

Snyder Humbles Hereford, 28-8 To Confuse Race

By DON RICHARDS

"We just couldn't ever get the ball." That was the summary of Hereford Coach Larry Dippel in the dressing room after the Snyder Tigers paid the previously undefeated Whitefaces an unpleasant visit Friday night 28-7.

The Tiger win over the leading Herd threw the District 4-AAAA race into a state of confusion with the outcome to be decided in two important games this week.

Snyder spotted the Herd a quick touchdown but then came back to drive home the point that they had come to win. Relieved of the pressure of the district race, the Tigers controlled the Whitefaces in almost every phase of the game.

The visitors played almost perfect, error free ball during the game to spoil Hereford's hopes of finishing the season undefeated. The Tigers scored an early touchdown following Hereford's opening score and then built the needed momentum after stealing a Herd aerial early in the second period.

"We were just drilled," said Dippel. "Snyder just played up to the potential they have had and we didn't. We just didn't play with the emotion they had."

HEREFORD'S powerful offensive threat was almost stymied by the Tigers — moreso by ball control than by outstanding defensive work. Snyder just played ball control, passing only four times when they needed and completing those.

The Herd took the opening kickoff at the 2 yard line and ace back James Harris brought it to the 37. From there on the first play from scrimmage Chuck High ripped off a 37-yard run and was pulled down from behind by Snyder speedster Welton Cobb at the 25 to save the score.

THEN Harris and High, aided by a Franklin Higgins to Armando Gonzales 13-yard pass moved it to the three where Harris punched it over with only three and a half minutes gone in the game. Dave Charest's kick split the uprights for a 7-0 lead.

But that was the end of Hereford's scoring show for the night.

The Herd held the Tigers following the kickoff and Tiger punter John Boren legged out a 57-yard kick into the Herd end zone. Hereford ran three plays and Mike Crim punted to the Snyder 41.

The Tigers, following the slippery running of junior substitute fullback Ricky Howell, who was top ground gainer of the night with 164 yards on 32 carries, moved to the Herd 32.

FROM THERE Tiger quarterback Richard Gorman sent one flying to end Doak Witherspoon who was surrounded by Herd defenders. The Snyder passing game, virtually ineffective all season, this time made up for the year as Witherspoon pulled in the pass and fell into the end zone under a host of Maroon jerseys.

Mickey Gonzales tied the score at 7-7 as Snyder had scored their first of four

That feller on Tierra Blanca Creek says envy is a form of self-poisoning.

THE DEAF Smith County Chamber of Commerce has won recreditation from the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, it was learned Friday afternoon. Bill Albright, C of C executive vice president, was notified by a phone call from Washington, D.C.

Formal notification will follow, announcing the recreditation for a 5-year period. There are a number of requirements and qualifications to gain accreditation, but simply stated it means that we have an outstanding organization here!

SINCE THE President's plea to initiate certain measures to help conserve energy supplies, we've already heard several people comment on trying out the 50 mph speed limit and the 68-degree temperature setting. One man said he'd been trying to get his wife to set the home thermostat on 68 for years, and now the President is helping on the project!

On long trips, the 50 mph speed limit will be hard to stomach. However, the driver may be more calm and collected in some areas if he's not fighting traffic at a high speed.

It seems certain that Daylight Savings Time will be put into effect again, and this bothers some people more than the other "discomforts." Many citizens have never liked DST anyway, but from all reports, it will be approved by Congress.

FLAGS were flying in Hereford Saturday for the observance of the traditional Armistice Day of Nov. 11. Armistice Day has given way to Veterans Day, and Congress further juggled the symbolic date by moving it back to the fourth Monday in October. The number "11" is too entrenched in history for many veterans to forget coming from the Armistice of WWI being signed on the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month.

The original Dirk West cartoon on the Whitefaces was sold last week at the Booster Club auction for $40, with Hereford Cattle Sales claiming the sports memento.

HEREFORD'S hopes for an undefeated regular season were erased in a convincing way by the Snyder Tigers here Friday night. It was a disappointing loss but no "fluke", as the visitors simply controlled the game.

Buck Sitton, Snyder sports writer, told press box observers it was the "best game we've played all year." Sitton said Snyder has had the potential, but it's the first time "they put it all together" this season.

The Whiteface fans could point to the fact that big Jim Marsh—an all-district candidate—was on the sidelines and that quarterback Franklin Higgins had the flu all week, but the way Snyder played Friday night it may not have made much difference.

The result is that Hereford's quest of the District 4-AAAA title all comes down to one game, and that will be against the tough Lubbock Westerners Thursday. We think the Herd can do it... let's make plans to follow the team to Lubbock!

And, If . . . But, Or

And, ifs, buts and or . . . With Snyder's upset 28-8 win over the previously undefeated Whitefaces, the District 4-AAAA race goes back into a mass of uncertainty with all the cookies on the line for the final week of action.

Hereford could have clinched a tie for district and certain representation of the district with the win over the Tigers coupled with Lubbock's 7-7 tie with Coronado.

Now the race is in a big lump again with Hereford and Monterey tied for first with one loss each, Lubbock following with a loss and a tie, Coronado with a loss and two ties, Snyder with two losses and a tie and Plainview with four losses.

Two important games come up this week as Lubbock entertains Hereford Thursday night and Monterey and Coronado battle Friday. Snyder and Plainview clash in an actually unimportant game as far as district titles go.

IF THE situation arises, can Hereford Coach Larry Dippel settle for a tie with Lubbock Thursday night? In order to, he needs to know the outcome of the Monterey-Coronado game which isn't being played until Friday night.

Here is the way the district can finish. —If Hereford beats Lubbock then the Herd is assured of a tie and will definitely represent the district regardless of the Coronado-Monterey game.

—A Lubbock win, coupled with a Monterey loss would give the Westerners the undisputed district championship.

—A Hereford win, coupled with a Monterey loss, would give Hereford the undisputed championship.

—A Lubbock win, coupled with a Monterey win, would give the district championship to Monterey all alone at the top.

—A Hereford win, coupled with a Monterey win would put the Herd and Plainsman at a tie for the crown, but Hereford would represent the district because of the earlier-season Hereford win over the Plainsmen.

NOW, should Hereford Coach Dippel attempt to go after a tie with the Lubbock team:

—A Hereford-Lubbock tie coupled with a Monterey win would give it to the Plainsmen alone.

—A Hereford-Lubbock tie coupled with a Monterey loss would tie Hereford and Lubbock and the winner would be decided by who had the most penetrations, then first downs and then the flip of a coin if both those statistics are tied.

If Hereford and Lubbock tie, and if Monterey and Coronado tie, you had better go to the rule books, that's getting pretty deep.

Local Planning Begins

A local committee has decided to recommend a time schedule for Christmas decoration lights as a means of conserving energy.

The Government Affairs Committee of the Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce met Friday and approved a recommendation to the Chamber that Hereford residents burn Christmas decorations light from 6-9 p.m. only.

Committee members also decided to write U.S. representatives concerning the increasing exporting of fuel oil during a time when fuel oil is in a shortage. A total of 53.3 million gallons of fuel oil are set for exportation during 1973, a 284 per cent increase over 1972.

Committee members also discussed other means of conserving fuel and energy locally, but no further action was taken. Members suggested local residents attempt to find other ways of conserving fuel and energy.

Deaf Smith United Way Fund Now At 71 Per Cent Of $50,925 Goal

The Deaf Smith County United Way Campaign hit the 71 per cent mark as it ended its third week Friday.

A total of $36,477 was reported by workers through Friday, leaving the campaign only $14,448 short of its $50,925 set goal. United Way President Mike Patrick said Friday he feels the goal will be reached this year after all campaign cards have been worked.

"I'M STILL very confident we will reach our goal although it is discouraging to pick up unworked cards so they can be worked by people interested in the future of the United Way," said Patrick. "We continue to hear reports of employees who want to make a contribution, but either their employers or the campaign workers has failed to discuss the effort with them or give them a chance to participate."

Patrick said several major areas in the campaign have not been reported as of yet and he feels the totals will jump considerably after these are reported. "AS A WHOLE we have had excellent participation by division leaders and their workers," said Patrick. "But due to circumstances beyond their control, some other workers have been physically unable to complete their contracts."

Patrick especially praised local and area farmers and ranchers for their participation in the campaign.

"The participation by the farmers and ranchers has been exceptional," he said.

"Their response to the mail-out campaign has been very generous and we certainly appreciate their response. We continue to receive mail contributions daily and we also have two major firms that will be complete within the next two weeks."

PATRICK emphasized how much good can come from a good United Way Campaign in a good community. He cited some area cities as examples of success.

"Perryton's United Way Campaign exceeded its goal by more than $6,000," he said. "Their total was $55,606. Of that total the Y.M.C.A. in Perryton will receive a substantial amount."

"We have all heard a great deal of interest expressed about obtaining a Y.M.C.A. in Hereford," he said. "Many things of this type are possible in towns and cities that have a healthy United Way Campaign."

HEREFORD'S present campaign has a goal of $50,925. Of that total more than 65 per cent goes directly into youth related activities.

Breakdown of local agencies receiving funds are Camp Fire Girls, 21 per cent; Children's Rehabilitation, 1 per cent; Boys Baseball, 13 per cent; Boy Scouts, 18 1/2 per cent; Big Brothers and Big Sisters of Hereford, 13 per cent; Council on Alcoholism, 3 per cent; Red Cross, 19 per cent; Salvation Army, 8 per cent; and USO 1 per cent. Other funds appropriated include the Texas United Way, one-half per cent and two per cent for local expense.

THE FUND has been divided into seven basic areas to aid local residents in contributing. The areas include Public, Jake Webb, chairman; Professional, Tom Burdett, chairman; Business, Charles Skinner, chairman; Wholesale services, Clete Corlis, chairman; Financial, J. Pat Malone, chairman; Utilities, Mike Patrick, chairman; and Agricultural, Wanda Hoover, chairman.

touchdowns of the night — one in each quarter.
Hereford took the ensuing kickoff and were seemingly changing the momentum of the game back when Tiger Steve Grimmitt stole a Higgins pass at mid-field. From that point on it was all Snyder.

FROM midfield Cobb and Howell marched the Tigers into the end zone with 6:25 left in the half to get all the lead Snyder ever needed. Gonzales kicked his second of four points after and the Tigers had control.

Workhorse for the Tigers was Howell as he constantly plagued the Whitefaces with five to seven yard runs.

Snyder tacked on an insurance touchdown in the third period on a two-yard run by Gorman and then ended any doubts in the fourth period with the final tally.

Cobb, who won District 4-AAAA in the 100-yard dash last spring in 9.6 seconds, took a pitchout as Herd defenders piled the middle apparently expecting Howell over guard. Cobb turned the corner and then burned grass the 34 yards to the double stripes.

Three accidents were reported during the week by the Hereford Police Department; none of the incidents reported any injuries.
An accident at the intersection of U. S. 60 and Dairy Road occurred at 8:50 p.m. Tuesday involving two cars.

Appreciation Dinners Planned For Senator Jack Hightower

Two appreciation events honoring Sen. Jack Hightower of Vernon are scheduled this month in Plainview and Wichita Falls.
Mayor John Stoneham of Plainview announced today that Governor Dolph Briscoe will attend a steak dinner for Hightower there on Thursday, November 15.
U.S. Senator Lloyd Bensen, Jr. will be a special guest, according to committee chairman Rhea Howard, at a reception for Hightower in Wichita Falls on Friday, November 30.
(Plainview's dinner will be in the Hale County Agriculture Center, starting at 7 p.m. The Wichita Falls reception will be at Midwestern University's Clark Center from 5:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.)
The state's top Democrats are joining in the double-barreled tribute to a man who has served in the Texas Senate since 1965.
HIGHTOWER was elected President Pro Tem of the Senate in 1971 and served as Governor for a day in April that year. Representing 29 counties in District 30, he is one of five senators on the important Constitutional Convention Planning Committee and is also active in the interim as chairman of the West Texas

Letter To Editor Says Thanks For Winning

To Everyone at the Hereford Brand: First, thank you for this beautiful $20 check which I'm very pleased to have won.

Secondly, thank you for providing this exciting challenge to all of us interested football enthusiasts. We look forward to the contest every week and will miss it when the season comes to an end.

We have real great fun reading the statistics, pollsters, forecasters and doing some plain old guessing on our own. Last week, my picking one of my favorite pro teams, Pittsburgh, to beat Washington caused a huge guffaw from everyone in this home and I stayed up way past my usual bedtime Monday night to cheer for Pittsburgh for I felt they could win without Terry Bradshaw!

Thanks again-I needed this. Sincerely, Marie Cogdell

Pvt. Russell Participates In Army Exercise

Army Private Charles W. Russell, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Russell, 605 Lee, Hereford, participated with other American and Allied Troops in Exercise Reforger V in Germany, Oct. 10-16.

The military airlift command flew approximately 11,000 U.S.-based soldiers and more than 1,000 tons of equipment to three different airfields in Germany in preparation for the event.

Immediately after arriving overseas, the redeployed units drew combat gear and vehicles from prepositioned storage sites in Germany and moved to the exercise area to begin the seven-day field maneuver.

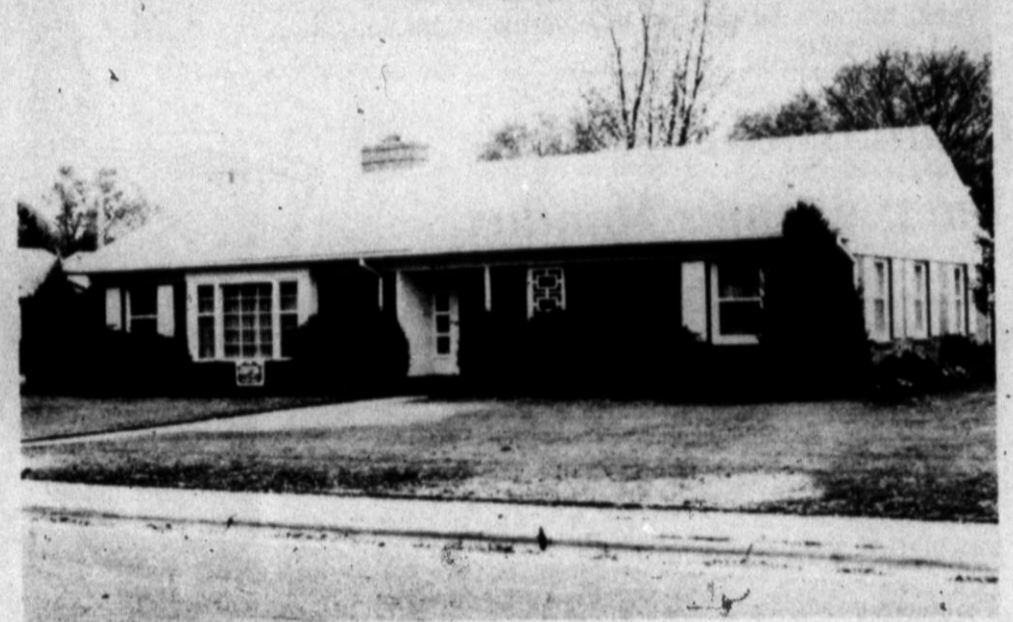

Pitted against the airlifted forces were Europe-based elements of NATO, focused on the procedures and techniques for receiving, equipping, assembling and employing units after they arrive, rather than on rapid deployment of troops from the U.S.

Pvt. Russell is regularly assigned as a rifleman in Company C, 1st Battalion of the 3D Infantry Division's 7th Infantry in Aschaffenburg, Germany.

H³ HUSTLE HUSTLE HUSTLE

By Bill Albright, Executive Vice President
Deaf Smith County Chamber Of Commerce

Hereford's Hustlin' Holidays are almost "upon us" and of course that means that most of us will soon begin buying our seasonal volume of goods. So its time for us to remind ourselves of some very basic economic facts which affect each one of us, whether we agree or disagree.

First, according to economists, each dollar spent in a community will turn over or be spent again and again — an average of seven times before it leaves the area. This is important to all as it helps to create jobs, increase buying power and improve our general economic condition.

Second, those dollars spent bring to the community, money in the form of taxes—taxes which pay for government, schools, police and fire protection, streets, sanitation, water and all the other advantages of our society. On the other hand, if we spend our money outside the community we gain no taxes, no profits, no jobs — we lose all of these. But more too, it costs money and time to drive to other shopping areas and that cost has to be added to the price of any item purchased—so if we buy $100 worth of merchandise in Hereford—we can get the very same merchandise at a shopping area 50 miles away for only $116. That doesn't seem like much of a bargain does it? (The AAA figures, that on the average, it costs 16 cents to drive a standard automobile one mile).

Shopping first in Hereford may even help us feel we're conserving fuel in the interest of the energy crisis. What say friends—have we enough pride in our community and enough good shopping sense to try Hereford first?—YOU BET!!

The Christmas Decoration Fund is progressing very well and I'm sure there will be sufficient funds this year for installation, maintenance, and bulb replacement. In the interest of energy conservation we are going to encourage fewer lights and a reduced schedule for lighting—We do plan to put some decorations on North 25 Mile Avenue and West Park Avenue this year and plan to expand even more in 1974.

Congratulations to R.C. Hoelscher and his Governmental Affairs Committee and Bud Snyder and The Agriculture Committee for their timely and effective work in relation to the fuel crisis. I believe that this concentrated action involving The Chamber of Commerce, Radio Station KPAN and The Hereford Brand was a determining factor in producing action at The Federal Level. Just another example of what can be done with a little cooperation and lots of hustle hustle hustle.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Compares Prices

Dear Editor,
Enclosed is a newspaper clipping which reports some grocery prices in 1933, and it serves as a fair comparison of years gone by.
(Ed. Note: Some of the prices quoted for 1933 included—eggs, 10 cents a dozen; round steak, 12 cents a pound; shortening, 44 cents for an 8-pound bucket; seedless raisins, 24 cents for a 4-pound bag; ham and bacon, 8 to 14 cents a pound.)

If those people who are asking for higher wages to take care of the price of groceries will multiply those prices by 10—about the rate wages have come up—and compare the cost then and now, they will see that wages are still higher in relation to cost of living.

This year is the first year that farmers have gotten prices anywhere near the cost of labor and, in most places, labor is still costing more than what the farmers are getting. Labor has been out of reason for many years and, now that farmers have one year of good prices, labor will start belly-aching.

Whenever labor demands get above the cost of production, then they are cutting their own throats and blaming the government for their own faults. Selfishness never gets satisfied.

Pick-Your-Own Produce Proves Profitable To All

If you're all thumbs when it comes to do-it-yourself home repair jobs, you might try your hand at picking your own fruits and vegetables.
Pick-your-own operations are growing in popularity with farmers and homemakers all across the country. And with good reason—everyone saves money.
The farmer saves on labor costs, and the homemaker reaps the benefit of paying a lower price directly to the grower for fruits and vegetables.
This type of operation is proving successful even in areas some distance away from urban centers. City dwellers have been known to drive as far as 50 miles to pick their own produce. They find the day in the country is enjoyable as well as profitable.

Newcomers' President Praises Club's Women

By SANDY INMAN
Brand Staff Writer

NEWCOMER'S Club president, Mrs. Homer Yocum, is completely sold on the idea of the club's activities for new women residents of Hereford. "It's really a great organization and it enables women to meet and get acquainted with not only the people of Hereford but the community itself," says Mrs. Yocum.

The Yocums and their five-year-old son Homer have lived in Hereford one year, although Yocum attended public schools here while growing up.

"I'm very enthusiastic about the club and I hope all new residents of Hereford hear about it. Our meetings are basically informal get-togethers although we participate in civic projects," she says.

The club meets on the second Tuesday of each month for a covered dish luncheon at the Community Center. Members of the club supply the food with guests welcome to attend.

"I had a difficult time adjusting when we first moved here because the only people I knew were my husband's parents. The first Newcomer's meeting I attended, I was amazed at the friendliness of the women," she laughs.

A BABYSITTER is provided during the meetings for women with children for a fee of 50 cents.

She goes on to explain that a list of new residents is obtained from pastors of churches or from someone who has heard of a new family moving to Hereford.

"Membership in the club is not terminated at any particular length of time, but is up to the individual club member. Many women, after being in the club one or two years, prefer to go on to another club," states the pretty president.

Since their marriage over six years ago, the Yocums have lived in Georgia, Oklahoma, Washington, D.C. and Germany. The pert homemaker thinks Germany was the most fascinating.

"If I could go to Germany tomorrow, I would. Everything is so different there and the scenery is really beautiful."

"I also enjoyed living in Washington, D.C. because for the first time since our marriage, I was close to my family. The only real disadvantage was the high cost of living," she explains.

MRS. YOCUM is currently employed at Westgate Nursing Home as a nurse's aide. She hopes to get her practical experience in before attending West Texas State University in January to become a registered nurse specializing in diabetes.

"Hereford is in great need of a diabetes specialist. I have the disease and I would like to be able to help other people who are afflicted with it," she says.

"It can be an extremely frightening experience if you do not understand that it can be controlled with drugs, exercise and a controlled diet."

The Yocums reside at 1014 E. Third and her husband is employed at Taylor and Sons Grocery as a produce manager. They are members of the Immanuel Lutheran Church.

Passed Bills To Protect Texas' Coastal Areas

By BILL HOBBY
Texas Lt. Gov.

A package of bills, which passed almost unopposed in the last session of the Legislature, makes Texas a leader among the states determined to protect their coastal areas.

The bills protect our coastal zones from abuses from developers, navigation districts, and dune buggies. It is the beginning of one of the finest coastal protection programs in the country.

The package was shepherded quietly into law by Sen. A.R. (Babe) Schwartz of Galveston. All of us concerned with the quality of our environment and its preservation owe him a debt of gratitude.

Perhaps the most important bill among these is the Coastal Public Lands Management Act. This bill spells out the rights of the State Land Commission to regulate coastal lands owned by the state.

Although the act does not give the state the right to manage private property along the coast, it does require landowners to get permission to do many things—such as build canals and bulkheads—which they could do without restriction in the past.

ANOTHER important bill in this package is the Dune Protection Act. This gives counties the authority to designate protected zones for dunes which serve as barriers against the destructive forces of hurricanes.

Once a protected zone is established, any damage to the dune or its vegetation is prohibited without a specific permit. Driving dune buggies in such areas will be banned completely.

Another progressive step was taken when the Legislature revised the law that required the State Land Commissioner to sell submerged state lands for $1 an acre to any navigation district.

IN THE PAST, navigation districts were allowed to re-sell these lands for commercial or residential development without state approval.

Fashion

The soft sleeky look is very evident in many of the new evening dresses. Some of the designer clothes have been fashioned to do double duty for at home and more formal occasions.

One fashion expert tells women to look in lingerie departments for garments that may be also used for dinner or dance occasions.

Long soft robes are popular for relaxing at home. Many of these are made up in wool or some other warm fabric.

Homemade Bread--Good!

Hot, homemade coffeecake is a food guaranteed to bring family members to the table in record time. There is no other fragrance which can compare with that of baking bread -- or coffeecake. Coffeecake can be featured at many events -- breakfast, brunches, coffee klatches, tea parties, and neighborhood gatherings, to name a few. A spicy prune wheat bread that combines the fruit with nuts and honey furnishes a lot of nutrition, along with plain good eating. Candied fruit, raisins, chopped almonds and lemon sparkle in dainty coffee rolls, surefire vote getters.

PRUNE-WHEAT RING

- Filling:
 1 cup chopped California prunes
 3/4 cup water
 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
 1/4 teaspoon allspice
 1/2 teaspoon lemon juice
 1/4 cup honey
 One-third cup brown sugar, packed
 1/2 cup sliced natural almonds

Combine prunes and water in small saucepan. Bring to boil. Reduce heat and simmer 10-15 minutes or until mixture becomes mushy. Turn into blender, including any liquid. Add cinnamon, allspice, lemon juice, honey and brown sugar. Blend until smooth. Pour into bowl and fold in almonds. Cool to room temperature.

- Bread:
 1 package yeast
 1/2 cup warm water
 2 tablespoons oil or melted shortening
 One-third cup honey
 1 1/4 teaspoon salt
 3/4 cup milk
 4 cups whole wheat flour
 1/2 cup ground almonds

Soften yeast in warm water.

Add oil, honey, salt and milk. Add 1 cup of the flour and ground almonds, beat vigorously 2 minutes. Add remaining flour to make stiff but workable dough. Turn out on board floured with whole wheat flour. Knead about 10 minutes or until dough springs back to fingertip touch. Place in lightly greased bowl and let rise in warm place about 45 minutes or until double in bulk. Punch down. Divide dough in half. Roll each half into 2 rectangles (12 x 4 inches). Spread with cooled filling and roll up jelly-roll style. Shape in half circle. Place seam side down on greased cookie sheet. Snip dough at one-inch intervals with kitchen shears. Turn each section on side. Cover and let rise about 40 minutes or until double in bulk. Bake at 425 degrees F. 10 minutes. Reduce heat to 350 degrees F. and bake 20-25 minutes longer or until done. Remove from oven and dust with powdered sugar if desired. Cool on racks.

CONGRESSIONAL ROLLS

- (45 rolls)
 4 1/2 to 5 cups enriched flour (Note)
 2 packages dry yeast
 3/4 cup milk
 1/2 cup butter
 1/2 cup sugar
 1 teaspoon salt
 2 eggs, room temperature
 2 teaspoons grated lemon peel
 3/4 cup mixed candied fruit
 1/2 cup chopped blanched almonds
 1/4 cup seedless raisins
 3 tablespoons

New Lions Members

butter, softened
 2 cups confectioners sugar
 1/4 cup milk

Stir together 1 1/4 cup flour and yeast. Heat milk, water, 1/2 cup butter, sugar and salt over low heat until warm (120 to 130 degrees). Add liquid ingredients, eggs and lemon peel to flour-yeast mixture and beat until smooth, about 3 minutes on high speed of electric mixer. Stir in candied fruit, almonds and raisins.

Gradually stir in more flour to make a soft dough. (Dough will be sticky.) Turn out onto lightly floured surface and knead until smooth and satiny, about 5 to 10 minutes. Divide dough in thirds. Roll each third to 5 x 15-inch rectangle. Spread 1 tablespoon of the softened butter on each rectangle and sprinkle with 1 tablespoon of the sugar. Starting at the 15-inch side, roll up jelly-roll fashion. Cut slices 1 inch thick. Place on greased baking sheet and brush with oil. Cover and let rise in warm place (80 to 85 degrees) until doubled, about 40 to 60 minutes. Bake in preheated 375 degrees oven 12 to 15 minutes until golden brown. Remove immediately from pans and cool on wire racks. Blend confectioners' sugar and milk until smooth and drizzle icing on top of rolls.

Note: Spoon flour into dry measuring cup; level. Do not scoop.
 Note: If self-rising flour is used, omit salt.

 It's funny how some people keep chasing society when there's really no such thing.

 The trouble with most speakers is they shout too loudly for the little they have to say.

New Circle Irrigation System Waters Corner Plots

New Circle Irrigation Takes In Corner Plots

Valmont Industries, Inc., Valley, Neb., the nation's largest manufacturer of center pivot irrigation systems announced production of a revolutionary system which will allow economical irrigation of the corner areas not presently irrigated with conventional center pivot systems.

The corner system will allow farmers and ranchers to irrigate an additional 17 to 19 acres in a typical quarter section. It is powered and controlled electrically and is designed so that it can be adapted to operate on Valmont and other brands of center pivot systems, whether electric, oil, or water driven.

The basic design uses the principle of a flexible extension arm which gradually extends into the corners of a field. It combines easily understood mechanical principles with programmed controls to drive the extension arm outward into the corners, previously unirrigated.

As the system moves past each corner area, the water output is regulated automatically to give greater output at full extension and lesser output when it is in the contracted mode. A series of controls open and close sprinklers along the extension arm, to meet the precise water requirements of the corner. The entire system's speed is programmed to increase and decrease in order to meet the irrigation needs of the total system from the pivot outward. Safety devices are incorporated in the basic design. United States patent applications are now pending.

The ability of center pivot to save water adds another dimension.

On a 15-year useful life basis, yearly system cost is approximately $11.50 per acre per year. This is well in line with accepted irrigation cost to benefit relations.

Most farmers will agree that the addition of the corner device will more than double the value of their present irrigated, unproductive acres. As an example, if the corner land presently has a dry-land value of $200 per acre, it is estimated to be worth $500-600 per acre upon installation of the Valmont corner device. This is an additional bonus value that immediately accrues to the owner.

Present farm prices versus production cost also point to the economic value of Valmont's new development. Gross returns of over $300 on corn per acre versus production costs of between $100 and $125 need no comment.

Initial production of the corner systems will be augmented at an early date. The first phase of a 120,000 square foot plant addition is being constructed at the company's Valley, Neb. plant. A substantial part of the new plant is to be devoted to corner system manufacture.

Citizens Asked For Suggestions In Aiding Energy Curtailments

With energy curtailments threatening to affect everyone, citizens are urged to present their views and proposals at a public hearing Nov. 20 in Dallas, according to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

Commissioner White is chairman for a state committee on the environmental and social aspects of the energy shortage. The committee has been appointed as part of the Governor's Energy Advisory Council, headed by Lt. Gov. William P. Hobby.

Other members of the committee are Willard Barr, former mayor of Fort Worth; Austin attorney Thomas Cowden; Douglas Toole of Houston, chairman of the Texas Water Quality Board; Edwin L. Cox of Dallas, representing the oil industry; Herbert C. McKee of Houston, chairman of the Texas Air Control Board, and J.R. Maxfield, Dallas physician.

The hearing is scheduled for 10:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in the Embassy West Room of the Statler-Hilton Hotel, 1914 Commerce Street.

"We want to get ideas from people in rural areas as well as the city on the relationship between energy problems and patterns of life," Commissioner White said.

Realistic adjustments in transportation practices and changes in individual living patterns evolving from energy cutbacks are problems to be explored.

Other topics to be covered are regulations that will provide for the most efficient use of energy in the state and alternative sources of energy that are practical and attainable.

Texas must plan now to be prepared for shortages in traditional energy and the ultimate effects on homes and working patterns," Commissioner White said. "Actual energy shortages have already been experienced in agriculture; some industries have had to switch to alternate plans, but the individual in the state has yet to experience severe shortages in the fuels he needs."

Persons who wish to testify should notify the committee in writing by Nov. 15. A ten-minute time limit has been set on testimony. Lengthy statements should be sent in advance.

If witnesses cannot be present at the hearing, they should send testimony on any of these issues to John C. White, Commissioner of Agriculture, Committee Chairman, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

WTCC Asks For Changes In Fuel Allocation Plan

Telegrams to the West Texas Congressional Delegation and state officials by Emil C. Rasmann, President of West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and James P. Rogers, Chairman of the WTCC Agriculture and Ranching Committee, West Texas Chamber of Commerce is asking for immediate action in a change of regulations for fuel allocations to West Texas farmers.

Because of the present provisions of the Federal program for farm fuel allocation, West Texas farmers are facing a large loss in food and fiber production.

West Texas farmers faced a problem last November when most West Texas fields were too wet to get harvest equipment into the fields, and fuel consumption was unusually small. The 1973 monthly allocations have been based on consumption by farmers during the same month in 1972.

Good harvesting weather now prevails in West Texas, and large amounts of fuel are desperately needed to harvest the food and fiber before it ruins in the field. A change in the regulations is needed to compensate for last year's bad weather.

The 15 telegrams also pointed out unless the 1973 harvest is completed within the next few weeks, large amounts of the food and fiber will be lost resulting in future shortages and higher prices to the consumers.

U.S. Farm Exports Up To Neighboring Countries

U.S. farm exports to Western hemisphere countries hit a new high of $1.59 billion in 1972. The record was due chiefly to rising sales to Canada and Latin America, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Bigger sales of cotton, fruits, and vegetables were made to Canada, along with increases in wheat and other food products, plus animal and poultry feedstuffs to Latin America. Additional rises in certain U.S. farm exports are expected in these same areas in 1973, the USDA said.

Group Seeks Control Of Predatory Animals

Following legislative action that banned the use of chemical toxicants for the control of predatory animals, there has been a marked increase in livestock losses not only in West Texas, but also throughout the state.

At a recent meeting of its board of directors in Kerrville a resolution was adopted by West Texas Chamber of Commerce recommending that the use of proven methods of chemical toxicant predator control be reinstated until a better method of predatory control can be devised.

Members of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce are being asked to contact their respective congressional delegates and voice their support for changes in the current ban on the use of chemical toxicants for predator control.

James A. Rogers of Plainview, chairman of the WTCC Agriculture and Ranching Committee, said at the meeting that there is a growing concern among ranchers and livestock producers over the increase in losses of livestock due to predators.

"Livestock producers of Texas have provided the consumer with an abundance of their products, and have continued to produce in the face of many adverse and often times unforeseen conditions," says Rogers. "The producers have been forced to modify their methods of production many times in order to comply with regulations placed upon them through the legislative process."

Rogers also stated that the regulations have been imposed as a result of pressures from other interests, which have stripped from the livestock producer the most effective method of predator control, the use of chemical toxicants.

Before the ban on their use was imposed by legislative action, this method was used very effectively without unnecessary harm.

"These increased losses of livestock threaten to put some producers out of business," says Rogers, "and at the same time are resulting in an increased cost of red meat and other livestock products which will be passed on to the consumer."

Knowing Heart Attack Signs Could Save Lives

More than 650,000 Americans will suffer fatal heart attacks in 1973. At least 50,000 of these deaths could have been averted if the victims had known the signs of an impending attack and gotten care within two hours.

The key to survival is being aware of the Early Warning Signs (EWS) — those patterns of discomfort and distress that appear in one's body minutes, hours, days, or even weeks before a heart attack develops — and heeding them promptly. "How To Recognize — and Survive — A Heart Attack," an article in the November Reader's Digest, outlines the life-saving facts.

In an effort to remove the mystery from heart attacks, the Digest article reveals, a Springfield, Missouri, cardiologist, Glenn O. Turner, took the essential facts about this complex subject and simplified them into information the average person could understand.

Included with the article are two pages of figure drawings and explanatory text which illustrate the forms these Early Warning Signs can take. The educational program to focus public attention in the Springfield area on EWS has met with notable success. After the program began, admissions to Springfield's St. John's Hospital of patients with actual or threatened heart attacks rose 30 per cent; direct admissions into the hospital's cardiovascular-care unit jumped more than 50 per cent. In fact, so successful has the Springfield EWS program been that it has been accepted as a model for the nation.

The American Heart Association president, Dr. Paul N. Yu, praised the EWS education program, calling it a superb example of a practical and highly effective way to reduce the death toll from heart attacks.

Libraries Now Honoring Cards

In a neighboring town on business, or to visit the hospital, or attend a wedding? Check out a book!

Ten public libraries of the Texas Panhandle now recognize library cards or personal identification used by any of the others for checking out printed materials.

Included are libraries in Amarillo, Borger, Pampa, Canadian, Dumas, Friona, Hereford, Panhandle, Perryton, and Spearman.

Six other member libraries of the Texas Panhandle Library System have not yet qualified for this reciprocal borrowing arrangement, which must be specifically approved by the governing body of each local library.

Set up as a pilot program by a Texas State Library grant of $750, the experiment under way is to determine the feasibility of opening up borrowing privileges of all libraries to users of all others in a sparsely populated area like the Panhandle.

Identification used by one library is accepted by all. Books should be returned if at all possible to the lending library, otherwise may be returned to the borrower's local library. At present, non-book materials cannot be included.

Rules of the lending library are observed as to time period for checkout, fines, and any other restrictions.

Member libraries are reimbursed from the state fund based on the number of loans made per month. The fund pays other miscellaneous expenses, such as postage on books not returned directly. Beginning in April with the first two libraries to qualify, the number participating reached ten in October.

Social Security Card Needed In Order To Work

Planning on going to work or taking a job soon? If you are, Travis C. Briggs, of the Amarillo Social Security Office, suggests that the first thing you should do is check to see if you have a social security card.

If you have lost your card and have the number, you can get a new card in about a week. But, if you do not have the number nor have never had a social security card, it will take about six weeks before a card can be issued for you. With this in mind, Briggs suggests that people should file for their social security card well in advance of the time when they will need them.

Briggs adds that to obtain a social security number, you must complete an application form and submit it to a social security office. These forms are available at your nearest post office or social security office.

If you expect to have a need for a social security card in the near future, be sure and file for one well in advance. For further information, call your social security office.

Program Planned To Deter Holiday Shoplifting

Bill Albright, Executive Vice President of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, announced that in preparation for the coming Holiday Season, the Chamber will sponsor an orientation program to deter shop lifters.

This activity will be a joint effort of the Retail Committee, Jim McDowell and Johnny Price co-chairmen and the Crime Prevention Committee, Sheriff Travis McPherson, chairman.

The hour long program will be held at the Community Center on Tuesday, at 10 a.m. and a make up session will be held, same place, same time, on Wednesday. In addition to discussion and demonstrations by law enforcement officials a film will be shown.

All merchants are invited to participate sending all the employees they feel can profit from such training. The program is open to all and there is no charge. Any questions call the chamber office, 364-3333.

Meeting Set Friday To Hear Wheat Executive

Deaf Smith county area farmers are expected to gather at 8 p.m. Friday in the Hereford Community Center to hear a report on the wheat situation on foreign markets.

Special speaker for the meeting will be Bill Nelson, executive secretary of the Texas Wheat Producers, who recently returned from major European wheat markets in Moscow, Kiev, Kharkov, Rotterdam and Munich. Nelson will be attempting to inform farmers of the situation in wheat and what to expect in the future.

Nelson will present slides of his visit to the markets and the availability of European wheat markets, according to Mike Paschal, president of Deaf Smith County Farmers Union, who is sponsoring the meeting.

"Nelson will try to enlighten the local farmers on the wheat situation as it looks now," said Paschal. "I think it will be a real good program all farmers in the area will enjoy."

Refreshments will be served and all area farmers have been invited said Paschal.

Briscoe To Address PEP Meeting In Canyon Friday

Governor Dolph Briscoe headlines the annual meeting of the Panhandle Economic Program Friday, at West Texas State University, according to R.B. Dawson, Jr., vice-chairman and program committee head.

Registration for the event, which will be in the Activities Center on the WTSU campus, is at 8:30, with the morning session getting underway at 9:30. Attendance is free.

The Panhandle Economic

Program, commonly known as PEP, is a voluntary organization of area leaders in agriculture, family life, and agricultural industry who are concerned about the economic and social growth of the Panhandle, said Dawson.

Sen. Max Sherman of senatorial district 31 will also address the gathering, speaking on activities of the recently created Regional Water Council. Dawson added that the senator's address comes at a time when Panhandle area people are increasingly concerned about the availability of water for the future.

Also meeting on October 17 was the nominating committee to select and recommend to the board of directors at the annual meeting a slate of officers and directors for the coming year.

R.M. Lemon of Booker chaired this committee. Other members are Rusty Tinnin of Amarillo; Rex McAnelly, H.M. (Flip) Breedlove, and Bill Griffin of Borger.

The annual meeting of the Panhandle Economic Program, according to Chairman Dick Cline, is open to all citizens interested in the economic and social future of the Panhandle.

This year's program, he said, will provide an opportunity for citizens across the Panhandle to exchange ideas with experts concerning present and future trends in beef cattle, grains and family living.

Cline said that additional details regarding the meeting can be obtained from any member of the PEP executive committee.

Hereford Seedmen Attend Annual Meet In Houston

The group was addressed by Governor Dolph Briscoe at noon Friday and recognized the seedsmen of Texas for providing one of the most fundamental and basic needs of agriculture for Texas as well as the entire nation. A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News

Farmcast

Compiled From Sources Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

Down and Up... Changes in Regulations... Fuel Problems... Red Meat Production Declines.

A seven per cent drop in the all farm products index of prices for Texas farmers was noted by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

The livestock and livestock products was down nine per cent and the all crops index was down five per cent below a month ago.

Prices received by farmers for hogs, beef cattle and calves were down from a month ago. Corn and grain sorghum prices were also down from a month ago.

Ten commodities were above parity. Wheat at $4.23 per bushel was 73 cents per bushel above parity. Rice is almost $5 above parity. Potatoes are 54 cents above the parity ratio of $4.31 per hundredweight.

In livestock categories, hogs at $39.80 average are $2.80 above parity. Calves averaged $58.30 which is $4.30 above parity. Sheep at $17 are $4.50 above parity. Beef cattle are $2.60 under parity; lambs are $12 under parity.

Grain sorghum at $3.47 per hundred is 50 cents below parity. Cotton at 37.5 cents per pound is almost 30 cents under parity.

Egg prices averaged 57.9 cents per dozen which is almost six cents below last month and six cents below parity. Mohair at $2.40 per pound is about 90 cents above parity; wool at 97 cents is about 25 cents under parity.

REGULATIONS relating to cattle scabies and brucellosis are affecting some Texas counties.

Federal quarantines for cattle scabies were lifted from Farmer and Potter counties. Castro and Deaf Smith are still under quarantine. Scabies are caused by tiny parasitic mites that puncture the skin of cattle and feed on the body fluids released through the wounds. Scabies does not affect the animal's meat, but can cause loss of weight and decreased feed efficiency.

Health regulations governing interstate shipment of breeding cattle from 11 counties in Texas have been changed.

The action was based on the counties' compliance or lack of compliance, with state-federal requirements aimed at eradicating brucellosis.

Kenedy County regained its modified-certified brucellosis area status while Baylor, Bell, Cass, Henderson, Leon, Mitchell, Navarro, San Saba, Tom Green, and Uvalde counties lost their status for failing to meet certain minimum requirements of the eradication program.

FUEL problems continue to haunt Texas agricultural producers. Diesel at present appears to be causing the most concern. LP gas is in short supply in some areas. The general situation seems to be one of confusion, especially concerning the mandatory allocation of diesel.

Fertilizer shortages are also being reported as are occasional reports of lack of baling wire.

RED MEAT production in Texas is down four per cent in September compared to a month previous and seven per cent under a year ago.

Cattle slaughtered in Texas totaled 268,000 head, which is 22,000 below a month ago and 32,000 less than a year ago.

Nationwide, commercial production of red meat is 13 per cent less than a year ago. Beef production was 13 per cent less than September of 1972.

Booklet Now Available

A new, free eight-page illustrated booklet entitled, "The Story of Willie Bacteria, or How To Take Care of your Septic Tank or Cesspool" is now available to owners of septic tanks and cesspools from Farm Discount Lumber & Supply Rte 2, Box 19, Hereford.

In a light vein, illustrated by cartoons, the booklet explains the workings of the septic tank and cesspool in simplified fashion. It describes the bacterial action of the disposal system and what is necessary for its proper functioning.

Chief attraction in the booklet is a humanized "Willie Bacteria" who is responsible for maintaining the efficiency of the disposal system. When the septic tank or cesspool user ignores the fact that "Willie" is working to keep the disposal system free from disease, and saturates him with an overdose of detergents, acids, lyes, caustics and other irritants, "Willie" is very unhappy, and more often than not, just stops working.

The booklet was produced by The FX-Lab Company, Inc., 77 Okner Parkway, Livingston, New Jersey, 07039.

First Deaf Smith Bale

Chris Clark, left, of Hereford Farmers Gin Assoc., Inc., and Ronnie Andrews stand beside the first bale of cotton ginned in Deaf Smith County Wednesday. Andrews, of Andrews Bros., produced the 2,120 seed cotton four miles southeast of Hereford. It produced 515 pounds of lint cotton and about 820 pounds of seed. It was middling cotton drawing about 55 cents per pound and $100 per ton seed.

Farm Bureau Membership Increases

1973 has been a banner year in membership for the Texas Farm Bureau, reports TFB President J.T. (Red) Woodson. The organization scored its biggest membership gain in history, he said. Total membership as of Oct. 31 (end of the organization's fiscal year) was 152,380 member families, a gain of 15,437 over last year, making the 21st straight year for the TFB to show an increase in members. Tabulations were completed Nov. 6. All of the 209 organized county Farm Bureaus registered an increase in membership, Woodson said.

The five largest counties in membership size are (1) Harris—2,541; (2) Ellis—2,302; (3) McLennan—2,253; (4) Fort Bend—2,117; and (5) Fayette—2,000. Woodson said farmers and ranchers have enjoyed the most favorable prices for their products this year that they have received in a long time. "But they have felt themselves under fire by intermittent threats of price controls on raw farm products and embargoes on farm exports," he explained. "These fears have caused them to rally behind an organization which could effectively speak for them against such threats," he added.

Meet At Conference

Governor Dolph Briscoe, right, confers with Congressman Bob Poage at the recent Governor's Conference on Rural Development. This conference, held in Austin, drew 2,000 rural and urban leaders from every county in Texas. Congressman Poage, author of the National Rural Development Act of 1972, has been a leader in the development of rural areas for more than half a century. Governor Briscoe pledged to the leaders attending the conference that every effort possible would be made to create a favorable rural-urban balance of growth so as to help make Texas an even better place to live.

WT Ag Man Tells About Fuel Problems Of Farmer

The current fuel crisis may not be near an immediate solution, a West Texas State University agriculturist says, so farmers can expect to be without adequate fuel this fall and winter. "If allocations are to be with us," says Dr. Jimmie L. Green, chairman of the plant science department, "the problems the farmer will encounter will be the problems of differing requirements in different years." Green adds: "For instance, last year was wet during the fall, so some farmers in the Texas Panhandle did not use diesel fuel.

"This year the allocation system the government is trying to introduce would mean those same farmers would get no fuel. That is obviously a bad situation."

There has been speculation the farmer might have to purchase at one time all the fuel he wants for a given year.

"So far as the individual farmer is concerned it would work, until we have a wet year when the fuel usage goes down, then there would be problems," Green says. "Of course, the individual farmer would have a tremendous storage problem."

With changes in fuel availability, Green feels some farm operations may have to be cut back.

"There are several possibilities," he says. All of them have some repercussions. One thing is to go toward minimum tillage where the farmer cuts back on some operations such as weed and wind erosion control."

FARM FACTS

Consumer's Stake In Farms
More than three-fourths of the nation's food supply is produced by less than a million commercial farms. This means that more than 200 consumers are dependent on the economic health of each farm.

Rice From On High
An estimated 90 percent of the nation's rice crop is now seeded by airplanes.

Cottonseed Provides Protein
Cottonseed accounts for about 15 percent of protein concentrates fed to livestock.

California's Edible Gold
California grows more than 200 commercial crops and produces about one-fourth of all the food on American tables. It's also the No. 2 state in cotton production.

Trees In For Shock
Agricultural scientists are giving orange trees in California the shock of their lives. They've discovered that a charge of electricity knocks off mature fruit and leaves the green oranges on the tree to ripen. This could eliminate the traditional practice of picking the fruit from ladders.

Tomatoes In Cages
Growing tomatoes in "cages" is a new labor-saving device developed by agricultural scientists. Young seedlings are encircled with wire fencing to form the cages. This eliminates trellising the plants later on, and results in higher yields with better quality.

Where The Living Is Easy?

After retirement, what? For an increasing number of Americans, the answer to that one is easy. Move to Florida.

Noting that longevity in the United States varies appreciably from one region to another, the report points out that both white males and females aged 65 enjoy the highest life expectancy in the Sunshine State.

Florida's high life expectancy could conceivably be influenced by socioeconomic factors: A retirement state, its number of citizens continues to be swelled by the migration of upper middle class persons from other states who may enjoy higher life expectancy as a result of the economic and social advantages they have enjoyed all their lives.

The study which concerned itself with life expectancy in 1968 for white persons in 37 states with a million or more population noted that the national life expectancy for males aged 65 was 12.9 years.

Women aged 65, on the other hand, enjoyed increased life expectancy in every state surveyed, with a national average of 16.5 years. And, because the increases in life expectancy among females were consistently larger than those among males, the disparity in longevity was even more apparent in 1968 - when women on the average lived 3.6 years longer than men - than it had been at the time of the 1959-61 study, when the life expectancy of females was 2.9 years greater.

The chances of surviving from age 65 to 85 are best for men in Florida, about 250 per 1,000. And women in Arizona and Florida - with rates of 455 and 443 per 1,000 respectively - could more realistically look forward to seeing 85 candles on the cake.

In each of the 37 states reviewed females had a distinct survival advantage over males and, in a few instances, their chances of living two decades beyond age 65 were more than twice as great.

People find it easy - they can size everyone up but themselves.

Larry Mahan Heads For Sixth Rodeo Champ Title

With thousands of dollars at stake, top professional rodeo cowboys are bearing down on their riding and roping as the 1973 season begins to draw to a close.

New records are certain to be set by Larry Mahan, Dallas, who has cinched his sixth All-Around Cowboy Championship and becomes the first member of the Rodeo Cowboys Association to win the coveted All-Around crown six times.

Not only will Mahan win his sixth All-Around, but the spunky Oregon native has a good chance of becoming the first professional rodeo cowboy to win more than $100,000 in a single season.

Part of his record earnings will come from the Winston Rodeo Awards, a $105,000 bonus program for members of the Rodeo Cowboys Association. Mahan has already won $1,100 and will picket an additional $10,000 as the All-Around champ, plus an additional $1,500 for his top standings in bull riding and saddle bronc riding.

Another record in rodeo is sure to be shattered by Ernie Taylor, Hugo, Okla., who may top the $40,000 mark this year in a single event. Taylor, a deadeye calf roper, had won more than $36,000 in calf roping through September. The former record was held by Dean Oliver, Boise, Ida., who pocketed $38,000 in 1969.

The 1973 rodeo season closes Nov. 3, but the National Finals Rodeo scheduled in Oklahoma City, Dec. 1-9, will also count in this season's earnings for the cowboys.

Although not officially counted among their regular season winnings, the $105,000 Rodeo Awards program is helping boost earnings by top members of the Rodeo Cowboys Association to new heights. Last year, Phil Lyne, George West, Tex., put $80,000 in his jeans as the 1972 All-Around Champion.

LIFE STYLE OF THE FUTURE

What will be the life style of the future? One thing we can be sure of . . . it will revolve around electricity. Without electric energy there is no hope of getting the pollution eliminators that only electricity can operate.

We'll need our factories, our refineries, our water treatment plants . . . all the things necessary for survival in a modern civilization.

But, without electricity none of these can function.

That's why our industry and we, as a Company, continuously plan for the future . . . contribute toward research and development of better, more efficient ways to get electricity to you.

We know we'll be needed in the future even as we are now . . . and we'll be there when the time comes . . . even as we are now . . . making sure that every kilowatt you buy is 100% usable.

Your future is ELECTRIC!

Thank you, Darling!
For looking as pretty today as you did when this picture was taken!
For more tenderness than I deserve!
For waiting thru diamond ring for so long and never asking for it!
For every thing!

... and now a word to married men!

Many of you couldn't afford a real diamond ring when you got married. And most of you can afford one now. Don't put it off any longer! We wished Joyce Shipp a Happy Birthday Friday and one of the dishes that went over big was "Caramel Corn". Here is her recipe

CARAMEL CORN

Mix and cook in heavy pan 5 minutes after it begins to boil. Remove from heat and add:

Although turkey has become a "four-season" food favorite from coast to coast, Thanksgiving is still a very special turkey time. What better way to highlight your festive Thanksgiving Day dinner than with a famous American tradition — the turkey.

In Grandma's time, you had to buy a big bird and start preparing it early in the day, if not the day before. Now, since turkeys are produced in consumer sizes ranging from 8 to 22 pounds, you can select the size to suit your needs. Better yet, for singles, couples, or the budget-conscious who want a traditional dinner but something smaller or more convenient, there are turkey parts or boneless roasts to fit every need.

Big turkeys, those weighing 16 pounds or over, are generally a better buy. Not only do they usually sell for a few cents less per pound than the smaller ones, but there is also a larger proportion of meat to bone. Turkey parts — drumsticks, breast, breast steaks, breast cutlets, thigh chops, and hind-quarters — are stocked in many food stores today. Although priced somewhat higher per pound than the whole bird, they are excellent choices for small meals when no leftovers are desired. Often special recipes for preparing turkey parts are included with each package.

from 2 to 10 pounds and can be purchased as all white meat, all dark meat, or a combination of both. Turkey pan roasts are truly a convenience food since they are sized to please as few as two persons and come in their own roasting pan and often with their own gravy packet. To get the best, buy a turkey with a U.S. Department of Agriculture Grade A shield. This means that it is a plump, meaty bird, with an overall attractive shape and appearance. Turkey parts and roasts, which may also be officially graded, must be meaty and have good appearance to be eligible for U.S. Grade A.

Young birds—more tender than older ones—will be labeled "young turkey", "fryer-roaster", "young hen" or "young tom". They are suited for broasting, frying, broiling or roasting.

The amount of turkey to buy depends on the number of servings needed and whether or not leftovers are wanted. When buying a whole turkey, allow at least 1/2 pound per person—but you'll probably want more for Thanksgiving dinner.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture expects turkey to be in adequate supply this Thanksgiving, and despite earlier price increases to be a good buy. And, there is no mistaking it, the wide variety of modern-day turkeys, roasts, and parts that will be on America's Thanksgiving table this year would boggle the minds of the Pilgrims — who thought they had something to be thankful for!

Have you had trouble buying raisins lately?

Last year's raisin crop was small due to bad weather during the growing season. The country practically ran out of raisins before the 1973 crop was ready. In fact, shoppers often found grocers' shelves empty of raisins.

Bakers, confectioners, and cereal makers had problems too. They had to search for raisins to keep store shelves filled with their raisin-enhanced cakes, cookies, candies, cereals, and other products. But the supply situation should improve. The 1973 crop is nearly twice as large as last year and should be coming to market soon, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Although there are many cranberry varieties, few are commercially important according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Two of the oldest varieties — Early Black and Late Howe — are of the greatest commercial significance and represent the bulk of the harvest in Massachusetts and New Jersey. The Searles variety is predominant in Wisconsin, while Washington and Oregon growers favor the McFarlin. There is continuous experimentation in the search for improved varieties; the goal is larger berries and better keeping qualities.

Higher and Higher

Social Security is a good thing to have if you are retired and trying to get by on the monthly check from Uncle Sam. And it is good that the government keeps increasing the benefits because the recipients certainly need it.

But there must sometime come a point beyond which the wage earner cannot be taxed more and more to finance Social Security benefits. This bite out of a paycheck has risen faster than anything.

This year the maximum Social Security tax on a paycheck is $631.80 and it will go to $785.40 next year if a proposed change gets passed.

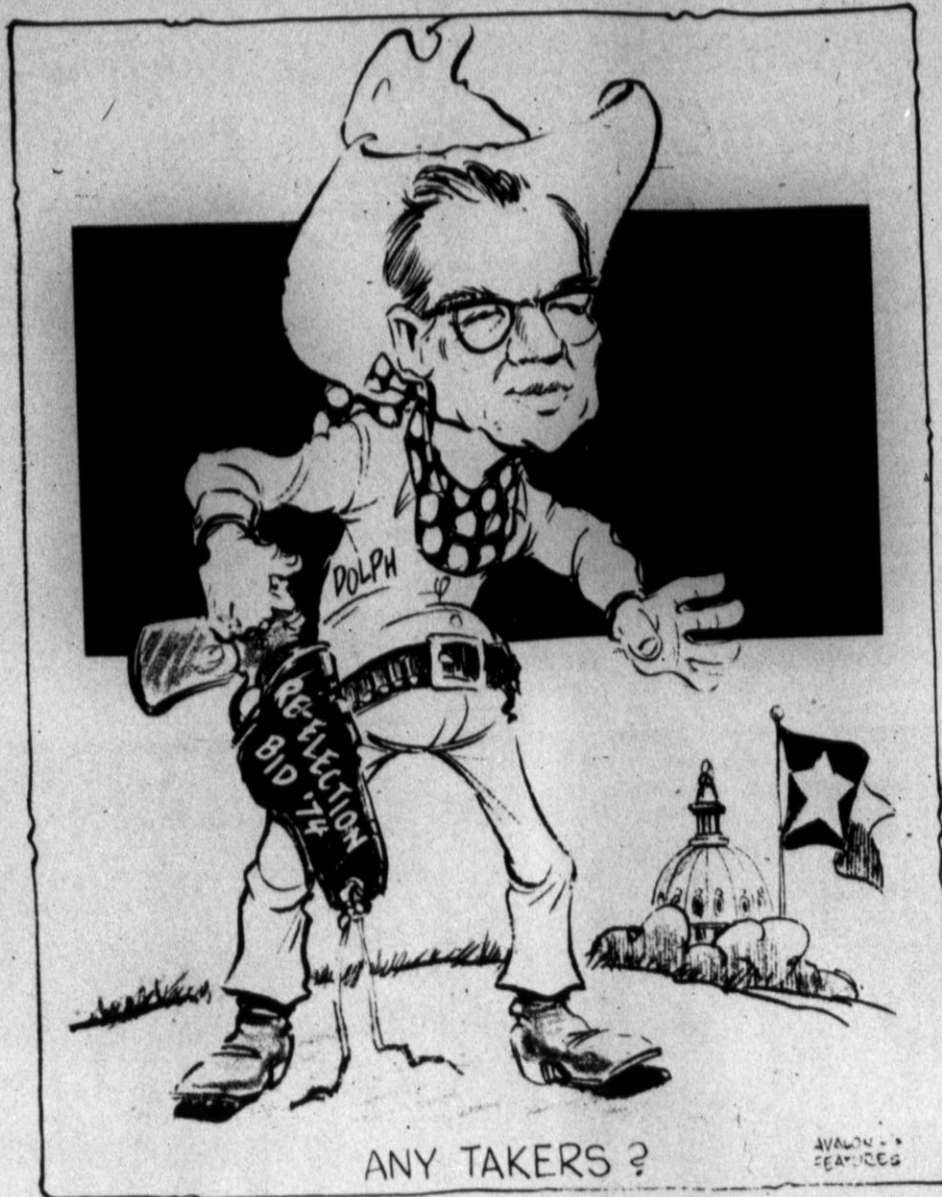

Social Security taxes are now 5.85 per cent on the first $10,800 of income. The proposal is to make it 5.95 per cent on the first $13,200.

In 1970 the maximum Social Security tax was $374.00 based on 4.8 per cent of the first $7,800 of income.

In just three years we have seen the lawmakers boost our Social Security tax by 70 per cent and they want to take it higher.

Already the Social Security tax is as hard on a lot of paychecks as is income tax. There has to be a stopping place somewhere, even if our lawmakers like to pass legislation broadening benefits despite the knowledge that wage earners will have to dig that much deeper to pay for their generosity.

Lesson Number One

By Bert Mills

Lesson number one from the Spiro Agnew scandal is that the nation must find a better way to choose the Vice President than to have a nominee for President make the selection, subject only to ratification by his party convention and his own election.

Since 1945, the United States has had five Presidents — Harry Truman (ex V.P.), Dwight Eisenhower, John Kennedy, Lyndon Johnson (ex V.P.), and Richard Nixon (ex V.P.). Truman and Johnson became President automatically upon death of a President but each was later elected. Nixon, of course, was elected twice, starting eight years after two terms as V.P.

Obviously this track record for recent Vice Presidents shows how important it is who is nominated by both major parties as V.P. Nixon made a hasty one-man decision back in 1968 and must regret it today. Senator George McGovern made a similar quick choice in 1972, only to have Senator Tom Eagleton forced to withdraw within weeks.

THE TROUBLE is that it has become the custom for Presidential nominees to dictate the choice of a running mate, usually only after a few hours of thought, and with the decision made on purely political grounds. When a man is nominated for President, his one thought is how to get elected and he picks his V.P. candidate solely on the basis of who can help him the most.

Never does a Presidential nominee ask himself the question: "If I am elected and cannot complete my term, who would be the best man to become President?" Ideally a Vice Presidential nominee should be the second best man a party has to offer, fully qualified to be President.

PRESIDENTIAL candidates are picked at party conventions, the concluding anti-climax of which is the crowning of a Vice Presidential nominee chosen by the party choice for President. Frequently that selection is a surprise, as it was when Kennedy picked Johnson, Nixon picked Agnew, and McGovern picked Eagleton.

Back in 1968, Ted Agnew was Governor of Maryland. However, he was hardly a major political figure outside the free state. Also he had backed a loser for the nomination, New York's Governor Nelson Rockefeller, and had no reason to expect Nixon to choose him as running mate.

But Nixon's strategy for winning the White House included cracking what was the Solid South, a Democratic stronghold in most previous elections. He figured a Vice Presidential candidate acceptable to the South would help him win. Agnew turned out to be the man and he did help crack the South.

So for nearly five years, the man who was first characterized as "Spiro Who?" when nominated, served as Vice President of the U.S. He was not the second best man the Republicans had to offer for national leadership in 1968, either when first elected in 1968 or reelected in 1972. He just happened to be the man Nixon chose, not knowing about those hidden skeletons in the Agnew closet.

It would have been too much to expect, back in 1968, for the Republican National Convention to have rejected Agnew for V.P. Similarly, once McGovern had chosen Eagleton, the nomination of the Missouri Senator was assured. Party conventions do not repudiate their candidate only hours after his nomination.

ONE POSSIBLE solution to the problem of selecting Vice Presidential candidates might be to delay the decision. Party conventions could be ended with the nomination of Presidential candidate, with the national committee choosing the running mate several weeks later.

This system would not necessarily prevent a Presidential nominee from dictating his Vice Presidential choice, but at least it would eliminate the element of surprise. Perhaps more digging into the background of prospects would produce a national consensus that would influence a nominee to pick a party's second best man, one fully qualified to become President.

Reform of campaign spending is on the legislative "must list" of Congress. Perhaps that bill could be amended to change the method of selection of Vice Presidential candidates. Whatever the mechanism, the nation can no longer afford to continue the present system.

Talk Of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE

IT'S A FACT — The lowly prairie dog gets the credit for building one of the first "air conditioned" homes.

The little animals, common throughout the plains area, build their burrows about 50 feet long and six to 10 feet below the surface of the ground. This amount of space would provide only a five to 10-hour oxygen reserve for a single animal.

The prairie dog is gregarious, however, and so he designed his tunnel for company. It is open at both ends, and at one of the entrances, he builds a crater-like mound six inches in height. Air moving over such a mound flows faster than it does over the flat end of the burrow, thus causing a difference in pressure.

The lighter air pressure at the flat end of the burrow creates a slight vacuum which pulls oxygen through the tunnel. Even the slightest breeze — one moving as slowly as one-half mile per hour — will produce a complete change of air every ten minutes in a prairie dog burrow.

THE TOWNS OF TEXAS — Gen. Phil Sheridan, who reputedly said that if he had a choice between Hell and Texas he'd rent out Texas and live in Hell, wasn't aware of some of the heavenly places that exist here.

Texas boasts a Utopia, an Eden and an Elysian Fields. There also is an Eldorado, a Venus and a Cathedral Park. For those who want the very best, there is Paradise itself.

ALL ABOARD — Although the Moscow, Camden & San Augustine Railroad has stopped carrying passengers (as reported several weeks ago in "Talk of Texas"), another short line has started such service.

The Texas Export Railroad, which runs between Bridgeport, Jacksboro, Bryson and Graham in north central Texas, now carries passengers on weekends only. The train leaves Bridgeport, Wise County, at 1:30 p.m. and 6 p.m. and runs to Jacksboro where passengers may visit old Fort Richardson. The return trip leaves Jacksboro at 4:50 p.m. and 8:50 p.m.

The trains operate on both Saturday and Sundays and the round-trip fare is $3 for adults and $2 for children.

SHOPPING NOTE — God's Mercy Store at Waller, for more than 50 years the only business operation in Texas owned by Jesus Christ, has closed.

In 1916, Mr. and Mrs. A.D. Purvis opened the store and deeded the property to the Saviour in an action filed in the Waller County courthouse at Hempstead. The document transferred ownership of the general store to Jesus Christ "for and in consideration of the love that we have for Him." During their operation of the enterprise, Mr. and Mrs. Purvis sold everything at cost, asking only that customers add a modest tip for their services.

Mr. Purvis died in 1972 at the age of 94. On his death, the property reverted to his heirs and the store no longer is in operation.

STATE OF SUDS — Despite the fact that beer cannot be sold legally in almost a third of Texas' counties, residents of the Lone Star State drank 250 million gallons of the brew in 1972!

Sportsmanship

Sydney Harris rightly laments the poor behavior of American fans at tennis matches—behavior reflecting a lack of knowledge of the fundamentals of good sportsmanship, a traditional part of the international game.

Such shockers as the recent applauding of an error (a double fault in serving) by the Romanian competitor Nikki Pilic at Forest Hills are enough to dismay sportsmen.

The primary reason behind this ignorance is not, let us hope, that American fans are beasts. The main reason is the current unprecedented U.S. boom in tennis (millions are being poured into the new, professional arena) and the thousands of new, unknowing fans being attracted to the game. Some are often unaware of tennis court ethics, which are in general based on British rules of good sportsmanship, somewhat on the order of cricket.

The Brooklyn razz, Bronx cheer, etc., don't go in tennis. Neither fans nor players wish to win through faults and mistake of others, nor are these mistakes ever applauded. This, television announcers, tennis stars and sports writers should stress in public statements; good manners and good sportsmanship among tennis crowds are traditional in the world's civilized countries. Americans will not wish to deviate from this international tradition.

Christmas Lights

Oregon Governor Tom McCall, worried over low water levels at reservoirs which supply the northwest's hydroelectric plants, recently ordered an end to decorative and display lighting in that state.

McCall was acting to prevent power blackouts this winter and his order casts a shadow on the traditional Christmas custom of celebrating with special electric lights and decorations.

Other parts of the nation may also feel a pinch at Christmas; yet if those using Christmas lights switch off normal lighting, total power consumed will not increase.

Lower, multi-colored lighting offers a contrast, a Christmas atmosphere, which many would enjoy. Newspaper readers, for a few days, might sit next to windows, or by the fire as in the good old days! As a last resort, they could retire to you know where.

Windmill Power

A team of scientists in Europe has developed a windmill said to provide inexpensive power and thus be capable of easing the world's energy crisis.

As the reader probably knows, the fatal defect of old-style windmills was that they trapped only about thirty per cent of the wind, and were unable to store their energy when idle on windless days.

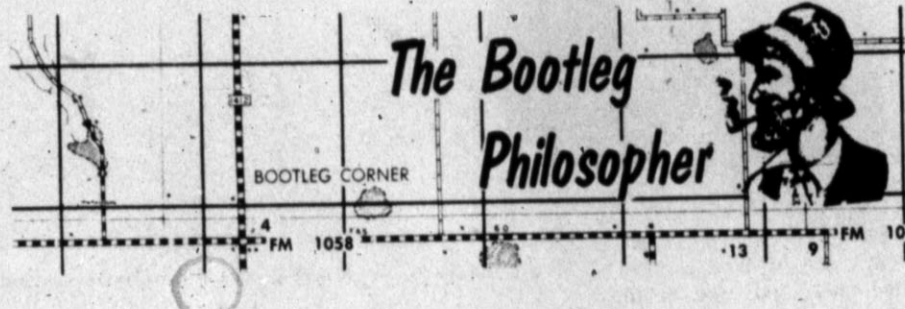

The team of scientists from Germany, France and Switzerland, in an announcement from Geneva, says both these problems have now been solved.

One of the new $50,000 double-bladed windmill develops enough power (and stores it on windless days) to supply five houses. The upkeep is minimal and the power supply—wind—unlimited.

Thus for a $10,000 initial outlay a new, permanent and surprisingly cheap energy source might soon become available to many. If utilized over a long period of time, the cost per month would be much cheaper than purchasing electricity at today's rates.

Federal authorities, and Congress, should seriously investigate this new source of energy in view of the world's growing energy crisis.

Hereford, Texas, Sunday, November 11, 1973

Dear editor:

According to a public opinion poll I read in a newspaper last week which fell out of my neighbor's mail box and which I put back in the next day — after all, in these times who pays any attention if mail is a few days late — at any rate, to start over again, according to this poll 64 per cent of the parents in this country say they would not like to have a son go into politics.

I have been thinking about this and have concluded there are two major reasons why this is so.

(1) Politics is so scandal-ridden, graft-ridden, power-ridden that I can see why a parent wouldn't want to say "Yes, my son is in politics in Washington," any more than he's want to say "Yes, my son is in dope in New York." This of course is over-drawn. I know there are honest politicians throughout this country and if we keep investigating and investigating they're bound to show up.

(2) On the other hand, the reason 64 per cent of the parents in this country wouldn't want their sons to go into politics may be that they know their kids better than we do and aren't sure they could stand being investigated either. It's just a thought.

To tell the truth, I have about decided that politics is like high school football. Given just ordinary coaching, a winning team shows up when a group of good athletes comes along at the same time. They seem to come in waves, like wet years and dry years. You have a winning team a season or two, then you run out of outstanding players and things drop off to a losing streak.

Politics is the same. Right now, I'd say the government has very few outstanding players and as a result we've got a long losing streak.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

THE ARIZONA Farm Bureau Federation notes, "There will be no government set-aside of land in 1974, Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz (has) announced. . . Farmers will be free to go all-out to produce seed grains, soybeans, wheat and cotton next year, and can make those plans now," the secretary assured. Adequate fuel to harvest and dry this year's farm production is also pledged by the Energy Policy Office."

"SINCE I have been here (in Congress), everything I have seen the government do (concerning energy) had tended to reduce the production of energy. I would like to see us shift gears. . . Until now, our country has been fiddling while it has been running out of fuel to burn. The demands have not been met. Much of the blame for the energy crisis rests upon government." — Senator Henry Bellmon, Oklahoma.

NEWS FOR bicyclist comes from the National Association of Manufacturers: "A new reflective tire will be available. . . (soon) for bicyclists. The tire will feature a highly reflective sidewall which can be seen clearly up to 500 yards away, and is expected to increase the safety of the 85 million bike riders. When the auto's headlight beams hit the sidewalls, the two big bright circles tell the driver immediately it's a bicycle. During daylight hours the tire looks like a regular whitewall."

"I AM here to tell you that the system under which the railroads of this country operated has gone awry. It has become hellishly unworkable, a dismal failure that has made a shambles of our national railroad system." — Mr. Louis W. Menk, Chairman of the Board, Burlington Northern Inc.

"Salvation for this country's economic system and its way of life does not lie in increased federal government expenditure, more programs, and more controls. Instead, it lies in individual initiative and desire to produce. Every effort must be made to stimulate a desire for quality and excellence. Rewards should be for those who perform, rather than for those who shirk. Money should be invested in the free enterprise system, rather than in the sink of government inefficiency and carelessness where it is all too easily washed down the drain. If the voters demanded an end to wasteful government spending, loud and clear, there might still be a chance of bringing about a reversal of the tide of welfarism which threatens to engulf this country. Will they speak out in time?" ACTON, MASS., LITTLETON INDEPENDENT

"DOES 'gas shortage' mean that the country is running out of natural gas? No," says a small pamphlet published by the American Gas Association, "it does not. What it does mean is that there is not enough drilling and exploration work going on to find and develop the country's considerable potential supplies of gas."

"Exploration and drilling in the United States is at half the 1956 level, yet natural gas demand has more than doubled since then. . . The price of gas is an important factor. Low prices are the primary cause of the gas shortage."

"The Federal Power Commission, which regulates the price of gas moved across state borders, has in the past set prices so low that the producing companies have been discouraged from taking the high risks involved in searching for gas."

By The Garden Gate With Glad

By Mrs. Art Manjeot

It's great to be alive. And ones heart is really set click'n when the earth puts on its autumn dress of vivid and exciting colors, via its vegetation, trees, and harvest time.

The country is now at its height of beauty with autumn's harmonies of color, spreading over the landscape.

Virginia has much to offer visitors. It is beautiful in the springtime when the dogwoods and azaleas are in bloom, and the freshness of spring greens appear throughout the land; winter brown, with the tall towering trees, naked, yet beautiful in their silhouette against the winter sky, and the majestic pines watching over the land from their lofty height; summer with swimming on the beaches, tours of great interest, and many sports for the out-of-doors person; and fall really tops the agenda. It's harvest time and of matchless beauty of color.

Why not mark your calendar for a vacation in Virginia. It's the state for lovers, and for those interested in beauty, historical events and our heritage.

I highly recommend autumn, and for second best I would suggest spring. Am marking my calendar for April, for a return visit to participate in a Garden Flower Show and Pilgrimage of famous plantations on the James River.

Also other stately mansions filled with antiques.

It was my pleasure to participate in a number of autumn tours throughout the countryside, towns, historical places, one of which was Williamsburg.

Friends arranged a luncheon for me and a tour of Williamsburg. Early one morning (the appointed date) the car stopped at 370 Coral Sea Drive, and soon we were on our way to Williamsburg.

A route had been selected which would be colorful and interesting. Mrs. Heffington, (the orchid lady) had planned the trip.

After we had crossed the James River, with its magnificent bridge (the first time I crossed the James in 1967 it was by ferry) we soon began to drive through the countryside.

Both sides of the highway were lined with many beautiful trees and small shrubs, and they were exceptionally beautiful.

The red, yellow and greens of the maples, the various colors and textures of the oaks, (the white oak, acorn oaks, willow oak, water oaks) and others blended together in endless beauty and splendor.

The various red of the dogwood foliage gave the scene that certain something that one could never forget.

Seemed that all nature was at its very best. Farm lands a vivid green (fall rye was up and growing) browns in the peanut fields, and tobacco farms, all united together made every thing picturesque.

You will never believe it, but for once Glad was, almost speechless, when we would drive in the areas where the trees had interlocked across the highways, making a cover of colorful splendor.

Enroute we stopped at a historical parish. Westover Parish was established in close proximity to the original settlement of Jamestown in 1613. In 1724 this parish was merged in with other parishes. Since that time there have been continued worship services with one exception. It is one of the cherished places in Charles County Virginia.

In the early part of 1803 the church lay abandoned, and was misused as a barn during part of that time, approximately thirty years. Following the Revolutionary War in 1776, there was a decline in religion.

However religious services were revived in 1833. The signs of abuse, suffered in the war, were removed. The building restored and services have been faithfully supported since.

The setting of the church is very lovely, near by is the graveyard and the manse for the minister, also a residence in which community affairs are held.

On special days, throngs of people return to the old church for worship. It was fascinating to open the doors to the pews, enter and sit for a brief moment of meditation. Many very old pieces of silver are in use.

These include a chalice and paten, both of which bear the London mark of 1694. Other silver pieces given by faithful members, one of which was Col. Francis Lightfoot, bore the date of 1727.

Down through the years, farmers, plantation owners, slaves. The worship-loft for the negroes is as it was built in the time when the church was erected.

Many presidents attended services there, including Washington, Jefferson, Harrison, Tyler, and Theodore Roosevelt.

It was good to pause and visit this historic Westover Church. Where one finds a Church, one finds the Spirit of God and wherever the Spirit abides, every kind of grace and blessing is present, if searched for.

A garden of old fashioned flowers was nearby, as well as observing the landscaping of the buildings and their grounds. I would like to have strolled through the cemetery (graveyard) and read some of the marked stones, but time was limited, and soon we were on our way to Williamsburg.

A creative and colorful period of American history comes to life on the restoration of the eighteenth-century capital of Virginia.

Approximately 100 acres of gardens and landscaped greens provide harmonious surroundings for the architectural beauty and simplicity of its houses, shops, public buildings, and dependencies, 88 of which are original.

Today in this unique setting, especially when one tours the area which has been restored. (All the restoration is very authentic, people who are well versed in all of the history of this great town are constantly on the alert and their marvelous talks has been very successful.

It was my pleasure to talk with one of the ladies who has aided in the selection of furniture and accessories, and restoration of the furniture. She was most interesting and certainly knowledgeable.

This was my fourth visit to Williamsburg, but each time there is always that certain feeling that one has, and something different to see and study each time. New areas are being restored and many additions make this historical place one of great significance.

The ladies in our party knew exactly what to do, where to go, and how best to spend the time we would have to tour and shop.

As I crossed the streets, and walked over the paths which had been traversed in the long ago, I could almost shut out the sounds of the modern day and imagine that I could hear the hoof beats of approaching horses, bearing such people as George Washington, who had purchased the first set of wooden dentures, or see Thomas Jefferson as he posed and fitted the first wig worn in America.

The gingerbread house with its enticing aroma really stops one, and soon a gingerbread man or hot ginger cookies are being enjoyed.

Shopping is a delight, if you don't get carried away, and made to realize there must be a stopping place.

I especially enjoyed the craft shops, and spent extra time in the shop where flowers were air-dried. The completed arrangements, and floral pictures in picture frames. When I noted the price of the boxes and packages of air-dried materials, I was very glad and thankful that I had learned these methods through garden club. Have throughout the years enjoyed local materials made into arrangements and gifts!

Foods are another specialty found in Williamsburg. Many famous eating places where the food is unexcelled, and the service is attune to that of Colonial times. We had a delightful luncheon at The Williamsburg Lodge. Beautiful fresh flowers, impeccable linens, and delicious food.

Mrs. Heffington knew the famous things to order. She is a native of Virginia, and throughout the years has been in Williamsburg many times, and had tried out numerous times the famous eating places, so we had the best of the choice foods. (I secured a recipe of a delightful fruit dressing, and will share it with you.)

It is impossible to mention the many interesting places, but one does not go there unless they make a tour of the gardens and The Governor's Palace.

It has been the elegant residence of royal governors and the first governors of the state of Virginia — Patrick Henry and Thomas Jefferson. It is elaborately furnished according to original inventories.

Of great interest are the formal gardens. These gardens are beautiful anytime of the year one visits the palace grounds.

Words fail me when I try to describe the landscaping and beauty of the gardens. One of the outstanding features are shrub grown, it is boxwood, of many varieties. Another is the holly maze, which is a copy of the maze at Hampton Court. In the background are massive trees, which are very old, and at autumn time they frame the palace and gardens with sheer beauty.

Throughout the palace one sees exquisite floral arrangements. These are used the year round. The main design is mass, both formal and informal.

Some of the first permanent floral material arrangements, were made and used in the palace. Am always glad that I have an understanding of the various types of materials and the designs used, and very grateful that this has been primarily learned through Garden Club School, practice and a love of flowers.

Since my granddaughter, Beverly, is thinking of attending Williams and Mary University, we had to drive around the campus and look it over. The grounds join those of The Palace. The campus is large, and the buildings are beautiful with their ivy covered walls. Rosemary and I paid especial attention to the students as they traversed the paths to and from the various buildings.

All too soon we had to leave for home. The time had flown. Happy hours spent, with old and new friends. The day ended with a picturesque sunset, and fond good-byes.

Comings And Goings At Kings Manor

Mrs. F.R. Pickens had as her guests Monday, Mrs. Ruby Jennings and daughter Mrs. J.A. Nichols of Muleshoe, also Mrs. Roxie Travis of Cone, Texas who is a sister of Mrs. Jennings.

Mrs. Don Davidson and Fay Gauggel had as guests Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. W.E. Chessmore of Ft. Worth, The Rev. and Mrs. Richard L. Beaty of Oville, Texas (Rev. Beaty is pastor of the Oville United Methodist Church and a student of Perkins Seminary of SMU.) Also, Miss Karen Chessmore and Mr. Bruce Freeman of Midland, who are music majors at Texas Tech, Lubbock.

joyed music Monday evening by Woodie McDermitt and his helpers. McDermitt played the guitar and the fiddle.

Harold Manning played a guitar-organ and Lewis McCustian played plain guitar. They began with waltzes and continued until several types were rendered — folk, religious and break-down.

William Payne then joined the group with his violin which is 70 years old. He said he had not played in public in 60 years. He received a hearty ovation.

Mrs. McCustian and little daughter Karen were guests. Our pet corns came alive tis true, with all the patting, but the up-lift in spirit offset that small trouble.

IN THE DAYS OF KING ARTHUR
BY HAL FOSTER

Our Story: ARN BRUSHES HIS HAIR, DUSTS HIS GARMENTS AND STEPS FROM HIS ROOM..... AND THERE ARE THE FOUR DAUGHTERS AWAITING HIM. THEIR UNCONCEALED ADMIRATION IS FLATTERING.....

..... BUT AFTER A FEW HOURS OF CONSTANT ATTENTION AND THEIR VAPID PRATTLE, HE IS BORED TO DISTRACTION. HE MUST ESCAPE.

HE SEEKS HIS HOST TO TERMINATE HIS VISIT, BUT SIEUR DE VOLNAY PROTESTS: "WE INVITED YOU TO STAY THE WEEK. PREPARATIONS ARE MADE FOR YOUR ENTERTAINMENT. 'TWOULD BE DISCOURTEOUS FOR YOU TO LEAVE SOONER."

THAT NIGHT THERE IS A THUNDERING AT THE GATE. TORCHES FLARE, THE PORTALS OPEN AND A TROOP OF HORSEMEN CROWD IN, SHOUTING MERRILY. ARN DRESSES AND GOES DOWN TO SEE WHAT THE NOISE IS ALL ABOUT.

"A SUCCESSFUL RAID, MY LORD, WE DROVE THE LATOURS BACK INTO THEIR CASTLE AND KILLED FIVE OF THEIR MEN, WE LOST ONLY TWO. WE RAN OFF THEIR CATTLE AND HAVE THEM NOW IN OUR PASTURES!"

DE VOLNAY TURNS TO ARN: "THE LATOURS WILL RETURN OUR RAID, BUT WE WILL BE READY FOR THEM. YOU'LL SEE SOME FINE FIGHTING AND BE GLAD YOU STAYED."

"I HAVE TALKED WITH THE SERVANTS, SIR ARN, AND LEARNED THAT THESE PEOPLE ARE NO BETTER THAN BANDITS. THEY RAID EACH OTHER CONSTANTLY, DESTROYING AND STEALING. BETTER WE LEAVE."

A SENTINEL SOUNDS A WARNING, AND ALL SPRING TO WORK. BASKETS OF ARROWS ARE CARRIED TO THE WALLS; BUNDLES OF SPEARS PLACED ABOUT, AND ALL IS MADE READY FOR THE EXPECTED ATTACK.

hints from Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:
Your column is enjoyed by men as well as by the ladies. Realizing that people are not alone in their problems, I would like to submit a solution to a real baffler that had quite a simple solution. My mother, who lives alone in a nearby town, has only partial vision, is elderly, quite proud, and likes to be independent. She must, however, take medication four times each day consisting of two to four different pills with changes on alternate days and weeks for some of the pills. All of this was just too confusing for her.

The problem was solved by marking off sections on a piece of paper or cardboard into the days of the week with the four periods of the day (I used

Sun	Mon	Tue	Wed	Thu
B	L	S	N

Breakfast, Lunch, Supper, and Night.) using a heavy line to help to others, and I knew of no better means of getting it to those in need of it than by your column!

Please keep up your good work!

Weldon Porter
P.S.: You may have guessed it—I am an engineer!

Three cheers for your mother for having an engineer son to help her keep independent!
That "dispenser" would really help anybody to keep their cool as to "the which and the when!"

DOG-GONE GOOD!

DEAR HELOISE:
We have a dog which we keep fenced in in the back yard. He was always spilling his water and then would toss the water dish around.

We got the best of him by fastening a big three-pound empty coffee can to a post. Another smaller can was then set inside the big can. Now he can't toss his water dish around and always has water when he wants a drink!

ALL TIED UP

DEAR HELOISE:
I found an inexpensive (no-iron) tieback for my kitchen curtains.

I usually use ribbons, but I happened to have extra shade cords on hand—the kind with the crocheted ring at the end. I slip the curtain through the cord loop and use the crocheted ring for decoration in front. I use white, but you can get colored ones.

M. K.

IT'S NO YOLK!

DEAR HELOISE:
Sometimes, for fun, after I have peeled my hard-boiled eggs, I become creative—and make "crabapples."

Taking a whole clove, I separate the blossom end from the stem. Using a little pressure, the stem part is pushed into the pointed end of the egg and the blossom end into the rounded bottom of the egg white.

After the eggs have cooled—or whenever I have time—by using a small paintbrush, a bit of yellow and red food coloring and imagination, they resemble little crabapples!

These look rather cute on a salad tray—especially when young kids are around!

Jane Robinson

How darling—and I don't think anyone would have to draw too hard on the imagination...

I'll bet after so long a time the clove will give the egg a spicy flavor when it is eaten. Wish I had one to eat right now!

Heloise

IT'S ALL ON TAPE

DEAR HELOISE:
One day I was putting bound buttonholes in a jacket and made a mistake when I basted them in.

While I was mumbering and ripping them out I spied the cellophane tape. Now I tape them in place instead of basting or pinning. The tape acts as guide lines too.

Nancy Valles

HAVE A CUPPA!

DEAR HELOISE:
Now for a coffee break. We all know how much better coffee cake or danish rolls are when warm, but what a bother.

Here's an easy and quick way. Put your iron skillet on medium heat. Put your roll on a piece of foil and loosely fold over top, but don't seal. Place in skillet and put on the lid. In the time it takes to pour the coffee, it's warm and delish. Also the skillet is still clean.

Nancy V.

BUT NOT FOR BILLS!

DEAR HELOISE:
Keep a pair of scissors at your side when reading the newspapers to clip out everything important to you, articles, sales, coupons and etc... File everything—in a shoebox. I find this valuable for my husband to read upon his return from business trips.

Faithful Reader

Another reader with the same ingenuity as yours added a colored pencil also. Then when reading a newspaper or magazine the interested articles were marked, then clipped later after the family had had their chance to read it.

Heloise

A WICKET IDEA

DEAR HELOISE:
When planning to paint, and you need an instant handle for the paint roller, unscrew the handle of your croquet mallet. It fits the roller handle and is just the right reach for us shorties!

A Reader

LET'S SHELVES IT!

DEAR HELOISE:
Books, books, and more books, which we cannot burn or give away. I came across some bookshelves, but could never find what to use to hold the shelves up with.

Since I wanted them in our laundry room right next to our washing machine, what could be better to hold up the shelves than boxes from used-up soap (detergent). Giant-size is best.

When the powder is used up, the boxes can be filled with dirt or sand, and they do make a good sturdy "shelf holder-upper."

BULLETIN BOARD

● WELL STATED? Certain states, abbreviated, can be merged with interesting results. For instance, a merge of Ga. and Me. forms Ga.Me.; Ala. and Mo. forms Ala.Mo.; Fla. and Ky. forms Fla.Ky. Can you think of some?

● "His imagination resembled the wings of an ... It enabled him to run but not to soar," wrote Thomas B. Macaulay. Fill blank with a seven-letter word.

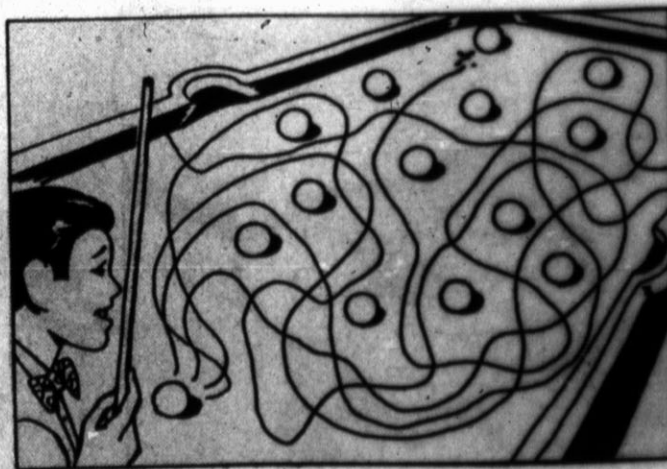

● One-third a certain fraction, plus three times that fraction equals that fraction divided by itself. What fraction?

● Riddle-me-this: Why is it impossible to point out the left side of a chocolate cake? Give up?

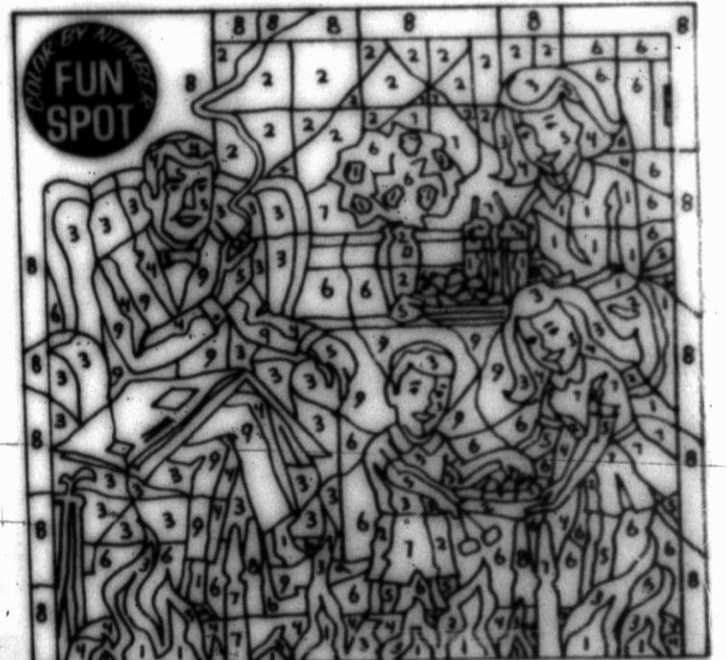

FUZZY FACTS! Statistics, of course, can be twisted to show almost anything, but there is something truly absurd about the following statistical comparison:

A so-called expert on crime, wishing to illustrate the difficulty of detecting murder by poison, wrote that "due to the greater use of more subtle poisons, the proportion of undetected murders has risen from 12 percent in 1959 to a new high of 21 percent in 1973."

Can you point out the absurdity in this comparison?

TRICK SHOT! Our pool-playing friend above hopes to make a spectacular shot. Can you trace his ball to X at top right?

WARM-UP TIME! To bring forth a timely picture above, simply add these colors: 1-Red. 2-Lt. blue. 3-Yellow. 4-Lt. brown. 5-Flesh. 6-Lt. green. 7-Dk. blue. 8-Dk. purple. 9-Dk. brown.
