

Sears, Allred, Cavness win in city vote

City voters Tuesday returned Mayor Jim Sears and H. A. "Hap" Cavness to their offices, and elected Lynton Allred to his first term as a city commissioner in uncontested balloting that drew 426 voters to the polls.

Sears was returned for his second two-year term and Cavness was elected to his first full term after filling out the unexpired term of Don Baugous, who moved in July of last year.

Allred, seeking his first political office, was elected to the office of city commissioner, Place 1, vacated by Troys Carmichael, who did not seek reelection.

Cavness, for his office of city commissioner, Place 2, drew 426 votes, the same number as did Sears. Allred received 424 votes and Dick Barnard, a former city commissioner, received the lone write-in vote in the election.

Only a handful of Mexican-American voters cast their ballots in the city election after a record number of voters for an off-year election registered to vote this year.

Mexican-Americans announced they would be putting someone up for public office in the near future, but did not indicate whether it would be this year. Speculation was that a write-in campaign was planned for both the school board and city elections. No person with a Mexican-American surname voted in the school board election.

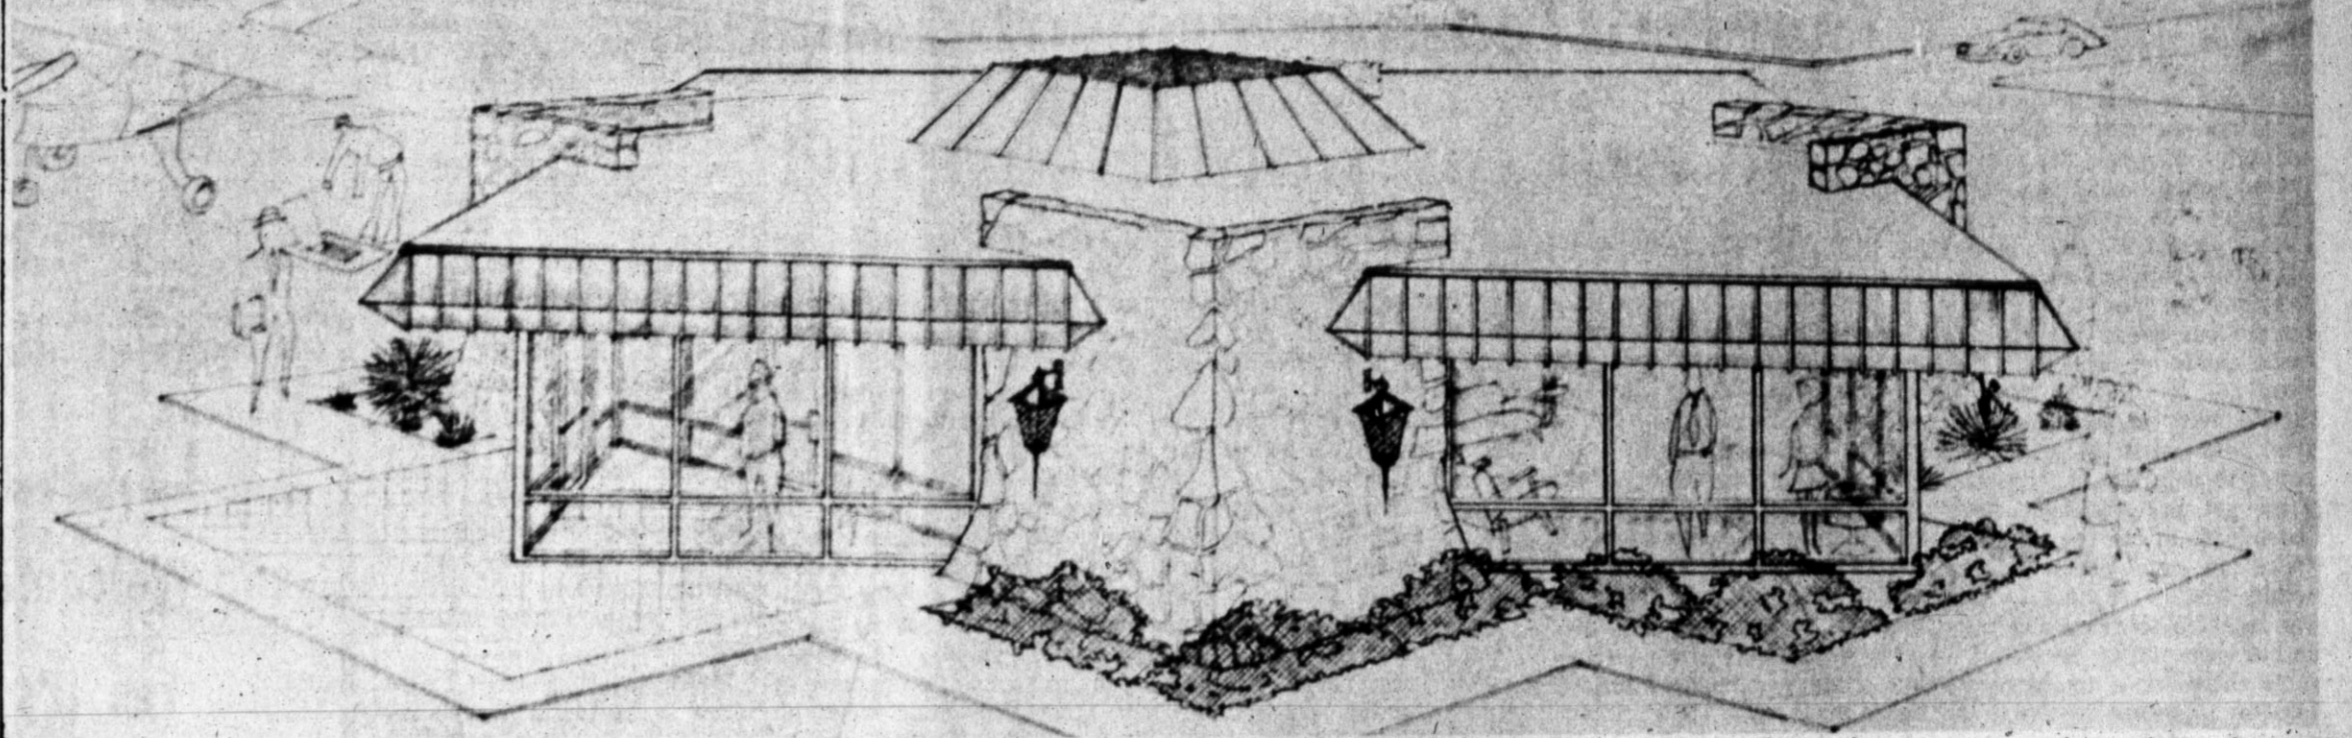

Dudley Bayne, city manager, said the number of votes cast in the city election Tuesday was unusually heavy for an uncontested race.

Juvenile, hospital bills move ahead

By BETTY MANNA
Brand Correspondent
AUSTIN — Two important Deaf Smith County bills near final passage in the State Capitol this week.

Legislation to authorize the establishment of a Juvenile Board in the county will be heard in the House next Tuesday, Rep. Bill Clayton said Wednesday.

Introduced first by Sen. Max Sherman, the bill has been approved already by the Senate. It needs only the approval in the House and of the governor to become law.

The bill creating a Deaf Smith County hospital district was approved by the House Thursday and Sherman said he plans to rush the bill through the Senate as fast as possible.

Clayton said he hopes the hospital bill can be approved in time for the issue to be placed before Deaf Smith County voters on May 18, when they must ballot on proposed constitutional amendments and on a criminal district attorney.

However, the bill creating a hospital district provides that the election must be held no less than 35 days from the date the election is ordered. This would give only until April 14 — or next Wednesday — for the bill to be approved by the Senate, signed by the governor, and an election called by Deaf Smith County Judge H. C. Williams.

The Texas Legislature broke away Wednesday for the Easter holidays so action would have to come quickly early next week. Clayton said he planned to contact Ed Line, chairman of the county hospital board, to see if such an election could be worked out.

The juvenile board calls for a board composed of seven non-salaried members and the county judge. Two members would be appointed by the county commissioners, two by the School Board and two by city commissioners. It also calls for the appointment of a juvenile officer or officers.

County commissioners would set the salary and split the cost with the city and school.

The hospital bill provides for an election to create the district, and then provides for county commissioners to appoint the six directors. If the local feeling was such, the method of selection could be changed in the future to allow an election to pick them.

Sherman said Tuesday that the Senate Finance Committee, of which he is a member, had finished its business that day and that tax proposals had been sent to subcommittee. A two-cent tax raise on the price of gasoline was a major addition of the Senate committee to the House Appropriations bill, the Amarillo legislator said.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes proposed the tax, Sherman said, and had promised it would protect the state's farm-to-market program. Sherman said he considers the farm-to-market road vital to the Hereford area. Some type of corporate income tax probably will be passed by the Senate, Sherman predicted.

Local golfers take honors at Dimmitt tourney

Cal Garrett, pro at Hereford Golf Course, took pro-honors with Roy Fain of Denver City in the Castro County Country Club Pro-Am Golf Tournament Monday.

Two Hereford amateur golfers — James Hill and Dan McWhorter — were on a team with Tascosa Country Club pro Tommy Austin and Austin's wife that tied for second place in the tourney.

MRS. ROY THOMPSON

Services held here for Mrs. Roy Thompson

Funeral services for Mrs. Roy Thompson, who came to Deaf Smith County as a child in 1907 and has lived here since, were conducted Tuesday morning in Rose Chapel of Gilliland Funeral home by Dr. Gerald Mann, pastor of First Baptist Church.

Burial was in West Park Cemetery, where her husband, whose death occurred in April of 1969, was also buried.

Mrs. Thompson, 69, resided at 606 Blevins. She died early Sunday in a local hospital. She was the former Flossie Faye Valentine, born June 1, 1901, at Colchester, Ill.

A member of the family of W. I. Valentine, farmer and rancher who came to this country from Illinois and brought with him such farming innovations as the first steam plow ever seen in the area, she married Albert Leroy Thompson, member of another pioneer ranching family, in March of 1917 at Amarillo.

Fall deadline set for new air terminal

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer
A new $40,000 airport terminal, the second major city project this year resulting from the city sales tax, will be in operation in Hereford by this fall, city manager Dudley Bayne disclosed this week.

Preliminary plans were completed last week by the architect firm of Rihard and Huckabee and approved by the City Commission. Final plans and specifications will be completed within 30 days and work will begin in early June.

The new air terminal is the second major undertaking by the city from the $2,000 received from the state through the city sales tax returns. The city spent approximately $40,000 also for the construction of the new fire station and also for street improvements throughout the city.

The new airport terminal will have over three times the square footage of the present building. The new building will be 1,800 square feet compared to the 520 square feet of the old terminal.

Bayne said the city hopes to be able to advertise for bids on the new building around the first of June so the new facility will be ready for use by late September or early October.

The building and furniture is expected to cost about $40,000. It will include two lounge areas, two offices, a flight service area, rest rooms and storage area and will be located in the same area as the present terminal.

Elias Flores and Sons of Juarez, Mexico, will provide decorative fixtures and grill work for the new terminal. The same company did the interior work for a new airport in Andrews, which drew considerable attention from the Hereford City Commission.

The building will be of a four pointed star design with each "point" made of a smoked type glass. The four glass points will be held in place by four supporting rock columns for exterior appearance.

A tile patio will surround the terminal and the building will have central heat and air conditioning.

The old terminal building, built in 1958, will be added onto the house near the airport for airport employees. The building will be remodeled for this purpose.

Jaycees to play KGNC

The Hereford Jaycees play the KGNC Four-Flushers in basketball at La Plata Gym tonight in a game designed to bring in money for the summer baseball program in Hereford.

The game will start at 8:30 p.m. as the second game of a doubleheader. The Jayceettes play the Four-Flushettes at 7 p.m. in a rare girls game in Hereford.

Between the games, Jaycee President Charles Richards will announce the All-Stars who will represent Hereford in the Little Dribblers Basketball, Inc., district tournament set for Dimmitt April 23-24. Ten players and two alternates will be named. Terry Hill and Karl French, the coaches of the championship and runnerup teams the past season will coach the squad.

Tickets at $1 for adults and 50 cents for children will be on sale at the door. Anyone who played in the Little Dribblers program the past season can get in free.

KGNC will pick its starting lineup from among Joe Bill Brown, farm department; Mike Casey, TV salesman; Royce Boddiford, farm and ranch director; Jack Coleman, TV director; Dennis Dueterhaus, TV copywriter; and Don Cantrell, radio salesman.

The Jaycees will counter with Hill, French, Layne Cushmanberry, Robbe Lemons, Marshall Day, Richards, Bill McKinney, Jerry Tisdale, Dan Warrick, Dale Lawrence, Bill Johnson, Fred Shelton, Bill Melugin, Larry Knowles and others.

City's drive runs from April 15-May 15

Clean-up month approaches

The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Beautification Committee has designated April 15 through May 15 as "Trash Round-up Month" in Hereford in conjunction with the state round-up week of April 26 through May 1.

A month-long project will be aimed at "cleaning up" Hereford through various projects of the Beautification Committee.

These projects will include erecting several litter fine signs, distributing leaflets with the city trash ordinance on them, and carrying litter campaigns into the public school system.

Mrs. Dick Barnard, chairman of the Beautification Committee of the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce, said the committee is seeking the help of each civic organization in the campaign.

"We will conduct a house-to-house canvass with the Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls and the Chamber of Commerce to distribute leaflets that give the city ordinances for junk cars, where they can get trash cans and lids, and so forth," she said.

"Also, when a person applies for a new water meter connection at the city hall, a copy of the city ordinance will be given to them so they will know what is to be expected of them in the way of keeping things clean."

The Chamber of Commerce group has started the campaign by cleaning up their own yards and will now carry its program into the school system and to the civic organizations.

"This will, we believe, give us a start on something that could turn this into a real community thing although it is something that cannot be done overnight," Mrs. Barnard said.

"The whole thing rests on how much pride you can instill in a person for the appearance of his yard, but if you don't have this pride, the situation is going to continue to be bad.

"The population of Hereford has more than doubled in the past 10 years and so has the trash problem. What we are trying to do is improve the conditions here in Hereford. Hereford has been known for a lot of things, but being a clean city is not one of them."

Mrs. Barnard cited some of the projects carried out by the city of San Antonio that have greatly improved its appearance.

The city has a strict ordinance on littering that is enforced by the police, and a number of other projects that have brought San Antonio much acclaim as a clean city.

Much of the work during the "Trash Round-up Month" campaign will be done by the Beautification Committee of the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce, Mrs. Barnard said, but every citizen is urged to participate in helping clean up his own property.

Mrs. Barnard said trash barrels are available from the city at a cost of about $2 per barrel and they will be delivered to the purchaser at no cost. The cost will be added to the monthly bill.

These barrels, however, will probably be replaced within the next four years by the large containers that are to be distributed across the city. The four-year project will do away with the individual trash barrels.

"Where a lot of our problem could be solved in the public schools," she said. "If we can get into the schools and educate and persuade our students of the problem, then we think we can make headway."

Minister decries Calley protests

By CHARLES RICHARDS
News Editor
A local minister told his congregation this week that he fears the national outcry over the conviction of Lt. William Calley has arisen from a high pitch of emotionalism instead of reason.

The protest has been carried to such a degree that people have lined up in large numbers for something that is not really the key issue, he suggested.

Dr. Gerald Mann, pastor of the First Baptist Church, said the question that has been asked is whether the American way of life is worth defending, even to the extent of the atrocities that wars bring.

If that is the question, Mann said, even he will have to agree "that Calley should go free."

But there is another point that he feels is the real issue, Mann said, and if the individual considers the trial verdict from this standpoint, he may reach another conclusion.

"There are two ways to look at what is happening. What is the individual's responsibility in war? Is he a robot with no decisions to make, or does he have some individual ethical responsibilities?" Mann asked.

He pointed out that German officers were sent to the gallows following the Nuremberg Trials because they had a part in the extermination of millions of Jews.

which the Allies joined in, was that when it came to killing defenseless people, a person is responsible to refuse to do so. We have to remember the precedent we've set," Mann said.

If you do join in that conclusion, that a soldier does have an ethical responsibility to obey his conscience in such matters, when he has been ordered to kill defenseless persons, then you have to look even farther, he suggested.

"On Calley, we don't really know what happened. We may not ever know. We have to assume Calley was ordered to wipe out and secure a village and that he did that — in the process, killing women, children, aged people who had no weapons," Mann said.

"Number 1, was killing them necessary for the security of his mission? Who's to say. I've talked to several veterans who say 10-year-old kids kill more than others. And Number 2, is Calley to be blamed, or are his superiors. Is a man to be held responsible when he is ordered to kill? And if his superiors are to be blamed, who are his superiors?" Mann asked.

periors. Ultimately, it is me and you." Mann said he did not plan to give his congregation his personal feelings about the situation from the pulpit but would like all his listeners to come to their own decision — but one based on reason and not emotion.

He said he feels strongly that some anti-war forces have been working at work in rallying united support on the grass-roots level in opposition to the Calley verdict. He said he feels also that there has been undue exaggeration and a conspiracy by persons within the national news media on the Calley incident.

"We must not let the Calley trial be a tool for those who are trying to tear down our country. I am not for wars, but I think there will be one as long as there are sinful people in the world. Now is the time for sanity, to establish peace and unity in our own midst," he said. "If there was a time when we needed to refuse to react on emotion and not reason, it is now," Mann said. "I am scared to death over the polarization we have seen in the last days."

Regardless of what conclusion is reached, Mann urged his congregation to not "label" others who do not reach the same conclusion.

"I am pro America. I stand for my country. But I refuse to let the high emotion of the Calley thing get me labeled. I'm not going to say someone is a Communist or a Pinko if he doesn't agree with me."

The Baptist minister referred to several scriptures in the Old Testament that indicate God favors war — Deuteronomy 20, Joshua 6, 1 Samuel 15, 2 Chronicles 28. But he also pointed out that in 1 Chronicles 22, Isaiah 2 and Micah 4, there were indications that God disliked war. He forbade David from building a temple for God, for example, because David had waged too many wars.

The Hawks and the Frogs are the champions of the 1971 Little Dribblers Basketball campaign in Hereford.

The Hawks, coached by Terry Hill, won their title by defeating the Pistons of Karl French, 36-16, in the second game of a championship double-header in Stanton Gym Monday night.

In an exciting preliminary title match, the Frogs of David Myers and Danny Charest won the American League title (for third and fourth graders) by beating James Gomez' Rockets, 17-15, in a game decided at the final buzzer.

Roy Martinez scored 17 points and Terry Lee Brady 15 to lead the Hawks, who wrapped up the verdict by scoring 17 straight points in the middle of the match. James Mays scored 6 and Marcial Limas 4 to pace the Pistons.

back in front, 12-9, but Ricky de los Santos and Ernie Gonzales made free throws to cut it to 12-11. Mercer hit a free throw on a technical foul assessed the Frogs for guarding in the backcourt to put the Rockets in a 13-11 lead but Gonzales stole the ball and fed it to Randy Davis, who tallied to tie the game at 13-13 with 3:30 to play in the game. De los Santos hit from six feet away to put the Frogs ahead again, 15-13, but Isaac Valdez responded with a four-footer to tie it again, this time with just 55 seconds to play. Wittkop then hit at the buzzer to wrap things up, and his coaches and teammates lifted him high in the air in jubilation. Davis scored 5 points to lead the Frogs. Wittkop ended with 4, De los Santos and Gonzales with 3 and Johnny Escamillo with 2. Herring and Valdez 2 points each backed up Mercer's 11 points. The Frogs carried a 5-0 mark into the game and the Rockets a 4-1 ledger. Baseball leagues consolidate, issue call for public support

Three Hereford youth baseball programs officially were consolidated in a meeting Monday under the name of Boys Baseball of Hereford, Inc., but officials said that is only part of the task of improving the local baseball program.

John Bunch, president of the Bronco Baseball League, said the success of the merger of the Bronco, Pony and Colt Leagues lies in getting people involved in the entire program.

The program will be handled by a seven-man governing board made up of the presidents of each league, one other member-at-large. All matters pertaining to the operations of the league will be handled by this board.

Elected to serve on the board were Bunch, Mel Charest, president of the Pony League; Reese Dawson, president of the Colt League; Chuck Cosper, Bronco League representative; Gene Loerwald, Colt League representative and Cuby Kit-chens who was named member-at-large.

A representative of the Pony League will be elected in the next few days.

The seven members of this board will serve only for this season, then another board will be elected.

The board's duties are effective with the 1971 baseball season, but it will not operate as a single governing body until the end of this season. From these seven men, a president, vice president, secretary-treasurer and overall purchasing agent will be elected.

"We have gotten this thing going, and I think if we can just clear this first hurdle of getting everyone interested in the youth baseball program, we will gain momentum," Bunch said.

"We hope to get the entire community behind us in our efforts because these programs take a lot of time and effort, and just a few coaches can't do all the work."

Bunch said a slogan has been adopted by the baseball program that is hoped will bring out more workers and helpers to make sure the program does not fold. The slogan is "Get Involved. Be a Good Citizen. Support Hereford's Youth Baseball Program."

"We can't seem to get it across to the people that things are at the point where if more interest is not shown in the youth baseball program, it might not be here this time next year," said Art McQueary, officer of the Bronco League.

"These coaches and officials have worked their hands to the bone without much help from people outside the league, and things are getting worse," he said. "If we can't get more interest shown in our kids than what we have in the past, these parents are going to find their kids without a summer baseball program."

During an average Bronco League baseball season of 10 weeks, two coaches give their time, without pay. If these coaches were drawing minimum wages of $1.60 an hour, the total amount of money spent, in terms of hours given to the baseball program, would be approximately $10,000 a year in just the Bronco League, Bunch said.

"People fail to realize that these coaches are human too, they put in an 8 or 10 hour work day then go out and work with these kids without compensation other than the fact they know they are helping the youth," McQueary said.

"The time is here when people ought to start thinking ahead because before they know it, one of the best things in Hereford — its baseball program — is not going to be here," Bunch said.

The Bronco League president said the problem of getting the citizens involved in the program is what is causing the most concern in baseball circles. He said everyone is willing to let the next person do all the work.

"It is not our complete place for our coaches to furnish everyone's kid a place to stay for a few hours a week like a baby sitter. We enjoy doing this, or we wouldn't be here, but we need some help," Bunch said.

"We need help. That is all there is to it. Mothers, dads, civic clubs and anyone else that can, we need help."

Here's why:

W. G. HARLAN, Muleshoe, produced 168.6 bushels of corn per acre last year from 14.6 acres of Pioneer brand 3306.

"This was as clean and pretty a corn as I've ever seen," Mr. Harlan said.

Youth of three countries heard

Hopes for world peace as viewed by high school students of three diverse countries, were voiced to climax a program given for Velela Study Club Tuesday night by David Thomas of Hereford and the two Hereford High School seniors here in the American Field Service program.

Gaby Lottner, of Germany, and Samin Aydin of Turkey discussed with Thomas their feelings about the possibility of world understanding through the United Nations.

All three students were skeptical of the realization of what Aydin called the beautiful dream of world unity, although they agreed on the need of such programs as the AFS, which they said give an opportunity for friendship between people of various countries.

On less weighty matters, the trio talked about likenesses and differences in their homes and Hereford. Speaking of education, they agreed that the big difference is in the wide choice which American students may make; whereas in schools they have attended in the past, decisions are made by school authorities.

A nominating committee, Mmes. James Trail, Bill Brady and Red Durham, was appointed to present a slate of officers for the club election April 27.

Mrs. Gwynne Owen was hostess in her home, and served refreshments to the program guests and members from a table covered with a white net cloth bordered in felt, and centered with an arrangement of tree branches, jonquils and Easter bunnies.

Background of war area told

Sketching the history of Vietnam, Mrs. Emmett stressed the continuous unsettled conditions in that Southeast Asian nation as she said the country was in a state of guerrilla warfare as early as 250 B. C., when she spoke to La Alflatus Estud i o Club Tuesday.

The club's afternoon meeting was in the Community Room of First National Bank, with Mrs. Glenn Witherspoon as hostess. Mrs. Hale told of numerous shifts of government in Vietnam as that area came under the domination of first one country and then another throughout its history. This was the background of the present country, scene of a long-drawn-out war involving the United States, she said.

Mrs. Sam Morgan, vice president, was in charge of the business session in the absence of Mrs. A. H. Cook, president. Plans were made for a trip to an historic ranch house near Springer, N.M., at the next meeting, April 20. Members will gather at the home of Mrs. B. F. Markham at 9 a. m. to begin the trip.

Mrs. Witherspoon served refreshments to Mmes. Glen Nelson, Morgan, Markham, Hale, Earl Clark, T. W. Roberson, George Suggs and Miss Della Stagner.

First rate novel with spies, spice

KILLING AFFAIR. By Peter Baker. Houghton Mifflin. $4.95.

For fans who enjoy the spy novels that the British do well here is a variant. It has a heroine rather than a hero, and she's no spy herself.

This is a story about Minnie Swan, who has both brains and sexual allure. She works for the British foreign office, and it happens that she has been having an affair with Bill Emerson, an American she had met on one of her trips to the Continent. How was she to know that he was some sort of secret agent?

So when Minnie is being assigned to the staff of a cabinet minister she has to have a full security clearance, which is handled by an intelligence officer named Adrian Webb.

This Webb, without letting her know, uses her as bait for a spy trap, and that leads to all sorts of violent complications, including the murder of an agent who was supposed to be protecting her.

When the shakedown comes, our heroine has a life and death gamble with an assassin, and then a final confrontation with the villain. There is a plot snapper right on the final pages.

The entertainment value of this thriller is first rate and it contains plenty of spice and tension.

Rebekahs to aid in entertaining district IOOF

Dinner will be served by Rebekah Lodge members to Odd Fellows Lodge members here for a District 3 meeting Monday evening, it was decided at the Rebekah session Tuesday evening in the IOOF Hall.

Mrs. Jim Loving conducted the Rebekah meeting and was hostess for the evening, serving refreshments to 15 members.

A report was made on a meeting at Friona Monday, when the district deputy's commission was read for Mrs. Leonard Davis of Hereford. That ceremony had previously been held here.

Mrs. Clarence Beauford, Ola Hacker and Nola Ralston accompanied Mrs. Davis to Friona, where the district president, A. B. Alexander of Pampa, Mrs. Alexander and the district secretary, Jean Ann

Novel on a lonely life

ENCHANTMENT. By Linda Grace Hoyer. Houghton Mifflin. $5.95.

In this novel a woman named Belle, now a grandmother, looks back over her life in rural and small town Pennsylvania. It is a curiously indirect, impressionistic sort of autobiographical tale told by a woman who has been a loner all her life.

Belle was an only child surrounded by older relatives, and that seems to have been the pattern for the whole family — one member of the last generation growing up among the elders. She was considered odd because she was sensitive; she considered herself odd because she was plain-faced and shy.

As the narrative switches back and forth from one generation to another, it becomes apparent that Belle always has sought to break out of her ingrown personality and establish contact with the more communicative world. Toward the end it appears she reaches fulfillment through the success of her son Eric, a novelist, who also is an only child.

The prose style is deft and at Pinckert of Amarillo, were present.

'War-gaming' is latest fad

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Ever since you saw the movie "Patton" you've been waking up during the night hearing someone shouting, "We strike here! And here! and here!" and the voice sounds yours?

Now anyone can have a little war all his own. "War-gaming" is the latest fad, both internationally and in Corpus Christi, according to local toy and hobby shop owners who say war games sell out almost faster than they can be ordered.

Devotees can choose between a myriad of available games divided into two basic types. "Board games" come as packaged units with game boards resembling the battlefield after which the game is named, and "pieces" of either cardboard or plastic representing anything from a Panzer unit to a squad of crossbowmen.

The components of "miniature" or "figure" games are purchased separately, usually painted by the player, and then arranged on a felt "battlefield." Various sets of rules and "scenarios" describing different battles are also on the market for "figure men."

Paul Hanna, president of the 15-member Corpus Christi Military Gaming Society, said some of the games "come as close as is now possible to the reality of the historical situation."

While players do not attempt to recreate history exactly as it occurred, they are governed by many of the conditions which determined the outcome of the original event.

In the board game "Gettysburg," for example, Union and Confederate forces are lined up in the positions they occupied on a June morning in 1863. A board game's outcome is determined by how well a player can manipulate his troops from the beginning moment on.

"Just how much do they resemble reality? You'd be surprised," Hanna, who teaches history at Texas A&I University, said. "Some of the games have an incredible number of 'factors' each player must weigh. Some of the World War II games have things like armor-piercing factors, supply and logistics factors air supply factors."

A chief limitation of the games is "that you have total intelligence." But accidents and other imponderables are taken into account through use, at intervals in a game, of die and special charts.

Another "difference from reality" is that "there are no real deaths or wounds" to be considered which might influence the decisions of the "generals" (players).

"A friend of mine at the University of Washington said they tried to add a touch of that up there," Hanna said. "They were playing with miniatures, and

FREEDOM FRIGHT

LONDON — Women's new-found freedom is scaring the pants off men, psychologist James Hemmings told 800 women at a club meeting.

Men have lost "the warrior, breadwinner and muscleman image," the 61-year-old doctor continued. But the main advantage is that marriage becomes more secure with equal partners, he concluded.

whenever a casualty occurred they would take one of these beautifully painted little soldiers and smash it with a hammer. But it was so painful to the players they had to stop it," he said.

WINDING DOWN

WINCHESTER, England — Teen-agers leading hectic lives should be provided with "bolt-holes," monk-like retreats to sort themselves out, Ronald Gibson, a Hampshire school doctor, suggests.

"People think that because teen-agers are in the joy of life they don't suffer stresses and strains," he said. "In fact, they suffer more than any adult."

First telephone patent was issued to Alexander G. Bell in 1876.

It's PIONEER again this year.

Here's why:

CECIL MORRISON, Hereford, averaged 7,802 pounds of grain sorghum per acre last year from 460 acres of Pioneer brand 820. Seeded 8 pounds to the acre on 32-inch rows, the crop was planted between May 10 and May 20 and harvested between September 25 and October 20. Part of the crop had only two waterings after planting; the remainder had three. Mr. Morrison has planted 820 every year for the past four years and likes its consistent performance. He plans to plant his entire feed grain acreage in 820 again this year. Naturally we are pleased that so many good farmers plant Pioneer brand hybrid years after year.

Business, arts share interest

With a fine arts program for entertainment, time was also given for important business at the membership luncheon of the Women's Division, Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce, at Hereford Country Club Tuesday noon.

Members enrolled since the winter membership meeting in January were introduced and welcomed, revisions in the by-laws were approved and an outline of plans for the annual spring cleanup was heard.

Mrs. Dick Barnard, cleanup chairman, listed the objectives which were announced to the City Commission Monday evening and approved by that body. She emphasized working for enforcement of city trash ordinances, not just during the cleanup campaign, but all year.

Committee members for the cleanup, she said, are Mmes. Pete Caviness, T. J. Carter, Hap Cavness, Lynton Allred, Clinton Jackson, Harold Close, Jim Clarke and Ray Cowser. Mrs. Barnard asked each member to go home and check her own yard, alley and trash can to begin the cleanup.

Mrs. Milton Adams read revisions in the by-laws, requested by the executive board after the experience of three years, and these were approved by members' vote. Mrs. Lynn Kester presided in the absence from the city of Mrs. Shepard Townsend, president.

Guests presented the fine arts program arranged by Mrs. Stan Knox, Mrs. A. J. Schroeter, music chairman, introduced the Spiritual Swingers, Sherry White, Sammie Vinson and Carol Scott, who sang with Jim Hannaford as piano accompanist.

A scene from the mystery comedy, Ghost of Rhodes Manor, which Hereford Community Players will present April 30-May 1, was introduced by Mrs. Jack Wilcox, drama chairman. Juanita Owen, director, gave a brief synopsis and Sylvia Emerick, Viola Moore, Elaine Clarke and Amy Gilliland enacted the scene. Lunch tables were decorated with blossoms from fruit trees and amusing Easter bunnies by Mrs. Deward Roberson and Mrs. Clarke.

Jungle teacher speaks to club

Work with primitive peoples in jungles of South America was described by Miss Judy Henslee, with the Wycliffe Bible Translators, guest speaker to La Plata Study Club Tuesday evening at a meeting in Mrs. Jack Brown's home.

She showed slides as she told of a recent training period for Wycliffe translators in a jungle camp. They had lessons in carpentering, butchering, life-saving and first aid, also cooking on wood burning stoves.

Subject of the program was Challenge in Everyday Life. The speaker told of volunteering first as a teacher of workers' children in Colombia, then deciding to pursue the linguistic part of the program in which translators study the language of a tribe which has no written language, form an alphabet and a written language, translate the Bible and teach the people to read.

OLD FRIENDS — Louis Le Grand, left, visits with Gaston Baer during the recent 50th anniversary of Gaston's store on Main Street. Le Grand opened the City Drug Store in Hereford, just next door to Gaston's in 1921, the same year Gaston came to Hereford.

By MELVIN YOUNG

Gene Hoggard, line type operator for the Brand, says it has gotten so dry that the Bahlists have started sprinkling and the Methodists are now using a damp rag.

The American Field Service is in desperate need of a couple of homes for prospective foreign exchange students for the coming year. Both the Lions Club and the Rotarians have pledged the necessary money to bring the students to Hereford, but they must have a family to live with. So far, no volunteers.

The requirements are simple. It is recommended that you have a son or daughter (and it doesn't make any difference which) who will be either a junior or senior in high school this coming year. And they might accept a sophomore as well. Anyhow, if you're interested in keeping one of the students you should contact Ray Moore, local branch president of the American Field Service. You might also talk to some of the families who have had these youngsters in their homes. They'll sell you on the proposition.

We were invited to attend a meeting of the Peace Officers Association Tuesday evening and enjoyed it very much.

We were rather amused however when Jerry Outlaw came to the meeting of Peace Officers, Mr. Outlaw, and that's his real name, appeared before the group concerning Explorer Troop 133 which the local Peace Officers Association sponsor.

Guest speaker for the evening was Walter Eubanks with Amarillo College.

We have often wondered what would happen if there was trouble while all the Peace Officers were congregated in one area and we found out Tuesday night. When the call came in that there was trouble in town the group scattered like a covey of quail. In minutes there wasn't anyone left but the guests. The officers had all gone back to work.

It is a fine organization incidentally, and we feel the association has done a lot to cement relations between the various law enforcement agencies.

"Chuck" Cosper, area game warden, is president of the association.

Well, we see that Amarillo now has a new mayor. And perhaps that's best, although it wouldn't have surprised us had Mayor Stroud won re-election. Maybe Mr. Vahue can get the city fathers pulling together again. The situation certainly has not helped Amarillo's image and we suspect the city's growth has suffered some because of it.

We note too, that Mayor Daley of Chicago was returned to office by a big margin, and our own Jim Sears will serve another term locally. As someone pointed out, Mr. Sears won by a bigger percentage of the vote than did Mayor Daley, but of course he didn't have an opponent.

The expected write-in campaign against the local officials did not materialize but the threat of such a campaign apparently brought more than the usual number of voters out to cast their ballots. Normally, in an uncontested race, 50 to 100 votes will get it. However more than 400 were cast Tuesday. And that's great.

CARD OF THANKS
WORDS cannot express the heartfelt thanks for the beautiful flowers, cards, and the visits and your prayers during my stay in the hospital.

Also for the wonderful care I received from the nurses and Dr. Mims. Thanks again. May God bless each of you. Aubrey Epperson Hire a veteran.

A veteran construction worker, a veteran electronics technician, a veteran electrician, a veteran draftsman, a veteran cook, a veteran aircraft mechanic, a veteran medical technician, a veteran computer programmer, a veteran policeman, a veteran nurse, a veteran administrator...

Veterans have experience in dozens of fields. And hundreds of specialties . . . many of them hard to find. Trade skills. Technical skills. Professional and supervisory skills.

In fact, the Services spend some $3 billion a year on training! And there's over $1 billion more available for training through the GI Bill and the Manpower Development and Training Act.

Disabled veterans receive special vocational rehabilitation to provide them with skills.

Find out more about how your company can benefit from trained, experienced veterans. Or how you can train them—your way—in a government-supported on-the-job training program.

For help in hiring veterans, contact your local office of the State Employment Service; for on-the-job training information, see your local Veterans Administration office.

Mrs. Mary Dorris of Texico, New Mexico visited last week with Mrs. Robbie Fortenberry and the Jimmie Bradley family.

Mr. and Mrs. Chick Burney and boys of Hereford visited Sunday evening with her mother, Mrs. Doris Pinnell.

Mrs. Billie Ramage of Spade Texas spent Friday overnight with Mrs. Millie Maupin.

No Thank You
Recently I was made chairman of a committee to find three new officers for our local Parent-Teachers Organization. Here are some of the interesting answers I received. Sorry my daughter will soon be out of school, but you will be there for a long time, so why don't you serve. I am new here so I don't want to do it. P. T. O. What good does it ever do. No body goes anyway. Not me No sir. Well I wouldn't flat refuse but I don't want the job, I have served my term. P. T. O. Are you kidding. You tell me 5 good things the P. T. O. does. I have to many other jobs. Not this year, but I will next time. Good Gosh No. Don't you dare put my name on anything. Thank you for thinking of me but I am too busy. Then several No's and then some firmer No's and Why don't you just drop P. T. O. Finally 3 lovely ladies took the offices. Two newcomers and one old regular. I wish I had Rema Bombeck courage.

Mr. and Mrs. Lane Bell are in the process of moving to Cimarron, New Mexico where he will be working on a Ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Bell and family of Chillicothe spent last weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Lane Bell in Vega, Sunday guest included Mrs. Gertrude Whitten and Mr. and Mrs. David Whitten and Donald and Elaine Whaley for dinner.

in Amarillo this week.

Sidney Blankenship, 27 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Webb Blankenship of Adrian, is the only American student ever named president of the student body of an Oxford College. He also captained the Oxford Rowing Team in 1969.

Sidney, an honor graduate of Abilene Christian College, majored in religious education.

In spite of his impressive degrees in religious education, the young man elected to enter the business world. He is in charge of sales throughout the Panhandle for a new cosmetic company.

"Two of the best years of my life were spent at Oxford and I value my education highly, but this business is a new experience for me, and a good one," said Sidney.

Now living in Hereford and working over the area, Sidney says there is yet a possibility he may use those degrees either to teach or to write.

The Adrian P. T. O. meeting for April 5th was held March 30 in the High School Auditorium, the business part of the program included elections of the new officers for 1971-72. They are President Joann Myers, Vice President Irma Burns and secretary and Treasurer Elaine Brorman. These officers will be installed in May.

Following the business Mr. Larry Guffey and his One-Act play cast presented "The Woodshed" by L. E. Preston. The Woodshed — is a play of character development with strong religious undertones. In the woodshed is a varying assortment of people, prisoners of their own feelings of guilt and frustration. Their weakness is a lack of willingness to accept responsibility. It is only when each repents and faces the future with strength that the door of the woodshed opens to release him from the punishment.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria by hostess; Mrs. Hubert Bronniman, Mrs. R. D. Sisk, Mrs. Butch Betts, Mrs. L. E. Garrison, Mrs. Pat Blankenship and Mrs. Bob Lane.

Tonya Jackson of Vega visited Monday with her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Zarling.

American history essay contest winners are announced by DAR

Winners in an American History essay contest for elementary school pupils have been announced by Los Ciboleros Chapter, Daughters of American Revolution, which sponsored the contest and will award medals.

The four winners are Jerry Allen of Northwest, Margaret Brumley of Aikman, Delfina Perales of Tierra Blanca and Tammie Cagle of Shirley. Mrs. Jess Robinson, local DAR regent, will present bronze medals to them in assembly programs at their respective schools.

Merit essays were recognized by the judges also, and certificates of appreciation will be awarded to Cindy Downey and

David Kizarr of Bluebonnet, Deborah Kay McCutchen and James McDowell Jr. of Aikman, Sherry Kelley of Shirley, Vivian Burges of Tierra Blanca, Marc Strange of Central and Phillip Zinser of Northwest.

The certificates commend each student for efforts in preparing his essay. More than 100 students from fifth and sixth grades entered the contest. The four top essays will be published in the Hereford Brand.

Subject was The Constitution and Its Signers and writers had the option of telling about any one of the signers, and writing of the U. S. Constitution, its purpose or the process of its adoption.

Los Ciboleros Chapter plans to make this essay contest an annual event to encourage the study of various phases of American history by Hereford students.

42 PARTY PLANNED
The Easter Community will hold its monthly "42" party at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the Easter Community Building.

The public is invited to the party, and ladies are asked to bring refreshments, card tables and dominoes.

LOST CHORD
BURY, ST. EDMUNDS, England — Jenny Beak, 22, put too much gusto into her part in The Desert Song, performed before a capacity crowd in a Suffolk theater. By accident she flung a three foot steel sword into the orchestra pit, just missing the first violinist's head but smashing his violin.

First libel suit in the U. S. was brought against John Peter Zenger of the New York Weekly Journal in 1735.

IN EXPERT HANDS — Dignified French poodle LaPeau, left, and miniature Jacque should be the best-groomed canines in town now, since their mistresses, with whom they are pictured, received certificates last week upon completion of a college course in poodle grooming. They were the only students from Hereford in lege. Jacque is one of three poodles owned by Virginia Thomas, while LaPeau enjoys all the attention of Annette Curtis. Neither of the Hereford businesswomen has any intention of using her lately-acquired knowledge professionally; they just took advantage of the class to learn to keep their own dogs looking smart.

Easter

It is now three days after that terrible Dark Friday when God said unto them, "Thus it is written, and thus it behoved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day; and that repentance and remission of sins should be preached among all nations." The weighty stones are being rolled away from the grave doors and the Spirit is becoming triumphant over death. The Old Rugged Cross and Christ's tomb are both being snatched, forever, from their association with death. Now,—just then, Heavenly love turned the gloomiest Dark Friday in the annals of human history into a very Good Friday. All that Christmas ever meant to the world is now wholly sanctified in Easter. Christ's promise that, He would build the Temple again in three days, has been fulfilled. Easter is the springtime of the soul and Crucifixion has more radiant beauty and deep meaning when we see it through the fragrant glory of the snow white lily. Easter symbolizes the Crucifixion, Burial and Resurrection of our True Leader. The event is packed with all the drama of human emotion we can withstand.

Hallelujah, it is Easter. A-men.

She digs mining her own gems

By JOY STILLEY
 AP Newsfeatures Writer
 NEW YORK (AP) — If you dig unusual vacations, for an unusual vacation you can dig — precious and semi-precious stones. That's the suggestion of Mary L. T. Brown, an enthusiastic gem hound since she caught "ruby fever" on her first mining expedition a few years ago.

During that five-day vacation in the mountains of North Carolina she found 21 sapphires and eight rubies, including a 1.72-carat ruby worth $175. From that time on she's been a confirmed "pebble pup," and now she has written a book on the subject, "Gems for the Taking."

"There are gemstones to be found in every one of the 50 states," she pointed out, sitting in her Manhattan townhouse surrounded by trophies of treasure trips. "It's an inexpensive hobby, a bargain vacation, and the whole family will get a fantastic kick out of it."

For those who have visions of descending deep into the earth equipped with pickax and miner's headlamp, Miss Brown is quick to explain she's talking about surface mining.

"You don't have to go after the gems with a pick," she says. "It's just the way you would dig in your back yard to plant a flower."

In fact you needn't dig at all, she adds. At the mine near Franklin, N. C., where she found her first stones, for instance, you pay $2 and have the privilege of digging all day. But for a dollar extra the owner provides six pails already filled with gem gravel.

"And you find something in almost every pail," Miss Brown declares. "You pour half the pail's contents into a sieve-bottom box and start hosing while you agitate the soil and stones with your other hand. After the soil goes out the sieve you start tossing the big rocks out and get down to the small ones. You think there's nothing there and then you turn them over and there is THE stone."

"You have to get very close or you might miss it," she adds, "although the rubies are quite red and really jump out at you I was always missing the sapphires but then you know the minute they are pointed out they couldn't be anything else. They have a lovely little glaze that resembles the sheen of mica.

Actually you aren't aware of what you have until you look at the gemstone with a magnifying glass, she says. "You can find something huge and discover you have an impure stone or find something a fifth the size and learn it's the rarest of the rare."

The two states with most minerals are California and New

HER OWN THINGS — Mary L. T. Brown, a confirmed gem hound and author of "Gems for the Taking," displays a handful of rough rubies and sapphires as they look when they come from the mine. The brooch and rings she is wearing are set with stones she mined herself (AP Photo)

Jersey. For the four precious gems Miss Brown cites as especially productive these locations: the most beautiful sapphires are to be found in Montana; Arkansas is noted for diamonds; North Carolina, a particularly good gem state, has excellent rubies as well as the best emeralds.

"To start go to the commercial places, where there's less frustration," she advises. "When you know what you're doing perhaps you'd like to go out on your own." She suggests getting information about the most likely hunting spots in each state by contacting gemological societies, local chambers of commerce or the Department of the Interior.

"I don't know anybody who has ever sold anything he has found," she reports. "You love them too much."

Men, she has found are more likely than women to get involved in faceting and gem cutting, a process that takes a good deal of mathematical precision. However, cutting and polishing by professionals, who abound near the mining areas, is relatively inexpensive running between $6.50 and $8 a stone.

"Then the question is, what shall I do with them," she goes on. "You change your mind 85 times before you decide. At first I hung onto mine a long time, just keeping them in a box with a glass lid and looking at them."

At last she began having the stones set in rings, brooches, tie tacks and magnifying glass paperweights and eventually she plans to have some of her best gems embedded in silver goblets. The largest stone she has found is a 6-carat ruby, which has been put into a brooch.

Other suggestions she offers for using gems include earrings, necklaces, bracelets, rosaries, clasps for pearls, and even small stones around a silver or gold picture frame, possibly using the subject's birthstone.

"When the stone you find seems too tiny to do anything with, just think in terms of taking a great many and putting them in a cluster," says Miss Brown, who wears a ring bearing 20 small rubies she found.

After she became addicted to looking for gems, Miss Brown also began learning about them, reading "everything I could that was not too technical" and visiting museums all over the world.

"In ancient times gems were thought of as living things and there are many legends about them," she points out. "The emerald is the lovers' stone; the diamond is supposed to provide protection against ghosts; the ruby was believed to hold the spark of life; and the sapphire is considered the intellectual stone."

And the sapphire, which is Miss Brown's birthstone, appears to live up to its promise. In addition to being a vice president of the Hill & Knowlton public relations firm, she is a poet, short story writer, novelist and book reviewer.

Music pupils entertain club

Most - looked - forward - to program of the year for Music Study Club members, the annual hour of music by their children and their pupils, was presented Monday afternoon at a meeting in First Christian Fellowship Hall.

Mrs. Dale Young, club president, was master of ceremonies for the recital by young performers. The club sponsors it as a yearly event not only for the pleasure of members and guests but to fulfill one of its aims in encouraging students of music.

Two very young pianists opened the program, Polly Robinson playing the march from Tschalkowaky's Nutcracker Suite and Mike Robinson the solo, By the Blue Lagoon. Carol Reeve of Friona played Malaguena by Lecuona and Kim Young the Rondo by Diabelli.

Vocal duets, I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked and Trees, were sung by Susy and Becky Hickman. Piano selections were Clouds, by Suzanne Solomon; Little Negro (Debussy), by Lynette Clearman; Solfegietto (Bach), by Laybe Young and Gypsy Dance from Bizet's Carmen by Beverly Willis.

An oboe solo, played by Jeanine Brady was followed by Toccata (Khathaurian) by Jim Aiken, Laid (Franck) by Vance McGee, Appalachian Revere by Pam Garrison, Polchinello by Rebecca Hickman, I Must Go Down to the Seas by Art Reinauer.

Shyla Thomas played Little White Donkey, Ibert. Another vocal duet by sisters was the lullaby, Summertime, from Gershwin's Porgy and Bess, sung by Jane and Lilli Lyons. Randy Jorde sang a solo, The Bagabond, to complete the program.

Mrs. Alex Thompson and Mrs. W. T. Carmichael were hostesses, who served tea from a table decked with spring blossoms. Welcomed as new members of the club were Mrs. Ronnie Wright and Mrs. Lynton Allred, and as guests for the special program, Mmes. Elvina Jorde, Warren Jorde, Hugh Clearman, Members present included: Mmes. Buddy Peeler, Tom Burnett, Bill Penn, Bill Brady, Joe Hacker, Wayne Thomas, Jesse Stanford, D. W. Palmer, A. J. Schroeter, Wes Fisher, Allen Canisler.

Widely varied in theme, the program for Hereford Newcomers Club this week was in two parts, a talk on tornado safety and a fashion show. The club met at Community Center Monday, a change of date to avoid conflict with Easter weekend activities.

Facts to inform newcomers from areas where tornados seldom occur were given by Bill Thompson, Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce manager. He told of warning systems in which the Weather Bureau and area radio stations cooperate to report storms, and gave authoritative information on protection against the damaging winds.

Guests were Mrs. J. S. Stocks, Misses Linda Sorrells, Linda Ruth Weaver and Dinah Bean.

Tea is courtesy for Mrs. Dutton

A tea-shower Saturday afternoon complimented a mother-to-be, Mrs. Bill Dutton, as 29 friends called and others sent gifts to the home of Mrs. Billy Ott.

Other hostesses were Mmes. Ted Royal, C. P. Worthan, Clifton Robison, Davis Sawyer, Joe Hysinger, Henry Andrews, Bill Hutson and Bill Roberts. Guests were greeted by Mrs. Ott and the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Fred Boren, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Woodrow Dutton.

Miss Kathy Roberts and Cynthia Boren served pink punch and cakes decorated in pink and blue, at a table centered with daffodils.

GOOD RESULTS

LONDON - The breath test has slashed Britain's road deaths and serious injuries by almost one-fifth during the most dangerous time of day between 10 p. m. and 4 a. m., the government announced recently.
"The breath test is still saving lives," a spokesman said. However total road deaths between January and September 1970 rose 1 per cent to more than 5,300.

Husband, wife doctors share their problems

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The phone rings upstairs in the Wooster Mallison Medical Building.

"Dr. Bozeman, please," says the caller. The receptionist is confused. "Which one do you want?" she has to ask.

Husband and wife, Dr. Wilfred B. Bozeman Jr. and Dr. Eleanor Bozeman, share office space on the building's main floor. Although they maintain separate practices, separate offices and examining rooms, new patients are sometimes confused.

Both are graduates of Meharry Medical College in Nashville, Tenn. Dr. Eleanor specializes in internal medicine; her husband is a female specialist.

So even when the caller asks for "the female doctor," the receptionist is confused.

But the Bozemans feel their identification problem is a small price to pay for sharing names and professions. "I feel we can communicate better," said Dr. Eleanor. "Although we don't discuss specific patients with each other, we at least understand the language."

Because Dr. Wilfred's schedule is as erratic as that of the babies he delivers, he appreciates his wife's understanding of medicine's demands. "I learned early," she said, "that social things don't mean that much. We can never count on an engagement for sure."

Her husband had a stipulation on his wife's career.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy F. Wall honored on anniversary

Silver wedding reception held

A reception in their home honored Mr. and Mrs. Billy F. Wall Sunday afternoon on their 25th wedding anniversary. A party of 70 friends called during the afternoon and signed the registry where Miss Judy Yarbro presided.

Mrs. Billie Joe Wall and Mrs. Dickie Mason served refreshments from a table where the anniversary cake was a part of the decor.

Hosts for the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Billy Joe Wall of Hereford, Johnny Wall, a student in West Texas State University, Mr. and Mrs. David Sellers of Burleson.

Guests included two grandchildren, Janenne Wall and Trent Sellers, also mothers of the honored couple, Mrs. D. L. Grimes of Hereford and Mrs. L. A. Wall of Wellington.

It's PIONEER again this year.

Here's why:

ALLEN WEBB, Dimmitt, produced 178.8 bushels of corn this past year from 162 acres of Pioneer brand 3306. He also had a 25-acre field of 3306 that produced over 180 bushels per acre. Mr. Webb is an outstanding farmer who knows how to get the most from good management programs. That's why he's particular about the seed he plants. Naturally, we're proud that good farmers like Allen Webb plant Pioneer year after year.

Pioneer is a brand name; numbers identify varieties. *Reg. trademark of Pioneer Hi-Bred Corn Company, Des Moines, Iowa U.S.A.

"Obstetrics is one field I wouldn't want my wife to be in," he said. "It's hard work and the hours are bad for a wife and mother."

Having their only child, Karen, while they were finishing their medical training meant compromise in Dr. Eleanor's career.

"I had always wanted to be a doctor," she said, "and at first medicine was everything. But after I became a mother I had to limit my practice for a while — until Karen was in school. Later it worked out fine."

The Bozemans said they've followed certain guidelines as they pursued the same career: always keep office relationships on a professional basis and do not transmit messages to each other from patients.

After hours they do not generally talk medicine but enjoy a mutual hobby — bowling.

Dr. Wilfred also enjoys golf but admits he takes an awful chance when he sneaks in an afternoon on the links. There's usually a mutual friend on the scene to toss him a comment like, "I guess your wife's back at the office working hard so you can have a good time."

"BIT OF A CHUMP"

ILFORD, England — David Foy, 30, thought the sting a pet scorpion fish inflicted on his thumb was fatal, so he jumped into his car for a 10-mile dash to a hospital. He ran out of gas, luckily near a service station.

Then police stopped him for speeding. Finally hospital doctors told him the sting wasn't dangerous, merely painful. "I feel a bit of a chump," Foy said.

"DISTRESS CALL"

BRISTOL, England — The city's medical officer has become so worried over the increased incidence of venereal disease in Bristol he has launched a "phone for help" service.

People phoning the advertised number will hear a recorded message describing the symptoms of the disease and the addresses of local clinics which can help.

TRUE LOVE
DONISTHORPE, England — The romance crashed but Maggie Tomlin never took off her fiance's ring. And 55 years later, after she had been married four times, Maggie and her first love, Joe Cox, are going to the altar.

The couple, both in their late 70s, parted in the First World War but met again recently by chance in Staffordshire.

UNLOADING STEEL
BEARDSTOWN, Ill. — Steel from Mexico was unloaded from three river barges at this Illinois River port because locks on the Mississippi River at Winfield were being repaired. The 4,000 tons of steel required the employment of 21 trucks to haul this shipment from the Logsdon docks operated by a sand and gravel firm to steel plants in Beardstown and Quincy, Ill.

XL-45

Bonus Yields every year

More verified 200-bushel-plus yields have been made with XL-45 than any other number. That's why more farmers plant it. And it's a good reason for you to plant even more XL-45. Plant it thick in narrower rows and watch XL-45 pour out the yield.

Small talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

VISITING a little while with Dessie Mae McCracken when she brought the Music Club report the other day, I said something about wanting to write so people wouldn't mistake the Brand for a country weekly — meaning one of the old school — really country.

But she said she sort of liked a country weekly, and especially the "locals," those little bits of news about people, of no big consequence but interesting just because you know the people. Well, she isn't alone there and nobody likes the local items more than I do.

Trouble is, as a town gets bigger and a paper gets bigger there are too many things that seem more important and keep crowding in on a reporter's time.

"YE EDITOR" of that old-time country weekly strolled up and down Main Street several times a day, stopping to talk with nearly everybody he met and pulling out paper and pencil to jot down notes as he talked.

Who's got time for that now? And what would happen if he stopped traffic on Main Street? But as I always tell people who tell me they like to read little news about people, the only way we can get those is for YOU to let us know about them, so how about using your phone for that purpose. Other people want to read about your doings, too, you know.

THOSE BITS about people are what this column is for, and here are a few:

Mamie McGowen was looking forward to a visit from her cousins, Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd E. Harris of Norman, Okla., when she was in our office Tuesday. Dr. Harris recently retired as dean of the pharmaceutical department of the University of Oklahoma.

Since his retirement the couple has made several long and leisurely trips of the sort that aren't possible with a job waiting for you to get back to it. They have just been to San Francisco for a national pharmaceutical convention.

THE WILLIAM A. HARRIS of 207 Fir have been notified that their daughter Judith, a freshman at Texas Tech, is on the Dean's honor list for the past semester.

Judith was graduated with the 1970 class at Hereford High School, after attending school here as a senior a few months, but her diploma was actually from Academy High School in Colorado Springs, where the family formerly lived.

A MESSAGE to friends in Hereford was sent by Mrs. Leona Goetz from Wichita Falls, where her son, Francis E. Goetz, visited her last week. She is doing well and wanted to say "hello" to friends here.

Francis Goetz returned Saturday. He visited Donald J. Goetz at Wichita Falls as well as his mother.

THE HAROLD Beauchamps were to leave Tuesday for Temple, where he was to receive treatment at the noted clinic (Is it still the Scott-White Clinic? I'm not sure of the name now).

The Ray Johnsons returned to their home in Summerfield last week after a trip to that same clinic, just in time for Mrs. Johnson to leave for Pampa to attend the district Federated Club convention. She has been honored with life membership in the district, and makes an effort to get to all district meetings.

THERE'S a note here that says Dawn Music Club brought a blue ribbon back from the Texas Federation of Music Clubs convention in Austin, for first place on their achievement record book. The book was compiled by Mrs. Roy Manning.

Mrs. Alfred Smith, the club president this year, and all the members are due congratulations for that award, as well as Mrs. Manning for her work.

Mrs. Lawrence Puryear
nee Sharon Fangman

Sharon Fangman is married to Amarillo man

Married Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Puryear are at home in Amarillo after a short trip to New Mexico. The bride is the former Miss Sharon Fangman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Fangman, north of Hereford.

The bridegroom is the foster son of Mr. and Mrs. LaVern Schenk of Wildorado.

A nuptial mass was celebrated by Monsignor W. F. Bosen in Immaculate Conception Church at Vega. Bouquets of white gladioli and pompon mums decorated the church for the ceremony.

Miss Beverly Fangman was her sister's maid of honor and Bob Mouser of Amarillo acted as best man. Mrs. Jerry Floyd and the bride's brother, John Fangman, were the other attendants.

Alan and Gary Fangman, brothers of the bride, and Kevin and Roger Schenk assisted in the ceremony as servers. Jerry Floyd and Ronnie Fangman ushered guests to their seats.

The bride's gown of embroidered silk organdy had lace scallops around the oval neckline and on the wide cuffs to which the Juliet sleeves were gathered. Her illusion veil, bordered with a band of satin and lace, was held by a flat bow and floated over the full train.

Her bouquet, a white orchid surrounded with pompon mums, had pearl-trimmed satin streamers.

The bridal attendants were dressed in pink organza with bodices of orchid and pink lace. They carried nosegays in the same colors with orchid streamers.

At the reception in the church hall after the ceremony, Miss Margaret Paschal registered guests. Misses Cherry Fangman, Agnes Acker, Barbara Paschel and Patricia Schenk served cake and punch.

White lace over orchid covered the table, where the four-tiered white cake was set before an arrangement of orchid and pink flowers.

Wedding party members were entertained at the rehearsal dinner at Hill's Cafe the evening before the marriage.

Out of town guests for the wedding were the Dave Acker family of Nazareth, Henry Groguteg family of Grover; Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Fortin of Umbarger.

Also Pat Rhodes, Regina Tackett, Dwight Speegle, Mrs. Molly Lora and daughter, Anna, of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Paschel of Subiaco, Ark., Helen Fangman and Charles Fangman of Friona.

In 1681 William Penn decreed in his Pennsylvania colony that one acre of forest should be left standing for every five acres that were to be cleared.

Clubwoman has district honor

A life membership in the Top of Texas District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, was presented to Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill Sr. of Hereford at the annual district convention in Pampa last weekend, and the two federated clubs of this county won a number of awards.

Mrs. Lookingbill is a member of both clubs, Pioneer Study Club of Hereford and Summerfield Study Club; she is a former resident of Summerfield. She has served both clubs in many ways during her 36 years as a federated club member, and has been president of both.

District and state chairmanships have also been held during those years and she is at present a district board member. The district has only 14 life members at any one time; there was only one vacancy this year.

Pioneer Club was cited as the group with the longest record of activity in the district; it was organized in 1909 and federated the following year. It also has the only still-active charter member among the clubs classed as pioneer clubs of the district, Mrs. J. M. Gilliland.

Pioneer Study Club won first place for work in seven categories: Public parks and recreation, continuing education, technical - vocational training, family economics, international clubs, American heritage, urban and rural affairs.

Second place awards were headed by one for best complete report of club activities. Also, the club took second on beautification, public and visual arts, and safety. The yearbook placed third.

Summerfield Study Club won two first places for work on one of its major projects of this season - community improvement. The awards were for beautification and environmental development. Its yearbook placed third in its division, and the club received a certificate for 100 percent subscriptions to the Texas Clubwoman magazine.

Mrs. Ray Johnson, Summerfield Club president and Mrs. Lookingbill, both members of both local clubs, attended all con-

Rehearsals under way for spring production of Hereford Players

Comedy of the slapstick variety is mixed with mystery in the next production of Hereford Community Players, scheduled for staging April 30 and May 1 in the Little Bull Barn Theater.

Rehearsals have started for the all-female cast directed by Juanita Owen, on The Ghost of Rhodes Manor. Amy Gilliland is serving as producer, and any residents of the area who would like to assist with offstage production tasks are invited to notify her.

Setting of the three-act comedy is the living room of a big old home, no longer occupied and reputed to be haunted, to with a writer of mystery stories comes in search of atmosphere - and in hope she will see the reported ghost.

More than one "ghost" appears, along with a hypnotist, a woman of peculiar manner who says she is a reporter, a woman sheriff with an Irish accent and finally the caretaker and the owner of the house.

Sylvia Emerick is cast as the writer, Vi Moore as her secretary and Sylvia High her maid. Mary Hetzel appears as the stranger, Lana Weyerman the hypnotist, Elaine Clark the reporter, Donna Flesher the caretaker, Polly Bullard the sheriff, Martha Watson the ghost and Joyce Haug the manor owner.

RECORD BREAKER
KNOTTINGLEY, England - Arthur Armitage's name has been removed from the Guinness Book of Records, and he couldn't be happier.

He was Britain's heaviest man at 560 pounds. But the Yorkshire giant has shed 224 of them. Now he hopes to get back on the records as Britain's champion slimmer.

Pigweed (carelessweed)? Cocklebur? Sunflower? Morning glory?

BANVEL GETS TO THE ROOT OF YOUR WEED PROBLEM

BANVEL TRANSLOCATES/SPRAYED 7th OF MONTH

4 DAYS LATER

More and more grain sorghum producers find certain deep-rooted weed populations building up. Neither other weed killers nor cultivation give effective control of extra-tough and resistant pigweed (carelessweed), sunflower, cocklebur, morning glory, lambsquarter, purslane, other costly broadleaves.

Banvel, the post-emergent herbicide, does control them. For one simple reason. Banvel translocates. Absorbed by foliage and roots, Banvel moves with plant fluids from leaf tip to roots, and back again. Destroys as it goes.

Cost of Banvel? As little as $1.90 per acre broadcast. Spray 10 to 25 days after emergence of sorghum, when weeds are young, growing most actively. Sorghum, when used as directed, is completely tolerant to Banvel. Ask dealer or custom sprayer for full information on Banvel. Every container of Banvel carries the Velsicol guarantee of sorghum tolerance to Banvel.
