

Crops In Home Stretch With Final Irrigations

By JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Editor

September marks the home stretch for irrigation farmers in Deaf Smith county as they put the final watering on a number of their row crops and prepare for the upcoming harvest of corn, milo and sugar beets.

LIGHT RAIN WHICH fell in the Hereford area Tuesday afternoon gave the corn, milo and beet crops a boost as they enter the grain filling and sugar making stages, and numerous local wheat farmers prepared to take advantage of Mother Nature's gift of moisture by getting their wheat planted early.

While the beginning of the county's big corn harvest is still three weeks to a month away, a number of local farmers are currently in the process of harvesting corn for ensilage.

With the silage market revitalized, considerably more ensilage is being cut locally as compared to last year, when virtually all of the corn in the area went into grain production.

Tonnages on the silage corn are running in the 20-25 tons per acre range, with a few exceptional yields of 28-30 tons per acre reported by a spokesman for a local feedyard.

THIS YEAR'S silage market ranges from $15-$16 per ton delivered to the feedyard depending on the locality.

Most of the corn which is being grown locally is currently receiving a final irrigation that farmers hope will pay off in more pounds of grain at harvest within the next few weeks.

Control programs for corn's No. 1 enemy in the Panhandle, the Southwestern Corn Borer, were completed in mid-August on the local level, and the success of that control program will be revealed at harvest time.

A small percentage of local cornfields have experienced heavy mite infestations, and a spokesman for a Hereford aerial spraying firm reported that no chemicals are available which are effective in the control of mites on corn.

"THERE IS A THEORY that once the corn gets in the hard dough stage, the mites won't cause much damage anyway, but they can cause lodging if they infest corn at an earlier stage, and they can cause corn to mature sooner than it should," the spokesman indicated. "So far, the infestation has occurred in only a very small portion of the corn crop, however," he added.

Corn has pushed milo out of the spotlight as the premiere grain crop in the local area, and severe greenbug infestation problems had made it almost impossible to grow sorghum successfully in recent years. Greenbug-resistant sorghums are apparently making a good showing in the local area this year however, as that crop also begins the grain-filling process.

"Greenbugs haven't been nearly so damaging this year because growers have gone to the resistant sorghums, and although the greenbug numbers have remained high, damage has been reduced markedly," the spokesman pointed out.

He indicated that most aerial spray firms had treated sorghum for the control of greenbugs only one time this year, where in past years, two and three control applications were necessary.

CALVIN JONES, assistant agriculture manager at the Holly Sugar Corporation Merrill E. Shoup plant here indicated that beets continue to make excellent progress, and most growers will halt irrigation about the middle of the month to allow fields to dry up prior to harvest, which is predicted to begin in early October.

"The rain should be beneficial, and we have encountered no major problems thus far with disease or insects. Growers will be ending their control programs for leafspot and powdery mildew soon," said Jones.

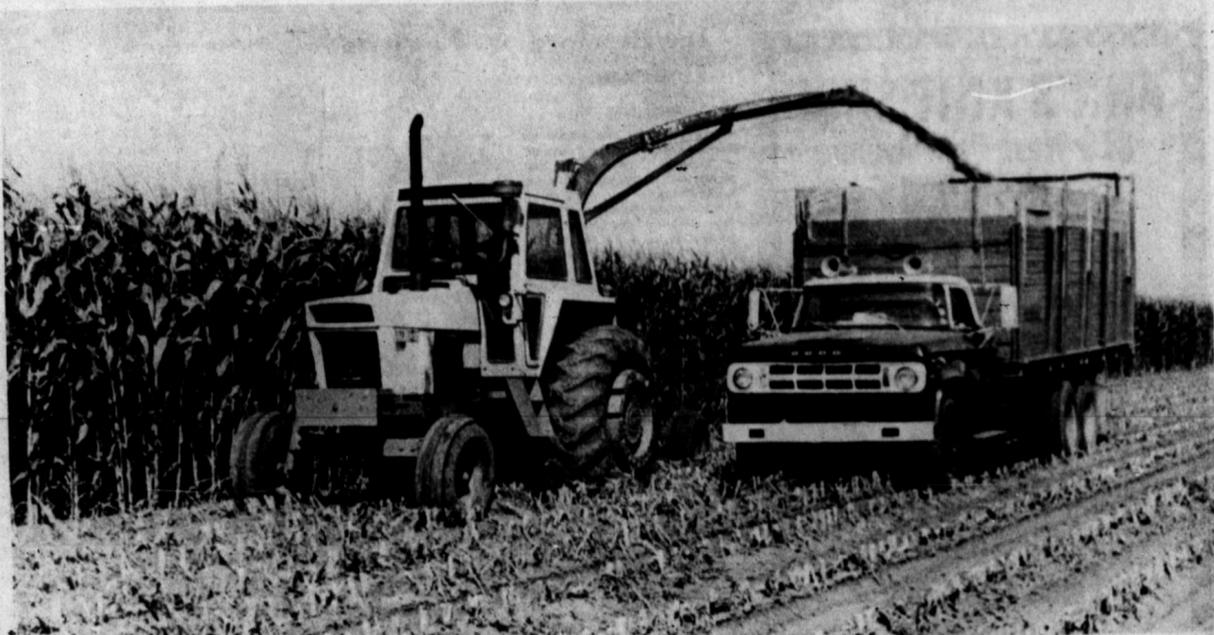

Curly top, a disease which decimated beet fields throughout Holly's growing region last year, is all but a non-existent problem this year, due to an intensive campaign by Holly officials promoting the preplant application of Thimet to beet ground.

Thimet, a systemic insecticide, controls leafhoppers, which are responsible for the spread of the yield-reducing disease.

MANY AREA FARMERS cut combers during the 1975 crop year and neglected to put down the systemic, and the resultant widespread infestation of the beet crop with curly top resulted in

Lush Forage

The spout on a silage cutter sends a steady stream of chopped up corn spewing into an escorting truck as workers move across a cornfield north of Hereford Monday afternoon. The hungry ensilage cutter chops up almost the entire corn plant, with the exception of a few inches of stalk and the roots, and the ensilage is then hauled to local feed yards where it is an important part of the ration fed to beef cattle. Green, lush fields of corn that stand tall in the morning can virtually disappear in a day's running as the silage cutting crews move across them, leaving fields bare by sundown. The silage harvest here is just a prelude to the huge harvest of corn for grain which will be getting underway in late September. [Photo By Jim Steiert]

HEREFORD'S FOOTBALL season opens here tomorrow night, and it should be a great contest before a packed crowd. I called Coach Fred Upshaw this morning to ask a question about football programs, and he was about as nervous as Elizabeth Ray trying to type!

A few other folks will probably have the first-game "jitters" tomorrow night besides the coaches and players. They would include the band members, cheerleaders and twirlers-- all of whom add so much to the spirit and pagentry of the football games.

With a good shower on the last day of August, we're off to a pleasant outlook in September. School is underway; football season adds to the community spirit; a record year of building activity continues to mount up; new businesses have been opened with others on the construction line, so it appears another busy, productive fall season is approaching.

SOME YEARS AGO, a psychologist made up a story. The way people reacted to the story was supposed to give clues to their personal adjustment and maturity. The story began:

A man was permitted to visit both Heaven and Hell temporarily, to observe them. In Hell, he found a banquet table, laden with delicious and wholesome food. But all the people sitting at the table were gaunt, starving and unhappy. The reason was evident at once; each person had a three-foot-long fork attached to each arm. No one could get food to his mouth with the long utensils, so all were starving.

On his visit to Heaven, the observer found a similar table. These people, too,

False Medicaid Claims Probed

WASHINGTON (AP) - Much of the money that finances the Medicaid program winds up in the pockets of landlords instead of paying for medical care, Senate investigators say.

A Senate subcommittee staff reported Monday after an eight-month study of the Medicaid program that fee-splitting agreements between physicians and landlords lead to numerous abuses. In effect, the physician ends up working for the landlord on a commission basis.

Phone Rate Increases Explained

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's proposed rate increase request before the Texas Public Utilities Commission will have the affect of increasing Hereford's one-party residence calls by almost 30 per cent if it is approved in its present form.

Hereford is included in category 2 of 10 statewide groupings for the rate increase according to information supplied this week by Mike Patrick, Bell Telephone manager for Hereford-Canyon. It is the second least expensive category and category 10, encompassing Houston only, will experience the highest increase in rates.

Patrick said that Canyon will be included with Amarillo in group six since calls between the two cities are not long distance and therefore are considered as one unit.

The rate groupings are based on the total numbers in service within the local calling area. Hereford's group two includes up 8,000 telephone numbers.

A uniform residential rate a uniform business rate would be charged customers; based on their type of service, in each rate group.

The increased rate will affect the average monthly telephone bill of local customers as follows:

Service	Current	Proposed
One-Party Res.	$5.75	$7.40
One-Party Bus.	11.00	17.80
Two-Party Res.	4.65	5.35
Res. Extension	1.00 ea.	1.50 ea.
Bus. Extension	1.50 ea.	2.25 ea.

Possession Of Marijuana Charges Filed

A 17-year-old Hereford girl was arrested on possession of marijuana charges here Wednesday night.

Janie Enriquez of 120 South Ave. K was arrested by city police officers at 385 Higgins after she was stopped on a traffic matter.

Police discovered that the girl had a baggie slightly under two ounces of marijuana in her possession and made the arrest.

The girl was booked into the Deaf Smith County jail following the arrest. A window was broken on a mobile home at 200 Whittier Street No. 3 at about 1:30 this morning.

Connie Ponder told officers that she heard a prowler outside the trailer and a window was broken as she got up to investigate. She looked out in time to spot a man running across the street. The incident remains under investigation.

Grid Experts Panel Returns

The Fearless Forecaster panel returns to the pages of The Brand this season, but there a couple of new faces in the lineup.

Joining three Brand staffers will be two local Herd boosters and grid prediction "experts." They are Irene McKinster, honorary coach from the Whiteface Booster Club and all-around know-it-all, and Tom Simons, professional sportscaster who is sometimes known as the "Howard Cosell of Hereford."

Another new face is provided by Bob Nigh, sports editor of The Brand who has the handicap of being from Oklahoma. Bobby Templeton, editor, knows nothing about football but he finished second among panelists last season with many hours of research. And, he was second only to his boss, Speedy Nieman, who returns to defend his title as the premier picker.

The five panelists will be trying to pick the winners from the list of games on the football contest page, thereby providing entrants with some guidance in their selections. If the entrant doesn't have a favorite panelist, he can go with the consensus column.

Ms. McKinster will be breaking the barrier of the formerly all-male panel, and no doubt many of the women will look to her selections as the most logical to follow.

Or, there are those who contend that the cenny-meenie-miny-mo system is much superior to seeking hints from the local panel of "experts!"

FBI Head Faces Possible Punishment From Ford

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Ford and Atty. Gen. Edward H. Levi are considering whether to punish FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley for accepting gifts from senior FBI officials.

Ford asked Levi on Wednesday for a full report on the situation, and Levi put his staff to work preparing it.

Levi said he is reserving judgement on whether Kelley was wrong to accept the gifts, until he reviews the findings in the staff report.

An FBI spokesman said Kelly is "absolutely not" considering resigning. The director believes it was proper for him to accept the gifts and he has no present plans to return any of them or make restitution for them, the spokesman said in response to questions.

In a statement issued Tuesday, Kelley had said he was "prepared to make restitution for any of such gifts which are not clearly permitted" by federal law.

Vorster Rejects Kissinger

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) - Prime Minister John Vorster has rejected Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's criticism of South Africa's racial policies, saying "moral lessons and threats" from outsiders will not influence his government.

In a statement three days before he and Kissinger meet to discuss racial tensions in southern Africa's white-ruled nations, Vorster said Wednesday that South Africa determines its own internal and foreign policies and will not be dictated by other nations or individuals.

Yarbrough Decision Delayed

HOUSTON (AP) - The chairman of the State Bar of Texas committee considering complaints against Texas Supreme Court nominee Donald B. Yarbrough says the committee will not make a final recommendation for several more weeks.

John Teed, chairman of the nine-attorney group which has been meeting nearly every week for the past several months, said the group wants to hear more witnesses.

Yarbrough, a lawyer, is a defendant in 16 lawsuits and complaints against him arose from some of the lawsuits.

The first show consists largely of reminiscences about his nine-month campaign.

markedly reduced beet tonnages. Potato and onion harvesting are drawing to a close here in what has been a less than ideal year for local vegetable growers. Markets for spuds and onions started off on a sluggish note and never really reached profitable levels for growers faced with the high costs of producing the vegetables. Bruce Coleman of the Walcott community west of Hereford reported that dryland farmers in that area were getting ready to plant their wheat crop, just as soon as their fields were dry enough to allow them to work. The Walcott area was blessed with .50 inches of rainfall in the Tuesday afternoon storm, and this moisture came after substantial amounts fell on the drought-ravaged dryland areas of the county in August.

COLEMAN INDICATED that a few farmers had already planted some wheat, but the majority of the crop would be soon within the next week to ten days. Irrigation farmers are also turning their attention to getting their winter wheat crop sown, particularly those who intend to graze their wheat acreage this winter, and most of the county's wheat crop should be sown by the end of the month.

Born Nov. 23, 1896 at Silverton, she married X.L. Owen and came to Deaf Smith County in 1974 from Albuquerque.

Mrs. Owen was a homemaker and beauty operator.

A sister, Betty Turpen of 129 Aspen, survives her.

NICKNAME
CHICAGO (AP)—The Republican party's nickname, the G.O.P., is an abridged version of "Grand Old Party."

According to The World Book Encyclopedia, this surname comes from "Grand Old Man," the nickname of William E. Gladstone, a liberal British prime minister of the 1800s.

Skyscrapers got their name because they looked tall enough to touch the sky. Simon Bolivar is called "The Liberator" because he led the armies that freed Colombia, Ecuador, Peru and Venezuela from Spain.

At Wit's End . . .

By ERMA BOMBECK

About ten years ago, a couple of boys were looking for a "snap course." They infiltrated a home ec. class.

It became so popular throughout the country special classes were formed and named "Bachelor Survival." In the past three years, the male enrollment has not only doubled, but in some high schools the males outnumber the females at the stoves.

What impact has this new breed had on our life styles?

I'll tell you what impact it's had. This country is producing (at an astronomical rate) what women who live in the kitchen refer to as "Domestic Jocks."

They're the Super Stars of the souffles...the dazlers of the micro waves...the weekend headliners at the outdoor grills.

But they're stars. They don't do pans, spots, stains or ovens. They don't touch charcoal, dripping beaters, dirty blenders or skillets that have to be soaked. When they cook, it's first class all the way—fresh garlic, fresh lemons, fresh parsley and fresh mushrooms.

My husband never cooks out that I don't feel like I am assisting a surgeon at a double valve by-pass.

"Tongs! Quick! The tongs! he commands. (I slap them professionally in his hands.)

"Good Lord, woman. I'm not plucking a baby bottle out of the water. I need tongs for steaks."

Next, "The pepper mill. Wipe."

I press a dishtowel to his forehead.

"Not the perspiration, you turkey-- the sauce from my cute apron."

After hours of intense concentration, the Domestic Jock speaks. "Are the plates and forks for the salad chilled? Good. The potatoes done? The vegetables cooked just to the peak of flavor? Good. You sprayed for bugs? Fine. Because we are ready to eat.....NOW!"

No warning. No time to socialize. No second drink. Just like that. When he says the steaks are done, we are expected to have our forks poised for the first bite.

The other night he wandered into the kitchen, peeled off his asbestos mittens and threw them into the clothes hamper. "Well, I pulled another on the through," he said. I looked at the kitchen sink, piled high with dirty pots, pans and dishes, the countertop with melted butter, dirty utensils, leftover rolls and wilted salad. The grill was corroded with barbecue sauce.

"Next weekend I think I'll do my kabob number on the grill." I gave him a fetal ovation.

Mount Vesuvius is continental Europe's only active volcano.

Patio Supper Opens Season For Auxiliary

Officers of the World War I Auxiliary were presented to fellow members during a patio supper Monday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Ott.

Mrs. Mabel Wagner, president, introduced the group of women elected to serve with her: Mrs. Irene Markham, vice president; Mrs. Pearl Young, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Bertha Hood, chaplain.

Mrs. Wagner directed the ensuing business session, which included discussion of the chapter project for this year. No particular project has as yet been selected and discussion was tabled for the next meeting, scheduled at 6:30 p.m. Sept 27 in the American Legion Hall.

Others present included Mmes. Pearl Ricketts, Elma Hamby, Hazel Sparks, Flossie Miles, Bessie Smith, Willie Vinton, Gladys Smith and Helen Miller.

Local Red Cross Officials Attend Meeting Recently

Twenty Red Cross volunteers and staff members from throughout the Panhandle area were in Childress recently for the quarterly meeting of the American Red Cross chapters in the Panhandle.

Red Cross programs were emphasized at the meeting, which was held in the Veterans Building.

Attending from Hereford were Genevieve Miller, executive secretary for the Deaf Smith County chapter; Lottie Wertenberger, teacher-sponsor at La Plata Junior High School; and Betty Henson, Red Cross youth chairman.

During the afternoon session, Mrs. Wertenberger and Mrs. Henson spoke of their experiences working with various age levels and especially junior high school aged groups. Communities represented at the meeting were Hereford, Childress, Wellington, Paducah, Pampa, Panhandle, Lubbock and Wichita Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jessup to 211 Hickory are the parents of a daughter, Anna Katharine, born September 1. She weighed 7 lbs. 9 1/2 oz.

A mature male gorilla may be six feet tall and weigh 400 pounds or more, his enormous arms can span eighty feet.

Members of Deaf Smith County Genealogical Society will convene at 7:30 p.m. today in the Heritage Room of the local library. All interested persons are welcome to attend.

The gathering tonight will be the first meeting of the society's new season and upcoming projects will be considered.

Organized this past year, the genealogical group has added several books to the library's supply. A membership drive will be launched this fall, following a Bicentennial theme.

The one time you expect to see a Zimmatic broken down.

About the only time you expect to see a Zimmatic broken down is when it leaves one of Lindsay's plants. Once assembled in your field, it seldom causes a problem. Those big, sure-footed towers power their way around the field, carrying water to crops.

Hour after hour, day after day. Until you decide to shut down. That kind of performance doesn't just happen. It's the result of constant testing — both in the plant and in the field. Lindsay puts these rigs through the most punishing conditions — loads on more stress in a week, usually, than they're likely to see in a lifetime of normal use.

But we know that no system is 100% perfect all the time. That's why we're ready to help with an extensive parts inventory and factory trained servicemen if you ever have a problem. Before you buy any center pivot irrigation system, be sure to let us tell you about all the advantages of owning a Lindsay Zimmatic.

Keep Talking

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I've started this letter over half a dozen times and still can't figure how to put it—so, Ann, please bear with me while I tell you my problem. Actually it's HER problem—my mom's.

not to rattle on and on when I talk. I know how boring it can be. But I do like to tell my mom the fun things that happen during the day.

She seems interested at the beginning, then in the middle of a sentence she'll pick up a newspaper and start to read. I start to talk faster just to finish what I'm saying. Then she says "Quit jabbering. You sound like an idiot."

Yesterday was the last straw. She started to read a cookbook and I stopped talking in the middle of a sentence. Mom didn't even notice. I don't think I should talk to her any more. What do you think, Miss

Landers?—Ignored Daughter

DEAR DAUGHTER: Keep talking, honey. Don't let your mom's seeming indifference get you down. I'll bet she really does care but maybe she has a lot on her mind. Just for the heck of it, read her this column and ask if she has any idea who wrote the letter. It may change a few things around your house.

DEAR ANN: The results of your survey about having children have created controversy and discussion everywhere. May I add one more word? Most shocking was not that 70 per cent said they would NOT have had children if they could live their lives over again, but that so many people were so honest!

Granted, there are many rewards to raising children, but there are also many heartaches. Although we both love children, my husband and I decided to remain childless after much discussion and years of soul-searching. Why? We were married 14 years ago because we loved each other and wanted to share a life together.

We feel we owe no excuses for the course we have chosen, yet you would not believe the harassment we have suffered because of our decision. We have encountered the most vicious hostility from people with children. It's almost as if they are mad at us for escaping the problems they are struggling with.

The major mistake is in assuming that parenthood is for everyone. Judging from your survey, perhaps it's for only 30 per cent. Sign me—One Vote for Realism.

DEAR REAL: Thanks for an up-front, no-holds-barred letter. I like it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Your response to the person who asked for suggestions on how to quit smoking was most irritating.

First of all, what makes you an authority on the subject?

The Hereford Brand, Hereford, Texas, Thursday, September 2, 1976

You've stated repeatedly that you have never smoked. You say "cold turkey" is the best way. You could be wrong.

I happen to be a member of SmokEnders, Inc., and am confident that eventually I will quit smoking with the help of this great program. Their approach is not "cold turkey," it's much more human—and virtually painless.

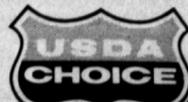

If you haven't tried it, Ann, please don't knock it.—Kicking The Habit.

DEAR KICKING: SmokEnders does get results, as hundreds of readers have testified since that column appeared. Sorry, I had never heard of SmokEnders, but I'm glad to tell the world about any program that gets people off cigarettes. Anyone who wants for more information can write to SmokEnders, Inc., 3435 Camino Del Rio South, Suite 216, San Diego, California 92108.

Control Of Defense Key To Game Upshaw Says

By BOB NIGH
Brand Sports Editor

Oftimes a coach of a football team schedules a team somewhat weaker than his own to play in the opening game of a season so that his own team can walk away with an easy, confidence-building victory.

Hereford's Fred Upshaw may have wished for such a situation this fall as he thought about the Herd's opening-game opponent, Pampa. The Harvesters in no way resemble a weak-sister, and Hereford will quickly find out just how good they really are this Friday night at Whiteface Field.

Pampa coach John Welborn has eight lettermen back from a team that went 8-2 in 1975. Included in those eight are David Caldwell and Rick Moore, two of the best running backs in the Panhandle, if not the state.

If that's not enough, Pampa has 6-0, 220-pound Ben Wilson and 6-0, 200-pound Terry McBride at the tackle spots in the offensive line to open holes for Caldwell and Moore.

Still, defense is where the Harvester strength really lies. Pampa has led District 3-4A in defense the past two seasons, and returning All-District nose-guard Pat Bailey hopes to make it three in-a-row.

So logically Upshaw sees the necessity for Hereford to be able to move the ball against the solid Pampa defense as one of the major keys of the game Friday.

"We have to control the ball against their defense," Upshaw said Wednesday afternoon. "Our ability to move the ball on their tough defense is very important...If we can do this it will, in turn, take some of the pressure off our own defense."

As in any opening game mistakes and breaks will play a big part in shaping the final outcome. "Capitalizing on the big mistakes of the other will probably make the difference," Upshaw said.

Upshaw tends to concede that Pampa has the edge defensively. "They've had a strong defense two years in a row, and they have to be ahead of us there," he said.

The Herd defense is for the most part untested, and has the dubious distinction of finishing last in the district last year. The Herd defenders couldn't find a better foe to sharpen their claws on than Pampa.

Moore and Caldwell will provide plenty of trouble as the Harvesters are sure to go to the pair when they need the big gainer. Pampa will also have a seasoned quarterback in Mike Lancaster.

Offensively Hereford will try to run at the Harvesters, Upshaw indicated. "We are going to try to get a running game established," the coach said. "But, we won't be afraid to throw and will use the pass also," he added.

Junior Kelly Kitchens will direct the offense, with Carlee Graves and Russell Harkins joining him in the backfield. Dennis Artho will start at wing back.

Upshaw is predicting an exciting game Friday, and reports that the players have been "working very hard" to get ready for the contest.

"We hope the people come out to see the game. Both teams have breakaway threats, and we feel they will see a good ballgame," Upshaw said.

Both squads have been tabbed by the coaches in their respective districts to win the district title, although both coaches feel that other teams have the edge on them.

Upshaw has picked Lubbock Monterey to win in 4-4A, while Welborn thinks Amarillo High will win all the marbles in 3-3A.

Upshaw said that in addition to Kitchens, Graves, Harkins, and Artho in the backfield, offensive starters for Friday night's game will be Rowen Alexander at tight end, James McDowell at split end, Bobby Mejia and Barry Acton at tackle, Jim Fish and Sammy Davison at guard, and Greg Brockman at center.

Defensively Hereford will start Baltimore Guerrero at nose guard, Fish and Abel Trevizo at tackle, Acton and Alexander at end, Rick Taylor and Brockman at linebacker, Greg Hennington and Jim Lawson at cornerback, McDowell at strong safety, and Graves at free safety.

"That gives us six players starting both ways, but let me emphasize that these are just starters. There will be several others who will play a lot in the game," Upshaw added.

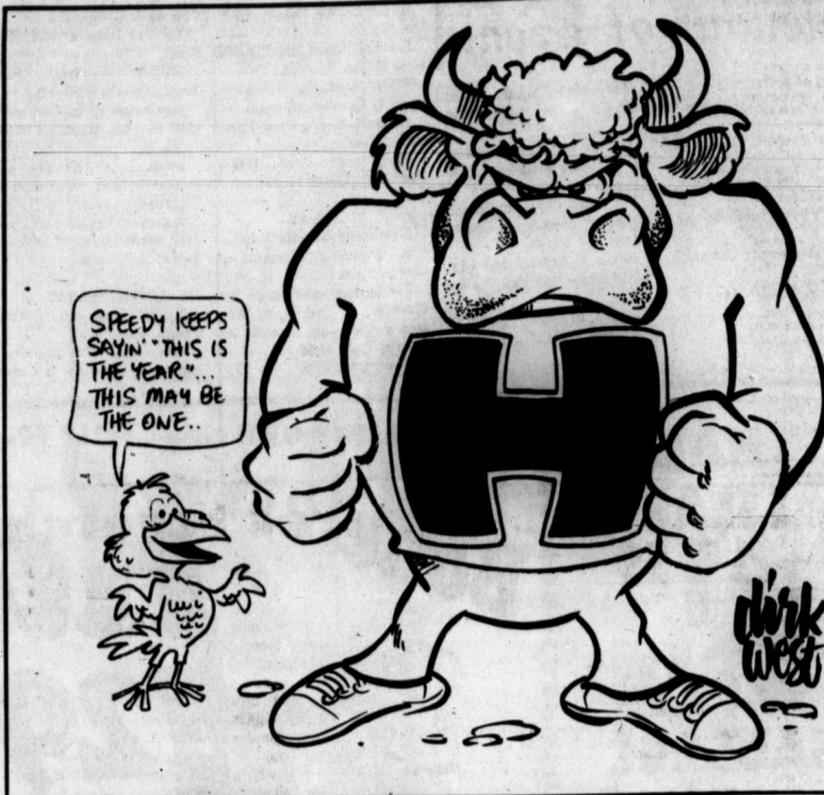

The only doubtful player for Friday's contest is guard Wade Ohlg, who sustained a badly bruised knee in the Herd's scrimmage against Tascosa last week.

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—Brown University has announced the appointment of Rosa M. Gatti as sports information director, making her the first woman to hold that job at an Ivy League school.

Athletic Director Robert A. Seiple said Wednesday that Miss Gatti, 26, will succeed Rod Commons, who resigned two week ago to take a similar position at Washington State University.

Two years ago, a precedent was set when Miss Gatti was elevated to the top sports information job at Villanova and became the first woman to hold that position at a major university.

Seiple said she will assume her new duties Sept. 13. at Brown.

Stadium Repaired, Detroit Hosts Colts

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP)—The Detroit Lions entertain the Baltimore Colts tonight in hastily-repaired Pontiac Stadium in the finale of their National Football League exhibition season.

The roof literally fell in on the Lions, who have been beset by player problems all week long. A heavy thunderstorm belted the domed stadium last Thursday, ripping several panels from the roof. The panels have been repaired and air pressure restored to the roof at an estimated cost of $200,000.

It was not so easy to repair player problems in the Detroit camp, notably those surrounding quarterback Bill Munson, defensive tackle Herb Orvis and running back Altie Taylor.

Munson, unhappy since the Lions gave the starting job to Joe Reed, still was hopeful the Lions would trade him. Taylor still is in Ford hospital suffering from what the club calls a psychiatric problem that developed about the time the Lions traded him to the Houston Oilers. That trade is pending until doctors release Taylor from the hospital.

Orvis, reinstated after a two-day suspension, was due to face the Colts, but still reportedly was looking for a trade.

After a week with a leaky stadium and temperamental players, Detroit Coach Rick Forzano was happy to look forward to some football. "These Colts are a better team than they have shown," he said, dismissing Baltimore's three straight losses.

Forzano said that since the game was the last tuneup before the NFL season opens, he planned to use regulars as much as possible. The Lions are 2-4 for the exhibition season, the Colts 2-3.

Baltimore Coach Ted Marchibroda also planned to use his regulars against Detroit—the same starters as last year, except for Roosevelt Leaks, who was a second-string fullback in 1975.

Bert Jones will be the Colts' quarterback. In pre-season play, Jones has 51 pass completions in 82 attempts for 586 yards, two touchdowns and has been intercepted five times.

Baltimore's leading rusher, Lydell Mitchell, will be at halfback. Mitchell set a team record last year, gaining 1,193 yards.

The Colt defense is anchored by Fred Cook, Mike Barnes, Joe Ehrmann and John Dutton, the combination that led the NFL last year with 59 quarterback sacks.

There are four games scheduled for Friday night, with Chicago, 4-1, at Washington, 2-3; Kansas City, 2-3, at St. Louis, 3-2; Atlanta, 1-4, at Green Bay, 2-3; and Cleveland, 4-1, at Buffalo, 1-4.

On Saturday, San Francisco, 4-1, visits Los Angeles, 5-0; Miami, 5-0, is at New Orleans, 4-1; Seattle, 1-4, travels to Oakland, 4-1; the New York Jets, 1-4, meet Pittsburgh, 4-2; Houston, 0-5, plays at Dallas, 2-3; the New York Giants, 4-1, go to San Diego, 2-3; and Tampa Bay, 1-4, hosts Cincinnati, 3-2.

Sunday games pit Minnesota, 3-2, against Denver, 4-2, and Philadelphia, 0-5, against New England, 2-3.

Player Limit Set

By BOB GREEN
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Veteran quarterback Norm Snead may have found a new home, but for many of the National Football League hopefuls the dream will be over by Monday afternoon.

The NFL teams, with the exception of the two expansion franchises, must pare their rosters to 43 players by 2 p.m. EDT, next Monday. Seattle and Tampa Bay, the new teams, will be allowed to carry 49 players for the first two regular season games and 45 after that. However, only 43 players can be dressed for a game.

Currently, the established teams are carrying up to 49 players while the two expansion clubs can have up to 60. And those limits do not include rookies who played in the College All-Star game.

"We agreed on a flat 43-player limit... by a clear 21-7 vote, which is what we needed for passage," NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle said.

Snead was reacquired by the New York Giants, who made room for him by placing rookie quarterback Jerry Golsteyn on the 16-day injury list.

The 37-year-old Snead had been cut by San Francisco Tuesday. The Giants had traded him to the 49ers in October 1974. He also has played with Washington, Philadelphia and Minnesota in his 16-year NFL career.

Club owners held an all-day meeting Wednesday to hammer out the team size. Rozelle said some owners wanted a 40-player squad while some others wanted 43 on the active roster with a taxi squad. Under the limits finally agreed upon, there will be no taxi squads.

The owners also extended the inter-conference trading deadline to 4 p.m. EDT, Wednesday, Sept. 8. The intra-conference trade deadline is Oct. 19, the Tuesday following the sixth week of the regular season.

The commissioner said the owners did not discuss Tuesday night's decision by the player representatives to table a contract offer, in effect, rejecting it. "It was disappointed," Rozelle said of the NFL Players Association action. "I would have like to have seen the player reps approve what NFLPA President Dick Anderson has approved and seen the owners ratify it today."

The union said the contract offer was tabled "pending further negotiations and clarifications."

Rozelle noted that the contract would have meant jobs for more players. The proposed contract reportedly calls for a 43-man squad limit with a four-man taxi squad. Under that plan, the 28 teams would have 112 more players.

"I think we'll have to check with Dick Anderson to see what obstacles there were that caused the tabling," Rozelle said. "We'd heard there were some legal hurdles."

The biggest legal hurdle appears to be the option compensation clause, generally referred to as the "Rozelle rule."

Astros Stretch Streak

HOUSTON (AP)—The Houston Astros are enjoying their longest winning streak of the season and part of that winning streak is causing some concern for the Philadelphia Phillies.

Rookie starter Bo McLaughlin fired a six hitter and Cliff Johnson blasted his eighth homer of the season Wednesday night as Houston took its seventh straight victory with a 1-0 decision over the Phillies.

The loss was Philadelphia's sixth straight, including three in a row to Houston, leaving the Phillies only 9½ games in front of second place Pittsburgh in the National League East Division.

McLaughlin, 3-2, walked only two and struck out five as he recored Houston's sixth consecutive complete game by the Astros pitching staff, a club record.

Johnson's home run, a seventh inning smash off loser Jim Kaat, 11-10, proved the difference as the Astros strengthened their hold on third place in the National League West.

"I feel like I've hit a groove," said McLaughlin. "I had a pretty good fast ball and tried to challenge the hitters."

Johnson called McLaughlin's pitching effort "masterful." "He did the thing that a pitcher has to do to win games," Johnson said.

The Phillies, who have seen 5½ games of their one-time 15 game advantage slip away in the last eight days, are concerned but not panicky.

"I'm always concerned with our ball club but we're capable of coming out of it and winning some ball games," said Philadelphia manager Danny Ozark.

"McLaughlin pitched a dandy game. We haven't had a streak like this all year and it sure is a bad time to have one."

Astros manager Bill Virden believes the Phillies' series with Cincinnati prior to the Houston series might account for their three losses here.

"I think the Phillies came off a tough series and they were drained to some extent," Virden said.

The Astros' current seven game winning streak is the best since they won nine in a row in 1973.

Sox Down Rangers

BOSTON (AP)—Manager Frank Lucchesi of the Texas Rangers called it a "cheap victory," but the Boston Red Sox were glad to take it.

Ferguson Jenkins and Tom Murphy combined for a four-hitter and the Red Sox capitalized on a couple of freakish extra-base hits for all the scoring Wednesday in a 3-0 victory over old nemesis Gaylord Perry and the Rangers.

However, the victory, only the third for the Red Sox in 12 games with the Rangers this year, was costly. Jenkins suffered a torn right Achilles tendon making a putout at first base at the start of the fifth inning and will be sidelined the rest of the season.

"It was kind of cheap victory for them," Lucchesi said. "Of course, we didn't score any runs, but we had a couple of good opportunities early."

"We got a few of the breaks that have gone against us almost all season," said Boston Manager Don Zimmer. "That helped us to three runs against Perry. Then that thing had to happen to Fergie."

Utilities Commissioner Predicts Bell Rate Hike Action In Future

By LEE JONES
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP)—A Texas public utilities commissioner predicted Wednesday the commission will act within 150 days on Southwestern Bell's request for telephone rate increases that should boost revenues by nearly $30 million a year.

"We'll have a rate in effect by then," said Public Utilities Commission member Al Erwin.

Bell executives showed up on the commission's first day of rate making power with a rented truck containing its application and supporting documents.

The St. Louis-based telephone company seeks approval of a mix of rate increases and new charges that would generate $271.8 million in additional revenue. Bell said its proposal to charge customers for "411" information calls in excess of three a month would yield another $26.5 million in payroll expense savings.

Doyle E. Rogers, on his first day as Bell's vice-president for Texas operations, told reporters the increases would raise Bell's rate of return on the "fair value" of its Texas investment from 6.16 per cent to 9.5 per cent after taxes.

Erwin said Bell was "optimistic" in figuring fair value by a formula that weights book value of its equipment at 60 per cent and its replacement cost at 40 per cent. The commission could weight replacement cost—the most expensive component—as low as 25 per cent.

The biggest element in the Bell application is $1106.6 million from increases in ordinary local telephone service.

A one-party residential telephone would cost $11.50 a month in Houston, compared with $9.20 now. Dallas residents would feel an increase from $8.20 to $10, and those in Fort Worth would pay $9.45, compared with $8 now. San Antonio's rate would increase from $7.35 to $9.45.

The dime telephone call from a pay booth would give away to a 20-cent call, increasing Bell revenues by $8.1 million a year.

"When the 10-cent rate went into effect, a first class postage stamp was three cents. A nickel would buy a newspaper, a candy bar, a cup of coffee, a bag of peanuts or a soft drink," the telephone company said in a news release.

After making three "information" calls a month, customers would pay 20 cents a call, generating $2.4 million in revenue and enabling Bell to lay off temporary employees that earn $26.5 million a year.

Bell also requested a mix of intrastate long distance rate reductions and increases that would produce $43.7 million in added income. A one-minute direct dialed station-to-station call from Dallas to San Antonio on a weekday morning would drop from 43 cents to 38 cents. But if the call lasted 10 minutes, its cost would rise from $3.49 to 3.80.

A Saturday night direct-dialed person-to-person call from Houston to Austin would jump from $2 to $2.90 for three minutes.

Increases in installation charges would produce $26.5 million.

Bell also seeks increases in rates for key telephones, private branch exchanges, CENTREX, service, private lines, WATS service, miscellaneous equipment, TOUCHTONE telephones and "other" items.

Erwin said that if the commission does not act within 150 days, Bell can post bond and put the new rates into effect, subject to refund. The commission would have another 60 days, and rates would become final if the commission failed to meet that deadline.

Erwin said the commission will conduct its hearing on the rate proposal about 65 days from now.

Last year, Texas court action initiated by Atty. Gen. John Hill forced Bell, in effect, to pare down a long distance rate increase from more than $40 million to about $25 million.

Rogers was unable to translate the rate of return percentages into actual dollars of anticipated profit.

He said 9.5 per cent of fair value after taxes is "the figure we need to compete with other businesses for capital dollars."

Rogers, in answer to a question, said the increase in long distance rates would generate an 11.5 per cent rate of return.

He acknowledged this was "a quite high rate of return, but remember this is a service that is optional with the user."

Texas, he said, has ranked no higher than third in the five-state Southwestern Bell system in rate of return.

Asked if his instructions when he was sent to Texas were to get that rate of return increased, he replied, "Anyone who is the head of a state operation has as a facet of his assignment earnings."

Rogers said Texans paid Bell $1.3 billion last year—"a large amount of money"—but "as the cost of providing service rises, we have no choice but to ask to raise the price of services to our customers."

He said the charge for information calls would not affect 90 per cent of telephone users. He said there would be no charge for calls from pay telephones, hospital rooms and hotel rooms or from people who are blind or otherwise prevented by handicaps from using a telephone directory.

Rogers said the growth of Texas made it critical that Southwestern Bell raise enough funds to keep pace.

"As the cost of providing service rises, we have no choice but to ask to raise the price of services to our customers," he said.

More Meetings Slated

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Representatives of the United States and North Korea scheduled another meeting Friday after failing today to wrap up an agreement on arrangements to prevent violence between their forces in the Panmunjom truce village.

The secretaries of the Korean Military Armistice Commission have been meeting daily since Tuesday. They are discussing North Korea's proposal that its forces and those of the United Nations Command be separated physically by the military demarcation line which runs through the middle of Panmunjom and the rest of the demilitarized zone.

Allied sources said after Wednesday's meeting that agreement on major points was near. They said the North Koreans agreed to give up their four checkpoints on the south side of the demarcation line. The negotiators were reported still discussing guarantees for free movement by reporters, tourists and other civilians throughout the truce village.

Panmunjom, the only site at which the adversaries of the Korean war meet regularly, is a joint security area—about 850 yards in diameter. The Korean Armistice permits the armed forces of both sides to move throughout it without restriction.

The killing of two American army officers on Aug. 18 by North Korean guards resulted in the dispatch of additional American air forces to Korea, military alerts in both North and South Korea, and American demands for a guarantee of the safety of U.N. Command personnel in Panmunjom as well as punishment of those responsible for the killings. North Korea responded with the proposal to keep the troops apart.

The American show of force included practice radar bombing flights over South Korea by U.S. B52 bombers from Guam.

Commissioners Indicted For Fund Misapplication

ALICE, Tex. (AP)—All five members of the Jim Wells County commissioners and the county auditor were indicted by a grand jury Wednesday night for alleged misapplication of public funds and for knowingly approving bills for work done on private property.

Property owners listed in the indictments included District Court Judge C. Woodro Laughlin, who received the indictments from grand jury foreman Jim McGrady at 8:50 p.m.

Those indicted are County Judge T.L. Harville, Commissioners Tina Villanueva, C.W. Price, J.B. Freiley, W.M. Laughlin—a brother of the judge—and County Auditor W.L. Powell.

The six identical indictments allege misapplication of public funds took place April 16, 1975.

Harville, Price, Freiley and W.M. Laughlin sat in the courtroom in stunned silence as Judge Laughlin read the names on the indictment and released each official on his personal recognizance.

The judge did not set any bonds. When asked by reporters about the bond, Judge Laughlin said, "They are officials and they are not going anywhere."

Dist. Atty. John Mullen, who drew up the indictments with Asst. Texas Atty. Gen. Otis Klar, said, "Apparently they will not be arrested and booked."

The indictments Wednesday night came as the result of a grand jury investigation which began several weeks ago. The grand jury has met three times during the past two weeks, presumably considering the evidence for the indictments. Although not officially announced, the indictments are believed to be the result of the commissioners' approving bills for county roads while allegedly knowing that the contractors also were instructed to pave roads on private property.

Commissioner Laughlin obviously knew an investigation was being conducted in his precinct, which includes Premont, because Texas Rangers had been working in the area and making surveys by helicopter.

Laughlin has served as county commissioner since 1945. Freiley is completing his second four-year term. Mrs. Villanueva is also completing her second four-year term. Price, recently reelected in the Democratic primary, first took office in 1967.

"I can't imagine what this is all about," said Harville.

Commissioner Laughlin repeated that remark and asked someone to read the indictment to him because he did not have his glasses.

Price, in the courtroom with his wife and two children, shook his head and said, "I don't know—I don't know."

Mrs. Villanueva and the county auditor were not present.

If motor vehicle travel in the United States continues to increase at its present rate, by 1990 motor vehicles will be covering some two trillion miles annually, says the National Automobile Club.

By The Garden Gate With Glad

By Gladys Manjeot

"You cannot forget if you would, those golden kisses all over the cheeks of the meadow, quietly called dandelions," Henry Ward Beecher.

A meadow is full bloom with dandelions is a beautiful sight. In some countries, they are growing for commercial purposes and for pastures, etc. Yet to us, they are a garden enemy. Many pretty wildflowers are free to look at, but they often create problems.

KNOW YOUR PLANTS Some plants can be deadly. When you're looking at a beautiful plant or flower, it's difficult to picture a skull and crossbones beside it. Yet, many of our loveliest foliage potted plants are poison, as are other growing plants. We should know about them, so that children and even adults can be protected.

Most of the danger comes from eating parts of these plants, so, as you might expect, children under five years old are often the victim of such. Parents should teach their children that they MUST NOT EVER PUT ANY PART OF A PLANT INTO THEIR MOUTHS. Adults should also be aware in working with plants that they do not put leaves or stems in their mouths. This can become a habit.

The following is a list which was compiled by plant experts and provided by Dr. John M. Kingsbury, professor of botany at New York State College of Agriculture and Life Sciences at Cornell University, and Dr. Julia F. Morton, director of the Morton Collectanea at the University of Miami. I have also added some that I am acquainted with.

This list is being given, because I have had several calls this year relative to poison plants, or their blossoms.

CASTOR BEAN. The seeds of this plant, from which castor oil is made, can cause severe diarrhea, circulatory failure, and insensibility. One seed can be fatal to a small child.

DUMB CANE This common name was given to dieffenbachia (a very popular potted plant) because if chewed, it causes one to be speechless for a time. Death has occurred when this plant poison caused the tongue and throat to swell enough to block air passages.

These plants are often found in the home and in places of business. We have them in our town. It is wise that we all study plants, their history and style of growth and whether or not they are poison.

FOXGLOVE All parts of this plant, but especially the leaves, flowers and seeds, are dangerous. One of the sources of the heart drug, digitalis, comes from this plant. If eaten it can cause nausea, vomiting and dizziness. A large amount, if eaten, can cause irregular heartbeat and mental confusion. There are other garden flowers which have flowers similar to the foxglove. One of these is American Heather, however if one will study the two plants, they can see the difference in form and growth pattern.

JIMSONWEED All parts—even the nectar and particularly the seeds and leaves of this plant, (which grows wild) are very toxic. It is also called:

beautiful plant, grown outdoors and as a potted plant. They are a beautiful plant and the flowers have a nice fragrance. They come in shades of pink and white.

This plant has been used for mass effects and other landscaping designs in Corpus Christi.

POKEWEED. Also called pigeonberry, the roots, berries and mature plant cause burning sensation in the mouth and throat, digestive upset and fatalities.

WISTERIA While the flowers may be dipped in batter, fried and eaten the seeds and pods (which resemble pea pods) can cause mild to severe gastrointestinal disturbances.

Other plants which are poison are:

MISTLETOE. This plant with the attractive white berries is nice for decoration. It is especially beautiful when used in a bubble container, submerged entirely in water, and attractive when used to make a kissing ball. The white, pearly berries are poisonous and can cause acute stomach and intestinal irritation.

SNOW-ON-THE-MOUNTAIN Resembles poinsettia, but upper leaves have white borders. Its milky juice causes skin irritation with itching, blisters and pimples.

POINSETTIA Both the leaves and flowers may be dangerous and sometimes can irritate mouth and stomach causing vomiting and diarrhea. Secretion from the plant can cause blistering, if not quickly removed from the skin by thoroughly washing with hot water and generous application of soap.

YEW. Ground hemlock, English and Japanese yew contain an alkaloid that weakens and can stop the heart. It is a very attractive evergreen shrub and is used at Christmas time for decorations, especially wreaths. If you grow this and use it for Christmas decorations, be sure and destroy the clippings by burning and burying them. Fatal to animals.

MUSHROOMS. Never eat any wild mushrooms unless you know which species are safe. They can cause vomiting, diarrhea and damage body organs so badly that death occurs.

RHUBARB FOLIAGE. The beautiful leaves of this plant are poisonous and after the stalks have been prepared for use, the leaves should be destroyed at once. They are beautiful to look at, but gardeners should use them carefully, if used in an arrangement. Sometimes they are veined, (skeltonized) and used in certain types of arrangements.

These facts should be a warning to us and we should always be protective of children and other groups when on nature trails or viewing landscape designs.

I would be wise to KNOW all the plants which are growing on your premises. If landscaping new grounds, make inquiries of salesmen as to whether plants are poisonous. Also make inquiries as to growth pattern and how fast they will reach their complete growth.

BE AWARE. Now is the time for gardeners to make an inventory of their trees, shrubs, gardens and lawns. This month, grub worms will be damaging the lawns. Indication of this is that a small patch of brown grass will show. Pull gently on the grass, and if it comes easily and the soil is not firm, search the soil carefully. There you will find the grub worm.

They roll-up and try to bury under the loose soil, so search carefully. When found, confer with local insecticide dealer, and they will gladly assist you in selection of a remedy.

Do not put off treating to kill the grub worms; they can damage grass very quickly.

Choice A Toss-Up

We have been celebrating the first presidential campaign in memory in which both of the standard-bearers are such really nice guys that it's almost a toss-up which one to vote for. This is good, because landslides can be dangerous. When any President wins overwhelmingly, he is likely to carry with him into Congress some who do not really deserve to be there. The American electorate may be learning that.

It may be that Americans who historically, lazily, have voted a straight party ticket will take a closer look at the "individuals" who want to be senators and congressmen this year.

A pensioner wrote to The Wall Street Journal the other day pleading that his pension is "too high."

With most American pensioners eaten alive by inflation, with most American widows forced to live on incomes below the poverty level, here is a man on a pension which he says is much more than he deserves.

He is former Rep. Hastings Keith (R-Mass.). After serving

14 years in Congress, he was for a few months on the Defense Manpower Commission. Until he was retired at 57 on a pension of $1,560 a month.

Keith considered this pension adequate and generous. But 35 months later his pension was increased to $2,206 a month.

That is an increase of 41.5 percent in less than three years. That increase is 50 percent more than the increased cost-of-living, which had gone up less than 28 percent during that time.

And Congress has further added what's being called a "kicker," which boosts congressional pensions 1 percent every time the cost of living increases, and that 1 percent compounds itself as often as twice a year.

What's it to you? Feed this 1 percent into a computer, along with the projected lifetimes of our government's 2.3 million employees and their surviving spouses, and the future costs of this "1 percent kicker"—above and beyond any real increase in the cost of living—will cost you $150 billion a year.

None of this was mentioned during the congressional consideration of this "add-on" windfall.

Outside government, comparatively few Americans are assured a cost-of-living increase. None of us stands make a profit on inflation, as government pensioners do.

Adding to the congressman's self-interest in padding his own pension is the National Assn. of Retired Federal Employees, which lobbies vigorously for perpetuation of the fattest possible pensions.

This, of course, is but one of the extravagances of the recent Congresses which have voted for themselves pay raises and fringes all out of proportion to the "hold-the-line formula" which they recommend for the rest of us.

It may well be that many Americans, too slothful to think for themselves, will be registered and coerced to vote this year. Few such will consider and select individual candidates, so those who do care must.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, Sept. 2nd, the 246th day of 1976. There are 120 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1864, during the Civil War, Union forces under Gen. William T. Sherman occupied the city of Atlanta.

On this date: In 31 B.C., Mark Anthony and Cleopatra were defeated by Octavius Caesar in the battle of Actium.

In 1666, the great fire of London broke out. It burned for several days, destroying 13,000 homes.

In 1789, the U.S. Treasury Department was established with Alexander Hamilton as secretary.

In 1901, Vice President Theodore Roosevelt said in a speech at the Minnesota State Fair: "Speak softly and carry a big stick."

In 1940, the United States transferred 50 destroyers to Britain for a lease of military bases in Newfoundland and the British West Indies.

In 1963, Gov. George Wallace stopped integration at Tuskegee High School in Alabama by encircling the building with state troopers.

Then years ago: In a communique, France and Cambodia—signed by President Charles De Gaulle and Prince Norodom Sihanouk—demanded that all foreign troops get out of Vietnam.

Five years ago: The government announced that wholesale prices were up three-tenths of one per cent, mostly before President Nixon's wage-price rent freeze was announced.

One year ago: Palestinian guerrillas threatened to step up their attacks on Israel to wreck the Sinai agreement between Egypt and Israel.

Today's birthdays: Writer, Allen Drury is 58 years old, Dancer and choreographer Marge Champion is 53.

Thought for today: Once a woman has forgiven a man, she must not rehearse his sins for breakfast—Marlene Dietrich.

Bicentennial footnote: Gen. George Washington, after the defeat of American forces on Long Island, wrote: "Our situation is truly distressing."

On June 29, 1776, the Virginia Convention in Williamsburg adopted a written constitution which provided for a bicameral legislature, and independent judiciary and a governor. Patrick Henry, brilliant orator of the House of Burgesses, was elected the first governor of Virginia. The World Almanac relates.

Hays' Resignation Ends Ethics Committee Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)- His political power destroyed by scandal, Wayne L. Hays chose resignation from Congress as the only way left to halt the House ethics committee's investigation into payroll-sex charges.

The Ohio Democrat quit late Wednesday after a two-day effort by his aides to negotiate an end to the ethics committee investigation. The ethics panel quickly terminated the probe when Hays resigned.

Hays' resignation ended 28 years in Congress during which he built his chairmanship of the House Administration Committee into a pinnacle of legislative power.

The power he wielded, sometimes with seeming arrogance, began to crumble three months ago when the payroll-sex charge by Elizabeth Ray touched off a Capitol Hill scandal that involved sex allegations against half a dozen congressmen.

Sources close to the ethics committee said one reason Hays wanted to halt the panel's inquiry was his concern that the publicity and lurid details would put too much emotional pressure on his wife, Pat.

House Speaker Carl Albert told newsmen after he received Hays' resignation letter: "I think he did it to save his family."

Hays' press secretary, Carol Clawson, said earlier this week that Mrs. Hays had suffered emotional stress.

The resignation came two days after the ethics committee voted to begin hearings into the allegations that Hays put Miss Ray on the payroll of the Administration Committee, although she had little to do other than provide him with sex.

The ethics panel had said it would continue with its plans for hearings, despite a plea that Hays was too mentally depressed to defend himself.

Although the resignation halted the ethics panel hearings, it does not affect federal grand jury and Justice Department investigations of the charge. But there have been reports that those probes are stalled because of a lack of corroboration of Miss Ray's story.

Hays' resignation was read to the House about an hour after being delivered to Albert, but it produced no visible reaction from the congressmen present.

The ethics committee voted to end its three-month-old probe of the scandal on grounds that Hays was no longer a congressman and no longer under the panel's jurisdiction.

Committee chairman John Flynt, D-Ga., said the panel did not make a deal with Hays to drop the probe in return for his resignation.

Mexican President Claims Rights Of Illegal Aliens Violated In United States

By ISAAC A. LEVI
Associated Press Writer

MEXICO CITY (AP)—President Luis Echeverria claims there are flagrant violations of the human rights of Mexican illegal aliens in the United States.

The Mexican president did not mention the United States by name when he referred to the problem in a prepared state of the union speech scheduled for delivery before the Mexican Congress Wednesday.

But his words in the advance test left no doubt he was referring to the United States.

"We strongly protest the flagrant violation of the human rights and the attempts against the lives and dignity of our fellow citizens," he said.

"They merit the respect that all civilized society aspire to given human beings, independently of all formal considerations, such as their migratory status," he added.

Echeverria was referring to two recent incidents in which one illegal alien allegedly died as a result of a beating and three more were reported kidnapped, beaten up and mistreated by an Arizona rancher and his two sons.

The incidents elicited strong editorial reaction in Mexican newspapers and revived the centuries-old problem of illegal migration by Mexicans into the United States.

A government announcement last week ordered the Mexican Foreign Ministry to investigate claims by relatives that a Mexican migrant worker died as a result of a beating he allegedly received at a Texas border point before being deported from the United States.

Also last week, a Cochise County grand jury in Arizona ordered rancher George Hannigan and two sons to stand trial. They are accused of kidnapping, beating, torturing a peppering with buckshot three Mexican aliens.

The three had to be treated for wounds in a hospital in Agua Prieta in Sonora as a result of the beating and torture.

"The same preoccupation that Mexico always has for the dignity of man lead us to decidedly face the grave problem of Mexican undocumented migrant workers," Echeverria said.

Estimates on the number of Mexican illegal aliens in the United States from U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service and other U.S. official vary anywhere from 5 million to 11 million.

Most of them are penniless, unemployed peasants from poor northern Mexican states who cross the border illegally in search of work.

Earlier this year, the U.S. State Department started a $3 million pilot program to deport 15,000 Mexican illegals by flying them back to their home towns, instead of releasing them at the border as U.S. immigration officials did formerly.

The purpose was to make their return to the United States more difficult.

The first planeload of 175 to arrive brought outcries from both the Mexican government and the nation's press.

The Echeverria administration protested the aliens were not being properly treated and some of them were being returned without even proper identification papers.

In his state of the union speech, Echeverria also rejected the idea of a treaty to regulate the flow of migrant workers from Mexico to the United States.

Since World War II when there was a labor shortage in U.S. border states and up until two years ago, the flow of Mexican migrant workers was regulated by an agreement that included a quota system.

The last agreement was allowing to expire without being renewed in 1974 because of disagreement on the problem between Mexican and American officials.

"We reject the idea of a new 'barcero' agreement because this has never in the past prevented nondocumented emigration," the president said.

"History shows that these agreements beginning with World War II, far from solving the problem, increases it," he added.

"Bracero" is the term used in border areas to describe Mexican migrant workers.

Last year, Echeverria said "the problem is essentially a Mexican one and we should strive to solve it by creating work and such living conditions that no Mexican would want to leave his homeland."

This was Echeverria's last state of the union message. He leaves office Dec. 1, ending a constitutional term of six years and will be succeeded by president-elect Jose Lopez Portillo, his former treasury minister.
