Student Total Could Set Record

School Enrollment Up

The school districts in other parts of the nation maybe experiencing troubles as their classes start, whether it be low enrollment figures or desegregation problems, but the Hereford Independent School District is off to a good start in what could be a year for a record student total.

An enrollment report taken Monday shows the district has registered a total of 5,433 students, which is 91 students above last years. It totaled 5,342 students at the same time last year according to information released by Bill Phillips, assistant superintendent of schools.

He said the peak for any recent school year has been about 5,700 students although it was reached later in the year. Usually the enrollment builds up in the fall and starts dropping off later due to the movement of field labor families, following the harvest of crops through Texas and the Midwest.

Of the total recorded this week, the elementary level total was the highest with all six schools reporting. It totaled 2,998 students compared with 2,928 at this time last year. This includes students enrolled in the 4-year-old kindergarten through sixth grade. The figures reported last week did not include special education and kindergarten grades in the elementary total although they were in the district total.

The kindergarten accounts for some of the higher total this year over the past since K-4 has been incorporated into the curriculum. About three years ago, it was opened up to all students at the K-5 level.

Presently, the K-4 grade is open to only economically disadvantaged students with limited classroom sizes of 20 students each. K-5 used to be limited but was opened up completely even though the local district is reimbursed for only half a day on each student.

The Junior High Schools reported a total student body of 1,396 which is slightly lower than the 1,442 total on the third day of school last year. School commenced last Thursday.

The Hereford High School enrolled 1,039 pupils as of Monday. The figure last year at this time was 972 students.

"We didn't expect this many students in high school," Phillips said. "They could just be coming in earlier." Sometimes students wait until they report to school.

The elementary school and junior high totals were about what was expected although he indicated the lower grade levels looked promising.

"The enrollment usually drops off in late October to about Thanksgiving," the administrator noted. "However, it hasn't been as low in the past few years due to weather, harvests and other factors."

With a higher initial enrollment, Phillips, the statistician for the district, explained that anything could happen this year and that no one can accurately forecast the outcome. "We must have to wait and see."

The next enrollment report won't be taken until next week unless an usually low or high student population is witnessed by the individual school principals.

Call Him 'Tex.'

NEW YORK (AP) - Just call him "Tex."

At 5-foot-4, Mayor Abraham D. Beame may not ride too tall in the saddle, but he is an honorary citizen of Texas, thanks to Texas Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

Briscoe made Beame a Texas to thank the New York mayor for what Briscoe called the "overwhelmingly friendliness" Texas delegates found when they were here for the Democratic National Convention.

Beame said in announcing receipt of the letter Tuesday that he hopes to get the chance to visit Texas "when I can clear my desk long enough."

Carter's Nephew Set Assault

VACAVILLE, Calif. (AP) - The jailed nephew of Democratic presidential candidate Jimmy Carter says he set up his own assault in an attempt to get a transfer out of the California prison system.

In a letter published in the Oakland Tribune Tuesday, 29-year-old William Carter Spann wrote:

"The assault was a setup. I arranged for a guy to stab me. I am so paranoid about my situation and the probability of a serious assault on me that I wanted to use the press to get some action in leaving this state."

Authorities at the California Medical Facility, where Spann is serving 10-years-to-life term for two San Francisco armed robberies, said he was treated for superficial puncture wounds after the Aug. 8 stabbing.

Kidnapped Driver Finds Ticket

MADERA, Calif. (AP) - Ed Ray, the bus driver kidnapped with 26 Chowchilla school children last month, found an overtime parking ticket on his car after he told the grand jury about his experience.

Ray won't have to pay the fine - but not because he is considered a local hero for his part in rescuing the children from an underground prison.

Madera Justice Court Judge Alec Brown said the ticket issued Monday will be waived because it is common practice to dismiss parking violations received by court witnesses or jurors.

Bandit Gives First Aid

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) - A bandit with a need for cash and a concern for bacteria made his victim administer first aid before he made his getaway.

Police said the man entered a Golden Gate Avenue gas station Monday, demanded cash and told the young attendant he had a friend across the street with a rifle.

The attendant, Robert Noriega, 16, of Bakersfield, said the man cut his finger when he tore open a plastic container for Noriega to put the money in. The bandit force Noriega to bandage his cut finger, and then made off with $100.

Ford Neglects Family Farmer, Carter Says

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) - Carrying his campaign to the Midwest, Jimmy Carter said today the Ford administration has neglected the family farmer and American consumer and has failed to establish a stable agricultural policy.

"We need to take agricultural leadership in Washington out of the hands of the corporate interests and the grain speculators," Carter said in a speech prepared for delivery at the Iowa State Fair.

"We need a president and a secretary of agriculture who understand the problems of the family farmer and the consumer - and if I am elected, we're going to have both.

The peanut farmer from Plains, Ga., who is confident he has a strong chance of winning in President Ford's native Midwest, made Des Moines his last stop on a four-day campaign trip. Aides said he would try to capitalize on what he believes is significant discontent in the farm belt over Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz and the administration's farm program.

He has attacked Butz as a supporter of big agricultural businesses, lacking understanding and support for small farmers.

"We need to close the revolving door between the agriculture department and the large special interests," Carter said. "If I am elected, we will make sure that our support prices are at least equal to the cost of production. That will not guarantee profit - no real farmer wants that - but it will give the determined farmer a chance to stay in business."

The Democratic presidential nominee also attacked export embargoes placed on agricultural products by the Nixon and Ford administrations in the last three years, calling them "a record of unparalleled incompetence."

"It's not my idea of a fair shake when the government promotes foreign sales and then cuts them off for political convenience.

"It's not my idea of a fair shake when inside speculators, with special connections in the agriculture department, make windfall profits on grain deals while the producer himself sells at a loss."

Carter had said Tuesday night when he met with representatives of two dozen national farm organizations that if elected president he would never authorize an embargo on foreign shipment of U.S. farm products.

"Under my administration, if I'm elected, there will never be another embargo that singles out farm products," the former Georgia governor said during the meeting with representatives of such groups as the National Farmers Organization, Farmers Union, National Grange, American Farm Bureau and National Corn Growers Association.

Embargoes on shipments of U.S. grain, particularly last October's embargo on shipments to Russia, have been a sore point with many farmers who claim they lost money because of them. The administration has said that no farm sales were lost because all available ports and ships were tied up at the time of the embargoes.

Carter also said that, if elected, he would do what he could to clean up what he called "the dirty situation" in the country's grain inspection system.

Ford Concedes Deep South To Democrats

VAIL (AP) - President Ford privately is conceding the deep South and New York to Democratic rival Jimmy Carter, administration sources say.

The Ford camp feels the former Georgia governor is solidly entrenched in the South, including Texas, but may be vulnerable in Florida, the sources said Tuesday.

They made the assessment after Ford's first post-convention strategy session with political aides. The President planned to confer again today with campaign advisers.

The sources said Ford will focus his efforts first on the Midwest and move from there into the Northeast and California.

California is a key battleground state, according to these informants, along with Illinois, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. Ford is placing high hopes on his prospects for outshining Carter in televised debates, and much of his campaign will be fashioned around these still-unscheduled confrontations.

Ford told reporters Tuesday that he favors four debates of at least 90 minutes each in which "tough questions are asked by tough reporters." He suggested that the first debate be held no later than Sept. 10 and said, "The sooner we get started the better."

The debates should focus on four areas: defense, domestic, foreign and

Purse Taken In Theft Tuesday

Hereford police are investigating the theft of a purse which occurred at 138 Northwest Drive Tuesday.

Kim Cochran of 316 Western told police that a youth took the purse from the car and ran.

Police recovered the purse after it was apparently tossed aside behind a dumpster.

A billfold which had been carried inside the purse was missing.

According to police, the billfold contained only a small sum of money.

Tired Shopper

Hustlin' Hereford just got to be too much for this small fry Tuesday morning as he and his mother went shopping in the downtown area. Mark David Templeton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Templeton of 415 Ave. H, decided it was a full day's activity and took a momentary snooze in his umbrella stroller during a break in the shopping. Comfortably settled, he went off to baby dreamland from the hustle, bustle pace of reality.

economic policies, said Ford, who acknowledged he has not communicated his suggestions to the Carter camp. He said he was relying on reporters to do that.

In Seattle, Wash., Carter's press secretary complained about Ford's public utterances on the proposed debates.

"An attempt to conduct discussions by press release holds little chance for success," said Jody Powell. "We had always assumed that there was time to sit down and discuss proposals for debate in a mature and businesslike fashion. We don't feel that it's proper for either side to attempt to play partisan politics or gain partisan advantage from these discussions."

Ford said talks with Carter's camp would begin later this week.

The Ford camp apparently feels that an early debate on defense policy would give the President an advantage because Ford dealt with these issues extensively in his successful campaign against GOP challenger Ronald Reagan. Carter, who has suggested a Sept. 28 date for an initial debate, may desire more time for preparation.

At this point, informants said, Ford hopes to limit his active campaigning to the debates and selected appearances before major audiences.

Irrigation Gas Users Form National Organization At Meet

An umbrella organization for farm consumers of natural gas, tentatively named the National Federation of Irrigation Farmers, was launched at a planning session in Amarillo, Friday.

THE EFFORT to unite irrigators was headed by leaders of four regional gas groups which have worked separately in the past.

Attending the meeting to form a national unity group were some 100 representatives of the North Plains Energy Consumers Association, Plains Gas Users, the Southwest Gas Users, and Southwest Kansas Gas Users Association.

"The response we got at the meeting was strong, and we are hoping to get everybody together again in November to make our plans for the national group final," says Jim Dowty of Dumas, president of North Plains Energy Consumers, the group which hosted the Amarillo meet.

The national strategy session got support in brief speeches by two irrigation country political leaders, State Senator Max Sherman of Amarillo, and Congressman Jack Hightower of Vernon.

ALSO ADDRESSING the farm group were John Aikin of Hereford, attorney of the Plains Gas Users Association, and Cameron Graham, of Albuquerque, New Mexico, Southwest Gas Users attorney. Graham, who has represented farmers before the Federal Power Commission, discussed the urgency of national organization.

"There is an awful lot of demand for natural gas, and there's not much around. It's as simple as that, and if you want gas for your wells, farmers are going to have to fight for it," Graham declared.

"It is absolutely essential that farmers all across the southwest organize so they can have an impact on federal energy policy. Our experience thus far has shown that irrigation farmers will have to wage this fight alone," he added.

"It is not so today, but in 10 years we will have severe supply and price problems with electricity. So converting our wells is not the answer," he warned.

HEREFORD ATTORNEY Aikin, a long-time irrigation spokesman, reported on the status of pricing policies adopted by the Texas Railroad Commission.

"The Railroad Commission has practically given up its authority to regulate prices on natural gas, and irrigation gas will be going up about two cents per MCF every month for the rest of this year," he declared.

"Our hopes cannot rest on getting the Railroad Commission to change its outlook. We've got to get gas regulations moved over to the jurisdiction of the new Texas Utilities Commission," Aikin urged.

In committee sessions late Friday, the convention delegates voted to maintain regional organizations, which will support the national grouping with per-capita contributions. A financial committee report approved late Friday called for raising some $25,000 in funds by November, when the National Federation of Irrigation Farmers will be formally chartered.

State Demo Leader Sets Up An Office

AUSTIN, (AP)- State Democratic Chairman Calvin Guest now has a state headquarters to boost his re-election to the top state party job in Texas.

More than 150 state Democratic party leaders and workers have fomed formed a Calvin Guest Re-Election Committee, the committee announced Tuesday.

The organization was held Monday night at the Governor's Mansion without prior notice, with Gov. Dolph Briscoe leading the endorsement of Guests' attempt to be re-elected at the Sept. 17-18 state convention in Fort Worth.

He is opposed by Lufkin attorney John Henry Tatum who has been endorsed by Comptroller Bob Bullock, liberal Democrat leader Billie Carr and others.

Speakers at the Mansion gathering included Agriculture Commissioner John White, Jess Hay, of Dallas, the state Jimmy Carter finance chairman, and Texas AFL-CIO President Harry Hubbard.

The announcement said legislators and party officials attending included Sens. Oscar Mauzy of Dallas and Raul Longoria of Edinburg; Reps. Anthony Hall of Houston, Herman Adams of Silasbee John Hoostenbach of Odessa and John Bigham of Temple; Democratic National Committeewoman Jane Blumberg of Seguin; State Democratic Committee secretary Julianan Cowden of Alvarado and 10 other members of the state committee.

FBI DIRECTOR Clarence M. Kelley's shakeup of the agency is the most extensive since World War II. Kelley ordered internal reorganization following disclosure of illegal and abusive techniques employed in intelligence operations involving radical organizations.

Inmate Says Murder Planned As 'Big Joke'

DALLAS, (AP)- One of six prisoners charged in the torture slaying of a Dallas County Jail inmate testified Tuesday that the choking and stabbing death started as "a big joke."

The testimony from Steven Clyde Valentine, 19, came in a deposition to be used in a $5 million lawsuit filed earlier this month against Dallas County Sheriff Clarence Jones and probation officer Waylon D. Vernon by the family of Kenneth Nile Coppinger Jr.

Coppinger, 20, was found dead in his cell less than three hours after he was arrested because of what later was determined a mixup in identity. He had been arrested for possible revocation of probation on a statutory rape conviction after officials believed he had been arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated. It was later learned that he had not been arrested on the DWI charge. Valentine testified Tuesday that some of his fellow prisoners in the cell had been talking for about a week about killing someone.

"It was a big joke at first; that's all it was... they started talking about how we were going to do it," Valentine said. "The talk was we were going to hang someone up from the heels from the bars, cut them open from their stomach to their throat and have everybody stab him at least once," he continued.

Valentine testified that he saw one prisoner wrap a piece of leather around Coppinger's neck and saw another man stab Coppinger with a home-made knife.

Coppinger never yelled loudly for help, Valentine said.

Other inmates who witnessed the incident were to testify today for the depositions.

Rain Hits West Texas, Panhandle

By The Associated Press

Widely scattered thundershowers dotted West Texas and the Panhandle early today and a thundershower brought gusty winds to the El Paso area.

Elsewhere around the state, skies were mostly clear. Light southeasterly winds were reported outside the shower areas.

Temperatures early today were mostly in the 70s except in northwest Texas where early morning lows were in the 60s.

Temperatures were to remain warm today, with scattered afternoon and evening showers and thundershowers expected. Highs were to reach the 90s over most of the state except in the Panhandle where readings were forecast in the 80s.

Research Goes Foreign

More and more research by U.S. companies is being performed overseas. The Conference Board estimates such spending at $1.3 billion in 1975. Nearly two-thirds of overseas research and development is performed in three countries: Canada, Great Britain and West Germany, with the last now conducting about 30 per cent of all research performed by foreign affiliates, up from 22 per cent a decade ago.

After 49 Days in Space

MOSCOW (AP)- Soviet cosmonauts Boris Volynov and Vitaly Zolobov were reported in satisfactory condition today after returning to earth from 49 days in space.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, said Volynov, the 41-year-old flight commander, and Zolobov, his 39-year-old flight engineer, landed Tuesday night at a predetermined site about 125 miles southwest of Kokchetav, Kazakhstan, in western Asia.

They spent nearly seven weeks aboard the Salyut 5 space station, and their descent module parachuted to earth two days after the return of a successful unmanned Soviet moon probe.

Salyut 5 remained in orbit "in the autopilot regime. All the station's systems are performing normally," Tass reported.

Volynov and Zolobov fell far short of the space endurance record of 84 days set by an American Skylab crew. It was also short of the Soviet endurance mark of 63 days, set by two cosmonauts last year in the Salyut 4 space station.

The cosmonauts conducted experiments with liquid metals in the vacuum of their space chamber and observed the growth of plants and insects in space for the purpose of genetic studies. They surveyed a large portion of Soviet territory and analyzed geological formations, looking for oil, gas and ore deposits. They also made weather observations.

The two space travelers appeared on Soviet television almost every night during their flight, explaining their experiments, showing various features of the Salyut and answering questions from the earth.

The unmanned moon probe returned to earth Sunday with a sample of lunar soil and rock it scooped up.

Volynov and Zolobov left the earth in the Soyuz 21 space capsule on July 6 and linked up the next day with the Salyut station, which had been placed into orbit two weeks earlier. They returned to earth in the Soyuz descent module.

Salyut 5 was the first manned space flight since the joint American-Soviet Apollo and Soyuz project last year. The United States is not expected to resume its manned space program until it starts space shuttle flights sometime after 1978.

North Korea Agrees To Meeting

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)- North Korea today agreed to a meeting on Wednesday of the joint Korean Military Armistice Commission to discuss the safety of American in the demilitarized zone between North and South Korea.

The United States demanded the meeting and proposed that it be held today. But North Korea proposed a delay until Wednesday afternoon, and the United States agreed.

The United States asked for the meeting in Panmunjom, the truce village in the demilitarized zone, to seek assurances from North Korea that there would not be a repetition of the clash last week in which North Korean guards killed two American army officers.

State Department spokesman Robert Funseth said the United States would demand assurance that "our people will not be harmed."

The American aircraft carrier Midway and four escorting warships were maneuvering off the coast of Korea. American forces in South Korea were reinforced from Okinawa and the United States, and American, South Korean and North Korean forces on the peninsula were all on precautionary alerts.

But the State Department made a conciliatory gesture with a new comment on a statement by North Korean President Kim Il-sung terming the incident at Panmunjom "regretful."

"We recognize that the North Korean statement expresses regret over the incident and we consider this a positive step," Funseth said. "Nevertheless, this does not change the tragic fact that two American officers were brutally beaten to death without provocation."

Another State Department spokesman said on Sunday that the statement was unacceptable because it did not acknowledge responsibility for the slaying of the two Americans.

Funseth added that assurances from North Korea that Americans would be safe in the future "would improve the climate" in Korea.

White House press secretary Ron Nessen said the United States "is anxious to cooperate in relaxation of tensions, but we want to make sure there is no miscalculation concerning our firmness in the area."

The North Korean Communist party newspaper, Rodong, charged party that the Midway task force had entered North Korean waters. Pentagon sources in Washington said the Midway task force was off the coast of South Korea, well south of North Korean waters.

Mondale Aims Attacks At 'Nixon-Ford' Economics

WASHINGTON (AP)- Democratic vice presidential nominee Walter Mondale is headed across the country attacking what he calls the "Nixon-Ford" economy and promising full employment by 1980.

He said in an interview that he will be blaming high inflation and high joblessness on "inconsistent, botched management" started by former President Richard M. Nixon and continued by President Ford.

But he made the campaign promise that election of Democratic presidential nominee Jimmy Carter would bring full employment - a job for every adult who can work - by 1980.

The first stop on Mondale's nine-day, nine-state campaign swing today was to Chicago for a private meeting with Mayor Richard Daley.

He planned stops in Pennsylvania, New York, Wisconsin, back to Illinois, Ohio, Oregon, California, Nevada and Colorado.

In his first major speech in New York Thursday, Mondale said he will argue that Ford-Nixon policies not only foster inflation and unemployment but have wiped out Republican businessmen.

"The Republicans always do better when the Democrats are in," he said he will say. "If you want to live like a Republican, vote Democratic."

Ford already has given an answer to such charges.

He said in his acceptance speech at the Republican convention last week that he inherited runaway inflation and is bringing it under control in spite of a big-spending Democratic Congress.

Mondale contended in the interview that the Republicans botched the economy, and that Carter will fix it, with money supply and federal spending policies.

He blamed inconsistent tight money policy under the Republicans for driving up interest rates, wiping out some businesses and slowing down others, and putting millions of people out of work.

He said Carter would balance the money supply with federal spending policy as tools to stimulate business and create jobs.

Mondale said full employment would bring in an additional $55 billion in income tax money and save money on less-needed food stamps, welfare and unemployment insurance.

That additional revenue, he said, would finance such Carter-Mondale programs as national health insurance, tax reform and better housing.

None of that would be as easy as it sounds, especially Carter's key goal of getting money supply influence over the Federal Reserve Board, which is completely independent of the president.

But Mondale said full employment is a campaign pledge that he and Carter will keep.

"If we have Mr. Carter, we'll have full employment," he said. "and the rest will follow."

Getting a handle on the CB boom

By Don Oakley

The hottest topic of public interest this year is not the Bicentennial or even the presidential election. Be advised, good buddy, that it's Citizens Band (CB) radio.

CB has captured the fancy and imagination of Americans like almost nothing since the advent of home television three decades ago. Everyone, from truck drivers (who started the current boom during the 1973 gasoline shortage) to stay-at-homes, from school kids to the nation's First Lady (known by her "handle" of First Mama) seems to want to communicate by radio.

One measure of this soaring interest is the number of applicants for CB licenses. The Federal Communications Commission's issuing office in Gettysburg, Pa., is being swamped with half a million applications each month, compared to 30,000 a month a few years ago.

Another measure is the mushrooming appearance of new publications serving the CB market. There are now at least 40 magazines devoted to CB, according to Burson-Marsteller, the public relations-public affairs specialist, reporting on a just-completed survey of the field. This time last year, there were only four. Another seven magazines, all of them less than a year old, deal with CB trade subjects such as marketing and retailing.

CB is also invading the newspapers and finding a place alongside the crossword puzzles and bridge columns. Newspaper Enterprise Association, for one example, has just introduced a weekly column called "CB Convac." ("Convac" is CB-ese for conversation.)

In addition, the wire services are producing and distributing CB features and interviews, and radio and TV are devoting more time to the subject.

Researchers at Burson-Marsteller predict that the CB boom will generate equipment and related sales of more than $1 billion this year and that the boom will continue unabated until 1979, especially since the FCC recently increased the number of channels from 23 to 40.

From 1979 on, they say, CB is likely to have the commonality of today's television, with Americans tuning into CB as routinely as they turn on TV, both at home and on the road. Marconi, what hath thou wrought?

WT Invites Tech To Sponsor Courses

The West Texas State University College of Education has again invited Texas Tech to offer doctoral level courses in administration and advanced certification courses on the WTSU campus this fall.

Advanced Supervision Seminar, EDAD 5318, will be taught Wednesday evenings from 6 to 9 p.m. in University Complex South Room 115. Local, State, and Federal Interaction in Administration, EDAD 5391, will be available Thursday evenings at the same time and location.

Registration for the two classes is set for Sept. 9 from 6 to 9 p.m. in UCS Room 115.

Professor of record for the administration class will be Dr. Paul Zintgraff and for supervision, Dr. Robert Krajewski. Other Tech staff will be involved.

Students who have completed a master's degree and administration certification are eligible to enroll in the in-service administrative doctoral program. Those who have completed the first 15 hours of supervision may complete their certification in supervision by attending classes offered by Tech at WTSU.

Several students from the Amarillo-Canyon area attended this program last spring and continued their work at Tech during the summer. Some have been fully admitted to the doctoral program in administration and will continue their studies on the WTSU campus this fall.

Ford Motor Co. Is Strike Target

DETROIT (AP) - Ford Motor Co. is the United Auto Workers 1976 strike target in efforts to obtain an improved labor contract from the auto industry, the union announced Tuesday.

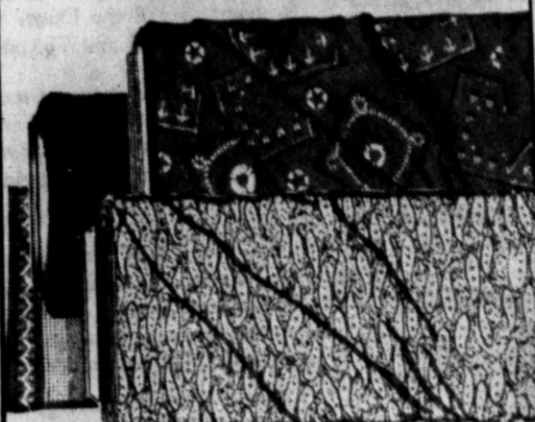

The decision, announced by UAW President Leonard Woodcock, was made Tuesday at a meeting of the union's 26-member executive board.

Auto industry observers had been speculating since the contract talks began that Ford would get the nod, since General Motors and Chrysler were the last two targets.

UAW leaders repeatedly stresses that if Ford was picked, it would not be just because it's Ford's turn.

CowBelle Coffee Promotes Beef

Members of the Hereford CowBelles served free coffee and donuts to local cattlemen, businessmen, mothers and career women Tuesday morning at Caison Steak House. The purpose of the coffee was to obtain ideas on how to better promote the use of beef. Suggestions included telling the public the nutritional value of grain fed beef, promoting beef with coffees in the metropolitan areas of the East; not informing the consumer that there is too much beef and explaining that beef is better physically and mentally. Also, during the coffee, certificates of appreciation were presented to several businessmen and cattlemen for their assistance in the promotion of beef. Receiving awards were Bob Sims, manager of Tri-State Cattle Feeders Inc., Melvin Cordray with Sugarland Feed Yards, Anita Pope with Dawn Co-op, and Bill and Norman Harder with Gibson Real Estate. The next CowBelle meeting will include a style show and Dutch treat luncheon beginning at 11:45 a.m. September 21 at Hereford Country Club. The public is invited and reservations must be made at the Country Club. Girlstown residents need beef donations. For further information contact Mrs. Tyler at 364-0153.

Discussion Groups To Assemble

Two discussion groups, The American Issues Group and the Great Books groups, will begin meeting soon at Deaf Smith County Library.

Both of these sessions are open to more members at the present time and anyone interested in joining either one is asked to call the library at 364-1206 or go by and register.

The American Issues Group will be meeting on the first and third Thursdays of each month at 7:30 p.m. beginning September 16.

The Great Books groups will also meet at the library on the second and fourth Thursday evenings of each month at 7:30 p.m. beginning September 9.

There will be no charge for being a member of either group. For further information contact Gwen London, county librarian, or any of the library staff.

Ann Landers Have A Sence of Humor

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Your misguided advice to "Morph" set the Women's Movement back 100 years.

I agree a married couple who cannot get adequate rest in a double bed should go to twin beds, but your suggestion that the wife put a whistle on his nightstand left me cold.

Sexist humor is no longer in good taste. Unfortunately, too many of your readers do not have your intellectual capacity. They are sure to take you seriously. I pity the wives the chauvinist males who will have that column used against them.

People are not to be whistled for like dogs-- especially wives of men who want sex. I'll bet the lambasting you receive for that shameful answer will bring forth an apology, but it can't possibly compensate for the damage you've already done.-- P.M.

DEAR P.M.: If you don't have a sense of humor you're nowhere-- which, incidentally, is the principal finding in the Women's Movement. Sorry, P.M., I'm not apologizing for that answer. It was O.K., and I stand by it.

DEAR ANN: The problem is bed-wetting. It is our son, the oldest of seven children. He reads your column religiously and we hope he will heed your advice.

We have had Arnie to a urologist for tests three times in the last six years. There is nothing physically wrong with the boy. He is 19 years old now and has ruined more bedding and mattresses than I can think about. The doctor has given Arnie pills, which he "forgets" to take. All instruction not to drink liquids after 4:00 p.m. are ignored.

I can't tell you how upset I get when I go to make up his bed in the morning and find he has done it again.

What burns me up is he doesn't care. Any advice?-- Washing Machine Blues

DEAR WASH: A 19-year-old boy who wets his bed and "doesn't care" is sending out messages. Tell him he can swim ten laps a night if he wants to but from now on he must do his own laundry and make his own bed. (I'll bet he dries up fairly soon.)

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The letter from the woman who had her name legally changed misled you as well as countless others. She made it sound very simple. Well, it isn't.

First you have to go the county courthouse and get a petition. It must be filled out and notarized by someone who has known you for at least five years. Then you must publicize it for six to eight weeks in a newspaper or a daily law bulletin.

Next step: You are required to get new copies of all certified documents, such as driver's license, marriage license, social security card, birth certificate, just about everything that bears your name. The total cost for all this runs anywhere from $60 to $75. So please, Ann, let your readers know that there's more to it than Mrs. New-Name implied. Think I'll Keep My Old Name

DEAR THINK: I feel like changing mine after all the complaints I've received. Charles Seib, Associate Editor of the Washington Post, informed me that Jack Crandall, Chief of Vital Records for the District of Columbia, had to straighten out a lot of people because of that flaky information. I've checked out yours and it is correct. So folks, now you have the straight goods. ****

At The Library

Author Combines Terror and Humor

"Legend In Green Velvet" by Elizabeth Peters and "The Star Spangled Contract" by Jim Garrison are the two books being featured this week at Deaf Smith County Library.

Written at a time when daily headlines make the bizarre and incredible seem commonplace, the novel, "The Star Spangled Contract" is as powerful as reality itself, as shocking as brute fact.

Elizabeth Peters creates her own special blend of terror and light-hearted humor in the book "Legend In Green Velvet." The book entails a satisfying chase, a charming love affair and two sensational surprise endings. Deaf Smith County Library is open free to the public from 9 a.m.-9 p.m. Monday and Thursday; from 9 a.m.-6 p.m. other weekdays and until noon Saturday.

LEGEND IN GREEN VELVET by Elizabeth Peters

Edinburgh--with its ancient history of deception and murder--and the Scottish Highlands--with all their austere beauty--are the setting for this modern romance between an American girl and a young Scots laird. They meet when Susan, fleeing from a menacing old street preacher, looks up the steep stairs of a dark Edinburgh close and sees a masked figure in a ceremonial kilt, lace and velvet. From that moment, they barely have time to draw a breath as they try to escape deadly pursuers and unravel the mystery of why they are being threatened.

What devotee of mystery and adventure could ask for anything more than a couple of hours in the company of Ms. Peters? She's at her best in this exciting, romantic and unusual novel which stars rich and spunky Amelia Peabody.

After her father's death in the late 18th century, Amelia leaves England to travel. In Italy, she finds a young country-woman, Evelyn, destitute and abandoned by a rascally Italian lover. Amelia instantly hires the younger woman as her companion and they go on to Egypt.

The two meet Radcliffe Emerson, an irascible British archaeologist, and his brother Walter. Amelia insists on exploring the ancient tombs with the brothers; a mummy they find disappears and takes to haunting the party at night.

What's at the bottom of the apparent supernatural happenings is more menacing than ghosts in a brilliantly sustained, pulse-quickening narrative by a writer who under this name or that of Barbara Michaels has quite a following. She is also an archaeologist herself.

THE STAR SPANGLED CONTRACT by Jim Garrison

Uncanny in its preception of government agencies gone awry, disturbing in its implications, "The Star Spangled Contract" is a chilling novel of intelligence murder and intrigue in the nation's highest offices.

From the first crack of a rifle on page one, former undercover agent Colin McFerrin is flung headlong into a maze of deception and death as he tried desperately to save the President of the United States from assassination by people within his own government.

Mc Ferrin has that a powerful group in government has already set into motion the machinery for the assassination. But which group? Which agency? The deeper he probes, the more bewildering and harrowing his search becomes.

In a kaleidoscope of shifting events, the hunter becomes the hunted, a moving target, as McFerrin is forced in and out of hiding, never certain of his fate of his enemy.

With an amazing narrative talent and an enormous reservoir of political sophistication, Jim Garrison leads us through a labyrinth of intrigue and illusion--a trail of deception that weaves its way from an assassination rehearsal site in the Illinois woods to the heart of the nation's capital.

The author is dazzling in his mastery of technical detail, sophisticated in his tracking of intricate CIA and Pentagon maneuvers, and so gifted in sheer storytelling power that one is swept along from the explosive beginning right up to the devastating climax. With the publication of "The Star Spangled Contract", Jim Garrison steps into the front ranks of successful contemporary fiction writers along with Robert Ludlum, Richard Condon, and Frederick Forsyth.

COOKING IS FUN

By CECILY BROWNSTONE Associated Press Food Editor. COMPANY BRUNCH Scrambled Eggs Sausage Cottage Cheese Rolls Jam Fruit Compote Beverage

COTTAGE CHEESE ROLLS We've never made no-knead rolls that were better than these!

- 2 packages active dry yeast,
- 1/2 cup lukewarm water
- 2 cups creamstyle cottage cheese
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 2 eggs
- 4 1/2 cups (about) flour

Sprinkle yeast on lukewarm water; stir to dissolve. Heat cottage cheese until lukewarm. Combine cottage cheese, sugar, salt, baking soda, eggs, yeast and 1 cup flour in bowl. Beat with electric mixer at medium speed until smooth, about 2 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. Or beat with spoon until batter is smooth. Gradually add enough flour to make a soft dough that leaves the sides of the bowl. Place dough in greased bowl; turn over to grease top. Cover and let rise in warm place until doubled, about 1 1/2 hours. Turn dough onto lightly floured surface. Divide dough into 24 equal pieces. Shape each piece into a ball. Place 24 balls in 2 greased 9-inch round baking pans. Let rise until doubled, about 45 minutes. Bake in 350-degree oven 20 minutes or until golden brown. Remove from pans; cool on racks. Makes 24 rolls. From Farm Journal's "Country Fair Cookbook" edited by Elise W. Manning (Doubleday).

Seaver Ends Streak; LA Stuns Expos, 6-0

By BERT ROSENTHAL
AP Sports Writer

"A couple of years ago, if I had gone through one of these streaks, I might have gone through the roof," said a relieved Tom Seaver.

Seaver, the long-time pitching ace of the New York Mets, had ended one of the most frustrating periods of his illustrious major league career, firing a four-hitter and beating the San Francisco Giants 4-0 Tuesday night for his first victory since July 8.

"I didn't despair," Seaver said, "because I had been pitching well. The main thing I could do was be consistent, and I had done that."

In between victories, Seaver had started seven times, and the Mets had lost each time. He was charged with four of the defeats, two by shutouts and one by one run. In his three no-decisions, the Mets dropped all three games by one run, two in extra innings, including a 1-0 decision.

But Seaver's character and his earned run average didn't suffer. Throughout the drought, he maintained his calm, and shutout over the Giants reduced his ERA to 2.51—best among starting pitchers in the National League.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers handed the Montreal Expos their 10th consecutive loss 6-0, the Philadelphia Phillies routed the Atlanta Braves 14-3, the San Diego Padres whipped the Pittsburgh Pirates 7-3, the St. Louis Cardinals downed the Cincinnati Reds 4-1, and the Houston Astros defeated the Chicago Cubs 4-3.

Seaver, 10-9, struck out eight and walked only one in beating the Giants for the seventh time in a row since 1974.

Roy Staiger drove in two Mets runs with a single and a sacrifice fly.

Dodgers 6, Expos 0
Burt Hooton registered his first victory since Aug. 3 and his fourth shutout of the season, scattering seven hits, striking out seven and walking only one in pitching the Dodgers past Montreal.

Ron Cey's 21st homer and Dusty Baker's two-run single helped the Dodgers to their eighth victory in nine games.

Phillies 14, Braves 3
Philadelphia pitcher Steve Carlton, 16-4, scattered seven hits over eight innings for his sixth consecutive victory and helped his cause with three hits and three runs batted in.

Padres 7, Pirates 3
Mike Ivie singled twice, driving in four runs for the first time in a year, in pacing the Padres' offense.

San Diego's Brent Strom recovered from a shaky start and finished with a six-hitter, retiring 18 of the last 20 Pittsburgh batters.

Cardinals 4, Reds 1
St. Louis' Pete Falcone stymied Cincinnati's slumping West Division leaders on five hits and was helped by Willie Crawford's homer.

The Reds have scored more than four runs only once in their last 11 games—and that was in a 9-5 loss to St. Louis Monday night.

Astros 4, Cubs 3
Bob Watson was Houston's hitting star. He singled, triggering a two-run second inning, and doubled a drive in a run in the fifth.

Manny Trillo knocked in two Chicago runs.

Laywers Try Lottery Halt

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) - Lawyers for the National Football League were to present arguments this afternoon in U.S. District Court in an attempt to suppress Delaware's planned pro football betting game.

The NFL has filed a request for an injunction which says the proposed wagering game "injures the integrity of sports, causes fan disinterest or suspicion and undermines the financial investment of the clubs."

Braves Nip Texas

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) - Jerry Augustine is one of our major league baseball's hottest pitching streaks and two months ago he wasn't even in the starting rotation.

The 24-year-old native of Kewanee, Wis., limited the Texas Rangers to five hits in 10 innings Tuesday night in an 1-0 Milwaukee victory.

Elsewhere, the New York Yankees edged the Minnesota Twins 5-4, the California Angels nipped the Boston Red Sox 6-5, the Chicago White Sox downed the Detroit Tigers 12-7, Oakland shaded Baltimore 5-4, and the Cleveland Indians shutout Kansas City, 2-1.

For Augustine, it was his fifth victory in his last six starts. In his last eight appearances, he has allowed only 11 runs in 59.2 innings.

"This was my best game of the year," said Augustine after the Brewers' seventh consecutive humbling of the Rangers.

"I owe everything to pitching coach Calvin McLish," said Augustine. "I was really bombed by Chicago June 10 and he told 'Hey, kid, we're gonna get your stuff together.' I've got a great admiration for the man. If he hadn't helped me I probably wouldn't be with the club."

Augustine explained that McLish "smoothed out my motion. I'm pitching more

Oilers Release Eight; Acquire Running Backs

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) - The Houston Oilers, off to a 0-4 start in the National Football League exhibition season, are suddenly wheeling and dealing.

They started the activity Tuesday by waiving eight players, including former all-pro defensive end Bubba Smith, receivers Mike Montgomery and rookie Steve Largent and punter Leroy Clark.

Names of the other four players placed on waivers were not disclosed.

Later in the day, Coach D.A. "Bum" Phillips announced the Oilers had acquired two running backs, Altie Taylor from the Detroit Lions and former Oiler Joe Dawkins from the New York Giants, for future draft choices.

However, shortly after the announcement, the Lions said they learned that Taylor was in a Detroit hospital with what doctors described as "mental fatigue."

Jury Out On Players

DALLAS (AP) - The jury is still out on both Duane Thomas and Clint Longley.

The jury, in this case, being Dallas Cowboy Coach Tom Landry, who is in his 16th season of judging National Football League talent.

Thomas is the prodigal son who has returned to the club following a stormy exit in 1971; the running back called Landry "a plastic" man in parting shot.

All has been forgiven and Thomas, who once was withdrawn and suspicious of the press and teammates, is at 29 no longer moody. He answers question articulately and has been a model of decorum in the preseason.

However, Landry said "We can't go on what Duane has done in the past."

Thomas has averaged only 2.8 yards per carry in four preseason games and Landry cautioned Tuesday that the former West Texas State star with the floating running style is "behind where I thought he would be. He showed up better against Detroit."

Landry indicated the next two weeks will tell the tale.

"It's there for him," said Landry.

Longley is the third year quarterback who engaged in two training camp fist fights with No. 1 quarterback Roger Staubach.

In the second fight, Staubach was knocked into some training room scales and suffered a nine-inch gash over his left eye.

would happen if Taylor didn't report.

"Then the trade doesn't go through," Phillips replied. "If he wants to come down, he'll jump right out of that hospital bed. I know he's had problems with his contract and that may have something to do with it."

"He's a good runner. We had an opportunity to get him—so we got him. If he reports and passes the physical, he can help us. If not, then, well, like I said, we don't have a trade."

The Oilers running back corps, which managed only 42 yards last Saturday in a 27-4 loss to the defensively weak New York Jets, has been riddled with injuries.

The two starters, fullback Fred Willis and running back Ronnie Coleman, are sidelined with injuries. Willis has a shoulder separation and Coleman has a sprained ankle. The Oilers also have lost reserve Willie Rodgers to knee surgery for the season.

Dawkins, 28, starting his seventh pro season, was an Oiler rookie in 1970 when he was the team's leading rusher with 517

Nastase Proves Male Cougars Conditioned For Try Netters More Exciting At SWC Football Throneroom

By RICHARD T. PIENCIAK
AP Sports Writer

SOUTH ORANGE, N.J. (AP)—Despite the frequent unpredictability of Ilie Nastase, one thing is certain when he steps on the tennis court: he's instant proof that men players are far superior and more exciting than women players. Renee Richards notwithstanding.

The 30-year-old Romanian proved it Tuesday night at the Tennis Week Open by disposing of John Lloyd of Great Britain, 6-1, 6-3, in 55 minutes.

With his all-around game, Nastase showed why he and the other top male players reign supreme on the court.

At 1-1 in the first set, the defending champion ran off five straight games. About one-half hour later, he sat down with the handful of reporters left over from the less exciting Caroline Stoll-Renee Richards afternoon match to talk about tennis's latest phenomenon.

"So people come to watch 'him' play," Nastase said, referring to Dr. Richards, the 42-year-old transsexual eye surgeon from Newport Beach, Calif. "What do you think, I'm jealous?"

When he arrived at the Orange Lawn Tennis Club on Sunday for some practice, Nastase was asked what affect Dr. Richards' presence would have on his publicity. "I have too low an image to lose my publicity," he said.

Tournament director Gene Scott, whose acceptance of Dr. Richards' entry led to the withdrawal of 25 women players, said, "The people come to see Nastase play, and that's the way it should be."

Scott noted that the evening session was a sellout crowd of 3,600, while the afternoon Dr. Richards match drew only 3,200.

In that match Dr. Richards, who underwent a sex change operation last year, came back to beat Miss Stoll, a 15-year-old high school junior from Livingston, N.J., 6-3, 0-6, 6-1.

Dr. Richards will face Kathy Harter of Seal Beach, Calif., in the quarter-finals on Thursday. Miss Harter, 29, beat Mickie Larkin of South Orange, N.J., 6-1, 6-1, on Tuesday.

Nastase returned to center court today against fast-serving Colin Dibley of Australia. Other second-round men's action pitted Vitas Gerulaitis of kings Point, N.Y., against Balazs Taroczy of Hungary and Vijay Amritraj of India against Larry Gottfried of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

HOUSTON (AP)—Bill Yeoman looked tired and he admitted it. "Too many 5:30 mornings I guess," the University of Houston head football coach said. "I'm starting to fade at midday."

Yeoman and his Cougars, stung by a 2-8 season last year, have been burning the midnight oil to get ready for their initiation into the Southwest Conference football race this season.

They don't plan to fade. "I think our conditioning is excellent and our work habits have been good," Yeoman said as he prepared to start fall practice. "I'd be mighty surprised if we don't play very hard."

The Cougars, who have reeled off 10 consecutive winning seasons, had a book-end 1975 year. They posted victories in their opening and closing games and what happened in between wasn't worth reading.

The Cougars offense fumbled 47 times last season and the defense, normally as stingy as the offensive is profuse, yielded massive yardage. Yeoman considers 1975 a lame-duck season prior to going into the SWC race.

"We had so much more intensity in spring drills," Yeoman said. "It's going to have to be that way every week from now on."

The Cougars delve into the mysteries of SWC football Sept. 11 against the Baylor Bears and one of Yeoman's principal concerns is a light-weight offensive line that has been shuffled several times.

Three-year letterman right guard Everett Little was the only graduation loss but Yeoman has shifted his return a couple of times to get the right combination.

The only major shift that Yeoman stayed with was moving last year's center Mike Spradlin, to left guard and installing sophomore squadman Chuck Brown at center.

As fall drills started, the Cougars offensive line included Kevin Rollwage, 6-1, 224 and senior captain Val Belcher, 6-3, 245 at tackles, Spradlin, 6-1, 225 and Ramon Rosales, 5-11, 260 at guards and Brown, 6-0, 215 at center.

"The thing that concerns me is that it takes awhile for a group of offensive linemen to develop," Yeoman said. "It's going to take time."

The Cougs have until Sept. 11.

Despite lack of size and experience, offensive line coach Billy Willingham sees hope, comparing his 1971 interior line to his current crop.

"When you lack in some areas, you've got to be fanatical to do the job," Willingham said. "If they do what the 1971 line did, we'd be all right."

"Except for Val Belcher, who is a great offensive lineman, our line this year reminds me of the 1971 team. What they have got to do is give us outstanding effort all the time."

In the offensive backfield, the Cougars return their top three rushers from last season but it took all three to get over the 1,000 yard mark.

A 1,000-yard rusher normally is taken for granted in the Cougar's veer-option backfield.

The real offensive battle will take place at quarterback where incumbent Bubba McGallion is being strongly challenged by red-shirt Danny Davis, who shared at least equal time in spring drills.

"Bubba has thrown more effectively than he did last year," Yeoman said. "But I would say Danny has a little stronger arm. Right now they both are running about the same."

With a full set of returning defensive starters headed by defensive captain Wilson Whitley at tackle, the Cougars should be improved.

Boston University has one home football game. It's against Holy Cross Oct. 15.

Boo Birds Finally Getting To Alston

By LINDA FILLMORE
AP Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Walt Alston has been managing the Los Angeles Dodgers for 23 years and it's taken the boo birds that long to get to him. But they've finally succeeded.

The local newspapers and radio talks shows have been swamped recently with letters and calls sharply criticizing Alston, who began his career at the Dodger helm in 1954 when the team was in Brooklyn.

The fans are frustrated.

They expected a pennant this year—or at the very least, a club that would be in contention all the way.

Instead, the Dodgers are nine games back of Cincinnati in the National League West and their fans, who've turned out 2 million strong—the largest attendance in the majors—are crying for Alston's scalp.

The man they apparently have selected as his successor is third base coach Tommy Lasorda.

On Sunday, an uncharacteristically irate Alston got into a shouting match with a local sports editor who had written a column calling for the end of Alston's reign. Alston called the writer an "overstuffed pig."

But Tuesday, Alston telephoned the writer and apologized.

"It was overblown," he said of the incident. "But I called the guy and said I was sorry because I realize I have no right to make personal comments about him. I told him he has a right to his opinions and I have a right to mine."

"The only thing is, he can write his in the newspapers and I don't get much chance to make mine heard. Another thing I don't like is guys who come out to the ballpark three or four times a year trying to take my job away."

Alston knows they're after him. He admits it. But he says he isn't going to "worry beyond tonight's game."

He insists the Dodgers are "definitely still in" the division race and claims he won't give a thought to next year "until the end of October."

He concedes that he really doesn't have much say about his future, despite being the dean of field skippers.

"I'll make my mind up after the season," he said. "But, yeah, it's really all up to Dodger President Peter O'Malley, anyway."

"I can't think of anything right now that I'd really rather do than manage the Dodgers—that's all I know—but I can't worry about it now."

"We started poorly, came on with a long, long winning streak, until now. We need another extended streak to become a threat to the Reds. There's still six no-five games left against Cincinnati."

The club has won eight of its last nine games, including a 6-0 victory over Montreal Tuesday.

The Dodger boss admitted that the loss of Andy Messersmith—who played out the option year of his contract and signed before the season with the Atlanta Braves—has hurt the club.

Wright Itching For Rematch

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

DALLAS (AP)—Don't tell Rayfield Wright Saturday night's preseason rematch with Super Bowl champion is just another National Football League exhibition game to the Dallas Cowboys.

The 270-pound Cowboy offensive right tackle will have his own personal duel in the pits with Pittsburgh defensive end L.C. Greenwood, his antagonist in Super Bowl X.

"You bet we want to beat Pittsburgh just like we did last year in preseason," said Wright. "We should have beaten them in the Super Bowl and would have if they hadn't blocked that punt."

The Steelers blocked a punt for a safety in the second half of the game and eventually conquered the Cowboys 21-17.

"Pittsburgh had better be in shape because it will probably be like 100 degrees on the field at kickoff," said Wright of the nationally televised game in Texas Stadium.

Since the Super Bowl, Dallas' only revenge was beating the Steelers twice in basketball. Pittsburgh took the Cowboys in the postseason "Super Stars" competition in Hawaii.

"Ole L.C. will play me tough no matter whether it's hot or cold," said Wright. "We have sort of a competition going between ourselves. Both of us want to look good Monday when they bring out the films of the game."

"Greenwood has tremendous quickness and uses his tremendously long arms very effectively in warding off blocks," said Wright. "It's tough to put a block on him and make it stick. We've had some battles."

Wright is rounding into shape after an off-year in 1975 because of a knee injury.

"You don't like to mention injuries because the other team will use them against you," said Wright. "I'm way ahead of where I was at this time last year. I wasn't able to work in training camp last year and I've been working every day and the off-season operation I had on this right knee hasn't bothered me at all."

Wright was a three-times All-Pro before his injury last year.

Arizona State plays eight night football games this season.

Survival Main Hope For SMU'S Mustangs

DALLAS (AP)—Ask Ron Meyer to realistically assess Southern Methodist's chances in the Southwest Conference football race this fall, and he candidly replies: "Survival."

There are no dreams of a championship. There are nightmares of not winning a game.

"All the talent has left SMU," says the new coach from Nevada-Las Vegas who took over from the fired Dave Smith.

But Meyer is pushing himself, his staff and his players because of that old theory that good luck follows hard work.

"What the hell, we may be lucky," he says. "Maybe we will beat some people we're not supposed to beat. We will have to play harder than any SMU team has ever had to play."

Meyer's first step at the private school is to build pride.

The Mustangs will sport new team uniforms this autumn.

The jerseys will be red with white numerals, trimmed in blue. The white pants will be striped. SMU will lineup with a red mustang on a white helmet.

"We might not be able to coach but we can design uniforms," says Meyer, a man gifted with a quick sense of humor.

Of course, Meyer need not be reminded of Texas Coach Darrell Royal's old axiom about uniforms: ("These are work clothes...we don't want them all candied up.")

Meyer says "The big thing is to not let the program bottom out but blossom out. If you get on the short end of a 77-0 game, you may never recover. We've got to establish hope for the future without selling our seniors short."

Meyer will run a wide-open, pro-style offense with some of the lays taken from the professional Dallas Cowboys where Meyer once worked in the scouting department.

He has a quarterback, senior Rickey Wesson, who although not noted for his passing ability, is an excellent scrambler.

"Having a player of Wesson's capabilities is a real added plus," says Meyer. "A lot of teams are fighting the battle of not having a returning quarterback but that is a positive side of the SMU program right now."

The Mustangs are decimated defensively and the recent announcement that senior corner-backs Louis Blaton and Tony Perry won't return didn't help.

"We definitely have a lack of big, strong people," he says.

The Mustangs need good strong people. Besides the regular SWC slate they get to play Alabama in Birmingham Sept. 18.

BROOKLINE, Mass.—Topseeded Jimmy Connors defeated Steve Krulovitz of Baltimore, 7-5, 6-4, in an opening round match at the $125,000 U.S. Pro Tennis Championship.

SOUTH ORANGE, N.J.—Transsexual Renee Richards outlasted 15-year-old Caroline Stoll, 6-2, 0-6, 6-1 in the second round of Tennis Week Open.

Hearing Set On Solution To West Point Scandal

By MALCOLM N. CARTER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new congressional hearing has been scheduled to clear up unanswered questions in Army Secretary Martin E. Hoffmann's plan to end West Point's cheating scandal, and lawyers for accused cadets said Tuesday that they'll fight for more concessions.

Chairman Lucien Nedzi of the House military personnel subcommittee said he was calling as witnesses at today's session Hoffmann and Lt. Gen. Sidney

B. Berry, West Point's superintendent, in an effort to clarify "several questions left unanswered" at a Senate hearing.

Hoffmann announced at the hearing Monday that cadets convicted of cheating on graded electrical engineering homework would be expelled as required of honor code violators. But he said "a large number" of those who seek it will be readmitted in a year.

Cadets can otherwise simply leave the academy and the army without having to serve their usual two years as enlisted personnel.

"He's gone a long way," said Capt. Arthur Lincoln, an Army defense lawyer who long has alleged that his clients were scapegoats at the nation's oldest military institutions. "But I don't think he's gone far enough." He continued: "I'm still not satisfied with it, nor are a lot of other defense counsel. We're still going to push-I mean, what do we have to lose by fighting? We've still got a few aces up our sleeve and we'll continue it a little longer."

Added Capt. Paul Foster, another defense lawyer who said he had mixed reactions, "The thing they've got to resolve more than anything else is the problems in the system itself. I'm not entirely sure they're going to get the entire truth."

Hoffmann left it to the cadet honor committee and a special review panel to be headed by Frank Borman. The Eastern Air lines president formerly a cadet, astronaut and Air Force general, to heal the honor system. The system is how the honor code, which says "a cadet will not lie, cheat or steal, nor tolerate those who do," is implemented.

Lincoln said the lawyers have called the cadets to a meeting

Friday to map strategy. It has been difficult to determine beforehand how many might accept the option of serving on active duty for a year, then reapplying for admission. After a battle stretching since last April, many are "too fed up" for that, he said.

What irks Army defense lawyers and Michael T. Rose, a civilian retained by many of the 202 members of the Class of 1977 who have been implicated, was the uncertainty of re-admission if they apply.

Carter Advocates Pardons For Vietnam Draft Dodgers

By LYNNE OLSON
Associated Press Writer

SEATTLE (AP)—Jimmy Carter said Tuesday the nation must put Vietnam behind it by granting pardons, not amnesty, to all those who refused to be drafted to fight in Southeast Asia.

"I do not favor a blanket amnesty, but for those who violated Selective Service laws, I intend to grant a blanket pardon," Carter said in a speech prepared for the national convention of the American Legion.

"To me, there is a difference," Carter said. "Amnesty means that what you did is right. A pardon means that what you did—right or wrong—is forgiven. So, pardon—yes, amnesty—no."

The legion, in the past, has opposed leniency for war resisters.

Carter said international terrorism must be stopped, waste in military spending ended, the veterans of past wars cared for, and the nation's morale rebuilt so that patriotism is no longer "an object of scorn or jokes."

On terrorism, Carter said as president, he would urge strong international sanctions "against guilty nations as a necessary and productive means for crushing this intolerable threat to international law and peace."

Internally, the Democratic nominee said, "it is time for the damage, hatred and divisiveness of the Vietnam war to be over."

He said that the cases of deserters from the armed forces should be handled individually, "in accordance with our nation's system of military justice."

Carter said that while all Americans may not be able to agree about whether the national ever should have been involved in Vietnam, "we can now agree to respect those differences and to forget them. "We must bind up our wounds" he said. "We simply cannot afford to let them fester any longer. The world is too dangerous. We cannot remain distracted from what must be our overriding aim. Attention must turn to rebuilding the military, economic and spiritual foundations of a peaceful world order."

Carter's position is now new. He said some time ago that he would favor presidential pardons, which he believes would avoid the implication that the actions being pardoned were proper ones. He also has said that cases against deserters should be handled individually within the military justice system.

Last Jan. 26, Carter said in a position paper, "When I am president, I am going to issue a blanket pardon for all those who are outside our country or in this country, who did not serve in the armed forces. I am going to issue a pardon, not an amnesty."

In September 1974, President Ford set in motion a program of conditional amnesty to draft evaders and deserters if they reaffirmed their allegiance to the country and worked for up to 24 months in public service jobs.

Ford's clemency board handled men who had been punished for desertion or draft evasion in the Vietnam era. The board said 113,337 were eligible for its program, but only 21,729 applied, with 14,514 given outright pardons or pardons conditioned on public service work.

Suit Filed Against Ship Cleaning Firm

NEW ORLEAN (AP)—A Greek shipping company, trying to clear a Russian grain ship for sailing, has filed a $500,000 suit against a Texas ship cleaning firm.

The suit, filed by Victorias Shipping Co. late Monday in U.S. District Court, names the National Hydro Water Cleaning Corp of Houston and San Antonio as defendants.

It is the second suit filed in a complicated chain of events that began when National Hydro hired a group of laborers to clean the holds of the Russian freighter Adygeya.

About 200 of the dockside workers claim National Hydro closed shop here without paying them. Three of the workers filed suit Friday asking that the 840-foot Adygeya be seized and sold at auction to satisfy the claims for back wages.

Spokesman for Victorias Shipping Co., which has the contract for operating the freighter said the laborers were suing the wrong people. Victorias offered to post bond to cover the wages of the workers, if they would, in turn, drop their claims against the ship.

The Victorias suit accuses National Hydro of failing to fulfill its contract to clean the ship and asks $500,000 from the Texas firm and the man who represented it in the ship cleaning enterprise.

Attorneys for Victorias also said they are preparing counter claims against the three workers who filed suit Friday. The counter claims will allege damage to the reputation of Victorias, the attorneys said.

The tangled legal web was woven this way:

The Russian owners of the Adygeya contracted Victorias to operate the freighter. Victorias hired National Hydro to clean the Adygeya's holds for receiving grain, and says a sizeable portion of the contract price was paid in advance.

National Hydro contacted two maritime unions for help in securing laborers. Some of the laborers were provided by the unions, others were non-union workers hired at dockside.

Two of the Adygeya's 14 holds failed to pass federal inspection, and Victorias hired Gulf Pollution and Marine Cleaning Co. to redo the work. When the National Hydro workers showed up to claim their wages Thursday, they found Gulf at work, the offices of National Hydro closed and the telephone out of service.

Gulf now says it is having difficulty hiring union workers, since they apparently sympathize with the unpaid employees of National Hydro.

The unions disavow any responsibility for the back wages, as does Gulf. The owners say they're not involved, since they hired Victorias and had no further contact with the transaction.

Victorias says it paid for the work once, even though part of it had to be done over.

Raleigh Abner, National Hydro's representative in the ship-cleaning venture, says he quit the firm a week before the dispute with the laborers. He is named as a defendant in Victorias' suit.

The Texas secretary of state's office says National Hydro was incorporated last April, is delinquent on taxes and has lost its right to do business in Texas.

Zulu Tribesmen Strike Against Boycott

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Zulu tribesmen struck back at black militants trying to force compliance with a work boycott, and at least 13 more blacks were reported killed in the Soweto township.

White officials claimed that the effectiveness of the boycott on business and industry in Johannesburg seemed to be weakening Tuesday, the second day of the three-day protest against the white government's racial policies. But the number of commuter trains canceled and informal polls of employers indicated that about 60 per cent of the 250,000 blacks from Soweto who work in Johannesburg have taken part in the strike.

Although government spokesmen tried to minimize the effectiveness of the boycott, it was a remarkable showing considering that South African blacks are not allowed to have labor unions, black organizations opposed to the government are outlawed and most of their leaders are in prison.

The announcement Tuesday night of a one-third increase in bread prices raised the possibility of new protests.

The South African Press Association said at least six persons were killed and more than 100 injured Tuesday when about 1,500 Zulus charged through the streets of Soweto with sticks, stones and short spears and broke into homes in what appeared to be a backlash against the strike.

A black newspaper, the World, reported that a crowd of Zulus who worked Monday in defiance of the strike call killed seven black militants in a group that harassed them Monday night when they returned to Soweto from Johannesburg.

Black anti-strike vigilante groups were reported meeting homebound workers at Soweto railroad stations and bus stops to protect them from militants trying to enforce the mass work stoppage.

"If people want to organize themselves to resist the istsis thugs, we can't stop them, but we also cannot allow rioting," said Police Commissioner Gert Prinsloo.

He said police could not confirm the Zulu killings. His men have reported five persons killed in Soweto since the start of the strike Monday, one of them by police gunfire.

Numerous clashes between police and in Soweto Tuesday, and scattered gunfire was heard.

Nixon Survival Depended on Tapes

HOUSTON (AP)—Former special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski says he believes former President Richard Nixon would have "survived and remained in office" if he had destroyed his tapes.

Jaworski speculates in his new book scheduled to be released today that one reason Nixon refused to destroy the tapes was because they were worth money.

"He hoped to realize a fortune from them," Jaworski writes, "and his background showed him to be a man greedy for both money and power."

The book, entitled "The Right and the Power" had been scheduled for release in September but officials at Gulf Publishing Co. said it would be released today in Houston. The Houston Post obtained a copy of the book Tuesday.

Jaworski says little in the book about the pardon of Nixon by President Ford but offers some conclusions about the former president.

"I often wondered," Jaworski writes, "how Nixon was able to concentrate even briefly on the matters of state that begged for his attention. There he was in the Oval office, day after day, night after night, scheming, plotting and finally sacrificing his staff and others one by one so as to save himself."

Jaworski also relates an incident in which Sen. James Eastland, D-Miss., describes a sobbing Nixon pleading with the senator to save Nixon from criminal prosecution.

Jaworski said Eastland told him Nixon had called from San Clemente, Calif., a short time after the resignation.

"He was crying," Jaworski quoted Eastland as saying. "He said, 'Jim, don't let Jaworski put me in that trial with Haldeman and Ehrlichman. I can't take any more.'"

Jaworski also writes that former Nixon aide H.R. "Bob" Haldeman once offered to plead guilty to a single Watergate felony charge and testify against John Ehrlichman, another former Nixon aide, "in all other matters known to him" if the government would dismiss other charges against Haldeman.

But the deal fell through, Jaworski writes, when U.S. District Court Judge John Sirica refused to assure Haldeman's attorney what sort of sentence Haldeman might face.

Fateful Congress

The 20th Congress held by the Soviet Communist party Feb. 14-25, 1956, was one of the most fateful gatherings of modern times. At the Moscow sessions, Nikita S. Khrushchev denounced Joseph Stalin, repudiated the cruelties of Stalinism and proclaimed a new policy of peaceful coexistence with the West. The new party line alienated Chinese Communists and hastened the split that continues to divide the Communist world.

Corpus Christi Schools Defended

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—School superintendent Dana Williams lashed out at a critical U.S. Civil Rights Commission report on the Corpus Christi schools Tuesday, saying "we are not bent on destroying anyone's culture."

The commission reported that "a recalcitrant school administration and lack of strong leadership at the community level have severely restricted the benefits of desegregated education."

Desegregation in the Gulf Coast city has led to a "grueling legal battle" but resulted in virtually no violence or disruption, according to the Commission.

The report, whose general findings were critical of President Ford and members of Congress for attempting to curb court-ordered busing, grew out of a 10-month study of school desegregation throughout the nation.

Williams said the educational leadership in Corpus Christi "is not for segregation, we're for integration."

He said opposition to massive busing reflected the wishes of the system's constituency, and listed the two aims of desegregation as higher achievement levels and improved self-images for minority group children. "Massive school-to-school movement of students has produced neither of these results," Williams said.

Williams said some people are "highly misinformed" about the state of bilingual education in his schools. "Bilingual education has become a political issue and it should not be. This district has a good bilingual program," he said.

The commission had criticized the district's bilingual efforts.

Legal efforts to desegregate public schools in Corpus Christi date back to 1968 and the school system has been under federal court desegregation orders since 1971. Up to now the desegregation measures have been only partially implemented.

"Throughout the entire legal proceedings up to the present, the school administration has opposed desegregation," the civil rights commission report said.

It noted that this opposition extended to efforts to block the commission from obtaining information about desegregation progress in the school system.

"The superintendent refused to permit commission staff to interview administrators or teachers," the report said, adding that the superintendent also refused to testify or allow his staff to testify at an open meeting of the commission's Texas advisory committee.

However, the report said that "despite the negative quality of Corpus Christi's educational leadership, there has been almost total absence of violence or disorder during the district's limited desegregation efforts." It said this was "due, in large part, to the efforts of the business and religious community in Corpus Christi. The media also played an important role in keeping the community informed. The local newspaper, the Corpus Christi Caller-Times, provided excellent coverage."

Helicopter Airline Serves Metroplex

AUSTIN (AP)—One of the nation's few scheduled helicopter airlines will begin service soon in the Dallas-Fort Worth area, the Texas Aeronautics Commission has announced.

The Commission approved Tuesday the application of Metroplex Helicopter Airways

Inc. to provide air passenger and cargo service to six airports and five heliports in the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

The airline will fly five-place jet helicopters between major airports and downtown areas of Dallas and Fort Worth at fares ranging from $9.75 to $19.50.

Two Murder Indictments Returned On Millionaire

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—The Tarrant County grand jury Tuesday returned two capital murder indictments against millionaire Cullen Davis in connection with the slayings of his 12-year-old stepdaughter and his wife's lover.

The grand jury action came during the second day of hearings to determine if Davis should be freed from jail on bond. He is accused of murdering the child, Andrea Wilborn, and Stan Farr, a 30-year-old former college basketball player who lived with Davis' estranged wife, Priscilla Davis, in a $6 million showcase mansion.

The curvy blonde, shot once in the chest the night of Aug. 1, entered the bond hearing Monday in a wheel chair, where she testified Davis had beaten her repeatedly during the last two years they lived together. Mrs. Davis, who says she is 35, had obtained a legal separation from her husband and a peace bond before Farr moved in with her last summer, all but ending what she called a violent marriage.

She said she and Farr had returned to the vast estate around midnight when Cullen Davis leaped from shadows inside the cavernous home and shot her and Farr. Police said the child was dead before Mrs. Davis and Farr arrived. Farr died of four bullet wounds.

Davis, scion of a wealthy Fort Worth family, had been freed initially on $80,000 bond but was rearrested last week when officials said they learned he had violated the peace bond by entering the Davis mansion the night of the attack.

Today In History

Today is Wednesday, Aug. 25, the 238th day of 1976. There are 128 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1944, in World War II, Allied troops liberated Paris.

On this date: In 1689, Iroquois Indians attacked Montreal and killed its 200 inhabitants.

In 1718, French immigrants founded New Orleans.

In 1883, a volcanic eruption in the Dutch East Indies created tidal waves that took about 36,000 lives.

In 1921, the World War I peace treaty between the United States and Germany was signed in Berlin.

In 1941, British and Soviet troops invaded Iran in World War II.

In 1967, the leader of the American Nazi Party, George Rockwell, was shot to death in Arlington, Va.

Ten years ago: Teen-age Red Guards in Peking, China defaced a Roman Catholic academy, and the Communist government ordered the institution closed.

Five years ago: The Communists hit U.S. installations at Cam Ranh Bay, Da Nang and four other bases in South Vietnam.

One year ago: The Greek government commuted the death sentences of former President George Papadopoulos and two other who had led a military coup in 1967.

Today's birthdays: Alabama Gov. George Wallace is 57 years old. Composer-conductor Leonard Bernstein is 58.

Thought for today: This will remain the land of the free only so long as it is the home of the brave—Elmer Davis, writer and radio commentator, 1890-1958.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, George Washington visited the American forces facing British troops who had landed on New York's Long Island and ordered strengthening of the defenses on Brooklyn Heights.

Hill Rules On Nursing Home Information

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas Atty. Gen. John Hill said Tuesday the Open Records Act requires cities to disclose information on nursing homes gathered during investigations by city agencies.

Dallas City Atty. Alex Bickley requested Hill's opinion. He said he has received a request for all reports on investigation of a particular Dallas nursing home.

The law exempts information gathered by or for the Texas Health Department to be used for licensing purposes, but Hill noted he ruled in 1974 that the exception did not apply to information gathered by county health departments for county purposes.

The same applies to cities Hill said Tuesday.

Arabs Get Criticism For Outlandish Spending

KUWAIT (AP)—Criticism has erupted at home against those oil-rich Arabs long caricatured in the West for their spending sprees abroad.

One Kuwaiti newspaper called them "the big bellies," and said they are spoiling the Arab image and need to have their overseas woman-chasing and high living curbed by their government.

"The government should protect the citizens from exhausting their sexual and financial prowess in London," said the newspaper Al Watan.

"Isn't it the task of government to direct our citizens toward proper places and keep them away from immoral places which steal their money?"

About 70,000 Kuwaitis were expected to visit London this summer, not to mention petro-dollar spenders from other oil sheikdoms that, like Kuwait, enforce an atmosphere of austerity at home. Women are veiled, liquor is prohibited, there are no night clubs and few movies.

Al Watan estimated that Kuwaiti vacationers spend about $100 million abroad and "This does not take into account the cash wasted at gambling tables, night clubs and brothels, which are clever in swallowing our money..."

The newspaper Al Siyash complained that Arabs cutting loose in European night clubs are ashamed to wear their traditional robes. "You can't find one wearing a clean Arab dress in Soho who takes pride in being an Arab," it said, describing the London entertainment scene.

Al Qabas criticized investments such as the recent purchase of London's Dorchester Hotel by unidentified Arabs.

"Instead of wasting large amounts on aristocratic palaces in Europe, these wealthy Arabs should have the sense of citizenship to invest their money in productive agricultural projects in the Arab world to serve our needy brothers," the paper's editor wrote.

Thousands of rich travelers from a non-Arab oil country, Iran, were reported losing money in Europe not only to casinos and brothels but also to pickpockets.

Tehran newspapers carried advice from Britain's Scotland Yard this week that London-bound Iranians carry their money in checks and watch their pockets. Travel is so heavy that there's a 40-day waiting list on plane seats to London, the papers said.

Dinner Sponsored To Woo Briscoe

AUSTIN (AP)—Sponsors of an Oct. 22 fund raising dinner to wipe out Gov. Dolph Briscoe's old campaign debts hope it will be successful and influence him to run again in 1978.

About 10,000 persons from 53 counties are expected for the event, one of a series being sponsored by the Briscoe 76 Committee.

The 7 p.m. event, a red lunch pail dinner costing $15 each, will be in the Austin Municipal Auditorium on the night before the University of Texas-Southern Methodist University football game.

We hope to pick up part of the debt that Gov. Briscoe has taken out of his own pocket as far back as 1968," said H.C.

Dulie Bell of Austin, head of the Briscoe 76 Committee.

"If we can reduce that debt maybe can talk him into running again," Bell said.

Bell said there would be a minimum of speeches and the musical program would include numbers of the SMU Peruna band, a Baylor musical group and a choral group from Huston-Tillotson College at Austin.

The counties involved run from Victoria to Fredericksburg and Abilene, and east to Stephenville and Hillsboro and southward to Hearne and Bryan, Bell said.

Similar dinners have been held in Dallas and Houston.

Husband and Wife Team Essential

Few individuals are ever as effective in business, politics or the professions...

Few men or women are ever able to accomplish as much as can a good husband-and-wife team.

Old Homer McKee, the Hoosier philosopher, used to say that one and one do not add up to two—in the human equation. Instead, he said, one-and-one, side-by-side, equal 11!

That has been my personal experience and my professional observation.

Most all of the men I have seen at the summit of success in any field had an indispensable helpmate.

Yet when that man dies—that woman is instantly forgotten. The extraordinary experience and the frequently brilliant brains of such widows are a tragically wasted national resource.

The other day, hopeful I might be able to relay some constructive suggestions concerning this scandalized Congress, I consulted with two longtime friends—the widows of Illinois' Sen. Everett Dirksen and Illinois' Rep. Fred Busbey.

Both these women worked side by side with their husbands throughout their political lives—actually worked in the office every day—and anywhere else necessary to the improved performance of their husbands' duties.

Both these women were able, based on a wealth of experience, to "shuck right down to the cob," as we say in the Ozarks. They both offered prompt, perceptive, lucid observations which will give my own report on the subject an important additional dimension.

Similarly, in industry, often the wife who has worked very closely with her spouse in the founding and nurturing of a business is herself, widowed, turned out to pasture and forgotten.

I'm acquainted with a noteworthy exception. The Servicemaster Corporation was largely the brainchild of the late Marion Wade. Yet he always said and we all truly knew that his dependence of his wife, Lil, for constant counsel, was indispensable.

In the years since his death, Lil has been retained by the Servicemaster Board in an active role, both policymaking and administration.

You know, it used to be in India that when a husband died his widow was expected to set fire to herself, so worthless was she then considered to be.

Delaware Sen. William Roth says the widows of Americans are generally treated not much better than that. Many, he says, if not destroyed outright, are allowed to starve.

He tried to convince Congress that any retirement pay due the husband would also be due his widow in like amount. But the best he could get from colleagues was an allowance that the first $2,000 of her annual income would not be taxed.

In this instance it is no small minority that is suffering "discrimination." Two of every three "poor persons" in the United States are women over 65.

But while such efforts continue to provide some financial assistance to this larger number, it's the "braindrain" which penalizes us all.

In government certainly—and in industry frequently—the male official or executive frequently leaves behind a woman who is entirely capable of carrying on in some importantly constructive capacity.

Willie Nelson Subpoenaed

DALLAS (AP)—Progressive country music singer Willie Nelson has been subpoenaed to appear Sept. 20 in the U.S. district court trial of Joe D. Hicks, accused of leading an international narcotics ring.

Defense attorneys have refused to say why they subpoenaed Nelson.

The subpoena was served as Nelson appeared last Friday at the opening of a new record store in Dallas, records show.

Nelson spent five minutes July 1 before the grand jury that indicted Hicks. Authorities refused to say why Nelson was subpoenaed before the grand jury.

Hicks is being held in the Tarrant County jail. He is charged with operating a multimillion dollar international heroin and cocaine operation based in Dallas.

Ford's TVA Is Rejected

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Public Works Committee for the second time in a row today rejected President Ford's choice to fill a vacancy on the Tennessee Valley Authority.

By an 8-6 vote, the committee turned down Thomas L. Longshore, an Alabama Power Co. executive, for the three-member board.

The vote closely followed partisan lines. Afterwards Sen. Howard Baker, R-Tenn., the committee's ranking minority member, said he doubted any Ford nomination could get through Congress this close to the November election and the possibility of a Democratic administration in January.

Earlier this year the committee turned down Ford's nomination of Mississippi dairyman James F. Hooper.
