Whitefaces meet Monterey in crucial district game Saturday

BY MARSHALL DAY

With an out-right district championship at stake, the Hereford Whitefaces journey to Lubbock Saturday to meet the rebounding Monterey Plainsmen in a key district 4-AAAA battle. A win by the Whitefaces would

Assistant county agent begins job

Robert Devin, 24, began work Monday as the new assistant county agriculture agent, after having recently completed graduate work at West Texas State University.

Devin will work with county agent Justin McBride, but mainly will be involved with local 4-H clubs. He also will do some work with adults.

Devin, prior to moving to Hereford, lived in Amarillo while attending West Texas State University. He is a 1965 graduate of Dumas High School and received his BS in agricultural business in August from West Texas.

He will have an office on the third floor of the courthouse, adjoining that of McBride.

He and his wife, Pat, have a 3-year-old daughter and now live at 205 Beach.

give them the district championship in their second year among the elite AAAA teams. A loss, however, would mean the Herd would have to win the last game of the year against Lubbock High to get a shot at the title.

If Hereford were to lose this one then win the last, and Plainview and Monterey win their remaining games, the league would wind up in a three-way tie. In that case, a flip of the coin would determine the league representative to the bi-district play-offs.

"I think, probably that Monterey is the toughest team we have faced yet," Hereford head coach Larry Dippel said. "They were picked by all the coaches at the start of the season and they have good personnel."

"They have had a few injuries to key people, but some of them are coming back now."

One of those "key people" will be Jim Webb, a captain of the team who was injured in the first ball game of the year. He has not played a down since then, but Monterey coach James Odom said Tuesday that he definitely will play.

Another of the injured is Richard Copeland who was injured in the Lubbock High game two weeks ago.

The Plainsmen have a dismal 3-5 record, but are the top offensive and defensive units among the league's five schools. Each of the five games they have lost has been by an average of 4.5 points.

"To me," Dippel said, "we are in the driver's seat, but they are the leading defensive and offensive team in the district and this is the point that tells the whole story."

Leading the Monterey attack will be junior quarterback Glen Yarbrough who already has one year of varsity experience under his belt. He filled in last year when the No. 1 quarterback went out with injuries and has not given up the position since then. He is the league's leading ground gainer and has been instrumental in each of the three Monterey wins.

"I have a lot of respect for the Monterey football team, and their potential, but I feel like it is very possible for us to compete with them," Dippel said. "To me, Monterey is probably the toughest team we will meet. They won't be as physical as Coronado was, or Amarillo High, but they have more capabilities than either of these two teams."

The district situation, the head coach said, is such that this Saturday's game against the Monterey Plainsmen is an even bigger game than was last week's against the Plainview Bulldogs.

"They've got a little momentum and a little more incentive because this is their only chance to get into the playoffs."

The Monterey coach echoed the same feelings about Saturday's upcoming confrontation with the Whitefaces.

"Gosh, we expect it to be a real tough game," Odom said. "We haven't played any easy games yet and we know Hereford is a vastly improved football team over what they were at the start of the season."

"They can smell that district championship and are going to really be after it, but we still have a shot at it and we are going to be ready to play," he said.

The Plainsmen have defeated Lubbock High, Wichita Falls Rider and Ysleta Bel Air of El Paso for their only wins of the year. They have won their last two games and Dippel said this will be in their favor because of the momentum they are building.

Plainview defeated the Plainsmen on one play during the opening week of the district race. Plainview went 81 yards on an end around that gave them a 17-12 victory. Monterey was making a comeback when the clock ran out.

Since then, Monterey has edged the El Paso school and nipped Lubbock High to get back into the title chase.

Hereford will go on offense with Rudy Gonzales and Bruce Barrett at ends, Jay Henderson and Steve Clark at tackles, Alan Hare and Richard Sierra at See 'FACES' Page Four

"I would like to say that Water, Inc. is continuing to work for the importation of ground water for West Texas and to work closely with other water groups on the Texas Water Plan," Garrison said. "We feel this is the way for us to do it—to work together and get the job done."

"In order for us to have water for West Texas we will have to support the work of the Texas Water Plan, which we heartily endorse."

The campaign was launched with an organization-wide kickoff meeting in Lubbock in early October. The local unit held a kickoff breakfast Oct. 25 where cards were given to board members of the county water association.

Garrison said a meeting has not been held since that time, but said he feels they will have very little trouble in reaching the goal.

Water, Inc. was formed in 1967 and is a non-profit organization dedicated to the search for water for the future. It has more than 2,500 members in West Texas, Eastern New Mexico and the Oklahoma Panhandle.

TV representative has been planned, but no date has been set.

The possibility of a cable television hook-up for Hereford was brought up at the Oct. 18 meeting of the commission, but was tabled at that time until a meeting could be set up with someone knowledgeable in the field of cable TV.

The city, during the past several years, has received a number of requests from interested companies and parties to meet with the commissioners and discuss a hook-up here. Previous city commissions have always tabled the item, but now the present commission is seeking information about the matter to see if it is feasible for Hereford. City manager Dudley Bayne told the commissioners Monday that he received another letter just last week from National Trans-video, Inc., the country's third largest cable television company, which indicated its interest in Hereford.

"It is amazing to me that so many individuals are interested in cable television for Hereford," Bayne said. "Really, I can't see why because of the tremendous cost involved."

According to the commissioners, it would cost a company about $400,000 to install a cable television hook-up in Hereford. Because of this high cost, they said, they could not see where any company could come out ahead.

Under normal circumstances, a city will get between 3 and 5 per cent of the monthly gross of the company for allowing them to hook up in a city. In Hereford, if only 2,000 homes subscribed to the cable television, that would mean about $12,000 a month based on a $6 per month charge to the users of cable TV.

"It seems to me that all of the fun and games would go out of it pretty fast when you consider the money they have to invest in something like this," Mayor Jim Sears said.

"Where are the fringe benefits? What stations can be picked up? Will it have local advertising? — these are just some of the things I'd like to find out," commissioner Hap Cavness said.

Jay Spain named new fire marshal

Jay Spain, backshop foreman for the Hereford Brand, was hired by the city Monday to take over as fire marshal following the recent resignation of Paul Hagar.

Spain will take over the position in about two weeks, city manager Dudley Bayne said Tuesday.

The city commission went into a closed meeting Monday following its regularly scheduled meeting to discuss the hiring of a new fire marshal. The closed meeting lasted only about half an hour before the commission approved Spain for the job and at the same time raised the salary of the office by $50 a month. The fire marshal's salary, considered low for the time and work required, was raised from $475 to $525 per month. The city also furnishes a two-bedroom apartment plus utilities with the position.

"We just had to raise the salary," Bayne said. "There was no way around it. It was so low and we really couldn't expect anyone with any experience to take the job at what it was offering before."

Spain replaces Hagar who resigned last week to accept a position with Wilson Beef and Lamb. Hagar announced his resignation last Thursday and gave the city two weeks notice. He will remain with the city until Spain takes over around Nov. 15.

Hagar was fire marshal for just over a year, having come to Hereford from Chicago where he worked with Western Electric. He was a former resident of Hereford and returned when the fire marshal's job was offered to him.

Spain, 36, has lived in Hereford for five years and has been a member of the Hereford Volunteer Fire Department since then. He has 10 years experience in fire fighting work, having started when he lived in Muleshoe in 1961.

A graduate of Childress High School with the class of 1963, Spain has been in the newspaper business for 18 years.

He is a member of Masons and the Elks Lodge, is a past player agent for the Pony League Baseball organization, a past Jaycee and served as a Little League coach for 10 years.

His wife, Wanda, is secretary for County Judge H.C. Williams.

Man charged with assaulting an officer

A 25-year-old Hereford man remains in the county jail in lieu of $6,000 bond on two charges stemming from an incident Saturday when he pulled a gun on a police officer.

Juan Ybarra Enriques of the Labor Camp, was jailed on charges of driving while intoxicated, second offense, and aggravated assault on a police officer. Bond on each of the charges was set at $3,000.

According to city police officers who handled the case, Enriques was arrested about 8:30 p.m. Saturday after he was involved in a four-car collision at the intersection of U.S. 385 and U.S. 60. Officers said he slid into the back of one car at the stop light and that car in turn started off a chain reaction that involved the other two cars.

Enriques was arrested for driving while intoxicated and officers took him to the sheriff's office for booking. Officers said Enriques was taking off a large coat he was wearing when he threw the coat into city police officer Chad Clay's face and grabbed his gun. Clay shoved Enriques back and began wrestling to get the gun away from him when a second officer, Floyd Burke, came out of one of the offices and helped subdue Enriques and take the gun away.

He was jailed and taken before County Judge H.C. Williams on Monday and bond was set.

Enriques, at the time of the incident, was out on bond on another driving while intoxicated charge.

Accidents only minor

Monday, truck drivers disagree

Monday just wasn't a very good day for Wilfred Frenzel or Noland Fish to be driving cattle trucks.

In separate accidents, both men over-turned their semi-trailer cattle trucks but escaped serious injury.

Frenzel, of Route 1, Roundtop, Tex., was involved in a one-vehicle accident about 7:30 a.m. Monday on a country dirt road 9.6 miles west on Harrison and 2.3 miles north.

An employe of Beacon Cattle Company of Weimar, Tex., Frenzel was enroute to unload some cattle for a local person. According to investigating highway patrolmen, he hit a slick spot on the road and began sliding sideways.

His 1971 International tractor-trailer then went off into a ditch and rolled over on its side before coming to a rest.

Frenzel was not injured in the accident although about 15 cattle were killed and several others looked as though they would have to be destroyed. Damage to the vehicle was only minor, according to the investigating officers.

A second accident Monday, about 5 p.m., resulted in minor injuries to a Clovis, N.M. man.

Fish, 24, of 913 Mitchell in Clovis, was pinned in his over-turned truck for about 40 minutes before members of the Hereford Volunteer Fire Department were able to free him.

Fish was traveling west on U.S. 60 about eight miles east of Hereford when he apparently went to sleep at the wheel, hit a culvert, knocked the front wheel out of line and turned the truck over on its side.

After he was freed from the wreckage he was taken to Deaf Smith General Hospital where he was treated for a severe laceration to the head and a few minor bruises.

The 1969 model semi-truck he was driving did not have a load of cattle in it. It belonged to Dennis Snipes of Clovis, an area cattle hauler. Fish had just delivered a load of cattle at Shamrock and was on his way home when the accident occurred.

Both Fish and Frenzel were alone when the accidents occurred.

Management is meeting topic

A tax management meeting for producers in the southwestern Panhandle sub-area has been scheduled at 7:30 p.m. today at the Community Center at Hub.

The program is being presented for farmers and ranchers in Parmer, Deaf Smith, and Castro counties. It is another of the sub-area programs being sponsored by Panhandle Economic Program for counties that have common interest and problems. The meeting will begin with a discussion of basis and tax management tips by Ed Garnett, followed by J. Michael Spott's discussion of changes in tax law that affect farmers.

A break will be taken at 8:30, followed by the discussion of "Records and Reporting" by Garnett. This will be for record keeping and proper reporting.

The final discussion will be by Spott on capital gains and losses, casualty and drought losses and voluntary conversions.

A question and answer period will follow and the meeting will adjourn at 10 p.m.

HOSPITAL AID PROJECT — Boxes of fabric scraps collected by Westway Home Demonstration Club were unpacked at the County Bull Barn on a recent workday, and transferred to burlap sacks for shipment to Wichita Falls State Hospital, where patients use them in crafts classes. Appreciation expressed in past years for this material has spurred Westway club members in making the collection. Dawn H. D. Club members also packed gift items for the patients at Christmas, filling two more sacks. An assortment of fabric is pulled from a box, top photo, by Mrs. Pat Smith of Dawn, Mrs. Albert Lamb and Mrs. T. B. Thomas of Westway. Other members, lower photo, sew up a sack. Merchants Freight Lines carried the shipment free, and George Warner Co. donated the sacks.

BY MELVIN YOUNG
Although Congress has officially changed Veterans' Day from November 11 to October 25, and in future years November 11 will not be designated on the calendar as a holiday, the date this year has been left to the discretion of the individual veteran's organizations.

As in the past, the local American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars will observe November 11 and will host the annual breakfast at the Legion post home. All veterans and their families are invited, and urged, to attend.

According to American Legion Commander Lawrence Carlson, the festivities will start at 6 a.m. and will continue through 8 a.m. Both organizations will have tables set up for the purpose of taking due payments for those who have not been contacted to date.

The local groups would like to emphasize that "all veterans"—whether currently a member of either group, are invited to attend. You'll enjoy it, so make your plans now to come out with your family. The breakfast won't cost you a penny.

Also scheduled by the American Legion, is a Thanksgiving dinner, slated for 7:30 p.m. November 18th at the Legion post. The goodies will be prepared by the American Legion Auxiliary and all Legion members and their families are urged to attend. And we can tell you from experience—the food is excellent.

But put those dates on your calendar. You'll enjoy both the food and the fellowship.

Perhaps it has become unpopular to be patriotic, but veterans organizations throughout the nation are having problems holding their membership and attendance up to par. It is true locally as well.

However, veterans of all wars should look into the benefits of maintaining an active role in the veterans organization before turning their back on the groups. They have done a tremendous amount of good for returning veterans over the years and their interest in their returning comrades has perhaps kept the benefits coming to those who are in need.

Veterans as a whole, are not looking for a handout. That's the least of their worries. They are just another segment of the communities' population, holding down jobs and certainly carrying their share of the load. And through their respective organizations, they generally contribute a great deal more than their share. However, it takes a good strong veterans organization to insure that those who have returned disabled will not be forgotten and that those who have given up the prime years of their lives to the defense of their country will be helped, if need be, to return to a normal role in society. It's tough to spend two or three years in the service while friends are at home establishing themselves in business or professions and then face the task of trying to "catch up." But the point we're making is that there are many benefits in belonging to a veterans organization and if you're eligible, why not check into it.

LA PLATA VISITORS — "Guest cheerleaders" at La Plata's pep rally Tuesday were dressed in Stanton's blue and white colors. But the "shapely" young lasses were actually some of La Plata's own ninth grade football players. The student body gave a roaring sendoff to the seventh and eighth grade teams before going into battle with their inter-city rivals from Stanton.

Cookbook sale set for club

Sale of cookbooks which Jaycee-Ettes have compiled from favorite recipes of their friends is a current project of the Hereford group, and members received copies of the book at a meeting Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Bill McKinney. Assistance to the Jaycees, by supplying refreshments for an area work forum this evening, was planned during the business period. An invitation from Jaycee-Ettes at Happy to a tasting tea in that city Nov. 12 was read.

The program was given by Bonnie Brandt of Friona, on Decorative Arts. She showed numerous articles of home decoration which she has made, and explained methods of painting on wood, tin and other substances to produce attractive pieces from ordinary materials. Mrs. Harvey Milton was hostess with Mrs. McKinney. They served refreshments to four members of the Muleshoe Jaycee-Ettes who were guests, and local members, Mmes. Larry Knowles, Dan Warrick, Bill Johnson, Larry Jackson, Jerry Tisdale and Dwight McGee.

At the same time, Martin said, the Galveston-based foundation should enlarge its board of trustees from seven to nine members. Unless the action he urged is taken voluntarily, the Attorney General stated, he will ask a court order to force the changes.

The report commended six other Foundation trustees who last January asked for an investigation after they were harshly criticized by the chairman of a House of Representatives study group, Louis Dugas Jr. of Orange.

New York attorney Roy Cohn called the report a "one-sided hatchet job", and said Martin should be removed from office.

Highlights and sidelights from your state capital

BY BILL BOYKIN

AUSTIN, Tex.—The Texas Highway Commission remains convinced its new $30 million state headquarters building should be located near the capitol and the governor's mansion.

A re-evaluation study of the controversial site, ordered by the Legislature, was delivered last week to Gov. Preston Smith.

Legislators suggested the site southwest of the capitol and across the street from the governor's mansion should be developed as a park, parking lot and tourist information center. They recommended moving the new highway building far from the downtown Austin area.

The Commission, on review of its plans, concluded the massive building, rising to 10 stories at its tallest point, would "enhance the beauty and interest of the capitol complex."

At least, observed the new report, the structure will be the most-attractive thing ever located on the barren block, now given over largely to a parking lot and the remains of old buildings.

The historic Lundberg Bakery still on the site will be preserved, incorporated into the new building and used as a tourist center and Texana museum for artifacts uncovered in excavation. The temporary state capitol once stood on the block.

North and east portions of the highway building are planned at two-story level to maintain scale with the governor's mansion and preserve the view of the capitol from there. Maximum height of 10 stories will be reached at the south edge of the block.

Architects plan a public plaza with pools, greenery and shaded walkways along 11th St. nearest the capitol. Landscaping will comprise about 50 per cent of the block if plans are finally approved. The building will be by far the largest of many new structures in the capitol area.

BUSINESS GEARS FOR POLITICAL YEAR—Organized labor announced its political priorities three weeks ago, and last week in Houston business leaders in Texas looked at their "public affairs" programs for 1972.

At the 49th annual Conference of Texas Industry by the Texas Manufacturers Association, representatives of the business community heard:

Richard Armstrong, Washington, D.C., challenge businesses to develop public affairs departments.

Irving Shapiro, vice president, E. I. duPont de Nemours & Co.,

ask business to work with labor to develop new national objectives—with everybody sharing the gains.

TMA also passed resolutions asking state legislators to require 10-year budget projections for all "new" state programs approved by the next legislature.

Senator Tower laid the blame on the nation's existing economic ills on "existing labor laws that are in dire need to reform."

Both Tower and TMA leaders spoke out in opposition of laws which permit strikers to receive food stamps and other state and federal aid programs while on strike.

"Labor unions should be placed under existing anti-trust laws," Tower added, and pointed out that he had sponsored legislation to establish a Commission on Labor Law Reform.

NEW SPEAKER CANDIDATE URGED—More than 30 legislators last week picked Rep. Jim Nugent of Kerrville as their choice for House speaker.

Most of the group were previously aligned closely with Speaker Gus Mutscher who now says he may not even be a candidate for re-election to the House. (Mutscher, under bribery indictment, says he has three options: running for re-election and a third term as speaker, seeking another term in the House but not the speakership and retiring.)

Rep. Rayford Price of Palestine says the lawmakers, meeting in San Antonio, were mainly trying to stop his own drive for speaker. Price claims 70 pledges of support in the 150-member House and adds the Nugent endorsement means nothing to his candidacy. Opponents maintain Price has no more than 42 firm supporters.

Nugent finished first in the straw voting at San Antonio over (in order) Reps. Dean Cobb of Dumas, John Traeger of Seguin, James Slider of Naples, David Finney of Fort Worth and Joe Salem of Corpus Christi. Traeger, Slider and Salem indicated they will go along with Nugent, 48, who will reveal soon whether he will actually make a race.

REDISTRICTING CHALLENGED—An unexpected lawsuit filed in Dallas federal district court challenged constitutionality of the congressional reapportionment by the Legislature this year.

Another suit has been promised attacking state House of Representative redistricting.

The Dallas class action lawsuit maintains the new congressional district lineup does not meet federal requirements that 24 congressional districts be "compact, contiguous and as nearly equal in population as is practicable."

Plaintiffs offered the court a plan of their own, which they said would create districts which vary only .1 per cent in population.

AG OPINIONS—Several reserve accounts with a Veterans Land Fund division can be consolidated in a single depository account if adequate reserves are maintained and identifiable for each bond issue, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin said.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded:

*Retired state employees can get increases in annuities and have their insurance premiums paid by the state, in spite of the wage-price freeze.

*Proprietary schools must refund unused tuition, fees and charges when students fail to enter a course, withdraw or are discontinued, under prescribed conditions.

*A board of trustees of a fireman's relief and retirement fund may not pay for an actuarial study out of monies from the pension fund more often than once every three years.

*There is no provision for traveling state employees to get a flat rate transportation allowance in lieu of the standard .10 cents a mile rate.

FUN IS FIRST IN FFF — Smiles on these faces indicate that Fun-Food-Fellowship Club is an apt name chosen for a group which meets each month in First United Methodist fellowship hall to hear a short program, have a potluck lunch and visit informally, as it did Wednesday. Mrs. J. D. Love, standing left, introduced Mrs. John Gilliland, center, president of Hereford Community Players who spoke on aims of that organization and invited members of the club to join it. Laura Gibson is at right. To avoid holiday conflicts, the next two meetings will be combined on Dec. 15. Members gather between 11 a.m. and 12 noon. Originally planned as a social outlet for older residents, FFF club has no age limits and includes men as well as women.

C of C Women vote civic aid

Contributions to several community funds, enrolment of new members in a month-long campaign and choice of a Woman of the Year for Hereford were important items at the directors luncheon of Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce Women's Division Tuesday.

Purchase of two food carts to meet a need of Hereford Day Care Center, a contribution to the United Fund and sponsorship of a Campfire Girl group were voted by the directors.

In addition to paying national fees for the Campfire group, personal help will be given; Mrs. Elmer Patterson and Mrs. Bobby Hardin were appointed as contacts with the girls and their leader.

In another community effort for a youth program, Mrs. Jack Wilcox was named to meet with representatives from the Chamber of Commerce recreation committee to discuss a proposed conference of various organizations interested in the project.

Mrs. Hardin, office secretary at the Chamber of Commerce, reported work done by the Women's Division in replacing outside flower boxes and some indoor decorations at the office. Other improvements were suggested to make the office more attractive to visitors from other cities.

Mrs. Maurice Tannahill urged that nominations for the Woman of the Year, who will receive an award at the annual chamber banquet in January, be sent to her committee soon. Members were reminded that the nominee need not be in the Women's Division but may be any woman resident; selection will be on the basis of communi-vision and will be invited to join. A new member this month is Betty Gilbert, Mrs. Blocker added.

Progress of plans for decoration of the County Bull Barn for the January chamber banquet was reported by Mrs. Deward Roberson, chairman of that committee. The Women's Division arranges decorations each year.

Mrs. S.G. Townsend presided at the lunch and appointed a nominating committee comprising Mmes. Stan Knox, Harvey Hammett, Rex Lee, Tannahill and Roberson, to name candididates for first and second vice president and secretary to serve in 1972. The Women's Division president in chosen by chamber directors.

Fun in hobbies urged as aim

Enjoyment of a creative hobby was stressed as its chief benefit, as Dr. John English spoke to La Plata Study Club Tuesday evening. He talked mainly of his own hobby, painting, and illustrated by producing a landscape in watercolors as he spoke.

Mrs. W. D. Askew was leader of the program on Art. She introduced Dr. English, by vocation executive director of Kings Manor retirement home and a United Methodist minister, and by avocation a painter and president of Hereford Art Guild.

He suggested in the course of his informal talk that club members get their husbands interested in painting as a hobby, for relaxation and avoidance of heart attacks.

Mrs. Jack Brown was club hostess at her home. Plans were completed for the dinner to be served Nov. 16 in First National Community Room, the annual Thanksgiving party at which members will have their husbands as guests. Mrs. Emil Dettman presided for business. Mmes. Elmer Patterson, J.D. Neill, Jay Boston, Louis Woodford, Frank Prowell, J.C. Brown, Pat Hughes, John Thames, Urllin Streu, Raymond White, Philip Shook, Pete Cash, Harlan Vander Zee, M. H. Richie, A.J. Schroeter and Ray Seale were others present.

Since late 1969, the U. S. Justice Department has arrested 141 persons who tried to board aircraft while carrying concealed deadly weapons, the Air Transport Association of America reports.

Bakers return from long trip

Mr. and Mrs. J.K. Baker, 116 N. Texas, recently returned from Pittsburgh, Kan. where they attended the Homecoming of their former school, Kansas State.

The couple attended the homecoming for the alumni and party of Sigma Tau Gamma on Oct. 22-23. They also visited relatives in Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri before returning to Hereford.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Ultimatum for Drinking Drivers

Alcohol-related car accidents are killing more than 25,000 Americans per year. To help catch the drunk driver, science has come up with new and improved chemical tests for sobriety. These tests, which check blood, breath, urine, or saliva, are far more accurate than such old standbys as walking a straight line or pronouncing "Methodist Episcopal."

But there has always been one big problem: what to do about the motorist who, after being stopped by a policeman, refuses to take the test. To force him to submit is to raise touchy questions of constitutional rights.

Now, however, a growing number of states are finding the answer by passing an "implied consent" law. This law says that a motorist, just by using the public streets, gives his implied consent—in advance—to a sobriety test. Then, when he is halted, he faces a kind of ultimatum: either take the test or lose your driver's license.

True, he cannot be put to this choice without reasonable grounds. An arresting officer may not insist on a test unless there are visible signs that the driver really is intoxicated.

Furthermore, it does not count as a refusal to take the test if the motorist is simply unable to carry out the officer's instructions.

In one unusual case, a motorist was unable to blow into a testing balloon because of difficulty with his dentures. A court ruled afterward that, under these circumstances, the state had no right to revoke the man's license.

On the other hand, a refusal to take the test is not excused by the fact that the motorist is later acquitted of having been intoxicated. His license can be revoked anyway, not as a penalty for drunk driving but as a penalty for his refusal to obey the officer's lawful request.

"It must be remembered," said one court, "that it is a privilege to operate a motor vehicle on our highways and not a right. The state may prescribe conditions on which that privilege is exercised."

If you buy a Polaroid Focused Flash 400 Land camera before Thanksgiving Polaroid will guarantee every picture you take until April 30, 1972—or they'll replace the film free.

Chances are every picture you take with one of the 400s will be great. They're the finest cameras Polaroid offers and they're extremely easy to use.

They all use Focused Flash. It's automatic as you focus the camera. That's one of the reasons Polaroid is able to guarantee your satisfaction.

All four models feature an electric eye and electronic shutter for automatic exposure control for all other pictures, too.

And of course, they all give you color pictures in a minute, black and white in seconds.

Here's how the guarantee works. Purchasers of 400 Series cameras between November 1 and November 24, 1971 are given booklets of 4 coupons at the time of sale. It is unlikely that they will take unsatisfactory pictures, but if they should, those pictures may be sent, in groups of 8, along with one coupon to Polaroid Corporation, Cambridge, Massachusetts 02139. Polaroid will then send one free pack of T108 Colorpack Land film plus picture-taking advice. Additional coupon booklets, if required, can be obtained from Polaroid Corporation at the address above. Pictures must be redeemed by April 30, 1972 and cannot be returned. Offer void where prohibited, regulated or taxed.

CONSUMER TALK about
ELECTRIC BLANKETS
by J. C. Penney's Home Economists

Control of environment for man's comfort is a goal of today's scientists, and highly sophisticated solutions are being planned. Excitement over such developments can overshadow the environmental controls already available - such as the electric blanket.

The electric blanket is engineered to maintain a constant temperature throughout the night. Single or dual controls at the head of the bed set the desired temperature and regulate the flow of electric current through strong waterproof plastic insulated wires threaded through channels in the blanket. Thermostats placed at intervals along the wiring automatically cut off the current if the blanket becomes too warm.

Most of today's electric blankets are soft, light acrylic. They machine wash well and should not be dry cleaned; improper dry cleaning fluids may corrode the insulation. Fitted electric blankets are also becoming increasingly popular. They add a tailored finish to a bed and eliminate bulky folds at the bottom which are the usual cause of unwanted heat.

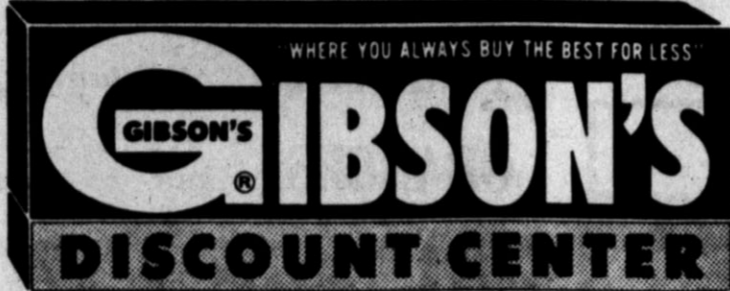

As with all electric equipment, look for the Underwriters Laboratories (UL) seal when selecting an electric blanket. The seal indicates that it has been checked and certified for safety. Also, be certain that the blanket is guaranteed for a reasonable length of time.

FHA STYLE PARADE — Fashion Hits was the theme of a presentation by FHA members of Homemaking I at La Plata Junior High Monday; costumes they made in class were modeled on a stage they decorated with giant records and colorful albums. Eighth grade girls were invited to see the style show. The trio at left displays ver-

Theme of the show was Fashion Hits, underlined by stage decorations of record albums, single records and oversize replicas which the girls made.

Shyla Thomas was pianist and the narrators were Janette Schlabs, Twanaha Kendrick, Brenda McDonald and Cathy Carrothers. Models included Debbie Dyer, Regina Fetsch, Eleanor Gamez, Joyce Jesko, Sammee Mazurek, Kathy McCarty, Brenda Owen, Vicki Payne, Cindy Sandlin, Sandra Stallings and Deborah Walterscheid.

Also, from another class, Yolanda Baldras, Olivia Cardenas, Patty Emerson, Debbie Hoover, Joni Koozer, Anna Lemus, Leesa Rose, Jayne Martin, Becky Oglesby, Loretta Paetzold, Barbara Richardson, Kim Simpson and Evelyn Urbanczyk.

Jr. high games played Tuesday

La Plata took a slight edge in the city battle for junior high school football supremacy Tuesday when the seventh grade defeated Stanton, 12-4 and the two eighth grades tied, 6-6.

Stanton, though, will have its chance to win come Thursday, Nov. 11 when the two ninth grades meet in a 7 p.m. game. Roy Martinez scored on a one-yard plunge in the first period of Tuesday's seventh grade game to put La Plata on the board first then Terry Brady intercepted a fumble in mid air and ran it back 40 yards for a touchdown for La Plata's second score.

Stanton got on the board in third period when Ricky Taylor scampered 50 yards for a touchdown.

For the two eighth grades it was an even matched game all the way.

La Plata struck first on the initial play of the game when Dave Charest hit Steve Jones with a 40-yard scoring pass.

Stanton tied the game up in third period on a 20-yard pass from Albert Gonzales to Harvey Torres.

Awards banquet plains underway

Final plans for the Annual Young Homemakers-Young Farmers Awards Banquet Nov. 13 were laid out by YHT members Tuesday evening when they voted on recipients of this year's outstanding young homemaker and distinguished service awards.

Award winners will be announced as the highlight of the banquet. Mrs. Jim Culpepper, chairman, reported the event will be held at K-Bobs Steak House.

Joyce Shipp, assistant county home demonstration agent, gave a demonstration on the use of blenders and distributed leaflets containing recipes for the blender.

Through her demonstration Mrs. Shipp provided refreshments of dip, sandwich spread and a beverage.

Mrs. David Hill was welcomed as new member and Miss Lynetta Mercer as guest. Mrs. M. T. Burelsmith, advisor, was also present.

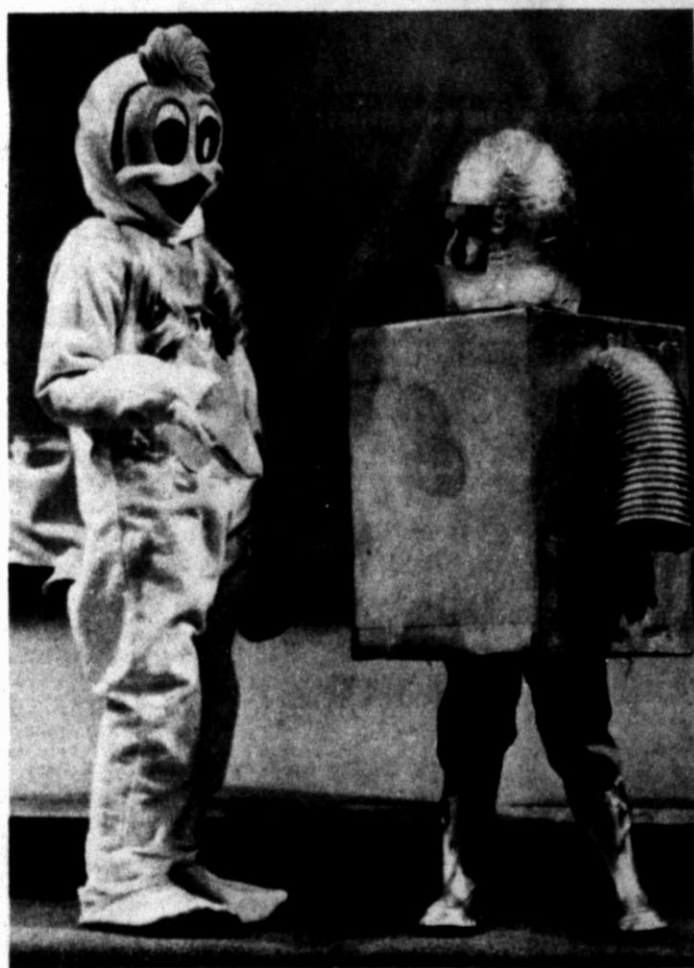

Others in attendance were Mmes. Larry Alley, Ray Berend, Frank Daniel, Dorman Duggan, Troy Foster, Bud Kelley, Hugh Latham, Floyd Neill, Roger Suttle, Bud Thomas and Charles Weatherford.

Whitefaces possess No. 1 passer, No. 2 scorer

BY MARSHALL DAY
News Editor

The Hereford Whitefaces, despite their league-leading record of 2-0, are not among the district's top offensive and defensive units, although they do boast the No. 1 and the No. 2 scorer.

Keith Kitchens, the Whitefaces' junior quarterback climbed into the lead with his performance last week against Plainview. He has thrown more passes (134), completed more (82) and has the best percentage (.388) of the district's quarterbacks.

Kitchens also is the league's second best total offensive player, averaging 92.7 yards per game. He has picked up 102 yards rushing and 640 passing in the eight games for a 742 total.

He is second to Glen Yarborough of Monterey who has picked up 275 yards rushing and 645 passing for a 920 total in seven games. Yarborough is averaging 131.3 yards per contest.

Hereford's Danny Harris, although he did not score in last week's contest, remained in the No. 2 spot in scoring with 38 points. The player just ahead of him, Scott Hallman of Plainview, with 42 points, also did not score last week.

Harris, although he has carried the ball less than half the number of times as the league's leading rusher Rip Amason of Coronado, has the best per-carrier average of 5.6. He has touched the ball 88 times for 385 yards and six touchdowns. All the other ball carriers in the league have carried over 100 times.

The Whiteface offense remained the No. 3 team in the league, getting 1148 yards in rushing and 640 in passing for a per-game average of 233.5. Monterey is leading the league with a 252.5 per-game average with 1284 in rushing and 736 passing.

The Hereford defense failed to move up the ladder any after last week's game. It still is in fourth place, having given up 143 yards rushing and 327 passing for an average of 219.9 yards per game.

The Plainmen of Monterey, who the Whitefaces meet this Saturday in what could very possibly decide the district championship, are the No. 1 defensive team, allowing only 151.1 yards per contest.

They are the top defensive unit against the pass, having allowed only 303 yards all season. They also have allowed the lowest number of yards on the ground with 606.

The Whitefaces have lost 13 fumbles, recovered 18, have been penalized 43 times for 319 yards, have intercepted nine passes and gotten 98 first downs.

Rosie Gonzales of Hereford is tied with two other players, Zane Cox of Monterey and John Madrid of Lubbock High, with three fumbles on the season.

Kitchens, who also provided the biggest punch last week with his kicking, moved into the No. 1 position in the league with a 36.649 average. He is just ahead of Mark Foote of Plainview who has an average of 36.645.

Alan Cornelius of Hereford is tied with Keary Bailey of Coronado for third place in pass receiving with 14 catches. Cornelius has picked up 137 yards and has scored two touchdowns, including the one that won the game for the Whitefaces last week against the Plainview Bulldogs.

Bruce Barrett of Hereford is tied with Tom Ellis of Monterey for fifth in receiving with 13 catches. He has picked up 188 yards on those 13 pass receptions.

Winston Short, the junior linebacker for the Whitefaces, continues to lead the district defenders in the tackles category with 117. He holds a comfortable lead over second placer Mike Hardy of Monterey who has 101 tackles.

Also in the top 10 in tackles is Rosie Gonzales who is fourth in the league with 96, and Steve Clark who is eighth with 83.

College football enters final stage

A team's rating is based on its power quotient, not on games won and lost. This is nothing more than the average of its past performance against all opposition. Each of the 640 football teams that we follow receives an adjusted rating each week. This explains why Michigan, for example, can be No. one week, No. 3 another week, etc. Although they remain undefeated, their power quotient fluctuates from week to week.

But - the teams in our Top 20 are not all of the major undefeated teams. Calibre of competition prevents some, such as Dartmouth and Toledo, for example, from regularly establishing a strong enough power rating. However, 31-game winner Toledo is very close.

And, as in the case of Southern California, rated 14th, a team can be a three or four-time loser and still be ranked in our top group. The Trojans have lost four games, three of them in our Top 20.

Alabama, Oklahoma, and Stanford. Based on their power quotient, they would have to rate as a favorite against 80 percent of the major teams in the country.

So... it's just our way of mathematically speculating on the relative power of college football teams. We can be as wrong as anyone (and we are - 25 per cent of the time!), but we feel it's as reliable a system as any in determining winners and losers.

And it's time to look at winners and losers for this Saturday. The football spotlight focuses on one game in particular - Alabama, ranked No. 3, meets L.S.U., rated 15th. The Crimson Tide is 8 and 0, while L.S.U. is 6 and 2. Another loss for the Tigers who were caught napping last week against Mississippi will eliminate them from the Southeast Conference title race. This seems to be an Alabama year, so we're picking the Tide to beat L.S.U. The spread should be 10 points.

System picks Monterey by 5 points

The Hereford Whitefaces, winners last week over the Plainview Bulldogs are rated a five point underdog to the Lubbock Monterey Plainmen according to the Harris Rating System. Despite the win over Plainview, the Whitefaces still are rated five points under the Bulldogs, too.

Hereford moved up the ladder from No. 131 to No. 113 this week, but Plainview still is rated at No. 3 and Monterey at No. 7. Monterey has a power rating of 130.3 while Hereford stands at 125.2.

If the Whitefaces defeat the Monterey Plainmen in their game Saturday night, the Whitefaces will have the right to represent the district in bi-district play. If the Whitefaces lose, however, they must win the following week against Lubbock High in order to move into a tie for the district lead.

In the event of a tie, a coin will be tossed to determine who will represent the district against the winner of the district 3-AAAA race.

Mrs. B. F. Cain tied with seven other persons in missing only four games in last week's Hereford Brand Football Contest, but her tie-breaker proved to be the deciding difference when she predicted a 20 point score total for the Hereford-Plainview game.

The 13-7 win by Hereford proved Mrs. Cain right as she edged out the other entrants for the $20 first place. Second place went to Duane Albracht who predicted a 24 point total, and third went to an Amarillo woman, Nita Johnson, who said 25 would be the total points scored in the Hereford-Plainview game.

Others who missed only four games were Kim Flack, David Manchee, David Collins, Steve Loerwald, and Leroy Taylor.

Mrs. Cain missed the A&M-Arkansas game, the Rice-Texas Tech game, the Tascosa-Caprock game and the Levelland-Perryton game. Albracht also missed the same games.

Mrs. Johnson missed the A&M-Arkansas game, the Tascosa-Caprock game, the Dumas-Canyon game and the Levelland-Perryton game.

Everyone entered in the contest missed the Tascosa-Caprock game, which ended in a 0-0 tie.

The Hereford Whitefaces, in their second year among AAAA schools, go after their first district championship Saturday when they go against the pre-season favorites from Lubbock Monterey.

Monterey, which lost to Plainview in the opening district game, 17-12, has roared back with one conference win and a non-conference win in the last two weeks, and present a formidable threat to the Whitefaces.

The Plainsmen of Monterey have a 3-5 record, but the five games they have lost have been only by a point margin average of 4.5. They lead the district in offense and defense and have the leading ground-gainer in quarterback Glenn Yarbrough.

Story portrays king as father

Edward I of England was a very loving father as well as a great king. In her novel, The King's Daughters, Molly Costain Haycraft shows how he was a good king and still had time for his dissimilar daughters.

This novel is found at the Deaf

Smith County Library on the first floor of Deaf Smith County Courthouse.

THE KING'S DAUGHTERS
By Molly Costain Haycraft
All the intrigue, adventure and romance that created the aura of the Plantagenets is captured in this historical novel about the daughters of Edward I—especially his youngest daughter, Elizabeth.

Historians have proclaimed Edward one of England's greatest kings, but it is less well-known that he was a kind and loving father who doted on his children.

Nevertheless, his daughters became pawns on the European chessboard, and Edward made each of his moves with careful deliberation.

Elizabeth, fondly known as Bette, was married to Jan of Holland when she was fourteen. It was the end of a happy, care-free life. Jan was a sullen, backward boy.

When he became Count of Holland, Bette, with heavy heart, accompanied him to the Low Countries, leaving behind her home, her adored father, and the man she loved, Humphrey de Bohun.

She soon found herself caught up in a perilous drama—at the mercy of the powerful, ambitious man who controlled her young husband.

Woven into Bette's story are the lives, loves, and tragedies of her sisters: the strong-willed Joanna, who takes a commoner as a lover; gentle Eleanor, whose happy marriage is cut short by death; Meg, married to a man known for his cruelty and lechery, and Mary, dedicated to the church at the age of seven. Molly Costain Haycraft evokes all the color, pomp, and circumstance which surrounded a king and his court as she portrays men and women who lived seven centuries ago—men and women whose passions and desires spring to life on the pages of this exciting novel, catching the reader up in a tale that is as intriguing as it is timeless.

OMINOUS STAR

By Rae Foley

Charles Sheridan, a rich, scholarly antique dealer, had given Mary Turner a magnificent gift—the deed to his cottage in Connecticut.

Just one string was attached to his present. He had hidden a small metal box in the cottage attic, and he asked her to promise to destroy the contents unread if he should die.

It would serve no useful purpose, he had said, and it might prove to be a Pandora's box. Only a few weeks later, Charles was killed.

Miller, his servant, had entered the apartment in time to hear his employer's dying words: "Damned fool wouldn't wait for the money." A brown suit button was clutched in his hand.

Mary, a newcomer to New York, had met Charles when he had come to the bookshop where she worked.

The lonely girl and the urbane, middle-aged man had become close friends despite the great difference in their ages. Now Mary suddenly discovered that her own safety was threatened.

Here is an absorbing novel of romance and suspense, of a girl whose attempt to guard a dead man's secret put her own life in jeopardy.

Letter to the editor

Editor:

My family and I attended the Homecoming football game last night. As you remember it was cold and foggy but that didn't seem to bother the hundreds of football fans. It was a great game and I really don't understand football but enjoy going and getting caught up in the spirit of it. One couldn't help but be with it especially the last 30 seconds! Wow! The Hereford students should be proud of their town for the support they have at these games.

As I was watching this game and the one against Dumas I noticed two things which has been bothering me enough to say something about it. First let me say that I sit in section C with most of the adults which represent families, relations and friends of the student body. Second, that I believe in having pride and loyalty for ones school as much as anyone—but there is something that I felt was missing at these games and that was respect and common courtesy for the visiting schools.

Sure we all stood up for their school song as well as our own but I didn't notice very many adults applaud the visiting band and twirlers during half time. Those kids practice just like ours, they were cold, have pride in their school, and they have feelings just like our kids. Our kids deserve our applaud, doesn't some one else's child deserve the same. You may say they treat our kids the same at out of town games and you may well be right. I've tried to teach my children "Don't do what everyone else does, do what is right."

When I was in school in New Mexico this courtesy was taught and stressed and I guess it stuck because it sure bothers me to see it not practiced here. Our cheer leaders would go to the visiting schools side and get acquainted and give a cheer then bring the visiting cheer leaders back to our side and introduce them to us. This seemed to give us a warm feeling toward the other school. Of course we still cheered hard for our own team and wanted to win just as much but we applauded the half time activities for both sides and I might add so did our adult fans!

The other thing was the booing I heard all around me. Now really, was that necessary? This was the other thing our teachers stressed not to do. Parents if you expect your children to respect you then you had better start showing them what respect is all about!

Thank you,
Glenice Crawford

Washington report—from Cong. Bob Price

U.S. Out of the U.N.
In view of the action of the United Nations in expelling Nationalist China and seating Red China last week, I am introducing a bill to terminate the United States membership in that organization.

Our Government, which pays more than one-third of the bills to keep the U.N. in business has been slapped in the face one too many times.

I will press for action on this bill, or at the very least, for consideration of my bill to reduce the U.S. monetary contribution to the U.N. In addition, we must reassess our foreign aid contribution to those countries who joined in the disgraceful action of expelling Nationalist China.

Over the years we have heard much talk by U.N. supporters about its contribution to world peace—but I ask where was the U.N. when the United States moved to stop Communist aggression in Vietnam? The fact is that the power of the United States and not the United Nations, has preserved global peace since the end of World War II.

Now that the U.N. has expelled the law-abiding government of the Republic of China and replaced it with the government of Communist China which is constantly promoting world revolution, the time has certainly come for the United States to set an independent course for the good of our own national security.

Welfare
Earlier this year the House narrowly passed a welfare reform bill which provides for a guaranteed annual income of $2,400 a year to welfare recipients. I voted against this bill and previous welfare bills. Since that time, I have been predicting that liberals in Congress will not be satisfied with that amount. Last week 18 Senators introduced an amendment which would set the guarantee at $3,000, and four others proposed legislation that would set a floor of $5,000.

Before the Congress acts on these outrageous proposals I hope reconsideration will be given to my bill. It would dismantle the giant Federal welfare bureaucracy and turn administration of welfare over to the states.

My bill also provides for incentives to individuals who work rather than merely providing a guaranteed annual income. I don't believe most people oppose assistance for the aged, the blind, and the disabled. They do oppose, as I do, handing out tax dollars to individuals who are able to work.

Economy Looking Up
Statistics now available for the first eight months of 1971 indicate positive trends in the area of economic growth, inflation, and unemployment.

*The gross national product (GNP), which is the total of all goods and services sold in the U.S., rose by $54.7 billion in the first half of 1971—the largest half year gain in history.

* Personal income increased by $47.1 billion.

* Automobile sales are up 25 percent over last year.

* Housing construction is up 48 percent over last year.

* Total employment rose to an all-time high in August.
* All these facts and figures demonstrate that the United States is on its way to the goal of prosperity, without inflation and without war.

This Fruit

... looks like an apple from a good tree. God used this parable to teach an authoritative lesson of truth to some who were calling, "Lord, Lord." He answered, saying, "Not everyone that calls me Lord, shall get to heaven." He spoke plainly and used small words, and said, "Only those who bear good fruit will make it." See this tree loaded with fine fruit! Few of us stop to ponder its history. But every orchard expert knows well every sound tree. The good fruit is detectable from way off. The lesson is clear. Goodness all the way to the core is the kind of fruit God wants. Soundness of heart, purity of mind and integrity of character are essential if one's fruit is to please God. No one gathers grapes from thorns, or figs from thistles. Read the Sermon on the Mount; Meditate on I Corinthians; Hear what He says in Romans 8 and 12. Here one will find soil where good trees may grow and from which good fruit may be gathered.

DDD available to Mexico City soon

Southwestern Bell customers in Texas will be able to dial calls direct to Mexico City starting November 7.

"The new service promises new speed and convenience for many customers," said H.D. Schodde, vice president of Southwestern Bell operations in the state. "Texans place an average of 9,000 calls to Mexico every business day."

Schodde said dialing direct to Mexico City would be similar to dialing station-to-station calls to points in the United States.

"Both seven and eight-digit telephone numbers in Mexico City may be called from any phone with 1 plus (Direct Distance Dialing) capabilities," Schodde explained.

"To reach a seven-digit number in Mexico City," just dial 1, plus 905, plus the seven-digit telephone number.

"To place calls to eight-digit numbers in Mexico City," Schodde continued, "all the customer has to do is dial 1, plus 90, plus the eight-digit number. That's all there is to it."

The new service will also be available to Southwestern Bell customers in Oklahoma, Arkansas, Kansas and Missouri, he continued.

Other Bell System companies that will inaugurate direct dialing to Mexico City on November 7 include Illinois Bell, Pacific Telephone, Northwestern Bell and Cincinnati Bell. The service will be extended by other companies on a gradual basis.

SENIORS' FLOAT — Displaying equipment from each of the major sports of America, the Seniors' float carried out one phase of the Homecoming Parade's theme, "America - Land of Many Faces." Many, many hours of work on the part of the students and teachers went into this and other attractive floats in the parade. The damp cold weather failed to ruin the appearance of the floats or the spirits of the students.

Small talk

BY SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

It's said that the holiday social season in Hereford begins with the party given for Country Club members each year by the directors; if that's true, it begins tomorrow evening.

Always a quite elegant party that calls for more dressing up than is often seen here, it comes early this fall so we can probably look for some of the elaborate parties before Thanksgiving.

Of course clubs schedule their gayest events of the year for holiday time and already have many on the calendar; on top of all that, there will be more weddings than usual for Hereford couples around Thanksgiving, Christmas, and on into the start of the new year.

Counting at least one shower for each bride, plus all the smaller parties and of course the wedding receptions — wonder if anybody in town is going to have time to do anything but go to parties the next month or two?

Which woman in Deaf Smith County do you feel has made the biggest contribution to the county, its institutions and its residents in 1971? You have the opportunity now to nominate your choice for the Woman of the Year award which will be made at the Chamber of Commerce banquet in January.

Sponsored by the Women's Division of the chamber, this award will be equivalent to the Citizen of the Year award which Hereford Lions Club presents each year to recognize community service.

SOME DILLIES

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ornithologists searching for precise nomenclature have devised many colorful bird names, the National Geographic Society says. Among them are the great racket-tailed drongo, yellow-billed waxbill, black-spotted bare-eye, red-whiskered bulbul, turquoise-browed motmot, rufous-browed pepper shrike and blue-faced booby.

Although women have received that award in the past — Corinne Neely was a recipient since I've lived here — Women's Division directors felt that some woman earns the right to recognition every year and decided on the separate award.

You may nominate any woman who lives here, sending a letter to the Chamber of Commerce office or to Mrs. Maurice Tannahill, chairman of the Women's Division committee. The letter must state why the woman is nominated, listing her contributions to the community.

The committee would like to have lots of nominations, and needs them right away.

A neighborly gesture that deserves a few words of thanks was made by Ruth Cross, president of Canyon Community Concert Association, when she sent an invitation last weekend for orchestra students in Hereford schools to be guests of the association for its concert at Canyon Sunday.

The artist was James O. Buswell, a young violinist who played a splendid program. In the audience were a number of Hereford CCA members and I hope as many or more Canyon members will come over Tuesday evening for our first concert of the season, by Joyce Jones, organist.

Among those I saw Sunday afternoon at Canyon High School were Dorothy Renfro, Bobbie Metcalf, Ozetta Wilhelm, Hilda Havens, Margaret Shown, Ursalee Jacobs, Helen Miller, Sue James, Kathlee Palmer, the Cecil Ladys, Eula Lee Cave and Audine Dettman.

Mothers tea and introduction of sponsor hosted by Bluebirds

A mother's tea was given Monday by Friendly Bluebird Group as an opportunity to introduce their sponsor, Mrs. Virginia Bentley, and as a chance to get acquainted.

Four skits were presented by the Bluebirds. The mothers were given name tags in the shapes of autumn leaves.

A fall theme was the setting for the table in the Campfire Lodge. A bouquet of gold, yellow and green flowers was placed on a white lace tablecloth. Mrs. Brice Glass donated cake squares with autumn flowers as decoration.

Mothers present were Mmes. Guy Ford Jr., B.G. Yarbrough, Julian Aguilar, Jerry King, Larry Paschel, Bill Penn, Mike Ga-mez, Joe Gonzales, Jau Don McCathern, Wendell Burdine, Tex Rhodes, Albert Ricketts, Israel Vera, Wayne Hodgson and Pat Parker.

Mmes. Floyd Eubanks and Tommy Crawford are leaders of the group. Twenty-one Bluebirds were present.

The raccoon gets its name from the fact that it washes its food before eating it. Raccoon is a derivation of the Indian name "arathcone," meaning "the washer."

Pioneer ranch girl became businesswoman

BY SUE COLEMAN
Womens Editor
A BUSINESSWOMAN in Hereford, who operated her own beauty shop for nearly 40 years, is the way Bess Jennings is known to most residents of the city. Only the oldtimers remember her as a girl in a pioneer family, growing up on ranches west of town. She doesn't look it now—a poised dowager, smartly dressed, with silver hair becomingly coiffed and skin that looks as though it had always been protected from West Texas weather, but she declares, "I've picked up cow-chips all over the pasture where Westway is now located!"

Mrs. Jennings was one of the Bob Denney family which came to Deaf Smith when she was a small child, in 1905, from her native state, Tennessee.

THEY LIVED NORTHWEST of Hereford, near the old Walcott school in the community that is now the Godwin place, east of present Walcott school. Bessie Denney started to school in a tiny one-room building, when Miss Mamie McLean taught a two-month term.

The next year the term length was doubled, and later the Denney children attended the larger Weems school, after they moved to the Hawkins place, "Only eight miles from town."

That eight miles was still a considerable journey, by horse and buggy or wagon over roads always rough and, in case of rain, almost impassably muddy.

Only a few families live in the west part of this county, in scattered homes where hardships were taken for granted. Hardest of all for the Denneys when they first arrived, Mrs. Jennings says, was adjustment to the bare plains and harsh weather which contrasted so sharply with the beautiful forested, hilly country of their former home.

"MY MOTHER NEARLY went crazy at first, and Dad wasn't much better," Mrs. Jennings says, "but they came to like it here."

A dramatic addition to their hardships came in the late fall of 1906, one of the most destructive prairie fires in the history of the Panhandle.

It swept out of New Mexico on a southwest wind, and the Denney family woke in the morning to smell smoke. Later a neighbor rode in to warn them that it was a big fire, and men from nearby ranches and even from Hereford came out to help protect the settlers.

They did not leave home, Mrs. Jennings said, because fire guards had been plowed around the house after smaller grass fires had broken out earlier in the county, serving as warnings. Also, there was plowed land to the west of their house.

A TANK OF WATER near the windmill, where the cattle drank, was to be their last resort; the parents told the children they would get in the tank and stay until the flames passed, if that became necessary. Fortunately, the fire was turned by the cultivated fields so the house was spared.

Grass was good that fall, Mrs. Jennings remembers, so many cattle were in the area. Herds wandered over the burned prairie later, with hair singed from the flames. The fire was not controlled until the wind shifted to the north; snow fell over the blackened area next day.

Mrs. Jennings recalls vividly the neighborliness in those early days, exemplified by help given in fighting the fire.

Her father invited all travelers who passed their place, in for a meal, until finally there were so many homesteaders heading to and from Eastern New Mexico that the family seldom ate a meal alone. Then he took the advice of friends and began charging for meals—25 cents.

HER MOTHER, AND later she herself responded willingly to help the pioneer doctors when a neighbor was ill or in a case of childbirth, before there were professional nurses in the area.

One of the worst health situations Mrs. Jennings remembers was a typhoid epidemic in a tent town located where the Pitman Grain elevator is now. Workmen for some construction project here were camped there, and many died in the outbreak.

Bessie Denney married Carl Jennings in 1916. They lived a short time in Missouri and then returned to Deaf Smith County. They moved to Hereford from the L. A. Arnold place in 1921. Jennings owned a cafe on Main Street many years, and his wife assisted in its operation.

SHE DECIDED ON THE spur of a moment to enroll in a beauty school, when she was on her way to a movie and noticed a sign on a downtown building that a course would begin. That began her independent business career which continued after her husband's death.

Her first child was born while the Jennings still lived on the farm. In addition to her sons, Ralph and Bobby Mrs. Jennings raised a niece, Bessie Frances Carraway, now Mrs. Cecil Shaw of Kankakee, Ill.

With her busy days behind her, Mrs. Jennings laughingly admits that she finds less time now for such pastimes as handwork than she did when she "worked all day in the beauty shop, in the evening at the cafe and then went home to do the housework."

SHE LIKES TO sew, makes such items as handsomely tailored coats as well as dresses, and also knits. Reading is her favorite pastime and she enjoys some television programs. Friends and relatives are frequent visitors in her home, 426 Schley.

Although she is not active in church as she was when she taught a Sunday School class, sang in the choir and was a member of the Women's Society, she still attends services, a habit begun when she was a child and went to church in the nearest schoolhouse or drove to town with her sisters in a buggy.

She disclaims any specialties as a cook, but recommends one cake recipe for holiday baking;

she likes this cake better than conventional fruitcake and says it keeps well, especially when frozen.

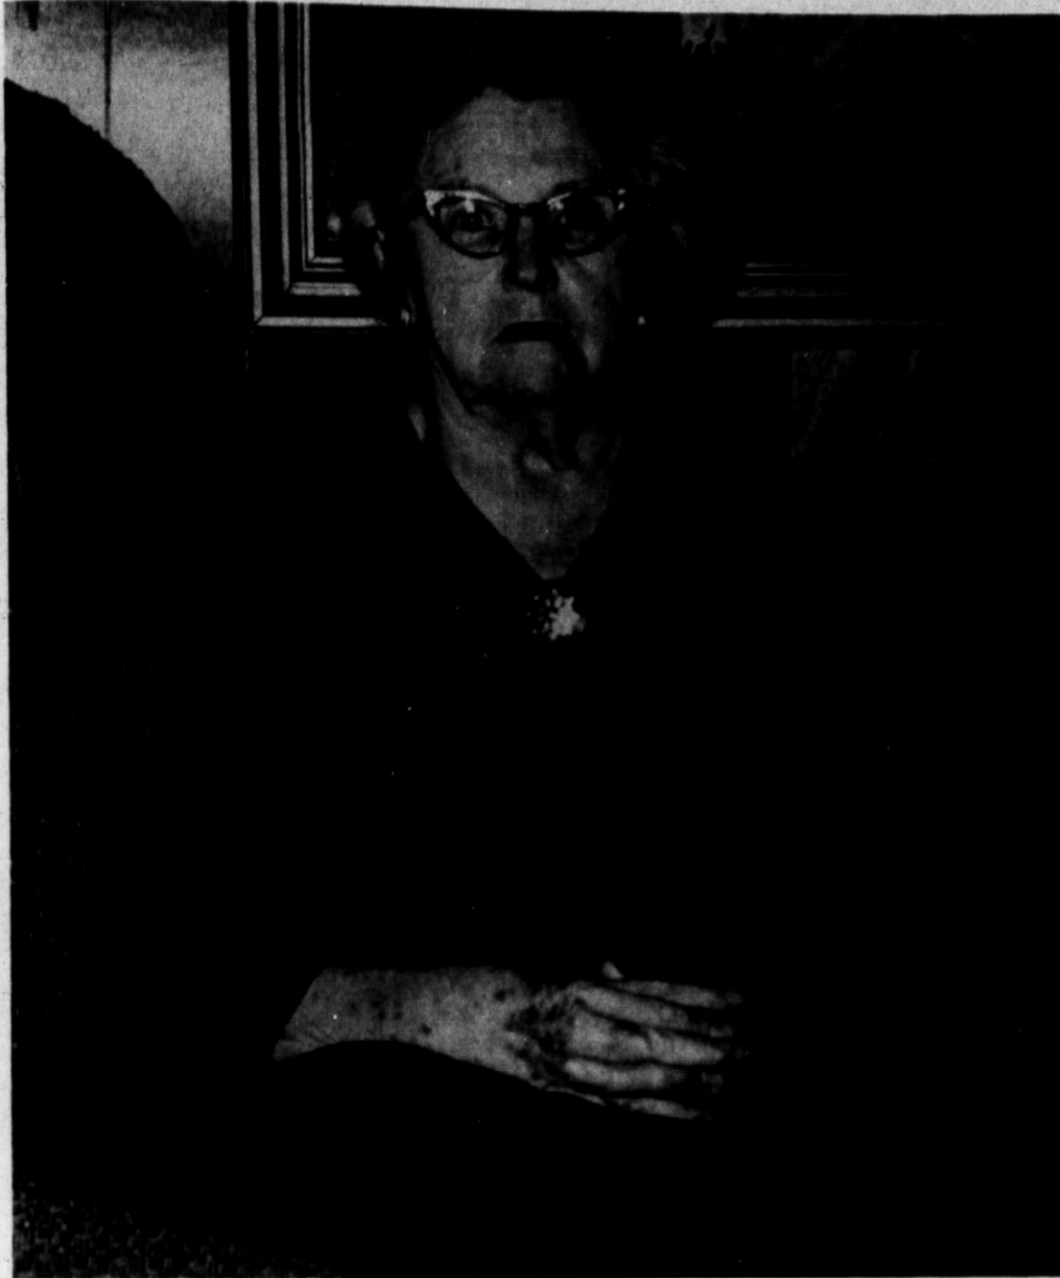

DATE CAKE

To 1 pkg. dates and 1 cup nuts, chopped, add ½ cup sugar, ½ cup shortening and vanilla to taste. Pour over this mixture 1½ cups boiling water and let set a few minutes.

Add 1½ cups flour, 1 tsp soda, and two beaten eggs. Mix well. Bake in layers, loaf or angelfood pan. Layers may be put together with German chocolate icing with the coconut omitted.

For a loaf, pour over it while hot 1 cup sugar dissolved in the juice of 1 orange. Mix sugar and juice when cake is put in oven, add grated orange rind, stir it often and it will be ready to pour when the cake comes out.

Mrs. Jennings has added a note to this recipe, "I add a little more flour, about 2 large tablespoonsful."

Higgins elected exes' president

James Higgins, a graduate of the Class of 1947 at Hereford High School, was elected president of an organization for former students of Hereford schools, during homecoming festivities last week.

Oliver Streu, a 1948 graduate, was named vice president and Mrs. Francis Suttle, class of 1947, was elected secretary-treasurer.

The group met at noon Saturday for a barbecue and get-together at the Bull Barn and some 270 exes from the Hereford schools attended. Bob Carahan acted as master of ceremonies for the gathering where former teachers and students congregated.

The group decided to make the meeting an annual affair.

Representatives of all of the classes during the 40s were present as was Mrs. J. J. Buckner, a graduate of the class of 1914. She was the oldest person attending the reunion.

Following the noon barbecue, a dance was held Saturday night at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

Cattle feeding film is now available

A new documentary film depicting the cattle feeding industry on the High Plains of Texas is now available from Texas A&M University, through the courtesy of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association.

Titled "A Day with a Cattle Feeder," the 30-minute color film features the activities that take place at a feedlot during a typical day.

"The film features some of the top authorities in the cattle feeding business and provides one of the best views of the feedlot industry other than seeing it in person," says Dr. L.S. Pope, associate dean of agriculture at Texas A&M.

Highlights of the film include the beginning of the day's activities in checking pens, following newly arrived cattle, feeding programs underway, and shipping the finished cattle to market.

"The cattle feeding industry on the High Plains is the largest single dollar earner of any segment of Texas agriculture," points out Pope. "It draws on the resources of cattle, grain, feed supplies and equipment from many areas of the state and is one of the largest users of credit and capital of any of the state's agricultural enterprises."

Last summer Texas forged to the lead in numbers of cattle on feed and likely will be first or second during the 1970s, adds Pope.
