

County Accepts RS Report, Bid

The approval of an actual use report for Revenue Sharing funds and a low bid for a pickup truck were the end results of a brief meeting of the Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court at the courthouse Monday morning.

The commissioners also decided to advertise for bids on a building for precinct two, heard a report from county auditor Alex Schroeter, agreed to readvertise for bids on a tractor for precinct one, and listened to a sales presentation by Jim Pence of Addressograph Multigraph Corporation.

The actual use report showed that a total of $229,501 in revenue sharing funds was received from July 1, 1975 through June 30, 1976. The report is to be published in The Hereford Brand this week to satisfy requirements of the federal government.

The chief expense was $50,904.33 under the capital classification of public transportation category. Other expenses listed included $24,108.88 under operation and maintenance of public transportation, $10,000 under operation and maintenance of public safety, $16,213.32 under the recreation operation and maintenance category and $10,000 under operation and maintenance of projects for the social services of aged or poor. About $6,000 will be used to purchase land in precinct 2 for a county building.

The report was unanimously approved after County Treasurer Vesta Mae Nunley presented it. She said it reflected funds obligated but not actually dispersed. The expense items listed are temporary and may be changed.

A bid submitted by Cowboy Chevrolet was accepted over one by Orval-Watson Ford for a small pickup truck for Commissioner James Voyles' precinct four. The low bid was $3,497.90 for a LUV pickup.

The Orval Watson Ford bid totaled slightly higher at $3,529.93 for a Courier pickup.

Another bid item concerned a building for Austin Rose Jr. county commissioner in precinct two. It will measure 50 by 60

McMorries Meets

With Taxpayers On Land Value

Representatives of the McMorries and Company appraising firm have been meeting with taxpayers Monday and today at the courthouse to discuss reasons why property values were figures as they were.

A steady stream of property owners filed into the courthouse to meet with Jim McMorries, tax consultant for the county. He is holding the meetings from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the courthouse through Wednesday.

The pre-hearings are designed to alleviate any mass congestion at the joint Board of Equalization hearings set for 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Thursday and Friday in the Commissioners courtroom on the second floor of the courthouse. The board, composed of city, school and county representatives, has the authority to reverse values already established.

Notices of the school and county values were sent out earlier this month advising property owners of new totals figured during the reappraisal program conducted here for the last nine months. It is the first such program in 15 years.

School Board Meets Again In Called Session Tonight

The Hereford School Board of Trustees will meet in called session at 7 p.m. today at the school district administration building a review applications submitted for the job of superintendent.

Jim Conkright, board president, said the trustees would be interviewing candidates for the position later and that applications will still be considered through the Aug. 6 deadline. Of the applications screened so far, trustees have generally narrowed the choices down to five prospects although others may be added to the top five as discussions continue.

PLO Diminishes In Significance

WASHINGTON (AP)- The civil war in Lebanon has forced the Palestine Liberation Organization into decline, and direct U.S. contact with the PLO over the evacuation of Americans from Beirut apparently will not reverse the downward course.

This is the assessment of top U.S. officials who have closely followed the ebb and flow of sighting and supervised daily exchanges between America diplomats in the Lebanese capital with Palestinian commanders who controlled parts of the evacuation route.

Hereford police early Sunday morning.

ACCORDING TO city police sources, a call concerning shots fired on Higgins Street was received about 1:02 a.m. Sunday.

A patrol car was dispatched and while en route to the scene officers observed a vehicle leave Higgins Street and turn south on 385 at a high rate of speed.

The officers gave chase and saw the car run the red light at the intersection of Highway 385 and Highway 60 and proceed south.

Police reports indicated that the car was traveling at a speed in excess of 100 miles per hour during the chase.

OFFICERS PULLED the car over two miles south of the city.

Arrested following the chase were Daniel Diaz, 23, of 612 Bowie; Joe Henry Castillo, 24, of 206 Lake, Hector Garcia, 28, of 210 Kingwood, Alex Mendiaz, 28, of 521 Ave. H. and Felix Cavazos, 17, of 315 Ave. B.

All five men were charged with aggravated assault, criminal mischief, evading arrest and possession of a controlled substance.

A number of pills were found in the possession of the men, according to police sources.

Cavazos, Diaz and Castillo remain in the county jail while Garcia and Mendiaz are currently free on $1000 bond.

Artist Donates Picture To Cowgirl Hall Of Fame

The National Cowgirl Hall of Fame became $2,500 richer this week when a well-known Texas artist donated one of her paintings to the Hall.

Gwendolyn H. Branstetter, of Refugio, a painter of western art, as well as landscapes and still life, in Hereford to present a painting entitled "The Free-Spirited Ones" to Mary Baca, Curator of the Hall.

Mrs. Branstetter has exhibited internationally, and was one of only six living American Western Artists invited to exhibit in the 1974 American Indian and Western Art Show in Beverly Hills, California.

Mrs. Baca indicated that the painting, valued at $2,500 would be a "welcome addition" to the Cowgirl Hall of Fame.

Mrs. Branstetter is listed in Who's Who of American Women and Who's Who in the South and Southwest by Marquis of Chicago. Her name also appeared in The Two Thousand Women of Achievement, put out by Kay Publishers of London in 1970.

She exhibits annually in the George Phippen Memorial Invitational Western Art Show in Prescott, Arizona, and in the Western Art Show at the Fat Stock Show in San Antonio.

Collectors of her works include Governor and Mrs. Dolph Briscoe and their daughter Janie, Mr. and Mrs. John Connally, and Jim Witherspoon of Hereford.

Mrs. Branstetter was also the only out-of-state artist to be accepted for exhibit at the New Mexico State Fair in 1974.

THE BALLOON that caught so many eyes Saturday morning was launched right here in Hereford by Paul Coneway, operator of Water Industries. Paul called Sunday to tell us about the venture and report that he and Ken Kelly of Amarillo were aboard the craft. The two lifted off from the pasture near Holly Sugar and landed east of Milo Center. Air time was about 1 hour and 40 minutes.

"It was a little spooky when we first went up," reports Coneway, "because the fog hadn't lifted." He added that they heard a crop-dusting plane at one point. "Next time we go up, we'll give you a call," promised Coneway.

SEVERAL DEMOCRATS have chastised us for the "man-on-the-street" interview we published in The Brand Sunday. We must admit it turned out pretty much one-sided but, in defense of the staff writer, she posed the Demo platform question to 16 other persons. They didn't want to comment or, in some cases, had no idea what the platform was all about. Maybe we'll try again after the Republican platform is announced, but we don't believe too many people will like it either!

SPEAKING OF citizens expressing their opinions, it seems the situation is getting worse every year. More and more people have an opinion, it seems to us, but fewer and fewer are willing to express a public opinion.

A recent poll has revealed that only nine million citizens expressed an opinion to their congressman in Washington, despite the fact that seven out of ten wanted to urge their representatives to act in a specific direction. It's no wonder that our government is out of contact with its citizens, that we have legislation by minority pressure groups.

Citizens must do more than go to the polls every two or four years. The issues at the polls are often obscured and sometimes so confusing that it's hard for any elected official to really determine which way his people want him to go. A citizen needs to speak out—often, loud and long.

One good way for a citizen to speak out is to simply sit down and write a letter to the editor expressing his views. It

Gas Rates Tripled

WASHINGTON (AP)- The Federal Power Commission today nearly tripled the amount producers can charge for interstate natural gas, a move predicted to cost consumers up to $1.5 billion in the first year.

Under previous regulations, producers were allowed to charge about 52 cents per thousand cubic feet for gas they sold outside the producing state.

Record Deficit Reached

WASHINGTON (AP)- Although the federal government's budget deficit for fiscal 1976 turned out to be $10.4 billion below early estimates, it was still the largest in the nation's history, the government says.

The deficit for the year that ended June 30 turned out to be $65.6 billion, the government reported Monday. The smaller than expected deficit was due in a large part to reduced outlays for defense and to a reduction in interest payments on the federal debt.

Aliens Sent Home In Style

LOS ANGELES (AP)- More than 50 illegal aliens are back in Mexico and Central America today as part of a massive repatriation program. About 150 more are scheduled to leave today on commercial flights complete with dinner and champagne.

A spokesman for the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service in Washington, D.C., said the aliens were among the first of 15,000 due to leave during the next few months in a massive voluntary repatriation program.

Ann Landers Use Lock, Key

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have never seen this in your column. Yet I know many families have the problem. Everyone sympathizes with an overweight person. They have TOPS, Weight Watchers, Overeaters Anonymous, etc. But what about the families of these gluttons? We must hide cookies, cakes pies, ice cream and other goodies purchased or baked for guests.

We begin to make dessert, feeling sure we have all the ingredients on hand. Then we discover the nuts are missing, or the chocolate, or the brown sugar. We plan a grocery list to fit our budgets. Guess who eats for two?

We are told "Fatty" hates himself, that we should be patient and keep mouths shut. The resentment grows.

Physicians don't want to be bothered. They know it's useless unless the patient wants to help himself. The whole family suffers, yet there is no place for the family to turn for counseling. Alcoholics have AA, smokers have clinics, fannies have their self-help groups, but the families of fatties have nowhere to turn. What do you suggest? -- Also Victims.

DEAR ALSO: A foodaholic is another version of an alcoholic. They must help themselves. Your only protection is the lock and a key.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Twice you have printed information in your column about Herpes Simplex II. I commend you for enlightening the public.

Now, how about a word in defense of women who suffer from Herpes Simplex I, which is not venereal? It, too, may break out in the genital area and is extremely painful. This may occur after a high fever, an upper respiratory infection, menstrual period, emotional upset, a reaction to certain foods, drugs, etc.

The discomfort of the ailment is bad enough without the stigma. It's very unfair to women sufferers who don't play around. Please, Ann Landers -- Equal Time

DEAR E.T.: Be my guest. And now I'll say it AGAIN.

Herpes Simplex I is NOT venereal and the same can be said of SOME cases of Herpes Simplex II. Thanks for giving me an opportunity to repeat the message.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am engaged to a very beautiful, very fine and (I thought) very pure young woman. She comes from a religious, politically conservative family. We've been going together (exclusively) for four years. During all this time we have rarely gotten into heavy petting, much less slept together.

Last week my friends threw a rather far-out, raunchy bachelor party for me. There was too much drinking and of course the customary "stag" films.

I could be making a terrible mistake but I swear to God that my lovely, ladylike fiancée was the star performer in one of the films. I know she was a working girl before I met her and pulling down some pretty heavy bread.

My question is this: Should I confront her with my suspicions and risk losing her, or should I keep silent and tell myself I've got to be wrong? -- Going Nuts In Gainsville

DEAR GOING NUTS: Ask her -- flat out. If she says "no," apologize for your vote of no confidence and put the matter out of your head. If she says "yes," you've got a whole new set of problems to deal with, Brother. Good luck.

Don't get burned by a "line" that's too hot to handle. Play it cool with Ann Landers' guide to "Necking and Petting -- What Are the Limits?" Send your request to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120, enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Couple Exchanges Vows Recently

Miss Toni Lynn Perkins of Iowa Park and Gary Lynn Collier of Hereford exchanged wedding vows recently in the First United Methodist Church at Wichita Falls. Dr. Bruce Weaver officiated the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. James Useton of Iowa Park and Mr. and Mrs. W.J. Collier of Morton.

Given in marriage by her father, John Perkins of Granite City, Ill., the bride wore a floor-length gown of satin crepe and organza which was made by her mother.

The bodice featured a scoop neckline overlaid with chantilly lace and a high victorian collar of satin crepe and matching lace. The full bishop sleeves were lace trimmed at the wrist and accented with pearls.

The Chapel length veil of illusion was held by a headpiece of chantilly lace and seed pearls and she carried a cascading bouquet of white and blue carnations and babybreath.

Executive Board To Meet At A & M

The first meeting of the Executive Board of the Federation of Texas A&M University Mothers' Clubs for 1976-77 will be held August 28 at the Memorial Student Center on the university campus.

Federation officers will be hostesses for a Coffee from 8:30-9:30 a.m. in the Birch Room and the board meeting will follow at 9:30 a.m. in the Assembly Room with Mrs. Don G. Kaspar of Shiner, Federation president, presiding.

Miss Glenda Reed was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Janet Dursum and Lori Perkins, the bride's sister.

Darrell Smith served as best man and groomsmen were Mark Fluit and Ralph Mason, all of Morton. Serving as ushers were Glen Wilson of Granite City, the bride's cousin, and Kirk Collier of Dumas, the bridegroom's brother.

Mrs. Barbara Bridges vocalized "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Assisting at the reception held at Thomas Fowler American Legion Post was Liz Williams, Carol Reed and Mrs. Janet Ownes.

The bride is a graduate of Hirschi High School and attended Midwestern State University at Wichita Falls. The bridegroom, a graduate of Morton High School and Aero Tech of Wichita Falls, is employed with Hereford Cash and Carry Grocery.

The couple will make their home in Hereford following a wedding trip to New Mexico.

Deana Finley Is Feted With Shower

A miscellaneous bridal shower honored Deana Finley, August 6 bride-elect of Joel Valdez, Friday evening in the home of Mrs. Mike McGee.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. McGee, the guest of honor, her mother, Mrs. John Finley, the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Selestino Valdez, and Mrs. Elmer Patterson.

Angela Hartman secured games for the guest register and Mrs. A.R. Dillard and Mrs. Clyde Bonner served punch and cake squares which were decorated in blue and white, the bride-elect's chosen colors.

The table was laid with a double-knit cloth in pale blue and was centered with a formal arrangement of white dahlias, daisies and dainty blue flowers displayed on a silver pedestal and accented with white spiral tapers and blue ribbon bows.

The room where gifts were displayed featured a pyramid arrangement of peace roses. Exhibiting gifts were Mrs. Roy Evans and Mrs. Cora Johnson.

Hostesses were Mmes. Jim Ward, Dan Dudley, Ernest McGee, Fred Fox, Clarence Behrends, Bill Allen, Audrey Allen, Chester Wiggins, Mike McGee, Dillard, Bonner, Evans and Johnson.

Approximately 25 guests signed the register.

Hereford Netters At Tennis Camp

Hereford youngsters Vicki Reinsauer and Katie Rudder are among more than 250 young tennis players participating in the sixth annual West Texas Tennis Camp this week on the campus of West Texas State University.

The current camp is one of three scheduled this summer on the Canyon campus. The camp is under the direction of WTSU tennis coach, David Kent and Amarillo Town Club pro Roland Ingram.

"We try to do two things in the camp," Kent says. "One, we try to improve each individual's game, and two, we try to have some fun."

Assisting Kent and Ingram are members of WTSU 1976 Missouri Valley Conference championship team. The Buffaloes won their fourth straight league title in the meet held on WTSU's 14 Laykold courts in May. It was WT's fifth MVC championship in six years of competition.

In addition to the great tennis facilities, campers also have the use of the university's $4 million Student Activities Center.

Amarillo Girls Win Exhibition

The Hereford Girls Major League All-Stars got together with team from Sam Houston Junior High of Amarillo Saturday night to play an exhibition softball game, and before the evening was over almost everyone in the stands got into the act.

Girls Softball President Kay Banner reported Monday that more than a few local people were sore Sunday morning after the players decided to challenge the adults to a "game" after playing the exhibition.

Squeezed in between the games was an ice cream feast, given for the Amarillo girls by the local girls to show their appreciation for their coming to town.

"We all sure had a lot of fun even though I am sore from it," Banner said. She went on to say that no one was exactly sure just how the second game came out, score-wise.

As far as the exhibition went Sam Houston grabbed a close 13-10 win despite a home run by Hereford's Lori Albricht in the fourth inning.

Yank Cagers One Game Away

MONTREAL (AP) - The United States, which now appears to have very little chance of leading the Olympics in either gold or total medals, looks to its basketball team for the restoration of misplaced prestige tonight.

"We came here to play for the gold medal, and that's what we're doing," said All-American Scott May of Indiana. "It doesn't matter who we're playing. We didn't come here to play Russia. We came to win the gold."

The Russians, controversial winners over the United States in the 1972 Olympic final - which Americans regarded as an enormous blow to their prestige - will be missing this time. They lost to tough Yugoslavia 89-84 last night shortly before the Americans advanced with a convincing 95-44 decision over Canada in the other semifinal.

The American women, meanwhile, gained the silver medal with an 83-67 victory over Czechoslovakia while gold-medal winner Russia beat Japan 98-75 in the final games of the round-robin tournament.

The Americans were shut out of victories yesterday, at least partly on Dave Roberts' rain drenched, unsuccessful gamble in the pole vault that turned gold to bronze. The Yanks now appear destined for a placing behind Russia and possibly East Germany in both gold and total medals.

With the Games more than half over, the United States now holds 21 gold, 23 silver and 17 bronze. Russia has a 27-26-20 count and East Germany has solidified its position as a world athletic power with a 27-17-14 total.

The Americans could make up a little ground - maybe just a little - in today's light schedule. In addition to their favored basketball team, the Americans have a gold medal possibility in Greg Louganis, from El Cajon, Calif., who qualified first in men's platform diving.

The United States could gain a medal from its equestrian team in Grand Prix jumping, but seemed unlikely to finish higher than second in any of the five yachting classes that are due to end today. The Russians are well-placed in a couple of those events. Russia also figures to gain ground in team saber fencing, heavy weight weightlifting and light-heavy weight judo. Americans are not expected to score in any of those events.

Track and field athletes have an idle day. It is in that sport, along with its boxers, that America's slim hopes rest. The boxers have nine men alive with the competition moving into the quarter-finals, but Cuba and Russia also are strong. The prospects in track and field aren't overwhelming. With 61 men's events completed, the Americans have won only two.

They had a shot at gold in the seven-hour pole vault competition Monday, but Roberts' strategy backfired and the world record-holder at 18 feet, 8 1/2 inches had to settle for the bronze medal.

Roberts, a medical student from Gainesville, Fla., Roberts trailed two men on misses when he chose to pass at 18-2 1/2, figuring he could clear the next height, 18 1/2, easily. The five men who vaulted at 18 1/2 missed all three tries. As they finished, the drizzling rain became a steady shower. And Roberts missed all three times at 18-4 1/2.

So it went back to the last height cleared, 68-0 1/2. Tadusz Slusarski of Poland won on fewer misses at that height, with Antti Kalliomake of Finland second and Roberts third.

The only other American medals gained in track and field were a silver by 20-year-old Millard Hampton, San Jose, Calif., and a bronze by Phoenix, Ariz., schoolboy sprinter Dwayne Evans, who finished 1-2 behind Jamaica's Don Quarrie, the 200 meter winner in 20.23.

At Coage, a bouncer in a bar at Plainfield, N.J., provided the United States with a surprise bronze in the heavyweight judo competition. Sergei Novikov of Russia won the gold.

Blyleven Teases Twins; Birds Cool Yanks, 3-1

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

Bert Blyleven still finds Minnesota a nice place to visit, even though he wouldn't want to live there any more.

In his first trip back since Minnesota traded him to Texas almost two months ago, Blyleven silenced the Twin's bats and their jeering fans by pitching the Rangers to a two-hit 3-0 victory.

"I am growing up now," said the 25-year-old right-hander, who was sent packing after he failed to come to salary terms with the Twins and issued verbal blasts at their management and supporters, as well as saluting the fans with an impolite gesture in his final appearance before the deal.

"I am a Texas Ranger and not a Twin," he said. "I was light-headed all day and couldn't wait to get going. I had a feeling I would pitch a shutout."

In other American League action, the Kansas City Royals blanked the California Angels 4-0, the Oakland A's shaded the Chicago White Sox 3-1, the Baltimore Orioles cooled off the New York Yankees 3-1, the Cleveland Indians drubbed the Boston Red Sox 9-4 and the Detroit Tigers nipped the Milwaukee Brewers 4-3 in 13 innings.

The only Minnesota hits off Blyleven were an infield singles by Steve Braun and a clean single by Craig Kusick. Blyleven struck out nine.

He was booed throughout most of the game and bowing to tipping his cap and bowing to the crowd after each inning.

Minnesota's Rod Carew was ejected by umpire Jim Evans for the first time in his 10-year career after he was called out trying to steal second base in the fourth inning and slammed down his helmet. After returning to the dugout, Carew showered the field with bats before being restrained. Then, after things quieted down, Carew tossed a baseball toward Evans, missing the umpire by a few feet.

Royals 4, Angels 0

Al Fitzmorris hurled a six-hitter and Kansas City got maximum mileage from four scratch hits to hand Norm Sherry his first loss in four games as the Angels' new manager. California's Nolan Ryan, who suffered his fourth loss in a row and 13th in 20 decisions, walked George Brett and John Mayberry with two outs in the first inning and Amos Otis drove them both home with a double. In the third, Brett was safe on a fielder's choice, stole second and came home on Mayberry's broken-bat single.

A's 3, White Sox 1

Sal Bando hit his 20th home run and Bert Campaneris drove in two runs with a single and sacrifice fly, giving Paul Miltihell his fourth straight victory with relief help, from Rollie Fingers.

Orioles 3, Yankees 1

The Baltimore Orioles jumped on Catfish Hunter for three early runs, one a solo homer by Al Bumbry, and beat the Yankees on Ross Grimsley's six-hit pitching. Hunter yielded two first-inning runs on doubles by Bobby Grich and Reggie Jackson and a single by Lee May. Bumbry homered in the third.

Indians 9, Red Sox 4

Rico Carty drove in four runs with a pair of doubles, Duane Kuiper collected three hits and Rick Manning homered as the Indians handed the staggering Red Sox their sixth consecutive setback. The Indians shelled Luis Tiant, who allowed seven hits and five runs in 11-3 innings and failed to finish the second inning for the second game in a row.

Tigers 4, Brewers 3

Jim Crawford, who replaced starter Frank MacCormack after three walks in the first inning, retired 22 consecutive batters and came within three outs of a combined no-hitter. Milwaukee didn't get a hit until George Scott opened the ninth with a single. Crawford allowed three hits in 10 innings but lost a chance at this first triumph of the season when John Hiller allowed a game-tying single to Hank Aaron in the 11th.

Jason Thompson and Rusty Staub homered for the tigers, who scored the winning run on 13th-inning singles by Staub, Thompson and Ben Oglivie.

Does America need more government regulation? Or less?

You should know how your opinion compares with the views of people across the nation who were recently asked this question.

When we interviewed a broad section of Americans recently, over 40% said there should be more government regulation. Nearly 25% felt that there was already too much. Almost 20% said we have just about the right amount. Others had mixed views or no opinion.

You may agree or disagree. The important thing is that you have an opinion of your own. An informed opinion.

Over the years, we citizens of the United States are going to have to make many decisions that will have a basic effect on our American Economic System. Obviously, the more we all know about this system and how it works, the better we can decide what to preserve, what to change.

That's why we're offering a free booklet that explains the American Economic System. It is easy to read, and very interesting. Every American ought to know what it says.

Dodgers' Sutton Joins Elite Group

When Carl Morton struck out Monday night, he just wanted to forget it.

Don Sutton wanted to remember it, though. It was the 2,000th strikeout of his career.

"I've been thinking about it since last year," said the Los Angeles Dodger pitcher after reaching the milestone during a 6-2 decision over the Atlanta Braves.

"It's a big thrill that only 27 other guys have done it. It's a shot in the arm and it's nice to get it and have it behind me."

Joining the "2,000 Club" gives Sutton a needed lift. His season has been nothing to write home about so far.

In the other National League games, the Cincinnati Reds beat the San Francisco Giants 9-3; the Philadelphia Phillies trimmed the New York Mets 4-1; the Houston Astros blanked the San Diego Padres 7-0 and the Montreal Expos took a doubleheader from the Chicago Cubs 2-1 and 3-1. The Pittsburgh-St. Louis game was called by rain.

Sutton, 11-8, fell behind by surrendering two runs in the first inning. But after giving up a harmless leadoff double to Biff Porcoba in the second, he retired 19 of the next 20 batters. He struck out nine and walked four, finishing with a five-hitter.

Cattle Killing Weed Comes Toward Texas

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) - A plant in Mexico that kills cattle so quickly this has been labeled "lightning weed" is slowly creeping closer to the borders of Texas. New Mexico and Arizona, according to a survey being conducted by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Research Service.

Since February, Dr. Howard Morton has been studying the little plant known as alfombrilla. "It's another poisonous plant, no worse than say, locoweed," said Morton, referring to another cattle killer that already haunts ranchers in the Southwest.

"It's just that we don't need another poisonous plant in this country," Morton said. "If I was a rancher along the border, I would familiarize myself with it, what it looks like and how it grows. In other words, I'd be moderately to highly interested in it."

Alfombrilla is a Spanish word meaning "rug." The plant grows quite close to the ground, is fine-stemmed and bushy. It reproduces from numerous minute seeds - like those of grass - which readily break away and scatter in the winds.

The plant produces white, five-petaled flowers, each petal appearing two-lobed.

Alfombrilla thrives on bare, eroded or overgrazed ranges.

Only 0.4 per cent of alfombrilla eaten in relation to a steer's weight will kill the animal.

The first notice the U.S. took of alfombrilla was in 1956 when the plant was then reported at least 40 miles from the border.

Mexican cattle shipped to the U.S. were poisoned after having been kept in an area abundant with the white-flowered plant in central Chihuahua.

By the time the 600 steers arrived by train in Juarez, El Paso's sister city across the border, more than 100 were dead and many others were trembling with muscular spasms and convulsions.

A 1960 survey showed the plant had advanced to about seven miles south of the international port of entry in Antelope Wells, N.M., in addition to being found in an area of the Mexican state of Sonora, 20 to 25 miles south of the Arizona border.

A report the following year said that alfombrilla "now infests about 750,000 acres in Chihuahua. It has killed 3,000 to 4,000 cattle there."

In addition the article placed the plant's advancement to within three miles of Antelope Wells.

To date, no findings of alfombrilla have been pinpointed in the United States. Sightings have been reported, but no one has been able to retrace his steps to what appeared to have been the plant.

Morton and other Agriculture Department scientists, working in association with the University of Arizona, have begun a research program in cooperation with the La Campana Research Station just north of Chihuahua City, Mexico, to study the ecology and control of the plant.

"The only solution now is the one the Mexicans are using of avoiding grazing in the pastures with abundant growth of the vegetation, especially during late summer and fall," Morton said.

"Normally cattle don't graze on it, except apparently in the fall. After the plant matures it becomes sticky and cattle do seem to graze it then fairly regularly," he added.

The Southwest New Mexico Resource, Conservation and Development Project SWNRC&D, under the U.S. Department of Agriculture, has been concerned about the harmful potential the plant could have in southern New Mexico.

The organization's concern was stimulated by a letter received in the spring of 1973 from Mexican ranch owner Francisco Ramonet warning "the deadly poisonous plant alfombrilla...has now moved to the northern boundary of my ranch which is also the international boundary of the neighboring states of Chihuahua and New Mexico."

At that time, few New Mexican ranchers knew of the plant.

"It was new to many ranchers," said Bob Ambercrombie who, as project coordinator for the SWNRC&D, has spent hours collecting data on alfombrilla and helping cattlemen near the border identify the plant.

Prior to alerting the SWNRC&D, Ramonet had futilely sprayed chemicals and diesel fuel on some 3,000 acres of his infested ranchland, which, although killing the plant, failed to harm the hearty seed.

The best solutions to the alfombrilla problem, according to studies, are good range management resulting in proper forage and fencing off infested areas from grazing livestock.

Research has shown some success with spraying the flowering plant with a one per cent solution of silver in water, but because of the impossibility of determining how many years the seeds have been dormant in the soil, applications for two or three years are needed before any decrease in plant population can be noticed.

Until needed research and solutions are accomplished, however, American ranchers can only adopt the philosophy of their Mexican counterparts: "Learn to live with it."

Help For Counties Suggested By State

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - The Texas Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations says counties no longer should be helpless to protect rural residents from such things as fireworks and shoddy construction.

The commission recommended Monday that the 1977 legislature pass a bill granting county commissioners ordinance-making power on a local option basis.

A similar proposal was in the proposed state constitution that the voters rejected in 1974.

The bill would authorize local option elections in each county on whether to grant county commissioners either general ordinance-making power or the authority to adopt laws on a limited list of subjects.

Such an election could be held upon the petition of 10 per cent of the qualified voters in a county or 40,000 voters, whichever number was smaller. Ordinance-making power could be taken away through the same procedure.

City councils could exempt their communities from county ordinances.

The commission said rural and suburban citizens sometimes go without needed protection because county commissioners cannot legislate outside city limits.

"Residents of rural areas of Harris County suffered an estimated $50,000 in damages during the 11 days this July that fireworks were sold due to the county's inability to place limitations on the use of certain types of fireworks. Dallas County residents suffered $150,000 in damages during a similar period," the commission said.

Foul Play Suspected In Case

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) - State police said Monday the suspect foul play in the July 9 disappearance of the manager for the Leichtenstein crown prince's 9,000-acre farm in Miller County.

Johann Toifl, 35, of Texarkana was last seen on the ranch the morning of July 9, police reported. He is a native Austria.

The Prince of Leichtenstein Foundation, operator of the farm, offered a $5,000 reward for information leading to the discovery of Toifl.

Hans Adam, the crown prince's oldest son, arrived at the ranch July 20 to help in the investigation and help manage the farm.

Toifl's car was spotted the day he disappeared in a desolate part of the farm by a crop-dusting pilot.

Toifl has managed the farm for about 10 years, farm hands said.

Shell Reports Rearnings Rise For Quarter

HOUSTON (AP) - Shell Oil Co. has reported net quarterly earnings of $164.9 million, boosted by a 40 per cent increase in chemical operations revenues.

That figure compared with $118 million in the same period last year. The earnings were equivalent to $2.37 per share of common stock, compared with $1.75 in 1975.

Company President John Bookout said Monday oil products revenues for the quarter were 14 per cent above the year earlier level.

Earnings the first six months of the year were $367.2 million, or $5.29 a share, compared with $222.4 million, or $3.29 per share last year.

Revenues for the two periods were not disclosed, but Bookout said natural gas sales revenues contributed to the second quarter net income with a 35 per cent increase that resulted primarily from higher prices in unregulated intrastate markets.

Former State House Speaker Appointed As County Judge

BRENHAM, (AP) - Former Texas House Speaker Gus Mutscher Jr., whose political ship foundered four years ago in a storm of government scandal, was back at the helm Monday of another-although smaller-public vessel.

The controversial politician-convicted of bribery conspiracy in the Sharpstown scandals of 1972-was released Monday from probation-3 1/2 years early- and was at once appointed county judge for Washington County.

He "humbly" accepted the appointment, he said, from a "society which searches for answers through truth and good character."

The surprise re-emergence of Gus Mutscher began early Monday morning when District Court Judge J. Neil Daniel of Abilene signed an order freeing Mutscher of the remaining 42 months Mutscher had on a five year probated sentence. Less than two hours later, Mutscher's longtime friend, Washington County Sheriff John Schulte, was swearing in Mutscher as the county judge here. A group of 40 to 50 friends and associates gathered in the courthouse while beaming commissioners witnessed the brief ceremonies.

"I accept the honor and challenge of serving as our county judge with an humble, grateful and sympathetic heart," Mutscher told them. "My primary purpose as a public official has always been to serve the people of my constituency to the best of my ability..."

Travis County Austin Dist. Atty. Robert Smith, in whose county Mutscher was indicted on charges he conspired to accept bribes in the Sharpstown affair, had no comment on Mutscher's sudden freedom of probation, and restoration of his constitutional rights.

Judge Daniel also refused comment. But, noted Mutscher's probation officer, Bill McCay, the former House speaker had been a "Model probationer" and had "learned his lesson. We've had some try to get off early that the judges didn't think were ready."

Daniel acted on efforts by Mutscher's lawyer, Frank Maloney of Austin, and four Washington County commissioners to have Mutscher excused from the remainder of his probation. He fills a spot left vacant with the July 8 death of County Judge Odis Tomachefsky.

The commissioners court wrote Daniel on Mutscher's behalf, saying the "petitioner has been offered a position which is not available to him while he is on probation... the ends of justice, and the best interest of the petitioner will be served by the early discharge..."

With the sweep of the pen Daniel restored to Mutscher rights, privileges and to a large degree-prestige heretofore available, under similar circumstances, only through a governor's pardon.

Maloney explained that Daniel's action technically granted Mutscher a new trial, then dismissed the indictment against him. Under Texas law, a convicted felon may be removed from probationary status after serving two years, or one-third of his sentence, whichever is less.

Mutscher was on top of the Texas political heap when the Sharpstown case unraveled at the seams. Houston bankerdeveloper Frank Sharp had engineered a corporate empire that collapsed in a crash of lawsuits, criminal investigation and public outrage.

Mutscher and two others, state Rep. Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth, and Mutscher's aide, Rush McGinty, were convicted of conspiring to accept bribes from Sharp in the form of "loans" from Sharp's Sharpstown State Bank. The bribes, prosecutors argued, were in exchange for passage of banking legislation favorable to Sharp.

In the aftermath of a widespread probe, voters, said "no" to the re-election campaign of Gov. Preston Smith, and a race for the governor's chair by then wit. Gov. Ben Barnes.

Java, one of 13,000 islands comprising Indonesia, is one of the most densely populated areas of the world with 1,500 persons to the square mile.

To Non-Subscribers

A man who was too cheap to subscribe to his hometown newspaper sent his little boy to borrow his neighbor's copy. In his haste, the boy ran over an $80 hive of bees and in ten minutes he looked like a warty squash. His father ran to his assistance, and falling to notice the barbed wire fence, ran into that, cutting a hole in his anatomy as well as ruining a pair of $10 trousers. The old cow took advantage of the gap in the fence and killed herself eating green corn. Hearing a racket, the wife ran out, upset a four gallon churn of cream into a basket of chicks, drowning the entire batch. In her haste she dropped a $135 set of false teeth, which the family dog buried thinking it was a new type of bone. The baby, having been left alone, crawled through the spilled cream and into the parlor ruining a $250 carpet. During the excitement the oldest daughter ran away with the hired man, a stray dog broke up eleven setting hens, the calves got out and chewed the tails off four fine shirts on the clothes line, and the car had a batch of kittens. All this just to save 15 cents. And in this case, the poor guy never did get to read that day's edition.

Cuba Wins Over America For Caribbean Friends

EDITOR'S NOTE - Some 16 years ago Fidel Castro stood alone and isolated in Latin America. Today he and his policies have become models for many of the emerging nations of the Caribbean area, close by American shores. Here is one in a series of articles on the situation in the area.

By PETER ARNETT
AP Special Correspondent
SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) - Cuba is winning influence and acceptance in the Caribbean area after years of isolation. These gains among the small independent and emerging countries of the region are being made at the expense of Fidel Castro's avowed No. 1 enemy - the United States. Nearly all the countries in the Americas cut off ties with Cuba

16 years ago when that largest Caribbean island was transformed into a militant Communist state. President John F. Kennedy launched the multibillion-dollar Alliance for Progress with Latin America in direct competition with the Cuban totalitarian example. But today, 17 countries in the Western Hemisphere are on friendlier terms with Cuba than with the United States. And Castro is basking in popularity, particularly in the Caribbean, where some leaders are becoming very protective of the Cuban leader.

Prime Minister Michael Manley of Jamaica, who has established close ties to Cuba, was critical about American policy in an interview with The Associated Press. Commenting on the continuing U.S. trade embargo of Havana, the Jamaican leader asserted, "We are being mature about Cuba, and your political directorate is trapped in a sort of infantilism."

Manley is one of three Caribbean leaders who visited Cuba in 1975. He returned home filled with praise for Castro, and has sent scores of technicians to Cuba for training. Nearly 300 Cuban technicians, engineers and doctors have arrived in Jamaica to help in building low-cost housing, microdams for sugar cane fields and health progress. Manley's political opposition charges that the influx includes the posting of high-ranking intelligence operatives to the Cuban embassy in Kingston. Another visitor to Havana last year returned home with plans to use Cuban "peace corps" workers. Prime Minister Forbes Burnham of Guyana, the Marxist state on the northeastern shoulder of South America, has already welcomed nearly 100 Cuban technicians and other projects.

Topiary is the art of training, cutting and trimming trees and shrubs into odd and ornamental patterns. The term itself derives from the Latin "toparius," or ornamental or landscape gardener.

The Annual Report of the U.S. Commissioner of Pensions for 1974 notes that "With the death of Daniel T. Bakeman, of Freedom, Cataugaus County, New York, April 5, 1869, the last of the pensioned soldiers of the Revolution passed away."

Only Jamaica and Guyana employ Cuban "peace corps" workers. Contact with the rest of the Caribbean is partly maintained by a weekly Cubana Airlines "milkrun" flight stops at Jamaica, Barbados, Trinidad and Guyana.

Isle Royale, largest island in Lake Superior, is a National Park noted for its wilderness and wild life.

New Trial Denied For Yarbrough

HOUSTON (AP) - A state court judge has rejected a petition by Texas Supreme Court nominee Don Yarbrough that he be granted a new trial of a civil suit involving allegedly unpaid bank loans.

$17,400 on loans of $72,000 and $2,000 from the Metropolitan National Bank.

The sum involved in Blanton's July 7 ruling represents the entire $2,000 loan and the balance due on the $72,000 loan, plus interest and lawyers' fees. Yarbrough's lawyer, Michael Manness, argued that proceeds from the loans went to a business associate of Yarbrough and not to Yarbrough. No documents were submitted to support the argument.

Yarbrough, who won the May 1 Democratic primary and has no Republican opponent in November, also has been named in 15 other civil suits.

U. S. Navy Evacuates 300 Americans From Beirut

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) - The U.S. Navy evacuated some 300 Americans and other foreigners from Beirut without a hitch today while President Ford and top Pentagon officials stayed up most of the night in Washington to monitor the operation.

The 16,900-ton amphibious transport ship Coronado anchored off Beirut's seafont before dawn, and by 10 a.m. 3 a.m. EDT all of the evacuees were aboard. The Coronado was to land them in Athens on Thursday.

Among those leaving was U.S. Ambassador Talcott W. Seelye, whose departure was a closely guarded secret until the last moment. The embassy said he was going to Washington for consultations and would return to Beirut. An embassy official said 160

Americans and about 390 others signed up for the evacuation, but closer to 400 - "less than half" of them Americans - showed up this morning. However, to persons watching the departure it looked more like 250 to 300 persons, and the White House said there were about 300.

About 1,000 other American citizens remained in Lebanon despite warnings from the White House and the embassy that it was the last evacuation the U.S. government would organize. Most of those remaining are of Lebanese birth and have dual Lebanese and American citizenship.

President Ford kept abreast of the evacuation in a White House situation room, flanked by senior advisers. He was in telephone contact with Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld and his chief military and civilian advisers at the Pentagon.

Rumsfeld sent Ford's "thanks for a good job" to the Coronado.

Heavily armed soldiers of Yasir Arafat's Palestine Liberation Organization and leftist Moslem Lebanese police stood guard as the evacuees boarded an unarmed U.S. landing craft at the former military officers' swimming club.

The PLO also guarded the previous U.S. evacuation of 110 Americans and 157 others on June 20. This time, as then, one Palestinian standing on the seawall above the loading dock caused a brief stir by firing several shots into the air. There was no explanation.

A C130 circled overhead to seaward, providing a radio link between the embassy and Sixth Fleet ships offshore. The giant aircraft carrier America was reported about 60 miles away in case its fighter planes might be needed.

However, there was no atmosphere of tension or foreboding about the evacuation, which the embassy arranged after plans for a motor convoy to Damascus were abandoned because the road was not considered safe.

Many of those leaving said they would be coming back. Some said they were taking advantage of the free transportation to get a vacation.

"It's a free ticket to Athens," said one young American girl. "Why not?"

But some said they could no longer take it after 15 months of civil war in which more than 33,000 persons are estimated to have died.

feet and stand 16 feet high. The court approved a motion that bids be advertised and opened on Aug. 9 at the next regular court meeting.

It will be constructed of metal and be used for storing county equipment.

The commissioners also agreed to readvertise for bids on a tractor for Earl Holt, commissioner in precinct one. Only one bid was received from the last round of solicitations.

County Judge Same Morgan told the court that county printing costs were running higher than necessary and suggested that another way be found to perform the printing needs of the county. Presently, Xerox copiers of different sizes are leased in both the County Clerk's and District Clerk's offices for copying and printing materials.

The court instructed County Clerk B.F. Cain, County Auditor Alex Schroeter and Morgan to investigate other printing systems on the market.

Pence was present to explain a system offered by his firm. It involves a table model master copy maker and offset duplicator. He said these could be leased to the county on a three-year contract or purchased.

The cost would total $5,218.88 for the system if purchased. He figured, based on the June printing bill, that the Xerox system cost the county $818.09 for one month for 23,736 copies.

Pence said his company's system would save the county over $5,000 a month with a monthly printing bill of $378.40 for lease fees, maintenance and supplies. The system is designed for 10 or more copies at a time.

Morgan noted that one-time copier would still be needed, but that the large reasoning."

Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., who headed Ford's primary campaign in the state and himself has been mentioned as a vice presidential candidate, said, "I was really taken very much by surprise. I can't imagine two people with more widely different views on the same ticket, particularly a half colican ticket."

Dillard Radke of Dallas, a convention delegate committed to Reagan, said he was "unhappy" about the choice of Schweiker, adding, "He's too doggone liberal for me. He's been on the wrong side of the fence too many times."

Dallas City Councilman John Leedom, another Reagan delegate, said he was shocked Reagan would make such an announcement early "unless he knows something I don't know."

Leedom added, "At least Schweiker is seven times more conservative than Mondale the Democratic vice presidential nominee." Leedom referred to the senators' ratings by Americans for Constitutional Action.

Barbara Staff, who ran Reagan's North Texas primary campaign, said, "I would be less than honest if I told you I was happy about this... Maybe Schweiker would be a good balance for the ticket."

The head of Reagan's organization in Amarillo, delegate James D. Brandon, said he would support Reagan's said he would support Reagan's choice. "Apparently Mr. Reagan felt some type of move was necessary... The Reagan people represent the grass roots of this country and I think we will see that in Kansas city next month."

Marguerite Binkley, a Reagan delegate from Houston, said she was "stunned" by the announcement. "Let me just say that I regret Gov. Reagan found it necessary to go to that wing of the party for his running mate."

matters not whether it is on local governmental matters, garbage pickup, youth recreation programs, state policies, the Panama Canal, or whatever... you are entitled to an opinion and can express it publicly.

We normally get only a smattering of letters and many times we get letters at The Brand we'd like to print, yet the author fails to sign his or her name and address. It's hard for us to understand why a person will write a letter on a particular issue, send it to the editor, and refuse to sign his name.

We hate to think the average person is afraid to speak up... for fear of repercussions to his business, his job, his friends or neighbors. We're in worse shape than it appears if we have reached the point where a citizen is afraid to criticize the action of public officials or the performance of public acts.

We'd rather think that it is simply a matter of citizens not taking time to voice their opinion, either putting it off or thinking that one view doesn't count for anything. But it does. Write your elected officials or a letter to the editor, or both!

Tax Dollars At Stake In Foreign Sales Deals

WASHINGTON (AP) - American firms that boycott Israel or use bribery as a foreign-sales tool stand to lose millions of dollars in tax benefits under a provision approved by the Senate.

Business executives would be subject to up to a year in jail for failing to report any corporate income derived as a result of a bribe or earnings in any country that requires participation in a boycott.

The provisions, far tougher than the Ford administration has recommended but still subject to House consideration, were added to a multibillion-dollar tax bill.

The antiboycott and antibribe provisions were part of a package, approved 86 to 1, that affects tax treatment of income earned by Americans or U.S. businesses abroad. There was no debate on the sanctions, which were written by the Finance Committee.

Reagan's Pick 'Desperate' Move, Say Ford Backers

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) - Ronald Reagan's strategists say the selection of Sen. Richard S. Schweiker as vice presidential running mate has strengthened Reagan's presidential campaign and broadened his political base.

But backers of President Ford called the Reagan announcement a desperate play for delegates by a losing candidate.

Reagan named the Pennsylvania lawmaker - one of the most liberal members of the Senate - in a surprise move Monday.

Just three weeks before opening of the Republican National Convention, Ford is 36 delegates away from the nomination with 1,093, in The Associated Press survey. Reagan trails with 1,025 and 141 delegates were uncommitted, including 28 in Schweiker's home state.

Reagan backers were generally mum about the announcement. Spokesman for the Reagan campaign emphasized points where Schweiker agrees with the former California governor's conservative philosophy.
