Branding Time

By Speedy Nieman

No, that's not ancient hieroglyphics printed above, but an illustration of what can happen when a modern computer goes on the blink. For a time Friday morning, we were worried that these unreadable symbols were all the copy the smart-alecky machine was going to produce!

However, the problem was cured, and the preceding paragraph is the only bad one to reach print... we hope!

HEREFORD BOARD of Realtors reports that the Multiple Listing Service produced $806,680 in sales for the month of May. This is just one of the indicators that hustlin' Hereford is still growing and going!

WHO REALLY pays the taxes? The National Association of Manufacturers says 51 per cent of the revenue from individual income tax returns in 1970 came from only 13 per cent of the taxpayers... those earning $15,000 per year or more.

Mrs. Gene Harriman, daughter of the late Cal Farley, was in town Wednesday to accept a donation to Boys Ranch through the Dory Funk Sr. Memorial Fund. The presentation was made at the Lions Club meeting, and Mrs. Harriman praised Funk for his avid support and work with Boys Ranch.

Like her father, Mrs. Harriman noted, Dory was a firm believer in administering discipline to a boy... "It shows him you really care, and he expects and wants fair, consistent discipline along with expressions of love." Most people knew Dory as a wrestler, but Ranciers will remember him as a friend, she added.

AS YOU'LL note in today's Brand, plans for the Diamond Jubilee Celebration are well underway with special days designated during the 75th anniversary week. More events are likely to be announced as time progresses.

Activity is picking up in both the men's and women's divisions, and Jubilee hats, bonnets and buttons will soon be the style around town.

The Brand staff is getting enthused in preparing a "souvenir edition" of the newspaper to mark the city's 75th birthday. Anyone having old pictures or information which might be included in the edition is invited to call The Brand.

When you read about a "strike", it usually regards a labor union—but did you ever hear of a cowboy strike? There is one on record, and the plot unfolded here in 1884, about three miles from town. It seems cowboys worked for an average pay of $30 a month and decided to strike for higher wages. You'll find the story, and the outcome in The Brand's Jubilee edition!

Some folks are so grouchy you would think they had been baptized in vinegar.

Man Receives Life Sentence For Robbery

A 20-year-old Hereford man was sentenced to life imprisonment in the state penitentiary after he pleaded guilty this week to the March armed robbery of a local grocery store in which an employee was shot and later died.

Judge Archie McDonald sentenced the man, Reymundo Murillo, following Murillo's plea to the armed robbery with a deadly weapon charge.

Murillo had been charged in connection with the March 10 robbery of Daphne's Grocery Store, 340 W. First St. Lester Arnold Funk, employee of the store, was shot during the holdup, but managed to give officers a description of the robber before he died three days later in Deaf Smith hospital.

Murillo was arrested later in the night after the robbery by police officers using the description Funk had given. Police recovered from the suspect money believed taken in the robbery and a gun believed used to shoot Funk.

Murillo had remained in Deaf Smith County jail since his arrest under $20,000 bond set by Municipal Judge Jim Neil.

In other action in McDonald's 60th Judicial District courtroom, Alan Everett Brooks was sentenced to serve eight years in the state penitentiary. Brooks was found guilty last week of breaking into Harold Close Drug Store and then sentenced to four years.

However, McDonald had earlier revoked probation for Brooks on a four-year term he received last year and the judge this week ordered that Brooks would have to serve both terms consecutively.

A receiving and concealing stolen property charge against Manuel Ybarra Mendiola was dismissed on a motion by Criminal Dist. Atty. Andy Shuval.

Probation was revoked for Alberto R. Rodriguez and he was sentenced to eight years in the penitentiary.

A motion to revoke probation for Gary Jack White has been filed in district court but has not yet been heard by the judge. White presently is serving in the state penitentiary.

A Night Skyline Of Fun

Fun, thrills and excitement are generated through the night skyline view of the carnival in Hereford's Veterans Park this week. The carnival ends tonight, but for those who can't take their children to the high and spinning rides, the Lions annual carnival is little more than a month away.

Healthy Or Hazardous?

Cyclists Creating Traffic Problems In Hereford

By KATHY MARGRAVE
Brand Reporter

"Bi-cycle — a light, two-wheeled vehicle with a steering handle, saddle, and pedals by which it is propelled" and a machine that is fast growing in popularity with the young as well as the old.

In fact, adult bicycles sales in the United States have surpassed the number of new automobiles sold.

DUE TO the widespread popularity of bicycles, many state legislatures, including the Texas legislature, have passed laws governing bicycles.

Texas state laws for bicycles are the same as for automobiles, except no license is required for the two wheeled vehicles.

Capt. Ray Morgan of the Hereford City Police said that the biggest problem concerning bicycle riders in Hereford is improper lighting on bicycles while riding at night.

This creates a major problem when they run red lights and stop signs because they are invisible to approaching motorists.

THE LAW requires all bicycles to have a white light attached to the front of the bicycle, visible at least 500 feet. A red reflector approved by the Department of Public Safety is required to be attached to the rear, and must be visible from all distances up to 300 feet. In addition, a lamp with a red light visible from 500 feet from the rear may be added with the reflector.

Morgan pointed out that the law pertaining to bicycles states that only the number of persons that the bike is designed and equipped for can be carried on the bike. The rider must ride a permanent, regular seat built on the bike.

BIKE RIDERS are required to ride on the right-hand side of the roadway, and yield the right-of-way to pedestrians and vehicles. No bicycles are allowed on sidewalks in the business districts. Furthermore, no person 15-years-of-age or older is allowed to ride on the sidewalk in any district. The law also states that bicycles riders must not ride more than two abreast.

"The law has been in effect for over a year now, and so far we have been just warning violators," Morgan said. "The main thing we're trying to do is to save lives and some have had close calls."

MORGAN ALSO said that the police department has been receiving complaints about hot rodding motorcycle riders.

"Persons can't get a license for a motorcycle unless they're at least 15-years-old," Morgan said. "Kids without a license can't even drive in the streets or alleys."

Morgan pointed out that the requirements for a motorcycle include brake light, tail light, license light, and inspection sticker.

"All motorcycle riders violating the laws can be ticketed and fined if guilty. So far we've been issuing citations for motorcycles, and just warning for bicycle violators, but we may have to start doing something about that."

...And A Day For Father

By KATHY MARGRAVE
Brand Reporter

"Either we honor both our parents, mother and father, or let us desist from honoring either!"

The above quote is from one of the forceful arguments presented by Margaret Chase Smith, former U. S. Senator from Maine, urging Congress to officially recognize father's day.

ALTHOUGH THE congressional resolution permanently recognizing Father's Day was signed just a year ago by President Nixon, the holiday has been an American tradition for several decades.

Generally accepted in the United States since 1924, no one is sure who can hold true claim to the origination of Father's Day.

Not as old as other holidays in the United States, Father's Day has a worthwhile object — to cherish the honor and dignity of fatherhood.

THE ORIGINATOR of Father's Day might be attributed to Mrs. John Bruce Dodd of Spokane, Wash., who in 1909, wrote to the Rev. Conrad Bluhm, president of the Spokane Ministerial Assn. proposing that the third Sunday in June be set aside for honoring fathers. The idea of such an idea stemmed from a way to pay tribute to her own father who had successfully reared a family of children after the death of their mother.

THE MINISTERIAL association approved the proposal and the first Father's Day celebration was held in June, 1910 in Spokane. On that first celebration day, sons and daughters were asked to wear a red rose in honor of a living father and a white rose, honoring those who were dead.

When asked in 1953 what she had intended Father's Day to be, Mrs. Dodd commented, "It should include family attendance at church, a little gift for dad and some tender words you've always longed to say to him."

ANOTHER PERSON who might hold claim to the origination of Father's Day is Mrs. Walter H. Burgess. As a 15-year-old girl of Drewry's Bluff, Va., she wrote a letter to a newspaper suggesting that fathers be given their own day of tribute.

In June of 1921, Mrs. Burgess persuaded the governor of Virginia to proclaim a Father's Day for that state. In 1932, she registered the name, "National Father's Day Assn." with the U. S. Patent Office.

Reports say that Mrs. Burgess was unaware of Mrs. Dodd's work with getting Father's Day recognized and later withdrew her claim to priority in establishing the day.

BEFORE THERE was widespread observance of Father's Day, Mrs. Charlotte Kirkbride and Mrs. D. Carrie Sternberg of Philadelphia induced J. Hampton Moore, representative in Congress from that city, to introduce a resolution in the House of Representatives designating the first Sunday in June as Father's Day. The resolution did not pass as did a similar bill introduced by Rep. Bertrand H. Snell of New York.

ROSES ARE generally recognized as the appropriate flower for Father's Day, however a white lilac with a green leaf was worn at the first Father's Day celebration in Vancouver, Wash.

Members of the Martin W. Callener Bible Class of Wilkinsburg, Pa., selected the dandelion in 1924 as "the more it is trampled on, the more it grows."

Two Firsts In Hereford

Hereford registered two first crops of the year Friday as the first loads of harvested wheat and barley came to local elevators. At left, Martin Wagner, who lives a mile and a half south of town, raises the hatch to dump the first load of wheat as Joe Artho, manager of Hereford Grain Company looks on. At right, Arnold Betzen stands to the left of his truck as Norbert (Skip) Skypala raises the hatch to dump the first load of barley at the Hereford Grain Company - Sears location. Both loads of the grains were just about a week ahead of when the harvesting begins to get into full swing. Both the wheat and barley weighed out good.

Blood Needed To Aid Victim

The blood mobile of Coffee Memorial Blood Bank in Amarillo will be in Hereford Wednesday to collect blood to aid Tom Timberlake, 21, who was severely burned recently in a butane explosion.

The mobile will be at the Community Center from 3-6 p.m. Wednesday and anyone wishing to donate blood to the Hereford man or to other Hereford persons may do so then. Several pints of blood are needed for Timberlake as he is expected to undergo a complete transfusion in Galveston's John Sealy Hospital.

The Hereford man received second and third degree burns along with Chris Kemp, 11, recently as the two were working with butane on a farm 23 miles west of Hereford.

Both were carried to Deaf Smith hospital in Hereford, to High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo and then transferred to Galveston this past week.

Commissioners To Face Varied Agenda Monday

Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court will face a six-item major agenda when it convenes in a special session at 10 a.m. Monday in the courthouse.

Commissioners are first expected to open bids for a new car for the sheriff's department and then discuss St. Joseph's Child Development Center.

A depository pledge contract with the bank is to be approved by the county and an endorsement of a Mental Health-Mental Retardation Center for Deaf Smith County is also anticipated. Architect Herb Brasher of Lubbock will meet with commissioners to discuss plans for the new library and the Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce will be represented before the county by President Jim Conkright and Pat Malone.

The commissioners met in regular session last Monday, but only approved bills and routine business before recessing the meeting until this Monday due to the death and funeral of Jeff Coleman, son of Commissioner Bruce Coleman.

A Big Bite

Going to the carnival is not complete without that big blob of cotton candy that gets on your fingers, arms and nose. Here Heather Couch was caught by the camera as she takes a big bite of her cotton web. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cal Couch who were visiting in Hereford with the Jim Witherspoons, Mrs. Couch's parents.

Two Fires Answered

Hereford Volunteer Firemen answered two calls this week with neither resulting in major damage.

Both calls came Thursday with the first being a car fire at the intersection of Park Avenue and Star Street.

Shortly before 1:30 p.m. Thursday firemen took one unit to Deaf Smith REC on U.S. 60 to wash down a gasoline spill near the gasoline pump for service vehicles of the business.

Board To Face Light Agenda Early Tuesday

Asks For Special Session

In a speech before a Stephenville farm audience, Texas Farmers Union president, Jay Naman of Waco, called on Gov. Dolph Briscoe to convene a special session of the legislature to deal with the financing of the public school system and the farm fuel crisis. Addressing the monthly meeting of the Erath County Farmers Union, Naman pointed out that the excessive property taxes which are being levied on agricultural land are imposing a discriminatory burden on farm and ranch producers. He pointed out that the educational demands on the rural areas are becoming increasingly difficult to meet with the antiquated property tax structure. Turning to the farm fuel problem, the farm leader said, "Reports of farm fuel shortages are becoming increasingly apparent as we move into the harvest season. It is obvious that unless some strong measures are taken by the federal government or by our state legislature, we could find the completion of harvest seriously hampered. The state-wide farm organization leader said that the present voluntary system of allocation of fuel is not working and urged that the Congress pass proposed emergency legislation to establish mandatory priorities. "In the absence of decisive action by our national Administration it is extremely important that Governor Briscoe call an emergency special session of the state legislature for the purpose of solving the Texas farm fuel crisis. Each day that passes moves us closer to the deplorable situation where combines, cotton strippers, and other farm machinery could be idled in the fields. Are we going to wait until this happens before responsible people in government take action?", Naman asked.

School Board To Discuss Building

The Hereford School Board of Trustees will meet in special session at 6 a.m. Wednesday at the Caison House Restaurant to continue discussion of preliminary plans for the new elementary building. Lubbock architect Herb Brasher is expected to meet with the board to present detailed drawings of the general floor plan proposed for the new building which is to replace the present Central Elementary. The new building will be located on West Park Avenue. Brasher has met with the board recently to discuss plans of the building, but is expected to present more "concrete" drawings at the Wednesday called session.

Records Second Hole-In-1

Sparks fired an "ace" on the 140-yard, No. 5 hole at Pitman Municipal Golf Course Wednesday with Dean Herring, Herman Ford and Dan Cameron looking on with envy. The hole-in-one came just nine months after Sparks had sunk a similar shot on the same hole. And, you'd have to say the number "13" is lucky for Sparks since the shots came on Sept. 13 and June 13.

Sparks "choked up" on a 7-iron to make the hole-in-one shot here Wednesday afternoon. He is employed at Consumer's Fuel Co-Op Association. The ace was the second of the year at the city links, with O.H. Seamands claiming the other on March 22. Seven aces were recorded here in 1972.

Tech Coaches Highlight Red Raider Club Day Here

Golfing winners were announced and Texas Tech coaches outlined football and basketball prospects at a Red Raider Club dinner here Wednesday evening at Hereford Country Club. The Red Raider Cup Matches were held Wednesday afternoon with two teams tying for first-place honors with low-ball scores of 62. WINNING trophies, after a flip of the coin, were team members Leete Jackson, J.A. McWhorter, Shorty Roark and Burns Hamilton. The other top foursome was composed of Dick Tubb, Gerald Myers, Richard Bell and Speedy Nieman. Tubb carded a 69 to capture medalist honors, while Roark was low handicapper after firing a 72 and winding up with a net 63 score. Dave Hopper and Clint Formby, local Red Raider Club members, presided at the dinner meeting. Leete Jackson, executive director of the club, introduced the visiting Lubbock delegation. Tech coaches present included Gerald Myers, head basketball; and assistants Richard Bell, football; Corky Oglesby, basketball; George Davison, basketball; and Vernon Hilliard, head track.

BURL HUFFMAN, "elder statesman" of the Raider staff, stole the show with a humorous talk to close the meeting. Jackson paid high tribute to Huffman in his introduction. Bell, assistant Raider football coach, outlined prospects for the next season, reporting that Tech feels it has reached the position "where we can line up on the field against any major college team." Big question mark for the Raiders will be the offensive line, he stated. Myers, coach of the SWC champion team, reported the Raisers lost only three players but will have to come up with some strong forward play. He thinks the SWC will be stronger overall, this coming season. "If the team can keep the attitude and desire we had last year, we'll be a strong contender," he emphasized. MYERS recognized Raider recruits Keith Kitchens and Luther Mays, who were special guests at the meeting. Kitchens inked a basketball scholarship with Tech, and Mays signed a track scholarship. Mays will also tryout for the basketball squad. Jackson told local Raider supporters that Tech athletes are doing well in the classroom. The latest dean's honor roll included the names of 68 athletes, he reported.

Tax Outlook Bleak For Next Session

While the 1973 Legislature managed to avoid a tax bill, outlook for 1975 is "bleak," with new revenue needs ranging up to $700 million, according to Texas Research League.

La. Gov. Bill Hobby earlier came up with a similar gloomy estimate of a $533 million tax boost during the next regular legislative session, but Gov. Dolph Briscoe declined to agree.

According to Texas Research League, state spending from key funds is expected to increase by $550 million in 1976-77, and the increase could run as high as $850 million to $1 billion.

Revenues, meanwhile, are due to rise $550 million to $625 million over the present biennium.

However, TRL cautions these factors must also be considered:

—Federal revenue sharing funds (which accounted for $316 million of 1974-75 income) will drop by at least $100 million, because Texas received a three-year allocation to spend in a two-year period for the current budget.

—An estimated $156 million surplus at the beginning of the next biennium will decrease from $75 million to $100 million depending on bills signed by Briscoe.

"With the highest projected spending increase ($1,050 billion), the 1975 Legislature apparently would find itself faced with the need to find $600-$700 million in additional biennial revenues," said a new TRL report. "Even an $850 million spending hike, means projecting a biennial revenue need of $400-$500 million."

If the next legislature decides to overhaul school finance formulas, a biennial cost increase of perhaps another $300 million can be anticipated, TRL concluded.

Briscoe, at the national governors conference in Nevada, refused to be pessimistic and promised budgeting innovations and other economy moves which he feels can check a tax boost.

DIM VIEW OF CONSTITUTION CHANGE
County officials are getting together to fight any constitutional change which would drastically alter county government, according to Judge Robert W. Calvert, chairman of the Texas Constitutional Revision Commission.

Following hearings in Corpus Christi, Calvert said he sees "an incipient opposition to any suggested changes in county government."

He cited three letters from county officials expressing a dim view toward tampering with their jobs. Calvert said the Commission is committed to no course on the subject.

The 37-member body is concluding its hearings over the state and will make recommendations to the legislature next November. Lawmakers will sit as a constitutional convention next year. Calvert urged legislators to attend the hearings in eight cities this month. Committees will begin drafts on conclusion of the public discussions.

The remainder of the constitutional hearings are set as follows: Friday, June 15, Beaumont, Orange and Port Arthur; Thursday, June 21, Abilene; Friday, June 22, Wichita Falls; Thursday, June 28, Waco; and Friday, June 29, Austin.

COURTS SPEAK
Unsafe conditions in public housing units are grounds for suits where tenants are injured, the State Supreme Court held in a case growing out of a death due to a defective heater.

In another case, the High Court upheld lower court judgments of $197,500 in damages against Mobil Pipeline Company on behalf of the family of a Mobil Oil Company employee who died in a Beaumont explosion.

The U. S. Supreme Court in Washington, meanwhile, upheld a Texas law requiring immunization of school children against several diseases. The top court ruled 7-2 that states cannot indirectly tax liquor sales on U. S. military bases.

AG OPINIONS
County commissioners can spend county funds to provide for parking and a service building for county-owned vehicles and parking for the public having business in the courthouse, Atty. Gen. John Hill concluded:

—In an election contest, on notice of appeal, district clerks should prepare a transcript and forward it to the court of civil appeals clerk before delivering it to attorneys for the appellant.
—The Board of Chiropractic Examiners can adopt rules limiting the size of newspaper advertisements by chiropractors.
—County clerks are not authorized to set filing fees for discovery proceedings if an action is still pending on the docket at the time the proceedings are instituted.

Junior Golf Winners

Terry Fuller, left, of Amarillo won first place in the older division (16-17) of the West Texas Junior Golf Tourney here Thursday at Pitman Municipal Golf Course. Runner-up berth went to Richard Worley, also of Amarillo. A total of 46 boys entered the tourney in three age divisions. The junior tour continues through the summer, with 47 matches to be played.

Golf Tourney Played

The West Texas Junior Golf Tournament came to Hereford Thursday with 46 youngsters vying for honors in three age divisions.

Terry Fuller of Amarillo captured first place in the 16-17 age division, shooting a 72. Richard Worley of Amarillo also carded a 72, but lost to Fuller on the second extra hole.

There was a three-way tie at 76 in the 14-15 age group, and Greg Weathered of Plainview emerged as the winner on the second hole of a sudden-death playoff. Bryan Garner of Canyon took the runner-up trophy, and Bill Turner of Canyon finished third.

Peter Dallas of Amarillo won the 12-13 bracket by shooting an 83. Three players tied for the runner-up spot, and Kenny Garrison of Amarillo won the playoff. He was tied with Greg Padgett of Hereford and John McClure of Lubbock at 89.

The junior tourney is scheduled in 47 towns this summer and winds up Aug. 13. The Tourney of Champions will then be staged in Lubbock Aug. 16-17.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

JUST AS FAST AS they answer their telephones, we are talking to women's club presidents in Hereford and asking their cooperation in getting information for club histories to The Brand for inclusion in the special edition which will be our part in celebrating the city's Diamond Jubilee.

We want to write a story about every club, large or small, old or new. Each president, of course, will have to get help from the club historian or perhaps from members of long standing, to assure an accurate account of club accomplishments through the years.

In case your club hasn't been reached yet, we want just facts, perhaps jotted down in note form, rather than attempts to "write it up," so it needn't be a writing chore.

And we definitely don't want the historian to bring all the club scrapbooks, minute books and other records to our office and tell us, "It's all in here."

THE NOTES WE NEED would include date of the club's organization and why it was organized—its purpose; names of charter members, if available; list of first officers and of presidents who have served since; and most important, what it has accomplished in the past and is doing now.

That final point can stress its contributions to community service, and to the social and cultural life of the city.

Mainly, we need this information just as soon as possible, for we are already at work on the special edition and must continue that work, fitting it around the task of getting out the usual two papers every week.

The deadline is July 13, but that means the absolutely last day to send notes in—not the time we want them. That time is now.

AN UNUSUAL CALL for help, unusual for a library, that is, was made this week by Lorene Newman, librarian, who says the County Library needs space to park a trailer and work on converting it into a float for the Jubilee parade.

It doesn't need the trailer; that has already been donated, but if you know of a barn or warehouse or some such building, with some vacant space, Mrs. Newman would certainly like to hear of it.

Also, when the place is found, the staff hopes library patrons will volunteer to help with the decorating.

AFTER THEY BOTH attended an annual Cousins Reunion in Wichita Falls, Opal Bookout brought home as a guest last week her cousin, Eula Mae Hayton of Dallas. The visitor was here until Friday.

A VOICE ON THE PHONE the other day inquired where women can get the costumes to be worn during Diamond Jubilee events, and to promote the celebration scheduled in August. Maybe others don't know, also.

Mrs. O.G. Hill Jr. is chairman of the dress committee, Mrs. Marcus Hoelscher of the sunbonnet committee.

If a Celebration Belles chapter is being organized, the supplies including organization sheets, certificates, bonnets and badges for the members, are in charge of Mrs. R.C. Hoelscher and Mrs. Terry Schoenhard.

Mrs. Robert Josseland and Mrs. Richard Ottesen are co-chairmen of the Celebration Belles committee.

PESTS—How To Control And Recognize:

The damage is a dead giveaway. A chewed leaf, curly leaf, sticky leaf, spotted leaf, damaged stem, wilt, discoloration, bad development of blooms and a sick looking plant. All of these signs are warnings to the gardener to start steps for attack on the enemies.

Early morning is the best time to check for these signs on your plants. An occasional check will not suffice, it should be consistent. The soil under mulches should also be checked for signs of pest invasions.

Some of the pests are rather sneaky as they attack during the night. Some of the night invaders:

Earwigs, ugly tweezer-tailed insects which feed at random on leaves, fruit and paper cloth. They hide during the day under pots, boxes, trash, around house foundation, fences and anywhere they can find protection. Some even are bold enough to come into the house. To control, spray the soil and hiding places, or use earwig bait.

Slugs and snails: Chew large irregular holes in leaves and flowers. They especially delight in attacking new buds. One of their favorite plants is daffodils when they are in bud, they also are active during the summer on tender trailing vines, ground covers and some flowering plants.

Plant doctors suggest that Bug-geta pellets be scattered throughout the garden. In Amarillo last year when they were so bad, I was told that one of the preventives was to place open containers of beer in their path... they really go for this.

It is easy to trail them because they make a thread-like path on sidewalks, etc. and containers placed in their paths are inviting. These are more numerous where ground is moist and sour.

Cutworms also come out at night, chew plant stems, cut off young seedlings or tender fruit. Their hiding place is in the soil and it is suggested that soil be treated with chlordane. Be sure and strictly follow directions. Some gardeners use halves of oranges and grapefruit rinds.

Make mixture of cornmeal or oatmeal, poison this mixture and place on ground and cover with the half rinds. The pests will hibernate under the rind and eat the poisoned materials.

UNDERGROUND ATTACKERS... Grubs and other beetles' larvae; the larvae of the cucumber beetle, Japanese beetle, Asiatic beetle, and rose beetle feed on roots. To fight these, treatment of the soil is necessary.

Root mealybugs are similar to leaf mealybugs but attack roots of lawn grasses, annuals, perennials and shrubs. Before planting soil should be carefully studied for signs of these.

Treatment of root ball by drenching around plants with recommended insecticides is a preventive. Also treat plants as well as roots. Make sure that soil which surrounds the plant is thoroughly saturated.

Wireworms: The larvae of click beetles live in the soil from one to three years before emerging as adults. They bore into bulbs, tubers, corms, roots and plant stems. Treat soil as for the above root pests.

A must to remember and practice, is that one should never spray or treat for garden pests without first knowing something about the insecticide which is being used. Read and study carefully the directions on container. Then use as directed.

It is well to remember one can be too slow in applying preventive, as insects develop fast, work fast, and if not checked when first seen treatment will not be effective.

As the old saying goes, there is a time and a place to do everything right... strike when the time is ready.

Good maintenance, purchase of first class materials, loving watchful care when practiced will aid greatly as preventive measures. Good grooming is also very important. This advice and descriptions may all seem rather buggy but when the first flowers are cut for an arrangement, or to share with a friend, one is well paid.

How to make cut flowers last longer... It is always delightful to enjoy an arrangement of lovely cut flowers. The past weeks it has been my pleasure to see many beautifully arranged flowers which made the occasions very festive.

By practicing some of the following tips, it is possible to enjoy cut flowers longer.

1. Select flowers for cutting that are not fully open. 2. Cut flowers in late evening. 3. Use sharp knife or shears, cut stems at a slant. Remember, when cutting roses, make cuts just above the second five-leaflet from the bottom of stem.

4. Wash and groom cut flowers carefully. Remove lower leaves from the stems. If stems are woody, crush the ends with a hammer, and place flowers in tap water. Do not crowd the stems or crush the remaining foliage. All stems should have sufficient space to be able to drink well of the water. Store in a cool place overnight, or if needed sooner at least let stand in the water for hours or longer.

5. Arrange for the selected placement and be sure that arrangement is not placed in direct sunlight or in a draft. Change water and re-cut stems every other day... and enjoy the beauties of your garden.

This is really the fun time of the year for me. I get to visit in gardens, talk with people about garden problems, and also share some of their pleasure and satisfaction in gardening.

Visits in the following gardens were enjoyable and profitable. One of the most interesting is that of the garden of the Bill Hutsons. Bea has that certain something that makes everything attractive and interesting.

Especially enjoyed the wonderful trees which are the keynote of the entire landscape. They are silver leaf maples, and make one want to sit under their spreading shade and just enjoy the beauties not only of the garden but also the fields nearby.

Another very attractive and well kept garden is that of the Hilton Higgins. Peggy and I almost always talk gardening when we visit. The rose garden was immaculately groomed. Am sure that it is a real picture of beauty now that the roses are in bloom.

In the front yard there is one of the most beautiful and well grown spruce trees in Deaf Smith County. I almost stood in awe as I looked at this lovely creation. It seemed that all good garden practices had been used in this very attractive home landscaping.

As always the gardens at the Grace Roberson home looked as if they had just been carefully groomed. The climbing roses not only created beauty with blooms, but the patterns of their growth on the garden walls were intricate and good to look at.

To those who like trees, it will be a real thrill to see the gorgeous catalpa trees, on East Fourth and Fifth Streets. To the old timers, they will remember these by the Carl Gilliland property (trees were probably planted by the Gillilands).

The trees are in full bloom, and the symmestery of growth is a pattern of perfection etched against the azure sky.

Thanks for calls, visits, and letters. Glad is always glad when she can render a service and help in any way. If I can't answer your questions, I will study and search until I come up with something.

NOTE: Be sure and place orders for spring flowering bulbs with a member of The Pioneer Study Club. They have amaryllis bulbs added to the list this year. Orders must be in by July 31.

If you have a real beauty spot in your garden, light it up at night.

Statisticians Work With Scientists

With the advent of the knowledge explosion, abetted by computers, the world could be awash in unusable statistics if it were not for specialists who develop theories to handle the data flood.

Working with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration are teams of statisticians from several universities who are succeeding in making heads-and-tails of the massive amounts of information received by the remote sensing instruments used to take measurements of the earth's resources.

now and use this information to protect those resources while, at the same time, providing for public use and enjoyment of the area.

whenever the scanner is used," Boullion explained, "that theory has to be developed to handle the numbers and make them meaningful."

statisticians is not limited to earth resources studies. Boullion said the theories can be used in industry, medicine, social fields — wherever great quantities of data are obtained by remote monitoring. NASA sponsored their development, Boullion said, because the agency was receiving more data than could be handled by previously known theories.

MOST PEOPLE NEED some system to remind them when to do things. Systems vary from one person to another. Bulletin boards, calendars, files, diaries and date books are popular. Note pads and pencils near telephones, in the kitchen and other "date or idea places" also help.

Bulletin boards — seen around many homes — provide space for daily reminders and occasional or special events. After the event is over, remove the reminder from the board to avoid clutter.

Calendars — either large or small — also are useful tools. Simply circling dates reminds some people of coming events. Larger, more convenient calendars have enough space for special events. In addition, diaries and date books are available — in sizes ranging from desk-size to purse-size.

Another possibility to help keep track of upcoming events is a file. All appointments, reminders, etc., are recorded on cards and filed by month. Just before the first of each month, the cards are pulled and information transferred to a monthly calendar or bulletin board for easy reference. Cards with recurring dates are refilled.

File cards also serve as gift suggestion cards. When a person expresses a desire, it's noted on his file card as a possible gift.

Each individual should use the method that comes most natural — it will work best for him.

MRS. WAYNE PHILLIPS made delicious sausage miniatures for a party. They are delicious with coffee or as accompaniments for salads. These sausage miniatures can be made from commercial biscuit mix or from mix that you've made.

SAUSAGE MINIATURES
Cook 1 pound sausage, stirring until it crumbles; drain off all fat. Mix 2 cups biscuit mix according to directions.

Work in crumbled sausage and 1/2 c. grated cheddar cheese. Shape in miniature biscuits and bake at 450 degrees for 12 minutes.

CHERRY SALAD
1 can sour pitted cherries
1 can pineapple tidbits
8 T. corn starch
1/4 t. salt
1 T. red food coloring
2 c. sugar (or sugar substitute)
1 t. vanilla
6 bananas
1 c. chopped pecans
Drain cherries and pineapple; add enough water to liquid to make 2 cups, add corn starch, salt, food coloring, sugar, vanilla and cherries, mixing well after each addition; cook until very thick, stirring often. Stir pineapple into thickened mixture; set aside until very cool, then stir in diced bananas and chopped pecans; pour in 1 3/4 x 8 1/2 x 2" dish; chill overnight or until set. Top with 2 envelopes whipped topping, whipping cream or cool whip.

WEEKEND FOOD SPECIALS influence family budgets in varying degrees. Although weekend specials are good values money-wise, whether they're good values for the family is something else. Each family is different — so evaluate specials in terms of the family.

As a rule of thumb, if specials fit family "likes", other eating plans and time schedules, they're good money values. As such, work them into the week's menus. Plan menus well enough to make up a shopping list.

A "real special" — a good food investment — is an often-used item which keeps well and can be stored at home. When shopping, read labels carefully, compare brands, grades and sizes. Also keep in mind each item's use.

As for a store's other prices, they aren't raised to compensate for the specials. Its overall pricing structure is designed to include weekend special prices on a few items.

How many featured specials a shopper buys will vary from week to week — depending on whether or not they can be used. One week he or she may buy several special items — another week none.

Therefore, overall effect on a family's budget isn't continuous. On weeks when specials are bought heavily, the budget is stretched considerably — whereas when few or none are purchased, it's affected little.

FRAUDS AND DECEITS are common because consumers "want to get something for nothing." A frequently-used technique is the "bait and switch game". A certain item — the "bait" — is advertised at a low price, yet a salesman tries to sell the consumer a different, more expensive item — the "switch".

These tactics occur everywhere — but especially prominent in sales of carpeting, furniture, swimming pools, used cars, sides of beef, automobile transmission repairs, lawnmowers, television sets and all types of home improvements.

Consumers who experience the "bait and switch game" should alert the Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's Office or the Credit Commissioners Office, both in Austin — to help eliminate this illegal practice.

Six definite signs of a salesman playing the "bait and switch game" are:
—Refusing to show, demonstrate or sell advertised merchandise, for one reason or another.

—Criticizing or downgrading the advertised product — but praising a similar, more expensive one.

—He's "out of stock" for the advertised special, but has a lot of an expensive product.

—Refusing to take orders of out-of-stock items at the advertised special price.

—Advertised merchandise is defective or impractical.

—Salesman accepts deposit on advertised merchandise, then attempts to sell a similar, higher-priced item.

PREPARE A CHILD for a trip to the doctor of dentist — there's no joy in a surprise visit. At least give him some advance notice, whether it's an office or hospital call. Surprise visits tend to upset children rather than reduce anxiety. To avoid this, begin preparation about a week before the appointment. Tell the child when and what will probably happen. Indicate that although pain may occur, it won't last long.

Relate your own experiences — but not at length. Certain details may only frighten him more.

Answer any questions truthfully and reassure him before the actual event. Preparing a child for a visit also aids the doctor. An unprepared child may have difficulty coping with what takes place in the office or hospital.

Working with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration are teams of statisticians from several universities who are succeeding in making heads-and-tails of the massive amounts of information received by the remote sensing instruments used to take measurements of the earth's resources.

Texas Tech University furnishes one of the teams, and it is co-directed by Dr. Thomas Boullion, chairman of the university's inter-disciplinary statistics faculty. It is the team's job to develop theories which give meaning to the data received at the Space Center.

The application of their theories eventually results in man's ability to monitor his environment.

FARMERS, FOR instance, can receive early warnings of disease which might be attacking crops — warnings that come long before the man in the field notices a change.

More specifically, the National Park Service can know what the natural resources of Guadalupe National Park are

Class Picks Teacher For 13th Year

For the 13th year, Mrs. Johnie Townsend was elected to teach the Victory Class of Avenue Baptist Sunday School, when officers for the coming year were chosen Thursday. Mrs. Bill West was named to a second term as president. Others elected were Mrs. Herman Hendrix, vice president; Mrs. G. W. Duncan, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Bill Wall, class secretary with Mrs. C. E. Coleman as assistant; Mrs. George Petree and Mrs. Carlyle Sargent, group captains. On the yearbook committee are Mmes. Hendrix, James Welch and Coleman. Mrs. Gaylon Bryan was chosen outreach leader. A day of visiting was planned for June 25, when members will meet at the church at 9:30 a.m. to visit newcomers, prospective members, the ill and shut-in. Mrs. Bryan was hostess for the business meeting in SWPS Reddy Room.

Beef Cut Winners Are Announced

Winners in the drawing for beef cuts, conducted Wednesday after Hereford CowBelles served beef tidbits to shoppers in food stores here, have been announced by Marn Tyler, chairman of the Beef For Father's Day campaign sponsored by the organization. They are Mrs. E.W. Young, Virginia Wheeler, Maria Zuniga, Janie Limas, Doris Dobbs, Marie McQueary and Ruby Hutson of Hereford, and Mrs. Lewis Womble of Amarillo.

Edith Davis Ordained

Edith Stephanie Davis has been ordained a deacon in the United Methodist Church at the recent 64th session of the Northwest Texas Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church. She graduated from Hereford High School in 1967. She attended Texas Tech where she received her BBA in 1972. She attended St. Paul's School of Theology and has been serving a church at Independence, Mo.

CERTIFIED—Mrs. Ed Ronnberg, formerly of Hereford, this week received a certificate from the Kansas State Board of Nursing as a licensed practical nurse. Mr. and Mrs. Ronnberg now live in Scott City, Kan., where he is employed in a cattle feed manufacturing plant. Phyllis Ronnberg became a licensed vocational nurse in 1972 after graduation with a class in Hereford.

Company announces educational grant
Exxon Education Foundation has awarded a $67,000 grant to Carleton College, Northfield, Minn., for a project to continue and extend information, analysis and management systems for the school. The two-year study will utilize the college's computer and students will be assisting in the programming.

Hereford residents filled the Bull Barn Thursday and Friday nights to bid on the auction items at the Lions Club auction for the Opportunity Plan program. Auctioneer Arvel Williams, right, led the bidders through the more than 200 items donated by local merchants. The auction ended at about 11 p.m. Friday with Lions earning $3,010 for the Opportunity Plan.

Who'll Give Me Five, Five...

Lions Donate To Boys Ranch

Hereford Lions Club presented a special donation to Boys Ranch, through the Dory Funk Sr. Memorial Fund, during a regular luncheon meeting Wednesday at Civic Club Center.

Mrs. Gene Harriman, daughter of the late Cal Farley, accepted the contribution for Boys Ranch. She cited the work and support Funk had given the Ranch before his recent death. Nolan Grady, Lions president, said the contribution represented proceeds from last Saturday night's wrestling program.

GUEST SPEAKER for the club meeting Wednesday was Douglas A. Lapins, general manager of the Dimmitt plant of Amstar Corporation. He outlined the history of the local plant, as well as the structure of Amstar.

The Dimmitt plant, commonly called a starch plant, was conceived and created by a Dimmitt farm cooperative. Amstar, formerly American Sugar Refining Co., took in Spreckels Sugar and other properties and changed its name to Amstar in 1970.

He noted the corporation is now involved in producing syrups, sugar, starch, sweeteners, and paper products. The Dimmitt plant was leased from the cooperative for a 24-year period, and Lapins said the plant is starting a $2-million expansion program. The Dimmitt plant retained essentially the same production staff, he noted.

RAYMOND White, outgoing district governor from Hereford, made several presentations at the meeting. Jim Holmes was cited for district work with the Leo Club;

To Address Jaycees

Tommy Bowling was named for outstanding work with the local Leo Club, and Grady was cited for being one of the outstanding club presidents in the district.

Dale Jones was introduced as a new member, and several visitors and guests were recognized.

Grady also announced that no meeting will be held next Wednesday. A "ladies' night" dinner is scheduled Thursday night at 7:30 in the Civic Club Center. Installation of new officers will be held at the meeting.

U.S. Senator John Tower of Wichita Falls will be the featured speaker at the Texas Jaycees Five Outstanding Young Texans Awards Banquet at Victoria, July 28, 1973.

Tower's speech at the forthcoming banquet will keynote an impressive ceremony that annually honors five outstanding young men between the ages of 21-35. Jaycee chapters across Texas are submitting nominees for this prestigious award.

The young men honored by the Texas Jaycees will be submitted to the U.S. Jaycees for further honors in the competition for Ten Outstanding Young Men of America.

Men named as one of the Five Outstanding Young Texans in previous years include: Lewis Timberlake, Austin, 1966; William P. Hobby, Jr., Houston, 1965; Van Cliburn, Kilgore, 1958; Dolph Briscoe, Jr., Uvalde, 1958, and George Bush, Houston, 1956.

Many young men selected by the Texas Jaycees have been named as Ten Outstanding Young Men of America honorees.

Ancient cemeteries containing thousands of embalmed cats have been found all over Egypt.

George Washington Carver found 300 new commercial uses for the peanut.

Vacation Bible School

Mrs. Eddie Morton will conduct Vacation Bible School classes this week at Grace Gospel Church with the help of her ventriloquist son, Eddie Lynn. The classes will be held from 9 to 11 a.m., Monday through Friday at the church located at 13th St. and Ave. K. Children from age three years are invited to attend.

'Non-Work' Choice Of Local Men

How many Deaf Smith County men are non-workers by choice?

How many in the local area, over age 16, are unoccupied—neither working, nor looking for work nor going to school? As in most parts of the nation, their number is increasing, year by year.

According to the latest figures from the U. S. Department of Commerce, there are now some 545 men, locally, in this inactive class. Of this total, 270 are under 65 and 275 over 65.

They represent 9.7 per cent of the over-16 population. Elsewhere across the country the average is 14.9 per cent.

For the most part, they are people who have a source of income or who have acquired sufficient resources or financial backing to enable them to not-work, often at a comparatively early age.

Although there are many among them who are unable to work because of physical or mental conditions and although there are some shirkers who rely upon the rest of society to provide for them, the great majority are quite different. Because their funds are adequate for their needs, they don't have to work and they don't choose to do so.

Throughout the United States as a whole, the total in the non-work, non-school category is close to 10 million, the Commerce Department reports. It compares with 6,900,000 in 1960. More than half of them are 65 or older.

In Deaf Smith County, some 47.9 per cent of the male population over 65 are still in the labor force. Nationally, the figures show, 24.8 per cent remain on the active rolls. What keeps the others going financially? Outside of savings, interest, private pensions, dividends and other income from investments, their chief source of funds is government "transfer payments."

These include social security, unemployment insurance, welfare and veterans benefits. During the past year, when personal income in the United States amounted to $936 billion, no less than $104 billion of it came from transfer payments, according to the Commerce Department.

Chiefly because of these payments, retirement has become feasible for more and more people. As a result, the proportion of non-workers to workers has been rising.

Three Accidents Highlight Week For Local Police

Hereford police officers investigated three accidents during a rather slow week.

Police dispatchers also received numerous calls of complaints from Hereford residents, including one burglary and a theft. The burglary involved a loss of $15 from a residence when someone pulled a screen loose and broke out a window to gain admittance.

The reported theft was after a gun and holster was reported to police as missing one morning this week.

Police also checked out complaints of youth shooting air rifle "BB" guns; arrested one man for drunkenness in control of a motor vehicle and investigated several reports of stray dogs barking.

About 6:40 p.m. Wednesday officers investigated an accident at Avenue D and Grand Street involving a 1973 Oldsmobile driven by Alta Harrison Thomas of 322 Avenue S and a 1959 Chevrolet driven by Raul Carrillo Deleon of 417 Barrett. Shortly before 2 p.m. Thursday an accident was reported in the 200-block of Avenue D when a 1972 Chevrolet parked at the residence of 229 Avenue D and owned by Ricardo Luis Naves was hit by a 1972 Ford driven by Gail W. Richardson, Rt. 3.

Another accident was reported to officers about 10 minutes after 2 p.m. at the intersection of Park Avenue and Avenue C.

A 1963 Pontiac driven by Victoria H. Mireles, 607 Irving, was in collision with a 1968 Chevrolet driven by Mary Viola Baca of 114 Sunset.

ALONG THE FRIO

By MRS. OWEN ANDREWS
Brand Correspondent

A group of teenage girls attended camp Wednesday through Friday at Plains Baptist Assembly. Their sponsors were Mrs. Ronnie Andrews and Mrs. Chesley Johnston. Girls going were Lynette Andrews, Rhonda White, Linda West, Staci Robinson, Carla Sue Dobbins and Kathy Waldrip.

Rocky Andrews and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Andrews, went to Goodwell, Okla. Thursday. Rocky enrolled at Oklahoma A&M college there and made other arrangements or entering school for the fall semester. He was awarded a scholarship to that school, at graduation from Hereford High this spring.

Mrs. W. H. Andrews spent the weekend with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Lonzo Shannon, at Lubbock. Mrs. Shannon is finishing a course in nursing, has trained at both Methodist and St. Marys Hospitals and will be an LVN at the conclusion of training in the early fall.

W. H. Andrews visited Thursday until Monday with his relatives in the Marlowe, Okla. vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ford and the J. R. Porters of Claude visited the Ogans, the Jack Andrews and Marsh Pitmans, Sunday. A member of their family was in Hi Plains Hospital at the same time Mrs. Ogan was there when she was burned last year.

Todd Taylor came from Memphis, Tenn., recently to spend the summer with his father, Dee Taylor, and others of the family including great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Brooks. Todd injured his foot in an accident with his minibike, the first of the week, and had to stay in the hospital over night after having stitches in his toe and care to a broken toe. He is doing fine, and enjoying all the attention.

Annette Thomason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buster Thomason, underwent corrective surgery in an Amarillo hospital Tuesday. She was improving enough to return home the last of the week. Thomason's mother, Mrs. Earl Thomason of Spur, came to stay with Buster and Royce after the operation, while Mrs. Buster Thomason was staying in Amarillo with Annette.

Vacation Bible school enrollment had increased to 110 by the end of the week and daily average attendance was 96. The commencement Friday evening was well attended as the children, nursery through junior age, sang and recited for visiting parents and friends. Refreshments, viewing hand-work and visiting filled the evening.

Recently moving into the community are Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hill. They moved to the house on the Reinauer farm, about three miles south of Hereford. Mrs. Hill, the former Patty Simpson, teaches in the Hereford school system. Hill is employed with Friona Feed Yards. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Hill of Lubbock, have visited them, recently spending a weekend with them.

So you've decided to sell your own house. Here's a little basic reading you should do first.

You might start with "Real Estate" by Husband and Anderson, 868 pages of theoretical (and rather stuffy) real estate principles. Then you really should read "The Real Estate Handbook," a definitive volume of the basic ABCs of real property sales and management. And of course "Advertising Real Estate Successfully" and "Mortgage Lending" cover a few of the specialized areas that will be important to you. And naturally, if you hope to get top dollar for your home, you should at least browse through "The Power of Creative Selling."

Or, you can phone a local Hereford area Realtor. He's probably already read all these books. More important, he's practiced what they preach. It's his business to know local and state codes, salesmanship, money availability and the hundreds of other things necessary for successful real estate practice.

Think about it: doesn't it make more sense to trust your valuable property to a professional?

Chips Off The Old Blocks

JUST LIKE DAD! is the chief ambition of most small boys and many older sons, but it does not always refer to physical resemblance. A boy may be much like his father and still not look like him; however, numerous father-son pairs may be found in Hereford with appearance so similar that they often hear the comment, "That boy's a real chip off the old block!" A few of them faced the camera for Father's Day photos.

IDENTICAL GRINS underline the resemblance between a young son and his father, above, and an older pair, below. Herbert Brunns and four-year-old Hilrey are pictured in the living room of their home, 406 Avenue C. C.E. Coleman is shown with Ricky, who will be a senior in Hereford High School next year.

EVEN A BEARD can't dispel the similarity of features in Dr. Weslie Owen and his son, Wesley, who is getting ready for college after graduation from Hereford High this spring. They chat in the den of the Owen home, 109 Douglas.

OUTDOOR TYPES BOTH, Larry Wartes and son Mike were asked to pose in the backyard of their home, 236 Northwest. Wartes, administrative assistant to the superintendent of Hereford Public Schools, is a former coach and Mike is an outstanding athlete now attending West Texas State University.

Vogel-Koenig Marriage Is Read Friday Evening

Nuptial mass for Miss Julie Ann Vogel and Daniel Joseph Koenig was recited by the Rev. John Kiesling Friday evening in St. Anthony's Catholic church, where sunny yellow and white flowers decorated the altars. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Vogel, 305 Stadium Drive, and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Koenig, southwest of Hereford.

Satin bows marked the middle aisle of the church sanctuary and altar bouquets were of Killian daisies and white gladiolas massed in green foliage. White tapers in gold candelabra lighted the altar where marriage vows were exchanged.

Attended by her sisters, Mrs. Lynn Brisendine of Lamesa as matron of honor, Misses Carole and Kathy Vogel as bridesmaids, Miss Vogel was given in marriage by her father.

Richard Koenig of Austin was his brother's best man, with Wayne and Phillip Koenig as groomsmen, Ronnie Reiter and Joe Paetzold ushers.

Young members of the wedding were Denise, daughter of the James Paetzolds, flower girl, and the bride's small brother, Rickie, ring bearer.

Mrs. Jim Cramer, organist, accompanied Mrs. Jonny Cloud, who sang More, The Lord's Prayer and On This Day.

Mrs. Brisendine's wedding veil was worn by her sister as part of her bridal costume. Her dress of satin organza had a venise lace overlay on the fitted bodice. Narrow bands of the lace run with buttercup yellow ribbon trimmed the circle neckline, and headed wide flounces at the skirt hemline and around the chapel train.

Long full sleeves were caught at the wrist by deep lace cuffs, and soft gathers held skirt fullness. The veil fell from a lace coil embroidered with seed pearls.

Her only jewelry was a diamond necklace, gift of the bridegroom. She carried a romanticist cascade of daisy pompons, yellow carnations and babybreath.

Bridesmaids' dresses repeated the color note. Long yellow skirts fell to a hemline flounce and white lace bodices had long puffed sleeves. Headpieces matched the skirts, and flowers were daisy pompons and babybreath in nosegays edged with white ruffles.

Receiving guests with the couple after the ceremony, the bride's mother wore a floorlength dress in bluebell tint braided in silver on collar, cuffs and waistline, while the bridegroom's mother chose a shirtwaist dress in pink with long sheer sleeves.

Each had white orchid corsage tied with ribbons to match her dress. Grandmothers of the couple had corsages of yellow carnations.

At the reception in the Knights of Columbus Hall, Mrs. Joe Paetzold and Miss Patsy Paetzold cut the wedding cake while Mrs. Ronnie Reiter and Mrs. Wayne Reinart served punch. Miss Souad Malouf invited guests to register.

Misses Rose Warren, Margaret Schilling and Chris Marnell were also among houseparty members, who all wore daisy pompon corsages.

A candelabra arrangement with yellow and white daisy pompons tied with loveknots and streamers, centered the lace-covered table where the tiered wedding cake was set on a reflector with a base of four heart-shaped cakes. Kissing angel figurines were between the tiers and a cluster of wedding bells on the top tier.

Leaving on a trip to the Dallas area, Mrs. Koenig had changed to a green and blue plaid pantsuit and wore a corsage from her bouquet.

After June 22 the couple will be at home at 519-A Avenue H. Both are employed in Hereford and both graduated from high school here. The bride has attended Texas Tech and the bridegroom studied in Oklahoma State Tech.

Evening Church Wedding Ceremony Is Conducted

Daisies studded an arch of foliage flanked by candelabra holding white tapers, the background for the wedding ceremony of Miss Linda Gayle Manley and Dennis Mark Moseley Friday evening.

White carnations, gladiolas and babybreath in bouquets on either side completed the altar setting in Avenue Baptist Church where the Rev. Norman MacDonald, pastor, conducted the service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G.L. Manley of 901 Fifteenth, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jake Moseley of Route 1.

Sisters and brothers of the couple were their attendants. Mrs. Jim Mills of Abernathy was her sister's matron of honor, Larry Moseley the best man, Miss Valerie Moseley bridesmaid and Troy Manley of Phoenix groomsmen.

John Eslinger and Floyd Roundashell of Amarillo served as ushers. Candles were lighted before the ceremony by Kelly and Stacey Mills, children of the Jim Mills.

Wedding music included the solo, One Hand One Heart, by Johnny Price with Mrs. Billy Wall as organist.

A traditional gown of peau de soie and Chantilly lace was worn by the bride, its fitted bodice styled with scalloped high neckline and lace sleeves molded to the arm, its bouffant skirt with a wide flounce of lace.

Three tiers of net were fitted under a lace headpiece to form the veil. The bridal bouquet of sweetheart roses and white carnations had pink ribbon streamers. A family keepsake, a watch which belonged to her late grandmother, was carried as the bride's luck piece.

In vivid pink peau de soie, the attendants' dresses were in empire style. Each carried a long-stemmed carnation tied with pink ribbon in bow and streamers. The couple and their parents received friends after the ceremony in the church fellowship hall.

The refreshment table, covered with lace over pink, was centered with white carnations.

Mrs. Herman O. Hendrix and Mrs. Larry Moseley served the wedding cake while Miss Barbara Anstey poured punch. Mrs. David Vines was at the

Mays discussed some of the problems and the needs of the with pink ribbon in bow and streamers. For a short trip, Mrs. Moseley wore a sleeveless pantsuit in red and white. After the trip the couple will be at home in Apartment 44, 1514 Forest.

The bride, an employe of Anthony's Mall Store, attended West Texas State University after graduation in 1971 from Hereford High.

Rocks, Antiques Both Appeal To Couple For Collections

By SANDY INMAN
Brand Staff Writer

ROCK HOUNDS, that's what they call rock collectors, but what do they call antique buffs? Mrs. Orland Newell and her husband collect both.

Their home is literally filled with antiques of all sorts. Many of the pieces she has acquired she didn't have to buy.

"I was given most of the articles I have and some I traded for," says Mrs. Newell. "I traded an old picture frame for a folding bookcase."

She has one heart-shaped picture frame which she has put pictures of her grandchildren in. She estimated it at about 50 years old. Another frame she has, dates back to the Civil War.

A BEAUTIFUL CARVED wooden pendulum clock she has had for about 10 years is over 75 years old. She also has a pharmacy scale that is 50 years old.

The key assortment she and her husband have accumulated, started with the first jail key from the old Hereford jail. She also has a key from the first jail at Spearman.

When she received the key from Spearman she noted that the lumber from the jail was freighted from Dodge City to that town in 1882. "That gives you an idea of the age of the key."

One of the display cases in which she has some of her older keys grouped was made for her by Mrs. Gary Gearm.

ROCK COLLECTING is of interest to both Mr. and Mrs. Newell. They also polish their own rocks. In explaining the procedure, she said it took approximately one month to polish rocks.

They have a polisher set up in a building attached to their garage which they run continuously. "The steps for polishing are time-consuming," she explained.

The polisher itself is about two feet long and has four separate barrels. In each barrel you put a grit-like substance, each being different in texture. You run a rock through each one for one week before putting it in another barrel.

CUT GLASS AND carnival glass are arranged in her china cabinet. One piece of carnival glass dates back 70 or more years. A cut glass pitcher was given to her by her son several years ago, from Colorado. Other cut glass items were in her home when she was a child.

Through the years she has gathered rare pieces of jewelry. She has two cameo necklaces. One antique cameo came from Italy and one dates back to the Civil War period.

Mrs. Newell considers herself fortunate when she bought an old wooden crank phone for $3.50.

"There was an advertisement for these wall phones from a small town in Minnesota. They were asking $3 for them plus postage. The dial system was just moving into the small community and they needed to get rid of the phones they had."

ARRANGED IN A narrow wooden cabinet are old shaving and moustache mugs she has assembled. One was made in Germany and one is over 45 years old. One of the few articles she has had to buy was a shaving mug she found at a junk shop in Kansas for 10 cents.

"I browse around junk shops when we go on vacations and see if they have anything of interest."

The Newells have an unusual assortment of arrowheads arranged in shadow boxes and wooden frames. They have one particular arrowhead that an archeologist wants to see to make a print of.

VENTURING IN THEIR backyard is like going into the past. There is a backyard light made from a railroad lantern that they have electrified. There is a horse training cart, a water well, old wagon wheels and a washtub of her grandmother's that is filled with wild moss.

There are many kinds of rocks to be seen in her unusual rock garden. A detritic rock she has was given to her by a friend who found it in an old gold mine in Arizona.

There are also volcanic, river and pink quartz rocks in the garden.

She has planted nine different varieties of cactus and wild flowers, some of which came from Colorado. Several colors of roses are in bloom in her rose garden.

Mr. and Mrs. Newell have two children and reside at 205 Ave. C.

REDS REGISTERED

On June 5, 1961, the Supreme Court ordered the U.S. Communist Party to register with the Justice Department.

case, right, is more than 75 years old; below it, in a cabinet made for them, are keys, some of historic interest. The heart-shaped picture frame in the wall arrangement, lower left, is another antique, and so are the handsome pieces of glass at right.

Weekly Market Report

Onions Looking Better On Market

Onions may upset tradition and summon smiles.

Valley onions helping increase supplies are easing the greatest onion shortage in 50 years — and prices are moderate, according to Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt.

The consumer marketing information specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, said economical vegetable choices in upcoming weeks will include corn, potatoes, okra, carrots, green onions, radishes, cabbage and cooking greens.

At fruit counters grapefruit prices swinging upward reflect lighter supplies, but oranges remain plentiful and reasonably priced.

"Texas-grown honeydew melons are making their appearance at first - of - the - season prices, as are fresh peaches.

"And at other counters, strawberries, cantaloupes, pineapples, bananas, cherries and watermelons deserve consideration."

"Good values will be found on a variety of milks and natural cheddar cheeses. Sour cream, margarine and cottage cheese also will wear special price tags."

At the meat counter, beef prices remain about the same, but more "specials" will be offered, so check carefully, Mrs. Clyatt advised.

She cited check cuts, round steaks, ground beef and beef liver as best buys.

Pork features, scattered and limited, will offer values on smoked ham portions, some brands of bacon and frankfurters, picnics and pork shoulder steaks.

Each of the bridesmaids wore

Refreshments of punch and cake were served by Mrs. David Boyd and Marcia Tiefel. The cake was decorated with pink and blue baby rattlers.

The refreshment table was covered with a white linen cloth and the centerpiece was an arrangement of roses, carnations and babybreath.

Hostesses for the shower were Mrs. Boyd, Janet Baker, Marcia Tiefel and Deanne Dixon. Fifteen guests were present.

Who uses the most electrical power?

According to Commonwealth Edison Co., it's not the electric toothbrush or hair dryer that causes electricity use to soar, but the increasing demand for electrical energy by businesses and factories of all types.

For example, they say that for each kilowatt-hour consumed by their residential customers in 1972, more than two were used by commercial and industrial customers.

'Family Lobby' Needed

What's happening to the American family?

Pick up a newspaper, watch television, or visit a bookstore and you can easily get the impression that the family is as obsolete as front-porch swings.

Talk to a sociologist and you can learn the reason. In fact, talk to several sociologists and you can learn several reasons.

NEVERTHELESS, if your own family life seems stable and conventional, these reports are puzzling. You begin to wonder if you're the last remnant of the "old" morality in a world of rapid change. Such thoughts can even lead to suspicious glances at the neighbors. After all, somebody's got to be doing all this mate swapping we hear so much about. Or do they?

A few years ago, at the height of the riots and mass demonstrations, watching the evening news could leave the impression that the entire country was going up in smoke. In reality, of course, the incidents that our efficient news media brought to us in such alarming concentrations were scattered very thinly over the face of a very big country. A wise editor at that time suggested a remarkably successful antidote to the resulting depression: "Turn the damn thing off and take a walk around the block."

THAT'S PRETTY good advice for handling most of the fads of intellectual concern that seem to sweep over us today at the rate of one every 15 minutes or so. These "causes" and "discoveries" generally have a kernel of truth that merits serious consideration. But that kernel is often surrounded by a large chaff of trumped-up catastrophe to enhance its publicity potential.

So it is, I believe, with the "crisis" of the American family.

Everybody is not "swinging." Practically nobody is. But a lot of people are talking about it.

OUR YOUNG people are not forsaking marriage and flocking in droves to communes. But the few who do get all the attention.

The divorce rate is not at an all-time high. It was higher in 1946. Furthermore, four of every five people who are divorced get married again.

ON THE other hand, there's that kernel of truth. The old "extended" family — with parents, grandparents, children and even an occasional aunt or uncle living together — is very rare today. And surveys show that nearly half the American people believe "the institution of marriage and the family as we have known it is becoming outmoded."

We are making it easier to avoid having children. Easier to get divorced. And easier to transfer to the state the burden of family obligations.

Is this a trend that should be encouraged? Can we get along without the family?

NO, WE cannot. The hippie communes have been spectacular failures when it comes to caring for children. Nor can the state assume the full burden. Psychological studies indicate that raising kids in an "institutional" atmosphere leads to severe emotional and intellectual problems — that's why foster homes are preferred now to large orphan asylums.

But a society cannot survive without children. And children cannot raise themselves.

THERE IS nothing on the horizon or in the experience of man that is superior to — or even the equal of — the family as the fundamental child-rearing social unit. That being the case, perhaps it's time to nudge the lawmakers in the direction of finding ways to strengthen the family, rather than ways to facilitate its breakup.

The Bootleg Philosopher

Dear editor:

According to an article I read in a newspaper an insurance salesman dropped in my front yard while he was trying to out-run my dog to his car, many manufacturing plants around the world are experimenting with numerous variations of the 4-day work week.

Under the 4-day week, a person works four 10-hour days a week, has the other 3 days off. Some firms are going even further, having their employees work three 12-hour days a week, and some are foying with the idea of every other week, or in some rare cases every other month.

THIS IS a step in the right direction, but what I'm waiting for is a job you have to work at only every other year.

In regard to the 4-day work week, some government employees already have been put on such a schedule, but now some smart-alec has come along with the argument that you could get the same amount of work done and save money to boot by dropping 2 out of every 6 workers and have the remaining 4 work 6 days a week.

This is striking at the very heart of the economic system, the government, and possibly the Constitution itself.

YOU MAY think 4 people can do the work of 6, but that's because you don't understand government. You don't understand the theory of full employment. Why do you think 7 men were used to burglarize the Watergate when 2 could have done the job just as well? You trying to increase unemployment?

Or take the U.S. Senate. If two Senators can represent the 15 million or so people in the state of New York, how, under this work theory, can you justify having two represent the state of South Dakota with only about 800,000 people? And both pairs at the same salary. You want to cut the Senate half in two?

You can see where this theory will lead you. Let's leave bad enough alone.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

All-Volunteer Army Good

By Bert Mills

Conscription of young men for involuntary service ended last December but the real test of the new national policy of an All-Volunteer Force begins July 1 when the President loses his power to induct men into the military.

No nation has even attempted what the U.S. seek to accomplish — to maintain an active armed force of over 2 million men and women, all of them volunteers. There are many sceptics in Washington who believe the experiment will fail but polls have shown the public wants an end to conscription.

Actually, a volunteer military force is in the American tradition. Until 1948, the U.S. relied on volunteers except during major wars. It is also true that, contrary to popular belief, the military has been made up predominantly of volunteers even at the height of the draft calls, and even after subtracting those who volunteered to avoid being drafted.

NEVERTHELESS, Selective Service has been the best recruiting tool in the military storehouse for a quarter of a century. Now that tool has been discarded and the question is whether enough qualified men and women can be attracted to a military career to make the new system work. If not the draft will have to be reactivated.

A Brookings Institution report just released by the Senate Armed Services Committee questions whether an All-Volunteer Force can be sustained without lowering current eligibility standards. Shortages are forecast in three categories: critical skills, reserve forces, and medical professionals.

CONGRESS has given the Pentagon a lot of new tools to aid recruiting, and more are promised. For example, buck privates are now receiving starting pay of $307 per month. With free food, lodging, clothing and medical service, this is equivalent to beginning salaries in industry.

However, the first question most prospective recruits ask is not the figure on their paycheck but "how much schooling can I get?" The answer is that educational opportunities are almost unlimited because the modern military needs trained personnel as never before. The old days when all a foot soldier needed to know was how to follow orders and fire a rifle are long gone.

NOWADAYS the Army will pay a $2,500 bonus to a high school graduate with a critical skill who enlists for a four-year hitch. A medical specialist who reenlists may receive a bonus as high as $15,000. Such inducements are hard to resist and are unmatched in private industry.

Enlistees now entering the armed forces are better qualified than in the recent past. The Brookings report noted that scores on the standard armed forces qualification test have improved since 1970. However, the proportion of high school graduates entering the Army dropped from 60 per cent to less than 50 per cent during the past year.

A newspaper survey last spring showed that more than half of Army volunteers were coming from the South and Southwest, where salaries for beginning workers tend to be lower than in other areas and where scholastic achievement is behind other regions.

THE BROOKINGS report said one out of six young American males must volunteer for military service if enlistment goals are to be reached. However, half of those eligible are disqualified on mental or physical grounds under current standards. That reduces the pool of eligible prospects to one out of three, unless standards are lowered.

An elite force of professionals can't be built if standards are low. However, there is some evidence that current standards are unrealistically high. A skilled truck mechanic does not necessarily need a high school diploma, nor does a clerk in a post exchange.

NOR DOES every soldier have to be combat ready when trained for a non-combat specialty. Also, a lot of people in uniform are still doing jobs that could be done by civilians, like chauffeuring Generals to their next conference. If the Pentagon achieves these and similar reforms, an All-Volunteer Force that will be the pride of the nation is possible.

"If a bureaucrat were drowning in the ocean, we have a hunch he'd probably pause long enough to write some rules and regulations as to how it should be done." COTTAGE GROVE, ORE., SENTINEL

"The happiest people are not necessarily those who receive the largest salaries or the most public acclaim. A feeling of wholesome and enviable well-being is to be found among millions of plain people who are giving to their daily tasks their best effort, and are meeting their obligations to their families and their neighborhoods squarely and honestly." BREDA, IOWA, NEWS

"Here's a good incentive for keeping that ... resolution to clean out your office files. The Weyerhaeuser Company of Federal Way, Wash., held an O.U.T. (Oust Unneeded Trivia) Day recently. Company employees threw out an amazing 422 tons of paperwork and junk. In the process, the company reclaimed 22,880 square feet of floor space and cleared out the equivalent of 1,050 four-drawer file cabinets. Figuring the cost of file cabinets at around $150 each, they saved $157,500 in future file cabinet purchases alone. That should be incentive enough for anybody." SHELBY, N.C., CLEVELAND TIMES

"Recipe for successful achievement. Choose a career you love ... Give it the best there is in you ... Seize your opportunities ... And be a member of the team. In no Country but America, we believe, is it possible to fulfill all four of these requirements." FOUNTAIN, COLO., SECURITY ADVERTISER

Let A Woman Do It

We've always said that if you want a job done, turn it over to a woman. Preferably a teenage girl, if she can do it and she can get enthused about it.

A 13-year-old girl out at Newark, Calif., got interested in the current fad of dope among teenagers.

She got busy. And she may have prevented some potential dope addicts.

SUSAN DUSIO, who is only four feet, seven inches tall, and weighs only 70 pounds, became enthused over a project and when she finished with it, almost alone, she had given 640 teenagers some lessons in drug abuse.

She knew some of her friends were on the stuff and she chose the drug topic for her special report in a history class.

SHE SENT off for literature and found that speakers, exhibits and movies were available — just for the asking. Her teachers, learning of her project, joined with her.

Via the telephone she contacted the state Narcotics Bureau in San Francisco, the Alameda county authorities and a local Headway group and others.

They all responded. She lined up speakers, arranged for exhibits, movies and a week was set aside at the school for the event. Local service clubs and banks chipped in $150 to help defray expenses.

AFTER IT was all over, she said she was pleased with the results. A lot of kids, she said, seemed to know more about what it means to take drugs, and that some now seem to have a different point of view.

Hooray for Susan! Now if more teenage girls would take up where Susan is leaving off we might get some action.

Teenage girls can, and do, wield a tremendous amount of influence on boys and girls. They can even refuse to associate with boys — especially on dates — who imbibe in drugs. They can influence girl friends to also take up the fight.

THIS COULD have a tremendous movement all across the country.

Talk Of Texas

By Jack Maguire

FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY—Texas almost missed having a state university because some legislators thought it would create a society of snobs.

When the proposal to build the school was before the Legislature in 1855, one lawmaker from Brazos County objected "because it will build up a class of aristocrats in this country.

The object of it is to create an aristocracy in this state, where it already prevails more than anywhere else."

Another legislator opposed the school because "it is only the rich man's son who can be benefitted by this institution."

Finally, in 1858, the Legislature finally authorized the building of The University of Texas. It did not select a site, however, and for 23 years a dozen towns fought to get the school.

Austin finally was selected by the voters as the location in 1881 after Waco, Tyler, Thorp Springs, Lampasas, Williams Ranch, Albany, Graham, Matagorda, Caddo Grove and Peak all had lost bids for the university.

IT'S THE WOMAN WHO PAYS—Denison, Grayson County, once financed a large part of its city government expense by taxing prostitutes.

On December 20, 1873, the city council passed an ordinance requiring madams of bawdy houses to pay the city $5 each week. Each inmate of a brothel had to ante up $1 a week.

Collection of the fees was entrusted to the city marshal since most of his salary came from the taxes paid by the prostitutes.

TRAVELING TEXAS—Dallas' oldest fire station also houses one of the state's most unique museums.

Station 5 (on Parry Avenue across from the State Fair of Texas) still responds to alarms, but part of its space is devoted to the Dallas Firefighters' Museum. The displays are so carefully recreated that a fireman from the 1890's would feel perfectly at home.

Pride of the museum is a horse-drawn steam pumper first purchased in 1884 and used for 30 years. On the second floor of the fire station, living quarters of the firemen who manned the old pumper have been reconstructed and restored. Even the cooking facilities are there, as is the brass pole down which they slid when the alarm bell sounded.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS—A century ago, a heavy beef ready for slaughter could be bought in San Antonio for $5.

In Austin in 1873, butcher stores advertised sirloin steaks at four cents a pound and gave away the liver.

Solo Voice Recital Slated For Student

Her senior recital in voice will be presented Thursday evening by Susie Hickman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hickman of 814 Ave. K and a voice student of Mrs. Dolson Palmer.

The public is invited to hear the solo recital at 8 p.m. in First Christian Church. Mrs. Ken Walsler will be Miss Hickman's piano accompanist.

Her program will range from the opening selection, How Beautiful Upon The Mountains, by Handel, through art songs by French, Italian and German composers, an aria from Puccini's opera Gianni Schicchi, to lighter pieces by contemporary musicians.

The finale will be Leonard Bernstein's popular number, I Hate Music.

Graduated from Hereford High School in May, Miss Hickman has been awarded a full tuition scholarship for her freshman year in West Texas State University by the Ex-Students Association, and the music department there has granted her an applied voice scholarship.

As Miss Teenage Hereford for 1972, she received a $100 college scholarship from Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Women's Division. She is employed by the WTSU department of art this summer.

Accepted for final audition for membership in the Community Concert tour group, Young Americans, she was unable to attend that tryout.

She has been involved in numerous school activities, was a member of Stanton Junior High and Hereford High choirs six years, was in the HHS Show Choir directed by Fred Rattliff and the Gusting Winds group at Stanton with Doug Morris as director.

She received a 1 rating in University Interscholastic League vocal contests five years, and in the Greater Southwest Music Festival two years. She entered solo competition at the University of Texas in her sophomore and junior years, and scholarship competition for the National Association of Teachers of Singing last October in Fort Worth.

Local Students To Attend WT Choral Music Camp

Eight students from Hereford will be attending the 3rd West Texas Choral Music Camp, opening on the campus of West Texas State University in Canyon June 24. Applications for the one-week camp are still being accepted.

Those attending are Lesley Euler, Route 3; Ann Zetsche, Route 5; Gene Shipley, 508 Avenue 1; Karen Schlabs, Route 4; Susan Schlabs, Route 2; Janette Schlabs, Route 2; Beverly Hewitt, Route 3; and Cindy Grider, 107 Avenue 1.

The camp will offer the young musicians experience in mixed choir, madrigal groups, men's and women's ensembles, stage choreography, voice theory and conducting.

Dr. Lee Kjelson, nationally known choral conductor from the University of Miami, Fla., will be the guest conductor. He has done extensive publishing in both choral music and music education.

Camp directors are Dr. George Umberson, chairman of the West Texas State music department, and Dr. Hugh Sanders, assistant professor of choral music at WTSU.

The camp will have one mixed choir. This group will perform a variety of pieces and will present a concert at 4 p.m. June 30.

During the week, all students will participate in rhythm activities, sectional and choir rehearsals. Auditions will be conducted to determine the section of the mixed choir where each student will sing.

A highlight of the camp will be the student and talent night during which the students participate in talent acts or musical stunts.

During the camp, a choral conductors workshop will be offered for area Directors. Graduate credit of one-semester hour may be earned by enrolling for the workshop. Kjelson will teach the class. Registration for the workshop must be completed before noon June 25.

Jubilee Part Discussed

One of the costumes which Hereford women will wear in preparation for the city's Diamond Jubilee celebration late this summer, was modeled by Mrs. Hmer Yocum, hostess for a business meeting of the Newcomers Club Thursday afternoon in her home.

The club's part in the Jubilee was discussed. Members planned to help in the Tasting Spree next month, a preliminary to the August celebration, and to decorate a booth.

A committee was appointed by Mrs. Ronald Bridges, president, to nominate officers for an election in August.

Highlight of the meeting was a surprise birthday party for the club secretary, Mrs. Dean Baxter. She opened gifts presented by the 13 members present, then cake and ice cream were served.

JULY-BRIDE ELECT — Engagement of Miss Karon Coffey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Coffey of Wildorado, to Reuben Clinton McGilvary III, is announced by her parents. A July 27 wedding is planned and the couple will reside in Hereford. She is employed by Jorde Farms and he in the Deaf Smith County sheriff's office while he attends Amarillo College, majoring in police science. Both are 1972 graduates of Hereford High School. His parents live at 225 Beach.

IN THE DAYS OF KING ARTHUR
BY HAL FOSTER

Our Story: ONCE AGAIN PRINCE ARN SETS SAIL. THIS TIME BACK TO VIKINGSHOLM TO PRESENT HIS PLAN TO KING AGUAR.

FIRST, GRIMMER, KING OF HOLVIK, MUST BE DETHRONED, FOR ARN HAS GOOD REASON TO BELIEVE HIS GOOD FRIEND, CROWN PRINCE HEIDMAR, HAD BEEN FOULLY MURDERED SO GRIMMER MIGHT WEAR THE CROWN.

THEN HE THINKS OF LYDIA. HE DOES NOT KNOW WHY, BUT HE IS ALWAYS THINKING OF HER. SHE WANTS TO BE A PRINCESS SO SHE CAN MARRY A PRINCE, ANY PRINCE. WHY NOT SUGGEST HER FATHER, LOYAL OLD HAAKON, AS THE NEW KING OF HOLVIK?

HE LOSES NO TIME IN PRESENTING HIS PLANS TO KING AGUAR, AND IN SILENCE THE KING LISTENS TO HIS EAGER GRANDSON. "HOLVIK HAS ALWAYS PROTECTED OUR BORDERS AGAINST RAIDS FROM THE INNER LANDS AND WE HAVE SUPPLIED THEM WITH MEN AND ARMS."

"NOW THAT GRIMMER IS KING," SAYS AGUAR, "THAT STRENGTH WILL BE USED AGAINST US. WE MUST GATHER AND EQUIP AN ARMY. THE FIEF OF JARL HAAKON WILL BE THE FIRST TO BE ATTACKED; GO TO HIM AND SAY WE WILL SEND HELP."

NOW ARN SELECTS A LARGER SHIP AND A PICKED COMPANY OF YOUNG WARRIORS EAGER TO WIN A REPUTATION FOR VALOR.

A COURIER ARRIVES AT CAMELOT WITH AN URGENT MESSAGE FOR PRINCE VALIANT. "WAR CLOUDS GATHER OVER THULE. KING AGUAR CANNOT LEAD HIS WARRIORS INTO BATTLE, SO HE HAS SENT FOR ME. PACK YOUR THINGS. WE SAIL FOR HOME ON THE MORROW!"

hints from Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:
I received the most marvelous gift from my mother-in-law and want to tell the world about it. And what better way is there to do this than tell Heloise?
It's a nylon net shower caddy she made herself, and I can't praise it enough.
It looks exactly like a shoe bag (only smaller)—however, the backing on which the pockets are sewn is several thicknesses of nylon net—the pockets are only one thickness and the top has four loops for hanging.
This is the marvelous part—you just take these four loops and attach shower curtain hooks. There you have it—your fingertips all the little goodies that one might wish to use in the shower—shampoo, conditioner, small brushes—you name it. And the nice part about it being grit comes off like a breeze.

Grace Forness
This is great, but be sure that the surface you are going to scrub with the pad can take such rough treatment.
Always test a spot that is completely hidden first. Saves those tears later!
Heloise
JUST HER TYPE!
DEAR HELOISE:
I have a standard typewriter, and is it ever a heavy machine!
I wanted a pad under it and found they range from three to four dollars. (Too much for my budget!)
At a furniture store, I found that under their machine was a small rug sample. I took the "hint" and purchased a cheery red rem-

HELP FOR HOMEMAKERS

LUV THAT VINEGAR!
DEAR HELOISE:
I came upon a real bargain remnant the other day.
The only thing that held me back was that it had some very bad wrinkles in it and I was afraid they wouldn't come out.
It was a lovely bonded knit piece—just the right shade, and a perfect amount of material.
However, I was still wary about the purchase as I had had difficulty with a similar piece once before.
One nice lady at the store told me to do this:
"Dampen a cloth with white vinegar, squeezing with the hand to get slight—but even—dampness, press-

TIME TO SHOWER
DEAR HELOISE:
Our bathroom shower curtain was too wide, so to make it narrower, I took some plastic fruit and some strips of narrow ribbon (enough to make a small bow) and set to work.
I put the two holes nearest the end of the top of the shower curtain together. Then I looped the stem of the piece of fruit through the holes.
To secure it, I tied a bow to the looped stems, alternating grapes and oranges with ribbon the color of the stems.
If the stems are hard to loop and hold with the ribbon, you can use thin wire under the ribbon.
Sure makes the bathroom look colorful!
Norma Canaba

A NEW ZIP CODE
DEAR HELOISE:
Your column is so helpful. I hope this hint will be of benefit to someone.
An irritation at the back of my neck was finally traced to a dress zipper. What to do?
I cut a small square of moleskin and covered the underside of the zipper-pull—turning under just a narrow edge. The pull works freely, and the moleskin protects the sensitive area!

MADAM LIBRARIAN!
DEAR HELOISE:
A priceless possession is a little plastic card about 2" x 3". It fits in my billfold, so it is handy whenever I want to use it!
My public library card! It gives me the privilege of borrowing books, magazines, records, films—even paintings and sculpture! All this is free—and these days there's not much that is.
Now that these books cost so much money to buy, I plan to do my part toward helping to keep them in good shape. When the corners of so many pages have been turned down as a page-marker, they really become "dog-eared." This really spoils the looks of a good book.
Era Culver

To prevent the dog-ears—make yourself a book marker. Cut one corner off a used envelope at a 45-degree angle. This will fit neatly over the corner of the page and mark the exact spot where you had to leave off. Dress up this book marker by pasting a bright, colorful picture on it that has been cut out of an old magazine!
All this will cost is just about two minutes of your time, but it will save years on the appearance of those wonderful books!
Frances Small
You really deserve a gold star for this one!
And to make your project even more worth while, why not leave that marker you made on the corner of the book's first page when you return it to the library?
As you said, all it costs is a little time. Perhaps others would catch the hint and do the same thing for other books. Your idea would really grow and grow... and grow.
