

Spring Planting Possible In Irrigated Fields

Businessmen Offer New Mexican Wheat Variety

By JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Editor

The Texas Panhandle has always been winter wheat country, but two local businessmen are attempting to introduce a new wheat variety here which could open here the irrigated areas of Deaf Smith County to spring wheat as well.

J.W. ROBINSON and Marvin Coffey of Hereford are marketing Cajeme 71, a new and unusual variety of hard red spring wheat.

Unlike most spring wheats, which are soft, the new wheat, which was developed by the Rockefeller Foundation in Mexico, is a hard red variety which will readily mix with the hard red winter wheat already grown extensively in the area.

The wheat debuted in this country in the El Paso Valley of Texas and in Arizona, and was successful in both areas until growers switched to durham wheat.

Experimental plantings of the new variety have progressed northward in Texas, and some local agriculturalists have observed plantings of the Cajeme variety in the Crosbyton area.

LOCAL IRRIGATION farmers, who are now readying to plant their winter wheat crops, will find that the new spring variety is drilled in late February and early March, and has a growing period of about 120 days. It is harvested at about the same time as the present winter wheat.

According to Robinson, the normal planting time for the new variety locally would be March 1.

Jake Duke, a Pecos area farmer who has enjoyed success with the new wheat variety pointed out that the Mexican wheat has numerous advantages, but growers should not make the mistake of treating the new variety like the winter wheat they presently grow.

"Most farmers who grow hard red winter wheat in the Texas Panhandle graze their crop, but the Cajeme variety provides no grazing. It would be an excellent crop to follow up grazed-out corn stalks, but you can't put cattle on the new wheat," said Duke.

ROBINSON EXPLAINED that yields of 120 bushels per acre were possible with the new wheat, and the protein content of the new variety is higher than that normally associated with locally produced hard red winter wheat.

Duke explained that fertilizer requirements for the crop were similar to those of winter wheat, adding that he applies 250 pounds of anhydrous ammonia per acre pre-plant when readying for the crop.

"Some of the best results with this variety have been experienced on fields which were treated with 25 tons of manure per acre. Last year some fields treated in this manner yielded as much as 125 bushels per acre," he said.

The Pecos farmer reported that the wheat required five irrigations in his growing area, and that the variety is not recommended for dryland areas, because of its need for adequate moisture.

"AS LONG AS there is any green color left in the stalk and head, the plant is filling grain, and irrigation should continue as long as color remains, unlike winter wheat, where irrigation is halted while there is still some color in the plants," Duke advised.

He also explained that the Cajeme 71 variety is planted at a much heavier seeding rate than most winter wheats now sown locally, with 175 to 200 pounds of seed per acre called for in order to obtain top yields.

Crop hail insurance dealers are backing the new variety, because of less susceptibility to hail due to the short, sturdy characteristics of the plants.

"This wheat won't get over knee high, and strength is bred into the stalk so that it doesn't lodge. When the crop matures, the heads are long and large, and they thresh well in the combine and do not shatter," Duke claims.

ACCORDING TO ROBINSON, local growers would not have to look far to find a market for the new wheat variety, because it mixes so well with hard red

Arrest Of Juveniles Clears Burglaries

Two Hereford juveniles were charged in connection with 13 local burglaries Wednesday afternoon after they were arrested by city police.

According to a police department spokesman, three juveniles in the 14-15 year age range were arrested Wednesday and charged with the theft of a money bag from the Range Western Store here.

Consequent investigation led to filing of theft charges against two of the youths in connection with the other burglary incidents.

The spokesman indicated that most of the thefts which had been cleared involved purse snatchings and break-ins and thefts at several local businesses. Police are continuing their investigation following the arrest of the juveniles.

WE'RE GLAD they got the national political conventions out of the way this summer. It's too much to ask us to worry about the antics of politicians at the same time that school starts, footballs are in the air, the college kids are packing for another session, and we don't know for sure about Joe Namath's knees are where Clint Longley is hiding.

OUR FAVORITE start-of-school story concerns the father and his son.

It was Michael's first day of school. His father decided to walk with the young boy to the assembly point where he was to catch the school bus.

When they arrived the bus was waiting, fringed by a tight cluster of little boys eyeing each newcomer with suspicion.

"Michael," said the man in a loud voice, "I want you to come straight home after school. Remember, you've got to help me skin the elephant."

He pushed his son toward the bus, turned and walked rapidly away. Silence. Then a babble of little boys' voices. The father glanced back.

One boy was holding Michael's books, another one his lunch box, a third one was helping him on the bus.

A great peace descended on the man as he went on down the street smiling.

He was contented. He has measured up to the responsibility of fatherhood.

Deadlock Arises Over Abortion

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate and the House remain deadlocked over whether to ban use of federal funds for abortions.

The Senate refused for a second time Wednesday to accept the ban, which the House has voted for three times as an amendment to a $56.6-billion appropriation bill for the Departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare.

The government pays for 250,000 to 300,000 abortions each year for low-income women under HEW's Medicaid and other programs at an estimated cost of $40 million to $50 million.

The stalemate over abortion is the only difference remaining in the House and Senate appropriation bills. All other differences were comprised in a House-Senate conference three weeks ago.

Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., asked the Senate to yield to the House version, but his motion was rejected 53 to 35. Then, by the same vote, the Senate asked for another conference with the House over the issue.

Even if the dispute can be ironed out, the bill may be vetoed by President Ford, who had asked Congress to appropriate $4 billion less for Labor and HEW for fiscal 1977. Senate leaders for both parties agreed that a veto is likely.

The amendment insisted on by the House and rejected by the Senate provides that no funds in the bill "shall be used to pay for abortions or to promote or encourage abortions."

Helms, urging the Senate to yield to the House, said that, "we are talking about the lives of thousands and thousands of children about to be born." Refusing to accept the ban would be "a first step to horror and tragedy," Helms said.

But Sens. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., and Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., said that some women cannot afford to have abortions except at government expense. The amendment would have no effect on affluent women, they noted. Bayh said he doubted the Supreme Court would permit "a double standard" of this kind.

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., said the issue is one of "old-fashioned morality." He argued that "a state-supported abortion is a state-encouraged abortion."

New Variety

Marvin Coffey, left, and J.W. Robinson of Hereford examine heads of the new wheat variety Cajeme 71, which they are making available to local farmers. The variety, which was developed in Mexico, is a hard red spring wheat which would be sown locally about March 1, and would be ready for harvest at about the same time as the presently grown winter wheat. Although the new variety cannot be grazed, it does have potential for yields as high as 120 bushels per acre under irrigation and the high protein content of the grain from this variety could bring growers a premium price.

LWV May Sponsor Debates

WASHINGTON (AP) - Sponsorship of presidential debates by the League of Women Voters would not violate federal campaign financing laws, the Federal Election Commission's chief counsel said today.

However, the counsel, John Murphy, said it might be illegal for the league to solicitate funds from corporations or labor unions to underwrite the debates.

Murphy presented those opinions as the commission met to discuss specifics with some staff attorneys that the debate format proposed by the league might violate federal election laws.

The commission meeting came as emissaries of President Ford and Democratic challenger Jimmy Carter arranged to discuss specifics with officials of the league in their first negotiation session on the upcoming debates.

The league has offered to sponsor a series of television debates and has said it hoped to raise $150,000 to pay for them from corporations and labor unions.

The Murphy legal opinion said debate costs is sponsoring the TV debates are "neither contributions nor expenditures" as defined by federal campaign law.

"The league has a history of over 90 years of nonpartisan education activities in the electoral process, and is, indeed, forbidden by its constitution and by laws to endorse candidates or to otherwise appear in a partisan light," Murphy's opinion said.

"The activity proposed to be undertaken here is in keeping with that tradition."

But the opinion also noted that the league may not pay for the debate "with funds the source of which is corporate or labor organizations treasuries or other sources forbidden to participate in the federal election process."

Earlier in the week, other election commission attorneys said the very sponsorship by the league of the debates might violate a legal provision that bars presidential candidates from accepting private contributions once they have agreed to accept public funds, as both Ford and Carter have.

Peggy Lampi, executive director of the league, said this legal uncertainty looms as the biggest potential obstacle to the debates.

"It deeply concerns us," she said. "Not only could an adverse ruling by the election commission upset our plans, but it could preclude any appearance by presidential candidates before private organizations in general."

Daniel Swillinger, assistant general counsel for the commission, has claimed that the league-sponsored debates could violate the provision that forbid presidential candidates from accepting private contributions once they have agreed to accept public financing of their campaign.

Both Ford and his Democratic challenger have gone the public-financing route, with each expected to get about $21 million in tax funds.

The league estimates that the debates will cost $150,000, most of which it plans to solicit from labor unions, corporations and other groups.

President Ford, who laid down the challenge to debate Carter in his acceptance speech at last week's Republican National Convention, announced Wednesday that Dean Burch and William Ruckelshaus would represent him in the negotiations over the debates.

Burch, a former chairman of the Federal Communications Commission and deputy director of Barry Goldwater's 1964-presidential campaign, has served as adviser in the President's re-election campaign.

Ruckelshaus, who quit as deputy attorney general in 1973 rather than carry out the order of former President Richard M. Nixon to fire the special Watergate prosecutor, is a lumber firm executive in Tacoma, Wash. He has not played an active role in Ford's campaign.

Carter's team of negotiators is headed by Jody Powell, the former Georgia governor's press secretary and a top adviser.

The League of Women Voters had proposed four debates - three between Ford and Carter and the fourth between GOP vice presidential nominee Sen. Robert Dole and his Democratic counterpart, Sen. Walter Mondale.

Ford, however, has suggested four 90-minute debates between himself and Carter.

Roof Falls On People Powered Plane

SEATTLE (AP) - The roof has fallen in on Wayne Bliesner's ambition to win the $89,000 prize offered by British industrialist to the first person who successfully builds a people-powered airplane.

The 22-year-old Bellevue man arrived at the Bellingham Wash. Airport to hook up the propeller on his 220-pound, pedal-powered airplane, only to find his makeshift hangar of wood and plastic had collapsed. Parts of the delicate aircraft's wings were crushed.

And so was Bliesner. He said he has spent $2,000 and more than 2,000 hours building the airplane.

"I just pulled the wood off the plane and came home," he said. "I didn't feel like doing much work."

It will take about three weeks to repair the plane, Bliesner said. "I can't give up now."

Disease Source Suspected

FARMINGTON, Conn. (AP) - The discovery of potentially fatal levels of nickel in tissue samples taken from victims of legionnaires' disease "certainly strengthens the possibility" that nickel carbonyl gas caused the illness, says a medical researcher.

Dr. F. William Sunderman Jr., who heads a team of scientists at the University of Connecticut, said Wednesday night that a two-week study had found significant traces of nickel in tissue taken from the kidney, brain, liver and other organs of three victims.

Colson Wants Prisons Opened

DENVER (AP) - Convicted Watergate conspirator Charles Colson, special counsel for former President Richard M. Nixon, says officials should "open the doors to let the public in to see the ugly sores of our prisons."

Colson served a prison term working in a federal prison laundry in Maxwell, Ala., after his watergate convictions. He addressed a meeting Wednesday of the American Correctional Association's 106th Congress.

If administrators open those doors, he said, the public "can cure the sores

Ford Tries For Party Unity

VAIL, Colo. (AP) - President Ford is trying to emphasize party unity in the wake of the sharply divided Republican convention by calling in party factions ranging from moderate to conservative for campaign-strategy sessions.

Arriving at his vacation campaign command post today were running mate Bob Dole, Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller and John Connally. Ford said the three would join him for a working dinner tonight.

Tiny Tim Refuses Divorce

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) - Singer Tiny Tim says he won't give his estranged wife, "Miss Vicki," something she "wants - a divorce."

"I don't believe in divorce. I'll always be married to Miss Vicki," the singer said in an interview Wednesday. "She wants a divorce but I'm not going to give it to her. We're married until death do us part."

Tiny Tim, who is performing in the Nashville area, was asked whether he still loved his wife. "That's hard to say," he replied.

Couple At Home After Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. John Robert Page are at home in Littlefield following their recent marriage in the Presbyterian Church of Hereford. The Rev. George Belford officiated.

Mrs. Page, the former Sheryl Lee Hetzel of Amarillo, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D.D. Hetzel of 213 Fir and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Antonette Page of Gatesville and the late Dr. Gale J. Page.

The bride's sister, Miss Terry Hetzel, served as maid of honor and Danny Charest of Bakersville Calif. was best man.

The bride wore an old-fashioned Gibson girl gown of white organza and Irish cluney lace. The moulded bodice featured a deep portrait neckline edged in tating and framed in matching lace.

Long bishop sleeves were softly sheered to deep cluney lace cuffs and matching lace was repeated at the crescent shaped waistline veiling a daffodil yellow sash. A panel of pin tucking edged in matching lace formed an apron effect down the front of the gown and a double lace edged flounced encircled the hemline and chapel length train.

As a good luck piece, she borrowed her mother's pearls.

A reception was held for relatives and close friends of the couple at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride, who has been employed at Northwest Texas Hospital at Amarillo for two years, graduated from West Texas State University this spring where she received her bachelor of science degree in nursing.

The bridegroom attended WTSU for three years and is now serving as area general manager for Mister Burger Corp.

Ann Landers Don't Pass Judgement

Society
The Hereford Brand.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This is for John Q. Public, that arrogant ignoramus who thinks he has the right to pass judgement on what women should wear in supermarkets and on city streets.

So you don't like us in tennis dresses and shorts because you think varicose veins are ugly? Well, Buddy Boy, where do you think we got them? Not from lolling around eating bon-bons. Varicose veins are the result of bearing this country's children.

We deserve a lot more respect and a lot less criticism. Varicose veins are our service stripes.

If looking at us spoils your appetite, I suggest you turn your head the other way. Maybe you'll see a man wearing Bermuda shorts. And five will get you 10 that HE will have varicose veins. -- Insulted In Guam

DEAR G: Take that and that and that, John Q.P. But -- those men with the varicose veins, how do you suppose THEY get 'em.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am 37 years old. My husband is 42. We have four healthy children who are a handful. My husband and I decided "no more." So three months ago he had a vasectomy.

Last week I began to feel queasy in the morning. Today the doctor told me I am PREGNANT! I screamed, "Impossible, my husband has had a vasectomy!" The doctor gave me a wry look and asked, "Do you have a lover?" I was shocked at his question and told him I didn't go in for that sort of thing. He replied, "Ask your husband if he went back and had his seminal fluid checked six weeks after his surgery."

Well, I asked him, Ann, and his answer was, "No, I forgot." Yesterday he returned to his doctor (furious that the doctor's office hadn't reminded him about the check-up) and sure enough, the sperm count was high enough to make me pregnant.

So, please tell your readers that having a vasectomy is not enough. They must make sure it "took." -- Number Five Coming Up

DEAR NUMBER FIVE: Thanks for a letter that can make a great deal of difference to a lot of readers. (P.S. I hope you haven't given away the crib and high chair.)

DEAR ANN LANDERS: We're a large family of girls. Whenever there's a special occasion -- Christmas, birthdays or anniversary, something that calls for a gift for our parents -- one sister rushes out and selects an expensive present and then hits the rest of us up for our share of the cost.

She doesn't realize that each of us may want to give our mother or father a gift on our own.

Mother's jewelry box is full of stuff sister picked out but couldn't afford to pay for until she divided the price by six and dunned the rest of us.

I have a hunch Sis is charging this merchandise, paying on it monthly and doing something else with the funds she's collecting from us. What can be done without creating a big family fight? -- Rooked

DEAR R: Tell sister NOW that there will be no more joint gifts to your parents. Explain that each of you wants to give individually. If she ignores your wishes and buys something from all of you, insist that she pay for it herself.

How to -- and how much? Find out with Ann Landers' new booklet, "How, What and When to Tell Your Child About Sex." For your copy, send 50 cents in coin along with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Illinois 60120.

At Wit's End ...

By ERMA BOMBECK

In response to a column on "Never Strike Your Child In Anger," Tom Byrnes of Lake Bluff, Ill., offers this tongue-in-cheek question as to when do you strike them. He is the father of 12 children and grandfather to 14.

Never strike your child in anger.

Never hit him when irate.

But save it for some happy time.

When both are feeling great.

Save it for some pleasant bedtime.

And as you tuck him in his crib.

Clench your fist and let him have it.

Or better, choke him with his bib.

Or wait until a Sunday morning.

Try to catch him at his prayers.

And as he whispers, "Dad

...bless Dada."

Kick him neatly down the stairs.

Or how about a Happy Birthday.

When friends and laughter fill the house.

Then bash him with a cake you've lettered.

"Greetings to a little louse."

Or how about a family outing.

A Sunday morning at the zoo.

And when it's time to feed the lions.

Supplement with you-know-who.

Or take him with you on an airplane.

The family plan's the cheapest way.

And when it reaches cruising level.

Tell him, "Go outside and play."

Although he breaks a Wedgewood platter.

Spills your bourbon on the floor.

Never strike your child in anger.

It isn't civilized anymore.

It makes the child feel insecure.

When parents strike or even shove.

But you can do him in completely.

As long as it's done with love.

MR. AND MRS. BILL MCCARVER
...to celebrate anniversary

Reception To Honor McCarvers Sunday

Friends and relatives are invited to join Mr. and Mrs. Bill McCarver at their 40th wedding anniversary reception Sunday from 2:30-4 p.m. in the Medallion Room of Deaf Smith County Co-op building.

The former Mary Alyce Wallace and Bill McCarver of Wellington were married in Shamrock August 29, 1936 with the Rev. W.T. Jamison officiating.

At the time of their marriage, McCarver was operating heavy machinery for road maintenance for Childress and Collingsworth counties. Later he became a peace officer for both the city and county in Wellington.

The McCarvers moved to Hereford in 1957 where McCarver continued to work as deputy sheriff until his retirement. His wife, who is now employed at Gaston's Popular Store, performed secretarial work for several years.

She was employed at the Fair Store in Wellington until 1957.

Hosting the anniversary reception for their parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Meador of Eldorado and Dr. and Mrs. Ron Thomason of Canyon.

Puckers Make Fashion News

Fashionable consumers will be "puckering up" with the next fabric style. Mrs. Becky Culp, area clothing specialist, reports.

"Puckered fabrics are replacing gauzes and crinkles for that all-important surface interest," she added.

Mrs. Culp is with the Texas

Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

She said that puckered fabrics include seersucker and plisse. While the pucker is seersucker is permanently woven or knitted into the fabric, puckers in plisse are created by applying heat and chemicals. Some plisses may "de-pucker" if ironed, she noted.

"These are two fabrics are most often light to medium weight. Fiber contents are usually popular cottons and cotton blends but may also be made in a variety of synthetics. Mix and match stripes, plaids, solids and ethnic prints combine well for versatile coordinated separates."

Puckers are easy-care, no-iron fabrics. They're ideal for travel, pack exceptionally well and resist wrinkles during wear, the specialist said.

Prepare Child For New School Experiences

A new school year brings lots of challenges for first graders—and their parents, Mrs. Ilene Miller, a family education specialist, says.

"Perhaps for the first time in his life, the child come in contact with many other people. He soon discovers that his classmates do not always think or act like he does," she said.

Mrs. Miller is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Each child has to find his place in this new, larger social setting which is quite different from his home. By practicing social skills developed during the pre-school years, the youngster learns to make and keep friends, to work cooperatively and to share with classmates. He also learns to follow his teacher's instructions as he discovers new subject matter."

Parents play an important role in their child's transition from the home setting to the school routine, she pointed out.

"Before school begins, mothers, and fathers should help their children learn what changes to expect. Talk with the child about the new routine and activities he will be participating in, such as class, lunch and restroom breaks, and recess.

"Take the child to visit the school and to meet his teacher, if possible. Help him become familiar with the school building and where his classroom, the playground and restrooms are located," she advised.

And don't forget the "emotional" side of starting school, Mrs. Miller cautioned.

"Parents should take with the child about how he may feel when he starts to school. It isn't unusual for a youngster to feel lonesome, afraid, sad or angry as he starts to school. The child may be afraid of the people he does not know well and may miss his parents.

"The child also may become angry at his parents for letting him go to school to face all the new experiences alone. But whatever the child is feeling needs to be acknowledged and discussed," she said.

And it is also important that parents acknowledge their own feelings about being separated from the child. Parents help a child when they listen attentively to what he has to say. The child feels good if he knows his mother and father are interested in his experiences, she said.

Assemble-It-Yourself Furniture Is Bargain

Yellow straight or crookneck, white scallop and zucchini—all are summer squash varieties that are delicious and easy to prepare.

Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist advises that in selecting soft shell squash, choose those with a bright, fresh appearance, free from blemishes and so tender that they dent easily when pressed.

"The small- to medium-size squash are more likely to have that tender skin. Squash bruises easily, so handle it with care. And like the other vegetables with a high water content, squash keeps best in a cool, dry place until ready to use. Be sure to buy squash only in amounts that can be used within a week," she advised.

Mrs. Clyatt is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Every bit of summer squash can be eaten—skin, flesh and seeds. Plan on three to four half-cup serving from one pound of squash.

"One preparation method is to wash squash, cut into pieces and put into a pot of salted boiling water—just enough water to keep squash from scorching.

"Cook for about 15 minutes or until just tender. Season the boiled squash with plenty of butter or bacon drippings and serve it hot," she suggested.

Assemble-it-yourself furniture is one furnishing alternative worth looking into by money-conscious young consumers. Glenda Moore, a housing and home furnishings specialist says.

"Sofas, tables and chairs can cost less since the buyer carries home pre-packaged boxes ready to assemble with few if any tools," this specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, says.

"Styles feature simple contemporary lines, creating feelings of spaciousness in small apartments and houses. Finishes include natural wood tones, chrome and laminated table tops."

She advised consumers shopping for home-assembled furniture to check for comfort, sturdy construction and durable fabrics. Sit down in each chair or section until you are sure it is comfortable.

"Read the instructions for putting together each piece you buy. Ask for a demonstration of the assembly procedures and be sure you understand each step.

"For longer-wearing, cushion fabrics, select ones that are closely woven and have a soil-resistant treatment.

"And if the foreseeable future holds a move, save the cartons and it can be disassembled, transported and reset with little trouble," she said.

The specialist advised consumers not to forget to ask if the store or manufacturer has a warranty on the furniture.

Herd, Rebels Collide In Scrimmage Friday Night

By BOB NIGH
Brand Sports Editor

Thirteen returning lettermen will lead the Hereford Whitefaces into the fray this Friday night as the Herd takes on Amarillo Tascosa in a scrimmage just one week prior to the opening of the 1976 grid season. The Herd has been tabbed by a couple of different sources as the team to beat in District 4-4A this season, while Tascosa is rated near the bottom of the District 3-4A list. Action kicks off at 7:30 p.m. Friday at Whiteface Field. "The scrimmage will be more like a controlled workout than an actual game," Hereford mentor Fred Upshaw indicated.

The two squads will take turns running about twenty plays on offense. Punts will be included in the scrimmage, but kickoffs will be excluded.

Coach James Harris' Rebels are faced with the problem of a lack of size and experience as they look to 1976. Five starters of a year ago, along with eight other letter winners, head a Tascosa team that posted a 3-7 mark in 1975.

"We lost some good players," Harris said recently in a bit of understatement. "We don't have a lot of size, but the players' enthusiasm and desire are overwhelming."

Split end Terry Bridges, tackle Steve Washburn, and guard Brian Belmeir will lead the Rebel offense this season, while tackle Tom Sutterfield, and end Kenny Bostick anchor the defense.

The '76 edition of the Herd is blessed with an experienced backfield which is headed by two-year lettermen Carlee Graves and Roy Martinez. Junior Kelly Kitchens will call signals for Hereford, and senior running back Russell Harkins rounds out the talented quartet.

Even though Upshaw has many area coaches drooling at the thought of having his backfield, he can't for a minute enjoy the situation.

After the first four, Hereford's well of experienced backs runs quickly dry. However, through the first two weeks of practice Upshaw says that two players, Greg Hennington and Daniel Olson, have shown some promise running with the ball.

A backup, and possibly strong contender, to Kitchens at the field general slot is senior Jim Lawson. Lawson played in the defensive secondary for Hereford last year after working as a quarterback his sophomore season.

"Lawson is doing a good job of picking up where he left off as a sophomore," Upshaw reports. "I'd feel good about him going into the game at any time. He's a leader, and a hard worker."

Defensively Upshaw and his charges have nowhere but up to go from 1975, which saw the Herd finish dead last in that category, giving up an average of 272.8 yards per game.

"We've been working real hard on defense, and are anxious to see how we do Friday night," Upshaw said.

Greg Brockman and Rick Taylor will head the Hereford linebacking corps. Rowen Alexander and Abel Trevizo shore up the line, and there are a fistful of players scrambling for spots in the secondary.

"Dennis Artho, Lawson, and Martinez have all played some back there," Upshaw said. "Robert Schumacher, Olson, Graves, and Paul Bell are also being considered."

Although coach Upshaw contends that his team is "not ready to play a game yet", he does feel that a lot of progress is being made.

"We're not where we want to be, but we're getting there. It just takes a lot of repetition," he said.

Baylor's football team has two weeks off from action between the Texas Aggie game Oct. 16 and the Arkansas game Nov. 6.

LSU will play eight night football games this season.

Returning Veterans

These thirteen lettermen will lead the Herd when Amarillo Tascosa comes to town Friday night for a scrimmage which will begin at 7:30 at Whiteface Field. They are: Front row l to r: Rowan Alexander, Jim Lawson, Barry Acton, Kelly

Grid Future Uncertain, Blanda Leaves Quietly

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (AP) - "The world is not going to come to an end because I'm not going to play football anymore," says George Blanda, the flinty star waived by the Oakland Raiders after 26 seasons of professional football.

A hero to every aging would-be athlete, Blanda was placed on waivers by the Raiders Tuesday. He confirmed the story himself when word leaked out and the team refused to confirm or deny it until Wednesday.

He left camp here quietly Wednesday, saying goodbye to only a few players and friends. There was no cheering for the man who holds the all-time National Football League scoring record and record for field goals.

But Raiders Managing General Partner Al Davis suggested that the team may have plans for Blanda's future. "It is possibility that Blanda could play this year," Davis said. "I'm going to talk to him Friday. We've still got some things to discuss."

"I don't know if this is it," Blanda said. "I just want to get out of here now and go where I know someone cares about me."

Quarterback Ken Stabler, one of Blanda's closest friends, said he was surprised that Blanda was shuffled out with no fanfare. "When you've been what George Blanda has been, I thought there would be a big press conference and he would go out with glory. He deserved it."

"This makes the third time a team has declared me too old to play this game - only this time they may be right," said Blanda, who played with the Chicago Bears and Houston Oilers before coming to the Raiders in 1967.

He has scored 2,002 points - 653 ahead of his closest rival. His string of 201 consecutive extra points in the third-longest of all time. He is the oldest man ever to play professional football by nearly four years and has played 340 NFL games, the most of any players.

The Buffalo Bills cut down to the required 49-man limit by placing super running back O.J. Simpson and lineman Donnie Green on the "did not report" list.

Simpson has refused to play in Buffalo and has requested a trade to a West Coast team. Green, an offensive tackle, has asked to have his contract renegotiated.

So far, defensive back Bryant Salter has not reported to his new team, the Miami Dolphins. Washington had dealt Salter to Miami Tuesday for Jake Scott and an undisclosed draft choice.

"It's not quite clear what Salter's going to do," said Miami Coach Don Shual. "We want him down here as quick as possible. We'll give him a reasonable time to report."

If he doesn't report, the trade would be jeopardized. The Dolphins Wednesday traded Don Testerman, a Eagles for an undisclosed draft running back to the Philadelphia choice.

Griffin Attends Planning Session

Marie Griffin of Hereford recently attended the first meeting of the West Texas Cluster Planning Team of the Mid America Region Y.M.C.A., Inc., a position she was elected to last June. Griffin is the sole female representative on the ten-member team which includes Regional Consultant Armin F. Luehrs of the Dallas office.

The objectives of the planning team are to identify staff and lay resources of Member (Local) Associations, undertake joint endeavors for individual and collective benefit of these Associations, work toward accomplishments of local and regional objectives, and to bring Member Association concerns to Regional and National Boards, Griffin said.

Fourteen cities are represented in the West Texas Cluster, among them Clovis and Roswell, New Mexico. Texas cities included are Hereford,

Marie Griffin

Dumas, Amarillo, Lubbock, Perryton, Plainview, Abilene, Big Spring, El Paso, Midland, Odessa, and San Angelo.

The planning team, of which Griffin will be a member until June of 1978, meets three times annually, while the total cluster meets twice a year.

Oilers Check In

HUNTSVILLE (AP) - Two newly acquired players, running back Joe Dawkins and offensive tackle Dave Simonson, have reported to the Houston Oilers training camp.

Both players, acquired from the New York Giants for future draft choices, participated in workouts Wednesday as the Oilers prepared for the Miami Dolphins who will visit the Astrodome Saturday night for an exhibition game.

Altie Taylor, a veteran running back acquired from the Detroit Lions Tuesday, did not show up Wednesday but Oilers Head Coach A.O. "Bum" Phillips said he expected him to report soon.

The Oilers also announced that tight end Larry Mialik, slowed by a sprained ankle, has been placed on injured waivers.

Age Makes No Difference Says Tiant After Victory

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

Luis Tiant says he doesn't want to pitch forever. Funny... most people thought he already had.

The amazing right-hander, who may be oldest person ever born on his listed birthdate of Nov. 23, 1940, continued his resurgence from a five-game July skid Wednesday by pitching the Boston Red Sox to an 8-2 triumph over the California Angels. It was his fifth victory in a row this month and boosted his record to 15-10.

Despite the victory, Tiant was still ranked by a recent Boston radio show on which sports writers brought up his age.

"They're all the time talking about how old I am," he griped. "One of these days I'll have to retire. I don't want to pitch forever. But I'm not complaining about anybody. I'm just going to go out and pitch."

Joining Tiant as 15-game winners in the American League were a couple of youngsters, Detroit's Mark Fidrych and Milwaukee's Bill Travers. Fidrych hurled the Tigers to a five-hit 3-1 triumph over the Chicago White Sox while Travers bested the Texas Rangers 5-4 with help from two Brewer relievers.

Elsewhere, Andy Hassler, who snapped a near-record 18-game losing streak earlier this month, got his fourth straight win as the Kansas City Royals nipped the Cleveland Indians 2-1; the Baltimore Orioles trounced the Oakland A's 9-4 and the New York Yankees edged the Minnesota Twins 5-4 in a 5½-hour, 19-inning game.

Tiant allowed four hits, struck out three and walked four before letting Tom Murphy pitch a mop-up ninth. He retired the first 11 California batters and didn't give up a hit until the fifth.

Tigers 3, White Sox 1
Aurelio Rodriguez helped Fidrych win for the 11th time in 14 Tiger Stadium decisions by driving in two runs with a single and a sacrifice fly. Fidrych has now beaten every team in the league.

"It seemed like I didn't kick in until the sixth; I don't know why," said The Bird, who retired the last 13 batters and lowered his earned run average to 2.11 with his 18th complete game in 21 starts.

Royals 2, Indians 1
Hassler scattered five hits in seven innings while George Brett's sacrifice fly in the fifth inning following a single by Al Cowens and a double by Amos Otis drove in the winning run off Jim Kern. The Indians got their only run in the first inning on a walk, Ray Fosse's single and a pair of an infield out.

It was the fifth consecutive strong outing by the 24-year-old left-hander, who had dropped 17 in a row when the Royals purchased him from the Angels earlier this season and lost his first Kansas City decision.

Orioles 9, A's 4
Bobby Grich hit a two-run homer and Mark Belanger belted a three-run double as Baltimore scored five times in the first inning against ex-teammate Paul Mitchell. The A's made four errors, leading to five unearned runs.

Brewers 5, Rangers 1

Don Money's two-run homer for the eighth time in a row, helped Milwaukee defeat Texas

Guest Accused Of Misusing Funds Implementation Of Dallas Desegregation Plan Praised

AUSTIN (AP) - Tom Prentice of Austin, a delegate to the State Democratic Convention, accused State Democratic Chairman Calvin Guest today of misusing party funds to help Guest's race for re-election. "I am now calling for an audit of the receipts and disbursements of the Texas Democratic Party, an independent audit, and as a delegate to the September convention am asking that the audit be completed and distributed to all delegates prior to the first gavel in Ft. Worth," Prentice said in a statement.

He said he also thought Guest should "make proper restitution" to the party. Prentice said he received a letter Monday that included two messages, both signed by Guest and "thinly disguised" as an appeal for support of Guest's re-election. Prentice added that he is supporting John Henry Tatum of Lufkin, Guest's opponent.

DALLAS (AP) - U.S. Justice Department officials Wednesday praised the smooth implementation of the Dallas School District desegregation plan this week. "People have asked me if this is for real," said Bob Greenwald for the Justice Department. "It's real, it really is. We've seen cities all over the country trying to grapple with this. This is unparalleled." It was the third peaceful day of the implementation of a court-ordered desegregation plan that say about 18,000 black, Anglo and Mexican-American children in grades 4 through 8 be bused to schools outside their neighborhoods. Greenwald was one of several federal representatives who had spent the last few days in the district's "command post" monitoring the progress of the plan. School officials credited city leaders and the help of volunteers with the early success of the plan. There were only four minor incidents reported in the first days of the plan and they did not involve serious racial confrontations or protests. One of the incidents involved a fake bomb threat, another threatened fight and the third a suspension of a student for cursing a principal. Deputy Police Chief John

Driscoll said Tuesday that police officers assigned to security, "have been sitting around bored to death." Driscoll said the precautions will be reduced gradually the rest of the week. School District Supt. Nolan

Estes said, "half the battle is a good start," and he noted there was a good start Monday when the only problems involved some confusion in the transportation system. The nearly 5,000 students who voluntarily moved to magnet schools throughout the district began moving into their classrooms Wednesday. Under the court order, enrollment at the magnet high schools must be 45 per cent black 42 per cent Anglo and 13 per cent Mexican-American.

Peek Through Fence Gets OK From Court

NEW ORLEANS AP-The 5th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals has reversed a judge who ruled that an Austin, Tex. policeman who peeked through an 8-foot-high fence committed an illegal search. The 5th Circuit said Wednesday that the issue of whether the peek without a warrant violated constitutional right against unreasonable search and seizure already had been fought out in Texas state courts. Citing a recent U. S. Supreme Court ruling, the 5th said federal courts are not to issue habeas corpus orders in cases "where the state has provided a full and fair litigation of a Fourth Amendment claim..." The ruling was in an appeal filed by the state.

GM To Increase Prices of Autos

DETROIT (AP) - General Motors Corp. said Wednesday suggested retail prices for its 1977 car models will increase an average of $269 over comparable 1976 prices.

GM Chairman Thomas Murphy said dealers' introductory wholesale prices will rise an average of $216, the same amount as a year ago.

He said the base-car increases at both wholesale and retail levels will average 5.8 per cent. The percentage includes the new full-size and luxury models GM will introduce next month, he said. Option prices will increase an average of 6.2 per cent, Murphy said.

Murphy said the suggested retail price increases will range from $23 on the Oldsmobile Starfire to $708 on the Cadillac Seville.

The other major auto makers, Ford and Chrysler, have not announced price increases. However, they traditionally follow the lead of GM and spokesmen have indicated unofficially that the price hikes would range around 6 per cent.

The GM Chairman cited increased costs of steel, aluminum, copper, lead, glass and plastics. He added "GM's labor costs, affected heavily by recent increases in the cost of benefits, have risen more than 9 per cent in the past year, and we are even now negotiating new contract with the unions representing our hourly employees."

Detroit Adopts Curfew To Cut Violence

By MARTY HAIR
By Associated Press

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit's new curfew ordinance is slowing down incidents of youth gang violence and calming the nerves of the nation's fifth-largest city, officials say.

But Mayor Coleman Young, maintaining a "crisis" exists in the Motor City, planned to address residents on local television Wednesday night to appeal for support of his antigang measures.

Gang violence plagued the city's streets in June and July, and escalated to a mini-riot staged by youths at a downtown rock concert Aug. 15.

The trouble-makers, identified by police as 125 black gang members, grabbed purses, beat people and committed at least one rape outside Cobo Hall, the downtown events arena where the concert was held.

The downtown violence followed a less serious outbreak on June 30 when gang members disrupted a riverfront fireworks celebration.

Since the Cobo incident, however, police and city officials say reports of gang violence have dropped. In fact, police say there has been no gang trouble since the rock-concert incident.

They credit a new curfew ordinance, the recall of 450 laid-off city policemen and a new policy of prosecuting first-time felons.

Young has described the gang members a "Huckleberry Finns trying to be John Dillingers" and has said the city "is determined never to have another Cobo Hall."

Three young Detroit men identified by witnesses as gang leaders were arraigned Tuesday on two counts each of assault with intent to commit murder and assault with intent to commit armed robbery. Witnesses said they turned the trio in because they were fed up of hearing the youths brag about crimes.

The 10 p.m. curfew ordinance, invoked last Thursday for youths under 18, is in effect for 60 days. The number of youths arrested under the curfew has been dropping steadily, police said Wednesday.

"It's a strict measure. The kids realize this gang action is just not being tolerated," said one police spokeswoman. "They are staying home and off the streets."

A total of 187 youths have been arrested so far, ranging from 56 in one night a week ago to 19 Monday night. Police said so few were arrested Tuesday night they did not compile figures.

After the concert melee, city officials recalled 450 police officers who had been laid off July 1 because of city budget problems. Of those recalled, 200 were assigned to the tactical services unit to canvass the streets for curfew violators.

"We have surveillance details on the gangs. These people are just not coming out on the streets now," said Sgt. Don Nash. The additional police curfew detail would be used "until this crisis is over," he said.

Merchants say the number of break-ons at downtown businesses has fallen since the curfew took effect. One group, the Central Business District Association, had said earlier it would hire a private security force to patrol stores at night. Now, association officials said, the special patrol isn't needed because the rehired police officers are doing the job for them.

Marine Officer Punished

SAN DIEGO (AP) - A former Marine drill instructor has been handed a bad conduct discharge and cut in rank to private after pleading guilty to maltreatment of recruits.

The plea was made Tuesday by Cpl. Gordon L. Poling, 28, of McAlester, Okla., to 12 counts of maltreatment and two counts of unauthorized absence. He was sentenced by Col. Daniel F. McConnell.

McConnell said later he may recommend suspension of the sentences.

Another 13 counts of maltreating recruits in San Diego were dismissed by the government's attorney after general court-martial deliberations Monday.

Poling admitted hitting recruits on the chest, twisting the fingers on others, hitting two young men in the stomach and knocking the heads of others together. He said he acted to avoid a racial confrontation.

Poling could have received a sentence of 13 years confinement at hard labor, a dishonorable discharge and other penalties.

Networkings TV classics for kids

Quality television programming, on the level of Masterpiece Theatre, is being offered to kids this fall on PBS. Once Upon a Classic, premiering Saturday, Oct. 2, at 7:30 p.m., is a series of award-winning children's classics and contemporary adventure films, never before seen on American television. The films now scheduled for the 1976-77 season include "The Prince and the Pauper," "Heidi," "David Copperfield," all productions of the BBC, and two one-hour adventure specials produced by the Children's Film Foundation in London.

These classics are not new to young audiences, but the production quality and on-location filming of the series will undoubtedly make it quite a hit. Bill Bixby hosts Once Upon a Classic, adding an American touch as well as his own enthusiasm and interest in children's learning.

nally in "New Religions: Holiness or Heresy?" In announcing the program, Marlene Sanders, ABC News Vice President and Director of Television Documentaries, said the report will focus on two controversial religious organizations: The Unification Church founded by Rev. Sun Myung Moon, and the Church of Scientology, started by L. Ron Hubbard.

Ms. Sanders observed that "there are many reasons for this growing trend toward religiosity among young people. They are searching for certainties. But are they being hoodwinked and brainwashed as critics, including many parents, have charged? Is the Constitution's First Amendment guarantee of religious freedom also being used as a shield against government scrutiny and regulation? Our report explores the operations of two religious groups and examines their social and political implications. Tony Batten is producer for the documentary.

the use of chemicals in our food supply over the past generation will be examined in a one-hour documentary "NBC Reports What Is This Thing Called Food?" on September 8. Betty Furness, well-known as a champion of consumer causes, will be the on-camera reporter.

Thomas Tomizawa, the program's producer, notes that 5,500 chemicals are put into food in this country directly or indirectly. "The program is not just about food additives," he says. "We are looking into a technology that has changed the food supply by the use of chemicals and the chemical manipulation of food itself. We are the first generation consumers of the chemical fallout. Many scientists are now saying that the real question is 'What can the long-term damage be?'"

More tennis, anyone? You may think that there are enough bouncing white balls on your home screen already, but the big tennis event in this country is still to come and CBS will be there with all the lobs, volleys and drop shots. For the ninth consecutive year, CBS will offer live coverage of the U.S. Open Tennis Championships from Forest Hills, N.Y. Early-round action begins Saturday, Sept. 4 and Sunday, Sept. 5, with semi-final matches September 11 and the finals on Sunday, Sept. 12.

In the fall of 1961, Search for Tomorrow went on the air with its first episode. On Friday, Sept. 3 it will present its 6,481st. That date is also the 25th anniversary for the CBS soap, as television's longest-running daytime series.

The serial boasts an original cast member, Mary Stuart, who plays Joanne, still an extraordinarily popular character. Larry Haines, who joined the show a short time after its inception, still portrays Stu Bergman, Joanne's close friend and business partner.

Head Smut Revealed As Serious Threat To Corn During Tour

DIMMITT— About 145 farmers, seedsmen, specialists and agents gathered along the turnrows of George Sides' farm nine miles west of Dimmitt Aug. 17 to see the results of a corn disease demonstration program.

Robert Berry, Texas Agricultural Extension Service plant pathologist, headed up the event with the help of Castro County Extension Agent Charles Hottel.

Berry, Hottel and Sides planned 70 commercial corn hybrids in four-row plots one-half mile long for observation of disease development and variety resistance. With the corn now standing mature and tall, the guests were able to see examples of head smut, a disastrous disease that strikes in isolated pockets throughout corn production areas, and rust and Maize Dwarf Mosaic Virus.

Texas Agricultural Experiment Station Plant Pathologist Dr. R. A. (Dick) Frederiksen discussed preliminary results of disease research projects also being conducted on the Sides farm.

The most damaging disease has been head smut, Berry told the group. In 1975 the field had 30 per cent of the plants infected with head smut and producing no grain. The yield has reduced by 30 per cent from the long-time average on the Sides farm. Berry said there has been little information available on the disease in field corn since it has never been reported in an epidemic.

Berry said evaluations for head smut indicated that varietal differences do exist. The most susceptible hybrid and 47 per cent infected plants while 12 of the entries were not infected. In fact, 55 entries had less than 5 per cent smut and 15 entries had 6 to 47 per cent disease, he said. Corn rust got an early start in the demonstration program because of heavy July rains. The disease attacked all but one entry, and it appeared to Berry that 66 hybrids are "very susceptible to rust".

"Maize Dwarf Mosaic Virus

Corn Disease Data

has been recognized as a serious disease of corn for several years," the pathologist reported. "It has not caused many problems in High Plains corn production, but infected plants have been present in nearly every field. In the demonstration plantings I counted infected plants which were greatly stunted and apparently not going to produce grain."

Most of the entries have good tolerance to MDMV, he added, with 59 having 3 per cent or less infection. Nineteen of these 59 showed no mosaic infected plants. On the other hand, two varieties had 15 per cent MDMV infected plants and there were 11 showing 4 per cent or greater infection. The heavy infections will undoubtedly be reflected in a reduced yield for the very susceptible hybrids.

The prevalence of corn on the Texas High Plains is in striking contrast to what it was just three years ago, Berry said. Acreage has jumped from about 300,000 acres in 1973 to over a million this year.

Texas Corn Growers Association president, Carl King of Dimmitt, told the crowd that action was well underway toward getting a corn check-off program going.

You're doing without a Zimmatic center pivot. Saving your hard-earned capital for other improvements. Don't want to borrow right now.

But it's costing you money every year you wait. Two ways. First, you're losing the extra crop production you get under irrigation. Second, inflation is at work. Boosting prices, dropping the value of your dollars.

Why not rent a Zimmatic under our new lease plan? Let the system pay for itself and put some extra money in the bank for you at the same time.

Our rates are reasonable. You can include freight, installation, pump...

other "above ground" items in one flexible package, tailored to your needs. Why wait to irrigate? It's just costing you money. Call us today for details on our new lease plan.

Beef Prices Hit 16-Month Bottom

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - New government figures show that consumer beef prices are at a 16-month low, down more than 14 per cent from what they were a year ago, and that farmers have borne the brunt of the decline.

The Agriculture Department said Tuesday that retail beef prices in July averaged slightly more than $1.38 a pound. That was the lowest on an all-cut basis since beef was about $1.34 a pound in April 1975. In July of last year they soared to a record of $1.61 a pound.

Beef supplies have been huge this spring and summer as farmers and ranchers stepped up grain-fed cattle production and continued to thin out herds. As a result market prices for live animals have been depressed.

Last month, USDA said, the farm value of beef sold in stores was 74.2 cents a pound, a drop of nearly 30 per cent from July of last year. However, the middleman share for transporting, processing and selling beef was 64 cents a pound, an increase of nearly 16 per cent.

The farm value is not what farmers get for live animals since it takes nearly 2.3 pounds of steer of the hoof to make one pound of supermarket beef. It is, however, their share of what consumers pay for beef at stores.

their decline last month, pork prices rose slightly from June to July, averaging about $1.42 a pound. That was 1.1 per cent less than a year earlier and substantially below the record of nearly $1.59 a pound for retail pork last October.

Preliminary figures for early August showed that retail beef prices have continued to decline and that pork also has started to drop.

The farm value of pork in July - 86.2 cents - was down nearly 15 per cent from a year ago, while the "marketing spread" or middleman share of $5.9 cents was up almost 31 per cent from July 1975, according to the department.

Over-all last month, the marketing spread of farm-produced foods widened 1.2 per cent, with increases for beef and pork leading the way. In contrast, the spread between what farmers get and consumers pay for poultry and oilseed products narrowed last month.

That left farmers in July getting an average of 40 cents of each $1 consumers spent on food, down from a share of 40.4 cents in June and 43.3 cents in July of last year, officials said.

Mount McKinley National Park in Alaska includes 1,939,493 acres, second only to Yellowstone in area.

Royal Dutch Shell was the largest non-American industrial company in 1975 with sales of more than $33 billion.

Corn Soybeans Dry In Western Belt Area

WASHINGTON (AP) - Corn and soybean crops, key ingredients of livestock feed and valuable as exports - have continued to deteriorate because of heat and rainless skies in some major producing areas, according to the Agriculture Department.

As of Aug. 22, the department said Tuesday in a weekly weather review, the crops were under dry weather stress in much of the Western corn belt. Nationally, most of the corn "remained in fair to good" shape, the report said. "Iowa corn suffered most severely in the West. Central and Northern third of the state, with barren stalks and poorly filled ears," the report said. "Elsewhere, the Iowa crop is in good to excellent condition."

Soybeans in the dry areas also needed rain to help fill developing pods, officials said.

Worst Screwworm Year Since 1972 May Be Marked By State

Even though 1976 is only a little more than half gone it's evident it'll be easily the worst screwworm year in Texas since the pandemic of 1972 and—with 6,772 infestations already confirmed—one of the worst on record.

In fact, if the year had ended on July 31 this would have been the sixth most severe since the Southwest Screwworm Eradication Program began functioning at Mission 15 years ago. With the pervasive Gulf Coast ear ticks only beginning to make their presence felt as the month came to a close, there's little question America's bicentennial will be the third worst of them all, topped only by the 49,484 confirmed cases of 1962 and the towering total of 90,980 10 years later when the state's cowboys and oldtimers learned and relearned just how virulent a problem the flesheating pest can be.

This year is unlikely to approach either of those stratospheric figures but it promises to be wicked in its own right. For instance—

All-time records for screw-worm cases have already been broken in one Panhandle county and tied in another.

Thirteen counties have experienced their first cases since 1972 and 18 others are suffering their worst season since that year. One or more cases have been confirmed in 137 Texas counties, which surpasses two of three years since '72 when all but 9 of the state's 254 counties were afflicted.

Twenty-eight Texas counties have already recorded more cases than the combined totals (82) of Arizona and New Mexico, the only other states where screwworms populations have been confirmed.

The record setter is Dallam County on the top tier of the Panhandle adjoining both New Mexico and Oklahoma. The state's most northwesterly county, Dallam has had seven cases so far this year, more than it had in 14 year previously. In fact a confirmed screwworm case had never been reported from the county until '72 when two turned up. It had recorded a clean screwworm bill since.

The record-tying county is Dallam's neighbor to the south, Hartley, whose total of five duplicates the previous high set in 1972. Like Dallam, Hartley hasn't been exactly a screwworm paradise. Aside from the aforementioned, only a solitary case in 1962 spoils its record.

With five infestations, Hartley is the next heaviest hit of 13 counties being struck for the first time since '72. In this category, Lubbock and Smith have had two cases this year and the remainder one apiece.

A model of consistency, Cooke County only had screwworms twice before—in 1962 and 1972—when it had 31 confirmed cases each time.

The 18 counties already in the midst of their worst year in four are led by Bee with 207, Live Oak 203, Zapata 184, Bexar 156, Goliad 125 and Karnes 123. None is among the state leaders for the first seven months, though. That dubious distinction still belongs to Webb with 432 outbreaks. Hidalgo is second with 402, followed by Medina 375, Starr 329, Frio 258, Jim Hogg 257 and Atascosa 252.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, Aug. 26, the 239th day of 1976. There are 127 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1920, the 19th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution went into effect, giving us men.

On this date: In 1765, Massachusetts Gov. Thomas Hutchinson was accused of favoring the British Stamp Act, and a mob sacked his home.

In 1934, Adolf Hitler demanded that France turn over the Saar to Germany.

In 1937, Japan blockaded Chinese shipping.

In 1942, in World War II, France's Vichy government announced the dissolution of the French Senate.

In 1964, student and Buddhist riots in South Vietnam forced the resignation of the government of Premier Nguyen Khanh.

Ten years ago? A nationwide railroad strike began in Canada, with no settlement of union wage demands in sight.

Five years ago: Queen Juliana of The Netherlands arrived in the former Dutch colony of Indonesia, becoming the first ruling sovereign of the House of Orange to visit the archipelago, which the Dutch had ruled for more than three centuries.

One year ago: Portugal asked the United Nations to try to halt a civil war in the Portuguese colony on the island of Timor, which is surrounded by Indonesian islands.

Today's birthdays: Gen. Maxwell Taylor is 75 years old. Mexican painter Rufino Tamayo is 76.

Thought for today: The man who lives only by hope will die with despair - Italian proverb.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, British troops who had landed on Long Island near New York advanced inland, and there was a brisk skirmish with some Pennsylvania troops in George Washington's defending force.

BICENTENNIAL FACTS

Commodore Abraham Whipple's squadron captured 11 valuable prizes off the Newfoundland banks. Whipple's flagship, the "Providence," along with the ship "Ranger," commanded by Captain Simpson, and the "Queen of France," attacked and seized a British convoy sailing from Jamaica. The World Almanac reveals that the feat was accomplished with the aid of an unusually thick fog.
