

Paving Program, Superintendent Forms Discussed

Personnel Changes Approved

The Hereford School Board of Trustees approved the employment of two teachers, the resignation of five teachers and staff members, and the transfer of four staff members during a called session of the board Tuesday night at the School District Administration building.

The meeting was called to discuss a proposed paving project on Ave. G., review applications for the superintendent's position and approve the personnel changes.

JIM CONKWRIGHT, school board president, said a prime purpose of the meeting was to consider applications submitted for the job vacated by Superintendent Roy Hartman, who resigned in June to accept a similar post with the Grapevine-Independent School District. It is located north of Dallas near the Fort Worth-Dallas Regional Airport.

He said it was the first opportunity for the board members to review the forms in detail since the announced departure of Hartman, who has served as superintendent for the last seven years and has been with the district for a total of 20 years. Hartman has been out of town to prepare for his new assignment.

"We are not ready to announce anyone at this time," he said.

Since the next regular school board meeting was postponed until Tuesday Aug. 17, after the start of the regular school session, the board need to meet to approve the personnel changes.

TEACHERS RESIGNING include Orinda Eikman, Aikman Elementary School; Debra Gordon, Stanton Junior High School; Francis Solis, La Plata Junior High School; and Shirley Simpson, Aikman.

Rodney Gordon, assistant principal at Stanton, is resigning to accept a principal's job at Ballinger, Tex. He will be replaced by Allen Brown, who is transferring from La Plata Junior High School where he taught.

Other transfers are as follows: Barbara Stagner, from Hereford High School teacher to Stanton counselor; David Ashby, from Stanton teacher and coach to Hereford High School teacher and coach; and Nancy Templeton, from Northwest Elementary School teacher to Special Education diagnostician.

THE BOARD MEMBERS informally discussed the program by the city to pave Ave. G. Since the school district owns the property on the east side of it, the district is one of the parties to the paving program.

The school bus barn is located on the property, located just to the north of the HHS tennis courts.

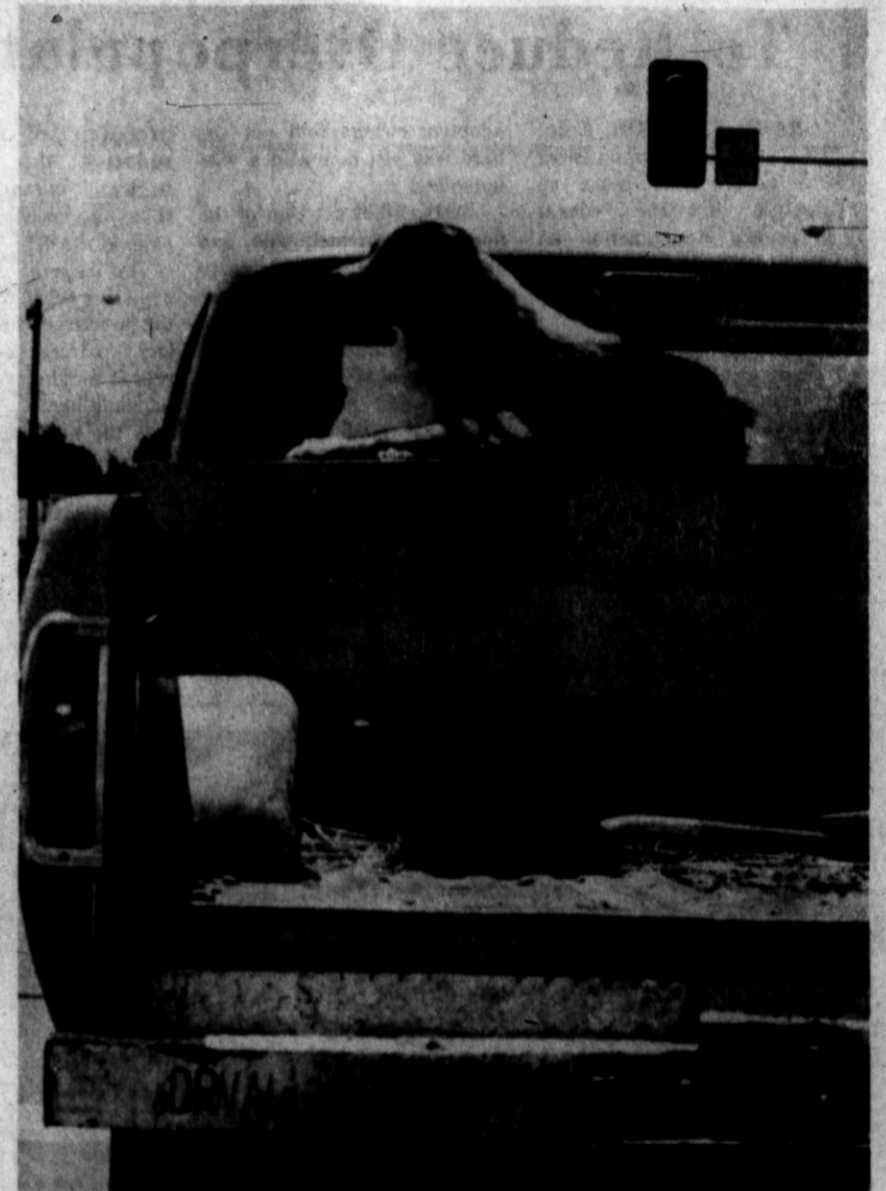

A public hearing is set for Aug. 2, when the City Commission meets to review public comments on the project.

Although no official disagreement was forthcoming from the board, the schools could be forced into the program through an assessment. However, this is not expected.

The board expressed cooperation on its part with the city. Trustees were concerned over the $5,600 cost to the district for its portion of the paving.

An executive session was held after an hour of open meeting to consider the superintendent applications. The meeting continued until after midnight even though some board members left earlier.

Board members include Clark Andrews, Jim Arney, Mrs. Sallie Strain, Conkwright, James Gentry, Lynton Alfred, and David Hutchins.

South Africa Racial Fight Erupts Again

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) - A black man was killed and more than 20 blacks, whites and Indians were injured in a racial outbreak in the Witbank area, police report.

They said a mob of about 3,000 young blacks attacked whites, Indians and persons of mixed race in the town 50 miles northeast of Johannesburg Tuesday night. Roving bands of blacks attacked cars on the Witbank-Pretoria highway.

The mob burned three Indian shops, the Indian community center and about 15 automobiles at the local government office in charge of black affairs.

Police reinforcements were sent from Pretoria, and army and police reservists were ordered on standby alert in the area. Sporadic rioting was also reported at Middelburg, a black township nearby, but there were no reports of casualties.

There had been rumors of plans for protests Tuesday in the black township of Soweto south of Johannesburg because of the government's decision not to reopen the schools. But there was no trouble in Soweto.

The schools there and in other black townships in the Johannesburg-Pretoria area have been closed since the black uprising last month in which 176 blacks and two whites were killed. The trouble started in Soweto.

Tax Cut Passage Almost Here; Final Tax Result 2 Months Off

WASHINGTON (AP) - Extension of individual tax cuts through 1977 is a step closer today, but it may be another two months before taxpayers know for sure whether they will face a tax hike next year.

The Senate voted 66 to 28 on Tuesday to extend the tax cuts for 18 months. But the House cannot act on the extension until the Senate passes the complex tax-revision bill to which the reductions are attached.

Sen. Russell Long, D-La., chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, said he hopes - but cannot guarantee - that the Senate will approve a tax bill before recessing Aug. 11 for the Republican convention.

Once the Senate passes the bill, a Senate-House conference must work out the countless differences in the Senate's tax-revision bill and one approved by the House last year. That could take weeks.

No matter how long it takes Congress to complete work on a tax-revision bill, there is a virtually no chance that American workers will feel a bigger tax bite on their paychecks this year.

The $15-billion worth of individual tax cuts technically expired once already, on July 1, but Congress hurriedly froze withholding rates until Sept. 1. Congressional leaders indicate the rates will be frozen again if more time is required to complete action on the tax bill.

In addition to voting for an 18-month renewal of the tax cuts, the Senate agreed Tuesday, 50 to 42, to allow motorists to continue deducting all their state and local gasoline taxes.

The Finance Committee, in writing the bill, voted to allow deduction of only the gasoline taxes that total more than $50 a year. That would have raised the federal tax bills of million of Americans but it would have saved the Treasury about $300 million a year.

The Senate rejected, 54 to 38, an effort by Sen. Adlai Stevenson III, D-Ill., to eliminate the gasoline-tax deduction altogether on grounds it encourages energy waste.

The key elements of the tax-cut package include:

- A provision allowing a $35 credit - which is subtracted directly from taxes owed - for each taxpayer and each dependent to be extended through 1977. If it is to his or her advantage, the taxpayer instead could take a credit of 2 per cent of his first $9,000 of taxable income, to a maximum credit of $180.

- Permanent increases in the standard deduction, which are available only to taxpayers who do not itemize deductions. The minimum standard deduction is $1,700 for single persons and $2,100 for couples.

update wednesday Canned Workers Strike

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) - A harvest time strike is under way by California workers who process most of the nation's canned tomatoes, apricots, peaches and fruit cocktail, posing the danger of shortages and higher prices if the walkout is a prolonged one.

Senate To Enact Job Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) - For the second time this year, the Senate is trying to enact a job-creating public works program over the President's veto. Despite President Ford's warnings about the bill's impact on inflation, the override effort this time has picked up key Republican support.

Black Sworn-In As Official

WASHINGTON (AP) - "I don't know why, Mr. President, it took 200 years for one of us to get the job," Shirley Temple Black told President Ford as she was sworn-in as the country's new chief of protocol.

Mrs. Black, 48-year-old former child movie star and the first woman to occupy the protocol post, was sworn in at the White House Tuesday.

Food Prices Level Off

WASHINGTON (AP) - Government economists say retail food price increases have been leveling off in recent weeks and may have slowed the nation's inflation rate.

The Labor Department today releases its report on consumer prices for last month. John Kendrick, the Commerce Department's chief economist, said the June increase of prices may be less than the May jump of six-tenths of 1 per cent.

Viking I May Give 2nd Panic To Orson Welles

NEW YORK (AP) - Actor-director Orson Welles, who already has one mass panic to his credit, reacted to the landing of Viking I on Mars by warning mankind not to be smug about its space conquests.

"I ought to point out that the world population shouldn't be too complacent. The lobster men are still hiding," Welles said Tuesday. He did not explain.

As a young radio personality in 1938, Welles was responsible for stirring a mass panic on the East Coast with his chilling news-report-style dramatization of H.G. Wells' "War of the Worlds."

The gist of the show was that Martians had landed in New Jersey and conquered New York City. It spread terror through the homes of many who didn't realize it was just Welles' idea of a good Halloween show.

Gases On Mars Make Scientists More Optimistic About Life There

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) - The Viking I robot probe of Mars has detected nitrogen and argon gases in the atmosphere of the Red Planet in sufficient abundance to make scientists more optimistic that life could flourish there, the project's directors said today.

While not providing any evidence of life, past or future, the discovery by the probe as it descended toward Tuesday's historic Mars landing suggest that Mars had a denser, more life-nurturing environment in the past.

Together with Viking's findings from orbit that water once flowed in rivers on the planet, the discovery of nitrogen means that all the essential factors for life could have been present at some time, Project Scientist Dr. Gerald Soffen said at a news briefing early today.

"The stewpot" was there to do the kind of organic chemistry required of living organisms," said Soffen.

"Whether it took place or not we don't know." The presence of argon, an inert gas also found in the earth's atmosphere, is given off by the radioactive decay of elements in the planet's crust. The fact that Mars has a relatively large abundance now, said Dr. Michael McElroy of Harvard University, indicates the atmosphere at one time was much denser.

From the abundance of argon, it can be deduced that nitrogen must have been present early in the planet's history, he told a news conference.

"I see no reason to exclude, from everything we know, the possibility of the evolution of life," McElroy said.

The important question, he said, is whether water existed in a liquid form on the planet long enough for the random combinations to come together and begin to evolve into self-reproducing forms.

The measurements were made by instruments aboard the Viking lander as it soared through the atmosphere en route to its touchdown, the first successful soft landing on Mars in history. The amounts reported by scientists were about 1.5 per cent argon and about 3 per cent nitrogen.

After arriving on the planet, the lander began streaming spectacular pictures 213 million miles back to earth of a rockstrewn landscape, looking much like the Arizona desert, with craters and dunes in the distance.

Readings of weather on the planet, monitoring for marsquakes and the first color picture of Viking's new home were to be received today in a burst of transmissions from the robot probe.

Viking, the first of two unmanned American spacecrafts scheduled for Mars landings this summer, blasted off on its historic mission 11 months ago.

In eight days, a telescopic arm is to reach out and grab a clawful of Martian soil to be deposited aboard the 1,300-pound lander for three life-detecting experiments.

Land Mine Kills British Ambassador To Ireland

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) - British Ambassador Christopher Ewart-Biggs and a woman companion were killed today when a land mine blew up the ambassador's car.

The ambassador's chauffeur and a British official from Northern Ireland were injured. Hospital officials said they were in critical condition.

Ewart-Biggs, 54, had been Britain's envoy to Ireland for less than two weeks. He is believed to be the first British official killed in the Irish Republic since the Irish war of independence in the early 1920s. The British Embassy in Dublin was burned four years ago by a mob enraged when British paratroopers killed 13 unarmed civilians during a demonstration in Northern Ireland.

Police said it was too soon to say whether the explosion was the work of the Irish Republic Army, the outlawed underground army waging a guerrilla war of bombs and bullets - violence aimed at ending British rule in Northern Ireland and uniting it with the republic.

Police said the dead woman was Judith Cooke, and they believed she was a member of the embassy staff.

First reports said the woman was the ambassador's wife, but the embassy announced that Mrs. Ewart-Biggs went to England Tuesday night on a visit.

The police said the injured men were Brian Cubbon, a British Foreign Office official stationed in Belfast, and Brian O'Driscoll, the chauffeur.

A police announcement said the ambassador was killed by a bomb, but Police Sgt. Pat Murray said the car went over a land mine on the road about 150 yards from the gate to the embassy residence, in the Sandycroft suburb on the southern outskirts of Dublin.

A large-scale police alert was ordered as an investigation began.

Ewart-Biggs, 54, had taken up his post in the Irish capital less than two weeks ago. He had held diplomatic posts previously in the Middle East, Manila, Algiers, Brussels and Paris.

His first wife died in 1959, and he married again in 1960. He had one son and two daughters.

Police said as far as they knew Ewart-Biggs had not received any death threats.

Valuable Ring Taken

Police are currently investigating the apparent theft of a valuable ring which was reported missing Tuesday.

Gladys Brewer of Progressive Road told officers that she left her diamond ring on a shelf with several purses while at work at Arrowhead Mills, and that it was missing when she returned to get it.

The ring was valued at between $400 and $500.

An unknown amount of change was taken from the money boxes on two washing machines at Edwards Laundry according to a report received Tuesday.

Wild Horse Adoption Urged To Reduce Overpopulation

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP) - A law designed to protect wild horses has been so effective that the federal government is promoting an "Adopt-a-Horse" program to keep wild mustangs from starving.

Overpopulation of the horses is so severe that the Department of the Interior has begun buying television advertisements to encourage people to adopt one. However, adopting a horse is not an ideal solution, either for the horses or the adoptive owners. A mustang's body chemistry is so delicate that it sometimes can't live when taken off the open range.

And federal officials say many adoptive owners find out the hard way just how wild a wild horse is.

"About 80-90 per cent of the horses are extremely wild, and as a result they are quite dangerous," said Milton Frei, range conservationist with the federal Bureau of Land Management in Denver.

"I've seen some that would almost eat you alive." The 1971 Wild Horse Burro Act was designed to prevent the wild horses from being slaughtered and sold for dog food. There are about 50,000 wild horses and 10,000 wild burros in the American West protected under the law.

The adoption program was proposed as a means of reducing the wild horse population in range areas where there is insufficient food to support them.

The federal agencies are exploring other ways to control the population, but they say the lack of natural predators is one reason for the growth spurt in mustang herds. Frei said that only the mountain lion attacks the horses, but it's not believed to kill many.

Some conservationists say the horses will not continue to multiply at a high rate indefinitely. They prefer to let the animals control their populations through natural means, even starvation.

Kidnappers Search Centers on Quarry

LIVERMORE, Calif. (AP) - Authorities say the "prime area of investigation" in their search for three men who kidnapped 26 school children and their bus driver is the rock quarry where the victims were imprisoned in a buried trailer.

"I can't predict when there will be an arrest," Alameda County Sheriff's Lt. Ed Volpe said late Tuesday night. "I'm just optimistic."

While remaining hopeful, Volpe downgraded an earlier statement by a sheriff's department source that the investigators were only "a few phone calls away" from being able to apprehend suspects.

Madera County Acting Dist. Atty. Charles Hoffman, who met Tuesday with Alameda Dist. Atty. Lowell Jensen, said the investigation had reached a turning point.

"The preliminary investigation is concluded at this point, focusing in on certain aspects where if the sheriff's department discussed the facts, it might prejudice a trial situation," Hoffman said.

He declined to elaborate, except to say a turning point was reached between noon and 4:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Volpe said progress is being made in the case, but nothing of the nature that would lead to an imminent arrest. Meanwhile, officials in the town of Madera, about 20 miles south of Chowchilla, said police are following some summer school buses and reserve officers are riding on others as a precaution taken after the mass kidnapping.

"The primary purpose is to gain the confidence of parents and of children, but the attendance dropped off drastically right after this happened," said Fred Nilsen, business manager of the Madera Unified School District. "I really don't expect anything to happen, but looks get ahead of these kinds of things and think, 'I'll do that, too.'"

Alameda County officers concentrating on the rock quarry here where the children and the bus driver were entombed for 18 hours after being kidnapped Thursday in the Madera County town of Chowchilla, about 95 miles to the south, attempted to determine if anyone connected with the quarry was involved in the crime.

The moving van trailer which was transformed into a make-shift underground prison was unearthed Tuesday. The 27 kidnap victims had clawed and pried their way out of the moving van and were unhurt. Investigators reported the moving van was purchased last Nov. 20 from Palo Alto Transfer and Storage Co.

The Fresno Bee reported Tuesday that the person who bought the van has a close connection to the quarry.

The newspaper quoted a source who said as many as eight persons may be involved in the abduction.

Authorities searched in the Santa Cruz Mountains on Tuesday after learning the three masked and armed kidnapers had been there both before the

after the abduction.

EPA To Check Cars' Emission Controls

WASHINGTON (AP) - The government admits its efforts to monitor new car emissions have failed and plans to begin pulling cars from the factory assembly line at random to check their antipollution performance.

The tougher emission control plan will debut this summer along with 1977 model cars, the Environmental Protection Agency said Tuesday.

At present, EPA runs 50,000 mile compliance checks on samples of each auto model before it is allowed to go into production.

Until now, the EPA has certified entire model lines of new cars after running 50,000-mile compliance tests on a small number of samples, but the agency says that has not guaranteed that the thousands of cars rolling off the assembly lines actually perform as well as the samples.

The results of EPA on-the-street tests released in March showed 67 per cent of cars in use failed to comply with the law by emitting too much hydrocarbons, carbon monoxide or oxides of nitrogen.

"The auto manufacturers' own data indicate that more than half a million 1976 model cars did not satisfy the federal emission requirements when they came off the assembly line," said EPA Administrator Russell E. Train. "EPA data on 1975 vehicles in actual use suggest even higher noncompliance."

"Testing cars at the assembly line to check their emissions control performance will help ensure that cars are being built the way they were designed, and provide a measure of assurance that cars on the road will meet federal air pollution standards."

EPA said it would select a specified number of vehicles - cars or light duty trucks - at random from the assembly line of each model, to test its emission of pollution against federal clean air standards.

Realtors Sponsor Swayze Talk

All members of the board and guests are invited to discuss the projected complex of underground homes Swayze is building in Lubbock. A recent article appeared in The Hereford Brand concerning this venture.

Government officials, realtors and energy experts have expressed interest in the Jay Swayze Geobuilt Systems' presentation. The possibility exists for using solar and atomic energy to heat, cool and fuel homes based on Swayze's plans according to Jeane Coker, president of the Board of Realtors.

Refreshments will be served at the meeting.

Schools Must Pay Lawyers $100,000

DALLAS (AP) - A federal court judge has ruled the Dallas Independent School District must pay plaintiff lawyer's fees of almost $100,000 in the city's school desegregation case.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge William Taylor issued the ruling Tuesday, providing payment for the two lawyers for black and Mexican-American plaintiffs at a rate of $60 per hour.

The fees, which were $23,000 less than the lawyer's original request, will be paid to Sylvia Demarest, director of the Dallas Legal Services Foundation, and Edward Cloutman, of the law firm of Mullinax, Wells, Mauzy, and Baab, Inc.

The judge, in the opinion accompanying the ruling, said he found "untenable" an argument by the school district that the plaintiffs were not the prevailing party in the suit and therefore should not receive the money.

Services of Ms. Demarest and Cloutman in the case, Taylor said, "have been necessary and even essential in bringing DISD into compliance with the constitutional requirement of operating a unitary system."

Taylor also upheld an earlier ruling requiring DISD to pay some $32,000 in court costs to the plaintiffs, saying the costs were "necessary and reasonable."

Ann Landers Homosexuals Are Equal

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I read the letter from "Frightened and Alone," the 40-year-old homosexual who was threatened with blackmail. I really do sympathize with him. I also realize how important it is for him to remain "in the closet." Although people are becoming a great deal more enlightened on the subject, it's still not safe to "announce."

I did, however, resent it very much when your correspondent referred to his homosexuality as a "severe personality disorder." He did all of us (yes, I am One) a grave disservice.

Did you not read that the American Psychiatric Association removed homosexuality from its list of mental disorders? They substituted a category called "sexual orientation disturbances" which includes those who are bothered by or wish to change their sexual orientation. I believe the man who wrote to you belongs in the latter category.

I would appreciate it, Ann, if you would set the record straight. Thank you. --Another Lifestyle.

DEAR ANOTHER: The record will never be set straight until the story is told about the behind-the-scenes battling that went on when the American Psychiatric Association ran into that buzz saw.

Many psychiatrists refused to accept the decision. They made it abundantly clear that the American Psychiatric Association does not speak for all its members. My principal consultants disagreed with the decision. And that's where I stand.

I fought for the civil rights of homosexuals 20 years ago and argued that they should be regarded as full and equal citizens. However, I do not believe homosexuality is "just another lifestyle." I believe these people suffer from a severe personality disorder. Granted, some are sicker than others, but sick they are, and all the fancy rhetoric by the American Psychiatric Association will not change it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I was not happy to see in your column AGAIN a reminder that all widows, as well as married women, should be addressed as Mrs. John Doe.

Maybe I am having an identity crisis, but I prefer to be addressed as Mrs. Jane Doe. My husband is alive and well and we get along fine, but I don't feel that I need his first name as well as his last to identify myself. I was born Jane. I went through school as Jane. I am employed as Jane. When I receive mail, I want it addressed to Jane because -- that's me. Print this please.

DEAR JANE: If you prefer Jane to Mrs. John, request that your mail be addressed to you in that manner. I received a surprising number of letters from widows who informed me most emphatically that they, too, would prefer to be addressed by their own first names. In fact, one widow wrote, "My husband's death was a blessed release from slavery. He was a cruel and miserly master. I'd just as soon not hear his name again -- much less be called by it."

We live and learn.

Characteristics of Jellied Fruits
 Proper amounts of fruit pectin, acid and sugar are necessary to make a jellied fruit project. Select flavorful varieties of fruit products.

Also, select flavorful varieties of fruits because the fruit flavor is diluted to some extent by the large proportion of sugar necessary for proper consistency and good keeping quality. Some fruits contain enough natural pectin to make high quality products while others require the addition of commercial pectin. Fully ripened fruits have less pectin than under-ripened fruits.

Commercial fruit pectin can be purchased in liquid or powdered form. Either form of the commercial pectin can be used successfully in a recipe for the particular form. Store these commercial fruit pectins in a cool, dry place for no longer than one year.

The acid content of fruit enhances flavor as well as gel formation. Acid is higher in under-ripened fruit than fully ripened fruit. Lemon juice or one-eighth teaspoon of crystalline citric acid for each tablespoon mercial pectins do contain some acid.

Sugar is used in these fruit projects to hasten gel formation, to serve as a preserving agent, to contribute to the flavor and to act as a firming agent. The cane sugar has the same composition and can be used with equal success.

At The Library

Romance, Suspence Revealed In Book

"One Man Bridge to Cross" by Arlene Hale and "The Immortals" by Nancy Freedman are the two books being featured this week at Deaf Smith County Library.

"The Immortals", with Nancy Freedman's superb narrative, explores the far-reaching implications of power, for a changing world as well as the Angstrom dynasty.

Romance, suspense, surprise and a fast-moving plot all thread together in a story full of the ingredients that have captivated the thousands of readers of Arlene Hale's nine previous novels of mystery and intrigue.

Deaf Smith County Library is open to the public from 9 a.m.-9 p.m. Monday and Thursday; from 9 a.m.-6 p.m. other weekdays and until noon Saturday.

ONE MAN BRIDGE TO CROSS

by Arlene Hale
 The mystery of Windmere... Beautiful, talented Sara Denning had a high-paying, challenging job as a freelance artist. But, sick to death of New York's frantic pace, she longed to pick up her portfolio and escape. Somewhere to the ocean, where she could contemplate the sea's ever-changing color and surrender to clean air and crisp breezes.

Then Lee, her brother, answered a newspaper ad: wealthy Eldridge Chadwick III, who resided at Windmere estate, needed a chauffeur. Now Sara and Lee could both spend a carefree summer by the sea. Here was the path to freedom!

Yet all too soon they came upon the taint of scandal that permeated Windmere. A skeptical gas station owner warned them--the previous chauffeur had stayed two weeks, the one before, only ten days. Windmere was a forbidding, eerie mansion protected by electrified wire, with three stories jutting up over a craggy, dangerous cliff.

Mr. Chadwick turned out to be an unnervingly all of businessman--the kind of experienced manipulator who could make anyone execute his orders.

Just as mystifying were Wally, Mr. Chadwick's idle rich brother, the self-confessed "black sheep of the family"; lovely, capricious Marcia Chadwick, who was making a fool of herself over Lee; Lorna Cellman, Eldridge Chadwick's "business associate" who behaved more like his mistress; and, finally, Tom Barclay. Sara was strongly attracted to this handsome bachelor, whose tall, tanned body and burning eyes were all but irresistible.

But could she completely trust him, bound up as he was in the mystery of Windmere?

No one ever breathed a word about the "accident" that had taken the life of Ryan Chadwick's girl friend, leaving the Chadwick heir morbid, obsessed. Was the car that later ran Ryan off the road, attempting murder? And why was the luxurious yacht that lay anchored in the bay so silent, so still?

THE IMMORTALS

by Nancy Freedman
 For over a quarter of a century, readers across America have been stirred by the depth of character and force of emotion that bestselling author Nancy Freedman brought to "Mrs. Mike" and "Joshua Son of None." Now she has written a novel even more ambitious and forceful: the classic story of power and its consequences in the 20th century.

Ted Angstrom has a feel for oil, a genius for knowing where it is and what he has to do to get it. In the 30's, when no one else even believes there is any oil in the Middle East, Ted risks everything to take out a lease on all the oil in Arabia. With his aristocratic wife Brelianna he sets out to found a dynasty based on sheer power.

As ruler of that dynasty, Ted confronts two world monarchs--

Franklin D. Roosevelt and Ebn Saud of Arabia--and outmaneuvers them both. He even dares to bring his Jewish mistress Sara to meet the Arab king.

But with all his power, Ted has to learn the truth of the Arab proverb, "a man's enemies are his children and his possessions." He and his wife have conflicting plans for their daughter Brillii, who has ideas of her own. And then along with Ted's domination of the world's resources.

The huge, tumultuous canvas of the novel ranges from the early oilblackened rigs of Long Beach, to the Kings palace in Arabia, from the King David Hole in Jerusalem blown up by terrorists, to the hideaways of Irqun freedom-fighters in the Palestine desert.

In the end, Ted Angstrom's heirs tear his dynasty apart. While the oil corporations go on, the family experiences not only the pleasures of wealth and power but also the shocks of failure, madness and death.

Alaska Pipeline Welds May Receive Inspection

WASHINGTON (AP) - The head of a consortium building the trans-Alaska oil pipeline told Congress Tuesday that X-ray inspections will be made on every weld on the line requiring one.

"All of them will be reconciled even if it means exposing a weld in the field and re-X-raying it," said Edward Patton, chief executive officer of the Alyeska Pipeline Service Co.

He testified before a House subcommittee trying to find out what went wrong with the pipeline welding program.

Chairman John Melcher, D-Mont., called the hearing after learning from the Interior Department that the Arthur Andersen auditing firm has been unable to verify the validity of X rays required to confirm the integrity of the welds.

Patton said the number of discrepancies has been reduced to 61 and that Alyeska is continuing to work on the problem.

Most of the pipeline is buried, and Patton was asked if federal inspectors will be reluctant to give it final approval for use. He told the committee: "That's my problem before it's yours."

His figure on remaining discrepancies marked an improvement on those given by Alyeska on Monday.

Patton and his aides said that out of more than 31,000 welds performed in 1975, Alyeska considered 3,955 questionable. Of those, they said, 2,305 have been corrected either by replacing missing or falsified X rays or by repairing actual welding flaws.

Work is continuing to correct the rest of the problems, Patton said.

Assuming Alyeska's findings and corrective actions are accepted, Patton said, the pipeline could begin carrying oil at the rate of 1.2 million barrels a day from Alaska's Arctic shores to a tanker terminal on its southern coast by mid-1977, as scheduled.

But the Andersen report raises doubt about the acceptance of Alyeska's findings. Melcher has said it may be necessary to X ray all 31,000 welds again, including an estimated 18,000 already underground.

Alyeska has been preparing a possible alternative, a new technique called "acoustical holography," using a device that would check welds by bouncing sound waves through them, entirely from inside the pipe.

If it works, this method could avoid digging up the 18,000 buried welds. Patton said it will be tested today on pipe welded in Alyeska's assembly yard at Anchorage.

CB Explosion Prompts Battles For Air

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) - An explosion of CB radio sales has led to battles for air time all over the country. "Bear Tracks" died after one such squabble and "Blue Rover" is on trial for murder in his death.

And the case may rest on the testimony of "Sidekick" and the "Blonde Bomber."

It hasn't been easy for the judge. He occasionally has to interrupt testimony to make sure he understands what witnesses mean when they use CB lingo.

Blue Rover is the citizens band radio "handle" of the Clyde Rice, 32, who is charged with first-degree murder in the April 10 slaying of Donald Edelman. Edelman's CB tag was Bear Tracks.

Similar squabbles have been reported all over the country as 15 million CB-set owners vie for time on the 23 channels open to them. Incidents have included beatings, threats and vandalism of CB antennas.

Sometimes air time isn't the issue, of course. Two Turlock, Calif. CB'ers argued in March over a "handle" they both wanted to use - "Bulldozer." They met in a parking lot, one carrying a jack handle and the other a shotgun. Friends and police intervened before anyone was hurt.

The FCC, which regulated citizen band radio use, is expected to rule next week on a request to double the number of channels open to CB'ers.

That won't solve all the problems, says Ney Landry of the FCC in San Francisco. "I think if you gave them 10,000 channels they'd still have fights."

The trial here has been followed closely by CB'ers who are ordinarily known for filling the CB channels with lots of "good buddy" talk, and information about where the "Bears," or state troopers, are.

Rice is accused of deliberately running Edelman down with a pickup truck in the parking lot of a local VFW club. Edelman, 40, died three days later.

Witnesses agree on one point - the incident was preceded by an argument over a CB radio channel.

Edelman's widow, Sandra testified that her husband had a running argument with Rice over the air about monopolizing a channel. She testified she had heard each man threaten the other.

At one time the two men had met at the home of another couple and decided to "let bygones be bygones," according to the prosecution. But on the evening of April 10, an argument erupted over the radio between the two men and it led to the fatal incident, the prosecution contends.

Rice testified that he and Edelman decided to meet at the parking lot. Rice said the two had an argument, and that he was trying to drive his truck out of the parking lot when he "accidentally struck" Edelman.

Meat Packing Up From 1975

WASHINGTON (AP) - Meat produced by the nation's federally inspected packing plants is continuing to run above last year's levels, particularly beef, according to the Agriculture Department.

Last week's output was about 677 million pounds, up 9 per cent from a year ago, the department said. Beef at 471.5-million pounds, was up 12 per cent, and pork rose to 190.1-million pounds, a 4 per cent gain.

Calf meat, veal, lamb and mutton were reported down from year-ago production levels.

Another report on cold-storage holdings of food said that June 30 beef supplies were up 42 per cent from a year earlier but that pork holdings were down 16 per cent.

Hearings Scheduled On Gas Cost

AMARILLO, TEXAS... Pioneer Natural Gas Company has received notification from the Railroad Commission of Texas that the hearing requested by Pioneer will be held in Austin September 14.

Last May 21, Pioneer Natural Gas Company, a division of Pioneer Corporation, filed its application with the Railroad Commission of Texas seeking a review of its cost of gas for its West Texas System, and a finding of the correctness of the cost of gas, as well as determining the appropriateness of the policies of Pioneer in maintaining its gas supply.

The Commission order setting the hearing gives the date and time of the meeting as 9:00 a.m. September 14 in Room 812 of the Ernest O. Thompson building, 10th and Colorado Streets in Austin, Texas. The order further states that any interested person may appear at the hearing and present evidence on the matters to be considered.

Subsequent to Pioneer's application for this review of its practices by the Railroad Commission, the Commission has called for a hearing on August 2, in Austin, to review cost-of-gas adjustment clauses for gas companies throughout the state.

Five Vying For Girlstown Title

Five girls from throughout Texas will be vying for the title of Miss Girlstown of 1976 during the Annual Girlstown, U.S.A. Open House Saturday, July 24 on the Campus of the Whiteface Girlstown facility, west of Levelland.

Featuring a reunion theme, the Open House will mark the 27th year of operation for the youth facility which has served as "Home" for more than 1300 girls since 1949.

Contending for the annual Miss Girlstown title will be Kathy Skinner, 17, of Houston; Angela Ekright, 16, of Dallas; Renee Desbiens, 17, of Sweetwater; Betsy Toney, 15, of Amarillo; and Pat Gauthier, 16, also of Houston.

Another highlight of this year's Open House will be an appearance of the Tumbling and Acrobatic "High Rollers" of Lubbock, directed by former Texas Tech kicking specialist Kenny Vinyard.

Saturday afternoon tours of the campus and musical entertainment will be culminated with a barbecue at 4:00 p.m., prepared by the Littlefield Fire Department.

Once again, members of the L'Allegro Study Club of Morton will serve as hostesses at Saturday's event. The group has served annually as hostesses for many years at the Open House, according to Girlstown Executive Director, Marshall Cooper.

An added attraction this year will be a $2,500 turquoise inlaid Concho belt, which will be awarded as a door prize.

Girlstown, U.S.A., which has grown to a three-campus facility since its beginnings near Whiteface, provides care for more than 100 girls from throughout Texas and the United States, with campuses at Austin, Borger and Whiteface.

manager, to his own teammates and even to himself.

"I'm honestly more impressed with his enthusiasm than his pitching," said Minnesota Manager Gene Mauch, who watch Fidrych hurl the Detroit Tigers to an 8-3 victory over the Twins. "That kid might be the best thing that's happened to this game in a long time."

The rookie pitcher, who gave up 10 hits but was aided by three Detroit double plays, completed his 12th game in 13 starts as he raised his record to 11-2.

In other American League games Tuesday night, Baltimore trounced Kansas City 10-3, Oakland topped Cleveland 7-4, Milwaukee defeated California 6-2, Boston downed Texas 4-2 and the New York Yankees topped the Chicago White Sox 14-9.

Detroit's Rusty Staub slammed a three-run homer and Ron LeFlore added a two-run blast to provide the hitting punch for the Tigers. Tony Oliva, the Twins' designated hitter, gave himself a 35th birthday present by going 4-for-4 and received a standing ovation from the crowd of 30,425, about 22,000 more than Minnesota's season average.

A's 7, Indians 4
Sal Bando's run-scoring single and Phil Garner's bases-loaded triple snapped a 3-3 tie in the ninth and boosted Oakland to its victory over Cleveland.

Brewers 6, Angels 2
Hank Aaron smashed the 755th home run of his career and George Scott added a fourbagger to power Milwaukee past California. The back-to-back homers in the seventh inning gave the Brewers and untouchable 5-1 lead.

Orioles 10, Royals 3
Two home runs by Lee May and single roundtrippers by Bobby Grich and Reggie Jackson paced Baltimore to its rout of Kansas City. Jamie Quirk hit a home run for the Royals.

The victory, Wayne Garland's 12th against only one loss, was the Orioles' eighth in their last 10 games.

Red Sox 4, Rangers 2
Reliever Jim Willoughby came on in the ninth with the bases loaded and none out, giving up only a sacrifice fly, as Boston held on to defeat Texas. Rick Jones, 4-0, got the victory for the Red Sox although he gave up 11 of the Rangers' 14 hits in just 6 2-3 innings. But Boston belted out 12 hits of their own with Rick Buleson and Cecil Cooper combining for five.

Local Girls Win; Boys Beaten, 4-2

By BOB NIGH
Brand Sports Editor

The Hereford Girls Pony League All-Stars completely overpowered Tascosa 27-2 Monday night at the Girls Pony League Tournament in Amarillo, while the Hereford Boys Bronco All-Stars came out on the short end of a 4-2 score in Altus Oklahoma against host Altus, the same night.

Beverly Nixon and Teresa Lambert combined on the mound to lead the Hereford girls over Tascosa. The two combined to shutout Tascosa in four of the five innings played, allowing only two runs, both in the third frame.

Yolanda Cantu picked up three singles and a pair of doubles in five at bats to lead the Hereford offense. She also scored twice in the game.

Other leading Hereford batters were Jan Hamock, two singles, a double and five runs; Suzanne Duvall, two singles, and four runs; and Rita Soliz, a single, and two bases on balls, and four runs.

Hereford scored twelve runs in the first, and upped their lead to 22-0 before Tascosa scored their two runs in the third. Hereford added four runs in the fourth and a single tally in the fifth for the final 27-2 count.

In Altus the Hereford boys took a short-lived 1-0 lead over host Altus in the second frame. Altus came back with two runs in the third, and added single runs in the third and fifth frames to notch the win. Hereford got their second run in the fifth.

Rod Simon went the distance on the mound in a losing cause for Hereford. Simon registered five strikeouts and two bases on balls in the seven-inning contest.

Even though Altus outthit Hereford 6-3, all four of their runs were unearned due to Hereford errors in the field.

The Girls Pony Leaguers will play River Road at 9 p.m. Wednesday in Amarillo in the second round of their tourney, while the Boys Bronco All-Stars will play an as yet undetermined foe at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the loser's bracket of their tournament.

Pearson Has Knee Sprain

THOUSAN OAKS, Calif. (AP) - Dallas Cowboy halfback Preston Pearson will undergo a thorough examination of his left knee today in Dallas.

Pearson suffered a sprained ligament in the knee during practice Tuesday.

Trainer Don Cochren said Pearson was sent back to Dallas for an examination by team physician Marvin Knight.

Pearson was hurt in a defensive drill featuring linebackers' reactions on a sweep play.

Meanwhile, running back Duane Thomas, yet to practice due to a pulled hamstring, is expected to be in pads within another week.

Pearson joined the Cowboys late in preseason last year and gradually worked himself into the lineup in the regular season.

Headin' To State

These four girls will compete in the State AAU Track Meet in Dallas Saturday as a result of placing second in the 440-relay at the TTAF Meet in Lubbock July 17. Left to right they are Jolissa Barrier, Michelle Osborn, Marilyn Osborn, and Cathy Lane. They posted a time of 60.5 in their event in Lubbock.

Congress To Probe Kuhn-Finley Feud

WASHINGTON (AP) - The feud between baseball commissioner Bowie Kuhn and Oakland A's owner Charley Finley moved into a congressional forum today.

Kuhn and Finley - along with owners Allan Selig of the Milwaukee Brewers, John W. Galbreath of the Pittsburgh Pirates and Robert L. Howsam of the Cincinnati Reds - were the first witnesses called before a special House committee investigating professional sports.

Chairman B.F. Sisk, D-Calif., said the scope of the investigation by the 13-member House group will range from league expansions and franchise switches to owner dealings with player labor unions and from the tax and antitrust status of pro teams to violence in hockey.

Sisk said the legal and personal hassle between Kuhn and Finley over the commissioner's nullification of the multimillion dollar sale of three Oakland stars - Joe Rudi, Rolie Fingers and Vida Blue - was to be a main focus of attention.

Commenting on the dispute which has been taken to the federal courts by Finley, Sisk has indicated sympathy with the commissioner's case that blocked the sale of the three A's to the Red Sox and Yankees.

"I think it signalled the start of a bidding war for free agents," Sisk said of Finley's transaction. "I think the commissioner did the right thing in nipping it in the bud."

More Records Broken; Nadia Returns Tonight

MONTREAL (AP) - America's matchless male swimmers, chief harvesters of a medal crop that has put the United States on top in the XXI Olympic Games, must yield center stage again tonight.

Nadia will be back. The Yankee swimmers, unbeaten and perhaps unbeatable, will be seeking their sixth and seventh gold medals in as many events. They're heavily favored in the 800-meter freestyle relay. And they had three of the four best times in qualifying for the 100 butterfly.

A world record, becoming something of a routine occurrence, in the relay is a distinct possibility. But the worldwide television audience of a billion people may have to wait for the reruns to see it.

Nadia will be back. And when tiny Nadia Comaneci appears, the rest of the Olympics all but halt, waiting and watching with the happy anticipation of another perfect performance from the pony-tailed Romanian schoolgirl who has captured the imagination of the world.

The 4-foot-11, 88-pound package of pert perfection, holder of the only three perfect 10 scores ever awarded in the Olympics, goes against the Russians in the finals of the women's all-around individual gymnastics.

Five gold medals will be awarded: uneven parallel bars, balance beam, floor exercise, vault and all-around. Nadia's chief opposition will be the Russians - Ludmila Tourischeva, who leads in floor exercise and trails Nadia by only four-tenths of a point in the over-all; Nellie Kim, who leads in the vault, and Olga Korbut, the darling of the 1972 Games.

It very well could be the highlight of the entire Olympics. The highlight so far has been the complete domination of their sport by the American men and the East German women swimmers. Both are unbeaten. And the gold medals acquired by John Hencken, Santa Barbara, Calif., in the 100 breast-stroke and Brian Goodell, Mission Viejo, Calif., in the 1,500 freestyle - both in world record time - boosted the United States into the medal lead with seven gold, six silver and three bronze after three days of competition.

East Germany had a medal count of 6-4-4. Russia stood at 4-2-1. Japan, West Germany and Bulgaria each have one gold.

Jennifer Chandler, 17, Lincoln, Ala., had to overcome some biased marks from East German judge Heinz Gold - who heavily favored Christa Kohler of his country - to win the women's three-meter springboard.

"I didn't really notice it," she said, then added: "I don't think he meant to do that. Sometimes politics get in whether you want it or not."

But the bias was obvious. The crowd booted it.

Jones Baffles Phils; Mets Edge Cincinnati

BY KEN RAPOPOPT
AP Sports Writer

Everytime the Philadelphia Phillies face Randy Jones, they get that sinking feeling. They also get that sinker ball. The way the San Diego left-hander has been pitching against them this year, the Phillies do nothing but beat the ball into the dirt - then go back to the locker room and beat their heads against the wall.

Jones, the winningest pitcher in the major leagues, continued to dominate one of the best hitting teams in baseball with a four-hit, 3-0 victory over the Phillies Tuesday night.

That's the third straight shutout for Jones over the Phillies - a dazzling accomplishment considering the National League East leaders have been shut out only five times all season.

Jones fattened his record to 17-4 by feeding the Phillies a steady diet of sinkers. He retired 14 Phillies on ground balls while breezing through a one-hour, 32-minute performance. Elsewhere in the National League, the New York Mets edged the Cincinnati Reds 2-1; the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 3-2; the Chicago Cubs beat the San Francisco Giants 3-2; the Montreal Expos outscored the Atlanta Braves 4-3 and the Pittsburgh Pirates whipped the Houston Astros 9-5 in the first game of a doubleheader before dropping the second game 4-3.

Mets 2, Reds 1
New York's Jerry Koosman fired a five-hitter and won his fifth straight game by beating Cincinnati. Koosman's 11-6, got all the runs he needed in the first inning when the Mets scored twice off Gary Nolan, 8-5.

Dodgers 3, Cardinals 2
Dave Lopes slugged his first home run of the season and Doug Rau scattered five hits as Los Angeles edged St. Louis.

The Dodgers scored against Los Angeles' Lynn McGlothen, 8-9, in the first inning and after the Cardinals scored an unearned run in the top of the second, Lopes homered in the bottom half of the inning for the winning run.

Cubs 3, Giants 2
Joe Wallis broke a scoreless tie with a two-run single off Ed Halicki in the eighth inning, triggering Chicago past San Francisco. Halicki, 9-12, had pitched 25 consecutive scoreless innings, the most in the National League this season, before the Cubs scored three runs in the eighth.

Chicago's Rick Reuschel, 9-7, had a no-hitter through six innings. Marty Perez broke it up with a leadoff single in the seventh.

Expos 4, Braves 3
Montreal roughed up Andy Messersmith for nine hits, including run-scoring singles by Mike Jorgensen, Jerry White and Barry Foote, and broke a five-game losing streak by beating Atlanta in a game that was delayed more than two hours by rain.

All criticism is of two kinds, destructive and constructive - try to peddle the right kind.

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) - General Manager Glenn Sonmore says he wanted the transplanted Cleveland Crusaders to have a named identifiable with the Sunshine State so the World Hockey Association team will be known as the Florida Breakers.

"The idea of a breaker coming off the Atlantic and crashing against the beach mirrors the impact of hockey," Sonmore said Monday as he announced the team's new name.

"We'll be physical and aggressive and we won't be intimidated." The Breakers announced their first home game in the Hollywood Sportatorium will be Oct. 15 against the Birmingham Bulls. The home games will be played on Wednesday, Friday and Sunday nights.

The WHA - team moved to Hollywood after continuing financial problems and low attendance in Cleveland.

ST. LOUIS (AP) - Second baseman Mike Tyson, the St. Louis Cardinals' hottest hitter during July, has been placed on the National League's 15-day disabled list.

Tyson broke his left index finger during a game in San Francisco Sunday. He was injured when Giants' pitcher Jim Barr kicked the ball out of his glove while stealing second base.

Tyson had hit safely in his last five at-bats before the injury and his .435 pace during the month had raised his season average to .305.

MONTREAL (AP) - Canadian police detained an American police detective who was carrying a pistol in a camera bag Monday into Olympic boxing competition at Maurice Richard Arena. "It's simply a custom, a way of life, among American police to carry their weapons wherever they go," said Canadian officials. "They tend to forget it is against Canadian law." The man, carrying official police documents and equipment, was told he could have his pistol back when he returns to the United States.

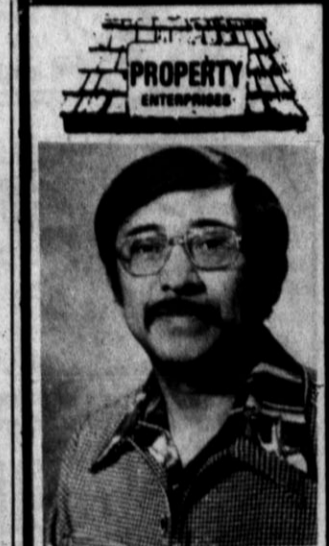

MONTREAL (AP) - Reporters now outnumber the contestants in the Olympic XXI. Robert Silber, director general of sports services, said there are 7,886 reporters accredited to cover the Games. Withdrawals from the Games by the national teams of 28 African, South American and Middle Eastern countries have reduced the competitors by at least 303 to 6,934. Sixty officials have left, cutting their number to 2,225.

Airline's Lawyer Says He Will Ignore Order

AUSTIN (AP) - Texas International's lawyer said Tuesday he would ignore an order to furnish data to Southwest Airlines, just as Southwest ignored an identical Texas International request in 1974.

Jim Wilson told a Texas Aeronautics Commission hearing examiner the case is a perfect illustration of the commission's bias for Southwest.

Southwest seeks authority to fly passengers and cargo to El Paso, Austin, Corpus Christi, Lubbock and Midland-Odessa. Texas International opposes that application.

Wilson noted that the commission refused his request for Southwest passenger data when Southwest sought the right to serve Harlingen in 1974.

The commission took the position then that it lacked the power to compel Southwest to furnish the data before the hearing.

"Now, when Southwest wants the discovery, the commission suddenly discovers new backbone and new muscle," Wilson said.

"...this order is a prime example of the basic unfairness which pervades this agency's every action whenever a question involving Southwest comes before it," he said.

The statute creating the commission mandated it to encourage development of intrastate airlines. Southwest is the only large intrastate airline in Texas.

The awarding of the Harlingen route to Southwest has been appealed to the courts by Texas International.

South Texas Town Ready For Hanging

FALFURRIAS, Tex. (AP) - The 65-year-old jail here in this deep South Texas town is ready - hook, line and sinker - for the death penalty by hanging to return.

Located in the stairwell of the Brooks County jail here is a strong hook embedded in the ceiling with a rugged steel trapdoor directly below.

Though layers of paint have rendered the trap door and hip-level release lever immobile, a chisel and good grease job would quickly put them back in working order.

Neither jailer Johnny A. Garcia or any other local oldtimers from this town of 6,200 can recall any necktie parties there, but that hasn't prompted them to remove the lethal contraption.

Prisoners are greeted by this "falling room" as it used to be called - and noose-and-rope-readied hook as they climb the stairs to the second story cell block.

But the hook and grey trapdoor don't seem to bother the Garcias or inmates who can peek out their cells to view the pokey's antique.

Jailer Garcia and his wife add a personal touch to the jail with their built-in apartment at the rear and down-home cooking for prisoners brought in by local police and deputies.

Nobody could accuse the Falfurrias residents of not looking ahead. Their equipment is only hanging on a new law.

Desegregation Suit Faces School District

BEAUMONT, (AP) - The South Park Independent School Board scheduled a private meeting Tuesday night with lawyers to determine what action the board will take on a desegregation suit filed Monday by the U.S. Justice Department.

"It's too early to predict anything at this stage," board president B.H. Hughes said.

The board must decide whether to implement one of the staff-designed alternative plans by the start of this school year or to go to court and fight the suit and risk losing federal funding.

Classes are scheduled to begin Aug. 18.

Monday's suit pertained to the Justice Department's original desegregation action filed in 1970.

The school board had asked in June for a one-year delay in implementing the 1970 order by U.S. District Court Judge Foe Fisher but the Justice Department rejected the request.

Fisher's 1970 order was judged to be a failure according to the suit filed Monday. The Justice Department's suit said that the 1970 order had an effect on only three of the district's 19 schools.

Hearing examiner John Soule argued" in 1974. "So eloquently but so unsuccessfully," Wilson said, adding that he expects the commission to take a "consistent position."

TRC Supports Continued Gas Service

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - The Railroad Commission issued an order Tuesday that gas service be continued to 108 customers in 14 Phillips Petroleum camps in the Borger area until an abandonment request can be ruled on.

Southern Union has notified the customers the service would be discontinued July 26 because of an unsteady supply, a decline in customers, extensive service problems and the anticipated cost of upgrading facilities to meet federal pipeline safety regulations.

A commission examiner said it would be impossible to reach a final decision by July 26.

Langdon Suggests Import Solution

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - Railroad commissioner Jim Langdon suggested Tuesday that the United States could solve its oil import problem by requiring importers to take shale oil, for example, before they can receive foreign oil.

Langdon told the regular statewide monthly oil allowable hearing that oil could be produced from shale over a period of years at no higher price than it costs to import oil.

"Imported foreign oil," he said, "continues to rise at an alarming rate."

Commission chairman Ben Ramsey said the four-week average of foreign oil imports as of July 9 was 5,499,000 barrels a day, an increase of 692,000 barrels a day from Jan. 2 and 1,726,000 barrels a day more than was being imported on Jan. 3, 1975.

The commission routinely set the August allowable at 100 per cent for the 53rd consecutive month after listening to major buyers of Texas crude ask for 3,985,121 barrels a day next month. This is an increase of 15,979 from July's daily nominations.

As usual, the East Texas field was restricted to 86 per cent of potential to avoid possible waste.

Jupiter, the largest planet, has an equatorial diameter of 88,000 miles, 11 times that of the earth. Its mean distance from the sun is 480 million miles and it takes almost 12 earth years to complete a circuit of the sun. Jupiter's extremely rapid rotation gives it a day of just under 10 hours. A point on the Jovian equator moves at a speed of 22,000 miles an hour, as compared with 1,000 miles for a point on earth's equator.

Timber Case Set For Court Ruling

TYLER, Tex. (AP) - A hearing on a proposed injunction prohibiting timber sales from the Sam Houston National Forest in East Texas is scheduled in federal court today.

The U.S. Forest Service USFS is currently under a temporary restraining order prohibiting the timber sales in Montgomery and Walker counties.

The order, issued by U.S. District Court Judge William Wayne Justice July 13, affects 21 timber purchasers in the area and the sale of 35.5 million board feet of timber valued at $2 million.

Justice ruled in a suit filed July 2 against the forest service by the Texas Committee on Natural Resources. The group is seeking a declaratory judgment and injunction prohibiting the selling of clear-cutting timber in all four of the national forests in Texas.

The environmentalist group, headed by Dallas lawyer Edward Fritz, alleges in the suit that the forest service sales programs violate several laws.

The timber organizations contend that the practices followed are based on sound forestry principles.

The restraining order also prohibits the forest service from "impairing the natural growth of vegetation" and prevents "any act of interfering with the status quo of the district."

The Texas Forestry Association TFA and several timber industry companies filed a motion last week to intervene in the July 2 suit.

TFA issued a statement saying, "One quarter of the money paid for timber on national forest land, after reforestation and other deductions, comes directly to the county for schools and roads."

TFA President J.B. Wadsworth said, "It is time for the association to join the fight to stop the impoundment of our forest lands for uses that will benefit only a few at a high price to many."

Wadsworth added, "It is the consumer in Texas that will pay the price for a piece of timber land being used solely for observation and not for a product in his home."

Investigator Believes UFO's Not From Space

HOUSTON (AP) - Harrie Stewart, who once investigated sightings of unidentified flying objects, says he doesn't believe any of those reported to the Air Force involved vehicles from outer space.

Stewart, a retired Air Force lieutenant colonel, said in an interview Tuesday he checked into hundreds of reports of UFOs, "and I never found a case I couldn't explain."

Most sightings have been attributed to meteors, aircraft, weather balloons, hoaxes, hallucinations and unreliable reports, he said.

Now an anthropology instructor at the University of Houston, Stewart, 55, said the public shouldn't expect any startling revelations to come out of the Air Force Project Blue Book, a classified study of UFO incidents.

The 140,000 pages of hitherto top secret and restricted information concerning the UFO's has been released to the National Archives.

Stewart said, "People see something they cannot identify, so they try to give us some type of explanation, usually a mystical one. If the concept of flying saucers hadn't come along, we would have come up with some other type of modern explanation."

Even trained observers can be fooled, he said, and that includes pilots, astronomers and policemen.

Stewart was flying in Arizona once when he saw several strange objects in front of him. He kept flying and soon saw a crowded highway below him. Stewart said he knew then that the heating of the air had bent the light rays, much like a mirage, so the cars appeared to be in front of him.

He said many of the sightings remain unexplained because investigators arrived at the scene too late to recreate the atmospheric conditions.

Stewart predicted the release of the Air Force Blue Book will prompt another rash of UFO sightings.

"Once people are convinced that vehicles from other planets may exist, you can't convince them otherwise," he said.

Houston Mayor Says Carter Won On Media

HOUSTON (AP) - Mayor Fred Hofheinz says Democratic presidential nominee Jimmy Carter got the nomination because of his brilliant use of the mass media.

Despite being a media candidate and despite what he calls Sen. Walter Mondale's liability to the ticket, Hofheinz said Tuesday Carter would be good for Texas and Houston.

Carter said many people believe Carter won the nomination "because of the brilliant use of the mass media instead of legislative or administrative successes."

"Carter is principally appealing to voters through the mass media rather than dealing with specific issues and making hard political decisions," Hofheinz said.

A dramatic example of Carter's use of the mass media, Hofheinz said, is that three years ago when Carter, as governor of Georgia, appeared on a national television quiz show, one recognized him.

Hofheinz said Mondale, the vice presidential nominee from Minnesota, is more liberal than most Texans view themselves and therefore a liability in Texas, but Carter will be able to offset the liability.

"Mondale appeals to a basic Democratic constituency in the North and Northeast," Hofheinz said. "On the whole, I think Jimmy Carter will be a good president for Texas and Houston."

Henry C. Traute, the gogetter who fathered matchbook advertising, also thought up what may be the world's most ignored safety suggestion: "Close Cover Before Striking."

Palestinian Prestige, Strength Falls

By NICK LUDINGTON
Associated Press Writer

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) - The Palestinian resistance movement, at a peak of international prestige and strength just a year and a half ago, today is fighting fellow Arabs instead of Israel and is losing.

In November 1974, an Arab summit meeting named Asir Arafat's Palestine Liberation Organization the "sole legitimate spokesman" for all Palestinians, including those under Israeli rule on the occupied West Bank of the Jordan River.

Arafat headed a delegation of the plot to join a United Nations debate on Palestine, a tremendous diplomatic victory.

Earlier this year the Palestine Liberation Army, military arm of the PLO, was helping the Lebanese Moslem leftists win the civil war - and ensuring the Palestinians a continued Arab base from which to operate freely against Israel.

Then Syria stepped into the Lebanese war, and now the Palestinians find themselves being slowly pushed back, with the Arab regimes that were their strongest supporter offering no help.

Syrians are shelling Palestinian areas at the northern port of Tripoli and have rolled up important guerrilla positions in east Lebanon, trying to force the guerrillas to give up their support of the Moslem leftist side in the Lebanese war and accept a Syrian-sponsored settlement.

Christians are attacking Palestinian refugee-camp strongholds. They insist the guerrillas be disarmed and that two-thirds of the 400,000 alestinian refugees in Lebanon be deported to other Arab countries.

The turnaround can be directly tied to the guerrilla's involvement in the Lebanese civil war.

Supporting Palestinians in their struggle to regain at least part of Israeli-held territory is one thing. But for conservative Arab regimes to support radical guerrillas fighting alongside extreme leftists to change Lebanon's pro-West, free enterprise regime, was too much.

Daily news reports and photos of wildly dressed, heavily armed Palestinians and Lebanese revolutionaries, blasting and looting through the business district of Beirut that once was the financial nerve center of the Middle East, created alarm in the oil-built palaces and conference rooms of the Arab establishment.

Syrian President Hafez Assad counted on Arab support when he sent an armored division into Lebanon to force his will on the Palestinians and Lebanese factions, and he got it.

Jordan praised the move. Saudi Arabia gave Syria cheap crude oil to fill the gap created when the radical government of Iraq stopped pumping oil through Syria in a pipeline. Egyptian President Anwar Sadat agreed to end his feud with Assad over the Sinai pact with Israel.

The Palestinians are getting Arab support only from Libya, Iraq and Algeria, all far away.

The guerrillas are convinced Assad wants to tame the resistance so he can force them into a Mideast settlement in which the occupied West Bank territory will become a Palestinian state federated with Syria and Jordan - presumably dominated by Syria.

The Palestinians, strictly controlled in Egypt and Syria and booted out of Jordan in a bloody fight with King Hussein's troops in 1970, have surprised the Syrians in their fight for the last free operating base bordering Israel.

They stopped the first Syrian tank units at a pass above Beirut and at Sidon. "The arrival of Syrian tanks in Beirut would mean crushing the Palestinian revolution and subjecting it to Syrian tutelage," a Palestinian delegate told the Arab League. "We reject all forms of tutelage whether from Syria or anyone else."

The right-wing Christian armies lost the battle for Beirut's hotel and banking districts. But after the Syrian intervention diverted the attention of the leftist-Palestinian forces, they defeated Palestinians in an assault to extend the northern border of the 800-square-mile Christian enclave.

Christians also overran and disarmed two small refugee camps in Christian territory and have nearly taken a large camp, Tal Zaatar.

Die-hard guerrillas have held the camp for a month against fierce shelling and assaults, despite 1,000 wounded and 500 dead, many of them terrified civilians.

"The camp might fall," said one Palestinian official. "But if it does, it would have provided the Arab nation with a spectacular symbol of Palestinian resistance."

The Palestinians now hold only Tripoli, which is under heavy Syrian pressure; west Beirut, where rumors are circulating of a Syrian attack to follow Tuesday's second American evacuation; and a segment of southwest Lebanon. To the east they face the Soviet-equipped Syrian army which reportedly has the authority to use up to 50,000 troops to make its Lebanese intervention work. North of Beirut are the Christians. And to the south are the Israelis, so far just watching the Arabs tangle with ill-concealed glee.

The Palestinian leadership is also having problems dealing with their Moslem leftist allies. The Palestinians, with the best organized armed force on the Moslem side, are virtually forced to take charge of Moslem-held areas of Beirut and south Lebanon. But when they do take charge, they alienate many Moslem Lebanese.

In 1974, when Arafat made his triumphant appearance at the United Nations, one Arab head of state was chosen to address the General Assembly on behalf of all Arab nations to plead the Palestinian cause.

Now that leader is a main enemy of the guerrillas - Sueiman Franjeh, president of Lebanon and one of the most fanatic leaders of the Christian side.

"There's been no change really," said on Palestinian official. "Our enemies have just come out in the open."

Controversy Before NRC Over Nuclear Exports

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - Are U.S. exports of uranium formerly considered routine and harmless, actually arming the world with nuclear weapons? The controversy is now before the Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

For years the United States has been supplying low-enriched uranium for India's Tarapur nuclear plant, which generates electricity for the Bombay area. A hearing today revolves around what would once have been a routine application for an export license.

Now, however, three citizen groups are objecting to further exports because India is building a reprocessing plant at Tarapur, capable of extracting from the spent nuclear fuel the byproduct plutonium, which could be used in nuclear bombs.

The hearing follows an acknowledgement by U.S. officials that it was U.S. uranium shipments and technical aid, meant only for civilian power generation, that made possible India's development of an atomic bomb and its explosion in 1974.

These officials said India's ability to use peaceful nuclear technology for bomb development was misjudged.

Although India used a research reactor supplied by Canada to produce bomb material, officials said, India also made use of U.S. uranium, "heavy water," and scientific training.

Last July 2 the NRC approved another shipment of more than 12,000 kilograms of enriched uranium to the Tarapur plant, but held open any decision on further exports pending this hearing.

The hearing directly involves another proposed shipment of 9,000 kilograms of enriched uranium.

The shipments have been opposed by the Sierra Club, the Union of Concerned Scientists and the Natural Resources Defense Council, which says safeguards are inadequate to prevent the diversion of nuclear materials into nuclear weaponry or terrorist activity.

The issue has brought dissenting votes from NRC Commissioner Victor Gilinsky when his three colleagues approved the last shipment to Tarapur and, earlier, when they approved an export of nuclear power plant parts to Spain.

India's explosion of a nuclear weapon not only made that country a member of the exclusive "nuclear club" but increased the pressure by Pakistan, Iran and other nations to develop their own nuclear weapons.

In his dissent from the last approval of uranium shipments to India, Gilinsky said, "The need for effective safeguards over reprocessing and the subsequent storage of separated plutonium is particularly acute in this case, given India's continuing nuclear explosives program and India's failure to renounce the use of such explosives as weapons through ratification of the NPT Nuclear Proliferation Treaty."

Ford To Ask For Restoring Of Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Ford is preparing to ask Congress to restore about $2.3 billion in funds it kept from his defense budget, according to administration sources. The money would go for Navy ships and research.

The sources said Ford will ask Congress to take back about $1 billion it approved for other ships and planes he does not want now.

Further, the sources say, Ford will renew his appeal for measures to hold down manpower cost increases and to sell surplus metals from the strategic stockpile. The actions would yield the Pentagon about $1.4 billion next year to help offset other spending, they calculate.

Ford's move, likely to come this week, would appear to be a challenge to the House and Senate to perform surgery on the record $11.4 billion defense budget late in an election year session.

The sources say Ford is willing to accept only $300 million of a $2.6 billion reduction made by Congress in procurement and research authority for the fiscal year starting Oct. 1.

They indicated Ford would go along with a cutback in the Trident submarine missile program because technical problems have slowed it down.

Sources said Ford will ask for restoration of money Congress cut out for the first ship in a new class of nuclear powered strike cruisers, a new destroyer to carry the advanced Aegis air defense missiles system, four anti-submarine warfare frigates and about $800 million in development funds for the new F-16 Navy fighter plane and to search for new carrier designs.
