

Borger Feels Fallout From Adams' Bombs

Whitefaces Tame Bulldogs In 33-0 Conquest

BY MARSHALL DAY
News Editor

The powerful Hereford offense made a shambles of the highly regarded Borger defense Friday night in the Herd's 33-0 romp, but it was the running of little Johnny Adams that brought the crowd to its feet twice in the late stages of the contest.

Adams, who was not a starter, got the call from his running back spot only three times, but the 142-pounder made the most of the opportunities. He ripped of 125 yards on those three carries, including two touchdowns.

He came into the game after Hereford held a comfortable 20-0 lead and raced 78 yards on his first carry for a touchdown and 44 yard on his second carry for another score.

Field general Keith Kitchens, operating the offense with complete calm, hit on five of 12 pass attempts, but several of his tosses went in and out of the hands of the intended receivers. One, a pass that covered about 45 yards in the air, found receiver Alan Cornelius all alone, but the ball went off the tips of his hands.

Hereford won the toss at the start of the game, elected to receive and commenced to march down the field with ease.

James Harris picked up 21 yards on the first play of the game and three plays later Kitchens hit Steve Nieman with a 29-yard pass down to the Borger 25. The Whitefaces move the ball on down to the Borger 9 before the Bulldog defense held. A field goal attempt was wide of its mark and the ball went over to the Bulldogs.

However, the first offensive play of the game for the Borger team proved fatal. A jarring tackle by half of the Whiteface line shook the ball loose from the ballcarrier and Terry Champ recovered on the Borger 22.

From the 22, Wesley High picked up 6, James Harris was stopped for no gain and High picked up three more. Facing a fourth and one situation, Kitchens handed off to High and the 170-pound fullback carried the ball into the end zone for the game's first score. Terry Poindexter tacked on the point after and the Whitefaces led, 7-0 with 5:30 remaining in the first period.

Less than three minutes later the 'Faces were back on the board after James Harris took a Borger punt and raced 57 yards downfield to the Borger 3 before he was knocked out of bounds.

Kitchens kept the ball on the first play of the series and went in for the second TD at 3:19.

Poindexter again added the point after for a 14-0 Hereford lead.

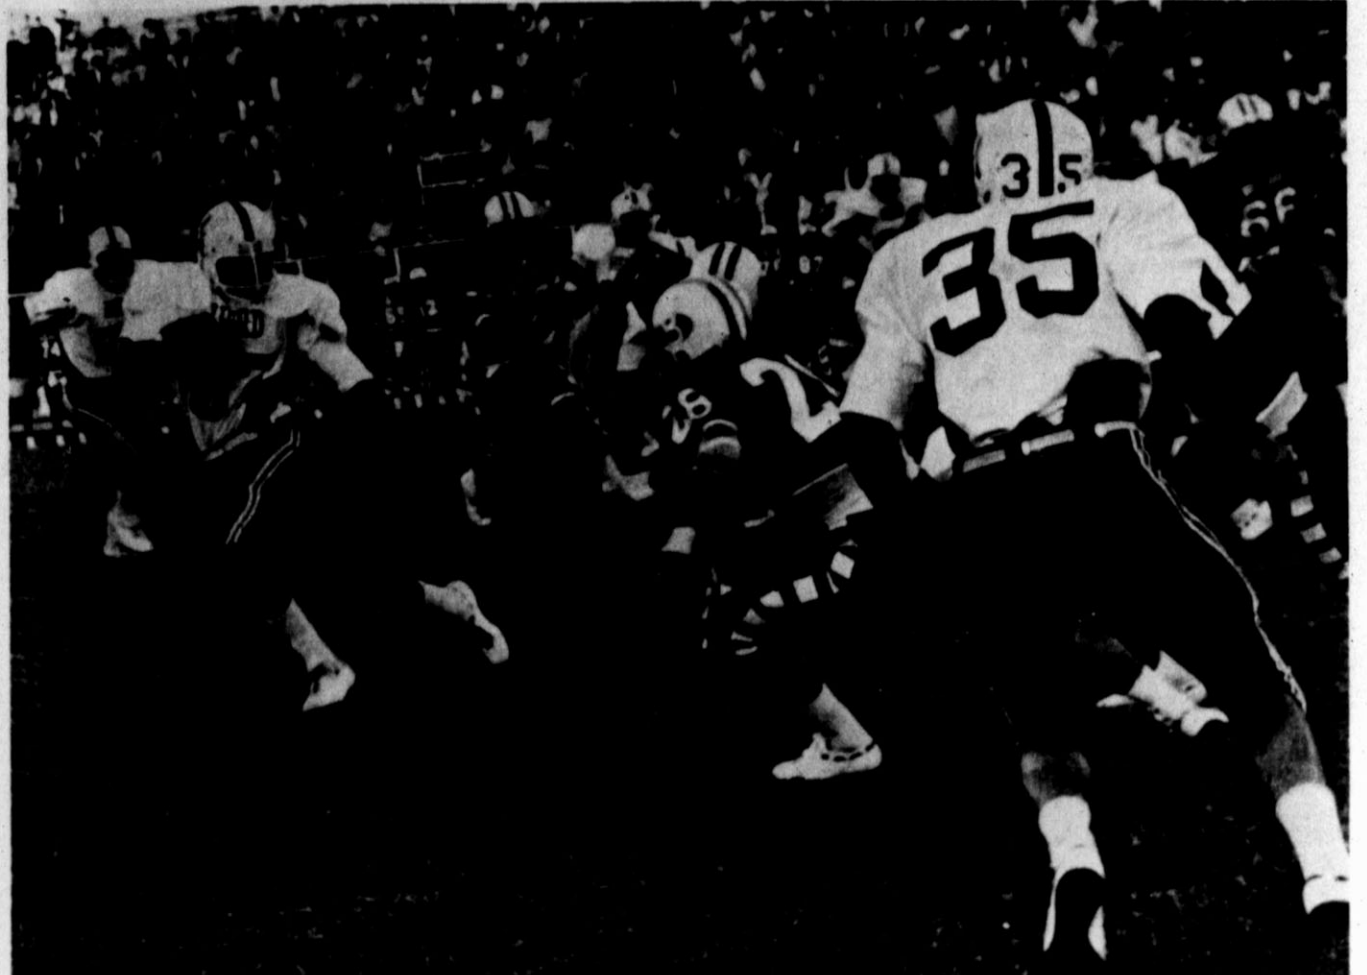

The second quarter was defensive struggle played mostly in Hereford's end of the field. However, the Whiteface defense, which has allowed only 22 points in three games, held time and again against the Borger offense.

Hereford's two touchdown lead grew by six points early in the third stanza when, on a fourth and long situation at the Borger 25, Kitchens hit Barry McNutt all alone near the goal line and the fleet back went into the end zone for the third score. The play before, Kitchens had Cornelius out in the open in the same area, but the ball fell incomplete.

Hereford began another drive just minutes later from their own 47. Kitchens hit Nieman for eight yards and Danny Harris picked up two for the first down. A penalty took the ball back five yard, but Danny Harris made that up and more when he busted loose for a 28-yard gainer down to the Borger 21.

Kitchens ran for 12 to the 9-yard line, but on the next play Hereford fumbled and Borger's Sylvester Darden recovered at the 11.

The third quarter ended 20-0 (See "Faces" Page 2)

In County Commission Meeting

Vote Expected Monday On 'Unit System'

The "County Unit System," for years a controversial subject in county affairs, is expected to become a part of Deaf Smith County's governing system when it is presented in Monday's county commission meeting.

Indications are that the system will receive the majority votes needed to pass the motion to institute the system in this county. There are only minor items on the agenda and once they are disposed of, the rest of the day is expected to be set aside for the discussion of the system.

The unit system, or "Optional County Road Law of 1947" as it is officially known, has been brought up in county court numerous times over the 15 years, but always was rejected. The subject came to light again just a few weeks ago, but did not come up for a vote. A vote is expected from Monday's county commission meeting.

The unit system is designed to place all county road work under the supervision of one man—an overall superintendent—and thus provide the county commissioners with more time to work on other problems.

The system, tried for years in other counties, is said to have saved some counties as much as $50,000 during a year through eliminating unnecessary equipment throughout the counties. This is done by rotating the minimum equipment around the county where it is needed most.

Judge Peyton Walters of Livingston, Tex., where the system has been in operation for some time, said the county unit system "at its worst, is far superior to the convention system."

He added that the system has resulted in "considerable monetary savings for the county (Polk)."

"The unit system is designed to produce a more efficient administration in the road and bridge department, but the secondary benefits have far more dramatic effect than the primary benefits. The system frees the political chains of the past and allows the commissioners court to function in the manner of a corporate board," Walters said.

"The unit system is a sound business practice and, for our county, has proven itself. A considerable savings has been enjoyed from a reduction in equipment inventory."

Judge Alton Arnold of Brazoria County, where the plan also is being used, said the idea of the law is "to get the administration of the road and bridge department away from the commissioners' court and place it in the hands of the county engineer. He shall determine the priorities and do all other administrative work."

A number of Hereford residents have turned up with the flu lately, but another contagious "bug" made its appearance this week—it's called new-car "fever!" All of the Hereford auto dealers were having showings of new cars this week, and some models are due to be unveiled next week. Even if you're not in the market for a new car at present, we think you'd enjoy making the rounds and looking over the new models.

Texas Tech exes, and Raider boosters, will have an opportunity to see the Tech-New Mexico game on film Tuesday at the Civic Club Center. Several of these "Dutch" lunches are planned during the season, with Tech "road" games being shown on Tuesdays, starting at 12:15 p.m., it has been reported by Tech-ex Dale Young.

Although psychologists say man is afraid of the unknown, it is some of the stuff we know that really scares us.

The construction of new homes in Hereford continues at a good pace. Ralph Owens announced this week that utilities are being extended on the west side of Douglas street in the 300 block.

Autumn officially arrived Friday and, with the cooler weather, the Hereford Kiwanis Club is reminding residents of the annual "firewood" project. For local and area citizens who have fireplaces in their homes, the club makes a good offer on firewood, and the proceeds go to the club's community activities.

The major role which the cattle feeding industry plays in Deaf Smith County was underlined with the news release last week on agricultural sales for 1971. Deaf Smith was ranked second in the state in income from agricultural sales with a total of $103,345,000. It was estimated that $75 million of this could be attributed to the area's cattle feeding industry.

Hidalgo County, after a good year on production of fruit vegetables, came up first in the state for 1971 with just over $117 million. Deaf Smith and Hidalgo were the only counties over the $100 million mark. The High Plains continued as the top ag production area by a wide margin. Included in the top 10 counties were Parmer, Castro, Hale, Swisher and Lubbock.

APPLICATION TO STATE BOARD — Carl Straffuss and Clint Homfeld, board members of Tierra Blanca Soil and Water Conservation District, sign the application for federal aid in improving the watershed area above Hereford on Tierra Blanca Creek. A feasibility study of the area will probably be made in the near future to investigate the possibility of improvement.

Arthritis Meeting Is Set Monday

A public arthritis forum, featuring a team of physicians and physical therapists, will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room, 301 West Third. The forum is being presented by the Pahhandle Division of the West Texas Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation. It is being sponsored by the Hereford and Deaf Smith County unit, co-chaired by Dale Young and Mrs. Pete Caviness.

Dr. Charles Seward, Amarillo internist and specialist in Collagen Diseases, will discuss the diagnosis and treatment of the various forms of arthritis. Dr. Kenneth Johnston of Amarillo, an orthopedist, will discuss the latest techniques in the surgical management of the disease and he also will demonstrate many of the parts and devices used in rehabilitative surgery.

Both Seward and Johnston are members of the Panhandle's Division Medical Advisory Board. Gilbert Gimbel, chief therapist at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo, will discuss the role of physical therapy in the management of arthritis. He will demonstrate exercises and devices beneficial (See "Arthritis" Page 2)

Final Touches Put On SCS Application

Final application for aid in planning and constructing improvements on Tierra Blanca creek was signed Thursday by chairman Carl Straffuss, and vice-chairman Clint Homfeld, both of the Tierra Blanca soil and Water Conservation District board of directors.

The application will call for "assistance in planning and carrying out works of improvement under the Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention Act" (public law number 566).

Following usual procedure, the state board will probably table the application pending a feasibility study. The study will determine if it would be possible and practical to erect small dams for flood protection above Hereford on Tierra Blanca Creek.

The state conservation board will schedule a field study in the near future, at which time local sponsoring organizations will meet with the investigation team.

A group of watershed experts will make the study of approximately 105,000 acres of watershed area, with the aid of the local SCS staff. Of this 105,000 acres, about 93,000 are in Deaf Smith county.

Some 7,000 acres in Parmer county will be included in the study, and the remainder will be in Curry county, New Mexico.

by Deaf Smith County, the City of Hereford, Tierra Blanca and Parmer County soil and water conservation districts in Texas and Curry County soil and water conservation district in New Mexico.

Other organizations which have endorsed the study are Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, Palo Duro soil and water conservation district, and Randall county.

The project was begun in August 1971 when directors of Tierra Blanca soil and water conservation district passed a resolution to initiate plans to get a feasibility study made on the creek.

If the feasibility study shows that the improvement project is possible, the second step in the project will be the development of a work plan. This plan, when developed, will specify the location of all structures and the obligations of each local sponsor in carrying out the project.

Federal assistance in applying such a plan would include the total cost of all structures for flood control and the cost of all engineering work in the construction of these dams.

Adult Education Courses Offered

Registration for adult course being offered through the school system's vocational department, will be at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the high school principal's office.

Richard Robinson, vocational coordinator, said all classes will be held on Tuesdays with the exception of a new powder puff auto mechanics class for women. That course will be offered on Thursday nights only.

Classes are scheduled to begin Oct. 1, Robinson said.

The courses and their cost are: beginning bookkeeping, $18.50; typing, $12.50; conversational Spanish, $10 plus workbook; intermediate shorthand, $10 plus workbook; basic auto mechanics, $15; and the powder puff auto mechanics, $15.

The new powder puff auto mechanics is being offered to women to familiarize them with the basic operation of automobiles and give them knowledge where they can make minor repairs in case of an emergency.

in favor of the Whitefaces and set the stage for Adams' heroics.

Poindexter, playing defense, intercepted a pass at the Hereford 16 to stop a Borger drive early in the final quarter.

Duane Davison got the first call of the series and picked up six yards. Then, Adams' number came up and he ripped off his 78-yard scoring run with 9:25 left in the game. He zipped around right end, ducked and dodged several Borger defenders then was on his way.

Borger then began another scoring threat when it recovered a Hereford fumble at the Hereford 17, but two plays later Mauri Montgomery got the ball back for the "Faces" when he fell on a loose ball at the 33.

Starting from their own 33, Davison got 4 and McNutt picked up about 8 but that gain was nullified because of a clipping penalty against the Herd. With the ball resting on the 29, Kitchens hit Joe Sheffy for 22 yards and a first down at the Borger 45.

Adams got the first call, went right again and wormed his way through the Borger defense. He looked as though he might be downed near the 35, but slipped away from a host of would-be tacklers and races to the other side of the field.

He ran into a log jam near the 15, but somehow managed to dart into the end zone with a 44-yard TD run at 4:07 remaining in the game. The try for a two-point conversion was good, but a penalty nullified the play and the kick failed.

Borger started to move the ball on what proved to be its last possession of the game, but Armando Gonzalez intercepted the ball at the Hereford 16 and returned it to the Hereford 34. From that point the Whitefaces ran out the clock for their third win against no losses.

Man Charged With Arson

A 28-year-old Hereford farm worker remained in the county jail this weekend in lieu of $5,000 bond after he was charged Friday with arson.

Johnny Casal was arrested by sheriff's officers about 9:30 a.m. Friday when he gave himself up after more than nine hours hiding.

According to sheriff Travis McPherson, Casal was charged with burning down an old bunkhouse on a farm four miles northeast of the Walcott Community.

Casal, according to reports, was working on the Edwin Morrison Jr. farm when he set fire to a building a short distance from the Morrison home. He then returned to the Morrison place, told the family what had happened then left.

Morrison notified the fire department and sheriff's office, but when officers arrived, they were unable to locate Casal. The search, which started about midnight, ended early Friday morning when Casal drove up on a tractor to where law enforcement officials were waiting. He gave himself up, reports indicate, without a struggle.

He was wearing a gun and carrying a large knife when he was arrested, McPherson said.

Chamber Banquet Date Is Changed

The annual Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Banquet date has been changed, it was announced this week by Jim Lindsey, executive vice president.

The 1973 banquet had originally been scheduled for Jan. 25, but the date was changed this week and will be held on Feb. 1. A conflict of dates with the livestock show brought about the change.

The featured speaker will still be Art Holst, a prominent Peoria, Ill., businessman and a member of the officiating staff of the National Football League. He was one of the officials in the Super Bowl clash between Dallas and Miami the first of the year.

Fire Marshal Gives Warning

Fire Marshal Jay Sapin has issued a plea to the citizens of Hereford to clean their alleys and vacant lots of weeds.

The weeds, he said, present a fire hazard about this time of year and by getting rid of the weeds, the problem can be cured. He added that by clearing the weeds, residents can also beautify their property.

"If we don't get these weeds cleared out, we may have a bunch of fires around town," he said.

being guided only by policy or broad rules established by the commissioners' court.

"The purpose of the law is lost if the county engineer merely becomes a tool of the commissioners' court and the precinct system is carried forward as under the general law," he added.

Another judge, T. Udell Moore of El Paso, also praised the system because of its savings to tax payers. He said the construction and maintenance of the county roads, the ownership and use of all county road equipment, materials and supplies and the administration of the county road department is on the basis of the county as a whole without regard to precinct lines.

Therefore, he said, there is less equipment needed and the paving crews can work county-wide.

Local Educator Has New Book Published

Emphasizing the improvement of reading skills on the high school level, a new series of textbooks has recently been released to schools for consideration.

Dr. James Pike, Director of Secondary Education for the Hereford school system is responsible, along with James B. Phillips and Olive Stafford Niles of Massachusetts, for the series of books, which is one of the first to offer both reading skills and interesting literature and subject matter.

Dr. Pike was responsible for the student activities and questions in the books, while Dr. Phillips located the selections. Niles was in charge of the reading skills taught in the books.

Originally published as four paperbacks called the Galaxy series, the books may be combined into a single hard-bound volume for sale in some southern states, which will not accept paper back books for use in schools.

Depending upon the students' abilities, the Galaxy series can be used on levels from ninth to twelfth grades. Released to schools this month, the books each consist of two units whose topics are of interest to high school students.

"In this book," says Dr. Pike, "is probably a collection of the most interesting stories that students will have an opportunity to read in high school."

According to Dr. Pike, the authors and publishers of the books believe that it is too early to give up on a student who hasn't developed his reading skills in the eleventh grade. The purpose of the book is to teach reading skills to students who are capable of learning to read.

Published by Scott Foresman and Company, one of the largest publishers of English literature and reading books in the nation, the books were begun in early 1971.

By November of 1971, the selections of reading material had been made, and writing was begun on student activities and questions. March of 1972 saw the revision and modification of the material so that it would be neither too easy nor too difficult for students.

The series was completed around April 4, 1972, and is now being mailed to schools. Sales are already 10 per cent higher than anticipated, and the publishers estimate a publication of two million copies during the next nine years.

Dr. Pike attributes much of his success with his part of the books to his wife, whom he describes as a wonderful person and a fantastic teacher.

"She collaborated with me and gave me ideas about what kind questions to ask, what the kids would like. She was really a great help."

Mrs. Pike has taught English, sociology and psychology in Colorado schools. The Pikes reside at 218 Elm and have three children.

HELPING TEXAS GROW

Over $1 Million In Past Three Years

Program Puts Large Sums Of Money Into Economy

BY LORI HOPSON
Staff Writer

Channeling over $1 million in to the local economy in the past few years, Hereford's manpower programs, initiated under the Manpower Development Act, have proved a definite asset to the community.

According to reports of the Texas Employment Commission, which co-operates with the Texas Education Agency and the federal government in carrying out the programs, a total of $1,067,000 has been channeled into the economy since the programs were initiated in 1970.

Since the programs started, over 300 trainees have completed training programs in Licensed Vocational Nursing, farm equipment mechanics, auto mechanics, and auto painting and body repair.

Students have also completed training as barbers and cosmetologists, and workers in packing plants, in addition to training with individual employers, and as members of the Job Corps.

The training programs are carried out by the TEC, which recruits, tests, and screens applicants, and pays allowances for those who qualify. It also helps in locating employment for students who have completed their training programs.

In addition, the local school system, in affiliation with TEA, is responsible for handling financing and providing instructors and facilities for training.

"We feel that we have assisted people who were unemployed or underemployed in upgrading their job skills," said Richard Robinson, Vocational Director for the Hereford school system.

We are exploring the possibilities of repeating these programs, because we would like to continue to assist in the upgrading of manpower in the local community.

A run down of the actual figures added to the local economy in the last three years shows over $170,000 for the auto mechanics program, $120,000 for LVN training programs, and almost $140,000 for paint and body repair programs.

Farm equipment mechanics programs have added $46,000, with $22,500 coming from training programs which involved various employers.

Job Corps programs have netted around $60,000, and jobs in the meat packing industry have added $365,000.

A large per cent of trainees who have completed training have found employment and are now working at a much higher income than would have been possible had they remained unskilled, according to the TEC.

At present trainees are working on programs which will be completed in October. Fifteen trainees will complete instruction as LVN's, 13 will complete training as auto body repairmen, and 15 students will complete auto mechanics training.

"It's helped in two ways," said Robinson, "There have been federal funds brought into the local economy, plus this has been a source of manpower to fill skilled labor needs in the community."

"Also," he continued, "We have people that are not necessarily working in this community, but in the surrounding area. We feel that we're providing a source of skilled labor, not only for this community, but for the area."

Zoonosis Causes Concern In State Health Offices

Today we are going to discuss zoonoses. Before you jump to conclusions, let me quickly point out that a zoonosis is not some kind of exotic animal found in the wilds of Africa. Laterally translated from its Greek origins, the word means "animal disease." It is used by health officers to refer to any disease that can be interchanged between animals and man under natural conditions.

The State Health Department has long operated a zoonoses control program. There are many infectious diseases found in animals that, under the proper circumstances and setting, can easily be spread to man. The most common contact is with the ordinary house pet.

You've probably heard about the dangers of rabies from infected wild animals or pets. Plague, typhus, encephalitis, Rocky Mountain spotted fever, and the like, are the diseases most commonly known by the general public. Much has been written and said about these dramatic diseases, but what about some of the other chronic, but usually milder diseases also transmissible from animals?

Of this group, visceral larva migrans is one of the most common, and one with which the State Health Department is very much concerned. Visceral larva migrans is a chronic disease caused by the migration of certain nematode larvae from the body wastes of animals into the organs and tissues of its human victims.

This disease causes an inflammation of the inner eye, enlargement of the liver, various changes in blood chemistry, and localized acute inflammation of the lung (known to some as "benign pneumonia.") Symptoms may persist for as long as a year.

The disease occurs worldwide, but has received the most attention in the United States. It occurs sporadically. A youngster in one family may come down, while no other children in the block will get sick. Most victims are children from one to four years old. It is easy to see why this would be true since the reservoir of this disease is usually the dog and the cat common to most households. The mode of transmission is directly related to the eating of dirt by young children. Infective eggs containing larvae can be transferred from contaminated soil to the mouth.

The eggs reach the soil in body wastes from infected cats and dogs. Eggs require several weeks of incubation to become infective. After the eggs have been ingested or transferred to the mouth of a child, the eggs hatch in the intestine, the larvae penetrate the intestinal wall and migrate to the liver and lungs by way of the lymphatic and circulatory systems. From the lungs, larvae are spread by the body's blood or lymph circulation to various organs, causing damage by their wanderings and causing granulated tissue or tumors to form.

Dog is man's best friend. But to keep him and your family healthy and free of disease, you can't neglect pet health or premise sanitation. Prevent contamination of the soil by body wastes of dogs and cats in areas immediately adjacent to houses and play areas of children. Bury deeply; or otherwise dispose of stools of dogs and cats passed in play areas. Deworm dogs and cats less than six months old and thereafter as indicated, destroying the worms and feces passed as a result of treatment.

And don't neglect health education of the family as to the source and origin of the infection, particularly the danger of eating dirt. Teaching your children the good health habit of washing their hands after playing in the soil and before eating can prevent a lot of problems from developing.

Action To Spark Theater Season

"We've got the action" is the work coming from the STAR THEATRE and it heralds one of the most exciting seasons of motion picture entertainment.

Outstanding first run films, soon to be released, will afford theatre patrons some of the most varied film fare ever offered.

The "Action" will be at your local Commonwealth Theatre and feature attractions have been booked for the widest appeal to all age groups.

Recently announced on the "Coming Soon" list for HEREFORD are such films as "Slaughterhouse Five" starring Michael Sacks and Valerie Perrine, two bright young personalities.

It is the story of a man's adventures — past, present and future — which take him from World War II to a distant planet in outer space.

George C. Scott will soon be seen in a long-awaited motion picture, "The Centurions," based on the book that topped the best seller lists for a record number of weeks.

The movie is just as exciting as the novel with Scott playing the role of an old time policeman who takes the law into his own hands.

Everyone has been waiting to see "Butterflies Are Free," the heart-warming comedy based on the smash Broadway play.

Goldie Hawn romps through the film in a performance already acclaimed as her best to date. Playing a blind boy who lives next door is Edward Albert, son of screen and television star Eddie Albert.

Rounding out the cast is Eileen Heckart who re-creates her original stage role.

Other exciting Fall and Winter films scheduled to be shown here include "Cancel My Reservations," starring Bob Hope and Eva Marie Saint... Diana Ross playing the title role in "Lady Sing The Blues"... "Ulzana's Raid" starring Burt Lancaster is his newest action role... and Jane Fonda in "Steelyard Blues."

"WE'VE GOT THE ACTION" seems to be no idle statement and the STAR theatre is where the action is.

Record snowfall hits Washington

With the coming of June, the official snow season ended. However, not without a couple of "biggies." At Stampede Pass, Wash., a total of 70.5 inches of snow fell during the 1971-72 season.

A new seasonal snowfall record was also set at Paradise Ranger Station in Mt. Rainier National Park, Wash., — 1,122 inches.

Dogies Rally For 2 Wins, Lose One

Stanton's 9th grade Dogies rallied from a 6-0 deficit at halftime to capture a 16-6 win over Pampa Lee here Thursday. The Stanton 7th and 8th grade teams split decisions with Dumas—the 7th graders taking a 22-16 victory and the 8th graders losing by 24-8.

The 9th graders take on Borger here Thursday, while the 7th and 8th grade teams travel to Borger for games on Tuesday.

Dumas. Hennington intercepted a pass and went 65 yards for a score in the third quarter, then broke all the way on a 40-yard run in the final period. He also ran for two conversion points, and Kelly Kitchens passed to James McDowell for two points. Dumas scored a touchdown and a safety in the first half, and the score was tied 8-8 at halftime. Dumas took a 16-8 lead in the third period before Hennington started his heroics.

In the 9th grade game against Pampa Lee, Stanton fumbled away the ball four or five times in the first half to halt promising drives. Alfonso Gamez scored on a 2-yard run in the third period, and Albert Gonzales ran for two conversion points to give Stanton an 8-6 lead. Late in the game, Gonzales hit Brad Clark with a 13-yard scoring pass, and Gamez ran for two more extra points.

Red Raider Film Set For Tuesday

The local Red Raider Club will sponsor a showing of the Texas Tech-New Mexico game film Tuesday, according to Dale Young, associate director of the club.

Stanton's lone score in the 24-8 loss to Dumas came on a short run by Barry Acton in the second quarter of the game.

Greg Hennington returned the opening kickoff 85 yards for a touchdown and later tallied two more times to spark the 7th graders to a 22-16 win over

The film will be shown at the Civic Club Center, beginning promptly at 12:15 p.m. It will be a "Dutch" lunch and everyone is invited.

Young said similar films are to be shown on Tuesdays following Tech's out-of-town games.

Mavericks Win 2, 7th Grade Falls

Two of La Plata's three teams cruised to wins over their opponents last week, but the third team fell to its opponent.

The Maverick seventh grade dropped a 22-0 decision to the Dimmitt seventh grade, but the loss was more than made up for in eighth and ninth grade games.

La Plata eighth graders chalked up an impressive 36-12 win over the Dimmitt eighth while the ninth graders traveled to Dumas and came home with a 38-6 win.

Archie Crim scored on a 20-yard blocked punt return for the eighth grade while Roy Martinez added TD runs of 7 and 5 yards and Terry Brady went in from 5 yards out. Brady also ran for a two-point conversion and Crim passed to Rowan Alexander for two, two-point conversions.

The final score came on a 40-yard interception return by Roger Rocha.

The freshmen Mavericks were led by Dave Charest who scored five touchdowns, two of which were called back on penalty violations. He scored on a 40-yard TD pass and a 60-yard pass from Mike Crim then ran 50 yards for the other score.

He also added one two-point conversion.

Roger Pickens scored another touchdown on a 15-yard run then Crim went across from 10 yards out for the other score. Crim also hit Bryant Edwards for two, two-point conversions and kicked one extra point.

The seventh grade's loss brought its record to 0-1-1 while the eighth grade went to 1-1-1 and the ninth grade to 2-0-1.

The seventh and eighth grades entertain North Borger here at 4 p.m. Tuesday while the ninth grade will host Pampa Junior High here Thursday at 6 p.m.

ICT STUDENT OF WEEK — Jo Hellen Bland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Bland, 330 Ave. F., is employed as a laboratory assistant and nurse aid at Deaf Smith General Hospital. By Crawford C. Martin
Attorney General of Texas

Thousands of Texans have received letters or legal-appearing documents recently stating that the sender has in his possession a copy of a will on an estate under probate. Usually these originate from an out of state source.

Of course the deceased has the same last name as the recipient. While there is usually some disclaimer such as "we are not attempting to state that the provisions set forth in said will have a reflection to you", just to opposite is clearly implied by the correspondence. Typically the amount of the estate is not set forth but the impression is given that it is large. All of this conjures up a vision of inheriting a large sum of money from some unknown rich relative.

Not long ago thousands of families throughout the nation named Kelly received offers to provide information which could assist them in establishing a claim to an estate of more than $50,000 left by a Mary Kelly.

An investigation disclosed that every Kelly listed in certain telephone books received the same offer. And while the cost for the information was only $10, it still was a long shot bet that any of the Kellys contacted would be entitled to any money.

Just as in the Kelly case, operators of schemes such as this normally sell information to literally thousands of families.

Do not waste time explaining your mistakes—show others how you profited by them.

random, with no thought or intention that they may in fact be in line to inherit anything of value. The cost of these worthless papers normally range from about $6 to $12. For this reason many unknown people are willing to take a chance and then are reluctant to complain when they find they have been cheated.

Remember, judicial authorities make a thorough search to determine the whereabouts of true missing heirs. If you are approached on a missing heir scheme, resist the urge to get something for nothing. Don't send your money. Instead, forward the letter to my Consumer Protection Division at P.O. Box 12548, Austin, Texas 78757.

Social Security

Getting a social security card is no longer as easy or as fast as it once was. A new worker, school child, or other person applying for the first time could once go to a social security office and probably walk out with his new social security card. "But no more," says Social Security District Manager, Travis C. Briggs. "If a person needs a replacement card and knows his social security number, we can give fast service. But if anyone has forgotten his number, or is applying for the first time, he should make his application at the Amarillo Social Security Office several weeks before he has to have his card."

important," Briggs went on, "for students who will soon be asked for social security numbers by their high school teachers, and for persons needing social security cards to get driver licenses or to show new employers." The increased processing time for assignment of new numbers and delivery of cards is tied to new policies and controls. Most of the social security cards will now be mailed out from the Social Security Administration, Baltimore, Maryland headquarters. There a data processing system will record identifying information for computer screening and searching against future ap-

The Sunday Brand, Hereford, Texas, Sunday, September 24, 1972

Over 75,000 other verifications are handled each day by teletype for persons who need replacement cards and can recall their number. Numbers are assigned and cards issued to workers, students, taxpayers, infants, servicemen, retired persons, and just about anyone, in fact, who needs a social security number for one reason or another. Five out of six applications are from the under 20 age group. Since 1963 the applications from children under have skyrocketed. Last year they were 40 percent of the over 3 million new numbers assigned.

The Amarillo Social Security Office is at 317 East Third. The telephone number is 376-5151. Many questions and some social security matters can be handled by telephone.

Voter Drive, Concert Scheduled At Park

The Catholic Youth Organization will sponsor a country rock music concert and voter registration drive today at Dameron Park. The public is invited to hear the music and register to vote if that already has not been done. The concert, put on by local musicians, will begin about 3 p.m.

DAR Hears Talk On Constitution

Emphasis was on freedom under the United States constitution as Tom Burdett, Hereford attorney, spoke to members and guests of Los Ciboleros Chapter, Daughters of American Revolution, in a program Thursday evening observing Constitution Week. Mrs. Charles Bell and Mrs. Jeff Smart were hostesses in the Bell home. The program marking the 185th anniversary of the signing of the constitution, was the first of a new season for the Chapter.

Our Many Freedoms was the subject of the guest speaker, who noted the privileges of citizens who pledge allegiance to the U.S. flag.

"We have many freedoms that we as citizens, should be aware of, and not let them become a thing of the past," he said. "our forefathers had great visions in founding this nation; let us hope the historical theme has not run its course."

Mrs. Stan Knox, chairman of Constitution Week observance in the chapter, introduced Burdett.

A special presentation was made to Mrs. Jess Robinson, a past regent's bar to be worn on a ribbon with her other official pins. She was honored not only for service as the first regent of Los Ciboleros Chapter but as its organizing regent.

Mrs. Trent Downing, yearbook chairman, distributed new yearbooks which list monthly programs for the coming months, also the names of officers, committees and members. Mrs. Earl Holt, regent, presided for business.

Red carnations decorated the table where coffee was served with petit fours, each topped with a tiny U.S. flag.

Guests in addition to the speaker were Lee Davis and J.R. Johnson. Members present included Mmes. J.J. Durham, L.W. Norvell, Jack Gilliland, Sue James, Steve McWhorter, LeRoy Williamson, Joe Reinauer and Miss Mildred Elliott.

Awards Listed In Show

With a total of 110 points, Mrs. A.L. Manjeot took sweepstakes honors in Hereford Garden Club's fall flower show Friday, and also received the tri-color award for the outstanding artistic arrangement.

Mrs. Ray Johnson was top winner in the horticulture division, receiving the award of merit for horticultural entries. She was second in total points and Mrs. R.L. Ethridge third.

Since the silver tray, awarded to the high point winner of each show, is the gift of Mrs. Manjeot and she is ineligible to receive it, it was presented to Mrs. Johnson who has held it before, several years ago.

An award of appreciation for educational exhibits went to Mrs. L.W. Norvell.

With recent weather favorable to autumn blooms, the show exhibited some of the finest specimens in a number of years. It was held in Pioneer Gas Co. Flame Room, open to the public in the afternoon.

Theme this year was Let's Tour the Golden Triangle, and free-standing triangles of gilded paper were used effectively as staging decoration. Mrs. Ben Childers was general show chairman with Mrs. Ethridge as co-chairman.

A standard flower show, the event was judged by Mmes. Carroll Anderson, Therrell Hodges and E.E. Booker, Lubbock garden club members who are qualified as national flower show judges.

In horticulture, Mrs. Manjeot received five blue ribbons, Mrs. Ethridge and Mrs. R.W. Mitchell three each, Mrs. R.L. Layman and Mrs. Norvell two each, Mmes Art Stoy, O.G. Hill Sr., R.L. Wilson, D.N. Garner, W.C. Hromas, John Jacobsen Jr. and Johnson, one each.

Blue ribbons denoting first places in the artistic division went to Mmes. Childers, Johnson and Manjeot, winning two each.

An attractive special exhibit was for juniors, ages 8 to 13; boys entering horticultural specimens and girls arranging a table setting. Blue ribbon winners in this division were Kelly Foster, Bruce Edwards, Barbara Foster and LeAnn Dobbs.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Bill Boykin
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — The special session of the Legislature got off to a bumpy start last week with Gov. Preston Smith's proposals facing tough criticism.

Critics of the governor's competitive insurance rating bill charged it repeals some of the best provisions of the Texas insurance code.

Sen. Oscar Muzy of Dallas and others insisted on a state-set ceiling if competitive rating is passed. Senate sponsor, Sen. Mike McKool of Dallas, indicated he would go along with that.

The governor's budgetary control bill met a mixed reaction in its first committee test. Proponents said it would help put "fiscal responsibility" in state government, but opponents claimed it would make the governor a fiscal "czar." The latter were particularly critical of a provision that would let the governor alter agency budgets when he found "evidence that the expenditure is not necessary."

Smith assured another lively appointments hassle in the Senate when he nominated his secretary of state, Bob Bullock, to the State Board of Insurance.

LI. Gov. Ben Barnes denied reports that he was trying to line up votes to block Bullock's confirmation by the Senate.

Bullock's name was sent up as a replacement for Smith's longtime friend, Larry Teaver, who was rejected for Insurance Board membership last July by unfriendly senators.

PARTIES HOLD CONVENTIONS — Harmony prevailed at both Democratic and Republican conventions, although there was enough controversy at both to make them interesting.

Democratic gubernatorial nominee Dolph Briscoe got his choice for State party chairman (Calvin Guest of Bryan) and was allowed to write the platform about the way he wanted it. In return, he agreed to accept a liberal, Sen. Barbara Jordan, as State Democratic Executive Committee chairman. Sen. Joe Bernal of San Antonio and Mrs. Billie Carr of Houston (liberals and George McGovern backers) and Hall Timanus of Houston (a George Wallace supporter at the June convention) were named to new Democratic National Committee posts. Briscoe may, or may not, have control of SDEC. Some counts evaluated the breakdown 26-26 liberals and conservatives with 10 moderates as the balance of power.

Republicans had little to squabble about. They wrote their own state platform and re-elected Dr. George Willeford and Mrs. Malcolm Milburn of Austin as state chairman and vice-chairman.

APPOINTMENTS — Accepting resignation of Robert W. Calvert as chief justice of the State Supreme Court, Governor Smith said he would designate Associate Justice Joe R. Greenhill chief justice. Smith's legal aide, Hawthorne Phillips, will fill the vacancy on the High Court from October 4 (date of Calvert's resignation) until January, Smith said.

Terry Townsend of Austin was appointed by Smith to the governor's Commission on Physical Fitness.

Secretary of State Bullock finally got around to issuing a commission of office to Dallas County Commissioner Roy Orr — after Orr was replaced as state Democratic chairman. Bullock contended Orr couldn't hold both offices.

AG OPINIONS — County clerks are not authorized to issue marriage licenses to two persons of the same sex, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin held in a recent opinion.

In other new opinions, Martin concluded:

A Texas water corporation and public utility has the right to lay its pipes along the right-of-way of county roads, subject to conditions fixed by law.

A sheriff's food bill for feeding prisoners (submitted to county commissioners) must show the name of each prisoner and each item of expense incurred on the individual accounts.

Those who are not licensed registered nurses would be violating the law to use identifications such as "SRN" or "RN".

Stephen F. Austin State University in Nacogdoches has the authority, without city consent, to close a portion of Raguet Street constructed over school property within the campus in 1938.

Texas Board of Examiners in Fitting and Dispensing of Hearing Aids is not authorized to impose on an applicant for a reciprocity license and requirement that he have a resident or a place of business in Texas.

FUNDS CLEARED — Texas will receive a $120,414 federal grant to fight animal diseases. Money will supplement Texas Animal Health Commission's eradication programs aimed to Commission Executive Director Dr. H.Q. Sibley. Parts of Jim Wells, McMullen, Duval, Live Oak, Kent, Nueces, Leon and Dimmit counties are under tick quarantine.

Governor Smith also noted Texas is facing its worst screwworm epidemic, since 1961, and scabies has struck in several areas.

ENROLLMENTS GROWING — Texas college and universities are still climbing, though not so fast as in the early 1960's. About 454,000 students enrolled in public and private, junior and senior colleges by September 14. This compares with about 438,000 at the same time last year. The Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System concludes there will be about a three and a half per cent increase in enrollments this fall over 1971.

Enrollment in all segments of higher education last year was more than 475,000, and projections by the Board point to about 493,000 this year. While senior college enrollments are up less than one per cent, the community colleges have an increase of more than 11 per cent in their student bodies.

SUPERPORT AID PROMISED — Gubernatorial nominee Dolph Briscoe promised top priority efforts to secure a deep-water superport for Texas.

Briscoe said it is vital to the economy to get a port capable of handling ships with drafts of up to 100 and 120 feet. He said the state is "blessed with having several desirable locations."

SHORT SNORTS

Texas Air Control Board has been approved for a $2.1 million federal grant for the Environmental Protection Agency.

Texas industrialists are offered exhibit space of the Queen Elizabeth 2 for a floating trade to North Africa, the Middle East and Europe in 1974.

An application has been filed for a state bank in Fulton.

A new study of the role of motor vehicles in air pollution is underway in the Houston-Galveston area, one of 14 national air quality control regions to be checked.

There are more Texas voters over 64 than in the much publicized 18-20 bracket — 16 per cent for the senior citizens, 10.4 per cent in the youth bracket.

Cat Problems Bother Family

By Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

There are feline problems at our house. Kitty Cat has been in an accident and has a broken hip. She is hopping around on three legs and seems to be doing pretty good now.

One night when we came home another cat kept giving a signal that all was not well at the barn. On investigating and following her meowing we found her under a stack of lumber trying to tell us all about what had happened.

She has been a very good citizen ever since she appeared at our door and offered to live with us. She isn't a house cat and has never wanted to be; as we do not handle her, we decided against putting her in a cast as we thought she would be miserable.

Once during the 15 years we had Brother Black, a favorite cat, he wore a cast for seven weeks after a car accident. In fact, he kept us busy for the seven weeks retrieving him from all sorts of tight places.

He could manage to get in the loft, on the rafters, climb a ladder, get to the highest branch of a tree and get in other hard-to-reach (for people, that is) places but he could never get down! Som Tom Draper would go out and get him.

Here they would come to the house, Tom muttering and carrying Brother Black with the cat's expression showing he knew he had won again. The present feline population has not learned to handle her folks as well as other cats who have lived with us; however she has been here only a year.

Kitty Cat had one kitten and he was named Tacky; he merited the name. Tacky was so spoiled. Being the only kitten in the family, he spent his entire time tormenting his mother and would never hunt nor try to feed himself, so one day Tacky wasn't in the yard.

We felt Kitty Cat had taken him to the neighbors and left him where he would have to grow up and learn to support himself.

Too, Kitty Cat has a foster son she supports with mice and birds. This half grown cat is by far the laziest feline that has lived on our farm. He won't do one thing even for his own support.

However, it is a very workable arrangement - Kitty Cat brings in the groceries and he eats them. Being brindled we named this cat Brenda but after a time and with closer observation, its name was changed to Brendon.

Brendon did give us the alarm after the accident and seems to be sympathetic about the whole thing but it still has not occurred to him that he could provide for himself instead of letting Kitty Cat bring him fresh meat.

My conclusion: A feline family is controlled by the worst disposition in it.

Economic Stabilization Questions and Answers

Q. If the IRS disallows a portion of a retroactive wage increase sought by an employer, can an employee who would have benefited from the increase appeal the decision?

A. Yes. An employee whose wage or salary is subject to a pay adjustment or whose representative may appeal within 30 days of the IRS action disallowing the increase. Appeals are filed with the Internal Revenue district office, and a subsequent appeal to the Pay Board may be made.

For more information, see IRS Publication S-3030, "Appeals to Cost of Living Council, Price Commission, Pay Board." It's available free by dropping a postcard to your IRS district office.

Q. Should individuals with inquiries about the Phase II dividend policy call the Internal Revenue Service?

A. No. Persons with questions on the dividend guidelines should write the Subcommittee on Dividends, U.S. Department of Commerce, Room 4836, Washington, D.C. 20230 or they may call the Subcommittee at (202) 967-3884 or 967-2343.

Inquiries of a specific nature on Phase II interest guidelines or inquiries concerning a financial institution's interest policy should be addressed to the Committee on Interest and Dividends, Federal Reserve Board, Washington, D.C. 20551.

Q. Can the security deposit on an apartment be increased when it is rented to another tenant?

A. The landlord can increase a security deposit if he can show that the deposit has been increased with each successive tenant or that the deposit was previously based on the rent and that the rent is being increased. For example, if a security deposit of one month's rent of $200 was previously required, a $220 deposit may be required when the rent is legally increased to $220.

Q. My monthly rent, with allowable increases, comes to $99.50. My landlord says he can round this off to $100. May he?

A. Yes. Under the new rent regulations, a landlord may round off any rent to the nearest dollar by eliminating any amount less than 50-cents and increasing any amount over 49 cents to the next highest dollar. If a landlord uses rounding, he must use it for all units in the same building or complex.

Q. Are all real estate sales exempt from price controls?

A. All sales of unimproved real estate or real estate with improvements, such as a house, road, etc., which were completed before Aug. 15, 1971 are exempt from controls. Sales of real estate with improvements completed on or after Aug. 15, 1971 are exempt only if 1) the sales price is determined after the completion of construction or 2) the sales price is determined before the completion of construction and the wage rates estimated by the builder at the time the price is determined are not subsequently reduced by the Pay Board.

Q. Do you have a form I can use to notify some of my tenants of their rights under the eight percent option rule?

A. Yes. Landlords must use IRS Form S-70 to offer tenants a one year lease with an eight percent ceiling as an option in the case of all leases signed since last Dec. 29 where the leases were formerly longer than one year. Forms are available at local Internal Revenue offices.

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY He's a dull dog in the bathtub

By ANN RUDY Copley News Service

These dog days in the middle of summer seem to me like an appropriate time to give our smaller dog a bath.

I wouldn't approach our bigger dog as he is stubborn and prefers to go through life like that guy in the deodorant commercial who hasn't had a shower for two days and may not even take one tomorrow.

But our littler dog would make good copy. Yes, I thought, I'll plop him into the tub and then he will provide me with all sorts of funny things my readers can chuckle about. But, as life often has it, the dog biscuit didn't crumble quite that way.

I drew a warm tub, removed the dog's collar in the privacy of our bathroom and gently lowered him into the water. He sat down and wagged his tail. Underwater, yet.

"Come on," I said, "be difficult. Thrash around and get me all wet. He gave me a dose of frustration I can share with others. These days have not been too smooth."

He lowered his head and raised docile eyes to me. He sighed heavily. Clearly, he was going to cooperate and shoot my column all to hell. I drew a little cold water, thinking it would make him friskier. He drank it and handed me a paw. I have to have the only dog going who shakes hands in the bathtub.

Why can't he do that when I take him to the vet's and he smells the place a block away and lies down on the sidewalk? I thought of pinching him, but I have too much Albert Payson Terhune in me for that.

I half-expected him to dry himself and hang up the towel. He didn't even have the decency to shake himself as any wet dog in his right mind does just naturally.

I checked his pulse. He was alive all right, but fading fast. His once-dark coat was now a sparkling moonlight blonde. He was a dog of a different color in more ways than one.

I gave him a cookie and told him no hard feelings. He may be dull in the bathtub, but he's still a whiz at playing dead all afternoon under the shade of our apricot tree.

Junior Varsity Nips PD, 13-0

Hereford Junior Varsity had another home victory here Thursday afternoon, beating Palo Duro by 13-0. A strong Longhorn defense caused six fumbles, with Hereford recovering five of them. Chuck High cashed in for 170 yards rushing on offense.

Joel Pittard started the game off right by forcing a fumble on the opening kickoff.

Hereford hopes to beat an undefeated Caprock team at Amarillo, Thursday at four o'clock for its next game.

WHITEFACE SCORES, EARLY AND LATE — The Hereford Whitefaces rolled to a 33-0 win at Borger Friday night, and the Brand photographer caught two of the scoring plays by quarterback Keith Kitchens and reserve back Johnny Adams. At left, Kitchens follows good blocking as he nears the goal line in the first quarter. The play started at the Borger 3-yard line after a long punt return by James Harris. At right, Adams heads up field enroute to a 44-yard touchdown run. The little speedster earlier broke on a 78-yard scoring run. (Brand Photos)

Stanton Receives Tri-State Award

Stanton Jr. High band students received both the marching and playing trophies in last week's Tri-State Fair Parade competition in Amarillo. Competing against several area junior high bands, the group was rated by nine judges on their musical playing and marching. They were judged in the categories of introduction, rhythm and articulation, dynamics, volume, balance and technique in the playing division; and cadence, uniformity, showmanship and precision in marching. Each category was judged on a 1 to 10 scale. Divisions of competition included area high school bands, city high school bands, area junior high bands, and city junior high bands. Amarillo High took the trophy for marching in the city high school division, and Palo Duro took the playing trophy. Dalhart received playing and marching awards for area high school. HHS was not entered in competition. Stephen F. Austin Junior High took both trophies in the city Junior high school competition. In 1785, James Hutton, a Scottish geologist, proposed a fundamental principle used to determine the relative ages of rocks: the law of superposition. He proposed that wherever uncontrorted layers of rocks are exposed, the bottom most layer was deposited first and is, therefore, the oldest; each succeeding layer is progressively younger.

Insurance Film Shown At Lions

"Is No Fault No Fair?" was the title of a film shown at the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Hereford Lions Club Wednesday.

The film gave the pros and cons of proposed no-fault insurance and was produced by the State Bar of Texas. Program chairman was Ed Line.

In a special ceremony at the luncheon, boxer Felipe Luna was presented with a West Texas AAU jacket by the Hereford Boxing Club. Glenn Nelson, a director, made the presentation in the absence of coaches Harold Wheeler and Don McNeese.

Luna won the West Texas AAU title in his weight division, then won the regional title before being defeated in the national tournament.

Nolan Grady presided at the Lions' luncheon and announced that the club voted to invite all girls at Gristown, U.S.A., to the annual Christmas party here. About 85 girls are expected to attend.

Farmcast

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News

Compiled From Sources Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

Texas cotton production for this season is estimated to be more than one million bales above 1971. The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service estimates Texas' production this year now at 3,900,000 bales. This would be an increase of 1,221,000 bales over 1971 production.

Yield, based on September 1 conditions, is expected to average 356 pounds per acre. Only 263 pounds per acre were produced in 1971.

Harvest is virtually complete in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Harvest in south Central is more than one-third complete. Blackland cotton harvest is now reaching full momentum with a good to excellent yield reported. Cotton on the High and Low plains is making good to excellent progress.

A one per cent decline in the number of cattle on feed compared to a month ago is reported for Texas. The state continues to be the number one cattle feeding state in the nation.

As of September 1, there were 2,095,000 head of cattle and calves on feed for slaughter in Texas. Compared to a year ago, this is 32 per cent higher.

Placements into Texas feedlots during August totaled 381,000 head; this is 28 per cent above a year ago. Marketings of fat cattle during August totaled 406,000 head. This is 16 per cent above last year.

In the major six-state cattle feeding report, which includes Texas, Arizona, California, Iowa, Nebraska, and Kansas, number of cattle on feed totaled 7,551,000 head.

This is a three per cent decrease from a month ago, but 17 per cent more than for the same time in 1971. Iowa is the second ranking cattle feeding state with a total of 1,476,000 head as of September 1 on feed.

A record pecan crop is in prospect for Texas. The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service estimates a crop of 70,000,000 pounds, the highest ever. This is almost three times more than last year's crop of only 24,000,000 pounds. The Texas crop will account for 35 per cent of the total estimated U.S. production this year.

Harvest in most areas is expected to be two to three weeks earlier; the first pecans of this season were harvested in late August in San Saba County. The 1972 crop estimate is one million pounds above record crop of 69,000,000 pounds in 1968.

Crop prospects continue at a high level over most of the state. Grain sorghum production is expected to top off at 60 bushels per acre, a record high yield. Harvest throughout the state is more than half complete.

Corn production is now estimated at 35,000,000 bushels. Per acre yield is expected to be 70 bushels, which is eight bushels lower than 1971.

Peanut yields this year are expected to be higher than in 1971. A yield of 1,430 pounds per acre is anticipated; this compared with 1,235 pounds per acre in 1971.

Soybean production is now estimated at 5,670,000 bushels compared with 2,781,000 in 1971.

TIPS FOR THE HUNTERS

IF YOU ARE HUNTING IN HEAVY BRUSH, TIE THE LACES OF YOUR BOOTS AT THE BACK. YOU'RE LESS LIKELY TO GET 'EM SNAGGED.

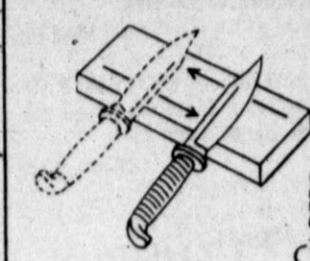

TAKE ALONG AN EXTRA PAIR OF SOCKS. SLIP THEM INTO A PLASTIC SANDWICH BAG

IF YOU NEED SOME TARGET PRACTICE, HAVE A BUDDY ROLL A STUFFED BALL DOWN A HILL.

TO SHARPEN A HUNTING KNIFE, HOLD IT FIRMLY SO BLADE IS TILTED SLIGHTLY. PUSH BLADE ALONG THE STONE, WITH CUTTING EDGE AWAY FROM YOU.

Colonies suffer trade imbalance

Editor's Note: This is one of a series of weekly columns recalling events in the history of the nation, and of the world, 200, 150 and 100 years ago.

1772 — Balance of trade between England and the colonies has become so one-sided as a result of British policy curbing manufacture in the colonies that gold and silver are concentrated in Great Britain, with a need to extend paper credits to colonial merchants to enable them to finance purchases in England. Unfortunate results of this situation now are appearing.

Camera clubs boost confidence

Second only to the photo supply store as a place to "learn more about photography," and, usually, the next step, is to join the local camera club.

Chances are that the photographer will find out about the club, and receive an invitation to attend a meeting, at the store. Otherwise the club is often difficult for an outsider to find, although everyone in town knows there is one.

The typical reaction when asked to join is "I'm not good enough" for that crowd! And, if the excuse is allowed to stand both the club and the prospective member loses.

Because, unfortunately, about all the outsider knows about the club are the stories he has read, or heard, about individuals who win local contests, or who are attaining international reputations by acceptances in major photographic exhibitions.

Everyone doesn't aspire to be an international exhibitor of course, even though there is almost always a small nucleus of advanced photographers, both amateur and professional, in the typical camera club who are having fun in competitions.

But the typical camera club is really the most unique organization in town, in the variety of its membership. There's rarely a generation gap here — because it may be a younger person who is teaching a couple who has just retired, and has decided to learn more about a fascinating hobby in which they've always been interested.

There are rich and poor, young and old, and representatives of virtually every trade, business, and profession in town, with even highly competitive individuals finding a common interest in photography.

It is into that atmosphere that the "new" member is tossed, and soon finds that there is as much real help for the beginner as for the more advanced, trying for the impossible — the perfect picture. Programs are both entertaining and helpful, and may be given by a member, by an outsider, or by an authority of some phase of photography who speaks on tape while his pictures are projected on a screen.

So, it is still a boot-strap, self-taught way of learning how best to go about doing your own thing, whether it is taking better pictures of the kids, or making specialized pictures for your business or profession. But it is being done among kindred souls with knowledge and experience, which makes almost everyone an apprentice and a teacher at the same time.

Perhaps the biggest single gain, however, is the chance to see fine pictures month after month and thereby establish standards toward which to work.

There are some clubs that "require" members to exhibit in club contests with some regularity. And this should not be frightening either, because it is one way you have to measure your own work against that of others. Do your own judging! The opinion of others — and the suggestions made for improvement — can be helpful. But, in the final analysis, you must make your own pictures in your own way.

"Salon photography" often has been criticized by outsiders as rule bound, and stylized, but the strange fact is that new approaches, new styles, and the revival of old styles come constantly out of camera club activities, as photographers discover anew the vast possibilities of the self-learned art of this age.

Natural beauty aids perfected

She's a naturalist — the girl who eats organically-grown foods, maybe even home-grows them herself, recycles her pop cans and celebrates Earth Day with fervor.

Her detergents are phosphate-free, her cosmetics, chemical-free.

Paraffin, titanium dioxide, vegetable oil triglyceride, among other high-faluting sounding chemical ingredients (some closely-guarded secrets) that go into mass-produced cosmetics in expensive jars, are not for her.

And some of those in the $5-billion-a-year beauty business are beginning to take her penchant for doing what comes naturally seriously.

Bonne Bell, conceding to the ecology-consciousness of young women sensitive to environmental issues, has come up with a mix-it-yourself system for those who prefer natural cosmetics.

Its new Well Spring is an amber liquid, explained Bonne Bell, executive vice president of the company her father named for her, that can be mixed with fresh fruits and vegetables to create very personalized creams and lotions.

"It's a completely new concept," said slender, blond Bonne Bell, now Mrs. William Eckert of Cleveland, whose husband heads the firm's international markets.

"You develop your own cosmetics in your own home for your own particular needs with natural, fresh products."

The formula was two years in the making, according to Mrs. Eckert. And the 24 ingredients, including a small measure of preservatives in Well Spring, are as closely guarded a secret as the formula for Ten-O-Six lotion the facial cleanser that put her father, Jess G. Bell, into the bigtime cosmetic market after he procured it from a dermatologist in 1936.

Each jug of Well Spring comes with a mixing jar and recipe book with directions for such concoctions as celery juice skin tonic, apple skin smoother, cucumber refresher lotion, carrot nighttime nourisher and avocado conditioner.

Bonne Bell Eckert has developed her own personal recipe for a Well Spring Vitamin E moisturizer which she uses, she said, "to slow down the aging process."

Though her formula is untested, she conceded, "I'm convinced there is a place for Vitamin E in skin care as well as diet. Researchers are saying there's a great possibility it helps deter aging of skin and heal scarring. But you can't rub it into the skin, alone. You need a vehicle — and that's where Well Spring comes in."

The possibilities with mix-it-yourself cosmetics are endless," she said. "It just takes imagination."

Alone, Well Spring can be used as an eye makeup remover and skin cleanser. It has been combined with milk, a protein cream, and Bonne Bell chemists have even mixed up an eye shadow using natural vegetable colors.

Critics may scoff at the new so-called natural cosmetics and chemists may protest that there's nothing wrong with creams produced in the lab.

But meanwhile, a growing number of those discontent with mass beauty care are finding that the idea of using fruits and vegetables as cosmetics opens up a lot of possibilities.

Bonne Bell Eckert's Vitamin E Moisturizing Cream
1/2 oz. milk
1/2 oz. Well Spring
1,200 international units natural Vitamin E

Shake together in a 1 oz. jar. For a lotion instead of a cream, mix two parts of milk to one part Well Spring and add natural Vitamin E.

Statehood medal honors Daniels

Joseph Daniels, U.S. secretary of the Navy and prominent North Carolina newspaper publisher and editor, is honored on the latest statehood medal which commemorates North Carolina.

The North Carolina-Daniels medal is the 45th in a series of medals honoring the 50 states, which is being produced by Presidential Art Medals, Inc., of Vandalia, Ohio.

Daniels began his newspaper career at a very early age and by the time he attained the age of 22, was president of the North Carolina Press Association. He then attended law school and was admitted to the state bar, though he never practiced law. Daniels was active in politics and owned various newspapers, along with the Chronicle and Carolinian, and was both a journalistic and financial success. In 1913, Daniels was appointed by President Wilson as secretary of the Navy and served in that capacity until Wilson's second term in 1921. He then devoted his efforts to his position as editor and publisher of the News and Observer. Joseph Daniels was also ambassador to Mexico. He wrote a five-volume autobiography and a book about Woodrow Wilson.

Ralph Menconi produced both the portrait on the face of the medal and the reverse which depicts the Great Seal of the state of North Carolina. Further information may be secured from Presidential Art Medals, Inc., Vandalia, Ohio 45377.

To commemorate the 50th anniversary of the National Conference on State Parks, the conference has authorized the striking of this special medalion. The face of the medal depicts Stephen T. Mather, founder and first director of the National Conference on State Parks. The reverse side shows a campfire with the numeral 50 over its flame. The words "Golden Anniversary - 1921 - Des Moines, Iowa - 1971" encircle the design. Des Moines was

Solution

Everyone should have goals and objectives

I learned a first class lesson about myself from watching a line of elephants.

Some of these bull elephants were big, massive brutes, but they were held in place by a chain which looked no stronger than the tensile strength of a piece of wire. It seemed incredible that so much raw animal power could be contained by something so small.

Farther down the line I came to the baby elephants. Shackled around their legs were huge log chains. I looked up the animal trainer and very politely told him that I thought he had things quite backwards.

He was very patient and informed me that the baby elephants fight the chains for about two weeks, then they give up. At that point they are conditioned, and they can be tethered from then on by a kite string.

If elephants can be conditioned, I wonder how many ways we are conditioned? A young man, fresh out of school has been told by his mother from youth up never to speak to strangers, not to speak unless spoken to and never to go where he is not wanted.

He applies for a job and the boss tells him to get out there, buttonhole a stranger, go where he is not wanted, and make the sale. That calls for a rather dramatic turnaround from his basic life conditioning. It is an exceptional young man who can do this.

Sometimes we have to stop and ask ourselves what would our life be without goals. I deal with people without goals 90 percent of the time. What would a football game be without goal posts? What would a basketball game be without hoops? It would simply be running the ball around. It would be terribly boring and would make few enthusiastic fans.

We need goals to give direction to our lives. Yet more people plan their two weeks vacation better than they plan their lives. They can tell you where they are to be each night on their vacation, but ask them where they are going to be 5 years from now and they cannot give you the foggiest.

Of course a man needs confidence in what he does. This he draws from his life plan. Because he knows where he is going, he knows what is excess baggage and what is not. Add to this determination and follow-through, and you have got the successful formula for living life.

At Innsbruck, Switzerland, the U.S.A. had a skeleton crew of figure skaters representing our country. There had been a tragic air crash where most of the U.S. Olympic skating team had been killed. A 14 year old girl finished far back in the pack. She was not good enough and she knew it. As she was interviewed following the Olympics she said with tears that four years from that time she would be back and she would win a gold medal. Big words for a young teenager.

The rest of the story is that she practiced for six hours a day for those years, and Peggy Fleming brought home the only gold medal won for the U.S. that year in the Winter Olympics. Faith, goals, plan, confidence and determination sums it up.

The last item is when that rough blow from life, that unexpected and undesired kick in the head comes your way, get up and get going. Everyone of us has gone down but the difference is who gets up, dusts himself off and sets his eyes on that goal again.

If you think that this is a pep talk, you are right. I needed it this morning, so I did some reviewing and I am sharing it with anyone else who is needing a pep talk.

If you would like a mimeographed list of 10 strings which at times hold us and may be tying up your life, please send a stamped self addressed envelope to Rev. Lee Truman, Copley News Service, P. O. Box 190, San Diego, Ca. 92112.

President Nixon has signed a bill authorizing the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission to strike medals commemorating the year of 1776 and its significance to American independence.

A maximum of 13 medals, each of a different design, may be struck. The commemorative piece now on sale contains the first medal of the series. This fall, the bronze bicentennial medal, which is included in the medal-stamp combination now on sale, will be sold as a single item through the U.S. Mint for $3 each.

Employers Must Pay, Send Contributions

A woman who helps me with my cleaning every week also works in several other homes. She says that since one of her other employers is reporting her wages for Social Security I do not need to report what I pay her. Is this true? — L.N.M.

A. Not necessarily. If you pay her $50 or more in a calendar quarter of the year, you are required by law to report her wages and to send in the Social Security contributions — no matter how many of her other employers may also be reporting her wages. Any Social Security benefits payable to her in the future will be based on a record of all her wages reported during her working years.

Q. What are the opportunities for employment after retirement? — H.W.

A. Employment plays various roles in the lives of those retired. For many, it is a principal source of income to provide the necessities of life. For others, it provides the therapy of usefulness, belonging and well-being. To many others, employment is the badge of status in the family and the community from which the social contacts radiate.

Employment has different meanings for different people, depending upon their individual needs and wants. It means full-time remunerative work for one; for another, a part-time job to supplement a pension income, and for still another, voluntary work in his home community. To others, employment may be a place to go every day and the paycheck is a minor consideration.

Therefore, retirement years can be good years in which you can have a "new life of your own." You may want to work part time, develop a small business or to enjoy old hobbies or to develop new ones. At the same time, in big or little ways, you have the chance of employment after your retirement.

Q. I am signed up for both parts of Medicare. After a car accident last month, I had some teeth broken and had to go to the hospital for jaw surgery. Will Medicare pay any of this? — D.S.

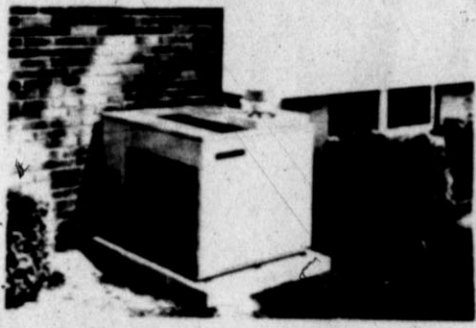

A. Yes. Medicare covers this type of surgery, but not ordinary dental care.

The ones who know nothing of calories are the happiest.

Women's Clubs

Off On New Year

PART OF THE FALL SCENE in Hereford is the activity incident to a club year's beginning. The dozens of women's clubs here start meeting in September after a summer vacation, most of them with special events typified by five groups with as many different kinds of entertainment in the past week.

NURSERY RHYMES AND FAIRY TALES set the beguiling theme for a breakfast that started La Madre Mia Club's season Thursday morning in the home of Mrs. Bud Snyder, yearbook chairman. Costumed hostesses greeting members before an arch at the doorway, in addition to Mrs. Snyder, are Mrs. Bobby Owen as Little Miss Muffet on her tuffet, with the spider on her shoulder, Mrs. Herschel Black and the new club president, Mrs. Dave Honea.

REASSEMBLY COFFEE for Bay View Study Club was an event of Thursday morning in the home of Mrs. H.L. Benefield, who sits at the coffee service with members of the social committee who were hostesses. From left are Mrs. Robert Josseland, chairman, Mrs. Ansel McDowell and Mrs. Bill Griffin. Mrs. R.W. Eades, president, succeeded Mrs. Benefield to pour coffee.

SUPPER AND STYLE SHOW opened the year for El Llano Study Club, which entertained a large group of guests in the Calson House. Hostesses were yearbook committee members and the 1972-73

(Section Two)

Hereford, Texas, Sunday, September 24, 1972

Town's Friendliness Impresses City Girl

BY LORI HOPSON
Staff Writer
"I like it a lot," says newcomer Mrs. Steve Graham of her new home. "Everybody's really friendly — It's a nice little town."
Mrs. Graham has lived in Nashville, Tenn. most of her life, and expressed surprise at the friendliness of small towns. "I've noticed that there are a lot of wealthy people here — but they don't flaunt it. People here are nice, they do things for you without even thinking about it."

IN ADDITION TO BEING A newcomer to Hereford, Jennifer is also a newlywed, married August 5 in Shawnee, Okla. The Grahams moved to Hereford about a week after their marriage, and Jennifer says that they love their "first home" at 110 6th behind the First Baptist Church where Graham is youth director. The couple plans to remain in Hereford for three years, while Jennifer finishes school. Both she and her husband, Steve, attended Oklahoma Baptist University in Shawnee.

Graham majored in sociology, while Jennifer majored in art during the two years she attended before marrying and moving to Hereford.

Mrs. Stephen Graham
youth director's wife

"HE'S GOING TO BE A PREACHER," she says of her husband. "We came here so that I could go to Canyon and finish school. Then we'll go to Fort Worth so he can attend Southwestern Theological Seminary."

Moving to Nashville at the age of three, Jennifer was born in Fort Worth while her father was attending the seminary. He is now executive secretary-treasurer of the stewardship department at the convention building in Nashville.
Jennifer is the second of five children, with one older brother, a younger brother and two sisters.

When she spoke with her, she was delighted at receiving a letter from her sister who visited Hereford when the Grahams were getting settled. Graham has two older sisters and a younger brother who is now attending OBU.
JENNIFER SAYS THAT since her recent marriage, her hobby has been "writing thank-you notes," and mischievously add of her husband, "I think his hobby is talking."
"He's trying to teach me to play tennis," she says with a smile. "I love out-of-door activities, and he loves talking, so we go play tennis when there are a lot of people around."
A buoyant, petite blonde, with a non-stop smile, Jennifer is enthusiastic about marriage: "It's fun being married," she says. "I write that on all my thank-you notes." We had two honeymoons because he's a youth director. "A friend of his, who is also a youth director, called and asked Steve if he'd come and help with a youth retreat in San Antonio, so we got to go for a second honeymoon."

"I'VE NEVER BEEN SKIING," she says. "But we plan to go with the church youth this year. We go to all the football games — I love to do that — and sometimes we just go out and play in the park."
Jennifer expresses her interest in people as a "hobby," and says "I like to meet people and talk to people. I draw some, because of my art study, but I can't sit and really work on a 'hobby'."
Working at the Hereford Day Care center, Jennifer says the job was "hard to adjust to at first. But now I like it — everybody's really nice."
THE GRAHAMS ARE enthusiastic about working with Hereford youth, and Jennifer enjoys the young people she has met at the church.
"The kids at church are really enthusiastic, not so much about Sunday school, but just about things in general," she smiles. Spending most of her life in Nashville, Jennifer admits to having met a few celebrities, but remains modest about her acquaintances with them.

"I went to the Grand Ole Opry once," she says. "And I hated it. You can put it in the paper that I hated the Grand Ole Opry, because I did!"

Club Year Opens At Coffee

A poem by Walt Whitman which supplied the title of Summerfield Study Club's program course for this year, was read by a new member, Mrs. Neal Foster, at a coffee Thursday morning in the home of Mrs. Earl Lance. This first meeting of a season had the yearbook committee as hostesses. Mrs. Lance was assisted by Mrs. Thurman Atchley and Mrs. J.E. Woodward on the committee, which presented the 1972-73 books at the coffee.

Woodford On Ocean Cruise

William G. Woodford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lisle Woodford of Hereford, flew to New York Wednesday to take part in a Mediterranean cruise.

Woodford, the youngest member of the Baker-Botts law firm in Houston, flew from New York to Rome, Italy to join a group of people on a Norwegian cruiser for the tour.

The group will stop for several days at all major cities along the European coast during the tour. Woodford is expected to return to Houston by way of Rome in two or three weeks.

The Battle of Long Island resulted in Gen. Washington's retreat across the East River on Aug. 27, 1776.

With Glad

By Mrs. Art Manjeot

This has been one of those days when one would like to just run away. To calm myself, I went into the alley and cut grass. Sure did give that hoe and grass a real working out. As I cut the grass I said to myself, why not be like a blade of grass? Yes, a blade of grass can teach a lesson, as one so often finds in nature. For instance have you ever noticed what happened to a blade of grass in a storm? It lies flat in the wind and the rain — offering no resistance, just simply yields to the pressure. Lies flat and gains strength and calmness. Soon after the storm is over, that blade of grass stands erect, completely undamaged by the strength brought to bear against it. Even those blades which I came so near cutting down, they later came through the soil and other fallen grass, erect. I reasoned, well it just don't pay to fight against what can't be helped. Instead accept it as calmly as possible and do what has to be done...do it the best you can. You will become stronger. Yes, nature is our helper. GARDEN CHORES FOR SEPTEMBER: Summer-growing bulbs, such as tritonia, freesias, oxalis, amaryllis, galadiums, tuberous begonias, gloxinias and gloriosas, should die down naturally and should be encouraged to do so by gradually reducing the water supply and finally withholding it. By so doing they will be ready for acceptance of winter weather. Potted plants that have been outdoors for the summer should be inspected. Remove all dead or damaged leaves, sponge foliage to remove grime or residue of spray and, insects. Examine plant very closely for insects and insect damage. Either wash with a strong spray of water (use care not to break or damage plant) or with a good insecticide in water, whichever you deem best and more effective. Plants should be lifted from summer placement, if in pots lift all together. After cleansing and treatment, potted plants should be gradually prepared for the indoors by placing in a cool shady place, free from wind drafts. Water and turn regularly as needed. The plants should be brought indoors at least two weeks before the furnace is started or when there is danger of frost. This is necessary so that they can accustom themselves to their new environment before they are subjected to the added difficulties of a dry atmosphere. Study the plants and try to give to each the conditions of light and temperature best suited to its variety. Evergreens can be planted in September. Make sure they are properly planted, receiving sufficient water...a good soaking is recommended. A mulch of compost, peat moss or rotted manure, straw or wood chips. Remember needed evergreens enjoy and respond to spraying with a strong nozzle spray moving it up and down on the plant. This cleanses it as well as gives them a refreshing drink via their needles. If weather conditions are real dry, established evergreens will benefit from periodic waterings. They will be better prepared for the winter winds and cold, and make a better plant or tree. September is the best month in the year in which to sow new lawns, in many areas. Good soil preparation is a prerequisite to establishing a good lawn. It should be plowed or spaded deeply, raked and smoothed, watered to get up the weeds and other grasses. Plow again to kill the growth of weeds. Rake well and water thoroughly. If time allows repeat this until ground is free of weeds. Roll carefully to firm the soil.

Sow seed by broadcasting or better still make trenches (shallow) by deep pronged rake or self make rake made by nails driven in a one-by-four. The latter can be dug over the ground by tying a cord and pulling by hand, and the nails will make the trenches. Then sow the seed so that it will fall in the trenches. Water carefully and thoroughly. Use extra care so that seed will not be washed out. Keep soil moist until seeds sprout and come up. Old lawns can be repaired in the same manner. However if grass has died because of disease or insect damage, the soil should be treated to rid it of bacteria before preparations are made to re-seed the damaged areas. Established lawns should be carefully mowed and then fertilized and treated for foreign grasses, dandelions, etc. Consult with a nurseryman or other authority for recommended treatment. When the foliage has completed its growth cycle, or been slightly frosted, lift and store gladioli corms, dahlias, and canna tubers, and tender bulbs such as tuberose and begonias. Rid them of accumulated soil. Cut off tops 1/2 inch from corm place on screen wire rack for thorough drying. Treat by dusting with a disinfectant. Do not divide dahlia and canna tubers, leave on stalk. Dry as above mentioned, and when dried sufficiently store in wooden boxes in sharp sand, which you will need to check frequently for moisture. If needed, sprinkle slightly if excessively dry. Canna tubers should be cut from parent stalk approximately two or three inches from tuber. Store same as for cannas, or these can be placed in large brown bags in which holes have been pierced. Store in place where temperature will not be lower than 34, or higher than 50 degrees. The glad corms after being dried and treated can be stored in mesh bags or the brown sacks. These should be hung on nails or rafters. During storage months check all for dryness or mold. If mold appears, dust with sulphur. If overdry, sprinkle slightly. The other more tender bulbs should be stored in sand. Chives and parsley plants can be lifted and potted, they will make an attractive potted plant for the kitchen window and be handy for seasoning and decorations. This is a good time to make cuttings of ivies, English, needle point, pixy, and Betchold. These make ideal materials for hanging baskets, and in springtime cuttings can be taken from them for the spring planting. In placing the potted materials do no overlook the bathroom. 'Planteries' in the bathroom are colorful and they do well. The humidity is excellent for plants. White pots on glass shelves with nosegay-like plants and ivies, with shells as accessories will add a cheerful

Breakfast Theme Is Mother Goose

Mother Goose rhymes supplied the theme for clever table decorations and hostesses' costumes at a breakfast Thursday morning, introducing a year of programs and projects for La Madre Mia Study Club members. In front of the entry porch at Mrs. Bud Snyder's new home was an archway covered with huge paper flowers and topped with a welcome sign. Pictures from nursery rhyme and fairy tale books centered tables where guests were seated for the breakfast; the buffet table was gay with a colorful arrangement of lollipops. Mrs. Snyder, chairman of the yearbook committee, Mrs. Herschel Black and Mrs. Bobby Owen of that committee and Mrs. Dave Honea, club president, were the hostesses who greeted guests in dress suggestive of Mother Goose characters. Not just a social event, the meeting included plans for the annual homes tour and holiday bazaar which will be held early in December to benefit the club treasury. Mrs. W.E. Sparks, general chairman, appointed members to various committee duties. Secret pals were revealed in a gift exchange, and names drawn for this year's pals. Those present included Mrs. C.D. Adams, Lynton Allred, Jimmy Anderson, Waldo Baxter, Dean Herring, Charles Frye, James Gentry, Dick Gerles, Wayne Lady, Don Lane, Gerald Martin, G.C. Merritt, F. Scott, Craig Smith, Don Walser, Richard Ward, Charles Watson and Roger Williams.

spot as well as a bit of beauty. Some of the nicest houseplants I grow are grown in the master bathroom. Is enjoyed by all. THINK ON THIS: I have carried a grudge into my garden...but I never carried one out.

Free Dimensions

What is freedom? Most Americans probably think first of freedom of speech, in a political context. That is an important freedom, but certainly not the only one. A man in prison might be able to say anything he wished, and yet we would not call him "free."

There are countries where a person is free to move around within the boundaries of the place of his birth, but not free to leave it, without government permission. Such a person does not seem as "free" as we are, although he is "freer" than the man in prison. So there is a geographical dimension to freedom.

Freedom of taste (esthetic, not physiological) is a freedom we exercise more than most, although we seldom even think of it as a freedom. No "authority" determines for us what color socks to wear, what movies, plays or books to like, or how to decorate our living room. We are — within some limits — free to choose any life-style that suits us. The limits — in America — are most likely to be established by social custom than by law (although, as John Stuart Mill points out, social custom can be oppressive, too).

The freedom to determine the care of our own bodies is a very fundamental freedom, on which we place very few limits in this society.

Another freedom we exercise more than most, and seldom think of, is economic freedom. We are free to negotiate with others for their services or our services. We may change jobs — or even careers — at will, if we are able to acquire the necessary qualifications (and we are free to make the attempt). We are free to spend our money wisely or foolishly. We have the special kind of freedom that variety offers (after all, freedom of choice doesn't amount to much when there is no choice available).

Freedom, then, is many things. Really, what it all comes down to is the right to make our own decisions, instead of having them made for us by others.

Unfortunately, there is a tendency in our society for individuals to focus only on those aspects of freedom that are important to them, while rationalizing encroachments on the freedoms others value. For example, some journalists and "intellectuals" vigorously defend freedom of speech, because it is essential to their work, but seem to care little for economic freedom. Conversely, some businessmen may be less concerned with censorship than they are with surrendering their freedom to make economic decisions. And the hippies appear to value freedom of life-style above all else.

Well, that kind of "what's-in-it-for-me?" approach to freedom won't work for long. If we are willing to barter away the other man's freedom, we shouldn't be surprised to find that he has sold out ours. It is the right to make our own decisions that matters. When that principle is threatened in one area, it is threatened in all others.

So be suspicious of proposals to expand government power: "to protect the people." Behind the man making the proposal is often the patronizing conviction that most people cannot be trusted to run their own lives. And don't scorn the man who opposes such schemes for being "against everything." He may be protecting your freedom, as well as his. As the old farmer put it, "I'm' against the boll weevil because I'm for cotton."

Don't Grab At It

When you've served in Congress as long as Wright Patman has, 44 years, or Otto Passman has, 26 years, you learn that you don't accumulate power just by grabbing for it. The idea is to encourage conditions and situations that will nudge power in your direction. You then accept the responsibility of exercising it.

Both gentlemen are currently arranging conditions. Both, coincidentally, are trying to bring within their grasp an influence over now independent sectors of government that, in our view, should remain independent. And both, perhaps having learned at the same school of experience, are attempting to use the General Accounting Office — the investigative arm of Congress — as the instrument in their endeavors.

Mr. Patman of Texas, chairman of the House Banking and Currency Committee, has long had his eye on the Federal Reserve Board. He would like nothing more than to insinuate a congressional finger into the policy-making apparatus of the Fed, the beginning of a process that would culminate in the end of the Fed's independence. Unable to find an opening, he is attempting to create one.

In the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1972, which Mr. Patman's committee reported out this week, there is a provision authorizing the General Accounting Office to audit the Fed's accounts. Presumably the GAO would keep watch that Arthur Burns isn't permitting the Fed to pick up the greens fees for its members. But the real intent is to give Mr. Patman a hand-hold on the operations of the Fed. The Fed's accounts are currently audited by Lybrand, Ross Bros. & Montgomery, and it's difficult to see what GAO could do that would not duplicate that work — except to provide a means by which the Fed could be hauled before a congressional committee.

Mr. Passman of Louisiana, chairman of the foreign operations committee of House Appropriations, is frustrated because the United States is moving away from the bilateral approach to foreign aid, which he never liked, to a multinational approach, which he likes even less. If the World Bank, the Inter-American Development Bank, or the Asian Development Bank are going to be making grants and loans to the developing world, and a portion of the funds are coming from the United States, he wants these institutions to have to answer to Congress.

To that end, Mr. Passman has written language into the appropriations bill for the U.S. contribution to these institutions. To wit, no funds shall be expended unless the international financial institutions open their books to the General Accounting Office, and are prepared to make detailed justifications for the projects to the Senate and House through a submission to the GAO.

The effect of such a move would be to eliminate the most attractive feature of the multinational approach — the buffering of development aid from the domestic political arena.

MAIN STREET, U.S.A.

Congress On Verge Of Passing Bad Bill

BY BERT MILLS

Washington, D.C. — Congress is about to pass a bad bill now called the "Consumer Protection Organization Act of 1972." The House passed a similar bill last year and the current Senate version has been reported out of committee and is due for passage before adjournment this year.

Business organizations which at first fought the proposed legislation, then sought largely in vain to improve the Senate bill by committee amendments, are conceding they have lost their battle and regard enactment before Election Day as virtually inevitable.

Nor is there much hope that President Nixon will veto the bill, or that a veto could be sustained in Congress. The House passed its consumer bill by a margin of 344-44, and the Senate passed an earlier version of the current bill in 1970 with only four dissenting votes.

Only two members of the Senate Government Operations Committee were brave enough to vote against the consumer protection bill in committee. They are Chairman Sam J. Ervin (D., N.C.) and Senator James B. Allen (D., Ala.). Although the Nixon Administration opposes the bill, not a single Republican voted against it in committee.

Why this overwhelming support for what any objective study would determine is a bad bill? The one-word answer is politics. This is the age of consumerism and it is supposed to be suicidal to buck anything bearing the consumer label. Who wants to become target for Ralph Nader?

RIBICOFF IS SPONSOR

Senator Abraham Ribicoff (D., Conn.), Chairman of the subcommittee which originated the consumer protection legislation, is the principal sponsor of the bill. It used to be known as S. 1177, but a "clean bill" was introduced after committee action and the new number is S. 3970.

It will be recalled that Mr. Nader is from Connecticut, and that Sen. Ribicoff was his original sponsor in Washington. In fact, at one time Mr. Nader used Sen. Ribicoff's office as his headquarters. Now Mr. Nader has offices all over town and has many Senate friends in addition to Sen. Ribicoff.

One business trade association lobbyist, commenting on the expected passage of the consumer protection bill, said "Nader's clout is incredible — overpowering." The association man explained that Mr. Nader doesn't even have to use all the power he possesses. The threat of his branding a Senator as "anti-consumer" is enough to scare most legislators into supporting consumer bills.

The Senate committee report devotes one paragraph of its 120 pages to Mr. Nader, reporting his testimony at hearings in favor of strengthening the bill and authorizing more money for the proposed Consumer Protection Agency.

In addition to creating CPA, which would represent consumers before other Federal agencies and replace the existing White House Office of Consumer Affairs, the bill would create a Council of Consumer Advisers and inaugurate a program of grants to state and local consumer protection activities.

MINORITY BLASTS BILL

Minority views expressed by the two dissenters, Senators Ervin and Allen, are strongly worded. Sen. Allen termed the bill "a hodgepodge" and "a reckless attack on the whole concept of administrative due process."

Sen. Ervin argued that "the bill is based on the theory that every businessman in the U.S. sits up all night scheming about how he can cheat his customers and that all consumers are a bunch of idiotic nitwits."

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Talk Of Texas

BY JACK MAGUIRE

THE PASSING PARADE—It has been more than 71 years now since the petroleum age was born in Texas. But one of the roughnecks who helped to give it birth is still alive and recalls the birthday vividly.

He is 100-year-old Curtis G. (Curt) Hamill of Houston. On January 10, 1901, he was a 28-year-old laborer who stood on a scaffold high up on a wooden oil derrick atop a hill named Spindletop near Beaumont. Suddenly a six-inch column of oil exploded from the 1,000-foot-deep hole under the derrick and spurted 100 feet into the air. The first great Texas oil gusher was a reality.

Hamill, blinded by oil and mud, managed to get down from the scaffold as 32 joints of drilling pipe blew to the surface. Somehow it passed the crown of the derrick without injuring him. Only after he had made his way down and stopped the engine did Hamill leave the derrick.

It took ten days for crews to get the gusher capped. By that time, Beaumont had become a boom town and a new industry had been born in Texas.

IT'S SUDSY, TOO—Americans usually drink about a quarter as much Texas rice as they eat.

About one pound of every four produced in Texas rice fields is sold to brewers. Although malt and hops are still the basic ingredients in beer, brewers also utilize an "adjunct" which can be rice, corn, corn syrup or milo. Rice costs more, but brewers like it because it adds neither color nor flavor to the beer.

TRAVELING TEXAS—Walking along the streets of Calvert and Hearne in Robertson County, one can still encounter descendants of the Chinese who arrived in Texas in 1874 as railroad builders and remained to become farmers.

Early in 1861, a St. Louis labor contractor brought 300 Chinese workers to Texas to work on the building of the Houston & Texas Central Railroad. After the line reached Dallas in 1874, about half of these workers moved to the Brazos River bottoms in Robertson County and started life anew as farmers.

Many of the men married Negro women and today the "Black Chinese" can still be seen.

Surveyors are now working out of Odessa on a railroad projected from Hereford south, across the great staked plains of Texas to some undetermined terminus in the republic of Mexico. . . . Hereford was visited by a good shower Thursday night that settled the dust and reduced the temperature considerably. Friday night, also, a small shower fell. During the night the first real norther of the season came down and the thermometer went down. . . .

The official "conversations" that have been in progress between the Southwestern Bell Telephone company and the Hereford City Commissioners for some time relative to proposed improvements and rate increases at the local plant of the company were resumed here Wednesday after a lull of several weeks. . . .

Pointing to the fact that federal grain inspectors are docking prices where grain is full of trash and weed seed, or where it is moldy or wet, the four Hereford elevators this week warned farmers to use precaution in gathering their grain yields. . . . Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan has announced a national average price support of not less than $2.21 a bushel for 1953 crop wheat. This is 90 per cent of the August 15, 1952 wheat parity price of $2.46. Support for 1952 crop wheat, now eligible for loan on purchase agreement, is a national average of $2.20 a bushel. . . . A sharp increase in total bank deposits was revealed in late financial statements published by both Hereford's banks. . . . The First National and The Hereford State. . . .

Hereford's Junior Chamber of Commerce is continuing to look into the possibility of a mass Sabin Oral vaccine inoculation with the idea of excluding the Type III vaccine for the time being, said Bruce Fink, club president. . . . A rate change by Southwestern Bell Telephone for installation charges and miscellaneous services was explained to Hereford City Commission meeting Monday by Gene Adkisson, district manager. Adkisson explained that the rate change was made by the company "to forestall raising the basic rates to telephone customers in the area. . . ."

Grandchildren Rate High As Students

Two grandchildren of Hereford residents have been named semifinalists in the 1973 National Merit Scholarship competition. They are Lyn Evans and Steve Owen, both from Southwest High School in Fort Worth.

Lyn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Evans and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.G. Evans of Hereford. Steve is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G.P. Owen Jr., the grandson of Mrs. G.P. Owen Sr. of Hereford.

The two were among 28 students named from nine Fort Worth high schools. An estimated 15,000 students in the nation qualified as semifinalists.

Semifinalists must advance to finalist standing to be considered for Merit Scholarships to be awarded next spring. Winners of four-year Merit Scholarships may receive up to $1,500 a year for four college years, depending on their need.

Miller Enrolled In Navy Course

Air Force Lieutenant Colonel Ralf M. Miller, husband of the former Mary S. Postelle of Hereford, is one of 186 senior military officers and civilian executives of the Federal Government enrolled in a 10-month graduate-level course in naval warfare and related subjects at the Naval War College, Newport, R.I.

The resident course is designed to enhance the preparation of selected military officers and civilian executives for positions of high responsibility.

Veteran's Affairs

Q — I am a 70-year-old veteran drawing pension for a non-service connected disability Am I entitled to outpatient treatment at a VA hospital?

A — No, unless you have been found in need of aid and attendance, or you are permanently housebound.

Q — I'm going to graduate school under the GI Bill. How many hours must I carry for VA to pay me the full educational allowance?

A — Since this is not prescribed by law, VA will pay the full educational allowance based on the school's certification that the student is attending school full time. Half time or quarter time rates are paid on the basis of the schools certification also.

Q — My husband, who was formerly married, says it is not necessary to change the beneficiary on his $10,000 National Service Life Insurance policy since VA automatically pays insurance proceeds to the wife of the veteran. Is this true?

A — No VA must pay the designated beneficiary of record. Therefore, your husband must name you as beneficiary if he wants you to receive the death benefits on his NSLI policy.

Our Story: KING DASHAD ENTERS ATHELDAG WITH HIS SMALL BODYGUARD, WONDERING IF, DURING HIS ABSENCE, TREACHERY HAS HAD TIME TO FOMENT.

IT HAS, BUT DISTRUST AMONG THE NOBLES HAS PREVENTED A REVOLT. THEN TRUMPETS SOUND AND THE GREAT CURTAINS ARE SWEEPED ASIDE...

..... AND KING DASHAD MARCHES TO THE THRONE. NEVER HAVE THE CHEERS OF THE COURTIER'S BEEN LOUDER OR LESS SINCERE.

HE MOUNTS THE THRONE IN SILENCE, BUT HIS ANGRY EYES SEARCH THE FACES OF THE THRONG, AND NOT ONE OF THEM MEETS HIS GAZE. AFTER AN UNEASY SILENCE, HE BECKONS TO VAL AND JASEN, AND LEAVES.

"HE WHO COMMANDS THE LOYALTY OF THE ARMY RULES THE CITY," SUGGESTS JASEN. "I KNOW FROM EXPERIENCE THAT THE COMMANDERS ARE TRUE ONLY TO THE HIGHEST BIDDERS, AND SOLDIERS OBEY THEIR COMMANDERS."

SO THE COMMANDERS ARE INVITED TO THE PALACE WHERE THEY WILL BE SAFE FOR THE TIME BEING. NOT EXACTLY JUSTICE, BUT IT WILL KEEP THEM FROM INTERFERING WHILE A PLAN TO AID DISABLED WARRIORS IS BEING FORMULATED AND NEW OFFICERS APPOINTED.

IT HAS BEEN REPORTED THAT NOW SPIDERS SPIN WEBS IN THE DISUSED TORTURE CHAMBER. THE GALLOWES ARE NOT OFTEN USED, AND ONCE, JUST ONCE, THE KING WAS REFERRED TO AS "DASHAD THE GOOD."

VAL LEAVES ATHELDAG, SURE HE HAS REFORMED THE TYRANT, FEELING VERY VIRTUOUS AND A TRIFLE SMUG.

HELP FOR HOMEMAKERS

hints from Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

A few years ago another young couple in the military shared a house with us that had been converted into apartments.

Both of us were away from home and had no relatives in the town. We were new in the town and the other young couple were expecting their first baby.

The pay was not much and we knew that getting all the many things needed for the first baby was almost out of the question.

I contacted the parents of the mother and the father-to-be and asked for close friends' and relatives' addresses in their hometown.

When I received this list I sent invitations to the "shower-by-mail" (and this is exactly what it was).

I asked all the guests (by mail) to address their gifts to my apartment. Then on the day of the "shower" I invited the "honoree" over for coffee to meet a friend of mine. When she walked in she couldn't believe her eyes—it was the next best thing to having all of her friends and family there.

Later, when I met her parents they told me what a unique idea they thought it was and that all her friends back home thought it was great and were happy to share in it.

Joan Covington
I just want you to know that reading your very sweet letter has made me feel better all day long. You were lonely, too, but you didn't sit around and feel sorry for yourself—you went out and tried to make someone else happy.

Joan, that's what it's all about, but I know I don't need to tell you—it's perfectly obvious that you are in on the secret of happiness. Heloise

SOME ONIONS!

DEAR HELOISE:

There is a simple and easy way to have both a useful vegetable and a lovely green plant in the kitchen window year round. Just plant a couple of onion bulbs in a shallow bowl.

Add a little water to cover about half of the bulbs and pretty soon you will have a nice green plant and also a constant source of onion greens.

As the onion is of the lily family, you can also have the lovely white flower in your window.

BLANKET GUARANTEE

DEAR HELOISE:

I am blessed with a beautiful kitchen floor but not an electric waxer. How do I keep my floors so shiny...?

After I clean my floor, I wax with a leading brand. Now here is the secret... or should I say the fun. Well, at least the children think it's fun.

I get out my old wool blanket, gather the children together (I have three), place the blanket on the kitchen floor and begin. Two of the children get on the blanket while the other pulls them around. Usually, after each child has taken a turn pulling, my floor shines like silver.

My neighbors have caught onto the idea and now they are all using my method. The lady next door doesn't have any children, so on her waxing day she pays a call to my house and asks to borrow my three. When this happens, I promptly take a break.

I have a shiny floor, my children help with the housework, and once a week I get a guaranteed 30-minute time-out.

I guess I can't ask for more, can I, Heloise?

Mrs. Frances Mathews

How fascinating... just like having your own magic carpet.

One thing, be sure not to tell the kids they are helping with the housework or they might not be quite so anxious to help.

I'll bet your guests think you had a professional do your floors, but we will keep your little secret, won't we? Heloise

CUT IT OUT!

DEAR HELOISE:

When I cut a clipping from the newspaper and want to keep all the information such as the paper, date, year, etc., I just leave some extra space at the top of the clipping.

Then I trim all this information from the dateline at the top of the newspaper.

Using glue, I stick the information in the space that I had left for it.

I glue the info on rather than tape it, because when taped it seems to turn dark.

THE GRAVY TRAIN

DEAR HELOISE:

When I fix cornish hens or chickens, I save the giblets—cook them; chop them up and freeze.

Then I always have giblets ready ahead of time for that mouth-watering dressing.

My husband thinks this is a great idea.

HANDLE WITH CARE

DEAR HELOISE:

Have you ever been annoyed by a greasy oven glove, or scorched a new one?

Today I made two covers for my mitts. I made one pair from an old towel and the other from an old dress.

They are just marvelous. I never have to wash the mitts, only the covers!

YOUR NET WORTH

DEAR HELOISE:

Nylon net is the greatest!

When I bought my hair dryer, I found the bonnet was too large and kept slipping down over my eyes. So I placed a crumpled piece of nylon net on the top of my head before putting it on, and it was a perfect fit.

The net does not hinder the drying, and the bonnet stays put.

CATNIP HELPS, TOO!

DEAR HELOISE:

Although I like a certain amount of feline nonsense around the house, I cannot get weepy-eyed and sentimental over the clawing and paw prints that are left on the back door when the cat wants to come in.

So I thought—rugs on the floor—rugs on the door—why not?

I purchased one of those odd pieces of unhemmed carpet, approximately the size of the lower panel of the storm door and tacked it in place. Across the top of that (and overlapping one inch of the ruglet), I nailed a two-inch strip of quarter-inch scrap plywood.

Now when my feline friend wants to announce his presence, it is no longer a CATastrophe.

He not only wipes his paws, but he has something to cling to without clawing into the putty and wood on the door.

WHAT ARE YOU POURING ON THE GROUND, MR. SWEENEY?

FERTILIZER.

WHAT'S FERTILIZER?

IT MAKES THINGS GROW BIGGER AND FASTER, STANLEY.

LOOK, STANLEY, I HAVE TO FERTILIZE MY WHOLE GARDEN. WHY DON'T YOU GO FISHING WITH ONE OF YOUR FRIENDS?

OH, OKAY.

HEY, BILLY, LET'S GO FISHING.

I CAN'T. I HAVE TO MIND MY BABY BROTHER.

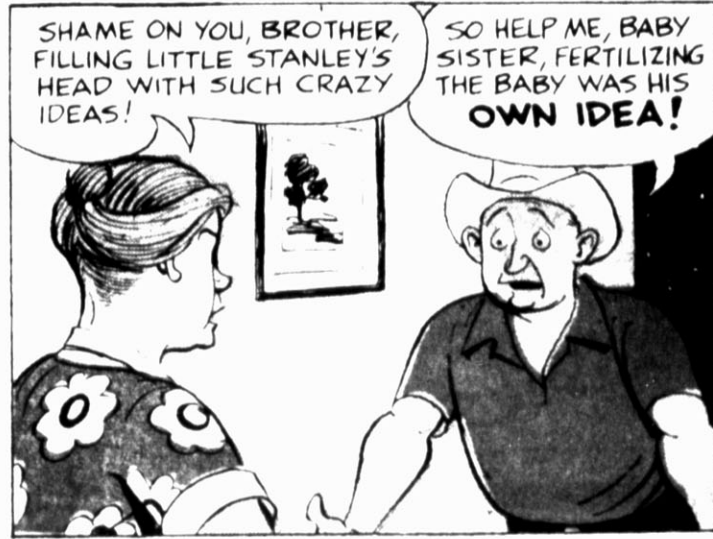

EEEK! WHAT ARE YOU DOING TO THE BABY?

WE WANT HIM TO GROW UP FASTER SO WE'RE FERTILIZING HIM!

YEAH. MR. SWEENEY TOLD ME ALL ABOUT IT!

BAW!

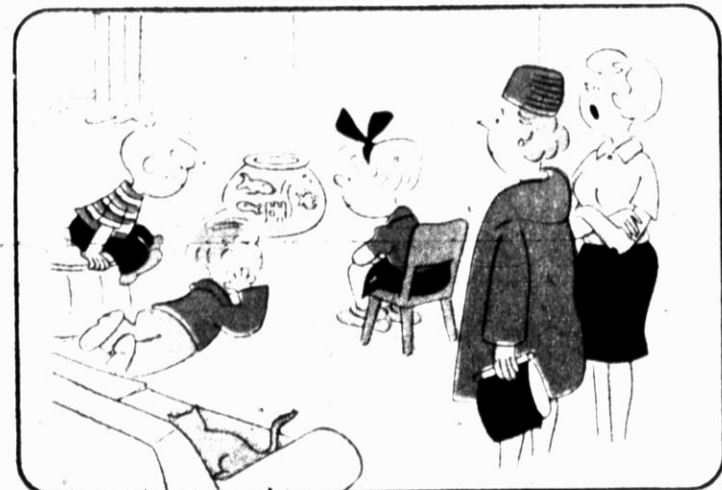

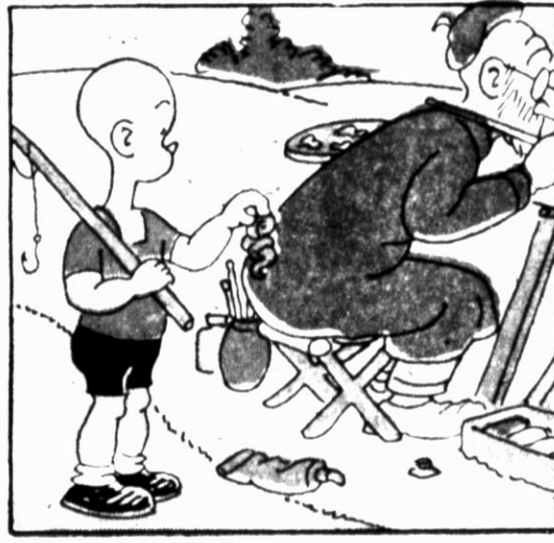

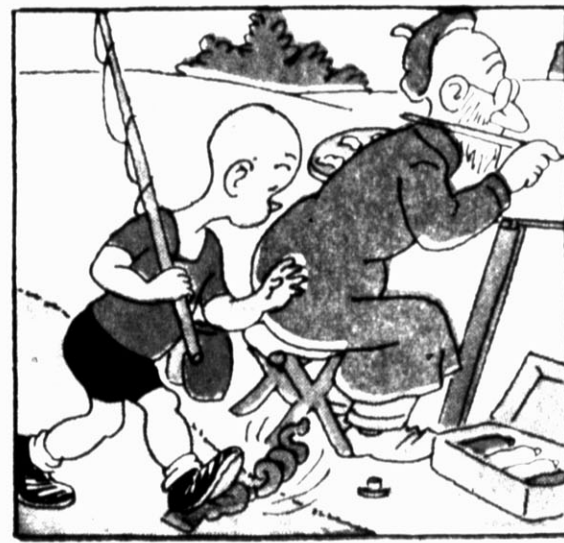

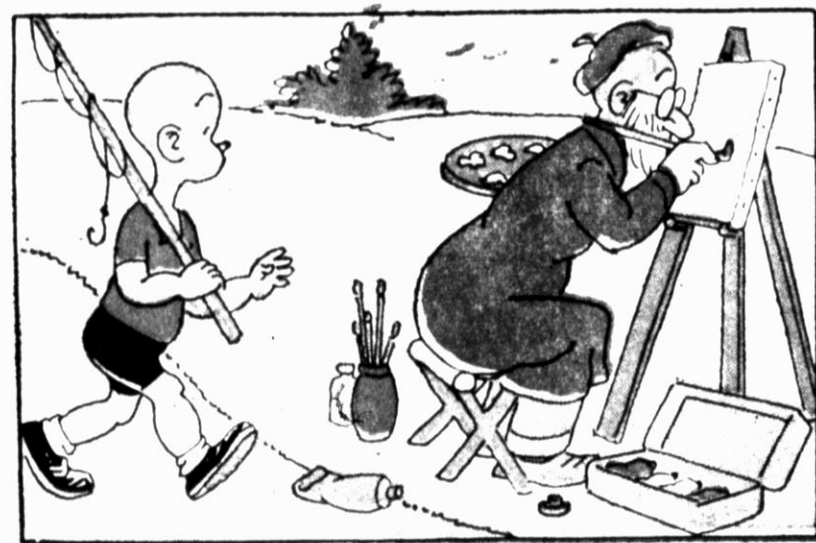

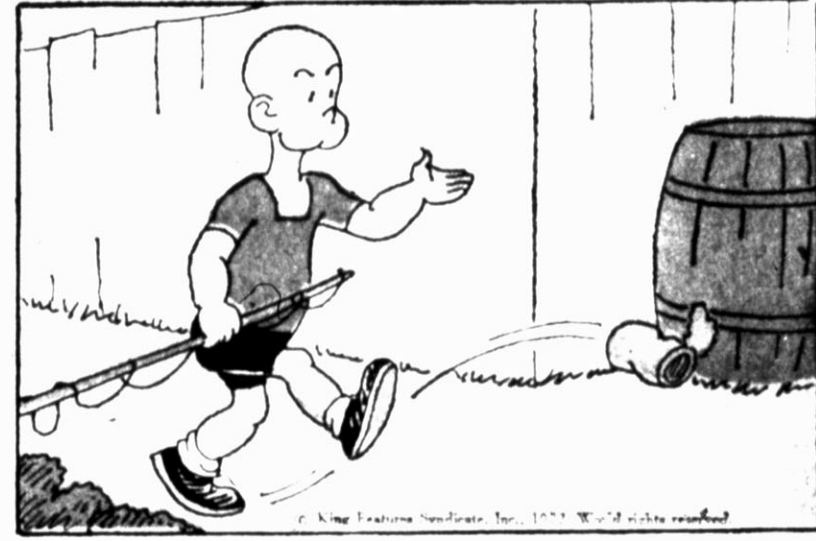

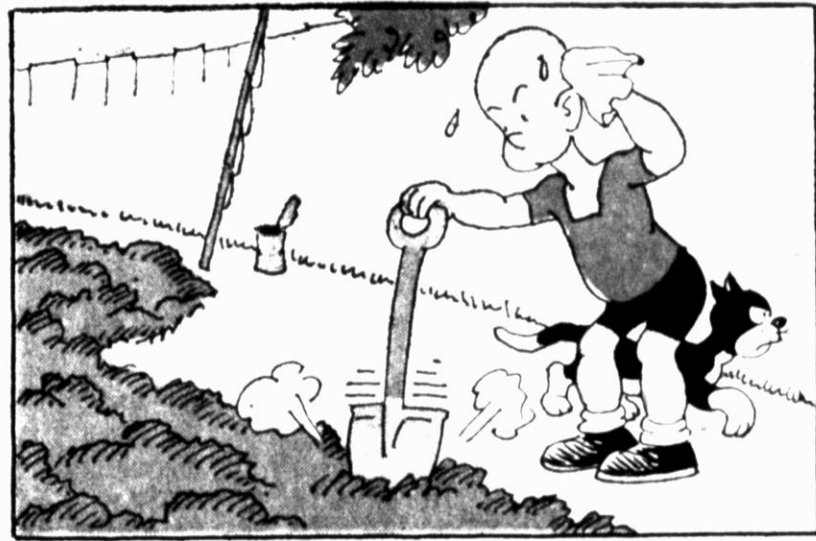

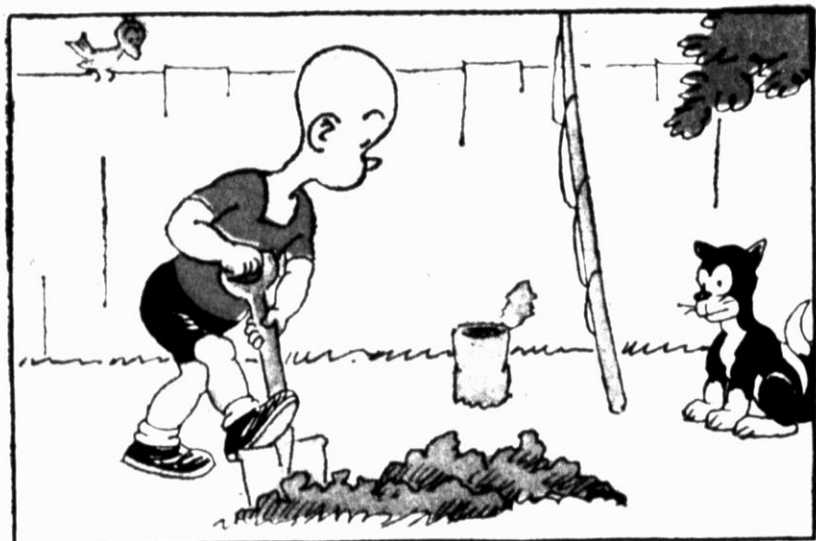

SHAME ON YOU, BROTHER, FILLING LITTLE STANLEY'S HEAD WITH SUCH CRAZY IDEAS!

SO HELP ME, BABY SISTER, FERTILIZING THE BABY WAS HIS OWN IDEA!
