Police Chief Quells Rumors

Gossip Prompts Hysteria Over Rape Case

By JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Editor

Hereford is a rampant rumor mill just over a week after a 21-year-old woman was savagely raped and stabbed at her home in the northeast portion of the city Sept. 2.

ALTHOUGH THE rumors are unfounded, that basic fact has done little to halt the wildfire spread of gossip in connection with the case.

Tales of "window peepers" and numerous rapes here during the past week have resulted in virtual hysteria in some residential areas.

Hereford Police Chief Caydon Brush warns that the irresponsible spreading of these unfounded rumors is resulting in unnecessary panic.

"The Hereford Police Department has had no report whatsoever concerning more rapes, since the attack which occurred Sept. 2," Brush stated. "We are concerned about the assault of course, but there is no need to become hysterical over this matter," he added.

OFFICERS ARE continuing to check out leads, but have arrested no suspects in connection with the rape and stabbing incident which occurred here last week.

Police have had little to go on, other than a brief description of the woman's assailant, but Brush indicated that officers are checking out every lead they uncover.

"Every officer in the department is keeping his eyes and ears open while he is on patrol, and two plainclothes officers have been assigned to the case from the beginning. Our department has been running down a lot of leads, and several suspects have already been cleared, but right now, we just don't have enough information to locate a suspect," said Brush.

The suspect in the assault is described as a black male estimated to be in his 30's and wearing a beard. His height is listed as about 5 ft. 8 in. to 5 ft. 11 in. and his weight is approximately 130-140 pounds. At the time of the attack, he was reportedly wearing a yellow shirt with brown pin stripes.

Susan Ford Moves Out

WASHINGTON (AP) - Susan Ford has moved out of the White House and is sharing a rented suburban townhouse, with three female college friends and a retinue of Secret Service agents in the basement.

President and Mrs. Ford reportedly had no objection to their 19-year-old daughter's making the move, which is costing her $118 monthly rent.

"If that's what she wanted, then it was fine with them," was the parental reaction, according to First Lady Betty Ford's press secretary.

Ford Meets With Catholics

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Ford met with Roman Catholic leaders today to persuade them that he is more sympathetic to their anti-abortion views than Democrat Jimmy Carter, despite the President's opposition to a constitutional ban on abortion.

The President met with one Catholic cardinal, three archbishops and two bishops.

White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said Thursday that Ford does not favor a proposed constitutional amendment banning abortion but does favor a constitutional amendment letting each state set its own policy on abortions.

Manson Wants Truth Out

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - Charles Manson has received about 100 letters a month since his conviction for mass murder in 1971, according to the author of an unpublished book about Manson.

"Manson wants the truth out on himself," said Richard Rubacher, a writer who said his book will give Manson's side of the 1969 Tate-La Bianca murders. Manson was convicted of the slayings and sentenced to prison for life. "Everybody comments on Manson but Manson himself, that's why he sent me the letters and why I'm writing the book."

South African Deaths Rise

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) - The official death toll in three days of antigovernment rioting by nonwhites in the Cape Town area has risen to 26, and police have organized convoys to protect white motorists.

Police gunfire killed 16 persons Thursday, including an 8-year-old boy, and 19 others were wounded as rioting, arson and looting continued around the coastal city 800 miles southwest of Johannesburg.

Cities, Pioneer Disagree On Gas Hearing

By BOBBY TEMPLETON
Brand News Editor

The scheduled hearing before the Texas Railroad Commission (TRC) requested by Pioneer Natural Gas to justify its gas prices based on investment may not come about it was learned Thursday by The Hereford Brand. Cities served by Pioneer claim the TRC has no authority to hold a hearing as requested.

★ Airliner Hijacked ★

ISLAMABAD, Pakistan (AP) - An Indian Airlines Boeing 737 was hijacked on a domestic flight over India early today and forced to land at Lahore, Pakistan.

Foreign Planes Crash Midair; 181 Killed

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) - A British airliner and a Yugoslav passenger jet carrying West German tourists collided at 35,000 feet near Zagreb today, killing at least 181 persons, officials said.

Doctors at the scene said there were no survivors.

The Yugoslav plane was reported to have had 118 passengers aboard while the British plane carried a reported 54 passengers and nine crew members. There was no report on how many crew members were aboard the Yugoslav plane.

The planes collided at 6:15 a.m. EDT near the village of Vrbdvac, about 15 miles northeast of Zagreb.

British Airways officials in London said Flight 476 was on a direct flight from London to Istanbul. The officials said the plane was a Trident 3 jetliner.

Reports here said the Yugoslav plane was a DC9 belonging to the Yugoslav charter company Inex-Adria. The DC9 was flying between Split and Cologne in West Germany.

In Cologne, officials said the Yugoslav plane had been chartered by Kaufhof, a Cologne-based tourist agency.

Passenger lists were not immediately available.

City Manager Dudley Bayne said that Pioneer representatives contacted a lawyer working with cities on Pioneer's West Texas System, composed of over 50 communities supplied gas by Pioneer, and stated that the company was considering withdrawing its request for a hearing. About eight of the cities comprise a steering committee which have consistently battled Pioneer on its authorities said. Sources in Pakistan and the Indian capital of new Delhi said six of the 77 passengers aboard were released because they became ill. They were a West German woman, her husband and child and three Indians, the sources said.

Officials denied earlier reports that all the passengers had been released. The plane carried seven crew members, officials said.

An airline spokesman said no Americans were known to be aboard the plane. He said the German family was part of a 15-person German tour group.

The hijackers demanded to go to Saudi Arabia, sources said. However, there was no indication of their nationality. Officials made no immediate response to the demands.

The plane was hijacked shortly after taking off from Palam International Airport here at 7 a.m.-9:30 p.m. Thursday EDT-en route to Bombay, with stops scheduled in the Indian cities of Jaipur and Aurangabad.

New Delhi flight control said it lost radio contact with the plane and no further word was received until it landed in Lahore about an hour later.

The last hijacking to Pakistan of an Indian Airlines flight occurred in 1971 when two Kashmiris forced a Fokker Friendship plane on a domestic flight to fly to Lahore. All the passengers were released but the plane was later blown up.

Two months ago, after a five-year hiatus stemming from the 1971 war over Bangladesh, India and Pakistan completed restoration of full diplomatic relations and resumed flights over each other's territory.

cost-of-gas adjustment arrangement with the cities.

BASED ON A CONTACT this morning with Bob Mills, public relations director for Pioneer, the company as of presstime today does not plan to call off the hearing on the basis of the TRC's jurisdiction to hear the case. "We are not ready to say that the Texas Railroad Commission has no right to hold the hearing."

The company officials were busy with negotiations today concerning the hearing request and the company could decide to go ahead with the hearing despite other revealed intentions. Also, the company may announce a wish to withdraw the hearing.

In effect, the gas cost pass through enables Pioneer to deliver all increased expenses for its gas supplies right through to the consumer. The company maintains it is necessary to continue supplying gas at the current rate, but the cities claim it is a "guaranteed profit" which customers don't have a chance to contest.

THE HEARING, set for 9 a.m. Sept. 14 in Austin, was requested by the utility to enable Pioneer to publicly review its cost-of-gas for its West Texas system, to evaluate the correctness of the company's cost-of-gas adjustment, as to determine the appropriateness of the policies of Pioneer in maintaining its gas supply.

Bayne is sure that Pioneer wants to withdraw its desire for a hearing based on the contact he knows was made. He, along with other city representatives, is a member of the steering committee. The committee met recently and filed an intervention notice Sept. 4 with the TRC concerning the hearing.

It claims that no direct mention is made of the cost-of-gas adjustment, and that the TRC has no authority to proceed with the hearing since no specific rate increase in gas prices is involved.

"They (TRC) have nothing to rule on," the city manager said. "There is no reason for them to meet."

He feels that Pioneer wanted the hearing to provide support for its gas pricing method although it is puzzling that Pioneer was the party to request a hearing. Actually, the cities might have had more reason to do so to contest the correct pass-through.

AN OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT of the hearing request withdrawal is expected soon according to Bayne.

Generally, the cities are acting in behalf of Pioneer's consumers and Bayne said the intervention was the only possible way to contest the hearing request.

Pioneer sent its West Texas cities about 700 pages of material concerning the company's contacts and documents used in gas purchases and distribution activities.

K.B. Watson, Pioneer president, supported the past gas purchases saying that "without these purchases, Pioneer would have been unable to fulfill its gas commitments to consumers."

"The testimony clearly demonstrates the continued need for the cost-of-gas adjustment, if the company is to maintain its current excellent gas supply position.

Woman Hit By Egg Thrower

A city woman reported an egg throwing incident to city police Thursday.

Betty Coleman, manager of Bluewater Gardens apartment complex here told officers that someone threw an egg through her open car window yesterday, striking her in the neck.

A police department spokesman indicated that officers have a suspect in the incident.

City officers also have a suspect in the theft of some parts from a vehicle which was parked at Big Daddy's Truck Stop.

T.H. Sossaman of Hereford reported that the parts were taken from his car Sept. 3.

Power Struggle Expected After Mao Tse-Tung Death

By ROY ESSOYAN
Associated Press Writer

TOKYO (AP) - In deep mourning over the death of Communist party Chairman Mao Tse-tung, China began today to pay somber tribute to the man whose loss leaves the world's most populous country without a leader worthy of his mantle.

A struggle for power appeared inevitable among the radicals and moderates who have been jockeying for leadership since Mao's health began an obvious decline earlier this year. He died Wednesday at age 82. The Peking government has not disclosed the cause of death.

The central committee of the Chinese Communist party issued an appeal for unity, and reports from China indicated the people were calm as they mourned their revolutionary leader.

"All papers devote the entire front page to a huge portrait of Chairman Mao Tse-tung bordered in black," the official Hsinhua news agency said today in a broadcast monitored here. It said newspapers used the banner headline: "Eternal glory to our great leader and teacher Chairman Mao Tse-tung."

Peking residents contacted by telephone said flags were at half-staff through the capital, nearly everyone was wearing a black armband, some people wept and large crowds gathered in the huge Tien An Men Square to put white flowers at a monument.

Written on the monument are Mao's words: "The heroes of the people are immortal."

"Peking is somber," one resident said by telephone, "but things are very much normal aside from what you would expect for the mourning of the chairman."

Foreign Fighters Participating Actively In Lebanese Civil War

By EDWARD CODY
Associated Press Writer

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) - Peering through a hole punched in the wall, a young Iraqi sniper squinted down the sights of his rifle and squeezed off a round at Christians two buildings away.

"I can't see them," he said in an easily recognizable Iraqi accent. "But I can see where they are moving around inside."

The sharpshooter was part of a contingent of Iraqis and Palestinians from Iraq dispatched to help leftist Moslem and Palestinian forces in the Lebanese civil war.

The are fighting Christians in Beirut's battered commercial sector and in the area where the Christian quarter of Ein Rummaneh abuts the Moslem neighborhood of Chiyah, Beirut's hottest fronts.

The role of foreign fighters in Lebanon has been a subject of charges and countercharges in the 17-month civil war. Each side has accused the other of bringing in mercenaries, while discreetly veiling its own help from abroad.

The following picture of non-Lebanese taking part in the bloodletting was pieced together from on-the-spot observations and sources on both sides:

-Palestinians:
About 300,000 Palestinians lived in Lebanon before the war began in April 1975, including about 12,000 well-armed guerrillas. They have been at the heart of the conflict from its beginning.

The number of guerrillas has increased sharply over the months. Palestinian chieftain Yasir Arafat recently declared all able-bodied Palestinians will be drafted.

In addition some 8,000 troops of the Palestine Liberation Army entered Lebanon in January from Syria and Egypt.

-Syrians:
Damascus sent between 13,000 and 15,000 Syrian soldiers into Lebanon early this summer, backed by about 500 tanks. They control about a third of the country's 4,015 square miles and hold the key to any cease-fire.

The Syrians, at first worked through their Saiga Palestinian guerrilla group and aided leftist Moslems in early stages of the war.

But Syrian President Hafez Assad did an about face when it became clear the leftists were about to trounce the Christians and run the country on their own. Since spring, he has backed the Christians and tried to bring the Palestinians to heel.

-Arab League peacekeeping troops:
These forces include Saudi Arabians, Sudanese and Libyans, along with Syrians separated from the main Syrian contingent. The peacekeeping forces were dispatched in June in an effort to separate the combatants.

The 3,500 peacekeepers have never been seen participating in combat, despite Christian charges that the Libyans have fought for the leftists. The peacekeeping force commander, Egyptian Maj. Gen. Mohammed Hassan Ghoneim, denies it has ever happened.

At least one contingent of Iraqis has come to Lebanon as part of the Iraqi-sponsored Arab Liberation Front, a radical Palestinian guerrilla band.

Camille Cahmoun, a Christian militia leader, charged that 2,000 Iraqi army soldiers flew to Egypt and then came by boat to Lebanon.

The fighters themselves, in relaxed conversations on the battlefield, say they volunteered "to aid the Arab revolution" and arrived without military training.

"We are Iraqis and we came here about a month ago. I don't know how many of us are here, but we are fighting on all fronts," said a youth in a sniper's nest in downtown Beirut.

His superior heard what he said and declared, "We are all Palestinians born in Iraq, and that is why we speak Arabic with Iraqi accents like this."

French:
A rightist student group in Paris has said some of its members are fighting for Christian militias in Lebanon "to save Christian civilization." One young Frenchman was seen killed in July during the battle for Tal Zaatar Palestinian refugee camp.

A few French military experts also have been reported training the Christian Phalange party militia in using sophisticated weapons and special sniper rifles.

The British used the song "Yankee Doodle" to show their contempt for the colonials. Redcoats marched snappily to "Yankee Doodle" on the road from Boston to Lexington and Concord but not on the way back! After their victory at Lexington and Concord, the American militia adopted the tune as its own and hurled it back at the British. The World Almanac reports.

Test Registration Starts for Juniors

Wilma Braddy, Junior counselor at Hereford High School has announced that juniors will be able to join over 1 million other students around the world in taking the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test (National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT) this fall. The test, co-sponsored by the College Board and National Merit Scholarship Corporation, is an important step in making plans.

Students can register for the test in the HHS counselors office.

Scheduled for October 19, the PSAT/NMSQT measures verbal and mathematical aptitude—two abilities important in doing college work.

The test can also lead to other opportunities for high school students:

They can enter the competition for scholarships administered by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation;

They can participate in the College Board's Student Search Service and have their name sent to college interested in students like them;

They can get a good idea of what the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) is like.

With their score reports, students will receive a copy of your PSAT/NMSQT scores, a booklet that contains valuable information about estimating SAT scores, finding out where to get and how to use more detailed information about colleges and financial aid, and planning for financing a college education.

Also, by using the College Board's College Handbook, students can compare themselves with enrolled students at the 2,864 colleges and universities listed.

Baptists Launch Voter Registration Program

Texas Baptists have launched a major effort to have all 2 million of their members register to vote in the Nov. 2 general election.

The drive is being spearheaded by the Texas Baptist Christian Life Commission, which is enlisting the support of pastors, educational directors, and leaders of other key groups affiliated with the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

"This is probably the most intense voter registration effort that Texas Baptists have ever entered into," said Phil Strickland, the commission's associate director.

The commission is urging each of the state's 4,000 Southern Baptist churches to designate its own deputy voter registrar to register voters prior to the Oct. 2 registration deadline.

"The thing that protects us from the kinds of tragedies the American government has experienced in recent years in the involvement of responsible people who care," Strickland said, "if we really want a better life for our children, a beginning point for that is being a part of the decision-making process."

Director Huard Speaks To Lions

Hereford area YMCA Director Claude Huard presented a brief history of the world-wide organization, and explained goals of the local branch as he spoke to the Hereford Lions Club Wednesday.

The local branch is one of some 2,500 YMCA's located in 86 countries around the world, Huard informed the Lions. The organization itself was founded in 1844 by George Williams of London, England.

Huard told the group that he is "amazed at the reception he has received from local citizens, businesses, and organizations since he came to Hereford in July.

"I feel that next fall ground will be broken here for a full facility," he continued. The "full facility" would include a gym and swimming pool as well as other features.

The "Y" will be part of the United Way this year, with $30,000 included in the budget for it. A membership drive for the Y will begin Saturday.

Prior to Huard's address, the Lions paid tribute to local member L.W. Carlisle, who was presented with his 45-year membership chevron.

Greg Pagent, president of the Leo Club, reported that about 50 young people showed up for that club's first meeting.

The Lions will not meet at the usual time next Wednesday due to the Ladies Night scheduled for Thursday, September 16.

The stunning viciousness of last Thursday's attack has done as much as any other factor to set the city on edge.

According to police reports the attack occurred sometime between 9 and 9:30 a.m.

The victim had remained home that morning because she did not feel well. She awoke to find the attacker standing in her bedroom.

THE MAN reportedly threatened the woman with a knife, stating that he would "kill her if she made any noise."

The young woman's arms and legs were tied with washrags and string and she was raped and stabbed repeatedly about the head.

A police department spokesman indicated that she suffered some 15 cuts to the head and face during the attack.

The assault victim has remained in the Deaf Smith General Hospital here since the attack, and as of this morning, was listed in satisfactory condition and in good spirits.

"WE ARE depending on the cooperation of our local residents to make sure this situation doesn't get out of hand. We need the help of people with cool heads in this matter in order to apprehend a suspect. ## Benefit Bridge Plans Discussed By Chapter

Members of Kappa Iota Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority met Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Dan Warrick, 130 Kingwood.

Mrs. Joe Paetzold presided over the business session where upcoming plans for the Benefit Bridge, an annual service project for Gristown, was discussed. Other possible service projects were also brought up.

The sorority voted not to hold a fall rush because of the current size of membership and secret sisters for the new year were drawn by the members.

Mrs. Bill Johnson, chairman of the yearbook committee, distributed the new yearbook, which will depict this year's theme, "In Our Time."

Members viewed the scrapbook of last year's activities, Chapter tradition rules that the scrapbook be a chapter gift to the president who presided over that year's happenings.

The program was led by Mrs. Temple Abney on physical science and how it relates to lives today.

Hostesses Mrs. Warrick and Mrs. Steve Jones served tossed salad, lasagne, breadsticks and pie to the 16 members present.

DELIGHTFUL PICKUPS—Cherry tomatoes stuffed with deviled ham, Swiss cheese and olives make a fine hors d'oeuvre.

Cherry Tomatoes To The Fore

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

What did we ever do without cherry tomatoes, that comparative newcomer to the food scene? They make a fine hors d'oeuvre. In our opinion they could be used more often to great advantage, as a hot accompaniment to a main dish and in salads.

First to hors d'oeuvres. For informal use, they are of course delicious "as is"; we notice that guests who leave carrot and celery sticks strictly alone nibble on the "cherries." For a party, they're delightful stuffed with a deviled ham, Swiss cheese and olive filling.

The recipe follows.

To use them as a hot accompaniment to a main dish, you might like to choose the quick-and-easy way. Heat a little olive oil, a minced clove of garlic and a dash of oregano or basil in a skillet. Add the tomatoes; shake the pan or stir often just until the tomatoes are hot through and the skins begin to burst. Sprinkle with salt and freshly ground pepper.

For a salad, toss cherry tomatoes into a bowl of torn greens along with marinated artichoke hearts. The artichoke hearts come in a jar and their marinade makes a delightful dressing. However, if the salad is large, you may need to add a little extra olive oil and wine vinegar to the marinade.

Party Honors

Former Teacher

Mrs. John Boling, resident of King's Manor Retirement Home, was honored Thursday evening at Community Center with a reception.

The afternoon was spent with informal conversation, reminiscing about Mrs. Boling's career during the 1920's at Fairview Schoolhouse near Wildorado.

Gifts of appreciation were presented to the honoree. Refreshments were served to those in attendance, who included Messrs. and Mmes. Homer Thomas, Jimmie Allred, Carlos Anderson, Clarence Strange, Dub Curtisinger, Cecil Oglesby and Charlie Callaway.

Also present were Mmes. Clarence McBrown, Buddy Curtisinger, Viola Griswold and H.D. Fowler.

STUFFED CHERRY TOMATO HORS D'OEUVRE

1 pint (about 30 good-size) cherry tomatoes
4 1/2-ounce can deviled ham
3/4 cup finely grated Swiss cheese
1/2 cup finely chopped pimiento-stuffed green olives
1 tablespoon minced onion

Rinse and dry tomatoes. Thinly slice the tops from them. Scoop out pulp with a teaspoon and drain shells upside down on paper toweling. In a small mixing bowl stir together the deviled ham, 1/2 cup of the cheese, the olives and onion; spoon into the tomato shells. Sprinkle with the remaining cheese. Cover and refrigerate until ready to use, but best served shortly after making. Makes about 30 hors d'oeuvres.

Ann Landers Just Having A Little Fun!

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have been reading with a great deal of interest the letters about people who love to tickle, under the guise of "having a little fun." You pointed out that when tickling becomes excessive and the "victim" doesn't like it and the person doing the tickling keeps it up, there's more of it than just fun. "Sadistic" is what you called it, and how right you are!

Shortly after we married, my husband used to sit on my legs, hold my hands down and tickle me until I screamed in agony and begged him to stop. He'd laugh and say, "I'm just having a little fun!"

One night he nearly drove me crazy with his tickling. I screamed, "If you don't stop I'm going to spit in your face." He snapped back, "You wouldn't dare!" Well I did it. He became so furious he beat me senseless.

The next day I took my broken jaw, black eyes and five teeth (wrapped in a handkerchief) to a lawyer and filed for divorce. The lawyer (and my doctor) said I was lucky the lunatic didn't kill me—because he was a real nut.

So, Ann, add this one to your true-to-life stories about ticklers.—Graveyard Humor.

DEAR G.H.: Thanks for the eye-opener. And congratulations on walking out—before you had to be carried out.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I need to say a few words to the young man who wrote to you and said he felt like a "non-person," "worthless" and wanted to die.

My mother must have had those same feelings. She killed herself two years ago. Although Mom succeeded in putting an end to her suffering I can't describe what she did to her family.

I have been under psychiatric care for almost a year but I still cry a lot. I know in my heart (and head) that I was not responsible for my mother's death, but I can't stop blaming myself. I keep thinking if I had been a better daughter Mom wouldn't have wanted to hurt me like this.

My psychiatrist explained that suicide is punishment for the survivors. The persons who do this dastardly deed plan it that way. It is the ultimate payback for real or imagined abuse.

I know you receive thousands of letters and can print only a few, but please try to fit this in somewhere, Ann. It might help others.—C.V.

DEAR C.Y.: Here it is—and I thank you for writing it. Your letter can be immensely comforting to those who are struggling with unearned guilt produced by the suicide of a loved one. God knows they need all the help they can get.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My problem concerns a friend of long standing. Several years ago we were having trouble with our daughter. My "friend's" sole attempt at consolation was, "I wish I had her for a year." She was, of course, putting me down and holding herself up as someone who could do my job better.

Being troubled, I didn't have a ready answer. When I look back at her lack of compassion I become furious. What should I say to her NOW? —Cut Deep

DEAR DEEP: Nothing. You don't really like this woman, for reasons unrelated to the early needle. Life is too short to spend time with people you don't care for. The question you ought to be asking yourself is why do you continue to see her?

Be A Friend, Have A Friend

BY JOAN DWYER
EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR
Big Brothers-Big Sisters of Hereford

THE COST OF CARING

As very young people we never consider the obligation or responsibility involved in a relationship with another human being. As we grow older, we begin to realize that we are not completely free agents if we relate at all to those around us.

The commitment one person makes to another seems to be an increasingly difficult one to handle for most people today.

I've been in several discussions this week regarding the lack of commitment and involvement in our community. The general consensus is that people are willing to pay their money, but they don't care to get personally involved.

Is it that we feel we don't do justice to our "Own family" or our business and we just can't spread ourselves too thin? Or maybe we're afraid of rejection?

I don't know the answer. But I do know to grow as a person we must give away...not our money but our concern and our love. That's the cost of caring.

TOPS Chapter Starts Drive To Add Members

Starting under the new leadership of Mrs. John Gilmore, members of the TOPS evening chapter here are hoping to increase their enrollment.

All interested persons who are concerned about losing weight sensibly are invited, free of charge, to TOPS meeting at 6 p.m. Monday at Property Enterprises.

Featured speaker for the upcoming meeting will be a representative of the local YMCA project which is gaining momentum with its new membership drive. The guest speaker will describe the advantages of a YMCA and explain the organization's goals.

Further information can be obtained by calling Mrs. Gilmore.

OUR FIRST CITIZENS CAME HERE FOR RELIGIOUS FREEDOM

The occasion of Citizenship Day should cause us to remember that, even as we extend a warm welcome to our newest citizens by adoption, their predecessors who started this nation on its road to greatness did so for the sake of personal freedom, including the right to worship God in any manner they chose. It was they who founded the doctrine of what we still refer to as the separation of Church and State. Honor this great event by going to the Church of your choice, and taking advantage of this hard-fought freedom that is yours today because of them. And give your thanks to God for this sacred right.

Every man, conducting himself as a good citizen, and being accountable to God alone for his religious opinions, ought to be protected in worshipping the Deity according to the dictates of his own conscience.

MONTREAL (AP) - Bobby Kromm, one of four coaches with Team Canada in the six-country Canada Cup hockey tournament, brushed aside questions Thursday night about reports he is in line to coach the Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League in the 1977-78 season.

Kromm, who is entering the final year of a contract to coach Jets of the World Hockey Association, was asked if he had discussed a job with the Red Wings and replied: "Nonsense. I don't want to be asked about that. Everybody's bothering me about that."

DETROIT - The Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball Association signed 6-foot-10 center Leon Douglas of Alabama, their No. 1 choice in this year's college draft, to a four-year contract at an estimated $125,000 a season.

Hereford Girls In Tournament

The Hereford High School Girls Volleyball team begins play in the West Texas State University Delta Psi Kappa High School Volleyball Tournament today with a 3:30 match against Lubbock Coronado.

Hereford coach Helen Reed's girls have played two matches thus far this season, dropping both by close scores, Pampa and Palo Duro each own wins over Hereford.

"We made some mistakes against Pampa, but played better against Palo Duro last Wednesday, and lost both games by only two or three points," the coach said.

Hereford enters the tournament today hoping to correct some mistakes and find their "weak spots" Reed reported.

The double elimination tourney continues through Saturday.

Senior spiker Shirley Wheeler is joined by juniors Karla Polk, spiker, and Anna Griego, setter, as the early pace setters on the squad.

Pampa is next in line (at 6:30 p.m.) for Hereford should they win at 3:30 against Coronado. A loss gives Hereford a bye in the loser's bracket, where play will resume on Saturday.

weekend while Pampa won the Berger tourney.

The tourney also will feature teams from Tascosa, Caprock, Palo Duro, Berger, Monterey, and Estacado.

TAMPA Fla. (AP) - Coach John McKay has added one of his former University of Southern California standouts, linebacker Richard Wood, to the roster of his Tampa Bay Buccaneers of the National Football League.

Wood was obtained from the New York Jets in a trade Wednesday for an undisclosed future draft choice. Wood, 6-foot-2 and 215 pounds, was a third-round draft choice of the Jets in 1975.

McKay made room for Wood on the roster by placing running back Harold Hart on injured reserve. Hart, in his third pro year, is suffering from a preseason knee injury. He was acquired from Oakland in the expansion draft of veterans for national Football League expansion club.

SAN DIEGO - Atlanta Braves Manager Dave Bristol sat out a one-game suspension following a review of an umpire-bumping incident.

Funk, Super Destroyer In Texas Death Match

One of the toughest matches in professional wrestling comes to the Bull Barn Saturday night, as the Lions Club presents Dory

Funk, Jr. Against the Super Destroyer in a Texas Death Match.

The Los Angeles-based Super Destroyer, a powerful 250-pounder, holds a previous victory over ex-World Champion Funk. He also holds a recent victory over world titlist Terry Funk in Amarillo. Another Texas death match that did not involve the world belt.

Dory Funk, Jr., Umbarger and Canyon Rancher, steps in at 243 pounds in the most grueling type of contest. His father, the late Dory Funk, Sr., wrestled Iron Mike Dibiase in a Texas death match in Amarillo some years ago, and the commission doctor sent police in to stop the contest after four hours and ten minutes.

The horrible beating and physical exhaustion that overcame both men was said to have contributed to their deaths at different times in later years.

In a Texas Death Match falls don't count. The last man standing to answer the ten count is the winner. There is no disqualification, no stopping the match for blood, gouging, choking, and low blows are the only illegal moves, and can be restrained only by a fine.

In semi-main action Saturday night, 240-pound Don Slotton,

The Lawman, will take advantage of the reach given him by his 6'6" to hold at bay Lord Alfred Hayes, 235-pound stylist from Westminster, London, England. Hayes, who stated that sportsmanship had earned him very little money, changed to a more rugged style of grappling before seeking his fortunes elsewhere.

His return to Hereford for this important card will see a Lord Hayes new to wrestling fans. While technically a more skillful wrestler than Slotton, he faces a man with boxing experience coupled with wily tactics that caused one opponent to describe Slotton as "a well-dressed snake".

The match of the evening sees 280-pound Don Wayt, The Longview, Texas Cowboy, bring his brawling hit-and-run strategy to bear against Big Nick Roberts. Roberts, a John Wayne-sized former college great at 6-4 and 240 pounds, come from Lubbock.

A rough but skilled matman, his two passions in life are wrestling and guns. He spends most of his spare time shooting.

In the opener, Mexico's durable El Lobo, 230 pounds, confronts popular Reggie Parks. Parks is also 230 pounds, and is originally from Edmonton, Canada. He now headquarters in Nogales, Arizona.

There is no time limit on Saturday night's main event between Super Destroyer and Dory Funk Jr. Matches start at 9:00 p.m.

Softball Tourney Scheduled

Six openings are still available in a ten-team softball tournament which will be held in Priona Saturday and Sunday, September 18 and 19.

Deadline for entry is Wednesday, September 15. The entry fee is $35 per team.

Trophies will be awarded to all teams in the tourney, and members of the winning squad will receive individual trophies. Interested teams may contact either Bill Scott at 247-3185, or Rick Luther at 247-2211 or 247-2116 for information.

LONDON - Jack Onslow Fane retired as chairman of the British Boxing Board of Control.

Production In High Gear

This has to be the most shining time and place in human history when our main worries are too many cars and too much food.

It's been just a year since Detroit was expressing anguish about the "softness" of the new car market.

Now car makers are fearful they won't have enough new ones to go around!

During the '60s and into the '70s car sales soared to 11, 12, 13 million new ones every year. It could not go on forever.

There'd have to come a time when they'd have to take time out to allow the demand to catch up with the oversupply.

It's caught up. Supplies of unsold cars have melted.

Production is back in high gear.

Car company profits are soaring.

The present tempo of the automobile industry is exceeding the most optimistic guesstimates of one year ago.

Part of the rush to buy results from predictions that 1977 models will have higher price tags--an average $300 higher.

But such is the demand for cars on hand that discounts, previously allowed during a model's closeout, are not necessarily allowed on $76 models.

An interesting paradox. The greatest demand is for the larger cars. Cadillac has said it will never make a car this long again, so the dedicated if limited advocates of the "big car" are bidding up those prices while some of the Chevettes and Vegas and Pintos are not moving.

Chrysler Sales Go Upward

Chrysler Corporation reported new car sales by its dealers in the Dallas sales zone during August totaled 4,922, up 23 per cent from the 3,997 delivered in the same month one year ago.

Truck sales were 1675, up 53 per cent when compared to the 1093 delivered in August 1975.

According to Chuck Garber, Dallas zone sales manager, Chrysler-Plymouth dealers sold 3,336, up 33 per cent from year ago sales of 2,513. Dodge dealer retail deliveries were 1,586, up 6 per cent from August 1975 sales of 1,484 units.

The Dallas zone covered Dodge and Chrysler-Plymouth dealerships in Texas.

Calley Supports Amnesty

MACON, Ga. (AP) - There should be blanket amnesty for men who fled the draft to avoid serving in the Vietnam war, says William L. Calley Jr., the former Army Lieutenant convicted of murdering 22 Vietnamese civilians at My Lai in 1968.

"We've never been told what the Vietnam war was all about, and I don't think it's fair to hold a person accountable for refusing to participate in a war if he isn't told why," Calley said Wednesday.

Calley said he favors amnesty for draft dodgers but not for military deserters.

Calley said he believed he was chosen as a "scapegoat" for My Lai because he refused to lie about the killings. He said that his orders at My Lai were to "annihilate every living thing."

About a dozen meteor showers occur each year, caused by the earth's passage through streams of meteoroids left in space by comets of which they were a part.

Matter is anything that occupies space.

Infinity is a quantity that is greater than any assignable quantity.

On the other hand, Oldsmobile has all but exhausted its supply of Cutlasses and full-size Mercurys bringing premium prices.

To satisfy customer demand, dealers are trying to buy popular models from one another, bidding as much as $300 over wholesale cost.

And to recall that most car makers this past year curtailed production schedules makes one wonder what kind of dummies call the shots.

When they projected a sales increase of 16 percent this year, they thought they were being optimistic. Sales rose 22 percent.

Total car sales this year could top 11 million, including imports. That would be 26 percent more than last year.

Forecasting car sales is like forecasting weather; no prediction beyond 10 days is worth much.

And the industry has learned that it is punished more by overestimating demand than by underestimating it.

It's easier to go into overtime production--as most now have--than to try to dispose of an unwanted inventory.

Since some dealers have nothing left to sell but used cars, Chrysler is going to jump the gun on selling 1977 models and will make those available as early as the first week in August. Other car makers may be forced to.

So Detroit and related industries are harvesting another bumper-to-bumper crop. Where are they all going to park?

By BOB HILL

The worst drought in 500 years has hit England and the European countries. Parts of England have had only five inches of rain in the past nine months. France is also hard hit. A recent thunderstorm just ran off the parched and cracked soil. Wales has had to cut water supplies to industry in half and the French owned electric utility complex will run up a $200-million tab for importing oil and coal to generate electricity which was lost due to low water levels.

For England, the drought comes at an unusually bad time. The government's anti-inflation program is barely a year old and this dry spell could wreck efforts to keep employment up while keeping inflation down. Unemployment in England is 6.4 per cent, a record number which will creep higher as large companies continue to lay off workers. One company has gone completely out of business. An 85 year old umbrella maker closed its doors after six months of sunshine simply dried up its sales.

Farmers are suffering the most and the loss of vegetables, potatoes, and feedgrains will push prices higher and force greater imports of agricultural products which put more pressure on the British pound, now at an all time low.

The English government has been running ads to get consumers to use less water. Listen to the some of the suggestions being made: "Take a shower instead of a bath as its uses far less water. If you haven't a shower, then limit your bath water to five inches--and try to use water for more than one person. Don't let the tap run while you're cleaning your teeth or washing your hands as each running tap uses up to five gallons a minute. Flush your lavatory the minimum number of times necessary to retain hygiene.

Even better, flush with waste water. In the kitchen, save your washing up until you have enough to make full use of your bowl of water. Washing machines and dishwashers use tremendous amounts of water. So don't use them until you've a full load. And try to reduce the number of rinses on automatic machines. Garden hoses and sprinklers are now banned. But it would be madness to use them anyway."

Milk Helps Cut Cancer Risks

COLD SPRING HARBOR, N.Y. (AP) - Drinking two glasses of milk a day apparently cuts the risk of getting stomach cancer, at least among Japanese, says a researcher from Tokyo.

It is one more bit of evidence for the influence of ordinary foods in either reducing or increasing the chances of developing cancers.

Japan long had a high right of stomach cancer. But the death rate from it has dropped about one-third since 1955 after a change, beginning in 1949, to higher consumption of milk and milk products, and other Western-type food, said Dr. Takeshi Hirayama of the National Cancer Center Research Institute in Tokyo.

Consumption of milk and milk products increased by 23 times from 1949 to 1973, he told a Conference on Origins of Cancer at the Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory.

Meat consumption rose 13.7 per cent, eggs by 12.9, oil by 7.8, and fruits 6.6 per cent, with not much change in consumption of fish, vegetables and rice, Hirayama said.

A series of studies of 265,000 adults clearly showed a significantly lower risk of stomach cancer in drinkers of two glasses of milk daily. The risk was lowest in nonsmokers drinking two glasses of milk daily.

Some heart specialists advise drinking skim rather than whole milk as one part of a diet aimed at lowering the risk of atherosclerosis, the artery disease underlying heart attacks.

On an opposite side of the vein, an Australian scientist said "evidence is accumulating to suggest a relationship between dietary fat perhaps calorie excess and endometrial cancer," the endometrium being the lining of the uterus.

Dr. B.K. Armstrong, of the University of Western Australia, said this relationship likely depends upon an effect of dietary fat upon production of estrogen, the female sex hormone. Estrogens themselves may be directly able to cause cancer, or may produce an environment favorable to the effect of other cancer-causing agents, he said.

"Epidemiology has contributed to the belief that diet may be a major factor influencing the incidence of some human cancers," Armstrong said.

BOAT STATE MINNEAPOLIS (AP) - The number of licensed boats in Minnesota reached an all-time peak of 453,333 as of January 1976, up by 9,000 from a year earlier.

There are 360,841 motorized boats, 76,330 canoes, 14,535 sailboats and 1,627 nonmotorized boats in Minnesota.

With one boat licensed for every 8.9 persons, boat ownership in the state is the highest per capita in the nation, a spokesman for the Department of Natural Resources said.

Sun May Have Blinded Bus Driver Before Wreck

LAFAYETTE, Ore. (AP) - "He was laying over the steering wheel. He kept saying over and over, 'I'm sorry, I'm sorry. I didn't see it,'" 13-year-old Wanda Stafford said of the driver of her school bus, which was hit by a railway locomotive.

Two of at least 41 children aboard the bus were killed in the accident, which may have been caused by the driver being blinded by the morning sun.

Authorities identified the dead as 9-year-old Annette Smith and 8 year old Christina Espinosa. Lori Barr, 16, was in critical condition, and two other children were in serious condition.

Thirty-four children were treated for less serious injuries.

Some of those were hospitalized only briefly.

The driver of the bus, 54-year-old Rudy Baker, was treated for shock, broken ribs and cuts.

The McMinnville School District bus picked up children from rural areas around this farming community of about 1,000 residents, 30 miles southwest of Portland, to take them to elementary and Junior High schools in nearby McMinnville.

Witnesses said the bus stopped or nearly stopped at the crossing over the Southern Pacific tracks, which has no gates, then proceeded. The locomotive, pulling a caboose at about 25 miles per hour, struck the bus near the front door.

"Everybody was screaming and the kids were pushing and shoving to get out," said Miss Stafford, who suffered a sprained knee and bruises. "All the kids hollered 'Train!' The whistle was blowing like mad when the train hit the bus, turning it completely around and striking us again from the rear."

The impact spun the bus from the track. The bus splintered a utility pole and crashed into an old garage 350 feet from where it was hit.

Amos Timmerman, the engineer, said the engine's whistle was blowing and the headlight was on just before the crash. He said the sunlight at 8:16 a.m. might have blinded Baker.

Baker had been driving for four years.

Kissinger Sees No Change In Policies Toward Peking

WASHINGTON (AP) - Secretary of State Henry Kissinger Thursday called Chinese Communist party Chairman Mao Tse-Tung "one of the titans of our time" and said his death will not bring about any change in American policy toward Peking.

Speaking with reporters as he emerged from his home, Kissinger said, "there will be no change on the U.S. side in our relations."

"We consider our opening to the People's Republic one of the most important foreign policy actions of the recent period and we don't really expect any change on the Chinese side but the method and the nuances are certainly going to change."

President Ford called Mao "a remarkable and a very great man. He had the vision and imagination to open up the doors so the United States and the Peoples Republic of China could do things in a new era and a new day. It's tragic, of course, that a man of his great remarkable ability and skill and vision and foresight has passed away."

Kissinger said he doubts that even the Chinese know what the impact of Mao's death will be "and I don't think any of us know what the new Chinese leaders will do."

Reiterating a view he has stated many times, Kissinger said the future of Chinese-American relations will be governed by common interests and not by personalities.

"I think he was one of the titans of our time who perhaps brought about more changes than any other contemporary," Kissinger said.

He called Mao a remarkable man whose actions, like those of many revolutionaries, brought "great achievement as well as great suffering."

He said Mao was above all interested in China. "There was a period when he considered us an enemy," Kissinger said. "There was a period when he used us in order to promote the security of China. But ideologically he always considered us an opponent."

Exiled Soviet Author Granted Immigrant Visa

WASHINGTON (AP) - The State Department Thursday said that exiled Soviet author Alexander Solzhenitsyn and his family have been granted immigrant visas and have been admitted as permanent U.S. residents.

Solzhenitsyn reportedly left Zurich, Switzerland, last month because of alleged harassment by Soviet secret police and is now living in Vermont. Sources in Switzerland said he left there because he suspected he was under constant surveillance by Soviet agents.

His whereabouts in Vermont were not disclosed.

Solzhenitsyn was in Vermont last summer for a week-long seminar at Norwich University in Northfield, and there were reports then that he was looking for property in the state.

He moved to Zurich in February 1974 after being expelled from the Soviet Union. He said at the time he expected to spend a long while in Switzerland and eventually return to the Soviet Union.

He has spent much of the past year doing research at Stanford University in California.

The first professionally trained dentist arrived in the U.S. from Britain in 1776 and the earliest dental school in the U.S. was established 1840.

Investment For Rhodesia Hoped

WASHINGTON (AP) - American and British leaders plan to encourage huge investments of Western money in a future black-ruled Rhodesia as part of their effort to stabilize turbulent southern Africa, senior diplomats say.

Their aim is to insure an independent black-ruled Rhodesia that would not follow nearby Angola's trail toward reliance of the Soviet bloc.

Sources said the project, still in its formative stage, would parallel proposals for another fund insuring the financial and political security of Rhodesia's 270,000 white settlers if and when the country's six million blacks take power.

This insurance fund totaling up to $2 billion would be designed to safeguard the assets of Rhodesia's whites. This fund would provide compensation for those who, after a defined period, might decide to emigrate or who may be forced to sell their properties after black rule is established.

The American-British plan for an investment fund to help black Rhodesia was portrayed by sources here as an evenhanded effort to balance the offer to Rhodesia's white minority. Yet it appears to pack wide implications.

Rhodesia, for instance, is easily the world's major source of scarce chrome and provides other coveted minerals like copper, manganese, and gold, not to mention agricultural products like tobacco and corn.

British, American and other foreign companies have prized interests in the country.

The Ford administration and British Prime Minister James Callaghan's government are not finding it easy to convince likeminded Western nations to pledge meaningful contributions to these programs.

Word of the wider American

British plan came as U.S. Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger prepared to undertake a new mission to Africa in quest of an accord designed to head off dangers of a black-white race war in the region.

Kissinger's new try at shuttle diplomacy is expected to begin with the president of Tanzania, Julius Nyerere, proceed then to President Kenneth Kaunda's Zambia, possibly take in Mozambique and Botswana and wind up in Pretoria, South Africa.

There he may meet Rhodesian Premier Ian Smith, who broke from Britain in a unilateral declaration of independence 11 years ago. If things go well between Vorster and Smith in Pretoria, next week, however, a Kissinger appearance in Salisbury, Rhodesia, is a possibility.

LOCATES SISTER CANTON, Ohio (AP) - With the help of two Ohio mayors, Aristidis Stamatias of Athens, Greece, finally got in touch with his sister, Angelica Berbeles.

Stamatias, who had not seen Mrs. Berbeles since she left Greece 57 years ago, wrote a letter addressed to the "Honorable Mayor of Ohio," seeking information on his sister's whereabouts.

The letter landed in the office of Cincinnati Mayor Bobbie Sterne. He noted that Canton was mentioned in the address and forwarded the letter to Canton Mayor Stanley Cnich.

Cnich passed the letter on to his receptionist Helen Christ, who knew Mrs. Berbeles from St. Haralambos Greek Orthodox Church.

Mrs. Berbeles said she wrote back to her brother immediately.

LoVaca's Customers Offer Final Settlement In Gas Supply Lawsuit

DALLAS (AP)—LoVaca Gathering Co.'s major customers have made what they termed their final proposal for settlement of lawsuits against the firm and its parent company, Coastal States Gas Corp.

The proposal was released Thursday by Louis B. Hulcy, president of Lone Star Gas Co. in Dallas, one of the major customers in litigation with the gas suppliers.

"The next move is up to Coastal," Hulcy said.

In San Antonio, Mayor Lila Cockrell said that city is ready to pursue its case in court should Coastal not accept the customers' proposal.

Coastal officials were unavailable for comment.

Even if Coastal accepts the offer, it would still be subject to approval by most of the LoVaca customers and the Texas Railroad Commission.

The major gas buyers had earlier rejected a settlement offer by LoVaca.

Under terms of the proposal released by Hulcy, Coastal States would:

- Organize and spin off to its shareholders a new company which would own and operate all gas pipeline facilities now owned by LoVaca.

- Commit up to $230 million over a maximum 18-year period to a gas search program in LoVaca's current supply area.

All gas developed during the period would be sold to the new company at prices not more than 85 per cent of intrastate gas market prices, with an obligation to dedicate a minimum of 300 million Mcf million cubic feet of gas to the new company at such prices or incur refund obligations.

- Transfer all its Texas lignite properties to a subsidiary of the new company, with an option to purchase such by certain electric utilities currently depending on LoVaca for gas supply.

Guarantee preferred stock of the new company issued to a settlement trustee for the benefit of its customers at a value of $115 million.

Issue to a settlement trustee shares of common stock of Coastal States with an aggregate of pre-settlement book value of $69 million, or a combination of cash and stock involving a minimum of one million shares, with the cash paid through a short-term installment note not to exceed a five-year period.

Smuggling Goes To The Birds

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Smuggling has traditionally been a fly-by-night operation but smugglers along the Rio Grande have literally gone to the birds.

Parrots, parakeets and other species of birds with colorful plumage and vocabulary are being smuggled into the United States from Mexico "by the thousands," report U.S. Customs and border Patrol officials.

"Right now, there's probably as much money in smuggling birds as there is in narcotics," said C.B. Williams, a U.S. Department of Agriculture inspector at the international bridge linking Brownsville with the Mexican city of Matamoros.

"The most recent case occurred a few weeks ago when the Border Patrol caught some men attempting to smuggle about 300 parrots across the river on a raft," said Williams.

"The men are now in jail and the birds were destroyed."

Williams said yellowheads—parrots with green plumage and a striking yellow crown are the most popular birds due to "their ability to adapt to a vocabulary."

Merchants along the crowded Matamoros market square sell the birds for $15 to $100 depending on the bird's size, age and rarity.

Across the border, the same bird will sell for $200 to $1,500. The smuggling activity exists for the obvious monetary reason plus the stringent regulations of the USDA which fears the birds may be carrying a virus deadly to poultry—the exotic Newcastle disease.

"The last outbreak of this disease in the United States occurred a couple of years ago in California," said Williams. "The disease affects all types of poultry and there is no vaccine. The only way to stamp it out is to destroy the birds."

"The California outbreak cost the poultry industry about $50 million the disease was traced to a smuggled parrot."

The USDA requires a parrot to be in the possession of the owner for at least 90 days before crossing the border said Williams.

"The parrot must be in obvious good health and the owner must agree to let a veterinarian examine the bird during a 30-day period," he added.

Williams said the birds—which can transmit parrot fever to humans—are not kept by the USDA. The owner supplies his name and address and a veterinarian checks the bird for disease during the 30-day period.

The 90-day ownership rule makes it legally impossible for a weekend tourist to buy a parrot in Mexico and transport it across the border.

"We have been trying to educate the tourists to this fact," said Williams. "Still, it's almost a daily occurrence. A person will come to the bridge with a parrot and have to either give it to us to destroy or return it to the merchant in Mexico."

Parrot peddlers in Matamoros, however, urge American bird buyers to put the parrots in paper bags and slip them out of sight when crossing the bridge.

"When we catch a person trying to smuggle a parrot across, we destroy the bird and fine the person the dollar value of the bird," said Williams.

The "dollar value" is in American prices, meaning a tourist could buy a bird for $25 and be fined $200 when caught trying to smuggle.

"People are funny," said a Customs official. "They'll try to get anything by us."

Reinstatement Of Nursing Schools Urged By UT Grad

AUSTIN (AP)—A Houston nurse told a House subcommittee Thursday the dissolution of the University of Texas system school of nursing was part of a "last-ditch effort" by some doctors "against the expanded role of the nurse."

Barbara Frank, a UT nursing graduate, urged the three-member subcommittee to lead the way in reinstating the system school at Austin.

"We demand the right to have authority over our own profession," she said. "Beside nurses will still be trained, but she will never become a handmaiden."

When UT regents voted March 26 to dissolve the system school of nursing, they instructed each of the six schools of nursing in the UT system to administer its own affairs. The schools are at El Paso, San Antonio, Galveston, Houston, Austin and Fort Worth.

Regents said the move would save $300,000, but nurses argued the decision resulted from physicians wanting more control over nursing education.

Ms. Frank said when a heart attack victim is on a table in the emergency room, a well-educated nurse is needed who can say, "Doctor, please come and direct" not one who asks, "Doctor, what should I do?"

Platform Committee Votes To Continue With Presidential Primaries

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Republican party platform committee voted Thursday to recommend to the state convention a continuation of presidential primaries, in Texas, with a winner-take-all provision on election of delegates from congressional or senatorial districts.

The committee also supported creation of a bipartisan reapportionment commission independent of the legislature. But the commission would act only when the legislature fails to redistrict.

Sen. Walter Mengden, R-Houston, argued against those who advocated taking the legislature out of the redistricting process.

"What you are voting on is whether you are going to gerrymander by people you vote on or whether you are going to gerrymander by a commission you cannot vote on," Mengden said.

The committee voted to table discussion on abortions and on the "party purity" requirement that voters register by party.

On Wednesday the committee, discussed crime, parole and probation.

Dole Brings Campaign To Texas

DALLAS (AP)—The 1976 chase for the White House was scheduled to come to Texas today, with Republican vice presidential candidate Bob Dole stopping off in Dallas en route to the State GOP convention in Austin.

Dole was to meet with well-wishers prior to addressing a Rotary Club luncheon here. The Kansas senator has also to tour a treatment center for the Dallas Society for Crippled Children.

Later in the day, President Ford's running mate was to head for Austin, where John Connally was on the reception committee. Connally is ramrodding the Ford-Dole ticket in Texas.

Delegates to the state convention were to meet with Dole tonight with Dole keynoting the convention Saturday.

Dole, Connally and Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., were scheduled to hold a news conference Saturday prior to Dole's departure for Hot Springs, Ark.

Final Approval Expected On Big Tax Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The big tax bill that continues existing income tax cuts is expected to win final congressional approval next week and then be signed by President Ford.

Senate-House tax negotiators settled on final terms Thursday night on the bill containing a sweeping assortment of tax cuts and tax hikes and touching on a wide variety of human affairs from child care to death.

For the average American taxpayer, the bill would continue current $15-million-a-year tax cuts through next year, worth $180 to a typical family of four making $15,000 annually.

Depending on each individual's tax circumstances, there are special features such as aid to the elderly and pensions for housewives. For firms and investors, the bill's territory extends from capital gains and losses to new curbs on tax shelters.

The top two tax-writing Democrats in Congress—Rep. Al Ullman of Oregon and Sen. Russell B. Long of Louisiana—claimed after the compromise sessions that their product is a major legislative initiative and voiced confidence that Ford will sign it.

Some items in the bill reached internationally. For instance, U.S. firms participating in the Arab boycott of Israel and Jewish businessmen could lose millions of dollars in tax benefits.

There also would be simplification of tax tables for that familiar Form 1040.

From the standpoint of the federal budget, the compromise package of tax revisions will gain for the government $1.6 billion—in the budget year beginning next month, thus meeting major revenue-raising goals.

That's bad news for those taxpayers who will pay the extra money. These generally are wealthier persons who will fell, for example, a $1-billion-a-year sharper bite from the so-called minimum tax on the rich.

However, some of American's wealthiest families will benefit most from the proposed comprehensive overhaul of tax law covering major gifts during life and estates at death.

The changes would exempt from inheritance taxes all but the wealthiest 2 per cent of U.S. estates—meaning, for practical purposes, no estate worth under $525,000 would pay this federal levy. About 7 per cent pay estate taxes under present law.

By 1981, the Treasury's annual revenue loss would run $1.4 billion. However, by then, another feature of the package, hiking income taxes of heirs who sell inherited property, would be gaining $162 million.

Over-all the tax cut package is worth $180 for a family of four making $15,000 annually, $182 for a single person earning $8,000, $204 for a couple making $10,000 and $445 for a family of four earning $6,000.

The conference committee voted to raise taxes on the wealthy by raising more revenue from the minimum tax on the rich and by limiting the amount of tax deductions that an investor may take for investing in such tax-shelter operations as moviemaking, farming, real estate, oil and gas equipment leasing and professional sports.

Soviet Rocket Part Falls Into Montana

WASHINGTON (AP)—A large rocket section from a Soviet satellite came down in Montana earlier this week, Pentagon sources report.

The rocket body from the Soviet Cosmos 854 has not yet been recovered by U.S. officials, who say it was tracked by radar.

Sources said the descending rocket body probably looked to spectators like a flaming comet as it passed over Washington state, Idaho, and finally fell in Montana, south of the Canadian border.

According to military sources, debris from Soviet space vehicles drops on the United States from time to time, but usually in small pieces. The rocket section from Cosmos 854 apparently was larger than most that have fallen onto U.S. soil.

There is some question as to how much could be learned from studying the rocket section because it burned as it came down through the atmosphere.

It was tracked by North American Air Defense Command radar which maintains a constant watch on objects approaching the United States.

The Soviet Union generally describes Cosmos satellites as scientific vehicles. But U.S. intelligence officials say many of the Cosmos satellites are reconnaissance vehicles equipped with sensitive cameras, infrared sensors and other electronic devices.

Cosmos spy satellites normally remain aloft for about 12 days before the Russians bring them back down to earth.

The United States also maintains secret spy satellites in orbit over Russia, mainland China and other areas of interest.

But the United States uses a different method of recovering photo-capsules. They are plucked out of the air by specially equipped planes, permitting the satellites to remain in orbit longer.

Economic Warfare Used

WASHINGTON (AP)—The head of a House panel investigating the Arab boycott of Israel said Tuesday the Ford administration has continued to allow American firms to fall prey to "economic warfare" by Arab nations.

Issuing a report on the boycott, Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., said inadequate steps by the Commerce Department and other agencies in dealing with the boycott have compromised U.S. principles of free trade and freedom from religious discrimination.

But Moss said "our principles as a people are not for sale." He described as "highly speculative" administration arguments that the United States would lose trade with the Arabs if it imposed more stringent anti-boycott measures.

"We remain deeply committed to the economic development of Israel and the Arab nation," Moss said.

Confessions Obtained By Torture

AUSTIN (AP)—Don't get arrested in Mexico. That message is unmistakable in dozens of written statements a Texas Law student says he smuggled out of four Mexican prisons.

"I found that U.S. citizens imprisoned in Mexico were subjected to physical torture, extortion and denied procedural justice. Usually a prisoner is held incommunicado for days," said Paul Parsons, 25.

He shared the purported statements from some of them with The Associated Press on Tuesday on the condition that the signers not be identified by name.

President Luis Echeverria has sent Congress bills allowing a prisoner exchange and permitting parole of drug offenders, the category into which most American inmates fall.

The statements given to The AP by Parsons have several common themes:

- The use of torture to extract confessions while being held incommunicado.

- Extortion and physical abuse by prison officials and inmate "mayors" of cell blocks.

- Crooked lawyers who extract huge sums from prisoners' families and then fail to provide representation.

- Some said Mexican authorities didn't hesitate to use the threat of rape as an interrogation tactic against women.

- An American girl's statement said she was arrested at Mexico City's International Airport and was badgered to sign a confession in Spanish even though she didn't know the charges. She said she resisted for five days.

- Finally, "I was pushed into a room where five men were and decided I'd better sign than suffer the consequences. Never knew what I signed," said the American girl.

Nowhere on Cape Cod is the sea more than six miles away.

Seamen in the 18th century were called "tars" because they wore their long hair in tarred pigtails to keep it in place. Large square collars were added to sailors' uniforms to keep the tar from staining their open-necked sweaters.
