Local School Bells To Ring Monday

More Than 5,000 Hereford Students Expected For Registration, Classes To Start Wednesday

Everybody Went In

No one was spared during an "unmerciful" session of the Kangaroo Kourt Friday night as the women took positions as judge and attorneys. Here Dale Young, general chairman of the Jubilee Celebration, was sentenced "to the cooler." However, he was not alone as many men in the crowd received the same punishment later.

By DON RICHARDS
Brand News Editor

The school bells will be ringing Monday and it will be "back to the books" for more than 5,600 Hereford area youth. Monday will be registration day in all Hereford schools in the system with classes planned to officially start Wednesday morning. The registration Monday will include all youth who will be attending Hereford schools this fall, including kindergarten, elementary, junior highs and high school. "We expect to have 5,000 kids enrolled by the end of the day Monday," said Supt. Roy Hartman. "We then expect the enrollment to reach a high of between 5,600 and 5,700 over the next few weeks."

HEREFORD students will be facing several changes in school programs and policies as they begin the 1973-74 year. Included will be changes in the dress and hair code, a new bell system in high school, new kindergarten program and a possible later change in the price of cafeteria meals.

Registration for all students will be held between 8:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. Monday. Administrative Assistant Larry Wartes has announced that buses will not run Monday but will begin on the first day of classes Wednesday and will have the same number route as last year.

REGISTRATION at Hereford High will begin at 8 a.m. Monday when the seniors will register. Junior students will be expected to register at 10 with all sophomores expected at 1:30 p.m. for an orientation session before registration. The orientation is sponsored by the High School Student Council.

Jerry Don George, high school principal, urged all junior and sophomore boys to bring a coat and tie to registration because pictures for the annual will be made at that time.

"They don't need to wear the coat or tie as long as they have it ready for the picture," said George. "Also, the girls might like to know in case they would like to dress up for the pictures." Senior pictures will be made individually at photographer's studios.

"ANY NEW students registering at the high school need to come by Mrs. Wilma Braddy's office, high school counselor, before Wednesday and register," said George.

Hartman and George both requested all new students to bring their health records indicating up-to-date vaccinations required by state law. Students without proper vaccinations must be suspended from school under the health rules required by state officials.

HARTMAN said many parents have been confused concerning the new program for kindergarten students which was implemented recently by the board of trustees.

"All children other than those who are disadvantaged because of languages or disability, will start with our kindergarten program next spring," said Hartman. "The board felt the educational opportunities for the kids would be advanced by holding full-day classes for one term rather than half-day classes for a full year."

Either of the two programs is acceptable to state officials and the trustees chose the full-day, one term plan.

WARTES said lunches will be served during the first day of classes Wednesday at the same prices as last year's meals — 50 cents for secondary students and 40 cents for elementary students. However, both Hartman, and Wartes said the prices may have to be raised later in the term because of rising food prices.

"We will have the new dress code in effect beginning with registration Monday," said George. "Also in effect will be a new system of bells for class schedule changes."

THE NEW dress code was approved recently by the trustees and this is the first year for the new bell system schedule. The dress code and complete bell schedule appear in other articles in this issue of The Brand.

Books Open Wednesday For Annual Rodeo Here

The annual Riders Club Rodeo is "set to buck" this Thursday night with one of the largest crowds ever expected to attend because of its conjunction with Hereford's Diamond Jubilee.

Entry books for the rodeo will open Wednesday morning and close Thursday noon for the three day event. The actual rodeo will begin at 8 p.m. each night with a rodeo dance to follow on Friday and Saturday nights in the Little Bull Barn. STOCK for the rodeo will come from Campbell and Cordell Rodeo Company of Childress.

The annual rodeo parade will be held in conjunction with the Hereford Diamond Jubilee Parade Saturday to form one of the largest parades in the history of the Panhandle.

Entry books for the rodeo will open at 9 a.m. Wednesday and close at noon Thursday. Persons wishing to enter should contact Joe Lee at the First National Bank; Gail Richardson, 276-5858; Frances Kerr, 364-5703; or by contacting Rodeo Headquarters, 364-9020.

RODEO events planned will be the wagon race, $5 entry fee; bareback bronc riding, $20 entry fee; bull riding, $20; calf roping, $20; saddle and bronc riding, $20; head and heeling, $25; barrel race, $10; Jackpot Sunday, books open at 9 a.m. Wednesday and close at 9 a.m. Sunday with a $30 entry fee and three steer average.

FINAL event will be Jackpot split $50-$30-$20 with the number of go-rounds to be determined by the number of entries. Entries will be taken on first-come, first-served basis.

The dance Friday and Saturday night will feature the playing of Tommy Hancock and his band with an admission charge of $3 for singles and $5 for couples.

Branding Time

That feller on Tierra Blanca Creek says a college education adds many thousands of dollars to a man's lifetime income... which he then spends sending his kids to college.

ACTIVITIES for the Diamond Jubilee Celebration were moving at a hectic pace this week as thousands of citizens prepared to join in the city's 75th Anniversary observance. It all starts with a rodeo performance Thursday, and the Jubilee committee's first program is a Coronation Costume Ball Friday night.

Special days are scheduled Saturday through Saturday of Jubilee (Aug. 25 - Sept. 1), with a huge parade set for 2 p.m. on Saturday, Aug. 25. Gov. Dolph Briscoe will be the parade marshal. A complete schedule will be outlined in detail in Thursday's Brand, which will also be published as a special Diamond Jubilee edition.

THE PROMENADES and Kangaroo Kourts being held each Friday came to a wild conclusion this week when women took over the administration of justice (?). Judge Lola Faye Veazey had the Keystone Kops arresting almost everyone in sight and throwing them in the horse tank.

Jubilee general chairman Dale Young was among the offenders, and the judge even wound up in the tank! The "Brothers of the Brush," the "Smoothies" and the "Belles" chapters helped get the "Jubilee spirit" rolling, along with the promenades and Kourt.

A lot of advance work has gone into preparations for our Jubilee week; there are events during the week that should interest everyone, so let's all join in the once-in-a-lifetime celebration and make it a rousing success!

"THE TOWN was small then, as were the trees, and the school building stood out quite prominently. It had a bell in the cupola on top; the clear, high-pitched tone of the bell could be heard for miles around on a frosty morning... There was also a well with a hand pump to which was chained three or four tin cups. Unsatisfactory? No one thought about it then."

The above is another sample from one of the historical articles to be included in the Jubilee edition of The Hereford Brand Thursday. The big issue will be the largest single edition ever published by The Brand, and this is due largely to the cooperation of progressive merchants and firms who proudly present "the Hereford story."

Costume Ball Friday

Celebration Nears

Plans for the 10-day Hereford Diamond Jubilee Celebration head into the final week today as officials prepare for the rodeo, Jubilee parade and Coronation Costume Ball — all planned this week.

The rodeo is scheduled to begin Thursday night with the costume ball planned for Friday night and the Jubilee Parade planned for 2 p.m. Saturday. Various other Jubilee activities are scheduled to follow the parade Saturday afternoon.

THE BALL Friday will be held in the Bull Barn and reservations will be required of all persons wishing to attend. Tickets for the ball are $10 per couple, which includes flowers and refreshments.

The six finalists in the Diamond Jubilee Queen's contest will be presented at the ball, which will be in the "old time flavor" with dance programs to be "given to women and nongays and beauticians prevalent," according to Mrs. Susie McGee, ball chairwoman.

Reservations for the ball will be accepted at Jubilee Headquarters, 364-1898, until all spaces are filled. Mrs. McGee said the number of persons allowed to attend the ball will be limited and that reservations will be accepted on a first-come, first served basis.

COSTUMES for the ball are to be in the "tradition of our forefathers."

PARADE chairman Harold Wheeler said a large number of entries have been accepted for the parade, which will be led by Texas Gov. Dolph Briscoe. More than 15,000 persons are expected to be on hand to witness the many floats, riding clubs, bands and various other entries which include two units of the U. S. Army.

The parade will begin at 2 p.m. Saturday from the parking lot of See JUBILEE Page 2

Jubilee Edition

Thursday's issue of The Hereford Brand will be the official Hereford 75th Diamond Jubilee Celebration Historical Edition.

The issue, which will include more than 100 pages of Hereford and Deaf Smith history, will cost 75 cents on the newsstands or at The Brand office. However, regular subscribers of The Brand will receive the edition at no additional cost.

A limited number of copies will be printed and Publisher O. G. Nieman has announced that only one printing will be made.

Football Two-A-Days Planned Monday, Pads Friday

The dressing rooms at Whiteface Stadium, abandoned by the dismissal of school last May, will be filled with chatter and activity again Monday as more than 100 prospective football players don shorts and shoes for pre-season workouts.

The workouts will begin at 7:30 a.m. Monday, according to Hereford Head Coach Larry Dippel, with a second session at 3:30 p.m.

"We will have two-a-day workouts both Monday and Tuesday and then go to one-a-day workouts after school starts Wednesday," said Dippel. "Then Friday we will put on full pads and begin working for our first scrimmage against Amarillo Tascosa Aug. 31."

The Whitefaces, who have been picked in two major pre-season polls to finish in fifth place in District 4-AAA, will be working mainly on the learning process during the first few days of short and shoes workouts.

"WE WILL be teaching them the plays and working on timing and team offense while we are in shorts," the coach said. "We will concentrate on throwing and play execution."

"Then by the time Friday gets here and we put on pads, we will have much of the basic teaching out of the way."

Dippel also said the players will undergo the required physical examination at 7:30 p.m. Monday at Hereford Clinic, 4th Street and Miles.

THE HEREFORD team will get its first taste of the season Aug. 31 when it scrimmages Amarillo Tascosa in Vega at 10 p.m. The game will be in Vega because the Hereford "Hustlin Heritage 75" will be staged in Whiteface Stadium that same night.

"This will be a controlled scrimmage," said Dippel. "We want to work on the things we need to improve on. We will probably get 20 plays and then let Tascosa run 20 plays."

There will be no kicking in the games and each team will start on the 20 yard line when on offense.

The Whitefaces then open the regular

New School Dress Code

GIRLS ACCEPTABLE ATTIRE

1. All types of wearing apparel, except shorts or tank tops, are acceptable as long as necklines are not lower in the back than the bottom of the armpit, and the midriff (front and back) is covered. When skirts are worn, they are not to be too short nor too tight.
2. In cases when dress causes distraction from a good learning atmosphere, the principal will have the responsibility to correct the situation.
3. All standard footwear is acceptable and must be worn during school hours.
4. Extravagant hairdos and excessive make-up (especially eye make-up) often hide a girl's best features and make her look ridiculous rather than interesting and attractive. Bangs must be trimmed to the top of the eyebrows. Girls do not attend classes with their hair rolled up or tied in a scarf nor do they apply make-up in the classroom.

BOYS ACCEPTABLE ATTIRE

1. A shirt must be buttoned with the exception of the top button.
2. Any shirt tailored to be tucked in must be worn tucked in.
3. All shirts and sweaters worn alone must have sleeves.
4. Extreme bell bottom pants are now allowed.
5. Socks must be worn with footwear and all soles are to be free of steel taps. All standard footwear is acceptable except sandals and moccasin boots.
6. Belts must be worn with trousers designed for belts.
7. Medallions, necklaces, scarfs or ascots and similar wearing apparel must not be visible if worn.
8. Full length trousers must be worn.

BOYS HAIR

- Hair must be clean.
- Hair must be cut or styled often enough to insure good grooming.
- Hair length must not exceed below eyebrow level or the top of a dress shirt collar and must be trimmed whereby the lower half of the ear is exposed.
- Sideburns must not be lower than the bottom of the ear lobe and must be blocked. Faces are to be clean shaven.
- Freakish, grotesque, or extreme hair styles are not acceptable.

BOYS AND GIRLS

1. Appropriate tee-shirts, jackets and sweat shirts with official lettering pertaining to an educational organization or institution are acceptable.
2. Shirts, jackets, or tee-shirts with unofficial lettering or decorations are not acceptable.
3. Sun glasses are not to be worn in school building during school hours unless prescribed by a doctor.
4. The school has the right to ask students to change their dress if it is of such nature that provokes unfavorable comment. Students who try to attract attention by dressing in an irregular and unconventional manner are inviting criticism that may damage their good reputation.
5. Boys or girls who repeatedly disregard rules on grooming or dress are guilty of insubordination and will be subject to suspension.

- 9:35 — Second period begins
- 10:15 — Second period ends. Assembly begins

Southwest Merger Terminated

Missouri Beef Packers, Inc. and Southwest Feedyards, Inc. of Hereford, have announced that a letter of intent entered into between the companies May 18, providing for the acquisition of Southwest, has been terminated.

Reason for the termination of the planned merger was adverse action taken by the Department of Agriculture.

The parade will then turn east on 2nd Street to Schley Street where it will turn back north and finish at the intersection of Park Avenue and Schley Street.

BUD SNYDER also is appealing to the farmers of the area in an effort to secure old farm equipment to display during the Agriculture Day Aug. 30. New equipment and old equipment will be on display in downtown Hereford. Anyone knowing of old farm equipment are asked to contact Snyder or Jubilee Headquarters, 364-1898.

JUBILEE officials also started this week erecting the stage setting at Whiteface Stadium for "Hustlin' Heritage '75", the Jubilee Spectacle which will feature many Hereford residents.

Tickets for the Spectacle may be purchased by any Queen contestant. It will be staged Aug. 29 through Sept. 1 at 8:30 each night.

AFTER the parade Saturday Jubilee officials have scheduled three major events. A mock bank robbery will be staged in downtown Hereford followed by a cow chip throwing contest and tobacco spitting contest at the north side of the courthouse.

At 7:30 p.m. Saturday will be the coronation of Miss Hereford Jubilee and her court and then the auctioning of the final sets of Jubilee stamped-numbered coins.

RODEO officials are planning final performance of the rodeo at 8 p.m. Saturday with a dance following.

Jubilee officials have also announced that Jubilee souvenir items will be on sale through this week at Jubilee Headquarters. Included will be commemorative coins, a lucite paper weight containing coins, Jubilee plates and many hats, ties and other official dress.

Law Enforcement To Be 'Beefed' Up For Jubilee

Hereford and Deaf Smith County law enforcement agencies are preparing for the Jubilee Celebration with plans to place extra officers on duty.

All deputies of Deaf Smith County Sheriff Travis McPherson will be on duty during the Celebration Parade Saturday along with extra forces of the Hereford City Police and extra area units of the Highway Patrol. Officials are estimating between 15,000 and 20,000 will be in Hereford Saturday for the parade, thus resulting in the needed extra officer units to work the expected traffic congestions and to block streets for the parade.

Law officials also are appealing to the public for help during the 10-day Celebration. With the many out-of-town visitors expected, persons are requested to lock their cars and homes in attempt to prevent many minor crimes.

Officials also are urging persons to be alert to any "con-men" who may come to Hereford alone or in groups of two and three persons in attempts to swindle money from local residents by fraud or games.

Although officials are not aware of any organized "con" group which plans to be in Hereford, law officers said this type of crime is common where large groups of people gather.

Officers also asked area residents to report any incidents which arouse suspicion during the Celebration or Parade.

Time Capsule To Be Buried September 1

Burial of a time capsule on the courthouse lawn, a feature of the final day, September 1, of Hereford's Diamond Jubilee Week, will be carried out in a 1:30 p.m. ceremony directed by Jaycee-Ette members. Mrs. John Bunch is chairman of the committee in charge.

The capsule will contain details of the city's history and predictions of its future which will be of interest to residents in years to come.

Anyone with items believed appropriate to include, is asked to take them to the Jubilee headquarters in the former Draft Board office on Sampson Street.

Receive Awards

Dr. Joe Whitley, Hereford Track Club director, stands with the three winners on the most valuable awards announced at Friday night's Hereford AAU Track Club Awards Banquet. Named Most Valuable were Suzanne Duvall, left, Sandy Whitley, and Allen Ray Harris.

Team Work

Butch Casey, right, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mal Manchee of Hereford recently completed a two-week High school forensics workshop at Texas Tech University. Teamed with Casey for final debates were, left to right, Joe Carroll and Mark Slack, both of Andrews and Mickey Harrelson of Friona.

Only A Minor Setback

Pete Hale, 139 Avenue B, couldn't get out of mowing the lawn even with his leg in a cast. He mowed with a slight limp, but actually made it look much easier than it probably really is. Pete will be a sophomore at Hereford High.

WT Has Good Pass Catchers

(This is part of a series of stories in the 1973 West Texas State University football team — Receivers and Kickers)

For a team which returns a group of receivers who caught only 28 passes during the 1972 football season, West Texas State isn't in bad shape in that department.

While the receiving corps looks good, the kicking game is in the hands of the solid, if not outstanding, veterans.

Fleet Carl Brown heads the group of returning pass receivers at split end. The 6-2 Van Vleck senior caught 12 passes last fall, good for 267 yards and two touchdowns. He scored two more touchdowns on end-around runs.

Other veterans returning are tight end Merced Solis, tight end Tom Brownfield and Scott Doores, who played on both offense and defense last fall. Doores will work in the defensive secondary this year.

JOINING the veterans are Mike Lozano and Jeff Loyd, up from last year's freshman team, and track ace Tracy Dickson.

In addition to the end positions, several of the backs are capable receivers. With the Buffaloes working from an I formation this fall, such backs as Mickey Matthews, Rick Schleider and Cole Fraley will be going out of the backfield sets into pass patterns.

In Brown the Buffaloes have one of the Missouri Valley Conference's more exciting players. He caught touchdown passes of 70, 80 and 85 (school record) as a sophomore and scored against Wichita State on a 98-yard kickoff return.

THE LANKY Brown has 20 career receptions at West Texas State for 600 yards, an average of 30 yards per catch.

Brown has passed up spring drills for the past two years to run track and he is the Missouri Valley Conference record holder in the 120-yard high hurdles with a 13.9 clocking. He also holds both the 50-yard high hurdle and 50-yard intermediate hurdle record in the MVC indoor track championships.

While Brown was competing in track last spring, Lozano had an outstanding group of practices. The 5-6½, 152-pound former Amarillo Caprock High School star caught seven passes for 143 yards and two touchdowns as a freshman.

WHEN NOT playing split end, the fleet Lozano worked at quarterback for the Buffalo Frosh.

Dickson, who has run two wind-aided 9.2 times in the 100-yard dash, decided to come out for football last fall, but was slowed by an old muscle injury. He underwent surgery to correct the injury and it was apparent in the spring that he hadn't slowed much as he recorded a 9.4 time in the 100.

The rugged Solis, a 6-1, 215-pounder from Mission, caught 11 passes for 161 yards last fall. Brownfield, who played varsity basketball at West Texas State before deciding to come out for football in the spring of 1972, had two catches for 30 yards.

Loyd, a 6-5½, 215-pounder, started at tight end for the Buffalo freshmen and caught two passes for 53 yards.

SENIOR Merle Kilpatrick returns to handle the punting duties and Arcadio Rivera is back to do the placement kicking.

Kilpatrick averaged 36.3 yards on 54 kicks last year, but had an excellent sophomore year — averaging 39.5 yards on 60 boots. A backup punter will probably come from the freshman ranks. Both Mike McVay of Beaver, Okla., and John Paul Lee of San Angelo Lakeview are capable kickers.

Rivera, a junior from Marfa, was true on 22 of 23 extra point attempts last fall, but converted on only one of seven field goal efforts. On kickoffs, he consistently puts the ball near the I goal line.

Two other Buffaloes are capable kickers. Bruce Wyre was the freshman kicker last fall and defensive end Juan Garza holds the Kimbrough Stadium record for the longest field goal — 52 yards two years ago during his freshman year.

Santa Fe Car To Be In Jubilee

"The Spirit of '76", an 85-foot exhibit car, will be brought to Hereford in conjunction with the city's Diamond Jubilee Celebration, it was announced this week by officials of Santa Fe Railway.

The free exhibit car will be on display here four days, Aug. 25-28, and will be open to the public from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. each of these days. The exhibit car will be located on the old house tracks just west of the Main Street crossing.

The special exhibit commemorates the five-year bi-centennial era of the nation, proclaimed by the President, and which culminates with the 200th anniversary of the

Making Terraces

William R. Hare, left of Amarillo, is having parallel terraces constructed on his 1,280 acre farm, which will help to reduce water erosion and runoff. Tom Hargrave, in the tractor, is employed by the Tierra Blanca Soil and Water Conservation District to construct the terraces.

Terraces Built On Hare Farm

By STEVE CONNELLY Staff Writer

The Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District is building parallel terraces on the William R. Hare farm, 22 miles north on U. S. 385, nine miles west of Ford Community.

The terraces are expected to be a total of 52,000 feet long, with an average cost of 11 cents per foot.

The terraces are on a cost share program with the Great Plains Conservation Program, and the program will pay 70 per cent of the cost of construction. The U. S. Soil Conservation District planned and designed the terraces.

PARALLEL terraces are ridges of dirt, parallel to each other, which are placed certain distances apart to stop or slow down the runoff water on land such as in the Panhandle, which is sloping in many places.

Terraces reduce the amount of erosion of surface runoff, and conduct it to a stable outlet at nonerosive velocity.

The conventional terraces Declaration of Independence on July 4, 1976.

The exhibit car is filled with displays of modern-day railroading and historical material on Americana and railroading. The car is brightly painted in our national colors and bears the Great Seal of the United States.

On April 13, 1742, Handel's "Messiah" was performed for the first time in Dublin.

were built rather haphazardly, with irregular curves which caused problems for farmers.

ADVANTAGES of parallel terraces are: easier and faster cultivation; the horizontal distance between terraces is such that an even number of rows can be laid out to fit modern high efficiency multi-row equipment; and there is less turning on crops.

Disadvantages of the conventional terraces are: slower and more difficult cultivation; the irregular distances between the terraces are such that rows cannot be laid off to fit modern high efficiency multi-row equipment; and many turns must be made on crops.

PARALLEL terracing can reduce erosion and water runoff by as much as 50 per cent. In low-rainfall areas such as Deaf Smith County, terracing helps to hold and conserve the water.

Terracing also saves on power for farm equipment because the terraces are made at right angles to the slope of the land.

Hare has 30 acres of grassed waterways into which the water from the terraces are drained. The waterways are sown in western wheat grass.

Parallel terraces are almost exclusively used for dryland farming, where water conservation is needed. It may be used for sprinkler irrigation systems in some cases.

Dryland farmers that decide to use parallel terraces will find that it will retard erosion and decrease the amount of runoff water a great deal.

H³ / HUSTLE HUSTLE HUSTLE

By Bill Albright, Executive Vice President
Deaf Smith County Chamber Of Commerce

Too close to the forest to see the trees? Maybe a more appropriate saying in the Hi Plains Area would be "Too close to the pens to see the cattle".

Someone is sure to follow that one up with - "Even though we can't see 'em we know they're there." Seriously though, it is not unusual for folks in any community to be unaware of what goes on around them unless they have a close relationship with that particular activity.

As an example - I wonder how many of our 20,000 Deaf Smith County citizens have visited and toured a feedlot. I don't mean just drive by or turn around in the parking lot. I mean really getting acquainted with the operation - visiting with the manager or foreman - driving down the alleys - examining the ration - watching the cowboys work - touring the mill - seeing the cattle being processed?

It's quite interesting too, and most of our feedlots warmly welcome visitors in order to promote a better understanding of the beef industry. This hospitality is usually found in most other agricultural activities in the area.

Visitors are always amazed at the volume of our operations - comments such as - I didn't know there were that many onions or potatoes in the world", or "a half million head of cattle in a 25 mile radius?" - it's unbelievable".

Frankly much of the vastness of our production in the Panhandle is unbelievable. But it is there to see and to enjoy and consequently to better understand.

Of course nothing is more economically important to Hereford and Deaf Smith County than Cattle & Agriculture and the businesses related to those industries. And since every member of our community is a potential ambassador - it really is necessary for us to know as much about these essential activities as we can.

Why not take a look around our own "back yard" and get better acquainted with Hospitable Hustlin Hereford and Deaf Smith County.

Winning isn't everything - it's just that losing has no future.

NEW COMMANDER - James Jesko was installed as commander of the Hereford American Legion Post as officers for the coming year took their posts last week. The installation was conducted by Jack Flint of Dimmitt, a past state commander of the Legion.

Second Suspect Arrested In Burglary

A second suspect in connection with the recent burglary of more than $1,000 in goods from Cowan's Jewelry, was arrested this week in Bay City.

Bay City officers, acting on directions and advice of Deaf Smith County and Hereford officials, made the arrest late Wednesday and reported the recovery of most of the items missing from the Hereford store.

Deaf Smith Sheriff's Deputies and Hereford City policemen had earlier arrested a juvenile in connection with the break-in of the store in Sugarland Mall.

Officers reportedly received a statement from the juvenile which aided them in locating the second suspect.

Sheriff Travis McPherson drove to Bay City Friday to pick up the suspect, who was identified as Jose Zuniga, 19, of Houston.

The Spirit Of '76

This special display railroad car of the Santa Fe Railway Co., will be in Hereford on display for four days of the Diamond Jubilee Celebration. The top of the picture shows the outside of the car and at bottom is the display case inside.

The Firehouse Fifteen has been furnishing entertainment for various Jubilee Celebration related activities and the 75th Anniversary of Hereford draws nearer. The Dixieland-style band is a chapter of the Brothers of the Brush and appear aboard the old fire engine with Dr. Fred Fox's Medicine Show.

Annual Dinner Planned Friday At Kings Manor

The annual Founders Dinner at Kings Manor retirement home is scheduled at 7 p.m. Friday in Lamar Memorial Garden Room at the Manor, S. L. Garrison, president of the Founders Association, has announced.

Membership in the Association is open to all interested persons, and all members are invited to the dinner, where brief reports of the year's activities will be heard and Association officers for next year elected.

Annual memberships may be obtained for $10; a contribution of more than that amount gives a sustaining membership, which applies on a life membership of $1,000. A gift of $10,000 makes the giver a memorial founder.

Dr. Jordan Grooms, new pastor of First United Methodist Church, will be the dinner speaker and there will be musical entertainment by the family of Richard Snow, executive director of the Manor.

Kings Manor is a Methodist institution; the Founders Association has been active since shortly after its location here a decade ago. Its members come from over West Texas and adjoining states and their contributions provide a stabilizing force in its support.

President of the Manor's board of trustees this year is Jim Conkright.

Veleda Club Holds Summer Meetings

Two summer meetings have been held recently by Veleda Study Club, with brief business sessions concerned with plans for members' service in the Diamond Jubilee hospitality room.

Mrs. Hugh Clearman and Mrs. Gid Brown were hostesses in the Clearman home for a coffee and trampoline party. The morning was spent in casual conversation.

Refreshments were served to 12 members and three guests, Mes. Dean Herring, Hershel Black and E. W. Sparks. Families of members were included for an ice cream supper at the home of Mrs. John Poindexter.

Yearbooks for the coming club season are ready now to be distributed at the annual Welcome-Back supper Sept. 11 in Mrs. Bill Walden's home. They were prepared by a committee comprising Mes. Poindexter, Armon Lauderback, Brown and Walden.

Theme for the year is Kaleidoscope Of America, with program subjects including American Schools, Crafts, Patriots, Travel, Medicine, Antiques, Food, Religion, Fashions and Music.

A progressive dinner to entertain members and their husbands is planned for Dec. 11, and a dinner May 14 when the club year will end with installation of new officers.

Mrs. Frank Zinser Jr. is president for this year; last year's president, Mrs. Richard Ottesen, will serve as parliamentarian.

Mrs. Glenn Watts is chairman of the service committee, Mrs. George Olson of membership and Mrs. Bill Bradley of the telephone committee.

Men Own Quilts, Can Exhibit Them

H.D. CHATTER

WE HAD A VISIT with Bobby Byers and were very happy to learn that he will bring some quilts to enter in the Old Fashioned Quilt Show. They are quilts made by his mother-in-law, Mrs. John (Jane) Jones. Jane willed these to Bobby and naturally he is proud of them.

So many people remember Jane favorably when she and John lived here and in the Walcott Community. She was a member of the Messenger Home Demonstration Club and we were all saddened at her passing. We will be glad to again see some of her handiwork exhibited.

Many men like quilts and talk about them. They remember how much fun it was when the community had quilting and the children played all day.

THE OLD FASHIONED QUILT Show is open to everyone in the area. No entrance fee and no strings attached. Quilts can be exhibited half a day or for the full week. Some of those working will exhibit their quilts during the time they are working.

The point I'm making is that the scene will change every day — so drop by. The Quilt Show is at the Mall in the Yardstick building. Entries will be accepted August 27, 1 p.m.

Mrs. Frank Duncan will put a quilt in the frames and will teach everyone to quilt. Bring your thimble and learn this old fashioned art. Quilting has become a very popular handicraft the last few years.

Other covers are great but we feel quilts are the most comfortable for summer use.

TO FREEZE NEW potatoes: Boil until barely tender; pack in plastic bag and freeze. Thaw in bag and use as freshly cooked. Use within one month for good quality.

There are canning and freezing instructions in the office. Also, a zeroed copy of some favorite and tested pickle recipes. Come to Room 304, Courthouse or call 364-3573.

IT WAS RUMORED that some children were so anxious to go to school, they went a week early to enroll. As they were already washed and polished, they went on to town and visited around, having a good time.

After a summer of shorts, T-shirts and muscle shirts, children and mothers are thinking about school clothes. Before shopping, take an inventory of clothing the child has on hand. Examine these garments carefully, note their condition and sort them.

Usually some are still wearable, others need minor repairs and some should be discarded or passed on to others. Summer clothes are very appropriate and comfortable the first few weeks of school.

In my opinion, September is one of our hottest months so we do not need clothes that are warm.

Before shopping measure each child. This way purchases can be made by size — not age. Over the summer months, a child can grow one or two inches in height or width.

CHILDREN GROW FASTER in August than any other month. This is kind of an opinion of mind. So do evergreens grow faster in August if everything is right.

When shopping for school clothes, take full advantage of sales — but don't go "overboard". Purchase only enough for the first two or three months of school. That way, the child won't outgrow them before he wears them.

Spreading clothing purchases has another advantage — most children are happier with new things periodically rather than all at once. Often building a small basic wardrobe around the child's favorite color is the answer. This way, items can be mixed and matched.

Several factors influence how much clothing is needed. These include the number of children in a family, their ages, and how often the homemaker does the family laundry.

AS A RULE, girls need more clothes than boys — but boy's clothing is more expensive. We've been trying to convince men for years that they spend more for clothes than women. It is a good subject for argument.

When purchasing school clothing consider durability, price and care requirements. For items receiving the most wear, buy the best quality the family can afford. School clothes and shoes must withstand wear longer than a party dress which is worn only a few times.

Read all labels and hangtags to determine care requirements. Remember — drycleaning adds to the initial purchase price — and hand washing takes time. Follow instructions for best results and best return on money invested.

ALSO CONSIDER fashion trends. For example, classic looks — with plaids a major element — are "big" for fall. Highlighting the girls' scene are cuffed pants, stretch bodyshirts, pleated or flared skirts, sweaters and jumpers. These items offer unlimited possibilities for the popular layered look.

Jean styling remains the top favorite for boys fashions. Jeans come in a wide range of fabrics. Denim and corduroy lead the pack, followed by knits and stretch wovens. Highly patterned shirts complement solid pants.

Also watch for knit sport shirts, cotton, polyester and blends, denim work shirts, western shirts, and lumberjack plaids.

SMALL TALK

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

BACK FROM A trip to California, Mrs. R. A. Daniel says she thoroughly enjoyed the travel by plane and the week she spent visiting her daughter, Nora Alice Lannam, in Pasadena and a granddaughter, Judy Pedilla, and family in Monrovia.

She went with Louise Gunther, who went on to San Francisco to visit her son.

Now that she's home again, Willie Daniel is looking forward to the Diamond Jubilee, but she is not surprised at any of the city's history that has been uncovered in Jubilee preparation.

She was here while most of that history was made, and enjoys talking about it with newcomers as well as other old-timers.

MR. AND MRS. Jim Auten and Beverly will leave Monday for Del Norte, Colo., where he is to undergo surgery on his neck. The Autens have had as guests the past week their son, Maj. Jimmie Auten, his wife and children.

WEEKEND GUESTS of Cora Johnson are her daughter and son-in-law, the Buren W. Carrs of Denver. They are both teachers and must return home Sunday for the start of school, so they had to decline invitations to stay for the Jubilee.

JUBILEE EVENTS, however, are included in the plans of Audri Beach who is here from Columbus, Ohio, visiting her mother, Genevieve Miller. They went to Austin this weekend to see the family of Mrs. Miller's son, Jon David.

Audri says she has an 1890 model bathing suit to wear to Jubilee doings. She left her husband, Paul, at home getting ready for a new school term.

ENDORGING THE stand for cool cotton clothes in summer, which was lately taken in this column, Mrs. J. E. Brooks says there is one way to make dressers of modern miracle (hot) fibers feel cooler.

Wear a cotton slip. You can still find those, but not so easily these days. I agree with her, and wish there were more cool batiste slips and other underwear available.

Sure, they usually have to be ironed, but I'd much rather spend a warm half-hour pressing the cotton slips than too many warm days in nylon slips. Those are better saved for next winter.

A NEWS RELEASE from the University of Southern Mississippi at Hattiesburg says Lois Lee Kershen of Hereford received her master of arts degree in summer graduation ceremonies Wednesday.

She is the daughter of the Andrew Kershens.

Legal Notice

NOTICE OF ENACTMENT OF ORDINANCE IMPOSING A PENALTY
All persons will please take notice that on the 6th day of August, 1973, the City Commission of the City of Hereford, Texas, duly enacted an ordinance imposing a penalty, the caption of said ordinance reading as follows:
ORDINANCE NO. 980

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF HEREFORD, TEXAS, AMENDING THE HEREFORD CITY CODE BY ENACTING ARTICLE 4 OF CHAPTER 11, DESCRIBING THE FUNCTIONS, DUTIES AND POWERS OF SHELTER MANAGERS DURING NATIONAL EMERGENCIES; PROVIDING A PENALTY; AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.
Said ordinance provides that in case of national emergency, Public Shelter Managers duly appointed by the Civil Defense Director, shall open public shelters, take charge of all stocks of food, water, and other supplies stored in said shelter, admit the public according to the city's shelter use plan and take whatever control measures are necessary for the protection and safety of the occupants.
Said ordinance also provides that Shelter Managers are authorized to use reasonable restraint against those who refuse to cooperate with the routine of shelter living under emergency conditions. Refusal to carry out the orders of the Shelter Manager and his appointed staff shall be deemed a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not more than Two Hundred Dollars ($200.00).
Said ordinance shall become effective from and after its publication as required by the Charter of the City of Hereford, which date shall be the 12th day of August, 1973.
IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, witness my hand and seal of the City of Hereford, Texas, this 6th day of August, 1973.
(City Seal)

Aid Given In Contest

The Brand is hoping to help a "bounty hunter" collect a cash prize in the Hereford Jaycees' "Ten Most Unwanted List" contest.
 A current picture of many of the 10 men on the list is being published with this article, and perhaps some entrants can match the mugs with the contest form's old pictures. Photos of the men in earlier years were published in the contest form.
 The Jaycees are also changing the rules on the contest. It will not be necessary for entrants to have the men sign the picture. Contestants can simply list the men's names by number and turn the form into Jubilee headquarters.
 First prize is $25 and second prize is $15 in the contest, which is being conducted as an activity of the Jubilee Celebration.
 The contest ends Aug. 24 and the winners will be announced at the rodeo on Aug. 25.

Hereford Track Team Honored

Members of the Hereford A.A.U. Track team were honored Friday night with an awards banquet in the Fellowship Hall of First United Methodist Church.
 The awards honored all members of the team who attended track meets and also gave recognition to the outstanding athletes and the three chosen most valuable.
 Most valuable award for the boy member of the team went to Allen Ray Harris with the most valuable girl award given to both Suzanne Duvall and Sandy Whitley.
 Receiving outstanding personal achievement awards were tracksters Pam Whitley, Stete Barrett, Steve Cortez, Daniel Olsen, Cindy Ford, Sheri Anstey, Kelly Cherry, Trent Thomas, JoLisa Barrier, Sarah Suarez and James Harris.
 Special awards of appreciation went to Allen Harris who drove the bus to all the track meets; Dr. Joe Whitley, Track team director; Lola Curtsinger and Kelly Curtsinger.
 Guest speaker at the banquet was Don Cumpton, head track coach at Hereford High. Tom Simons was master of ceremonies and Sam Curtsinger, one of the track coaches, passed out the awards.
 Cumpton urged the young runners to set themselves three goals in life no matter what they are doing.
 "You need an immediate goal, a secondary goal and then an ultimate goal," he said. "The ultimate goal may be something really high, but you can achieve it by simply working on a more realistic immediate goal and then secondary goal."
 "Look forward to next summer," he said. "Start working now. Track is an individual thing and you can't rely on a teammate to carry you."

Doyle Johnson Is New Chevrolet-Olds Dealer

Effective Aug. 15, the ownership of Dick Norwood Chevrolet-Olds of Hereford was officially changed to Doyle Johnson Chevrolet-Olds, Inc. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, both hailing from Oklahoma — he from Cherokee and she from Kingfisher — have been in the automobile business for 17 years. "But this is the first Chevrolet agency that we have had," Mr. Johnson commented. Moving here from Bartlesville, Okla. where they operated an automobile business, the Johnsons live at 733 N. Ave. G. "Right now we're just trying to get organized. Until we can either find us a house or have one built, we are living in a mobile home." "We moved to Hereford because we like these kind of people. They're what we call, our kind of people," Johnson said. With a 180,000 square feet facility, Mr. Johnson said that his business would handle approximately 500 new cars and trucks a year.

Chevrolet Dealership Changed

Formerly Dick Norwood Chevrolet-Olds, the Hereford Chevrolet and Oldsmobile dealership located 615 N. 25 Mile Ave. officially changed hands last week. The new owners are Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Johnson.

Packed Program Slated For Jubilee Ladies Day

Crowded with activities sponsored by clubs and Jubilee Belles, Ladies Day in Hereford's Diamond Jubilee Week will be attractive to men and children of the community as well as women.

Residents taking part will number into the hundreds, not counting the cast of Hustling Heritage '75, the historical spectacular which will have its opening performance at Whiteface Stadium that evening.

Showings of styles, homes, antiques and flowers will proceed an old-fashioned box supper at Dameron Park with a concert by Hereford High School band directed by Randy Vaughn.

Then the pageant will have introductory entertainment by the Caison Kids with Miss Hereford 1973, Sandy Caison, as vocal soloist. Sandwiched between, a lunch at noon is especially for White Collar Girls, women office workers of the city, and their bosses.

To begin the day, from 9 a.m. to noon there will be a tour of homes, an antique show and flower show, all open to visitors who may pick their own route for the tour.

Or they may start at the Chamber of Commerce office, 701 N. Main, and receive a schedule which will route them on the tour of four homes, two old and two new.

First is the George Warner home, in the next block up Main Street in a suburban area, Yucca Hills, the Ken Rogers and Norman Hodges homes will be open and back in Hereford the Steve Coneway residence, 116 Rio Vista, just off South Main after Tierra Blanca Creek is crossed.

The morning tour ends at the home of Mrs. A. L. Manjeot, 303 Westhaven, where an antique display will be sponsored by Pioneer Study Club and a placement show by Hereford Garden Club.

The homes in Yucca Hills are typical of handsome ranch style dwellings being built today in the city, each presenting features designed for modern family living.

At the Hodges house refreshments will be served in a spacious patio room, and Hereford Study Club members will be in charge of selling Jubilee commemorative plates. Both the older houses have been remodeled to make comfortable and handsome homes for today's families. The Warners have used period furnishings with imagination in the place they remodeled on North Main.

It was formerly the home of the O. G. Hill Sr. family and was built in the early 1900's as a small one-story house. The Hills added to it as it grew in the manner of many old places.

That is true of the Coneway place, which has had recent remodeling by the Steve Coneways to make the living room larger by taking in the screened front porch, which in 1953 replaced a small entry porch.

Mrs. Ray Coneway says the house originally had four rooms with the high ceilings of its date, around the turn of the century. There was one closet and three small porches. As well as the Ray Coneways could find, it was built in 1901 by a Mr. Beach.

Later the Ray Barbers owned it and the acreage that is now the municipal golf course. They were breeders of registered Hereford cattle and built a large barn with hay loft.

When the Coneways acquired the house and 18 acres of pasture they converted the lower floor of the barn into a chick hatchery with an incubator of 47,000-egg capacity.

The house now has six rooms downstairs, a bedroom, playroom and storage attic upstairs.

"The old house has seen many changes and events, a birth and a death, the improved widened road, and all the trees which we planted grown tall in its lovely location overlooking Tierra Blanca valley", Mrs. Coneway says.

Luncheon in Hereford Country Club is a no-host event sponsored by National Secretaries Association members here. Reservations are to be made by Wednesday to Mrs. Jimmy Victor, Rt. 1, at $2.75.

Songs by a barber shop quartet and an old-style bathing suit revue will be the entertainment.

From 2 to 4 p.m. the parade of old-time costumes will be held in the high school auditorium. Authentic old costumes from

"We carry a full line of Chevrolet cars and trucks and a full line of Oldsmobile. We have one of the best sales and service facilities in the area. We are going to put a special emphasis on service," Johnson said.

Employing 26 persons, Doyle Johnson Chevrolet-Olds, Inc. will hold open house Sept. 20, coinciding with the new-car show.

Deaf Smith Historical Museum or owned individually, will be modeled in the first half of the show with Mrs. Clint Formby as narrator. The Cataline bathing suit collection, beach styles of 1870 to 1910, will be shown by arrangement of Bess Moore of The Vogue.

Costumes made recently, replicas of old styles, will be paraded and judged for awards. Mrs. John Gilliland is staging director with Mrs. William K. Golden assisting.

At 5:30 p.m. the band concert and box supper in the park will begin, sponsored by Hereford CowBelles with Mary Gibson and Martha Troub as co-chairmen. Roy Faubion will auction the boxes with Mmes. Bob Josseland, Richard Ottesen and Jack McKinister acting as clerks and judges.

In the style of pioneer days, each lady is asked to bring a box lunch, with the box decorated as elaborately as possible. These will be numbered and then auctioned, with the gentlemen bidding. A buyer is privileged to eat supper with the lady who prepared his box.

Prizes will be given for the prettiest box, and to the best costumed, the one coming farthest and the newest-comer.

Fall Zone Meeting Plans Talked In Garden Club

Plans for entertaining a meeting of North Zone, District 1 Garden Clubs in Hereford Oct. 30 featured a business session of Hereford Garden Club Friday morning in the home of Mrs. A. L. Manjeot.

It was held with a workshop session preparing for the fall flower show the club will conduct Aug. 29 as one event of Ladies Day in the city's Diamond Jubilee Week. Mrs. R. L. Layman directed the workshop on flower arrangement.

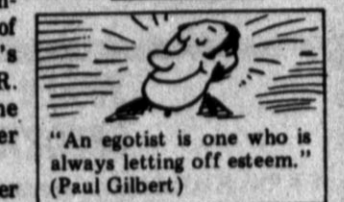

Each member was given her assignment for an arrangement to be placed at a specified spot in the Manjeot home for the public showing.

Mrs. L. W. Norvell reported on plantings of shrubs, evergreens and annuals at the club's Garden Center, Park and Ninth Streets, including a number of daffodil bulbs given by Mrs. J. W. Johnson. Mrs. W. C. Hromas added that work inside the building was completed when draperies were hung this week.

Mrs. D. N. Garner briefly reviewed the 1973-74 yearbook which is near completion and will be ready for members at their first fall meeting.

Announcement was made that Flower Show School No. 1 will be conducted at the Amarillo Garden Center Oct. 9-11, open to local members.

Ladies Day Offers Varied Jubilee Program

A FULL DAY of special events in Hereford's Diamond Jubilee is programmed for Aug. 29, Ladies Day. Before the first performance of the pageant, Hustling Hereford 75, that evening, there will be a tour of homes old and new, antique and flower show, White Collar Girls lunch, old-fashioned style show, band concert and old-time box supper, and pre-show entertainment by Miss Hereford 1973, Sandy Caison, and the Caison Kids.

OLD HOME, that of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Coneway, 116 Rio Vista, was once occupied by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Coneway.

NEW HOME of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Rogers in Yucca Hills has an attractive rock garden and mirror wall in the sunny breakfast room where Mrs. Rogers, seated, talks with Mrs. Ray Cowser, in costume she will wear as a tour hostess.

(See stories inside pages this issue)

ELEGANT is the word for the costume of the 1890's which Mrs. O. G. Nieman wears at Deaf Smith County Museum. Now owned by Mrs. Jack Brown, it was worn by Miss Halcion Donner to a presidential inauguration in Washington. She was a daughter of E. L. Donner, later postmaster here, and lived in the 900 block on Park Avenue.

HEIGHT OF FASHION in the 1920's was this Spanish shawl, in a beautifully embroidered silk version, modeled by Mrs. W. E. Dameron at the museum. Her husband brought the shawl to her as a gift when he returned from a business trip to Kansas City.

THE VAMP, who lured men to their doom in post-World War I movies, is personified in the pose of Mrs. John Hays, wearing a handsome coat of the period, and broad-trimmed hat to shade her seductive eyes.

Muse-Evans Marriage Vows Spoken In Church

Daisies and candles set in massed ferns at the altar of the Presbyterian Church formed a background for the ceremony in which Miss Mary Katherine Muse and Kevin Paul Evans were married Saturday evening.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George K. Muse, 123 Centre, a member of a pioneer ranch family of Deaf Smith County. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Buddie Evans of South Kingwood.

The Rev. Eugene Brink, minister of First Christian Church, conducted the wedding. White tapers in hurricane globes burned in paired brass candelabra flanking flower arrangements at the altar. Church pews were marked with daisies and fern tied with white bows.

Miss Suzanne Hewitt was the bride's honor attendant and Galen Evans of Dallas, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Miss Julie Urbanczyk, bridesmaid, and another brother, David Evans, as groomsmen completed the bridal party.

Serving as ushers were a brother of the bride, George Muse, Dean Jones, Wes Owens and Steve Loerwald.

Mrs. David Evans was the vocal soloist who sang More and The Lord's Prayer, with organ accompaniment by Mrs. Charles Jones.

Miss Muse was dressed in Chantilly lace over bridal taffeta, with lace ruffles outlining the squared yoke, high neckline and cuffs that caught the full sleeves. A scalloped flounce finished the gathered skirt and satin ribbon circled the fitted waistline.

Ruffles and rosettes of lace trimmed the headpiece holding her lace-bordered illusion veil, which extended into a chapel train. She carried a cluster of glameias and yellow roses.

Mint green and white organza made the bridesmaids' dresses, long skirted and with puff sleeves. Ribbon-run Venice lace marked the neckline and waist, with a satin bow and streamers at center back.

In their hair they wore mint and yellow ribbons with streamers. Their colonial nosegays were of yellow daisy pompons, babybreath and fern.

The bride's mother wore a jacket dress in powder blue and the bridegroom's mother was dressed in beige, both with orchid corsages.

With the couple, they greeted guests at the wedding reception in Hereford Country Club. Miss Cheryl Smith was at the registry table.

Mrs. George L. Muse served the wedding cake and Mrs. Dean Jones, sister of the bride, ladled punch.

A five-branched silver candelabrum with yellow roses, babybreath and fern centered the refreshment table. The colonnade cake was ornamented with yellow daisies and topped with a heart-and-dove figurine.

Mr. and Mrs. Evans left on a

South Texas honeymoon trip and on their return will be at home in Canyon. She wore a two-piece pink dress and pinned a corsage from her bouquet at the shoulder line.

The couple will be students in West Texas State University this fall; both are 1973 graduates of Hereford High School.

Guests at the wedding from other cities included the bride's uncle and aunts, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gaither and Mrs. T.W. Loffland of Fort Worth; the bridegroom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H.C. Evans of Plainview, aunts and uncles, Mr. and Mrs. Winston Evans of Odessa, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Hall of Fort Worth.

Yard Show Of Painting Is Planned

A yard show and sale of paintings is planned for next weekend by Mrs. W.C. McCutcheon at her home, 130 Ave. B.

She plans to have the display on view before and after the parade which will officially open Hereford's Diamond Jubilee celebration Saturday, and invites visitors to drop by at any time that day or Sunday.

Hazel McCutcheon paints landscapes, flowers and other still life in oils on canvases of various size from miniatures to very large. Painting had been established as her hobby before she moved to Hereford about three years ago.

When she began planning for retirement after a long career in secretarial work at Houston, she started lessons and found her interest in painting strong enough to keep her occupied ever since.

Friends will assist her as hosts for the art show next weekend, and if the weather permits she will display paintings in the yard the following week.

ENGAGED TO WED—Mr. and Mrs. Torvicio Garcia, 401 Knight, announce September 8 as the date set for the marriage of their daughter, Thelma Cecilia, to Desi Tijerina Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Desiderio Tijerina, 210 Norton. Miss Garcia is a 1973 graduate of Hereford High School. The wedding is to take place in St. Anthony's Catholic Church and the couple plans to reside in Hereford. (Angel photo)

Expresses Appreciation

Dear Sir:
Last year, the Hereford Odd Fellows Lodge revived an old program to provide our children's home in Corsicana with fresh produce. We asked local produce sheds for their assistance and it was readily given.

This year, we have just completed our annual project. Even though the price of onions and potatoes has skyrocketed, the produce people of Hereford donated nearly two tons of potatoes and onions to this program, without hesitation.

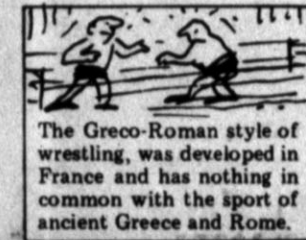

On behalf of Hereford Odd Fellows Lodge and the residents of our home, I want to say thanks to E.C. Reinauer & Sons, Dick Barrett Produce, Howard Gault Co., Griffin & Brand Produce and Deck Produce for their generous contributions. I would also like to thank Virgil Bomar for the trailer and Merle and Martha Bridges for their time in taking the vegetables to Corsicana.

People such as these have made Hereford a wonderful place to live for 75 years and will keep it that way from now on.

Fraternally yours,

Jerry K. Johnson

Bill Phipps To Attend Employee Short Course

Bill Phipps, Hereford building inspector, will attend a three-day short course for municipal employees Tuesday through Thursday in the Municipal Office Building in Amarillo.

The course which enables municipal employees to become more aware of local water pollution problems, will be attended by 23 city employees from 14 cities in the Panhandle area of West Texas. The course is conducted by the Environmental Education Program of the Texas Water Quality Board.

The short course is sponsored jointly by the TWQB and the Texas Department of Community Affairs, and is one of a series being held throughout the state. It is designed to prepare designated personnel to implement Municipal Water Pollution Control and Abatement Programs as authorized by Section 21.357 of the Texas Water Code, a law which requires all municipalities with populations of 5,000 or more to establish water pollution control programs. Cities of lesser population may participate on a voluntary basis.

The training program will be conducted by Bobby Whitefield, Training Coordinator for the Environmental Education Program, assisted by Program Chief Harold Jobs and staff members Tom Barra and Tom Kelly.

Included will be such topics as waste characteristics, how to conduct surveys, collect and analyze water samples, conduct investigations, initiate plans for containing potentially hazardous spills and discharges, and methods of working with the public to encourage water pollution control.

Urbanczyk Clan Holds Reunion With 125 Present

Descendants of an 1854 immigrant from Poland, 125 members of the Urbanczyk family attended their fifth annual reunion in Thompson Park, Amarillo, last weekend.

From Hereford were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dziuk Sr. and Robert Dziuk, Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Stengel, the Arhart Reinart, Sam Mazurek and Tony Urbanczyk families.

Mmes. Dziuk, Reinart, Stengel and Mazurek and Tony Urbanczyk are children of the late Felix Urbanczyk, who moved his family to Hereford in 1937. Mrs. Bill Stengel is another daughter, as is Mrs. John Kotara Jr. of White Deer.

First member of the family in America was Anton, who came as a child with Polish immigrants who settled at Panna Maria, then Munday. His son John moved to White Deer in 1910, Ben and Felix in 1911.

The three brothers are now deceased, but their older children still speak the Polish language. Their sister, Mrs. Wanda Decker of Munday, was a special reunion guest.

Church Wedding Ceremony Read

Miss Hope Rodriguez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abel Rodriguez, 121 Norton, and Alberto Garza, son of Mr. and Mrs. Enrique Hernandez, 910 South Schley, exchanged marriage vows in a late afternoon ceremony Saturday.

The Rev. John Kiesling officiated in St. Anthony's Catholic Church, where an ark decorated with white roses was set in the center aisle and pews were marked with white bows.

Miss Rodriguez had her sister, Mary Ann, as maid of honor while Richard Sierra acted as best man.

Full sleeves were ruffled over her hands, and a wide ruffle finished the skirt which widened to a chapel train. Just longer than the train, her lace-edged veil was held with a cluster of lace flowerets. She carried a bouquet of white roses with a shower of ribbon streamers.

Bridal attendants wore dresses with pink flowers on pale yellow ground, bordered with pink ribbon. Their hats were in the same colors, trimmed with ribbons and flowers, and their nosebags were tied with ribbons.

A reception in St. Anthony's auditorium followed the wedding, and a dance afterward at the skating rink. The bride's bouquet and pink roses decorated the refreshment table.

Miss Rebecca Ramirez invited guests to register. Miss Ana Maria Meza poured punch while Misses Lucy and Irma Rodriguez served the wedding cake.

Mrs. Garza wore a navy pantsuit for travel, as the couple left on a trip to Colorado Springs. After Aug. 22 they will be at home at 208 South Jowell.

Both are graduates of Hereford High School in the class of 1972. The bride is employed at Interstate Securities, and the bridegroom, who has attended Cisco Junior College, at the Armour plant here.

Out-of-town relatives here for the wedding included Carman and Higinio Mendoza, brothers of the bridegroom, and his cousin, Gumerindo Tovar, all of Laredo; Inocencio and Elias Saldivas, cousins of the bride, from McAllen; Gilberto Rodriguez of Houston, the bride's brother, and Mrs. Lupe Reyes of Dallas, her aunt.

Son-In-Law Of Residents Receives Writing Award

John Laird, a 1970 graduate of West Texas State University and son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lohr, 508 Union, Hereford, won top honors in the recent annual Texas Sports Writers Association writing contest.

He is married to the former Lynda Lohr, a 1966 graduate of Hereford High.

Laird, on the sports staff of the Odessa American, took top honors for his column on Ector football player David Carrillo. He placed second with his column, Rodeo, a Sport?

Last year, Laird took third place in the account category and third place in the high school division.

This was the 21st writing contest conducted by the TSWA, an organization of over 200 sports writers covering professional, college and high school sports.

New Packaging Method Being Researched

Poultry scientists at Texas A&M University are working on a broiler packaging method which could prove superior to the now standard ice-pack system.

The technique, known as the dry-chill, eliminates liquid in the chilling process and extends shelf life remarkably.

Dry-chill research was discussed by Dr. F. A. Gardner of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the A&M Poultry Science Department during the National Poultry Science Association's 62nd annual meeting Aug. 6-10 at South Dakota State University. His co-worker was J. H. Denton, research associate.

Gardner said dry-chill has two main objectives: To boost efficiency of packaging and to meet anticipated requirements of the Environmental Protection Agency.

The current ice-pack system, he said, will keep broilers for about 14 days, and during shipping the container is heavier and messier. Dry-chill should enable the processor to ship "100 per cent product" with a shelf life of up to two months. No added water is involved.

To dry-chill broilers, the birds are put in a blast freezer and chilled to 27 degrees but without freezing. They are kept at that temperature until placed in retail display cases in food stores.

Gardner noted that after about 12 days of retail storage, surface concentrations of bacteria were greater on ice-pack carcasses than on dry-chill birds.

Ice-pack carcasses lost significantly more weight during storage than those that were dry-chilled. Gardner said this was attributed to the fact that the ice-pack carcasses absorbed moisture during the chilling process, and the moisture was lost later while stored at retail temperatures.

Surprise Shower Precedes Wedding

A surprise shower for Kathy Muse, whose marriage to Kevin Evans was an event of this weekend, was given Tuesday evening by a half-dozen school friends who entertained in First National Bank community room.

Hostesses were Suzanne Hewitt, Teresa Leon, Julie Urbanczyk, Lynn Fuller, Marcia Tiefel and Cathy Emerson.

They served refreshments from a table decorated in mint green and yellow, the wedding colors, to guests who chatted informally after helping the bride-elect open gift packages.

A previous miscellaneous shower at Hereford Country Club honored Miss Muse before her wedding.

Miss Coleman Is Shower Honoree

Honoring Cindy Coleman, whose marriage to James Pankey is to take place Sept. 7, a shower-tea was given Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Beryl Fish, 103 Centre.

The bride-elect, wearing a dress of periwinkle blue with white trim, greeted guests with her mother, Mrs. Bruce Coleman, and her fiance's mother, Mrs. Virgie Pankey.

Eugenia Fish and Sharon White served tea from a table covered with lace over white and centered with a bouquet of white gladiolus. Touches of blue appeared in cake decoration to introduce the wedding colors.

Hostesses with Mrs. Fish were friends in Hereford and in the Walcott community, where the Coleman ranch home is located.

They included Mmes. John Aikin, Tommy Blasingame,

Ivan Block, B. F. Cain, Tommy Carahan, Pete Carmichael, W. E. Dameron, Larry Dobbs, J. Raymond Flores.

Also Mmes. Elmo Hall, G. V. Hall, Bob Lohr, Forrest Ricketts, L. B. Russell, O. A. Smith, Claudia Walton, Jim West, Clinton West and Bill White.

Sharon Powell Is Bride In Twilight Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Sharon Jolene Powell and Rudy Gonzales was solemnized in a twilight ceremony Friday in Temple Baptist Church, where the altar was decorated with white gladiolas, yellow carnations and fresh greenery arranged with spiral candelabra and a memory candle.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Royce Powell, 204 Western, and the late Mr. Powell. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gonzales, 433 Star.

The Rev. J.L. Bozeman of Temple Baptist Church officiated for the wedding. Alvis Jolly, a family friend, gave Miss Powell in marriage and his daughter, Miss Brenda Jolly, was maid of honor.

Other bridesmaids were Miss Glenda Powell of Paducah, cousin of the bride, and Miss LaNita Herr. Gregory Herring was best man, Ricky Locke and Monte Smith the groomsmen.

Young members of the wedding party were Linda Gonzales, small sister of the bridegroom, flower girl, and Tim Powell, the bride's brother, ring bearer.

Jessie Gonzales lighted altar candles. Terry Campbell, Albert Gonzales, Mike Schumacher and Dwayne Davison were the ushers. Mrs. Joe Hacker played a medley of wedding songs and the marches as organ solos.

Wearing the wedding veil of Mrs. Nelson Kendall as "something borrowed" in her costume, the bride chose a gown of all-white flocked organza with empire waist, cameo neckline and full sleeves gathered at the wrists. Back fullness in the skirt swept into a chapel train, edged with lace scallops.

A cluster of orange blossoms above her forehead, with beflowered streamers on either side of her face, held the bouffant veil. She carried a pendant of daisies and her only jewelry was a diamond necklace, gift of the bridegroom.

Her attendants' dresses were in empire style, of yellow sheer, with butterfly sleeves and softly gathered skirts. Each wore a picture hat in the same color and carried a bouquet of white and yellow daisies.

A reception was held after the wedding in the church fellowship hall. Silver candelabra centered the refreshment table, the bride's bouquet laid at the base.

Mrs. Gregory Herring poured punch while Miss Susie Hickman served the four-tiered cake, which was ornamented with daisy candies and dresh flowers. Miss Cindy Hairgrove was at the guest book.

For a trip to Raton and Albuquerque, Mrs. Gonzales changed to a navy pantsuit.

Both are graduates of Hereford High School, the bride a member of the 1973 class. Gonzales, who graduated in 1972, is employed by Gifford-Hill Co.

50-Year OES Membership Is Honored

A half-century of membership in the Order of Eastern Star was marked for Bruce Rose as she was presented a pin and life certificate at the Hereford Chapter's meeting this week.

Mrs. Rose was initiated in 1923, and served as worthy matron in 1931.

The charter was draped at this meeting in memory of the late Charles Noland, a longtime member.

Date of the annual Friendship Night was changed to Oct. 27 to avoid conflict with grand chapter, or state convention in Dallas. Several members plan to attend this meeting Oct. 14.

Mrs. Bernard Roberson gave the program honoring the OES founder, Robert Morris. Hosts for the social period were Messrs. and Mmes. Deward Roberson and Gene Brock.

Judge Williams Participates In Judges' Institute At WTSU

Judge H.C. Williams, Deaf Smith County, is one of a group of Texas district and county court jurists who attended a three-week Judges' Institute, Juveniles and the Courts, at West Texas State University. The institute was sponsored by the Texas Center for the Judiciary, Austin, and ended Friday.

"Primary thrust of the institute," said Dr. Brent Lynch, director of the institute and associate professor of government at WTSU, "was to review in depth the new family code as it relates to juveniles and to inform the judges about who and what is available to them as juvenile judges."

Lynch added that the institute study was concerned also with the responsibilities of the counties as to facilities required by the code.

This study was made necessary by the passage of the juvenile section of the new family code which goes into effect Sept. 1, after being passed by the 63rd Legislature. The new code contains major changes in the juvenile court system. The procedural and substantive law related to handling of juveniles will be substantially different following Sept. 1, according to the consensus of the judges attending the institute.

A major change in this area is the requirement that all judges who try juvenile cases must be licensed attorneys.

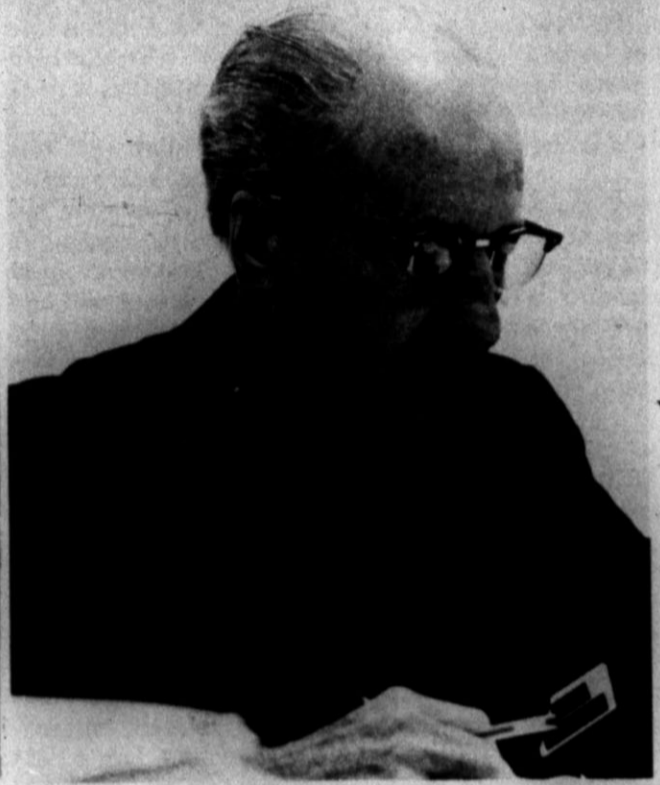

Non-lawyer judges will continue to be responsible for detention hearings and other aspects of juvenile handling in most counties according to the new code.

Requirements contained in the new code state that only qualified probation officers be employed and that certain standards for juvenile facilities and services be met by all counties.

Throughout the three weeks, the judges have been studying the procedural, psychological and psychiatric aspects of handling juveniles, and the role of the police, caseworker, probation officer, psychologist, psychiatrist, clergy, therapist, and judge in juvenile matters.

During the last week of the institute, the judges visited the Psychiatric Pavilion, Kilgore Children's Psychiatric Center and Hospital, Boys' Ranch, Amarillo State Center for Human Development, Texas State Technological Institute, and other agencies in the Canyon-Amarillo area.

A banquet honoring the judges was held the last night of the institute at the Green Room of the East Dining Hall on campus. Certificates of graduation were presented to each of the judges on completion of classes at the institute.

Range Wildfires Threaten During Summer's Hot Days

As hot summer weather progresses, range wildfires become a threat.

"Ranges in most areas of Texas boast plenty of vegetation due to good rainfall the past few months," says Dr. Bobby J. Ragsdale, range specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "This further increases the fire hazard. Summer rains have temporarily slowed the hazard in some areas, but hot weather will soon dry out the vegetation."

Everyone can help in the prevention of range fires, believes the Texas A&M University System specialist. Outdoor recreationists should be especially careful with campfires. Landowners should delay the use of managed fires or otherwise should be extremely cautious with such fires.

If a fire should start, organizations such as county rural fire control groups can play a key role in controlling and extinguishing the fire. "If counties have no plans for rural fire control, some should be adopted as quickly as possible," advises Ragsdale.

The fire danger exists in forests and woodlands as well as the rangeland areas of the state.

Fires can be extremely damaging. They destroy vegetative cover which increases the possibility of soil erosion and accelerates water run-off following rainfall. They also destroy valuable livestock feed and food and cover for wildlife and produce an "eyesore" to man.

Energy Crisis

Rep. Frank Clark of Pennsylvania spoke the sentiments of a lot of Americans recently when on the floor of the House, he declared that he had had enough "ear pollution" from the environmentalists and wants them shut up or toned down. Here's what he said:

Mr. Speaker, in recent weeks there have been more words written about the energy crisis than there have been barrels of oil produced or kilowatts of electricity generated. If, indeed, there is an energy crisis, it is because all the rhetoric is producing more heat than light.

I FIND myself totally out of patience with those who insist that no refineries be built, no power plants, even if they are completed, should operate and then they return to their air-conditioned, electrically heated homes in a gas-eating automobile from the hearings where they have testified.

I have talked to a number of people in my district and they are also completely out of patience with the so-called environmentalists. I describe them as "so-called environmentalists" because an accurate definition of an environmentalist is one who takes the entire environment into consideration.

A MAN sitting in his underheated living room unemployed because the EPA regulations shut down the factory in which he worked is hardly living in what I call a comfortable environment. The customer who cannot use his electric range or air-conditioning because wild-eyed small minorities insist that nuclear powerplants are not safe, despite all the operating experience and evidence to the contrary, is not living in a comfortable environment.

We all want clean air and water, but essentially what good are they to the man and his family who are living on unemployment because of irrational, disconnected, unrealistic EPA regulations?

Let us take for a moment the emission control devices required on automobiles. "Put them on," the EPA says. And when the auto manufacturer does as required he reduces the miles per gallon of the vehicle from 12 or 15 to 8. Great. Now we have clean air and add immeasurably to the gasoline shortage. What sort of madness is this?

IT USED to be said that what this country needs is a good 5-cent cigar. What we need now is a sensible approach to energy across the board. We cannot rationally consider just bureaucratic regulations that will add to the cost of the automobile, raise the price of gasoline and shut off the lights of the Nation. What we need is a reasonable balance between air, water and fuel and the needs, desires and practicality of the workingman. Ecology is a marvelous word but it has a closely related counterpart word in the English language called economics.

It is my belief that any bill presented to the Rules Committee of this House should come out of that committee, if it related to environmental improvement with a cost to the Federal Government, a cost to the consumer, a cost of number of jobs and unit cost for clearing each cubic inch of air or water. In effect, an air pollution emission device on an automobile can cost the Federal Government millions in regulation costs, cost the consumer $300 more for his car, cost thousands of jobs in the auto industry while retooling goes on and produces a negligible improvement in the air in Beaver Falls, Pa.

ENOUGH is enough. At this stage I am more concerned with air pollution than air pollution. By this I mean my own ear pollution listening to those who are devoting full time protecting the bald eagle, the wayward wren, the minnows around powerplants and cannot think for a moment about the people in my district who must work for a living in these plants to feed and educate their children. The energy crisis is here to stay — permanently — unless we come to our senses and relate practically to pollution and ecology to economics.

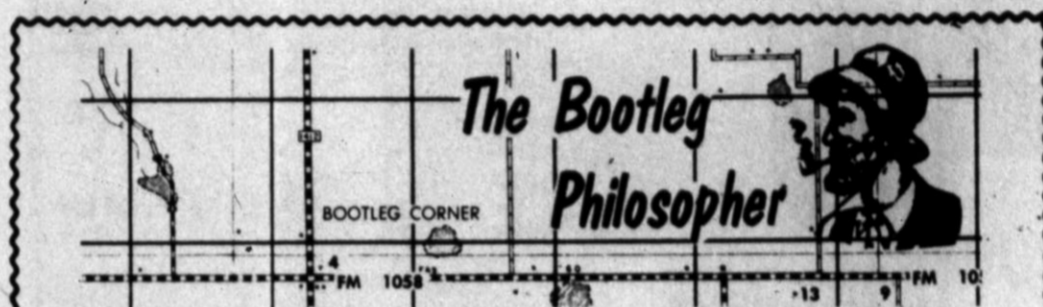

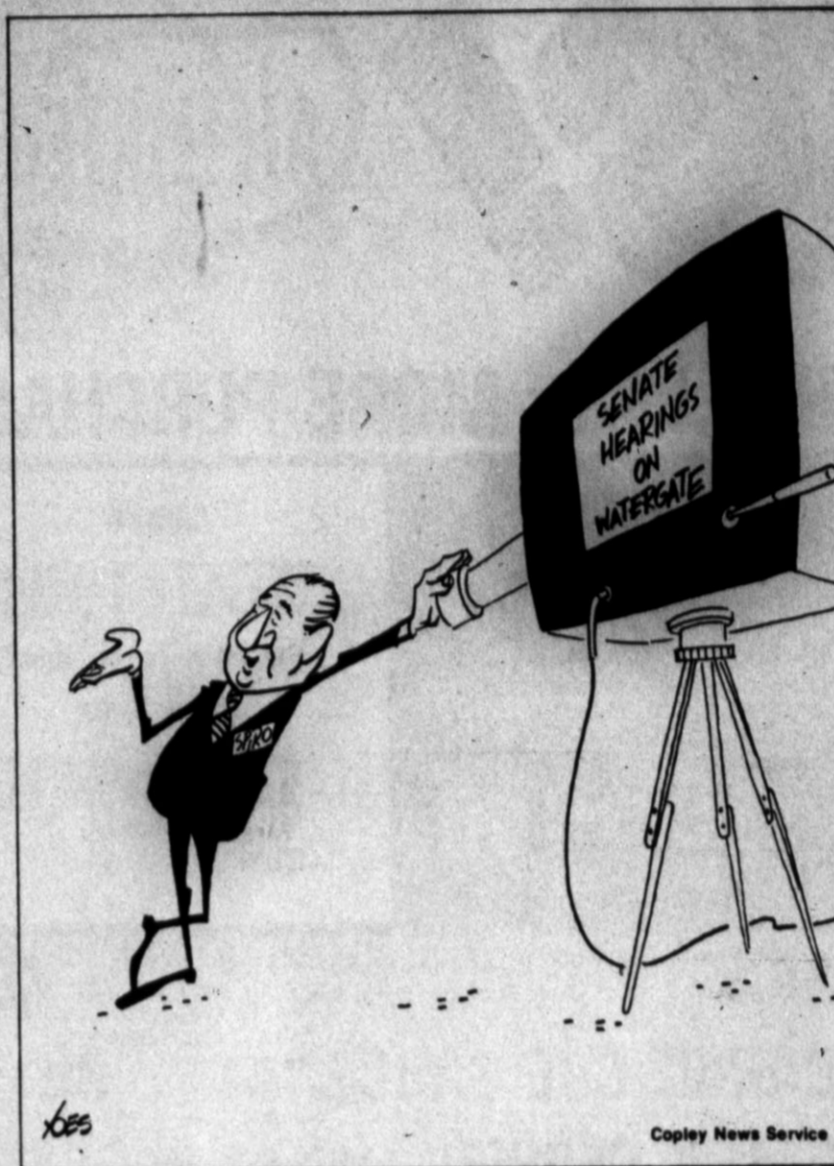

"Often the loudest voices complaining about the misuse of federal funds are those of individuals who are, themselves, misusing the funds—perhaps unknowingly. Many programs designed for poor people are being used by the non-poor level people. I think perhaps the most valuable programs designed for the underprivileged are those in which volunteers are used. . . . The volunteers live pretty much on the level as those they are helping—they get a real feeling for some of the socio-economic problems which exist. Those who 'get rich on the poor' seem to lose their sense of perspective, and may not be able to help the underprivileged." RUGBY, N.D., PIERCE COUNTY TRIBUNE

"Do you wonder, sometimes, why, at the end of your working day, you're tired? Have you ever stopped to consider that during one day your heart beats 103,369 times? Have you also considered that your blood travels 168,000,000 miles, that you breathe 23,040 times, and that you inhale 438 cubic feet of air? Do you also know that you speak 4,800 words, move 750 major muscles, and use 7,000,000 brain cells? All this beside what you know you've done. No wonder you're tired." EDGERTON, MINN., ENTERPRISE

"Obviously there's a fortune to be made by anyone who can come up with a pollution-free, or at least low-exhaust, vehicle. But just to make sure engineers, manufacturers, inventors and Rube Goldbergs are concentrating on the desired designs, two Senate subcommittees are pondering a plan for an effective price subsidy. . . . It suggested that licensing and taxing authorities should consider a fee discount or tax break for private owners of low-exhaust vehicles. In any transition period, the carrot rather than compulsion might be more successful in encouraging purchases of low-pollution automobiles." CORVALLIS, ORE., GAZETTE-TIMES

THERE HAS BEEN NO ATTEMPTED COVERUP

Dear editor:

A lot has been in the news lately about money spent on Presidential homes away from Washington, not just the current Presidential houses but the last four or five.

As I understand it, a man's eagerness to get to the White House is matched, after he's been there a while, only by his eagerness to get away every chance he gets, so the government has to see that his escape home is just as secure as his White House home.

THIS naturally runs into money, if you want to call several million dollars money in these days of the $1.25 hamburger and the 50-cent tractor bolt I used to buy for a nickel, and in view of the fact all other Presidents in the years ahead will be expecting the same treatment I have hit on an idea to save money and solve the problem at the same time.

It's simple. Build a government-owned mobile home with all the equipment needed and let whoever's President have it pulled to whatever spot he wants to spend the next weekend at. This way he would have a Western White House, a Southern White House, Northern, Eastern or whatever point on the compass he likes

White House at whatever distance he feels the safest from Washington.

When he retires, the mobile home is taken over by his successor, given another coat of white paint, and the problem of private Presidential homes would be solved from now on.

WHILE WE'RE on the subject of Presidents there's another problem that's been worrying me. It's the Presidential Library. Have you ever stopped to think that if this country holds together for the next 5000 years and every President has to have a library of his very own to hold his papers, there'll be a minimum of 625 such libraries scattered around the country, with some cities having 8 or 10 apiece? At a cost of at least 6 million dollars and maybe 12 if the cost of living keeps going up?

I'm not suggesting we ought to store those documents in mobile homes, some cities have restrictions against locating those things too close to town, but it would be cheaper to build one huge pyramid in the center of the nation and stack all the papers and tapes and denials there.

Yours faithfully,
 J.A.

Icebergs Could Be Answer

By Bert Mills

Icebergs could be towed from polar regions to remote desert areas of South America or Australia and supply fresh water at an economical cost, two U.S. government scientists have concluded.

The idea of solving water shortages by melting icebergs is not new. It is at least 120 years old and was even done on a small scale in South America late in the 19th century. But the new study is the first critical appraisal and the proposed scheme depends on such modern developments as satellite photography.

Dr. W.F. Weeks, a glaciologist with the U.S. Army Cold Regions Research and Engineering Laboratory at Hanover, N.H., and Dr. W.J. Campbell, a geophysicist with the U.S. Geological Survey, Tacoma, Wash., are co-authors of the report, "Icebergs as a Fresh Water Source: An Appraisal."

INITIALLY, the two scientists set out to prove that iceberg-towing was impractical. But after years of study including a preliminary paper delivered at a symposium on glaciers in England in 1969 the idea "appears both technologically feasible and economically attractive."

While conceding the results of their study to be "very exciting," they regard their report as a preliminary assessment which should be followed by more detailed research. It will take a well-rounded scientific team skilled in oceanography, meteorology, glaciology, fluid mechanics, naval architecture, marine biology, agriculture, and economics.

TOWING AN iceberg through an ocean to a site near the equator involves a melting problem, especially since the researchers suggest a 1 knot speed, and a travel time up to 180 days. By a series of complicated calculations based on "informed guesses," the authors conclude that icebergs of impressive size could be delivered despite shrinkage from melting.

The icebergs would have to contain at least 97 million cubic feet—about the size of two football fields but 80 stories high. Since icebergs come free and nature melts them in a desert, delivery is the only cost. The experts figure the cost would be less than 1 cent per 1,000 gallons of water, or one-hundredth of the cost of desalinization of sea water.

ICEBERGS form in the Arctic and Antarctic, break off from ice shelves, and drift out to sea where they eventually melt. They are a major resource in a water-short world but do nothing now to satisfy man's needs. Towing them to arid areas would allow their water to be used to irrigate huge areas, allowing farming and industry where none exists today.

Drs. Weeks and Campbell estimate that a single super-tug could supply Western Australia with enough water to irrigate a square field more than 48 miles on each side. If more water were needed, all it would take would be to build more tugs and harness more icebergs.

Ecologically speaking, use of iceberg water would not only help solve a scarcity but assist in solving thermal pollution. Everything man does, now, including the desalinization of sea water, heats the water. Melting icebergs in temperate and sub-tropical waters would help to counter the trend.

Talk Of Texas

FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY — The role that Mexicans played in the settlement of Texas often is ignored in history books. This is an oversight that worries reader Freddie Castillo of Wichita Falls.

"The Mexicans encouraged the Anglo Americans to settle in the Southwest," he writes in the May, 1973, publication of the American GI Forum. "When the first Anglo arrived, the Mexican taught him to survive in the desert, to irrigate and cultivate the land, to raise cattle, to use the horse, the lariat and the western saddle."

"He gave him architecture suited to the climate and the land."

"In Texas, it was two Tejanos (Texans), Erasmo Seguin and Martin de Vermandi, who personally assisted and accompanied Stephen F. Austin from Louisiana to Texas to commence the work of colonization."

"Documents show that there were many intermarriages between the two ethnic groups which included such Anglos as James Bowie, Jim Smith, Jeff Smith, Captain William Cooke, Phillip Dommitt and many other Anglo immigrants who came voluntarily to seek land grants and establish settlements under the Mexican sovereignty."

TRAVELING TEXAS — On Farm Road 1655, in Southern Montague County, there is a ghost town with the Biblical name of Uz.

Once a thriving community of German farmers, Uz today has all but disappeared. The town well, with a sign reading "Uz," is the only identification.

TEXANS AT WORK — Cattle manure someday may be more profitable than beefsteaks.

Scientists already have discovered that the manure can be converted into a gas having a greater heating value than that produced by converting either coal or naphtha. It's done by mixing dried manure with hydrogen to form methane and ethane, the principal constituents of natural gas.

It is more abundant than any other energy source known. It is not unusual for a single feed lot to produce hundreds of tons of manure in a day.

The manure requires no preparation before being converted into gas. The cow has taken care of the necessary shredding and grinding.

Transportation of the gas would be no problem. Most cattle feed lots are located in areas of high natural gas production and pipelines are nearby.

The big problem thus far is finding a way to convert manure to gas at low cost. If this can be overcome, the process will solve two problems; disposal of solid waste while providing an almost unlimited energy source.

TRAVELING TEXAS — O'Donnell (pop. 1,148) honored its favorite son in July when it unveiled a bronze bust of Bobby Dan Blocker.

Blocker, known to television fans before his death as "Hoss Cartwright" of the "Bonanza" series, grew up in the town that straddles the Lynn-Dawson County line in West Texas. His parents ran a grocery store with the slogan, "Where Ma Saves Money for Pa."

Residents of O'Donnell refused to accept outside contributions for the sculpture, preferring to raise the funds locally for their memorial to "Hoss."

MEATLESS TOWN — If the expected shortage of beef, pork, lamb and poultry develops, it won't bother the 4,442 residents of Keene, Johnson County. Their supermarket doesn't sell meat and never has.

Keene is a Seventh-Day Adventist community and eating "unclean" meat is against the religious convictions of most of the population. Actually pork and shell fish are the principal proteins mixed by the dietary restrictions in the Old Testament. Strict Adventists, however, eat no meat of any kind.

In fact, the town's supermarket may be the only one in Texas with a meatless frozen food counter. Instead of steaks and ham, it offers protein substitutes such as non-meatballs, Wham (which looks and tastes like Virginia pork) and "fish" patties that have never been near the water. Customers buy the substitutes in quantity, possibly because they cost about a third as much as the real thing.

Meat has been banned from Keene menus for 121 years. So have most condiments. Tobacco, of course, is verboten in any form. So is alcohol.

Wasted Fuel

"Powerlite," a Kansas City Power & Light Company publication reports, "Everyday the citizens of the U.S. throw away—to be buried, burned without heat recovery, or just plain dumped—the equivalent of approximately 100,000 tons of low sulfur coal," said N. Thomas Neff, a consulting engineer for A.M. Kinney, Inc., at a solid waste conference at the University of Wisconsin. . . . "The fuel we throw away is, of course, the fuel value in municipal solid waste," he said. "A city of 500,000 people produces about 1,000 tons of refuse per day. This could supply about six per cent of the fuel needed for a 500,000-kilowatt power plant . . ."

Copy Of Pioneer Aunt's Dress Made For Jubilee

A replica of a costume worn by Mrs. R. H. Gough, wife of Hereford's first physician, will be worn by Ruby Baker, a niece who resembles the pioneer woman, in the old-fashioned style show which is a feature of Ladies Day in the city's Diamond Jubilee Week.

Mrs. Gough is still living and makes her home in Marshall, where her daughter, Mary Helen Combs, resides. She is Ruby Baker's favorite aunt, and their resemblance has always been noted by the family.

Mrs. Baker wanted a costume for the Jubilee like one worn by Mrs. Gough in a photograph which is dated 1899, a printed silk blouse with white lace ruffles worn with a dark skirt.

No pattern was available for the design with side opening and leg-o'-mutton sleeves, so Laura Littrell simply copied the blouse from the picture, in a blue and white nylon print which has a pattern much like the original silk.

Mrs. Gough before her marriage was Norine Moreman, a member of a pioneer ranching family of this county. Her husband had a general practice while he was here, but left for training to specialize in diseases of ear, eye, nose and throat.

In a list of businesses on Main Street of Hereford in 1900, Dr. Gough's drug store is included. The Goughs lived on West Third St.

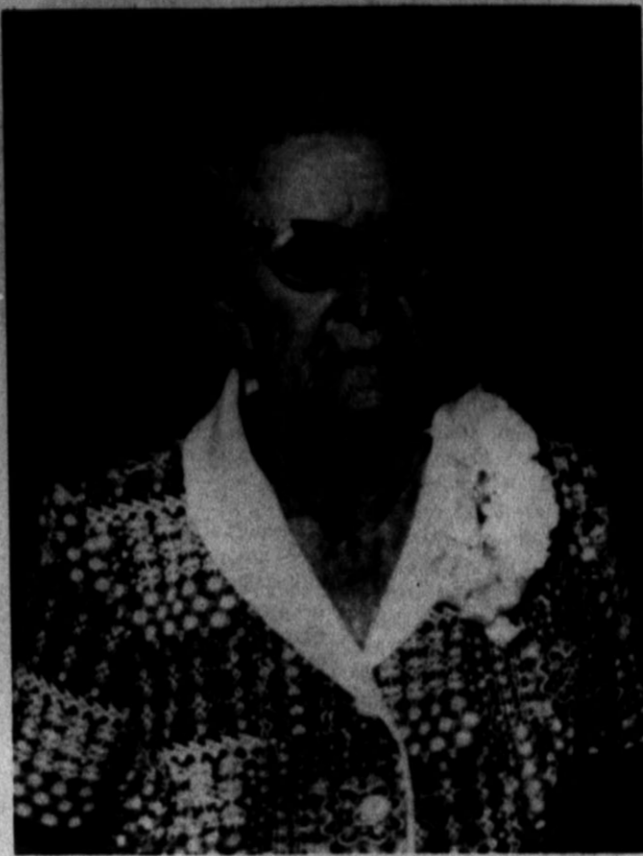

Mrs. Baker is the daughter of Claude Moreman, Mrs. Gough's brother, and the granddaughter of C. R. Moreman, who ranched 20 miles northwest of Hereford in the days when he could ride into town across open country without a fence on the way.

Claude Moreman was killed in a hunting accident when Ruby was a small child and her mother, one of the pioneer J. H.

Harris family, later married John Morris and remained in Hereford until her death a few years ago.

Mrs. Baker has spent all her life in this county except for seven years in California. She remembers life on the ranch when she was small, and later living more than two miles from town in an area where residences are now located on the Harrison Highway, and walking to old Central School.

She lives now in the house where Mrs. Morris lived, 129 Ave. A, and takes care of treasured family belongings, some brought to this county by her forebears about the time Hereford was founded.

Mrs. Ella Burdine ... birthday celebrated

Has Reunion For Mother, 85

Her five children, grandchildren and two great-grandsons, gathered to honor Mrs. Ella Burdine on her 85th birthday last Sunday. The family dinner and reunion had her daughter, Mrs. Dick Ellis, and Mr. Ellis as hosts in their home on Dimmitt Highway.

Mrs. Burdine has lived in Hereford about 40 years, since 1948 at her present home, 300 W. Sixth.

Her children, with their wives and husbands, here for the dinner are the L. A. Burdines and A. D. Carlises of Lubbock, the J. A. Burdines and Wendell Burdines of Hereford. A granddaughter, Mrs. Douglas Pennington, and her husband came from Lubbock.

Brenda and Janet, daughters of the Wendell Burdines, live here. The great-grandsons are Mark Burdine of Austin and Dane Burdine of Lubbock.

Comings And Goings At Kings Manor

By FAYE GAUGGEL

Mmes. Richard Cannon of Clarendon, Grady Parsons and B.H. Patterson visited Lucile Naylor Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Beulah Wright had as guests this week, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mann, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Suckling of Odessa. The two ladies are nieces of Mrs. Wright.

Mrs. Melvin Lehman and daughter Leslie of Chesapeake Beach, Md., have been visiting her mother, Mrs. Martha Shirkey and uncle, Joe Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Wallace of Clarendon, Mr. and Mrs. E.T. Naylor of Amarillo, the Rev. and Mrs. J.W. Polk were weekend guests in the home of Mrs. Lucile Naylor.

Mrs. Fay Gauggel and Mrs. Don Davidson had as their guest over the weekend Mrs. Fletcher Nesbitt of Lubbock. Mrs.

Nesbitt is a sister of the late Rev. Don Davidson.

August 12 was birthday observance for residents having birthdays in the month of August. They were: Joe Davis, Ophelia Dotson, Mina Joes, Lena Pryor. The Sweet and Fancy Club made the beautifully decorated birthday cakes.

Mrs. Hicks had as dinner guests Sunday her son Bob and family of Hereford.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Fields visited Grandmother Fields after their marriage on August 4 and trip to New Orleans for their honeymoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stewart had as guests Sunday their grandson, Mark Stewart and Miss Vicky Murphy of Clovis, N.M.

Mrs. L.N. Cox left August 3 with her daughter and family,

Mr. and Mrs. Don Bagwell of Claude, for a few days of vacationing in Colorado. After spending two days in Colorado Springs, another daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dilli came after her. The remainder of the week was spent at Fort Morgan, Colo. with them.

There she was privileged to attend a theater-dinner party sponsored by the AARP of that city; 201 members attended a matinee of the Sound of Music and afterwards enjoyed a smorgasbord dinner at a local restaurant. This organization is quite active in Fort Morgan and plan interesting group meetings as well as tours to surrounding areas.

Mrs. Pat Newsome, a former Hereford girl, came by for coffee one morning and they enjoyed chatting with her. On Friday, the Bagwell family drove up and all returned home August 10.

Aid In Telethon Campaign Asked

Volunteers who will help with the Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon for Muscular Dystrophy during the 30-hour broadcast are asked to notify Betty Spring at 276-5683, rather than to call the telephone number previously announced. Mrs. A.C. Stengel, chairman of the telethon for the Panhandle Chapter, Muscular Dystrophy Association, has asked that all area residents who will assist by answering telephones, typing, tabulating and tallying figures, delivering messages or supplies, please volunteer promptly.

The annual telethon with actor Jerry Lewis as master of ceremonies will be broadcast from Las Vegas, with appearances by stars of television, movies and stage. The aim is to better last year's collection of more than nine million dollars for fighting the crippling disease.

By the Garden Gate

With Glad

By Mrs. Art Manjeot

By chance I happened to go to the office of the Hereford Nursery while the Wilsons were dismantling, in preparation for closing after a busy season.

I had gone to purchase some blue grass seed, to do some patching on bare spots in my lawn. While Melrose weighed the seed I looked around and found a quote on a placard, surrounded by pretty pictures of roses.

After I had read it, I asked her if she would mind for me to copy it. She said, "Oh Mrs. M, I will give that one to you. I was pleased to have it, and it is so beautiful that I want to share with you."

Here are the words. "God, in His infinite mercy and loving concern provided many avenues of retreat from a frenzied way of life of our own making. He knew we would need a garden to visit for quiet meditation of His grace and mercies. And a place to enjoy His created beauty, of which The Rose is surely one of His masterpieces.

"Our Father knows the needs of our bodies so He gave us food and water from the earth; He knoweth our needs for laughter, therefore gave us many reasons for mirth and happiness; also our thirst for beauty . . . therefore He gave us the mountains, the rivers, the trees, the beautiful grass — and the Rose."

The rose was sent to grace the world, and it is probably one of the most admired of all flowers. June is universally known as the month of roses, but this month the roses have been very beautiful in Hereford.

The rose garden at the Owen Seamands home, 147 N. Texas, is beautiful. It is planted with peace roses and there has been continuous bloom since early spring. The garden is always well groomed, and passing by I always slow down so that I can enjoy the blossoms as they gracefully nod over the brick wall.

For our area there is not a better rose to grow than the peace, pink peace, and Chicago peace.

The rose garden at the Howard Armstrong home, 909 Church, has been very colorful during August. Some of the old time favorites grown, which give a gardener satisfaction, are: garden party, white knight, Americana (red), Dean Collins (rose color), Sutters gold, Camelot (coral), Independence, Astec (very fragrant), Gale Borden (pink), Queen Elizabeth (grandiflora), tropicana (apricot), snow bird (white), prolific bloomer, floribundas—Spartan (coral), tom-tom, pied piper (red), Vogue, pink and very fragrant. All of these respond to good care and pay off with lovely blooms.

Several of these roses are in full flower at the Ron Welty home, 117 Hickory. The roses are also in full flower at the Ed Line home, 310 Sunset, one of the hybrid teas is like a living bouquet.

Roses also produce their blossoms in an unusual way, for instance Mrs. Jeff Roberson invited me to come and see her out door bouquet of roses. A Pauls scarlet climber was in flower and at the base of the canes, a new cane about six inches had grown directly out from the root stock. On the end of it there was a cluster of approximately 26 full open blossoms.

Indeed a very pretty sight, and if cut it would have made a beautiful centerpiece for a dinner table. Very interesting, fragrant and lovely. Thrills like this spur me on to better gardening and the excitement which goes with it.

To the newcomer, the above listed roses will be good choices and I promise they will give you garden thrills.

To have continued beauty on your roses it is very important that they are cut properly to produce. How you cut off spent hybrid tea and grandiflora rose blooms will greatly effect succeeding flowers, says Harold H. Allen in the American Rose Annual.

Many gardeners snip spent flowers at the neck joint just beneath the bloom. However, this leaves a thin, weak stem, and the shoot developing from this will be incapable of producing a quality flower.

Mr. Allen recommends cutting much farther down, where the cane is pencil thick or thicker. He cuts approximately a fourth inch above a good eye situated in a leaf-stem joint. The shoot that develops from that eye will become a stem of appreciable length and will produce a fine bloom.

GERANIUMS: There are some extra fine quality geraniums in flower at many Hereford homes. This week a friend of mine called me to come and see her geraniums. They were planted in a long porch planter and were very beautiful.

Large flower heads were almost perfectly formed, stems long and with extra good substance. Foliage was luxurious, and color green and lush. Color of flowers was a very pleasing pink, and a fine specimen of apple blossom.

Mrs. Sides (the grower) and I counted as many as nine bud clusters and approximately 12 or more full flower heads to the plant. Drive to 119 Centre and enjoy the created beauty of these lovely and well grown plants.

Geranium in strictly scientific usage is the plant also called crane's bill, because of the seed-pod formation. The last blossom stems which I removed from my geraniums certainly were true to the description, they really looked like a crane's bill.

Geraniums in most localities are annuals and they are propagated by seed, cuttings or plants grown by nurserymen. They can be carried over from one season to another by various means but our climate is not very conducive to storage and carryover.

The geranium is grown almost world wide; in European countries they are a great favorite, especially used for window boxes and in public plantings as well as in home gardens.

They come in many varieties. Ivy, lemon, Martha Washington and rose are some of the most popular. Tasty cakes and other dainties can be seasoned with leaves and blossoms of the scented and spicy varieties. At a state garden tea dainty rose mints were served and were tasty and pretty.

The geranium heads do not make very good cut flowers. They often wilt and petals fall. Cut just before they reach their peak. Plunge the entire flower head into cool water (from the tap) let remain in the water bath for a few minutes, drain on newspaper before arranging, and to aid in keeping qualities add a bit of crushed ice to the water in the container in which they are arranged. Foliage can also be treated in like manner.

Red flowering geraniums are great favorites, and they are some well grown ones in our gardens. This year the flower heads have been of unusually good quality and size. Be sure and include geraniums on your planting list for another growing season . . . you will be pleased with them.

REMEMBER: You are invited to the Antique Show, and the Placement Flower and Garden Show, Wednesday, August 29, 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at Glad's house, 303 West Haven Drive. You all come!

Holland Soprano Featured With Continental Singers

Soprano Olga Bastiaannet will appear with the Continental Singers And Orchestra in a concert of contemporary Christian music Monday at 8 p.m. at the First Baptist Church in Hereford.

Twenty-one year old Miss Bastiaannet was born in Amsterdam, Holland. At an early age she moved with her family to Alberta, Canada, where she lived for the next nine years. Being from a traditional European background, she grew up in a close-knit family which centered around music. As a result, music has always played an important part in her life.

Miss Bastiaannet presently makes her home in Santa Barbara, California. She was quite active in her high school years, performing extensively with both the Mixed Chorus and Acapella Choir. She also appeared with "The Other Side," a group of fourteen musicians who traveled throughout southern California. Upon graduation, she, along with four others, formed "Freely Given", designed to perform for various clubs and night rallies in the Santa Barbara area.

Miss Bastiaannet is presently a junior and sociology major at Santa Barbara City College. Her ambition is to eventually become involved in some type of social work. In addition to her singing, she enjoys playing the guitar and doing anything which involves her with the public. A great lover of the outdoors, she spends as much time as possible either on the beach or backpacking in the mountains.

The Continental Singers will offer an exciting selection of concert anthems, spiritual and folk adaptations, hymn arrangements and contemporary gospel music. In addition, the group will feature the premiere of "The Apostle" — a dynamic, musical witness based on the life and ministry of the apostle Paul.

The Continental Singers are currently on a 75-day tour of nightly performances throughout the central United States, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York and the New England area. They will also spend four exciting weeks in southern Europe, performing in the major cities of Switzerland, France, Germany and Holland.

4-H Fair Among Fall Activities Slated By Clubs

Fall events for 4-H Clubs in Deaf Smith County were planned at the Parent-Leader Association meeting this week in REA Medallion Room. Of first interest is the annual county 4-H Fair, set for Sept. 8 in the Bull Barn.

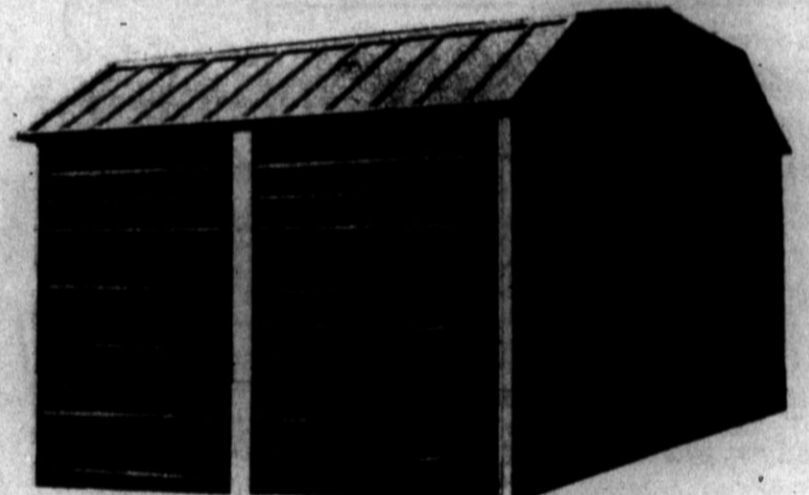

Mrs. Marvin Welty and Mrs. Bruce Terry are general chairmen; adult and teen leaders will direct each division. Awards will be given in baking, clothing, canning, crafts, field crops and vegetables, bake show and rabbit show. Looking forward to National 4-H Week observance, Oct. 7-13, other coming events include participation in the Hereford Diamond Jubilee parade, 4-H Leaders' Forum at Ceta Canyon Sept. 10-12, Tri-State Fair Sept. 13-20, 4-H orientation program Sept. 17.

4-H Week will begin with group church attendance, include programs to civic organizations and end with an awards dinner Oct. 12.

Airport Runway Problems Reported To CC Directors

Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce directors heard reports Thursday morning that the Hereford airport is "being avoided" by pilots from out-of-town because of loose gravel on the runways causing damage to propellers.

Dr. Hugh McCrary made the report as part of the aviation committee report and said that the loose gravel was caused by poor advice when the runways were being repaired. McCrary said repair to the runways would be very expensive and asphalt and gravel were put on the runways to repair them.

However, he said it would take quite a bit of traffic to harden the runways, but that "nobody will land on them."

"We have good airport facilities and good management," he said, "but right now we just have a marginal airport and there is not much we can do about it."

"But we need to do something," he said. "It is prohibiting quite a few planes from landing here."

IN OTHER action at the regular Chamber meeting, directors approved a move to have the median removed from U. S. 60 east of its intersection with U.S. 385.

Daryl Jones manager of Chateau Inn, met with directors and said petitions were being signed by many Hereford citizens to get the action done and asked for Chamber support. He said the median costs many businesses along the highway "quite a bit" in missed sales during the past years.

In other action Chamber directors:

—Heard a report on the Hereford track and field club from Dr. Joe Whitley club director. Whitley reported on the progress of the track club this past summer and then asked for individual support for a drive in the near future to call for a bond election for a new surface to Hereford High track field.

—Heard an appeal from Bud Snyder concerning a lack of antique farm equipment for display during the Agriculture and Industry Day of the Jubilee Celebration. Persons having either old or new farm equipment are asked to contact either Snyder or Bob Josseland at Jubilee Headquarters, 364-1896.

—Rex Easterwood gave a report on the Industrial committee and said that several new industries and businesses have come into Hereford lately and said that several others have been in contact with local officials about locating here.

—HEARD a letter by Roy Faubion, Chamber vice president who presided in the absence of President Jim Conkright. The letter was from the president of the Chamber in Hereford, England, and was sent with Bert Weston of Hereford, England, who visited here this past week.

—Reported that the election on the Chamber bylaws would be held at 8 p.m. Monday in the Community Center and all Chamber members are urged to be there.

—Heard a report that U. S. Cong. George Mahon assisted recently in getting diesel fuel for a trucking business in Hereford.

—TABLED to be studied by a committee of three was a proposal asking for Chamber support to get additional low-income family housing approved for Hereford. Two Chamber members expressed hesitation at approving the plan and Faubion appointed R. C. Hoelscher, Major Schroeter and Terry Caviness to the committee.

Speaks To Lions

Corinne Jowell Neely, right, chats with Wayne Thomas here before she spoke to the Hereford Lions during their noon meeting Wednesday. Mrs. Neely, introduced by Thomas, told about the old days in Hereford and about the days of the small rancher. Her program was meant to coincide with the Diamond Jubilee Celebration.

Few Accidents Reported

By STEVE CONNELLY
Staff Writer

There were relatively few criminal incidents reported by the Hereford Police Department this week, and only three traffic accidents were reported.

An accident in the 200 block of Elm Street occurred Tuesday at 9:25 a.m. involving two cars.

A 1969 Dodge, driven by Donna Waltersfield, 222 Elm, was backing out of a driveway, when a 1973 Oldsmobile, driven by Marjorie N. Smith, 501 Star, was driving through Elm and the two cars collided.

Another accident occurred Tuesday at 6:25 p.m. in the 700 block of Knight Street.

A 1965 Chrysler, driven by William Eugene Miller, 418

Star, was going north in the 700 block of Knight, and a 1968 Pontiac, driven by Jane T. Abston, 122 Kibbe, was following the Miller car. Miller stopped, and the Abston car collided with the rear of his car.

The final accident of the week occurred at the intersection of Mable and Windsor Streets, Thursday at 12:50 p.m.

A 1971 Ford driven by Walter G. Hudson, Rt. 3, Hereford, was traveling east on Mable Street and a 1973 Chevrolet pick-up driven by Richard C. Schlabs, Rt. 2, Hereford, was headed south on Windsor Street and the two cars collided at the intersection.

The Hereford Police also reported two arrests for minor in possession, and one for contributing to the delinquency of a minor this week, and a few calls for family disturbances.

The Hereford Fire Department reported to one fire this week, at Doyle Johnson Chevrolet-Oldsmobile. A car in the shop had caught fire, but was quickly extinguished.

Nothing in the shop was seriously damaged by the blaze.

ALONG THE FRIO

By MRS. OWEN ANDREWS
Brand Correspondent

Chuck Williams of Amarillo preached Sunday, concluding the Youth Revival at Frio Baptist Church. Williams is a church youth worker and a senior student at Wayland Baptist College.

Mike Riley of Oklahoma City preached Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights. He was called to Oklahoma City by the death of a friend, who had been critically injured, and went Sunday for the funeral.

Dinner was brought by ladies of the church for Sunday after the church fellowship. Steve Stage of San Antonio led the music. Rhonda Sutton of Amarillo played the piano and Mrs. Joe Shultz the organ. Several from Summerfield and Hereford visited at various times during the services.

Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Baldwin and sons of Temple Hills, Md., came this week to visit the W. H. Andrews, the Baldwin family and other relatives for several days. Mrs. B. H. Baldwin Godfrey's mother, and Miss Viola Keene who had visited the Godfrey Baldwins for about a month returned home as they came. The Baldwins also plan to visit his grandmother at Albuquerque and other relatives in Central Texas and Oklahoma before returning home.

Visiting the Sam Ogans this week are his sister, Mrs. Jim Edwards, and Mr. Edwards, of Granbury.

On Monday Mrs. Sam Ogan, Mrs. Jackie Andrews and Holly, Mrs. Marsh Pitman and Gabe and Sammy Ogan visited relatives at Silverton.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwaine Knabe of Amarillo took his younger brothers, Adolph and Raymond, to Dallas last weekend where the group visited the Six Flags over Texas attraction.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Manion, Jay and Kim, spent last week visiting his parents at McAlester, Okla. and with other relatives at Arlington.

LATELY MARRIED — Mr. and Mrs. Atanacio Mancillas Jr. are at home in St. Paul, Minn., after their recent marriage in St. Matthew's Catholic Church there. The bride is the former Miss Inez Sombrano, a teacher in St. Paul schools. Mancillas, whose parents reside in Hereford, is in the Marine Corps Reserves. Both are graduates of Hereford High School. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fuljencio Sombrano of San Marcos.

Minister Talks Of Family Relations

The Rev. Doug Manning entertained the Hereford Kiwanis Club at noon Thursday with humorous stories of his youth and daily life as a minister and also discussed problems of family relations in today's world.

Manning, introduced by program chairman Bub Sparks, discussed the main problems married couples have and said that many people have the wrong idea about marriage and therefore are disappointed in it.

"People expect too much out of marriage," he said. "They get the wrong idea when they think they will have a constant experience of passion. People need to get a new look at marriage and why it is that way."

Manning said the three main types of husbands are "pillow fluffers," "Pumpkin Eaters," and "Relators."

"The pillow fluffers are the ones who are not really henpecked, but who avoid all confrontation between themselves and their wife," he said. "When you have a pillow fluffer you have two people getting together but never learning to rub each other. They need to know how to fight, but to fight fairly."

Manning said the Pumpkin Eaters were the men who completely dominated their wives and never give them any freedoms.

The third type of husband is the "Relator" said Manning because "he gets a good feeling and allows other people to be themselves."

"But it all starts with you," he said. "Your opinion of yourself."

Annual Drive Of CCA Set Sep. 10

Delayed until the city's Diamond Jubilee activities are ended, the annual membership drive for Hereford Community Concert Association was set for Sept. 10-14 at a meeting of directors this week.

Mrs. Richard Ottesen and Mrs. Paul Scott are co-chairmen of the drive, when memberships will be renewed and new members enrolled for the 1973-74 season.

With the Big Band Cavalcade and a harp duo already booked as hold attractions, a season of outstanding programs is promised members of the Association here. For the first time, student memberships will be offered at a special price.

Adult membership fee will remain at $10, with at least three concerts by nationally-known artists guaranteed.

Student membership, for children of high school age and younger, is priced at $5. Family memberships, to cover parents and all the children in a family, will be sold for $30, also an innovation in Hereford.

A meeting of captains who will direct workers in the drive is set for Tuesday morning; the orientation tea for workers to receive instructions and kits, will be held Sept. 4 in the Rudy Metz home.

A representative of the national Community Concert Association will be here for the drive kickoff, at a coffee Sept. 10 in the Chamber of Commerce office. Headquarters for the drive will be maintained there through the week.

Since activity in Hereford this summer has been centered in Jubilee preparations, so membership renewals were not pushed as they usually are, the co-captains ask that requests for renewals and also for new memberships be mailed to Mrs. Ottesen, 116 Nueces, in advance of the drive.

The request should include a check and the name, mailing address and telephone number of the prospective member or members, and whether the membership is new or renewed. Credit will be given for these to the worker who has the name on his list.

Prince Valiant

IN THE DAYS OF KING ARTHUR
BY HAL FOSTER

Our Story: UPON THE DEATH OF GRIMMER, THE RULING FAMILY OF HOLVIK COMES TO AN END. NOW A NEW KING MUST BE APPOINTED TO THE THRONE, AND PRINCE VALIANT MUST CHOOSE ONE WHO HAS SONS TO CONTINUE THE LINE.

JARL HAAKON IS MOST WORTHY, BUT DOES HE HAVE A MALE HEIR? VAL FINDS HIM SITTING ALONE, A WELL-THUMBED PARCHMENT IN HIS HAND.

"YES, I HAVE A SON, A STUBBORN, IMPUDENT, DISRESPECTFUL STRIPLING! WE QUARRELLED AND HE LEFT HOME TO ROAM THE SEAS. I LET HIM GO AND GOOD RIDDANCE."

"BUT I WOULD NOT HAVE HIM OTHERWISE," AND THEN, HIS EYES BRIGHT WITH PRIDE, HE SHOWS VAL THE PARCHMENT. "HE SENDS ME THIS MESSAGE. HE WILL BE COMING HOME AND ASKS MY FORGIVENESS."

VAL HAS NOT SEEN ARN SINCE COMING TO THULE, FOR INSTALLING A NEW KING OF HOLVIK AND GETTING RID OF GRIMMER'S FAVORITES TAKES TIME. SO IT WILL BE A WHILE BEFORE HE CAN SEE HIS WOUNDED SON.

HE NEED NOT WORRY, FOR ARN IS RECEIVING THE TENDEREST OF CARE FROM LYDIA, HAAKON'S LOVELY DAUGHTER. SOMETIMES THEY TALK OR SHE SINGS IDLE LITTLE SONGS. OFTEN THERE ARE LONG SILENCES FILLED WITH DREAMS.

ARN DRIFTS ALONG ON PINK CLOUDS. HE NEVER HAD MUCH TO DO WITH GIRLS. HOW WONDERFULLY SWEET THEY ARE..... OR IS IT JUST LYDIA?

hints from Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:
I wonder if your readers save the attractive tub containers (with the little flowers and designs around them) that margarine comes in?
You can make very attractive planters from them. I take an embroidery needle and poke holes around the top edge in the groove. Next, I make a buttonhole stitch with bright-colored yarn through each hole. Then I take a crochet hook and crochet a simple stitch one time around.
These tubs can hold either real or permanent flowers or plants. They can also be used as containers for pins, etc.
Madeline Golwick
And, what a dee-lightful idea to make for taking to patients in cold water, and put it into an empty spray bottle.

You can increase or decrease the amount of starch in the water for a heavier or lighter finish.
Mary Ann Paschal

GOOD NEWS!
DEAR HELOISE:
Last year after surgery I was confined to the house for several weeks.
During that time one of our friends and neighbors left two or three morning newspapers in my mail slot each day.
It was such a welcome gesture of kindness. And it gave me new reading material each day. Sure helped lessen the hours of boredom.
Vicki

HANDY HANKIES
DEAR HELOISE:
With an allergy condition, it is necessary for me to always keep a hanky or a tissue handy.
This is my solution of the problem that so many sweaters now do not have any pockets.

HELP FOR HOMEMAKERS

THE SHELL GAME
DEAR HELOISE:
I make regular pie shells out of meringue.
When baked and cooled, I wrap them and keep them in the freezer.
Then, when I have "special" company or on a festive occasion, I take a meringue shell from the freezer, fill with a pudding filling, layer with sweetened whipped cream and top with chopped nuts.
Makes a luscious dessert and only takes a short time to prepare.
Frances

OFF THE CUFF
DEAR HELOISE:
If you have several blouses that require cuff links, but not enough pairs to match each blouse; perhaps you can find appropriately designed buttons with underside loops in your button box.
Sew two buttons or beads together with strong thread, allowing 1/4-inch length of thread between them. A set for each side.
To have them always handy, sew one of the two linked beads or buttons to one side of a buttonhole on each sleeve.
Mrs. E.W.

LETTER OF THOUGHT
DEAR HELOISE:
You cannot take immaculate housekeeping to heaven with you.
But too much immaculate housekeeping can get you there sooner, provided that was already your destination.
E.S.

A PIECE OF CAKE!

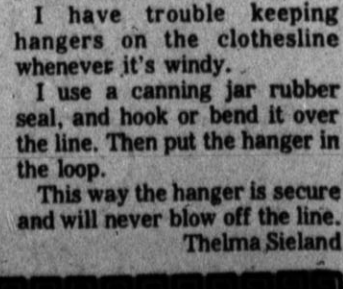

DEAR HELOISE:
I have been a reader of yours for I don't know how long. I came up with this idea when we were going one hundred and some miles to see my brother in the hospital.
Mom just happened to pick the fluffy kind of frosting for her cup cakes. The real gooey kind!
Since they had to spend the trip inside our food basket, I couldn't stand the thought of all the sticky, gooey stuff all over the inside of the basket.
I found a cup cake tin, exactly the same as the one the cup cakes were sitting in, and inverted it over the cup cakes! Some tape, to hold it down fast, finished the job.
I am a boy 16-years old and I thought this was a great idea.
David Kelly

DRIVING DOLLIES
DEAR HELOISE:
I'm hooked on those teen-age dolls and love to play with them.
Here's how to make a perfectly good "car" for your doll to drive around in:
Take a shoe box and paint it and the lid. Stick clothespins in each corner. Paint them too. You can put two little boxes inside for the front and back seat.

Take a big button and put it on the front on the inside for the steering wheel.
Set the lid of the shoe box on the four clothespins.
Attach a string to the front to pull it with.
Cut a line down the side for the doors. And glue on small buttons for doorknobs.
And, there, you have a perfectly good car!

HANG IT ALL!
DEAR HELOISE:
I have trouble keeping hangers on the clothesline whenever it's windy.
I use a canning jar rubber seal, and hook or bend it over the line. Then put the hanger in the loop.
This way the hanger is secure and will never blow off the line.

In six different pairs.
- I.M. Smart says he can think of three possible uses for a single shoe.
Use one as a door wedge, to throw at a rival, and use the other to throw at a rival.

MEASURE UP? A medical journal of long ago presents some curious "Facts About Man." For instance: "If a well-made man be extended on the ground, his arm at right angles with the body, a circle making the navel its center will just take in the head, the fingertips and feet. "The distance from top to toe is precisely the same as that between the tips of the fingers when the arms are extended. "The length of the body is just six times that of the foot; while the distance from the edge of the hair on the forehead to the end of the chin is one-tenth the length of the whole stature."

SHOW STOPPER! Our lawn-mowing friend above is headed for a sudden stop, as you will discover by connecting numbered dots.

SHORE THING! Add these colors neatly for a surprise picture above: 1- Red. 2- Lt. blue. 3- Yellow. 4- Lt. brown. 5- Flesh. 6- Green. 7- Maroon. 8- Black. Leave unnumbered areas blank.
