Herd Squeezes Past Bulldogs

By DON RICHARDS
Brand News Editor

Hereford's two senior captains came up with the defensive play of the night to stymie the upset-minded Borger Bulldogs 15-12 here Friday night.

The Herd had to rally from behind the Bulldogs twice during the AAAA non-conference clash, and the combined play of Captains Wayne Schumacher and Jim Marsh in the final three minutes of action was all that saved the day for the home team.

The Whitefaces had rallied to take over the lead 15-12 with 8:22 remaining. However, the Bulldogs took the ensuing kickoff and had marched 52 yards in 12 plays to the Hereford 17.

However, on a first-and-10 play with 3:03 left on the clock, Schumacher blitzed from his linebacker position and was all over Bulldog quarterback Chuck Kelly forcing a fumble on the handoff to Bulldog back Mike Glover. Herd teammate Marsh was all arms and wasted no time in wrapping up the ball and the ballgame.

Hereford then ran seven plays, picking up two first downs to kill out the clock.

BORGER had upset on their minds all night and quickly put an end to predictions of a two-touchdown win by the Whitefaces.

The Bulldogs took the opening kickoff and marched 77 yards in 17 plays behind the running of Glover and back Glenn Gray. Kelly then guided the team on in for the score with a seven-yard scoring bullet to Kirk Haworth. The point after kick by Tommy Wilkinson was wide, but the Bulldogs had the lead 6-0.

The Whitefaces then came back to take the lead much the same as they had done in winning their two opening games. The Borger kickoff squibbled to the Hereford 42 where Gary Yosten covered it. James Harris then made three of his 50 yards for the night and Quarterback Franklin Higgins was stopped at the line.

On a play from Coach Larry Dippel, Higgins spotted Schumacher in the open and misconnected, but Borger was caught interfering on the play.

WITH a first and 10 at the Borger 40 Chuck High, the night's leading ground gainer with 123 yards on 23 carries, picked up nine and Harris stepped off 12 more.

On a good handoff and fake by Higgins, High stepped off nine more, and then picked up two more and a first down at the Borger 8. Harris lost a yard to the 9 to end the first period of action.

ON THE opening play of the second period, Harris broke off left tackle

High On The Move

Herd running back Chuck High (25) is on the move here as he tries to out-manuever Borger's Glenn Gray. Herd Quarterback Franklin Higgins (15) comes up on the left. High was the game's leading rusher with 123 yards on 23 carries with one touchdown.

That feller on Tierra Blanca Creek says the man who admits a foolish act now and then is to be trusted; the "wise guy" who is "never wrong should be left alone.

BOB Bullock, former Secretary of State, has really launched an early campaign for the state Comptroller's post. Bullock, first Democratic candidate to announce for office, was in Hereford this past week and is making a whirlwind trip around the state. A sometimes controversial figure in Texas politics, Bullock also has the reputation of straight-talking man who calls things as he sees them.

Our federal government makes a big deal on ways and means of controlling inflation. It's time we all told our Congressmen how to do it: Control the federal budget!

CROP prospects are still looking better than they have in several years, and everyone is just hoping the weather cooperates for the fall harvest. The first load of milo was brought in a truck load to Hereford Grain. Moisture content was logged at 19.1 per cent, but Wilhelm said he thought there was some "drier" maize in some of his other fields.

WE HAVE two interesting "letters to the editor" in today's Brand. One concerns the salary of county deputies, and the other registers a complaint about movie ratings. We welcome expressions of opinion in this manner, but remind readers that letters must be signed.

THE HEREFORD Whitefaces had their hands full against a determined Borger Bulldog team here Friday night. The game proves a well-known point—ratings don't always tell the story. Hereford was a heavy favorite but had to battle to win the close contest. The Bulldogs deserved better support than the small following of fans who came from Borger.

Hate not only poisons the mind, it warps the vision to a point where beauty may become obnoxious; it bolts the door through which truth may be waiting to enter, and may pollute the pools of friendship. — Doug Meador

Lesser Penalties May Mean More Jail Time

By DON RICHARDS
Brand News Editor

New Texas laws reducing penalties for possession and sale of drugs may actually mean more jail time for violators.

At least that is the opinion of Deaf Smith County's Criminal District Attorney Andy Shuval.

Shuval, questioned about the changes in prosecuting drug cases under the new, more lenient drug laws, said he feels juries and judges across the state may, in effect, give stiffer punishments under the new laws.

THE OLD Texas drug law made felonies out of all drug cases involving sale or possession. Persons proven guilty of violating the law faced a two-to-life prison term.

As a result, Shuval said juries and courts were reluctant many times to give such harsh penalties to violators, especially first-time offenders and young offenders. Therefore, many violators received probated sentences.

UNDER the new law, most of the lesser drug cases (marijuana, amphetamines, barbiturates) involving small amounts are classified as misdemeanors.

"This is where most of our cases will fall," said Shuval. "Punishment for these misdemeanors is set as fines or jail terms. I feel like courts and juries will come much closer to giving a person 60 days in county jail because that doesn't seem near as bad as a prison term."

"As a result, the violator may spend more actual time behind bars than he would have under the old law. However, he only has a misdemeanor on his record instead of a felony."

"THE NEW laws also are going to require better and more investigation by the arresting officer," said Shuval. "The officer will have many more facts to find out with each arrest."

"There is also a greater burden of proof on the state," he said. "One of the major differences between the new law and the old one is that under the old law the state did not have to show exclusive possession and did not have to show the person arrested had knowledge that he possessed the illegal drug."

Shuval said an example of this would be if an officer found a marijuana cigarette on someone or on property belonging to the arrested person. Under the new law the state must show that the person arrested had knowledge of the drug on him or on his property.

"We must prove that the person knew he possessed the illegal drug."

UNDER THE new Texas drug law, which went into effect Aug. 27, all drugs are classified into five categories. Punishment for violations are different depending upon the sale or possession of different classes.

The five categories in which the new drugs will be classified and the penalties for violators are:

GROUP 1—(the "hard drug") Opium, heroin, morphine, cocaine, LSD, Speed, methadone and others. The manufacture and sale of this group is a felony and could result in 5-99 years in prison. Single possession of this group is a felony and could be 2-20 years in prison.

GROUP 2—Hallucinogens (except for LSD, which is in Group 1). Possession, sale or manufacture of this group is classified as a third degree felony and conviction could result in 2-10 years in prison and/or up to a $5,000 fine. However, a judge can reduce any third-degree felony to a first-degree misdemeanor depending upon merits of the case.

GROUP 3—(Uppers and Downers) Amphetamines, Barbiturates, methaqualone and others. Manufacture and sale of this group is a third-degree felony resulting in 2-10 years in prison and/or up to $5,000 fine. Judge can reduce this to a first-degree misdemeanor. Simple possession of this group is a first-degree misdemeanor.

through a wide hole for the score. Dave Charest then kicked his fourth consecutive field goal this year to put Hereford into the lead 7-6.

The Herd then missed a scoring opportunity as the Borger defense rose to the occasion.

Doug Charest covered a loose Bulldog miscue three plays after Whiteface Armando Gonzales kicked off to Borger.

With a first-and-10 at the Borger 23, Higgins was trapped for a two-yard loss. Harris then gained one back to the Borger 24.

Higgins nailed Dave Charest with a 17-yard strike at the Borger 7. An offside penalty on Borger then moved the ball half the distance to the goal to the four. High then blasted off tackle for the score, but the play was nullified by an offside flag against the Herd.

The Bulldogs held ground as Harris and High each tried twice in vain to penetrate that magic plane at the goal line.

Borger took the ball at the one and punted in two plays. The Herd swapped the ball with a punt back after three plays. Each team then traded punts again to end the half with the Herd holding a slim lead, 7-6.

HEREFORD took the second half kickoff and was forced to punt six plays later from its own 37. The period was uneventful as both sides again swapped punts midway through the period when the Herd was punting from its own 39.

Borger back Glen Gray came the long way around the left side of all Whiteface blockers to move in front of a Mike Crim punt. The ball rebounded off Gray and Borger took over at Herd's 19 yard line.

Borger ran three plays against a very tight Whiteface defense and set up in field goal kicking position at the Hereford 14. However, the snap from center went through the holders hands and kicker Wilkinson caught it and attempted a pass which fell open.

HEREFORD had seemingly stopped the drive of the Bulldogs, but a Harris fumble on the first play from scrimmage was covered by Borger lineman Bill Thomas at the Herd 14.

Three plays later Kelly hit split receiver Joe Klause on a slant pass good for 11 yards and the go-ahead score with 1:25 left in the third period. Bulldog Tom Goss then tried to run the extra point but was stopped at the line.

THE WHITEFACES then again rose to meet the demand by again following the Bulldogs with the come-from behind score. Taking the kickoff at the Hereford 27, High did most of the running, aided by James Waits and a Higgins to Schumacher pass for 15 yards. High also made one run of 26 yards to keep the drive alive.

Moving the clock and the ball into the fourth quarter, the Whitefaces took the final lead 13-12 on an eight-yard burst by High with 8:22 left.

HERD Coach Larry Dippel then decided to go for the run and two extra points after the touchdown to insure against a possible Borger field goal later in the game.

Higgins rolled out from center to his right and rifled the ball to Schumacher who had beaten his man by two steps.

The Bulldogs then didn't quit as they took the next kickoff and were steadily moving the ball from their own 31 to the Herd 17 when Schumacher and Marsh stopped the drive.

Hereford is now 3-0 for the season and the only AAAA team in the Panhandle with an unblemished record. The Whitefaces tackle the Canyon Eagles Friday night in Canyon.

Borger, in District 3-AAAA, now stands at 1-1-1 for the season and will host the Dumas Demons Friday.

resulting in up to a $1,000 fine and-or 1 year in jail.

GROUP 4 — Medicines including morphine, codeine, opium as well as other active ingredients such as cough medicine "Romil." Manufacture or sale of this group is a first-degree misdemeanor resulting in up to $1,000 fine and-or 1 year in jail. Simple possession is a second-degree misdemeanor resulting in up to $1,000 fine and-or 180 days in jail.

GROUP 5 — Marijuana only. Possession of more than four ounces of marijuana is a third-degree felony. Sale of any amount of marijuana also is a third-degree felony; both resulting in a 2-10 year prison term and up to $5,000 fine. Possession of 2-4 ounces of marijuana is a first-degree misdemeanor, up to $1,000 fine and-or one year in jail.

Possession of less than two ounces of marijuana is a second-degree misdemeanor resulting in up to $1,000 fine and-or 180 days in jail. Delivery of less than one-quarter ounce of marijuana without a payment being made is a second-degree misdemeanor with same penalty.

There is a third-degree misdemeanor for other very minor cases of violations of drug laws resulting in up to $200 fines.

SHUVAL said he hopes to use the sentences and penalties in drug cases for educational purposes.

"For instance I would like to see courts offer the convicted defendants either 60 days in jail; or give him a choice of one weekend in jail, one weekend at a drug clinic and a drug educational course," Shuval said.

"The drug problem can't be whipped in the courtroom. It has to be whipped outside by the public and in the homes. We won't have a drug problem when the people finally decide they don't want it."

"The effect of the new drug laws really depends on public opinion," the DA said. "If people start to accept marijuana now, then it will become more popular. However, if people decide it has definite physical, psychological or any type of damaging effects then they will slow it down."

Typhoid Blamed As Cause Of Friona Baby's Death

An 11-month-old Friona boy died Wednesday as the result of what Parmer County Community Hospital doctors determined as typhoid.

Funeral for the infant, Anthony Whiteside, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Whiteside of Friona, was held Friday in Friona.

The small boy's sister, two-year-old Lisa Whiteside, remains in the hospital in satisfactory condition also with what has been diagnosed as typhoid.

Hospital officials termed the cases as "isolated" and said they were not anticipating other cases. Doctors said the Whitesides and their seven children had recently visited in East Texas and apparently contracted the sickness there.

Arrest Made In Burglary

By STEVE CONNELLY
Staff Writer

One of several burglaries which have occurred at Big Daddy's Truck Stop over the past few weeks has been solved by arrest by the Hereford Police Department this week, with one man being held in Deaf Smith County jail under a $2,000 bond as a result of the arrest.

Jim Jackson, 112 Ave. H, was arrested for theft over $50 for tires he had reportedly stolen from the truck stop Sept. 14. Officers saw the tires on Jackson's pick-up Tuesday, and apprehended him shortly thereafter.

One traffic accident occurred at about 9 a.m. Tuesday in the 800 block of 25 Mile Avenue, when a car was sideswiped in a parking lot.

A 1973 Dodge pick-up, owned by Virgil Ritchie, 827 S. 25 Mile Ave., was parked in a parking lot when an unknown vehicle collided with the side of the Ritchie vehicle and left the scene.

An accident occurred in the 300 block of East 1st Street at 10:10 a.m. involving a car and a truck.

A 1973 Oldsmobile, driven by Shirley K. Head, 307 Western, was traveling east on Hwy. 60 in the inside lane, while a 1971

Kenworth truck tractor, driven by Loranza Shaw, Rt. 3, was going east in the outside lane.

Hospital To Add Intensive Care

By DON RICHARDS
Brand News Editor

Deaf Smith General Hospital Board of Directors Thursday night voted to establish an intensive care unit in the local hospital.

The special care unit, will be established by the conversion of a relatively new wing (Station Three) of the hospital. It will be a special ward for the acutely ill patients and for those immediately out of major surgery. The medical monitoring equipment of the hospital, presently located in different places in the hospital, will be transferred to the new unit and a nurses' station will be centrally located near all patients to give what directors feel will be much better care of patients.

STATION Three is a new wing of the hospital and is built in a circular shape with nine rooms around the outside. A fountain presently located in the center of the hallway of the wing will be converted into a nurses' station to allow nurses to be closer to all the acutely ill patients.

The special unit was proposed to the board by administrator Ron Welty. Welty said that presently the hospital has its acutely ill patients in different rooms throughout the hospital causing nurses to spend much of their time going to the different rooms.

"WITH this intensive care unit two nurses could care for all nine rooms at the same time," he said. "By getting all the patients together and the nurses in the center, we can give much better service to the really sick people."

The payroll cost of the hospital are expected to be increased by $1,500 to $2,000 per month for special nurses to man the intensive care unit 24 hours per day. However, Welty said an estimated $4,000 to $5,000 per month more is expected in income from use of the special unit to offset the payroll costs.

Welty said the construction cost of remodeling the wing to change it into an intensive care unit will run about $1,500 to $2,000."

DR. HUGH McCrary also supported the plan saying he had needed the ward this past week when he had four acutely sick patients scattered in different rooms throughout the hospital and with the medical monitoring equipment in only one room.

"It would help to get all the acutely sick patients together and all our monitoring equipment together to be able to serve much better," the doctor said.

Board members Mrs. Wanda Hoover and Tommy Carnahan did not vote for the establishing of the new unit. Although both supported the idea of an intensive care unit, both said they would like for the Board to set up some ultimate goals and follow a definite plan of action rather than doing a "dab here and a dab there."

MEMBER Ed Wilson made the motion for the new unit and Mrs. Harlan Vanderzee made the second with Dr. McCrary voting with them. Mrs. Hoover voted against the action and Carnahan abstained.

However, both Mrs. Hoover and Carnahan said they supported the action after Welty said he would begin work on a plan for ultimate goals and report on them at the next board meeting. Welth said the hospital did have a future plan of action, but had really never been put into a report.

"I think you will be impressed with the equipment when we get it all together in this intensive care unit," Welty said. "I also think this new unit will increase our census (number of patients) in the hospital."

BOARD members also expressed some concern about the decline of hospital census over the past few years. Welty said he felt the problem was that more doctors are needed in the city and area.

In other action Board members hired Alex Schroeter to audit the hospital records when the fiscal year ends next month and reviewed patient opinion polls. The polls revealed the majority of patients in the hospital well pleased with the service, facilities and food.

The board also approved an agreement for the Health Clinic to continue to use the upstairs portion of the hospital. However, the board stipulated that the clinic may have to share the upstairs with other "deserving agencies" that may need room in or near the hospital; or until the hospital needs the extra room.

The hospital board is responsible for a building for the Health Clinic and the directors just wanted to make official an agreement that had been made orally.

Four Nominated To Fill CC Board

Reaccreditation Overview Plans Readied, Bond Election Endorsed

The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Thursday morning approved the nomination of four new directors, made plans for reaccreditation overview, and endorsed the upcoming bond election for a new track surface at Whiteface Stadium.

Calvin Goodin, Arthur Gonzales, Ray Seale and Andrew Kershen. The four will be placed on the ballot along with others nominated at large. Others desiring to be nominated must have the signatures of 10 members of the Chamber or run on a write-in campaign. All signature nominations must be in the Chamber office by Oct. 10. Ballots will be mailed to Chamber members and must be returned by Oct. 24. The four directors will then assume their positions on the board with the new fiscal year of the Chamber.

THE BOARD also discussed plans for reaccreditation. Officials of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce will be in Hereford Sept. 26 to visit with Chamber members and discussed Hereford's Chamber accreditation. The local CC is one of 12 in the state that is accredited.

CC directors endorsed the bond election after a sports committee report from Dr. Joe Whitley. Whitley told directors the Hereford School Board called the election after he had presented a 1,000 signature petition. Whitley then described the need for a new surface for the track.

IN OTHER action CC directors discussed President Nixon's Phase IV and its effect on local gasoline and diesel jobbers, wholesalers and distributors.

Reports were made indicating southern U.S. farmers may have difficulties getting diesel because residents in the Northeastern states need extra diesel to heat their homes.

Bill Albright reported on a recent meeting between city officials and officials of Holly Sugar in Colorado Springs, Colo. Albright said Holly officials were interested in working with local farmers and officials concerning the declining acreage of sugar beets in the area.

ALBRIGHT also reported on the recent Chamber-sponsored new teacher banquet and termed the evening dinner a "success."

In other action Albright announced new applicants for membership in the Deaf Smith Chamber. Directors then approved the additions: Lithographic Printing, Boots West, Hereford Cattle Sales, Don Lowder, Bill Albright and Warner Seed Co.

Chamber officials also discussed the need to recognize all new and expanded businesses opening in Hereford. Directors also recognized the recent addition and expansion of business of R and R Refrigeration.

Albright also announced that the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce is sending 40 women to tour Hereford Wednesday, Sept. 27.

Chamber President Jim Conkright appointed a three-man committee to review all committee structures before the first of the year. Appointed were R.C. Holscher, Larry Wartes and Terry Caviness.

Hereford Student Receives Nursing Cap In WTC Ceremonies

CAROL SCOTT

Carol Scott of Hereford is one of 60 West Texas State University student nurses who received caps and bars in a ceremony recently in the Branding Iron Theatre on the campus in suburban Canyon.

Caps, awarded to the female students, and bars, to the male students, signify the completion of freshman-sophomore studies and the beginning of "more extensive clinical practice," says Edna Garza, instructor in nursing.

Mrs. Eunice King, head of the Department of Nursing, presided over the function, and Marilyn Dyer, assistant head of the department, spoke on "The Significance of the Uniform."

Caps and bars were presented the student nurses by Miss Garza and Mrs. Patsy Britting, assistant professor of nursing.

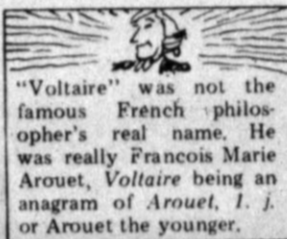

Miss Scott is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Scott, 115 Ave. C of Hereford.

Americans today are eating more meals away from home than ever before.

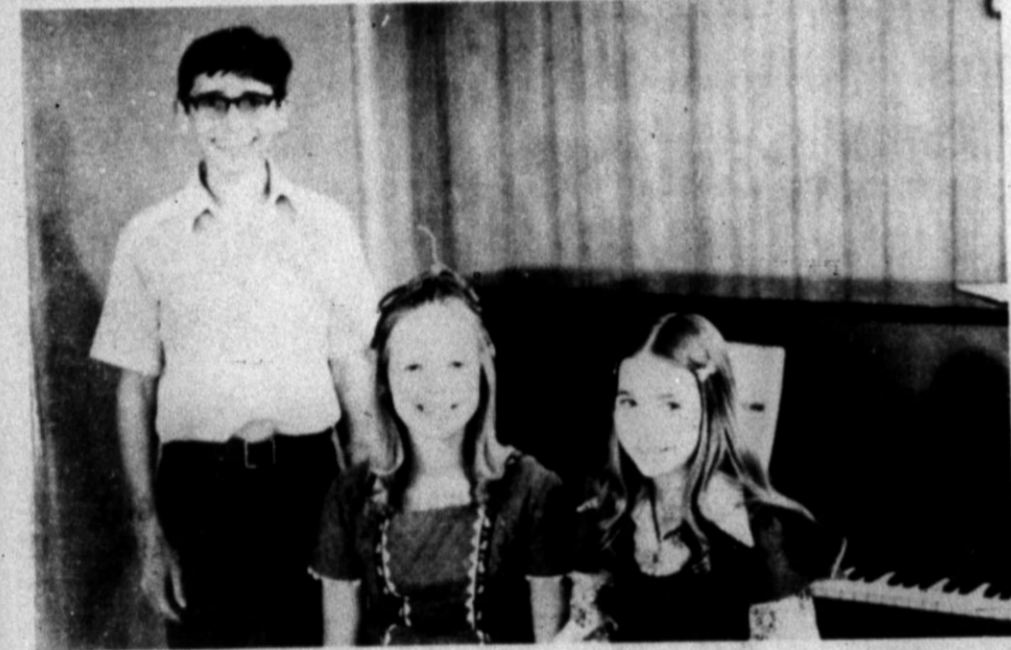

In Friona

The Ed Robb Evangelistic Association will conduct a community-wide non-denominational crusade in Friona Sept. 23-30. Robb has carried his crusade from coast to coast, as well as many parts of the world. The Rev. Gene Moore and his wife, Bobbie, make up the singing team for the Association.

Newcomer Given Welcoming Party

To meet Mrs. Kenneth Tarleton, a young matron who moved to Hereford lately from Austin, guests were invited Thursday for informal coffee and tea hours in Mrs. Earnest Langley's home.

Hostesses were wives of members of the law firm with which Tarleton is associated: Mmes. James W. Witherspoon, John Aikin, Langley, Hazen Woods, Tom Kendrick and Wesley Gulley.

They all wore long-skirted, long-sleeved dresses, similar in cut but each in a different pattern of floral prints in vivid fall colors. Sue Tarleton wore a grey-and-white ensemble as she was introduced to callers.

Gold shades appeared in the monochrome floral arrangement that centered the cutwork cloth on the refreshment table, which was placed against a window.

Some of the guests were invited for morning coffee, others for tea in the afternoon.

Mmes. Travis McPherson, Elmer Kimball, Rudy Metz and

Terry Caviness presided in turn at the table in the morning. Mmes. Ivan Block, Aaron Hutto, Henry Sears and George Warner after noon.

The honoree and her husband came to this city after he received his law degree from the University of Texas Law School. Both are members of Fort Worth families.

Needle Club Entertained

Summer activities were reviewed by members of Mothers Needle Club as they answered roll call at the first fall meeting Thursday in SWPS Reddy Room. Mrs. Ralph Paul was hostess for the informal social meeting.

Attending were Mmes. H.T. Benson, H.E. Lindley, A.C. Flowers, C.N. McClure, Mabel Wiseman, Corda Battey, J.R. Shirley, W.T. Gunstenson and Ellis Carter.

Lessons To Begin

In Square Dancing

Square dance lessons for area residents who want to learn the steps and possibly participate in club activities, will begin at 8 p.m. Wednesday in Community Center, sponsored by Merry Mixers Square Dance Club.

Stewart Rowan, who has taught a number of classes under club sponsorship, will be the instructor.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

WHAT NEXT in the shortage panic? How about towsacks? Well, we did have a flurry of worry about baling wire for the hay crop, so I suppose burlap could be in short supply — or maybe it's the twine they are sewed with, or even a strike of towsack sewing machine operators.

The way I heard about it, the Westway Extension Club reporter, Mrs. Albert Lamb, says the club women are having trouble finding enough sacks to pack the things they plan to send to Wichita Falls State Hospital next month.

This is a yearly activity for the club, which asks everybody in the county who sews to gather up scrap fabrics, trimmings and buttons, bring them to the Bull Barn on a certain day (this fall it's Oct. 25) and pack them to send to the hospital for patients' craft classes.

Since it's hard to find sacks, they are asking people who have old towsacks to please wash them and donate them too. I'm going to begin picking up sacks I see beside roads around here — in case they're becoming valuable.

THERE WAS snow in the mountains of Western Canada, at least it was snowing while they were up there, Glenda Hunt says, but she and Dr. Kenneth, Sondra and Eddie Reinauer didn't find any deep enough for skiing.

They've lately returned from a trip in the Canadian Rockies. They flew to Calgary, rented a car and drove to Banff, Lake Louise and other scenic spots, agreeing with other travelers that it must be one of the most beautiful places in the world.

ALSO FRESH from the north, Kathlee Palmer came in this week from her summer stay in her island home up on the Canadian border. It isn't winter there yet, she says, but the leaves are showing their colors with the fall cold spells.

It was great to see her, along with others for snatches of talk at the coffee for Sue Tarleton

Friday morning. Kathlee says she will be ready to go to work with her voice students the first of next month, and she was warning Jane Gulley to begin practice for a fall recital which I'm looking forward to.

AMONG HEREFORD folks who are certainly happy the Bob Josserrands are not moving away, as a news release from another city informed us lately, is me.

It's fine that Bob was made senior vice president of ProChemco, and now it has been announced that he has been elected to the board of directors, but we wouldn't be so pleased about it if it required a move. He and Nancy are the valuable type of citizens — good workers — that we need.

L'Allegra Club Tours Od Ranch

Members of L'Allegra Study Club met in the home of Mrs. Eddie Reinauer Thursday and later toured the XIT ranch area which lies in Deaf Smith County.

The ranch is owned now by Reinauer Brothers and the buildings remaining will be taken to Lubbock to be displayed in the outdoor museum on Texas Tech campus.

Headquarters for the Escarbada Division of the ranch was built in 1888. Members visited this site and also the bunk house, water house and a barn. Refreshments were served out at the rustic historical ranch.

Touring the ranch were Mmes. Hugh McCrary, Gerald Payne, Jim Carnahan, Wes Gulley, Danny Martin, Dale Furr, Burns Hamilton, Hazen Woods, Bill Warrick, Jerry Parker.

Also Mmes. Rudy Metz, Gary McQuigg, Dennis Farley, Dennis Lomas, Steve Conaway and Alex Schroeter.

HUBBARD BEGINS TRAINING
Navy Constructionman Recruit Larry L. Hubbard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leabert E. Hubbard of 815 S. Lee, Hereford, has begun Seabee training at the basic Equipment Operator School, Port Huene, Calif.

Equipment operators operate heavy duty equipment used on Seabee construction projects. Seabees are trained to work under combat situations.

Farmers receive only 40c of every dollar spent on food and from this amount they must deduct all the expenses incurred in producing it. Anything remaining is their profit.

Along The Frio

By MRS. OWEN ANDREWS
Brand Correspondent

Several residents of this area have taken late summer vacations the past few days.

Mr. and Mrs. David Yandell, Mr. and Mrs. Olin Parris returned the last of the week from a two-week tour, going as far as Jasper and Calgary in Alberta, Canada. They went northwest into the edge of the "Twilight Country", traveled in three other provinces, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, where Winnipeg was an interesting city, and British Columbia. Returning home by the more easterly route through Great Lake area and Iowa, where "The Little Brown Church in the Vale" was a point of interest to them.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Barber, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Shultz traveled to Mexico for a ten-day tour with a travel group. About 100 persons made up the trip. They drove to San Antonio and met Mrs. Barber's brother, Jim Franklin, and Mrs. Franklin, of Lenora, and Mrs. Shultz's brother, Mike Smith, and Mrs. Smith of Corpus Christi.

Three other couples from Lenora also made the tour. They flew to Mexico City, where tours were planned for interesting scenes and events, including bullfights, museums, ballet performances, pyramids and floating gardens.

The group rode by bus to Taxco, a mining capital, and to the resort city of Acapulco, flying back to San Antonio from there.

The only problem reported was a fall suffered by Mrs. Barber as they were entering a restaurant at Lubbock on the return home. A rock on sidewalk caused a turned ankle, resulting in a fractured elbow from the fall. They returned home Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Frye, Mr. and Mrs. John Washington went as a part of a group on a flying trip to Hawaii recently. Texas Fruit and Vegetable Growers Association was having a convention in Honolulu. Several from the local area went. Frye's cousin, Lance Frye and his wife from Davenport, Iowa, came to go from here on the tour.

Mr. and Mrs. E.F. Vogler and the Harold Voglers of Lamesa spent a long weekend going as far as Manhattan, Kan., where they visited a sister of the Vogler brothers and her family. They also visited relatives in the Oklahoma City area.

Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Warrick spent several days vacationing in the northern New Mexico mountains. Her daughter, Mrs. Don Weems, Mr. Weems and baby, of Tucson, met them in Albuquerque for the time together in the mountain resort areas.

Dee Taylor suffered a fractured wrist and collarbone, as well as less serious injuries, in a motorcycle accident last Sunday. It occurred during a scheduled racing event. He has been in Clovis Memorial hospital this week.

title to and possession of The East
65 feet of the West 125 feet of the South 140 feet of Block 45, of the Petition on file in this suit.

The officer executing this the same according to law, and

Boxing Registration To Begin

Sign up for local youth interested in AAU and Golden Gloves boxing will be at 6:30 p.m. Monday in the Bull Barn, according to Harold Wheeler, head of the local boxing club. Wheeler said all kids in Hereford are invited to join in the program and said almost all age youths will be eligible. "We have had one five-year old and up to 21 and 22 years old," Wheeler said. Wheeler also emphasized to all parents of interested boys that the boxing is strictly supervised and that educational skills are taught. "This is guarded boxing," he said. "It's not that old knock-down, drag-out bloody boxing everyone seems to picture it as. We teach the physical education skills of boxing. I've been with the program here two years and we haven't had anyone hurt for far." Wheeler said the boxing season would begin Oct. 6 with a match in Muleshoe. "We will have matches through the fall until our tournaments in January and February," he said. "Hereford will then host the Region 9 AAU Junior Olympics Tournament June 7-8. It will include boxers from Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas. This was the one in New Orleans this past year."

Stanton 9th Stops Boys Ranch, 34-16

Stanton's 9th grade team stopped a Boys Ranch team 34-16 in a game played on Boys Ranch field. Gilbert Rodriguez started the Stanton scoring with a short run over tackle. The extra points try failed but quarterback Barry Acton scored again from two yards out for a Hereford 12-0 lead. Acton then hit Ricky Taylor with a 45 yard pass run play for another score. Acton hit Mike Reyes with a pass for the PAT and Hereford led at the half 20-0. In the final half Gilbert Rodriguez again scored from two yards out. The extra points were good and Acton came back later with a 50 yard pass-run play to Reyes for the final touchdown. Boys Ranch scored touchdowns in each of the final two periods. The victory gives Stanton 9th grade coach Cuby Kitchens a 2-0 season record.

Letter To The Editor
I have lived in Hereford three months. I have lived in many communities and Hereford people are very unique and friendly. I feel fortunate that I arrived in time to be a part of the Jubilee Celebration. This gave me an opportunity to learn the rich heritage of the community much more quickly than would otherwise have been possible. The Jubilee celebration was a brilliant success. Many people did some early planning that paid off when hundreds of people joined in the presenting the progress of Hereford and the surrounding area in many varied ways. Saturday night I sat in the stands of the High School Stadium. I felt very proud to be a part of a community so appreciative of its past that it cannot help but be concerned and successful with the future. The conclusion of the "Hustling Heritage" presentation sent a tingle up my spine as the colors were presented and we stood to sing the National Anthem. My deep appreciation to hundreds of dedicated citizens who helped me to feel a part of Hereford in a very personal and rapid way. Sincerely, Dewitt Seago Chaplain, Kings Manor

Garden Beautiful Schedules Fall Home Tour Friday

TWO NEW HOMES in Hereford and an older one just south of the city where an interesting collection of antiques is housed, may be seen on the 25th annual benefit homes tour which Garden Beautiful Club will stage from 3 to 7 p.m. Friday. The public is invited and visitors may begin the tour at any of the three residences.

COMMUNITY PROJECTS benefit from the tours which the club has held for the past quarter century. Beautification of Deaf Smith County Hospital grounds is one current project; another is the Frances Solomon Memorial Rose Garden at Kings Manor retirement home, honoring the memory of a former Garden Beautiful president. A section of the rose bed is pictured at top left, with Mrs. Deward Roberson, project chairman, at right and a project committee member, Mrs. Charlie Noland, left. The club president, Mrs. Joe Story, stands between them. Past projects include purchase of the Bull Barn piano.

THE W.P. AXE HOME, 213 N. Texas, one of the handsome new residences in that part of the city which will be open to visitors. Mrs. Axe, standing in photo at top right, chats with Mrs. N.D. Bartlett, one of the club members who will be tour hostesses. They are at the maple dining table at the end of the inviting den. The passthrough to the kitchen shows at upper left in the photo, and a door into the sunny breakfast room at right.

ANTIQUÉ FURNITURE and accessories collected through the years by Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Jordan see everyday use in the two-story white house just south of Hereford on the Dimmitt Highway, which they bought because its rooms are big enough for such massive pieces as the fine wooden bedstead which Mrs. Jordan shows a club hostess, Mrs. T.J. Carter, lower right. Original dark woodwork in the room suits the bed and marble-topped dresser. Below, the Franklin stove, banjo clock and oil lamps highlight the country kitchen look of the den behind the entrance hall and stairway to the second floor.

Williams-Tyler Wedding Is Conducted In Church

Autumnal color in bronze chrysanthemums and green foliage appeared in the setting for Miss Dale Williams' marriage to James W. Tyler of Amarillo in Temple Baptist Church Saturday evening.

Seven candles burned on either side of the altar table, which was covered with a moss green cloth and centered with the bride's grandfather's Bible. The bronze flowers completed the arrangement.

Of white velvet, the bride's gown was styled on straight lines with bateau neckline, full length bell sleeves and toetip skirt slightly flared at the hemline. Her fingertip veil was gathered to a seed pearl headpiece with heart-shaped petals.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn D. Williams, who reside southeast of Hereford; Tyler is the son of Mrs. Elaine C. Tyler of Tulia. The Rev. Jim DeWeese of Plainview, pastor of First Baptist Church at Dougherty, conducted the wedding ceremony.

Mrs. Mike Kemp was her sister's matron of honor, while J. Harvey Cross, uncle of the bridegroom, served as best man. Jim Finke and a cousin of the bride, Lindy Cupp, were ushers.

Wedding music was by Miss Carmela Burgess, organist, and Mrs. Betty Skidmore of Plainview, vocal soloist.

The gold locket she wore was heart-shaped also, and she carried a bouquet of white spider mums.

Her attendant was dressed in moss green velvet, high waisted, short sleeved and with A-line skirt. Her bouquet was bronze mums.

At the reception after the ceremony, Miss Floy Cupp of Lubbock, an aunt of the bride, served the wedding cake while Mrs. Bob Painter of Tulia poured punch.

The couple left on a trip to the Colorado mountains, and after October 1 will be at home at Apartment 3, 1912 Wisdom in Amarillo.

Mrs. Tyler has been employed for three years as secretary for the Amarillo Aquatic Club. The bridegroom is an aircraft mechanic with Continental Airlines in that city. He attended Texas State Technical Institute.

Relatives of the couple came for the wedding from other cities including Houston, Lubbock and Tulia.

Unhappy With Movie Ratings

Editorials

Tailpipe Debates

The 1974 model automobiles are going to be in showrooms across the nation soon now and most of them will have one thing in common—they cost more. Also they consume more gasoline.

The new automobiles do not consume more gasoline because the automobile makers are in some kind of conspiracy with the oil companies to use more petroleum products. Far from it. They use more gasoline because of laws passed by Congress and interpreted by bureaucrats in the name of environment control.

The 1970 Clean Air Act attempted to clean up the atmosphere by cutting down on the pollutants emitted by automobiles. It has to be admitted that some progress has been made. But it also has to be admitted that in improving one problem, more problems have arisen, namely gasoline consumption in a time of short supply.

THERE IS heavy pressure on the car makers to design engines with catalyst devices that supposedly burn up the fumes and thus prevent them from going out the tailpipe.

Ford has a stratified-charge engine that they would like to develop but the government insists upon the catalyst. General Motors has an immense investment in oxidizing catalysts but admit that the engines in use this year will still be far short of the ideal mark as far as reducing pollution goes.

The automobile industry has been forced to invest millions in the decade we are in just to meet the requirements in the law. The oil industry has been forced to invest some $30 billion in refineries just to produce unleaded gas as required by the federal government and some state governments.

SENATOR Edward Muskie wrote the 1970 Clean Air Act and said at the time that he intended it to serve as a sort of shock treatment for the auto industry. That it was.

Ralph Nader, the Washington bachelor who has made a career of taking on giant corporations and wrestling them to the ground with a network of consumer legislation, has said that there are far too many automobiles on the streets and highways now and that the only sensible solution is to reduce these numbers.

Nader says that people can get used to riding the bus or train instead of the automobile and that it is only stubbornness that keeps them from it.

He may be right. He is right about the latter because if there is anything that the average American is stubborn about, it is his right to get into his automobile and drive somewhere. He does not like to be told where he can drive or how fast he can drive or what kind of car he drives. His automobile is a special kind of world and whenever our lawmakers start messing with his car, he is likely to get downright upset.

The Coming Of Autumn

September 22 marked the beginning of that crisp, invigorating Autumn Season when the lazy days of summer gave way to school, football, the carving of jack-o-lanterns and, for lawn-owners, the inevitable raking of leaves.

Soon, swarms of little ones will be splashing through mudpuddles and chortling over newly-found treasures such as a bird's nest or a leaf that crackles like a potato chip when it is crushed. As we watch the innocence of childhood in action, we should try to regain some of the inquisitiveness and wonder which we felt when we were young. We must never be so busy that we cannot take the time to enjoy the simple things in life, such as a colorful sunset or the beauties of a hillside dressed in the brilliant finery of autumn leaves.

So, as we prepare for the faster tempo of this new season, let's keep a receptive and appreciative eye out for the beauties of God's handiwork all around us.

Dear Editor,
I am writing to you to bring to the attention of the community the failure of The Hereford Brand to give a complete description of each movie and its rating in the advertisement section of your paper.

My reason for complaint stems from a very recent social engagement in which I, along with my date, went to a most respectable movie, "The Poseidon Adventure." In preparation for my date, I called the Tower Drive-In to ask which movies were being shown, their ratings and which feature was first.

THE PARTY from whom I received my information told me that both movies were of a PG rating, with "Poseidon Adventure" being the first feature. To my sincere disappointment, I went to the drive-in and the first feature was "The Walkabout", which I and my date found very poor and lacking in a redeemable social value! I fail to see how the movie could have possibly been rated lower than R (restricted).

In the advertisement section of your paper, both movies were advertised with a PG rating posted between them ... leading me to believe that both were indeed rated PG. However, I was faced with the difficult decision of whether to try to ignore the first feature and patiently wait for "Poseidon", or to simply leave in utter disgust. Because of the popularity of the second feature, I chose to remain in hopes the first feature would eventually improve by my standards.

I AM aware that it is the prerogative of the theater to show any movie which they choose.

However, let me remind you that the committee which gives each movie its rating was specifically set up to protect the public from being misled about the value and content in each film.

By not giving a proper rating on "Walkabout", I feel that you have defeated the committee purpose, while at the same time bringing much uncalculated-for embarrassment on an individual's part.

There is no doubt in my mind that I, along with other members of this community, are definitely entitled to know what we should be able to expect concerning the content of each movie, and thus almost completely eliminate any chances of having my experience repeated, by myself and others.

I ASK that you please look into the matter and give it your interest promptly bring forth the much-needed change in the manner in which movies are advertised. Your cooperation in this reform will be greatly appreciated by myself and others in the community.

Sincerely,
David Readhimer
213 Aspen St.

DEAR DAVID,
We appreciate your letter and we, too, have been concerned about the content of movies. Ratings are helpful, but they do not provide the solution of "completely eliminating" the possibility that a viewer might be offended.

Your letter is a case in point. You state that "The Walkabout" was certainly not a PG film, yet this is exactly how it was rated. A writer for "Parent's Magazine" even endorsed the movie!

We have visited with Scott Brewer, local theater manager, and he is initiating an extension of the movie ratings. These additional symbols will be: D—dialogue containing immoderate language; N—scenes containing partial or total nudity; and V—scenes depicting excessive violence.

The determination of the extended rating will be made by the local theater manager, from information or previews he receives on the films. I did not see "The Walkabout" but understand it contained some nude scenes. Under the new system, it would be rated "PG-N".

We believe these will be helpful, but they will not solve the problem. As long as more people pay to see X-rated movies on Sunday night than they do to see G-rated films on other nights, we've got a problem. And, a scene that offends you may not be the least bit offensive to someone else.

I question your statement that the Motion Picture Code ratings were set up to protect the public. In my opinion, the movie industry set up these ratings to protect themselves, before Federal censorship was applied.

We believe the new rating extensions will be helpful, but there is no way the newspaper can provide a complete description of each film that would let the individual know whether or not it is up to "his standards."

Feels Deputies Getting 'Short End Of Stick'

(Editor's Note: This letter is addressed to the members of Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court. A copy of the letter was sent to The Brand and requested to be used as a letter to the editor.)

Sirs:
I feel you have preformed a disservice to the residents of Deaf Smith County, by not granting a salary increase for our deputy sheriffs.

Upon learning of your refusal to allow any pay raise at this time, I did some research into the matter. I have made inquiries throughout the Panhandle, and find the number one county in the Panhandle is far from number one in paying for police protection. I might add, police protection that is highly regarded throughout the Golden Spread.

OLDHAM County, for example, pays its deputies $770.00 per month. Oldham County does not have the population density, or road network, that we enjoy. Deputies in Potter County receive at least $740.00 per month. Of course the population, and industry is much greater. However, Potter County enjoys at least 40 deputies, so the ratio is close to the ratio in Deaf Smith County.

In our own community, our city policemen receive more money than our deputies. They deserve every dime they get, just as the county law officers do.

You contend that all county employees are due a five per cent raise in January, therefore, no raise now. I really can't see how you can compare the sheriffs department and other departments on this basis.

If in an emergency situation, a employee of the road department is called out in the middle of the night, he is paid for his troubles. If a deputy is called out in the middle of the night to watch storm clouds so he can warn us of any tornado activity, all he gets is bags under his eyes from lack of sleep. I know he is never told "Thank You", for keeping an eye out for us.

I FEEL we are very fortunate to have the quality men we have as deputies now. If we do not properly pay these men, and make it worth while to them to perform their duties here, who can blame them if they accept an offer from another law enforcement agency, or a private business; you can't keep or get good personal if you don't make it worth his while.

I realize that some people argue that a lot of people do not make as much as our deputies. This is true, but I don't know of very many jobs that have the built-in occupational hazards of long hours with no overtime, no appreciation of your work, the very real possibility of personal injury or even death.

WE HAVE a very fine sheriffs department. These men are good at their job! In just the past few months, they have had tremendous results with the drug problem, discovered and busted a huge fence operation, solved numerous robberies, and even murder.

I have visited with many people around Hereford and Deaf Smith County and I feel most people want to increase the pay rate of our county law agency personal. I am not talking about a clothing allowance, (I think they do a pretty good job of representing the Panhandle style of life with their present manner of dress,) I am talking about that green stuff called money.

I am sending a copy of this letter to the editor of the Hereford Brand in hopes he will print it in the paper and the people who read it will voice their opinion to you.

I, like nearly everyone else around, do not like to get involved. But, I feel that while the deputies are getting the short end of the stick now, the people of Deaf Smith County will be getting the short-end in the future, unless we grant sheriffs deputies a proper wage that will attract honest, dependable, and quality individuals such as we have now.

Sincerely,
Jerry K. Johnson

Stand And Be Counted

Dear Editor and Neighbors:

On the radio this morning, I heard the story of the fate of the ducks that are fed, and they become victims of an unnatural easy life. They stay here instead of migrating to the South as nature demands.

"What would you guess, if someone asked you to name the single category of goods or services that Americans spend the most on? Food? That would be a popular guess, right now. Or perhaps housing? Well, get ready for a shock. In 1971, we spent a total of $332.6 billion to purchase food, clothing, housing and automobiles. The same year, we spent $338.5 billion on local, state and federal government." BLAIR, NEBR., PILOT-TRIBUNE

"Modern living is making some aspects of life cheaper. We remember when you had to carve or buy little wooden boats for the boys to float around in the bathtub. Now you just give them the empty plastic shampoo bottles and the banana split boats you accumulate." FREDONIA, KANS., WILSON COUNTY CITIZEN

"Often when people cry out for price controls, what they are doing, in large measure, is trying to avoid having to make their own decision not to buy something that seems too expensive at the moment. It is much easier for customers, of course, if someone simply orders the producer to sell his goods for less." METAIRIE, LA., JEFFERSON PARISH TIMES

Freezing ice traps them and predatory animals then devour them.

Now let's use this story to illustrate the effects of welfare on our friends and neighbors. Some people are in dire need, and in the old days when times were much harder than now, the neighbors, as good friends, banded together and helped them over the hump. Then they were on their own again, and the community was closed, knit in the pride of Christian Charity, and the recipient was proud in the fact that he was loved to have been assisted by his friends and neighbors. His pride was preserved and strengthened.

Today: Government handouts to buy votes towns using this Free money to help buy popularity and give jobs to people, and in so doing deprive the Christian of his rightful privilege, and duty to help his brother in need

This wholesale welfare has cost our nation its pride, both on the government level and the people. Also near bankruptcy.

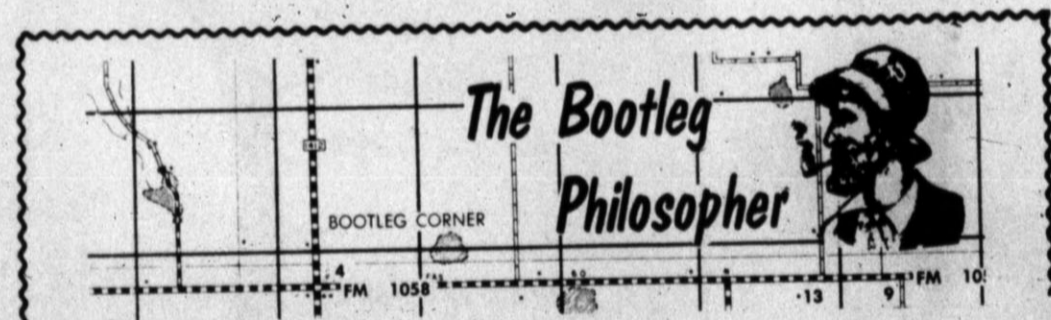

Look around. Many people who pay the tax to feed the poor are living on much less than the one who lives on welfare. Are we happy with this "cancer" in our society?

The government is feeling us out, playing with the thought of raising taxes. Are we willing to go along with this?

I suggest we each write a letter to our congressman and representative, giving them the help they need in carrying out the wishes of their people. If only I write, it will have no meaning. If everyone writes their opinion "for or against" it will show them we have an opinion of our own.

The eleventh hour has arrived and if we wish to preserve our democratic freedom we had better stand and be counted.

Sincerely,
Mrs. H.J. Wilhelm

Dear editor:
People are always talking about spreads, the spread of Communism, the spread of inflation, the spread of radiation, middle-age spread, but nobody ever talks about the spread of capitalism.

What got me to thinking about this was a statement in the paper the other day by Secretary of the Treasury Schultz, who said he'd have to admit that "the United States got burned in the Russian wheat deal."

AS YOU will recall, Russian buyers with their coats and ties on eased into this country, bought up over a billion dollars worth of wheat at $1.85 a bushel with money over half of which they borrowed from Washington, and immediately thereafter the price of wheat soared to over $5 a bushel.

It is now reported that the Russians, discovering they could almost triple their money, took part of the wheat home but sold some to Italy and other grain-short countries, at a very satisfactory profit.

This is what I'm talking about, the spread of capitalism. Somebody has let the cat out of the bag. You let Russia get a taste of profit-taking and the first thing you know China will want in on it, then the other Communist countries, maybe even Hanoi.

I don't know that there's anything that can be done about this, or should, but it might not be a bad idea for Washington to get on its toes, brush up a little on its knowledge of human nature.

There's something about a good profit that human nature exists in all countries, communist or non-communist, aligned or un-aligned, is likely to come out on the short end of the stick, not to mention facing a lot of American wheat farmers who got taken.

Keep a sharp look-out for wheeler-dealers in Communist clothes.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Magic Of The Mouth

"The magic of the tongue is the most dangerous of all spells."

—Bulwer-Lytton

Remember Pro-Football's Super Bowl III of 1969? The American Football Conference was looked down upon. There was just no comparison between it and the National Football Conference.

And then came Joe Willie and Joe Willie's mouth.

According to the polls, predictions and bookies, the Jets, even with Namath, didn't stand a chance against the bigger, experienced Baltimore Colts. Everybody believed that including members of the Jets team.

NAMATH began to shoot off his mouth weeks before the game with predictions of a Jets victory. Nobody believed him at first, but he got lots of publicity.

But as Joe's tongue kept wagging, a few of his teammates began to openly express the same confidence of their all-star quarterback. Soon, other people, including apparently a few Baltimore Colts, began too, to believe Namath.

When game time rolled around, thousands of people — some who didn't really even like football, were betting and watching the game. The final outcome is not really important here, but Namath and the Jets did win, 16-7.

MANY years ago boxing was considered a strong spectator sport and one of the most popular in the nation. But during the late 50's and 60's, even with the Pattersons and Listons, it had lost much of its fame.

Then along came the mouth.

Cassius Clay, later Cassius X. Clay, later Muhammed Ali, suddenly jumped into the picture as the strong contender. He started mouthing and talked himself right to the top — and into the money.

Like him or not, he did return the real money to boxing and brought back spectator interest.

EARLY last summer I remember reading a small article in the newspaper about an upcoming chess match between a Bobby Fisher and Russia's Boris Spassky. It was for the world championship.

I have been playing chess since junior high. I'm not good at all, but I enjoy the concentration of the chess board. I was interested in the match, but it seemed hardly anyone else was.

Then, (in a little larger news story with a little larger headline) I noticed Fisher was boycotting the match because of some minor disagreement. The closer to the date of the match — the bigger the stories and headlines got — even television and radio started using it on their nationwide news.

The match was finally scheduled, but before it got underway Fisher rebelled and the result was he spotted Spassky a game for forfeit. He lost the next one and then forfeited another to Spassky as the result of more protesting.

But what really amazed me was the world-wide coverage chess was receiving. Prize winnings in the game were upped tremendously because of the increased attention. All of a sudden I noticed chess clubs forming everywhere and it seemed everyone was playing the game.

TENNIS has always been a popular sport in the United States — but mainly for recreation. It has never really been a spectator sport. About 10,000 people has been the average crowd for playoff games.

However, Thursday night more than 35,000 people, many of them not avid tennis fans, sat in Houston's Astrodome to form the largest crowd ever to watch a tennis match. Millions of others watched in on nationwide television.

Why all this attention to tennis all of a sudden? It's simple — another mouth (and another hustler) came along. This time it was Bobby Riggs.

Riggs was out-hustled on the court. No question about that. But off the court he really hustled the American people.

He lost the game, but made himself a big name and bookies of money on testimonial commercials and many other pre-game activities. He pushed his name and tennis onto the front pages of major national newspapers and into almost every living room in the country.

IT TAKES a hustler to get the American people's attention. They hate the hustler — but they keep on being hustled. It must be the American way of life.

I'm not even a betting man — but I watched the match.

Talk Of Texas

CONFUSING TEXAS — The state has two communities named Montague.

One, the county seat of Montague County, is in North Texas not far from the Red River. The other is in San Jacinto County in deep East Texas.

"MAGGIES" AREN'T NEW — Female students at Texas A&M University are nothing new. The College Station school got its first coeds 74 years ago!

They were Mary and Sophie Hutson, daughters of a faculty member named C. W. Hutson. The girls were accepted as full members of the student body and even wore the uniform of the A&M cadet corps — except that they had theirs tailored as skirts.

The Hutson girls, now 89 and married, are among the oldest alumni of the school, according to Richard E. (Buck) Weirus, director of the Texas A&M Former Students' Association. After they left the campus in 1904, however, it was more than 60 years before the Aggies admitted another woman.

This fall there will be more than 4,000 coeds on the campus. And they won't wear uniforms.

ECOLOGISTS NOTE — Just to landscape the new Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport — largest jetport in the world — will cost $1.5 million.

To keep the huge facility green and beautiful, landscape architects will plant 10,000 trees, 3,600 shrubs and almost a million and a half ground cover plants of one kind or another.

For a number of years we have used a seat belt reluctantly but with reasonable good cheer. There was, however, no insistent little sneering mechanical device telling us we had to do so. We used the seat belt voluntarily. Today any new car you get into begins buzzing before you make up your mind you are going any place." Ferndale, Calif., Enterprise

GRASSROOTS OPINION

BEACON — RECORD:

"Biggest fight in Washington is shaping up and the issue is spending. The liberals want to spend billions and the conservatives don't. It's just as simple as that. If we were the betting kind, we would say the liberals will win, for not many people seem to care. When one member of Congress discovered that it required 27 forms to place a person on welfare, we knew that a part of the benefits of the program went to those who were hired to do the administering. Instead of a chorus of objections to this report, all we heard was a few, 'Isn't that terrible' comments. So on and on it will be. Who knows, maybe next year it will take 37 forms and more hundreds to execute them. Did you know that we have 35 people at the Hunterdon county level working only on welfare? Even at $100 a week, that comes to $182,000 a year."

education! Education! We must have more buildings, classrooms, teachers and escalators. Everybody must be educated! Hardly anybody asks, 'educated for what?' Educated for broad-mindedness? The great issue of our time is not education versus ignorance. Some of the most educated people in the world are the most wicked. Empty bellies are not, per se, the cause of Communism nor of wars. Germany started two wars on a full belly. The Communists and fellow-travelers in American, and throughout the world, are mostly full-bellied. Full bellies and education, as such, are not bulwarks for or against freedom or morality. The struggle for the world is not based on hunger vs. plenty, ignorance vs. education, totalitarianism vs. democracy. The war for the world is between good and evil."

Judith Morrison Bride In Saturday Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Judith Lee Morrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Morrison who reside west of Hereford, and Billy Bob Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. B.B. Walker of Amarillo, was solemnized in a twilight ceremony Saturday.

The Rev. James Uselton, pastor, read the wedding service in Kingswood United Methodist Church of Amarillo. Altar decoration was in shades of blue and brown, with flowers and massed foliage.

Only attendants of the couple were Miss Kathi Stoneking of Clovis, maid of honor, and Don Morganti, best man. The bride's brother, Ralph Morrison of Gruver, and Mark Brisley served as ushers.

Mr. Morrison gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown in a style reminiscent of the Edwardian period, with a deep circular yoke and high neckline, fitted sleeves finished with ruffles over her hands, and skirt flaring to hemline with and lengthening into a chapel train in the back.

Yoke and collar were of cluny lace, and a wide lace ruffle circled the skirt and train. Satin ribbon around the high waist had bow and streamers at center back. Her bouffant veil fell below the waist from a pearl coronet.

Her maid of honor wore a dress of brown cotton satin with design in blue roses.

The residence at 5101 South Austin, Amarillo, where the couple will live, was the scene of the wedding reception. Nieces of the bride and groom served the three-tiered cake with punch from a table brightened with fall flowers.

Mrs. John B. Drake cut the cake; Mrs. Larry Noland ladled punch; Misses Donna and Rhonda Heddin and Cindy Walker assisted.

For a short trip, Mrs. Walker changed to a blue pantsuit.

She attended Hereford schools but was graduated from high school in Enumclaw, Wash., then studied in Amarillo College. The bridegroom also attended Amarillo College and West Texas State University.

Out-of-city guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Morrison and children of Dodd City, Mr. and Mrs. Don Heddens of Farwell and Mrs. Ralph Morrison of Gruver.

Mrs. Walker was honoree at several parties before the marriage. One was a shower in the home of Mrs. M.C. Kaul, where the wedding colors were emphasized in a flower arrangement of blue and brown on the refreshment tables.

Hostesses with Mrs. Kaul were Mmes. W.B. Nunley, Joe Landers, Walter Kaul, R.L. Wilson, Arnold Fangman, Paul Rudd, Andrew Kershen, Albert Lamb and Tom Draper.

Another shower was given by Mrs. James Halton of Bushland, assisted by Mrs. Earl Estes. Guests called in morning and afternoon hours.

Local Realtors Learn About Civil Rights

The Sept. 13-15 Texas Association of Realtors Brownsville meetings brought local men and women in real estate new information on civil rights relating to real estate transactions and a fresh awareness of the importance of political involvement, it was reported here by Gene Campbell, president of the Hereford Board of Realtors.

"The talk by Victor Hancock, Assistant Regional Administrator for Equal Opportunity, HUD, Fort Worth, gave all of us the insight into the Federal regulations and allowed us to speak out about many of the regulations. We hope some real affirmative action will come from this interesting discussion in Brownsville.

The talk by Larry Thurston from Dayton, Ohio, a prominent leader in his state in political matters involving the real estate profession, emphasized the seriousness of our need to become partners with the homeowners in matter of protecting private property ownership rights."

Campbell said that Melvin Jayroe has been chairman of the Legislative Committee for the Hereford Board of Realtors and will be working with fellow Hereford Realtors concerning property rights of local citizens.

A bad shoe is a slaughterhouse for little piggies.

We realize how awful that sounds. But if you could see what poorly designed shoes have done to babies' feet, you'd use even uglier words to describe them.

They misshape bones and distort the natural structure of a child's foot. And all too often, the crippling process goes undetected.

You see, it's painless. A child's bones are so soft, so moldable, they bend to the shape of a bad shoe without any signs of discomfort.

Only by knowing how a shoe is constructed can you be sure it's right for your child's feet.

That's why we carry Jumping-Jacks. They make sure for you. Their shoes are designed by experts to give children greater stability when they're learning to walk.

They use materials almost as supple as a baby's foot. They make most Jumping-Jacks with no linings. So the shoes are that much lighter and softer, freer and more flexible.

And they take these precautions with every pair of Jumping-Jacks, from the basic white shoes shown here to their colorful krinkle patents.

Consider Jumping-Jacks shoes.

When it's time to have them bronzed, you won't be building a memorial to your baby's worst enemy.

Mrs. Melvin Henderson Fills Uncommon Job

By SANDY INMAN
Brand Staff Writer

AN ATTRACTIVE, charming woman with an abundance of energy is the only way to describe Mrs. Melvin Henderson. Besides being a fulltime homemaker, she also works at her husband's Exxon service station.

"I don't do any heavy or mechanical work at the station. I mainly pump gas, wash and start cars. I have changed oil and put on a battery cable before but unless it is an absolute necessity, I'd rather not. I actually learned the basic functions of machinery when I drove a school bus at Walcott. I drove every day for nine years in a radius of 176 miles. I had 32 children to transport to and from school my first year. I suppose I was very lucky because they were well behaved.

"I HAD TO GET UP at three every morning in order to prepare breakfast for my family. I never found it hard to get up so early, because I have a lot of nervous energy and I enjoy keeping busy.

"That's the main reason I chose to work with my husband. I like being out-of-doors, too. In the summer if I'm not working outside of my home, I spend time in my garden."

A VERY SUCCESSFUL gardener, she has grown tomatoes the size of grapefruit.

One tomato weighs over one and a half pounds and measures 15 inches in circumference.

"They just grow. I certainly don't give them any special care. In fact, I have neglected my garden this year and the weeds have taken over," Mrs. Henderson shrugs.

She also grows squash, corn, okra, green beans, cucumbers, watermelon and peaches.

OTHER HOBBIES she enjoys are sewing and cooking. She has also antiqued a bedroom suite she bought over 25 years ago. To match the gold and white suite she has redone an old sewing machine that she estimates to be over 30 years old.

An avid football fan, she says she especially enjoys watching the Dallas Cowboys play. Unlike many women, she understands the technical terms of the game.

"I actually didn't know much about football until my oldest son, Keith, started playing in high school. Three of my sons have played and I learned to love the game in the years that I would go to watch them play."

MRS. HENDERSON is the mother of four sons, all of whom live in Hereford except Keith, who resides in Amarillo with his family. She also boasts that she is a grandmother three times.

"Even when all my sons were home, I worked outside of my home. When we lived on the farm, I worked in the fields, chopping cotton or helping with harvest."

"While the boys were young, I would take them with me. Although they are all close in age, I never had any problems with them when they were small. They more or less watched each other and after they were older, they helped me around the house.

"AS THEY GREW older preparing meals was difficult because they worked different hours. I would have dishes that could be reheated.

"The one tremendous advantage of having all boys, was the fact that they could share one bedroom. I guess I have always wanted a daughter, but I have two granddaughters, so that makes up for it."

her garden. At right, relaxing in her home, she says she likes working as a service station operator and the schedule she keeps isn't as erratic as it may seem.

Mrs. Vaughn Has Song In New Album

A song written by Mrs. Loyd Vaughn of Westway community, The Cross and The Crown, is included in a new record album from Mark Five Studios of Greenville, S.C.

Musical arrangement is by her brother, Darryl Hicks, teacher and coach at Big Oak Academy at Eagle Springs, N.C. He and Mrs. Hicks, also a teacher in the academy, with Carlyle Cole, principal, form a trio called The Servants who sing the gospel songs in the new album.

Hicks wrote four of the songs. The trio of young singers made a tour of Texas and nearby states early this summer.

The album title is Introducing The Servants. It is available here at the Mary L. Spence Music Store.

Don't be careless — carelessness adds to the cares of life.

County's Exhibit
Shows Up At Fair
By Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

DEAF SMITH exhibits and products made a good showing at the Tri-State Fair.

We wish all of you with good products, vegetables, grains, etc. would remember next year to tell us what is available for exhibit, and help us get the products together. The more things we have to show the better reputation Deaf Smith will have.

We judged the jelly, preserves, jams, conserves, marmalades (What else is there?) and can affirm that there were approximately 250 entries. Many perfect jars of sweets. Families will eat well this winter from the exhibits of food preservation we see in almost all pantries.

WE SURE GOT a good trade from Mr. and Mrs. Grady Rogers. Mrs. Rogers called for a pear preserve recipe and in no time, Grady appeared at the office door with some ripe pears.

Thanks, folks, but the information in this office is for the public at no charge or no accommodation.

There are two approved methods we recommend for pear preserves. The method chosen is determined by the firmness of the fruit. If fruit has reached the firm ripe stage, use this recipe. With any recipe, wash, pare and cut or grind in uniform pieces.

PEAR PRESERVES

1 lb. prepared pears
3/4 to 1 lb. sugar
Combine fruit and sugar in alternate layers in a container and let stand 8 to 10 hours, stirring carefully while heating to boiling. Cook until syrup is thick or ropey. Fill hot jars within 1 inch of the top and seal.

A method for firmer fruit:

PEAR PRESERVES
3 qts. prepared pears
3 c. water
4 1/2 c. sugar
6 slices of lemon
Make syrup by boiling water and sugar; add fruit to cooled syrup, add lemon and bring gently to a boil. Boil rapidly until fruit is clear and tender. Let stand overnight. Fill jars with fruit, boil syrup and pour over fruit and seal jars.

A FAVORITE cake that has been made in the county a long time. It takes some effort to make, but it is good.

MRS. D'S PRUNE CAKE

1 1/2 c. sugar
3 eggs
1 c. cooked prunes
1 c. sour milk
1 t. soda
1 t. vanilla
2 c. flour
1 t. cloves
1 t. cinnamon
1 c. nuts
1 c. Wesson oil
1/2 t. salt
Cream sugar and eggs. Add prunes and beat; add soda to milk and add sifted flour, spices and salt.
Beat well and add nuts and vanilla. Add oil last and beat well. Bake 30 minutes at 350 degrees. F.

For a quick and easy dessert, try this:

EASY LEMON PIE
1 can sweetened condensed milk
1 small can frozen lemonade
(Plain or pink lemonade. Pink for a lovely, pale color)
Beat milk and lemonade until well mixed.
Fold in 1 c. of commercial topping, mix and pour into prepared pie shell. Chill and top with more commercial topping, if desired. This is delicious.

Brunch Is First Bay View Event

A poem with the title, This Time Called Life, which supplied the theme for this year's programs in Bay View Study Club, was read by Mrs. Jack Wilcox at a brunch which opened the club year Thursday morning.

The home of Mrs. Ansel McDowell was the meeting place Thursday; she and other members of the social committee were hostesses.

Mrs. Howard Gault, beginning her term as president, welcomed members back for a year of activity after the summer vacation. The next meeting was announced for a new time, 2 p.m., in Mrs. Keith Simmer's home Oct. 4. The Rev. Doug Manning will be guest speaker then. Mrs. Hazel Davis was a guest, and members present included Mmes. Austin Rose Jr., Herman Ford, J.W. Gilliland, John Gilliland, D.N. Ganer, Colby Conkwright, H.L. Benefield, Bruce Burney, W.S. Kerr, W.H. Griffin, R.W. Eades, J.R. Allison, Pat Malone and Bob Josserand.

Reports Are Slated From THDA Meet

Reports from the Texas Home Demonstration Association convention in Waco which they attended this week will be given by delegates from Deaf Smith County HDA at a luncheon of the County HD Council Monday.

Instead of the customary meeting place for this event, the County Bull Barn, the covered dish luncheon will be held in the REC Medallion Room, beginning at 12:30 p.m. The September meeting for council business will follow.

Mmes. Jimmie Bradley, J.G. Gandy and T.E. Brisendine are the convention delegates from this county. Mrs. A.E. Hodges, a former THDA president and a member of the state board, also attended the general meetings and a preliminary board session.

Annual Dinner To Be Monday At Kings Manor

Dinner at 7 is scheduled for Kings Manor Founders Association Monday in Lamar Garden Room at the Manor, where S.L. Garrison, president, will conduct the annual business meeting and Dr. Jordan Grooms will be the speaker. Friends of Kings Manor, the Methodist retirement home here, will come from many parts of West Texas and nearby states for the dinner. Their membership in the Founders Association comes through contributions to the Manor.

Annual memberships are available for $10 contributions, and other classes of membership for gifts up to $10,000 and more. These funds help support the retirement home and its services to residents.

This year's speaker came to Hereford in the summer as pastor of First United Methodist Church, and was known in this area as former pastor at Vega and for a number of years at Polk Street Church in Amarillo.

Music on the program will be by Richard Snow and his family. Snow is executive director at Kings Manor, also on an assignment that began the past summer.

Wyche Club Has Heart Program

By The Garden Gate With Glad

By Mrs. Art Manjeot

A man of wisdom once wrote: "If thou hast two pennies, spend one for bread. With the other buy hyacinths."

If you haven't already purchased your bulbs for spring flowering beauty, it is time now to do so. The selection soon will be small.

The Pioneer Study Club will soon receive their bulbs and will have some selections for late shoppers. If interested contact members of the club and inquire as to varieties they will have. Hyacinths are a real good choice. They are so fragrant and beautiful, every garden should grow some.

Some of my new garden friends for this year are cacti dahlias. I selected the cacti variety because I like their size, form and general attractiveness.

They were all named varieties and I had seen them grown in the grounds at the Amarillo Garden Center. Also saw them used in an arrangement clinic and have found them most satisfactory.

My favorite is a semi-cacti. Its name is really enticing, golden Nicki Kay. The color is adaptable to many color combinations and the dainty petals of the flower are pretty and add that point of interest to an arrangement.

The stalk is sturdy, foliage good, and they flower abundantly. I cut the first blossoms in June and have had cut flowers for the house and to share all summer. They will be more beautiful as the fall days approach.

Joyce Hunt, a cacti dahlia, was another selection and I have found it to be a good dahlia for my garden. It is yellow, and smaller than the semi-cacti. Good sturdy stems, and growth that is easy to control.

Since I have other yellow dahlias, some of which are the semi-decorative type, combine well together. A monochromatic color harmony is easy to achieve with them. Size of flower is very good for small arrangements. This dahlia makes a nice addition to any garden.

Another favorite which I have planted the first time is the red Nicki Kay. A very attractive two-tone dahlia. Colors yellow and apricot. An excellent flowering type, and has been full flower since June. Very pretty when used alone and adds attractiveness when used with other flowers. The foliage is not as easy to control for mildew as in the golden Nicki Kay, or the maple leaf which is a new introduction.

Dahlias should be watched for foliage diseases. When cutting the open blossoms, care should be exercised in length of stems. Size and shape of mother plant can be controlled if blooms are properly cut.

I recommend either or all of these to dahlia growers, perhaps my very favorites are golden and red Nicki Kay. List these for another season, you will like them... my new flower friends.

It's always fun to try new flowers but it's especially exciting to grow the All-American winners to see what qualities made them distinctive.

In growing zinnias I have found that the border type are a gardener's good friend. They are easier to control for diseases and they are especially pretty in the garden in late summer and fall.

One of the All-American selections which has proven very popular is Peter Pan pink. It is listed as a large-flowering border type zinnia. It scored higher than any entry in the 40 years of judging thousands of flowers. Derek Fall, who recently became the new executive director of All-America selections, names it as his very favorite.

Thumbelina, another zinnia, which was a gold medal winner in 1963, is heartily recommended as a joy to raise.

This has really been a good year for hibiscus, I have especially enjoyed mine. The soft rose color with the scarlet throat is one of my favorites. Among the All-American selections southern belle is listed. It is a large white with an interesting golden center.

They are perennials, and one can expect a return call the following season. They are not good for cut flowers as the blossom lasts only one day. If one wishes they can cut the full open flower, pin it to a pillow, drapey, or on the curtain over the sink and enjoy it to the fullest for the whole day.

The texture is almost iridescent, and foliage adds interest and charm to the plant. Often the flowers are extra large, some varieties larger than others. Southern belle is known to grow flowers 10 inches across. Am sure it is well deserving of its silver medal. Try them, you will like growing hibiscus.

Carefree scarlet geraniums add that striking color note to any garden and have proven to be a great favorite with gardeners. They were first introduced in 1968. They come in three colors, scarlet, bronze and salmon.

Many gardeners grow geraniums from seed. It is much less expensive when grown this way. Plants are much higher in price. Seeds can be planted and started in the house, later transplanted to garden.

This has been a very good year for marigolds. Have seen beautiful ones in many gardens, especially the large flowering type. Mrs. Rudy Metz and Mrs. G.P. Owen have had beautiful flowering large marigolds. As always the French and small are also popular growers. The two-toned are very good for color and attractiveness; there are some pretty ones at Mrs. Emmett Hale's.

While checking for new friends for the garden next season, place on your list Madam Butterfly snapdragons. It was a 1970 Winner in the All-American selections. It is daintier than the older type and the two-tone colors are very pretty. They produce well and are especially pleasing in arrangements.

The All-American selections have been made for 40 years.

The first was in 1932, and 11 selections were made. Among these were nasturtium golden gleam and marigold, chrysanthemum flowered; these two have proven to be popular throughout the 40 years.

The breeders were Bodger and Waller, and they are still actively engaged in breeding new home garden varieties. It pays to keep in touch with the new introductions. One never knows what favorite they may become, and how much pleasure and satisfaction they will add to the garden.

Another plant I have tried this year which has given me pleasure is the artichoke, its golden daisy-like flowers are striking, and the plants are exceedingly good for screening and to take the place of shrubs until one decides just what they want to plant at a certain place.

Was delighted to see humming-birds flying around the bright red flowers today, they swept paused and tried to sip nectar from some red, red, permanent strawberries which I have on the patio in an arrangement.

They dearly like to find red cypress flowers, and there were plenty of them on the fences along with heavenly blue morning glories, and also the red roses.

Flower Show School No. One will be taught at the Amarillo Garden Center, 1400 Streit Drive, October 9-11. Herbert Gundell of Denver will instruct in horticulture. He is one of the best authorities in this field and is an interesting speaker.

Mrs. Jason Robberson of Amarillo will instruct in flower arranging. Mrs. Robberson has taught for many years and is a noted flower arranger. For further information write Mrs. D.R. McGuire, 6016 Dreyfuss, Amarillo, 79106.

Had a delightful weekend. Was guest of the McCrays and Metz in their attractive mountain home, which is in the land of enchantment where the fun never sets.

The view from the cabin was fantastic, and I spent hours on the balcony overlooking the beautiful scene. I never fail to be thrilled when the snowy billowy clouds float across the azure blue sky. Is so peaceful, inspiring and restful.

As I sat and drank in the beauty of the country side, snow capped mountains and well-fed cattle peacefully grazing, it was often interrupted by the joyful laughter of children at play. That is the finest music one can ever hear. Yes, this land of enchantment can really cast a spell over visitors.

Newcomers' Future Activity Discussed

Study of another community service agency, the County Heart Association, was planned by the Newcomers Club in a business meeting Thursday evening, as one of a series of programs to acquaint members with the Hereford area.

Two club representatives will attend a meeting of the heart association and report on its objectives and the opportunities it offers for volunteer work.

New officers were in charge of the club for the first time, but Mrs. Homer Yocum, president, was absent because of the death of her grandmother in New Jersey. The meeting, scheduled at her home, was held instead in Mrs. Dean Baxter's home.

Tentative plans for parties and other activity through the holiday period were discussed. Newcomers Club invites all women who have lived in this county for less than two years to become members. It meets for covered dish lunches on the second Tuesday of each month at Community Center, and for business on the Third Thursday evening.

Directors Elected

Farmers in 29 Texas High Plains counties reelected three directors and elected one new director to the Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board to serve six-year terms.

Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White certified the election results in which 791 votes were cast. The results were canvassed September 18 by the Lubbock County judge and representatives of the Texas Department of Agriculture, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board as required under the Texas Commodity Referendum Law.

Don A. Nelson of Tulia was elected to his first term on the 12-member board; A.W. (Dub) Anthony of Friona; John Gilbreath of Hart; and E.C. Whitten of Edmonson were reelected. There were seven candidates for the four places.

The board administers a fund contributed by grain sorghum growers for education and research, insect and disease control and promotion of grain sorghum products.

There are six agriculture commodity groups who have programs under the Texas Commodity Referendum Law, Commissioner White said.

First Load Of Milo

Hereford had its first reported load of milo Wednesday afternoon when Ray Wilhelm brought in 11,280 pounds of dryland maize to Hereford Grain Corp. Wilhelm figured his yield at about 2,150 pounds per acre. A resident of Hereford since 1910, Wilhelm farms about six miles southeast of town. Pictured with Wilhelm at the grain company is Paul Melendrez.

Amarillo Mayor Emphasizes City Cooperation In Talk

Amarillo Mayor Ray Vahue emphasized cooperation between cities when he appeared as guest speaker Wednesday for the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Hereford Lions Club.

Vahue outlined what he called a "sneak preview" of goals established by the Amarillo city council, but his primary emphasis concerned Amarillo's desire to work with other cities in the Panhandle for the betterment of the entire region.

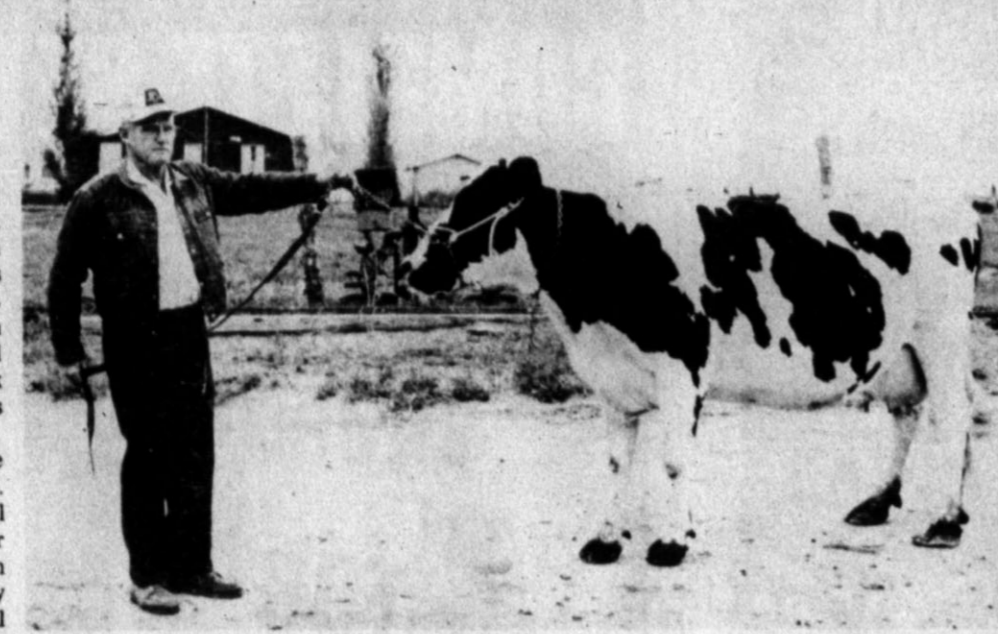

The Amarillo mayor praised Hereford as "an outstanding example" of how a city can work for progress and economic growth. "It's not far from Hereford to Amarillo, and what each of us does has a bearing on the other," he commented.

Vahue said he believes the job of a city council is one of "interpretation." He explained the council must interpret what most of the people want and work toward those goals.

Outlined as the city council's goals, not necessarily in order, were: (a) Promote the growth of Amarillo and the area, stressing the quality of economic growth; (b) Strive to increase the cooperation between Potter and Randall counties, eliminating duplication to save taxpayer dollars; (c) Explore the rehabilitation of downtown Amarillo; (d) Keep pace on Amarillo's capital improvements program; (e) Emphasize the need for planning and cooperation between Amarillo and its sister cities in the Panhandle; (f) Operate municipal services as efficient as possible with a balanced budget; (g) Maintain the city as a good employer.

Vahue was introduced by Herschel Black, program chairman for the month. Next week's program will concern the new medical school at Texas Tech University.

State Milk Producing Leader

N.R. Jones stands with his state-recognized Holstein milk cow. The cow, named J-Van Stoney Duchess, is in the Junior Three division of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America and was recently recognized as a state leader among milk-producing cows. Jones received a certificate of Herd Lactation Average for the association on the cow showing the cow with 47 lactations, 17,696 pounds of milk with 3.3 per cent butterfat at 592 pounds of butterfat and 30 volume. The cow, the first Jones has had at this age (three years) which produces enough quality milk to rank it among the best in the state.

they must be grown thousands of miles away. The horticulturist adds that plant breeding, fertilizer, and pesticide formulations are part of the technology which makes it possible for Americans to enjoy many fresh fruits and vegetables during most of the year rather than only when they are in season locally.

Watch What You Say About Tomatoes

If you don't want your age to show, avoid saying that fresh tomatoes don't taste as good as they used to. It's a dead giveaway that you're older than Jack Benny claims to be.

That's because it proves you're old enough to remember when there was a "tomato season." At that time, some 40 to 50 years ago, most tomatoes were grown locally. They were picked ripe or almost ripe, and eaten by consumers two or three days after leaving the farm.

Now thanks to new technology in crop production and distribution, Americans can eat fresh tomatoes almost the year 'round—not to mention sweet corn, green beans, cucumbers, and the like.

If the flavor's not as zesty as locally grown produce, it's because the fresh vegetables and fruits you eat out of season probably had to be shipped in from some distant point. This means they had to be harvested before reaching their full peak of ripeness and flavor.

The flavor issue is apparently being used as an argument by some groups in attacking plant breeding, chemical fertilizers, and pesticides. But an internationally known horticulturist, Dr. John Carew of Michigan State University, says this is a political strategy rather than a substantive issue.

"The flavor difference lies in the season of the year," he says. "You can't expect August home-grown quality in January tomatoes—not when

Clayton Claims Lead In Race

State Rep. Bill Clayton announced he is now assured that recent pledges of support have clearly placed him in the lead of the hotly contested race for Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives for the 1975 session.

Clayton, who let it be known that his vote total is now approaching the 50 mark, remarked that he is pleased by the broad base of support he is attracting. He noted that several of the more liberal legislators have become recent supporters of his candidacy and various citizen groups across the state have begun to show a strong interest in the race. Clayton pointed out that local citizen interest is a new ingredient which has not before played much of a part in the selection of the presiding officer of the House.

Clayton stated that he encourages citizen participation and feels all Texans should express their enthusiasm for a given candidate to their own representative who may not have been committed to anyone for Speaker.

Clayton, who was in Austin this week on his way to attend the Houston Governor's Conference on Intergovernmental Affairs, stated that, "My supporters and I are elated and more confident than ever because of our position at this point in the race. The candidacies of my declared opponents and of my rumored opponents have either lost ground or failed to garner much support or enthusiasm at all. While I realize that the race should be very interesting for the next several months, I now have a clear lead and expect it to merge into a decisive majority well before the 64th session starts."

Rep. Clayton has been campaigning across the state, meeting with various representatives and citizen groups since the end of the last session.

H<sup>3</sup> HUSTLE

By Bill Albright, Executive Vice President
Deaf Smith County Chamber Of Commerce

beginning of school, the extraordinary week of Jubilee celebration including our official 75th birthday, the New Teacher Banquet, the start of a thus-far spectacular football season, preparation for a new Chamber year and now cool weather heralding the season of fall.

The pace of activities in this wonderful community never ceases to amaze me and even if I were twins I'd still be busy with the chamber business at least 12 hours a day. While I'd much rather spend a considerable part of my time visiting with the chamber members and getting better acquainted with folks in town, I'm sure you prefer that I attend to the important task of administering the business of the office, coordinating the many, many activities of the chamber and filling in, when necessary, for our busy committee people.

And that brings me to a very important subject — our committees. As you know the Chamber of Commerce is strictly a volunteer organization. We have volunteered to work together providing our time, talents and money to build "a better place to live and to make a living." Over the past few months we've accomplished a great deal toward that end. However, I feel that we are capable of accomplishing so much more by pulling together and overcoming the obstacles which confront us from time to time.

Our goals are far too important to let relatively insignificant road blocks stand in the way of progress. Those goals which we've established, the budget we've planned to support those goals and the action required to put it all together — is called a committee — a volunteer organization — a Chamber of Commerce!

"It takes three — YOU, Your Chamber and Me" — plus lots of Hustle Hustle Hustle!

Americans are consuming vast amounts of prepared convenience foods with much of the kitchen work done by the processor. The cost of this built-in service has gone up far more than the cost of the basic food item itself.

Engineers at Sperry New Holland say a modern hay baler is capable of doing more than three times as much work per hour than its predecessor of 30 years ago, but its cost to the farmer has less than doubled.

Bullock Campaigns In Hereford

Bob Bullock, former Secretary of State, and now a candidate for State Comptroller, campaigned in Hereford this week. Bullock, 44, is the first Democratic candidate to announce for state office. Born in Hillsboro, Bullock received his bachelor's degree from Texas Tech in 1955 and earned his law degree in 1958 from Baylor Law School.

He served two terms as a member of the Texas House of Representatives, Chief of the Anti-Trust and Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's Office and Chief Legal Counsel for the Governor, and 16 months as Secretary of State of Texas.

During his tour, Bullock said, "Texas taxpayers are losing $2,500,000 in tax dollars each year because some retailers are pocketing the state and local sales taxes they collect instead of reporting it to the Comptroller.

"Frankly, I think it is ridiculous to talk of taxing food and medicine when 10 per cent of the sales taxes now being paid by our citizens is not being recovered by the State.

"As comptroller, I will work to see that the taxes we now pay, are not lost to some unscrupulous retailer because of faulty collection procedures by the State."

Bullock, a veteran of the Korean Conflict, resides in Austin with his wife and two children.

Council On Alcoholism To Meet Tuesday Noon

The Council on Alcoholism will meet at noon Tuesday at Dickie's Restaurant, according to Jewell Smith, council member.

A revised film, "The Bottle and The Throttle," will be shown and discussed.

Attacking the mistaken idea that a person's driving ability is not impaired unless drunk, the film is revised from an original film that was recognized for an award by the National Committee of Films for Safety.

The film deals with two teenagers who are involved in a serious accident. The film stresses the fact that all drivers who have been drinking are under the influence of alcohol, even if they are not considered legally drunk. The public is invited to attend the meeting.

The volume of food eaten, per person, in the United States, is expected to hit a record high in 1973, up seven per cent from 10 years ago.

Speaks To Rotarians

"I never counseled anybody who had been ruined by too much love."

These were the words of the Rev. Doug Manning Monday at the noon meeting of the Hereford Rotary Club.

Manning, guest speaker at the regular meeting of the civic club in the Civic Club Center, was introduced by program chairman Herman Ford.

Talking of the children of today's society and the changes taking place among attitudes of the youth, Manning said the parent's treatment and teaching of their children have much effect on the rest of that child's life.

"It is not the amount of time you spend with your children but the quality of that relationship," he said. "A lot of you are busy, but are doing good jobs raising kids."

Manning said parents are afraid many times to brag on their children for fear it may give them the "big head."

"What's really so bad about someone feeling good about themselves?"

"It's not bad to have a good image of yourself," he said, "to have confidence in yourself."

"Parents normally don't have any problems going home and disciplining their children — that seems to come easy. But telling them that you like them and love them seems to be very hard."

Manning, pastor of the Hereford First Baptist Church and also a counselor, told the Rotarians of several experiences he had had on college campuses visiting with the students and learning of their experiences and feelings about controversial questions.

In other action at the meeting, Rotary president Marc Hoelscher announced that George Bush will be the featured speaker at a 7:30 p.m. meeting Sept. 29 in Municipal Coliseum in Lubbock. The meeting is sponsored by the Rotary Clubs of Lubbock as an annual intercity meeting and that area Rotarians are invited to attend.
