

Commission approves cable television proposal

City to begin crack-down on abandoned vehicles

The city commission this week established a junk vehicle ordinance that will take direct aim at getting rid of old, abandoned vehicles that are cluttering streets and vacant lots throughout the city.

The new ordinance gives the city its first real strangle hold on a problem that has, up to this time, been out of the hands of city officials. In the past the city, because of state law, has been unable to force the removal of junk vehicles.

A new state law, which went into effect in late August, now permits the city to pick up these vehicles. Prior to the passage of the new law, a person or city had to have a certificate of title to move the car.

Now, however, the city can remove a vehicle and obtain a junk certificate of title and have the vehicle hauled off.

City manager Dudley Bayne said there are probably as many as 200 "junk" vehicles around town that now can be moved since the new law was put into effect.

"Some people would probably want you to take some of these cars away, just to get them out of their hair. Many of them probably don't have titles themselves and to have them picked up is the only way they can get rid of them," Bayne said.

The "City of Hereford Junked Vehicle Ordinance" gives the city police department the authority to make checks around the city and determine whether a vehicle can be considered a "junk" vehicle.

A "junk" vehicle is defined as any self-propelled motor vehicle which is inoperative and which does not have lawfully affixed thereto, both an unexpired license plate or plates and a valid motor vehicle safety inspection certificate and which is wrecked, dismantled, partially dismantled or discarded.

The procedure that will be taken now will be to have the police department determine if any vehicle is a junk car and report to the Corporation Court.

The Corporation Court, in turn, will issue all orders necessary for the removal of the vehicle and the police department will give notice to the owner of the vehicle that the vehicle is a public nuisance.

The owner is then given 10 days in which to either have the vehicle removed or file for a public hearing if he does not feel the vehicle is a public nuisance.

If the owner does not file for a public hearing and does not remove the vehicle, the police department has the authority to have the vehicle removed and sold, with the money going to the city.

The new ordinance does not apply to vehicles or parts of vehicles that are kept in an enclosed area or building in a lawful manner where it is not visible from the street or other private property.

The much-discussed and oft-tabled cable television issue got a nod of approval Monday when city commissioners agreed to let bids on a franchise some time early next year.

City officials said they expect to have the "specs" figured out by early January and be able to let bids soon thereafter, possibly in early February.

The cable television issue has been one discussed by several past city commissions, but the result was always the same—it was tabled for further discussion. It was brought up again about four months ago and the present city commission began investigating a franchise for Hereford.

The approval Monday marked the first time the issue ever got off the ground.

The city, over the past several years, has received correspondence for a large number of individuals and businesses interested in getting a cable television franchise for Hereford. City manager Dudley Bayne has a folder that is bulging with letters from interested parties.

He told the commission Monday that there are "12 companies, including four major companies across the country," that are interested in bidding on the franchise.

Earlier action on a franchise was not taken because of current Federal Communications Commission (FCC) rulings still unsettled. The city wanted to find out what the FCC was going to do before it made a decision.

The cable television industry has been unable to make any forward progress because of disputes over copyrights during the past several years. A recent settlement was reached and cable television now is on a comeback trail.

The FCC, although the settlements have been reached, will continue to have a hand in the operations of the cable television franchises.

The city was awaiting a decision to find out just how much control the FCC would have, and though things still are not completely clear, the commission decided to go ahead with a decision.

"I think the longer you wait," Bayne said, "the more FCC regulations you will have to put up with. If we go ahead now we may be able to get in before they start coming up with more regulations."

In the "specs," the city will set forth the percentage it will receive from the franchise and will ask for a starting date and a finishing date for the system.

Under cable television regulations, a city can get from 3 per cent to 5 per cent of the income for allowing a company to install the system. This is expected to provide the city with several thousand dollars extra revenue each month.

Reception planned at Country Club

Preston Smith schedules visit to city on Tuesday

Governor Preston Smith will be in Hereford Tuesday for a reception from 4 to 4:45 p.m. at the Country Club.

The appearance here is being co-sponsored by the local unit of the Texas State Teachers Association and the Classroom Teachers Association.

Smith will arrive at the Hereford Airport at 3:45 p.m. and will be ushered to the Country Club for the reception.

He is making the appearance here as a side stop for the annual TSTA District 18, Legislative Appreciation Dinner planned Tuesday night at Caprock High School in Amarillo. He will be one of nine state legislators who will be honored at the dinner.

Other representatives to be on hand at the dinner, which is at 6:30 p.m., are Bill Clayton, Ben Bynum, Phil Cates, Tom Christian, Ralph Wayne, Max Sherman, Dean Cobb and Brian Poff.

The dinner is sponsored by the legislative committee of District 18 and calls each of the state legislators together for a dinner each year to express its appreciation for the work they have done for education during the previous year.

Pat Hughes of Hereford is chairman of the legislative committee.

Wayne Thomas of Hereford, chairman of the Coordinating Board of Texas Colleges and Universities System, will be featured speaker at the dinner. His talk will be on "Most Dangerous Profession."

Bob Holman, assistant superintendent of Hereford schools, will give the invocation. Hughes will introduce the guests and local school superintendent Roy Hartman will introduce Thomas.

In history-making year

Football season surprised many

In early October, after his team's fourth straight loss, head coach Larry Dippel was extremely discouraged.

And, rightfully so because he knew he had the players and the potential to field a winning football team.

But, little did he realize at that time that his Whitefaces would carry the Hereford banner farther into the state playoffs than any team in the history of Hereford High School football.

"I was real discouraged," he said Wednesday, "and I had a lot of doubts. The thing I was really discouraged about was I knew we had a good ball club and the potential to play better than we were playing."

On Oct. 1, the Hereford Whitefaces, after losses to Pampa, Clovis and Palo Duro fell to Lubbock Dumar, 11-6.

It was that game, Dippel says, that changed the outlook for his players. A change that was to take his team all the way to the quarter-finals of one week ago.

"In the Dumar game we came off a close loss. We had a change in attitude beginning with that game. I think right then we started playing to win and stopped being satisfied with just a good showing."

"We started going out to win instead of going out just to keep from getting beat."

"For example, in the Palo Duro game we were satisfied. We had a moral victory because we had played them and caused them well even though we got beat. We were self-satisfied then, but things changed after the Dumar game."

Picked by coaches to finish third in the race for the 4-AAAA crown, the Whitefaces came out of league play with a share of the crown and the right to represent the district in the state AAAA play-offs.

The Whitefaces quickly became known as the "Cinderella" team of class AAAA as they went on to post convincing wins in bi-district and regional games.

"We knew we were capable of winning and capable of winning the big games," Dippel said. "And the confidence of our players was at a very high ebb after we won the Amarillo High game."

It was then the players and the coaches realized they had a chance, at the district crown.

The Amarillo game, won in the last seconds of play, started the Whitefaces on a win streak marked by several last-minute, come-from-behind wins.

One of the biggest wins, and the one that helped the Whitefaces on to represent the district, was the last-minute win over the Plainview bulldogs, the pre-season favorites to win the district 4-AAAA crown.

Hereford scored a touchdown with just over a minute left in the game that brought them from behind, 13-7.

"I really don't remember what happened in the last three minutes of that game," Dippel said. "For some reason I was confident we could still win it. See FOOTBALL Page Two

Compost firm plans to open office here

A new industry that can take common feedlot manure and turn it into a useful farming aid, will soon be established in Hereford.

Fletcher Sims, president of Compost Corporation of Canyon, said he plans to open up a plant here that will handle up to 300 tons of manure per day and transform it into B-D Compost.

The compost, when added to the soil, adds humus concentrate which insures plant availability. Other tests of such additions indicate a reduction in the use of water for irrigation, earlier maturity of crops, increase in test weight of grain, resistance to toxic fungal diseases, preference of cattle for wheat pasture, increased yields and the return of an abundance of earthworms.

"In addition to the direct benefits to the feeding industry and the Hereford area of the sanitary disposal of this manure with improvement of soil and reduction in irrigation water requirements, an additional benefit from improvement of the quality of grain and other feed will accrue," Sims said.

"Laboratory investigations have shown that with Bio-Dynamic Compost on the soil, grain crops show an increase of protein with a better balance of amino acids and an increase in vitamin content. One feeder reported a 40 per cent increase in protein of his ensilage on a rather large acreage this year."

Sims, a biologist by training, studied soils under Dr. William A. Albracht of the University of Missouri. He has been concerned with imbalanced farming practices during the past 18 years.

In the summer of 1968 Sims started an exploration of remedial measures which could be taken. The manure, just beginning to accumulate from the new cattle feeding industry, offered the solution he sought because he felt this material should not be wasted nor exported, but upgraded and used here to effect the continuation of the production of the area.

"Being well aware of the present costs of farming, I realized a system must be effected to restore the soil while sustaining yields at a cost not to exceed present practices," he said.

"Little use of the raw feedlot manure stems from the cost of handling and transporting such large quantities, weed seeds, low humus content, possible pathogenic (disease) organisms and the toxic phenolic wastes (that which causes the cattle to avoid the lush growth next to a cowpile)."

No one had ever undertaken the composting of such a material as the local feedlot manure under our atmospheric conditions. Development of the Com-

Farmer interested in things of the past

BY SUE COLEMAN Staff Writer

"SOMEBODY OUGHT to take care of these old wagon wheels and harness, I think; not too many of them are left and they get scarcer all the time."

So says Elton Sorrells, farmer and stock raiser in Deaf Smith County the past 12 years, who is doing his part to save some of the old implements and harness that will soon be seen only in museums.

He grew up on a Panhandle farm, near Wellington where he was born, and as a boy he helped his father use the wagons, plows and other horse-drawn equipment which has become a thing of the past in his lifetime.

"WHEN I WAS NINE years old my dad let me go to the field with a one-row go-devil, and before that I had harnessed mules for the men to plow," he says.

As the old hand tools and horse-drawn equipment became obsolete, Sorrells began to pick up and save items, at first without any definite aim.

As he grew more interested in the collection, and realized that the pieces were becoming harder to find, he looked more closely for them, and now says he has "collected things from Arkansas to California."

He is especially interested in the leather collars worn by work horses, wood-and-metal harness which were an important part of the harness, also wagon wheels and horseshoes.

ONLY A COUPLE of years ago he decided to see what he could make from pieces in his collection, to give an authentic oldtime look to the big den which the Sorrells built onto their home three miles west of Hereford on the Harrison Highway.

The result is a number of stands made from harness with horseshoes as the base, to hold ashtrays, flower pots and stationery, also a handsome big coffee-table made from a wagon wheel with harness welded on to serve as legs.

Spokes of the wheel divide the table top into sections, with a green felt-covered bottom put in to hold a display of small keepsakes. The top is covered with plate glass so this collection is shown-off, and the wheel hub holds a flower vase.

SORRELLS CLEANS, oils, waxes and sometimes stains or enameled the wood of the harness and polishes metal fastenings and the brass knob on the end, to make attractive room accessories just right for the informal atmosphere of the den.

Sturdy wooden spokes and rim of the wheel are likewise cleaned and shined to accent the grain of the oak. Sorrells points out that some of the old wheels have spokes rounded and turned for shapes that are graceful as well as strong enough for their pur-

He polishes the leather of the horse collars, too, shines the brass and uses these as frames for mirrors.

NOT CONCERNED with vehicles and harness, but as familiar an adjunct of West Texas pioneer homes is a small "bachelor" stove of the type that many oldtime farm families used for both cooking and heating their houses, which Sorrells rescued from a junkyard.

It was badly rusted and the top was broken, but he patiently See FARMER Page Two

NEW USES FOR THE OLD — Elton Sorrells shows some furniture he made for the den at his home on Harrison Highway, from old wagon wheels and harness of the kind he used as a boy on a Panhandle farm. He holds a mirror framed by a horse-collar. At lower left is a stand holding an ashtray and flower bowl, made from an old hame, it's wood polished and it's metal shined up so the brass tip gleams, based on three horseshoes.

Open letter . . .

Dear Football Fans,
We would like to express our sincere appreciation to you on behalf of the coaching staff, school administration and players for your support throughout the entire season.
We very definitely appreciate the support through the first four games and, as our momentum picked up in the following games, so did yours. And this helped us.
I think we were most proud of our fans during the quarter-finals game with Wichita Falls, in that you never gave up and consequently, our players responded in the same fashion.

Now, let's continue our enthusiastic support as we get totally involved in our basketball season.
Sincerely,
Larry Dippel

cleaned it up, fabricated a metal top and enameled it all black, its original color. It makes a useful lamp table and conversation piece.
After visitors admired the furniture in his own home, Sorrells made other pieces for gifts and last Christmas wrote a "sort of poem" to accompany the stands. He has lately been asked to sell some, and has made a few to sell.

HE FIGURES IF people want to buy them, he will continue to make them for sale as long as raw material is available, but some pieces, like his coffee table, are not for sale.
His hobby has been pursued in the big barn-storage building behind the Sorrells' house but he has decided it is worth a workshop of its own, and that building is under construction.
When he has spare time from duties of the farm and care of cattle, he spends it at work with the once-useful things he thinks should be preserved so future West Texans can see what pioneers used before the machine age came to this country.

A help in his hobby is Mrs. Sorrells' interest and the ideas she sometimes contributes in uses to which his collection can be put.
The Sorrells have two daughters, Linda and Debbie, at home, and a son, Davie, who lives in Hereford.

I knew we still had a chance, but I didn't have much time to be negative at all."
From that win, the Whitefaces went on to defeat Lubbock Monterey and clinch the play-off berth. That Monterey game was another come-from-behind win.
But, Dippel is not looking back now. He is looking forward to how other teams can benefit from what this year's team accomplished.

"My feelings right now are — we were so close to being in the state finals or having a good opportunity of getting there, that it is kind of challenging now to get back and get started again and do the same thing."
"Maybe this time we can go even farther."
"As you get so close, you don't realize what has happened until it is all over."
"Right now we have had a good season. We lost some games we probably should not have lost, but the thing that is pleasing is we won some games we maybe should not have won. And this is the crucial test — the games that mean the most to you."
Dippel was not optimistic about getting into the state playoffs about mid-season, but suddenly he found himself and his team right in the thick of the title chase.

"We didn't think we would go as far as we did, but once we got into the play-offs, we knew anything could happen."
And, things did happen, but Dippel now hopes the upcoming teams will take in what has happened.
"It was hard, in the past, to talk to our people about the playoffs because it was something they just heard about and never actually came in contact with. Now that is different. I hope we can come back and challenge the accomplishments of this year's team."
"It is going to take a lot of hard work and dedication because we are going to have to beat some teams next year who are laying for us. It is the old saying that 'it is a lot harder to stay on top than to get on top,' because we have some big shoes to fill," he said.

The process consisted of preparing the raw manure, introduction of the inoculum and maintaining proper conditions for the proliferation of the desired micro-life.

The fermentation is largely aerobic and generates a certain amount of heat. A compost concentrate, high in humus and containing billions of specific soil micro-organisms per gram, is the end result.

"With expansion here at Hereford, Compost Corporation will be able to produce sufficient tonnage of B-D Compost to have a significant effect on extending the life of the underground water," Sims said. "Initially, plans are for a 100-ton-per-day operation and as quickly as this is going well, it will be increased to 200 tons per day."

John G. Hine's funeral held here on Tuesday

Funeral services for John Gibson Hine, 59, of 318 Star, were conducted Tuesday afternoon in Rose Chapel of Gilliland Funeral Home by the Rev. Fred Howard, vicar of St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Amarillo and former vicar of St. Thomas Church here. Burial was in Rest Lawn Cemetery.

Mr. Hine, a resident of Hereford the past two years, died shortly before midnight Sunday in Deaf Smith General Hospital. He had been employed as book-keeper for a cattle feeding firm. Born Dec. 2, 1912 at Wichita Falls, he married Rachel Evans Dec. 5, 1942 at Leadman, Penn. They moved to Hereford from Montana in 1969.

Mr. Hine saw military service during World War II.

In addition to his wife he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. John Kuper of Summerfield; his father, Charles H. Hine of Boise, Ida.; a sister, Mrs. Russell Snyder of Sterling, Colo., and a brother, Dr. Fred Hine of Boise.

Final services for 94-year-old woman held

Burial in Willow Cemetery near Haskell followed funeral services for Mrs. Ollie Martha Freeman, 94, in First United Methodist Church of Haskell. The service was conducted Wednesday afternoon.

Gilliland Funeral Home was in charge of local arrangements, and Holden-McCauley Funeral Home at Haskell of the services there. Mrs. Freeman, whose home was at 219 N. Texas, died in Deaf Smith General Hospital Monday morning after a long illness. She came to this county in January, 1962, from Haskell.

She was a native Texan, born Nov. 11, 1877, at Decatur, and married John C. Freeman there March 13, 1911. Her husband died in February of 1925.

Survivors are a sister, Irene Ballard, and three brothers, Carl, William and David Ferrin all of Hereford.

Mrs. Marion du Pont Scott paid $235,000 for a bay colt by Buckpasser at the 1971 Saratoga Yearling Sales.

When Michigan State beat Oregon State 31-14 this season it marked the 100th victory for Spartan coach Duffy Daugherty.

Delta Xi hears forum discussion

Forum discussion of the topic, Responsibilities of Women, was presented for the program when Delta Xi Chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma, met in Ward Parlor of First United Methodist Church Monday evening. Audrey Powell served as moderator.

She introduced the topic with the statement that today's women have varied responsibilities to society, family and self. Mrs. Gerald Hale spoke of Intellectual Responsibility, stressing that a woman must choose whether she will lead or follow.

Discussing Moral Growth, Claude Ola Brown said it is a privilege as well as a duty for a woman to invest herself in other people and causes. The speakers are members to the chapter's committee on personal growth and services, which Mrs. Powell heads.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mmes. Brown, Tandy Legg, H. V. Crawford, J. J. Durham and Miss Della Stagner. They served a dessert in holiday motif from a table decked in pink and silver.

An exchange of white elephant gifts was held to benefit the society's world fellowship fund.

Members present included Mmes. Jim Neill Tolbert Painter, Sam Ratcliff, M.M. Richie, Albert Ricketts, Don Shipley, J. Frank Smith, Earl Springer, Don Waters, Harold Wester, Elizabeth Wills, Bob Wilson, O.Z. Golden, Earl Holt, Eleanor Hudspeth, Merlin Kaul, Claude McDougal, Reuben McGilvary Fred Mercer, Dick Montgomery, Jim Bookout, Tommy Braddy, Tommy Bryant and Fritz Christman.

The New York Yankees beat Milwaukee (10-3), Chicago (7-5) and Kansas City (7-5) in series with American League West teams this year.

Temple Baptist hosts missionary

Rev. Evan Holmes, a missionary to Chile since 1947, will be the speaker Friday, Saturday and Sunday for a series of services at Temple Baptist Church.

The public is invited to attend the services at Avenue K and Forrest, Friday at 7:30 p.m., Saturday at noon and 7:30 p.m. and Sunday at 1 a.m. and 7 p.m.

A nursery will be provided for all services.

Rev. Holmes and his wife, Josephine, were appointed to serve in Chile after finishing Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in 1947. They have been there since that time.

They presently are home on a one-year furlough.

Rev. Holmes will show slides of Chile, tell of his missionary experiences and preach the gospel during the three-day meeting.

Douglas Morris, the church's music director, will have charge of the inspirational music. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Albert Ricketts at the piano and Robert Bell at the organ.

BY MELVIN YOUNG

If you remember, a few months ago Tom Draper started passing out bumper stickers advocating the eating of "possum". We mentioned the fact in this column at the time, but figured that the deal would be forgotten shortly. Tom is a pretty good coon hunter, but we've never heard of him treeing a possum—nor have we ever heard of a possum treeing him.

There are a lot of folks who do a lot of preaching about things, but seldom practice what they preach and we suspect that this has been the case with Mr. Draper and the "Eat More Possum" campaign. But all that may have been changed this week.

Since Tom has retired from the farming business, he doesn't have much to do except talk about his coon hunting and he spends considerable time around the bank's coffee room and the restaurants doing what he loves best—talking. And apparently some folks have been listening.

Walter (Bussy) Kaul and Truman Ivey presented Draper with a white possum Saturday noon. The presentation was made at Dickie's Restaurant with numerous spectators waiting around for his reaction. The deal had been set up in advance by Kaul and Ivey, and we suspect that Argen Draper had to be in on the plot as well, for apparently everyone knew about it except Tom. And just as he sat down at the table to have lunch, he found out.

Kaul nabbed the white possum Friday evening, when the family's dogs started barking at the intruder as it came into the farmyard. Of course, he knew immediately what he would do with the little fellow.

Now we'll not try to deceive you by saying that Tom Draper was speechless. He's never been caught in that trap. But we will say that little Jim Ed Kaul was the proudest fellow in the scene. "My daddy caught that possum," he proclaimed. And everyone knows that his daddy is a much better "possum catcher" than Tom Draper. He at least has one to his credit.

Now we doubt that Tom is going to eat that possum. We suspect, after looking at the accompanying picture, that Jim Ed is going to be the sole owner of that critter, and if Draper ever gets a taste of possum he may have to go down to Louisiana and let the Cajuns prepare one for him. We're pretty sure that Argen is not going to cook one. But, time will tell.

We suspect that Ray Cowart is about as loyal a fan as ever attended a Hereford Whiteface game, but the next time we go, we're going to make a point not to sit next to him. He'll beat you to death before the game is over.

Ray sat next to me at the Whiteface-Coyote contest Saturday in Amarillo. Fortunately, however, Punk Gilbreath was there also and at half time we switched seats and Ray beat on Punk for the remainder of the game.

Ray was a little subdued in the second half which was somewhat of a mystery. He made a trip to the concession stand during the half-time activities and when he returned he was pulling off his overcoat and talking about how warm it was in the stands. Never did figure that one out.

If this weather holds, we may have to take a trip south. Like to McAllen or Brownsville. Can't stand the cold.

However, we'll probably need a little more cold weather. The farmers may have to wait until the ground freezes to dig their beets. And that's doing it the hard way. One thing for sure—even if it warms up, it will take several days for the fields to dry.

Have you been out to see the local team play basketball? If not, then make a point to do so. We're going to have a fine team this year and probably the "tallest" in Texas!

And the man on Main says, "A vacation is what you take if you can't take what you've been taking."

TOM DRAPER may be a "possum hunter" but we're betting he's not going to eat this one. Jim Ed Kaul, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter (Bussy)

Kaul, looks on as the possum was presented to Draper. Jim Ed's father caught the possum at their farm Friday. — Staff Photo

Small talk

BY SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

SPEAKING OF THE weather, and it's not easy to do anything else these days, wasn't it nice to turn out so pretty for dollar day, and let everybody come out to shop just when everybody was tired of being snowed-in and ready to get out anyway?

It sort of started the Christmas shopping season off with a bang. Looked like a real old-fashioned rush of gift-buyers downtown, especially when I tried to drive down Main Street just after 5 p.m. and it took about three light changes for traffic to crawl a block.

That kind of crowd should make the merchants happy.

OUR CONTINUING wet weather is making some people happy, too, in spite of the trouble it has caused others. Farmers and ranchers from the west end of the county aren't complaining.

For instance, Bruce Coleman answered a "How're you?" this week with a "Couldn't be better!" and as broad a grin as you're likely to see.

And Vivian Burk was smiling happily when she explained, "Honey, we can't get in or out of our place without something with a four-wheel drive." The Burks live quite a piece off the pavement.

It isn't just dry-land farmers who welcome the moisture, either. Herbert Miller and Alfred Smith from the Dawn neighborhood agree that when they think about last July, when they were wondering whether their irrigation wells would hold up, whether the water level would hold out, whether it was ever going to rain again—they prefer it this way!

One thing sure in West Texas, too much moisture is positively a temporary condition.

Gifts that you can Give with Pride! Let COWAN'S be Your Guide!

BESIDES THE COMMENT on the weather, there is a piece of news from the Miller family. Their son, Dion, who attends WTSU, was a delegate last week to a Democratic fund-raising dinner at Austin.

He and Benny Turner, president of the WTSU Young Democrats organization, represented the campus group officially.

There was a bonus in the trip for Dion; he visited his brother, Jon David, and family at Austin, and met his nephew and namesake, Gregory Dion, new son of Julie and Jon David. The baby, born Nov. 12, has a sister, Courtney, two and a half years old.

Look who's new

Mr. and Mrs. Juan Garza Silva are the parents of a daughter, Mary Michelle, born December 7. She weighed 8 lbs. 14 1/2 ozs.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Raymond Gonzales are the parents of a son born December 7. He weighed 6 lbs. 4 1/2 ozs.

Mr. and Mrs. Helario Coronado are the parents of a son, Helario Jr., born December 4. He weighed 9 lbs. 1/2 oz.

CARD OF THANKS

We want to extend thanks to everyone for the many prayers, visits, cards, gifts and food sent during Lori Ann's stay at the hospital. We also want to thank those who sat with her, the doctors and nurses who were so good to her, and our clergy for their prayers and visits. The Oskar Schwertner Family

PATRIOTIC ESSAY WINNER—Kim Gott, standing with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gott, holds the trophy and medal she received as first place winner in the annual Voice of Democracy essay contest sponsored here by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Auxiliary. Winners were announced at a dinner Monday evening honoring the seven finalists among Hereford High students. Subject of the essays this year was My Responsibility to Freedom.

Veteran's affairs

Q — May a married female veteran drawing disability compensation or pension claim her husband as a dependent?

A — Yes, if the husband is incapable of self maintenance and is permanently incapable of self-support due to physical or mental disability, and is otherwise eligible. The same criteria would apply in event of the female veteran's death.

Q — I am going to school under the G.I. Bill, and plan to attend summer school. What should I do to have my VA education benefits continue through the summer?

A — After you enroll for the summer session, notify the school of your continued eligibility for VA education benefits. The school will certify your re-enrollment to VA, and you will receive your payments effective the date of re-enrollment.

CHEERING FOR ST. A'S — Dressed in the green and white colors of the St. Anthony's Rebels are the school's cheerleaders; left to right, Stephanie Beckman, seventh grade; Mary LaFleur, eighth grade; Rose Warren, eighth grade; Susan Schlabs, seventh grade; and Donna Noggler, seventh grade. The seventh and eighth grade basketball teams, both boys' and girls', will host the Nazareth teams at the school's auditorium Saturday afternoon. Photo by Betty Koelzer

Kim Gott wins VFW essay contest

Top winner in the 1971 Voice of Democracy essay contest in Hereford is Kim Gott, it was announced at a dinner Monday evening honoring the finalists. Leslie Breeding placed second and Dale Hairgrove third. Hosts for the dinner were members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and its Ladies Auxiliary, which sponsor the contest here in collaboration with the National Association of Broadcasters. Kenneth Gott, commander of the Hereford VFW, presided at the dinner and so presented his daughter the winner's trophy. From the seven finalists selected by English teachers in the local high school, the three winners were chosen by judges from West Texas State University speech department.

Each finalist recorded his essay at the radio station here, and it was these recordings, identified by number only, which were judged for delivery as well as content. Miss Gott's entry will compete in a district contest; state and national competition follows.

Breeding, son of the Glenn Breeding, received a medal and $10 cash award, while Hairgrove, son of the Roland Hairgroves, was given a medal and $5 award. First place award was a $25 savings bond. All three winners are juniors in Hereford High.

The other finalists are Rhonda Holbert, Nancy Brink, Terry Swindell and Jack Norman.

English and speech teachers who assisted in conducting the contest were honorees at the dinner with finalists and their parents. Special recognition was given Mrs. Charles Bell, Wayne Hodgson and Don McWhorter for their help.

Five judges named a nine-member citizens committee to investigate New York's Attica prison uprising which cost 42 lives.

Bride-to-be is feted at shower

A shower honoring Diane Ragland, bride-elect of Ray Skelton, was held Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Bob Word.

Co-hostesses were Meses, Joe Bradley, John Claypool, Arthur Robinson, Eleanor Hudspeth, Bob Hamman, Reuben McGilvary Jr., Richard Montgomery, Gerald Hale, Eddie Whitener, Rodney Gordon, Alex Glass, Don Cumpston, Ivan Tipps, Wayne Hodgson, Miss Flo Dickinson, Patsy Giles.

Receiving guests with Miss Ragland were her mother, Mrs.

Esther Ragland of Dallas and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Joe Skelton.

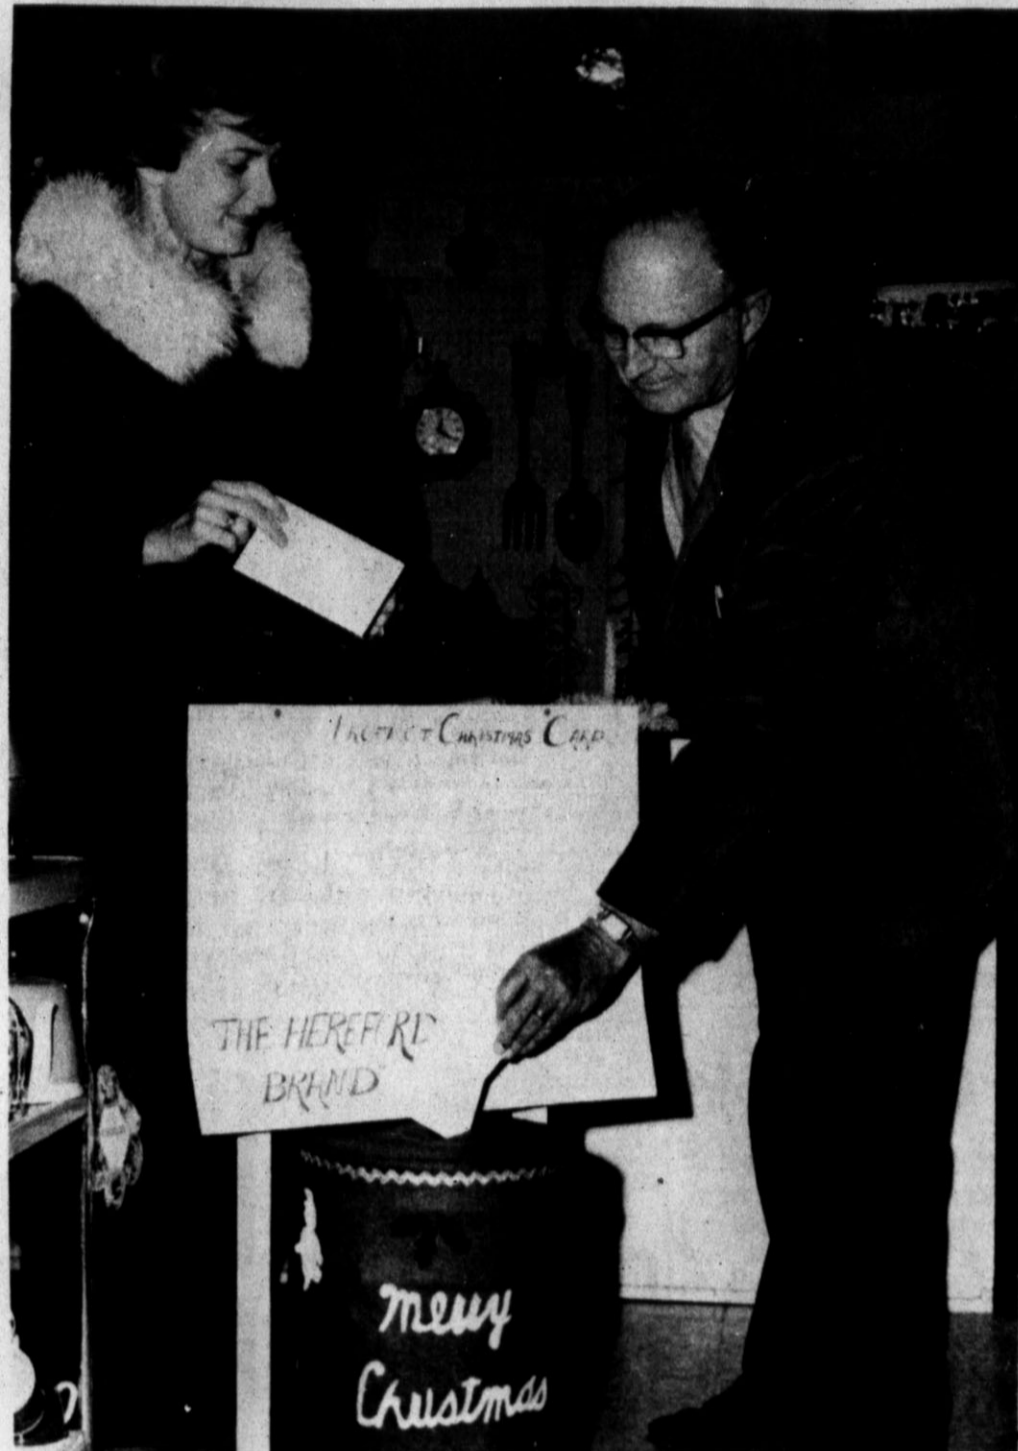

The bride-to-be was wearing a red, white, and blue dress accented by a red carnation corsage. Similar corsages were presented to Mrs. Ragland and Mrs. Skelton.

The bride's colors of red and green were further carried out at the serving table which was covered by a Christmas red net cloth accented by sequins on felt appliques depicting holiday symbols. The centerpiece was a silver candelabra lighted by red candles and entwined with greenery.

Approximately 60 guests called in the afternoon.

Under the 1970 Clean Air Act, national air quality standards will go into effect in 1975.

GIFTS FOR PROJECT — Hereford residents' gifts to Project Christmas Card, which raises funds each year for needed equipment at Deaf Smith General Hospital, are being made in stores downtown and at Sugarland Mall, in the hospital lobby and in both local banks. Here Don Zimmerman is placing a contribution envelope in a canister at Hereford Hardware, while Mrs. Bobby Owen waits her turn. Sponsored by Hereford Medical Auxiliary, the project asks residents to give the amount they would spend for cards and postage to send holiday greetings to friends in this country. Instead, the greetings will appear in a full page of the Christmas edition of the Hereford Brand, with names of all contributors listed. The decorated canisters and their contents will be picked up Dec. 18, Mrs. Kenneth E. Hunt, Auxiliary president, announces.

Oliver! has something new for HHS musicals

Innovations in the Hereford High School musical to be presented at 8 p.m. Friday and again Saturday evening in the school auditorium include a revolving stage to be turned for quick change of scenes, and girls in boys' roles.

The vehicle itself is something different in musicals for the high school actors and singers.

It is an English play which has proved popular on Broadway and over the United States after its initial run in London; it is adapted from the familiar Dickens novel which most high school students find "required reading" in English classes; it is set principally in the London slums of the past century.

But the musical version is a far cry from the original lengthy novel with its involved plot, and its underworld characters provide plenty of comedy instead of Dickens' accent on pathos. There is drama in the mystery of Oliver's true identity, and catchy tunes.

Tickets are available from cast members, and will be on sale at the box office at play time. Fred Ratliff, HHS choral director, is directing the production and Ben Gollehon directs a stage orchestra.

Other music teachers have assisted in directing and set building, including construction of the revolving stage. Craig Ottesen is stage manager and Nancy Jones rehearsal pianist.

In addition to principals headed by Chris White in the name role, there are bit players and choruses. Vance McGee, David Wiggins, Carla Crist, Susie Hickman, Elizabeth Lyons and Mary Gilbert appear as street criers.

As boys whom the sinister Fagin is training to be pickpockets, most of them actually girls to portray boys smaller than teenage, are Donna Walterscheid, Wesley Eades, Randy Hoelscher, Monty Campbell, Carolyn Langley, Alesia Ragsdale, Suzanne Hewitt, Brenda Jolly, Nancy Young, Terri Carter, Genie Robbins, Ladonna Williams, Sharon Owens and Angela Grubbs.

Boys in the workhouse are played by Libbie Parten, Rojean Block, Caye Clearman, Tonya Jayroe, Mary Gilbert, Brenda Formby, Deann Allen, Sheila Lea, Nelda Norton, Melinda Bradley.

Also Denise Strange, Renet Walden, D'Ann Duke, Linda Hallows, Pam Scroggins, Becky

Mother follows daughter in post

Frances Parker will follow her daughter, Frances Green, in the noble grand's office of Hereford Rebekah Lodge, heading the organization for the coming term. New officers were elected at the meeting in IOOF Hall Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Harold Hamby was named vice grand, Mrs. Clarence Beauford recording secretary Mrs. Jim Loving financial secretary and Ada Hollabaugh treasurer. Installation is scheduled for next month, when these and other officers appointed by the noble grand will take up their duties.

Plans were made for Rebekahs to serve dinner Monday evening for an Odd Fellow's circle meeting, when several state officers are to be here as well as members from over the district.

Mrs. Loving was chosen delegate and Mrs. Hollabaugh alternate to the grand assembly of Texas Rebekahs to be held at Houston in March.

A Christmas party was planned for next week's meeting in the IOOF Hall.

Mrs. Hamby, hostess for the evening, served refreshments to 18 members.

For God So Loved The World

a parable

We have loved this top hero story since childhood. A boy from the country, unused to war, meets the giant Philistine warrior. It is quiet faith arrayed against arrogant boasting... the rustic sling with a stone in it against the great spear in the hand of might. How unequal will be the combat! But watch the deeper battle... reverence against evil. The giant is against all good and is confident victory must go to the strong. David stands for spirituality upon which civilization must rest. Thus the story is a parable of human life, in which the struggle between good and evil goes on forever in combat for the souls of us all. Evil has noise, power and wealth for support. But back of the struggle is the faith that "Right is right as God is God, and right the day must win." Then read God's word and support His church with your means and your presence, and say with Sir Galahad, "My strength is the strength of ten, because my heart is pure."

Highlights and sidelights from your state capital

BY BILL BOYKIN
AUSTIN, Tex.—House Speaker Gus Mutscher's bribery trial site switched abruptly from Austin to Abilene, with February or March now the expected date.

With both the defense and state filing rival motions for change of venue, Austin District Judge Tom Blackwell concluded extensive publicity in the capital city area made a transfer of the case advisable.

He sent it to the 104th district court of Judge J. Neil Daniel in Taylor County, along with indictments of co-defendants Rep. Thomas C. Shannon of Fort Worth and S. Rush McGinty of Austin, a Mutscher aide.

Defense attorneys had contended widespread news coverage made a fair trial of the speaker in the Central Texas area impossible. The indictment grew out of Mutscher's and co-defendant's 1969 profits on National Bankers Life Insurance Company stock. State alleges he received the stock tips and loans for purchases in exchange for helping pass bank deposit insurance legislation favored by Houston banker Frank Sharp.

Travis County District Attorney Robert O. Smith turned the defense argument around. He said Mutscher has so much power in Austin, where many citizens work for the state, that finding a jury free to give the state's case open consideration there may be difficult.

Blackwell didn't buy either argument entirely, but conceded Austin newspapers, radio and television stations had covered the case rather enthusiastically since last January. Further, he stated the coverage blanketed counties surrounding the capital city.

Mutscher said he was satisfied with Abilene as the trial site.

"The only thing that we have ever asked is that we be afforded a fair trial," Mutscher commented after the brief court hearing. "I feel that the citizens of Taylor County will afford us an ample opportunity to establish my innocence."

Along to Daniel went a stack of defense pre-trial motions, including one to quash the indictment. Mutscher's attorney predicted a February or March trial date. January 10 had been set originally.

DRUG REFUNDS DUE—Texans who filed valid claims under an anti-trust case may receive up to 60 per cent refunds on purchases of broad spectrum antibiotic drugs purchased during 1954-66.

Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin said refunds will be made probably no later than March, 1972.

Tax supported hospitals and other state agencies which bought the antibiotics will share in the $4.6 million recovery against five large drug companies named in the anti-trust suit. The U.S. Supreme Court denied the companies' last appeal October 12.

Martin and his staff are working on an allocation formula. A New York federal court will hold a hearing after notice to all claimants, hopefully in January.

The drug case is the pioneer "treble damage" anti-trust case allowing individual consumers to be represented by the Attorney General and recover damages for overcharges paid as a result of price-fixing conspiracies.

LEGAL OPINIONS—Candidates who moved into new districts before Nov. 7 (a year prior to the 1972 general election) are eligible to run for House and Senate seats in those districts. Secretary of State Bob Bullock held in an opinion prepared as chief state election oftrict can be charged with a portion of attorneys' fees for defending two tax injunction suits to restrain collection of taxes. Smith designated his former aide, V. Larry Teaver of Lubbock, chairman of the State Board of Insurance. Smith emphasized Teaver's role as "consumer representative" on the board and his concern for curbing rates.

Smith appointed Kountze insurance agency owner John Blair to succeed William P. Hobby Jr. of Houston on the Texas Air Control Board.

Governor placed Charles W. Woodridge of Dallas on the Trinity River Authority board of directors.

Smith picked as his acting press secretary 28-year-old Carlton Carl, a native of Houston.

Dr. Stanley Burnham of The University of Texas at Austin is chairman of the Governor's Commission of Physical Fitness. Albert A. Rooker, also of UT-Austin, is executive director.

Donald Eastland of Hillsboro will serve as acting chairman of the State Judicial Qualifications Commission.

A 26-member State Advisory Council on Alcoholism has been named to advise on a state plan for combatting alcoholism.

SPANISH TREASURE APPRAISED—Appraisers have completed the preliminary process of putting a value on treasure recovered from four-century-old shipwrecks off Padre Island.

Final reports will go to Federal District Judge Reynaldo Garza of Brownsville who directed the appraisal be made as the result of a lawsuit.

Platoro Inc., the Indiana firm which recovered the treasure in 1967, seeks title to at least half the artifacts. The state claims all of them, and has threatened to take its case for possession to the U.S. Supreme Court.

POLITICAL FIELD EXPANDS—Dallas attorney Barefoot Sanders stepped into the U.S. Senate race, slugging from the opening bell at Republican Sen. John Tower.

Sanders, 44-year-old former federal district attorney, U. S. assistant attorney general and White House aide, is the first Democrat to announce for the Senate.

W.L. (Bill) Jones Jr., Odessa businessman, entered the Democratic primary for Lieutenant governor and set up campaign headquarters here.

SAFETY TIPS OFFERED—Texas Safety Association warns holiday tipplers that 70 driving drunks may end up dead in traffic crashes.

Along with the verbal warning, TSA sent out charts showing how much alcohol by weight a driver can consume before reaching the state legal "drunk" test level of .10 per cent blood alcohol concentration.

"The motorists of Texas, for their sake and the sake of their passengers, need to recognize the potential dangers during the upcoming holiday season. They need to be alert, ready to take evasive action," said TSA.

Short Snorts
Conservationists called for a minimum 100,000 acre Big Thicket National Park in East Texas.

State Banking Board approved nine "phantom" bank charters (multi-bank holding companies) in Waco, Longview and Houston, despite protests.

Texas Highway Commission approved future revision of interstate highway routes in the Dallas-Fort Worth areas.

Russell International Mining Corporation was enjoined in a Beaumont district court from offering RIMCO securities for sale in Texas.

This year will be "an exceptionally good" one for construction, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

TSTA passes member goal

The Texas State Teachers Association, largest professional organization in the state, has surpassed its 1971-72 membership goal of 142,000.

L.P. Sturgeon, executive secretary, said the TSTA membership total hit a record 142,900 on Tuesday, November 30. The count may reach 145,000 before the books are closed next summer on 1971-72 memberships, Sturgeon said.

The 142,900 total of active members includes 5,980 life members. It does not include more than 7,000 student teacher members and over 1,000 retired members.

Highest previous membership level for TSTA was the 138,888 recorded last year. TSTA, now in its 92nd year, is composed of classroom teachers and administrators from every county in Texas, college personnel, and other education specialists. About 96 per cent of all teaching and administrative personnel in the public schools are members of TSTA, Sturgeon said. Associate memberships—held by non-certified personnel such as secretaries, custodians, and other supportive staff members—are at an all-time high of 6,833.

The Texas association was the second largest state teachers association among the 50 states last year, outnumbered in membership only by California.

"And to think that one of the reasons I married you was because you were always so neatly dressed."

HOLIDAY BOTIQUE SET — Handmade gifts and decorations with an original air will be on sale at the annual Christmas botique and food sale which Women of St. Thomas Episcopal Church will conduct in the parish house Saturday. The public is invited to visit the sale beginning at 10 a.m. Members of the sponsoring groups have held work sessions in the parish hall to make some of the botique items. Mrs. V. O. Hennen, left, shows a detail of her handwork to a visitor, Mrs. W. K. Golden of Lake Belton, mother of church-women's president, Mrs. Jack Wilcox. At right, Mrs. Alvin Anstey places sequins on a colorful wall hanging in Christmas motif.

Harmon Forecast looks at play-offs

Time for speculation! With just two games left in the regular NFL season, lets look ahead to possible play-off participants.

Having already picked Baltimore to win its game against Miami next week, that gives the Colts the championship of the American Conference Eastern Division while the Dolphins finish with the best won and lost record as a runner-up team to qualify as the No. 4 team in the play-offs. How simple it is on paper! The Oakland - Kansas City fracas next Sunday will almost determine the AFC West champion... we've picked the Chiefs. And in the AFC Central, Cleveland seems to have the decided edge over Pittsburgh. To look a little beyond, we feel certain that there will be a third rematch of the Dolphin-Colt game this time to decide the championship of the American Conference.

In the National Conference, it's almost as ridiculous to try to make any quick prognostication. Our speculative pairings would be that Minnesota from the Central Division will face Dallas from the East. The No. 4 team is really up for grabs at the moment, but we think that either Los Angeles or San Francisco - and the schedule seems to favor the Rams - from the West will meet Washington, the best runner-up team. The Rams-Redskins game next Monday night might just decide that question. But we'll venture no forecast beyond that for the NFL championship... "too close to call!"

As for picking a Super Bowl champion... well, our neck will be on the chopping block soon enough!

Clayton Rutter, former Hereford resident, has named head of the engineering division in

Keeter honored by gas company

Ellis W. Keeter of Hereford, was presented a service award Tuesday recognizing 15 years of service to Pioneer Natural Gas Company at its annual service award dinner at Amarillo.

Over ninety-five employees and their spouses attended the dinner which was one in a series of three such affairs being held by the company in different cities in its service area. This year 178 employees, representing 2,285 years of service, are being honored.

The awards were presented by Burton P. Smith, president of Pioneer Natural Gas Company, who expressed admiration and gratitude on behalf of the officers and directors of Pioneer for the high degree of motivation, skill and cooperation of the company's employees.

Grazing sorghum, stubble could mean more profits

Proper grazing of grain sorghum and corn stubble could boost agricultural income on the Texas High Plains by more than $100 million. And the practice could also pay dividends in other areas of the state.

In 1970 a study was initiated by Texas Agricultural Extension Service specialists Dr. Cal Parrott and Ed Garnett of Amarillo and Castro County Agricultural Agent Charles Hotel to obtain new information about the utilization of milo and corn stubble with steer calves. Site of the study was the Bob Anthony farm in Castro County.

"With about four million acres of milo and corn harvested annually in the High Plains, a well-managed grazing program could boost yearly farm income and provide the roughage for raising seven million feeder calves annually," said Garnett in discussing the grazing study.

He said the cattle feeding industry on the High Plains will demand about 3.4 million head of feedlot replacements this year and many of these cattle are shipped in from outside the area.

"A grazing program that is well-managed could provide the opportunity to grow thousands of feeder calves up to 550-600 pounds before they are sent to area feedlots," he pointed out.

In the study 421 steers weighing an average of 405 pounds were placed on 230 acres of grain sorghum and corn stubble for a 114-day grazing period. The stubble acreage was 74 per cent corn and 26 per cent grain sorghum.

The steers were worked and backgrounded in drylot for 40 days prior to the initiation of the study and were then allowed to graze about 57 acres for 26- to 30-day intervals.

"The steers received four pounds of a grain-protein supplement daily to supply the extra needed energy and protein," said Parrott. "Grain sorghum made up 25 per cent of the ration with a 15 per cent protein supplement."

Ample feed bunk space allowed all steers to eat at once and each day they were checked for sickness.

After grazing out the stubble, the steers were placed in a commercial feedlot where they were fed out to a little more than 1,000 pounds. Complete cost records were kept on each phase of the study, and an economic analysis was made of each phase as well as the overall study.

Each steer gained an average of 162 pounds during the 114-day grazing period for an average of 1.42 pounds per head per day. Including the supplemental feed, each acre of stubble produced 2.6 pounds of beef daily.

According to Garnett, all costs were figured, including a charge for the farmer's land use and labor.

The economic analysis showed a per head net return of $5.96 for the backgrounding phase; $23.25 for the grazing phase; and $19.63 for the finishing phase.

"The most important aspect of this study is the overall evaluation which indicates an average net return of about $48 per head," Garnett said. "The cost per pound of gain, overall, averaged 23 cents with a daily gain of 2.28."

The specialists emphasized that proper management is the key to this grazing program. The study can be used as a guide for producers in making management decisions.

Grazing out the stubble has other advantages, according to the specialists. The farmer can return to work the soil quicker during the late fall or winter and to gain efficiency in utilizing his land. Also, fields that were grazed were void of volunteer grain sorghum or corn even though the soil was worked very little.

The grazing study will be repeated this year to evaluate its consistency.

Local woman's father buried

Funeral services for Robert Aut Hodges, 87, of Canyon, father of Mrs. Wayne Thomas of Hereford were conducted Wednesday morning in LaGrone Funeral Chapel by Dr. Gerald Mann, pastor of Hereford First Baptist Church.

Burial was in Silverton Cemetery Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Hodges died Sunday in Scott-White Hospital at Temple.

He was a native Texan, a retired farmer and stockman who had lived in Canyon since 1934. He married Tommie Trees of Silverton in 1917; her death occurred in 1969.

In addition to Mrs. Thomas, survivors are a son, J.W. Hodges of Tulsa, two sisters, Mrs. C.V. Winberly of Amarillo and Mrs. Grady Winberly of San Angelo, seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Father of two residents dead

After funeral services for Carl W. Smith of Canyon in Central Church of Christ of that city, burial was in Dreamland Cemetery there Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Smith was the father of Alvin and Foye Smith of Hereford.

He died Sunday in an Amarillo convalescent center. He had lived in Canyon 24 years and after retiring from farming had been with the maintenance department of West Texas State University 14 years.

Previously, he was the youngest postmaster eight years at Kress in the 1920's.

Survivors include his wife; four daughters, Mrs. Dot Leavitt of Vega, Mrs. Evelyn Glover of Rochester, Mich., Mrs. Ardis Fleener of Alturo, Calif., and Mrs. Margie DeWeese of Brunswick, Mo.; the sons in Hereford and four others, Carl of Canyon, Don of Tulsa, Jack of Plainview and Bennie of Petaluma, Calif.; 31 grandchildren and 39 great-grandchildren.

Girlstown fund donations needed

Donations to the "Girlstown Christmas Fund," which is being sponsored by the Hereford Lions Clubs and others in District 2-T1, can be mailed locally to P.O. Box 761.

The objective of the drive is to raise $40 for each of the 165 girls at Girlstown to buy them a new coat and shoes for Christmas.

This year's co-chairmen of the "Girlstown Christmas Fund" are Lee Webb of KFDD-TV, Judy Davis, KVIL-TV, and Royce Bortford of KGNC-TV and radio.

Alr Force trainer Jim Conboy has seen every Falcon football game since the team began playing in 1965.

HOW TO BE SURE YOU GET PERFECT-EATING MEATS EVERY TIME:

- DEMAND USDA CHOICE GRADE
The grading done by experts licensed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture is the only important meat grading. They award USDA CHOICE grade only to meat of top eating quality. This official grade gives dependable quality assurance. ("Grade A" is not a USDA grade. Neither is "USDA Steer Beef," nor the retailer-named beef and packer-named beef being offered in this area. USDA GOOD Beef is a lower grade than USDA Choice.)
All cuts of Safeway Beef and Lamb are graded USDA CHOICE.
- CHECK THE WAY MEAT IS TRIMMED
Many markets leave lots of fat and bone and gristle on their steaks, chops and roasts. Customers buying these cuts pay extra or cannot be eaten at all. Smart homemakers know that many so-called meat "bargains" are actually very expensive because they have not been properly trimmed.
All Safeway meats are close-trimmed for better value and perfect eating.
- WHERE SATISFACTION IS GUARANTEED
Since most meats are planned around meals, you are entitled to complete satisfaction with every purchase. And certainly you shouldn't have to argue about a refund if any cut fails to please.
If ever you are not pleased with a Safeway meat purchase, just tell us and get all your money back.

Shower honors
Miss Beckman

A preliminary to her wedding, set for this weekend, a shower-tea honored Michelle Beckman
Sunday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Raynold Herr, with a score of the bride-elect's friends as hostesses.

Miss Beckman and Mickey Brisendine are to be married Friday in a ceremony at St. Anthony's Catholic Church.
She greeted guests at the shower with Mrs. Herr and her mother, Mrs. L.C. Beckman; her fiancé's mother, Mrs. T.E.
Brisendine; her sister, Mrs.
Tyler Vance of Amarillo, and her grandmother, Mrs. J.D.
Phillips.

Mrs. Gerald Nunley served cake squares and Marilyn James poured frosted punch while Nadine Tice invited callers to register. All members of the hostess party, they are school friends of the honoree.

The dining table was covered with lace and the centerpiece was white carnations in a green glass vase. Serving appointment were green glass and clear crystal. A single carnation tied with green ribbon was set on the registry table.

Miss Beckman and others in the receiving line were presented corsages of the same flowers.
The blonde honoree wore a knit dress in wintergreen shade with bands of white accenting the low waistline.

One of the hostesses, Mrs.
Paul Hoff, was among hostesses at a similar shower for Miss Beckman's mother when she was a bride.

Others included Mmes. M.J.
Koelzer, Jack Nunley, C. W.
James, Roger Ruland, A.C.
Stengel, Earnest Langely,
Charles Schlabs, Gene Loerwald,
W.J. Lueb, Frank Bezner, Leander
Reinart; Misses Linda Sten-gel, Margie Paetzold, Margaret Schlabs and Trisha Herr.
