

Judge To Rule On Case Later

Woodward-School Trial Testimony Ends

By BOBBY TEMPLETON
Brand News Editor

The face-to-face showdown between the attorneys representing Wayne Woodward, a dismissed teacher from La Plata Junior High School, and legal counsel for the Hereford Independent School District began and almost ended Tuesday in the U.S. district court in Amarillo. No definitive actions resulted.

Federal judge Halbert O. Woodward, presiding over the U.S. Court for the Northern District of Texas, heard all the planned live testimony for the plaintiff Wayne Woodward and for the school district. He said oral arguments would be presented before him in the near future, probably next Tuesday, after he has a chance to read the depositions taken of witnesses involved in the case. These are transcripts of testimony given to lawyers prior to the trial.

A final decision by the judge could be delayed for about two weeks or longer.

The judge will contact lawyers for both sides sometime next week to set up the exact meeting for the oral arguments. These could either be held in Amarillo or Lubbock depending where the judge is hearing cases.

TRIAL PROCEEDINGS were held only before the judge as no jury was called to review facts concerning Woodward's $400,000 civil suit brought against the Hereford School Board of Trustees and two administrators for termination of his employment as an English teacher at La Plata. Defendants, all of whom were present at the trial, include board president Jim Conkwright, former superintendent Roy Hartman, La Plata principal Pat Hughes and school board members Ron Zimmerman, Danny Martin, Jim Arney, James Gentry, Lynton Allred, and Clark Andrews. Zimmerman and Martin were replaced by Mrs. Sallie Strain and David Hutchins as board members.

Woodward's suit asks for damages resulting from his alleged trouble in seeking employment after he was not offered a renewed contract with the school district during its annual acceptance of teachers for the ensuing year. He claims no reasons were ever given to him for employment termination and that his due process right had been violated.

He is being represented in the case by attorney Robin Green of Amarillo and Thomas Griffith, a co-counsel from Lubbock who was hired by the National Education Association (NEA). Woodward is an NEA member.

Local attorneys Earnest Langley and Richard Green represented the defendants.

The suit was filed in July of 1975.

TESTIMONY BEGAN with Woodward taking the stand to tell his version of incidents leading up to his decision to file suit. He said that no real problems existed with his teaching during the first five years of his employment here until a contact from Pat Hughes concerning material he had given to student Pam Whitley concerning membership in the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU).

He did not consider it to be a questionable practice until he was contacted in the spring semester of 1975 by Hughes. The principal approached Woodward and asked that the material in question not be passed out. Woodward said he cooperated.

The initial request for the ACLU material came from Whitley, 16, who now lives with her parents in San Antonio; she read in the Hereford Brand that Woodward was a vice president of the ACLU and she asked him about the organization. She later joined with Woodward's help.

Hughes confirmed in later testimony that he asked the teacher about the material and said that such material was not appropriate for the maturity level of the students Woodward was teaching (8th grade). "We're still in the Bible Belt," Hughes said he told Woodward that community standards would no doubt determine that the ACLU material was controversial.

The principal delivered a letter to Woodward on Feb. 12, 1975 explaining to Woodward that he was on probation. It was addressed to Hartman detailing reasons by Hughes for the action. Essentially, it said Woodward possessed "hostile attitudes" toward superiors and

Tripling Of Sugar Import Tariff Pleases Mahon

By JIM STEIERT
Brand News Editor

Members of the Hereford-based Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers Association were elated to learn Tuesday that President Ford is raising the import duty on sugar from the present 62.5 cents per hundred pounds to $1.87½ per hundred pounds, in an effort to protect domestic sugar producers.

FORD POINTED out in an announcement of the levy on foreign sugar Tuesday that the higher tariff is an "interim measure", and that he will

Police Notified Of Arrest Of Rape Suspect

Amarillo Police notified the Hereford Police Department yesterday that they had arrested a suspect in several rape cases in their city, and that the individual might also be a suspect in the Sept. 2 rape-stabbing of a 21 year old Hereford woman at her home here.

According to a spokesman for the HPD, a call was received from the Amarillo department Tuesday morning, informing local authorities of the arrest.

City officers are now in the process of checking out the suspect and determining if evidence is sufficient to file charges against him in connection with the local rape case.

Self Defense Class For Girls Opens Tonight

A six week self defense class for high school girls will get underway tonight at 6 o'clock at the Community Center.

The class, which will be taught in one hour sessions, will be conducted by Paul Ramirez, who holds a black belt in karate. Students will be shown how to protect themselves from attackers, intruders or robbers.

The class is free to interested high school girls, and students may enroll by calling Diane Springer at 364-3593 or Ramirez at 364-2323.

According to Ramirez, mothers are requested to accompany their daughters to the first class session.

review the action after a thorough examination of the entire sugar situation by the U.S. International Trade Commission.

U.S. sugar producers saw the price of raw sugar begin a steady decline in July, and are now looking at a market situation which virtually rules out any profit for either sugarbeet or sugarcane growers.

The major backslide in the marketplace occurred in August, with prices plummeting from a high of $45 a ton for raw sugar a year ago to only $21 a ton this August.

The President's action was hailed as a step in the right direction by 19th Congressional District Representative George Mahon of Lubbock.

"I APPLAUD the president for taking this step," Mahon told The Brand in a phonecall Tuesday afternoon. "We must enact a new Sugar Bill, but this interim action by the President will help an impossible situation," he added.

Mahon emphasized that the Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers Association is desperately concerned with the sugar market situation, and added, "the disastrously low price is about to get the U.S. sugar industry into an impossible situation."

Mahon and Congressman Jack Hightower and Bob Poage were among those requesting the President to take some action on the sugar matter.

JAY BOSTON of Hereford, president of the Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers Association, reported that local beet growers had already been given a bleak outlook for the market situation on sugar this year, and the President's announcement Tuesday came as welcome news to area beet producers.

"We had John Bunker, president of Holly Sugar Corporation here Sept. 14, and he told us that growers would do well to break even this year, due to the market situation," Boston commented. "This increase in the tariff should certainly help the situation, because prospects were for a continuing downfall in the price of sugar. This news came at a particularly good time locally, because a lot of our crops are in trouble. A lot of the corn is falling due to spider mite damage, and the market on wheat has dropped drastically to a dangerously low level. We needed some good news," he added.

The increased sugar tariff is expected to have no effect on the consumer price of sugar, because of the volumes of raw sugar on the market, but producers are expected to get more money.

Ford had been urged by Republican senators to triple the sugar import tariff.

New Doctor

Dr. Hugh Pennington and his wife Mary were in Hereford this week visiting with associates of his new medical practice which started here Monday.

He will work with Dr. Gerald Payne and Dr. Duffy McBrayer at the Family Medical Clinic.

Dr. Pennington Joins Local Clinic

Dr. Hugh Pennington, who will work out of the Family Medical Clinic at 807 W. Park, is the newest medical addition to Hereford after starting his practice locally on Monday.

Dr. Pennington, and his wife Mary, will move to Hereford in the near future, and are commuting from Amarillo until they purchase a home here.

HEREFORD'S NEWEST physician is a graduate of the University of Arkansas School of Medicine, and practiced for 22 years in Lubbock before moving to Amarillo in 1974.

The 54-year-old Pennington has a varied background, which includes internship at Scott & White Hospital in Temple, two teaching appointments in the Texas Tech University School of Medicine, and duty with the U.S. Army, U.S. Army Reserve, and U.S. Army Medical Corps.

A native of Arkansas, Dr. Pennington said he moved to Hereford at the urging of several local physicians. "I was approached by several local doctors, came over, and liked what I saw...especially the people," Dr. Pennington said.

Mrs. Pennington echoed the sentiment. "Everyone I've seen in Hereford has had a big smile on their face," she said.

DR. PENNINGTON served for two years as an Associated professor in Family Practice Residency Program at the Texas Tech University School of Medicine. His duties while in that position included undergraduate and resident teaching and the organization of continuing education.

While in Lubbock Dr. Pennington was on the staff of six different hospitals, working mainly with Highland Hospital.

While in the service he served as a lab technician in Pathology from 1943-46, was a battalion surgeon in Korea and a regimental surgeon at Ft. Hood, and retired with the rank of Captain. He was also awarded the Bronze Star.

Dr. Pennington has also served on the Board of Directors and as president of the Lubbock Day Nursery, assisted in organizing the Hub Lions Club in Lubbock, and served as president of that organization, and is currently a member of the Tascosa Lions Club in Amarillo.

Group to Back Mahon in Race

A large group of Deaf Smith County citizens have organized a "George Mahon for Congress Committee", it was announced today by Homer Garrison, who was selected to head the countywide effort as county campaign chairman.

Purpose of the group will be to actively support Congressman Mahon in his race for reelection as representative of the 19th U.S. Congressional District. Several meetings have been held in recent weeks and two other Hereford residents will help direct the campaign.

Jay Boston has been named as finance chairman, and Clint Formby will be campaign coordinator. Garrison said the veteran Texas Congressman has confirmed that he will visit Hereford and Deaf Smith County residents during the campaign. "Those participating in our organizational meetings have been most enthusiastic about the prospect of personally assisting George Mahon in his bid for reelection," Garrison stated. "Deaf Smith citizens have experienced the benefits of effective representation from Mr. Mahon for many, many years, and we feel especially fortunate that we were placed in his district four years ago."

Garrison urged everyone interested to get involved in the committee's activities. "Our committee will be working on various campaign projects during the coming weeks, and we want as many people as possible to participate in this volunteer effort," Garrison added.

Day Care Study Released

WASHINGTON (AP)-A federal study says community-based adult day care centers to help care for millions of disabled and chronically ill Americans should be expanded.

The centers are needed for more than 5 million Americans 65 years or older who are not institutionalized but who are limited in the kinds of activities they can undertake, says the report prepared for the Senate Special Committee on Aging. Community-based adult day care centers would be an alternative to institutional care.

OCEANSIDE, Calif. (AP)-After years of putting up a brave front, this town is ready to admit it's having a tough time luring tourists.

Reaction Doesn't Worry Carter

PLAINS, Ga. (AP)-Democratic presidential nominee Jimmy Carter said today he is not dismayed by reaction to his statements that he has "looked on a lot of women with lust" and "committed adultery in my heart." He said he doesn't think it has hurt his campaign.

Carter responded to questions from reporters as he got into his car after completing an early morning inspection of his peanut processing operation.

Record Bill Considered

WASHINGTON (AP)-Legislation that would limit access to personal records kept by financial institutions, telephone and credit card companies has been introduced in Congress.

The bill submitted Tuesday by Rep. Edward I. Koch, D-N.Y., and Rep. Barry Goldwater Jr., R-Calif., would require either an individual's written consent, an administrative subpoena that the individual could challenge, or a court subpoena with notice to the individual before records could be disseminated.

that he was not properly following instructions from superiors. HUGHES WAS VAGUE when he testified to questions by the attorneys and Judge Woodward concerning exact examples of Woodward not following orders.

When the judge pinned him down, Hughes said the ACLU material use was such a situation although he did not state any specific times when Woodward continued to pass out forbidden information after having been told not to. Hughes claimed that such was knowledge of most teachers that any controversial subject matter needed prior clearance with the principal before its use in class. Arguments arose on this contention since the only written such policy was found in a 1969 copy of an administrative handbook.

Hughes said that he understood procedure was for teachers to seek prior clearance on all controversial topics or material to be considered in classes and that the teachers had to determine the nature of the subject. However, he said noncontroversial material did not require permission before hand.

Concerning an example of controversial subjects, Robin Green asked if Hughes considered archeology to be an example. Hughes answered no, but that it included Darwin's theory on evolution that it might be considered unacceptable for discussion in a classroom.

At first, Hughes said the ACLU was not solely the reason why he recommended Woodward for a renewed contract but later he said, "It had nothing to do with it."

After a question from the judge, Hughes said he didn't mean to use the word "solely" and reaffirmed that his only consideration was the attitude which Woodward displayed and that he did not follow instructions.

WOODWARD, WHO is now working on a second masters degree in Weatherford, Okla., said he told Hughes he wouldn't use the ACLU material (consisting of a student rights handbook and an ACLU membership form) since he knew "the mood of the community" after the principal spoke with him.

After the letter was delivered from Hughes, Woodward said he didn't want to talk about it anymore until he spoke with his attorney Green. The lawyer wrote a letter on Feb. 20, 1975 to the schools stating that all correspondence was to be routed through him and not Woodward.

Woodward thought at the time that his career was in jeopardy and that termination of employment was possible and therefore needed protection.

A second letter was sent to the school district by Robin Green on Feb. 28, 1975 concerning an incident when Hughes allegedly tried to talk about the Woodward case. Hughes was unsure of exactly what he might have talked about although Woodward said he was approached on the subject.

THE DEFENSE RELIED heavily on the contention that Green and Woodward prevented a communications handicap for Hughes since he still had to work with Woodward on a day-to-day basis. Langley said the plaintiff prevented the school administration from giving any reasons for the dismissal and obstructed the principal from working out any problems existing with Woodward.

Hughes said he tried to work it out with

Woodward, noting that "no communication gap existed until about January (1975)."

In a school board hearing held before the school board June 2, 1975, at the request of Woodward, no administration or school board members were allowed to be questioned. Langley claimed this was to protect Woodward's due process and reputation.

Conkright testified that he gave the instruction that no questions be asked of Hartman and Hughes. He said that the board usually takes the recommendation of the superintendent and principal concerning contract renewals.

"The school board never overrides a recommendation unless extreme circumstances exist," he said. "There were none in this case."

He said the usual procedure was for principals to talk over with teachers their employment contracts and pass on recommendations to the superintendent, who in turn gives them to the school board. "We rely on the recommendations."

Hartman, who has served as superintendent of the Grapevine School District since Aug. 1, 1976, supported Conkright's statements and expressed no derogatory feelings for the ACLU. "I think I probably ought to be a member of it...and maybe others too," he said.

He said his only reasons for not recommending Woodward was the attitude Woodward allegedly displayed toward superiors.

The Hereford Brand, Hereford, Texas, Wednesday, September 22, 1976

Weatherford school district called La Plata English teacher, took the stand as a character witness for Woodward. She said after team teaching with Woodward for one year, she thought he related well with the students and stayed on the subject matter presented.

Both the defense and plaintiff counsels closed their court presentations at about 3:40 p.m. subject to the oral arguments and deposition.

The courtroom was sparsely filled with interested Hereford citizens. About 15 local residents attended the trial besides principal participants. Among them was Dr. Harrell Holder, the new Hereford superintendent.

reduce sugar import quotas and remove sugar from a list of commodities which can be imported duty-free from developing countries.

FORD ELECTED to go with the action on the tariff, but left the other two items to be decided after a trade commission study.

A spokesman for the U.S. Sugar Corporation indicated that although the tariff hike is welcomed by U.S. farmers, it won't solve the problems ailing the domestic sugar industry, because wholesale sugar prices still remain below production costs.

"The farmers will be losing money, even with this new tariff in effect, and they won't continue producing sugar for long if they are going to be losing money at it," said the spokesman.

"Yes, we know there were some errors in last week's paper. We will further agree that there were some errors in the issue of the week before, but before bawling us out too unmercifully about it, we want to call your attention to these facts.

"In an ordinary newspaper column, there are 10,000 letters and there are seven possible wrong positions for each letter--making 70,000 chances to make errors and several million changes for transposition. There are 64 columns in an 8-page paper, so you can readily see the chances for mistakes.

"Did you know that in the sentence 'To be or not to be', by transposition alone, 2.7 million errors can be made? Now aren't you sorry you got mad about that little mistake last week?"

Environmental Groups Open Campaign Against Water Development Bonds

AUSTIN (AP)—Environmental groups fired their opening shot Tuesday in a campaign to defeat a proposed constitutional amendment that would authorize another $400 million in Texas water development bonds.

Amendment No. 1 on the Nov. 2 election ballot would threaten the environment and be an economic mistake, leaders of Environmental Action for Texas said at a news conference.

Richard Tims, chairman, said the proposition would give the Texas Water Development Board "open ended and uncontrolled" authority to spend millions on water projects.

He said the fund still contains $169 million, and the water development board has not told Texans how it would spend the additional money it wants to raise through new water bonds.

Richard Shannon, another spokesman for the group, called a proposal a "$400 million blank check for six people appointed by the governor to spend. It seems to me incumbent on the water development board to tell the people why they want this $400 million blank check."

He speculated the money might be used to convey water from East Texas to the lower Rio Grande Valley.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe has appointed a McAllen accountant to lead the campaign for passage of the bond amendment.

Shannon said the board appeared to be using its 20 forums around the state on water planning as a device to campaign for the amendment.

He said the taxpayers have covered a $25 million shortfall since 1967 between the debt service requirements on existing bonds and the amounts raised from sale of water from reservoirs they financed.

Tims presented a position paper that concluded that "present water supplies are adequate and the TWDB is sufficiently funded to maintain and even reasonably increase these supplies. A gigantic crash program would bring economic and fiscal disaster."

The board has authority to lend money to local authorities for reservoir construction and to spend money to increase the capacity of proposed reservoirs. It also has planning authority, and director James Rose says he is preparing a new statewide water plan for presentation to the 1977 legislature.

Environmental Action for Texas' position statement said that under board policies, "the cost of the new projects is borne by all, but...only relatively few benefit. Increasing the bonding authority would only increase the inequity."

"East Texas will lose water, farmland and forests. It will receive a mixed bag of economic and environmental pluses and minuses. Coastal industries, municipalities and development interests will gain water at a price, but the near-by estuaries will lose nutrients and peak water inflow damaging the coastal fishery industry, and coastal erosion will increase even more, as the river sediments are trapped behind the dams," the statement said.

Transportation Prime Need Of Elderly People

AUSTIN (AP)—Elderly persons need transportation more than anything else, a House subcommittee's tentative report concludes.

Mobility would allow them to take care of a number of their other needs, according to the report.

"Lack of easy access to transportation limits the independence of the elderly, restricts their activities and impedes their ability to take advantage of desirable services," the report says.

"Many other problems could be alleviated by adequate transportation-medical care may be difficult because of lack of transportation to the doctor and nutrition may suffer because of inability to get to a grocery store. The lack of transportation is at the heart of various service delivery problems. The problem of adequate transportation is especially acute in rural areas," the report says.

The Special Areas Subcommittee of the House Social Services Committee held public hearings in Austin, Arlington, Waco, Houston, Lubbock, El Paso, McAllen and San Antonio.

The subcommittee suggests school buses could be used to help solve the transportation problem for the elderly. This would require repealing a state law that prohibits such usage of school buses. With the repeal, local organizations could negotiate with school districts.

The report also recommends: -Use of school lunchrooms in providing service for the elderly.

-Use of home economics classes to prepare some of the food used in nutrition programs for the elderly.

-Enactment of a law allowing drugs to be sold by generic names at a savings estimated at 45 per cent.

-Vigorous enforcement of age discrimination laws and reassessment of mandatory retirement policies.

-Making the $3,000 home-stead exemption for those over 65 mandatory.

TRC Rejects Higher Rates For Two Natural Gas Firms

AUSTIN (AP)—The railroad commission rejected motions Tuesday by High Plains Natural Gas Co. and Southern Union Gas Co. for interim natural gas rate increases.

It also dismissed the appeal of Lone Star Gas Co. in a Palestine rate case.

High Plains had sought an interim, or temporary, rate increase, pending a final commission order on High Plains' request to raise residential and commercial rates in the rural areas of Booker, Canadian, Higgins, Mobeetie, Perryton and Spearman.

Southern Union asked the commission for an interim rate increase in Galveston, after the city refused this request for higher rates.

Lone Star appealed after Palestine turned down a request for a state increase, but the commission dismissed the appeal because it was filed too late—61 days after the proposed increase was rejected.

In other action, the commission: -Granted Lone Star rate changes in Sulphur Springs and Snyder. The monthly bill for using 10,000 cubic feet of gas a month will go up $1.03 in Sulphur Springs and will drop six cents in Snyder.

-Granted 90-cent a month rate increases for Wheeler Gas, Inc., in Allison and Briscoe in Wheeler County.

-Set an Oct. 14 hearing on the legal effect of Rio Grande Valley Gas Co.'s filing a statement of intent to change rates when the company has pending before the commission a proposed rate increase.

Shorter's body was found Aug. 11. County Medical Examiner Feliks Gwozdz originally ruled the death a suicide by strangulation after other inmates told deputies Shorter hanged himself. The ruling later was changed to homicide, pending further investigation.

Parents Of Slain Prisoner File Suit

FORT WORTH (AP)—Lawyers for Mr. and Mrs. E.L. Shorter have filed a $100,000 lawsuit against Tarrant County, alleging negligence in the death of their son, 20, in the county jail.

The suit came 18 days after the Shorters learned that jail inmates testified that their son, Ricky, was murdered while incarcerated in the jail.

Sterling Steves, lawyer for the Shorters, alleged the county was negligent in placing the son in a cell that was not suitably segregated from inmates known to be violent and failing to provide Shorter with adequate security.

A letter to Dist. Atty. Tim Curry from an inmate prompted an investigation by Curry's staff. Murder charges were filed against two inmates. Three charges of aggravated sexual abuse were filed against one of the murder suspects and two other inmates.

County legal advisor Cue Lipscomb said last week that $100,000 is the maximum for which the county can be sued in such matters.

Bus Riders In State Increase Only Slightly

AUSTIN (AP)—Despite gasoline prices that nearly doubled, the number of bus riders in Texas cities increased only 2.9 per cent from 1973 to 1975, the Department of Highways and Public Transportation reports.

The department said several employe strikes in 1974 caused a .3 per cent decline, but there were no strikes in 1975.

Eighteen cities had "significant transit systems" in 1974-75, the department said.

Ridership in Houston, Dallas, and San Antonio increased from 86,163,925 to 89,952,889, a 4.4 per cent hike.

In Fort Worth, El Paso, Austin and Corpus Christi, a total of 22,864,352 persons rode buses in 1973, compared with 20,898,265 in 1975, a decrease of 8.6 per cent.

In Harlingen, 2,750,000 persons rode buses in 1973, compared with 2,946,996, up 7.2 per cent.

H.S. Braden, a consulting engineer told council that unless rates are increased the city will be unable to sell $35 million in revenue bonds later this year.

He said the bonds must be sold to finance the cost of keeping up the growth of the city and converting the system from well water to surface lake water. He said the shift to surface water is required because of land subsidence being caused by the withdrawal of underground water.

A typical household with a monthly consumption of 8,000 gallons would be charged $7.90 compared with $6.50 under the present rate, a 21.5 per cent increase.

Textbook Committee Rejects Volumes

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—The State Textbook Committee has rejected all seven proposed textbooks for a course required by state law on free enterprise.

One of the books was criticized for 3 1/2 hours at the committee's hearing Aug. 18 by Drusilla Bearden of San Angelo, who said it reminded her of the teachings of Mao Tse-tung.

Eleven of the 15 members of the committee abstained on the only ballot taken last week on the proposed textbooks. A textbook must get 10 or more votes before it can be recommended to the State Board of Education.

Mrs. Bearden, representing the Daughters of the American Revolution, complained about American Book Co.'s "Fundamentals of Free Enterprise the books say.

Mrs. Bearden said this amounted to urging students to "harass the businessman" in a way that "reflects the thoughts of Chairman Mao."

At one place, the set declares the United States has "a political system we call a democracy."

ORSBORN BUICK-PONTIAC- GMC

When you enter the building at 142 North Miles Ave, you are entering the well-known John Orsborn Buick-Pontiac-GMC dealership, one of Hereford's finest and most progressive auto dealerships.

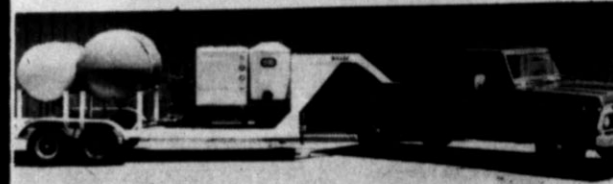

Mr. John Orsborn moved to Hereford in 1957 and purchased the Chevrolet-Oldsmobile dealership and operated in until 1970 when he sold the business and bought the Buick-Pontiac dealership. In 1973, the building suffered heavy fire damage and remodeled and expanded to allow for more showroom and service areas. Since his beginning, Orsborn has succeeded in acquiring only the best personnel to operate the sales and service departments, so when you need a new or good used car or your present auto serviced, you will know that you will find only the best personnel to handle your automotive needs at the Orsborn business.

Back in 1960, Mr. Earl Stagner came to work for Orsborn as manager of auto sales and in 1973, became a partner in this growing and progressive Hereford business.

Presently the firm employs four salesmen, two ladies in the business office, three parts men with one DE student and nine technicians in the service department. Everyone working at the dealership hold firm to the fact that they are here to offer only the best service and want all their patrons to know that they appreciate their business in the past and look forward to a great future.

Herd Tops District In Total Offense

By BOB NIGH
Brand Sports Editor

The Hereford Whitefaces are the most potent offensive eleven in District 4-4A after three weeks of play despite a 1-2 record. The Herd is no slouch on defense either, and ranks second in that category.

Hereford is averaging 265.3 total yards-per-game to lead second place Monterey, which is averaging 223.0 markers per outing.

The Whitefaces have 563 yards rusing on 144 carries, and have added 233 more yards through the air while hitting on 17 of 41 passing attempts.

The Plainsmen hold down second place in offense with 507 rushing yards, and 162 more through the air.

Hereford's defense ranks second only to the Plainsmen after three games, and is averaging 223.3 yards-per-game given up to opponents. Monterey holds the top spot with an average of 215 yards per contest.

The Herd is third in scoring with 49 points, one behind Lubbock High, and nine behind Monterey, which leads the district with 58 points scored.

In contrast, Hereford has given up more points than any other district member, 66. Lubbock is second in the category having given up 54 points.

Two statistics which show why the Herd has won only a single game this year are in fumbles and interceptions. The Whitefaces lead the district in total fumbles with 14, and are also on top in fumbles lost with eight.

Hereford leads district members in interceptions with four, but also leads the league in interceptions by opponents with six.

In individual categories Hereford's James McDowell still leads district receivers with seven catches for 95 yards.

Lubbock's Robert Carrasco is close behind with six receptions good for 94 yards.

Herd wingback Roy Martinez is third in receiving with 67 yards on five catches, three of which have gone for touchdowns.

Hereford tight end Rowan Alexander holds down fifth in receiving with four catches and 56 yards.

Carlee Graves tops Herd rushers with 133 yards on 27 totes, good for seventh place in the district. Monterey's David Griffith leads the league with 261 yards on 50 carries.

Kelly Kitchens (125 yards), Russell Harkins (122 yards), and Martinez (116 yards) rank ninth, 10th and 11th respectively among rushers.

Jim Lawson is second among district passers. The Herd senior has hit on 9 of 18 attempts for 129 yards and three touchdowns. Only Lugo, who has completed one pass on one attempt has a better percentage than Lawson's .500 mark.

Kitchens is sixth in passing this week, having hit on eight of 23 attempts for 104 yards and one touchdown.

Hereford's Martinez took the league scoring lead after grabbing two passes for touchdowns against Borger and kicking one PAT.

Martinez has 31 points on the year with three touchdowns on passes, two rushing, and the extra point. Lubbock's Lugo is second with 26 points on four touchdowns and one two-point conversion.

In defensive stats Hereford's Greg Brockman is second in tackles with 38 stops. Lubbock linebacker Casey Smyth currently leads district defenders with 49 tackles.

Booster Club Will Sell Stadium Bags

The Hereford Whitefaces Booster Club has made plans to sell stadium bags or "Snug Bugs" for fans who looking ahead to cold night at Herd football games.

The bags, which are designed to cover a person's legs up to his waist, will sell for $15, and can be purchased from any Booster Club member.

At their meeting Tuesday night the club heard coach Fred Upshaw's evaluation of his team's performance following the 28-21 loss to Borger last week.

"We just did not perform when we had to perform," the coach said. "In three games we have had 25 turnovers, and there's just no reason for a team of our caliber to have that many turnovers."

Upshaw told the boosters that some changes have been made by the coaching staff this week for the game with Canyon.

"We've changed our work-outs a little, moved some personnel around, and made adjustments to our offense and defense," Upshaw said.

As he put it, "we're going to change horses a little this week and ride a winner we hope...there's no question about our ability."

In a scouting report on Canyon, coach Danny Haney called the Eagles "probably the best team we will have faced this year."

The Eagles employ the Wishbone offense basically, but also sport a diversified offense with three other sets, Haney told the boosters.

"They are going to be extremely hard to beat," Haney said in summing up the Eagles.

Ladies' Day at baseball parks was inaugurated by the Cincinnati Reds in 1889.

Reds Celebrate NL West Title

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

It was champagne time in Cincinnati, a chance for the Reds to cavort in the lockerroom and let loose after a long summer of hotel rooms and plane rides.

Rookie pitcher Pat Azchry, whose eight-hit, 9-1 victory over the San Diego Padres clinched the National League West title for the Reds, cavorted in a Groucho Marx rubber mask, flicking an imaginary cigar at anyone who wandered within range.

Veteran slugger Tony Perez, his head crowned by a towel turban, chanted "Here comes da judge." Catcher Johnny Bench chided club president Bob Howsam over the executive's inability to uncork a stubborn bottle of bubbly.

But Manager Sparky Anderson, standing aside from the celebration, kept matters in focus.

"We know this was the easy part," said the silver-haired Cincinnati skipper, whose troops have won five NL West Crowns in the past seven years. "It's been 54 years since a National League team has won back-to-back world championships-and that's our goal."

"That would be a tremendous feather in our caps."

Elsewhere in the National League Tuesday, the Los Angeles Dodgers edged the San Francisco Giants 3-2; the Pittsburgh Pirates split a double-header with the Chicago Cubs, winning the opener 4-3 and then losing 2-1 in 13 innings; the Philadelphia Phillies beat the St. Louis Cardinals 5-1; the Montreal Expos shut out the New York Mets 4-0, and the Atlanta Braves topped the Houston Astros 6-2.

The Reds have a relatively easy road to the NL West title, staying within three games of first place through the early going and taking the lead to stay on May 29. They widened their lead over second-place Los Angeles to 1 1/2 games in mid-August, watched calmly as the Dodgers closed to within seven games, then put things on ice by winning seven of nine games in early September.

Zachry raised his record to 14-5, best on the club, giving up a run in the first inning and shutting out San Diego the rest of the way.

The Red tied it in the fourth when George Foster tripled and scored on a wild pitch. Cincinnati went ahead 3-1 in the fifth on a double by Foster and a run-scoring single by Dave Concepcion.

They broke it open with four runs in the sixth, Johnny Bench and Tony Perez drilling two-run singles. Joe Morgan and Foster had RBI singles in the seventh to close out the scoring.

Dodgers 3, Giants 2

Ron Cey hit his 23rd home run of the season in the eighth inning off San Francisco reliever Randy Moffitt to snap a 2-2 tie for the Dodgers. The game was in the third inning when the Dodgers learned they had been eliminated by the Reds.

Phils 5, Cards 1

Dick Allen was the catalyst for the Phils, belting a home run and two doubles as Philadelphia extended its lead in the NL East to five games over Pittsburgh. The Phils have 13 games remaining, the Pirates just 11.

Allen started a two-out, three-run outburst in the fourth inning with his first double, scoring on Johnny Oates' single. Larry Bowa also had a run-scoring single and the other run scored on an error by third baseman Hector Cruz.

The Phils made it 4-0 in the sixth when Mike Schmidt hit his 36th homer off the left field foul. Allen's 15th homer accounted for the final run in the eighth.

Mrs. Smith Wins Berth At Fair

Mrs. Raymond Smith will be competing for honors in Amarillo's Tri-State Fair this week, it was announced to her fellow members of Ford Extension Club Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Chuck Stokesberry.

Mrs. Smith earned the right to compete on this higher level by taking first place honors in baking and jelly divisions of the recent Deaf Smith County Fair. It was announced by Mrs. Bobby Kendrick that her husband also took honors in drawing, painting and crafts at the local fair.

During a lengthy business session directed by Mrs. Stokesberry, Mrs. Larry Glover reported activities of Ford 4-H Club. Also, a letter was read from Mary Ann Resendez, a Girlstown resident who is sponsored by the Ford chapter. Miss Resendez revealed that she will be returning soon to her home.

Mrs. Kendrick submitted a letter of appreciation for the Ford Club's nomination that won her recognition as an Outstanding Young Woman of America for 1976.

Members answered roll call with "What I'd Like To Know About Blenders." This coordinated with the program presented by County Extension Agent Joyce Shipp.

Recognized as guest were Mmes. Shipp, Kelly Freeman, Harry Borman, Jimmy Atkins, and John Sublets.

Regular members in attendance were Mmes. Frank Borman, Glover, Kendrick, John Smith, Raymond Smith and Stokesberry.

Ann Landers Wedding Custom Questioned

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A friend of mine is getting married soon. She was born in Eastern Europe but came to this country when she was three years old. Nothing about her is European except her parents -- and their ideas.

Three hundred guests have been invited to the wedding. I received my invitation in the mail yesterday. There was a separate card in the envelope which read, "We are having a money dance. Come prepared. Bring pins along with your folding money."

I had never heard of a money dance and was intrigued with the bit about the pins. I asked the bride what it was all about. She told me it's a custom in the country of her birth for the guests to pin money on the bride's veil. She added, "I've seen some brides make as much as $500 in an evening."

I am flabbergasted. How do you feel about turning a wedding into a fundraiser? Think I'll Develop A Migraine

DEAR MIGRAINE: If it's an ethnic custom, the family does not consider it gauche, but I can see why some of their friends from different backgrounds might. Don't develop a migraine. Go and have a good time. But leave your pins and folding money at home.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a 22-year-old virgin and a bit of a phony. Ever since age 15, I've been posing as a "paragon of virtue," saying "No, no, no," first to the teenage boys and now to the men. They all had pegged as a highly-principled, moralistic lady but the truth is I'm terrified of having sex. I've been aware of this fear for a long time but it wasn't a problem to me until now.

Three months ago I met "Mr. Perfect." We've indulged in some light petting but I'm sure our love will grow deeper and stronger and he's going to want more. (So will I.) Although "Mr. P." isn't in a position to get married for at least a year, we've discussed it. He's the man I want for my life-time partner. Now I need to know how to overcome this sick fear of sexual intercourse. -- All Together But Only Physically

DEAR ALL: Some early traumatic experience (now forgotten) has left its mark on you. It must be dedged up, hashed out and disposed of. This is no "Do-It-Yourself" project, dear. You need counseling. If you can't afford a private therapist, look in the phone book for your county or state Mental Health Association. And please, let me know how you make out -- I mean give me a progress report. (Boy, how language has changed since I started to write this column!)

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My wife left me three weeks ago. Rosie and I had some problems that could have been talked out but her older sister who lived in Colorado sent her an airplane ticket and she left me.

I've written Rosie at least five letters asking her to come home. When I called her long-distance last night she said she had received only one letter. I was lucky she picked up the phone. Usually her sister answers and hangs up on me. What should I do, Ann?--I'm Heartsick And Lonesome

DEAR H AND L: If you want your wife back, don't write and don't phone. GO get her.

How young is too young for a child to learn about sex? That's just one thing you'll find in Ann Lander's new booklet, "How, What and When To Tell Your Child About Sex." Send 50 cents in coin, along with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Illinois 60120.

HD Member Gives Report In Her Home

Mrs. Pete Carmichael reported on the activities of Deaf Smith County Home Demonstration Council Tuesday afternoon in her home for members of Progressive Extension Club.

Mrs. Taft McGee conducted the opening exercise and Mrs. Horace Hershey read the minutes and financial statement. Mrs. Tom Melugin was greeted as a new member.

It was announced that all HD members are invited to an HD Council luncheon at Community Center on Sept. 27.

County Extension Agent Joyce Shipp was introduced for a program on the usage of blenders. She demonstrated the preparation of a beverage, party dip and pastry with the small kitchen appliance. Mrs. Ship also listed pointers for purchasing a blender.

Other members in attendance included Mmes. A.B. Jacobs, Dean Stallings, Gerald Townsend and Johnnie Townsend.

U.N. Sets Aside Korean Question

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The 31st annual session of the U.N. General Assembly got down to housekeeping chores today after a smooth opening meeting in which the Korean question, one of its most troublesome perennial issues, was set aside.

Today's program called for election of vice presidents and committee chairmen to sit with the assembly president on the steering committee.

Acting at North Korea's request, 34 supporters of the Communist government withdrew their annual resolution calling for dissolution of the United Nations Command in South Korea and the withdrawal of the 40,000 American troops there.

Japan, the United States and 19 other allies of South Korea then withdrew their agenda item calling for "constructive dialogue and negotiation toward a peaceful settlement of the Korean problem and the reunification of Korea."

Neither of the Koreans is a member of the United Nations.

Some observers speculated that the North Korean regime was preoccupied with economic problems and rivalry among would-be successors to President Kim Il-sung, who is reported ill.

Some thought the North Koreans feared that the cool reception given them at the nonaligned summit conference last month indicated a smaller vote this year for the resolution favoring them. The 1975 Assembly adopted both Korean resolutions, voting 59-51 for the South Korean one and 54-43 for the North Korean.

Sri Lanka's ambassador, Hamilton S. Amerasinghe, was elected president of the Assembly and said in his inaugural speech that racial discrimination and repression by the white minority governments in Rhodesia and South Africa "have brought the world to the brink of disaster."

He called for "honest, resolute and united action on the part of the entire United Nations membership, especially the countries best placed to influence these offending and offensive regimes."

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger addresses the Assembly next week and is expected to report on the progress he has made in his current attempt to set up negotiations between the blacks and whites.

Amerasinghe criticized the U.S. decision to veto Vietnam's application for U.N. membership, saying the Vietnamese had "established beyond cavil their credentials" for membership by "achieving their unification through the free will of their people." He also complained of "caustic and even offensive criticism of the U.N. majority," a clear reference to the outspoken former American delegate, Daniel Patrick Moynihan.

Moynihan's successor, Ambassador William W. Scranton, ignored Amerasinghe's criticisms and told the Assembly he was pleased to see "so distinguished a statesman presiding over this great gathering."

KINSHASA, Zaire (AP)—Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger in effect told Prime Minister Ian Smith, "The game is up."

The Rhodesian leader and the three cabinet colleagues who accompanied him last weekend to Pretoria, the South African capital, had already heard much the same thing from Prime Minister John Vorster of South Africa, their lone foreign supporter.

Smith and his men buckled and agreed to advise their cabinet in Salisbury to yield power to the black majority, after 11 years of rebellious independence.

This account of the crucial talks in Pretoria last Sunday is based on reports from U.S. sources and African diplomats in Zambia and Tanzania.

The Rhodesian leaders behaved with dignity as Kissinger emphasized five major points in his assessment of the situation:

1. After 11 years of illegal statehood, Rhodesia today remains in quarantine by the world community.

2. After a few more years of escalating guerrilla activity by independence-seeking blacks, the white regime will find itself progressively beleaguered and unable to defend its supporters, especially when the summer rains immobilize its tanks and armor.

3. After the collapse of Portugal's empire in Africa, the perils of Soviet and Cuban intervention were dramatically displayed in Angola and could spill over into Rhodesia.

4. With world pressures on South Africa's white minority government mounting, prospects of active South African support can only diminish because that regime also may become the target of guerrilla action.

5. After the American experience in Vietnam, the white Rhodesians can count on no help from the United States, or any other Western nations, if one day they find themselves with their backs to the wall.

Tanzanian President Julius Nyerere told reporters he was no longer gloomy about prospects for a Rhodesian settlement after Kissinger told him Tuesday that Smith had accepted the British-American plan calling for black power within two years, and a $2-billion fund to compensate Rhodesian whites who leave the country and finance development of Rhodesia under black rule.

But Nyerere cautioned, "Life is full of imponderables, and Smith is an imponderable."

The Rhodesian prime minister reported to the rest of his cabinet Tuesday on his talks with Kissinger. Observers in Salisbury said the cabinet undoubtedly would agree if Smith recommended acceptance of the British-American plan.

But the plan could be blocked by diehard white supremacists in Smith's party, the Rhodesian Front, who have killed two previous agreements between Smith and the British government. Smith puts the plan before the party caucus on Thursday.

King Louis XVI of France was 21 and in his first year of reign in 1775 when the Revolutionary War began. Eager for revenge with England, Louis agreed to provide secret aid for the Americans during the first three years of the war. British failures with the rebelling colonies convinced him to ally France with America. Louis did not foresee, The World Almanac notes, that aiding the American Revolution would hasten the end of his own regime.

Ford Accepted Outings From U. S. Steel Corp.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Ford accepted free golf outings from a U.S. Steel Corp. lobbyist at a New Jersey country club while he was a congressman, the President's spokesman acknowledged Tuesday.

accepting gifts with a retail value of more than $50 from foreign governments.

Neither Nessen nor Anderson specified the amount of money Whyte spent to entertain Ford.

"The President has been a personal friend of Bill Whyte for 28 years and twice, on two weekends, he was a guest of Whyte at the New Jersey golf course while he was a member of Congress," said White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen.

Whyte is now a vice president of U.S. Steel. He could not be reached immediately for comment.

Nessen was asked if his statement was an admission that Ford had accepted a free weekend paid for by Whyte. The press secretary replied, "yes."

Nessen made the statement after columnist Jack Anderson said Whyte hosted Ford at the Pine Valley Golf Club near Clementon, N.J., between 1964 and 1971 while Ford was in the House of Representatives.

Anderson said Whyte conceded that U.S. Steel paid for the golf outings. Whyte could not recall which weekends were spent at Pine Valley, the columnist said on ABC-TV's "God Morning America."

The House adopted a code of ethics in 1968 prohibiting members from accepting a "gift of substantial value, directly or indirectly, from any person, organization or corporation having a direct interest in legislation before the Congress."

The rule does not cite a specific dollar figure considered to be "substantial." But a House ethics committee spokesman says it answers House members' queries by citing the State Department interpretation of the Foreign Gifts and Declaration Act, which prohibits government employees from

Navy To Deactivate Ship Used By CIA

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy is going to spend $2.1 million to deactivate the spy ship Glomar Explorer, which was used by the CIA to recover part of a Russian submarine from the bottom of the Pacific Ocean in the summer of 1974.

The vessel, built with government funds under a secret agreement between the CIA and a corporation controlled by the late billionaire Howard Hughes, will be mothballed and kept in readiness for possible future use as a Navy salvage ship.

The government announced Monday that it had failed in a months-long effort to find any private firm willing to lease the vessel.

The 618-foot salvage ship is worth $65 million, the General Services Administration said. After the CIA was finished with the ship, the government tried unsuccessfully to find another federal agency that might use it, and then turned it over to the GSA to seek private bids.

GSA officials had declined to say how much a lease would cost, but industry estimates put the figure at about $30,000 a day.

The ship, reportedly designed to lift as much as 2,000 tons from depths of 20,000 feet, now is at Long Beach, Calif. It will be stored in the National Reserve Defense Fleet at Suisun

Murder, Vengeance Portrayed In Book

"The Heatherton Heritage" by Pamela Hill and "The Distant Summer" by Sarah Patterson are the two books being featured this week at Deaf Smith County Library.

Consisting of adultery, murder and vengeance, "The Heatherton Heritage" is in the best tradition of Pamela Hill's writing, praised by Victoria Holt as "completely absorbing, truly worthy of the name Gothic."

"The Distant Summer" is very simply a love story to cherish and remember.

Deaf Smith County Library is open free to the public from 9 a.m.-9 p.m. Monday and Thursday; from 9 a.m.-6 p.m. other weekdays and until noon Saturday.

THE HEATHERTON HERITAGE
by Pamela Hill

Dark secrets and terrible obsessions dominate this latest novel by the popular author of "The Devil of Aske". The Malive Inheritance and "Whitton's Folly."

William Heatherton, a man of God who could find no peace, struggles against his violent nature in his relations with his young wife. Torn by conflicting emotions he is finally driven to desperate deeds, and one hideous secret that survives to haunt him.

Respected by his parish as the model of righteousness, he is at the same time the prisoner of fiery passions that threaten to consume him and those around him, until time and a chance discovery bring long-hidden pressures to the bursting point.

THE DISTANT SUMMER
by Sarah Patterson

In that distant summer of 1943, Kathie had not yet turned 17. From the safety and comfort of her parents' home in a small English country town, the war—if it were not for the nearby airfield—seemed light-years away.

The she met one of the heroes of the grim fight in the air: Johnny, with his young face framed in a shock of bright blond hair and with a crooked smile that never quite reached his too-cold eyes.

Her love for Johnny and her sudden immersion in the life of the airbase, with the desperate dangers of its bombing raids, take Kathie out of her girlhood and into the more complex life of a woman.

And then there is Richie, an American with the RAF. His quiet good sense, his wisdom beyond his 23 years and the love beneath his friendship help Kathie to cope with her sudden trembling entry into womanhood. Her love for Johnny, a fragile and pure relationship that could end with each air mission, is perfectly portrayed.

Officers of the Ella Aikman Chapter, Future Teachers of America at Hereford High School, attended a workshop Tuesday at Amarillo High School in Amarillo.

El Llano Dinner Held Monday Night

"An Apple for the Teacher" was the theme of the yearbooks distributed to members of El Llano Study Club Monday evening in the Lloyd Kirkeby home. Hostesses for the supper-meeting were Mmes. Kirkeby, Raymond White, Bob Word and Ben Childers.

Other members in attendance were Mmes. Ivan Block, Jim Bookout, Pete Caviness, Cesar, Boyd Foster, R.C. Hoelscher, Jounh Jacobsen, Melvin Thompson, and Milton Rudder.

Because Soviet Russia has eliminated first or second class railroad cars, Soviet citizens and American visitors to the Soviet Union now ride in "soft class" or "hard class" cars.

Complementing the yearbook theme, the dinner tables were decorated with apple motifs. Upcoming programs listed in the pamphlet were discussed.

Roll call was answered by each member, who revealed her secret pal for the past year. Names of new secret pals were drawn. Mrs. Tom Hamlett presided.

It was announced that Mrs. Fain Cesar will be hostess in her home for the next meeting at 8 p.m. Oct. 18.

Recognized as a guest was Mrs. Frank Beilade from Florida.

Local Trio Attends THDA Celebration

Three Hereford women are currently attending the 50th anniversary celebration of Texas Home Demonstration Association during its annual statewide meeting which began Tuesday on the Texas A&M University campus at College Station.

Representing this county are Mmes. T.E. Brisendine, Leroy Johnson and Gaylon Bryan.

About 1,000 Texas homemakers were expected to attend the assembly, which will conclude Thursday.

Designating the week of Sept. 20 "Texas Home Demonstration Association Week," Texas Gov. Dolph Briscoe noted that the association was created "to serve as a cooperative and coordinating organization for the statewide activities of home demonstration clubs."

Membership of the organization is comprised of women who belong to home demonstration clubs throughout Texas. Over 24,000 women currently belong to home demonstration clubs in Texas.

Recounting THDA's 50 years in Texas, Dr. Daniel C. Pfannstiel, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, noted that Texas women had begun to form home demonstration clubs in the early 1920's.

A group of women who were attending the 1926 Farmer's Short Course at Texas A&M College formally organized THDA, he said.

"The women wanted to help a deserving 4-H Club girl by providing financial assistance for her college education.

"Home demonstration clubs of the state contributed 50 cents each and established a scholarship that was awarded to Golden Evans of Maple Springs, Tex.," Pfannstiel added.

Today the association awards six scholarships annually to outstanding 4-H Club members.

"THDA has provided effective leadership for family-centered programs—and support for 4-H and youth development activities—in Texas for 50 years," Pfannstiel said.

Extension Service personnel serve as advisors to the Texas Home Demonstration Association at the county, district and state level.

Commenting on THDA work across the state, Mrs. Clinton

Wright of Breckenridge, Tex., current THDA president, said the association promotes educational activities for its members to help strengthen the quality of home and family life.

"The association continues to support 4-H Club work as an investment in the future," Mrs. Wright said.

A two-hour historical review of the organization will highlight the three-day statewide meeting, which will also include general sessions, workshops, district meetings, installation of new officers and an annual banquet.

Advisory Council Meets In Amarillo

The American Lung Association of Texas, Top of Texas Area Advisory Council met Saturday at High Plains Baptist Hospital at Amarillo to launch to Panhandle's Christmas Seal campaign of 1976.

Mrs. June Rudd, R.N. of Hereford, is a member of the TOP of Texas Area Advisory Council and Mrs. Jewel Smith, also of Hereford, serves as nominating committee chairman of the council.

Members of the council from several Top of Texas counties signed fund-raising letters to be mailed before Oct. 15. They also took back to their home towns Christmas Seal posters to be displayed locally.

The American Lung Association of Texas utilizes its funds in efforts to prevent and control lung diseases such as asthma, emphysema, influenza and tuberculosis. Most of these funds come from the Christmas Seal campaigns but supplemental funds are also needed.

Glynn Roland, fund-raising chairman for the Top of Texas Area, emphasized need for more vigorous promotion of the Lung Association's memorial program as a means of raising these funds.

In their local communities, Top of Texas advisory council members make available memorial stations including contribution envelopes. These stations may be placed in mortuaries, banks, hospitals, clinics and nursing homes. A memorial or other contribution to the Lung Association may be designated as a tribute to anyone the contributor chooses.

Rebekahs Meet Tuesday

Plans were made for a costume party and Halloween Carnival by members of Hereford Rebekah Lodge #228 when they met Tuesday evening at Odd Fellow Temple.

Also during the meeting with Mrs. Walter Lemons presiding, reports were made on several members who are sick and hospitalized. It was announced that 45 sick visits had been made this week.

Mrs. Clarence Strange served as hostess to 16 members present.

Kings Bridge, N.Y., was the point at which the Post Road crossed Spuyten Duyvil Creek, which separates Manhattan from the Bronx, and therefore, was strategically important in the New York campaign and the British defense of New York City. The World Almanac recalls that Kings Bridge was an objective of the American forces under Maj. Gen. Lincoln at the start of the Yorktown campaign in July, 1781.

JOIN US IN AN EXCITING PROJECT . . .

the establishment of a permanent facility for THE NATIONAL COWGIRL HALL OF FAME

Your help is needed to raise the funds for this prestigious structure, to be built east of Hereford on US-80. The board of trustees has established a Founders Club for the Hall of Fame. We encourage you to join us in this exciting adventure in establishing a national tourist attraction in hustlin' Hereford. The National Cowgirl Hall of Fame is a non-profit chartered organization, sactioned by the Girls Rodeo Association. Purpose of the Hall is to recognize, preserve and pay tribute to the contribution of all women in the development of the West, and to honor selected women who have played a prominent role in establishing our Western heritage. It is dedicated to the pioneer spirit of all women, everywhere.

Roy D. Faubion is chairman of the board of trustees, and Judge Sam Morgan is the president.
