gran Prix.

Drivers had to slow down and police motorcycle riders had to swerve to avoid them.

FOR CLEANER WATERS NEW YORK (AP) — Contamination of recreational waters will be less with the use of new dock-mounted boat sanitary stations.

Almost all states have laws preventing the overboard dumping of sanitary wastes. This means the wastes must be collected and stored on board, until transfer to a disposal facility on shore.

To use the units newly designed by the consulting engineering firm of Pope, Evans and Robbins for the National Park Service, the pleasure boater need only dock at the station and connect a hose to a gunwale fitting on his boat. Waste is then transferred from the boat holding tank to the station holding tank by a station pump.

Then, contents of the station holding tank are either pumped to a sewage system or, in remote areas, otherwise transported to one.

Donkey Ball Game Closer

The Jaycee "Empty Wallets" and the Riders Club "Asphalt Cowpokes" will square off a week from tonight on trusty steeds to determine which team is most like its mount.

Ralph Godfrey's donkeys will be the main attraction of the donkey baseball game to be staged at the Riders Club Arena at 8 p.m. Both teams have taken out plenty of insurance, and from all indications an action filled evening will be on tap.

Cliff Johnson, captain of the Cowpokes, feels that his team may have a slight advantage over the opposition, since his team members have had more experience with four-legged locomotion. However, Bill Johnson, leader of the Wallets feels that his team will hold its own considering its membership's experience with business and the trials of balancing stubborn accounts.

At any rate the victor will be decided June 29. Advance tickets are on sale now from club members at a cost of $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children.

Range Riders Rodeo Planned July 1-4

You may not see fireworks, but well known rodeo performers will see plenty of stars when they face L.D. Ward's rugged rodeo stock at the thirtieth annual Will Rogers Range Rider Rodeo scheduled for July 1, 2, 3 and 4 in their arena at Highway 66 and Bell Avenue in Amarillo.

Lured by top prize money, cowboys are already beginning to arrive in town to be on hand when rodeo books open June 29. Rodeo Chairman Cliff Lowrance reports that riding clubs are also anticipating the parade planned for 10:00 a.m. on Saturday morning, July 1, in downtown Amarillo sponsored by the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce and the Range Riders, which the Hereford Riders Club will participate in.

They will be vying for first, second and third place trophies, and with other "Honor America Day" Parade units will follow a route beginning at the intersection of 12th and Polk Streets. They will continue north on Polk to Fourth Street and then turn east to the Amarillo Civic Center.

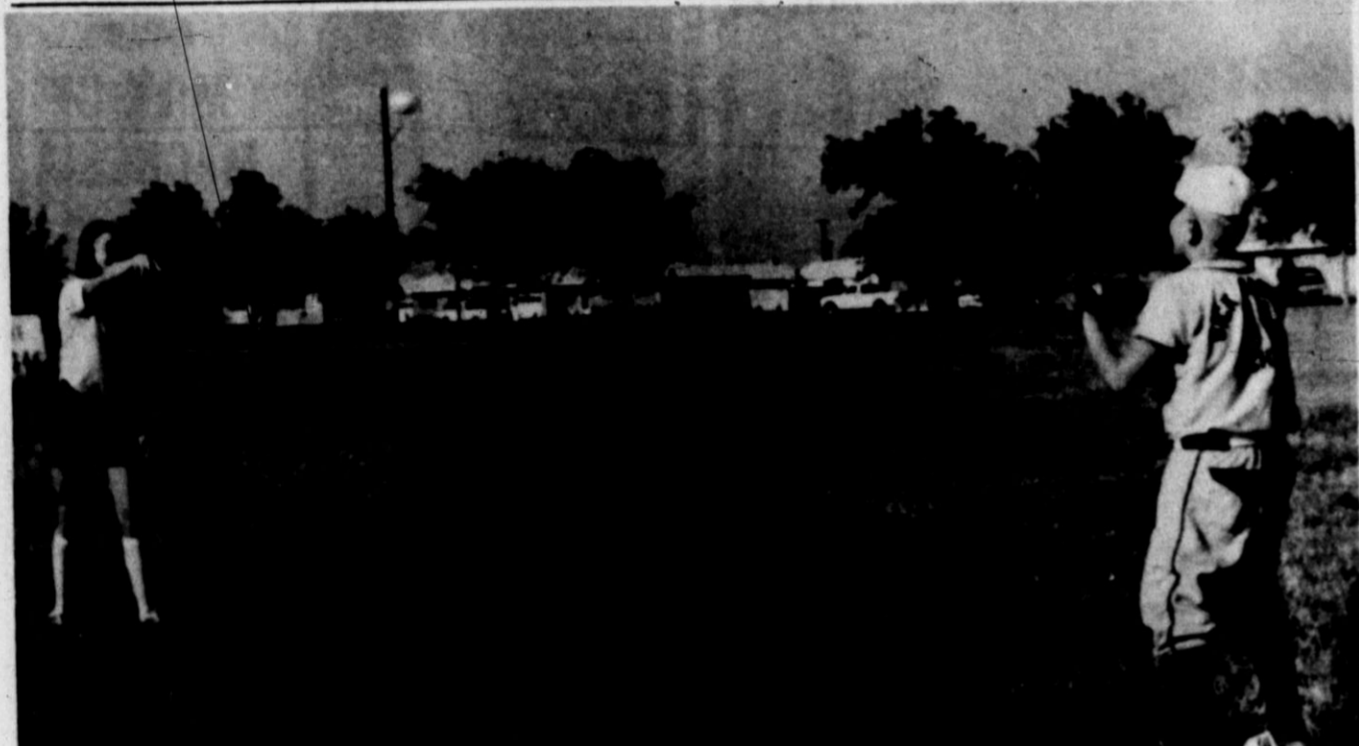

The general public is invited to participate by bringing American Flags to greet the riders since pictures will be sent to the President and Congressmen to show that patriotism is strong in the Texas Panhandle and Golden Spread.

Announcer Jim Miller from Rapid City, South Dakota, will be making his first appearance in Amarillo on the rodeo circuit. He promises to keep crowds well informed on the fine points and progress of individual performers when the go-rounds begin at 8:30 p.m. nightly.

To further celebrate this Thirtieth Annual Rodeo, the Will Rogers Range Riders will host a Queen Contest for girls aged 14 through 19 at 2:00 p.m. on July 1. The 1972 Rodeo Queen will then be presented at the first rodeo performance that Saturday evening.

Two well-known western bands have been engaged by Recreation Chairman Wayne Snider for dances on Saturday and Monday evenings, July 1, and 3, immediately after the rodeo performances. These will be held in the Rec Hall on Range Rider premises.

General admission tickets for rodeo performances is $2.00 for adults and seventy-five cents for children under twelve. Reservation information may be obtained from Cliff Lowrance at 806-376-4387.

CAMPFIRE GIRLS vs. BASEBALL BOYS—Three novelty games will be played Thursday night at the Bronco League Fields. Stacy Lea, one of the Camp Fire Girls practices with Anthony Poteet in anticipation of the big bout. Rules for the game differ from the regular set, all boys will have to bat and throw with the opposite hand that they regularly use, the girls will use which ever hand they prefer. At the same time the boys will run regular bases, while the girls will score runs by tagging third and one-half base located half-way between third and home plate. Pee Wee and Minor League games will start at 6 p.m. with the major league game to start at 8 p.m.

NEW YORK (AP) — "Vincent," Don McLean's current hit single record, is about Vincent Van Gogh.

Some disc jockeys playing the song on their radio stations have had questions about who Vincent was, and passed the queries on to McLean. McLean didn't intend the identity to be a mystery. "Starry, Starry Night," mentioned in the song, is the title of a Van Gogh painting and there are five or six references to other Van Gogh paintings in the song. The music swirls, also, in musical approximation of Van Gogh's painting style.

McLean was struck by Van Gogh as a person who tried to communicate during his lifetime and failed.

MOORE SCULPTURE IN FLORENCE

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — Americans who visit Florence this summer will have the opportunity to enjoy a view of the most comprehensive exhibition ever staged of the works of Henry Moore, widely regarded as the world's greatest living sculptor.

Fifty years of Moore's productive effort — including 160 sculptures and 100 drawings dating from 1922 to 1971 selected by the artist himself — have been assembled and transported with infinite effort (considering their size and value) by the Comune of Florence and are magnificently displayed on the lawns and terraces and within the palace of the historic Forte di Belvedere.

Kiwanians Hear Of Pilot Program

A speech and slide program was presented Thursday to local Kiwanians by Lyle Robinson of Swisher Electric, concerning his overseas assignment in India where he helped set up rural electric pilot programs. Two new members were inducted into the club, they were John Winder and Ray Chandless. Robinson spoke of the over crowded situation of India, and the fact that about 90 per cent of the people there do not have electricity. He said that the pilot programs were set up in hopes that rural electric cooperatives might be established. Robinson is a part of the Rural Electrical Cooperative Association lobby in Washington. He said that the importance of foreign aid is to help the international market. He added that the giving of knowledge to underdeveloped countries is more important than the giving of material goods.

DENIMS SUITABLE FOR SUMMER

There are dazzling doings in denims. Montgomery Ward is advancing with the popularity of denim jackets and pants by applying the same look to swimsuits. This pair plays variations on the denim theme. Red polka-dotted outfit, available in retail stores, makes the top and pants trim of a two-piece suit ($12), and the lady in the lounge has a denim blue suit with nautical white criss-cross trim ($15). Both suits combine the denim look with polyester fabric which holds shapes and colors effectively.

I'm proud of where he bought my diamond!

Will she be proud or embarrassed when friends ask where you bought her diamond? And, will you be embarrassed about the price you paid for the quality received? Today, there are no "bargains" in diamonds. You save no more—often lose—when you try to cut corners. Your knowledgeable American Gem Society member jeweler—one with a local reputation to safeguard and standards to maintain—is your wisest choice. Moreover, she will be proud to know her diamond came from us. Don't disappoint her.

YOUNG BANKERS AID COMMUNITY

by William G. Herbster
Senior Vice President &
Director of Urban Affairs
First National City Bank

How does business stay on top of the rapidly changing social problems that afflict big cities and small towns alike?

One way is to encourage young employees to go out into the community on a volunteer basis, track down problems and find ways to help solve them.

At Citibank, we've done just that through our Urban Affairs Advisory Group, whose 15 members have tackled the job with enthusiasm.

They've gone out into the community to probe problems affecting housing, the schools, drugs, jobs, the environment—nearly the entire spectrum of the modern scene.

They've talked with elected officials, community leaders, agency heads, teachers, students and many others, gathering fact and opinion.

Working with the people of the community is important. "We design our solutions in and with the community."

Herman Diaz, the group's chairman, said.

The group meets regularly to review its findings and then sits down with the senior management team that directs our urban involvement, providing them with insights and recommendations.

The group is only a little over a year old but it already has made an impact in one field—the environment. It was responsible for our changing over to recycled paper for some of our publications, brought about more efficient use of stationery, publicized neighborhood recycling centers and sponsored an ecology suggestion contest which drew over 500 replies.

It also helped develop a slide program for the volunteer speakers-bureau of the Environmental Action Coalition.

The young men and women on this task force are now considering several drug prevention and rehabilitation programs as well as projects in education and minority employment. And one of their goals this year is to make more of their fellow employees aware of their projects.

For a year of grappling with urban problems has taught them one thing it's the need for concerted effort by many people. They've also learned that the size and complexity of the problems require time to resolve them.

Two 'Distinguished' On A&M Honor List

Steven Dale Olson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Olson, and Russell D. Phillips, son of Wayne Phillips, Hereford students at Texas A&M University, were cited as "Distinguished Students" by A&M registrar Robert A. Lacy.

The undergraduate honor is awarded to students who have earned at least a 3.25 grade point ratio out of a possible 4 during the grade period, and is limited to 10 percent of A&M's undergraduate enrollment. Olson is a sophomore animal science major, while Phillips is a junior majoring in accounting.

Summer Jobs that Produce Real Benefit

by William G. Herbster
Senior Vice President &
Director of Urban Affairs
First National City Bank

Each year, thousands of students search in vain for summer jobs. Yet, countless community agencies desperately need more workers but can't hire them because of a lack of funds.

This paradox bothered us, so last summer we initiated a Community Summer Intern Program that provided funds to 11 community agencies such as the Police Athletic League, YWCA, and Environmental Action Coalition. These agencies in turn hired a total of 133 disadvantaged youths as recreational aides, research assistants or child care aides. Students were hired to lecture on pollution, conduct surveys of minority businesses, organize part-teaching, part-recreational programs for sub-teens, or do other useful community work.

Unlike other programs in which business hired young people and then sent them out on loan to various agencies, we let the agencies do the hiring. In this way, each agency and its student workers were more closely related to each other. The student's allegiance was to the agency that hired him. Our only ground rules were that there be no "make-work" jobs, no racial bias and no nepotism. We observed the youths at work and in turn had them visit us at the bank to tell us what they thought of the program.

The interns were, first of all, glad to be earning money which they needed to stay in school. Secondly, they felt that they were performing valuable community services. Since the students came predominantly from ghetto neighborhoods where they saw and experienced urban problems first hand, they realized the importance of the agencies' work. By getting together with the interns at meetings during the summer, we were the third party to benefit from the program, getting fresh insights into community problems.

They pinpointed the three top community problems as declining quality in the public schools, drug abuse, and unemployment. They offered several new approaches toward resolving them.

We're going to sponsor the intern program again this summer, and this time we expect to bring other industrial and business firms together with agency heads to expand it.

"Nothing is easier than fault-finding; no talent, no self-denial, no brains, no character are required to set up in the grumbling business."
—Robert West

STATE CAPITAL

Highlights AND Sidelights

by Bill Boykin
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex.—Legislators are moving along methodically toward completing work on a $3.8 billion 1973 state budget and trying to stay within revenue available.

Presiding officers set a "before-July 4" adjournment target date, but whether they could make it or not remained to be seen.

Gov. Preston Smith stuck by his pledge—to submit no additional business to the special session until the appropriations act is agreed on.

A representative's effort via resolution—to persuade Smith to "open the call" was rejected, when the House failed to suspend rules (on a 62-55 vote) and permit consideration. Proponents of the resolution argued the session is costing taxpayers $34,000 a day, but nothing could be accomplished while committees continued to process the appropriations act.

Progress was possible toward better legislative rules as both houses marked time before the budget landed on members' desks.

The senate adopted a new set of procedures, providing for fewer and smaller committees and permitting, for the first time, open floor debate on appointments matters.

The house also took a look at further rules amendments designed to reform the committee structure and improve legislative machinery.

Meanwhile, the Senate waded through confirmations of hundreds of interim appointments by the governor, occasionally finding one to reject.

of 250 years given three Dallas men in shootings during robberies were upheld by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

The court also upheld the 10-year sentence of a Houston man in the fatal shooting of a pregnant woman.

A federal court suit charging discrimination against minorities at the University of Texas at El Paso has been moved to El Paso for trial.

DRAFT CALL SET—About 500 young Texans will be inducted into the Army during August, State Selective Service Melvin Glantz predicted.

Men in the first priority group with numbers of 75 or lower are subject to induction. Those in this range were born in 1952 or before, have lost a draft deferment during 1972 and are now classified 1-A, 1-A-O or 1-O.

There is no quota for Texas, but Glantz noted an increase of 25 in the lottery number for induction from the July draft call. August induction orders will be issued between July 3 and July 28.

LIVESTOCK EXPORT HALT THREATENED—The Mexican government, unhappy with quarantine facilities, threatens to halt export of Texas livestock through major border cities, Agriculture Commissioner John White said.

White said the state faces possible closing of border gates to Texas cattle at El Paso, Laredo, and Brownsville, with re-routing of valuable state export market shipments through Miami, Fla.

Mexican officials insist on "adequate quarantine facilities." Such facilities are under construction at Del Rio and Eagle Pass. White said Texas has not had time and money to build the corrals elsewhere. He said the export halt would have a "serious impact" on a multi-million-dollar program.

AG OPINIONS—The University of Houston may not collect a voluntary fee from students to finance the Texas Public Interest Research Group, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded: A driver who operates his car in a negligent, but not "grossly negligent," manner not in violation of a law or ordinance may be tried under negligent homicide statutes if he causes a death. But one who causes death by "gross negligence" while violating a law or ordinance may not be tried for negligent homicide.

The State comptroller is not authorized to issue a warrant for overpayments of salaries to state agencies when he has knowledge the claim is in excess of the lawful maximum. Neither does he have authority to issue a warrant for an amount greater than that requested by another department head.

The Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation can make payment in cash to its employees who are subject to the provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act for authorized overtime.

A court clerk or reporter is not required to prepare and furnish any portion of the record to individuals confined in state and federal penitentiaries under a pauper's oath, in the absence of a court order.

Texas Water Development Board and Texas Water Quality Board cannot amend joint rules to authorize purchase of certificates of obligation except for purposes outlined in statutes.

The estate of a state employee is entitled to, as death benefit, accumulated vacation time accrued in two prior years, plus that in year of death.

URGED—Revaccination of horses immunized during the Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis outbreak in 1971 was advised by Texas Veterinary Medical Association and Texas Animal Health Commission.

TAHC and TVMA officials said, although no epidemic is eminent, revaccination is good insurance against the deadly form of sleeping sickness in horses. About 2,000 horses died in Texas during last year's epidemic, and 90 cases of VEE in humans was reported.

APPOINTMENTS—Governor Smith reappointed James Matthew Syler of Newton to the Sabine River Compact Commission.

Smith named Julian O. Crooke of Beaumont, William Francis Fredeman of Port Arthur, William Madison Monroe of Port Arthur, William Putnam Sexton of Orange and Lee Blanchette Wheat of Beaumont pilot commissioners for the Sabine Bar, Pass and Tributaries.

NEW VETERANS AID MAKES DEBUT—A new national program to help veterans make a smooth transition to civilian life was initiated here last week.

Mobile vans staffed by six specialists in veterans' services offer information on education, training, jobs, loans and medical care available to veterans. The vans later moved on to San Marcos and scheduled visits to New Braunfels, Seguin, Victoria, Corpus Christi, Kingsville, Galveston, Lufkin, Beaumont and Houston.

REFUNDS AVAILABLE—Income tax refunds are available for prisoners of war, those missing in action and their families. Internal Revenue Service District Director R.L. Phinney announced.

Phinney said new law provides that military or government pay may be excluded while servicemen or civilian employees of the government are imprisoned or missing, retroactive to Feb. 28, 1961.

SHORT SNORTS Democratic officials will meet in Abilene Friday (June 30) to pick a new District 61 nominee for state representative to replace David W. Ratliff of Stamford who declined the nomination after legal troubles.

The first bale of cotton in the U.S. was ginned June 20 at San Juan in the Rio Grande Valley.

Twenty five nominees from among 275 highway department maintenance foreman will compete for the third annual Lady Bird Johnson Award for highway beautification.

More than 1,700 Texans who violated game, fish and boating laws last month paid about $38,000 in fines. Most of them fished without a license—and paid fines from $5 to $50.

Thirty-one applications to sell more than $11.8 million in securities were filed with the State Securities Board last week.

Waste control regulations for the turkey growing industry have been prepared for Texas Water Quality Board consideration.

Plans to establish 154 new manufacturing plants in Texas and to expand 115 others were reported during the first six months of 1972, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Russell H. Perry of Dallas was named president of Texas Good Roads Association, succeeding Callan Graham of Austin. Wade Lorenz of Freeport is first vice-president.

MORE FULLBACK WORK EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Coach Duffy Daugherty says his main regret about the new wishbone offense used by his Michigan State football team last fall was that the fullback failed to carry the ball more often.

Spring drills indicate that Daugherty will order his quarterback to call fullback plays more often next fall.

The Merritt family were appointed to Nigeria in 1956, and now reside in Amarillo. They have two daughters.

The Rev. Jim Bozeman, minister, invites the public to attend church services today to hear the missionary recount some of his experiences.

Temple Baptist church is located at 700 Ave. K with services at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m.

Along The Frio

MRS. OWEN ANDREWS
Mrs. Sam Ogan underwent skin graft surgery on Tuesday, hopefully for the last time, at John Sealy Hospital, Galveston. She was doing well at the last report available.

The latest graft was a space across her shoulders, possibly three inches wide and smaller places on her back. She has a special bed, only a few are available, for recovery from this operation. She will lie face down for several days to allow the graft to heal. Mrs. Ogan has improved greatly during the past days, according to her daughter, Mrs. Marsh Pitman, who returned to Galveston last week to be with her parents a few days. Mrs. Ogan has even recovered movement in her hands to allow her to write some and has talked on the phone to family and friends here.

She has been in Galveston since March 22, having been burned on Jan. 12, in the fire which destroyed the Frio Church parsonage.

The parsonage is almost completed now, as floor covering and appliances are being installed. The living area is paneled in wood, matching cabinets. Appliances, as cooking units, dishwasher, disposal unit are built in. Of course, central cooling and heating and two water heaters are included in the building.

A double garage, large closets and ample linen storage space add to its convenience. Members of the building committee are Clark Andrews, Mrs. Harlan Barber, Mrs. Floyd Cole, Homer West, and Kenneth Frye. The building was begun on Feb. 21, after service on Sunday, Feb. 20. Local builders working from McCaslin Lumber Co. have done the work for the most part.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Janeway and daughter Amy Ruth, of Denver, visited the Jackie Andrews one day the first of the week. Mrs. Janeway and Anna Ruth are girlhood friends from when both lived at Borger.

compained the Edgar Vinsons to Abilene on Saturday. They attended the wedding of Mrs. Dobbins' niece, Sherry Reid, at Calvary Baptist Church, on Saturday evening, visited her brother and family on Saturday night and visited other relatives at Winters on Sunday.

The Jim Brooks, Dee and Todd Taylor spent Fathers Day at the Deward Taylor home, East of Friona. The occasion also celebrated birthdays for Deward's father and others of the family. The Taylors have recently moved into the new brick home, located east and north a few miles from Friona.

The Frank Robbins family has been doing some work at the old home of Mrs. Robbins parents, F. Y. Moreman place, a few miles east of Hereford. It is located at the fork of the Frio and Terra Blanca Draws. They have been painting and working on the house, preparing for occupancy by Mr. and Mrs. Al Johnson and Shane, who plan to move about July 1.

Gary White, who has spent a few weeks here with the Clark Andrews, and his grandmother, Mrs. E.B. Berryman, flew to Biloxi, this week. Mrs. Berryman plans to visit the Whites until they come in August for a visit here. Mike White, who came with Gary the last of May, remained here with the Andrews.

Visiting the E.F. Voglers last weekend were her brother, Ben Drager and Mrs. Drager and their daughter and son-in-law, all from Oklahoma City. Also, visiting were the Harold Voglers, Lamesa, the Martin Missners and sons, of Midland. Mrs. Harold Vogler is also her sister and Harold is Voglers' brother. The relatives were here especially to attend a silver anniversary reception of a brother, Chris Drager and Mrs. Drager, at their home in the Rhea Community, west of Friona. The celebration was on Saturday.

LINES DOWN BY WEDNESDAY WEATHER—Turbulent weather caused some disturbance Wednesday night when it blew some power lines down southeast of town on the Floyd Rickman and Denzil Pulliam Farms. Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative crews were clearing outage reports in that service area as late as 6 a.m. Thursday before all service was restored.

Q. My first husband died about 10 years ago. My child, now age 14, and I received social security checks following his death. About 3 years ago I remarried and my check was stopped but I still receive a check for my child. My last marriage ended in divorce recently. Would I be eligible for social security checks again?

The H.F. Bensons are making preparations to move to Hereford to the former home of their daughter, Mrs. Don Sigle, and Mr. Sigle. The Bensons have sold their farm in this community to the Connie Urbanyks after more than thirty years of living and farming there. The Sigles have moved to a farm west of town and the Bensons have bought their home on Ranger. They are doing some painting in preparation for the move.

Visiting the H.F. Bensons next week will be some of their grandchildren, Stacy, Sabra and Stefan Hacker, children of the Joe Hackers. They will be with the Bensons while their parents accompany the high school band on its Mexico City trip.

AWARDS AND RECOGNITIONS marked the Thursday concert of Hereford High School's Whiteface Band, on the eve of its departure to take part in the Lions International convention in Mexico City. For a time it seemed like Gary London Night; the first chair clarinetist received the John Philip Sousa award as outstanding band member, presented by Lynton Allred, left, president of Hereford Lions Club, also the $500 cash Rotary Club scholarship from the hands of Kenneth Rogers, right, who heads local Rotarians. The coveted Sousa award is based on scholarship, leadership and citizenship as well as musical ability.

"SOUND YOUR CONCERT A FLAT", Director Ben Gollehon instructs as he raises his hands to signal final tuning on the high school stage. The concert opened and closed with tunes typical of Mexico, Guadalajara and an old waltz, La Golondrina. Included were favorite American marches, Sousa's El Capitan and a newer piece, Their Finest Hour; also classical selections, Bach's Fantasia in G Minor, transcribed for band, and Introduction and Fantasia featuring brass and percussion.

Off-To-Mexico Concert Played By HHS Band

RELAXING FOR A MOMENT after the program, Gollehon talks with his assistant director, Gene O'Rear, left. In his informal comments during the concert the director introduced O'Rear and also Randy Vaughn and Jim Priest, junior high band directors, and Fred Ratliff, HHS choir director, recognizing their services to the school's band program. He cited a member, Lynn Lauderback, for ticket salesmanship when the band sponsored a benefit supper to finance the Mexico trip.

Family From Coastal City Likes Panhandle

BY LINDA HALLOWS
Staff Writer

HEREFORD IS OUR favorite of all the places we have lived. We realize the contrast in the size of Hereford and where we lived before we moved here and we prefer a smaller town. Especially for the children...well, and for us too."

That was the comment Mrs. Homer Hanna, gracious wife of the assistant pastor of the First Baptist Church, made after being a Herefordite seven months.

The Hanna family moved to Hereford at the end of last year from San Antonio and now reside at 329 Centre. Melinda, age 10, Christi, 7 and Ben, 5, have become well acquainted around town and are quite content with their schools church and friends.

MARILYN HANNA LISTS her husband's duties as assistant pastor and refers to him being a "jack-of-all-trades." He assists the pastor in whatever way possible and as Minister of Education handles the educational part of the church system, such as Sunday School and recently, Vacation Bible School.

"Childhood sweethearts", Marilyn Crowe and Homer Hanna are both from Brownsville, went to school together and attended Baylor University.

"We were married during my senior year at Baylor and have been happily married for 12 1/2 years," she adds.

MARILYN'S FATHER has farmed at Brownsville all his life and is in the produce business. Homer's father is business manager and assistant superintendent of schools in Brownsville.

Religion has been an important part of the couple's lives. They each were brought up in very religious families. Homer began his preaching career at the age of 15 at a mission by the port at Brownsville.

"The congregation consisted mainly of longshoremen and country people near Brownsville. Homer preached the sermons and I played the pump organ," Mrs. Hanna recalls.

"It was a really unusual blessing for us, being that young, to do this. Of course the people were so patient. I'm sure we were terrible." This was the first Baptist church started in Brownsville and it is still there.

AFTER GRADUATING from Baylor, Mr. and Mrs. Hanna moved to Fort Worth where Hanna enrolled in seminary which was followed by a preaching position in Waxahatchie.

Corpus Christi offered another move for the family when Hanna became campus chaplain at the University of Corpus Christi. He was later asked to be dean of students and accepted the position.

"He felt that this was the ministry too. I believe he can relate to young people and was well qualified for the position." Corpus was their home for six years.

At Baylor University Mrs. Hanna majored in elementary education. She taught kindergarten four years at Corpus Christi and was second grade teacher in San Antonio previous to their move to Hereford. She has intentions of returning to that profession in a few years; right now she enjoys staying home.

MRS. HANNA HAS always taught a Sunday School class in each place they have lived. She now enjoys sitting back and being taught.

"I think it is good for me to sit back and learn a few things. It's also a good way to become acquainted with that many more people."

In assisting her husband with his calling in the church, Mrs. Hanna feels that the most important thing for her to do is "...maintain a calm and happy home. The children must be happy...and they are!"

WHAT DOES MRS. HANNA think of this unpredictable West Texas weather? She says, "We moved from hurricane country to tornado country. Actually hurricane weather is a lot worse so this weather doesn't bother us."

The Hanna children are kept busy, especially with summer underway. They spend much time getting better acquainted with the neighborhood children and Marilyn is very pleased with her "tremendous neighbors."

"Families in Hereford are more family-oriented than I have ever seen. I think this is great and I never have to worry about my children," she says. "It is a rare thing to have so many people like this in one spot."

CHRISTI AND MELINDA are both active members of Girls Auxiliary of the church and Christi is a Bluebird. Ben entertains himself with all his neighbor friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanna like to visit with different people of the church. "So many are unusually wonderful people—so warm and personable."

Mrs. Hanna enjoys reading and riding bikes after she received a bike from her family for Mother's Day. She is also a member of La Plata Study Club.

The family does not consist of a mommy, daddy and three children only, but also Joe Hanna, a border collie which has been in the family seven years.

Baritone To Sing In Recital

Ranging from hymns through German art songs to solos from the musical stage, a varied program by Harold B. Taylor of Friona, bass-baritone, will be presented in a recital this afternoon.

Family and friends have been invited for the program by Taylor, who is music director of Calvary Baptist Church at Friona and a voice student of Mrs. Dolson Palmer. The recital will be in her home.

Mary Cary will be piano accompanist for the solos. First on program is a religious song, Hold Thou My Hand, by C.S. Briggs, then two Italian arias, Caro Mio Ben (Giordani) and Vittorio, Mio Core, by Garissimi.

The German songs are by Brahms, Schumann and Schubert. For a final group of selections, Taylor will sing The Impossible Dream from the production, Man of La Mancha, and Some Enchanted Evening, from Rogers and Hammerstein's South Pacific.

Taylor lives at 901 Frio St. in Friona and for hobbies enjoys wood carving, painting, reading and gardening. He does evangelistic singing for revivals in other cities, as he did last month at Seymour with the Rev. Johnny Burrell, former pastor of First Baptist Church in Dallas.

Gliders Hold Meet In Hereford

About a dozen sailplane pilots and their motorless aircraft competed last week in the second annual High Plains Fly-In and Soaring contest here.

The event was sponsored by the High Plains Soaring Society and hosted by Hereford Aero.

Fly-In competition started Wednesday and ended Saturday with special awards for speed and distance. To compete in the Fly-In, contestants could start anywhere as long as their flight was non-stop, terminating at the Hereford municipal airport. Flights were from such points of origin as Odessa, Colorado Springs, Albuquerque, Waco, San Marcos and the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

Speed tasks were held Saturday afternoon and Sunday afternoon. Speed task courses were designated each day by contest director Jim Foreman. Although the designated length of each task depended to some extent on flying conditions, Each aircraft was launched by aerial tow from the Hereford airport, returning to Hereford after completion of the non-stop task.

The task Sunday consisted of several laps around a 10 to 15 mile course within spectator view of the Hereford airport.

Prizes were awarded to the winners in each of three classes of sailplanes. The High Plains Soaring Society, sponsor of the contest, is an association of more than 20 sailplane pilots in the High Plains area. Based in Amarillo, the club owns two medium-performance sailplanes. Two high-performance sailplanes are owned by individual club members. Club flying activities are currently being conducted from Palo Duro airport. Wayne Schmitt, 3617 Eddy, is president of the organization.

In 1936 the world's first chain of five radar warning stations was erected along the east coast of Britain.

Small Talk

BY SUE COLEMAN

EXCITEMENT OF Whiteface Band members over their impending trip was contagious at their off-to-Mexico concert Thursday night, and the audience was in a lively and appreciative mood, quick to applaud the band's music and those recognized for special service — also to laugh at Director Ben Gollehon's quips.

While extra congratulations are due Gary London for earning both the John Philip Sousa award as outstanding band member and the Rotary Club scholarship, every member merits his share of praise for keeping the band in the sweepstakes-winning class and making it the official choice of Texas Lions Clubs for the international Lions convention this week in Mexico City.

All of Hereford can take pride in the band and its director, who gives credit to his assistant and to junior high directors who keep the high school band supplied with well-trained material.

LISTENING TO GOLLEHON as he talked to the band a couple of times Thursday evening, giving last-minute instructions about the trip, I decided maybe his words held a key to his success in turning out winning HHS bands every year.

He talked casually, quietly, about bus seating, when not to drink the water, Mexican laws and customs which might embarrass tourists, and such matters. But he was definite, emphatic, and repeated all his points a time or two.

It reminded me of that old tale about the elderly Negro preacher who was asked by a younger colleague for the secret of his long record of successful preaching.

"Well," he said slowly, "I've always told 'em about the Gospel, and told 'em so they would understand. To be sho they understood, I fust told 'em I was gonna tell 'em; then secondly, I told 'em, and thirdly, I'd tell 'em I done told 'em!"

would like to have, especially those who are interested in study and a possible career in government, was landed for this summer by Dion Miller, who is also enrolled in the University of Texas at Austin.

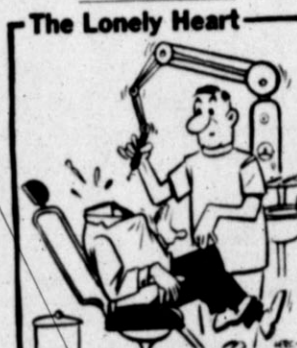

He attends classes in the mornings, then works as a sergeant-at-arms in the Texas House of Representatives in afternoons — and sometimes on into the night when a legislative session gets tied up as they can do.

Before going to Austin he attended the state Democratic convention at San Antonio as a young member of the Deaf Smith County delegation. He was present at the opening of the current legislative session to hear the governor's address and budget message, he wrote his parents, the H.H. Millers of Dawn.

AN HONOR STUDENT at Sul Ross State University at Alpine for the spring semester was Jeffrey L. Loerwald of Hereford, an announcement from that school says. He was among the 14 percent of students there who qualified for the dean's list.

Two more of the schools at Texas Tech University have announced spring semester honors with Hereford students listed.

From the college of business administration the roll included Donald R. McDermitt and Galen Evans. Four on the list from the college of education are Paula Banks, Deedra Walden, Camille Langley and Kay Lyman.

Hide And Seek

The nation faces a very clear choice with respect to international trade. We may continue to work for freer trade, and enjoy the greatest possible variety of goods and services at the lowest possible prices. Or we may listen to the neo-protectionists, admit to the world that we are afraid of competition, and condemn all Americans to higher prices and less variety in a misguided attempt to subsidize a few companies and a few unions. Several pieces of legislation now before Congress — including the Burke-Hartke bill — would do just that.

Competition implies change. This is as true of domestic competition as it is of foreign competition. It is fear of change that impels individuals, industries and unions to seek protection. That impulse is understandable, but yielding to it is not in the best interests of either society or the individual.

We too often forget that change may be for the better. We too easily lose faith in our industries and our workers. A few short years ago, virtually all electronic calculators and high-quality watch movements were imported into the U.S. Now, thanks to recent technological advances, the situation has changed dramatically. We are the only world source for the most advanced electronic watch movements, and we are able to make calculators that can be priced to undercut foreign producers in their own home markets. The consumers of the world, and the American economy, will benefit from these developments, thanks to the stimulus of competition.

Individuals and companies threatened by foreign competition do deserve help, but not the kind of help that harms other Americans. An enlightened, open, efficient society will encourage the movement of capital and labor from noncompetitive to competitive activity. Minimizing the discomfort and inconvenience of this transition is the proper role of government. Trying to prevent it entirely protects inefficiency, enshrines the status quo, and blocks the most productive use of the world's limited resources.

There are many steps we can and should take to compete more effectively on the world market. We should provide the training and assistance necessary to help workers move from obsolescent industries to those that are dynamic and competitive. We should provide tax incentives to help our industries modernize their physical plant, and to stimulate the research and development that can enable us to continue paying the world's highest wages while remaining competitive. We should establish long-range international economic goals and then work toward them through top-level coordination of our trade, investment, development assistance and tax policies.

And, of course, we should use our persuasive abilities — and our economic power — to encourage other countries to reduce their trade barriers

Pursuit Of Happiness

"Independence Day!" What does this mean to you? One hundred and ninety six years ago this young nation rose up to declare its independence. To declare that all men are created equal, that all men are endowed with certain inalienable rights. Among these rights are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. These rights are still held in high esteem today. But, how much value do we really place on life?

The death toll on our nation's highways exceeds one thousand each week. Yet does the average motorist stop to think that death could be waiting for him today, or maybe tomorrow? No, I'm sure that to the average motorist, accidents always involve the "other" driver. Not me! Still, death claims a life every two and one-half hours in Texas! The acceptance of traffic fatalities has brought about the "everyday occurrence" attitude that exists today. Life means more than that. Life is a God-given gift and it should not be carelessly thrown away.

Each 4th of July, the Texas Department of Public Safety conducts "Operation Motorcide." This is an extensive coverage of the Texas traffic problem during the holiday period. The public is kept aware of the traffic deaths and is continually made aware of the main causes of traffic accidents. This year's "Operation Motorcide" will begin at 6:00 P.M. on Friday, June 30, and will run until midnight Tuesday, July 4.

Major C.W. Bell, Regional Commander of the Lubbock Region of the Department of Public Safety states, "All available personnel will be used in an effort to keep the highway deaths at a minimal. We will be on the lookout for violations of the traffic laws; especially we will be alert for the speeding driver and the drinking driver." Speed and DWI are the two largest contributors of traffic fatalities. Major Bell reminds all motorists that "each driver is responsible for keeping control of his vehicle in order to avoid colliding with another vehicle, a pedestrian or any fixed object. No one wants to be responsible for the death of another. Let's make our streets and highways as safe as possible. We all could drive twice as safe as we usually drive, so let's make an all-out effort and make this 4th of July a safe, happy holiday. Not a holiday that turns into a mourning." Do your part. "Drive Friendly," the Texas way.

Minority Benefits, Majority Suffers

BY BERT MILLS

Washington, D.C. — Big increases in Social Security taxes on all workers and employers are assured next year as Congress prepares to pass the most expensive pension and welfare bill ever considered, in time to bestow retroactive benefits on pensioners before the election in November.

As usual, the headlines will go to the increased benefits to the minority, and not to the higher taxes to be assessed against the majority. And in typical political fashion, the tax boost will be postponed until after the election while the improved benefits will take effect before the voting.

Final terms of the Social Security — welfare bill will not be determined for many weeks.

The House passed its version last year and the Senate Finance Committee has approved an even more costly bill which will be debated on the Senate floor in late July. Final passage of at least the Social Security part of the bill is taken for granted this summer.

The big controversy during Senate debate will be over the welfare provisions of the bill. It is possible that the welfare package will be split off, with a Social Security bill sped to passage while the welfare measure is deferred and handled separately next year. The politicians will make sure they do not face the voters in November without having sweetened Social Security benefits.

It is apparent that any amendments adopted from this point forward will only make the final bill more costly. For example, the Nixon Administration proposed a 5 percent increase in Social Security benefits and that is what the House voted. However, the Senate bill doubles that figure to 10 percent and a majority of Senators are sponsoring an amendment to redouble the increase to 20 percent.

Taxes to Rise 17 Percent or More Effective next January. Social Security taxes on all covered employees and their employers will rise at least 17.6 percent. That is the figure contained in the House-passed bill. The Senate committee's more generous version calls for a 24.2 percent tax increase. Both bills schedule even higher tax rates in future years after 1973.

At present, the maximum annual Social Security tax on workers and employers is $468. The House bill would boost this cost next year by $82.80, to $550.80. The Senate bill would be more expensive, raising the maximum by $113.40, to $664.20 per year. Of course, these are dollars that workers never see because the tax is withheld from pay checks.

Both bills would not only raise the tax rate but also the taxable base on which it is levied. At present, the tax (including Medicare) is 5.2 percent on the first $9,000 of income. The House bill would lift that to 5.4 percent of the first $10,200, and the Senate committee proposed a 5.7 percent rate, also on a base of $10,200.

When the Senate passes its Social Security bill, a conference committee of Senators and Representatives will draft the final compromise. Since the Senate bill when passed seems sure to carry a higher tax rate than the House bill, the final law cannot contain a lower figure than voted by the House. That means the rate will be at least 17.6 percent higher next year.

$22 Extra Per Month for Couples

If the Senate committee bill should become law, the average retired couple would receive $22 extra per month — $255 instead of $223. The maximum benefits for a fully-covered couple would climb $32.50 per month, from $324.20 to $356.70. Individuals get less but the same 10 percent increase would apply and the average single pensioner would get a $13 per month raise to $146.

Congress raises Social Security benefits every election year. The constant increase in the cost of living makes such action politically necessary.

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Dear editor:

This is supposed to be the age of mistrust, half the people say they don't believe what the government says, the government says half the time it can't believe what the people say, young people don't trust older people, older people don't trust young people, no country really trusts another country, and so it goes.

But I guess the climax was reached week before last in that public opinion poll which showed McGovern leading Humphrey in California by a lop-sided majority, only to have the actual voting result in just a slim margin.

But when that happened, the pollsters had a ready answer. They said the poll was right but a lot of voters voted the other way just to prove the poll was wrong.

You mean to say we've carried mistrust so far that there are now a lot of people in this country who, when asked by a pollster how they're going to vote, will tell him wrong just for the amusement of seeing their answer turn up as an inaccurate statistic?

This keeps up and it'll just about put the public opinion polls out of business.

To change the subject, I have discovered that there was one piece of information President Nixon brought back from his trips to China and Russia that has gone almost unnoticed. In promoting trade with the two countries, he said one of the things they're particularly interested in buying is computers.

This is encouraging news. It's great news. Any time a country needs more computers it means it's got more problems than it can solve. You take a country that's still adding on its fingers and using a pencil and long division to figure up its national debt and life is still simple and orderly there, but when the problems get so big only a computer can handle them, look out.

I don't object to the use of computers, what I object to is thinking up problems big enough to require one.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

One of the most important meetings ever held by the Hereford Breeders Association was that last Saturday afternoon at the courthouse when three vital steps were taken to aid in the development of the association work for this section. (1) to invite the members of the Panhandle Hereford Breeders Association to hold their 1923 convention at Hereford; (2) to change the constitution of the local association, letting down the membership residence bar and allowing any reputable breeder, wherever located, to become a member with the purchase of a share of stock in the Pavillion; (3) to include carlot stuff in the sales to be held hereafter.....

35 YEARS AGO

The heads and shoulders of President Washington and President Jefferson, sculptured in the solid granite of South Dakota's Black Hills, received the finishing touches as workmen began work on the last figure, that of President Lincoln. Gutzon Borglum, the sculptor, recently announced that he expected to have the major work on Mount Rushmore, near Rapid City, completed by next year..... The sit-down strike, according to Cape Carl von Hoffman... was originated years ago by disgruntled wives of the W'Laia tribes of Africa.....

20 YEARS AGO

Saturday, Sept. 6 is the date approved for a city election on Hereford's proposed home rule charter... Framework of the city government as called for in the charter will allow for a mayor and two commissioners as is now the case and for a city manager to minister the business of the city... Housing for permanent Latin-American residents and two fall community events—a farm tour and a harvest festival—were the main topics of business at the monthly meeting of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce executive board meeting.....

10 YEARS AGO

The Hereford Brand was named best semi-weekly in Texas Saturday morning. The announcement was made in Corpus Christi during the annual Texas Press Association convention..... John Connally almost sneaked through town without notice Friday. He was here on what he termed a "business trip", looking over some Hereford cattle he is thinking about buying for his ranch... Connally wouldn't even discuss politics, saying that he was really taking a short rest before hitting the campaign trail again.....

Talk Of Texas

BY JACK MAGUIRE

THE SUMMER OF '32—Odessa, which claims to be the only city in the world with a statue of a jackrabbit as a tourist attraction, traces the origin of the monument to a publicity stunt perpetrated 40 years ago by the publisher of the town's newspaper.

R. Henderson Shuffler, now director of the prestigious Institute of Texan Cultures in San Antonio, was the young publisher who gave the jackrabbit a new place in history that summer of 1932. It all happened because the Great Depression was on and paying customers were showing little interest in the annual Odessa rodeo. Shuffler, hoping to fill the stands by one ruse or another, wrote a story promising that the Odessa rodeo would offer the world's only rabbit-roping event.

The story was sent around the world by the wire services and it stirred up controversy almost everywhere. Rabbit fanciers called it inhumane; rodeo veterans said that roping a hare was an impossibility, and the public rushed to buy tickets. The rabbit-roping contest went on as scheduled, but it was never repeated.

Nor was it forgotten. Thirty years later, in 1962, the citizens of Odessa put up a fiberglass replica of a six-foot-tall jackrabbit to commemorate the roping contest that attracted the attention of the world.

TRAVELING TEXAS—There is a motel in Sinton, Patricio County, called "The Loose Caboose."

PREHISTORIC PLANT—It isn't advertised as a tourist attraction, but a plant grows in Texas that once was a favorite food in dinosaurs.

It is called Equisetum, a poisonous plant with jointed stalks that is sometimes known as "horsetail" or "scouring rushes." It is a form of creeping rhizome.

The plant has been attracting attention from many travelers this summer since a growth of it was discovered at the State Highway Department's roadside rest area on Interstate 35 north of Round Rock, Williamson County.

DOWN MEMORY LANE—Texas' largest crowd for a baseball game (before major league teams came to the state) gathered in Dallas on April 11, 1950, to watch a Texas League game between the Dallas Eagles and the Tulsa Oilers.

A paying crowd of more than 50,000 showed up for the contest, played in a football stadium (the Cotton Bowl), and enhanced with the presence of a number of old baseball greats like Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker, Dizzy Dean and many others.

Home Ceremony Read For Couple

Ellie Mae Howard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.W. Howard of Childress, became the bride of Dwayne Knabe Saturday in a late afternoon ceremony at the home of her parents. Knabe is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Knabe, Star Route, and resides now in Amarillo.

Arthur Judd of the Church of Christ and the Rev. Dermot O'Brien of Holy Angels Catholic Church, both in Childress officiated.

Wearing a blue street-length sheath, the bride was given by her father in marriage. Her veil of blue illusion was attached to a bow of material taken from her dress which was accented by white accessories. She carried a bouquet of white carnations on a colonial base. Judy Taylor of Amarillo served as the bride's maid of honor, and wore a yellow princess-style street length dress-trimmed in white lace. She wore a corsage of white carnations. Darrell Knabe, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Patricia Howard, sister of the bride, and Miss Loraine Walker presented the organ and piano selections. Because, and Walk Hand in Hand with Me.

SUMMER WATERSPORTS IN THE CARIBBEAN

Summer in the Caribbean? Definitely. Dependable as the northeast trades that comb the cays and island mountains of the Bahamas and Antilles is their ideal year-round weather — temperatures of 75° to 85° — and the farther south, the better. You may leave home in the moist grip of a 95° dog-days fever, and deplane under the shaggy, emerald heights of Grenada at the foot of the Windward Islands, where the trades are sweetly blowing and rates are invitingly lower.

At the Barbados Holiday Inn, for example, standard off-season daily rates per couple, with two meals, drop from $71 to $42. And with carriers like American and KLM/ALM offering special April-December package deals, summer holidays in this new Polynesia look mighty attractive.

Though the total range of watersports, from luxury chartering to bone fishing, is usually available all year, in summer there is a special emphasis on the world of "inner space." In sun-flecked reef gardens hung above cobalt depths, weightless swimmers with snorkel and backpack scout treasures of the silent realm — staghorn coral, barnacled buccaneer cannon, and luminous angel fish. For vacationers with an eye towards off-season, here is a summer survey of watersports from the Bahamas to Barbados.

Bahamas. In the gin-clear waters of the 700 Bahama Islands, there is unexcelled skin diving and snorkeling. Top hotels in Nassau, such as Water skiing, marlin fishing, skin diving and scuba—the islands have all of it, and more. Holiday Inns, like this one on Barbados, dot the palm-treed coastlines of this new Polynesia.

Coral Harbour, the British Colonial and Sonesta Beach, continue a full watersports program throughout the summer, with special shore-based stress this year on Nassau's second annual Goombay Summer Festival. A new watersports headquarters is the 17-story Holiday Inn on Paradise Island, opened in 1971 and currently the tallest building in the Bahamas.

Top skin diving areas off Nassau are the bottomless, azure Ocean Hole, seven miles towards the Exumas; Rose Island Reefs, a few miles from Nassau Harbour; and Lyford Cay Drop-Off, with its Black Coral Forest.

Rental charge for snorkeling equipment is $3 daily; $10 for skindiving gear with Leewards, St. Kitts is also one of the least visited. It has spectacular white beaches fronting Brimstone Hill, an old British fortress rising 750 feet out of the sea. The Holiday Inn on St. Kitts is convenient to the island's new jet port, and in these waters you'll meet fish that have never seen a snorkel mask.

Antigua is a major charter yacht headquarters. The new Antigua Beach Hotel, the totally private Curtain Bluff, Admiral's Inn and the Holiday Inn typify the island's best resorts. There's fine snorkeling at Long Bay and Marmora Bay; deeper diving in the shadow of dramatic Devil's Bridge.

The soaring peaks of St. Lucia tower above upland banana plantations and deep, sea-fed inlets. Halcyon Days at Vieux Fort, and St. Lucia Beach and Holiday Inn on Reduit Beach are three of the best resorts. The big hotels have year-round water skiing, skin diving and snorkeling instruction. There's excellent game fishing available. The waters off Pigeon Island, opposite Holiday Inn, offer fine wreck diving.

Grenada, southern anchor of the Windwards, is a dream. On the five-mile-long stretch of Grand Anse Beach is the cabana-style Holiday Inn, with one of the most complete watersports centers in the Windwards. Grenada Watersports here provides year-round waterskiing lessons, scuba and snorkeling instruction, deep sea fishing, sailing and glass, bottom boat trips.

THE INFORMED CONSUMER

BY CRAWFORD C. MARTIN
Attorney General of Texas

It's time to pay bills again. And there's a bill from the department store for a whopping $520! What do you do? Begin to grill each family member ruthlessly to find the culprit? Maybe, but it could be that a computer's the one to blame.

In our electronic age, computer billing is becoming more and more frequent—and so are the billing mix-ups. Computers are fussy and one small human error can cause them to overreact and botch up thousands of accounts.

Some of the things that can go wrong in the course of a transaction are: mistakes in the credit office when a girl reads off the wrong charge card number for a customer who forgot his card; salesmen inserting a "5" on a bill and the billing clerk reading "1" instead; or, the alteration and billing departments not getting together and charging a customer for clothes that haven't even been delivered yet.

Another mix-up can occur when a customer pays part of a purchase in cash and charges the rest. With the billing forms used, it is easy for a key punch operator to misread a statement and charge the customer for the full purchase instead of just what is owed.

The worst mix-up is when new mistakes are made while trying to correct old ones. A customer who tries to stop billing on an account until it is put in order often can wind up with a service charge and his name on a delinquent payment list.

A consumer can do some things to protect himself from the computer's tantrums, however. Make sure to use a credit card plate whenever possible. Check and make sure the figures on your sales slips are clear and correct. Save those duplicate sales invoices and compare them with the monthly statement. Always return the bill form or punch card with the check to insure you get the credit for paying.

If you do come up with errors on your account, notify the bill sender as soon as possible. If you phone in your complaint, know and remember who you talk to so you can find them again if the situation isn't solved. If you write, don't further confuse the issue by enclosing a bill payment or other correspondence.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

Q. What happens if a firm fails to file a required report with the Price Commission or is late in filing?

A. New Price Commission regulations provide the following administrative penalties for persons who have not complied with reporting requirements:

(1) the implementation of future price increases is prohibited;

(2) action on all pending requests for price increases or exceptions is suspended;

(3) the Commission may order such a person to reduce prices when appropriate under the circumstances; and

(4) each day a person fails to comply with the reporting requirements is a separate violation.

Q. May an attorney who charged a percentage contingent fee (such as 25 percent of the amount recovered) for a particular service during the freeze base period continue to charge the same percentage fee for the same service, even though the dollar recovery may vary from case to case?

A. Yes. The attorney's percentage fee during the freeze base period is his base price.

Q. If a landlord agrees to accept less rent than provided for in the lease, is the base rent the amount paid or the amount in the lease?

A. The amount actually paid by the tenant should be used to determine base rent, regardless of what the amount provided in the lease is.

Q. Can a private nonprofit university increase its monthly charge for student housing without regard to rent controls?

A. Yes. Fees and charges by private schools not operated for profit are exempt from controls provided that they do not result in income subject to tax as unrelated business taxable income under the Internal Revenue Code. Charges for housing which a nonprofit school provides for its students is not unrelated business taxable income under the tax laws and thus is exempt from controls.

Q. When does a health service provider have to notify or report to the Price Commission?

A. An Institutional or non-institutional provider of health services must, notify and report to the Price Commission if it has annual sales or revenues of $10 million or more. A health service provider is subject to Tier II reporting requirements if it has annual sales or revenues from $5 million to $10 million. All other health service providers do not have to report or notify, but are subject to monitoring and spot checks by the Internal Revenue Service.

Q. Can I give a supervisor in my firm a 10 percent pay increase provided it was within an annual aggregate of 5.5 percent for all of my employees?

A. The supervisor could conceivably receive a 10 percent increase. However, the determining factor is not whether the aggregate for all the employees in your business is 5.5 percent, but rather that the aggregate for the employee unit in which the supervisor finds himself is not above 5.5 percent.

With Glad

By Mrs. Art Manjeot

Greetings to all, from this lovely place and the Manjeots who live at 370 Coral Drive, Ft. Lee, Va. Their home is located in one of the most beautiful spots on the post. Is quiet, beautifully landscaped and within reach of the lovely woods.

Some of the first questions I asked when I arrived here was, why are so many crape myrtles planted around the circle drive, and why they had had extra attention in that they had been generously fed and well trimmed. Was told that the crape myrtle is the flower selected by the city of Petersburg, and in turn Ft. Lee uses it extensively in the over-all landscape plan.

Is one of my regrets that I am not going to get to see them in bloom. Have promise of pictures of those in Petersburg and also plantings at Ft. Lee.

Sorry that I am missing the first gorgeous blossoms of the Peace rose which is Hereford's city flower. Hope the second bloom will be in flower when I reach home.

This beautiful rose should be accented more than it is by the city and the people of Deaf Smith County. If you do not have a Peace rose planted in your garden, please do so.

Am glad to report that I have gotten to see Petersburg and to visit some of the famous places there. Also met a very gracious lady who is a member of the Garden Club which sponsors the gardens, at Old Blandford Church, and is a member of Ladies Memorial Association of Petersburg.

She gave a most interesting lecture on period arrangements for the members of the horticulture division of the garden group of the Officers Ladies Club. I was so pleased to visit with her, and exchange garden bits of interest, and also to hear and see the Virginia Garden Club member present her lecture. A most charming southern lady, so gracious and interesting.

NOTE: May I suggest that you refresh your minds of the historical significance attached to this locale before you read about our tour of places mentioned.

It was a beautiful Sunday afternoon when we visited Old Blandford Church, the old cemetery on the church grounds and a nearby Confederate shrine in memory of the 30,000 heroes buried in the shadow of the beautiful old church.

The church is of old brick (large, rough, in hues of red. Perhaps some were hand-made). Is located on Well's Hill, and is called Old Blandford because it was originally located in the town of Blandford which was absorbed by the town of Petersburg.

The building has been well preserved, and its location on the hill makes it all the more interesting. To me one of the attractive and historical interests was the Virginia creeper which was espaliered to the walls. So beautiful on the rustic walls, and upon examination I found the base of the climbers were very large, tough, rugged, yet beautiful.

All this indicative of the age of the creeping vine. The church building was erected in 1735. Necessary repairs were made by the city of Petersburg in 1882.

Another most interesting feature were the old stones which marked the graves of many of the fallen heroes, as well as residents of the area. They were moss covered, vividly revealed their age by color and the various types of script of the engravings which in some instances were illegible.

Lloyd Jr. was most interested in the old graveyard, and he and I read many of the inscriptions and if we came upon one which had a name of historical interest we spent extra time reading and studying the gravestones and talking.

The city of Petersburg delegated to the Ladies Memorial Association of Petersburg the privilege of developing this old church into a memorial chapel and a Confederate shrine in memory of the heroes who gave their lives and were buried in its shadow.

The old cemetery which is visited annually by thousands of people, is beautified and preserved by the Cockade City Garden Club.

The entry to the old Blandford Church is old fashioned, yet inspiring. The real awe-inspiring beauty of this famous church is readily seen when you step into the inside of the church. The 15 Tiffany windows make this one of the art treasures of our nation.

As the sun shone through the beautiful Tiffany windows it was breath taking.

Many memorials have been placed from time to time in this historic building. Lloyd Sr. took time to read each of the memorial plaques, and the names thereon engraved. The guide told us that memorial services were held in the church for George Washington, John Adams and Thomas Jefferson at their deaths, and that each year since the church had been restored, memorial services are held there on June 9. No other services are held in the church now but worship services were held there until another Episcopal church was built in Petersburg in 1812.

The Tiffany windows, which were designed and executed by Louis Comfort Tiffany, (a cousin of the famous Tiffany who founded Tiffany's in New York.) are considered one of the finest groups in the country.

He also told us that the method of the creation of the famous windows and other creations by Tiffany, was lost when Louis Comfort Tiffany died, as he was the only person then living who knew the method.

The lecture relative to the windows, and other interesting data was a real high-light. The 12 disciples of Biblical history are portrayed, each in a window.

The other three windows included the apostle Paul. One window Mr. Tiffany made, designed and gave to the church. A lovely, lovely window, located near the peak of the old loft in which the slaves worshipped. The loft has been made into a memorial honoring General Lee.

The third window of interest, completing the 15, was the arched window which designated the date of restoration, and the organization which developed the memorial and has kept it up since 1901.

I do want to tell you of the Texas window, which was given by the Texas Daughters of the American Revolution. It depicts the Disciple St. Luke. The colors of this window and location of it made it unusually beautiful, because we were there while the afternoon sun was shining through the gorgeous window.

I stood beneath it, felt of the glass and the various veinings of the pattern. One could feel the folds of cloth in the glass. The burnished colors of deep lavender blending into blue was gorgeous.

Each of the twelve Confederate states has given a window. The St. Paul window was in the area where the choir was located. Rosemary (Mrs. L.H. Manjeot) especially thought this one of exquisite beauty. Tiffany used bits of gold in with the coloring; as the sunlight shined upon it, the gold glistened as gems and was of such beauty one could never forget it.

The window given by Mr. Tiffany was designed the cross as the center of interest; it was in shades of green and embedded into the glass were jewels of rare beauty and significance. The cross was outlined by gold and gave to the beholder a desire of newer dedication to our nation and to the Christ who gave His all for us.

The guide called our attention to the painted faces of the men portrayed in the windows. Their faces were painted by Tiffany and each of them portrayed the strength of character, and expressions were unlike entirely, yet soul-searching. I understand that this part of the famous windows was not used by Mr. Tiffany on any other of his works.

I inquired of the guide if a price had ever been named on the windows. He told me none had and perhaps would never be...they are truly works of dedicated talent and are worth driving many miles to see.

Happiness is cherishing our heritage

Garden Hints: Treating the dandelions (to kill) gives an opportunity to treat the wild-clover which many of the yards have. Some of my friends have complained about this garden enemy. It can be controlled just as other enemies can be, by working at it.

Now is the time to remove all faded blossoms from the roses. As this chore is being done it can be two-fold, because you can shape the plants and save the strength of the plant in producing seed.

Use extra care in the length of cuts made; it is advisable to only cut to just above a five-leaved leaflet. The side leaflets vary from three-leaved, to five and to seven. The five-leaved one is where the next flower producing stem will appear.

While performing the garden chores, be sure and remove the faded blossoms of the daylilies (hemorcallis) will add to their attractiveness. Am sure the daylilies are in bloom in Hereford now. Those at the Gilliland Funeral Home should be lovely.

Prince Valiant
IN THE DAYS OF KING ARTHUR
BY HAL FOSTER

Our Story: NOW THE TIME COMES FOR PRINCE VALIANT TO TELL A STORY FOR THE KING'S AMUSEMENT. HE ARISES AND DRAWS "THE SINGING SWORD." "ON THIS CHARMED BLADE IS INSCRIBED: UNCONQUERABLE HE WHO USES ME IN JUST CAUSE!"

"IT CAME TO ME WHILE I WAS YET A LAD AND I WENT TO CAMELOT AND FOUGHT FOR KING ARTHUR, DEEMING HIS CAUSE TO BE JUST. BUT, OH! IT WAS A TERRIBLE BLADE!"

"BECAUSE OF IT MANY A STALWART WARRIOR DIED; NEW-MADE WIDOWS WEPT, FIELDS WENT UNTILLED. WAS I A SWORDSMAN OR WAS THE SWORD REALLY ENCHANTED?"

"I SOUGHT HORRIT THE WITCH DEEP IN THE HEART OF THE FENS. 'AYE, I KNOW THE LEGEND OF THAT ACCURSED BLADE!' SHE MUMBLED, 'WITH IT YOU WILL WALK THE HALLS OF THE PALACES, KNOW KINGS AND LEAD ARMIES BUT IT IS AN ANFUL MASTER AND YOU WILL NEVER KNOW CONTENTMENT!'"

"KING ARTHUR KNIGHTED ME ON THE FIELD OF BATTLE AND I WAS ELECTED TO THE FELLOWSHIP OF TABLE ROUND, BUT FOUND NO CONTENTMENT FOR I LOVED GREY-EYED ALETA, QUEEN OF THE MISTY ISLES, AND TRAVELED ACROSS THE KNOWN WORLD TO WIN HER."

"WE WERE MARRIED AND RAISED A FINE FAMILY. I HAVE EVERYTHING TO MAKE A MAN CONTENTED, YET HERE I AM ONCE MORE ON THE HIGH ROAD TO ADVENTURE."

1846 6-25

"CONTENTMENT IS FOR THOSE WHO HAVE REACHED THEIR GOAL AND ARE SATISFIED TO GO NO FURTHER. HAPPILY I HAVE NOT BEEN HAMPERED BY IT."

WHEN THE KING HAD HEARD ALL THE STORIES THE GATEKEEPER HAD GATHERED AT THE GATES HE SAID: "BRING ME THE KNIGHT WHO FLOUTS CONTENTMENT. I WOULD HEAR HIS PHILOSOPHY."

hints from
Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:
We are apartment dwellers and our only access to the great outdoors is a small balcony with wrought-iron grill railings.
We recently bought an American flag and then realized when we got home with it that we really didn't have any place to mount the bracket to hold the flag-staff. This would never do, so my husband and I put our heads together (and like they say, two heads are better than one) and came up with a real flag raiser.
We reasoned that in order to attach the bracket we needed a wood surface —

THE FRENCH TOUCH
DEAR HELOISE:
For an interesting salad, marinate drained cooked broccoli in French dressing and serve on lettuce. Top with a little sour cream mixed with mayonnaise. Then sprinkle with paprika. Yum, yum, it's good!
Mrs. Clifton Says

DEAR HELOISE:
"I know this is hard to believe, but I just finished washing 16 windows (including two picture windows and a double glass door) on the outside in 45 minutes.
First I bought a long-handled squeegee. Next I mixed about a cup of detergent with a cup of water and poured it into the sprayer jar my husband uses to spray the trees for insects. You know, the kind that attaches to the garden hose.
And away I went without a bucket, ladder, or sore arms. It was so easy. I just sprayed and wiped. How's that for using the old bean? Now, can someone tell me how to speed up the job on the inside? Judy Nogle

A HOT IDEA
DEAR HELOISE:
I just struck on a really groovy way to get a good tan and kill a household chore too.
Take your ironing outside!
First I put on my swimsuit, sun-tan oil, and a sun hat. Then I take the ironing out on the patio. The iron is plugged up via extension cord inside the house.
While I iron, I'm tanning too. After all, killing two birds with one stone is what it's all about. Sharon

Sure is, kiddo. And I think it's great. Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:
This hint is for the camping family who have infants or small children:
Take your playpen when you go camping. It's worth every inch of space that it takes.

It can be used as a crib. Just cover the pad with a sheet and if it is cool at night let the baby sleep in one of those fleecy-lined sleeping bags.
It's the most as a supervised "play yard." Mom knows where baby is while she's busy making meals, and going about her camping chores.
And it is a must as beach equipment: Just put a sheet over the top of the playpen as an awning from the sun's burning rays, and baby can play and even nap.
Safe camping is the happiest camping.
A Happy Camper

TO CAP IT ALL . . .
DEAR HELOISE:
Here's a handy hint for people who use a lot of paper plates. Certain brands are wrapped in plastic with elastic edges. Save these!!! They make marvelous shower caps—great for trips or kids.
Mrs. Shirley Casanta

DEAR HELOISE:
With the arrival of warmer weather, I found that my 3-month-old daughter did not appreciate wearing a hat on her outings. Her head would perspire and she became fussy.
Then one day I used one of her Daddy's handkerchiefs, and it made a perfect scarf for her. The knot served a delightful purpose—a drool catcher!
And besides being useful these two ways, the scarf also lets everyone know that she is a "she." I don't have to make any more corrections on this score!
Mrs. L. D. Smith

DEAR HELOISE:
When going on a picnic or outing, I put salt into an empty pepper can and label it SALT. You can close the can after use and no salt is lost.
This handy little can keeps the salt dry and lasts longer without a refill.
Mrs. David Arends

DEAR HELOISE:
Just a simple suggestion

for people packing to go visiting or on vacation.
No matter how many times you pack in a year, you always forget something! I keep a list of necessary things in my suitcase and check each off as I put it in. For example: toothbrush, thread, hairbrush, deodorant, bobby pins, etc.
That way I'm happy at home and when I travel.
Mrs. M. B.

You are so right. As much traveling as I do, I would be completely lost without my list each time I pack.
Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:
Have you ever tried spooning pudding into ice cream cones?
Kids love them and they can be taken outside without worrying about a drip or a dish or spoon to be brought back in.
You can also top them with whipped cream and a cherry and you have a pudding sundae.
Arlene Martin
