

FIREMEN TO THE RESCUE—Members of the Hereford Volunteer Fire Department Rescue Squad, Jap Dickerson and Milton White, worked carefully and slowly Saturday afternoon to remove Pamela Nichols' caught finger. Mrs. Cassie Moxon, extreme right, sat with Pamela during the rescue work.

IT'S OUT—Pamela joyfully displays the released finger, which showed no injury other than slight swelling. The hour long ordeal had little effect on Pamela's spirits.

BACK IN POSITION—The innocent looking mailbox and stand was returned to its station on the sidewalk near the Nichol's home.

Little Pam Nichols learned Saturday that firemen can be mighty good friends when you get your finger stuck in a small hole and cannot get free.

Six-year-old Pamela, daughter of Mrs. Gennelle Nichols of 605 Stanton, was trying to retrieve a small toy beneath a neighbor's mailbox stand (originally a tire wheel,) when her right forefinger became lodged in a lug hole.

Hereford volunteer firemen's rescue squad was called to the scene shortly after 5 p.m. and worked for nearly an hour before Pamela pulled her finger out of the hole with nary a scratch upon it.

Since the weather was quite cool, Pamela and the mailbox were taken into the Nichol's living room, where Fireman Jap Dickerson used a slow speed drill to make another hole near the one where Pamela was trapped.

As soon as the hole was made, the thin thread of metal between the two holes was removed with a pliers type tool. Mrs. Cassie Moxon, a neighbor who is a nurse, sat with Pamela and helped her to keep the entrapped finger out of the workers' way. Pamela cooperated all the way through and hardly whimpered.

As soon as rescue work was completed, Pamela looked at her hand, covered with metal cuttings and water from ice cubes used to prevent swelling, and declared, "Ooh, I have to wash my hands."

Before the firemen had time to gather up all their tools, little Pam proved the adaptability of children when she asked her mother, "can I go play with Denise; I didn't get to play with her."

Whitefaces in search of first outright grid title since 1945

BY MARSHALL DAY

News Editor
The Hereford Whitefaces of Larry Dippel and staff, go into Friday night's game against Lubbock High with a dual purpose in mind, but neither one concerns the bi-district playoffs next week against the winner of 3-AAAA.

Dippel and his charges are looking to be the first Hereford High School district champion since 1945. That is, the only outright district champion without having to share the crown with another team.

The last time a Hereford team ever represented its district as the outright champion was in 1945 when they did it in a seven team district. That year they went into the bi-district contest against Phillips and tied them, but lost out on advancing because Phillips beat them on penetrations. The Whitefaces were in the same district with Friona, Dalhart, Dumas, Canyon, Tulla and Dimmitt.

Hereford has tied or represented their district six times since 1942 when it did it the first time. In 1942 the Whitefaces tied Phillips, but that time Hereford won on penetrations and went on to defeat Wellington for the regional crown. Regional was as far as teams advanced back then.

In 1944 Hereford tied with another team for the district championship and had a play-off game to decide the district representative. Hereford won but lost to Phillips in bi-district.

Then in 1945 Hereford, as mentioned before, won district for the last time on an outright basis, and went on to lose to Phillips in bi-district.

Then again in 1946 and in 1950 the Whitefaces were district co-champs. In 1946 they did not represent the district but they did in 1950 and lost.

The last time Hereford went into the play-offs was in 1968 when it tied with Perryton and Dumas but won a coin toss. Perryton that year was rated the No. 1 class AAA team in the state, but fell to the Whitefaces, 13-12.

In 1968 Hereford lost to Kermit in bi-district, 21-14 in a game played at Tech's Jones Stadium in Lubbock.

They also are looking to be one of a select group to ever beat all three of Lubbock's schools in one year.

"I believe this thing about the district championship and being undefeated in district is something," Dippel said. "I believe Plainview is one of the first teams to ever defeat all of Lubbock's schools in one year and I am looking forward to our game with Lubbock High this Friday."

Plainview, in accomplishing the feat, did it this year for the first time.

But, Dippel is not getting over-confident because the Westerners have won only two games this year and have one of the poorest records among the district's teams.

"They have the type of offense that they are capable of scoring touchdowns. They haven't scored a lot, but they've moved the ball quite well.

"This is the kind of situation that really concerns me," Dippel said. "we need to approach this game just like any other, because, like I said, they do have a capable offense to put points on the scoreboard and if we're not prepared, it could be a long night."

The Westerners' attack is spearheaded by senior field general Paul Meriwether who has completed almost 40 per cent of his passes and picked up about 500 yards with his receivers.

His primary targets are Duane Sarten who has nabbed 25 passes for 250 yards, Donnie Edwards who has caught 18 for 311 yards and Arthur Gutierrez who has caught 15 for 25 yards.

"These boys are good and they add to the game for Lubbock because they found out they had to throw a lot when their running game did not develop for them. Their coach, Tommy Stone, has been real disappointed in their rushing attack so they have gone to the air a lot," Dippel said.

The Westerners have gone to the air 179 times this year for about a 38 per cent completion mark. Besides Meriwether they

DAD'S NIGHT

Another special highlight to Friday's game will be the honoring of the fathers of the varsity players during Dad's Night.

The fathers of the players will be given a number tag to wear about their shoulders. The tags will have the same number as the number on their son's jersey and the fathers will sit on the sideline during the game.

The boys and their fathers will be introduced just prior to the start of the game.

School nominated for special award

Hereford's Tierra Blanca Elementary school is one of a select group of schools throughout the state that have been nominated for a demonstration school in individualized instruction.

Three representatives of the Texas Education Agency were in Hereford all day Tuesday, visiting with school officials and at the elementary school. They spent the day with school officials and indicated Tierra Blanca has a good chance of becoming one of the "finalists" in the network.

"After lunch Tuesday they expressed the fact that Tierra Blanca was well in the running and had a good possibility of being nominated," assistant superintendent Bob Holman said at Tuesday's school board meeting.

If the local school is selected, write-ups will appear in national publications and will possibly be visited by large numbers of out-of-state school officials, Holman said.

Announcement of the selections will be made in early 1972. "Across the country there is a move toward developing individualized instruction. In Texas they run a state-wide network for school, looking for this type of school and program," he said.

Hereford school officials were approached for nomination by the assistant commissioner for educational planning of the Texas Education Agency.

During this school year the leaders of the TEA in Texas will designate a small number of schools as demonstration centers in a network to spotlight the various approaches to individualized instruction. The Texas steering committee for the Network of Demonstration Schools in Individualized Instruction is chaired by N.W. Kilgore of the Tyler Independent School District.

Representatives of the Hereford system were sent a lengthy application which they filled out and returned to the TEA. The application asked questions pertaining to Tierra Blanca's individualized instruction, team teaching, minicourses, independent study, student self-appraisal, contracts, open space concept and other items.

Only about 20 schools in the state are still in the running, Holman said.

During the day when the officials made the visit to the local school system and with local school officials, they were presented a showing of a new slide presentation put together by Holman, Naomi Hopson, Reeves Whittington, Eudene Glover and Mrs. Holman.

That same slide presentation, which is accompanied by a tape recording of the purpose and results of Tierra Blanca's non-graded program, was presented to the school board members Tuesday.

The school officials spent several weeks in the preparation of the script and the presentation and hope to be able to use it in future presentations.

Rape charges filed Sunday

A 25-year-old Hereford man remained in county jail this week on $5,000 bond on charges of raping a 16-year-old girl.

Tommy Perez, 417 Ave. G, was arrested Monday by the county sheriff's office and charged with the rape of a girl living in the Labor Camp.

According to investigating officers, the girl called the sheriff's office early Sunday morning and told them she had been raped. She told them Perez and another man had forced her and another girl into a car at the Labor Camp and drove them west of town on the old Prisoner of War road.

It was there the alleged rape took place, officers said.

The girls were then brought back to the Labor Camp and let out and the men left.

The other girl was not assaulted, but the other man is being sought in the case for questioning.

Arrest made in burglary

The arrest last week of a Hereford man on burglary charges has resulted in the clearing of some 16 thefts and burglaries throughout the area over the past year.

Gerald Thomas Prater, 34, of 326 Ave. I, was arrested last week by sheriff's officers at his home on charges of burglary at night. Following extensive questioning by officers, Prater disclosed he was involved in at least 15 other burglaries over a long period of time.

Sheriff Travis McPherson said Prater was picked up about 2:30 p.m. Friday at his home after several weeks of investigation by officers. He was arrested in connection with the Oct. 28 burglary of the R. G. Lynch farm where some $1,000 in assorted farm tools were taken.

McPherson said Prater admitted he was involved in other burglaries in the Hereford area and around Dalhart. He said Prater admitted he was involved in all the burglaries over a period of about one year.

Deputies had been working on the case since the burglary at the Lynch farm and had Prater under observation when they learned he was about to move from Hereford. It was then they went to his home to arrest him and discovered a number of the missing items at his home.

He was taken to the sheriff's office and questioned where he admitted to the other thefts and burglaries.

MEETING CONTRACT — Members of the Deaf Smith County National Farmers Organization lined up and waited at Big Tex Grain this week as their part in a 100,000,000 pound grain contract signed recently with the company. Storage facilities were quickly filled and much of the grain had to put out on the ground.

County considers hiring of local attorney in big law suit

The county commission Monday took steps to see if a local attorney should and would be interested in helping represent the county in the $322,000 law suit filed against it in connection with the September drowning death of a 17-year-old Hereford man.
Though no definite decision was reached, and the commission said it wanted to confer with other law firms about the matter it was indicated the county would hire a local lawyer for the case.
If a lawyer is hired, he would work along with the lawyer hired by the insurance company that is representing the county.
The $322,000 suit, which named the county judge and the county commissioners as defentotal of $265,000 and an appropriate amount for any pain and suffering or other items of damages that would be appropriate.

"It is our contention Deaf Smith County was negligent in creating the defective condition or design of the roadway which resulted in the death of my client and also, that Deaf Smith County was negligent in failing to warn or barricade the road or take any appropriate safety precautions."
The commissioners, in discussing the matter Monday, decided it would be to their benefit to hire a local attorney to help the insurance company's selected attorney. They said this would give them a better representation.

The Easter Lions Club is holding its annual (8th annual according to Kenneth Frye, president of the club) Turkey Shoot. This year's event is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. Saturday, November 20th and everyone is invited to attend. Kenneth says, just meet on Easter's "Main Street"—that's so you'll be sure not to get lost.

But better be careful while down there. The Lions may sell you a 14 cent ball point pen and give you a chance to win a Remington Model 1100 12-gauge shotgun to be given away December 11, 1971.

Charles Lanehart, representative of Congressman Bob Price, will be at the County Courthouse in Hereford from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on November 17. If you have any gripes or anything that the Congressman can help you with, you're invited to visit with Mr. Lanehart on that day. Price will continue to represent this district until January, 1973 when the redistricting will become effective.

And speaking of football, we're extremely proud of the fabulous Hereford Whitefaces. The Herd has nailed down the district championship and has only Lubbock High left to play. That game will be Friday night and with a win in that contest, it will be a clean sweep for the season's conference play.

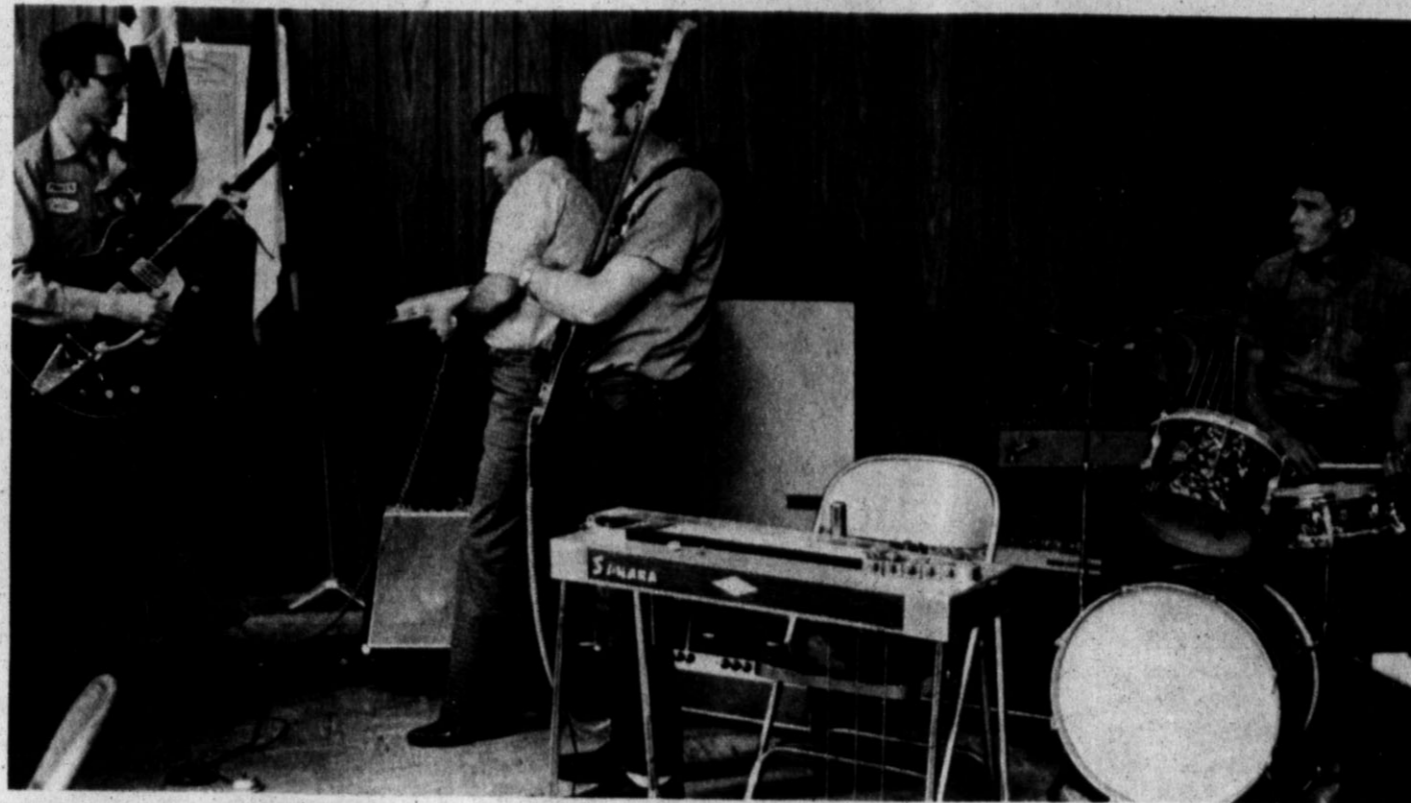

We might add too, that a win Friday night will assure us a sell-out crowd for the bi-district game, wherever it is held. It's a good bet that we'll be playing Pampa in that contest.

—HB—
Incidentally, our district has undergone some changes for the coming year. Snyder will be included next year and we will play them at Snyder. The remainder of our schedule will remain the same as this year including the sites. In other words we will play Coronado at Lubbock, Lubbock High here, etc. Snyder is about 180 miles from Hereford—about the same distance, or perhaps a few more miles, as Perryton.

Let's face it—it's a long way from Hereford to anywhere.

If you haven't already eaten breakfast—or even if you have—the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars would like for you to come by the American Legion post home this morning for breakfast. All veterans (and their families) whether you've ever been a member of either organization or not, is invited to attend. It won't cost you a dime—unless, of course, Ira Ott catches you and makes you pay your dues. But come on by. You'll enjoy it.

We're happy to see that the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals has upheld a lower court decision in a flag burning case, affirming the four-year prison sentence assessed Gary Allen Deeds, 20, for burning a flag in Dallas' Lee Park April 19, 1970. The court said that flag burn-

Farmers must use storage to prevent grain price drops

The Grain Committee Chairman of Deaf Smith County NFO, J.E. McCathern, says that feed grain prices will drop to even lower levels unless farmers make use of every possibility for putting their production in storage. "With prices now at less than cost of production we must do more than we've ever done before to avoid dumping grain on the market and to head off further declines", he said. "Farmers should make use of all available programs, government and otherwise, to store as much of their corn, milo, wheat, barley and oats as they possibly can."

McCathern said farmers are in a position to build a market for feed grains by working together and keeping control of their products until higher prices can be negotiated to offset higher costs of production.

Three market-building possibilities, he said, are available to all farmers: —Use all available on-farm facilities to store feed grains and add capacity as needed with government financing arranged through local ASCS offices. —Store in elevators, ASCS bin at low prices during harvest and then joins the government in dumping enough on the market the rest of the year to keep prices cheap."

Handmade gifts on display at club meeting

Handmade articles suitable for gifts were displayed by members of West Hereford Home Demonstration Club at their meeting Tuesday in Mrs. Robert Boyd's home. Each brought an example of craft work she has done recently.

Two new members, Mrs. E.B. Berryman and Mrs. Cora Bentley, were welcomed by Mrs. E. M. Cox, president, who also read a poem, I'm Getting Older, to preface the program.

The club's annual Thanksgiving luncheon was set for Nov. 23 in the home of Mrs. D.W. Allmon. The hostess gift was presented to Mrs. Blanche Hardin. Also present were Mmes. John Jacobson Sr., D. R. Grimes, W.H. Awtry Sr., W.A. Waters, Roy Boyd, Allmon; Misses Mary Brady and Evelyn Bell.

Program benefits area landowners

The Great Plains Conservation Program can aid landowners or operators financially in setting up their operation or just adding new and better practices to their operation, says Dan Herrington of the Soil Conservation Service.

Assistance through the Great Plains Conservation Program ranges from 50 per cent to 80 per cent cost share depending upon the practice to be installed. Many farmers in Deaf Smith County have taken advantage of the program available to them.

Howard Johnson owns an 87-acre farm North of Hereford and wanted to change the farm into a cattle operation. He inquired about the assistance available through the Great Plains Conservation Program and decided that the program would help him make the change and add new improvements to his farm.

Through the program Johnson is planting Tall Wheatgrass and a mixture of Tall Fescue, Smooth Bromegrass, and Orchard grass. He will irrigate the grass using a surface irrigation system of graded borders and one field with a sprinkler irrigation system. Also Johnson is getting assistance on underground irrigation pipeline and a tailwater return system for the farm.

The Great Plains Conservation Program has many more cost shared practices set up under the program. If any landowner or operator is planning to change his operation or wants to install more conservation practices on his farm, Herrington says he should contact the Soil Conservation Service for assistance available.

MAKING CHECK — Dan Herrington of the Soil Conservation Service, checks sprinkler head pressure on the Howard Johnson farm. Johnson is one of many landowners and operators who have taken advantage of the programs offered by the SCS.

CHECKS A WASH OUT — LONG BEACH, N.Y. (AP) — Two hundred forged City of New York Finance Department checks were washed up on the beach here. Some of them were for amounts of $400. "We don't know whether it's a new ring at work or whether the old ring is at work again," said Investigation Commissioner Robert K. Ruskin. Some of the checks were in sheets of three and four. All had stubs attached. Some bore signatures and serial numbers.

Clayton accuses Muskie of political manipulation

State Rep. Bill Clayton, executive director of Water, Inc., has accused U.S. Sen. Edward Muskie of political manipulation in the Senate-passed Federal Water Pollution Control bill now pending before the House of Representatives.

Clayton, who blasted the senator from Maine during a press interview at the just concluded Interstate Conference on Water Problems at Boston, Mass., said the bill would dilute state rights in the field of water resource development and management and would delegate to the federal government many powers and authorities that should rightly belong to the states. Not only that, Clayton said, but if passed in its present form, the resulting program would be impossible to administer and it would be impossible for the states to finance.

Clayton was named first vice-chairman of the Conference which is joining in an informal association with the State Sanitary Engineers and the Pollution Control Administrators of each of the states in an effort to establish better understanding between the various elements of water resource development and management. The Interstate Conference on Water Problems is an organization made up of water officials from all of the 50 states. They are chiefly concerned with the development, protection, use, re-use, management and cleaning the water of their respective states.

The entire Conference, Clayton said, was greatly concerned about the pending Federal Water Pollution Control bill, and officers of the conference, including Clayton, met for a full-day workshop with the House Public Works Committee staff to see if language might be incorporated into the House version of the measure to prevent the erosion of state rights.

Clayton was recently appointed chairman of the Intergovernmental Relations Committee of the National Legislative Conference, an organization involved with state legislatures. He expressed a hope that the Interstate Conference on Water Problems and the National Legislative Conference can unite their thinking and efforts in the field of water resource development and management, and that the states can move forward without intervention from the federal establishment. Serving in these two key positions, Clayton said he felt would give a very definite advantage to Water, Inc., giving the organization first hand knowledge of what is going on in these two conferences on the one hand, and giving Water, Inc., sounding boards on the national level on the other.

Mrs. Boydston bidden goodbye

Mrs. J.J. Boydston, moving from Hereford after more than half a century's residence here, was honored at an informal coffee Tuesday morning in the home of Mrs. E.M. Green, with Mrs. J.A. McNeil as co-hostess.

They invited neighbors and close friends of Mrs. Boydston for the opportunity of wishing her happiness in a new home at Lubbock, just before her departure for that city. She left Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Boydston was Marie Casebolt when she came to Hereford with her parents in 1918 from Missouri. Later that year she married J.J. Boydston, whose death occurred about two years ago.

Perhaps best known to residents here as librarian at Deaf Smith County Library, Mrs. Boydston held that position 19 years.

Her son, Jack, the only child, resides in Lubbock, prompting her move there.

Callers who registered at the coffee during the two hours of visiting were Mmes. Henry Thomas, Robert Betzen, W.C. Davis, Ed Warreh, O.H. Culpepper, George Schulte, Annie Springer, C. Ora Cockrell.

Also Mmes. Hardy Benson, Raymond Dement, Coy Fryar, Burj France, Bessie Smith, Waldo Baxter, Buddy Bloomer, Clete Cortis, Velma Hodges, Joe Kendall, Fred Collett and Felix

Kuykendall.

Club thanked for music gift

Contribution of sheet music to an international relations project of the National Federation of Music Clubs brought a letter of appreciation to Music Study Club, read at its meeting Monday morning in the home of Mrs. Joe Hacker.

From the national chairman of music distribution, the letter thanked the Hereford club for two cartons of music sent for the project. It was shipped after a recent sorting and rearranging of music in the section of Deaf Smith County Library which Music Study Club maintains.

Awards won by the club at the convention last week of First District, Texas Federation of Music Clubs, were presented at the meeting after Mrs. Allen Cansler reported on convention programs including a memorial tribute to the late Mrs. A. O. Thompson, longtime member here.

One citation was for outstanding yearbook, another for outstanding participation in observing National Music Week. Certificates for aid in Music Week programs were received by the club also for Hereford high and junior high schools, the Hereford Brand, radio station KPAN, Jim Hannaford and Doug Morris.

Mrs. A. J. Schroeter directed the program on The Mature Baroque, speaking of Italian opera as characteristic of that era in music, also development of instrumental music, especially the great string music of the 17th century and its reflection in great violins produced by Stradavari and others in Cremona.

Music from the baroque period heard on the program, included Toccato in E Minor by Pachelbel, played by Mrs. Hacker; two songs by the English composer Purcell, Thy Hand, Belinda and When I Am Laid in Earth, by Mrs. Cansler with Mrs. Bill Devers as accompanist.

Also four dance measures by Bach, a two-piano selection by Mrs. Elles Coombes and Mrs.

Schroeter, and Loeliet's Suite for Harpsichord, by Mrs. J. E. McCracken.

Mrs. Carl Mountz led group singing of the NFMC hymn of the month, For the Beauty of the Earth, accompanied by Mrs. Schroeter.

Mrs. Paul Lyons was co-hostess with Mrs. Hacker. They served refreshments to those on program and Mmes. Wes Fisher, Lynton Alford, Jesse Stanford, W. T. Carmichael, T. W. Roberson, J. T. Gilbreath, Bill Penn, Steve Clements, Glenn Snyder, Ed Line and Miss Frances Dameron.

CHRISTMAS PROJECT TIME — Starting the 1971 Project Christmas Card, members of Hereford Medical Auxiliary met in Mrs. M. W. Nobles' home Monday to plan enlistment of area cooperation. Mrs. Kenneth Hunt, president, at left shows off a new poster to be used this year; longtime members and past presidents, Mrs. A. T. Mims and the hostess, inspect one of the frames which will hold a canister to receive contributions in a Hereford business house or bank. The Auxiliary each year asks area residents to contribute the amount they would spend for cards and postage to send holiday greetings to local friends; instead, a page of greetings carrying names of all contributors appears in the Christmas edition of the Hereford Brand. Money raised in this project buys equipment needed by Deaf Smith General Hospital, but not available in the budget.

Holiday giving begins in club

Cash and articles for the Christmas gift shop at Amarillo Veterans Hospital were brought to their lunch Tuesday by members of Pioneer Study Club, who planned to bring to the December 14 meetings gifts for less fortunate families of this city.

Mrs. M.L. Simpson, chairman of the veterans aid committee, reported on needs of patients at the Amarillo VA facility and explained that cash goes to a social fund or a patients comfort fund as designated by givers. The club voted for cash donated by individuals to go to one, and a gift from the treasury to the other.

Christmas gifts to the needy were planned after a report by Mrs. Burl France on welfare needs in Hereford. The Christmas lunch will be at the Calson House, with a gift exchange by members afterward.

The program Tuesday was on Panhandle Ranch Landmarks and Cattle Trails.

Mrs. O.G. Hill Sr. spoke of noted ranches, showing their locations on a map. They include the XIT, with its Escarbada headquarters in this county; the 6666, still in operation; the T-Ancor, part now on West Texas State University campus; and the Yellow House, headquartered in Lamb County.

Mrs. Paul Rudd traced some historic cattle trails along which herds were driven to northern markets before the range was fenced. She named the Chisholm, Goodnight and Western trails as best known, and said the longest cattle drive went all the way to New York.

Mrs. Delmar Sigle gave the meditation on the quotation,

After that great flood, God made a covenant with Noah saying He would never destroy all life upon the earth again. He sealed that covenant with His Son and gave us the rainbow as a reminder. We all know the colors of the rainbow, each so distinct and yet a part of the others. Smoothly and effortlessly they blend together forming one spectacular sight. One for all and all for one, so to speak. God has another rainbow, the rainbow of mankind. And again the colors are familiar, and they are the colors of all the different races. But, unfortunately, in this rainbow, the colors don't always blend. Each hue seems more concerned with emphasizing its own individual virtues than with creating a beautiful harmonious whole. Remembering the covenant and the deep meaning of the first rainbow, shouldn't we, as true Christians, ask God for the opportunity to truly unite the colors in the rainbow of man? Let us make our covenant with God to see that all the colors harmonize.

Highlights and sidelights from your state capital

BY BILL BOYKIN

AUSTIN, Tex.—A blue-ribbon study commission has come out strong for state constitutional revision and widespread restructuring of the state and local governmental system.

The Texas Urban Development Commission, winding up an 18-month study which enlisted the services of experts and laymen, handed its 200-page report to Gov. Preston Smith.

Smith, commending the body for charting "a clear course for those in government to act on," announced appointment of a 17-member, permanent Texas Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations. The latter will follow up on the report of the study group headed by Arlington Mayor Tom J. Vandergriff as chairman and Dr. Earl M. Lewis of Trinity University in San Antonio.

"The Texas Constitution," said the Commission, "should be thoroughly changed to allow state and local governments to exercise more initiative and to be more responsive to current and future demands but at the same time free to be truly responsive to changing needs and emerging problems."

Among 50 major recommendations were the following: *State government should begin moving toward a new organizational and management system and consolidation of urban services in about 20 existing agencies.

*The governor should have more power over budgeting and appointments and removal of state agency governing boards chairmen.

*Local governments should be reorganized to meet specific local needs and granted greater fiscal authority through additional revenue sources and property tax overhaul.

*Growth of special purpose districts must be checked.

*Urban growth planning programs and coordinated land planning should be launched at all levels of government.

APPOINTMENTS—George E. Stanley of Port Arthur was named to the Veterans Affairs Commission, succeeding the late Charles C. Ford of Longview.

Governor Smith named 10 members of the Criminal Justice Council executive committee and designated L. O'Brien Thompson of Amarillo as chairman.

Smith appointed an 18-member study committee on traffic court reorganization.

Lawrence L. Jester has been designated district engineer of the State Highway Department's Atlanta district on retirement of G. A. Youngs.

William G. Reid of Austin will serve as general counsel for the recently-established Texas Criminal Defense Lawyers Association.

LI. Gov. Ben Barnes named committees to study the system of state licensing and examining boards and retirement benefits for employees of public educational institutions.

BONDS SOLD — Continuation of the veterans land program was assured by sale of $20.8 million in bonds.

The low bid of 4.48943 per cent effective net interest was submitted by a group of 50 investors. The constitutional ceiling on interest rates is 4.5 per cent for the program.

Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong said the sale means the program can operate until almost the end of 1972 when Texas voters will have a chance to pass a constitutional amendment to raise the interest rate ceiling to six per cent.

The Veterans Land Board is constitutionally authorized to sell another $70.7 million in bonds. More than 43,500 Texans have bought land under the program.

A NEW GOVERNOR—Texas will have a new governor briefly in December—when Sen. W. E. (Pete) Snelson of Midland takes over as chief executive for the day.

Snelson, as president pro tempore of the Senate, is third in line for the governorship. Governor Smith and Lieutenant Governor Barnes will absent themselves from the state December 4 so Snelson can have the honor of serving as governor. He represents 35 counties of the 25th senatorial district.

COURTS SPEAK—The State Court of Criminal Appeals upheld Texas' abortion law, and said the state has the right to prohibit operations, in a decision conflicting with a June 18, 1970, three-judge federal court ruling at Dallas.

The Court of Criminal Appeals also reversed a Waco marijuana conviction due to improper questioning of witnesses by the prosecuting attorney.

State Supreme Court heard arguments in a suit seeking to nullify University of Texas acquisition of a 588-acre Odessa site for the new UT-Permian Basin campus because of the proximity of oil and gas equipment and a potential safety hazard.

AG OPINIONS—The governor can commute death sentences to life imprisonment even though convictions are on appeal, Atty. Gen. Carward Martin held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded: *A new "surtax" on misdemeanor and felony convictions ($2.50 to $10) cannot be assessed for offenses committed prior to last August 30, date the law went into effect.

*Issue of tax cancellation certificates are authorized, and should cover all tax certificates showing no taxes due which had been previously and lawfully issued.

*Computation of actual interest expense incurred and to be recovered as an item of selling price on long term federal water contracts shall be made by applying the cumulative average effective rate to only that portion of the "direct cost" of the facility which is attributable to Texas Water Development Fund money.

PESTICIDE DECISION PUT OFF—The new State Pesticide Advisory Committee delayed its decision on banning DDT for household uses.

No recommendation was made because the Environmental Protection Agency has not made its official rulings on DDT, committee chairman Dr. Perry Adkisson of Texas A&M University said.

The five-member committee will meet again December 7 to consider the matter. Texas Department of Agriculture, charged with administering the state law on pesticides, asked advice from the advisory panel authorized by the Legislature this year.

HUNT INVITE "DISAPPEARS"—State legislators and officials who had been invited to hunt on state game management areas found the invitations suddenly withdrawn after newspapers publicized them.

Parks and Wildlife Department Executive Director James U. Cross issued the invitations, although other would-be deer hunters are required to draw for the limited number of free permits in the areas. PW Commissioners expressed doubt special exceptions could be made for state officials and legislators, so the bid was unceremoniously taken back. One commissioner called for Cross's resignation over the incident, but the new director said he plans to stay on the job.

POOL MEET SLATED—Complaints about the new Texas catastrophe pool insurance plan will be aired at a public hearing here December 7.

The State Board of Insurance announced it will "consider all aspects" of the plan approved by the Legislature for 14 sea-coast counties this year.

Texas Association of Insurance Agents will offer testimony and stress "positive steps" that can make the pool work as intended.

Short Snorts Attorney General Martin lambasted the new state code of ethics for public officials as a "virtual mishmash" and predicted a court effort by one or more political subdivisions to invalidate it.

An experimental fusion machine, which may help revolutionize energy-producing mechanisms, has been dedicated at the University of Texas.

State health authorities rechecked September rabies tests after a faulty lab check came close to letting a case of the deadly disease escape detection.

Three railroad union legislative boards have merged into a single United Transportation Union, Texas Legislative Board to represent 12,000 railroad and bus line employees on legislation.

Deer hunting, one of the state's biggest businesses—involving 510,000 "customers" who spend about $88 million in two months on 37 million acres of leased land—gets under way this weekend in most counties.

Governor Smith declined the request of New York Attorney Roy Cohn for a special investigating committee to look into the $228 million Moody Foundation, saying he has no authority to name a committee with subpoena power.

Group to conduct church services The First Church of the Nazarene will be host this weekend to a group of students from Bethany Nazarene College in Bethany, Oklahoma.

The "Gospel Outreach Group" will be singing and preaching in the Sunday morning service at 11 a.m. and evening service at 7 p.m. Sunday School will be at 10:00 a.m.

Rev. Bill Ray, pastor, invites everyone to these special services.

EXPLAINS SCHOOL SET-UP — Bob Holman, coordinator of education for the Hereford Public School System, last week explained to Wednesday's Lions Club members the type of teaching methods being used in local schools. Using the theory "the purpose of education is to teach the students how to learn," Holman explained various programs available to place each student within his own individual learning level.

Water group in membership drive

The "voice" for future water for West Texas and Eastern New Mexico is Water, Inc. The non-profit educational and promotional organization, now in the midst of a 45-day membership drive, boasts more than 2,500 members. They are combining their money and efforts in a unique organization dedicated to "Action Today for Water Tomorrow."

Water, Inc., is a membership-supported entity whose uniqueness stems from amalgamation of all economic interests, banded together in a common cause. . . the future water needs of all, agriculture, municipalities and industry. It stands firmly behind the Texas Water Plan, looking to the Mississippi river as the most likely source for a future water supply.

Deriving its principal financing from membership dues, its education program is carried out, in the main, through county units. These units, comprised of all members living within a given county, are spearheading this year's drive for members.

Dues are set on a formula basis by directors, taking into consideration the size of the business or farming operation of the prospective member. At the present time, individual dues range up to percent $5,000 per member for several larger businesses and organizations.

"It is only through an expanding membership that we can attain our goals," said Gaston Wells, Dumas, president of Water, Inc. He urged all non-members to seriously consider affiliation with the organization.

CARD OF THANKS I wish to express my gratitude for each visit, cards, flowers and other expressions of concern during my stay in the hospital. Thank you so much. Donnie Owen

Organ concert opens CCA year

Organ technique in an exciting display by Joyce Jones, who gave the initial concert of Hereford Community Concert Association's season, was understood more clearly by the applauding listeners because of informal comments by the young artist.

Dazzling pedal work for which Miss Jones is noted, was stressed in several selections where solo passages were played entirely with her feet.

Her concert was made up of classical organ compositions, the entire first section by the master organist J. S. Bach. Responding to three encores, she played lighter pieces, one a popular song from Sound of Music.

Miss Jones explained use of a concert organ for various special effects such as chimes, in remarks between her solos. She said she likes to talk to her audiences, since she realizes that her's is not a common instrument for such recitals.

She added that she owes her virtuosity on the pedals to an accident which injured her right hand while she was a teenage piano student. While she could not practice the piano she turned to the organ, learning use of the pedals until she became so interested that she changed her major study to that instrument.

Miss Jones was introduced by Hazen Woods, Hereford CCA president who welcomed members to this first program of a new series. Remaining concerts are scheduled for the spring, with appearance of Three on Broadway, scenes from popular musical shows, April 3 and the Stan Kenton orchestra April 23.

Painting is topic in club

Mrs. Frank Zinser, who presented a program entitled Take Time For Art at Veleda Study Club Tuesday evening, gave a history of the origin of art and told of the introduction of oil paintings to the world.

A display of Oriental Japanese paintings preceded her demonstration on painting landscapes.

Roll call was answered with Do Your Own Thing—What's Yours by Mmes. Bill Bradley, Joe Frank Clark, George Olson, George Ritter, James Trail and John Poindexter.

A change in the Nov. 23 meeting lists Mrs. Armon Lauderback as hostess.

WANTS DEATH PENALTY DALLAS (AP) — State Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin said during the State Bar of Texas convention that he will go to Washington in the fall to urge that capital punishment be continued.

"Texas will seek to uphold the death penalty and I will go to the hearings," Martin said.

The population of Baltimore, Md., is about 47 per cent Negro.

TOYS COLLECTED — Toys presented to the Veterans of Foreign Wars post here for distribution to underprivileged children at Christmas, have been given by various groups in the Campfire program in Hereford and placed in a big box made and decorated with a Santa picture by girls of the Singing Bluebirds group. Several members display samples of the gifts as John Green of the VFW post admires the collection in the box at a recent meeting in the Campfire Lodge.

Moving story of star's life told

Nat King Cole is the touching story written by his wife, Maria Cole, telling of his life from the time he was four years old until his death from cancer at the age of 41. It reveals his life as a friend as well as a great singing star.

This book is found on the first floor of the Deaf Smith County Courthouse in the Deaf Smith County Library. Try it out today.
NAT KING COLE
 By Maria Cole
 The Story of Nat King Cole begins with a skinny, four-year-old boy being pushed onto the stage of a Chicago theater to play Yes, We Have No Bananas on the piano. It ends in a hospital room in Santa Monica, Calif., into which poured messages of prayer and hope from all over the world.

In early 1942, as America rose in arms against Japan, Major General Joseph W. Stilwell had been sent to China to shore up our flagging ally, Chiang Kai-shek.

It was a curious and controversial mission of vital importance but with slim chance for success. Among the men whom Stilwell took with him was his aide, Lieutenant Colonel Frank Dorn, who had served with the general in China before the war. Dorn, at Stilwell's request, kept a record of the daily events of this time, and this record served initially as the basis of Stilwell's own official report to Washington after the collapse of the Burma Front.

Now, using those same notes, General Dorn tells in his first hand, exciting manner the story of Stilwell and his command, their brief days on Chungking, the Allied defeat in Burma later that spring, and the long "walk-out" to safety.

With the British Army of Burma in full retreat to the west and the Chinese armies withdrawing to the north, Stilwell to his command on the long march to India, keeping just ahead of the advancing Japanese but with little food or medical supplies and no radio contact with any other command.

Under his constant prodding, this small group—it included Gordon Seagrave ("the Burma Surgeon"), Colonel Frank Merrill (of Merrill's Marauders), and an assortment of Chinese guards, American soldiers, and seven British Quakers—managed to keep itself together and moving through the difficult terrain of north Burma, despite the dangers of the trip and the decline of morale.

Here is a moving and intimate portrait of Joe Stilwell. It is also the tale of the machinations and corruption on the Chinese high command in Chungking that constantly provoked controversy and undermined not only Stilwell's own mission to stiffen Chinese resistance against the invading Japanese but also the whole Allied war effort in South-east Asia.

Let's cook something

Sandwich makes meal when dipped, fried

BY CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

The French have a way of making interesting sandwiches—the kind that are eaten with knife and fork.

They layer a filling between two slices of bread and then dip the sandwiches in an egg-and-milk batter and fry them in butter. Yes, these are French-toasted sandwiches.

Now an American cook has used this idea for a new combination. These sandwiches have three layers of bread—thinly sliced, please—and one filling of deviled ham and another of chicken spread. They're French-toasted in the manner described above.

These are rich sandwiches! When we served them for lunch we found they had real staying power. Nothing more than sweet gherkins nestled in small lettuce cups need accompany them. For dessert serve a refreshing fruit.

MONTE CRISTO SANDWICHES

- 1/4 cup (1/4 of a quarter-pound stick) butter, soft
- 12 thin slices bread
- 1 can (4 1/2 ounces) deviled ham
- 4 slices Swiss cheese
- 1 can (4 1/4 ounces) chicken spread
- 2 large eggs
- one-third cup milk
- Extra butter for frying

Use the 1/4 cup soft butter for spreading on the bread and making the sandwiches as follows:

Butter one side of 4 slices of bread; spread buttered sides with deviled ham; top with slices of cheese.

Butter both sides of 4 more slices of bread; place over cheese; spread with chicken spread.

Butter one side of remaining 4 slices of bread; place over chicken spread.

FRENCH-TOASTED SANDWICHES—With a filling of deviled ham and one of chicken spread, they are rich as can be.

You will now have 4 sandwiches, 3 slices of bread in each. Trim crusts.

In a shallow container beat eggs until yolks and whites are combined; add milk; beat to combine.

Dip sandwiches in egg-milk mixture, coating both sides of each sandwich.

In a 10-inch skillet over moderate heat melt 2 tablespoons extra butter; add sandwiches and fry until golden-brown on both sides. Serve at once.

Makes 4 rich servings.

CHOPPERS CHECKED

OCEAN CITY, Md. (AP) — The city council responding to complaints of "noise pollution," has revoked the landing permit for a popular sight-seeing helicopter.

Residents under the chopper's flight path said the noise from flights, as many as 80 per day, constituted a nuisance.

Tea compliment to bride-elect

Gifts to a bride-elect were presented Miss Kaylanette Battenfield at a tea in her honor Saturday, in the Flame Room of Pioneer Gas Company. Miss Battenfield and Rick Rehnart are to be married Nov. 20 in St. Anthony's Catholic Church here.

With her mother, Mrs. Frank Battenfield, and Rehnart's mother, Mrs. Alfred Rehnart, she greeted guests who registered at a table where Mrs. Larry Alley presided.

A single long-stemmed blue carnation tied with yellow streamers decorated the registry table. More of the carnations were arranged with yellow mums on the table where Miss Ginger Goodin served punch and Miss Patsy Paetzold poured coffee. Wedding bells in the two colors ornamented the white net cloth that covered the table.

Special guests at the tea were grandmothers of the couple, Mrs. Cora Bentley, Mrs. Rena Battenfield and Mrs. A. H. Rehnart.

In the hostess party were Meses. A. H. Husmann, Walter Kuper, Ray Berend, Roy Kuper, Henry Kuper, Connie Urban-czyk, David Watson, Reece Lawson, Gerald Paetzold, Norbert Skypala, Calvin Goodin, Joe Schulte, Pat Robinson, C. P. Urban-czyk, Edward Paetzold and Alley.

Approximately 85 guests called or sent gifts.

CAMPFIRE INITIATION — Shle-ta-ki-ya Horizon Club Campfire girls were recently initiated at the Campfire Lodge with Mrs. Gerald Sledge, leader, presiding. Anita Petty, on tricycle, pays the penalty for forgetting to pay dues. Others initiated were, from left, Valarie Moseley, Jeannine Bradly, Debra Lindsey, Frances Burrus, Linda Cornett, D' Lyn Davison, Lynn Wiley, Karen Anstey; Mary Oakes, holding Jinx who was a part of the initiation program; Leesa Sledge, and guest Jana Sledge. All are ninth grade students at Stanton Junior High.

Children's play date scheduled

Date of the annual Christmas-time play for children, to be sponsored here again this year by Hereford Community Players, has been set for Dec. 10 by the Alpha Psi Omega actors at West Texas State University, it was announced at the Players' meeting Monday evening in Community Center.

Instead of the usual Saturday matinee performance of past years, this will be an evening show. The student actors, who stage a play for children during the holidays each year to benefit the APO scholarship fund, have been brought here several years to entertain Hereford youngsters—and a number of their parents.

Bill Jordan represented the fraternity at the Monday meeting and said the show this year will be a musical with a Christmas theme, titled Rags to Riches.

He also explained the Friends of the Fine Arts organization at WTSU, and said programs by faculty and students will be available to such area organizations as the Community Players.

Peter Fox, Amarillo Little Theater director, was the guest speaker introduced by John Al-in. He talked informally of Texas Non-Profit Theaters Inc., an organization formed last year to include community and student acting groups over the state.

Look to future taken by BSP

Future activities of City Beta Sigma Phi Council were outlined at a meeting Monday evening in Hereford State Bank Hospitality Room. First on the list are annual fall rituals for all Hereford chapters of the sorority, scheduled at 8 p.m. Nov. 16 in Community Center.

Far in the future but calling for preparation now, Hereford members' part in the state BSP convention at Amarillo next June was discussed. Local members will conduct the closing rituals. Mrs. Harold Beauchamp was named chairman of the planning committee.

Announcement was made that candidates for Valentine Queen have been chosen by all three local chapters, for selection of one to be crowned at the annual ball Feb. 12. The nominees are Mrs. Bobby Jones of Kappa Iota chapter, Mr. Jim Cramer of Xi Epsilon Alpha and Mrs. Max Stipe of Alpha Alpha.

Mrs. John Schneider is general chairman of arrangements for the Valentine Ball. Mrs. Cliff Jones was appointed to find the place for the event.

Council members at the meeting Monday were Meses. Hicks Roberson, Melvin Fowler, Howard Gore, Gary Gore, Nolan Grady, Tom Buchanan, Davis Sorrells, Fred Ruland, Kenneth Ruland, Cliff Jones, Cramer, Schneider and Stipe.

VOE STUDENT OF THE WEEK — Cathy Koozer has been selected as Vocational Office Education Student of the Week. She is the 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Elliott, 201 Baltimore Drive. Miss Koozer is employed at Panciera Tire and Supply as bookkeeper. Her employer is Ted Panciera, shown. Upon graduation from high school she plans to attend West Texas State University and continue secretarial work.

Washington report—from Cong. Bob Price

After four days of debate extending over two weeks, the House passed a bill extending the Higher Education Act of 1965. I am pleased the 231 of my colleagues joined me in adding an amendment which prohibits the Federal government from spending funds for school busing and prohibits any Federal official from forcing State or local governments to spend funds for this purpose.

If the Senate agrees to these provisions, the Federal courts would then be forced to order busing on a school-by-school basis rather than having the Department of Health, Education, Welfare, with its vast bureaucracy, do it for them on a wholesale basis.

Also adopted was an amendment which would delay court-ordered busing until all legal appeals are exhausted. This could delay more busing until the Congress has a chance to act on my proposed Constitutional amendment to prohibit busing to achieve racial balance in schools.

Pornography

While recent legislation has aided in protecting citizens from the flow of obscene mail, I introduced a bill last week which would allow a citizen who receives unsolicited obscene mail to file a civil suit against the mailer for invasion of privacy. This will provide individuals a more immediate and accessible weapon against pornographers than laws now on the book which are dependent upon governmental action for their effectiveness.

Even with these laws, things have degenerated to the point where people who would never go to an X-rated movie or buy pornographic material in a bookstore increasingly find themselves the unwilling recipients of similar material being sent through the mail.

Foreign Aid

Defeat of the foreign aid authorization bill by the Senate two weeks ago has brought about the reassessment of our foreign assistance program which I have been calling for since coming to Congress.

In order to bring all the facts and figures to the attention of my colleagues in the House and Senate, I entered a complete accounting of the 25 years of U.S. aid in the Congressional Record last week.

Since 1946, we have sent aid to 96 countries in the amount of 213 billion dollars. The astonishing thing about this figure is the fact that 74 billion of this amount is the interest paid on money we borrowed to give away.

I have never supported foreign aid because of the lack of discretion in determining which countries would receive this as-stance. The Senate defeat gives Congress the opportunity to reassess the program and direct our aid to those humanitarian, economic, and military assistance programs which help assure our own National security.

Small talk

BY SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Showing off new clothes is not the absolutely main purpose of a party, but when women talk over the party they are apt to get around to questions which boil down to "Who was wearing what?"

At the Country Club directors' autumn ball there are always enough really beautiful costumes to make dress-watching a pleasant occupation. Also, you can tell pretty well the trend of styles for the holiday dress-up season to come.

Friday night there was as much glitter and gleam in dresses as in the silver-and-gold decorations -- lots of metallic trim in belts, braids and brocades as well as in jewelry, not to mention shoes. As for the prevailing style, its name is variety; long or short, fluffy or slinky, loose or tight, skirts or pants -- take your choice.

Materials veered from chiffon to velvet and even included furs and feathers. The fur was not only in wraps but trimmed dresses, like Pat Hill's caped frock, short length, of silver cloth with edges banded in fur. Mary Thomas wore feathers, a frivolous boa reminiscent of the roaring 'twenties, russet and brown to match the print of her dress.

Perhaps the most popular style, in many variations, was for black fitted tops on bright-patterned skirts; Lou Davis' slim long skirt had splashy flowers and Mrs. Gaston Baer's was a bold print in two shades of blue with white and black.

Mrs. Carl McCaslin's bodice looked black until you were close-up but was really a midnight purple. The skirt with a background of the purple had a pattern of huge leaves in shades of gold.

Most of the guests seem to prefer length in either skirts or pants and tunic with floating case of slit skirts over pants, like Nancy Russell's black velvet worn with a demure white satin shirtwaist. Wanda Streu's petal pink outfit, wide-bottomed pants and tunic with floating scarf was a contrast to Mrs. Foster Hill's hotpants in white satin, over knee-high white boots.

Mrs. Ben Childers' long dress in smoke grey, with bands of silver braid down the front and around the bottom had a classic air. Mrs. Jimmie Gilentine was in grey also, a silvery satin with vivic green girdle.

Sarah Clark is tall enough to look well in striking stripes, black alternated with multicol-or, divided with gold braid. And the club manager, Ouida Halbert, was seeing to the smooth running of the party with her usual unobtrusive efficiency, looking very smart in white with a glint of silver.

Since the Country Club has members from nearby towns, it's nothing unusual to see out-of-town people at the party but not usually from places so distant as the Virgin Islands. Judy Tonkin of St. Croix is here visiting her parents, and I got just a glimpse of her with her mama, Yvonne Thurber.

Lots and R.L. Ethridge are back home after three weeks in Clovis with their grandchildren, the children of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Rutter, who were in Madrid on a layman's mission program of the Baptist Church.

That was Madrid, Spain, and the Rutters found their experience in the church crusade a most interesting one. They were working in the mission two weeks, then spent a week in sightseeing, including stops in Amsterdam and London.

Visiting in Collin County, where she was born, was a pleasant part of a recent trip for Mrs. W.H. Awtry Sr., who also spent some time in Marlin taking the hot mineral baths for which that resort is well known.

She visited a week in Cleburne with a longtime friend, Gladys Baugh, and others, also stopped to visit cousins, the Onie Inman family at McKinney, the Milford Rogenses at Greenville and Mrs. Ollie Montgomery and family at Cokesville.

Veteran's affairs

Widows of veterans who remarried and were widowed a second time are eligible to have their VA widows' pension or compensation payments restored, but Jack Colker, VA Regional Office Director, reports that there has been no great rush of applications.

Pensions, he explained, are paid to needy widows of veterans who die of causes not related to military service. The amount of the monthly payment varies with the income of the widow and her number of dependents.

Compensation, known officially as dependency and indemnity compensation or DIC, is paid to widows of veterans who were killed in service or who died of service-connected causes.

If a widow drawing either pension or DIC should remarry, the VA payments are discontinued. Under a law enacted in August 1970 (Public Law 91-378), the payments can be restored if the subsequent marriage is dissolved by divorce or death.

Colker explained that there are no statistics on widows restored to pension and compensation rolls because the rolls change constantly, and a count is kept only by the number of "cases." But, the growth rate in the pension and DIC roll is less than estimated when the law was enacted, it was pointed out.

Table decorations were pink and blue. The cake was decorated with frosting booties. Guests present were Misses Raul Beltran, Lorenzo Vigil, Ramon Rios, Pat Patz, Omar Villarreal, Greg Rodriguez, Emilio Fuentes Jr., Juan Cavazos, Alex Serrano, Ester Ledezma and Gladys G. Mendez.

FOOTBALL ACTION NOV. 12 HEREFORD WHITEFACES - VS - LUBBOCK HIGH WESTERNERS

WHITEFACE STADIUM 7:30 P.M.

YOUR TEAM
THIS FRIDAY

Already the district representatives to the state playoffs, the Hereford Whitefaces host the Lubbock High Westerners in the final 4-AAAA game of the season Friday at Whiteface Stadium.

The game will be played just for the records as the Herd, after its win Saturday over Monterey, gained the right to represent this district in the bi-district playoffs against the winner of the 3-AAAA district.

Lubbock High is a 15-point underdog to the Whitefaces who have not lost a district game this year and are on a five game win streak.
