

Local Man Attends Washington Rally

BY LORI HOPSON
Staff Writer

In response to a recent executive order by President Nixon, which withdrew all future two per cent Rural Electrification Administration Loans, and said that no more direct loans will be made through government funding, approximately 1000 people representing 46 of the nation's states attended a political rally in Washington, D.C. Jan. 23 to protest the decision.

The Rural Electrification Administration was organized in 1935 for the purpose of providing low-interest loans to fund electricity for rural areas of the United States. In 1944 the interest rate for these loans was established at a firm two per cent, guaranteed to the electric co-op involved.

According to local REC manager James Hull, one of the area representatives who attended the meeting, the nation's electric co-ops agreed at this time to furnish electricity to anyone anywhere in the United States at the same rate.

"If you built a house a mile from town, or if you built it twenty miles from town," he said, "The co-op would sell you electricity at the same rate—in other words, a kilowatt hour would cost you the same, no matter where you lived."

Each year Congress appropriates funds for REA to be loaned out at the set two per cent interest rate, to be repaid over a 35-year period.

A Presidential decision of Dec. 29 of last year said that no more two-percent REA loans would be made and no more direct loans would be made by the federal government. In the future, all loans would be made on a guaranteed basis by the government, at a higher cost, (set at five per cent) to the involved co-op.

"Our purpose in going to Washington was to protest the discontinuation of direct REA loans, to protest the increase in loan interest rates from two to five per cent, and to bring into bearing enough influence to cause the President to rescind the order," said Hull.

Hull said that there are about 950 electric co-ops in the United States, representing 46 states in all. Attending the rally with Hull was local farmer-rancher and Deaf Smith REC board member, Eldred Brown. They, along with representatives from other areas and states, met with Congressmen George Mahon and Bob Price, Senator John Tower, special agricultural assistant to Tower Larry Combest, and agricultural assistant to congressman Richard White of El Paso, a Mr. Ferguson.

Representatives of the nation's Rural Electric Co-ops also met with Senator Hubert Humphrey to discuss the problems which have arisen with the decision.

"These representatives were quite candid in stating that problems arose when President Nixon's bureau of budget director, a Mr. Ash, determined to hold this year's fiscal budget to $250 billion," said Hull. "This and other eliminations of agricultural programs was an effort by the administration to reduce federal expenditures."

The co-ops involved have sponsored the introduction of a bill in both the Senate and House of Representatives to force the President to follow the edicts of Congress in reinstatement of the two-percent interest rate and a full funding of the appropriations made available by Congress each year, according to Hull.

"The outcome of our efforts at this point is uncertain, but we are hopeful that if the full two-percent interest program cannot be re-established as it originally existed some type of compromise might be reached between the legislative and executive branches of government," he said.

"In this way," he added, "The sparsely populated areas of rural America could continue to enrich their quality of life through an abundant supply of electricity, and the more densely populated areas helped by REA could assume a more equitable interest rate."

"Our accountants have estimated that it will cost Deaf Smith Electric Co-op, in the next ten years, about $25,000," said Hull in reference to the actual harm the executive decision will do locally. "This additional expense, coupled with a 12 per cent increase in wholesale power costs, will bring a retail rate increase nearer to installation."

"This places greater stress on the financial burden of the rural people of the four-county area served by Deaf Smith Electric Co-op," he continued.

Hull added that along with other agricultural programs which are now being eliminated, such as REAP funds and other ASCS programs, the recent decision will be just another added financial burden on farmers of this area.

That feller on Tierra Blanca Creek says to say that all men are brothers may not sound like a promise of peace to some of us who grew up in a family of boys.

President Nixon's announcement that America will be out of the Vietnam war in 90 days is the greatest and most rewarding news event we can remember happening in many years. You could almost sense the sigh of relief around the nation. We can only hope and pray that it is a lasting peace.

Congratulations go to the junior stock show participants and to the Young Farmers organization for another fine show just completed Saturday night. And, of course, the big thanks goes to those merchants, firms and institutions who give the financial support which makes it all possible.

Another big community event is on the program this week, when Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce holds its annual banquet. Members are hoping for one of their biggest and best meetings in history, and many citizens will be wanting to see the "Citizen of the Year" presentation at the event.

The gals over at Hereford State Bank are real enthusiastic supporters of the Hereford Whitefaces, even to the extent of adopting "uniforms". Stopped in the bank Tuesday, and the women all were wearing maroon and white outfits. Irene McKinster says they plan to wear the dresses frequently, and always on the day of a Whiteface game!

Criminal District Attorney Andy Shuval says Hereford is no different from any other town in regards to a drug problem. "The problem is here, just like in other towns, and we need to become aroused enough to do something about it," he said.

Shuval added that no one has the solution, but "education of parents" is a big factor. Records show that the problem often starts on the junior high level, and Shuval thinks parents should be able to recognize the danger signs. He also has the theory that part of the problem stems from an age-old situation—wanting to "belong."

Kids in school want to be part of a group, clique, or whatever you want to call it, says Shuval. There are always kids on the "outside" of the activities—those who are not athletes, band members, bright students, or a member of an organized club. Sometimes, he cautions, this might evolve into a group experimenting with drugs.

Most of us are well aware of our faults, and would prefer not to be reminded of them.

Stock Show Winds Up With Sale Of Animals Saturday

The 28th annual Hereford Young Farmers Junior Livestock Show, aided by good weather the first two days then hindered by bad weather the final day, closed out Saturday with the sale of some top animals from throughout the area.

Temperatures climbed to the "comfortable" stage on Thursday's opening day, and dipped then climbed the second day before the foot fell in Saturday.

Cold winds and light snow welcomed the sale Saturday and continued throughout most of the day.

The show culminated Saturday with the sale of the Grand Champion steer, a heavyweight cross belonging to Mike Briggs of Oldham County. The animal was sold to Hereford State Bank for $1.40 a pound.

Trophies for the show this year were donated by various businesses and individuals. Deaf Smith Electric Co-op donated the Grand Champion

Four-County trophy, Van Roach Cattle Company donated the Reserve Champion Four-County trophy, K-Bob's contributed the County Grand Champion trophy and Ralph Owens and Associates provided the Reserve Grand Champion County trophy in the steer division.

In the barrow division, Jimmie Christie contributed the Grand Champion trophy for Four-County, Davis Implement provided the Reserve Grand Champion Four-County trophy, West Texas Rural Telephone gave the County Championship trophy and Z to Z Tire donated the Reserve County Grand Championship trophy.

In the lamb division, Wingert Pump provided the top trophy, Howards Custom Farming donated the Reserve Four-County trophy Clover Spraying donated the County Championship trophy and Boyd Machine gave the County Reserve trophy.

Showmanship trophies were donated by:

- J.E. Brooks for the Reserve Brooks Memorial for the Four-County steer.
- Mrs. Joel Hodges for the Joel Hodges Memorial for the County steer.
- Pioneer Natural Gas for the Four-County barrow.

—Tide Products, Inc. for the County barrow.

Malone Named To Help Pick WTSU President

Pat Malone, Hereford banker, was named Friday to a five-man panel to aid in the search for a new president for West Texas State University.

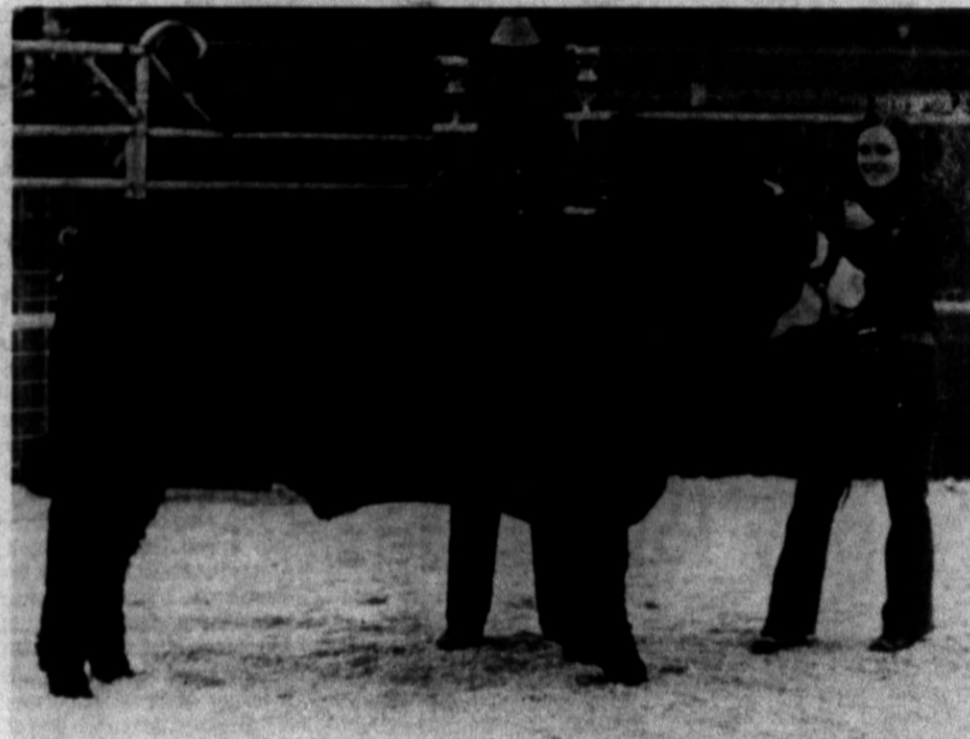

Malone and the other men will serve as an advisory committee to the board of regents to find the replacement for Dr. James Cornett, who reaches the mandatory retirement age in August of next year.

The advisory committee will be headed by Bill Montgomery of Amarillo. "The purpose of this committee," Montgomery said, "is primarily to accept and screen the group of applicants which will be submitted to the regents for final selection."

The board will make a nationwide search in its attempt to find a new head for the university. Recommendations and applications should be mailed to the board of regents, Box 631, Amarillo, 79173.

Mothers Of March Of Dimes Set Monday

BY LORI HOPSON
Staff Writer

A community-wide effort in support of the city's annual March of Dimes drive is continuing with participation from civic clubs, individuals, and the Hereford schools, according to Elmore Rains, drive chairman. The campaign officially began Jan. 19 after a kick-off meeting at the Community Center Jan. 18. Volunteers from various clubs, individuals, and representatives of each of the city's schools were present for the meeting, where collection areas were laid out and general rules set down.

Highlight and biggest fund raiser of the drive, the Mothers March of Dimes, is scheduled for Monday, and will begin with a meeting of all workers at the Community Center. The Hereford Jaycee-ettes will be in charge of the Mothers March, with Mrs. Dale Smith acting as chairman.

"We'd like to have people turn on their porch lights and be expecting us," she said, "and if we miss anyone who would like to contribute, they can call me and I'll be glad to pick up their donations."

Mrs. Smith can be reached at 364-3967.

"We'd like for the Mothers March to be even more successful than last year," she added, "We raised about $1,800 then."

Each of the city's schools will have a program to help raise funds for the drive, according to Superintendent Roy Hartman. This includes elementary, junior high and high schools.

"We have put out a call for volunteers from all our organizations and for individual students to help," said Gene Brock, high school March of Dimes director. Home room contributions for the drive were collected Friday.

At La Plata Junior High, a special program was presented Wednesday with the Hereford High School Show Choir for the drive. Another assembly is planned for the presentation of a check to March of Dimes representatives.

Stanton Junior High is also participating in the drive, with contributions being collected from each of the school's homerooms.

Elementary students were given envelopes to fill with their drive contributions.

Other groups and organizations in the community which will be helping with the Mothers March effort include Wyche Home Demonstration club, Wildorado Home Demonstration club, Mon Amis Study Club and Young Mothers Study Club.

Also Westway Home Demonstration Club, Summerfield Study Club, all four chapters of Beta Sigma Phi, Tri-Hi-Y, Young Homemakers Club and the junior high horizon club, will provide free babysitting at the Community Center or in the homes of Mothers March workers.

Mrs. Willis Duggan will be in charge of the Sims Community effort, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim

Bell Announces Tax Reduction

Hard as it may be to believe, a tax reduction on one common household item has been in effect for almost a month.

"It may seem that old taxes never die, but one has been sentenced to a slow death, beginning Jan. 1," says Mike Patrick, manager for Southwestern Bell.

It's the 10 per cent federal excise tax on communications services, a holdover from World War II.

Patrick pointed out that a one per cent annual reduction in the tax began this year and will continue through 1982, when the excise tax is due to be terminated.

The 10-year reduction schedule was established by the federal Excise, Estate and Gift Tax Adjustment Act of 1970.

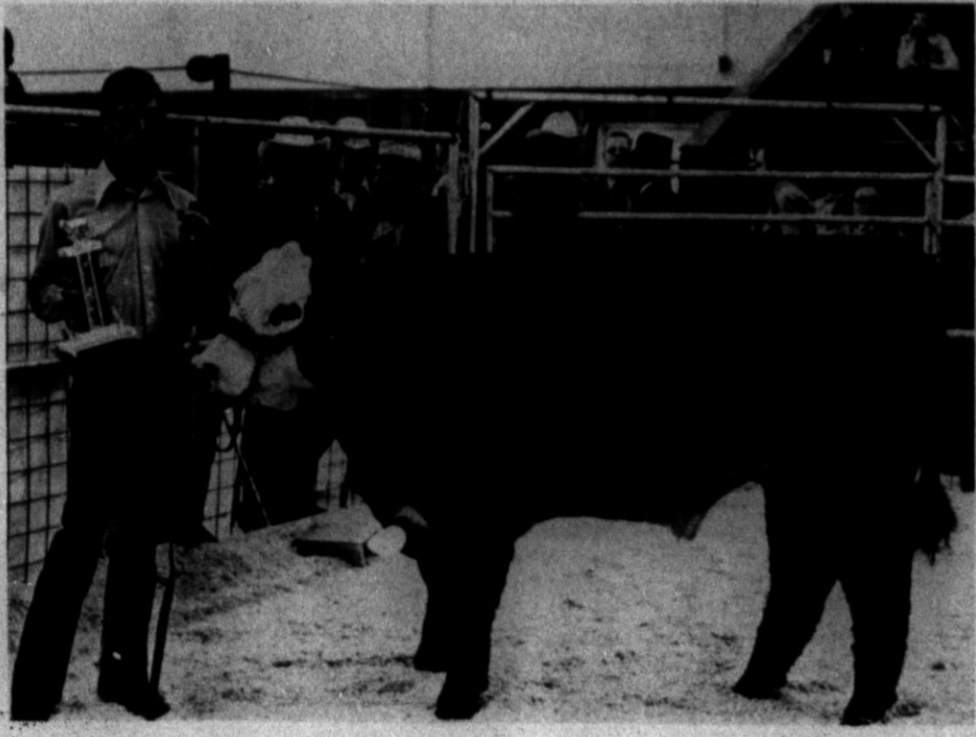

Starting Jan. 1, Southwestern Bell customers are paying only nine per cent federal excise tax instead of 10 per cent. Under the federal law, the tax will drop to eight per cent on Jan. 1, 1974; to seven per cent on Jan. 1, 1975; etc. until the 1982 cutback which is scheduled to totally eliminate the tax.

"For years," Patrick said, "the Bell System has urged repeal of this tax which applies only to communications services and not to other utilities. We are gratified to know that the end of this burden on our customers is in sight."

With tongue in cheek, Patrick did point out one "drawback" to the tax reduction. "It's not nearly as easy to figure a nine per cent tax as it is one of 10 per cent."

"But we'll manage to live with the problem," Patrick said with a smile.

Whitefaces Blitz Plainview, 63-32

Terry Scott poured in the points and team mates David Duvall and Gary Hicks dominated the boards as Hereford chalked up its second district win in a 63-32 rout of the Plainview Bulldogs.

The Whitefaces will go to Snyder Tuesday in another crucial game with the co-league leading Tigers. Snyder blistered Coronado High Friday night to remain undefeated in league play, along with Monterey.

Scott hit for 21 points in paving the way for the Whitefaces in Friday's win over Plainview, the first such win in seven attempts at the Bulldogs.

And, while Scott was chipping his points in, Duvall connected for 10 himself.

Duvall and Hicks combined for 29 rebounds as the Whitefaces easily won the battle of the boards, 43-24.

The Bulldogs, who dropped to 0-3 in the league standings, stayed close to the Whitefaces through the first quarter, but Hereford exploded in the second stanza to go ahead for good.

Plainview led, 4-2 early in the contest, but six, first period points by Scott and two each from Hicks and Duvall game Hereford a 10-8 lead at the end of the initial stanza.

From then on, it was a scoring spree for the host Whitefaces as they out-pointed the visitors, 21-9 in the second period to run up a 31-17 advantage at the half.

In that second quarter, Mike Mayberry contributed five points, Luther Mays got two, Scott added six, Duvall got four, and Hicks and James Harris got two each.

The Whitefaces lengthened their lead in the opening period of the second half when they out-scored the visitors, 13-7. Mayberry, Scott, Harris, Duvall, and Alan Cornelius all figured in the scoring in the third quarter with Duvall's four points the high.

Leading 44-26 at the start of the final quarter, Scott got hot and burned the nets for seven points, aided by four from Harris and Dan Vander Zee.

In that final quarter, Hereford out-scored the Bulldogs, 19-8 to nail down the win.

From the floor, the Whitefaces hit 40 per cent of their shots while Plainview managed a meager 25. The Herd also led in the free throw shooting bracke, connecting on 19 of 23 for an 82 per cent mark.

Plainview hit on only eight of 15 from the foul line for a 54 per cent average.

A Coffee Day will also be observed in the city Monday when donations will be contributed by the Caison House, Dickies, Darlene's, Spudnut Shop, Big Daddy's, Harold Close Drugs and McDowell Drugs.

Workers will be assigned areas in their respective communities and the surrounding area, so as not to overlap, according to Rains, who also said that he would be glad to pick up contributions of anyone who is missed in the Mothers March. He can be reached at 364-5311, or donations can be mailed to him at 214 Beach.

"We would like for workers to report back to the Community Center after they've covered their assigned area," said Mrs. Smith. "So as not to repeat."

Both Mrs. Smith and Rains agreed that they'd like to see the drive wind up even more successfully than it did last year.

Resilient floor best for kitchen

By JOYCE ROARK
Copley News Service

Wall to wall carpeting is very popular for livingrooms, diningrooms, bedrooms, and halls. But resilient flooring remains the best choice for kitchens, entrances, or wherever soiling can be a problem.

There are literally thousands of colors and styles on the market. Limit your selection to type, features, and price before deciding on a color or design.

You are probably asking yourself just what is resilient flooring? Resilient flooring includes vinyl, asphalt, linoleum, cork, and rubber flooring. It comes in two forms — continuous sheets and tiles. The sheets can be 6, 9, or 12 feet wide. The tiles are usually 12 inches square.

How do you know which form is best? Sheet flooring has few or no seams to attract and hold dirt or moisture. Therefore, it's the best choice for areas with high amounts of traffic, such as entrances and kitchens.

Some sheet flooring can be installed by the homeowner, but most of them require professional installation. Tiles can be easily installed making it ideal as a do-it-yourself job.

Before you make your selection you should consider these points:

If the flooring is to be used on a floor that is in direct contact with the ground, such as in basements or lower levels of split-level homes, the backing must not be damaged by moisture. Felt and latex backings can be used only on floors with a wood subfloor. Asbestos backings are not damaged by moisture and can therefore be installed on any floor regardless of location.

Vinyl is very resistant to scratching, staining and is easy to care for. There are two ways of putting the pattern and color on vinyl:

One type is called inlaid vinyl. This is identified by the design and color that extends all the way through the vinyl layer. The surface may be smooth or embossed.

The other type is roto-gravure vinyl. In this type the design is printed on a sheet of vinyl and is then coated with a transparent vinyl layer. This type can also be smooth or embossed. It is lighter in weight and more flexible thus making it easier to install.

The transparent layer is very important to the roto-gravure vinyl. If it's too thin, sharp objects can puncture it. Be sure this top transparent layer is at least 10-15 mills thick.

"No wax" floorings are always popular. They wear well and are easy to care for. Sometimes it's necessary to apply a finish to the tiles after long periods of use in a heavy traffic area. A special easy to apply finish that is not a wax is available for this purpose.

There are many other types of tiles available on the market. There are many qualities of tiles too. Examine the tiles closely and ask for any and all information the salesperson can furnish. Ask about guarantees or warranties too.

Fire Insurance on Cigars?

Once upon a time a man tried to collect fire insurance on a box of cigars. Having smoked them all, one at a time, he argued that they had been "destroyed by fire" and were therefore covered by his policy.

But the court pointed to a rule which is followed almost everywhere in the field of fire insurance: that damage done by a "friendly" fire is not covered. A friendly fire is one that is burning where it belongs—in an oven, in a fireplace, or at the tip of a cigar.

"In common parlance," a court explained, "one has not 'had a fire' so long as it has burned only in the place where it was intended to burn."

This rule has generally been applied not only to things burned on purpose, like the cigars, but also to things burned by mistake.

Consider two examples:

1) a housekeeper threw an envelope into the family furnace, unaware that it contained a valuable ring;

2) a man unwittingly tossed his wife's dentures, wrapped in tissue paper, into a trash fire.

Both the ring and the dentures were ruined in the flames, and claims for fire insurance were filed in both cases. But both claims were later denied in court, since the furnace fire and the trash fire were friendly—burning where they belonged.

Of course, a fire may change its character from friendly to unfriendly.

Suppose that some red hot cinders jump out of a crackling fireplace and set fire to nearby draperies. For this kind of damage, you could indeed collect compensation under the ordinary fire insurance policy.

For, as one court pointed out, most of the fires that eventually do cause damage are fires that were friendly when they began.

THE WORLD OF MUSIC

Simon is writing happy love songs

It was less than two years ago that Carly Simon made her first solo album. And it was that first album that contained her first hit single, "That's the Way I've Heard It Should Be," on Elektra.

In the interim, Carly also picked up a Grammy for the Best New Artist of 1971, based on her second album, "Anticipation." She became a leading attraction on the concert club circuit with her arresting stage presence and dynamic abilities with her own songs and occasionally with songs of other writers.

Miss Simon kept writing and growing as a writer and the results can be heard on her third LP, "No Secrets," which presents Carly with all new material and some new ways of performing. For the first time in her recording career, Carly has made an album that comes close to approximating the magnetism, energy and joy that can be felt in her live performances.

While there is still a fair share of the ballads and love songs that have helped make her famous, there are also a few numbers that are more on the rocking side, including "You're So Vain," which is riding high on all national charts.

"No Secrets" was made in London at Trident Studios and Air Recording, with producer Richard Perry, who has done a splendid job for Harry Nilsson, Barbra Streisand, Fanny and Ella Fitzgerald.

Recently Carly commented that for the first time in her life, she was writing happy love songs, that give a looseness and good feeling throughout the entire album.

Friends working with Miss Simon on the album include Klaus Voorman, Bobby Keys, James Taylor, lead guitarist Jimmy Ryan, the familiar drums of Andy Newmark, Paul and Linda McCartney, Bonnie Bramlett and Nicky Hopkins. With this impressive group backing up Carly, it's easy to see why the album flew to the top.

How to cure the uncommon cold

By ANN RUDY

There is nothing common about the colds my husband gets. He has two distinct kinds: the "I'm-going-to-work-no-matter-how-I-feel" type, and the "Do-you-think-I'll-make-it-through-the-night" variety. He either fills his attache case with Kleenex and aspirin and trudges doggedly off to work, or clutches frantically at the lapels of my robe whispering, through parched lips, his last wishes.

If he decides to go to work, he has an air of quiet heroism about him. "I cannot stay home," he declares. "I have a pile of papers on my desk this high," and, whipping his muffler over one shoulder, places his hand on the front door knob—ready to step forth into the blizzard and possible postnasal complications.

That's my cue to quote from my Indian philosophy book. Unprying his fingers from the door knob, I say, "If a man thinks he is indispensable, let him place his fist in a bucket of water and observe the hole it leaves when he withdraws it." Usually, the punch line of my philosophy is drowned out by the roar of a sneeze and he manages to get past me, out into the sleet.

"Come back!" I call after his receding back. "The devil take those papers!" But he is gone. There he goes, I think, a man going down with his own inventory slips.

Haberdashery look popular

By BETH MOHR
Copley News Service

Bill Blass, one of America's top designers once said: "I don't think there is anything sexier than an attractive woman in a tailored outfit."

That may be the answer to the current popularity of the "haberdashery look" in women's fashions.

In the wide variety of interpretations of the look, one feature remains constant — a man-tailored shirt with Windsor-knotted tie at the closed collar. The tie may be tucked into a neatly buttoned fitted vest or V-necked pullover sweater.

These basics may be topped by a jacket or not. To keep the haberdashery quality, jackets must be cut with lapel collars and gentle fit, in either single or double-breasted styles.

Neatly tailored skirts or pants may match the jacket or vest for a smartly coordinated outfit.

Men's wear materials, woven or knitted, add to the crisp character of the look. The new blunt-toed, heavy-soled oxfords and hat with snappily tilted brims are natural companions to the look.

Legal Notice

Sealed bids addressed to the City of Hereford, Texas, will be received at the City Hall, Hereford, until 2:00 P.M., February 19, 1973, and then publicly opened and read for furnishing pipe, labor, material and equipment, and performing all work required for the installation of approximately 950 lineal feet of 48", 60", and 72" storm sewer.

Bids shall be submitted in sealed envelopes upon the blank form of proposal attached hereto and marked in the upper left hand corner "Bid For Storm Sewer".

All proposals shall be accompanied by a cashier's check or certified check upon a national or state bank in the amount of five (5) per cent of the total maximum bid price payable without recourse to the City of Hereford, or a bid bond in the same amount from a reliable surety company, as a guarantee that bidder will enter into a contract and execute performance bond within ten days after notice of award of contract to him. The bid security must be enclosed in the same envelope with the bid. Bids without check or bid bond will not be considered.

The successful bidder must furnish performance and payment bonds upon the forms which are attached hereto in the amount of 100 per cent of the contract price from an approved surety company holding a permit from the State of Texas to act as surety or other surety or sureties acceptable to the Owner.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids and to waive any informality in bids received.

The plans, specifications and bidding documents may be secured from the office of the City Manager, City Hall, Hereford, or at the office of Bill R. McMorris & Associates, Inc., 6300 Canyon Drive, Amarillo, Texas 79109, on deposit of Fifty Dollars ($50.00) per set which sum so deposited will be refunded, provided: (1) All documents are returned in good condition to Bill R. McMorris & Associates, Inc. not later than 48 hours prior to the time for receiving bids; (2) The Contractor submits a bid and all documents are returned in good condition to Bill R. McMorris & Associates, Inc. not later than five days after the time that bids are received.

Blood Bank Officer Speaks To Lions

Dorothy Russell, representing the Amarillo Blood Bank, was guest speaker for the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Hereford Lions Club Wednesday at the Civic Club Center.

Mrs. Russell, urging more people to donate blood, was in Hereford with the Blood Bank Wednesday to take blood donors at the Community Center from 2 to 5 p.m. She explained that there was a shortage of blood, due to an unusually heavy demand on the bank in recent months.

The Amarillo Blood Bank was organized in 1949 with two employees. There are now 11 employees and the bank serves 17 hospitals in Amarillo and the Panhandle area. She added that more than 10,300 units of blood were drawn from the bank the past year.

There seem to be two primary reasons why people won't volunteer as blood donors, Mrs. Russell said. First is a fear of making the contribution, and secondly is the time element.

"Once a person has given blood, he realizes it is nothing to be afraid of," she pointed out. Some people with busy schedules don't want to take the time, but she said it takes only 15 minutes to be a donor.

Club president Nolan Grady announced that a special blood drive was being conducted here for Mrs. Delbert Bainum, who recently had open-heart surgery for the second time.

Grady also announced that Milton Adams of Hereford had been appointed to the board of directors at Gristown, U.S.A. Several visitors were recognized at the meeting.

Buying Tips Is Club Topic

Nominee from Cultural Extension Club for county delegate to a District meeting of Texas Home Demonstration Association is Mrs. M.W. Sumner, chosen at a club meeting Friday afternoon at SWPS Reddy Room.

Also in the business session, a note of thanks from Dr. John English, director of Kings Manor retirement home, was read, expressing appreciation for members' volunteer service to manor residents.

Shopping tips were given in the program by Argen Draper, county agent, who read Ten Commandments of the Star Consumer and emphasized the importance of the wise shopper's knowing the merchant.

Mrs. M.H. Wiseman gave a reading, New Year Happiness, to open the program. Mrs. J.G. Gandy and Mrs. Grady Parsons, hostesses, served refreshments. Guests present with club members were Mmes. H.E. Houck and John Hunter.

In Steer Judging Friday

Heavy Cross Takes Championship

For the second year in a row the once-dominant Hereford breed failed to take Grand Champion honors in the annual Hereford Young Farmers Junior Livestock Show.

An 1,162-pound heavyweight cross, shown by Mike Briggs of Oldham County, took the top honor in judging held Friday afternoon. The selection of Briggs' animal came a year after an Angus captured the top spot.

Reserve Grand Champion was a 1,253-pound heavyweight cross shown by Beverly Cole of Hereford. Miss Cole's animal also was named County Grand Champion, followed by Jim McNeey's 1,186-pound Hereford which was named County Reserve Champion.

Jim Monroe of Deaf Smith 4-H showed the Four-County and County Champion in the Angus Breed while Miss Cole had the Four-County and County Reserve Champion animal.

McNeey's heavyweight Hereford was champion of the Hereford breed, followed by Bobby Williams, also of Hereford, who displayed the reserve champ. Both animals topped Four-County and County honors with their animals.

Beware of Dragon Ladies
By JOHN SINOR
Copley News Service

Gung Hay, Fat Choy! We are coming up on the Chinese Year of the Ox. Ox people have fierce tempers. (If your husband was born in 1949, 1937, 1925, 1913, 1901, tell the big ox to cool it.)

Every year about this time, I get out my Chinese zodiac and explain to the children what their sign is, and what it means.

"What am I daddy?" asks a daughter. "Well, honey, you are a rabbit and you should thank your lucky Chinese stars. A few more days and you would have been a dragon."

She said: "What's wrong with dragons?" I said: "Actually, dragon people have a lot of good qualities, such as honesty, sensitivity and intelligence. But it is not good to be one and be a female at the same time."

Choose shop carefully

For those of you who know little about choosing wines but are interested in starting that drinking experience, picking the correct wineshop or liquor store is of paramount importance.

If you have any choice, look around. Seek out the store that has a large varied selection of wines. Make sure at least half the supply comes from the United States. The reason for this is that it is much easier to begin to become discriminating about U.S. wines than immediately plunging into the world of imports. (Merely learning to read their labels can be a lengthy course in itself.)

Before buying, chat with the salesclerk. Honestly state your elementary status as a wine aficionado. His response is the key to whether you'll be happy with that store.

The salesman should show interest but not be pushy; he should give you a few suggestions on wines that usually please a novice and explain why. Above all, he should not start you off in the more than $3-per-fifth bottle category. Unless the store is crowded, a 10-minute conversation isn't expecting too much. Sales personnel who love wine are a special breed and generally a joy, rather than a bore, to talk with. Their enthusiasm sparks, so combine that with your common-sense feeling: "Do I trust this person's opinions?"

Once you have plunged in and bought, all you can do is sample, drink and then decide for yourself if you agree with the advice given. If yes — continue going to that salesperson for help even after you have acquired some wine expertise. If no — surely there is another store whose threshold is being dusted off for you to cross.

Coleman, Hutchins Win In Lamb Divisions

Hereford youths swept the Southdown breed and got the high one in the Fine Wool Crosses classes, but it was out-of-towners in the other breeds in lamb judging Friday morning.

While no, champion of the show was named, breed champs were determined.

Ricky Coleman, a Deaf Smith County 4-H'er, collected the Four-County and County trophy in the Southdown breed while Robin Coleman snared the Four-County Reserve and County Reserve tokens in the same class.

David Hutchins, a Hereford FFA'er, was the only other Four-County winner from Hereford as he won the Four-County and County honors in the Fine Wool Crosses class.

Joe Constanica and Kyle Touchstone, both of Dimmitt FFA, won the Four-County Champion and Reserve Champion, respectively in the Fine Wool breed.

Frank Blackwell and Mac Hagar of Hereford won the County Champion and County Reserve Champion tokens in the same class.

Greg Ward received the County Reserve Champion token in the Fine Wool Cross class while Lisa Phillips had the County Champion and Patricia Yerby had the County Reserve in the Medium Wool class.

When the Army invades enemy territory it likes to have as much support as it can muster - even if it's provided by a bunch of Finks.

On September 30th, the Army football team landed in College Station, Texas to take on Texas A&M and found the entire population of Fink, Texas on hand to greet them.

In all there were eight Finks and they were there as Guests of the Army to pay tribute to the team's outstanding young quarterback. His name? J. Kingsley Fink!

Two 35-year old Army medics have been selected to assist in the testing of two astronauts for the first Skylab scheduled for launching some time in April 1973. Skylab is the name given the space workshop that is to orbit the earth 56 days at a time.

Both men, SFC Dean G. Griffith of Malvern, Ark, and Joseph D. Anderson of Jacksonville, Fla., have been at the NASA center since July 17. During the tests, the medics are on hand to administer in case of an accident in the Skylab test chamber. They were chosen because they are highly qualified in their specialties, are good swimmers and have extensive independent medical experience.

The Purple Heart. It was established by General George Washington in 1782 and was originally known as the Badge of Military Merit.

Funk's-G Honors Local Corn Grower
Corn growers throughout this area are harvesting bin-busting yields in 1972 Funk's-G Project:200... proving the yield potential of Funk's G-Hybrids. Here is a documented Project:200 yield made by a local farmer who will receive recognition for his excellence in corn growing.

OUTSTANDING YIELD IN FUNK'S-G PROJECT:200
239.95 bu. Per Acre YIELD
FUNK'S HYBRID G-4646

Each Project:200 entry is machine harvested from not less than two acres, corrected to No. 2 corn. This is just one of the great Funk's G-Hybrids you'll want to plant for 1973. Do not settle for less.

Reason 4. If the IRS should call you in for an audit, H & R Block will go with you, at no additional cost. Not as a legal representative... but we can answer all questions about how your tax return was prepared.

Dear Editor,
We wish to thank the press, radio, churches, Hereford Lions Club, Easter Lions Club, the women's division of the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club and chapters of Beta Sigma Phi, who publicized the special blood drive for Mrs. Delbert (Jerry) Banium.

Our heartfelt gratitude to all the donors who participated in this drive. Thank you so much for your response.

Letter To The Editor

When the Army invades enemy territory it likes to have as much support as it can muster - even if it's provided by a bunch of Finks.

On September 30th, the Army football team landed in College Station, Texas to take on Texas A&M and found the entire population of Fink, Texas on hand to greet them.

In all there were eight Finks and they were there as Guests of the Army to pay tribute to the team's outstanding young quarterback. His name? J. Kingsley Fink!

Two 35-year old Army medics have been selected to assist in the testing of two astronauts for the first Skylab scheduled for launching some time in April 1973. Skylab is the name given the space workshop that is to orbit the earth 56 days at a time.

Both men, SFC Dean G. Griffith of Malvern, Ark, and Joseph D. Anderson of Jacksonville, Fla., have been at the NASA center since July 17. During the tests, the medics are on hand to administer in case of an accident in the Skylab test chamber. They were chosen because they are highly qualified in their specialties, are good swimmers and have extensive independent medical experience.

The Purple Heart. It was established by General George Washington in 1782 and was originally known as the Badge of Military Merit.

In Thursday's Opening Round Of Show

Adams Garners Top Hog Honors

Kenneth Adams' 212 pound mediumweight crossbred barrow copped Grand Champion honors in Thursday's first day round of the 28th annual Hereford Young Farmers Junior Livestock Show.

Adams' animal was named the breed champion in earlier judging then came back just a short time later to win the grand champion honor.

The win by Adams, coupled with Steven Robinson's Reserve Grand Champion title, made a sweep of the big titles for Hereford lads. Both Robinson and Adams are members of the Hereford FFA chapter.

Because of the heavy number of entries in this year's show, the market hog division required three classes of lightweight, mediumweight and heavyweight. The judging, which began at 2 p.m. Thursday, was not concluded until about 8 p.m. as a result of the record number of entries.

Jerry Johnson of Hereford FFA showed the mediumweight Chesters, Ray Shannon, also of Hereford displayed the champion lightweight Chester and Johnny Webb of Dimmitt FFA had the heavyweight Chester champion.

Webb's animal was named the champion of the entire Chester breed for the Four-County Show while Johnson's animal copped Four-County reserve breed champion honors.

Shannon's barrow was named the county reserve champ of the Chester breed.

Tammy Ward's mediumweight Duroc won Four-County and County champion trophies for breed and Russell Windham of Farmer 4-H won Four-County Reserve Champ honors for the Duroc class.

The County Reserve trophy went to Geni Welty and her lightweight Duroc.

While Robinson won the champion Hampshire trophy for Four-County and County, Cathy Nelson of Hart took home the Four-County Reserve Champion honor and Raymond Schlabs was the winner of the County Reserve Champion trophy in the Hamp class.

Dale Gallman of Lazbuddie won the Four-County trophy in the Poland China and Spots class, followed by Sherrie Seaton of Hereford who had the Four-County Reserve and the County Grand. Don Fehris of Hereford had the County Reserve in that class.

In the Crossbred class, Adams was the Four-County and County champion and Geni Welty won the County Reserve. Chuck Durham of Adrian was the Four-County Reserve winner.

In the Pure Breed class, Wade Boren of Hereford was the Four-County and County Champion and David Hutchins of Hereford copped the runners-up spots in both Four-County and County.

Telephone volunteers aid elderly, lonely
Volunteers in the telephone reassurance program of the Glendale-Crescenta Valley, Calif., Red Cross chapter, make a daily call to persons who are over 60 and lonely or handicapped. In addition to cheering the elderly by bringing sunshine into their daily routine, the calls also provide checks on health and welfare of the senior citizens.

What's Happening Where

AUSTIN, TEXAS— Legislation to strengthen the open meetings law cleared the House State Affairs Committee promptly and landed as the first bill on the House calendar Monday.

The measure by Rep. Carl Parker of Port Arthur would delete from present law an exemption for conferences among staff members of a governmental body. It would also remove authority for the governing body to hold closed discussions with its attorney unless ethical obligations of the lawyer are involved.

The bill, backed by Speaker Price Daniel Jr., would further increase the violation penalty to $100-to-$500 fine or imprisonment in county jail for a month to six months, or both.

A measure to guarantee access to public records was detoured to sub-committee.

GOVERNOR ANNOUNCES PROGRAM—New Gov. Dolph Briscoe swept into office last week laying down a wide-ranging program to the Legislature his second day on the job.

Briscoe emphasized the need for cooperation with legislators and other officials and said he intends to be "the most persistent lobbyist" lawmakers will see this year.

Tone of the Governor's inaugural address and initial legislative message (several supplements are promised to fill in specific details) appeared to impress legislators favorably.

Most criticism centered on Briscoe's get-tough law enforcement program which includes restoring the death penalty for murder of policemen or firemen, legalization of wiretapping as permitted under federal law and admission of oral confessions in criminal trials.

Briscoe's assertion that lowering of first offense marijuana possession penalties to misdemeanor status should await general revision of drug laws also brought some complaints. He planned to present his narcotics law revision to the Legislature this week.

Among the Governor's priority proposals: Strengthening the lobby registration act and adoption of a new code of ethics, early creation of a constitutional revision commission, penal code revision, laws to curb "fences" of stolen property and give courts power to deny bail to dangerous offenders, requiring convicts to serve more of their sentences before becoming eligible for parole, more emphasis on vocational education and a requirement that spending bills be accompanied with WELFARE LAW COST TOLD—New federal legislation may cost Texas another $66 million in fiscal 1975, a special study committee reported.

"Findings indicate consequences for Texas are of far greater magnitude than those which might be supposed from federal estimates thus far," the committee said.

German scientists work on artificial heart

Prof. Karl Kremer, leading a team of German scientists in Dusseldorf and Aachen, says he hopes their development of an artificial heart could be used to take the strain off ailing hearts in human beings in a few years' time.

Recently, they carried out tests on sheep and dogs using a "semi-heart," substituted for the left chamber of the heart as a cardiac pump. The animals survived for several hours.

Social Security

The new social security law will reduce the 6-month waiting period for disability benefits to 5 months, effective in January, according to Travis C. Briggs, social security district manager

In Amarillo. The first benefit will be payable for the 6th month of disability, rather than for the 7th month of disability as under present law. "For example," Briggs said, "a worker disabled on January 15, 1973, can begin getting benefits for July 1973, with the check for July delivered in early August. Previously his benefits would begin for August with the check delivered in September."

The new provision will also affect disabled widows and dependent widowers who are eligible for benefits on the basis of disability. In 1973, the new law will mean $108 million in additional benefits to 950,000 disabled workers and their families, according to Briggs. "Reducing the waiting period by one month will help to relieve some of the financial hardships faced by disabled people who have little or no savings or other resources to fall back on," Briggs said.

Social security pays monthly benefits to eligible workers and their families if the worker is severely disabled and expected to be unable to work for a year or more.

More than 1.7 million disabled workers and 1.3 million dependents get $389 million a month in social security benefits.

Health Is Big Plus

Good health is a prized possession—something to be sought by those who don't have it and something to be held onto by those who do.

As in the case of a communicable disease, says the State Health Department, it is much wiser and easier to keep a person from having a preventable disease than it is to treat the victim.

During 1973 preventive health services will be extended to thousands of children in Texas through an agreement between the State Health Department and Department of Public Welfare.

The new title for this program is "early and periodic screening, diagnosis and treatment" for certain Texas youngsters who are on aid for dependent children rolls.

The State Department of Public Welfare is responsible for administration of the Texas Medical Assistance Program, and consequently, has responsibility for implementation of the periodic screening program.

But, the State Health Department has staff and experience in this field, particularly in providing regular maternal and child health and crippled children services.

Through a cooperative arrangement between the two big state agencies, the State Health Department soon will begin screening children who are eligible for medical assistance. Children who are found to be in need of more definitive diagnosis and treatment then will be referred by the Welfare Department to practicing physicians and other appropriate sources for such services.

Although the Texas Medical Assistance Program currently provides diagnostic and treatment services to eligible individuals, it is hoped that early detection and treatment of disease in children will have a significant impact upon the lives of these children now and in the future.

State Health Commissioner Dr. James E. Peavy said the program can have a tremendous effect on what could be long-term illnesses. "This program will allow us to catch these defects now, while they are still amenable to treatment," he said.

The medical screening will cover health and developmental histories, physical growth, physical inspection, inspection of the ear, nose, mouth and throat, vision and hearing testing, along with certain other tests for anemia, tuberculosis, lead poisoning, etc.

Although the State Health Department has responsibility for conducting the basic screening, the Welfare Department responsibilities lie in different areas. It will be concerned with identifying individuals to be screened (up through five-year-olds at the start), for assisting families in discovering and understanding the screening program, and in assisting families in following recommended referrals, diagnosis and treatment.

In instances where a family does not have or know of a physician or other appropriate practitioner, it is anticipated that a County Medical Society can be of assistance in advising families on obtaining such assistance. Neither agency intends to make referrals to specific physicians.

It is the intent of both agencies to help families understand the health status of their children and to obtain further diagnosis or treatment from appropriate sources when it is needed. Freedom of choice by both families and practitioners is recognized.

The State Health Department screening will be accomplished at clinics already in operation and through other medical facilities and individuals, including mobile units where necessary.

Physicians in practice in local communities throughout the state are the key in providing the services which screening indicates the children may need.

The medical program will be the second to be initiated for children in welfare families—those who ordinarily couldn't afford preventive treatment. Also operating within the State Health Department is a dental care program. Both have their separate directors and key staff members but will share centralized administrative, data processing and fiscal programs.

Through screening and early diagnosis and treatment, both programs should have a strong impact on the present and future health of thousands of young Texans.

Veteran's Affairs

Q—With six million Vietnam veterans back in civilian life, how long before I can look forward to Vietnam veterans taking over the Veterans Administration?

A—One out of every four persons hired by VA in recent months has been a Vietnam era veteran. The more than 18,000 Vietnam era veterans working for VA as paid employees now make up about 9 1/2 per cent of the agency's total employees.

Q—I'm a World War I veteran and hear there's a record breaking G.I. insurance dividend for 1973. When can I expect to get mine and how much will I get?

A—The dividend will be paid on the anniversary date of your policy. The average dividend for World War I U.S. Government Life Insurance will be $143.

Farmers' Debt Getting Worse

There is "compelling evidence" that Texas farmers' debt situations are getting heavier every year, according to three economists with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Farmers appear to be "carrying over" significant amounts of loans and find themselves borrowing large amounts simply to repay previous debts, Lindon J. Robison, Dr. Peter J. Barry and Dr. John A. Hopkin said. Indicating the extent of the situation, they said, is the fact that in seven of the years from 1962 to 1972, farmers debt repayments exceeded gross farm income.

Texas will produce almost one-third of the total cotton grown in the nation during 1972. Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes that upland cotton production in the state during 1972 is now estimated at 4,050,000 bales. Nationwide, the total for 1972 is now estimated at 13,472,500 bales.

For Texas, production in 1972 is almost double that of 1971. Yield per acre for 1972 is set at 377 pounds per acre compared with 263 pounds in 1971. Harvested acres are expected to total 5,150,000 compared with 4,700,000 acres in 1971.

The southern High Plains crop reporting district 1-S is expected to produce 1,700,000 bales for 1972, or almost 400,000 more bales than the previous season. The Blacklands-district four-is in second place with an expected production of 475,000 bales compared with 356,000 bales the previous season.

Weather of recent days and weeks has delayed harvest on the High Plains. But even so, more than 80 per cent of the crop has been gathered compared to only about two-thirds completion a year ago.

Production of American-Pima cotton in Texas is expected to reach 31,000 bales compared with 35,300 bales in 1971. Yield is expected to average 431 pounds of lint per acre compared with 478 pounds in 1971. Harvest of the crop is virtually complete.

Full effects of the worst snow storm in Texas in 100 years which occurred recently are still not known regarding agriculture. But losses will be heavy. The oat crop, which had been showing some improvement, suffered from the ice and snow. Citrus harvest has been hampered by the cold weather. Rainy weather halted harvest of cabbage and carrots.

In the coastal bend, spinach harvest is at hand. Vegetable growers in Central Texas are preparing land and applying fertilizer when field conditions permit.

Wheat seeding for the state is complete, and wheat grazing has been restricted due to wet fields. Soybean, grain sorghum, and pecan harvesting are all virtually completed.

The cold, wet weather has been hard on livestock throughout the state. Supplemental protein feeding and haying is widespread over the state.

Milk production in Texas during December was four per cent below a year earlier, but still two per cent above the previous month's production.

Milk production per cow kept for milk averaged 730 pounds per cow during December, which is 30 pounds below a year earlier but 15 pounds above the previous month. Nationwide, milk production during December was virtually unchanged from a year ago. Milk cows on farms during December totaled 12,127,000, a one per cent decline from a year earlier.

Planting dates for cotton in the Rio Grande Valley have been announced. Cotton planting can begin as early as Feb. 15 in these counties: Bee, Aransas, Brooks, Duval, Jim Hogg, Jim Wells, Kenedy, Kleberg, Nueces, Webb, Zapata and portions of Hidalgo and Starr counties.

Cotton must be planted by April 20 in those counties. The planting dates are a part of the regulations relating to control of the pink bollworm for the state of Texas.

Projections to 1980 indicate more of the same. Even with a conservative two per cent inflation rate—it was three per cent between 1962 and 1970—the ratio of nonreal estate debt repayments to the total cash farm income is projected to increase from .93 in 1970 to a high 1.42. A ratio of one means that the repayments and income are evenly matched, below one there is more cash than repayments and above one the payments exceed the income.

Little, if any, real growth has occurred in cash farm receipts from farm marketing. Cash receipts per farm seem to be on the "increase" because farms have been growing larger and becoming fewer in number. The number of farms in Texas has decreased from 224,000 with an average size of 638 acres in 1962, to 187,000 farms with a 775-acre average in 1970. Because of this, cash receipts per farm have gone up while receipts per acre have actually remained nearly constant.

The three economists, all with the Department of Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology at Texas A & M University, emphasized that the figures should be interpreted carefully as the calculations involved were based on limited data.

Robison is a research assistant with the department, Dr. Barry, an assistant professor, and Dr. Hopkin, a Stiles professor.

He says many juvenile delinquents come from families with normal or high incomes — and most of them have parents who have no record of alcoholic abuse or criminal behavior.

Prof. Gosta Carlsson, who made an investigation among hundreds of boys in the 11-15 age group, said recently in Stockholm, that it is "almost normal" to commit an occasional crime but few people make serious or repeated offenses.

It is almost normal to commit crime?

Is it almost normal to commit crime?

He says many juvenile delinquents come from families with normal or high incomes — and most of them have parents who have no record of alcoholic abuse or criminal behavior.

By Mrs. Art Manjeot

NOTE: This is the last of the information gleaned relative to our Presidents).

Herbert Clark Hoover was born poor yet he lived a rich full life and served his nation admirably in many ways. During depression years, "Hooverize" was practiced throughout the U.S.A. to help to win the war and to save food. Hoover lived to celebrate his 90th birthday.

Franklin Delano Roosevelt challenged the people by these words from his presidential office via radio, "This great nation will survive. The only thing we have to fear is fear itself." A thrill of hope was felt, and the president and the people pushed forward.

Though a cripple from the waist down he was a giant in leadership, plans and government activities. As President he looked forward, as did President Wilson, to the winning of the peace as well as winning the war (World War II) However he did not live to see the end of the war, he died suddenly April 12, 1945, and Harry S. Truman became president and took up the torch of leadership which had fallen. He worked for peace and helped the United Nations get started. He dared to make decisive decisions and carried them through.

Truman ran on his own and won the national election overwhelmingly and sought to carry out his desire of a fair deal for the people. Rooftops of America took on a new look as TV antennas began to sprout. Thus communications were strengthened.

Dwight David Eisenhower was nicknamed by his boyhood pals as Ike; it was a thoughtful and friendly way of expressing friendship and love for the man with a big smile. Ike graduated from West Point, and was one of the greatest generals of World War Two.

He led the U.S. and our allies to victory over Germany, and was loved and respected by both political parties. During his administrations he worked hard for peace, traveled thousands of miles on good-will tours to other lands.

He was the first president to celebrate his 70th birthday in the White House. Soon after, he retired to his farm in Gettysburg, Pa.

John Fitzgerald Kennedy was a very youthful looking man when he became President. He was 43 years old, and some people were afraid at first that he didn't have enough experience. J.F.K. worked hard and vigorously and soon gained the respect and admiration of the people. Tragedy struck, and the young president was killed by an assassin's bullet.

Vice President Lyndon Baines Johnson became President; he took the oath of office while on a plane ready to rush him back to Washington. The new president said, "Let us continue".

Under his leadership congress passed the civil rights bill and a cut in taxes. This aim was that America could become a "great society"—a land where everyone could look forward to a good education, a comfortable and old age without worry.

He won a tremendous victory in 1964 and was elected president in his own right. The frustrating war in Viet Nam had split the nation. President Johnson decided to step aside, and did so by retiring to his ranch on the Pedernales River in Texas.

Richard Milhous Nixon had as one goal to "wind down", the long war in Viet Nam. Another tough foe was inflation in U.S.A... all the problems of modern America were the problems of America's president.

These problems are the people's problems too. Each U.S. citizen can make a worthy contribution, if they have the will to do so. Let us do best.

The Adams, Harrison, and Roosevelt families have each given two men to serve their country as president

NEW INTRODUCTIONS: The elite for 1973 have arrived, the All-America plant winners.

The 1973 All-America gladiolas: Three new gladiola varieties have been selected by the judges for all-America honors. They are Big Daddy Mexicali Rose and Brightside.

Big Daddy is the largest and tallest of all glads today. It has been grown seven feet high, with spikes bearing 9 to 10 immense florets. Has good substance and outstanding features are the cream peach color and the deep ruffling.

Mexicali Rose is a tall, medium-rose glad with a silver picotee on each petal. Has been known to have as many as 20 buds, and 8 to 10 tightly ruffled florets open at the same time.

Has excellent spacing, which is an item of importance in grading. Chief quality is its ability to be the first gladiola to bloom flowering in 60 to 65 days. This characteristic should certainly please the "glad" enthusiasts.

Brightside is an extra-fancy miniature gladiola—clear, bright yellow surrounded by prominent orange-red edging, an early variety and the florets have heavy texture and 18 buds to the spike.

Zinnias and marigolds top all garden flowers among the annuals, as the most popular. The winners are Peter Pan scarlet zinnia, a magnificent new color of large flowered dwarf hybrid.

It joins the other two Peter Pan zinnias, which are Peter Pan pink and Peter Pan plum, both having won All-America medals in 1971. The two 1971 winners scored the highest of any entries in the 40 years of judging thousands of other flowers and vegetables.

I predict that the 1973 Peter Pan scarlet will be a great favorite. This All-America Winner is especially recommended as a border plant and I sincerely hope it will be mildew resistant.

Happy Face marigold, a bronze medal winner, belongs to a class of hybrid marigolds popularly known as "hedging" marigolds, with a neat, uniform habit of growth. Color deep gold, full double, and is rated as an early bloomer.

These will all be on the this spring, so it would be wise to order early.

A hybrid zucchini squash called Aristocrat, has been honored by an All-America award for 1973. Has handsome fruit, prolific yield, excellent flavor.

Club Drive Begins To Preserve Woods

Meeting in the home of Mrs. Ray L. Johnson Thursday, members of Summerfield Study Club began a program to be conducted by Federated Women's Clubs to urge designation of Texas' Big Thicket area as a national park.

Informing the public of proposals for preserving this virgin forest, and enlisting support of Texas congressmen, is the goal of the clubwomen's efforts.

Mrs. Johnson, president of Summerfield Club, has been named chairman for the campaign in this county, and has received material from the Texas Federation, concerning the threat to the East Texas woodland from lumbering operations.

Along The Frio

By MRS. OWEN ANDREWS

Frio Homemakers Club met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Eugene Baldwin. The program was given by Dr. John English, of Kings Manor. He did a water color landscape painting, while the ladies watched.

He explained some of the details as he worked, and urged that everyone should have a creative hobby for times when he or she may not be able to be physically active. He explained how his experience with helping the elderly, especially, showed the value of learning new and creative things for mental and physical health and happiness.

New secret pals were drawn. A special meeting to make up the one missed during bad weather is planned for Tuesday, Jan. 30 at the home of Mrs. Laura Littrell.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Annie Lee Dobbins, Ronnie Andrews, Laura Littrell, E.F. Vogler, Frank Robbins, Harlean Barber, J.E. Warrick, T. L. Sparkman Jr., J.L. Brooks, Tommy Sparkman, Jackie Andrews, Sam Ogan, Owen Andrews, Henry Andrews, and Miss Alma Andrews.

Lloyd Shutz remains seriously ill in Northwest Texas hospital, after a five weeks stay and two operations. Also another operation is being considered, unless he shows marked improvement at once. Mrs. Shultz stays with him almost all the time, and several from the community in addition to his son, Joe and family, have visited from time to time.

Spending the weekend with the Billy Warricks were his sister, Mrs. Myles Powell and Mr. Powell, of Odessa. They attended Church at Frio with the Warricks, Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Brooks visited their relatives at Comanche, Okla., Tuesday until Friday last week. Jims sister-in-law, Mrs. Cecil Brooks

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

As a member of 4-H and also a representative of this year's FFA, I would like to express the sincere appreciation of all the kids in these two organizations, to those who had a part in making this year's four county stock show the greatest ever.

We especially want to thank the Young Farmers Organization for the great job they did in making the show possible for us kids. No one will ever know how much work goes on in the background, and most of it is done by the Young Farmers who sponsor the show. The community certainly owes them a debt of gratitude for their contribution.

We also wish to thank our 4-H leaders and Ag teachers for their help and supervision in getting our animals ready for the show. Their guidance through the year has made our efforts worthwhile.

Last but not least, we wish to thank all the business people and individuals who have advertised the show and who brought our livestock. You are the people who "reward" us for our efforts and we would like to think that our repayment to you will be in the form of being better citizens for our community.

Sincerely,
Kathy McCathern

Parties Close Sugar Beet Growers' Annual Meeting

DIRECTORS of the Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers Association were hosts to members and visitors here last weekend for the annual business meeting and banquet, with a party in Hereford Country Club after the banquet. Then the home of James W. Witherspoon, executive secretary of the association, and Mrs. Witherspoon was open honoring notables who came from outside the district, a party which has become a custom at the yearly convention here.

Small Talk

BY SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

SOMEBODY WAS LOOKING at last year's calendar, or next year's, or something, when the dates for County Federation of Women's Clubs luncheons for the season were given to me after a directors' meeting last fall.

The winter meeting was listed for Jan. 29 and the spring meeting for April 29. After I put that Jan. 29 luncheon in the Calendar of Events for next week, somebody told me it's wrong—so please don't go to the meeting that day.

It will be on Jan. 30, instead, and also the April date will be the 30th.

It won't hurt to repeat here that the covered dish lunch at Community Center is open to all women of the county, whether or not they are members of a club in the Federation. And newcomers might find this a good opportunity to start getting acquainted with local clubwomen; they will be welcomed.

WHEN HE WAS THE SPEAKER for Pioneer Study Club's lunch Tuesday, C of C manager Jim Lindsey earned the members' admiration by calling them all by name—and most of them he had not known previously.

He had learned the names, 21 of them, after he came to the meeting, and that's quite a feat. Just part of his job, he said, but if you try to learn the names of a roomful of strangers in 15 minutes, you can see he is doing a good job of that part of his job. Incidentally, at that meeting he asked all present who were born in this county to raise a hand. Corinne Jowell Neely was the only one; Lindsey was calling attention to the many newcomers even in this long-organized club.

SPEAKING OF NEWCOMERS, there is Cari Beth, the daughter of the Dale Reinarts of 210 Western. She was born Jan. 22 in a Canyon hospital, and is the granddaughter of the James Jeskos and the E.N. Reinarts, both of Route 2.

NEWSPAPER CONTROLS

On Oct. 4, 1933, all newspapers in Germany were placed under the supervision of Propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels.

A FIRST VISIT to Texas can bring out a variety of emotions, but they aren't often expressed in verse. However, 13-year-old Darla Morton of Fremont, Neb., recorded hers that way. She is one of the family of Mrs. Clyde Morton which is visiting the Joseph Janouseks at 139 Greenwood. Here's her poem:

TEXAS TO ME

Four and 20 tumbleweeds,
One and a half trees, sugar
beets in piles
And four and 10 Texas cactus seeds—

This is what you see in one and a half miles.

Red Clay and rolling hills,
Flat plains and cows galore,
Common are the cattle mills, 10,000 horses they have and want 10,000 more.

Maybe trees and birds are few,

But Texans all the same
Make the most of old and new,
Or die will the Texan name.
In its hard simplicity
And in its Texan way,
There lies a mystical majesty
Since long-forgotten years til today.

Panel Gives Program For YHT

Guest speakers presented a panel discussion for Young Homemakers of Texas at a meeting this week in SWPS Reddy Room, on the subject, Alternatives for Abortion. Mrs. Allen Monroe, a member of the local Right to Life committee, was leader.

On the panel were a lawyer, R.C. Hoelscher, Al Sinnacher, Mmes. Harve Williams, Jim Culpepper and Buddy Edwards. Slides were shown dealing with four types of abortion.

Brief reports on the state YHT convention at Dallas last weekend were made by Mrs. Culpepper, area president, and Mrs. Connie Urbanczyk, local president, who attended from the Hereford chapter.

Plans were made for assisting with the Mothers March of Dimes Monday. A contribution to Deaf Smith County Library for purchase of a book was voted.

4-H Training Project Planned

A 4-H Food and Nutrition Project training session was held Tuesday afternoon in the county courthouse, with Judy Grubbs, food and nutrition specialist from Texas A & M, heading the training for leaders.

The leaders will be conducting group meetings weekly with 4-H members and other youth groups and individuals.

4-H leaders present for the meeting were Mmes. Marvin Kalka, Hilrey Aven, Jim Ogle, Jim McCabe, Marvin Welty, Don Chapman, Burke Inam Jr., Burce Terry, Eugene Zinser, Floyd Cole and Joyce Shipp.

At The Library

Novel, Biography New At Library

Two new books featured at the Deaf Smith County Library are both dramatic and interesting, while being of completely different subjects.

Buttes Landing is a sweeping historical novel of American men and women and the land that shaped them.

Tracy and Hepburn is a biography telling of the lives of actors Katherine Hepburn and Spencer Tracy, together and alone.

The library is open to the public on weekdays until 5 p.m. and on Saturdays until noon.

BUTTES LANDING

By Garson Kanin
A sweeping historical novel of American men and women and the land that shapes them, this saga of three generations of mountain farmers is steeped in the lore of the Adirondack Mountain region of New York.

A masterly adventure of wilderness living and its challenges, it is a portrait of the Americas North-east written in the tradition of our greatest writers—Guthrie, Van Tilburg, Clark, and even Faulkner—an unforgettable story of the making of Americans.

The Buttes family patriarch, Odder, treks east at the start of the nineteenth century while everyone else is going west, and scoring the easy valley settles on a remote, almost un-clearable corner of a great lake.

Only out of need does he accept the help of a miller and his redoubtable daughter, Emily, to gain use of her magnificent work horse, but it is she who teaches him what he must know of the country and becomes his wife in a remarkable love story.

Emily's death in childbirth turns this stubborn individualist even further inward, though he is comforted by Kateri, the Indian midwife who raises Guthrie.

But the boy, learning the more mystical Indian ways, confounds his pragmatic father and a deep emotional gap separates them, widening with the years even though Guthrie stays on, committed like his father to the land, marrying an Indian girl from across the lake.

The growing up of Tip and Cobus, Guthrie's sons, so different from each other, draws this story into the stormy corridors of personal competition, romantic conflict and the new demands of mid-nineteenth century life.

Both boys are in love with the appealing daughter of a new neighbor, the lumber baron Raymond, and though the more worldly Tip wins her, a deep attraction between wife and brother-in-law never ceases.

Cobus's rites of passage come through the lusty life of the logger while Tip goes into politics.

Later we see the mean, protracted war between the states through Cobus's soldiering. Its end returns him to the family's land and an abiding acceptance of the Buttes legacy in a world he realizes will not see their like again.

TRACY AND HEPBURN

By Garson Kanin
"It was always Tracy and Hepburn," Garson Kanin recalls. The gentleman preceded the lady. Once, when the celebrated author-director chided Spencer Tracy for his insistence on first billing, Spencer said, "Why not?" his face full of innocence.

"Well, after all," his friend replied, "she is a lady. You're the man. Ladies first?" "This is a movie, chowderhead," said Spencer, "not a lifeboat."

They were one couple everyone knew but no one really knew anything about. What kept these two—so opposite in taste and technique—so fiercely together for 27 years?

Garson Kanin remained close to the two great stars throughout their long friendship. He has shared his experience and his affection for them with us by recounting through personal anecdotes as unpredictable and astonishing as Tracy and Hepburn themselves—the times—troubled, hectic or satisfying—that they spent in Hollywood, New York, London and Paris; and how it is for Kate today.

Kanin gives us his Kate—the born eccentric, charming, brilliantly inventive and determined—as she conquers every obstacle: getting around

IS IT BLEU?

Roquefort and Bleu cheese, though often mistaken for each other, are two separate types, Roquefort being made from sheep's milk and Bleu cheese from cow's milk.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED—The engagement of Judy Bartels of Rowena to Don Phelps of San Angelo is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Bartels of Rt. 4. Phelps is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sanders Phelps of San Angelo. The wedding is set for March 3, in St. Boniface Catholic Church of Olfen. Miss Bartels attended grade school in Hereford; she is a 1971 graduate of St. Joseph's High in Rowena and will graduate from San Angelo Vocational School of Nursing in February. Phelps is a 1966 graduate of Central High in San Angelo and is presently a junior at Angelo State University.

Comings and Goings at King's Manor

Anne Higgins had as dinner guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Fancher Upshaw and children Robert and Doug, of Floydada, and granddaughter, Linda Jo Higgins from Tech at Lubbock.

Miss Frances Dameron had as her dinner guest Sunday her niece, Mrs. Joe Hill of California.

Bessie Lee Petty had as her guests the weekend of Jan. 20 Beta Hitchcock of Shreveport, La. and Jewell Boylan of Lubbock.

King's Manor and cottage residents are making a study of the Gospel of Luke in weekly sessions.

Miss Beulah Duensing initiated a meeting with Mrs.

Claude McDougal, leader of Key 73 program in Hereford First Methodist Church, Mrs. Lena Pryor, Mrs. Fay Gaugel and Mrs. Martha Shirley.

The culmination of their plans came Jan. 19, when the first meeting convened. Mrs. Don Davidson led the meeting. She organized buzz sessions with leaders. After the group reconvened, groups pooled and shared findings. Interest was so keen that opportunities to speak were often at a premium.

Remaining sessions will be held on Tuesday evenings, led by the Rev. Herschel Thurston.

Success in religion, like any other endeavor, has to be worked at seven days a week.

a no-ladies-in-trousers rule in a stuffy London hotel, dealing with a surprise "coaching" session from John Barrymore, persuading the entire crew on a New York construction site to cease drilling during her major number in the Coco matinee's across the street.

Here is Spence, the greatest screen actor of his generation, sharp, magnanimous, joking, tense, he receives an unforgettable lesson in projection from Laurette Taylor, inspiration from George M. Cohan; he forces the desegregation of Washington, D.C.'s National Theater; he becomes an involuntary member of an acrobatic act at the Lido in Paris.

CFWC To Meet

Meeting date for Deaf Smith County Federation of Women's Clubs is Tuesday, Jan. 30, when the organization will have its winter program and business session after a covered dish lunch at Community Center.

Films made by a Hereford teacher, Willie Weaver, while he was teaching in Japan and other schools abroad, will be shown as the program. Weaver is a teacher at Aikman Elementary School here.

Mrs. Jim Bookout is program chairman. Mrs. L.H. Lookingbill Sr., president, will direct the business period.

All women of the county are invited to attend this meeting, bringing a dish for the lunch. Membership in the federation is open to individuals for payment of a nominal fee. Women in member clubs are automatically members of the Federation.

Arts-Crafts Lesson Given Valeda Club

A program on arts and crafts was given by Mrs. Glenn Watts to Valeda Study Club this week, at a meeting in the home of Mrs. John Poindexter.

She demonstrated ceramic painting and gave each member present an opportunity to practice the craft as she gave each a cup ready for painting in a mushroom design.

Arrangements for the members to give transportation next month for Kings Manor residents' shopping trips were made in the business period.

Trend In School Methods Outlined

Innovations and trends in education were discussed by Dr. James Pike, director of secondary education in Hereford public schools, as guest speaker for Calliopean Study Club Thursday evening when Mrs. Alton Fraser was hostess at Hereford Country Club.

Introduced by Mrs. Bob Word, Dr. Pike described four new educational policies, one being used here in Tierra Blanca Elementary School. This is the open space school, which allows continuous progress of pupils without limitations imposed by traditional classrooms.

A very new idea is the open hall policy, which gives more flexibility in time and classroom use, he said. Modular scheduling, or dividing the school day in time blocks of 20 or 25 minutes for flexibility of classroom periods, is another.

The fourth idea, used mostly in large city schools, allows a tax credit voucher to send pupils to private schools, in order to break down segregation. This is causing the demise of private schools, Dr. Pike added.

He suggested that club members inform school administrators or board members of educational problems they are aware of. Another suggestion was the possibility of parents or interested persons volunteering to assist teachers on a monthly, weekly or one-time basis.

Members present included Mmes. Tom Kendrick, Ansel McDowell, Gene Parsley, D.W. Palmer, A.T. Mims, Hazen Woods, Clyde Cave, Paul Coneway, John Gilliland, Sue James, Keith Simmer, George Warner, Dale Furr, E.W. Dettman, Jack Wilcox, Emmett Milburn and C.J. Crump.

4-H LEADERS— Leaders of various area 4-H clubs attended a training session in preparation for Food and Nutrition projects they plan to hold in the future. Group meetings will be held weekly by the leaders, with 4-H members and other youth groups and individuals present.

Mrs. Jones Is Honoree At Shower

A pretty recent party was a layette shower for Mrs. Charles Jones, given in Pioneer Gas Flame Room with about 100 guests calling during the evening.

Hostesses were Mmes. Fred Ratliff, Wesley Gully, Hazen Woods, George Warner, Boyd Foster, Shelia Upshaw and Sue Brown. Their gift to the honoree was a Jenny Lind style dressing table for the baby-to-be.

Brightly colored balloons were used in decorations. On the serving table a nursery lamp featuring a wooden toy figure held the balloons in a wreath of fern and yellow carnations.

Cakes served with the punch had tiny balloons traced in the icing.

Quartet tables where guests sat were covered with alternating vivid pink and blue cloths, each centered with a stuffed animal toy holding a cluster of balloons.

Mrs. Jones received the gifts and good wishes of guests, dressed in a long-skirted yellow-and-orange silk print. She was presented a corsage made of rolled baby socks in yellow and white.

Grandson Weds

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Noyes, at home in Farmington, N.M., were married recently in Bel Air Baptist Church at Hobbs.

The bride is the former Miss Julie Ann Bates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H.E. Bates of Humble City, N.M.

The bridegroom's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. B.B. Noyes Sr. of Hereford. He is the son of B.B. Noyes Jr. of Farmington and Mrs. W.A. Sellers of Big Lake. He recently completed a tour of duty in military service.

Benson To Be Honored By Family

The family of Hardy Benson, longtime Deaf Smith County resident who is reaching his 80th birthday, will honor him with an informal open house Saturday afternoon at his home. It will follow a family dinner in an Amarillo restaurant.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Benson and of all members of the family are invited to call at the home during the open house hours beginning at 3 p.m.

Benson has lived in this county since 1923, when his father bought land in the Ford community and the George Benson, Floyd Benson and Majors families moved here from Clarendon.

His children and grandchildren will be hosts for the party; their friends are invited, as well as Benson's friends, new and old.

U.S. fuel oil imports expected to increase

The United States currently imports 23 per cent of the 14.7 million barrels of fuel oil burned in the country daily.

By 1980, about 40 per cent of the country's fuel oil needs will be imported.

Wedding Planned

Miss Mary Virginia Wheeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerron S. Woelker of 112 Douglas, and John E. Linney Jr. of Arlington are planning an evening wedding in the fellowship hall of First Baptist Church on February 10.

The bride-elect is a student in West Texas State University after graduation from hereford

High School. She plans to transfer to the University of Texas at Arlington, where her fiancé is a student. He is employed by IBM Company at Dallas and the couple will make their home in Arlington.

Parents of the prospective bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. John Linney of Sioux Falls, South Dakota.

The Welfare Hoax

Early in 1969, when the Nixon Administration unveiled its Family Assistance Plan, the National Chamber studied it closely and came to some firm conclusions.

First, we said, it is in fact a guaranteed income, despite Administration statements to the contrary. Second, the premises on which it is based are not backed by sufficient research. Third, the so-called "work incentives" in the plan would be insufficient; rather, the net effect of the plan would be a work disincentive.

That was a lonely position to take at the time. We were not only in opposition to the Administration and much of the liberal social welfare establishment, but also, surprisingly, in opposition to several other large business groups, which had come out in favor of FAP.

Consequently, it is gratifying to see our position vindicated now by the man who played a key role in the development of the Family Assistance Plan, Daniel Patrick Moynihan.

Mr. Moynihan—a Harvard professor—is a remarkable man. He has managed to fill high policy positions in the Kennedy, Johnson and

Who Needs

Who is—or who are Burke-Hartke? Don't know? You probably will in the next few months when Congress tackles an issue of vital importance to all Americans.

Sen Vance Hartke (D-Ind.) and Rep. James Burke (D-Mass.) are the authors of a bill introduced during the last session of Congress. It never came to a vote, but the measure is sure to be reintroduced in the 93rd Congress.

Many people believe passage of the legislation would have serious adverse effects on the U.S. economy, create additional unemployment in this country and cripple world trade and investment flow.

They feel this is so because Burke-Hartke provisions would sharply reduce U.S. foreign trade and investment by imposing quotas on most imports. A whole series of private and governmental studies have shown conclusively that foreign trade and overseas investments expand U.S. employment opportunities.

If the United States imposes quotas on imports, do we expect foreign countries to sit back and admire our trading policies? Hardly! Such an import quota imposition would provoke retaliation that would severely cut back U.S. exports.

And then what happens to the persons whose jobs are dependent on the export trade? You guessed right—they would be out of work.

Burke-Hartke—who needs it?

Nixon Administrations, a feat perhaps equalled only by Talleyrand's service as grand chamberlain to Napoleon and prime minister under his successor, Louis XVIII.

He also writes with great clarity, and with disarming honesty.

In his latest book, "The Politics of a Guaranteed Income," he makes some surprising revelations:

"Guaranteed Income" was the one label that said 'Poison.' Accordingly the president declared that the Family Assistance Plan was not a 'guaranteed income.' This will confuse some readers and trouble others, inasmuch as it was, a fact the president knew well enough."

Mr. Moynihan justifies this behavior by explaining that "from an only slightly different point of view it will be seen that the president's proposal was not a guaranteed income in the meaning the public had come to attach to that term. We would not agree with that statement, but to be fair, I'm including it in the record."

Mr. Moynihan also admits that at the time FAP was proposed there was no "evidence of any kind as to what effects a guaranteed income would have. A negative income tax experiment was under way at the time the issue arose, but it had not the slightest influence on the president's decision," he says. "(Nor are the final results, when they come, likely to be nearly as supportive of the decision as has been hoped.)"

In other words, it probably wouldn't work.

Mr. Moynihan describes the Chamber's position accurately and fairly, concluding that "it is fair to assume the Chamber's opposition had some consequence" in killing the plan. He carefully notes that the Chamber's attitude "was not in any way hostile to or derogatory of welfare recipients themselves."

And he concedes that "the Chamber of Commerce was within its rights to note the disposition of a certain type of middle-class professional to disparage dead-end jobs, and to encourage the view that the correct attitude toward work programs was to evade them. This was a position widely enough held in some circles, and anyone might have been concerned as to what would be its eventual impact on American society. Any system of income maintenance poses a threat to work incentives, and FAP was the most extensive such system ever proposed."

Energy Policy

Does the United States need a national energy policy?

We answer in the affirmative and the reason is simple. Summed up, it is the pressing need for an adequate supply of energy to meet varied demands of our complex economy.

The supply and availability of basic fuels such as oil, coal and natural gas is, of course, of paramount importance but the national energy issue is a many-sided one cutting across such areas as taxation, transportation, international considerations, land use, environment and national security.

Coordination and harmony are the keys to the development of a national energy policy since the many facets of the energy problem are now treated in an uncoordinated and often conflicting manner.

National policy decisions affecting this country's energy supply must be coordinated. Public policy in areas which can affect energy supply must be considered with a view toward meeting our national energy demands.

A national energy policy will also require the consolidation of energy-related functions of the Executive Branch. At least nine of the 11 Cabinet Departments presently are exercising varying degrees of regulation over the energy industries. President Nixon's proposed consolidation of energy-related functions into a Department of Natural Resources is aimed at introducing more coordinated and effective governmental performance.

Fringe Benefits For Legislators Many

BY BERT MILLS
Washington, D.C.—Fringe benefits for members of Congress are so extensive that it takes a 220-page book to describe them. Newest of these benefits is just such a book, with separate editions for Senators and Representatives, listing all the available perquisites and privileges.

That $42,500 annual salary paid each legislator with an increase to $50,000 expected in 1974 is only the beginning. A Senator, for example, gets from 41 to 45 free round trips per year to his home state, plus allowances for telephone calls, telegrams and stationery.

The stationery allowance has been controversial for many years. Economy-minded Congressmen have deplored the fact that unused sums may be drawn in cash. Also, the stationery store stocks many gift items and a penny-pinching legislator can do much of his Christmas shopping at public expense. (Of course, the handbooks do not suggest this.) Many of the goodies available to legislators are designed to facilitate their reelection. For example, the Joint Committee on Congressional Organization, created in 1970 and responsible for the handbooks, will not only help a newcomer set up his files but catalogue them and store the information in a computer. The committee will also help a Senator or Representative establish and store a mailing list of up to 500,000 names. Senators get from 50,000 to 100,000 postage-free envelopes per month, just to keep in touch with the voters back home. Free Medical Service Provided Congress believes in staying healthy and maintains a staff of doctors and nurses, offering free care 24 hours a day. Complete laboratory, X-ray, pharmacy and physiotherapy services are offered. Some services, such as flu and allergy shots, are available free not only to members but also to their families and staff members.

Members are invited to have a free electrocardiogram and receive a wallet-sized copy of their EKG. Gymsnasiums and swimming pools are maintained to encourage regular exercise. A group life insurance policy offers $45,000 coverage for $26.82 per month, and legislators have a choice of 31 health insurance plans.

In case of illness, the Army and Navy stand ready to help with hospital beds available at ridiculously low prices at Walter Reed Hospital or the Bethesda Medical Center, only minutes away from the Capitol. Such visits by Senators or Representatives often last for months and sometimes years. The Library of Congress is a big help to all those privileged to write M.C. after their name. The library will write speeches, do research, draft bills, translate mail written in a foreign language, make charts and maps to illustrate speeches, lend books, and perform almost any other literary chore short of providing a master's thesis or junior's term paper.

Senators get office suites of from five to seven rooms, depending on the population of the state they represent. They get free maintenance services of all sorts, even custom-made furniture. For decoration, various agencies vie for the privilege of helping, including reproductions of art masterpieces loaned by the National Gallery of Art and growing plants from the Botanical Gardens.

Motoring Made Easy Tourists can't find a parking place on Capitol Hill but that's no problem for a Senator. Each gets two free spaces in an underground garage, plus a Congressional license plate allowing free parking all over town, including places where it is illegal for almost everybody else. Everything goes so long as the solon says he is on "official business," which is interpreted so liberally as to include a wife's shopping trips to a department store.

There are free haircuts or men, free beauty treatments for women, free banking service by the Disbursing Office.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Talk of Texas

BY JACK MAGUIRE

FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY—For 25 years, a titled German nobleman lived as an Indian chief in a successful effort to keep his adopted tribal brothers from attacking white settlers in Texas.

He was Baron Emil Kriewitz, a German university graduate who came to Texas in 1845 to join a settlement of his countrymen at Fredericksburg, Gillespie County. He arrived, however, about the time that John O. Meusebach, founder of the settlement, was negotiating a treaty with the Comanches. One of the stipulations of the treaty was that the Germans would send one of their own to live with the Indians.

Whether Kriewitz was chosen for the assignment or went voluntarily has been lost to history. At any rate, he joined the tribe, married the chief's daughter and rode with the Comanches in battle. When his father-in-law was killed during a fight with the Mescalero Apaches, the nobleman from Germany was elected the principal chief of the tribe.

In middle age with the danger of Indian attacks over, he returned to Fredericksburg and married a white wife. He died in 1902.

DO YOU REMEMBER—America's first real sports car, the Whippet "Collegiate"?

It came out in 1927, designed (so the ads said) for "young Americans under 60." It had a rumble seat, four-wheel brakes and was guaranteed to make 55 miles an hour on a straight road.

IT'S THE LAW—in Brownsville, the police will issue a ticket to anybody riding a camel on Main Street.

The law was passed in the 1850's when Jefferson Davis, the U.S. Secretary of War, sent a passel of camels to Texas to see whether the animals could be used to carry soldiers and supplies over the arid wastes of Southwest Texas. During the Civil War, the camels were used to haul cotton into the port of Brownsville and pick up supplies for the army.

Because the animals frightened both horses and children, Brownsville city fathers passed an ordinance banning camels from Main Street.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?—Those drainage canals along highways are called "bar ditches" but they have nothing to do with strong drink.

The name is a corruption of "borrow ditch." The term came about because early builders "borrowed" dirt from either side of the highway to build up the roadbed. This formed a ditch which also kept the road drained. Over the years, however, the term "borrow ditch" became today's "bar ditch."

TRAVELING TEXAS—What may be the finest collection of hunting guns in the world now is on display at Lone Star Brewery's "Hall of Horns" in San Antonio.

The collection of 131 guns was the property of the late John I. Moore of San Angelo, one of Texas' most famous big game hunters. Each of the guns is operational.

Funeral Held For Child
Graveside funeral services for Vanessa Fuentes, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emilio Fuentes Jr. of Amarillo, were conducted in St. Anthony's Catholic cemetery Saturday afternoon by the Rev. John Kiesling of St. Anthony's Church. Burial was directed by Gilliland-Watson Funeral Home.
The child, who was born July 9, 1971, at Dimmitt, died Friday while the family was visiting relatives here. They are former Hereford residents.
Survivors in addition to the parents are a sister, Veronica, and a brother, Brian, of the home; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Emilio Fuentes Sr. of 411 Long St. and Mrs. Petra Moreno of 441 West Second.

25-Years Marked

The silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mark Koenig was celebrated last Sunday with a mass at St. Anthony's Catholic Church and a reception at the Knights of Columbus Hall.
Alice Paetzold and Mark Koenig were married at St. Anthony's Jan. 20, 1948. Their attendants were Eleanor Paetzold, now Mrs. C.O. Williams of White Deer, and Leo Koenig, now of Munday; both were here for the anniversary party.
Hosts were the Koenigs' sons, Timothy, Alan, Matthew, Jerry and Gregory of the home; Wayne, a freshman at Texas Tech; Phillip, a senior in Northwest Texas School of Nursing, Amarillo, Daniel of Hereford and Richard of Austin. Helping to host the party were Messrs. and Mmes. Edward Schilling, John Warren, Arnie Husmann, Norbert Skypala, James Paetzold, Mike Betzen.

George Turrentine, Edward Paetzold, Francis Bachus, Arhart Reinart, C.J. Berend, Lester Wagner and Herbert Vogel.
Guests from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. George Paetzold of Snyder, the Alan Neff family of Odessa, the Marlin Northrup family of Los Alamos, N.M., Geraldine Koenig and the Leo Koenigs of Munday and the C.O. Williams family.

Drunk Driving Will Be Council's Topic

Deaf Smith County Council on Alcoholism will welcome guest speaker John Rafe at a noon meeting at Dickies Restaurant Jan. 30. Rafe is the executive director of the Amarillo Council on Alcoholism.
As a part of his program on drunken driving, Rafe will include a film, entitled "Alcohol and Red Flares". Rafe has appeared over the Panhandle in guest speaking roles for various clubs and organizations over the years, and many local residents may remember him for these appearances, says Mrs. Jewel Smith, member of the local council's board of directors.
"I'm sure he would be pleased to renew any of these old acquaintances," she said.
"We would like to invite all ministers and law enforcement officers particularly," she added, "and anyone that would be interested, because Mr. Rafe is very well-versed in this area."
An informal question and answer session will follow the speakers' program.

Revival Starting

Opening services of a revival in Dawn Baptist Church which will continue through Feb. 4, will be held today at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Evening meetings through the week will be held at 7:30 also.
The Rev. Chester O'Brien Jr., area missionary of the Amarillo Baptist Association, will be the evangelist and the local song leader, Jerry Stewart, will direct congregational singing. The Rev. Gene Meacham, pastor, invites the public to all services.

Advice On Sales
Free To Askers

BE A SMART SHOPPER is the series of leaflets offered to everyone for the asking. These will be mailed at different intervals. The current leaflet is about sales.

If you would like this call 364-3573 and Terri Johnson (She's the friendly voice you will hear) will add you to the mailing list.

In this leaflet, it states the sales calendar for February: home furnishings, rugs, mattresses, housewares, china, glassware, silverware. Too, there may be a continuation of storewide clearances.

The heroic act or deed must be related to farm and ranch operations.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES—oases traditional lettuce and tomatoes—are excellent additions to sandwiches. Sandwiches take on new tastes and extra nutrition with new additions. For example, add chopped bits of spinach, carrots and celery to egg salad sandwiches for extra "zing".

These vegetables add sparkle and crunch to the normally soft and bland chopped egg. Tuna salad sandwiches, on the other hand, come alive with chopped green pepper and celery, plus a squeeze of lemon.

Often overlooked, cabbage also combines well with meat. Shredded fresh cabbage perks up a plain hamburger or baked ham. As sauerkraut, cabbage has won great acclaim as one of the most important ingredients in a Reuben.

Although fruits aren't usually considered sandwich material, they add that "something extra" to spark flavor. One combination is cold turkey and cheese, teamed with avocado and mayonnaise as a binder.

For a peaches 'n cream delight, try a sandwich filled with chopped canned peaches and creamed cheese.

These sound so good they make me hungry.

ONE STATEWIDE GOAL reached early is the $7.76 in '76. The agricultural agencies set the economic goal for gross agricultural income of $7.76 billion in 1968 to be reached by 1976.

When personal, family or group goals are reached, it can be enjoyed for a time and then new goals should be set. Progress must go forward and this is done only by setting goals and working toward these goals.

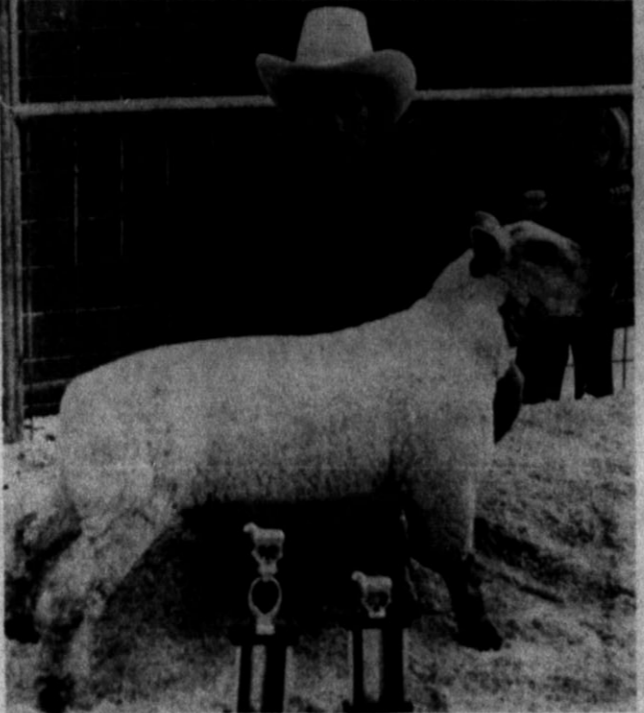

How are you progressing in your attempt to gain your personal goals for 1973?

DON'T FORGET to send in pre-registration for luncheon for Healthy Hearts Seminar ($2.50 per person). Pre-registration is mailed to Mrs. Sue Farris, P.O. Box 9198, Amarillo 79105.

As soon as the printed programs arrive they will be sent to everyone. If we had to put priority on any program for 1973 it would be this one. Healthy Hearts Seminar, Quality Motel, 2915 Interstate 40 East, Amarillo, February 8. More information soon.

IT IS TIME to nominate someone for Texas' Rural Hero of 1972. This heroism award is sponsored by the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council.

It is presented annually to some deserving person who as performed an act of exceptional bravery during a time of crisis.

Membership Invited

Acquaintance with purpose and plans of Hereford Jaycees was made by a group of guests who are eligible for membership, at a joint meeting with Jaycees Thursday evening in Community Center.

A part of the observance of National Jaycee Week here, the informal entertainment was aimed at addition of new members to both groups. Mrs. Harvey Milton, membership chairman, was in charge of the program for the women.

Mrs. Bill McKinney, president, led an open discussion to orient prospective members. Mrs. Dale Smith, civic activities chairman, reported plans for the Jaycee-Ette project of leadership in the 1973 Mothers march of Dimes Monday evening.

Mrs. Elias Briones was welcomed as a new member and Mmes. Dale Lawrence, Richard McCutchens, Robert Mercer and Stephen Carroll as guests.

Other members present were Mmes. Bill Johnson, C.L. Hollingsworth, Tom Rambo, Larry Bean, Bill Bankston, Lonnie Coffee and Don Warrick.

expensive hangover
 Alcoholism is known as industry's $15 billion hangover, according to an industrial physician.

This amount represents: $2 billion for health and welfare services; $3 billion in property damage, medical expense, compensation claims and insurance, and a $10 billion drain on the economy in lost work time.

Prince Valiant

IN THE DAYS OF KING ARTHUR
By HAL FOSTER

Our Story: THERE IS A COOLNESS BETWEEN THE TWO BOYS, FOR BOLTARSON SUSPECTS ARN OF BEING A COWARD. IN SILENCE THEY STALK A SMALL HERD OF DEER.

SUDDENLY THE DEER BECOME ALERT, THEIR WHITE TAILS SIGNALING THEIR FEAR. THEN THEY TURN AND RACE TOWARD THE BOYS' HIDING PLACE.

"DOWN! STAY DOWN!" HISSES ARN. BUT BOLTARSON SHAKES OFF HIS RESTRAINING HAND AND LEAPS TO HIS FEET, SPEAR AIMED. "RUN!" SHOUTS ARN.

"YOU SPOILED MY AIM," BOLTARSON SNARLS, "ARE YOU EVEN AFRAID OF DEER?" A WILD FIGURE RISES FROM THE HEATHER AND AIMS AT BOLTARSON'S BACK BUT ARN'S ARROW IS QUICKER.

A DOZEN OTHER BLUE-PAINTED PICTS SPRING UP FROM THEIR HIDING PLACES. ARN SOUNDS A WARNING ON HIS HUNTING HORN AND THEY RACE FOR THE SHIP.

THE VIKINGS, WARNED BY THE HORN, ARE ARMED AND READY AND THE TWO BOYS REACH THE SHIP UNHARMED.

"YOU SAVED MY LIFE, ARN. HOW DID YOU KNOW THERE WAS DANGER?"
"WE DID NOT FRIGHTEN THE DEER, FOR THEY RACED TOWARD OUR HIDING PLACE, PANICKED BY SOMEONE BEYOND."

IT IS PLAIN THAT NO SUPPLIES CAN BE OBTAINED ON THESE INHOSPITABLE SHORES, SO THE SHIP IS LAUNCHED TO SEARCH FOR A VILLAGE TO RAID OR A TOWN WHERE THEY CAN TRADE.

HELP FOR HOMEMAKERS

DEAR HELOISE:
Since I "potty-trained" my baby quicker than I expected, I now have five dozen diapers in practically new condition and two dozen that are well used. Now, what am I supposed to do with the diapers?
Theresa Sands

You really had an ample diaper supply!
If this is your first child, you never know but what you might need those diapers again. Being as you have them now, it would be one less item you would need when the next little one comes!

But if you still want to dispose of them, orphans' homes would be ever so appreciative. They never seem to have enough.
Other mothers-to-be, on a tight budget, can only afford two or three dozen. Oh, what they wouldn't give for a few extras! Or if you see a neighbor in that condition, offer them to her. I am sure she will be ever so grateful.

Next time you take your baby to your obstetrician, tell him you have these lovely gifts. I am sure he knows which of his patients need them badly.

I am also positive that the minister at your church knows exactly which ones in his flock need this very item. And if he is married, his wife would know even better. Ask her—she'll love you, for your glorious offer!
Heloise

A BUDDING GENIUS
DEAR HELOISE:
Don't throw away those pretty salad dressing bottles that have the square bottoms. They make the loveliest vase for a flower. I have used them with one rose or for several dainty small flowers.
Tina Mosca

CABINET MEETING
DEAR HELOISE:
We recently moved into an older home, in which all the kitchen cabinets are white metal. We can't afford to replace or refinish them yet. I painted the walls bright yellow, and put up bright yellow and orange curtains. Even at that, I still felt that it looked more like a medical lab or operating room.

I happened to see some adhesive-backed paper with yellow and orange mushrooms on it. It gave me an idea.
I bought a yard, cut out each mushroom individually and pressed them at random on the front of each cabinet. Wow! You wouldn't believe how it brightens things up. And for less than a dollar!

Betty Fritz

IT'S IN THE BAG
DEAR HELOISE:
Recently, some advertisement pamphlets came in little plastic bags with a hole through the top to hang on the doorknob.
So I said to myself, what a nice little litter bag.

I hung one on the knob of the cupboard under the bathroom basin and now there's no more reaching for the wastebasket in the cupboard. Just drop facial tissues and paper towels into the litter bag.
Also, I hung one on the cupboard under the kitchen sink. Again, just drop paper towels or tissues in litter bag. No more reaching under the sink for the waste can.
Louise Crocker

LATE FOR DINNER?
DEAR HELOISE:
May I share a hint that I have found fantastic?
With all the children's activities, we average about 75% attendance at dinner time.

Instead of keeping food in pots and heating it up as they arrive home, I save the aluminum tins that frozen dinners come in.
As food is being passed at the table, I fill these tins.
After dinner, I cover them with foil and refrigerate them. When the latecomer arrives, I pop the tin in my little bake and broiler oven and in twenty minutes, a piping hot meal.

The kids love this method.
Liberated Mom

You might like to know about another clever mother who wrote me. She uses an empty aluminum dinner tray to put under each frozen dinner as it comes hot from the oven.
No burned fingers, and the food seems to keep hot longer. She also mentioned that they are handy to serve cold food on the patio.
Keep them coming, Mothers!
Heloise

NOT SO SILLY!
DEAR HELOISE:
Do you keep your plants on a window sill? Struggle against those scratches and watermarks? Wish you could keep the plants, but get rid of the bother?
Well, you can. Use a few indoor-outdoor carpet tiles which cost so very little.
When you cut and fit them to the sill just make sure to use all of the sticky strips on the back. This gives a smooth finish.
Now your cleaning amounts to only a quick whisk of your vacuum. And what's more, those sills look good all the time!
Grannie

THE JUMPING JACKS
DEAR HELOISE:
Everyone knows that boys cannot walk. They have to run and jump at all times.
With three healthy teenage boys, I had fingerprints on all the walls, above every door and even on the ceilings.
We put up a chinning-bar at the top of one bedroom doorway. They still jump, but now it is in and out of the bedroom. Only one problem now, I have footprints above that door.
A Steady Reader

PLUMBER'S HELPER
DEAR HELOISE:
Objects placed above the commode can be a big headache. I learned about it the hard way.
People are not aware that odds and ends can fall off the shelf and into the bowl, causing a plugged bowl and making a large plumber's bill.
A plumber's bill will vary from $15 to $50 according to the work needed to clear the stoppage.
A simple remedy is this: Keep the lid down and cover the bowl for your own protection.
Experienced Plumber

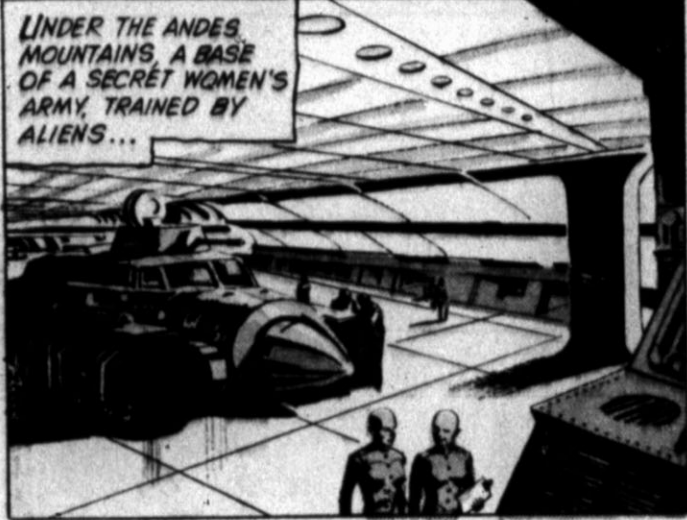

CLIP 'N' CURL
DEAR HELOISE:
If you use the big plastic or wire mesh rollers for your hair, I have a helpful hint.
Decorate a large shoe box and put your curlers (standing on end) in it.
Also clip the bobby pins used to hold them on the side of the box or on the side of each curler.
Add your hair net or setting gel and you'll have everything you need right there.
